Sue Ann Garment Plant Dignitaries To Arrive Friday For Sue Ann Inc. Plant Opening

The red carpet will be rolled out from 3-6 p.m. Friday as dignitaries from across the state arrive for the Sue Ann Inc. garment manufacturing plant ribbon cutting and open house ceremonies.

Tom Burdett, president of the Hereford Industrial Foundation, which was instrumental in securing the plant for Hereford, said this week that the formal ribbon cutting for the plant would be held at 5 p.m. with guided tours throughout the open house. Following the day's activities, a special invitation only dinner will be hosted at the Hereford Country Club at 6:30 p.m.

PRESENT FOR THE CEREMONIES will be James Harwell, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commissioner, Rick Collinger, president of Sue Ann, and Nat Jaffers, Sue Ann vice president in charge of production. Representing the Texas State Technical Institute in Waco is Milton Schiller, vice president of development. Lovell Pillow, general manager for the TSTI campus in Amarillo, also will attend.

Each of the mentioned organizations will bring other representatives with them.

Invitations have been sent to numerous local individuals, most of whom have accepted Burdett said. "We think it will be a well attended dinner and open house based on a good response to our invitations," he said.

Conducting tours of the plant will be Floyce Harris, plant manager, as well as other local officials.

Harwell is bringing a special letter of recognition from Governor Dolph Briscoe congratulating the plant management and Hereford on the success of the operation. Presently the plant employs about 130 women, making it the second largest employer here.

SO FAR, THE PLANT which began operations in December of 1975, was completed after a full year of negotiations and building programs. Involved in the company deciding on Hereford for its newest plant was the creation of the industrial foundation. The foundation has ownership of the building and Sue Ann leases it.

Burdett said that other invitations for the opening went out to the president of the Texas State Technical Institute in Waco and numerous other local and state level officials.

When the ground breaking for the plant was held in July of 1975, the event

If other forms are needed they may be obtained from Dr. Mims at his clinic. A noon meal will be catered by the Noon Lions Club of Hereford in the Hereford High School cafeteria for the children and their parents. All those who participated in the clinic are welcomed at the meal.

Following the close of the clinic, doctors and Shrine Nobles will meet at the Hereford Country Club to receive reports on the children examined. Dinner and dancing will follow the report session for the Shriners, doctors, clinic personnel and their spouses.

Last year's clinic was termed a real success with 106 children registered and 103 examined. A total of 218 examinations were conducted on the children since some saw specialists.

The purpose of the clinic is to determine any medical deficiencies in children who might not ordinarily be able to pay for complete examinations.

After his speech in Canyon, Ford is expected to return to Washington D.C.

at city hall.

The city fathers officially canvassed the ballot returns, delivered oaths of office, unanimously approved a lease agreement for the old city dumpground, gave the go ahead on a project to reroof the city fire station, approved a notice of intent to pave 10 Hereford streets and rejected any action to widen Union Street.

Views Offered On Quilan Death Ruling

BY SANDY PANKEY
Brand Staff Writer

THE LIFE-AND-DEATH struggle has been won—or has it?

After months of testimony, Karen Ann Quinlan's father has won the battle to allow his comatose daughter to die. Now must contend with the possibility that the New Jersey state judicial system might appeal the decision.

Karen, who has made national headlines, lapsed into a coma April 15, 1975, after consuming a mixture of gin and tranquilizers. Doctors treating her have fought against her parents' suit to turn off the life-support systems which are now sustaining her existence.

In a 7-0 ruling, a New Jersey Supreme Court, appointed Joseph Quinlan legal guardian of his 22-year-old daughter and said he could let her die if he could find competent medical authorities who agree with him that there is no possibility of her recovery.

Quinlan and his wife Julia said that they would not ask to have their daughter's respirator disconnected until the state has time to decide on a possible appeal.

Since there has been such wide-spread controversy on the Quinlan decision, The Brand conducted a survey of local opinions about the case.

A cross-section of citizens offered their personal viewpoints concerning the judicial decision.

MRS. EARNEST LANGLEY said:

"The parents have the right to make the final decision. It is inhuman to force parents to endure court trials in addition to the traumatic experience of having a dying child.

"Sometimes dying is preferable to death."

"It all comes down to one's perspective of death: I believe in eternal life and think that dying is not always bad."

RICK NUNLEY commented:

"I believe that when it is time for Karen to die, she will. I don't think that her life-support systems should be cut off. If her parents know that by pulling the plug that their daughter would die, then they shouldn't do it."

ETHEL RANKIN said:

"If Karen's doctors feel that she will never by anything but a vegetable and has no hope of ever recovering, then the courts definitely made the right decision. "This is an extremely personal decision that can only be made by the parents."

MARGE KEMP quoted:

"Actually a decision like the one Karen Quinlan's parents made, would have to be between them and their God."

"If I were put in that same situation concerning one of my own children, I don't know how I would react or the decision I would make."

"An individual must find peace in their heart and with their God because it's a very emotional thing."

BILL BRADLY stated:

"Yes, I think the courts did the right thing and I believe it's the parents' responsibility."

LINDA EDELMON said:

"I very definitely believe the courts made the right decision to allow Miss Quinlan to die. I don't believe that God would want a person to die without dignity."

"In a situation such as this, it is up to the parents. Since she is already dead mentally, I think she should be allowed to die in peace."

Grassfires Still Big Problem

Grassfires continue to be a problem for Hereford firemen, with units responding to six such blazes in addition to other alarms in recent days.

Friday afternoon firemen were kept busy with three alarms. They extinguished a grassfire at Skeet's Auto Center on North 385 and also fought a grassfire in the alley at 427 Long and a truck fire three miles west of the city on Highway 60. The vehicle was owned by Friona Industries.

Firemen were called to the Herman Hind property located 2 1/2 miles north and 1/2 mile east on Progressive Road Saturday to put out a grassfire and another grassfire located 1/2 mile west of White Implement Co. also called for the attention of firefighters Saturday.

Monday, firemen extinguished a grassfire 1/4 mile west of Dearing Wrecking.

Regular School Board Meeting Held Wednesday

The Hereford School Board of Education met in a regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the school district administration building as opposed to gathering on the second Tuesday of the month as usual.

Since the meeting was rescheduled for its normal date, The Brand was unable to report on the actions taken at the meeting. The Brand's press time fell before the meeting started and the actions will be reported in the Sunday issue.

The agenda called for the school trustees to discuss alternate plans for Title IX (sex discrimination ruling) for the 1976-77 school year, hear a report on Baltimore Street property disposition, canvass election returns, reorganize the school board since no runoff election was necessary, select of a new tax assessor-collector, hear curriculum reports and consider routine reports.

Also the board was to act on local supplement to teachers for the next school year, select a department head for Business and Science, act on election of teachers and the resignation of Hazel Stewart, and consider a proposal on the Southern Region School Boards policy manual.

Orpha Click, the present school tax assessor-collector, is retiring after extended service here. He will serve deal with the problem of increasing utility rates.

Clayton said teachers were seeking a $14,000 minimum wage, a big increase over the present $8,000 minimum for starting teachers. The Speaker doesn't think the legislature will grant such an increase which would raise state spending by about $2 billion per biennium.

Pay increases for state government employees will hopefully be affected by attrition, said Clayton. As the number of employees are reduced in an agency, salaries might be increased. Several representatives also pointed out that savings in the costs of government are being sought. Rep. Pete Laney of Hale Center gave one example on janitorial service for the House. The state had been paying about $200,000 a year for the service, and it was recently put on a bid basis and will cost about $40,000 a year—a savings of some $180,000 per year.

Rep. Ben Bynum, chairman of the insurance committee, said he was pushing for a "free enterprise" approach on insurance to get state bureaucracy out of the business. Rep. Bob Close of Perryton sees hopes for the Texas Water Plan, through development of water import plan from Arkansas, through Oklahoma. He added that he thought "open, honest government will always be an issue."

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen was also a featured speaker at the press meeting.

Sue Ann

caught the attention of regional wide media with the presence of state level dignitaries including Speaker of the House Bill Clayton. It was announced at that time that the Sue Ann facility, manufacturers of Center Stage women's clothing, was among the first large plants to be built under Gov. Dolph Briscoe's

Although he dropped out of national competition, Bentsen is still running his senatorial-favorite son presidential campaign. In his address, Bentsen lashed out at the current energy policy as being not only detrimental to Texas oil interests, but to "West Texas in particular."

The senator claimed Washington has come up with nothing substantial in terms of a national energy policy. "This country's energy policy has, in effect, set one portion of the country against another." He added that he is fighting current legislation in the Senate which would allow states with large populations but little or no natural gas production to control 70 percent of the gas coming out of Texas.

Bentsen called for Texas to lead the way in developing solar energy and said he is pushing to see that the National Solar Institute is built in the Lone Star State. "The technology is already available and there's no reason to delay the use of solar energy," stated the senator.

Bentsen also took the opportunity to put in a pitch for the farmer. He lamented the fact the American farmer currently makes his living by raising crops he does not know if he can sell. He called for "a stable agricultural exportation program." Rather than using our vital ag resources as a "political football and pitting buyer against seller, we need to export more," said Bentsen.

Texas First campaign to seek new jobs within the state.

Sue Ann operates on the principle of advanced sales far into the future, plans future expansion here as the production orders dictate, Mrs. Harris said. Orders for the plant's products already exceed far into October.

As plant production increases, then more jobs will be offered, possibly bringing the plant to an employment above 200 persons.

The plant, measures 12,000 square feet in space and has an annual payroll of $750,000. It was built in October and November of 1975 through an agreement with the HIF. A 10-year lease is paid by Sue Ann, which could purchase it in the future.

THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of came in May of 1975 with the formal organization of the Hill Hereford ranks as one of the company's largest plants. Others are located in Henderson, Bridgeport, Ballinger, Rockwell, Athens, Fairfield, and Whitney.

Jaffers said then that Hereford was chosen over other locations because of the potential labor market and warm reception by the townspeople. TSTI cooperated in training potential employees through a grant through the TIC, headed by Harwell.

Sue Ann has had record for good growth as evidenced by a sales increase from $3 million in 1970 to $22 million for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1975.

