County Could Inherit Airplane Used In Smuggling Operation

BY JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Deaf Smith County commissioners took the first step toward what could lead to eventual county ownership of a twin engine airplane at their regular session Monday.

THE COMMISSIONERS also approved an audit of the county's books for 1975, voted to seek bids on two tractors, and agreed to assist the school district in paying architectural engineering service fees on a recently constructed tennis complex.

Chief Deputy Art Burton of the Deaf Smith County sheriff's office told the commissioners that the sheriff's department is attempting to seize a twin-engine plane involved in a marijuana smuggling operation for the county.

The plane made a forced landing in a pasture to the west of the Ford community last Thursday, and upon checking the plane, officers discovered that it was loaded with about 1,500 pounds of marijuana.

Burton explained that the law would allow seizure of the craft, pending the outcome of a court settlement if the matter were taken to court by the plane's owner.

"WE WERE going to disassemble the plane and tow it into town, but we've been advised that the simplest way to deal with the matter would be to put wing jacks under the plane, jack it up, lower the landing gear and fly it out of the pasture," Burton explained.

The plane's propellers were damaged in the forced landing, and Burton pointed out to the commissioners that replacing them would cost about $2000.

"If there is any way we can get this plane for the county, I think it would be well worth our while, and the money spent on replacing the propellers can be recovered if we are not allowed to keep the plane, because the owner would have to pay the county for the expenses incurred in moving and storing the plane," said Burton.

After questioning Burton about the law concerning seizure of the craft, the commissioners voted unanimously to pay for the propellers.

THE PLANE will be stored at Hereford Airport after it is flown out of the pasture. Burton also addressed the commissioners concerning the lease of radar units used by local DPS officers.

He told the commissioners that two of (See COUNTY, Page 10A)

Hereford Fire Marshal Jay Spain adjusts the throttle on the pump of Unit 51 as water begins to move through firehoses leading to the apartment in background. Fire damage was confined to the apartment.

CB Radio Thieves Are At It Again

It was another verse of the same old song for Hereford police and local CB radio owners over the weekend as thieves made the rounds in the city's residential areas and walked away with over $1300 worth of radios and equipment.

THE POPULAR RADIOS, which are apparently easy to fence, have been one of the favorite targets of area thieves for many months here.

The majority of the current thefts came during the wee hours of Saturday and Sunday mornings, according to police reports.

The thieves apparently worked on certain blocks before moving on.

Keith Lang of 113 Elm reported the loss of two CB's and an antenna. His loss was estimated at $300.

OWEN SEAMANDS of 317 Douglas lost a radio valued at $167 in the thefts. At the Gerald Sledge residence at 212 Elm, thieves took a CB valued at $95, while Courtney Brooke of 240 Centre also lost a radio to the thieves.

Two radios valued at $150 each were taken at the Nolen Legate residence at 118 Elm and Wister Clevenger of 310 North Douglas reported the theft of a unit valued at $160.

A CB valued at $149 was stolen at the Jim McKay residence at 321 Ave. D.

RADIOS WERE ALSO stolen Friday or Saturday at the A.G. Owens residence at 134 Ave. C. and at the Mike Harrell residence at 814 Blevins. Harrell reported the loss of a radio valued at $140, a 20 gauge shotgun valued at $35 and a Winchester .22 pump rifle valued at $135. All of the items were taken from a pickup.

A police spokesman indicated that all of the radios were taken from vehicles parked in the driveways at the residences.

First Barley Received

Several loads of barley have been received at a local elevator in recent days as the harvest of spring grains gets underway here.

Hereford Grain Corp. received what was apparently the county's first load of barley last Thursday.

The 4,000 pound load came from irrigated acreage on the Walter Bogler farm and had a test weight of 50 pounds per bushel and a moisture content of 14.

According to Francis Backus of Hereford Grain, the firm had received some 700,000 pounds of barley as of Brand presstime with test weights averaging 49-50 pounds. Moisture content had dropped to the 11-12 per cent range.

"There just haven't been any big yields, due to the long dry spell through the fall and winter," Backus reported.

Search Continues For Pot Pilot

The search for the pilot of a marijuana-laden airplane which put down in rangeland west of the Ford community last Thursday was still on at presstime as investigators from Mexico to Kentucky continued to unravel leads in the marijuana smuggling case.

CHIEF DEPUTY ART Burton of the Deaf Smith County sheriff's office reported that authorities are seeking another Kentucky man in addition to the pilot, although a warrant has not yet been issued for the arrest of the second individual.

"We have an idea more than these two individuals are involved in the operation, and we're learning new things every day," Burton reported.

County sheriff's officers were called in on the case last Thursday after a twin-engine Cessna Skymaster made a forced landing on land owned by the Forrester Ranch after running out of fuel. The plane came down within the county.

A resident of the area in which the plane went down notified the Oldham County Sheriff's office, and the Deaf Smith sheriff's office was then notified.

COUNTY OFFICERS discovered that the plane was loaded with about 1,500 pounds of marijuana and seized the marijuana and the aircraft.

The pilot apparently abandoned the craft immediately after making a wheels-up landing in the pasture. He caught a ride to Vega on a butane truck and quickly disappeared.

Officers were provided with a description of the pilot, and have been searching for him since late last week. The aircraft was reportedly owned by a doctor in Kentucky, who had leased the craft to a flying service.

BURTON REPORTED that items have been found to indicate that the craft had been flown into Mexico on several occasions.

"We're still just waiting and hoping that the pilot and any other suspects are apprehended, and while we're waiting we're discovering there may be more to this case than we first imagined," Burton concluded.

Ada Board Meets Here

The board of directors of Ada Resources, Inc., meeting in Hereford Tuesday, declared a special dividend of 5 cents a common share payable Aug. 16, to stockholders of record July 15.

Ada Resources, based in Houston, employs the major part of its internally generated funds for exploration and development of energy sources, including natural gas, oil and coal. The company also has petroleum marketing and transportation operations and Southwest and Champion Feedyards in Hereford.

Approximately 30 per cent of the outstanding stock of the company is owned by Hereford-area residents. Charles Hoover, Bill Gentry, and Ed Reinauer Jr. are the directors from Hereford.

K.S. (Bud) Adams of Houston is president of the company. Other directors from Houston attending the meeting here Tuesday included Spencer Murchison, executive vice president; Charles Sones, Wayne Fisher and George L. Nye.

Australian Group Stops Here To Observe Feeding Industry

Hereford had a group of visitors from a faraway land here briefly Monday morning as a group of approximately 25 cattlemen from Australia stopped for a tour of the Southwest Feedyards before continuing a bus journey to the 7th World Hereford Conference in Banff, Canada.

Before reaching their destination north of the border, they were scheduled to make stops in Kansas and Iowa to see first hand how U.S. cattlemen operate.

They had flown directly from Los Angeles to Amarillo so this was their first opportunity to see anything of the American cattle industry.

During the tour, they asked many

Firemen Battle Apartment Blaze

Volunteer firemen were summoned to a blaze at the Executive Apartments at 505 South 25 Mile Avenue Monday afternoon when flames flared up in one of the units at the complex.

Several units of the department responded to the alarm, as firemen discovered the blaze in the bedroom of an apartment being rented by Gene Coulter. The fire apparently started in a small chair in the room and spread to clothing in the closet.

Firemen extinguished two grassfires along the Santa Fe railroad tracks Sunday in addition to a dumpster fire in the 200 block of Jackson.

Last Saturday firemen were called to a site four miles west and one mile south of Hereford when a gas tank on a hay cutter owned by Donald Douglas ruptured.

questions of Charles Hoover, manager at Southwest, who was pointing out different areas of interest at the feedyard. They seemed most interested in market outlook in the U.S. and in the cross breeding as Hoover pointed out specific animals which were notable.

One of the prominent members of the tour was R.S. Wilson who is President of the Australian National Cattlemen's Council and owns a herd of 26,000 purebred Hereford on a 160 thousand acre ranch in the state of Queensland.

Wilson stated that his ranch was in tick country and that they had to be dipped monthly.

When asked specifically about the cattle industry in his country, the knowledgeable rancher stated that there were 34 million head of cattle in Australia, twice the number of 10 years ago and that this increase was due to the drop in the price of wool although the number of sheep being raised still far outnumber cattle.

As Australia is a very sparsely populated country, the number of head of cattle outnumber people by about 2 1/2 times.

He said he expected the number of cattle being raised in Australia to peak sometime in the next 12 months and then begin to drop as it has in other countries.

Wilson didn't paint a very optimistic picture of the market in his country as he said that their costs are about the same as ours but the price they bring is about 1/4 of that in this country and he didn't see any prospects for things to improve soon.

Planning Meet Held On County Centennial

Plans were drawn up for the celebration of Deaf Smith County's Centennial during a special meeting held at the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning.

FRANK FORD and Bessie Patterson, co-chairmen for the event, presided at the meeting.

The county's centennial will be observed with festivities on the courthouse lawn Saturday, Aug. 21.

Activities will include band music which will begin at 9:30 a.m. and a presentation by Cleburne Huston, author of a new biography on Erastus "Deaf" Smith, "The Incomparable Spy" for who the county was named by the Texas legislature.

Deaf Smith County was one of the 54 Texas Panhandle counties created by the legislature on Aug. 21, 1876, from Bexar Territory.

SINCE MOST OF the counties were uninhabited or sparsely settled at the time, they were attached to organized counties for judicial purposes.

Martin Likes Speedy Corsair; Role In New Television Movie

BY GARRY FEEBLES
Brand Staff Writer

One of the interesting things about being alive is observing the people around us, for we are all originals...with different interests and capabilities. There has never been anybody like you or me before and there never will be again.

