The annual Hereford Lions Club Christmas party was held at the Bull Barn Thursday night with approximately 80 Girlstown, U.S.A., girls numbered as special guests among the more than 300 in attendance. On behalf of the club, president Speedy Nieman presented a $3,000 check to Girlstown. The money represented proceeds from the annual Girlstown Auction here. Santa Claus gave special "gag" gifts at the party, including a genuine hogs head to special guest Mayor Bartley Dowell (left). Center photo shows Santa distributing candy canes. A happy Girlstown smile is exhibited at right, after one of the girls opened a gift from her Lion "father" for the night.

U.S. REP. KENT HANCE held a good "town-hall" type meeting here last week. We were impressed with the congressman's down-to-earth report on the issues. He handles himself well, and we believe the citizens attending the meeting appreciated his candor and forthright responses.

Hance had an informative, and other-side-of-the-coin, report on the proposed loan guarantee to Chrysler Corporation. Like many folks, said Hance, his first reaction was against such a proposal. But the facts of the issue, which are not all publicized too well, make the plan appear much better, according to the congressman.

First, he points out, it should be stressed that the proposal is for a loan guarantee. The $1.5 billion would be repaid by Chrysler. Hance stated that the loan guarantee to Lockheed some years ago worked out well, that the government actually made money on the loan.

And, he points to the economic facts involved in the question. If 500,000 employees lost their jobs, it would mean payments of $1.5 billion in unemployment benefits, alone. When you add in $1.2 billion in pension funds and other economic losses, it makes more sense to consider the guaranteed loan, says Hance.

Our U.S. representative reported that a vote on the controversial SALT II treaty will not take place this year. Right now, says Hance, the treaty would not pass in Congress.

Hance Hopes Independents Exempt from Oil Profits Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. Kent Hance, D-Texas, is looking for signatures so he can show a conference committee there is support in the House for exempting independent oil producers from the windfall profits tax.

The congressman from Lubbock announced Thursday he will introduce a bill essentially duplicating the provisions of the exemption passed by the Senate.

"You can think of it as a petition," a Hance staff member, who asked not to be identified by name, explained. "All we're doing it for is just to get names. It's a quick way to get it on record."

Front Drops Snow on Local Area

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

An upper air weather disturbance triggered pre-Christmas snowfall in the Hereford area Thursday afternoon and the white flakes continued to fall well into the night, leaving accumulations of up to two inches on the ground this morning.

The promise of snow hung over the Hereford vicinity for most of the day Thursday, with the morning bringing light mist that eventually gave way to the first flakes of snow by mid-afternoon.

Snow fell relatively uniformly in the immediate Hereford area, as well as on points to the east and west in Deaf Smith County.

The white flakes bring a limited but useful amount of moisture to the local wheat crop, which has been lagging due to dry conditions.

Snowfall of from 1 1/2 to 2 inches was recorded in the city of Hereford, with drifting at a minimum despite winds which accompanied the snowfall in its early stages.

Mrs. Clint Homfeld estimated snowfall at 1 1/2 to 2 inches at the Homfeld farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford in dryland wheat country, and added that the snow was relatively wet.

Most of the powder fell during the night at the Homfeld farm.

Farther to the west, in the Clovis area, snowfall of up to four inches was (See SNOW, Page 2)

Defense Spending—Ploy for SALT?

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some critics of the strategic arms limitation agreement are questioning whether President Carter's plan for increased defense spending is a temporary ploy to win Senate votes for the treaty.

"Is this a quick fix that's going to disappear after we vote on SALT?" Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., asked Thursday.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown, returning today for a second day of grilling by the Senate Armed Services Committee, insisted that Carter's program is a "long term commitment to steady and sustained increases in the defense program."

Terming the figures "a tremendous increase," Jackson said, "We really have a right to know if this is a sincere effort, and I commend you if it is."

another treaty opponent, noted: "It would seem the administration has changed its tune overnight. It's a more pleasant tune."

Summing up the reaction of several colleagues, Sen. William Cohen, R-Maine, told Brown, "I think you sense a degree of skepticism among the members."

The Carter proposal is for $157 million in military budget authority for fiscal 1981, an increase of 5.6 percent over fiscal 1980 after discounting for inflation. The long-range program calls for increases averaging 4.85 percent a year through 1985.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., who has linked his vote on SALT to higher defense spending, said the plan is "a compelling statement by the Carter administration."

DSG Ambulance Rolls

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith General Hospital Ambulance Service had been in operation officially for only two hours when it received its first call Thursday afternoon, but hospital administrator Jim Bullard said the initial run couldn't have gone much smoother.

