For State Board

Governor Tabs Roy Hartman

Hereford superintendent of schools Roy Hartman was named Tuesday by Governor Preston Smith to the state teachers Professional Practices Commission.

Hartman's appointment to the 15-member board placed him on the panel that oversees ethical conduct of school personnel throughout the state.

Hartman received word of the appointment in a telegram from Governor Smith. The telegram said:

"It is a pleasure and an honor to inform you that I have today appointed you to be a member of the Teachers Professional Practices Commission effective immediately for a term to expire August 31, 1974."

The 15-member commission is made up of three elementary classroom teachers, three secondary classroom teachers, two counselors, one elementary principal, one secondary principal, one supervisor, one superintendent from a school of 1,000 or more teachers, one superintendent from a school of less than 1,000 teachers, one junior college teacher and one senior college teacher engaged in teacher education.

"This is a real honor," Hartman said after receiving word of his appointment. "It is just a real honor to be asked to serve on this commission."

All members of the commission are appointed by the Governor and must be approved by the State Senate. Statewide professional organizations of teachers and school administrators first submit nominees names to the Governor.

The purpose of the commission is to act in an advisory capacity to the State Commissioner of Education, Dr. J.W. Edgar, in matters of interpretation and enforcement of the Code of Ethics and Standard Practices of the teaching profession.

After Meeting In New York

Board Optimistic Of Bond Rating

Members of the school board administration returned from New York last week and expressed optimism toward a high bond rating on nearly $1.32 million in capital improvement bonds to be sold next week.

The officials met with representatives of Standard and Poors and Moody then returned home to Hereford to await the rating of the bonds. The Hereford school system presently carries an A-1 rating which is one of the highest. However, officials were optimistic about getting a AA rating as a result of the visit to New York City.

Board members Ed Loerwald, Hugh Clearman and Clark Andrews, along with administrators Bill Phillips and Roy Hartman attended the meeting. Bob Davis, of Columbian Securities in Amarillo, the school system's consultant, also accompanied the group.

"I was confident after we left that our A-1 rating would be protected and was very hopeful that we could get a AA rating. We just couldn't help but be a little optimistic because we had an excellent meeting with both firms," Hartman said.

The local officials met with Standard and Poors on Thursday morning for about an hour and a half then met with Moody representatives for more than three hours.

The local officials had planned to spend Thursday and Friday in New York then return to Hereford on Saturday. However, after they made their presentations to the two firms, they decided to return on Thursday afternoon.

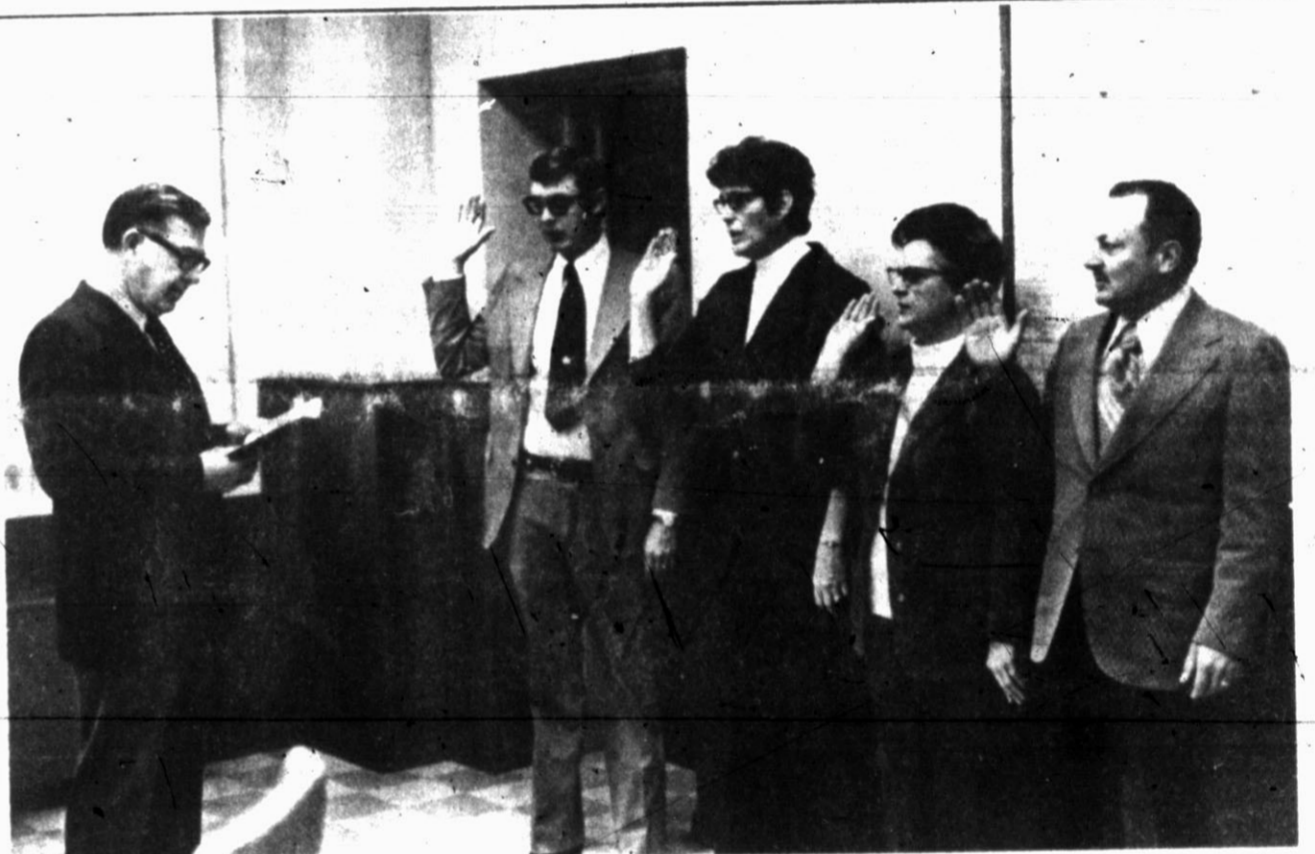

The rating companies, two of the most respected in that field, questioned the officials about various aspects of the county's growth. They asked questions about the number of square miles in the county, history of the county and city, financial resources, educational facilities in the area, retail sales, tax facts of city, county and schools, building permits, postal receipts, utilities, rates of utilities, transportation, labor information, climate, churches, community organizations and other things.