THERE IS ONLY one way in which we're similar, we all have exactly 24 hours each day to eat, sleep, follow whatever vocation we happen to be engaged in and then pursue the hobby or avocation that interests us.

Most of us spend our spare time engaged in the more common activities—golf, tennis, or maybe gardening or woodworking.

For some people, however, the ordinary hobbies aren't enough, they've got to have something else, something that sets them apart.

Gerald Martin, who operates the Hereford Flying & Agricultural Service, is one of these people.

His hobby is stunt flying, something which most of us would never think of doing.

FOR MARTIN, however, flying airplanes in general and stunt flying in particular has become a large part of his life and has taken him places and brought him in contact with people that he might otherwise have never seen.

In 1968, it took him to Europe, where he was involved in the making of the movie, "The Battle of Britain."

More recently it took him to California and gave him a part in the making of a movie entitled "Baa Baa Black Sheep" which will be seen on television this fall.

It is the story of a group of men who were, in a sense, outcasts who had been kicked out of one outfit after another and been branded as troublemakers. They came together however to form a flying squadron which played a large part in winning World War II.

MARTIN DESCRIBED the experience of making the movie as thoroughly enjoyable because the people producing and directing the film were flyers themselves and knew how the film should be made.

Another thing which was unusual about the making of the movie, he stated, was that there were no interruptions because of the weather. Once the filming was started they were able to fly every day until it was finished, and they finished just in time. The weather would have socked them in if the filming had taken one day longer.

When asked why there weren't more films of this type, especially on television, Martin answered that it simply costs too much to make them. It's cheaper to make films using cops and robbers, doctors and lawyers and so most of our television fare consists of these type shows.

It is obvious that Martin thinks this is unfortunate, for flying is something that makes him glow just to talk about. He has shelf after shelf of books on virtually any type of plane ever built and the history of aviation as well as numerous models of aircraft.

ONE OF THE models which Martin was particularly pleased at having had the opportunity to fly was the Chance-Vought Corsair, which was the plane he flew in "Baa Baa Black Sheep."

It was a World War II fighter with a peculiar gull wing design and was so devastating that the Japanese nicknamed it, "Whistling Death." It had the most powerful engine ever put in a fighter up to that time and also the largest propeller ever used on a fighter up to that time. It could travel at more than 400 miles an hour, which may not seem so very fast today, but was incredible speed in the early forties.

Martin's passion for flying has also inevitably led him into another area to become part of an organization which in a relatively few years has become legendary.

THE CONFEDERATE AIR Force Ghost Squadron is a story in itself.

Briefly, it had its beginning in 1951 when a man named Lloyd Nolen, who had served as a flight instructor in World War II, purchased a WWII Fighter, the P-40

Warhawk, for $1,500. At first it was simply something that he and his friends flew in their spare time.

Eventually however, they began to search for other WWII vintage fighters but, much to their dismay, found that they were being quickly and systematically destroyed.

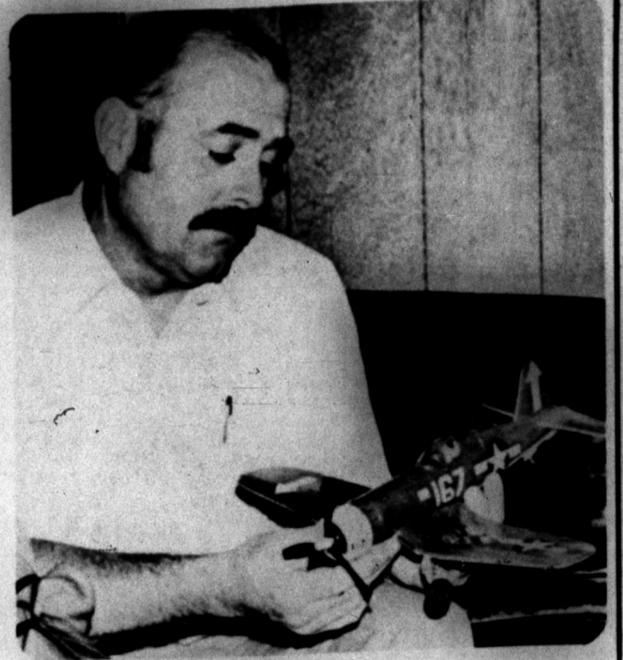

In 1960 the group met and, for the first time, established a clear cut goal—to purchase and restore as many types of WWII fighters as possible and establish a permanent hangar and museum at Mercedes, a little town in South Texas.

BY THE SPRING OF 1968, this goal was reached as they had acquired at least one example of every type of American fighter which had played a significant role in the war.

They then expanded their goals to include all WWII aircraft.

In 1968 the CAF headquarters were moved to Harlingen, where they have remained since that time.

The CAF has become extremely popular at air shows all over the United States. Probably their finest moment came in 1972 when they were invited to "Transpo 72" at Dulles Airport in Washington, D.C. They took 20 aircraft with them and in 10 consecutive days put on 20 flying demonstrations with 110 members participating.

Gerald Martin and the Corsair

Gerald Martin is shown in the photo above with a model of a Chance Vought Corsair, the World War II fighter plane which he flew in the movie, "Baa Baa Black Sheep" which will be seen on television this fall. Martin has also flown in several other movies including "The Battle of Britain". He operates the Hereford Flying and Agricultural Service.

Ada Board Meets Here

Ada Resources, Inc. held a board meeting here Tuesday afternoon at Hereford Country Club with officials from the Houston-based company attending the monthly session. Main action was to declare a dividend for stockholders. Hereford-area citizens own approximately 30 per

Reports Occupy Hospital Board

Members of the board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District met Tuesday morning in the hospital conference room to hear reports from the medical staff and finance committee, and also heard a report from Ron Welty, hospital administrator concerning hospital operations in May.

DR. A.T. MIMS submitted five emergency medical service personnel applications to board members and they were approved.

Frank Zinser Jr. gave the finance committee report. He informed board members there is a possibility hospital district taxes could be lowered from 25 cents to 21 cents per $100 valuation.

Zinser also reported on a tentative budget for staffing the hospital's emergency room and board members approved a lease purchase for an automated clinic analyzer valued at $25,000.

According to Zinser, the machine would allow local analysis of various samples, eliminating the need to send them to Amarillo for analysis. He pointed out that the machine could eventually lead to a profit of about $7000 a year for the hospital district.

Prior to a vote concerning the analyzer, Dr. Mims told board members that such a machine would need to be carefully supervised by someone who could insure its accuracy.

"I WOULD want to be sure that when I receive a battery of tests from this machine, the results are reasonably accurate," said Mims.

The operating report for the month of May was submitted to the board by Ron Welty, hospital administrator.

The average daily census of patients for May of this year was 32.2, down from last year's figure of 37.6.

The administrator also reported on the closing of Nurse Station 1 at the hospital.

ACCORDING TO Welty, the station was closed June 2, due to low utilization, and the closing will result in savings of about $5000 per month.

Those present were asked their opinion concerning the election of hospital board members, as opposed to the presently used system of appointing hospital board trustees by Dr. Hap Cavness.

Dr. Cavness explained that he felt that a board which levied taxes should be elected.

Trustee Mrs. Wanda Hoover pointedly disagreed with Cavness, stating that qualified people probably would not gain positions on the board if they were elected, rather than appointed.

ZINSER indicated that he had "mixed emotions" concerning the matter and board member L.J. Straffus indicated support for the appointment of board members.

Dr. Cavness told board members that he might circulate a petition calling for an election of board members sometime in the future, and explained that he wished to make the board aware of his position on the matter before taking such action.

According to Cavness, the county commissioners court would be forced to call election if it was presented with a petition containing 250 signatures seeking an election.

LANNY SMITH

Veteran Newsman Joins Brand Staff

Lanny Smith, veteran Oklahoma newsman, has joined the advertising staff of The Hereford Brand, it was reported this week by Lynn Brisendine, assistant publisher and ad manager.

Smith comes from the small central Oklahoma town of Lindsay, where he was connected with the Lindsay News during the last 11 years.

Although he is only 33, Smith is a "veteran" of the newspaper business, having started as a "Sweep-out" boy at the age of 6. He moved up the ladder and held the position of ad manager for 10 years. The past year he served as general managers of The News.

Smith will be moving his family to Hereford in the very near future. Lanny and his wife, Phyllis, have two sons—Kerry, 8, and Mark, 5. The family worships at the Church of Christ.

Smith's hobbies and interests include hunting, fishing, and photography.

After only a few days in Hereford, Smith says he has "high regard for the friendliness and progressive attitudes of the businessmen and citizens of the community." He added that he is "looking forward to a great life in Hereford."

Tiring of the long rides on horseback and by horse-drawn conveyances to Tascosa, local ranchers and XII cowboys circulated a petition which was granted, an election was held on Oct. 3, 1890, and Deaf Smith County was organized as a legal entity.

"The county's centennial observance will in no way rival the upcoming celebration of the nation's 200th birthday, Mrs. Patterson explained. "It is being structured in a nostalgic vein, reminiscent of community programs held on the courthouse lawn during our county's early days," she added.

Textile Center Awarded Contract

The textile Research Center located at Texas Tech University has been awarded three contracts from Cotton Incorporated and the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission of Texas totalling in excess of $250,000.00.