The company has more than 4,000 accounts and owned showrooms in Atlanta, Charlotte, Los Angeles, and Dallas. Leased showrooms exist in Oklahoma City, Chicago, Kansas City, New Orleans, and San Francisco.

Merchandising techniques changed for the firm in 1973 when all business was cutoff from the major chains. Instead, only in-hand orders from its 4,000 accounts controlled production rather than the off again-on again orders of the lot was the Yocum residence on Union Street.

City Commission

Before the commissioners could begin discussion on the request, Yocum and his wife Linda decided to withdraw the request since they felt they probably would not need the commercial zoning designation for what they wanted to do.

They own Yocum Decorators, which involves Linda Yocum's profession as an interior decorator. She said she was only going to consult with clients in her home and not display or sell any merchandise.

Bayne felt like even the showing of fabric samples might be considered a sales business and therefore would require a zone change for the Yocum house. However, City Attorney Earnest Langley read portions of the city zoning ordinance which stated that "incidental" uses of a house in addition to the primary use as a residence would not necessitate the zone change and that the Yocum's could operate without the change as long as no sales ever commenced.

The ordinance also allows limited sized signs to be attached to a residential business.

The matter required no action of the commission since it was withdrawn.

The Hereford Zoning Commission already heard the case and discussed at length with respect to already mentioned opinions.

WALTER PAETZOLD was given permission by the City Commission to lease two tracts of land at the old city dumpgrounds, near the municipal airport. He said a 1.4 acre tract was to be used as an ensilage pit and a 23.5 acre tract was to be used for possible water discharge. Nothing is to be built on the land.

The contract calls for an annual payment of $150 for both tracts based on a 10-year lease. The city retains the right to use the land after six months notification for further expansion of the airport if necessary.

When the last snow came, the city officials discovered roof leaks in city hall, the community center and at the fire station. All but the fire station, were repaired by patchwork methods. But Bayne explained that the fire station roof was inadequate and needed to be completely redone to prevent further leaks.

The commissioners agreed to let the city manager to advertise for bids on the roofing project. He said the estimated cost was about $5,000 or $6,000.

A NOTICE OF INTENT to pave was accepted for 10 streets. They include Brevard, Mable, Whittier, Forrest, Wulf, George, Irving, Kibbe, Ave. D, and Ave. G.

About 20 citizens appeared before the commission at a meeting a month ago to ask for paving along their streets knowing that each would have to pay for it. Since then other streets were added to the list thereby cutting down the potential cost. It could run about $9 or $10 a front door depending on buds submitted.

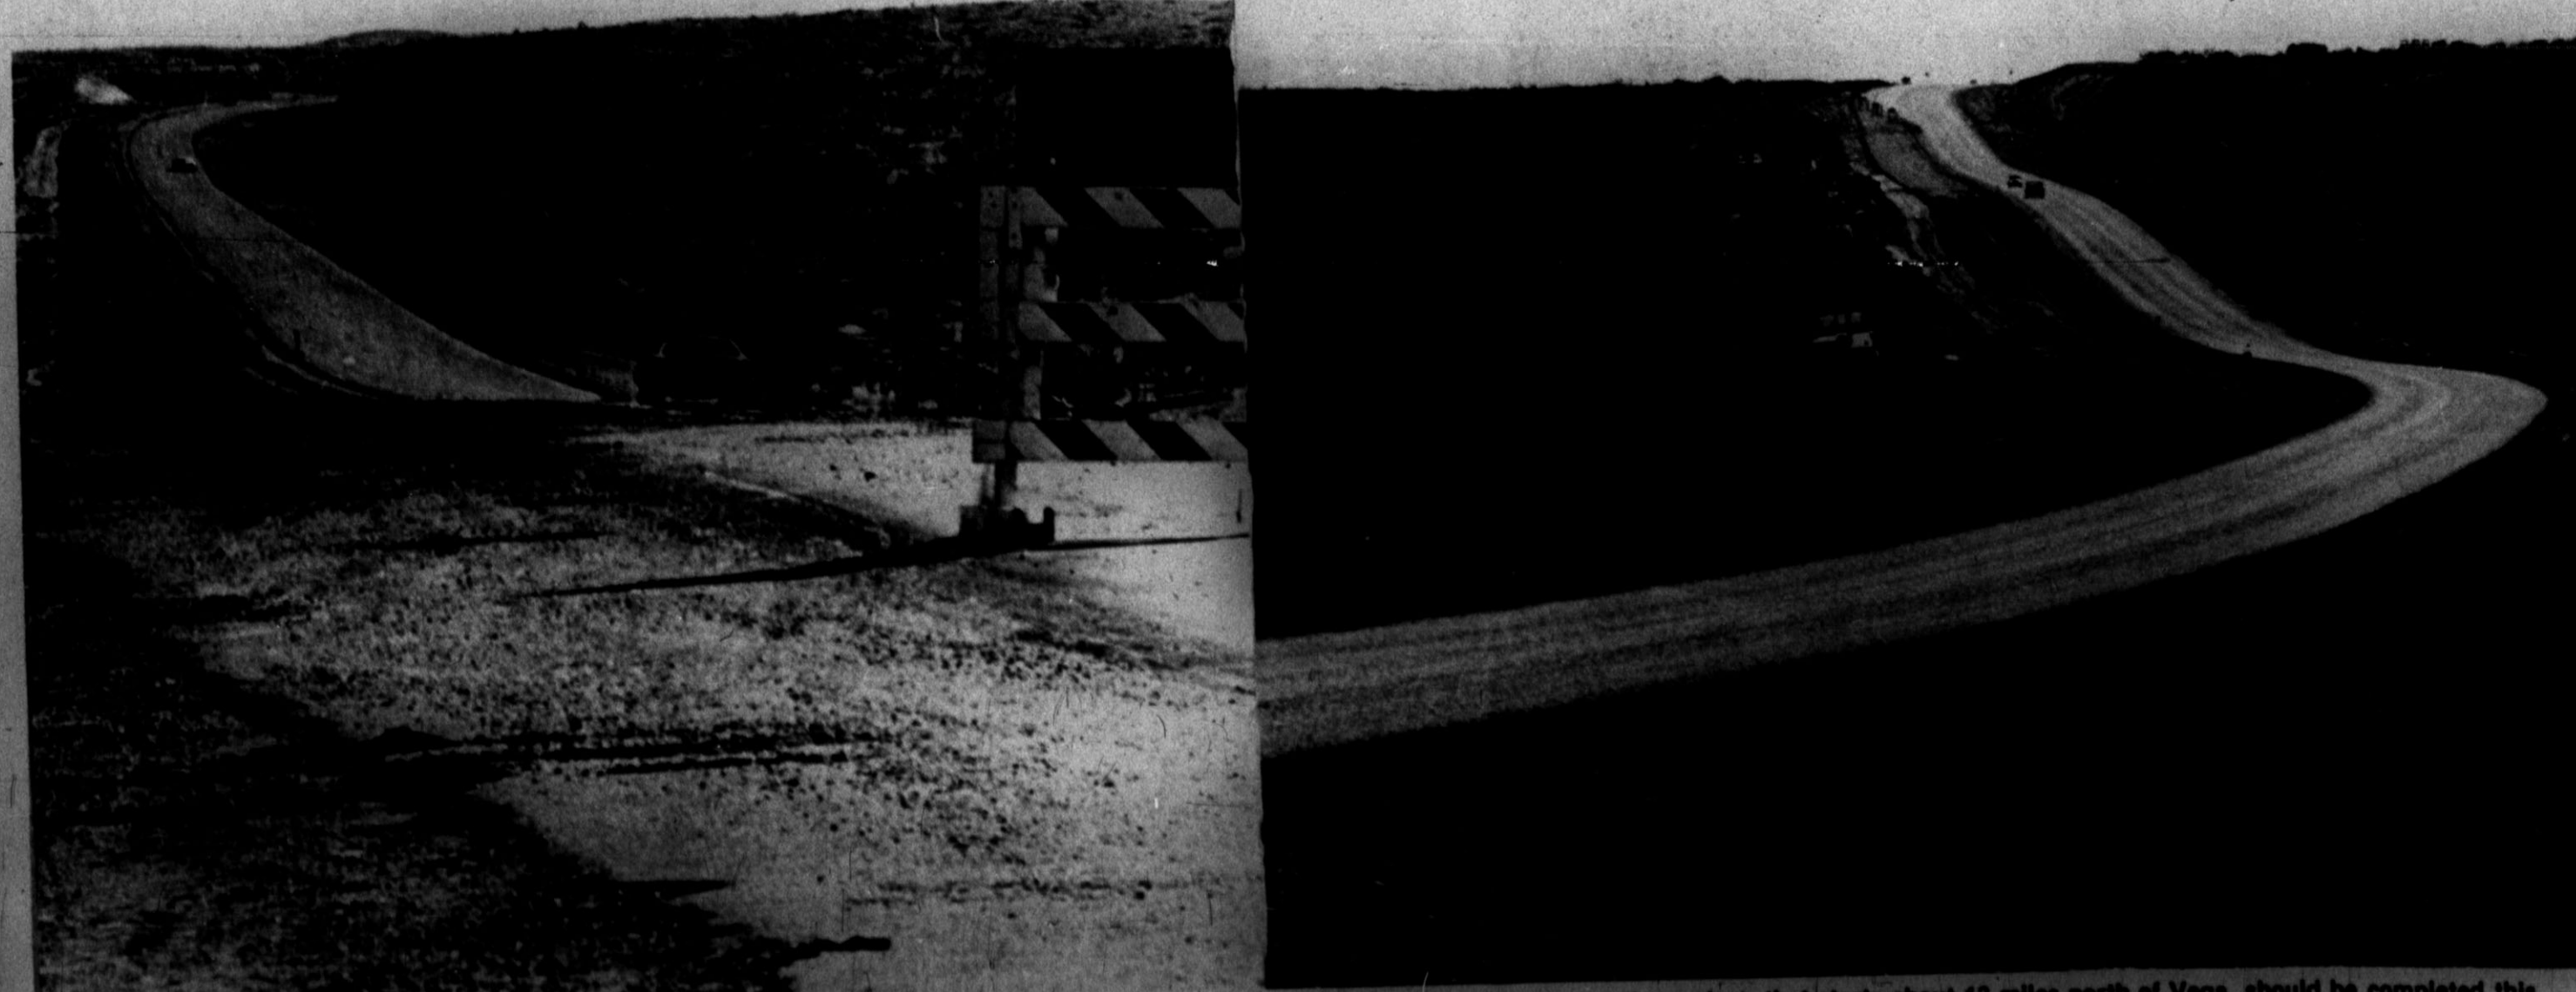

An agenda item called for discussion on widening Union Street from Ave. F to 25-mile Avenue, but talk was stopped suddenly after Bayne said it would cost about $117,000. If it had been approved, it would have been widened from 33 feet to 47 feet.