Pamphlets and brochures furnished by the Chamber of Commerce also were left with the two companies and these facts were presented to a complete board of the two firms for the final decision.

Hartman said the representatives of the two firms were impressed with the fact that the Hereford school system will have its bonded indebtedness paid off in 11 years.

"They were a little concerned about the water situation here, but mainly with the growth that has happened school-wise and county-wide in the past few years," he said. "But, they were real impressed about our bonded indebtedness and how quickly we will have it paid off."

The higher the rating given bonds the better they will sell. The sale of the Hereford bonds is set for next Tuesday at the regularly scheduled board meeting.

SWORN IN—County Clerk B.F. Cain, left, is shown swearing in county and district officials Monday at the beginning of a new term. From right are county commissioner Bruce Coleman, county tax assessor-collector Nell Miller, district clerk Lola Faye Yeazey and county sheriff Travis McPherson. One other official, county commissioner Earl Holt, was not present for the swearing in ceremonies.

Four Arrested In Drug Case

Three adults and one juvenile were arrested by police officers early New Year's Eve and charged with possession of marijuana. The three adults all were released the next day on bond while the juvenile was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Out on $1,000 bond are Tommy Ray Barrett, 17 and Michael Lujan Albarr, 18. The third adult, Frank Xavier Cerda, 17, was released on $1,500 bond.

Cerda also was charged with carrying a prohibited weapon.

The arrests occurred about 8:15 p.m. Sunday while city police officers were on routine patrol in southwestern portion of the city. They came upon a car parked at the end of a deadend street and decided to check it out.

As the officer approached the vehicle one of the boys got out, according to reports. Officers said they saw the boy drop something on the ground as he emerged from the vehicle.

The officers retrieved the object dropped on the ground and discovered it to be a small packet of what was believed to be marijuana.

The four were then taken to the sheriff's office where they were jailed.

More Of Same Expected

Weather Continues Raking Thru Area

Two of the area's top crops continued to feel the wrath of winter this week as heavy snows covered the area with more expected toward the weekend.

The sugar beet crop and the cattle "crop" both continued to suffer from the bad weather that has plagued the Panhandle for more than a month.

Death losses in cattle, though always higher at this time of year, continued to soar as cattle brought into this area from warmer places failed to adjust to the colder climate. Stocker cattle on wheat fields also began to suffer with the more than three inches of snow that converged on the area early in the week.

Juston McBride, county agent, said the snow is causing a great deal of stress on the cattle and on caring for them. The snow he said, covered up the wheat and limited the feed available for the cattle.

"The snow slows up the growth of the wheat and it also makes it very difficult to care for the cattle. We always have more losses this time of year, but because of the unusual bad weather we have experienced, the death loss has increased greatly," he said.

He added that the snow-type weather is hard on the cattle and often times causes respiratory diseases that require constant "attention, feeding and doctoring" of the animals.

Sugar beet harvest, beset with problems almost from the start, was set back again by the heavy deposits of snow that started Monday, appeared to slack off, then blanketed the area generously on Tuesday.

The plant operations were halted briefly on a partial basis late last week when a fire in the plant occurred. Beet growers then appeared on the verge of getting back into their final harvesting stages when the snow arrived Tuesday and continued throughout the day.

Early week weather reports did little to help the picture as more snow was forecast for later this week, possibly as early as today.

What little cotton there is in the area still remains a question, according to McBride, who added drying weather is what is needed in order to get it out of the fields.

"There is not a lot of cotton still out, but this weather certainly has not helped what is still out. It will lower the grades on the cotton—the longer the crop is subjected to this type of weather, the more of a loss there is going to be in the cotton quality," he said.

Measurements of the snow varied throughout the county, but the most general reports were those of about three inches. Mid-way through the day Tuesday it appeared as if the snow might all melt away inside the city, but an early afternoon deluge halted those prospects as snow continued to pile up.

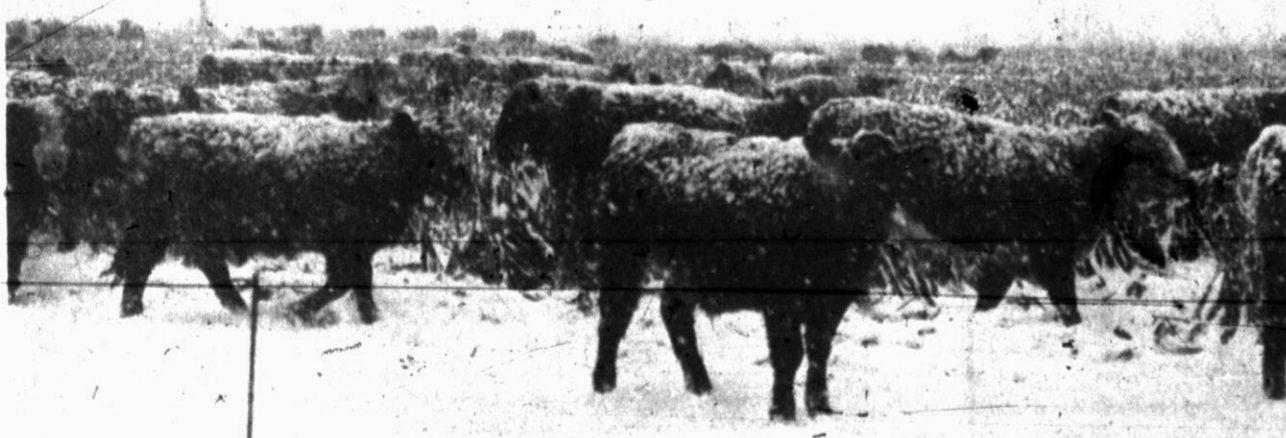

The snow inside the city and on highways throughout the area became ice-packed.

icy roads were said to be the cause of an early-morning accident west of Hereford Wednesday that heavily damaged a large transport truck.