"We were extremely pleased. Our response time was beautiful. We feel quite confident now because our response time was excellent and the care we delivered was good. We feel quite confident about running the ambulance," Bullard said.

Directors of Hereford's two funeral homes—Gilliland-Watson and Smith & Co.—turned over their vehicles to the hospital Thursday. Ron Smith brought Bullard his 1976 Chevrolet Suburban Thursday morning, and Gilliland turned over the keys to his 1973 GMC van in the afternoon.

The hospital crew responded to the call in the Smith & Co. vehicle.

The call, which came from the Hereford Police Department, concerned a heart-attack victim in the 500 block of W.4th and was taken by a hospital switchboard operator. She, in turn, summoned the ambulance crew on the hospital's paging system with the words "mobile stat," a phrase invented by nursing supervisor Doris Morgan which is only used in emergency calls.

The police call came in at exactly 2 p.m. The ambulance, manned by driver Jap Dickerson, Mrs. Morgan, respiratory therapist Shawn Poland and emergency-room technician David Sledge, was on the road at 2:01, arrived at the patient's residence more than 12 blocks away at 2:03, left for the hospital with the victim at 2:09 and arrived at Deaf Smith General at 2:12—all in a snowstorm.

J.C. Allred looked up from the large-print Bible he was reading, smiled broadly and said, "So you want to hear some stories. Well, I got some."

The King's Manor Methodist Home resident then proceeded to make it obvious that he's as familiar with the life of Deaf Smith County as any of its residents. More so than most, in fact, because Allred, who is 94 and has the memory of someone 24, moved to the county in 1900.

"I like this snow we got last night, but it's not much snow," Allred said. "I've seen lots of snows since I've been in this part of the country."

"In 1918, I was on our ranch out here, and it snowed a foot deep. It melted off in one day. The water was across the grass in my pasture—it looked just like a lake. You couldn't see the grass or anything."

"We came here from Vernon. I was about 16, and I came up here with my father and my family. I rode horseback from Vernon. I was born on a horse—I don't remember when I learned to ride."

"My family came in a covered wagon with a chuck box on the back I rode a horse because there wasn't enough room in the wagon."

"Then, after we came here, I had to ride back down to Vernon to get our cattle, and I rove our cattle from Vernon to our Deaf Smith County ranch."

"The first time I saw Hereford, it was just a bunch of windmills and wells. It was just 2-years-old. All it really was, was ranch country."

"I've seen antelope grazing all over this grass where Hereford sits now. I could count 75 antelope coming from our ranch into Hereford every day."

"There was only one house."

"I worked in the cattle business, and I farmed, for a long time."

"I married Della McClain. The McClains had bought the Dick Ellis ranch south of us. I got acquainted with her in church. We had a revival at the Womble school house. Four of us got converted at that revival, and we organized the Palo Duro Church in that little school house in 1901."

"Well, I met Della in church, and I married her when I was 22. We were married 66 years. In that day and time, we married for keeps—divorce was terrible; we never thought of such a thing."

Doctors to Check

Shah in San Antonio

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Lawyers for the deposed shah of Iran say doctors who treated him in New York planned to fly to San Antonio today to determine if the former monarch needs further surgery.

"The doctors at Lackland Air Force Base have come to believe that his condition may have worsened," the lawyers said in a motion filed in a state district court here Thursday.

However, a source close to the shah at Lackland Air Force Base said late Thursday night that the former ruler appeared to be "fine."

"He felt ill a couple of days last week, but that is over with. He is complaining about the bad weather but that is all," the source said.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi arrived at the base Dec. 2 to recuperate from cancer and gall bladder surgery he received in New York.

The motion, a copy of which was obtained by WFAA Radio reporter Bob West, attempts to quash a subpoena requiring the deposed monarch to give a deposition in a $6 million dollar lawsuit against Bell Helicopter International, Inc.

The suit was filed by 69 former pilots who allege they were fired after they organized a union to enforce the terms of a contract to train Iranian military pilots.

U.S. Farm Production

Can't Offset Declines

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farm production in the United States set new records, this year, but that was not enough to offset declines in the rest of the world, says the Agriculture Department.

World agricultural production dropped in 1979 for the first time in seven years, with virtually all of the decline occurring in developed countries, the department said Thursday.

"Production in the developed countries, including the USSR and Eastern Europe, fell almost 3 percent in 1979, while output in the developing countries held nearly steady," the department's outlook board said.

Agricultural output dropped "in all major industrialized countries, except in the United States," including a 12 percent decline in the Soviet Union's overall output, largely because of a sharply reduced grain harvest, the report said.

