USDA To Consider Amendments To Area Milk Marketing Order

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will hold a public hearing July 15 in Amarillo to consider amending the Texas Panhandle federal milk marketing order.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service officials said the hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Holiday Inn West, 601 Amarillo Blvd. West. The hearing was requested by Milk Producers Inc., a cooperative representing a large group of dairy farmers.

The dairy farmer group is proposing that cooperatives be paid at the uniform blend price on their bulk tank deliveries of milk to other handlers in the market.

The farmers also want to amend the order with respect to the dates for handlers' payments to cooperatives.

Proposals from an area handler would change the classification and pricing of sour cream and sour cream dips from Class I to Class II and revise milk shrinkage allowances.

After considering evidence presented at the hearing, USDA may recommend amending the order. Everyone interested would then have the opportunity to file exceptions to the recommendations before a final decision is issued and submitted to dairy farmers for their necessary two-thirds majority approval.

Copies of the hearing notice containing the proposals in detail may be obtained from Market Administrator Richard E. Arnold, 4023 West 50th St., P.O. Box 226, Amarillo, or from the Dairy Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Link Tourney Scheduled Here

Local golf professional Cal Garrett announced this week plans for the Men's City Golf Tournament, scheduled over a two-weekend period beginning Friday.

Scheduled as a 36-hole stroke play tournament, entry fee for the tournament is set at $7.50 per person. Play will begin Friday and last through Sunday and will continue on July 12 and conclude on July 13. Entrants may break up the 36-hole play into any of the five days, Garrett stated.

Entrants will be flighted by handicaps.

Anyone seeking addition information may contact Garrett at 364-100.

Building Permits Up Over 1968

Building permits for the month of June reached a total of $348,950, surpassing the same month's total for 1968 by almost $75,000. The June total in 1968 was $277,775.

The largest permit issued for June was for $183,500 for the erection of a residence and a guest house combination. Several other permits issued for the erection of residences were for over $20,000.

Of the 22 permits issued by the city, eight were for erection of residences, totaling $313,700; five for addition to existing residences, totaling $3,950 while the remaining total for the month was for various other items.

For the first six months of 1969, building permits passed the same period of time for 1968, totaling $2,199,400 while the 1968 total was $1,866,225. A breakdown for the first six months of this year shows January with a total of $281,000; February with $215,700; March with $144,100; April with the highest with $1,006,000; May with $204,500; and June with $348,950.

Helicopter to Aid Region

Hereford law officials were given demonstration rides Monday afternoon at the Hereford Municipal Airport in a jet ranger helicopter that will be available to law enforcement agencies in Region 5 of the State Department of Public Safety.

Maj. C. W. Bell, commander of Region 5, told a group of city officials and law officials that the helicopter will be based in the regional office in Lubbock.

If a call for the helicopter comes through from Hereford, it will take an hour for the helicopter to get here.

"It will take longer, around 2 hours, if the pilots are off duty. It would take time to notify them and get them out to the airport," Bell said. It should never take more than two hours for the helicopter to arrive in Hereford.

The helicopter will be worth $100,000 when it is equipped with full ambulance and medical equipment.

"We visualize that in a natural disaster, we can provide good service," Bell said. The helicopter would be available to transfer a patient upon a doctor's certificate. "We want to emphasize that we do not want to go into the ambulance business and are not in competition with any ambulance service."

The department started two years ago with an experimental program using helicopters. "We found out real quick that helicopters had a lot of adaptation to police and public service work."

Texas now has three of the large jet ranger craft and four smaller helicopters. The three larger crafts are located in Lubbock, Dallas and Austin. The four smaller helicopters are based in Midland, Corpus Christi, Houston and Waco.

Bell favors the larger helicopter because it is jet powered and faster. It has more cruising speed and more range, he said.

"The helicopter will do no good parked in a hanger in Lubbock. It will not accomplish its mission at all unless it is called for."

Several cities throughout the state with population of over 5,000 were faced with the problem Tuesday of meeting the deadline for closing open-air burning of solid waste in accordance with the rules of the Texas Air Control Board's 1967 Clean Air Act.

Hereford, long since having reached a population of 5,000 or better, is one of the few cities throughout the area that has met the demands of the board, long before the act was ever passed.

The incinerator, located northeast of Hereford, is capable of handling 107 tons of solid waste per week. Whereas much of the other cities' costs for worker's wages, the Hereford incinerator is a one-man operation.

Prior to the building of the incinerator in 1965, the city of Hereford had used a sanitary landfill program where refuse was put into pits and covered. Due to the great cost of the land, maintenance and other problems, the landfill program was done away with and replaced by the incinerator.

The Air Control Board gave all cities falling on or above the population mark an 18-month grace period to change open-pit burning to one of the two proposed methods of landfilling or incineration. Two Panhandle cities, Dalhart and Borger, were having difficulty meeting the deadline, as were other cities across the state. Several of the cities were given an extension date so that problems could be worked out.

Executive director of the state board, Charles R. Barden, predicted that of the 222 cities with 5,000-or-more population, 85 per cent of them have ceased to burn waste in open pits. Hereford was one of the five per cent that fell into the category that had voluntarily eliminated open burning before the Air Control Board passed the new regulation on Jan. 3, 1968.

Funeral Held For Traffic Mishap Victim

Funeral services for Jeffrey D. Kirby, 24, nephew of Mrs. Carl Perrin and a grandson of Mrs. J. W. Kirby, both of Hereford, were conducted Tuesday morning at College Station with burial at Gateway, Ark.

Mr. Kirby, who was born in Hereford Dec. 6, 1944 and attended schools here, died of the results of an automobile accident occurring near College Station Saturday night.

He attended electronics school at Texas A & M University and was later on the staff.

Other survivors include his wife, Linda, of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. (Doc) Kirby of Gateway, Ark., formerly of Hereford; a brother, Terry of Burlingame, Calif., also a former Hereford resident, and an uncle, Dr. J. E. Kirby of Las Cruces, N.M.

Clark reported to the board that the migrant grant program for Hereford was raised from $174,000 to $228,845. Combined with the $66,500 grant for preschool migrant children, this means that close to $300,000 in migrant program funds will be allowed for the Hereford school district.

