

Growth Is Key Ingredient Sought For 1973

What's ahead for Hereford and Deaf Smith County in 1973? Or, more important, what are some of the needs and wants of citizens in the coming year?

For the most part, people tend to lean toward the one thing that became apparent during the 1960s—the growth that brought Hereford to the forefront on the state and national scene during the past decade.

Six persons, picked by The Brand, were interviewed and asked what they would like to see happen or develop in this county during the year that lies ahead. All agreed that industry, or a related field, is vital in the continued growth of this area.

Their views were varied, yet they all expressed the same thing—GROWTH, and lots of it.

The following are the comments of those six persons.

A continued healthy growth—including the expansion of local business and the addition of new industry—is forecast for Hereford in 1973 by Ralph Owens, owner and manager of Ralph Owens & Associates, Inc.

"The main thing I would like to see is some attitude adjustments on the part of a few businessmen," he emphasizes. "Anyone who is not willing to pay the price for continued growth needs to move to a dying town, because the leaders here are not going to let Hereford die."

"We must remember too, that the farmers are the backbone of this community. And, any businessman who envies a farmer for his price supports is not thinking clearly. They spend their money here, so it's really a businessman's subsidy, too."

Owens, who has resided here since 1960, claims that Hereford is a "fantastic" community and he looks for another great year in 1973.

"Hereford is still booming a lot more than people realize," said Owens. "We are closer to it in the real estate business and we can see the terrific growth," he added.

Some community goals for the New Year? Try these on for size, says Owens: A community college, continuing effort for new industry—including the possibility of some cold storage facilities, tannery plant, diversification of the vegetable industry, an increase in packing plants, and perhaps the formation of an industrial foundation.

Owens thinks the attitude of citizens, in general, is fine. He thinks the location of the Armour plant here the past year was "a good thing" for Hereford. The attitude of the people moving in here with Armour has been great says Owens—"they are pleased with the community and they are adding something to it."

"We didn't have many 'flashy' announcements on industry the past year as we did in the 60s, but it has been a steady, healthy growth. I think we've reached a leveling-off stage and are ready to add some large new industries," he stated. "We just need to go to work, pull together, and get the industries we want."

He pointed out that the feedyards are still expanding and that the money situation locally is good.

"Both banks have a good relationship with the community, and we still have businessmen who continue to give of their time and money to develop the community," he claims. "Naturally, we still have a few people who are more concerned about a few dollars in individual taxes than about the best interests of the community."

Owens, a native of Waxahachie, served in the U.S. Army in 1953-55 before coming to Hereford. He attended West Texas State University. Owens is presently a state vice president in the Texas Farm & Land Brokers and a state director of the Texas Association of Realtors.

Asked what he would like to see happen in Hereford in 1973, attorney Wayne Thomas listed the expansion of industry in several areas, the addition of recreational facilities, and the possibility of a combined city-

Commission Approves Employee Salary Hike

BY O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher

A 5 per cent salary increase for all county employees was formally approved by Deaf Smith County Commissioners Monday during their first meeting of 1973, with the court also discussing possible uses of revenue sharing funds, tabling the appointment of a juvenile board member, and discussing a State Welfare Department offer to provide a case worker here for Children's Protective Service.

County Judge H.C. Williams announced Tuesday morning that the county had received its second revenue-sharing check for 1972 in the amount of $98,870; Added to the first check received about a month ago, the county's total share is $201,907.

Commissioners have made no definite plans for the revenue sharing money, but it was apparent from discussion Monday that all members of the court feel that a portion will go toward a new county library.

The court had announced intentions last month of authorizing the salary increase for all county employees. It is a 5 per cent across-the-board increase, tabbed as a "cost of living" salary increase by the court. The increase will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1973. Based on last year's salaries, this would increase the county payroll by $24,658.

In other business Monday, the court approved two water and gas line easements for Jimmy Brown in Precinct 4, renewed a contract on delinquent tax collections, approved bills and reports, approved advertising for bids on a county depository, and discussed progress of a jail survey application with the Panhandle Planning Commission.

While discussing the county's share of federal revenue monies, commissioner Donald Hicks said, "I think we all feel that part of the funds should go toward a library, but I think we should spend some on preliminary planning before we get into such a project."

Earl Holt agreed on the planning needed for a new library, and added that he thought part of the money should be spent on county roads. Pointing to the need of more office space in the courthouse, Marcus Latham posed the idea of securing an architect for planning on a new library as well as remodeling for best space usage in the courthouse.

Bruce Coleman told his fellow commissioners that he didn't think "we're just talking about a library, but an educational center." He emphasized that "we should plan so that our building is not obsolete by the time we have it completed."

No definite action was taken on the expenditure of any of the revenue sharing funds, however, and the court will likely hold more discussion before earmarking any of the funds.

Ray Dunavant of Lubbock, State Department of Public Welfare, appeared at the meeting to inform the court that a case worker for Children's Protective Service could be provided here if the county desires. The county's only cost would be in providing office space, he explained.