The project was suggested since traffic along the stretch on Union is hectic and fast when Hereford High School students go to and from the school. Residents along Union, who were present, said they wouldn't even park their cars along the street for fear of interfering with traffic.

No action was taken since the price seemed prohibitive.

A lease of hangar space at the municipal airport was scheduled on the agenda, but no one was present to discuss it.

All commissioners were present except for Paul Abalos.

Highway Improvement

Roadway design features are being upgraded for safety on a 4.4 mile section of U.S. Highway 385 north of Vega in Oldham County. Inadequacies in the highway alignment are being corrected and the pavement structure is being strengthened to accommodate heavy truck traffic. George J. Cannon, supervising resident engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, said the project, that starts about 13 miles north of Vega, should be completed this summer. Both views above face toward the south. Cooper and Woodruff Inc. of Amarillo is the contractor on the project. Approximately one of every four vehicles that travel this portion of U.S. 385 is a truck, DHT survey show.

SUCCULENTS IN WOOD

Some of the most attractive planters I've seen were made from driftwood. Before you do anything, scrub driftwood well with a brush and soapy water to remove traces of salt, if you're going to use it for a planter. Bake wood found in the forest or desert in a 175-degree F. oven for an hour to kill small insects or their eggs. Sanding and waxing will bring out the wood's texture.

Even if the wood piece you choose has very small openings, succulents need very little soil and will do well growing there. The wood will allow plenty of air circulation in the soil. If your piece won't sit flat without tipping, use a small flat piece of wood anchored to the bottom with a long screw.

For succulents, a half and half mixture of potting soil with sharp builders' sand is an excellent growing medium. Buy small plants which will fit into the holes in the wood, plant them in soil in these pits and, at first, water them thoroughly to set them and to get rid of air pockets in the soil.

Region Group Almost Complete

All of us have some arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries. The long-term buildup of the problem, which is responsible for so many heart attacks, is the major health hazard for middle-aged males.

"Arteriosclerosis -- Can We Help?" will be the topic of discussion for a Thursday, April 15, therapeutics seminar for health professionals at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

The seminar will originate from the auditorium of The University of Texas Health Science Center, at San Antonio at 12:30 p.m. CST and be received locally by means of a live teleconference hookup with the San Antonio school.

Dr. Henry McGill, professor of pathology at the UT center, will moderate the proceedings, which will examine whether treatment prior to the onset of symptoms can prevent complications including heart attacks and sudden death.

Potential therapeutic measures to be discussed include treatment of high blood fat content, high blood pressure, the use of vasodilators and the elimination of smoking, which does reduce the risk more definitely than any other measure known at the present time. Discussion panelists from the UT health science center will be Dr. Samuel Friedberg, professor of medicine; Dr. Harlan Root, professor of surgery; and Dr. Myron Zinn, clinical professor of medicine.

Winning Run for Herd Crosses Plate

Mitch Guinn crosses the plate with the winning run in the ninth inning of the Herd's 6-5 opening home win over Plainview, Tuesday afternoon.

ARTHUR ASHE says JIMMY CONNORS is a "very charming guy and the biggest male attraction in tennis. I really never knew Jimmy until we played together at Hartford, Conn., the reigning Wimbledon titleholder said. "We had dinner together. We talked in the locker room. I found that Jimmy is a lot like me. He is independent and has a lot of pride. We are both loners, and like to go our own ways."

Hereford also won the second game of the doubleheader, 5-1. They will meet Monterey in Lubbock Saturday.

Dudding Top Herd Hitter

Going into their opening 4-4A games here Tuesday, the Whiteface baseball team was being led offensively by a trio of .400-plus hitters. Statistics were compiled following the 13-game non-district schedule.

Mike Dudding, third baseman, led the way with a lusty .429 average, followed by infielder-outfielder Pete Hale (.417) and shortstop-pitcher Harvey Torres (.412). Pitcher and infielder Roy Martinez had a strong .375 mark, and Chris King came in above the coveted .300 mark with a .303 average.

Mike Pittard (.282) and Hale have been the Herd's top batter with mates aboard with totals of 18 and 17 runs-batted-in. Torres has 12 rbi's and Dudding has plated 10.

Thus far, the Whitefaces had 32 extra-base knocks, and Torres was the leader in total bases with 29. He had three triples and two doubles. Martinez leads win doubles with five, while Martinez, Dudding and Pittard each had one home run to their credit.

In the non-conference games, Hereford had totalled 104 runs to just 50 for the opponents. Torres had the best pitching record (3-0) among the moundsmen, but Martinez was the most effective with a 1.28 earned-run average. His mound record was 2-3, however. Chris Hill was above the .500 mark with a 2-1 record. The pitching staff had a combined ERA of 2.75.

Whiteface fans were beginning to wonder, but the Herd finally came up with the winning run in bottom of the ninth to take a 6-5 win in the first game of a district doubleheader with Plainview Tuesday.

In the second contest, Chris Hill baffled the Bulldogs with a blazing fast ball and good control and Hereford came away with a easy 5-1 win.

The Whiteface shot out to a 4-1 lead in the first inning of the opener, sparked by Roy Martinez's booming home run over the left field fence. They still held a 5-2 lead over the Bulldogs going into the top of the seventh. It was here that Plainview came to life and picked up three runs to force the game in extra frames.

The score remained knotted until the last of the ninth when Mitch Guinn led off with a single for the Herd. Mike Foster was then safe on a sacrifice bunt to put runners on first and second. Harvey Torres struck out trying to sacrifice Guinn to third, but Mike Dudding hit a bounding ball to the shortstop and the Bulldog infielder threw the ball into right field trying to force Foster. Guinn then came around with the winning run.

Extra base hits for the Herd in the opener, in addition to the homer, was a triple by Dudding. Torres went the first six innings and got the win, running his record to 4-0. He was relieved by Martinez in the 7th.

In the second contest, Hereford picked up two runs in the first, added two more in the 4th and tallied a final run in the 5th frame. Plainview scored their only run in the 1st.

Extra base hits for Hereford included doubles by Pete Hale and Chris King and a triple by Martinez.

Chris Hill went the distance on the mound. His record is now, 3-1.

The wins upped Hereford's won-loss mark to 10-5 and put them at 2-0 in district play. They will meet Monterey in a doubleheader at Lubbock Saturday in their next 4-AAA action.

In the other 4-4A opener in Lubbock Tuesday, defending champion Monterey swept a doubleheader over the Coronado Mustangs, 4-0, and 17-2.

Monterey's Scott Gardner threw a six-hit shutout in the opener, and Richard Bowles had an easy time in the second tilt. The Plainsmen are 16-2 on the season, while Coronado fell to 9-8.

150 Attend Booster Club Supper

Approximately 150 people attended the Whiteface Booster Club's ice cream supper last Monday night at the High School cafeteria.

Athletic Director, Fred Ushaw introduced the coaches of the Whiteface baseball squad, the girls and boys tennis teams and the girls track squad, who in turn introduced the members of their respective teams.

These teams were honored because the baseball team is entering district play this week and tennis and track squads are having their district meets also this week to determine which team members will advance to the regionals.

The girls regional track meet will be in Lubbock on April 23-24 and the regional tennis meet will be on April 30-May 1, also in Lubbock.

The next Booster Club meeting will be on April 19, at that time, the boys track and golf squads will be introduced.

Bronco Tryouts Due Next Week

Boys planning on participating in this year's Bronco League Baseball program have less than a week to turn in their registration forms. They must be in the hands of any league official by Tuesday, April 13.

To be eligible agewise, a boy must be eight years old by next August 1 and must not be older than 12 on that date.

Tryouts will be held on April 12 and 13 at the park on 15 St. and Ave. H.

The Major League draft will be held on April 13. Minor League draft on April 15 and Pee Wee Draft on April 16.

The teams will be announced at 1:00 p.m. on April 17.

Stale-Mate
Stalemate—Husband who keeps telling the same jokes.

It is and will have been already a busy week for Herd athletic squads by the time you read this (let's hope you do read it), beginning Tuesday afternoon when the baseball team opened district play against Plainview.

On Saturday they will be in Lubbock to play Monterey. There is no doubt that Hereford is in a tough district baseballwise, but nothing worthwhile comes easy (Yeah I know you've heard that one before), and regardless of what the Plainsmen may have done in the past, they've yet to prove they can win district this year.

Today (Thursday) will find the Kiwanis Elementary School Meet taking place at Whiteface Stadium. The girls will take over tomorrow as the District 4-4A meet will be held. It will be the first time that all five schools in the district will have been represented.

Maybe you will have the chance to get out there to see some of these kids, it always helps to have someone in the stands watching you.

Dave Charest, Hereford's all-around athlete, has the opportunity to attend West Point, if he chooses to make that decision when completing his eligibility in high school.

Charest was a top defensive back and offensive wide receiver on the Herd grid team and one of the top point producers for the Whiteface track team. He has missed several meets due to tendonitis but could be back in action this week. He is also a basketball letterman, but bypassed that sport this past season. And, if he wasn't circling the track, he could be in action on the baseball diamond—where he used to swing a mean stick!

The Southwest Athletic Conference office has asked us to publish their response to a column remark made by former Brand reporter Phil Henzel. In the column, Henzel had criticized commissioner Cliff Speegle for disclosing the fact that Texas coach Leon Black was the one who filed a complaint on two Aggie basketball players.

Bill Morgan, writing for the SAC office, points out that Speegle was required to answer the question from the witness stand in U.S. District Court. He adds that Speegle did not volunteer the information before it was put to him as a sworn witness in federal court.