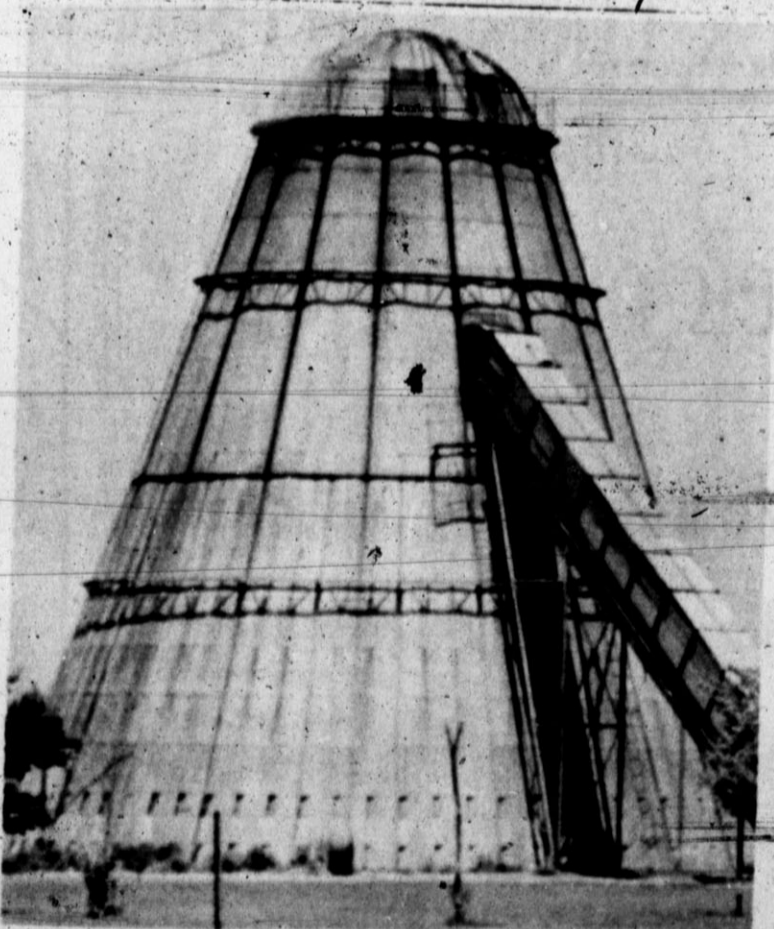

Clark handed the board members a sheet showing figures involved in the local fund assignment and explained how the local fund assignment affects the school district. "It is to the school district's advantage to keep the county value down."

An estimate of the excess of receipts over additional cost, including the teachers' pay raise and estimated increases for next year, Clark explained to the members.

Fly Your Flag!

Independence Day brings to mind a time when the country was only a thought and dream of a few men called patriots in 1776. Their flag was different from the one we see today, yet it stood for the same thing: a country. Surely they felt it was their unspoken duty and right to keep the flag flying someday, somehow. And they did.

Remember those who made this country the great nation it is today by flying your flag Friday on Independence Day. If you do not have a flag, there are flags available at the Hereford Brand.

AHEAD OF TIME — Hereford was one of five per cent of the state's cities of 5,000-or-better population bracket that voluntarily ceased burning of solid waste material prior to the passage of the 1967 Clean Air Act. The incinerator shown above was installed in 1965. Deadline for ceasing to burn solid waste material was Tuesday and cities failing to meet the deadline was subject to fines ranging from $50 to $1,000 per day. —Staff Photo

Celebration Set For 4th Of July

The annual Fourth of July celebration will begin at 11:30 a.m. on the courthouse lawn. The 30-minute program will include music, speeches and bell-ringing.

The Shriners are sponsoring a barbecue after the Independence Day celebration from 12 to 2 p.m. at the Bull Barn. The barbecue will replace the Oasis Shriners' Circus, and money will help finance the Crippled Children's Clinic.

Wesley Gulley will start the festivities with a welcome address, and Mayor Henry Sears will lead the audience in the pledge of allegiance.

The program consists of portions of historic speeches read by community leaders. Lowe Sharp will read part of Patrick Henry's famous speech before Congress: "I have but one life to give for my country."

David Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Thomas, will represent Hereford youth and will read part of George Washington's farewell address to the American people in 1796.

Darrell Rose will read the Gettysburg Address, and Paul Abalos will read Abraham Lincoln's second inaugural address. Charlie Hoover will give part of a speech by Woodrow Wilson, and Charles Frye will read a speech by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Declaration of Independence will be read by the Rev. Fred Howard, St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

The program will conclude at 12 noon with the audience joining in the national anthem, followed by bell ringing across town.

Chairman Roy Hartman said the program has not changed much from the script that has BOY'S AND GIRL'S STATE — Santry Rush and Miss Jane Zinser told members of the American Legion and Auxiliary that they will never forget their experiences as Boy's State and Girl's State delegates.

Delegates Met Top Youth At Girl's and Boy's State

Boy's State and Girl's State delegates, Santry Rush and Miss Jane Zinser, told members of the American Legion and Auxiliary Tuesday night that they met the "cream of the crop" of Texas youth at their conventions in Austin.

During the 10 days at Girl's State, Miss Zinser said the 429 girls achieved a higher citizenship: "We learned to love and appreciate our country a little bit more."

Rush said he was timid during the first few days of Boy's State, but he soon was elected permanent mayor of his city. He was defeated by one vote for his party's nomination as district attorney.

"I want Hereford to feel proud of me. I feel like I represented Hereford to the best of my timidity."

Miss Zinser was elected a state railroad commissioner candidate from her party and won that office in the general elections: "Winning was the biggest thrill in my life."

One pastime the girls has was mock weddings. Miss Zinser said the girls would dress up in makeshift bridal dresses and be married to a picture of their boyfriend: "We had several weddings each night."

A surprise guest speaker at the final assembly of Girl's State was former President Lyndon Johnson, accompanied by his wife Ladybird Johnson.

One aspect of Boy's State that Rush did not enjoy was calisthenics at 5 in the morning: "It's a real joy to see young men exercising on a football field at 5 a. m. — sound asleep."

The most impressive ceremony Rush remembers was the flag lowering: "When I saw the Texas flag and American flag come down, I stopped to think of the men who made America what it is today. I have never felt so patriotic before in my life."

There were no racial conflicts at Boy's State. The governor of Boy's State was colored and the whips of both parties were colored: "I think this proves that there are people today in America who don't care what color you are. We are all Americans."

Roger Beasley Visits Alabama

While in Mobile, Alabama, Roger L. Beasley of Route 3, Hereford, visited aboard the USS Alabama and the newest Gulf Coast attraction the USS Drum. These awe inspiring ships are moored in Mobile Bay as memorials to the veterans of World War II and Korea. They are open to the public from 8 a.m. to sunset each day.

When the news appeared that the USS Alabama was going to be scrapped, Alabamians said no and contributed nearly one million dollars to bring it home. She was towed 5,600 miles, the longest ton-tow in history. She cost $200,000,000 to build and is worth seeing as her kind will never be built again.

Tech Boosters Visit Hereford

Officials of the Texas Tech Red Raider Booster Club and Tech coaching staff invaded Hereford Tuesday, enjoying an afternoon of golf and an evening of entertainment at the Hereford Country Club.

