

At Least Eight Cars Didn't On Monday Near Hereford

Railroad Crossing—Look Out For The Train

By CHARLES RICHARDS
News Editor

A Department of Public Safety unit signaled a driver to the side of the road on Park Avenue Monday, moments after he had swerved around the crossing gates at Veterans Park Road and U.S. 60 to beat an oncoming freight train.

The unit wasn't in sight when he crossed the tracks, but a Department of Public Safety helicopter overhead — carrying both DPS and Santa Fe Railway personnel — radioed the officers on the ground about the violation.

"I have to cross that same crossing every day. I'm tired of waiting on trains," the man behind the wheel told the highway patrolman.

The incident was one of eight "near-misses" reported during five hours of surveillance of railroad crossings in a five-hour period Monday. L. E. Sankey of Amarillo, superintendent of special service with Santa Fe, and Ernest Paschal of Amarillo, Sankey's assistant, alternated in riding the helicopter with a DPS pilot, co-pilot and officer.

Sgt. Bill Wells, who is in charge of the Hereford office of the DPS, and officer Roger Hagood alternated also. Those not in the helicopter were in the DPS car driving along with the train from Amarillo to Clovis and back to Hereford.

The helicopter surveillance was requested by Santa Fe because of increasing reports by train engineers of cars ignoring warning lights and continuing to cross until the train is almost there.

"Our main purpose was to watch for any near-misses. It was hard to believe. These people were just running right in front of the train. At one of the towns (Hereford), a car ran right around the gates," Sankey said. No tickets were issued to any of the drivers who were stopped after violations were noted from the air. Violators were only warned.

"We were just observing today," Capt. J. W. Blackwell of the DPS in Lubbock said. "We're having lots of railroad crossing accidents and lots of reports of almost-accidents. We just followed them around today to see how serious they are."

Sankey said one of the "almost accidents reported to his office concerned a school bus, 'if you can believe that,' between Hereford and Friona.

"We think that's the worst possible," Sankey said. "The railroad is highly concerned because we certainly don't want to hit anyone. There's no way one of our engineers can avoid hitting someone on the crossing. He's got at least 500 tons behind him, going 60 miles an hour, and he has no choice, no alternative he can take."

"Our engineers say they count on at least one close call every day from Amarillo to Clovis," Sankey said. "We asked for help on this (from the DPS) because it has become such a problem."

The helicopter and accompanying ground unit worked four trains — one from Farwell to Hereford, one from Dawn to Farwell, one from Bovina to Farwell and one from Farwell to Hereford.

Of the eight violations, one was in Hereford, two at Bovina crossings and three at Farwell crossings. Two others were reported near Farwell but the patrolmen were unable to find the drivers to warn them.

"All these were near misses. They were real serious," Sergeant Wells said.

Wells stopped a Bovina violator after a radio report from the helicopter said the man went across the tracks despite the warning lights.

"I was there looking at the train and I knew I could beat him," the man told Wells.

Concerning the near-miss of a train with the school bus between Hereford and Friona, Sankey said he did not know what school system the bus belonged to. An engineer reported it, he said, and it is still being investigated.

Supt. Roy Hartman was interested in the report. He said Wednesday he had heard nothing about any such near-misses recently. The school got a call "about 13 or 14 months ago" about something similar.

"I believe at the time we let the driver go, the next day," Hartman said. "This is something we certainly do not want, at all." The driver of that bus was reported to outrun a freight train to the crossing.

"It was one of these where the barriers go down, and he speeded up to get across before the barriers got down. He made it, but just barely."

Captain Blackwell said the helicopter surveillance was revealing, and probably will be repeated. A flight probably will be carried out in the height of the harvest season, Blackwell said.

Large Ring Suspected

Two Arrested In Area Grain Thefts

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Sheriff's officers arrested two Littlefield men Monday and said it appears the suspects are linked with a group that has victimized grain elevator operators in this area and adjoining states of a million dollars or more in the past eight years.

The suspects are Wayne Richard Vaughn, 21, and Roy Stewart, 30. They were charged with theft over $50 after their arrest by Sheriff Travis McPherson and Littlefield officers in Littlefield.

"There is no telling how much they have gotten over the past eight years," Deputy Harold Wheeler, who led the local investigation, said of the large-scale operation.

"I would say $100,000 a year wouldn't even touch what they have been getting."

They are charged specifically with the theft of an estimated $5,300 of grain—from the Farmers' Corner Elevator, between Hereford and Vega on U. S. 385, in the past month. But they are being studied also for the possibility that clues into a large-scale interstate operation may come forth.

Vaughn, who was arrested and brought back to Hereford, was arraigned by the Littlefield Justice of the Peace and bond was set at $10,000. Stewart, who was arrested later Monday night, was reportedly released on bond Tuesday.

McPherson said the Texas Rangers have been working on a number of grain theft cases over the past few years that — including this one — are all believed to be connected to the large theft operation.

Wheeler said reports of grain stolen from Dumas, Mineral Wells, Sterling City, Colo., and other surrounding towns are believed to be connected with the same operation.

Wheeler said there was one report from an elevator that lost about 2-million pounds of grain and authorities "think this is where it went."

The two Littlefield men were arrested Monday about three weeks after sheriff's office authorities became involved in the case. On the night of Dec. 30, McPherson said, a traveler was passing the Farmer's Corner Elevator and saw a large truck stopped at the elevator. He suspected someone was stealing the grain so he notified the police department. Officers stopped the truck and after questioning the driver, let the truck continue.

The truck had Colorado license plates that were later reported stolen off a pickup in that state.

On Tuesday, Jan. 12, someone apparently attempted to steal another truck load of grain from the elevator, McPherson said, but when they pulled their truck under the hopper, the truck's air conditioner became wedged and the men could not get the truck away from the bin.

McPherson said they apparently went after another truck, returned and pulled the other away from the bin. They moved it about 100 yards down the road and left it because, in the attempt to get it out, they had so twisted the drive shaft it was inoperable.

Sheriff's officers, after discovering the attempted theft, put a surveillance on the abandoned truck. A check to determine the owner showed that Stewart and Vaughn had leased the vehicle from a trucking firm in Littlefield.

When no one attempted to pick up the abandoned truck, officers impounded it Saturday, then went to Littlefield Monday and arrested the two men.

Wheeler said the two men are See THEFTS Page Two

SW Bell Charts Plans

Further expansions of telephone facilities, both to outside plant and in the central office are scheduled in Hereford during 1971, Mike Patrick, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said Wednesday.

Patrick said that three major outside plant projects are planned to expand the number of extended area trunk circuits to the Dawn exchange boundary, to the Frio exchange boundary, and to the Westway exchange boundary.

Central office projects for 1971, he said, include the addition of three positions of long distance switchboard, the installation of additional long distance testboard facilities, and completion of a job started in late 1970. The latter project calls for the addition of 1,320 lines of crossbar switching equipment.

"These projects are aimed at helping the telephone company keep up with the increasing communications needs created by our growing city," Patrick said, "and telephone growth is a good indicator of a city's overall growth rate."

For example, he said there were 3,676 telephones in Hereford at the end of 1960. That's less than half the number now. In December of 1970, there were 8,125 telephones in the city, an increase of more than 121 per cent in the decade. A total of 437 telephones were gained in 1970.

"It appears that the number of telephones will continue to climb and expansion will remain a way of life here for quite awhile," he said. "We expect to have 11,000 telephones here the end of 1974."

Patrick noted that Hereford residents dialed 43,472 calls on an average business day in November.

Patrick said Southwestern Bell has announced plans to spend a record $114.1 million on land, buildings and equipment this year in the San Antonio administrative area, of which Hereford is a part. The area covers roughly the western half of Texas.

Booster Club Will Meet Tonite

The Hereford Booster Club will provide ice cream and cookies at 7:30 p. m. today for a meeting with the Whiteface basketball varsity and Coach Ron Mayberry.

It is the first booster meeting since the end of the football season.

The players will be on hand, led by their two captains chosen only this week — seniors Mike Wartes and John McNeely.

Mayberry will show a film on the Hereford-Caprock game, which Hereford led by 52-26 at the half and cruised in for an easy 88-60 victory that has been called the Herd's best one-game performance in recent years. A film on Hereford's game in the Amarillo Civic Coliseum with Canyon Dec. 30 may also be shown.

Milton Durham, president of the Booster Club, urged all other area persons interested in the high school athletic program to attend the meeting, which is slated for the Community Center.

There is no admission price. The players elected McNeely and Wartes captains on Monday, and Mayberry tabulated the vote and announced it to the players Tuesday.

"Since we're going into district play and making our push, we felt we should have captains now," Mayberry said.

The Whitefaces, picked as a solid choice for last place in the five-team District 4-AAAA race in pre-season guessing, have been a surprise thus far.

Returning only one starter, Wartes — from a team that went 14-11 in Class AAA ball last year, Hereford was not counted on for much.