As mentioned elsewhere, the Whiteface Booster club met Monday night and in addition to the introduction of the players and coaches of the baseball, tennis and girls track squads there was lots of cake and ice cream which happen to be two of my weaknesses. The next meeting will be April 19.

See where Tom Seaver of the Mets is about to sign a contract for something like $225,000 this year. Seems like everybody and his brother in the sports world (and most everywhere else for that matter) is threatening to sit out the season if he isn't given Fort Knox. Sorry Tom, as much as I love sports, I don't think anybody is worth that kind of money.

Herd Golfers In Amarillo Relays

The Whiteface golf squad along with the rest of District 4-AAA will be at the Amarillo Relays Golf Tournament this Friday and Saturday. Other schools entered in the AAAA-AAA division so far include Amarillo High, Borger, Amarillo Caprock, Levelland, Muleshoe, Pampa, Perryton, Tascosa, and four El Paso high schools, Irvin, Coronado, Jefferson, and Eastwood.

District action will resume at Plainview on April 16 and will conclude here in Hereford on April 19.

Monterey currently leads the pack after four rounds with a 1,227 total. Lubbock is in second with 1,243, while Plainview has a 1,251. Coronado follows with a 1,272 and Hereford has a 1,278. Monterey's Rex Robertson leads the individual medalist race with a 291 followed by Greg Weathered of Plainview at 297 and Hereford's Curtis Stoerner at 299.

The top two teams in the district will qualify for the regional tourney which will be held in Lubbock on April 30-May 1.

Does the weather affect our mood because of psychological factors or because of physical factors?

The changing weather affects the way we feel in both the real, physical sense, and the psychological. In the first place changes in the pressure of the air affect us, as does the relative amount of moisture in the air, so that many people feel genuine physical "omens" and "signs" about the weather in advance of a weather change, and during certain periods.

The psychological effect is also great. Psychologists have found that some people associate cheerfulness with rain, others link it with bright, sunny skies. It depends, to a large extent, on childhood experiences and the business you are in, on what effect rain will have on your life.

So both these influences must be taken into consideration in appraising the effects of weather on humans, which is sometimes quite great.

Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth grade girls and boys squads from Aikman, Bluebonnet, Northwest, Shirley, Tierra Blanca, West Central, and St. Anthony's Elementary schools will be entered in the event.

This is the first year that there has been a division for fourth grade girls.

1975 fifth grade winners were Aikman for the girls and again Northwest in the boys division. Northwest and Shirley tied for the lead in the fourth grade boys division.

Romero, James In Mat Feud

Lions Club wrestling this coming Saturday in Hereford sees the resumption of a long-burning feud, as Hank James clashes once again with Ricky Romero in the main event.

The towering James, at 6'7" and 252 pounds, calls himself the "King of the Black Wrestlers." He has wrestled the Mexican speedster, Romero, many times, and their rivalry has taken on personal overtones. At 236 pounds, Romero makes up in agility what he lacks in bulk.

In the semi-main, the Blond Bombers appear as a team for the first time since February. Bobby Jagers, at 257 pounds, and Randy Tyler, at 262, will test the mettle of Jerry Kozak and El Tartara, a quick-moving pair of junior heavyweights. El Tartara is from Old Mexico.

Jerry Kozak, who weighs in at 218 like his partner, is returning to the mat after a long and slow recovery from a serious wrestling injury. Only a few months ago he was in traction in Northwest Hospital in Amarillo, and doctors were advocating surgery and predicting that Kozak might never walk properly again. Should Kozak show a complete recovery, he will again be one of the top contenders for the World Junior Heavyweight Wrestling Championship now held by Hiro Matsuda.

The opener will see the Lawman, Don Slatton, attempt to pin El Lobo, the durable masked Mexican who has pleased fans here with some rugged wins. Slatton is a former Taylor County deputy sheriff with a boxing background, and comes in at 6-6 and 242 pounds. El Lobo is a 228-pound six-footer.

Action at the Bull Barn starts at 8:30.

A group of men in a small town were getting up a ball game and lacked one player. They finally persuaded an old fellow to fill in, although he said he had never played before. He went to bat and the first ball pitched he knocked over a fence. Everyone stood and told him to run. "Shucks," he said, "what's the use of running, I'll buy you another one."

Students may receive college credit through successful completion of college level tests to be given at 1 p.m. April 13 at Amarillo College.

Applications and checks for the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) must be made by April 12, said Fred Dodson, director of AC testing and counseling. Forms may be obtained from Dodson.

Examination by credit classes administered by AC are American Government, American history, college algebra, English composition, general chemistry, geology, calculus with analytical geometry, trigonometry, general psychology, business law, statistics, introductory economics, business management, accounting, introductory sociology, Spanish, French and German.

Students enrolled for the tests will meet in Room 107 of Ordway Hall on the Washington Street campus.

Average Weekly Earnings Same

Real gross average weekly earnings were essentially unchanged from January to February after allowance for the usual seasonal variation, the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

A 0.4 per cent increase in average hourly earnings was offset by a 0.3 percent increase in the Consumer Price Index.

The preliminary real earnings figures for February cover full-time and part-time workers on production or nonsupervisory jobs in the private nonfarm sector of the American economy.

Real earnings—or earnings in constant dollars—are calculated by adjusting earnings in current dollars for changes in the Consumer Price Index.

Over the year, real average weekly earnings were up 2.0 percent. Average hourly earnings increased 7.2 percent and hours rose 1.1 percent, contracting a 6.3 percent rise in the Consumer Price Index.

Over the year, real spendable earnings were up 4.8 percent.

This increase was due to a gain in real average weekly earnings and a reduction in federal income tax rates which went into effect May 1, 1975.

The Hourly Earnings Index in dollars of constant purchasing power increased 0.4 per cent from January. Compared with a year ago, the index was up 1.3 per cent. The index excludes the effects of overtime in manufacturing and of interindustry shifts, such as the shift of workers between high-wage and low-wage industries.

Rotary Given Patriotic Speech

The Hereford Rotary Club heard a stirring patriotic speech by Rev. Bob Wear during a weekly noon luncheon Monday at the Civic Club Center.

Wear, pastor of the Central Church of Christ here, reviewed the history of the United States including the signing of the declaration of independence.

"Its signers went through real sacrifice in order to achieve the foundation of this nation," he said. He went through a list of individual signers, who lost fortunes, loved ones and a total way of life after signing the document.

He said it was up to us today to preserve the freedom we have. "It can't be done by the elected officials, whether they are good or bad."

"We should look to the actions of the past in order to take action today," he said.

Rotary president Johnie Price thanked the club for contributions for the Opportunity Plan barbecue held last week and reminded Rotarians of a district convention in Amarillo from

Officials Distort Findings Of EPA Research

What if a scientist holding a key position in a powerful federal agency began to systematically distort evidence on which important decisions were based?

According to the Los Angeles Times, that appears to have happened at the Environmental Protection Agency.

The issue is the degree to which air pollution from sulfur-bearing fuels threatens human health.

The Times story charges that a high official of EPA's research arm:

"Rewrote the work of agency scientists, often deleting what the researchers felt were important qualifiers on experimental results:

"Deleted material from the reports that did not show a connection between sulfur pollution and adverse health effects;

"Screened statistical analyses to downplay evidence tending to weaken or contradict the case against pollution; and

"Overrode agency scientist's objections to publishing estimates of the health impact of pollution which were either statistically dubious or unsupported."

Shouldn't we err on the side of caution in such matters? This is essentially what the official is quoted as saying in his own defense.

The answer is "yes," we should err on the side of caution where human health is concerned. But the decision on where to draw the lines ought to be made on the best available data about the degree of risk. Falsifying data is not "erring on the side of caution."

Pollution is a two-edged sword. In excessive amounts, it damages both health and property. But needlessly stringent pollution control efforts can also have harmful effects.

For example, in order to meet proposed EPA standards on the burning of high-sulfur coal, the Nation's electric power utilities may have to install antipollution equipment costing $11 billion. And the equipment itself creates a solid-waste disposal problem in the process of solving the air pollution problem.

Have no illusions: Ultimately, the consumers of electricity will have to pay that bill, if it comes due. There's nowhere else to get the money.

Even $11 billion is not too much to pay to safeguard health. But it is much too much to pay because a key individual in a critical government post is carrying on a crusade for a degree of environmental purity that has little to do with the evidence of real hazards.

The irony of it is that such extremism almost invariably hurts the cause that evokes it. If the Times is proved correct, many honorable, dedicated scientists in the environmental movement -- both within and without EPA -- will suffer an unearned loss of credibility.

Are the charges correct? I don't know. But the evidence presented by the Times deserves a full and public investigation. I have written President Ford urging him to conduct one. We have all seen the tragic consequences of trying to sweep such disclosures under the rug.

The consumer is finally getting a break in food prices at the expense of the giant food retailers. A softening of commodity prices is partly responsible for the March drop in food prices. However, the giant retail chains are locked in a rough and tough price war, especially in the larger cities such as Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and San Antonio, where price cutting tactics are so cut-throat that the Federal Trade Commission has started an investigation.

The rate of population growth is leveling off and total food consumption has peaked. This means a market with little growth is being fought over by the food chain. They can grow only by taking a part of the market away from another food chain. The result, lower food prices for the consumer.

In Los Angeles, food prices have dropped 5 percent to 10 percent. Whole top sirloin is selling $1.49 a pound compared to $1.99 a pound a month ago. Round steak is going to $1.08 a pound from $1.29 a pound last month. In San Francisco, many items are below market prices. Sugar, salad, oil, mayonnaise, shortening, flour, soup, paper products, detergents, and catsup, are all being pushed at below cost with massive TV campaigns.

The big questions are now: how long can a price war last and will it permanently damage the food industry? In a number of cases, food chains are cutting prices sharply on a large number of items in order to hold on to the market share they now have. Any new sales volume is at the expense of profits because retailer's expenses have continued to climb, especially labor and advertising.

Price wars have usually come at a time of strong profits. This time the trick is to stay healthy and strong even when the industry is cutting prices sharply and with no relief in sight for the retailer.

The current American life style that finds more than 40 percent of the women on the work force, many of them doubling as homemakers, has increased consumer need for time-saving convenience items.