The driver of the truck and his companion, both from California, were not injured in the accident that occurred about 3:10 a.m. Wednesday, eight miles west of Hereford on U.S. 60.

According to reports from the sheriff's office, the two men narrowly escaped serious injury when the trailer of their truck jack-knifed and swung around into the truck's cab.

FEELING STRESS—Cattle throughout the area continue to undergo heavy stress as a result of recent bad weather. Losses in cattle has been heavy and this week's snow added to the problems already being experienced.

Hereford Woman's Father Is Buried

Funeral services for Frank R. O'Connor, 69, of Jal., N.M., father of Mrs. John W. Stiggins of Hereford, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in a funeral chapel at Kermit and burial was in the Kermit Cemetery with graveside military services.

A veteran of both U.S. and Canadian army service during World War II, Mr. O'Connor was a retired oilfield construction worker who had lived in Jal 18 years. He died Sunday morning in a Kermit hospital.

He was a native of Virginia, born Feb. 19, 1903. Surviving are his wife, the daughter, two sisters, four brothers and three grandchildren.

TAKING OATH—County commissioner Earl Holt, who missed the swearing in ceremonies of county and district officials Monday, took his oath Tuesday. Doing the swearing in is county clerk B.F. Cain.

Deadline Gets Extension

The Texas Highway Commission has extended the license and permit filing deadline for owners of signs along Interstate and primary highways.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY

Girls bring new life to soccer

If you have any doubt that Women's Lib has shivered the timbers of our feminine structure down to the tiniest seven-year-old, come watch one of California's first girl soccer teams thunder down the field toward a 65-pound, pig-tailed goalie who isn't about to give an inch.

It's the "Bugaloos" versus the "Orange Demons," and from the sidelines one of the Demon's coaches — who happens to be a man — urges the moppets on with a horsely shout. "Come on you guys, go, go, you guys!" Clearly, if the musical "Guys and Dolls" had been written today, it would come up "Guys and Guys."

After 60 years, the American Youth Soccer Organization has accepted girls into this rough-and-tumble sport — and the girls' teams, with such names as "Black Widows" and "Wild Cats," are taking their participation seriously. Ranging in age from 7 to 16, the girls take what lumps there are in good spirits and pick themselves up and carry on whenever necessary.

One small girl, when asked if she was playing to compete with her brother, replied, "Nope. He doesn't even play." There are eight girl teams and the coaching is done mostly by women, though a few men do help out. Mrs. Margie Talbot, coach for the Manhattan Beach Pintos, says, "The girls I work with are fantastic. They have great enthusiasm — and they want to win!"

All the rules and regulations for boys' soccer are the same for the girls. As in Little League Baseball, mothers and fathers sit on the sidelines to cheer and groan, shout and agonize, as their child's team plays. But the difference here is that with girls, it's a whole different ball game. They may be wearing shin-guards and cleats, but beneath that soccer jersey beats the heart

The Commission extended the filing deadline from December 31 to June 30, 1973. Advertising industry and individual sign owners requested the extension because the previous deadline did not permit sufficient time to comply with the Texas Highway Beautification Act.

The Act requires a permit for each existing or planned sign. Also, anyone erecting or maintaining signs within 660 feet of an Interstate or Federal-aid highway must have a license to engage in outdoor advertising.

Sign owners are advised to apply for a license and all necessary sign permits as soon as possible since no further extension of the deadline is contemplated.

The State license fee of $25 is valid for an indefinite period. In addition, sign owners are required to post a $2,500 bond in each county in which they have signs. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than three counties.

Both license and bond applications are available through the Right of Way Division, Texas Highway Department, P.O. Box 5075, Austin, Texas, 78763.

In addition, owners must obtain a $5 permit for each sign. Permits for new signs will not be issued unless they conform to the law. Sign permit application forms can be obtained from the right of way sections of Highway Department district offices.

Owners of signs who have questions about the program or the new deadline date should contact the nearest Highway Department district office.

Love affair blossoms between man, car

George Lee, a superb organist and close friend, handed me a shock, a shock which has added to my life. He pulled me aside, and whispered: "I'm having an affair," paused, then added: "with the English language." He was convinced that I needed to have some kind of an affair, besides my work.

I was set up. George Lee's words were loud and clear when I first saw an elderly but stately Studebaker in the out back of Australia. It was love at first sight and this old lady's charms soon had me under her thumb. And besides, a good friend had advised some sort of an affair, and my wife, Ruth, understood. My children said: "You bought what?"

This chapter of automotive history is a four-door-phlebotom-duplex, right hand drive, with real inslagless pull down windows, and a Dictator 6 engine. But the road of romance is often rocky, and getting my acquisition to this country was a bit of a problem. Export papers, taxes, fees, all done from a busy pastor's desk makes for an encumbering slow process. But as almost always, love prevailed, and a year later it was put in the hold of the U.S.S. Ventura, which had been sailing this route since 1912. The twist of fate is that it was shipped with 29 camels. They must have had a deficiency in their diet of leather upholstery, canvas top material, and varnish. In any event I daresay I now own the only car in Christendom that had to go through a 30-day quarantine period before I could claim it at the docks.

Love is blind, as you know. One man looked at this car and termed it a basket case. Another saw it and asked, "Why?" To which there is no answer.

COOKING CORNER

Pudding, fruitcake originated in Europe

By OPAL CRANDALL
Copley News Service

The steamed pudding and fruitcake are akin. Both are traditional to the holidays and both made their way to this country from Europe.