The Whitefaces, instead, marked up a 17-6 record through their first 23 games, and only a Saturday night game in Seminole stands before next Tuesday night's start of the district race in La Plata Gym against Lubbock Coronado.

The Amarillo News-Globe power rating of Panhandle-South Plains basketball teams has Hereford fifth, behind Plainview, Lubbock Monterey, Dumas and Phillips. Until last Friday's one-point loss in Amarillo to Class 3-AAAA favorite Tascosa, Hereford was No. 4.

Mrs. J. Byrle Elliston

The funeral of Mrs. J. Byrle Elliston, 83, of 615 Grand, a Hereford resident since 1902, was conducted Tuesday afternoon in First Christian Church by the Rev. Eugene Brink, minister.

Burial in West Park Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

A resident of Westgate Unit at Kings Manor Retirement Home for the past year, Mrs. Elliston died early Sunday in Deaf Smith County Hospital. She was a native of Dallas County, born March 31, 1887.

With her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kellow, she came to Deaf Smith County in May, 1902, to live on a farm her father had bought three miles north of town. The family traveled by train and their possessions were shipped in an immigrant car on the railroad.

They came from Duncanville, and Mrs. Elliston later recalled that their first view of Hereford was not impressive; rain was falling and they rode up muddy Dewey Avenue (now Main Street) to a hotel to spend the night. Irregular board walks connected the wooden stores in the downtown area.

Her father was one of the early farmers who experimented with growing fruit and vegetable crops, irrigated from a windmill.

Fannie Bob Kellow and J. Byrle Elliston were married here Dec. 21, 1904, with Dr. See SERVICES Page Two

Monday Mother's March Nets $1,925 For Local MOD Chapter

Hereford residents responded Monday night with $1,925.28 to the annual March of Dimes Mother's March.

Mrs. Lynton Allred, president of the sponsoring La Madre Mia Club, said some 175 volunteer workers canvassed the city for two hours Monday in collecting the money.

Lynton Allred, chairman of the Deaf Smith County March of Dimes campaign, said the total collected by La Madre Mia is about $200 more than last year and there is still a considerable amount to be collected from the schools.

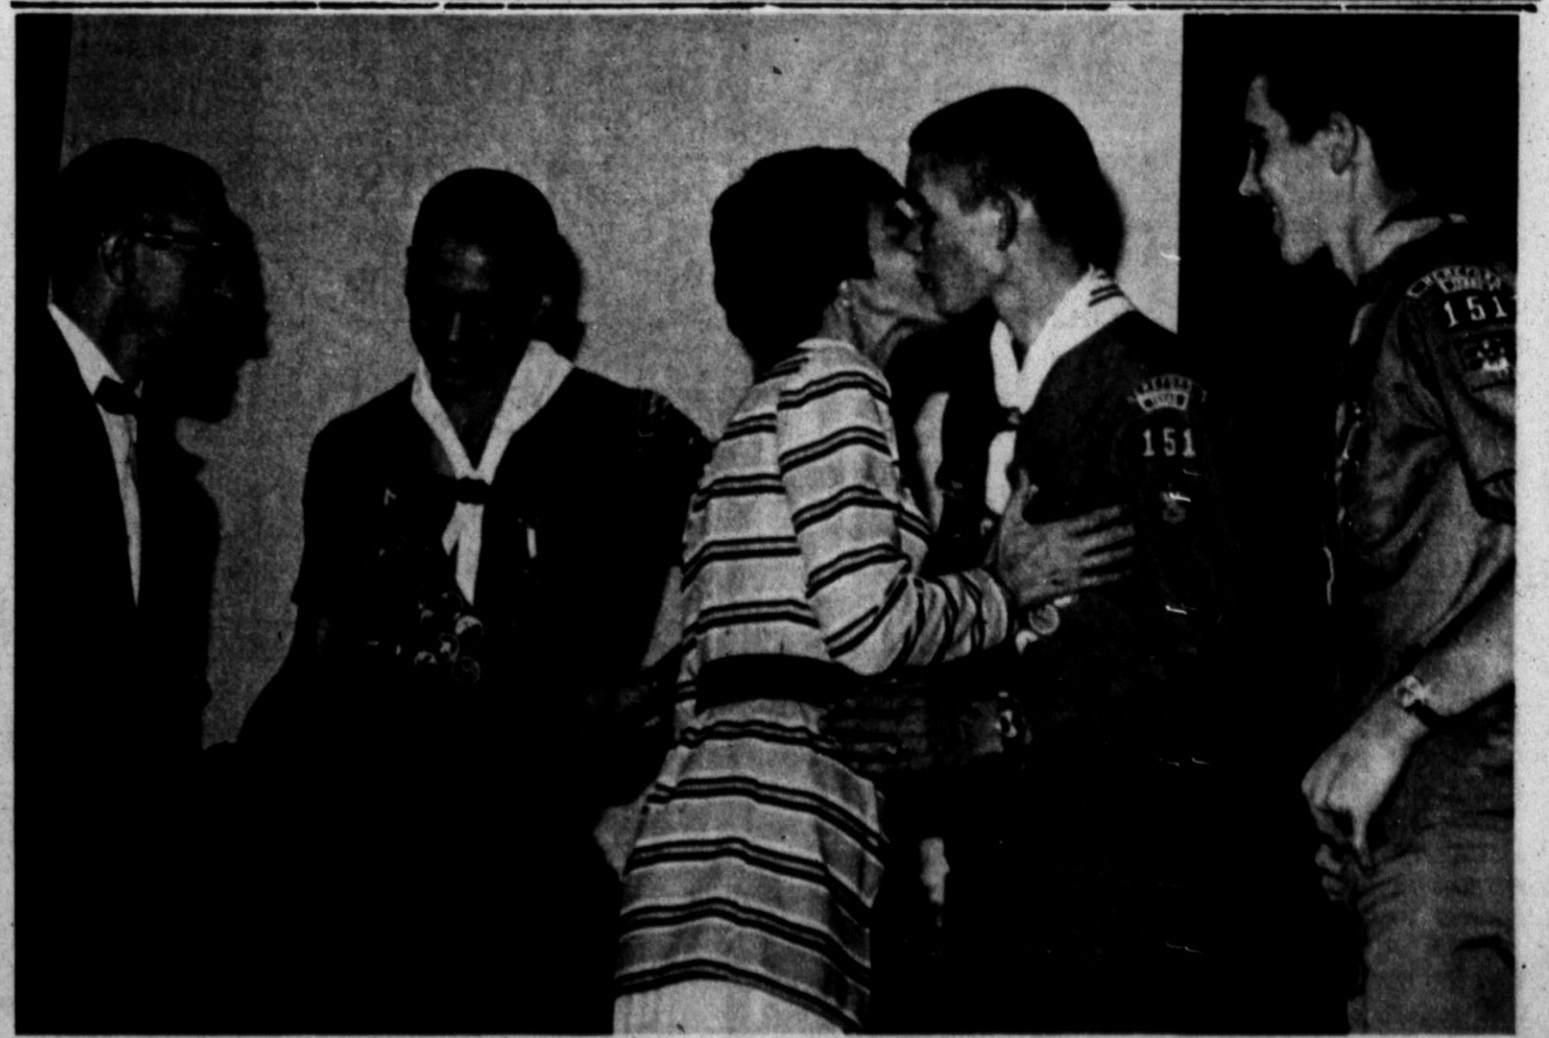

"The schools make an annual contribution and if they come through like they have in the past, we can easily surpass last year's collection," he said. The school contributions are expected to be completed within the next two or three weeks he said.

Also, donations still are being accepted at both Hereford banks, Allred said. Persons who did not contribute to the Mother's March but would like to do so can at either bank through the middle of March.

"We are real pleased with everybody's support," Allred said. "It was a real showing of support."

The money raised from the March will be sent to the Lubbock office of the March of Dimes where it will be used in research.

George Ritter: '70 Conservation Farmer Of Year

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

George Ritter, named Tuesday as the Tierra Blanca Soil and Water Conservation District's 1970 Conservation Farmer of the Year, says the land will give back to you what you put into it.

"My father always took real good care of his grassland, and you can tell even now how it has helped," Ritter said. Ritter farms 2,720 acres of land belonging to his father, G. S. Ritter, and during the past five years under the Great Plains Conservation Program, he has improved the quality of his grass land.

"One of the main things George has done is he has taken proper care of grazing grass," said Ed Blackwell, with the Soil Conservation Service. Ritter was named the Conservation Farmer of the Year by the board of directors of the Tierra Blanca Soil and Conservation District. The honor goes to the farmer who has done the best job of applying conservation practices on his farm.

"It is always hard to pick just one Farmer of the Year," Blackwell said, "because there are always several who have done a good job."

Ritter has farmed the same 2,720 acres of land for the past 18 years, and he has taken it from a one-well grazing growing operation to a much more improved farm, mainly because of the assistance of the Great Plains Conservation Program. "I am real pleased with the program and the results," he says, "but out here we have had a lot of hard luck with it."