Sales of frozen foods and microwave ovens that can produce a meal in minutes have zoomed. The trend also is reflected in the popularity of polyester knit clothing, a time saver if properly maintained by home laundering. Here are some washing tips:

— Frequent laundering is recommended because polyesters tend to readily absorb body oils and perspiration odors. Light loads are advisable for better results.

— Turn pants inside out to prevent abrasion of creases. Use the warm water washer setting to avert shrinkage. To the recommended amount of soap or detergent add one cup of a bleach substitute like Borateem Plus.

Auxiliary To Order Poppies

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary decided to order poppies to be sold on Memorial Day Tuesday night during a meeting in the Legion clubhouse.

Mrs. Ira Ott led the business session and stated that the 4th division convention will be held at Childress May 1 and 2. Delegates will include Mmes. Ott, Grant Hanna, James Jesko, Robert Trowbridge and Bill Albright. Chosen as alternate delegates were Mmes. Lawrence Carlson, Jacob King, G.H. Logan, Mable Wagner and Jack McKinster.

Mrs. Ott reminded the auxiliary that a group will travel to the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo Monday to volunteer their services. Mrs. Carlson was introduced and announced that 88 members have paid their annual dues. This total falls short of the auxiliary goal of 94 reinstated members.

Following the business segment, the auxiliary merged with the Legion for a slide presentation narrated by Mrs. Jesko. Since April is designated as Child Welfare Month, the filmstrip concerned the Panhandle Educational Services Organizations (PESO), which helps teach learning skills to handicapped youngsters.

Mrs. Jesko explained that the local program is headquartered at Shirley Elementary School, where teachers work with children on a 1-1 ratio. The instructor also meets in the child's home to offer suggestions for parents.

Mrs. McKinster and Mrs. Albright served brownies, ice cream, coffee and punch to the 17 auxiliary members and the Legionnaires.

New Horizons

By JANE FORREST

Dear Jane Forrest: Why can't I find anything on TV to make me laugh? Tonight (Sunday) I wanted to see something funny. Aside from the bionic woman, a lollipop-sucking boy, a violence-prone undercover man, I was invited to watch a breast cancer program, an analysis of Jimmy Hoffa's disappearance, or a study of how to make it in the stock market. The last might have been a comedy, but I didn't take a chance and watch.

I am 83 years old, and I like to laugh. I really know that you can't help me, but I feel a little better letting off this steam. If you print my letter, then I will get a good laugh anyhow. Thanks for listening.

ANSWER: Here's your letter in print. I hope you get a laugh out of seeing it in the paper.

There are thousands of people like you around, and they come in all age categories.

Chapter Discusses Little Sister Tea

Final plans for the Little Sister Tea, which was held yesterday afternoon, were discussed by Young Homemakers of Texas Tuesday night in First National Bank Community Room.

Mrs. Larry Alley directed the business session and announced the YHT officers will be elected May 4 in the home of Mrs. Mike Solomon. Also, chapter members will assist with the Meals-On-Wheels service here this month.

Mrs. Bud Kelley presented the program on flag etiquette. Members' children were present and included Kevin Kelley, Kelly Howell, Rick Alley, Michelle Solomon and Jason Culpepper. Other guests were Janice Walls and Debbie Wheat.

The chapter advisor, Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith and the current Little Sister, Ann Zetsche, were welcomed by these members: Mmes. Alley, Jim Culpepper, Alan Dunning, Kelley, Louis Montano, Ronald Rayburn, Solomon, Connie Urbanczyk, Barbara Weatherford, Knox Trammell, Larry Dearing, Martin Urbanczyk and Roy Carlson and Miss Isabel Pena.

It's good business, even in family deals, to keep the record straight.

People only get old; life is continually new and full of change.

Hard work, dedication and long hours are still essential to success in farming or ranching. But they no longer assure it. Today, it takes capital. And good money management with careful attention to cash flow. That's why there are Federal Land Bank loans on so many of America's best-managed farms and ranches. Long term Land Bank financing is a dependable way to maintain a sound operation.

HHS Team Competes In Auto Contest

Competing on the Hereford High School team in the Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest qualifying examination held in Amarillo Monday were David Kelley 18, 132 Ave. G, and Raymond De La Cerda, 19, 320 Ave. D, according to Bill McDowell, instructor in the school's automotive department.

The team, sponsored by Jones Motor Co. in Hereford, were part of a state wide examination held in convenient locations across Texas.

Teams that score high grades in the written examination will qualify for the state Plymouth Trouble Shooting Championship, which will be held May 12, 1976 at Austin, Texas.

The State Championship will be a mechanical competition. Each two-man team representing a school will be assigned to a new car in which a series of malfunctions have been deliberately placed. Malfunctions in all cars are identical, and all are related to the electrical, starting, ignition, fuel systems or body hardware of the car. Teams race the clock and each other to find and fix the malfunctions and restore the car to normal running order.

State champions will win all-expense trips to the Plymouth National Trouble Shooting Finals at Chicago June 28, 29, and 30, where teams representing each state will compete for scholarships and other valuable prizes.

Assault Shooters have to be outstanding in their auto shop classes to qualify for the regional contest. Auto shop instructors select two students on their classroom mechanical know-how to represent the school in the event.

Calyx-eyed hand or machine needles are self threading. A small opening at the end or side allows the thread to slip easily into the eye. Calyx-eyed needles are ideal for people who have difficulty threading ordinary needles. Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, explains.

Parents needn't feel guilty about saying "no" because reasonable rules help children learn acceptable behavior and self-discipline. Mrs. Ilene Miller.

Efforts Recognized

Lee Umsted, chairman of Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American National Red Cross, presented a certificate of appreciation to Kerrie Womble Tuesday afternoon. The Women's Editor of The Hereford Brand was recognized for her coverage of county Red Cross activities and programs.

Realtors To Hear TAR President In Amarillo

Criticism of bureaucratic overkill and the urgency of political awareness will be two of the focal points of Frank Nix's speech in Amarillo's Hilton Inn Tuesday night (April 13), it was announced this week by Maurine Daniels, president of the Amarillo Board of Realtors. Dumas, Hereford and Dalhart Realtors also will be in Amarillo for the dinner, which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Nix, who entered the real estate business in 1956 in Dallas, later moved to Waco where heads his own real estate firm and is president of two land development corporations. He has been an outspoken critic of federal agencies and of court decisions which he says "go far beyond the meaning of Congressional action."

The TAR president will be accompanied to Amarillo by the E. W. Luedtkes of Austin and Quentin Williams of Pampa, regional vice president of TAR.

Williams will introduce the association president; Luedtke, who is the executive officer of the 30,000-member association, will give a brief resume of upcoming events in the association, including the June convention in San Antonio.

Mayberry Makes Honor Listing At SWTSU

Mike B. Mayberry, formerly of Deaf Smith County, is among the 3,400 Southwest Texas State University students whose grades earned them places on the fall semester Dean's Honor and Superior Honor Lists.

Placement of the regular honors list requires that a student be enrolled for a minimum of 12 semester hours of course work, excluding physical education activities, and that at least an overall "B" average is achieved.

The top academic listing, the Superior Dean's Honor List, requires grades of "A" in at least 12 of the required 15-hours of course work, and no lower than a "B" in the other three-hour course. Inclusion on the superior honor list requires a 3.8 grade-point average or above on a four-point scale.

Undergraduate courses only are considered in the list's tabulation. "I" grades -- a designation used to indicate incomplete course work -- earned during the fall semester also disqualifies students from the scholastic honor rolls.

There she graduated from Hale Center High School. She is now attending West Texas State University where she plans to major in Secondary Education-teaching fields in Biology and Physical Education.

When asked why she replied, "I have found both fields interesting." In answer to being asked about future plans, she answered, "To coach girl's basketball and track and teach high school Biology." Miss Heath also plans to teach anywhere in the State of Texas.

When asked to comment on Hereford, she replied, "I am enjoying the time I am spending in Hereford, and find it to be a town with lots of opportunities." Miss Heath is also the second student teacher under the supervision of Tommy Rosson.

He hopes a good opportunity will arise to teach. Matthews has a lot going for him as he stands a tall 5'10" and weighs a nifty 175 lbs.

His feeling about Hereford High School students in general are that they are well behaved, neat in appearance and well disciplined. "Thus far everyone involved in the Hereford School System have been extremely courteous."

"When I was driving into Hereford, I wondered where all the cattle came from. I still wonder."

JIM CORBIN one of five student teachers to invade the Hereford High School campus is teaching Physical Education for the last trimester.

Drama Department Shows Ability

Hereford High Schools 1st period Drama class, taught by Mrs. Weurflin, are performing and acting on stage with 2 and 3-act plays. The plays are short scenes from 1, 3, and 5-act plays. The largest scene consists of about 7 persons.

Some of the plays being put on are: "Civilized," "The Printers a Devil," "God and Texas," "Bus Stop," "The Make-Up Artist," and "Louder I can't Hear You." The students choose their own play, direct it, and choose the characters they wish to be in their play. The plays chosen are plays most people know. For instance, "God and Texas" takes place at the Alamo.

In the first two trimesters, the students read the techniques of drama and the art on acting in the book. The students learn how to act and learn what Drama is all about. In the 3rd and last trimesters, the students are performing the plays in the auditorium in front of the Drama I and II class.

Mrs. Weurflin grades on stage movement, volume and projection, voice quality and intonation, stance, countenance, correct use of gestures, accuracy of lines and memory, knowledge of characters, ability to remain "in character," and sensory-impression.

The Drama classes also will be staging two full plays. The class will have competition between the classes to see which directors can produce the best play. The two directors are to be Bill Hardin and Russ Odum. The plays will be done in public for friends and relatives of the Drama classes.

50's Relived At HHS

H.H.S. held 50's day, March 31st, 1976. 50's day is an annual fun day which was begun 3 years ago.

The day is held in old nostalgia. Girls with tight curled hair and swinging ponytails. Guys with slicked back hair and short ducktails, helped complete the feeling. The spirit was present with stud young men and flirty young women. Then lapels, rolled up jeans, long full skirts and bobby socks were the favorite fashion of dress.

The students held an assembly, starring Little Dennis and the Ducktails. Other performers were Frankie Avalanche, singing "Breaking Up is Hard To Do," sending the girls into wild screams. Dirk Vander Zee D.Jed the assembly.