In the United States, where farmers harvested bumper crops this year, including corn, wheat, soybeans, cotton and rice, agricultural output climbed 5 percent above the 1978 level, it said.

"Among the developing countries, output increases in East Asia, Latin America and Pakistan offset declines in India and West Asia," it said.

Measured on a per capita basis, food production in 1979 declined 3.3 percent from last year, indicating that population increases continue to put pressure on global supplies.

Carter, Rosalyn

Disagree on ERA

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter and his wife, Rosalynn, have disagreed more vehemently on how to handle a touchy Equal Rights Amendment lawsuit than on anything else in the last two years, says a White House official who spoke off the record.

The Carters also believe the president's position on that issue cost him the support of the National Organization for Women, which voted last weekend not to endorse him for re-election.

The issue is whether the Justice Department should press to remove U.S. District Judge Marion Callister, a member of the hierarchy of the Mormon Church, from a suit challenging the constitutionality of Congress' extension of the deadline for states to ratify the ERA.

The Mormon Church officially opposes both the ERA itself and the extension of the ratification deadline. But Callister has refused to remove himself from the case, saying he will render an impartial decision.

Mrs. Carter reportedly felt "very strongly" that the government should appeal Callister's decision. The president felt it should not.

At a meeting Thursday with representatives of 17 women's groups, but not NOW, Carter said the issue had caused great friction between him and his wife, according to Sarah Weddington, the president's assistant or women's issues.

Western Observers

May Visit Hostages

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) - Observers predict a team of Western ambassadors will visit the 50 Americans held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran in the next day or two as Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's regime steps up its efforts to woo the international community.

Ambassadors from a dozen countries met Thursday with Foreign Minister Sadeq Ghotbzadeh to discuss the visits, only hours after Khomeini gave the go-ahead for independent observers to see the Americans, held captive since Nov. 4. The diplomats were from Australia, Austria, Canada, Denmark, Finland, Greece, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

The Khomeini regime also announced it was sending a full ambassador to represent Iran at the United Nations. A U.N. spokesman said the arrival of Ambassador Mansour Farhang "will facilitate" negotiations between Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and Iranian authorities.

Farhang is an associate professor of government at California State University in Sacramento. William Dorman, a university colleague, said in an interview Thursday that Farhang has been "deeply distressed" by the hostage-taking in Tehran and is "totally committed as a human being" to helping to resolve it.

DALLAS (AP) - The City Council has decided to ban X-rated motion pictures but allow R-rated films to be shown on cable television when the city goes after franchise bids next year.

The council had considered offering bids only to cable companies that would agree to ban R-rated movies, but consultant Harold Horn warned the council the city might have trouble finding bidders if such restrictions were imposed.

"Most cable companies don't even show movies that are rated X," Horn said. "But when you get to R-rated, some serious economic issues are raised."

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - More than 900 Texas cities will receive $76.6 million as their December share of the local sales taxes collected along with the state sales taxes.

The one-cent sales tax allocations boost local tax payments to $467 million for 1979, Comptroller Bob Bullock said. That is $42.2 million more than 1978.

Bullock said the December checks do not include taxes from purchases by Christmas or holiday shoppers since returns covering those periods are not due until after the first of the year.

Houston got the largest December check of $15.8 million, up 9 percent over 1978. Dallas got $8.6 million, up 10 percent; San Antonio $4.1 million, up 5 percent; Fort Worth $2.8 million, up 5 percent.

South Park ISD Tagged by Feds

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) - The South Park Independent School District has been listed by the government as the fourth most segregated school district in the nation, but local officials are baffled by their ranking.

"It is a complete mystery to us," Superintendent Mike Taylor said Thursday. "We don't have any complaints against us. We're in complete compliance" with Department of Health, Education and Welfare regulation. "We are quite shocked."

Six other Texas school districts were ranked in the top 100 in a list released by HEW's Office of Civil Rights - Lubbock was 20th, Port Arthur, 30th; Ector County 31st; Excelsior, 34th; Ysleta, 74th; and Austin, 83rd.

The Office of Civil Rights surveyed and ranked 6,069 districts based on their responses to a federal civil rights survey of elementary and secondary schools.

Taylor said he did not recall receiving any such questionnaire at the South Park Independent School District, which is just outside Beaumont. He said his district was 62 percent white and 38 percent minorities.

"I don't know what our problem is. The regional office of HEW in Dallas monitors us, and we have a clean bill of health," he said.

There are about 16,000 districts in the nation, but the agency said the survey covered most major districts and a majority of students in the nation's public schools.

The agency released the lists, representing its findings of segregation in various educational areas, at the request of The Associated Press. The reports were sent to HEW's regional civil rights offices to help investigators decide which districts should be reviewed this year.