Dunavant pointed out that the service is for the protection of abused, neglected or abandoned children and serves the 69th District Court area. The commissioners pointed out that WOMAN OF YEAR—Mrs. Lynn Kester, left, was designated Woman of the Year for 1972 in the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, and was presented a silver trophy at the January membership dinner Tuesday in the Caison House. Mrs. T.J. Carter represented the selection committee to make the presentation.

Hereford and Deaf Smith County's reputation as one of the growing leaders in the nation received another boost Tuesday when bidders from throughout the state and country were on hand to vie for the $1.319 million school district building bonds.

The bonds were sold to El Paso National Bank for a low interest rate of 4.20—even lower than the 4.27 interest that was thought excellent on the 1968 bonds.

superintendent Roy Hartman. "I think these low bids were made as a result of our good, sound financial situation here. These people realize our district is in a good financial position and we, the board, realize the bond ratings we received had a great deal to do with the good bids."

Some 13 bids were opened during the Tuesday night school board meeting. The bids ranged from the low of 4.2 per cent interest to 4.39 per cent interest.

"Even the highest bid was not that bad," Hartman said.

The board, in other action: —Heard a report from Willie Weaver on the AAAS science program in the elementary school.

—Discussed the building program plans and set another meeting for next Thursday at 6:30 a.m. in the administration building.

—Made arrangements for the school trustee election.

—Accepted three resignations and approved the election of five new teachers.

—Extended the superintendent's contract one year to a five-year contract in an executive session.

The money from the bonds will be received from El Paso National Bank sometime between Feb. 15 and 20 and Hartman said as soon as the money is received, it will be put on time deposit to draw interest until it is ready to be used.

While the money is on time deposit, the gears will begin moving more actively toward definite plans on the building program.

The meeting scheduled next Thursday is intended to bring the board up to date on what plans are being made in regard to the construction program.

Katherine Kester Named C. of C. Woman Of Year

At the close of her term as president, Mrs. Lynn Kester was presented the Woman of the Year award in the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Rex Lee took office as president and four new directors were elected at the initial meeting of 1973, a dinner in the Caison House.

Work of Mrs. Kester for the Chamber of Commerce and the community as a whole was cited by Mrs. T. J. Carter as she presented the silver trophy denoting the retiring president as Woman of the Year. Mrs. Carter represented the selection committee.

Echoes of her remarks were heard as Chamber officials who were dinner guests, each spoke briefly, congratulating the Women's Division on its work and Mrs. Kester for her leadership and her cooperation as a member of the Chamber Board.

Elected directors for the coming year were Mrs. Waldo Baxter, O.G. Nieman, Eugene Sparks and Joel Newman. Mrs. Bill Lamm is a holdover director, serving as second vice president. Office and director duties will be assigned to the new board members.

Mrs. Lee, named president recently by the Chamber of Commerce board, was introduced by Mrs. Kester. She asked for continued cooperation of members in a busy year planned for the Women's Division, and requested each member to indicate preference for assignment to committees.

In addition to serving as

Gas, Power Officials Say

No Fuel Shortage Here

While many parts of the country are experiencing fuel cut-backs in the coldest winter on record, Hereford and area residents can rest assured there will be no shortages here to hamper their warm and cozy homes—at least not to the degree felt in other areas.

Pioneer Natural Gas and

Southwestern Public Service officials here both agree there is little chance of local residents suffering from the adverse weather that has invaded the area. However, they point out the chance always exists, though not as much here as elsewhere across the nation.

"Yes, there is a shortage, and no, there is not a shortage," said Pioneer's local manager Dale Young. "The reason I say this is because there is a possibility of a certain type of shortage."

Pioneer is blessed with some of the best gas locations in the nation and we have from 15 to 20 years of reserves of gas. The only reason there could be a shortage here is that our transportation system was not built to provide large amounts of gas over a prolonged period of bad weather."

He explained that by saying the pipelines that bring the gas county-school library. Thomas, with the Thomas and Burdett firm, is also chairman of the Texas College and University System Coordinating Board.

Thomas sees the need for new industry in such areas as a tannery, soft drink bottling plant, and a leather manufacturing firm. He also sees the possibility of expanding industries to use all sorts of products which are grown in this area.

He mentions the possibility of expanding potato processing to include plants for quick frozen French fries and potato chips, and expanding the meat processing to include the production of quick frozen steak fingers, breaded steaks, and all meat products which would take little time to prepare.

In the recreation area, Thomas thinks the community should work for an indoor swimming pool for both the youth and adults. He would also like to see a full-time recreational director for the Community Center, providing organized programs for youth.

"I think it should be open at least 15 hours a day," he stated. For the community in general, Thomas thinks there is a need for something like a miniature golf course, and a place for indoor ball games and exercise areas.

Referring to the library project, Thomas said he thinks one is needed that is adequate and accessible to both students and adults.

"If the law does not allow a city-county-school type facility, we need to ask special legislation in this session that would pave the way for such a facility," he concluded.

Virginia Adams, active in the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, cited industrial growth as a desirable part of the Hereford and Deaf Smith County scene in 1973.

"I would like to see the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in encouraging new industries to locate in this area, looking for new businesses that are not totally agriculture-related," she said.