The two are so akin that certain recipes can be used both to make either. And both can be made ahead for holiday serving.

Orange and Cranberry Steamed Pudding can be made ahead, stored in the refrigerator and warmed by steaming about 30 minutes before serving time. It can be delightfully accented with Foamy Orange Sauce or Orange Hard Sauce.

ORANGE AND CRANBERRY STEAMED PUDDING

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup packed

light brown sugar 2 eggs
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup Florida orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup raisins
2 cups fresh cranberries

Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating until light after each addition. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and soda. Add dry ingredients to sugar mixture alternately with milk and orange juice, beginning and ending with flour mixture. Stir in orange rind, raisins and cranberries.

Turn into well-greased 2-quart pudding mold. Cover mold tightly; put on rack in heavy deep kettle with about 2 inches of boiling water. Cover; steam for about 2 hours. Adjust heat to keep water boiling gently throughout steaming period, adding more water if necessary. Unmold and serve warm with Foamy Orange Sauce (Note) or Orange Hard Sauce (Note) and garnish with orange sections if desired.

Yield: Eight servings.
Note: Pudding may be made ahead, wrapped and refrigerated. Re-steaming to heat takes about 30 minutes.

(NOTE) FOAMY ORANGE SAUCE

One-third cup butter
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup Florida orange juice

Cream butter, add about 1/2 of the sugar gradually and continue creaming until fluffy. Add egg yolk, salt and orange rind; beat well. Gradually add remaining sugar alternately with orange juice. Place the sauce in a double boiler over hot water. Cook until slightly thickened, about 8 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat; cool. Beat egg white until stiff and fold lightly into cooled sauce. Serve cold or slightly warm.

(NOTE) ORANGE HARD SAUCE

One-third cup soft butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons Florida orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind

Cream butter, add sugar gradually and beat until light, fluffy and smooth. Add orange juice, a small amount at a time. Blend in rind. Chill or serve at room temperature.

Tree bark is useful around the garden

Tree bark, 20 million tons of which are produced each year in the United States, provides a soil conditioner and mulch for nurseries and homeowners.

Not only does it serve as a protective and soil-nutritive cover, but it also provides an exciting landscape scheme.

DRAMATIC CLIMAX --- Orange and Cranberry Steamed Pudding accented with Foamy Orange Sauce is a dramatic climax for a holiday dinner.

The elderly aren't about to fold up

By ANN RUDY
Copley News Service

I never did believe in that Little Old Lady from Pasadena who was supposed to have only driven her car 25 miles a year.

I'm more apt to believe in that old lady on TV who collects residuals from her commercial in which she rides a dirt bike and pushes pop wine.

And now that I've read about how California's 74-year-old Anna Gimpel routed a robber from her home recently, I'm sure of it. It seems that Anna was surprised by a big strapping fellow wearing a paper bag over his head.

"I gotcha' now, lady," he growled as he emerged from her bathroom. "Give me all your money."

Do you think little Anna fainted or dialed Medicare? Do you think she begged for mercy or handed over her Social Security change?

She did not. She did what any other woman resilient enough to reach 74 would have done: she grabbed her cane and chased the robber out of her house with it.

Police later found the paper bag tossed aside with, I'll wager, all future plans of ever picking on anybody over 30 again.

Anna, who was unharmed, returned to her house and continued fixing her dinner.

Maybe it's because my own mother was a cane-carrying spit-fire that I find the image of docile senility setting in promptly at 65 absurd.

But apparently I am not alone, because I keep reading about militant old folks on the rise and some who have organized themselves into a group called the "Gray Panthers."

They are headed by 67-year-old Margaret Kuhn of Philadelphia who has this to say about how the aged are treated today: "Our oppressive, paternalistic society wants to keep the elderly out of the way, playing bingo and shuffleboard. We are not mellowed, sweet old people. We are outraged. And we are doing something about it."

CENTSIBLE SHOPPING

Food packaging poses problems

By JOYCE ROARK
Copley News Service

Packaging of food can present problems to both the manufacturer and the consumer.

Labeling and packaging laws are strict and violations by the manufacturer can result in heavy fines.

The consumer has problems determining the number of servings in a particular size of can. This is complicated in the case of foods canned in water or juice — such as fruits and vegetables.

The net weight (or volume) is on the can label. Unit pricing will tell the consumer how much the item costs per ounce, pint, etc. The unit prices does not take into account the volume of liquid in the container. Therefore, the consumer is paying an average price for product and water.

If this price is compared to an equal volume of frozen product, the canned item is more expensive per serving.

Federal laws are complicated as is the canning process. Therefore it's up to the consumer to make a judgement as to which type of product is best for his or her needs and to determine the quantity that is needed.

To help with these decisions, I have listed the can size, weight (or volume) and number of servings. This is based on 4 ounce servings and does not take into consideration the fluid packed in the can.

The amount of fluid varies with the type of product, but the consumer should be aware of the law prohibiting a company from using "too much" liquid in a container.

The small no. 1/2 can contains approximately 6 1/2 ounces. This can is used primarily for canned fish. The 8 ounce can contains approximately 2 servings and is primarily used for tomato sauce or small amounts of vegetables.

The picnic can contains approximately 10 ounces (1 1/4 cups) and is advertised to contain 3 servings. Soup is commonly packaged in this size container.

Vegetables packed in a 12 ounce vacuum can will serve 3-4 people (1 1/2 cups) and is advertised to contain the least amount of liquid.

A no. 300 can contains 14-16 ounces, 1 1/4 cups, or 3-4 servings. Foods packaged in this size can include such items as canned spaghetti, spaghetti sauce, kidney beans, and canned fruit.

The no. 303 can is larger and holds 2 cups (16-17 ounces). This size can also contains 3-4 servings.