The school district ranked as the most segregated in the nation was Mississippi's Leflore County. But HEW officials cautioned that there could be errors in the rankings. Leflore Superintendent Otis H. Allen said his county had "always complied with federal orders" and that one of the problems was the great number of whites who entered private schools when integration was ordered. Of 5,000 students in the county's public schools, 90 percent are black, he said.

Los Angeles ranked worst in what the agency called overrepresentation of minorities in student suspensions, as well as on a separate list of districts with a disproportionate number of minorities in special education programs.

Statistics for Chicago, which the Justice Department recently said is operating its school system in a segregated manner, were not included. HEW officials said Chicago did not respond to their questionnaire. The report also said statistics submitted by New York City had many errors.

Larry Velez, an agency spokesman, noted that "this is not a determination of violation" of federal law.

Naval hero John Paul Jones uttered his famous "I have not yet begun to fight" in 1779 in a battle against the British.

Only One Accident Reported

Hereford police Thursday investigated only one traffic accident on snow-slick city streets and received reports of three cases of vandalism and two harassing telephone calls.

Nora Guerrero, 325 Ave. B, reported that a screen on her residence had been cut. Police said a similar incident had happened previously at her house.

Joe Hamilton, 701 E. 4th, and Linda Pagett, 606 Ave. G, reported Thursday that someone rubbed black shoe polish over their cars.

A complainant called in a report that someone was either popping firecrackers or shooting a gun on E. Highway 60 early this morning, but investigating officers could not find the source of the disturbance.

Police also assisted Deaf Smith General Hospital on its first ambulance run Thursday afternoon.

One traffic citation was issued during the day.

Local Coeds Take Part In 'Nutcracker' Ballet

CANYON — West Texas State University students will dance in the Lone Star Ballet's production of "The Nutcracker" today and Saturday, Dec. 15 at 8 p.m. and in a matinee on Sunday, Dec. 16, at 3 p.m. in the Amarillo Civic Auditorium. Neil Hess, who has taught dance at WTSU since 1977, is the artistic director of the Lone Star Ballet. The ballet was organized in the summer of 1976 as a non-profit corporation. In 1978, a group of supporters organized to form the Lone Star Ballet Guild. The purpose of the group is to give support to the art of dance in the Panhandle and to help the developing Lone Star Ballet Company. This is the ninth season for "The Nutcracker." This is only the second year that the ballet has been performed in the civic auditorium. In previous years, the production was performed at Tascosa High School.

The ballet portrays a night of Christmas magic in the Siberhaus's parlor. Clara, a small child, is given the gift of a nutcracker in the shape of a man. He becomes transformed into a prince and leads her through a world of animation and enchantment. WTSU dance students performing in the Christmas production include Bruce Ballard, Amarillo freshman; Estella Levy, El Paso senior; Laura Ellis, Friona freshman; Quentin Clark, Denton sophomore; Rick Cross, Plainview freshman; Patti Hendon, Hereford sophomore; Mark Malcolm, Reseda, Calif. freshman; John Paul Mauldin, Amarillo freshman; Caprice Scott, Ranger freshman; Jeanne Hair, Hereford senior; and Curtis Lofton, Enid, Okla., senior.

Bangle Day Set Tomorrow at Mall

Bangles depicting Santa Claus will be presented Saturday to individuals who donate to the American Lung Association. Accepting donations Saturday in Sugarland Mall will be members of Hereford Key Club. Bangle Day is an annual fund-raising event of the Lung Association with all proceeds going toward the fight against respiratory diseases, such as emphysema, bronchitis, asthma and tuberculosis. Members of Hereford Leo Club recently supported the Lung Association by selling bangles at the city's banks. Local residents are urged to support the Bangle Day project with tax-deductible donations.

Gifts to the Lung Association are also being accepted now through the annual Christmas Seal campaign. Contributions may be sent to Christmas Seals, American Lung Association of Texas, P.O. Box 15327, Austin, Tx. 78761. The Lung Association recently sponsored an update seminar on respiratory diseases at Deaf Smith General Hospital for local nurses and therapists. Teaching the clinic were Top of Texas council member Ted Nicklaus, M. D. of Amarillo and Gary Gerard, RRT. Further information about the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the Lung Association is available from Mrs. O.A. Smith.