"I think every town needs to be more diversified and even though cattle and agriculture is the center of our economy, I think other types of businesses should be encouraged in the area." Mrs. Adams and her husband, Dr. M.C. Adams, live on South Main Street and attend First United Methodist Church.

Jim Conkright, newly-elected chamber president, had his own ideas of progress for Hereford and Deaf Smith County for the coming year. Conkright, who was raised in Hereford and lives and farms 14 miles north of the city, summarized his thoughts in six areas.

"First, I'd like to see another prosperous agricultural year—which, in effect, means prospering for all—and thus steady, sound growth," he said. "Second, more effort directed toward the beautification of the city and county, with special attention given to areas seen by city visitors."

His third point was "a 75th anniversary of the city of Hereford marked by a memorable celebration" and his fourth point was "more and better understanding between rural and urban residents."

"More involvement in all community affairs by more people" was another hope and his final one was for a "full realization of the real potential of this county—its agricultural resources, its industrial resources, its financial resources and most important, its people resources."

Conkright is a member of the board of directors of Hereford Rotary Club, serves as president of the board of Kings Manor-Westgate retirement home and is president of the Texas Hereford Association.

into the area are only so large and a prolonged cold spell causes people to turn up their heaters all at once, thus sapping the gas out of the lines.

"To make these pipelines large enough would not be economically sound," he said. "A good example would be a grocer. He wouldn't make his aisles 10 feet wide just because two times a year—say at Thanksgiving and Christmas—he finds them crowded with customers. He would make them probably five feet wide because that would be adequate almost 99 per cent of the time."

will be on hand for the meeting. The AAAS science program demonstration given by Weaver and seven students from Aikman Elementary School outlined the science program and how it relates to the elementary schools.

The school board trustee election, which will see board president Ed Loerwald and new member Clark Andrews up for election, will be held April 7 at the Community Center, it was decided Tuesday.

Official announcement as to whether the two will seek reelection has not been made.

The final date for filing for the school board will be March 8 and the absentee voting period will be from March 19 through April 3.

Deaf Smith County offers more services than many areas, and that welfare officer Jewell Smith has been handling much of this type work in the county. The court agreed to consider the matter and inform Dunavant of its decision.

Another item on the court's agenda called for the appointment of a member to the juvenile board. The county, city and school each appoint two members to the board. Holt and Hicks are members of the board from the county, and Holt's term is expiring. Judge Williams told the commissioner he didn't think it was a good idea for them to serve on the board, terming it a "conflict of interests."

Both Hicks and Holt expressed displeasure with the inactivity of the board, with Hicks claiming that board members were not kept up to date on what actions were being taken. The court decided to hold up on the appointment until the juvenile board meets again. As a matter of formality, the court voted to renew a contract with Perdue, Brandon & Blair of Amarillo for collection of delinquent taxes. The school also uses the same firm.

The board read a letter from the Veteran's Affairs Commission which commended Benny Womble, Deaf Smith County Service Officer, for his work. It pointed out that he had helped county veterans recover benefits amounting to $211,427 last year.

The four commissioners were present for the meeting, along with Judge Williams and County Clerk B.F. Cain.

Stats Show Herd Above Average

Complete team and individual statistics for the Hereford Whitefaces for the first 22 games of the season were released by Coach Ron Mayberry this week.

The Herd, with a 16-6 won-lost mark, had averaged 67.6 points a game compared to a 55.5 mark by their foes. Hereford had connected on 45.9 per cent of its shots from the field, and had a 66 per cent record at the free-throw line.

Individual statistics showed Keith Kitchens as the top scorer with 287 points for the season and a game average of 14.3. Dan Vander Zee was next with 267 points and a 12.1 average. Terry Scott was also in double figures with a 10-point game average, with David Duvall almost at that level with a 9.4 average.

Kitchens also had the most field goals, assists and steals. Duvall was the free-throw leader with 58, and Vander Zee was the top rebounder with 216, or an average of 9.8 per game. James Harris was the most accurate from the field with a 57.8 percentage, hitting 48 of 83. Duvall had taken more shots and had a fine 52.8 percentage while connecting on 75 of 142 from the field.

Terry Scott and Duvall were a close one-two on accuracy at the free-throw line. Scott had connected on 40 of 51 attempts for a 78.4 percentage, and Duvall had hit on 58 of 74 for a 78.8 mark.

Following Vander Zee's leading 216 total on rebounds was Duvall with 184, Gary Hicks 132, and Harris 124. Kitchens had 129 assists, followed by Scott with 83, Mike Mayberry 54, Harris 35, and Duvall 32. Kitchens and Scott also ranked 1-2 in steals from the opposition with 83 and 67, respectively. Harris was next with 56, followed by Luther Mays with 35 and Mayberry with 25.

'Faces Win One, Weather Gets One

The Hereford Whitefaces chalked up one victory and the weatherman won the other in two games the past week. The Tuesday night encounter slated here against Muleshoe was cancelled due to snow-covered roads.

The Herd registered an 85-68 triumph over the Clovis Wildcats here Saturday night, leaving their non-district record at 16-16. Unless the Muleshoe game is rescheduled, Hereford has one more non-district game—playing Tascosa at Amarillo Friday night. District 4-AAAA action starts here Jan. 19 when the Herd hosts the Monterey Plainsmen.