As one of the 19 stops throughout the Panhandle and West Texas areas scheduled by the delegation, the group visited with local Red Raider enthusiasts, seeking to enlist support of the school throughout the area.

Following the afternoon of golf with local persons, the 13 visiting coaches and club officials were entertained at a reception and dinner at the Country Club. About 60 persons were in attendance at the dinner.

Head football coach J. T. King and new basketball coach Bob Bass presented the program to visitors, showing films of last years season and their expectations for the coming year. Also, another film was presented showing all seven of the athletic programs conducted at Texas Tech.

By MELVIN YOUNG

J. T. King, the embattled head coach and assistant athletic director of Texas Tech University, tells the story of playing golf at Fayetteville with Arkansas coach Frank Broyles.

Naturally, being in "Hog" country, there were a number of natives in the gallery following their favorite coach and encouraging him in his efforts to beat King. As they teed-off on Number 1 hole, King made a good drive right down the middle of the fairway, but Broyles tee shot veered off to the right and into the tall timber on the tree-lined Arkansas golf course. As they approached the spot where the ball went into the rough however, they discovered it back out in the middle of the fairway. Obviously thrown there by one of the fans, "I was sure I saw that ball heading for the timber," King told Broyles, who could only smile and point to the gallery of beaming fans. "It must have hit a tree and bounced back." King figured he was fighting a lost cause, so he let the matter drop.

And Lee Trevino, who won the U. S. Open last year, recently told a reporter that he liked to play in San Antonio. "With all those Mexican in the gallery I should never have a bad lie," he said.

However, Trevino needed more than his host of fans this year when another "unknown" slipped out in front and won the classic tournament held in Houston.

A weekend business trip to South Texas took us to the heart of the Highland Lakes region and although we did not have the time to do any fishing, we did get an opportunity to tour the Buchanan and Inks Lakes area. Undoubtedly, this tier of lakes which runs from Buchanan at Burnet to Lake Austin in the capital city, is the most beautiful that we have ever seen and certainly a mecca for sports lovers. Buchanan Lake is the largest of the group of lakes. So large in fact, that although almost all the accommodations in the area were filled, the lake itself looked deserted. The lake is 32 miles long and has a maximum width of 8 miles.

Inks Lake, which begins immediately below the Buchanan Dam, is considerable smaller but is one of the most beautiful little lakes that we have ever seen. Beyond that of course is Lake Lyndon B. Johnson, Travis Lake and Lake Austin.

By the way, we found it rather strange that the city of Llano did not have a modern motel. Although accommodations at the lakes were comfortable and adequate, we were surprised that Llano, just 18 miles away, could not boast at least one good motel. Burnet, on the other side of Buchanan Lake, has excellent accommodations.

And while we're on the subject of lakes, the new Amistad Lake at Del Rio, Texas is going to be a fisherman's paradise. The lake is already much larger than had been anticipated at this early stage, and may prove to be one of the largest in Texas in the not too distant future. We understand that water has already backed up some 25 feet above the Amistad Dam. We have a number of people from Hereford who have been going to Falcon Lake below Laredo each year to fish, and we'd bet that they will start stopping at Del Rio now.

We have hopes of having some good fishing up in this county one of these days. The plan to import water into the upper regions of Texas, may prove to be as big a boon to water sports enthusiasts as it is to the farmers of the area. Certainly we need the water for irrigation, but it will serve the sportsmen as well. By the way, there's an important election coming up August 2 concerning this water importation plan. You'll be hearing more about this later.

An electrical wire crossing the sales lot at the local Chevrolet dealership, severed Tuesday night, dropping onto a new auto, setting it afire. Earl Stagner, sales manager of the organization, says the real reason is, their prices are so hot it sets cars on fire.

Well now, we wonder about that. We heard of snow sales, hail sales, emergency sales and even fire sales, but we've never heard of prices so "hot" they set the cars on fire. Oh well, live and learn.

Thinking Aloud

By BARBARA SWIMMER

This heat is a killin' me. I thought for awhile, we were going to have such a milk summer compared to the sticky weather I'm used to in the northern Panhandle — but I guess I was wrong.

I also commented to someone several days ago about the wonderful lack of flies and mosquitoes we have here — but no sooner did I get it out of my mouth than here they came. From now on, I'm gonna keep my mouth shut. — Little pun there.

THE CASS COUNTRY SUN at Linden reported that a customer recently called to cancel his subscription because, although the news and advertising are still being collected and written in Linden, the newspaper is being printed in Naples.

This gave the Sun a chance to recall what must be one of its prouder moments. A subscriber telephoned to have the paper stopped because he didn't agree with the paper's political views. To which came this priceless reply: Pay up and we will.

An ear infection caused our young son to go to the doctor — who used a large metal syringe to wash out the ear. When he had finished, our boy jumped off the table and excitedly exclaimed, "Wow, wait till I tell the kids I was brainwashed."

I heard an amusing story about a woman who had a bad habit of referring to her two daughters by their ages, rather than by name, when talking to strangers.

Daughter Gloria answered the door one day when the insurance agent rang the bell. The young fellow watched her as she left the room, and then to break the ice, commented on their pino and asked if she played. "No," she replied, "but my 16-year-old daughter does." Later when some of the daughter's friends dropped in she said, "Come in. I want you to meet my 52 year-old mother."

Our youngsters think that the phrase, "to raise children," means that Dad should increase their allowance.

Pierson Given AIM Approval

Billy Don Pierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pierson, has been accepted as an Ambassador in Mission in Jamaica.

Ambassadors in Mission is a program of the Assemblies of God which involves youth in witnessing and working with missionaries in many parts of the world. Assemblies of God young people who go out on the AIM teams save their money and pay their own way to a foreign land just for the opportunity to witness for the Lord to people who might not otherwise find Christ.

Pierson, who is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School, and a licensed minister of the Assemblies of God, was recommended for AIM by Southwestern Assemblies of God College where he has completed his freshman year. Before being accepted for the Ambassadors in Mission program, he had to have approval of the West Texas District Youth Department and of his pastor, Rev. Homer T. Goodwin.

After several days of intensive orientation in Springfield, Missouri, with several hundred other young people, Pierson will fly to Jamaica on July 3. At the conclusion of his term of service, he is scheduled to arrive back in Hereford on August 7.

Affection Lies In Missouri

Two stories filled with haunting power and thrilling adventures can now be found at the Deaf Smith County Library.

MISSOURI BITTERSWEET
By MacKinlay Kantor
"I fell in love with Missouri before I ever walked her soil," says MacKinlay Kantor. "Much as a young man may have a Dream Dolores whom he's never touched, an Imagined Ingrid whose perfume he's never scented... yet he feels his pulse beginning to pound when he r name is mentioned."