Ann Landers

Sick-at-Heart Mother

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I knew my daughter was having sex with her boyfriend but I did not take your advice and put her on the pill, because I felt it would be condoning her actions. Instead, I told her to quit fooling around. Now she is pregnant and I am heartsick. "Eve" wants a big church wedding. My head says no, but I hate to deny her this. She wants it so badly. I'd like to suggest abortion, but I know she would never agree. Her boyfriend is a high school drop-out and a bum. If "Eve" has this baby, we'll either have to pay for it or let the county welfare pay, since they have no money. Then we'll probably have to support them. I don't know which way to turn. Please advise.—A Sick-At-Heart Mother

DEAR MOTHER: You give me no clue as to "Eve's" age, if her boyfriend is employed, and whether or not you've discussed the problem with his parents. Could or would they help? Talk this over with your clergyman, or go to the Family Service Assn. for some guidance. You've given me too little to go on.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have read several letters in your column from sons and daughters who have suffered guilt and remorse because they neglected their elderly parents. Here is the other side:

I'm a woman who spent my life caring for my father and mother. Father passed away eight years ago. Mother died recently. She was in her late 80's. I never married. It wasn't possible. I felt my first responsibility was to my parents. I have no friends because I was too involved with parental responsibilities to meet people and cultivate friendships. I've talked with a minister about my loneliness. He praised self-sacrifice—said I was a wonderful daughter. I spoke with my doctor. He said I have the normal physical problems for a person my age. (Precious little comfort from either one of them.) May I be Ann Landers for a moment? Here's a message for all children who have aging parents: Find a middle road. Don't forget that you, too, are a person who deserves consideration. I am over 50 and filled with rage because I now know that life has passed me by.—Alone And Sorry

DEAR ALONE: Don't look back. Look ahead. It may not be too late. Call the Chamber of Commerce and find out what goes on in your city. I also recommend adult night school classes, church and political groups. Good luck to you, dear.

Your name is legion. DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter will be married in a few months, and we are having problems over the reception. My husband and I are simple people of modest means. We want to have something nice but not lavish. Frankly, we can't afford to go overboard. Our daughter's future in-laws are party people. They are pressing for an elegant affair and have offered to split the cost. My husband refuses to allow this. Our daughter changes her mind every day. Please advise. We are going crazy.—Schroom Lake, N.Y.

DEAR N.Y.: Tell your daughter and her future in-laws that the wedding reception is going to be in keeping with your financial status, and the decision is final. End of hassle.

BACK! BACK! YOU HATE LINGS! CLOSE IT, LONTOO! QUICKLY!

WHEN THAT WAS CLOSE!

NOW CAN YOU SEE WHY WE MUST QUICKLY DETERMINE WHETHER THIS PLANET IS SUITABLE FOR COLONIZATION?

YES, BUT HOW WILL YOU EVALUATE THE INTELLIGENCE RANGE OF ITS TWO-LEGGED INHABITANTS?

I KNOW... BUT A MEGAWATT, PLASTICIZED AS ONE OF THE EARTHLINGS, CAN!

Cowboy-Redskin Game Probably For Title; Oakland Has Shot at Playoff Berth

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

While everyone has been looking at the top of the American Conference's divisions to see who's in or out of the playoffs, the Oakland Raiders have been steadily, quietly nestling themselves into position for a postseason berth.

And with some help on Monday night they can clinch one.

They face the Seattle Seahawks, a team which beat them 27-10 early in the season but a team now out of contention.

If the Raiders win their fourth straight game, it'll put them halfway toward their goal of a playoff position. The other half will be decided Monday night, when Denver and San Diego play for the championship of the AFC West. If the Chargers win, they take the title and Oakland sees into a wild-card berth. But if the Broncos take the game, they win the crown, the Chargers settle for the wild card and Oakland goes home empty-handed.

"We're fighting for our lives," says Raiders Coach Tom Flores, completing his first season as John Madden's successor and trying to guide Oakland back into the playoffs they missed last year for the first time in seven seasons. "It's been a crazy year. A lot of things still can happen."

Also on Sunday it's Cleveland at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Houston, Buffalo at Pittsburgh, Washington at Dallas, Kansas City at Tampa Bay, St. Louis at Chicago, Baltimore at the New York Giants, Minnesota at New England, San Francisco at Atlanta and New Orleans at Los Angeles. Saturday's games are the New York Jets at Miami and Green Bay at Detroit.

Flores says Oakland is humming with anticipation. "The whole town became alive," Flores noted. "Suddenly it's kind of like the old days here."

In Cleveland, the fans are thinking playoffs, too. "Everywhere I go," says Browns defensive end Lyle Alzado, "people come up to me and they don't say, 'I hope you go to the playoffs.' They say, 'You better go to the playoffs!'"