The audience held all types of students in 50's dress, including the gangs. Girls crowded on the floor near the stage in hopes of touching one of the well known celebrities.

Ending the show was a pie eating contest. The contestance were chosen by drawing names out of a bowl.

They were Vance Hennington, Sammy Davison, Manerva Flores, Robert Scott, and Kenneth Henson. The rules were to eat the pie with one hand without using any utensils.

The 5 dug into the banana cream pies and the race began. It was the last 5 minutes. Robert Scott won the contest and a 10 dollar prize. He also received a pie in his face, which started a chain reaction of pie throwing.

The pie throwing ended the assembly with a mess but it did not end the fun of 50's day at Hereford High School.

FHA District Meeting

Sock Hop Like Of The

50's Sponsored

HHS students were invited to the Community Center, March 31, for a Sock Hop.

The Sock Hop was to represent a Saturday night dance of the 1950's. Students came in 50's dress. They dressed in baggy suits, full dresses, and spiked heeled shoes.

The Sock Hop started a live group. It consisted of Ruben Reyna on the drums, Rex Lee as lead guitarist and vocalist, Lance Martin as a guitarist, Stacy Hacker on the bass, and Dale Tarr on the organ.

They played many features from the 1950's. Along with the band, Russ Odum, posing as Frankie Avalache, performed for swoony headed girls. The jukebox also provided a large amount of the music.

Kids could be seen doing the Jitterbug, the Hop and many more famous dances familiar to the 1950's.

50's Day Pie Eating Contest

Five students dig into banana cream pie for the prize of $10 for the most pie eaten in five minutes. They are [L-R] Sammy Davison, Minerva Flores, Vance Hennington, Robert Scott (winner), and Kenneth Henson.

Book Portrays Suspence, Drama

"The Pimlico Plot" by Mary McMullen and "Harry's Game" by Gerald Seymour are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library. In "The Pimlico Plot," Fenway Vaughn unveils unnerving facts about his bride whom he married before he learned of her past. "Harry's Game" concerns two men pitted against each other in a classic duel of nerves. Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays; and until noon Saturday.

THE PIMLICO PLOT

by Mary McMullen

Fenway Vaughn knew very little about the woman he had taken for his lawful wedded wife; indeed his hasty wooing of Maeve Devlin had left very little time for particulars.

Still, Vaughn had hardly expected that a trip to London would uncover such a sinister past for his ravishing young bride—and all in the person of her ex-lover, mystery writer Desmond Byrne.

For slowly, Byrne begins a very ghostly courtship aimed at reclaiming Mrs. Fenway Vaughn. And as in the past, fact and fiction become intertwined as some of the grislier elements of Byrne's own plot twists begin to spill over into the realities of Maeve's life...this time in the form of political kidnappings by Irish nationalists.

HARRY'S GAME
by Gerald Seymour

"Harry's Game" introduced a superb new writer of suspense fiction in the great tradition. His name is Gerald Seymour.

"Harry's Game" pits two men against each other in a classic duel of nerves. The Man is an assassin, an expert killer who has already stricken once against a high government official.

His pursuer, Harry Brown, an Army captain and ex-intelligence agent, must stop him before he strikes again. In a nightmare world of shadows and death, they pursue each other through the back streets and crumbling buildings of war-torn Belfast, neither sure of the other's identity, both aware that the last man to find out may be the first one to die.

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, April 8, 1976

"Harry's Game" captures with consummate skill and vicious world of urban guerilla warfare, the vanities of the espionage bureaucracy, the tension of the manhunt. Combined with Gerald's superb storytelling ability and characters—including some of the most exceptional women characters in suspense fiction.

they make "Harry's Game" an unforgettable novel.

Father: "My boy, I never kissed a girl until I met your mother. Will you be able to say the same thing to your son?"

Junior: "Yes, Dad. But not with such a straight face."

The telephone operator answered an agitated summons from a call box.

"Oh, miss," came a tearful feminine voice, "can I have my ten cents back? Albert won't speak to me."

Garden Therapy Described

Therapeutic gardening was explained to members of Bud to Blossom Garden Club Friday morning by Joan Howard of Lubbock. The guest speaker is the sister of Roy Faubion, a local resident.

Mrs. Howard is a therapist for the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. and discussed gardening as therapy for the handicapped and the elderly. She told of her experiences in working with a garden club composed of blind members. She also recounted the success of gardening therapy for mentally retarded, handicapped and elderly individuals.

Stating that the garden therapy format is divided into two categories, Mrs. Howard said that some service projects require that the therapist do the work for the handicapped person, while activity and participation on the part of the patient is stressed in other cases. She specialized in the latter form of treatment.

The speaker emphasized that participation, rather than perfection, is the goal of these constructive garden projects. She listed "patience and a sense of humor" as necessary attributes for an aspiring therapist. Also important are a regular work schedule and adherence to the rules of the institution where the garden projects are conducted.

Mrs. Gaylon Bryan led the brief business session prior to the program. In attendance were nine club members, Mrs. Howard and another visitor, Mrs. Allyne Mitchell.

Home Gardening Program Is Today At Flame Room

Home gardening will be the primary topic of a special program to be held from 7:30-9 p.m. today in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Sponsoring the program is the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, to be represented by Dr. Roland Roberts, area extension service vegetable specialist from Lubbock. Dr. Roberts will be the keynote speaker tonight.

Included in the discussion format will be the latest information concerning mulches, fertilization, irrigation and varieties. Also, past garden problems will be tackled during consideration of insect control and diseases.

Dr. Roberts, who is knowledgeable in production of vegetables, will be available to answer questions, whether from a commercial grower, home gardener or beginning cultivator.

Writing Forum Slated Tonight

Area residents who are interested in writing are invited to a workshop in the Elmer Patterson home, 610 E. 5th St., beginning at 7:30 p.m. today.

Bessie Patterson, the hostess, is familiar to local citizens as author of "Deaf Smith County," a Bible study booklet for women and several newspaper and free-lance articles. Assisting at the forum will be Mrs. H.E. Miller, author of two novels for adolescents, and Roberta Campbell, former women's editor and columnist for The Brand. The three women are members of Panhandle Pen Women, an area-wide organization for professional women writers. Those attending tonight's meeting are welcome to bring original written material, which will be considered for constructive criticism. Writers from Friona have also been invited to participate.

Discussion is planned concerning the "Writers' Round-Up," an annual event sponsored by West Texas State University and Panhandle Pen Women. Featured speakers at the Round-Up, slated April 29-May on the WTSU campus, are two Panhandle writers, Loula Grace Erdman and Lee Pennington.

Miss Erdman, also a member of Panhandle Pen Women, has published 22 novels and numerous short stories. Pennington has written six books, 900 poems and 40 magazine articles appearing in magazines and anthologies. He has also written more than 10 thousand news articles. Pennington's students have published more than 2,000 articles.

Jimmy Carter, former Georgia Governor:
"It need not be a cause of fear in Washington to see bold changes made."

Edward Levi, Attorney General:
"While the per cent increase in reported serious crime in the nation was only half as great (in 1975), the level remains much too high."

Mrs Word Honored By Chamber Women

Mrs. Bob Word was nominated by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division for a distinguished service award during the quarterly membership meeting Tuesday at Hereford Country Club.

Women from 32 counties in the Texas Panhandle have been invited to the awards luncheon to be held April 24 on the campus of West Texas State University. Mrs. W.E. Sparks, president of the Chamber women, announced that the luncheon is a Bicentennial event designated specifically to cite the accomplishments of area women.

Before a crowd of approximately 55 women, Mrs. Herschel Black outlined plans for the annual Fine Arts Festival, scheduled in Community Center April 24-25. She announced that Mrs. Austin Rose Jr. will have a historic account of Deaf Smith County during the festival. Other activities will include prose, poetry, music and dramatic excerpts from local students.

Mrs. Black encouraged local residents who have needlework, art pieces or crafts to display these items at Community Center during the Festival.

Acting as fine arts chairman, Mrs. Black invited her audience to visit the Chamber office, where artwork by a local resident is featured each month. These honored artists are selected by Eunice Petersen.

Mrs. Sparks then summarized the numerous spring and summer activities being directed by Mrs. Richard Ottesen, public affairs chairman.

Another impending event to be sponsored by the C of C women is the Summer Youth Program, being coordinated by Mrs. James Hamby. Mrs. Hamby requested that citizens volunteer their services for the SYP, due to begin June 1 and last six weeks.

Mrs. Stanley Simmons, chairman of the welcome committee, reported that her task force had already made tentative plans for future tours. Another upcoming project discussed was the annual Clean-Up Drive, which will follow the theme, "Keep America Beautiful."

Members of the Women's Division executive board voted to provide $200 toward the purchase of a storage room, to be located directly behind the Chamber office on Main St.

Mrs. J.W. Robinson, vice president, introduced Miss Hereford, Delfine Ulibarri, Miss Teen, Michelle Moore and their mothers, Mrs. J.J. Moore and Mrs. Larry Ulibarri. It was the first time since the local pageant that the title-bearers had been formally introduced to their sponsoring organization.

Mrs. Joe Railey, membership chairman, announced that two women, Gladys Caviness and Mrs. Michael Powers, had been enrolled in the Women's Division. Various members present introduced their guests.

Following the business segment of the assembly, Mrs. Black, program chairman, presented Mrs. Reuben McGilvary Jr. The guest speaker gave a light-hearted review of the tongue-in-cheek history book written by Richard Armour, syndicated humorist.

In celebration of the U.S. Bicentennial, Armour recorded his version of this nation's past, dating from Columbus to Richard Nixon. Mrs. McGilvary was awarded a potted plant, an expression of appreciation from the Women's Division.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Sparks dispensed with two public announcements. She reminded the women that the extension service will sponsor a Home-maker's Day here April 22. Also, the Chamber executive stated that a spring concert on April 24 will feature the Chamber Singers, Hereford Boys Choir and Hereford Girls Choir.

PIERCE, SMITH & HOMES

"These are the sorghums I'd plant if I farmed in this area."

Jim Higdon
AGRONOMY SERVICE DIRECTOR

Drouth, disease, insects, wind storms... taking everything into account that can plague a crop in this area, these are the sorghums I'd go with."