Ritter farms 14 miles west of Hereford. Since he joined the Great Plains Conservation Program in 1965, Ritter has had 15 acres of land leveled, 93 acres pitted, 3,701 feet of diversion terraces constructed, 3,544 feet of irrigation pipe installed, and 32 acres of pasture planting done in addition to a number of other management type practices.

Ritter's farm is irrigated except for 320 acres of dryland. On the dryland he was plagued with a growing erosion problem and, under the conservation program, constructed a diversion terrace and filled the gully.

There were several similar situations on his farm, but with the help of the Great Plains Conservation Program, he has constructed more terraces and done away with the gaping gullies.

When Ritter first started farming his 2,720 acres of land, there was only one irrigation well and a tremendous erosion problem. Since that time however, he has added four more wells and with grass management operations, has improved his cow-calf operation.

Wrecks Services Kill One In Month

One person died and three others suffered injuries last month in accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County, Sgt. Bill Wells of the Department of Public Safety said Wednesday.

The DPS investigated 13 accidents on rural roads in this county in December, Wells said. They caused an estimated property damage of $9,693. The accidents brought the 1970 total to 153 accidents, resulting in seven fatalities, 64 injuries and an estimated property damage of $168,993.

Throughout the state, 67 persons were estimated to die during the Christmas and New Year's holidays, but fatalities

MALOOK O'DONNELL AND SON, SEAN THOMAS . . .

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Kabash Morgh Is Good

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

Malook O'Donnell, who has a permit for permanent residence in the United States, doesn't plan, however, to become a U. S. citizen because "I don't want to give up my citizenship in Persia."

MRS. O'DONNELL came to the U. S. following her graduation from high school in July of 1964 at age 17.

The five-foot two-inch, brown-eyed youngster traveled to Washington D.C., New York, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Nevada, Minnesota, and studied nine months of cosmetology and received her license from the state of California, before finally coming to Texas.

She came only to visit her brother who, on a scholarship, was attending Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

BUT, SHE LIKED the college and decided to stay. Putting herself through school with her cosmetology skills, she had among her patrons, the mother and sister of her husband-to-be.

She didn't meet Thomas O'Donnell, also attending Wayland Baptist, until one day he came to visit his sister, her roommate's best friend.

They were married in July of 1969 in Plainview and since then she is often teased about "being Moslem, attending a Baptist school and marrying a Catholic."

"MY HUSBAND and baby are Catholics and I plan to take religion lessons this summer so I will be able to answer any questions my son may ask."

"JOIN — I don't know. I have not thought about it that much since it is not a problem between Tom and me. He's a very good husband. I want to learn more about the religion first. I go to church every Sunday with him and there are so many things I don't understand," she explained.

Mrs. O'Donnell is owner of daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Solomon of 500 Star, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Betzen of Rt. 1.

Malook's Coiffure at 108 Brevard and says "I love my work very much. I've been doing it for nearly seven years now." Her husband is assistant manager at Plains Welding and Supply.

Malook is an English major with minors in drama and philosophy and hopes to receive her masters from West Texas State.

SHE WAS BORN in Arabia and reared in Tehran, the capital of Persia. Since her father, now a retired diplomat, was Ambassador to India, she traveled a great deal with him.

O'Donnell is originally from Chicago but was reared in Plainview. They came to Hereford at the time of their marriage and hope to go to Persia this summer since he has never met his father or mother-in-law.

Other plans for the summer include a trip to Austin to visit cousins of Malook's, waterskiing and making their monthly trips to Plainview to see the O'Donnell family.

TOM AND MALOOK and their eight-month-old son, Sean Thomas, live at 810 E. Third. "They say babies bring a couple closer together and it's true," said Malook. "Everything we do we plan around him."

All pieces of furniture in Sean's room were purchased for practically nothing and antiques and upholstered by Mrs. O'Donnell.

Since she is a working mother she has little time to do other things she enjoys such as antiquing and re-covering furniture, sewing clothes for herself and draperies for home and shop, and cooking.

The following Persian dish is one Malook likes to serve for company "because my husband and guests like it, it's easy to make and makes a lot, and you can go off and leave it for a long period of time."

KORASH MORGH (Chicken Casserole)

1 cut-up chicken pieces (thighs, legs, breast are best)
2 cans Mountain Pass Spanish tomato sauce
1 small bottle Kraft barbecue sauce

3 or 4 medium sized potatoes
1 package mixed frozen vegetables

Preheat oven to 400.
Lay chicken pieces in casserole dish and top with one can tomato sauce. Place sliced potatoes and another can tomato sauce on top of that.

Put frozen vegetables evenly over rest of mixture and top with bottle of barbecue sauce.
Cover dish with foil and cook in oven 30 minutes at 400 degrees. Then cook 1 1/2 to 2 hours at 300 degrees.

Serves six.

The entire recipe, Malook tells us, takes between two and two-and-a-half hours to prepare. She suggests you serve it with

Shower Honors Mrs. Bob Jackson

Mrs. Bob A. Jackson, the former Gwen Cargo of Hereford, married Dec. 30 in Amarillo, was honored with a post-nuptial shower in the home of Mrs. Kenny Gearn, 321 Star, Saturday afternoon.

In the receiving line with the honoree and Mrs. Gearn were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Bill Cargo of Hereford, and her husband's mother, Mrs. Bob O. Jackson of Borger.

Approximately 25 guests were registered by Miss Judy Cargo, sister of the honoree.

Mmes. Geary Gearn and Tim Gearn served coffee, spiced tea and cake from copper appointments from a table centered with an arrangement of blue, yellow and green daisies with brown streamers.

Other hostesses were Mmes. O. G. Hill Jr., Jack Gray, Lloyd Smith, Fred Boren, J. T. Boynton and Rena Rae Newton.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Bernice Layman of Dimmitt and Mrs. Ray Cargo of Amarillo, aunts of the honoree, and her grandmother, Mrs. Leona Cargo of Amarillo.

by Noel B. Gerson

He joined the navy at the incredible age of ten. He was given his first temporary command at 13 — on a ship that captured more than 50 times its own tonnage in the War if 1812.

Half a century later, he committed his entire fleet to a daring flank-speed attack on mine-filled Mobile Bay to take the city and destroy the entire Confederate fleet, thus ensuring the outcome of the Civil War. Actions like these — and the raw courage and refined cunning they reflect — made David Farragut one of the boldest, most successful, and most heroic naval commanders in American history.

And from that long and colorful career, Noel B. Gerson has fashioned this novel: a book rich in historical anecdote and alive with the stirring drama of great sea battles.

CARAVAN TO VACCARES
by Allstar MacLean

It seemed an idyllic tourist setting in the small town in the Southeast corner of France where Neil Bowman had come to await the arrival of the gypsies.

Each year for centuries the gathering of those mysterious people from as far away as Transylvania and the shores of the Black Sea had added an extra splash of color and excitement to the local countryside, as they came to venerate the relics of their patron saint.

This time however the annual pilgrimage concealed something far more sinister, bristling with violence and danger, as Bowman soon discovered when his curiosity led to a nearly fatal encounter in the grim limestone caves outside of town.

Almost before he knew it he was on the run; the only question was who was pursuing whom; the gypsies, or Bowman and the attractive young English girl he had taken with him?

Rural Areas Falling, TEA Report Reveals

AUSTIN — Texas school districts are growing bigger in size, smaller in number, and more cityfied every year. This movement of students from rural to urban areas, plus the statistics they create and the programs they expect, keynote the Texas Education Agency's 46th Biennial Report to be released recently.

For the first time, the report is dedicated to an individual — J. Warren Hitt, deputy commissioner of education for 20 years before his death early in 1970.

The 116-page roundup of facts and figures, presented every two years to the Governor and the Texas Legislature, documents changes in the state's public school system during 1968-70. Most of them reflect the growth of urban areas and city school districts.

For example, districts with more than 1,500 students in average daily attendance (ADA) increased from 250 to 265 between 1968 and 1970. School districts with fewer than 1,499 students in ADA dropped from 979 to 941.

In line with this move from the more leisurely world of the combine to the fast pace of the freeway, the Agency has begun a statewide study of urban education in Texas to be completed during the 1970-71 school year. This detailed examination of the city school scene will focus on the policies, approaches, and actions the Agency must take during the next 10 years to help city schools meet their problems.

School superintendents from Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Austin will serve on an advisory committee, a long with representatives from the Governor's Office, regional education service centers, and teacher education institutions.

New school programs designed to blend public school education into Texas' rapidly developing urban-industrial mix got well under way during the past two years.

One of the newest, crime prevention and drug education, was made mandatory in grades 5-12 by the 61st Legislature. Guides and materials developed since 1969 include a tentative outline for a drug education curriculum, supplementary materials for elementary and secondary pupils, a tentative package to be made available to schools through education service centers, and parent, pupil, and teacher guides on issues in drug education and resources for attacking the problem.