The Browns really need help to sneak into the playoffs. They need losses by Denver and Oakland. "We've had one foot on a banana peel and one foot in the graveyard, but we've stayed alive," says Cleveland Coach Sam Rutigliano.

Philadelphia and Houston are each guaranteed a playoff position but each wants more, namely a title. The odds of either team getting one is slim, though.

The Eagles not only have to beat Houston but they need a tie in the Washington-Dallas game — and there have only been three ties in the 1,190 games played since the NFL went to sudden-death overtime during the regular season. It's more likely the Cowboys or Redskins will win and take the National Conference East crown.

For the Oilers to win the AFC Central title, they need an upset victory by Buffalo over the defending Super Bowl champions, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bucs, Chargers, Dallas Are Picked to Win Big Pro Tilts

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

If you thought it was tough for Tampa Bay to secure its first victory ever — that one came after 26 consecutive losses — you haven't been watching the Bucs lately.

With four games left in the season, they needed one victory to clinch the National Football Conference Central Division crown. With one week to go, they still need that one victory.

It would be easy to jump all over the Bucs and say nasty things about apples in their throats and stuff like that. But you won't hear that here. The Pro Picker has loyalty. He thought they'd beat Minnesota, Chicago and San Francisco and they didn't. He thinks they'll beat Kansas City and this time, they'd better.

Their loss last week was part of a 6-8 wipeout that left the season's log at 125-82, .604 with one week to go.

The picks: TAMPA BAY 16, KANSAS CITY 13: It won't be easy, but at home the Bucs should prevail. Overcoming the pressure will make it sweeter.

CHICAGO 24, ST. LOUIS 13: Too bad for the Bears but they couldn't expect the Bucs to keep losing forever, could they?

SAN DIEGO 23, DENVER 10 (Monday night): There are people who think the Chargers will be in the Super Bowl when the playoffs end. Maybe not, but the Broncos won't even be in the playoffs when they begin.

DALLAS 24, WASHINGTON 20: No love lost here — only a division title for the loser. And, in the case of the Redskins, perhaps a playoff berth.

PITTSBURGH 30, BUFFALO 14: The Steelers wrap up the AFC Central crown, finally. Surprised about that, aren't you?

HOUSTON 21, PHILADELPHIA 17: Earl Campbell vs. Wilbert Montgomery. We'll take Campbell.

OAKLAND 26, SEATTLE 20: The Raiders owe this one to the Seahawks, who've beaten them three straight times.

CLEVELAND 19, CINCINNATI 10: Even if they don't make it to the playoffs...and there are too many "ifs" involved for them to expect to...it's been a fine year for the Browns.

N.Y. JETS 23, MIAMI 17 (Saturday): Yeah, we know all about the Dolphins at home. Did you know, though, that the Jets have beaten them three straight times?

N.Y. GIANTS 17, BALTIMORE 13: Remember 1958 and pro football's "greatest game?" This one won't challenge for that designation.

LOS ANGELES 23, NEW ORLEANS 14: Where are all of Ray Malavasi's critics now that the banged-up Rams have won the division again?

NEW ENGLAND 23, MINNESOTA 7: How can a team as talented as the Patriots be out of the playoffs?

GREEN BAY 17, DETROIT 10 (Saturday): A win won't salvage the sorry season for either of these clubs. But it would be nicer than a loss.

ATLANTA 21, SAN FRANCISCO 10: Good-bye O.J., it's been great.

Dutton 'Grateful' To Be With Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — If Tom Landry told John Dutton to move to running back John Dutton would move to running back.

If Tom Landry told John Dutton to move to free safety John Dutton would move to free safety.

"I'm so grateful that I'd do anything Dallas wanted me to do except shoot someone," is the way Dutton puts it.

Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry set Dutton free from the Baltimore Colts this October when he okayed a trade for the 6-foot-6, 265-pound defensive end. Dutton was a holdout because he couldn't stand the Baltimore front office.

Dutton since has broken into the starting lineup and will be there Sunday against the Washington Redskins in the showdown for the National Conference Eastern Division championship.

"I think Dallas paid an outrageous price for me," said Dutton. "It was outrageous for

Bullets Win; Jazz Romps Over Spurs

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Washington Bullets dominated the Cleveland Cavaliers in nearly everything except hustle Thursday night.

The Bullets won the National Basketball Association game 115-113 in overtime, but the tenacious Cavaliers simply refused to let them get anything easy.

It took a pair of free throws by forward Elvin Hayes with three seconds left in overtime to finally put the Cavaliers away after they had overcome leads of 17 points in the second quarter, nine points in the fourth quarter and six points in the overtime.

In other NBA games, Utah beat San Antonio 144-114 and Phoenix tripped Houston 121-113.