It's my job to know which are the best varieties for each locale in the states of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. For the last five years I've had Crop Information Centers, Standard Comparison Tests and Uniform Strip Tests in this immediate area. In these carefully controlled tests, I've evaluated most of the sorghum varieties a farmer might consider planting. I've had the same headaches and frustrations you've had. My plantings have suffered the same weather conditions, epidemics and infestations yours have.

Based on these tests, there is no doubt in my mind what I'd plant in 1976 if I farmed hereabouts.

James Matthew Higdon is a professional agronomist with 16 years of extensive experience in growing hybrid corn and sorghum in the Southwest. His full time responsibility is to consult with farmers about their grain and stage growing problems.

8311 is a champion producer of high test weight, yellow endosperm grain. Pioneer introduced this golden bronze hybrid three years ago and it's been setting yield records in this area ever since. One reason is its ability to yield in the face of too wet or too dry weather, insects or disease. Another reason for the high yields is that 8311 tends to adjust its maturity to the growing season in a particular area. Whatever else you plant... put in some 8311.

A WORD ABOUT GREENBUGS
Tolerance to both greenbugs and maize dwarf mosaic plus high yield potential give 8311 an economically significant advantage that you'll want to consider for your grain sorghum crop in 1976.

828

One of the highest yielding sorghums you can plant, 828 responds well to good management on good land with plenty of water. This full-season variety has sturdy stalks and semi-compact heads of dark red grain. It holds its quality and threshes well even after an early freeze or snow. 828 is especially popular on the Plains. Its stalks and leaves provide excellent winter forage after harvest.

Performance of seeds or the crop produced therefrom may be adversely affected by factors beyond our control including environmental conditions, insects and diseases. The limitation of warranty and remedy attached to each bag of Pioneer brand seed is a part of the terms and conditions of the sale thereof.

Ten area teams consisting of four members each competed in the four-event contest.

Swine Shortcourse To Focus On Sow, Boar Management

Plainview - Swine producers on the Texas High Plains have a unique opportunity to hear views on selection and management of sows and boars from some of the top experts in the business.

The annual Texas A&M University Swine Shortcourse, this year being offered on the High Plains of Texas as well as on the campus of Texas A&M University, will be held in Plainview on Saturday, April 10, at the Hale County Agricultural Center.

Registration begins at 8:00 a.m. and the program begins at 8:45 a.m. A registration fee of $5.00 will be charged to help defray expenses of the shortcourse. A copy of the proceedings and a lunch will be provided each participant.

The morning session will get underway with a discussion on modern trends in visual selection, followed by a live evaluation of breeding gilts. Shortcourse participants will also have an opportunity to evaluate these gilts and offer their comments.

A third topic will center around a discussion on the value of records in a swine breeding program.

The morning session will conclude with a discussion on the boar's role in disease transmission. This topic should help answer the speculation as to whether or not pathogenic organisms can be passed in the semen of boars to females at breeding time.

The afternoon session will convene at 1:00 p.m. with a discussion on pathogenic organisms that have been isolated from aborted pig fetuses during a five-year study. Producers who may have had sows or gilts abort just prior to farrowing, even though they vaccinated for Leptospirosis would be particularly interested in this topic.

A discussion on the training and management of young boars in commercial operations will be followed by a discussion on managing sows and pigs to obtain optimum efficiency.

The importance of minerals, particularly the use of trace elements, for efficient sow reproduction will be presented, and the shortcourse will conclude with a presentation of the results of the latest swine nutrition research being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Swine producers and any related industry personnel are urged to take advantage of this shortcourse.

Lamb, Barrow Sale Slated At Clovis

May 7 and 8 will be big days for hopeful southwestern 4-H and FFA members in the market for club lamb and pig prospects.

Beginning Friday, May 7 at 7:30 p.m., at the Curry County Fairgrounds, Clovis, the Curry County Club Lamb and Barrow Sale will sell 100 lambs and 100 barrows of all breeds from the top sheep and hog producers in Curry County.

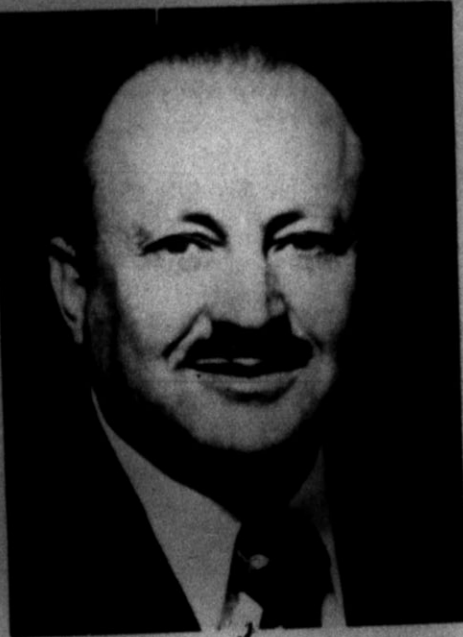

Then on Saturday, May 8, New Mexico's premier breeder of show winning lambs, Eugene Batie, Tucumcari, will conduct his second annual 1 plus 1 Club Lamb Sale at the Quay County Fairgrounds in Tucumcari. The Batie sale will feature 200 Hampshire and Suffolk show prospects. These lambs are carrying the same breeding as the Batie lamb which was named Reserve Grand Champion at the prestigious Houston Livestock Show in early March this year. The lamb was purchased in last year's 1 plus 1 sale and shown at Houston by Marfa, Texas, FFA'er, Miss Jettie Steen. Miss Steen sold the lamb at Houston for $6,800.

The Curry County lamb and pig sale is a first effort by the eastern New Mexico group and according to Curry County Extension Agent, Billy Dietson, Clovis, only the top 100 lambs and barrows from more than 400 nominations will be allowed to sell at the May 7 event.

Prior to the Batie sale on May 8, a 4-H and FFA sheep judging contest will be held. Last year's judging contest drew more than 500 participants from Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and New Mexico. Batie is offering trophies and discounts from the purchase price of sale animals to the top judges in the contest.

Both Batie and Dietson have expressed optimism that these events will be highly educational and rewarding for junior exhibitors, their parents, and their teachers.

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now.

But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time.

Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump...

other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

Wheat Grower Action Helps To Save Industry

Custom combining, one of the main links in the wheat producers production, harvesting and marketing system was threatened with extinction by a December 1975 ruling of the Department of Labor under the assumed authority of the Farm Labor Contractors Registration Act of 1963. Quick action by wheat producers themselves to initiate legislation and guide its passage through Congress removed this threat of extinction with the successful approval of both Houses - the Senate on Mar. 23 and the House on March 24, according to Winston Wilson, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association. Wilson said that the state wheat organizations working through the National Association of Wheat Growers with support of other farm groups and organizations made the successful conclusion possible. Actually, the Labor Department's December proposed regulations sought to place custom cutters in the same category as farm labor brokers hiring migratory labor. Among other things, they would have required custom harvesters to register and file 25 different forms and statements, and comply with federal insurance, vehicle and housing requirements. These requirements, according to Bill Nelson, Executive Vice President of TWPA, included insurance coverage equal to that required by the Interstate Commerce Commission for passenger carriage, written certification 30 days before occupancy that housing met federal safety and health requirements, and finger printing of custom operators and their employees. Failure to comply with such provisions could have resulted in revocation of custom cutter's required registration, and civil penalties of up to $1,000 for each violation. Wilson said that such regulations and penalties, if actually placed into effect, would have effectively eliminated the custom combine operation even before the 1976 harvest. This would have resulted in delays in harvest, loss of wheat quantity and quality, and forced individual producers to layout an unprecedented amount of capital for new machinery already in short supply and at a time when they could least afford it, as well as increased weather risks from delayed harvest.

Nelson pointed out that the wheat leaders first attempted to work with the Department of Labor to get the proposed regulations voided. As it became obvious, that this approach was not going to be successful, he said, wheat growers, through NAWG's leadership, were prompted to seek Congressional solution to the problems. Those sponsoring or co-sponsoring bills

attaching the amendment to the bill during Senate floor debate on the 23rd. Contacts were made by the NAWG with House Agriculture Chairman Foley and members of his committee, and the amendment was accepted by the House on March 24th. It should be noted that this strategy might not have worked, or would not have been as successful, without the cooperation of Senator Gaylord Nelson (D-WI) and Congressman William Ford (D-MI), who serve as subcommittee chairmen of the Labor Committees responsible for farm and migratory workers.

Despite increasing Congressional support for this approach, it was obvious to those having worked on similar problems before that this type of legislation would either not be cleared by the House and Senate Labor Committees, or would not be acted upon in time to solve the problem prior to preparations for the 1976 wheat harvest. Accordingly, Senator Dole developed a strategy to add an amendment providing the necessary exemption to a non-controversial House passed bill. The Bill selected was HR 6346, a measure extending authorizations for Title V of the Rural Development Act. This bill was reported out of the Senate Agriculture Committee on March 22, and Dole (with 17 co-sponsors) was successful in Legislative liaison, such as this successful preservation of our custom combine operations, is supported by voluntary memberships in the Texas Wheat Producers Association, Wilson said. He added that producer memberships are set at $10 per section of wheat planted and associate memberships (related agri-business firms, elevators, banks, implement dealers, etc.) $25 each. Individuals and firms interested in supporting this and other legislative action in interest of wheat production and marketing may send dues direct to the Texas Wheat Producers Association, 600 Bank of the Southwest, Amarillo 79109.

Sarah Weddington To Speak

"Women: Past, Present and Future," a keynote address by Texas Representative Sarah Weddington, will highlight the Bicentennial Luncheon April 24 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the West Texas State University East Dining Hall.

The luncheon is being sponsored by the WTSU Women's Program Committee to honor the first women recipients of the Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Award. Approximately 100 women from the top 32 counties of the Panhandle have been nominated for their outstanding business, professional or volunteer service. Only six to ten women will receive the award.