The strength and balance of Coach Ron Mayberry's bench was displayed here Saturday night as the Herd won by 17 points. Guard Terry Scott was out with the flu, and James Harris pulled a muscle in the first half.

Led by Keith Kitchens' 20 points, the Whitefaces had four players to score in double figures. Dan Vander Zee added 17, while Luther Mays and Mike Mayberry had 10 each. The latter two replaced Harris and Scott.

Hereford held a six to seven-point lead through much of the first half, then opened up the gap in the third period by outscoring the visitors, 21-11. The Herd had led by 22-16 and 41-33 at the close of the first two quarters.

The Herd had the opportunity to pull away in the second period, but hit a cold streak on getting the ball in the basket. The Whitefaces missed a number of close-in shots, including some easy layups. This may have been one of the reasons that Coach Mayberry wasn't entirely pleased with the team's performance. He was happy, however, with the players coming off the bench to give strong support in the triumph. Mayberry, Mays and Alan Cornelius were particularly impressive. Cornelius scored 9 points and helped in the rebounding battle.

Harris, who had been a starter in recent games, pulled a back muscle in the first half and did not see action the final two periods. He tallied 9 points before being sidelined. Clovis had three players in double figures, with Stan Davis tallying 18 to lead the Wildcats.

The Hereford JV took an easy 83-37 win in the preliminary game, with Coach Barry Arwine using several sophomores much of the game. Junior Morales and Mike Munnerlyn hit 16 points each to pace the Hereford attack.

The Longhorns led by 16-4 after one quarter and took a 39-17 lead at halftime. The Herd JV has a 7-8 record for the season.

Artificial Turf Is Not For HS

Artificial turf, a boon for the rainy-weather football fan, might be suitable for the college and professional player but is dangerous to the high schooler, according to a University of Texas researcher.

Prof. Karl Klein of UT Austin's Physical Instruction Department said the younger player and his knee, in terms of strength and ligament, are "just not ready for the added traction and speed that can be produced on such surfaces."

Professor Klein made the observation while discussing a recent study of facts related to knee injury with specific reference to the high school athlete. In his study, the UT professor compared the development of the high school athlete's knee with that of the average college player.

He found that the strength relationship between the quadriceps (group of muscles in front of the leg responsible for knee joint support) and the hamstrings (on the back of the leg) is 2:1 in the high school athlete and 10:6 in the average college varsity player.

"The difference may not appear significant but is when... the importance of the hamstrings in knee protection is being considered," Professor Klein said.

Other comparisons showed that the high school player had significantly looser collateral ligaments, both medial and lateral, resulting in more lateral movement of approximately two degrees (34 per cent) at the knee joint.

More anterior cruciate ligament looseness.

— Many more cases of hyper-extension of the knee joint.

A state of lesser total physical readiness in muscular strength, endurance and cardio-respiratory fitness than the college ball player at the beginning of the season's practice.

Tourney Is Called Off

The Hereford Boxing Tournament scheduled today and Friday became another of the many victims of the weather as the cancellation was announced by coach Harold Wheeler.

The six-team tournament was to have featured boxers from Amarillo, Levelland, Plainview, Dimmitt, Borger and Hereford.

The next tournament on the schedule will be next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Amarillo.

Many are content to pave the way with good intentions.

Cigarettes Are Harmful Habits

Citing evidence that cigarette smoking is related to premature death from such diseases as emphysema, bronchitis, cancer and heart failure, Hereford directors of the Top of Texas TB and Respiratory Disease Association announced this week as National Education Week on Smoking.

Hereford directors are Mrs. Jewel Smith, Mrs. June Rudd, Dr. Clyde Rush and Lorenzo Granado.

"Too many people consider smoking to be a harmless habit," Dr. Rush said. "Smoking is neither harmless nor a mere habit. It is a disease, and an addiction with both physical and psychological aspects. The U.S. Surgeon General has called it deadly. No matter how much those who wish to believe otherwise may argue, the research results substantiate the Surgeon General's statement."

The Christmas Seal organization has long warned the U.S. public that it can expect a much shorter life span from smoking and currently is warning that non-smokers exposed to cigarette smoke suffer adverse health effects, as well.

It has additionally warned expectant mothers that women who smoke during pregnancy have a much higher percentage of spontaneous abortion.

HERE'S WHAT DISCOUNT WITH A DIFFERENCE MEANS

Our Discount with a Difference program offers money-saving prices on the wide variety of high quality meats, produce and other foods which helped to build Safeway's reputation.

When we converted to discount, we made sweeping changes in operating methods. These changes, which included new pricing methods and the elimination of unnecessary merchandising expenses, reduced our cost of doing business. Our savings were immediately reflected in "everyday" level prices which helped to make the discount program so popular and effective. With low prices in effect all week long, there was no longer need to postpone shopping until the week end. Low level prices gave our customers added incentive to buy from us all of their food needs—without shopping spread more uniformly throughout the week and throughout the store, our whole business became more efficient. We streamlined ordering, stocking and price marking. We increased check-out efficiency and lessened the possibility of errors at check-out.