Skilled workers who will make the wheels of urbanizing Texas turn with a smooth, well-gear'd hum are being trained in ever greater numbers in the high schools and community colleges. For it is here that both the state and federal governments have broadened the dollar sign and sharpened the focus.

Public school districts and colleges designated area vocational schools, for example, expanded from 85 in 1965 to 116 by 1970. Another 92 applications are on file ending availability of construction money. In the high schools alone, the number of vocational units offered increased by 295 percent during the past six years.

Specialized programs ranging from environmental technology to health occupations are already blueprinting the future of public school education for students who will enter the labor force from high school or after two years additional training. Vocational enrollment in Texas schools, community colleges, and special adult programs grew from 577,334 to 656,000 in just

Cotton Harvest Nears Finish On Plains

The South Plains cotton harvest neared completion this week, according to the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the U. S. D. A. Most gins have completed operations for the season but some still have 500 to 1,000 more bales to gin.

Samples from 1,617,330 bales had been classed by the U. S. D. A. through last week. The Lubbock office continues to receive samples from approximately 500 bales per day.

Spotted and Tinged cotton continued to increase as the harvest neared completion. Light Spotted, Spotted and Tinged cotton made up 75 per cent of all cotton classed at the Lubbock office last week.

Strict Low Middling Light Spotted was the predominant grade last week with 24 per cent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling made up 18 per cent, Middling Light Spotted 11 per cent, Strict Low Middling Spotted 19 per cent and all Tinged grades 6 per cent.

ROTATE TIRES

NEW YORK — Tires should be rotated every 5000 miles for maximum wear. Rotating the tires lets them wear evenly, according to a report from Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation.

one year from 1969 to 1970. Public school and other programs for adults, an integral part of the total occupational education and technology commitment to all Texans, enrolled 239,065 groups during 1969-70, a near 20,000 upswing in a single year. These programs range from industrial and technical to health occupations and distribution. Industrial and technical training showed the largest growth, from 22,984 to 38,654.

Driver education, another and quite different chip off the impact of urbanization on the public schools, gave 122,000 teenagers both theoretical and behind-the-wheel training during the past school year. This one year total was up sharply from the 95,637 students who completed the course in 1968-69.

Both the old standards of "readin', writin', and 'rithmatic" and the newer programs in bilingual education, fine arts, industrial arts, astro sciences, and special education reflect the influence of an industrial growth that turns fields into subdivisions and packs people closer together than ever before. All, however, are a vital part of Texas' commitment to education. And all are traced in detail in the 46th Biennial Report issued Tuesday by the Texas Education Agency. Copies of the report have been sent to the Legislature, state officials, local school superintendents, and are available in college and university libraries.

Most successful farmers and feeders find their opportunities in the same place they were born and raised - or perhaps a mile or two down the road. Success is a crop we like to cultivate at the Land Bank Association - and it's best if it's home-grown.

TOO OPTIMISTIC
FRANKFORT, Ky. — The state will cut spending this fiscal year by $4 million to stay within its budget. Officials said the earlier financial outlook was a bit too optimistic, and now the total available for spending is $553 million.

REAP To Help All, Hardin Says

The new Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) for 1971, emphasizing a broad attack on the environmental problems created by the nation's farming operations, was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

Announcement of the new program, formerly known as the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), permits resumption of the Federal cost-sharing of various beneficial conservation practices with farmers, but under a restructured program in line with modern day needs to better both the on and off-farm environment. It makes farmers partners in the venture between the Federal government and State, city and local governments to deal with the pressing problem of pollution.

"The restructured program will be used to help preserve our environment, demonstrate good environmental enhancement practices, and return more public benefits at less public cost," Secretary Hardin pointed out.

Although the specific level of funding for 1971 has not been determined, the 1971 program will be funded, and the Congress will be requested by the Administration to provide funds for the 1972 program, the Secretary said.

Emphasis on the farm side will be on those practices contributing the most to the improvement of conditions for both the general public and farmers. Major considerations in authorizing cost sharing of any practice installation will be the resulting public benefits such as pollution abatement, enduring soil and water conservation, recreation, wildlife, and open space as well as the degree of permanency achieved. As a result, the practices offered under the program have been structured to provide enduring benefits, significant pollution control, and enhancement of the environment for all.

A major thrust will be to reduce water pollution which results in large part from agricultural, industrial and municipal wastes. Water retaining and retarding measures on farms such as dams and ponds, permanent grass cover, waterways, buffer strips, and tree plantings, will be stressed. These will be directed toward reducing silt in streams, rivers, lakes and other bodies of water and toward reducing pollution from animal wastes, fertilizers and pesticide.

Off-farm benefits will be promoted by concentrating funds to solve community environmental problems through special projects and pooling agreements. Under these, for example, the funds available to a community could be used exclusively to get permanent cover and other water control measures on farmland in a watershed to reduce the build-up of silt in a municipal water supply reservoir.

Under the program, the Federal government will pay about 50 percent of the cost of practices that achieve permanent benefits. Practices that provide temporary benefits will be available only under certain circumstances and at a reduced level of Federal cost sharing. Practices that are good farming techniques that should be performed routinely and practices that are income-producing to the farmer will be de-emphasized in favor of those having benefits to all citizens.

The program will be run in each county or parish by locally elected farmer committees. Under broad Federal and State guidelines, the committees will select the practices best suited for meeting the needs of their area; determine which farm land needs treatment; and within the county's allocation of funds fix the amount of cost sharing to be provided each farmer. Thus, the program provides for a high degree of local determination.

The 1971 program will reflect changes desired by the President and, consistent with a House-Senate conference report, will make provision for continuation of 1970 program practices and procedures at the option of county committees.

It recognizes that privately owned land is a major source of pollution, but that good management of this land can also be a major factor in improving living conditions for all citizens. By sharing the cost, the program will enable farmers to undertake measures that their limited resources would not otherwise permit.

Recommendations will go to the Congress during the next few months to modify the program's basic legal authority in order to broaden the program's capabilities to deal with farm-produced pollution.

The program will be administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Department's Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service and Extension Service will provide technical and educational assistance.

Two Represent Hereford YHT At Convention

Representing Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, Mrs. Charles Weatherford and Mrs. Jim Culpepper attended the state convention of that group in Fort Worth on the weekend, and were among 550 women registered.

Mrs. Weatherford, president of Area I YHT, accepted the check for $100 awarded the Rails club as runnerup in Texas for the Outstanding Club title. Rails was chosen Outstanding Club in the area last fall at the area convention here.

Also named then as Area Little Sister was Marcia Casha of Cooper, who placed second in the state competition for Little Sisters, the girls selected from high school homemaking classes by the various clubs.

Ima Dora Halle of Plainview, Area I advisor, was one of three women who were presented life memberships in the state organization at the convention. She had previously been given that honor in the area.

BETTER BEFORE

LONDON, Canada — Canada's new abortion law is too restrictive and abortion procedures are worse than before the law came into effect, the president of the Ontario Medical Association said.

Dr. Bette Stephenson said before the law was passed sensible procedures were being developed. She said Women's College Hospital in Toronto had performed therapeutic abortions for 12 years prior to the law being changed.

Even the Sparrow

...found a nesting place in the church of the early believers. That temple was a reverent place where devoted souls could find God. It had an outer court where all men might come, followed by the Court of Israel, which was open only to the Hebrews. In the center was the Court of the High Priests. It was dominated by the Altar of Sacrifice where worshipers brought God their best goods.

Every step they took in this approach was more sacred. Yet a warm welcome within the Altar awaited the little sparrow. Here she could build her nest and raise her young.

But oh, how much more important are the children of God, than the life of a sparrow. How wonderful that we too, can enter the church and stand in this holy place, sheltered by the protecting love of a great God. Welcome to church this week. He welcomed the sparrow ...

He welcomes you.

Notes Express GIs' Thanks For Ditty Bags

American servicemen in combat areas of Vietnam who received ditty bags filled with Christmas gifts, made and packed by women of Deaf Smith County and shipped by the County Red Cross Chapter, appreciated the gifts.

Letters of thanks have been received at the local Red Cross office, from individuals and commanding officers of groups to which the gifts went. Clubs, church groups and some individual women here prepared the bags.

Operation Ditty Bag is a project of the American Red Cross, aimed at reaching every American in military service in combat areas with Christmas gifts. The bags are filled with small items useful to servicemen — toilet articles, stationery and pens, games, cards and hard candy.

Some notes of thanks were written on Christmas cards and others carried a "Merry Christmas" message to the Deaf Smith County women. One, which said simply, "Thank you," was on a card with an attractive oriental painting, was signed Lt. H. W. Grenley and in an envelope bearing a U. S. Navy postmark.

From Cpl. Bernie Taube, HMH-463 Flight Line, was a card with a longer note of thanks. And Marine Cpl. B. T. Gibbins added to his thank-you, "I was pleased to know there were people who took their own time and money to send us a bit of happiness. Happiness is so hard to find nowadays."

Then he wrote a postscript,

"I also think that your 'Donut Dollies' (Red Cross over-seas workers) are doing a marvelous job."