The larger no. 2 can contains 2 1/2 cups, 1 pound 4 ounces, or 1 pint 2 fluid ounces, or 5 servings of product. A no. 2 1/2 can contains 3 1/2 cups, 1 pound 13 ounces, or 5-7 servings. The largest can contains 46 ounces, 5 3/4 cups, 1 quart 14 fluid ounces, 3 pounds 3 ounces, or 10-12 servings.

There are many other sizes of cans and the ounces may vary but remember that servings are usually 4 ounces each. Water weighs heavier than fruits or vegetables and fruit juice or syrup weighs heavier than water.

NORTH DAKOTA SEED POTATO CERTIFICATION TOOK A STEP FORWARD IN

SPECIALIZED GROWING

This program required growers to plant only seed potatoes eligible and entered for certification on their farms or farming operations. The seed produced under this regulation in conjunction with other requirements has put North Dakota certified seed potatoes out front. They are sought after by growers in all potato growing areas in the United States.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN TO SEED POTATO GROWERS?

It means that you will be buying seed that has been protected from potato plant diseases and is the best you can buy anywhere.

Ruffles used on knits

Ruffles have lost their sweet "lavendar and old lace" personality. They ripple on some of the sleekest knits around for the winter season. Sweaters, knitted to mold figures in sharp outlines, are designed with all sorts of ruffle trims. Newest touches are in wide or narrow ruffles encircling armholes to suggest tiny caps over long sleeves. Ruffles border high and low necklines, flounces flare at the end of long narrow sleeves, and the diagonal wrap of surplice sweaters is frequently traced in ruffles. A number of short, dressy sweaters accent waistlines with frilly peplums.

Army Hero Faces Narcotic Rap

Two interesting and new books at the Deaf Smith County Library are both full of excitement and drama. One is Maryjane Tonight at Angels Twelve, which is about an ex-army pilot who faces 20 years in prison or help the narcotics agents; it is suspenseful and frightening.

The other one is The Boxwood Maze; its deft and suspenseful story of love in the thrall of evil will surprise and haunt readers. The library is open to the public on weekdays until 5 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon.

MARYJANE TONIGHT AT ANGELS TWELVE
BY Martin Caidin.
"He'd been in trouble before. Who hadn't? But he'd never been hit with this kind of avalanche..."

An ex-army pilot with 300 Viet Nam missions and a drawerful of medals to his credit, Jim Brian runs his charter service on a shoestring.

He very carefully doesn't ask what his clients bring back from the Islands. That's why he's facing a fall—twenty years behind bars—for flying sixty pounds of cocaine into Florida.

There's a way out, if Brian cooperates with narcotics agents trying to crack a big aerial pipeline bringing in the hard stuff.

So Brian co-operates, and finds himself flying straight into high coctane adventure that erupts into an explosive climax. The background is real, the drug scene is real, the thrills are real—on the ground and in the air, and especially in the air.

Maryjane Tonight at Angels Twelve has some of the most exciting flight scenes in modern fiction.

THE BOXWOOD MAZE
BY Bentz Plagemann
When twenty-year-old heires Lee Appleton begins her annual summer visit at Waverley, the castlelike mansion above the Hudson River that belongs to her adored great-aunt, she finds this familiar and cherished world disturbingly changed.

"Aunt" has grown fragile and forgetful, and a stranger, a sleek, violet-eyed young woman named Isabelle, has been installed as her secretary and companion.

The castle staff is embroiled in a mysterious dispute between the black-haired, handsome new gardener, Joseph, and a faithful long-employed chauffeur.

And there are other things that puzzle and distress Lee. What of the eerie thumping noises that echo through the castle, waking Lee on her first night there? And where is the treasure of the castle, the specially built and very beautiful model train that had always stood in the great central hall?

Fortunately for Lee, her old childhood playmate Bradford Lawrence, son of another Hudson River family, almost immediately arrives on the scene. Not only does he explain her fears away, but, now a tall and charming man, he soon gives signs of falling in love with Lee.

Intrigued, she anticipates a summer of courtship, fulfilling Aunt's dream of uniting the two old families through marriage.

But as the summer heat intensifies, a reign of terror descends upon the castle. At first subtly and then openly, the fortune hunters close in on the terrified Lee and her failing aunt.

The Boxwood Maze is a masterful venture into the realm of the Gothic by a successful novelist and short-story writer. The denouement of its deft and suspenseful story of love in the thrall of evil will surprise and haunt readers.

Social Security

Q. I heard that with the new changes in social security men will eventually have their monthly payments figured by a different method. Since I'll be retiring in a few years, can you explain what this means to men and when it will go into effect?

A. Up to now, the period used to figure average earnings for retirement benefits for men generally has been 3 years longer than for women. Starting in January 1973, the period for figuring social security eligibility and benefits for men will be changed in three annual steps. A man who reaches 62 in 1973 will have his average earnings figured over a period 1 year shorter than under present law; a man who reaches 62 in 1974 will have his average earnings figured over a period 2 years shorter. For a man reaching age 62 in 1975 or later, eligibility and benefits amounts will be figured over the same period as for a woman of the same age. Starting in 1975, this will have the effect of eliminating three more low-earning years and increasing the average earnings. Since retirement payments are based on a worker's average earnings, the new method will result in higher monthly social security checks for men who reach 62 in the future and for their dependents and survivors.

Safeway Discount the

HERE'S WHAT DISCOUNT WITH A DIFFERENCE MEANS

Our Discount with a Difference program offers money-saving prices on the wide variety of high quality meats, produce and other foods which helped to build Safeway's reputation.

When we converted to discount, we made sweeping changes in operating methods. These changes, which included new pricing methods and the elimination of unnecessary merchandising expenses, reduced our cost of doing business. Our savings were immediately reflected in substantial price reductions. We introduced our every day low level prices which helped to make the discount program so popular and effective. With low prices in effect all week long, there was no longer need to postpone shopping until the week end. Low level prices gave our customers added incentive to buy from us all of their food needs. With shopping spread more uniformly throughout the week and throughout the store, our whole business became more efficient. We streamlined ordering, stocking and price marking. We increased check-out efficiency and lessened the possibility of errors at check-out.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Now that the school bond election is over and we will get a new school to be used instead of old Central, people should have time to do some sensible thinking and decide on some use of the old building for purposes other than tearing it down.
To wreck a building that is as substantial as Central is about as crazy a deal as the man who got drunk and busted up his furniture and then sat down and cried about it after he got sober.
I doubt if there is a more substantial building in town. It could be used as a museum in not to long a future or as a supply building, an office building or even apartment building for low income people.