Hayes and forward Bob Dandridge each scored 25 points, while guard Kevin Grevey added 22, including six in the overtime. Cleveland guard Randy Smith led game scorers with 28 points, six of them coming in the last minute of overtime.

The loss ended Cleveland's

10-game winning string on the Coliseum court and was only Washington's fourth victory in its last 11 games.

Washington outshot Cleveland, 47 percent to 43 percent; made 15 of 18 free throw attempts to 20 of 27 for the Cavaliers, and outrebounded the home team 67-40 as center Wes Unseld came down with 17 and Hayes 14.

Jazz 144, Spurs 114
Adrian Dantley's 36 points led Utah over San Antonio, the fourth straight victory for the Jazz. Ron Boone, Terry Furlow and Tom Boswell aided the Jazz cause with 22, 21 and 19 points, respectively, as Utah took control early and blew out the Spurs in the fourth quarter, 44-29.

Suns 121, Rockets 113
Walter Davis and Paul Westphal scored 31 and 30, respectively, to lead Phoenix over Houston. Davis scored seven of his points and Westphal eight of his in the final quarter, most of them in the last four minutes, as the Suns broke from a 101-99 lead and coasted in.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Heart causes ear noise

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm a 32-year-old mother of two boys in fairly good health. I was born with a heart murmur which was discovered when I was an infant. My parents were told the hole in my heart would close on its own by the time I reached 10. Nothing was ever said about it again.

All this time I thought my murmur had corrected itself but about five years ago my heart began to beat in my left ear very loudly. I thought it was my hearing so I went to an ear specialist but he said no. I went to a general practitioner, who confirmed that I still had the murmur but said not to worry about it because if I went to a heart specialist the first thing he'd want to do would be want to operate.

I've tried living with the noise but it's very loud and I think it's louder than it was a few years ago. Not only do I hear the heartbeat but there's a loud rushing sound like blood rushing through my head rapidly. It interferes with my hearing, especially on the phone and I have to ask people to repeat what they're saying. If I press against the left side of my neck, which I do sometimes in order to hear well, the noise stops.

Dr. Lamb, I sometimes think this noise will drive me insane. I get tired of hearing it day and night. Is there the slightest chance this could be corrected without open heart surgery? I hate to think that I'll have to hear this the rest of my life.

DEAR READER - There are many causes for ear noise but it can come from the circulation. Some people who have disease in the arteries in their neck can have such sounds as you describe. It's true that if you press on the artery in the neck in such cases...

es that the noise may stop. I don't advise this because pressing on those arteries in the neck sometimes triggers very strong reflexes that can cause people to faint and can create other problems.

There is no way your problem can be resolved without a very complete proper diagnostic study. You can have a sound from your heart, called a heart murmur, without having heart disease. Usually they're not that loud. From your description I think you ought to see a heart specialist as soon as possible. After all, they're trained in disorders of the heart and are best able to give you good advice. If you still do have a mechanical defect in your heart or the major arteries next to the heart, the probabilities are that it can be corrected.

It's perfectly true that some holes in the heart will close spontaneously. That's why heart specialists don't always rush in to close such defects noted during infancy. It depends a lot on how big the defect is and whether it's really causing any serious problems with the circulation.

If you do not happen to have heart trouble, the noise in your ear is caused by something else and also deserves attention. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 12-10, Help For Tinnitus: Noise Or Ringing In The Ear. Other readers who have ear noises from any cause and want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Today many people with birth defects of the heart can have them corrected. Often once the anatomical defect is corrected, it's the same as having a normal heart.

CBS Leads Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) - The networks' prime-time ratings race tightened just a bit during the week ending Dec. 9, as CBS won the weekly competition for the third time in a month.

CBS now is less than a point behind ABC for the season to date, thanks in large measure to several popular series.

CBS' "Alice" finished No. 1 in the A.C. Nielsen Co.'s most recent sampling of prime-time programs, followed by "60 Minutes," another CBS regular. CBS listed five other shows in the Top 10.

CBS' rating for the week was 19.8 to 19.3 for ABC and 16.5 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 19.8 percent of the homes in the country with television were tuned to CBS.

NBC now has been last in the ratings seven of the past eight weeks.

CBS' rating for the season so far is 18.9 to 19.7 for ABC.

The rating for "Alice" was 30. Nielsen says that means of all the homes with television in the country, 30 percent were tuned to at least part of the Sunday night program.

ABC's best for the week, "Three's Company," was third, while NBC's top-rated program was a special - "Little Rascals Christmas" - No. 16 in the ratings.