Savings in our costs of doing business continue to be reflected in the prices of things we sell. Shop Safeway for the finest in the prices of things we sell. Shop Safeway for the finest in a foods and a low total food bill. That's Discount with a Difference.

Social Security

Q. I'm a student getting monthly social security payments. During the summer and holiday seasons, I work part time in a department store. I heard that the recent changes in social security increased the amount I can earn and still get all my monthly checks. Can you tell me how much I can now earn?

A. Yes, you can earn as much as $2,100 next year and still get your full social security payments for the year. If you earn more than $2,100, $1 in benefits will be withheld for every $2 you earn above $2,100.

Regardless of your total annual earnings, you can get your full payments for any months in which you neither earn more than $175 nor perform substantial services in self-employment.

Q. I'm retired. I read that starting January 1973, I can earn $2,100 a year and still get my full social security payments. Is there any chance that this amount will increase in the future?

A. Yes. Recent changes in the social security law provide that, as future earnings levels rise, the amount people can earn and still get social security benefits will also rise. The first automatic increase in the social security retirement test cannot, however, occur until 1975.

Different Themes Mark Two Novels

Two new books featured at the Deaf Smith County library are The Flowering and Give Me The Daggers. The Flowering is about two towns segregated by wealth, and how they finally come together, with a little help from a strange outsider. Give Me The Daggers has a theme taken from the Russian revolution of 1917. It tells of two young men, a Canadian and a Russian, who clash in a titanic individual struggle which mirrors the conflict of the great powers themselves.

The library is open to the public on week days until 5 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon. THE FLOWERING by Agnes Sligh Turnbull Hester Carr, a charming widow in her thirties, had begun to feel that life was wearing a bit thin in spite of friends and interests ranging from a new cocker spaniel to her own serious music. Just before real boredom set in, however, a rumor shook the quiet suburb of Westbrook. It was said that a strange man walked the streets in the dead of night dark hours, and the good citizens were watching to see what should be done about it. Before gossip reached its peak the stranger introduced himself to a few commuters as John Justin, who had chosen to spend his college sabbatical in their suburb while working on a book.

He was honest, disarming and cultured and soon became the center of social interest, just as Hester Carr, it was noted, by mutual attraction became the center of his own.

While small, unanswered questions still rose to tease the minds of some, the general feeling was that Justin was a fine man.

Just over the hill from Westbrook lay its opposite: a poor relic of an old mining town called Sackville. There was little communication between the towns except that of one-way service.

The tradesmen of Sackville could mend a chimney or shingle a roof, the women could work in the houses of their rich neighbors. That was all, until John Justin came to lavish his imagination and skill upon Sackville's underprivileged young people, at first making both friends and enemies in the process.

The way the mystery concerning John Justin is dramatically revealed; the gradual development of a reciprocal relationship between Westbrook and Sackville; and, best of all, the complete reconciliation of the estranged lovers John and Hester, all have their flowering at the end of the story.

GIVE ME THE DAGGERS by Catherine Gavin Gavin's international reputation as a brilliant chronicler of history has never been more clearly evidenced than in this new novel. The powerful theme of Give Me The Daggers derives from the Russian Revolution of 1917 and the lightning spread of communism through Finland into the West.

As nation savages nation, two young men, a Canadian and a Russian, clash in a titanic individual struggle which mirrors the conflict of the great powers themselves.

Tom Fleming, wounded, decorated, and invalided out of the Canadian army; and Boris Heiden, a complex and courageous man driven by inward forces into a campaign of destruction which is both ideological and personal.

For Heiden becomes a communist because he is a misfit in the Imperial Russian society into which his father was born.

A man in advance of his time, he sees how the revolution can succeed through the middle classes as well as the proletariat, and he skillfully uses such weapons as drugs, student unrest, and control of mass communications in his campaign for an idea and against a man—Tom Fleming.

If these men are the protagonists in the human struggle of wills implied in Lady Macbeth's desperate command, "Infirm of purpose—give me the daggers," Nancy Macpherson is a heroine who knows what she wants and is prepared to wait for it, unlike the beautiful Sandels sisters to whom Tom Fleming is attracted and who so nearly cause his downfall.

Figures never lie, but it isn't true with figures of speech.

Early Disease Detection Crucial In Feedlot Work

Fast detection of cattle-disease symptoms by feedlot crewmen is crucial for developing more effective disease-control programs, Dr. Albert Wesley, Cargill-Nutrena veterinarian and feedlot consultant, told local cattlemen here Monday.

"Feedlot crews carefully trained to recognize the initial signs of six look-alike diseases can make the difference between 'graveyard' veterinary work and preventive medicine," he said.

"Often, by the time veterinarians are consulted, a disease is in its advanced stage and they can do little more than help tally dead cattle," he said, labeling the situation "graveyard medicine."

"You should use your veterinarian the way he is trained," he continued, "in diagnostic work, professional surgery, herd health programs, technical advice in disease outbreaks and therapeutic measures. The most important thing is, don't wait too long to call him when you do need help. He can do a lot for you, but he can't perform miracles."

Another factor helping create "graveyard medicine" is a critical shortage of feedlot veterinarians, said Dr. Wesley. He noted that the nature of their work calls for making time-consuming "house calls."