No doubt, they were crowded for room and the old building was shabby from neglect, not age. Anyone who claims there is danger of the old building falling down or being a fire hazard needs to think more sensibly. It is no more a fire hazard than any home in town.
If that building is taken care of the same as other buildings it will be just as good another 60 years as some of the later built structures.
In another 50 years people will look at old Central and talk about how it has stood under the use of time and say 'my grandparents used to go to school there.

To condemn a building as good as Central because someone wants something more modern is not progress, it is sabotage. It might be used for temporary school rooms' instead of using church buildings through the week as has been done in the past.
Yours Truly,
Ole T. Larson

The Army Green

Sgt. Charles Barton
U.S. Army Recruiter
317 E. 3rd Amarillo
Call Collect 376-5151-Ext. 2182

Gheil Dunkirk enlisted in the Army several months ago and one thing is certain — he didn't do it for the money.
Before enlisting, Dunkirk sold Dunmar & Associates, a marketing research corporation he helped to found only two years before. The corporation showed a fiscal year gross income of $127 million.
A marketing research corporation advises manufacturers how best to sell their product. If a certain product appears to have potential, the corporation might actually take over that responsibility for the manufacturer and attempt to sell and distribute it on their own.
One product that Dunkirk & Associates distributed on the national level — and quite profitably — was the "Frisbee." Another was "Tootsie Rolls." But for 31-year old ex-Marine something was missing. In a conversation with his next door neighbor in Bloomington, Illinois, Gheil discussed his search for fulfillment. His next door neighbor is Major Jerry Walters, executive officer of the main recruiting station in Peoria, Illinois.
Major Walters remarked that a young man with a Masters Degree in Marketing, solid business experience and plenty of motivation could rise, very rapidly in the Army. One week later, Gheil submitted his application for Officer Candidate School.
"I'm an old fashioned flag-waver," he explained. "I like the service. I like what it stands for... the discipline... the responsibility you're given."
For $360 a month, Gheil Dunkirk found what he was looking for.

Sgt. Glen Rayls had just returned to his apartment outside of Fort Campbell where he is a driving assistant for 101st Airborne Unit.
In the process of unloading his equipment he passed by the apartment pool and observed three little girls yelling and splashing in the water.
Instinctively, Glen knew something wasn't right. "They were playing like most kids do," he said, "except they acted like they were drowning."
"I thought they were play-acting, but they got louder and splashed more wildly, and then one of the trio managed to make it over to the edge of the pool and told a small boy there to go for help."
"I ran over to the pool, still not believing it was happening to me. One of the girls was thrashing wildly while the others was almost ready to go under. I never thought of myself as a good swimmer but the idea of saving those little girls kept me from being scared. Actually, neither was any trouble to pull out. In fact, they grabbed hold of me real quick and wouldn't let go."
"By the time Glen reached the edge of the pool with the second girl, their parents had rushed out.
Glen then slipped into the background and went back to unload his equipment.

Judge Not

St. Matthew warned us against judging others. We may look contemptuously at our neighbor, our competitor, but we must not judge him. We may even point a finger, but God strongly warned against it. "Judge not, that ye be not judged. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again" (Matthew 7:1-2). God cautioned us well. It could not have been spoken more plainly. He urged us to obey His word. He even called accusers, hypocrites, and demanded that they rid themselves of all judgment acts.

God tempers justice with mercy, but He will not hold him guiltless who commits a judgment sin.

Too often transgressors resent the kindly judge who sits in court to serve his country and his God. But the bar of justice is broad and God's mercy is not strained. His judgment, not ours, must prevail. For it is written that we must pay for our error. We must face our record in court. But those who attend church more, go to court less.

Whitefaces Blister Longhorns

PRESSING HERD DEFENSE—Hereford's Alan Cornelius and Mike Mayberry double-teamed Caprock's Danny Reneau in this action from Tuesday night's game here against the Amarillo team. The Herd used a pressing defense to good advantage in racing past the Longhorns by a 89-56 score. The triumph was Hereford's 15th of the season against 6 losses. The Whitefaces take on Clovis here Saturday night.

Hereford's Whitefaces used a full-court press and a balanced scoring attack to blister the Caprock Longhorns of Amarillo by a 89-56 count here Tuesday night in La Plata Gym.

Coach Ron Mayberry put his Herd into a full court press in the second period, and the Whitefaces responded with a 20-point quarter to zoom to a 32-22 lead at halftime. The starting five set out the last period as 10 cagey saw action and all took part in the scoring parade.

The triumph left Hereford with a 15-6 non-district mark and a 2-4 mark against Amarillo schools. The Herd takes on high-scoring Clovis here Saturday night in La Plata Gym. Two games will be played, with the JV contest set for 6 p.m.

The Herd was fresh from a second-place finish in the Burger Holiday Tourney, falling to the host Burger Bulldogs in a close 57-55 contest Saturday night. Hereford lost that one at the free-throw line—connecting on 7 of 10 charity shots while Burger got 19 of 25. The Herd's Keith Kitchens was named as the tourney's most valuable player.

In the game against Caprock here Tuesday night, Kitchens, Terry Scott and Dan Vander Zee scored 13 points each in the first half. David Duvall hit 9 and James Harris 5 as the starters showed a well-balanced attack in piling up a big advantage over the visitors.

Scott and Vander Zee finished with 14 points each, while Kitchens had 12 and Duvall 11. Gary Hicks came on strong in the second half to finish with putting five players in double figures. Alan Cornelius hit six points in the final period and wound up with eight points. final period and wound up with eight points.