Two contracts are from Cotton Incorporated and are renewals of work currently in progress at the Center. These programs are for researching the various types of American cotton and their ability to perform on new manufacturing systems, such as open-end spinning. The funds from Cotton Incorporated are at a reduced level, thus reflecting lower expenditures on the part of their research program due to the elimination of 610 funds coming from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The third contract which is with the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission of Texas is for the fiscal year September 1, 1976 through August 30, 1977, and totals $215,525.00. The primary purpose of the NFFPC sponsored research is for the promotion and greater utilization of the natural fibers (cotton, wool and mohair) and the many by-products which are produced in Texas.

The Commission is a state funded organization with four Commissioners who are the Presidents of Texas Women's University, the University of Texas, Texas Tech University and Texas A&M University. Each of these four state supported institutions is responsible for research in one or more segments of the industry.

Hereford Sweeps Past Amarillo

Hereford's American Legion Squad mounted a strong offense in their regular season opener against Amarillo High's no. 2 team at Memorial Stadium, Monday night to take an 11-7 win.

Vance Hennington started on the hill for Hereford but was shelled out in the second inning when Amarillo scored five runs. At that point, after two frames Amarillo led 6-4.

However Hereford came back to pick up two tallies in the third, two more in the fifth and a final three in the sixth while Amarillo could manage only one more sixth inning run off Chris Hill who took over for Hennington.

Hill received credit for the win as he went 5 2/3 innings walked three and struck out 5 while Hennington had walked five and fanned 3 in his 1 1/3 innings of work. Between them, they gave up five hits to Amarillo.

Both squads had some difficulty in the field as Amarillo had six errors while Hereford committed four miscues.

Offensively, Hereford was led by Dennis Evans with two doubles. Mike Foster and Greg and Vance Hennington also had a double apiece while Mike Artho and Mike Pittard each had a pair of singles.

The Redbirds next action will be today at 8 p.m. when they take to the field in Plainview to face the American squad there. On Wednesday, June 23, they will meet Amarillo Tascosa at Whiteface Field.

In their final practice contest last Saturday, June 12 against Palo Duro in Amarillo, Hereford came out on top by a 7-6 score as Vance Hennington went five innings while striking out seven men and Chris Hill went the final two frames.

Meet Set For Amarillo

Hereford's AAU Track Squad's first meet of the season will be in Amarillo this next weekend instead of this past weekend as previously reported in the Brand.

Workouts for the team are going on every weekday at 6 p.m. at Whiteface Field and Coach Ken Cole reports that he still needs some more participants.

Both boys and girls up to age 18 are eligible for the squad.

They will take part in four meets concluding with the district meet in Borger on July 10.

SPORTS from the pressbox

By RED LAKELAND

HOTLINE ON SPORTS: When boxer Alan Richardson entered the ring in London he got a standing ovation. Then it hit him. He had forgotten to put on his trunks. Clad only in an athletic supporter under his robe, the blushing boxer displayed some fast footwork back to his dressing room. "I never felt so dalt in my life," he said. He might have added: "nor such a draft." He returned to the ring to beat Irish featherweight Ray Ross in five rounds. "The Olympics have become the whipping post of a thing called politics," said Jesse Owens recently. "but I thank God, they are still run by man."

Culpepper, 3rd At Speedway

Hereford's Jim Culpepper captured third-place finishes in the semi and second heat Saturday to retain a firm hold on third place in the late-model standings at Southwest Speedway.

week of the auto-racing season at the NE 24th and Folsom Road track with 625 points, 150 ahead of fourth-place Tommy Latham of Amarillo.

Amarillo's Don Burt, two-time Southwest Speedway champ, owns the top spot by a 1,260-1,045 point margin over second-place J.D. Hughes of Sundown.

Two other Hereford drivers aren't far from the top ten. James Davis is in 14th place with 195 points and Wayne McCullar is 15th with 125 points. Odessa's John Foster paces the modified-stock standings by slim 545-520 point margin over Bill Hudspeth of Hollis, Okla., and Panhandle's Doug Smith sets the street-stock pace with a 144-82 point edge over his nearest purser, Paul Malcra Jr. of Amarillo.

Net Player in Action

A tennis buff returns a shot in this past weekend's Hereford Open Tennis Tourney. The event drew approximately 2000 participants as trophies were awarded in both the adult and junior divisions.

Second String

BY GARRY PEEBLES

I really liked the action photo we had in last Sunday's Brand of National League Umpire, Tom Gorman throwing Yogi Berra out of a game. By coincidence there was a photo, actually a three photo sequence, of another umpire in action in a local newspaper this week.

This one was even better than the Tom Gorman, Yogi Berra scene. He was a little league umpire who was slightly overweight, with a big floppy hat and pair of rubber thongs on. I suspect that after that one call he probably had to retire to the showers and take the rest of the day off because it looked like he was putting everything he had into it both vocally and movement wise.

I hope you saw the picture because words can't describe it.

Lynn Brisendine made it back from his fishing trip this week but I was disappointed in his account of the expedition.

suspect that he had decided that nobody was going to believe him anyway so he decided he might as well just keep quiet. Sorry about that Lynn.

Had the privilege this week of talking to the man and his wife who passed through Hereford on a cross country walk from San Diego, Calif. to Philadelphia. They seemed to think that they had the hardest part of the trip behind them now. They also said that once they reached this side of the Texas-New Mexico line, the people were a lot friendlier than they had been before.

We may not know it but Texas is the greatest place there is to live. In fact it is the only place to live. Other states and other countries may be okay to visit but that's it, they were made just for visiting, not living (The sermon is over, so I'll get down off my soapbox now).

Golfers Take Partnership

Golfers from all over this area got together at the Municipal Golf Course in Hereford this past weekend and aided by the members of the Hereford Ladies Golf Association who worked the concession stands and performed other necessary duties, participated in the annual Hereford Men's Partnership golf tourney.

There were 120 teams divided into eight flights in the best ball event with the money prizes going to the top five finishers in each flight.

Bunky Preston and Allen Johnson of Amarillo took the top spot in the championship flight with a score of 131, 11 under par.

The teams of Turner and Baily and Burney and Mailaise were runner-ups to Preston and Johnson as they carded a 134, 8 under.

The top two finishers in each of the eight flights are given as follows.

BASEBALL

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Detroit Tigers, who for longer than any other club in the American League never finished last, are apparently on their way to another cellar finish under Ralph Houk — their third straight.

This spring there were many who thought only a change of managers would turn the club around. Last year, when the Bengals lost, a record-for them-nineteen straight, fans were crying out for a change. The front office — and Detroit fans for that matter

Hereford Kids Take Rodeo Awards

A number of Hereford youngsters participated in the Randall County Sheriff's Posse Jr. Rodeo in Canyon this past weekend and came away with several awards.

Steve Richardson competing in the boys age seven and under group took 1st in flags, 5th in barrels and was also overall high point in his age group.

In the girls 15-18 group, Rhonda Hager placed 5th in barrels.

In the girls 11-14 group, Hereford had several winners.

Tania Willson was 1st in barrels while Tracey Reid had a 1st in goat tailing and steer riding. Cathy Evans placed 3rd in poles and Felinda Evans wound up 4th in goat tailing.

Jana Johnson had a pair of 2nds in the girl's 8-10 group as she was runner-up in both barrels and poles.

The next event in which the Hereford kids will take part will be a rodeo sponsored by the High Plains Jr. Rodeo Assoc. in Clovis, N.M. this weekend.

Wrestlers Take Week Off

Hereford Lions Club Wrestling goes dark one week at the Bull Barn, but returns in two weeks with a grudge match already signed between Davey O'Hannon and Ricky Romero.

Also making an appearance here on Saturday, June 26, will be Pistol Pez Whately, a 230 pound black wrestler from Tennessee. Whately wrestled for the University of Chattanooga as an amateur. Jolting Joe Palardy will return as well. Palardy is a former Golden Gloves Florida State champion and Navy titlist, who switched from a professional fistic career to crapping after having weight problems.

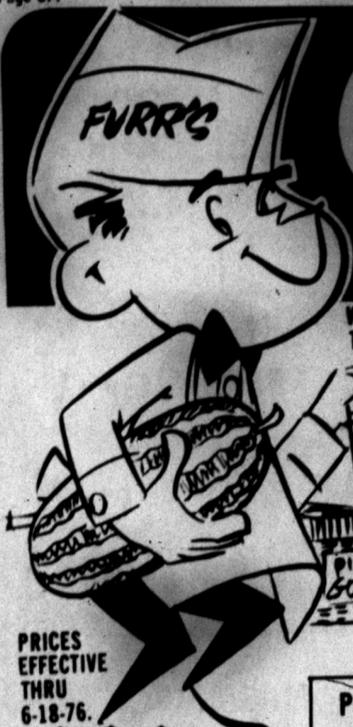

Another signed match will be former amateur Great Larry Lane, 250 pound medalist in the world games, who will challenge former all-American Dennis Stamp. Stamp at 245 pounds held the all-American honors in both football and wrestling, and hails from Minnesota. Lane is from a Colorado mountain ranch. A match may be signed between Reggie Parks and Hank James. James and Parks have had a serious rivalry in the ring and a severe personality clash outside it. The 6'7" James at 252 pounds holds a seven inch height advantage and a thirty pound weight pull over Parks.

In last week's action Larry Lane defeated Wayne Hammer with a suplex. Dennis Stamp was disqualified in the semi-main with Scott Casey when he punished his foe on the ropes and refused to break within the legal count.

In the main event, Reggie Parks surprised Hank James with a cradle in less than a minute of the first fall. James evened the score in the second, with some assistance from partner Davey O'Hannon. In the last fall, the 224 pound Romero and the 251 pound O'Hannon, the legal men in the ring, were both counted out on the floor. In the fracas, O'Hannon's skull was split open. Hence the grudge match on June 26.