Color slides he filmed during feedlot diagnoses illustrated for feedlot crewmen in his audience the distinguishing characteristics of six look-alike diseases: infectious bovine rhinotracheitis (IBR), bovine virus diarrhea (BVD), parainfluenza type 3 (PI 3), malignant catarrhal fever (MCF), calf diptheria and pasteurellosis (shipping fever). "I'm talking dollars-and-cents economics," he said. "It's common practice for a single crewman to be responsible for 1,000 head of cattle. If he cannot recognize early disease signs, a portion of this half-million-dollar investment may be lost needlessly."

Dr. Wesley stressed that his guidelines for disease detection are not intended to make veterinarians of cattlemen or crews. "They are simply things you can do for yourself to protect your investment," he said.

Dr. Wesley spoke here at the request of Dr. David T. Bechtol of the Dimmitt Veterinary Clinic. Dr. Wesley is a member of the Academy of Feedlot Consultants.

Cargill-Nutrena Feeds is a division of Cargill, Inc., a Minneapolis-based agricultural products company.

For God So Loved The World

Luke 6:31

And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise

What do you really wish that men would do to you... leave you alone? Try it and you will have a lonely world... no home, no neighborhood, no church, no nation. Do you expect your employees to work for you while you forget their welfare. Do you wish others to deal kindly and generously with you? Do you demand that people be honest, truthful, and trustworthy with you? Would you rather others be courteous, and appreciative of you and lend a helping hand when you have a hard task to do? They who keep the Golden Rule will discover that it must work both ways. It is "the rule of God." In every land and in every age it is the basic rule for good living. One cannot improve on it. If you want Golden Rule treatment from others you must give Golden Rule treatment to them. It will work in the experiences of every man. It is the Divine Way. The Golden Rule is still very Golden.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions molding religious character. In the church the ministerial arm of the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday, "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Young Mother Descends From City Oldtimers

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A NATIVE OF Hereford, Mrs. Charles Watson is a great-granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Gilliland who came here in 1903 from Gainesville. Just now she is busy bringing up three members of a fifth generation of Gillilands in the city.

"My hobby has got to be kids!" says the pretty young mother, whose slender form is topped with red-brown hair that matches her eyes. The Watsons are parents of a daughter, Tina, a second grader this year, and two lively sons, Terry, 5, and Mark, going-on-3.

As Marlene Gilliland, daughter of the Marlin Gillilands, Mrs. Watson graduated from high school in Hereford, then attended Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. After receiving her degree as an elementary education major she taught three years in Lubbock.

THEN SHE WAS MARRIED and taught two more years at Ralls while her husband was school band director.

They moved to Hereford when he became associated with the lumber business firm, Gilliland Funeral Home, leaving for a year in Dallas for his study leading to licensed funeral director status. He is now a partner in the firm.

The Watsons live at 332 Centre, in a new ranch-style home planned and furnished for family activities with plenty of play space indoors and out.

Now that Tina is old enough for Campfire Girls, Mrs. Watson is working with that program, helping lead a group of Bluebirds, the younger girls. She was a member of a Campfire group when she was growing up and remembers good times she had then.

DRAMATICS INTERESTED her in high school and she was in the cast of several school plays. She "just loves to read" but lacks time for much of that now, she says.

The family attends First Baptist Church; Mrs. Watson has taught Sunday School classes and still serves as a substitute teacher, also holds a committee chairmanship in the Women's Missionary Union.

Community service claims some of her time through work in La Madre Mia Study Club, with other young mothers who are its members. On the finance committee this year, she helped with the recent Christmas bazaar and homes tour which raised money for a substantial gift to Deaf Smith General Hospital for furnishing the new maternity ward.

The club also sponsored the house-to-house Mothers March of Dimes the past two years and she did her part in that task.

Asked for some favorite recipes, Marlene Watson gave two which are handy for casual entertaining as well as for family food.

CHEESE ROLL
Grate 1 lb. Velveeta cheese. Blend with 1 cup ground nuts and add two 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, 1/4 tsp. garlic powder, 1 lb. Worcestershire sauce and 2 tsp chopped onions. Mix all together, blending well. Put on waxed paper, form into a roll and roll it in chili powder to coat. Or the mixture may be formed into cheese balls instead of the large roll.

BARBEQUE SAUCE
1/4 cup grated onion
1 tb. fat
1/2 tb. vinegar
1/2 cup water
1 tb. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
2 tb. brown sugar
1 cup chili sauce
Salt and pepper to taste.

Place all ingredients in a large saucepan and cook over medium heat 20 minutes.

This sauce can be used for basting barbecued spareribs, chicken or beef, or can be added to leftover roast beef for frozen dinner.

NOTE: Do not substitute catsup for chili sauce, or substitute anything for the lemon juice in this recipe.

Ballet Students Dance For Club

Ballet pupils from Janette Caviness' school of dancing assisted Mrs. Caviness in presenting a special program for Dawn Music Club Tuesday afternoon in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co.

The dance school was recently federated with the National Federation of Music Clubs at an invitation from Dawn Music Club.