Marine Sgt. Dave Wilson, a helicopter crew chief, with his thanks sent snapshots of activity at his base. Sgt. Ned T. Oren of the 101st Airborne Division, said, "My Platoon was . . . real glad to receive the packages. It is lonely over here this time for some of them, being they have never been away from home before."

Also expressing the appreciation of groups were L. C. Street III, commanding officer of Marine Air Group 16, and Lt. Joseph A. Simko of the 528th Quartermaster Co.

The notes sent to the chapter will be answered, says Genevieve Miller, Red Cross secretary here, by members of the Waiting Mothers Club, an organization sponsored by the local chapter, of women with sons in overseas military service.

Farm Leaders Will Discuss REA Program

Top farm program officials from Texas will be in Phoenix, Ariz., Monday and Tuesday for a first hand briefing on the new Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) for 1971.

Clairence A. Danklefs, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, will head the delegation from Texas that will include State Committee members Charles L. Calhoun, Frank H. Hinkson, John Barry Rudd and Jose M. Vallarreal; State ASCS Executive Director D. W. McElwath; and Program Specialists, N.B. T. McGuire and Harold Baker. Announcement of the new program, a continuation of the gram (ACP), was made by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin earlier this month. Secretary Hardin said that REAP will emphasize a broad attack on environmental problems created by the nation's farming operations.

Chairman Danklefs said that announcement of the new program will permit resumption of the federal cost-sharing of various beneficial conservation with farmers but that public benefit practices such as pollution abatement, enduring soil and water conservation, recreation, wildlife and open space will be stressed. He added that details of the new program will be spelled out by Washington ASCS officials including: Charles M. Cox, Assistant to the Deputy Administrator for State and County Operations; Ray Hunter, Director of the Conservation and Land-Use Division; Leo Schaeffer, Director of the Compliance Division and J. P. Jones, Southwest Area Director.

The National Water Ski Kite Flying Championships are held annually at Austin, Texas, as part of the 10-day Aqua Festival.

Engaged Girl Is Honoree

A housewarming was combined with a shower for a bride-elect when friends of Miss Mona Odell surprised her with an informal party in the apartment at 511 Grand to which she recently moved.

Miss Odell's engagement to Douglas Darrow has been announced, with plans for the wedding Feb. 6 at Shamrock, where her parents reside. She has been making her home here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Saulcy.

Mrs. F. N. Pitman greeted the guests and Mrs. Saulcy served coffee and cake as visitors came and went. Callers looked over the new apartment, and presented gifts of linens to the bride-to-be.

Robert Reinauer Receives Award

Lieutenant junior grade Robert M. Reinauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reinauer of Hereford, recently received the Naval Air Station Kingsville "High Flyer Award" during ceremonies at Kingsville. The award is presented to Student Naval Aviators for outstanding achievement in academic portion of the Advanced Training Command Flight Training Program — Navy Jet Carrier Phase. To receive the award, the student must finish in the top 10 per cent of his class. This class is the last phase of ground training before the student pilots are instructed in actual jets. The three training squadrons based at Kingsville designate more than 400 Navy and Marine Corps aviators each year.

Mapping Project Is Underway In Deaf Smith County

Engineering field parties of the Topographic Division, U. S. Geological Survey, are now engaged in surveying operations for the preparation of accurate topographic maps of 550 square miles of Deaf Smith County. This mapping is part of a continuing nationwide program that has been under way for many years, the objective of which is to complete and maintain a series of standard topographic maps covering the United States and its possessions. Officials doing the survey said they probably will be involved in the project for about four and one-half months longer, until about June 1. Three field parties will be involved. Each will have one professional engineer, aided by several field assistants who are being hired locally. The finished topographic maps are published in rectangular sheets, called quadrangles. The maps show roads, trails, houses, political boundaries, and other man-made features. In addition, these maps depict the shape and slope of the land surface with contour lines, and give the altitude above sea level. Quadrangle maps of adjacent areas can be joined to show any desired area, such as a city, a county, or a school district. Topographic maps serve as a basis for the study and solution of many problems relating to activities that are affected by the character and relief of the earth's surface. The problems may involve mineral or water resources, prospecting and mining engineering construction of all types, location of industrial sites, urban planning, military requirements and recreation. Good maps facilitate the development of all projects that deal with the land. Although any one mapping project may be partially related to a particular development program or a specific need, the topographic mapping of the Geological Survey is done essentially because these maps have a general-purpose value, and because it is sound economy to have them on hand for any specific planning that future developments or investigations might require. In the preparation of these maps, the most modern engineering methods are employed. Aerial photography and precise photogrammetric instruments are part of the basic mapping process but field surveys are still required at several stages. The initial stage is to establish control points, these being elevations above sea level and geographic positions. Another is to check the accuracy of the maps as drawn from the aerial photographs, and to complete the identification and classification of buildings, roads, streams, political boundaries, and other features. In areas of low relief of the topography, the contours are plotted with the use of surveying instruments. The field surveys are now in progress in this area. The cooperation of local residents and land owners in assisting in the field parties engaged in these surveys will be greatly appreciated, the officials said. A temporary field office is located at 219 Sampson Avenue, in Hereford. Half-Year Book Completed For Westway H. D. Six months of programs, with hostess assignments, were outlined in Westway Home Demonstration Club Thursday in a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Morrison, the first for 1971. A change in the H. D. Club year is effective this year, so the yearbooks were made with dates only through June. A new club season will begin July 1, 1971, and on each July 1 afterward. Present officers will continue to serve until that time. Mrs. T. B. Thomas is Westway Club president, Mrs. Andrew Kersten secretary and Mrs. Morrison delegate to the County H. D. Council. Mrs. Albert Lamb reviewed the book, Parents on Trial, by David Wilkerson for this week's program. The book's subtitle is Why Kids Go Wrong or Right, and the review featured a study on Family Stability. Mrs. Ralph Morrison was welcomed as a new member and Miss Judy Morrison as a guest.

Well, the Easter Lions Club is at it again. "Buster" Thomson, who is apparently in charge of all such things out there, now informs us that the Club will have a "Flea Market Sale" this weekend. The sale will be from 1 p. m. Friday until dark and 9 a. m. Saturday until final action at 6 p. m. Buyers and sellers are wanted, of course. Sale will include clothing, bedding, kitchenware, farm equipment, antique bottles (empty) and dishes, plus many other miscellaneous items. If interested in selling call Bill Struve, 376-3366.

The sale will be conducted at the Easter Community Building. A concession stand will be open, by the way.

The Super Bowl has come and gone although the talk concerning a couple of controversial decisions by the referees will be with us from now on. But why belabor the point . . . the decisions will stand as recorded and the Cowboys have lost another one.

We're disappointed of course that the Pokes dropped the Super Bowl contest, but thinking back earlier in the season, we wonder if anyone dreamed the team would get as far as they did. Some were predicting that Dallas would be in the cellar when the season ended.

And speaking of the cellar, the Dallas Bonehead Club has awarded the "Bonehead" Award to Tom Dempsey, the New Orleans Saint kicker whose 63-yard field goal kick in the closing seconds of the game upset the mighty Detroit Lions and took New Orleans out of the cellar position. And also gave the Boston Patriots the No. 1. draft choice for 1971.

We note also that Dallas is looking for a Quarterback. But as one local coffee drinker says, they already have three. That's Morton, Stansbach and Landry.

Marvin Coffey of Hereford and Jack Strong of Lubbock were recently elected directors of the Khiva Shrine. Their backers campaigned hard and long. Their slogan: Strong Coffee. If that doesn't make sense, think about it a minute.

We understand that City Manager Dudley Bayne has contacted a group of park planners and that funds will be allocated in the new budget to start the planning at least on Veterans Park. That doesn't mean that you'll be picnicking in the park this summer or playing an 18-hole golf course, but it does mean that steps are being taken to create a park that will be an asset to our area.

Economy, we're told, is a way of spending money without getting any fun out of it.

Special Sunday Scheduled Here At St. Thomas'

Judge Joseph H. "Buddy" Schley will be the principal speaker Sunday at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church during observance of Theological Education Sunday.

Schley, a lawyer in Amarillo, will speak at the 10 a. m. service and the 11 a. m. discussion group. Schley plans to enter a theological seminary in September and study for the Episcopal Priesthood.

The public is invited to the service and discussion. Theological Education Sunday is observed each year in the Episcopal Churches on the fourth Sunday in January. On that day, focus is made on the theological schools of the church and a special offering is taken which is sent to one or more of the theological seminaries.

The goal for St. Thomas' T. E. Offering is $1 per communicant and the offering will be sent to the Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest in Austin.

Cub Scouts Hold Tuesday Meeting

Cub Scout Den 4, Pack 51 held a meeting Tuesday where they finished picture projects they started last week.

The meeting was opened with the Scout Promise and refreshments were furnished by Craig Gallagher.

Those present were Danny Romo, Bobby Torres, Barry Morgan, Felix Soliz, Gary Vogel, Roger Torres, Craig Gallagher and Raymond Torres.