Kiwanis Club Has Program

A program to enrich the learning experiences of the upper achieving students at Bluebonnet school was the topic of the Noon Kiwanis luncheon program Thursday.

In addition, Kiwanians presented Gene Brock, director of Camp Wig Wam, with a check for four camperships. The camp is for mentally retarded children. On the lighter side, two Kiwanians were presented with trophies from a golf tourney in Amarillo and a new recruiting program for new members was put into operation.

Rodney Laubhan, Tom Templeton and Carol Simms presented an outline on an enrichment program that was begun at Bluebonnet School this past year. Laubhan said the pilot program is trying to reach the upper end of the achievement scale, students who are gifted, talented and creative. Students attend the enrichment sessions for half a day after finishing basic school subjects like math, English and reading. There are 35 students in the program, ranging from Kindergarten through the sixth grade. It is funded entirely locally.

About 7 per cent of the school's enrollment was chosen for this program through a system of testing. Tom Templeton said that each student was given an individual test called the California Achievement Test. Students were referred by teachers and a letter was sent home to allow the parents a choice in whether their child entered the program.

In the testing, the student was given five verbal tests and five performance tests. The verbal tests included vocabulary, matching similarities and working arithmetic problems in their head. After the battery of tests, results were reviewed by a seven-member committee to determine what children would actually participate in the program.

The curriculum of the enrichment program deals mainly with the humanities: creative writing, art, drama and music. Mrs. Simms said the program helped to channel extra time into other activities for the students who are normally finished with work early in a normal classroom.

A few of the activities the classes dealt with this past year: the first and second grade class made up a Thanksgiving coloring book, drawing all the pictures and putting captions under the illustrations; the second grade class made a filmstrip on the history of Hereford, drawing illustrations on the filmstrip and recording a cassette narration; the third grade class wrote and illustrated a storybook for children younger than themselves; the fourth-grade wrote and produced Bicentennial minutes and then presented them over the intercom.

The fifth and sixth grade class was involved in several projects including running a school store where students sold school supplies, made their own purchases from the assistant principal, ran the cash register and kept books on the store; ran a tri-weekly newspaper during the second semester; produced, wrote and directed a Christmas operetta. Future projects the students are expected to be involved in include filming with a movie camera.

The third through sixth grade classes began an elementary typing course to help acquaint them with some of the basics of the keyboard. A professional artist was called in for three days to give the students lessons in pastels.

Rodney Laubhan said the program was scheduled for another year at Bluebonnet and hopes that continued success in the program will mean that the program will continue.

A few Kiwanians were rather startled at the techniques New Member chairman Eldon Koch is using in his latest membership drive. Certain articles were confiscated from members and will be sold at an auction in three weeks unless those members have brought a new prospect into the club.

Your alternative to the nonsense and expense of replacing compressors. Arkla/Servel Gas air conditioners don't even have compressors.

Quality air conditioning is your best bargain.

In fact, there are only 3 moving parts in the entire cooling cycle. Less to wear out means less to replace. Greater dependability. Lower maintenance costs. Arkla/Servel Gas air conditioning units are designed to operate economically. Built to last longer with more quality materials, like stainless steel. Arkla/Servel can save you money in other ways, too. But then QUALITY air conditioning is always your best bargain.

County--

the radar units currently being leased by the county are now out of warranty, and that the county would have to pay repair bills on the units in addition to paying the lease on them if these units remained in use.

The deputy explained that the county could save money on the radar units by leasing two new units and turning the old units back to their manufacturer.

Expenditures for radar units with the new lease would total $193.43 per month.

THE COMMISSIONERS voted to lease the two new radar units, in order to keep all of the county's radar sets under warranty.

The expenditure of $72 for mattresses and $205.60 for mattress pads for the county jail was also approved. The mattresses were obtained at a cost of $1 each recently from a surplus dealer, and Burton explained that comparable mattresses would normally cost about $40 each. The commissioners also voted to buy three dozen mattress pads at a cost of $5.85 each.

Alex Schroeter, who was recently appointed county auditor, reviewed the audits of the county budget for the year ending Dec. 31, 1975.

"We had far more receipts and disbursements than had been budgeted, and we collected more money," Schroeter commented concerning the audits.

RECEIPTS for the year totaled

$1,870,162.05 and disbursements were $1,580,718.51.

The fund balance totaled $931,829.56. The audit was accepted by a unanimous vote of the commission.

Members of the commission expressed confidence in Schroeter and his ability to serve the county as auditor, but were a bit unhappy in how the appointment of an auditor caught them by surprise.

"I think having an auditor is a good thing for the county and I have no objection to having one, but I think Judge Metcalf could have at least let the commissioners court know that he was thinking along the lines of appointing an auditor, so that we could allow for it in our budget," said commissioner James Voyles.

Voyles comments concerned 69th Judicial District Judge Mike Metcalf's appointment of Schroeter after he determined that a county auditor was legally required for a county this size.

Voyles, who represents Precinct 4 and Bruce Coleman of Precinct 3 reported on the need of tractors for their respective precincts.

Voyles called for a tractor of at least 80 horsepower while Coleman requested a 50 horsepower tractor.

The commissioners voted to advertise for bids on the two tractors. The bids will be opened at the June 28 commission meeting.

County Judge Sam Morgan read a letter from Jim Conkright, president of the Hereford board of education asking the assistance of the county in paying architectural engineering fees on a recently constructed tennis complex.

The county's share of the bill amounted to $879.99, which the commissioners voted to pay.

JUVENILE PROBATION officer Jim Grimes appeared before the commissioners to explain the need for additional transportation for his department.

He stated that a number of youths enrolled in the summer work program did not have transportation to their jobs, and that he and his assistant, Jose Vasquez, were currently providing the transportation for these youngsters.

Although Grimes has a county-provided vehicle, Vasquez has been using his own personal vehicle for transporting the youths.

Grimes also pointed up the need for a vehicle to be used in transporting the youths enrolled in the minibike project here, and explained that a vehicle which could haul both the project members and their bikes is needed so that the youths may participate in area parades and other activities.

THE COMMISSIONERS voted to grant Vasquez a mileage allowance of 16 cents per mile for his work in transporting the youths, and advised Grimes to check into the availability of a small bus for use as transportation.

In other matters, the commissioners voted to accept the bid of Jake Diel Paving for approximately six miles of road work in various areas of the county and set the number of hours for VOE students working in the county Extension office. Commission members voted to keep the number of hours below 900 per year, while paying the minimum wage.

Deaf Smith Accident Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated nine accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of May, 1976, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and four persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1976 shows a total of 38 accidents resulting in no persons killed and 17 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for May, 1976, shows a total of 517 accidents resulting in 14 persons killed and 268 persons injured, as compared to May, 1975, with 524 accidents resulting in 17 persons killed and 310 persons injured. This was seven less accidents, three less killed, and 42 less injured in 1976 at the same period of time.

The 14 traffic deaths for the month of May, 1976, occurred in the following counties: Two each in Parker, Wichita, Donley, and Randall; and one each in Kent, Palo Pinto, Carson, Hartley, Potter, and Wheeler.

Counselors Offer Help

The Veterans Administration today reminded former servicemen and women that lost documents should not deter them from seeking VA benefits for which they may be eligible.

Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director in Waco, said, "We have found that some veterans who cannot locate their birth or marriage certificate are not applying for benefits because they believe these documents are absolutely necessary."

Coker said, "We have trained benefits counselors in each of our 58 regional offices who will assist veterans and their dependents on the question of eligibility," he said.

For example, VA will accept a certified statement instead of an original birth or marriage certificate when needed to establish eligibility, provided it is the first marriage for both the veteran and spouse and the VA has no contradictory information on file.

In the past, VA required formal documentation in support of eligibility claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children.

VA's liberalized rules also allow acceptance of a certified statement documenting the birth of a veteran's child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases.

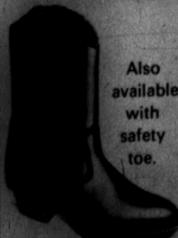

Coker said, "The VA urged veterans and their dependents having any question concerning eligibility for benefits to contact the nearest Veterans Administration regional office, veterans county service officer, or a representative of one of the local veterans organizations."

Albright Attends Conference

W.L. Albright, Executive Vice President of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce recently completed a week's Institute for Organization Management at the University of Notre Dame. Over 300 voluntary organization executives from 26 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, and Australia participated in this professional development program.

Albright noted that the institute was well worth the time spent away from my work as I had the opportunity to meet so many people from other areas and to exchange ideas with them.

The Notre Dame Institute is one of six annual, one-week sessions sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at leading universities throughout the country. Other universities that host Institutes are Georgia, Southern Methodist, Colorado, Mills, and Delaware.

During the five-day session, participants spent 27 classroom hours in the institute course of study, which is designed to assist voluntary organization executives in improving the knowledge and skills they need to upgrade the effectiveness of their organization. The Institute curriculum includes such areas as management philosophy, economic issues, government, law, organization structure, as well as contemporary subjects such as interpersonal processes, and environmental concerns. Each participant may attend progressive levels of the program throughout his professional career.

University professors chosen to serve as faculty are distinguished authorities in their fields. Additional courses are led by top-level Chamber of Commerce and Association executives, making the faculty unique in its depth and range of knowledge and experience.

New Food Stamp Procedures Due

Testing of new administrative procedures, such as photo identification cards for food stamp users, could be allowed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) under a proposed amendment to Food Stamp Program regulations.