The Herd jumped to an early 12-4 lead in the game and led by 20-12 after the first stanza. The Whitefaces put on a full court press in the second period, and the Longhorns had difficulty getting the ball to the other end of the court. The Herd ripped off 19 straight points and took a commanding 34-26 lead early in the second quarter of play.

After leading by 21 points at halftime, the Herd moved further ahead in the third period, and Coach Mayberry started substituting freely midway of the stanza. Eddie Owens led the Caprock scoring with 17 points, while Sonny Touge hit for 13 and Mark Glass had 11.

Mayberry was pleased with the performance of the team. "We've been playing good the last three or four games, and our ball men looked particularly good tonight," he commented after the game.

The Hereford junior varsity was not as fortunate in the preliminary game, losing by a 67-39 count. It was close in the first half, with Hereford trailing by 20-23 at intermission, but the visitors pulled away in the third quarter and kept piling it on.

The Hereford JV had only seven players suited up, and all took part in the scoring. Junior Morales was high, however, with just 9 points. Lynn Tarr and Dennis Noggler had 8 points each. Very few fouls were called in the game—Caprock going 2 of 3 at the charity line, while Hereford was 5 of 10. The JV has a 6-4 record on the season.

In the Burger Holiday Tourney the past weekend, Hereford had advanced to the finals with wins over Spearman and Perryton. The Herd trailed

Burger, 14-10, in the first period but took a 20-25 lead at halftime of the championship contest. Burger moved back in front, 30-27, going into the final period and held on for the triumph.

Kitchens led the scoring against Burger with 23 points, while Vander Zee and Scott hit 11 double figures as Chuck Forrest led the way with 19 points.

Hereford had five more field goals than the Bulldogs, but the winners had a 12-point advantage at the free-throw line. Burger hit 10 of 15 free shots in the last quarter alone.

In the three tournaments this season, Hereford captured a pair of second-place trophies and one consolation championship. The Herd has three more non-district games scheduled before opening 4-AAAA action on Jan. 19 against the strong Monterey Plain-spen.

Kitchens Named To Super Team

Hereford's fine all-around athlete, Keith Kitchens, received another football honor this past week when the Amarillo Globe News selected him as quarterback on the Panhandle Plains Super Team.

The "dream team" included players from all classifications in the Panhandle area. Class AA led in selections with nine, followed by Class A with eight, Class AAAA with six, Class B with four, and Class AAA with only three.

Kitchens was the only player from Hereford to land a berth. Others in Class AAAA were Richard McCampbell and Ed Townsend of Pampa, Mitch Warren of Caprock, Tim Black of Palo Duro and kicker Terry Dillingham of Berger.

Cleveland, which advanced to the Class A finals, claimed four berths on the team—led by all-state tailback Tommy Shields. Cleveland coach Clyde Nonester was named "coach of the year."

Kitchens, who passed for 289 yards and rushed for 228, guided the Herd to an 8-2 season. He was previously named as co-player of the year in 4-AAAA, made honorable mention on the All South Plains team, and was the third-team quarterback on Texas Football magazine's all-state team.

A symposium on "Animal Waste Management" will be presented Jan. 18 at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center in Buelland.

The symposium is being sponsored by the research center, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Tech University.

While the main emphasis of the symposium will be on utilizing animal waste on cropland, some future developments in feedlot waste management will be presented. Speakers will include researchers, extension specialists and feedlot managers and representatives.

The program will begin at 1:30 p.m. with the welcome and will end about 4:30 following a discussion period.

BLADE LIFE

Most windshield wiper blades lose their cleaning ability after about a year, causing the smearing of road dirt over the windshield instead of wiping it clean and causing serious scratching of the glass if any metal part of the blade is exposed.

BIG DAN SCORES AGAIN—Dan Vander Zee scored from close in on this shot Tuesday night as he helped the Hereford Whitefaces record a 86-59 win over the Caprock Longhorns of Amarillo. Keith Kitchens (31) fed the ball to Vander Zee, who completed a three-point play after being fouled on the shot. Vander Zee and Terry Scott had 14 points each to lead Hereford scorers.

Clayton To Head Group

Texas State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake will once again head the Intergovernmental Relations Committee (IRC), the primary state-federal policy-making arm of the National Legislative Conference.

Rep. Clayton served as chairman of the IRC during 1971-72.

The primary focus of the committee, made up of over 200 State Legislators from across the country, is the development of policy on key state-federal issues. Its six task forces study problems and provide representative state legislative viewpoint on significant intergovernmental concerns. It also serves as a framework to guide legislators and staff representing the NLC in extensive contacts with Congress and the federal executive departments.

The first meeting of the IRC will be Feb. 2-3 in Washington. The National Legislative Conference is the organization representing 7,500 State Legislators across the country.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

AFTERSAYING "A very happy new year to you all!" and meaning every word of it, it looks like the next most important job for me at the start of a year is a cleanup of this desk—the annual cleanup only last year must have been skipped.

Such a cleanup involves delving into that drawer where I put things that people bring down here so we can get certain information from them, and say, "Be sure to put that up for me; I'll be back later this week to get it." Some of 'em have been here more than five years.

Every so often the drawer overflows and I have to throw some away knowing well that somebody is going to inquire soon for something that is discarded. I don't like that to happen even if they have had two or three years to claim their property.

SO TAKING courage in my hands, I'm putting into the wastebasket copies of the Boys Ranch Roundup, West Texas Publisher, OES Bulletin, Junior

Music Club Keynotes and a Community Players program, all dated 1970. Also the Portales News-Tribune of last Jan. 11. Also a magazine article on schools for one-year-old children (Ugh!), a copy of a club's resolution on proposed legislation, a brochure on fabric care and one on planned parenthood, photographs of scenes of somebody's trip that I inherited with this desk.