CONFIRMED SUSPICION BOURNEMOUTH, England — Martin Law scoffed when he was told that a ticking in his bedroom wall forecast a family death. But two months after the noise began in his Hampshire home, Law's grandmother died suddenly and the ticking stopped. "It's completely unaccountable," he said.

ICT STUDENT OF THE WEEK — Jim's Plumbing is the training station for this week's Industrial Cooperative Training student, Louie Baros. Baros, a junior at Hereford High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baros, 215 Lake Street. He is shown here with his employer, Jim Clark on the job.

Club Program Views Religion

Predicting an eventual weakening of denominational suspicion and loyalty, Dr. Gerald Mann, pastor of the First Baptist Church, spoke on Changing Trends in Religion in America as a guest of La Plata Study Club.

Hostess for the Tuesday evening meeting of the group was Mrs. Ken Rogers, and the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Tom Harkey, president.

Dr. Mann discussed two leading theological trends, the new secular theology and the theology of hope. He described the former as a concept which concentrates on man and his solution of social problems. The latter sees the only hope for our age in a transcendent God working for the betterment of mankind.

"To fulfill its role in our world, the institutional church must be a launching pad rather than a haven," Dr. Mann concluded.

"Members must come to worship, to be taught, and to equip themselves to go out into the world where ministry is needed and bring others in to be trained for the same purpose."

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. Frank Prowell, who had charge of the program. Attending were Mmes. John Thames, Harlan VanderZee, J.

Country Club Selects Marsh As Its President

Vigil Marsh has been named president of Hereford Country Club for the coming year.

In the election Tuesday night, John Smith was named vice president and Herman Ford secretary. Marsh succeeds Wayne Phillips, president the past two years.

New directors for three-year terms also were chosen. They are Dorit Smiley of Dimmitt, and Ben Childers, W. L. Davis Jr., Wayne Thomas and Melvin Young, all of Hereford.

Outgoing directors are Phillips, Ed Line, Frank Barrett, Lee Kent and J. H. McCrary. There are 10 carryover directors.

In Santa Fe, N. M., stands the oldest public building in the United States, the Palace of the Governors, built in 1610.

Texas Will Get Federal Money

Texas will receive well over two million dollars in federal funds for fish and wildlife work in 1971, according to figures announced today by the Secretary of the Interior.

The Lone Star State will receive $1,538,500 in wildlife funds and another $653,750 in fish restoration funds.

Wildlife funds are derived from the 11 percent excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition; money for fish projects comes from a similar levy of 10 percent on certain sport fishing equipment. Funds are made available through Interior's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. Under terms of the legislation setting up these two federal aid in fish and wildlife restoration programs, states receive amounts based on a formula using the state's area and the number of its hunting and fishing license holders. The states initiate the projects and are reimbursed for up to 75 percent of the cost.

Projects which qualify include acquisition of land and water for wildlife and public use, including hunting and fishing, improvement of wildlife habitat, and development of facilities as well as research.

Work Week Cut By Road Dept.

The Texas Highway Commission today reduced the normal work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees of the Texas Highway Department from 45 to 40 hours a week.

The change is effective March 1.

The action was taken to bring the work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees into line with those of salaried employees of the Department who have been on a regular 40-hour work week for several years.

The Commission has had under study for a considerable time a proposal to place all employees on a uniform work week without a reduction in gross pay. The action today implements this proposal.

Insurance Received For Living Expenses Are Tax Free

DALLAS — Insurance payments covering living expenses incurred by the taxpayer when his home is damaged by fire, storm, or other casualty may be tax free, Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for North Texas, said today.

The exclusion is available when the taxpayer must find temporary living quarters while his home is being repaired.

People who have been denied access to their homes by governmental authority because of a threat of such a casualty are also entitled to the exclusion, Mr. Campbell said.

The exclusion is limited to the excess of actual living expenses for the taxpayer and members of his household over normal living expenses.

MISSING NUTRITION

TORONTO — Children who go around chewing freeze-dried "space" food instead of eating their ordinary meals are not getting proper nutrition, a researcher from the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto said. Dr. David Turner told the Ontario Hospital Association that scientists with the United States space program learned that freeze-drying destroys most of the vitamins in food.

Adrian boys got beat by 2 points. Final score was 34 to 36.

George Harwood left Saturday for Lubbock, where he is attending Texas Tech.

Governor Approves Grants Perking Up State Communications Network

AUSTIN — Gov. Preston Smith has approved six action grants totaling $136,268 to five state planning regions and the Department of Public Safety to upgrade communication and information system as a means of speeding up apprehension of criminals.

Money for Hereford and Deaf Smith County improvements is included.

The grants were among 31 awards approved by the Governor on recommendation of the Texas Criminal Justice Council at its regular monthly meeting. Judge Joe Frazier Brown, executive director of the Council, called the six grants "a giant step" in enhancing law enforcement capabilities for coping with the state's burgeoning crime rate.

By means of the grants four regional law enforcement teletype networks will be expanded or upgraded with faster equipment.

Of the total, $25,607 went for improving and expanding the law enforcement teletype network to serve 19 of the 25 counties in the Texas Panhandle.

New teletype terminals will be installed or old ones upgraded in the police departments of Hereford, Amarillo, Dalhart, Friona, Borger, Pampa, Shamrock and Tulia, and in sheriff's offices of Deaf Smith, Castro, Randall, Potter, Collingsworth, Swisher, Moore and Hansford counties.

The individual cities and counties in the Panhandle will put up a total of $18,809 in matching funds.

The award to the Department of Public Safety will clear a road block to updating criminal histories for conversion to computer accessibility. The grant, for $13,700, will be used to employ inmate typists of the Texas Department of Corrections to expedite processing of fingerprint data, eliminating a 70-day backlog which has caused delay in updating criminal histories. To continue one year, the project is subject to an in-kind match of $11,123 by DPS.

Other grants designed to produce faster and more effective information and communication services were approved for the Permian Basin and Upper Rio Grande areas, Central Texas, East Texas and the El Paso Council of Governments.

Equipment for upgrading and expanding each of the teletype networks will be installed as soon as it is available, probably in three to six months. The new equipment will be compatible with the automatic teletype switching system which has been installed at Austin by the Department of Public Safety. With these new facilities, messages can be transmitted to any part of the state instantaneously, and eventually information can be obtained from state computer-stored crime files in a matter of minutes through the projected Texas Crime Information Center.

The Criminal Justice Council, responsible for statewide planning, administers grants to units of state and local government in 12 broad categories to assist them in carrying out projects for improving the criminal justice system.

Saturday Is Deadline For Show Entries

Nearly 300 animals are expected to be entered by the Saturday deadline in the annual Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show to be held Jan. 28-30 at the Bull Barn.

Jess Robinson, high school vocational agriculture teacher, said the show expects to attract about the same number of animals it has in the past which is about 80-90 calves, 200 barrows and 90 lambs.

The local Young Farmers chapter expects to enter about 65 barrows, 35 lambs and 14 calves and the remainder is expected to come from participants in the Four-County Show. The Four-County Show is open to entries from Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro and Oldham counties.

Work in preparing the Bull Barns for the annual show will begin today or Friday, Robinson said, although normally it is done the Monday before the Thursday show.

"We will be going to Amarillo to compete in the show there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday," he said, "so we will have to get things set up here before we leave."

The show will begin Thursday with the judging of the barrows at 2 p. m. On Friday at 10 a. m. the lambs will be judged and on the same day, at 2 p. m. the steers will be judged.

The sale will take place Saturday, beginning at 1 p. m.

Easter Lions Announce Sale

The Easter Lions Club will hold a Farm Equipment and Rummage Sale Friday and Saturday at the Easter Community Building, according to Dale Maxwell, a member of the organization.

The sale will begin at noon Friday and anyone who has farm equipment or other items they want to sell can take them to the sale. Maxwell said there will be no commission charge for the sale of any item but the Easter Lions will accept donations.

The Easter Community Building is located 15 miles south of Hereford and anyone who wants to reserve a booth for the sale of items can contact Bill Struve at 806-276-538.

Food will also be sold at the sale, Maxwell said.

Hudson's Bay Company wool blankets, woven in England, still have 4 or 3 1/2 lines in one corner. The marking originally meant that the blanket sold for 4 or 3 1/2 beaver pelts in Arctic trading posts.

High Plains Survey Tells Of West Texas Agriculture

LUBBOCK — A look at the 1970 High Plains Irrigation Survey quickly tells the story of agriculture in the 42-county area of West Texas.

The survey was prepared by Leon New of Lubbock area irrigation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, from information provided by county agricultural agents in the area. Copies are now available at any County Extension Office or at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock.

"Irrigated crop acreage increased throughout the area during 1970," points out New. "A total of 5,518,400 acres were irrigated, an increase of 74,200 acres, or 1.36 percent more than in 1969. Surface irrigation was used on about 80 percent of this acreage."