The pattern of the Pulitzer Prize winning author's affection for Missouri is temptingly evident throughout the book. Herein are concentrated the recollections and impressions of nea-ly half a century. No wonder that so much of the author's earlier literary product grew from the Ozarks and those mysterious ridges and valleys adjacent.

Readers of MISSOURI BITTERSWEET will rediscover that haunting power which made THE VOICE OF BUGLE ANN, an international classic, and which built Kantor's Rosay RIDGE and PRICKLY ORANGE stories into a pageant admired by millions.

Now — together with his wife, the incomparable Irene — he traverses the counties and villages he first knew long ago. The tradition is extolled — or demolished, as the case may be. The people whom he encounters along the way are described; and also evaluated, complimented, despised, or loved tenderly.

The author of thirty-eight previous books — novelist, essayist, historian, once-upon-a-time-pro-tem policeman, decorated war correspondent — Kantor sets forth in MISSOURI BITTERSWEET the eternal fascination which the state has always held for him, together with his grim and ardent views about the current scene.

THE COTTON PICKERS
By B. Traven

The Mexico of this novel is a sun-baked, hand-riden land, a far cry from the tourist-packed beaches of Acapulco. Men struggle to earn enough to buy a shirt or a pair of shoes or a woman or a glass of tequila by taking on any job they can find. Gales, the main character, is well aware that "if you don't want to starve in that part of the world you have to be able to do anything." He picks cotton, works in a bakery, drives a thousand head of cattle more than 350 miles over mountain ranges and across rivers. His tough-minded, compassionate outlook makes what might have been an oppressive story of human degradation a thrilling and often humorous tale of adventure.

Although The Cotton Pickers is probably one of the earliest novels by the author of The Treasure of the Sierra Madre, this is its first appearance in the United States.

Reunion In Home Of F. S. Smith

Four daughters of F. S. Smith, 423 Schley, met recently in the home of their parents. Mrs. Joe Weber of Woodland Hills, California, flew down last week to attend the 25th reunion of her class of 1944. Recollections were made during the classmates' visiting hours that afternoon prior to the banquet that evening. An award was presented to Mrs. Weber, the former Christine Smith, for having traveled the farthest distance.

Other sisters visiting with Mrs. Weber and family were Mrs. James Throckmorton of Yukon, Oklahoma; formerly Theresa Belle Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Goldsborough and family of Clovis; and Mrs. James Noyes and family of Hereford. Mrs. Frank Pope accompanied her mother Mrs. James Throckmorton.

Mrs. Weber will continue her visit here one or more weeks and welcomes any of her old friends to come by and visit. Bruce Smith, Santa Fe agent at Follett, Texas, and the only son of the Smiths, is expected soon.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to try to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness that was shown to the family of Mrs. Lee Kendall, the cards, the memorial offerings, the floral offerings, delicious food and the ladies that served the food their time and efforts was deeply appreciated. Adventures In Food

CORINNE J. NEELY

"Tell me your two favorite foods and I will tell you where your maternal grandmother came from," is an old saying used by food experts.

This is true I believe. For example my preferences are southern fried chick and strawberry short-cake. My grandmother was a Kentuckian. Now you try it!

That the preparation and serving of food is both an adventure and an art, I have always contended. I like to cook and to eat-even my own cooking. But at times I have misadventures both in the results of my own efforts and in ordering new dishes away from home.

My latest error in the latter was an order of Oysters Rockefeller which I chose from the menu at a place which specializes in sea food. Often I have read the recipe for a dish ahead of time but this one I had not. Because I do not like to cook fish I often order this food when I eat out.

The waitress brought in an elegant looking platter which held six shell-like dishes resting on a bed of hot rock salt, garnished with lemon slices. Each shell contained a green nest of spinach wherein a small oyster was hidden. Dennis the Menace detests spinach and so do I! Even this puree, spiced up with a bit of wine, was unacceptable to me. And I venture no Rockefeller EVER ate spinach. A friend assured me the name was because the dish was so rich, but I can not agree even to that.

One of my biggest surprises, in reverse, occurred last fall in a small, sandy cow-town of Holbrook, Arizona. Against all rules of ordering foods in the wrong place, I did. The order was clam chowder. It was the best I ever ate. I have since made it at home with good results. The secret is a thin white sauce made with the milk before adding it to other ingredients.

The best rule about fish cooking is found in one of favorite cook books. Catch your own fish and then as soon as possible, clean and cook them. No fish is so good as those caught from a cold mountain stream or lake and eaten on the bank right there. They are best cooked in a heavy skillet or dutch oven in deep fat, over a camp fire. Fry them plain or southern style, dipped in meal. You need little else to go with them. Unless you like the usual fried potatoes or hush-puppies.

A few years ago, my late husband and I, along with another couple, were able to order fresh lobsters from Maine. They were shipped alive in a special container with moss and packed in ice. Because they had to be repacked along the route the express was nearly as much as the lobsters in cost. But they were worth it and since then none others I have tried were comparable.

To many diners, lobsters is the supreme sea food. But if I had a choice, it would be the fine food fish of pompano from the waters of Florida.

Another delicacy is frog-legs. The best I ever ate were sent us by relatives whose home is on the banks of Turtle Creek in Dallas. They caught the frogs there and air-mailed to us wrapped in ice. They were the largest saddles and had the best flavor of any I have ever eaten. Since then the river has been walled up and they are no longer available from that source. And the frozen ones on the market are too small and dry.

In Denver, where a friend and I once went on a buying trip, we found many good eating places near The Brown Palace. It was not the sea food I remember from here but a service rendered by the waiter. When he brought in our platters of fish, with one deft movement he slit and removed the bones.

New Orleans menus carry many kinds of fish and they were always well prepared. My big disappointment in the city was not being able to obtain any of the famous creole, cajun and other New Orleans food in the general run of cafes. It seems only in The Latin Quarter and in the evening are these foods available at their best. The old famous Antoine's or the newer Brennans, are the top choices.

Only once that I can remember did I ever out-do my husband in ordering. He seemed to have some inner sense which led him not only to the best restaurants but the best food on the menu. This time it was the Harvey House in Albuquerque. (Did you know it was recently closed and was the very last of the once famous Harvey Houses?) This warm day at noon he forgot his rule and ordered fish. It was dry, tasteless and had evidently been frozen too long. My order more in keeping with the day was cold fruit salad served in a cantaloupe half with wafer-thin peanut butter sandwiches. A delightful combination!

Incidentally do you know the origin of the expression, "I have other fish to fry?" I do not.

Note - (My next adventure deals with wild game which I have eaten here and yon).