USDA is planning to test the use of photo identification cards -- in hopes of stopping unauthorized persons from getting food stamps.

This testing would allow the Secretary of Agriculture to evaluate test projects on a small scale, for possible national use. The proposed amendment gives states a chance to show administrative and cost benefits of procedures not currently authorized by program regulations. The proposal also outlines the way states may request the Secretary's approval to carry out test projects.

Comments are invited on the proposed amendment, scheduled for publication in the Federal Register of June 11. Comments should be mailed or delivered in writing to Nancy Snyder, Director, Food Stamp Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, to be received no later than June 26.

I am taking dopa (levodopa) for the treatment of Parkinson's disease. Are there any other drugs I should not take while I am taking this? - S.H.

There are numerous other drugs which may interact with levodopa. Vitamin B6 may completely reverse the therapeutic effect of dopa. So can reserpine (for high blood pressure). Other medicines which are classified as phenothiazines and anticholinergic drugs may interact harmfully with dopa. If you are taking any of these medicines along with dopa, check with your physician to find the reason. Therapy for this disease is highly individualized.

Mrs. Turrentine of Pacific Grove, Calif. has been visiting with Hereford relatives for 10 days.

The serving table was centered with a large platter of tropical fruit featuring fruit kabobs with fortunes tied on each end.
On either side of the fruit were crystal hurricane lamps over Quan Yin figurines. White gladioli and white tapers also decorated the elegant table.

Mrs. H.F. Paetzold poured coffee and served other refreshments including peach pastries.

Canned Fruits Are Good Grocery Buys

Canned fruits and vegetables, followed closely by tuna fish and peanut butter, head the list of grocery specials at Texas stores this week, reports Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist.
"And at fresh vegetable counters, cabbage is an excellent choice, with good quality and moderate price. Fresh asparagus is still available but quality and supply are on the decline now," she noted.

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
"Other economical buys in fresh vegetables include carrots, green beans, tomatoes, corn, zucchini and yellow squash, green peppers and cucumbers."

Topping good fruit bargains are oranges, grapefruit, cantaloupe, honeydews and watermelons. Also, features can be found on bananas and pineapples, she added.
But supplies are limited and price levels relatively high on peaches, cherries, nectarines and grapes, Mrs. Clyatt said.
"Good values on dairy products include milk, sour cream, yogurt and a variety of cheeses.

"Poultry counter specials feature whole bird and mixed parts.
"Pork specials are scarce, buy consumers can find an occasional good buy in quarterloins cut into chops, Boston butt roasts, bacon and liver.

McKneely-Shannon Vows Spoken Saturday Evening

Miss Linda Mae McKneely of Dimmitt and Ken Bob Shannon were married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in First United Methodist Church at Dimmitt. The Rev. Bobby Gordon, pastor of Lee Street Baptist Church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. McKneely of Cherokee and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Shannon of 205 Fir.

Two spiral candelabra with rainbow colored tapers and unity candles decorated the main altar of the church. The pews were marked with votive candles and white bows.

The bride's sister, Mrs. JoAnn Brunson of Ballinger, served as motron of honor and the bridegroom's brother, David Shannon of Hereford, was best man.

Bridesmaids included the bride's sisters, Mrs. Betty Jean Neal of Abilene and Misses Patsy and Nancy Jane McKneely, both of Cherokee.

Serving as groomsmen were the bridegroom's brother, Ray Earl Shannon, and Jackie Roberts of Dimmitt. Escorting guests to their seats were the bride's brothers, James Perry and Larry McKneely, and the bride's brother-in-law, Terry Neal.

Lisa Estep, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Estep of Lubbock, was flower girl and Jonathan Brunson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Brunson of Ballinger, was ring bearer.

Terry Neal and James Perry McKneely lit candles at the ceremony.

Louis Quere vocalized wedding selections, "More", "The Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Song". Mrs. Bobby Beckett of Fort Stockton accompanied the soloist at the piano.

Given in marriage by her brothers, Larry and James Perry McKneely, the bride wore a white polyester organza gown trimmed with raschel lace. The redingote skirt was also trimmed in lace and the hemline swept into a Chapel length train.

The semi-sheer bodice of the gown was decorated in lace and the bishop sleeves were also accented with matching lace.

The Mantilla veil of imported bridal illusion was attached to a lace coil and was edged in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of daisies and yellow roses with rainbow ribbons on a white Bible.

As good luck pieces, the bride borrowed a necklace from her mother-in-law and wore gold heart-shaped earrings which were given to her by the bridegroom.

Bridal attendants wore rainbow colored dotted Swiss gowns fashioned with empire waistlines and trimmed in lace. A deep flounce decorated the hemline of the gowns. Rainbow colored hats completed their attire. They each carried a single yellow rose.

Beth Ann Roberts invited guests to the register table at the reception held in the church and Evelyn Evans and Cheryl Beckett served punch from the refreshment table covered with a white tulle cloth and yellow underlay. Rainbow streamers decorated the drapes.

Marsha McKneely served the wedding cake.

Leaving for a trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the bride wore a sky blue denim pantsuit. The couple will make their home at 712 Oak at Dimmitt.

The bride is employed by the Dimmitt Independent School District. She is a graduate of Angelo State University and Cherokee High School.

The bridegroom is employed at Amstar. He is a Hereford High School graduate and attended TSTI at Amarillo and South Plains College at Levelland.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Perry, the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Estep of Cherokee and other guests from Quitaque, Amarillo and Lubbock.

4-H'ers Leave For Washington

Three local 4-H girls left Tuesday morning for the Texas 4-H Citizenship Heritage Tour and the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course at Washington, D.C.

JoAnn Wagner, Micki Merritt, and Sandee Finley left for Dallas to register and will spend six days in Washington at the National Citizenship Short Course housed at the National 4-H Center.

The citizenship programs are designed to supplement the citizenship education and leadership development training young people receive through the home, school, church and other organizations.

The citizenship short courses for 4-H members of senior high school age are conducted at the National 4-H Foundation. Listening, sharing, receiving, caring and touring Washington, D.C. are all part of the six-day personal learning experience each 4-H'er will have.

Citizenship topics relating to the individual's concept and responsibilities of citizenship are covered in assemblies and opportunity sessions at the Center. Foundation personnel, summer staff and guest speakers provide a broad spectrum of resources in each week's program.

SAWO Holds Bible School

Vacation Bible School was held at St. Anthony's Catholic Church from June 7-11. Approximately 100 children, ages 4 years through the 6th grade participated in the week's activities which included daily mass and a religious program published by Sadlier.

Arts and crafts, along with music, films, and refreshments were enjoyed by the children.

Sixteen adults and 15 high school and junior high girls volunteered their time to conduct the classes. Twenty women also donated cookies for refreshments.

A Concelebrated Mass was read by Father John Saltzman and Father John Kiesling, a former associate pastor of St. Anthony's who is visiting here. They were assisted by brother Jerry DiGaramo who is also visiting here.

The children sang songs they had learned and each class presented a project which had been completed during the week. The children served as lecturers and each class had a representative who read a prayer of the faithful which had been composed by the class.

The Vacation Bible School was a project initiated by St. Anthony's Women's Organization with Mrs. Neal Leub as chairman.

An ordinary paper clip can tell a lot about metric measures: it weighs about one gram, is approximately a centimeter in width and the diameter of the wire is close to a millimeter, says Mrs. Janice Carberry, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Mrs. Kleuskens Honored Saturday

An afternoon tea-shower was held for Mrs. Dale Kleuskens, the former Tonya Armstrong, Saturday in the First National Bank Party Room.

Mrs. Kleuskens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Armstrong of Amarillo and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kueuskens.

Fruit punch and cakes decorated with pastel flowers and wedding rings, made by the bridegroom's mother, was served by Mrs. Mike Adcock and Sandra Kleuskens, both sisters-in-law of the honoree.

Mrs. Rodney Richards invited guests to sign the registry book.

The table was covered with a white cloth and pink underlay and was centered with an arrangement of pastel spring flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Hostesses for the afternoon affair included Mmes. Alfred Smith, Clint Formby, Virgil Owens, Elred Brown, Ernest Brown, Clarence Betzen, Richard Berryman, Tony Hoffman.

Also, Mmes. Robert Strain, Danny Sides, Edgar Lemons, Rex Lee, Tony Irlbeck, Mark Koenig, Marvin Diller, Palmer Norton, and Miss Alice Lueb and Miss Karlan Richards.

Bacteriostatic and fungistatic 50 per cent polyester, 50 per cent cotton sheets which prohibit growth of microorganisms are now available. These are particularly appropriate for hospitals, nursing homes, hotels and motels, Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, notes.

Common food allergies are caused by ingesting irritating foods. But food allergies may also be caused by contact from handling, which usually produces hives or rashes; by inhaling the odor of a food; or by inhaling a food in a powdered form such as the flour dust in a bakery. Mrs. Sally Coble, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, points out.

Kennedy assassination report may be published.

Fashion

A solid color skirt with a geometric print panel down the front is chic. A small scarf matching the panel, adds a nice touch to the costume.

Splashes of color add an oriental touch to some of the wrap-around garments this season.

The short dress for social evening affairs is back in style. The wearer may take her choice—short or long—unless the occasion is very formal. In that case the long dress should be preferred.

Pool Needs Should Be Noted Before Buying

Consumers buying a swimming pool need to shop carefully before "taking the plunge," Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, a family resource management specialist, advises.

She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Although most manufacturers and salesmen are completely honest, a number of deceptive practices have occurred in this rapidly growing market."