CBS' "60 Minutes" continued its rather remarkable run near the top, in stark contrast to ABC's "20-20" newsmagazine, which was No. 36 for the week, NBC's "Prime Time Sunday," which ranked 63rd.

All three networks have announced schedule changes for the second half of the season, involving four of the week's five lowest-rated shows.

Of the week's five lowest-rated shows, only NBC's "Best of Saturday Night Live," No. 64, appears secure.

"Prime Time Sunday," No. 63, will become "Prime Time Saturday," while CBS' "Paris," 65th for the week, already has switched timeslots. No. 66 "Shirley," from NBC, apparently will be dropped, while "California Fever," from CBS, No. 67, has been canceled.

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated programs:

Paul Harvey News
When One Race Seeks to Make Servants of the Other

Alex Haley, retracing the roots of his own family, made Americans rightly ashamed of their own selfish ancestors who, 150 years ago, sought, bought and brought African blacks to the United States to do stoop labor field work which white people were too lazy to do.

Shame on us, we said.

And yet-in now opening our nation to the importation of foreign workers who are willing to do work that homefolks are too lazy to do-are we not repeating the greed of our grandfathers and inviting again all the problems that inevitably eventually explode when one race seeks to make servants of another?

Across the Rio Grande in a flood tide come illegal Mexican farm workers because there are American landowners eager to employ them for stoop labor in fields that otherwise might go unharvested.

Into our country from a hundred other countries come immigrants, legal and otherwise, because homefolks don't want to work as dishwashers and maids and gardeners.

At this moment in concealed coves along the Florida coast blacks in rags stumble ashore-most of them from Haiti-having survived open and often stormy seas in flimsy boats or rafts made from the lashed-together trunks of trees.

Immigration officials profess inability to intercept the incoming tide and inability to deport even those they catch.

Those who smuggle these blacks into the United States may demand up to a thousand dollars for their clandestine service.

So most of the Haitians, for money to pay the smuggler, make the 800-mile trip to the United States in two stages. First they go to one of the islands in the Bahamas where they work at menial jobs, living in squalor, saving every penny.

I'm advised that some smugglers, if spotted by the Coast Guard, have no reluctance to dump their human cargo overboard in order to conceal their crime.

One way or another, many are lost at sea.

More than 25,000 have made it to Florida; nobody knows how many more.

Other tens of thousands have disappeared into the ghetto areas of New York City and Montreal.

United States efforts to deport those who get caught are frustrated by civil rights organizations initiating interminable court fights which, so far, they are winning.

Meanwhile, just in the Miami area, illegals resisting deportation are a $2.7 million annual burden on taxpayers who must provide for their welfare, health care and other services.

Most of the Haitians illegally in the United States are not unlike the African slaves of 150 years ago. They are poor, black, cannot speak English. Many have tuberculosis, venereal diseases.

Because they are in the country illegally-not wanting to get caught-in effect they become indentured servants to anybody willing to hire them at any wage; in effect, slaves.

Thus, in our inglorious quest for another "servant class," again lazy Americans are sowing for subsequent generations the seeds of civil strife.

A Solution for your Tax Dilemma

THE FAMILY TRUST

What it is: The Family Equity Trust is an organization formed by contractual indenture to function in its own right as an independent legal entity managed by its trustees.

Advantages and Highlights of the Family Equity Trust:

- Eliminates Probate on Trust Assets
- Minimizes or even eliminates Federal Estate Taxes
- Reduces Income Taxes
- Reduces potential Gift Taxes
- Reduces liability
- Promotes privacy of Assets
- Reduces Inheritance Taxes
- No annual charges by third parties.

How the Family Equity Trust differs from other Trusts:

This Family Equity Trust differs from other trust (trust agreements) in that it owns outright its assets. It does not act as agent or bailee, for hire (as do banks with trust departments), for owners of property. THIS TRUST is regulated and controlled by its trustees and not by an agency or bailment agreement administered by the trust department of a bank! THUS, there are no yearly management administrative costs and service charges by third parties.

THE BILL OF RIGHTS GIVES US FREEDOM OF WORSHIP

argely unheralded in the excitement of the approaching holiday season is the Bill of Rights Day, an event set aside to commemorate the ten most vital provisions in our insurance policy of freedom known as the Constitution. One of them contains among other things the guarantee of our right to express ourselves freely, without fear of reprisal, through speech, the press, in the company of others, and in accordance with a primary purpose of the founding of this great nation, in our right to worship God as we see fit. Take advantage of this priceless freedom by attending the Church of your choice on Sunday.

"Blessed be the God... who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word...that they might not serve any god, except their own God."
— Daniel 3:28

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof...
— The Constitution of the United States