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The Wonders Of Blood

BLOOD is truly one of the most remarkable elements of the body. Constant new discoveries increase our knowledge of the blood and yet fail to uncover all the secrets that lie within it. Blood is composed of plasma in which red cells, white cells and platelets are suspended.

Dr. Coleman

The red cells have a most important function in binding hemoglobin which plays a vital role of transporting oxygen. Oxygen is probably the single most important factor in maintaining life and good health in all the tissues of the body.

One of the most significant functions of the white blood cells, is to act as defenders when germs invade the body. An immediate call is made to the white blood cells to collect around the bacteria and keep infection well localized. An abscess which "comes to a head" on the skin or elsewhere on the body is due to the healthy formation of pus. This is formed by nature's defense mechanism that uses the white blood cells as front line defenders against such infection.

Platelets play an important role in the complicated mechanism of blood clotting. The science of hematology is probably one of the most exact ones known to medicine. Disorders and abnormalities in the blood—that produce anemia, leukemia, and a score of other blood diseases can be accurately determined and followed during active treatment to indicate improvement and control. Too often people are tempted to make their own "home-made" diagnosis of anemia when actually it probably does not exist. Only by blood study can this condition be determined and, if present, the type of treatment automatically follows.

The choice of anesthesia can never be made by the patient. Specialists in the field of anesthesiology are now so highly trained that they custom-choose the type of anesthesia for each particular patient and for the type of surgery involved. There are now new gases like halothane which are replacing or being used in conjunction with other gases. Nitrous oxide, ether, cyclopropane, and chloroform are still used for very special purposes with great efficiency and safety.

As a surgeon I really believe that a good anesthesiologist is one of the most important members of the surgical team. Today they are highly trained and not only do they prepare the patient emotionally but give great sustenance to the surgeon by their ability to increase the safety of this part of surgery.

At a very early age it is imperative that young girls be taught that there is no shame or "dirty aspect" to menstruation. The use of terms like "the curse" or "falling off the roof" is symbolic of poor or inadequate teaching of the wonders of body function.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH: Epilepsy should not be kept secret from fellow workers.

Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Study To Involve Names Of Towns

Mr. Donald A. Gill, Professor of English at El Centro College in Dallas, is preparing a study of the origins of the names of all towns, rivers, creeks, and other place names on the map of thirty-eight counties of the Panhandle-South Plains of Texas. Deaf Smith County is one of those included in the study. The study will serve as his dissertation for the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Linguistics from East Texas State University and will also be published in book form at a later date.

Gill, a fellow West Texan from Ropesville, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from West Texas State University in 1960 and his Master of Arts degree from the University of Colorado in 1966.

At this point in his study, Gill has exhausted his sources of recorded material and must rely on living sources to help him. Thus the citizens of Deaf Smith County are asked to aid him in discovering the origins of names.

Some of the name origins which he has already discovered are as follows:

Deaf Smith County — for Erastus (Deaf) Smith, commander of Scouts at San Jacinto and legendary Indian fighter
Ayr — for Ayr, Scotland
Dawn — named by Mr. J. H. Parrish, a rancher, who referred to his place as "The Dawn of a Century", in 1887

Hereford — for the Hereford cattle raised in the area
Paetzold Airfield — for Herman and Walter J. Paetzold, owners of the airfield

Tierra Blanca Creek — Spanish for "White earth"; After water has spread over the land, a white film will form because of the acids in the soil
Westway — for its location west of Hereford

Other name origins which he has been unable to find are the following:

Frio Creek
Glenrio

Moser Airfield
Rest Lawn Cemetery
Simms
Walcott

If any of our-readers know the story of how the above places were named, please send your information to Donald A. Gill, 1135 Shortmeadow Lane, Dallas, Texas, 75218. Credit will be given in the study to those who contribute information.

DEER DIE

GRANVILLE, Ohio — A motorist may have frightened two deer into committing suicide.

Charles Evans told the sheriff's office he was approaching a bridge when he spotted two deer on the span. As he drew near, he said, they suddenly leaped over the side of the bridge.

The animals were found dead beneath the bridge.

IRREFUTABLE LOGIC

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Phil Eskew, Commissioner of The Indiana High School Athletic Association, attended a track meet, where the 440-yard dash was about to start.

All the runners but one dug toe holes in the track for a fast take off.

"Don't you have any starting blocks or don't you intend to dig a hole to help you?" Eskew asked the youth.

"Nope," the boy replied confidently, "I ain't gonna be here that long."

Auxiliary To Be Formed At Manor

Formation of a Woman's Auxiliary for Kings Manor was initiated Tuesday morning at a meeting in the dining room of the Methodist retirement home here, called by Dr. Don Davidson, executive director, who explained the services such as volunteer group could render to the home and its residents.

Purpose of the Auxiliary, he said, would be to work in cooperation with the Health and Activities Committee of the Board of Trustees toward a goal of making life more pleasant for residents by providing care which cannot be given by the paid staff, "the type of service which cannot be bought"

Dr. Davidson suggested three areas in which Auxiliary members might work, the first in service to supplement that of the staff. This might include, he said, encouragement of personal friendships between Manor residents and Hereford people through frequent phone calls visits and trips; also instruction in varied crafts, and work in beautifying Manor grounds.

The second area, research, would include study of available material on living plans for the aged, and visits to homes similar to Kings Manor. The third area, relating the home to the community, could bring groups to the Manor for programs and studies, book reviews, visiting speakers, hobby sessions etc., also provide opportunities for Manor residents to assist in service to aged welfare recipients in the community, the director added. Each Auxiliary member will be assigned to one of these areas of work. Listed as members of the new group are Mmes. G. W. Newsum, Milton Higgins, Robert Strain, Hugh Clearman, Buck Parsons, Clark Andrews, Dale Tinning, Mary Helen Fisher, Ola Davis, Jim Perrin, Ray Carlile, Margaret Shawn, Earl Harkins, Horace Hershey.

Also Mmes. Clyde Russell, Ray Johnson, Bertha Hudson, Joe L. Hamilton, Floyd Coleman, Charles Noland, Dick Godwin, J. J. Durham, Earl Springer, Byron Terrell, Barrett Sowell, Davison, Louis Woodford, Walter London, Lon Davis, Jan Hamilton, Don Martin and Marie Cline.

JUST BY LUCK

RIVERTON, Wyo. — The Wyoming High School Coaches Association chose Bob Robertson of Laramie as the football coach of the year.

Robertson isn't even a football coach. He's the basketball coach, but when the regular football coach, John Deti Sr., became ill, Robertson took over the reins and coached Laramie to the state championship.

WHEAT

"Behind the loaf is the flour, And behind the flour is the mill;

Behind the mills is the sun and the shower

The earth and the Father's will." Amen.