Also photographs of a bride or two, unidentified, and an apparent family reunion. Also clippings about weddings in Pasadena, Dalhart, Canyon, and Lawton, Okla., all serene and yellowed with age indicating that the couples may be observing fifth wedding anniversaries, at least.

A CRYPTIC letter received in 1970 about someone from Mesquite, returning from a trip to El Paso, who stopped to visit at Lazbuddie and with relatives at Littlefield. There was note that it was a news item for The Brand, but not a word about anyone's connection with Hereford, ever.

Well, so much for the wastebasket. Back into the drawer, because they are more current, or could be valuable to someone, go a big photo of a family reunion, just too expensive looking to throw away; a copy of the magazine, American Artist, with a note to "keep" but I warn the owner—just one more year.

ALSO A HISTORY of Campfire Girls in Hereford and a picture of a group dated 1949 with the late Mabel Wilson as leader; colored photos of a recent Westgate birthday party (whoever said to save it had better hurry to pick it up!).

Also Beta Sigma Phi members, Young Homemakers installation, Westway reunion and some pictures in an envelope marked with the name of C.F. Homfeld.

Any owners who want these, please come get 'em. We do try to save articles when requested, for a reasonable length of time. Or even unreasonable, like six years. But there has to be a limit.

WINTER WONDERLAND—A blanket of white covered the Hereford area Tuesday with snowfall pegged at about 5 inches. It was about the 10th or 11th snowfall recorded here in an unusual siege of winter weather. The snow limited activities somewhat and made driving hazardous, but schools were open again Wednesday morning. The snowfall also spelled another delay for the area sugar beet harvest.

Holiday Tea Honors TOPS Member For Goal-Reaching

Honoring the achievement of KOPS status by a member, Mrs. Owen Andrews, the Calorie Patrol TOPS Club held a certificate presentation ceremony at a recent tea.

Signed by area and national officers of TOPS clubs, the certificate attests that the holder reached her weight loss goal in TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) and maintained that goal, which is planned by a member and her doctor, for at least three months.

The initials, KOPS, indicate the final purpose of the club, Keep Off Pounds Sensibly.

Several other members of Calorie Patrol Club are nearing their goals and expect to earn their KOPS certificates in the next few months. One member, Mrs. Melvin Jayroe, has maintained KOPS standing three years.

Mrs. Willis Duggan, club president, presented Mrs.

Andrews' certificate. Low-calorie refreshments were served from a table with a holiday centerpiece lighted by candles.

Mrs. Jerry Tucker was announced as queen for December, recording the largest weight loss for the month. She was also best loser for the past three months, with a decline of nearly 22 pounds.

New members are welcome to join the club, which meets at 9:30 a.m. each Tuesday in Community Center. Active membership stands at 21 at present.

Mrs. Wagner Hostess For Holiday Visitors

Mrs. Mabel Wagner, 138 Beach, had various members of her family as visitors during the holidays; they also visited in the home of her son, Lester Wagner.

Valerie, of Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wagner and son, Randy, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wagner and children, Kevin, Kim, Pamela and the twins, Jody and Judy, of Amarillo.

East Texans Are Holiday Visitors

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rape, 333 Ave. B, for the holidays were their daughter, Peggy Bonine of Dallas, and a niece, Deborah Irene Smith of Longview, who left Sunday for their homes.

The Rapes took their visitors to Red River and Toas for the weekend before Christmas Day, and during the next week to interesting points in the Panhandle, including Palo Duro Canyon for a day.

While they were here Miss Smith was recognized as good neighbor of the day by the local radio station, but she failed to see the Panhandle snow that she had hoped for, since snow is so rare in her East Texas home city.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Mrs. Mary Ella Ricketts and J.B. Cocanougher was solemnized in a noon ceremony Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ricketts, 806 Avenue K.

Doctor's action saves his life

A doctor I know saved his own life a while back. Even though he is an eye doctor, like many doctors he takes responsibility for the primary care of his family and himself.

Doctor Brown is his own general practitioner. He takes care of the minor illnesses for his family, the head colds, the cuts and bruises, the stomach upsets, all the simple problems. He's a good specialist with enough general information to handle these problems.

What's more, he has had enough training to know when he's out of his depth, when he had better send a sick member of his family to another doctor.

So I was not surprised to find him setting across the luncheon table from me quite anxious to talk about his health. Brown had always been in generally good health. A tall, robust man, he had never seemed to change much over the years.

But, in talking, I discovered he had had a chronic illness. His medical problem dated back more than 25 years to his World War II years as an Army medical officer serving in the South Pacific. He had survived that duty well, but had come away with a case of chronic diarrhea.

Despite complete workup at the Army hospital and at a university hospital after his discharge, Brown continued to have diarrhea. Whether he had picked up a chronic bowel infection in the South Pacific or just had a nervous bowel, the symptom persisted.

Brown's bowel symptom was a common one. Day in and day out since his Army years, he had four bowel movements a day. Except for the wasted time and the nuisance of the condition, Brown was in good health.

That was what he wanted to talk about over lunch one day. His diarrhea had suddenly corrected itself. Within the past week, his bowel pattern had changed remarkably from four movements a day to one a day, or even one every other day. Rather than being relieved, Brown was worried.

He had good reason to worry. Change in bowel habit is often the signal that cancer of the large bowel, the colon, is present. Since cancer of the colon is one of the most common kinds, Brown had cause for alarm.

As it happened, he didn't really need to talk at all. He had already made an appointment with a gastro-enterologist, a specialist in bowel disorders. He had had a complete history and physical exam by that impartial doctor, who found him in generally good health. The specialist recommended an x-ray examination of Brown's digestive tract. It was done the next day.

The findings were quite positive. There was a mass blocking off most of the passageway of the descending colon. Brown underwent abdominal surgery followed by several weeks of x-ray to the same area. Five years later, he is doing quite well. For the most part, he has himself to thank for his life and health.

Sudden change in bowel habits is an important symptom of bowel cancer. It should be reported and investigated immediately.