Mrs. Caviness sketched the history of ballet and introduced three elementary school girls from her classes who demonstrated various ballet steps. The instructor also spoke of modern dance forms, and answered questions after her talk.

In a short business session, plans were completed for the club to serve as hostess for the February birthday party at Westgate unit of Kings Manor retirement home.

Mrs. Carl Klueskens, club president, served tea to the program guests; three other guests, Mmes. Carl Parnell, Jimmy Harris and Leroy Johnson, and members.

Those present were Mmes. Dwane Nelson, Don Ed Middleton, J.F. Matthews, R.E.

Shower Precedes Wedding

Preceding her wedding Friday evening, Kathy Duncan was honored at a lingerie shower Tuesday in the home of Marcia Tiefel, with a quartet of school friends as hostesses. Miss Duncan and David Boyd of Gruver are to be married in Avenue Baptist Church here.

Shower hostesses with Miss Tiefel were Deann Dickson, Janet Baker and Mrs. Jerry Coker. A dozen close friends of the bride-to-be were invited for the informal hour.

Guests registered as they arrived, and were served cake and punch from a table centered with an arrangement of African violet plants with blue, pink and lavender blossoms.

These colors, to be used in the wedding, were repeated in a carnation corsage given the honoree. Guests assisted her in opening gift packages as they spent the evening in casual conversation.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A LONG TIME AFTER New Year in 1972 someone handed me a clipping that had impressed her, with the suggestion that I reprint it. Since it was out of season then, it has been saved to use now and I hope you'll like it. I've no idea whom to credit for the piece.

NEW YEARS RECIPE

Take 12 full-grown months; see that they are thoroughly free from old memories of bitterness, hate and jealousy. Cleanse them completely from every clinging spite; pick off all specks of pettiness and have them as fresh as when they came out of the storehouse of time.

Cut each month into 30 or 31 equal parts. Do not attempt to use the whole batch at once; many people spoil the recipe this way. Prepare only one day at a time with:

- 1 heaping cup faith and trust
- 1 measure prayer and meditation
- 1 cup hope
- 1 cup Christian fellowship
- 1 cup humble service.

MIX INGREDIENTS until well blended and pour over them a whole gallon of love; leaving out this ingredient makes the recipe a failure.

Sprinkle in a tablespoon of fun, a dash of play, a heaping spoonful of good humor. Mix with vim and bake slowly. Garnish with smiles and a sprig of joy. Serve with unselfishness and cheerfulness and life at its fullest will be yours through the new year.

FROM OUR CURRENT deepfreeze, people are still saying wasn't it nice of the weatherman to arrange for our only decent weather since Hallowe'en to come right around Christmas, while holiday visitors were going and coming?

Some travelers did have problems, of course, notably students whose vacations lasted past New Year. And we've heard of some others.

Roberta Campbell was expressing relief that most of her Christmas visitors got home before the post-New Year spell.

HOWEVER, ONE relative had to go up through eastern Colorado to a point far north of her home, then cut over to the west and back south to make a sort of backdoor entry, thus avoiding snow blocks.

There were relatives from Lafayette, La., and also Santa Fe as well as from several places in Texas here for the family reunion with Roberta, her son Bob and his family, her niece and nephew the Cliff Jones, and her sister who came over from Amarillo to help be a host.

1973 EXECUTIVE BOARD—Four new directors of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, were elected at the first meeting of a new year Tuesday evening, to serve with the two women at left. Mrs. Rex Lee, standing, is president for the year, named by the Chamber board of directors, and Mrs. Bill Lamm continues as a director for another year. Those elected, standing, are Mrs. Waldo Baxter and Mrs. Joel Newman; seated, Mrs. O.G. Nieman and Mrs. Eugene Sparks.

Organist Is Guest In Concert

A guest organist was featured with three members of Music Study Club to present a special program Monday afternoon for members and several guests in First United Methodist Church. A concerto for organ, and opera selections made up the concert.

Mrs. R. W. Heiny, Amarillo organist and instructor, with Mrs. Tom Burdett as pianist played the Concerto in C Sharp Minor by Rimsky-Korsakov. For the remainder of the program, Mrs. Allen Cansler, a club member, told the story of Puccini's opera, Madame Butterfly, and sang soprano arias from it. Her solos were the Love Theme from the first act, Un Bel Di from Act II, and the Death Aria from Act III.

Mrs. Joe Hacker was piano accompanist for Mrs. Cansler. The program climaxed a study of eighteenth and nineteenth century music by the club, and was titled End of An Era. Mrs. Wesley Fisher was the leader who introduced the artists.

Mrs. W. W. Palmer led group singing of the hymn, Call Jehovah Thy Salvation, the National Music Club Federation's selection as hymn of the month.

A brief business period, began for a concert open to the public, to be presented March 4 by guests from West Texas State University music department.

Taking a decorative theme from Madame Butterfly, hospitality committee members beautified the tea table in Ward Parlor with Japanese figurines, flowers and butterflies.

Mmes. Joe Reinauer, Lynton Allred, A. J. Schroeter and Buddy Peeler are on the committee.

Guests for the program were Mmes. Zearl Cansler, Lloyd McGee, W. C. Calton, Frank Barrett and Haskell Benson; and Allison Cansler.