Perhaps one of the most valuable bits of information in the survey is the number of acres of all irrigated and dryland crops, both on a county and areawide basis.

"Crop acreage totaled 9,844,000 acres on the High Plains in 1970," says New. "Fifty-seven percent of the crop acreage was irrigated with grain sorghum, cotton and wheat topping the list. Grain sorghum accounted for 2,093,699 acres, or 38 percent cotton, 1,420,471 acres, or 26 percent; and wheat, 1,021,902 acres, or 19 percent of the irrigated acreage."

Looking at dryland production, grain sorghum accounted for 1,645,021 acres; wheat, 1,225,228 acres; and cotton 746,905 acres.

Accounting for the other irrigated areas were corn, 5 percent; soybeans, 3 percent, vegetables, 1 percent; and other crops, such as alfalfa, castors, forages, pasture and sugar beets, 8 percent.

"A significant change in acreage among the major crops was that of soybeans which decreased 23 percent from 1969," points out the specialist. "Corn acreage for grain was also down 7 percent while cotton acreage increased 2.5 percent and grain sorghum increased 2.1 percent. Vegetable acreage increased 1.5 percent and wheat acreage, 3.9 percent."

For the first time, the survey categorizes wheat for grain and that which is grazed out. Thirty-two percent of the wheat was grazed out in 1970, much being planted on diverted acres.

Examining the irrigation picture further, the survey shows that the number of irrigation wells increased slightly, about 1 percent, during the last year to 65,214. Says New, "This offsets the continuing decline in the capacity of individual wells. The average number of acres irrigated by each well is estimated at 84. In 1960, each well averaged 103 acres. The number of wells consistently delivering more than 700 gallons per minute has dwindled to only 28.7 percent of the total. More than 88 percent of the wells now lift water more than 125 feet."

In addition to the individual wells, 3,042 playa lakes and 2,079 recirculating pits were also pumped during 1970.

More than 8,800 sprinkler systems were used the past year, irrigating 1,218,500 acres, adds the specialist. Hand move systems are decreasing at the rate of 3 to 5 percent annually while wheel roll systems are increasing by that rate.

"The use of underground pipe is also continuing to increase over the High Plains area. Underground pipe now distributes water for 53 percent of the irrigatable with 75 percent of the irrigated farms using underground pipe to some extent," adds New.

Natural gas still remains the leader in running 62 percent of the pumping plant power units. Electricity accounts for 27 percent; LP gas, 10 percent; and diesel and gasoline, 1 percent.

The survey also presents a graphic view of some trends in irrigation over a number of years, explains the specialist. Irrigated acreage for the major crops being grown is shown over the past 10 years. Graphs show both the change in the pumping capacity and pumping lift of the area's irrigation wells since 1948. The number of irrigated acres, wells and average acres per well are also depicted by bar graphs.

"We hope every farmer in the area will obtain a copy of this survey and keep it with his farm records," says New. "It can serve as a valuable reference on irrigation, regardless of the type of farming operation. We also encourage agribusinessmen and industry representatives to pick up a copy of the survey."

BIT LATE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The wheels of the federal government do seem to need a bit of oil sometimes.

For instance: A Louisville woman recently received a form from the Chicago Region U. S. Civil Service Commission to fill out for a young friend who had used her as a reference in applying for summer work at the Census Bureau's office in nearby Jeffersonville, Ind.

The trouble is, the form, which dealt with character, loyalty, etc., arrived a week after the applicant had completed her work at the bureau and had returned to college.

Draft Board To Induct 10 In February

Some 27 young men from Deaf Smith County and three others will report on Feb. 2 to meet the local draft board's quota for the February draft call.

Of this total, 10 will show up for induction and 17 for physical and mental examinations.

The spokesman for the local board said the lottery numbers have not been assigned as yet, but it is expected that they will probably reach some men in the First Priority Selection Group after going through the Extended Priority Group.

The February draft call for Texas was set at 1,185, up from 905 in January. The national call for February is 17,900 men, all for the Army.

The Extended Priority Group includes all Selective Service registrants who were classified in Class I-A, I-A-O, or I-O on Dec. 31, 1970 and whose lottery number was reached by their local boards in ordering men for induction in 1970, but who, for one reason or another, were not ordered to report for induction. This group is made up of registrants who were born between 1944 and 1950 and who have not reached their 26th birthday.

Local boards will call men from 1971 First Priority Selection Group only if the call cannot be filled with men from the Extended Priority Selection Group.

Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, state director of Selective Service, said the 1971 First Priority Group is made up of registrants born in calendar year 1951 who are currently classified in Class I-A, I-A-O, or I-O.

The Criminal Justice Council, responsible for statewide planning, administers grants to units of state and local government in 12 broad categories to assist them in carrying out projects for improving the criminal justice system.

Accident Injures Teen-Age Girls

Donna Sargent, 16, injured in a two-car collision Tuesday on Holly Sugar Road, was listed in satisfactory condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday suffering from multiple contusions.

Miss Sargent, an occupant of a car driven by Jennie Herrington, 15, was thrown from the vehicle when the car collided with another driven by Robert J. Collier of 620 Stanton. Investigating Highway patrolman Don Samuels said Miss Herrington, after stopping at a stop sign, apparently did not see the car driven by Collier and pulled into his path.

The 1967 Opel driven by Miss Herrington received estimated damage of $1,200 and the 1963 Ford Galaxie driven by Collier received about $1,000 damage.

Samuels issued a citation for failure to yield right of way at a stop intersection.

Chemicals Conference Is Set Feb. 10-11
 LUBBOCK — The 18th annual Agricultural Chemicals Conference to be held at KoKo Palace in Lubbock Feb. 10-11 is designed especially for West Texas agriculture.

The lectures, papers and demonstrations will emphasize a theme of "prudent and profitable use of agricultural chemicals."

Between 300 and 400 persons are expected to attend the conference sponsored by the West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Institute in cooperation with Texas Tech University, Texas A&M University, Lubbock and

Record Dividends Due For Insured Veterans

The Veterans Administration regional office in Waco announced today that a record $275 million in dividends will be paid in 1971 to more than 4.1 million veterans holding World War I and World War II insurance policies.

The higher dividends are possible because of increased interest earning of the National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) trust funds. Dividends totaling $255 million and averaging about $64 apiece will go to about 4,000,000 veterans with NSLI (World War II) policies.

The 163,400 veterans with USGLI (World War I) policies will receive $20 million in dividends, averaging about $122 apiece. All dividends will be paid in 1971 on the anniversary dates of the policies.

Since payment of dividends will be automatic, veterans need not write to the VA to receive payment. Veterans who have instructed VA to retain their dividends will receive appropriate statements.

Cancer Society Plans Big Push

The Hereford unit of the American Cancer Society is laying down plans for its most active crusade yet in terms of getting across to the public the disease's seven danger signals, the services available through the society and the need for help on research funds.

A mobile unit will be brought to Hereford, probably next month, to give residents a graphic illustration of some of the facts about cancer.

The "cancer message" also will be spread through several publicity means, including all forms of the news media. Further, an attempt is being made to persuade the Dallas Cowboys to come to Hereford for a basketball game later this spring, with benefits going to the Cancer Society.

The service committee of the Cancer Society discussed at its last meeting ways it might let local residents realize what benefits are available without cost through the society. For example, such items as wheel chairs, hospital beds, gauze and bandages can be provided to the person stricken with cancer.

The society is providing transportation to Amarillo for persons who need cobalt treatment.

Eloise McDougal, on the Service Committee, urged directors of the Cancer Society to have families and friends of persons with cancer to contact her or the Rev. C. W. Allen concerning anything the person needs.

Jim McDowell, chairman of the advance gifts committee, reported $535.75 in contributions was forwarded to district headquarters in December. Since then, additional money has come in.

WT Vegetable Growers Plan Hereford Visit

The annual West Texas Vegetable Producers Conference will be held Feb. 3, in the Bull Barn in Hereford, County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride said Wednesday.

This will be a day-long meeting beginning at 8:30 a. m. The program is planned primarily for producers of vegetables in the field.

A barbecue, dutch treat style, will be served at lunch. The keynote address will feature the all-important topic of marketing, "How Texas Vegetable Growers Can Secure a Successful Future for the Texas Vegetable Industry by Working Together in a Strong Marketing Association."

Wayne Hawkins, manager of the North Florida Potato Exchange, Florida Sweet Corn

Exchange, Zellwood Sweet Corn Exchange and South Florida Polz Bean Association, will be the speaker.

Ed Garnett of Amarillo, farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will discuss the economic potential of vegetables and how this relates to "3.76 in '76," the Extension program designed to increase agricultural income in Texas by $1 billion by 1976.

Discussions of vegetable research will also be featured on the program. Dr. William Lipe of Lubbock, assistant professor of horticulture with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Dr. John Downes of Lubbock professor of agronomy at Texas Tech University, will discuss research conducted by Texas A&M University and Texas Tech, respectively.