The above is an appropriate THANKS to be used at any of your meals, and is especially fitting now that wheat harvest is in full swing.

What does your child know about the bread they eat? How much do they know about the history of wheat from whence our bread is made? What do you know?

Being the wife of a man who has dealt with grains or methods for caring for grain, I suppose that, more or less, a greater appreciation of our fields and their yields mean much to me.

There is not a more beautiful sight to be seen than the wind rippled fields of standing wheat. And I never cease to thrill at the loveliness of the golden grain as the trucks start rolling and bringing it to the elevators. I am just kid enough that I still like to play in it, and to eat some of the ripe full grain. It is miraculous the stories behind the food that we eat. Prehistoric man, grew wheat and prepared it for eating by harvesting it by hand and then used polished stones to make it into flour. There were wheat fields fifteen thousand years ago, and some of the best wheat produced was in the fertile land between the Tigris and the Euphrates rivers. It then is a known fact that wheat is a cultivated plant of very long standing. It was developed from a wild plant. Mr. Aaron Aaronsohn, the director of the Jewish Agricultural Experiment station in Palestine, discovered the wild wheat growing on the rocky slopes of Mount Hermon, and from this theory has been advanced that this is the ancestor of all the various wheats.

It has been a long, long road by which we have gotten our daily bread. Through many difficulties, experiments, trials, errors, and perseverance we now have the quality of wheat that is grown today. The name wheat came from a latin name triticum meaning "to grind" or "to thresh," therefore the name has stayed with us throughout the years.

From the time the wheat is planted, (and most of it is planted in the fall) this being called winter wheat or hard wheat. Other wheat is sown in the spring, and it is the soft wheat, each of these have various uses. Winter wheat is primarily grown in our plains country. From the time the tiny blades make their appearance, the wheat start to stool, and as the color deepens the fields of wheat are lovely to look at. It serves many purposes. Is often grazed, then cattle are removed and the plants allowed to develop, and grow thus, making a crop which can be later harvested. In this way it is a two-fold paying crop.

When one first looks at the developing stalks of the wheat, it seems to have a frail appearance. But the roots penetrate the soil to a considerable depth thus adding strength to the plant, and as it grows, stems are added and then the stools. The stalk is strengthened by much flinty matter which it picks up from the soil. A good wheat grain is plump and has a smooth thin skin, and when cut across has a transparent or semi transparent appearance.

It is wonderfully adapted for pollination by the wind, and it is a plant which generally pollinates itself. The stiffness of the stems, withstand wind and other elements of weather to a good degree. Practically all parts of the plant are used for some good purpose or usefulness for man or animals. The strongest wheats are grown in Canada, United States and Hungary (This could have changed in recent statistics, my information is from The Book of Knowledge.)

The substance which makes wheat so valuable for the baker is gluten, a sticky, elastic substance sometimes called wheat gum, which is wheat flour, to be made into bread and other edible products. It is very interesting and informative to make a list of all the many things we use in our homes which are made of or has some wheat in them. (Try this for a game.)

On and on experiments are being made to perfect the wheat and make it better and more productive, also for more products to be made from it. What will the next years or 100 years reveal? Let us be truly thankful for the bread we eat and for the other good things that have come into our life from wheat.

CORRECTION. The official flower for Hereford for planting this season is NOT the geranium, but is the petunia. SORRRY for the error.

We have some very pretty petunias growing in town. Many of these are being grown on new ground or where the soil has rested from other years. Some of the prettiest and healthiest I have noticed are at the Ronald Zimmerman home on the corner of Westhaver and Hickory. The color is rich and lovely the foliage verdant and of good substance and texture.

Many have mentioned to me that their petunias are dying. This in all probability is from disease which was so prevalent in our area a few years ago. To grow petunias well, they should be rotated. If there appears to be disease, then pull up the plants and destroy by burning. Treat the soil. Spade it deep, and add cestic to the soil or some other material to fumigate and airate the soil, let it lay idle for a season, and then grow something on it which will feed and build up the soil, and a year or two later try petunias on it again. The ladies of The Pioneer Club are having trouble with their plantings of petunias in Mother's Park. The plants are not growing off well, and some are dying. In the selection of seasonal planting for the city, many facets should enter into the selection.

The illustrations in last weeks column, are of MINIGARDENS, those shown are of radishes and onions. Sweet, tender, delectable vegetables can be grown by this method.

Perhaps later a picture of the geranium will be shown. It is best of the Happiness variety, (Rosa), and I have found it to be one of the best and very productive geranium. Have had a continuous bloom since May, and at this time I have at least 8 or 9 full clusters on the plant. The color is pretty, has excellent keeping qualities, and the foliage is of good quality. I also am growing a Red geranium of this same variety. It is out by the fountain, and has added a lot of color and interest for weeks.

GLADIOLUS. The other day a recent catalogue from Noweta Gladiolus Company came to my desk. I immediately started thumbing through it, and oh! the pretty enchanting glads, that are shown. One of the newer ones is in shades of blue, blending akin to the delphinium. Many other new ones, which I have not grown, just simply sold themselves to me. Results, an order was rushed off.

While the corms are coming, am preparing the ground. They must be planted not later than the 15th of July for fall blooms. Delmo Farm and Garden has a good selection (I will probably be going down and making some more selections) Another glad that I am planting is the miniature. They are just will probably be going to Church and Sunday School, as I take my choice flowers almost every Sunday (have for 25 or 30 years) they are not only pretty, but often give me a contact for presentation of the lesson or devotional. Over half the joy of growing flowers is sharing them. One that I have had excellent success with this summer is 'Purple Heart,' I cut twelve spikes the other morning and most of these measured at least four and a half feet in height. The tallest I have ever grown was four feet. I did not disbud, so some of them will give us two or three spikes, per plant.

PLANT NOW. Other than gladiolus the following flowers may be planted and will flower before frost (if doesn't come too early) Celosia, blooms from 76 to 104 days, dahlia border seed, calendulas, cosmos, (birds will love you for planting these) zinnias, all types, marigolds which comes in many varieties of colors and sizes. They are good for borders, planter boxes, and for added color. A nice thing about them they are practically disease resistant. Some Flower and Garden houses still have plants, these would grow much faster than seed.

Vegetables which can be planted for late fall are: beans (bush) beets, carrots, lettuce (the pretty curly varigated variety) summer squash, turnips, radishes and onions. Try onions by planting seed, also the small round white radishes are delicious.

If you do not have white flowers, by all means plan a generous planting for another year. White makes a garden pretty, especially at night when the moon is shining. I have enjoyed the Easter lilies and petunias these past few weeks, while the moon has been so pretty. Fewer (a kind to chrysanthemums is a good white flower to grow, it comes each year, has pretty curly varigated variety) traction to the garden, and is excellent for filler for arrangements.