"One of the biggest problems is 'bait and switch' tactics. Several methods may sometimes be encountered. In one method, the swimming pool company advertises a certain pool (the bait) but then disparages that pool to get the buyer to switch to a higher price, 'better' version.

"Sometimes delivery or installation of the advertised pool is delayed until the buyer agrees to switch to another pool," she said.

Besides deceptive sales practices, Mrs. Chenoweth also noted the Federal Trade Commission warns consumers to look closely at guarantees.

"Carefully read all qualifications, conditions and exclusions which limit coverage. Two common provisions disclaim responsibility for damage resulting from faulty installation or defective vinyl liners," she said.

"Shop around among various dealers before deciding what kind of pool to buy or what company to patronize," she reminded.

Program Presented

Mrs. Ira Ott, at left, is shown introducing Mrs. Jack W. Flynt of Dimmitt and her daughter Karen who gave a Flag Day presentation Monday afternoon at Deaf Smith County Library. Mrs. Flynt has served as past deputy president of the American Legion Auxiliary. Both women are long-time members of the auxiliary. The program was demonstrated by the use of small American flags and was entitled "The American Flag-How To Display and How To Respect It."

Bicentennial Events Scheduled Locally

A tentative schedule of events for Independence Day activities in Hereford has been announced by members of the Deaf Smith County Bicentennial committee.

A melodrama by the Community Players and selections by the Community Singers will be presented at the Bull Barn July 2.

The Bicentennial parade will be held here on Saturday afternoon, July 3 and a capsule containing historic items will also be buried that afternoon.

Also, scheduled July 3 is a free fireworks display.

Sunday, July 4, will be observed by the cutting of a giant birthday cake.

The day's activities will conclude with a vespers service.

Consumers should beware of public opinion polls including questions about life insurance policies. Crooks have used them to forge a loan application on the interviewee's policy.

Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, cautions.

Canner Safety Important

Home-canning season is at hand, and consumers should be sure their pressure canner produces a product safe to eat. Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, reminds.

She pointed out that a temperature of 240 degrees F. is necessary to destroy bacteria spores present in low-acid foods, which include vegetables other than tomatoes and rhubarb and most fish and poultry.

"If the bacteria is not destroyed, it grows in jars or cans of food in the absence of air. It produces a toxin that causes the deadly botulism poisoning," she explained.

Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"When selecting a pressure canner, look for features that assure adequate pressure can be safely reached and maintained," she said.

Look for these features:

--an accurate dial or weighted gauge that gives -10 -pounds pressure at sea level and up to 15 pounds in areas of Texas with 2,000 feet and above sea level.

--rubber gasket or lugs that enable the canner to be airtight to help maintain pressure.

--a vent tube or petcock for exhausting air from the canner prior to sealing. Air is a poor conductor of heat.

--petcock or other safety device for allowing steam to escape automatically if pressure goes above the level for which the canner was developed.

--metal used that is strong enough to withstand adequate pressure needed.

--handles on lid and kettle that enable safe handling.

--rack to hold jars off bottom of canner to allow for steam circulation.

Faith brought us two centuries of Freedom!

In this age of cynicism, we have spawned a generation of those who reject any display of patriotism as outmoded and "chauvinistic"; because they have never been taught the real significance of it: that our national symbols are revered for what they represent, rather than what they are. Our American Flag has been the banner of the greatest system of human freedom in all history; depicting the courage, dedication and sacrifice that brought it to us and maintained it throughout two centuries. Since faith was the original guiding force that put the words "One Nation under God" into the Pledge of Allegiance, you should honor our Flag on its day and throughout the year by attending the Church of your choice and thereby enjoying one of the priceless freedoms this Flag has given you.

"Food Fun for Juniors" is Being Held Here

Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative's "Food Fun for Juniors" program is being held in Hereford.

The program is directed toward conserving energy in the kitchen. The primary source of cooking more efficiently is through the use of small appliances, reported Janice Wood, Summer Home Service Advisor for Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, who is conducting the course. Miss Wood is a senior Home Economics Education Major at Texas Tech University, and is teaching classes throughout the summer in this area.

The one-week class ended with the presentation of diplomas by Mr. Raymond Higginbotham of the Electric Cooperative.

Girls who completed the "Food Fun for Juniors" course are: Annette Limas, Taresa Parnell, Deborah Weber, Carol Weber, Teresa Evans, Tammie Fowler, Judy Bone, Lovina Bone, Vonda Richards, Anna Jiminez, Shelia Bryan, and Juanita Bryan.

Also Una Hamby, Ina Hamby, Crystal Finley, Trinetta Bowling, Traci Carnahan, Suzie Gilliland, Carla Weemes, Stephanie Valdez, Brenda Valdez, Shannon Valdez, Connie Lynn Weatherford, Jana Morgan, Wendy Ried, Anjelica Valdez, Georgia Collins, Rita Collins, Traci Frye and Genell Hartman.

Newcomers Invited To Tea

Mrs. W.E. Sparks will serve as hostess for a "Welcome to Hereford Tea" from 4-6 p.m. today in her home. Other hostesses will include members of the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

All new residents and members of the Hereford Newcomers Club are invited to attend the afternoon affair. Anyone needing transportation is asked to contact Mrs. Tommy Savage at 364-6563.

Packets from the Deaf Smith County C of C office will be distributed to guests present.

Learning How

Matchbook Safety Features Considered

The simple matchbook has come under fire for causing serious injuries, and new safety features have resulted, Claudia Mitzel, a consumer information specialist, reports.

She said that matchbooks were responsible for an estimated 9,500 injuries serious enough to require emergency room treatment between July 1, 1974 and June 30, 1975.

Miss Mitzel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"The Consumer Product Safety Commission is now developing standards for matchbooks to protect consumers against unreasonable risk."

"The standard will apply to matchbooks made in the U.S. or imported—but not to wooden matches packaged in boxes or

'strike anywhere' kitchen matches."

She explained that the new standard is aimed at reducing or eliminating these injuries.

--burns resulting from improper use of matchbooks by children and others.

--burns resulting from sparks or delayed ignition.

--eye injuries from fragmenting matches.

--burns resulting from unexpected ignition of entire matchbook.

"Some features required on future matchbooks include that the friction be located on the outside back cover to reduce the risk of a spark igniting the matches and that no part of the match would be outside the cover when the cover is closed," she noted.

Goal Nearly Obtained

For the last several months the Hereford Day Care Center has been seeking funds for a building expansion program. It was announced by Bettie Roberts, executive director, that approximately 75 per cent of the needed funds have been donated. The estimated cost of the program is $16,000. The addition to the Center will provide more services for pre-school children whose mothers are working or enrolled in school. Janelle Rogers, shown with daughters Kelly and Kami said, "Kelly has been here since she was six months old and Kami has been enrolled since she was four and a half months old. They receive excellent care and I wouldn't leave them anywhere else."

INSIDE TV

TV REPORT--How many of you who watched "Phyllis" for the entire season realized that Julie, Phyllis' friend and employer, was played by two actresses? Tragically, BARBARA COLBY, who played Julie in the first three episodes of the series, was murdered last July in the middle of the filming. She was brutally killed on the streets of Los Angeles, and the police still have no clues, no motives and no suspects. Besides the shock and horror felt by the entire cast and crew of "Phyllis," there was, of course, the problem of what to do with the character of Julie. Eventually, the part was recast, with the winner actress LIZ TORRES. ED WEINBERGER, the show's co-producer, said Liz was chosen because "What we wanted was a funny, tough, independent, strong-minded contemporary lady who could handle the world."

Not every one of our dreams comes true, but we continue to have our dreams.

One reason that reading is such a hard task is because so many writers have so little to say.

There are any number of people who will do great things if they can do them without exertion.

Parenting Important To Divorced Fathers

And because parenting is very gratifying to most fathers, he may feel abandoned after separation from his family—children may also feel the same way. Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says. She is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"The impact of separation and finally divorce is primarily psychological, but it's also economic, social and emotional.

She suggested some points for divorced fathers to remember.

--Assure each child that you love him and will never stop loving him even after the divorce. If he can read, reinforce this statement with a letter stating your love.

--Always be available to the child—by phone, letter or residence.

--See the child as often as possible. Keep the relationship as nearly normal as possible. For example: if you camped, rode bikes or played chess together, continue a similar pattern of activity. Parent/child visits should not be a visit in fantasy and become all eating out, trip to everything and everywhere and movies.

--Play fair with the child's other parent. Don't become the ploy between the child and the other parent.

--Don't devote all your life to the child. Help him become an independent, mature individual. You, too, have a life to fulfill.

--Expect an erratic close and not-so-close relationship with the children. This happens to all parents and their children, not just to divorced ones.

It is difficult to rank one impact over another.

"Hurt feelings are painful and confusing. But supporting two households with or without children is an economic matter and costs more money than a single household," she said.

When emotions are still running high over the divorce, fathers feel compelled to buy, buy, buy everything in sight for their children, she said.

Their reasons for buying "things" may run from "The kid needs something to hold on to now," or "Since I can't be there, this will let him know I thought about him," or "I want to be a better father than I was," or "I feel guilty about the divorce and don't have anybody to buy for but myself."

"Fathers can continue to be involved with their children following a separation or divorce without buying gifts.

"Start immediately to continue or to rebuild a relationship with the child or children. If there is more than one, don't pick out a favorite child and lavish him with affection. It's only fair to all concerned to share attention and affection," she said.

TV COMMENTARY

CBS has hired self-righteous Bill Moyers as the anchor man for its special CBS Reports. Moyers, has had plenty of trouble getting funding for his PBS shows.