Dr. John Larsen of College Station, Extension horticulturist-vegetables, will discuss adaptive research in vegetable seeding with vermiculite.

Other topics which should be of interest to vegetable producers include "Vegetable Response to Band Placement of Phosphorus, Mechanization of Onion Harvest, Symptoms and Control of Major Potato Diseases and Potato Tuber Moth."

Discussing these topics will be Dr. Billy Hipp of Weslaco, associate professor of soil chemistry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station; James Hatton of Weslaco, Extension agricultural engineer, Dr. Robert Berry of Lubbock, Extension plant pathologist; and Dr. Roland Roberts, also of Lubbock, Extension vegetable specialist.

Bruce Parr, vegetable producer at Friona and president of the West Texas Vegetable Council, will report on the activities of the West Texas Vegetable Marketing Association and will preside at a brief meeting of the council during which directors will be elected.

A roundtable panel discussion on vegetable marketing and production will wrap up the program. Featured will be the program speakers as well as David Fitts, a USDA marketing list; Thomas Longbrake of Weslaco, Extension vegetable specialist; and Floyd Butler, Jr. vegetable producer at San Angelo.

According to McBride, the meeting is being sponsored by the Extension Service and the West Texas Vegetable Council. It is designed to present vital information on marketing and production of West Texas vegetables and to encourage growers to unite and support a coordinated Extension program of problem-solving and result demonstrations to be conducted this year.

McBride encouraged all vegetable producers in Deaf Smith County to make plans now to attend this important conference.

Craft Practice Interests YHT

A new handcraft was practiced, and plans for coming events were made in the Hereford Chapter, Young Homemakers of America, at a meeting in LaPlata School Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Dorman Duggan and a guest, Mrs. Bob Coker, showed articles made by cameo painting, and each one present tried the craft by painting a design on fabrics.

Discussion of plans for the annual Young Homemakers-Young Farmers award banquet featured the business session, with Mrs. Bud Thomas presiding. The banquet is set for 7:30 p. m. Feb. 13 at the Caisson House.

Activity Days for Young Homemakers of this area were announced for late April and early May, with workshops slated at West Texas State University, Wayland College, South Plains College and Clarendon College.

At the next chapter meeting here, Feb. 2, a lesson in toile painting will be given by a guest, Bonnie Brandt.

Mrs. Ed Saunders was welcomed as a new member, Mrs. Don Anderson and Mrs. Kenny Hagar as guests.

Mrs. John Drake served refreshments to them and to Mmes. Connie Urbanczyk, Floyd Neill, Bud Kelly, Jim Culpeper, Leland Shelton, Charles Weatherford, Linda Newton, Thomas and those on program.

Mrs. Weatherford and Mrs. Culpepper, who represented the chapter at a recent state YHT convention in Fort Worth, reported on that event.

During the silver strike at Treasure City, Nevada, in the 1870's, two miners built a house from rocks picked up at their claim. Later, when their mine gave out, the two "mined" their home for $75,000 in silver.

Science Fair Set For Feb. 23-25

The Hereford Science Fair will be staged in the Bull Barn Feb. 23-25, coordinator Rodney Laubhan disclosed Wednesday.

Students will bring their exhibits to the Bull Barn the first two days — Tuesday and Wednesday — and they will be judged the evening of the 24th. The public will be invited to view the exhibits the 25th. Elementary entries for the Science Fair will be handled differently this year because of space problems, Laubhan said. Each elementary school and St. Anthony's school will have eliminations within the school Feb. 15-19, awarding first through fourth places for each of seven categories.

The seven first-place winners of each of the seven schools will then advance to the Bull Barn for further judging. In the past, all entries went directly to the Bull Barn for judging there, with no prior elimination.

The exhibits may concern any topic of science. Each entry must meet specifications of the Hereford Science Fair 1971 Handbook for Exhibitors and Advisers. Students must enter their exhibits through their science fair representative.

The best exhibits of each school will be allowed to compete in the Panhandle Science Fair in Amarillo later in the spring.

DAR Sets Annual Business Meet

Annual reports of committees and election of officers for next year are important items scheduled in the annual business meeting of Los Ciboleros Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, this afternoon.

A change in the meeting place has been announced: Mrs. H. M. Booser and Mrs. Leroy Williamson will be hostesses in Community Center at 4 p. m.

Winter CFWC Lunch Planned

A trading table will be a feature of the winter luncheon of Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, board members decided at a meeting Tuesday in the home of the president, Mrs. C. D. Kelton. The covered dish luncheon will be at 12:30 p. m. Jan. 29 in Community Center, open to all interested women of the county. Hostess clubs will be Hereford Garden, Ceramic Art and Summerfield Study. Each woman who attends the luncheon is asked to bring a "white elephant" item for the trading table, to be sold and the money added to the Federation treasury. Mrs. H. E. Henslee was appointed chairman of this project. Mrs. Kelton announced that members of all Hereford women's clubs will be invited for the spring Federation meeting, a silver tea April 29. It was decided also to send invitations to Federated clubs in neighboring cities.

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
FROM OUR FILES of recipes which good cooks have given us, but we were not able to use in regular foods features, a couple have come to light that you might want to try—but not if you are on a diet to lose weight.

First is one from Mrs. J. B. Caraway of Dawn, and I can vouch for it because she gave me a sample of the delicious candy. She made it for Christmas, but I assure you it would be good on Groundhog Day, or Tuesday, or any day.

AUNT NELLIE'S CARAMELS
In a large heavy saucepan place 2 cups sugar, 1 cup half-and-half cream, 1 cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup dark corn syrup, and ½ pound butter.

Bring this mixture to a boil and slowly add 1 more cup of half-and-half. Boil slowly until

Sweetbriar Shop Has Anniversary

The local manager of the Sweetbriar Shop has announced 1971 as the year of Sweetbriar's 40th anniversary.

The theme of all advertising during the year will be "40 Years of Fashion Leadership," according to the manager, Mrs. Nadine Jeter.

Sweetbriar Shops, Inc., was founded in 1931, starting with three small shops in Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas. There now are 55 fashion shops in 15 Western states. The home office of Sweetbriar is in Denver.

Film And Talk Scheduled For Church Program

A film and discussion on church unity will be presented in a meeting at 7:30 p. m. today in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church, sponsored by the ecumenical division of Church Women United.

The public is invited for this program, which is a part of an annual emphasis by Church Women United on January as a month for study and discussion of the brotherhood of all Christian churches.

The Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the host church, will lead discussion after the film showing.

Remove from heat and stir in 1 tablespoon vanilla and 2 cups finely chopped pecans. Pour into a large shallow pan that has been well buttered. Allow to cool, then cut into bite size pieces and wrap each piece in a square of waxed paper. Store in an air-tight container.

WITH HER OWN comments in parenthesis Mrs. Ted Acton furnished this recipe for a cake which she says deserves its name because it's the biggest and best.

TEXAS PECAN CAKE
3 cups sugar
3½ sticks margarine (corn oil)

7 eggs, beaten separately
5 cups cake flour, sifted
2 oz. lemon extract
1 tsp. soda
1 qt. pecan chopped
1 lb. candied pineapple, cut fine
½ lb. red candied cherries, cut fine.

Cream sugar and margarine, add well beaten egg yolks, then half the sifted flour, the soda and extract. Add 2 more cups flour. (By this time it's in a dishpan and you're using your hands to mix it, if you take my advice.)

Flour the fruit with the remaining half-cup of flour. Add fruit and nuts to the mixture. Beat egg whites stiff and fold in gently.

Bake in (large) tube pan lined with wax paper. Place foil com-

Hendon Named To Honor Roll

Paul Hendon, son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugne Hendon, was named to the honor roll at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Hendon had a grade point of 2.4 on a 3.0 scale. He has transferred to West Texas State University for the spring semester.

His brother, Steve, a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School, has also transferred to West Texas State University for the spring semester.

Paul is a 1970 graduate of Hereford High School.

Sausage making, which goes back as far as recorded history, originated as a means of preserving meat.

pletely around the pan. Bake at 250 degrees for 4 hours and 45 minutes. (You need not look at it at all. Have the foil sort of rounded on top).

EDITOR'S NOTE: Next, you should have some friends in for coffee and cake, and be sure to put my name on the list!

Maddaford Is Named Athlete Of The Year

PORTALES — Rex Maddaford, Eastern New Mexico University freshman distance runner, was named the Track Athlete of the Year, and the Athlete of the Year, All Sports, Sunday by the Panhandle Hall of Fame in Amarillo.

In naming Maddaford the top athlete of the year, the Hall of Fame noted his outstanding record of victories during the course of his first year of competition.

A native of Auckland, New Zealand, Maddaford was named to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) All-American Cross Country Team, and the NAIA All-American Track team during 1970.

He won the national titles in the three and six-mile runs last year during the outdoor track championships, and then placed first in the cross country championships in November.

Maddaford has also set the NAIA national records for the one and three-mile races, and was named the outstanding athlete at three meets during the 1970 track season.