FAITH EXPOSES THE UGLY FACE OF GREED

The compulsion to acquire more and more material wealth becomes a chronic disease with many of us; which seems to worsen with the passage of time; and the flames of greed are fed by its own successes. Friendships can be destroyed and even close relatives have turned against each other over this worst form of selfishness; while additional earthly punishments take the form of impaired health and higher taxes. Faith in God is sorely needed to help us regain our perspective and to see the true values of life. Regular attendance at the Church of your choice will teach you that the only real wealth is the love of God, which will provide you with all the material things you will ever need.

Students Receive Honors

Several Hereford High School choir members captured honors at the University Interscholastic League solo and ensemble contest held at West Texas State University recently.

Soloists, Debbie Scroggins, Susan Schlabs and Sabra Hacker received I division ratings and II division ratings were won by soloists Gracie Granado and Scotty Clark.

Girls trio consisting of Mona McNaney, Cherie Anstey and Delme Garcia, received a II division rating and Alice Garcia, Gracie Granado and Cindi Lanlin received a II division II rating.

Don Moore is choir director at HHS.

Mrs. Norvell Nominated For Office

Mrs. State Norvell was nominated by members of Palo Duro Home Demonstration Club as THDA chairman during a meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Wallace Hill.

Mrs. Norvell will be considered by the County HD Council for the honor, as will nominees from each HD chapter in Deaf Smith County. Also submitted to the Council was the name of Mrs. Lynn Fisher, who has been chosen by Palo Duro women as delegate to the THDA state meeting this autumn at Texas A&M University.

During the business session, Mrs. Norvell was called upon to report the recent County HD Council session, plus activities at the THDA district meeting at Perryton. Members discussed the April 26th district delegates luncheon to be held in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. All HD members are welcome to attend.

Mrs. Lynn Brisendine, program speaker, gave a demonstration on the various uses of small kitchen appliances. She prepared foods not often cooked on smaller utensils.

Others present included Mmes. Roy Lively, Mickey Brisendine, Ted Coleman, Wendall Bain and Charles Thomas.

WHO WAS THAT LADY?

During the Civil War, an indomitable black woman served as a nurse and teacher to the black men in the Union forces. "I taught a great many of the comrades in Company E to read and write," she wrote. "Nearly all were anxious to learn." At a time when most blacks in this country were illiterate this woman took literature and education to them right on the battle-grounds. She recorded her experiences in a book titled "Reminiscences Of My Life In Camp." Who was that lady? Susie King Taylor.

Fish Rich In Nutrients

A little fish goes a long way to provide many nutrients for every age, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Most fish and shellfish contain low amounts of fat and high amounts of protein. And most fish—except shrimp and crayfish—contain small amounts of cholesterol in comparison with other foods. Certain organ meats and egg products contain 10 times as much cholesterol as fish and shellfish," she added.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Fish provides complete protein essential for good nutrition—protein builds and repairs. This nutrient is needed by every cell in the body. Children need it for building strong muscles, and adults need it to repair muscles and other cells.

"Fish products are easily digested because they contain little connective tissue. They are good for diets of young children and elderly people, where ease of digestibility is important," the specialist added.

She noted that calcium, iron, iodine, potassium, phosphorus, copper and manganese are minerals found in fish, and all are essential for good health.

"Calcium and phosphorus help maintain strong bones. Calcium also helps clotting of blood and regulating of the heartbeat. Fish containing small bones, such as salmon, are good sources of these minerals.

"Iron is another mineral present in fish and is needed by all cells—the red blood cells in particular. These cells carry oxygen in the air through the blood vessels to all cells in the body. Lack of iron in the diet makes a person feel tired and run down and can lead to anemia," she explained.

Seafood is a rich source of iodine, a mineral often found lacking in the diet, according to a nutrition survey. When seafood is a major part of the diet in certain iodine-deficient areas, the iodine-deficiency simple goiter can be prevented, she added.

Household Hints Are Useful

College station -- "In my library is an old tattered book, minus its cover. The dedication is 'To those plucky housewives who master their work instead of allowing it to master them.'"

Mrs. Patricia Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist, who was telling about her book, said that the date of the book is gone, but it is well worn with pages that are yellow and brittle, and it has a recipe in it dated February 28, 1888.

"In it also are the remains of some pressed flowers, numerous clippings, many notes and the very real essence of the woman who used it many times a day," she added.

Mrs. Seaman is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"With thoughts turning to Bicentennial celebrations, and

'how things were long ago', I think books from the past can give a real insight into the women who helped build our country during the past 200 years.

"For example, instructions for washing linen suits say to fill a pail with old, dry hay, put scalding water in it and let it stand until the water is colored; then wash the linen in it and it will look as nice as new."

Another suggestion, this time for cleaning cut glass vases after using them for cut flowers, says to fill the vase with sour buttermilk and let stand overnight. Then wash and polish the vase in the usual manner. It will sparkle like new.

Mrs. Seaman said she had tried this method and it worked perfectly.

"And here is another idea that, with a few minor improvements could be considered for today's living too," she added.

BOXES FOR SOILED CLOTHES

"A box two feet by two feet by 14 inches deep was purchased for each of my children's bedrooms. I fastened casters on the box and hinges on the lid and lined the box with newspaper—but the outside was covered with paper to match the wall in their rooms.

One of these boxes was placed in each room at the foot of the bed and it was impressed upon their minds that all soiled garments must be placed in that box, thereby saving their mother's steps and patience.

Peron says she won't run again.

Consumers Alerted To Cookware

COLLEGE STATION—Despite claims and advertisements, waterless cooking isn't anything new or fantastic, one authority said this week.

"It simply involves cooking food by steam rather than water—so great quantities of liquid aren't necessary," Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Salesmen for "waterless cookware" have several sales pitches, the specialist cautioned.

Some include "reducing the amount of food needed" and "increasing flavor and nutritive value of food prepared."

"However, wise consumers know that cookware will not improve family health or decrease food bills."

Sometimes sales pitches offer additional temptations—"discounts" or "free bonuses" such as glassware or silverware.

"However, prices are usually set very high to allow the salesman to offer such so-called bonuses."

"Prospective brides, single women on their first jobs and young people in school often make prime targets for zealous salesmen," Mrs. Chenoweth continued.

Actually, waterless cooking can be done in any heavy metal pan which has a tight-fitting lid, she noted. "The tight lid allows only a small amount of steam to escape."

"Utilizing low heat is extremely important in keeping vapor losses to a minimum."

In general, waterless cookware is made of a heavier gauge metal than normally used in top-of-the-range pans.

However, it's usually sold in sets—so use caution when considering a purchase, the specialist advised.

"Sets included in a large set may not come in sizes needed—and buying a set that includes items you won't use is hardly a bargain," Mrs. Chenoweth emphasized.

"When purchasing cookware—whether it's waterless or regular—a pan should possess several characteristics," the specialist contended.

A good pan is:

- made of thick, durable,

not-warping material

- constructed of a material that heats quickly and evenly.
- designed with wide, flat bottom; wide, smooth rounded corners and straight sides.
- complete with a tight-fitting lid, and
- made of materials and construction feature which permit easy cleaning.

Can one foretell anything about the weather by carefully noticing the color of the clouds above?

The answer is that only limited weather information can be detected from observation of cloud colors. The truth is, in fact, clouds have no color. It may be hard to believe but clouds are colorless.

Grapefruit, Oranges Considered Best Buys

COLLEGE STATION—Some Texas grocery stores are displaying fruits imported from South America, including grapes, pear and nectarines, but prices are very high since the consumer pays not only for the fruit, but also for transportation of the fruit, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported.

Currently, best fruit values, pricewise, are grapefruit, oranges, apples, bananas and pineapples, she added.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In vegetable departments, broccoli prices are down because of large supplies, and prices on yellow onions are more attractive, she said.

"Carrots and cabbage are in generous supply and quality—with low price levels, while other good choices are potatoes, spinach, hard-shell squash and rutabagas."

Lettuce prices are up because of cold weather, so consumers might economize by using other greens in salads—or cabbage for slaw, she suggested.

"In poultry departments, fryer chicken prices are a bit lower, and frozen turkey offers some good values. Medium-size eggs are featured in some stores, but egg prices in general are unchanged from last week.

"Pork prices are lower this week in some instances—with some attractive values on quarter-loin cut into chops. Other features include Boston butt roasts and smoked picnics."

Also, some markets are featuring lamb, Mrs. Clyatt noted.

At beef counters, "exceptional values are available on chuck roasts—and almost all of the markets are advertising them," she added.

"Good values also will be found on ground beef, rib steak and round steak and liver."

Other grocery store features currently include processed tomato products, canned cling peaches, tuna fish and peanut butter.

CONSUMER WATCH:—WORDS: In turkey buying, save time and energy by choosing a large bird.

For a family of four, a 14-pound bird will supply the turkey for dinner—plus eight and a half additional cups of diced, cooked turkey, which is enough for four more meals.

As soon as the ground can be worked, pea seeds can be sown. As soon as weather warms up a bit more, plant turnip, chard, radish, lettuce, onion and rutabaga. A bit more soil warmth and you are ready for beets and carrots. The still warmer soil is needed for tomato, bean, melon, corn, cucumber, squash, pepper and eggplant seeds.

TRAVEL BARGAINS
If you should decide to fly from New York City to Paris this summer you can make the round trip for as little as $350 -- or pay as much as $1300.

This big difference in price for essentially the same trip illustrates the fantastic number of options you have today when you board an airplane.

The airlines have compiled an unbelievable number of different rates, so complex and confusing that not even airline clerks or travel agents have all the answers at their fingertips. Costs vary according to the hour of the day you depart, the day of the week, the season.

You have a choice of first class, excursion, weekend coach, weekday coach, cut-rate affinity charter, group inclusive tours - the list is almost endless.

Even on domestic flights the difference in price is astounding. For example, roundtrip New York to Los Angeles varies from about $250 on a night Freedom Coach, to around $590 first class with free champagne.

Group charters are the cheapest, if you've been a member of an organization or association for at least six months before departure. Advance purchase excursions are a good buy, but you must purchase your ticket at least 60 days in advance and pay a stiff penalty if you cancel.

If you don't like group travel, there are plenty of individual plans to get you where you want to go, some with stopover privileges, and packages that offer good value in accommodations, sightseeing and car rental.

Check with at least two airlines or two travel agents. Ask for all the available literature that you can take home and study. Thorough planning will cut your travel costs substantially. Bon-voyage!