THE recent Emmy awards show was, as usual, silly and fatuous. There are, first, too many awards. Each show-off show-biz type tried to outcute the other. The sugar was so thick and the cutie-ple remarks so incessant one couldn't take it seriously.

THE tendency in this country to overdue adulation and acclaim for entertainment types is growing. With sports turning to gimmicks and gimmickers and high political office somewhat discredited, Ameriicans have turned to entertainers as heroes and heroines.

JOHNNY CASH will do four shows beginning in late August, on CBS.

WHO talked Redd Foxx into making a movie about parents who discover their son is homosexual? Redd has a nice new contract with ABC. But any show on homosexuality billed as comedy is viewed in very poor taste by millions of Americans. It isn't funny; it's sad, inherently. Why muck about on that subject?

DOES anyone really believe the recent specials about men in the wilderness taking up with wild animals, talking to them and living their lives with them?

Making Preparations

Members of the Friends of the Library are sponsoring a book sale Saturday at Deaf Smith County Library. There are approximately 1500 books, including paper backs, novels and encyclopedias, for sale. The group has also collected a complete series of National Geographic Magazines from 1952-1976. All interested persons are urged to attend the sale which will be held outside the library. Shown sorting out books are from left, Mmes. Earl Holt, Emil Dettmann and E.W. Cawthon.

THE BEST KEPT SECRET FOR LEAFSPOT CONTROL IN TEXAS

Actually, DU-TER® fungicide has been quietly controlling Cercospora leafspot in sugar beets for more than six years and is used in every major sugar beet producing area in the U.S.

In sugar beet trials near Hereford, Tex., when DU-TER, BENLATE®, MERTECT® Flowable, and MERTECT 360 were compared, test plots sprayed with DU-TER yielded more pounds of sugar per acre (11,390), a higher percentage of sugar (14.9%) and the highest gross profit ($556.43). Yet DU-TER's spray costs were lowest ($20.70 vs. $21.96 for its closest competitor). And, in the DU-TER sprayed plot, there was none of the worm activity noted in all the other plots.

DU-TER has long proven itself in areas where leafspot has shown resistance to a systemic fungicide. After 10 years of commercial usage in pecans, potatoes, beets and peanuts, there is no known or anticipated resistance problem with DU-TER for control of Cercospora leafspot.

With trial results such as those near Hereford, the secret's out in Texas. For higher yields, higher sugar production, and more profit dollars per acre in your sugar beets, consider DU-TER for leafspot control. It works.

BENLATE is a Reg. TM of The DuPont Co.
MERTECT is a Reg. TM of Merck.

Sorghum Is Shipped To Russia For Demonstration On Feeding

LUBBOCK, TEX. — The Soviet Union is moving a step closer to becoming an important export market for U.S. grain sorghum this month as 6,000 pounds of feed grain is shipped to Russia for their first demonstration feeding project.

The grain was bagged in Lubbock under direction of Grain Sorghum Producers Association and was slated to arrive in New Orleans about June 12. The grain will be loaded aboard a Russian vessel for shipment to the All-Union Research and Technological Poultry Institute experimental farms near Moscow.

Cook Industries is assuming financial responsibility for the cost of the grain, the preparation and shipping. Funk Seeds International provided the cleaning and bagging. Both organizations are members of the U.S. Feed Grains Council which will supervise the research project. Detailed chemical analysis of the grain will be provided by Texas A&M University.

Arrangements for the feeding project were finalized in Moscow May 10 at a meeting of Soviet agricultural officials with Dr. Halvor Kolshus, USFGC European director, and Dr. J.H. Quisenberry, poultry expert retired from Texas A&M. Original plans were prepared by a grain sorghum team which presented a series of seminars in Eastern Europe and Russia last fall.

The Soviet researchers anticipate comparing the feeding efficiency and nutritive value of U.S. No. 2 yellow sorghum to corn and to grain components conventionally used in that country.

Approval by the Soviets of the demonstration feeding project marks another major step in the development of the Soviet Union as a major export market for U.S. sorghum. The development of that market began two years ago when the first Soviet agricultural trade team came to the High Plains where, as guests of Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board, they studied sorghum production and utilization.

Six months later, the Soviet Union's top agricultural officials returned to the High Plains to continue their sorghum education. Within a few weeks, the Soviet agricultural officials requested that a team of sorghum experts come to Moscow to present seminars about the high energy grain. Deputy Agricultural Minister Boris Runov remarked at that time, "We do not know your sorghum, but we should."

The team was composed of GSPA-TGSPB Executive Director Elbert Harp, Research Director Jack King, Texas A&M cereal chemist Dr. Lloyd Rooney and Texas Tech University animal science professor John Baumgardner. During their visit to Moscow, Dr. Runov asked that tentative plans be prepared for a feeding project to demonstrate to Soviet leaders the nutritional value and cost advantages of U.S. No. 2 yellow sorghum.

Those final plans were adopted in May when Dr. Quisenberry and Dr. Kolshus met in Moscow.

Harp is expected to return to the Soviet Union in October to review progress of the poultry feeding project.

On Wall Street

By Bob Hill

The demand for cotton is booming and will likely continue for the next 12 months. One of the largest cotton brokers in the country says that his company is down to the lowest amount of cotton available in the past 15 years. Cotton was selling for 63 cents a lb. last fall and could possibly hit $1 before the end of the year.

It seems that foreign buyers are the cause of the price surge. The U.S. demand for cotton has grown steadily in the past several months. But foreign buyers, seeing U.S. cotton available at prices competitive with the rest of the world, have been huge buyers. Hong Kong buyers recently purchased 300,000 bales. The upturn in the Japanese economy has sparked heavy cotton buying by that country in order to keep the Japanese textile industry busy.

Pakistan, a major supplier of cotton to the Far East will have a much smaller crop this year and the price of cotton from the source has jumped sharply. Russia and Mexico are also large cotton suppliers. Both are reporting smaller crops this year and will have little cotton if any to export. Russia had earthquakes which damaged an already small crop and Mexican cotton farmers were told to cut back in favor of food production. U.S. farmers planted about 11.2 million acres this spring.

up 12 percent over last year. About 100,000 acres of that crop was hailed out on May 23rd. Another 250,000 acres in West Texas will probably not produce much due to drought and the unusually cool weather in the Mississippi valley may reduce output there.

A smaller than normal U.S. crop could spell real trouble. If the American production doesn't go over 10.5 million bales for the 1976-77 year, the price of cotton would be expected to go to nearly $1 per lb. with foreign demand strong. The only other time cotton hit that price was in 1973. How ever history may not repeat itself.

Although everyone in cotton seems to be making money at the moment, cotton prices may not move much higher. Cotton has a tough competitor—synthetic polyester fiber which sells for 55 cents per lb. A price of 70 cents on cotton will begin to turn users to polyester and that could put the lid on the price of cotton.

During 1975, Texas farmers raised the production value of the state's crops to almost $3.2 billion, placing Texas fourth in national ranking, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Drug use high among inmates.

Statewide Soybean Contest Announced

Texas soybean producers have an opportunity to reap additional benefits from their 1976 crop by entering the Texas Five Acre Soybean Yield Contest.

The contest is being sponsored by the Texas Soybean Association and Elanco Products Co. in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, announces R.J. Hodges, Extension agronomist.

"The contest is designed to be an educational tool to stimulate interest in soybean production," notes Hodges. "It affords an opportunity to compile cultural information and to recognize those individuals who achieve superior yields through the use of good management practices."

Since soybeans are primarily grown in three areas of the state—High Plains, Northeast Texas and Coast Prairie, awards will be presented on an area and state basis. The top three producers in each area will receive 50, 25 and 15 quarts of Treflan, respectively, along with a plaque while at the state level the top producer will receive a free trip for two to Acapulco. Plaques will be presented to the top three producers in the state. All awards are provided by the TSA and Elanco.

Any producer entering the contest also becomes eligible to be named to the Texas 60 Bushel Soybean Club, points out Hodges, if he can certify a yield of 60 bushels per acre or more.

Entrants in the contest must grow at least 10 acres of soybeans and the area harvested for the contest must be at least five acres in size. All entries must be in by Aug. 15.

Hodges adds that contest entry blanks and rules are available at any county Extension office.

Meat Consumption Still At High Level

The average Australian consumed about 29 more pounds of meat last year than an individual in the U.S.

The Texas A&M University System specialist says that livestock production restrictions need not be based on consumption levels.

"Livestock producers can safely assume that there is no practical limit to the per capita consumption of red meats in the U.S.," says Uvacek. "Restrictions on livestock production should not be designed with the idea in mind we will consume all that we produce. The only real question is: At what price will we consume?"

The cattleman's profit or loss will then depend on what price consumers are willing to pay for meat, contends Uvacek.

consumption of red meats in the U.S. is maintaining a relatively high level, says Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Uvacek says that if the level of slaughter keeps up at the present rate, consumption this year will go up even more.

In 1975, the average American consumed 181 pounds of red meat. This breaks down to 120 pounds of beef, 4 pounds of veal, 55 pounds of pork and 2 pounds of lamb and mutton.

Although U.S. per capita consumption of red meats was high last year, it was still much lower than per capita consumption of red meats in Australia, the world's leading consumer of red meats.

The one time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down.

About the only time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down is when it leaves one of Lindsay's plants. Once assembled in your field, it seldom causes a problem. Those big, sure-footed towers power their way around the field, carrying water to crops.

Hour after hour, day after day. Until you decide to shut down. That kind of performance doesn't just happen. It's the result of constant testing — both in the plant and in the field. Lindsay puts these rigs through the most punishing conditions — loads on more stress in a week, usually, than they're likely to see in a lifetime of normal use.