HINDENBURG LINE

On Oct. 5, 1918, Allied headquarters announced that the Hindenburg Line had broken and World War I was ending.

The almighty dollar figures in many angles and triangles.

Snow Cancels Or Postpones Clubs

First postponed from Tuesday to Thursday, the meeting of the Hereford Branch, American Association of University Women, has been canceled, Mrs. Colby Conkright, president, announces. The group will have its next meeting on Feb. 13.

Meeting schedules for women's clubs in Hereford are being disrupted by the continued cold weather with ice and snow; numerous postponements and cancellations have been announced this week.

Two Tuesday events were postponed to Jan. 23. One is the Pioneer Study Club luncheon set for 11:30 a.m. at Dickies Restaurant. Time and place will remain the same at the later date, says Roberta Campbell, club president.

Also rescheduled for Jan. 23 is a meeting open to the public, of Young Homemakers of Texas. It will be held at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Gas Company's Flame Room.

The Sunshine Club has canceled its meeting that was planned for Tuesday, and so have Lone Star Study Club and West Hereford Extension Club.

Jaycee-Ettes also called off its Tuesday evening session, but Mrs. Bill McKinney, president, plans to call a business meeting as soon as the weather permits to make arrangements for some January activities including National Jaycee and Jaycee-Ette Week Jan. 21-28.

Date Is Set For Junior Music Event

Date of the annual Junior Music Festival sponsored by Federated Music Clubs is March 2, it is announced by Mrs. Carl Wimberley of Dawn Music Club, chairman of the event this year. The festival will be held in First Baptist Church here.

It is conducted for members of junior music clubs in Section I of First District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs. The section comprises Hereford, Dawn and Friona. Junior Clubs are sponsored by music teachers for their pupils.

Mrs. Wimberley this week is mailing announcements to the teachers with detailed information about the festival.

Judges have already been engaged; they are Mrs. Allen Cansler of Hereford, Mmes. Thomas Hambrick, Ruth Thurman and Robert Goodnow of Amarillo, all of whom have judged here in past years.

The junior musicians are not judged competitively, but are rated individually as they attempt to reach a standard of achievement based on their age and years of study.

If you do fall in your first endeavor swear—swear you'll do better the next time.

Former Residents Die In Accident

A father and son, Willie and Robert Lyons of Oxford, Kan., who were both killed in a two-truck accident Saturday morning southwest of Dalhart, were former Hereford residents. Richard Lyons of 524 Ave. G. is another son of Willie Lyons. Funeral services for both accident victims were conducted in Oxford Tuesday morning. The Lyons family had lived in Hereford from 1964 until they moved to Kansas about a year ago.

Willie Lyons, 42, and Robert, his 21-year-old son, were drivers of one of the transport trucks involved in a head-on crash which was among several fatal highway accidents in the Panhandle during the icy, fog-bound weekend.

The collision occurred about 6 a.m. Saturday on U. S. 54 between Middle Water and Romero southwest of Dalhart near the New Mexico border. Contents of the trucks, one carrying meat from Wichita, Kan., to Los Angeles and the other loaded with general freight on a cross-continent run from California to New Jersey, were scattered over a wide area.

The highway was blocked several hours while rescue workers delved in the wreckage to remove two bodies from each truck. The impact partially welded the two cabs and a wire service report said one cab caught fire for a short time. A fund for surviving members of the Lyons family is now being collected at First National Bank of Hereford.

Services For Mr. Hicks Held Here

Funeral services for Clifford Melick Hicks, 86, of 428-B Sunset, a retired builder contractor and the father of County Commissioner Donald Hicks, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in First United Methodist Church. Dr. W. A. Appling, pastor, and Dr. John English, director of Kings Manor retirement home, officiated for the service. Burial was in West Park Cemetery, directed by Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

A resident of Deaf Smith County since 1909, Mr. Hicks died in a hospital here Tuesday morning. He farmed when he first came to this area, and helped dig some of the first irrigation wells in the county. Service on the Hereford Public School board and on the official board of First Methodist Church was given by Mr. Hicks, and he was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge here more than 50 years. He was born Dec. 21, 1886, at Centerburg, Ohio, and came to this county in February, 1909. He married Elizabeth Montague in Hereford in 1916. Survivors are his wife; three sons, Donald and Bob of Hereford and Elmo of Amarillo; two daughters, Mrs. Ida Belle Hawkins of Tulsa and Mrs. Mary Beth Thomas of Soap Lake, Wash.; ten grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Members All Add To BSP Program

Participation of all members added interest to the program for Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday evening when Mrs. Terry Schoenhard and Mrs. Davie Sorrells were hostesses in the former's home. Closing a discussion of Literature in which she spoke of the value of reading to the individual and trends in literature today, Judy Summers asked each one present to name a book she had read recently.

Trips taken by members were reviewed briefly after Mrs. Joe Reinauer had talked of the How, Why and Where of Travel, second topic of the evening. Social committee plans for a chapter outing to Amarillo Feb. 19 were announced by Mrs. Tim Gearm, chairman. Members were reminded of the state BSP convention later this month in McAllen - tours to Mexico are scheduled before and after the meeting.