Take time to dream; it touches the soul to the stars and the silvery moon. GLAD.

THANKS: FOR OUR KIND WORDS. It really thrills me when the men folk tell me they read and like Glad's column.

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole page, or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

P. S. How many new residents and out of town shoppers saw your name and business today; this week?

Nearly two centuries ago in the fateful course of human events Liberty was born. With justifiable pride we declared our Independence... Liberty and the rights of all men. The spiritual aspect of the proposition of freedom, equality and justice for all was fundamental in the development of these new ideas. Liberty loving fathers, possessed of unyielding faith and vital religious convictions supplied the genius. Before a government could be founded on the brotherhood of man... there had to be the Fatherhood of God. Then let us preserve this freedom through eternal vigilance, unceasing prayer and unflinching faith. Independence!!!... the Fourth of July. *Let us ever remember the source of our freedom... Cactus Garden Boasts Different Varieties

By BARBARA SWIMMER
Women's Editor
Mrs. Patsy Hampton, who resides at 808 Union, has one of the most unusual as well as interesting and beautiful hobbies. Her cactus garden situated just west of her home boasts of some 200 different varieties of plants, some of which have been given to her by friends, but most of them she has dug herself in dry, desert locales and brought back to Hereford to transplant.

One of her most prized plants is the Century Plant, shown in the adjoining picture, which is now in bloom. The plant grows to a height of eleven feet in a period of just two weeks, with the bloom at the top, and then dies as soon as the bloom is gone. Mrs. Hampton says the growth of the plant is so fast, you can almost see it grow. She measured a growth of 12 to 13 inches in one day on the plant.

Usually the plant does not bloom until it is about ten to fifteen years old, but she says she has several small lechuguilla plants, which are in the family as the Century, that have begun their growth recently from runners from the large plant and they are already putting on blooms.

The Spanish Dagger, which bloomed in May, (shown in picture) is of the yucca family and had large white blooms which lasted about two weeks, which is unusual, says Mrs. Hampton. She said she supposed the plant held its bloom for that period of time because of the cool weather at the time.

GARDEN OF THORNS — The cactus garden at 808 Union, belonging to Mrs. Patsy Hampton, is full of thorns, but the blooms of the cactus plants, which bud out in May and June are now at their loveliest. The Spanish Dagger, shown in Local Girl Visits Campus Seminar In Tulsa, Okla.

Miss Suzanne Solomon, 500 Star St., attended a special seminar June 20 to 22 at Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla. The university was host to 300 guests at the invitational seminar. Featured speakers were President Oral Roberts and several university faculty members.

The seminar was the last in a series of 10 on the campus this year that brought 3,000 visitors. The seminars are directed toward laymen, ministers and youth. In addition to the seminar visitors, 36,000 others register annually for tours of the campus which has been termed "space age" by many who view it for the first time.

During the seminar the guests were introduced to the physical facilities, educational media and philosophy of the school, which just completed its fourth year of operation with an enrollment of over 800. The university is well-known in academic circles for innovations in electronic teaching methods. It is the first institution of higher learning to install a complete audio-visual information-retrieval system. The $21.5 million campus is located on a 420-acre tract in suburban Tulsa.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Rigatoni Supper Dish

RIGATONI PLUS — The pasta that come in hollow, ribbed, tube shape is served with a tomato-meat sauce that's full of flavor.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
If you're looking for a hearty supper dish that is cooked on top of the range, consider serving Rigatoni with Meat Sauce.

And this dish has another virtue. You can make the Meat Sauce well ahead, put it in the refrigerator or freezer and heat it when you need it. The red wine that goes into the sauce adds robust flavor.

If you haven't yet tried rigatoni, we think you'll enjoy doing so. It's the pasta that comes in large, hollow, ridged tubes. The Italian adjective rigato, meaning ridged or ruled, gives this pasta shape its name.

If you serve Rigatoni with Meat Sauce as the main course you need accompany it only with a tossed salad.

When we did this, we added sliced cucumbers and marinated artichoke hearts to the greens and found this a fine combination. Olive oil, wine vinegar, salt and seasoned pepper made the salad dressing.

For dessert we offered a layered sponge cake filled and frosted with fresh strawberries and whipped cream.

To make this menu quite good enough for an informal company supper, you need add only a first course.

RIGATONI WITH MEAT SAUCE

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 cup finely grated carrot, loosely packed
- Two-thirds cup chopped celery
- 2 large cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 pounds ground lean beef, chunk or round
- 1 cup dry red wine

- 1 can (2 pounds, 3 ounces) plum tomatoes, sieved
- 2 cans (each 6 ounces) tomato paste
- 2 teaspoons salt
- Freshly ground pepper to taste

1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Rigatoni, see below
Grated Parmesan cheese

In a Dutch oven heat butter and olive oil; add onion, carrot, celery and garlic; cook gently, stirring a few times, for about 5 minutes.

Add meat, breaking up with the flat tines of a fork, and cook until meat loses its red color.

Add wine, tomatoes, tomato paste, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Simmer, covered, until sauce is quite thick — about 2 hours; stir occasionally. Skim off any excess fat. Makes about 9 cups.

We find half the sauce (about 4 1/2 cups) is plenty for 1 pound of rigatoni. Extra sauce may be served separately; the remaining sauce may be re-

Smith Seeking Adoption Of Tax Bills In Session

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Dusty old tax bills are being pulled out for discussion now that Gov. Preston Smith has vetoed the one-year spending bill and called the Legislature back into special session.

Governor Smith made it clear that he expects the special session to adopt spending proposals for a full two years starting Sept. 1, and to levy new taxes to finance whatever is spent.

Tax bills must originate in the House and Speaker Gus Mutscher says he believes the money can be found without raising the state sales tax. But, first he wants to hear what the Governor has to propose as a source for the money.

Smith has indicated that he will recommend a program substantially different from what he suggested last winter. But he said he will not propose a state income tax.

So far, legislative leaders have not shown any intention of passing another one-year spending and then going home without levying new taxes. Smith's contention that the tax bill will be smaller if it is passed now instead of waiting until 1970, apparently won some statewide support.

Smith has one ace up his sleeve.

He vetoed a big stack of Senate bills because they were not properly passed and sent to him by adjournment of the legislative session. He said that he will allow the special session to consider re-passage of those bills, after the legislature passes the two-year appropriation bill.

Only the Governor can select the subjects to be considered in a special session. So authors of the bills he vetoes may be anxious to help put over his program in order to try to pass their bills again.

Among the vetoed bills, and one wide interest, is that by Sen. Murray Watson of Mart, creating 27 new district courts.