But we know that no system is 100% perfect all the time. That's why we're ready to help with an extensive parts inventory and factory trained servicemen if you ever have a problem. # Double Wedding Conducted In Vega Saturday Evening

In the sanctuary of Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Vega, decorated with pots of yellow and white mums, Miss Cherri Fangman exchanged marriage vows with Brent May. In the same setting, her sister, Mary, was united in marriage to Randy McCracken Saturday evening. The Rev. Father Peter Di Benedetto, pastor, witnessed the double wedding, celebrated the nuptial Mass and performed the double ring ceremonies.

The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pungman. Brent May is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O.K. May and Randy McCracken is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy McCracken, all of Vega.

Mrs. Mary Jon Matheral of Billis served as matron of honor for Miss Cherri Fangman. Miss Ann Fangman, sister of the bride, acted as Mary's maid of honor. They wore identical floor-length gowns of oyster white floral cotton designed with a V-neckline, a high rise, lace trimmed bodice that was laced up the front.

Their long Bishop sleeves, lace trimmed, were gathered into wide cuffs. The skirts fell in soft lines ending with a band of wide lace and a long ruffle. They carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Brent May served his brother as best man. Wes Mason of Channing acted as best man for Randy McCracken. Ushers included Kenny Fangman of Vega, Ronnie Fangman of Hereford, brothers of the brides, Mike Webster of Memphis, and Jimmy Gatlin of Lefors.

Given in marriage by their parents, Cherri wore a formal gown of white organza designed with a Victorian neckline of Venice lace edged in a sheer ruffle. A sheer tucked insert was accented with rows of lace and clusters of seed pearls enhanced the closely fitted bodice.

Her sheer sleeves edged with a row of lace were caught up at the wrist in a deep lace cuffs with a ruffle falling over the hands. The A-line skirt was traced with rows of lace and swept to back fullness which cascaded into a full chapel train.

Cherri wore a matching white lace mantilla. Her wedding bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white and orange roses, babybreath and decorated with white streamers.

Mary chose a formal gown of white organza over bridal taffeta designed with a Victorian neckline of Chantilly lace. Her fitted bodice was enhanced by a lace edging on a sheer insert. The sheer sleeves traced with lace motifs were caught up at wrists in deep lace cuffs seeded with pearls.

Lace appliques with clusters of seed pearls traced the empire styled skirt which fell into a lace edged hem which swept to back fullness and cascaded into a full chapel train. She, also, wore a matching white lace mantilla.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white and yellow roses, blue corn flowers, baby breath and decorated with white streamers.

Mrs. Edgar Frerich, organist, accompanied Mrs. Karen Wagner of Hereford, who sang "The Twelfth of Never," "The Lord's Prayer," and "How Great Thou Art."

Servers at the nuptial Mass were Freddie Fangman, brother of the brides, and Johnny Ferguson.

A reception was held in the Parish Hall. Registering the guests were Mrs. Debbie Fangman, sister of Brent May, and Mrs. Leana Webster, of Memphis, sister of Randy McCracken.

Serving the twin three-tiered wedding cakes, made by Mrs. Lawrence Jentzen, who is a great aunt of the brides, were Mmes. Jan Fangman, Kathy Kirkland, and Kay Hugo.

A buffet supper and dance followed the reception.

Cherri was a 1973 graduate of Vega High School. Her husband Brent is engaged in ranching. Mary graduated from Vega High School in May. Randy is engaged in ranching at the Fulton Ranch.

Following their wedding trips, Cherri will make her home in Vega, and Mary will reside in Channing.

Out of town guests from the country of Switzerland, Hereford, Abilene, Clarendon, McLean, Amarillo, Umparger, Nazareth, and Dalhart attended the wedding and the reception.

My doctor prescribed a water pill that causes my body to lose potassium. He told me to include food in my diet which is high in potassium. I lost the list he gave me. Can you provide me with one? - L.P.

Yes. Dried apricots and peaches, dates, raisins, cantaloupe, bananas, prune and orange juices, watermelon and turkey. If you do not like any of these foods, your physician can prescribe potassium replacement medicines.

Does sassafras tea help acne? M.D. If you drink it instead of colas, uncolas, and don't eat candy, snacks and other "junk," it should help a lot.

Romance, Mystery Portrayed In Book

"Game in Diamonds" by Elizabeth Cadell and "Thursday's Child" by Faith Baldwin are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

In her inimitable way, Elizabeth Cadell has once again artfully blended romance and mystery in her book "Game in Diamonds."

In the book "Thursday's Child", the book's characters are brought together by a natural disaster that provides for a revelation of true selves, the deepening of friendships and the awakening of love among some of the residents of a small town.

Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

THURSDAY'S CHILD By Faith Baldwin

Little Oxford, the charming village Faith Baldwin has made familiar to her many readers, is once again the setting for romance when the haughtily aristocratic Abby Morrison Allen returns to her New England home with Sara Foster, her 24-year-old granddaughter.

When Sara expresses an interest in getting a job in town, Katie Palmer suggests that Sara seek employment at the bookshop co-owned by her husband Jeremy.

At the store Sara meets and is hired by Jeremy's partner Sam Peters. Sam, an attractive although stubbornly confirmed bachelor, in turn introduces Sara to Paul Stevens, his "nomad" friend - a playboy with a trust fund and an ingratiating manner.

Sara is soon befriended by many of Little Oxford's hospitable inhabitants, including Vanessa Steele. And that redoubtable old lady proves to be a link between Abby Allen's past and present.

A calamitous ice storm brings together Abby Allen, Vanessa Steele, Sara, Sam Katie, and her husband in the only heated house in town.

GAME IN DIAMONDS by Elizabeth Cadell

Rambling English countryside, sculpted hedges, spacious lawns surround the grand estate of the regal and aristocratic Lady Charlotte Merrion. Lady Charlotte, well into her eighties, lives her life as she always has in the dignified, traditional, indeed imposing manner of her class. Beyond the cultivation of water lilies, the breeding of seal point Siamese cats, Lady Charlotte's prime interest is her grandson, Paul Merrion.

Paul is engaged to the racy and flamboyant-but absent-Diana Framley. His looks and charm, to say nothing of his money and easy good nature, make him a target for any woman aiming at a matrimonial prize.

In spite of his engagement, this magnificent and peacefully somnolent town becomes the setting for Paul's delicate but rich romance with Lydia Cresset, a young music student from London and a visitor on his grandmother's estate.

Intrigued by the origin of an ancient brick tower on the estate, Paul and Lydia begin what seems an innocent archeological lark only to suddenly find themselves discovering the full and mysterious and -to some- vastly important meaning of the strange signs found on the bricks themselves.

Gardens Are Now Portable

In this age of mobility, even gardens can be portable so that they can provide for a changing landscape scene.

Everett Janne, a horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that shrubs, trees, vines and flowers can be grown in portable containers and moved from the service or growing area when at their prime to supplement the permanent landscape planting.

"There can be instant beauty with post of geraniums, begonias or petunias. Plants can be in the spotlight when they look their best and can be banished when they decline in beauty."

Janne suggests using sturdy containers such as tubs, barrel halves, clay pots or wooden boxes. Wooden containers should be made of moisture-resistant wood such as redwood or cedar. All containers should provide adequate drainage.

Potting soil that is both porous and moisture retentive should be used.

"Plants in containers dry out much faster than those growing in ground and will have to be watered more often," says the Texas A&M University System specialist. "During hot dry weather they may need watering every day."

Janne advises using a complete soluble plant food about once every three weeks after the plants are well established and growing.

He also offers a few tips to make moving plants easier.

"Plan moving a few days in advance. Plants will be much lighter and easier to move if the soil is dry. Use a dolly, wagon, piece of canvas or some other carrier to ease the moving task."

Harley Sadler Show is Back

For the four decades prior to 1947, almost any member of a small community in the Southwest knew that the raising of a large, brown canvas tent signified the arrival of Harley Sadler and his famous, much loved tent shows.
People no longer instantly recognize the gable tent, but the meaning of it is still the same. The erection of the 110 x 55 foot tent adjacent to the Texas Tech University Ranching Heritage Center signifies that the New Harley Sadler tent shows are opening soon.
Scheduled to begin on June 28, the new shows are a combination of vaudeville, melodrama and music. The plays, honoring the actor-manager Sadler whose tent shows entertained farmbelt communities of the Southwest in the early part of this century, are part of Lubbock's Bicentennial Celebration. Approximately 30 students of the Texas Tech department of speech and theatre arts will comprise the company of actors.

The raising of the tent last weekend was a systematic operation, reminiscent of the original shows, according to boss canvasman Stephen Mather. The first step was to lay out the four large sections of canvas and lace them together. Next, poles were placed at right angles to the edges of the canvas, and stakes were hammered into the ground.
Step-by-step instructions guided the 25 workers in lifting the tent and placing the two A-frame poles, which support the center of the tent.
Many audience members may remember Toby, the ragged hayseed character made famous by Harley Sadler and other tent performers. Toby reflected the views of some rural Americans between 1900 and 1947, as his country virtues continually triumphed over city evils. The original Harley Sadler tent shows provided many towns with rare and exciting entertainment. According to columnist Hy Gardner, such entertainment is again in vogue, offering a touch of nostalgia.

Tickets for the tent shows may be obtained at the University Theatre box office, open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on weekdays, and 9 a.m. until 12 noon on weekends. Ticket prices are $3 for orchestra seats, $1.50 for general admission, and half price for Tech students in either section.