Here is what Governor Smith will ask the legislators to do: "Enact a budget in the neighborhood of $5.6 billion for the 1970-71 fiscal period.

"Levy a balancing tax bill, which he estimates at around $300 million or slightly less.

"If there is time in a 30-day special session, then take up the bills he vetoed because they were not signed in the presence of the legislators.

There has been some speculation that lawmakers may just hand Smith another one-year budget and see what he does. However, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and House Speaker Mutscher pledged cooperation in supporting a biennial appropriations pattern this time.

Tax bill remains the big question, and nobody seems to have any clear idea where we go from here.

WELFARE CHANGES NOTED

Major changes are going into effect in state welfare policies and organizational structure.

Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney announced elimination of the one-year residency requirement for all aid categories. This is in keeping with a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision and federal rules, Hackney predicted the change will not noticeably increase welfare rolls in Texas, but the nationwide increase in assistance costs is estimated at nearly $300 million a year.

Department of Public Welfare also realigned its statewide organization on the basis of regions, effective July 1. Department will merge Child Welfare services with the Aid to Families With Dependent Children program under a single administrative head along regional lines.

VETS LAND RATE UP

Interest rates are going up to eight percent for non-veterans who take over contracts to buy land under the Texas Veterans Land Program. Board ordered the increase from six and a half percent.

Veterans are not affected by the new rate. Their new loan contracts bear five and one-half percent interest. Non-veterans enter the picture when veterans sell their land or transfer the contract, which they can do after three years.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler sees the money market as a "serious threat" to the entire land program unless the constitutional amendment is adopted, August 3, to remove the current four and a half percent ceiling on interest rates on bonds sold for the veterans land fund. Bonds cannot be sold in the future unless the rate is raised, Sadler said.

APPOINTMENTS

Austin Attorney J. Pearce Johnson, a former member of the Texas House of Representatives, was named by Governor Smith to the Parks and Wildlife Commission and designated as chairman. He replaces L. P. (Pete) Gilvin of Amarillo as chairman, but Gilvin remains with the agency.

Smith selected Lloyd L. Davis of Plainview to succeed Leslie Burnett of Austin on the industry-hunting Texas Industrial Commission.

Leon Jaworski, Houston attorney, is statewide chairman of the "Citizens For Proposition 5," a group which is urging passage of a proposed constitutional amendment to raise the annual welfare spending ceiling from $60 million to $80 million. Amendment is among the nine to be voted on August 5.

H. Russell White, director of the Amarillo State Center for Human Development, has been appointed superintendent of the Richmond State School. Eugene W. Garms, assistant superintendent at Richmond, was promoted to director of the Amarillo Center.

COURTS SPEAK

A U. S. Supreme Court decision in a recent Louisiana case invalidated a Texas law which restricts voting in revenue bond elections to property owners, says Secretary of State Martin Dies. He spoke as chief election officer of the state, responsible for maintaining uniformity in application and interpretation of Texas election laws.

A firm providing mobile telephone service in the McAllen, Brownsville and Harlingen areas owes the state more than $10,000 in back telephone gross receipts taxes, says the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

State Supreme Court upheld the lower court's ruling that Morgan Express of Dallas has the right to charge less than a competitor on its Dallas-Ballinger route.

High court found constitutional a law which prohibits synthetic milk including both vegetable oil and dry milk solids. Decision upheld the Court of Civil Appeals.

CRIME PLAN APPROVED
Texas' plan for fighting crime in a coordinated new program has received federal approval and $1.1 million action grant.

Another $9 million is expected to be forthcoming when the budget is approved by Congress for proposed bloc grants under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968. Bulk of the funds will go to help local agencies. This five-year federally-funded program seeks to bring together efforts of law enforcement, courts, correctional institutions and rehabilitation services to reduce crime.

"This marks a new and constructive era in relations between the states, the federal government and the cities," Governor Smith commented.

SHORT SNORTS
Average treatment time required for patients in Texas mental institutions has dropped from 300 days in 1967 to 50 days, resulting in a sharp decline in the resident population of state hospitals, says Dr. John Kinross-Wright, commissioner of the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Texas Department of Health will hold a hearing July 11 on adopting safety standards for power presses, fixed ladders, floor and wall openings, and railings and toe boards.

Eight more Texas school districts will help initiate a bilingual education program in September (eleven others previously were announced).

Regional planning assistance grants totaling $30,000 went to the Central Texas Sherman-Denison area, Rio Grande Valley and West Central planning commissions and councils of government.

Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir has received U. S. Secret Service's "Director's Honor Award."

"The Army Green"

By STE. BERT PINALES
U. S. Army Recruiter

You probably are familiar with the old saying that an Army travels on its stomach. Army food is so good nowadays that even the astronauts dined on it during their Apollo 9 journey to the moon and back. As a result of long and successful research on the part of the Army's Natick (Mass.) Laboratories, the Apollo 9 threesome had such nourishing dishes as beef and gravy, spaghetti and meat sauce, chicken salad, ham and applesauce, fruit cocktail and pea soup. It was all made possible through freeze-dried foods, a process in which the food is frozen and the water removed as ice crystals by vacuum. When ready to eat, the food is reconstituted by adding water. The food tastes and looks as though it was freshly prepared.

1966 CUSINE

Now that we've covered space age meals, let's take a look at what the Army was eating back at the turn of the century. A can of emergency field rations dating back to 1906 was recently found near the Arctic Circle. After reading the contents on this can of rations, we'd have to admit that C-rations are a gourmet's delight. The 1906 ration consisted of three cakes of chocolate, three cakes of bread and dried meat. True, directions on the can read, "Not to be used except by order of an officer or in extremity."

FIRST AIR CAVITY?

Ever hear of a flying dental clinic? There's one in Vietnam that provides soldiers in remote areas with full dental care. Affectionately called the "First Air Cavity," the clinic is installed in an old shop van and is flown to outlying posts. Inside the van are high speed drills, X-ray equipment, water and power. Novocain, anyone?

FACTS ABOUT THE ARMY

Did you know
-That actor Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., was an infantry officer in the same unit as General William Westmoreland during World War II?
-That more than 38,000 personal telephone calls were made between Vietnam and the U. nited States last year? About 90 per cent of them were made collect from Vietnam to the U. S.

-That Fort Sill, Okla. is celebrating its 100th birthday in 1969?

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Where will I take my basic training and advanced individual training?

Men from this area usually take their eight weeks of basic training at Fort Bliss in El Paso, Tex. As for advanced training, it all depends on your branch, and the training for which you enlisted, etc.

VETERANS' INFORMATION

by RALPH OWENS

Hula dancer: a shake in the grass.

(In spite of the overemphasis of nonsense by loudmouths, we are a people of
