DRANK CARBOLIC ACID

Another Child Meets Death in a Most Tragic Manner—Mother Also Seriously Burned.

Another accidental tragedy has shocked our community and left sadness in a home.

Last Monday morning while the father was away, Mrs. Chas. McMurtry was busy about the place, and her little year-and-a-half-old boy was playing about. She had occasion to open a store room for some purpose and left it open. After some time she heard the baby crying and running out found him with a bottle of carbolic acid which had been knocked down from a shelf. He had drank some and spilled part of it over his clothing. The distracted mother gave him grease to counteract the acid and then started to the nearest neighbor's, Mr. Manlyn, about three-quarters of a mile away. She became exhausted on the way, and the baby appearing to be lifeless, she laid him down under a tree and hurried on for help. When Mr. Manlyn got to him the little fellow was still alive but died in a short while, before Dr. Carroll, who was immediately summoned by phone, could arrive.

Mrs. McMurtry was greatly shocked by the fearful ordeal, and in her efforts to save the child was badly burned on the arms and side, from the acid in the baby's clothing.

Mr. McMurtry is manager of the A. R. Letts ranch and lives at the ranch about 14 miles north of town. The brothers and sisters of Mr. and Mrs. McMurtry, and her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Stephens, hurried to them, and with the neighbors, have done all that could be done to help them.

The body was brought in Tuesday and buried from the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. P. Dickey officiating. The Banner-Stockman joins all of our people in extending a heart-felt, tender sympathy to the bereaved parents.

Caution.

We are requested to say that that there is a city ordinance prohibiting any party from driving over a line of hose while in use by the fireman, either in practice or actual fire fighting. This ordinance was violated twice Tuesday afternoon. The $20 is "some money" but is not nearly enough to buy a new length of fire hose, and driving a buggy over the hose is quite likely to cause it to burst. All parties are advised against a repetition of this offense, and against interfering with the duties of the firemen in any manner.

Mrs. W. S. Messner and children left for Channing yesterday morning where they will make their home for a short time.

GLORIOUS FOURTH PASSED

The Best Entertainment Yet Accorded the Public Was That of Wednesday.

Wednesday, the 4th, was a day of universal pleasure in Clarendon. The crowd of visitors came fully up to the expectations of the local people, and the city put on a gala day appearance. The grounds were crowded throughout the day, several thousand people being in attendance.

The parade at 9:00 a. m. proved to be quite a pleasing feature of the day. Mayor Carhart and Governor Browning led off in a gaily decorated buggy, followed by the band and fire department, with a lengthy string of decorated vehicles. This led to the courthouse where the house program was carried out. Rev. B. W. Dodson was the orator of the day, and acquitted himself with honor.

The dinner was without doubt the most successful of any Clarendon has yet given. The beef and mutton was barbecued to just the right degree of perfection, and there was more than enough for all. Baskets were plentiful, and there was no lack of food for the immense throng. Indeed, there was plenty and to spare. If any visitor went hungry it was his own fault.

The stores of the town closed at 11 o'clock in the morning and the majority of them remained closed the remainder of the day.

In the afternoon the baseball game, races, tournament and gun club shoot occupied the attention of all, and excited great interest and enthusiasm. Each event is treated in other portions of this issue. The fireworks at night were excellent, and the ball at the opera house wound up the pleasures of the day in a most enjoyable manner.

All in all, Clarendon can congratulate herself on having handled the celebration in a manner most creditable and satisfactory to all concerned.

Attention!

The Pratorians will organize a strong council here next Thursday night at 8:30 at the K. P. Hall; all new and old members are urged to come.

Farmers in the Clarendon country all report corn beginning to need rain pretty badly. Cotton and the feed crops are not suffering, and even late corn is still doing well, but those who planted corn early are now experiencing the effects of a lack of moisture. We have a good rain ordered for early next week, and trust the weather clerk will not fail to fill the order promptly.

CLARENDON BEATS GILES

A Rattling Good Game Played on the 4th in Which the Local Boys Win—Score 6 to 3.

The baseball game on the 4th was between Clarendon and Giles and the home team won handily by a score of 6 to 3. It was the first game seen here this year, and the people generally were greatly enthused and interested, as was attested by the fact that the crowd was so large as to almost prevent the playing of the game. Several times the players had to stop and clear the field before the game could continue.

The Giles boys have been organized all season and have played a number of games and made quite a reputation. The game was called about 2:30 p. m., and was close and interesting throughout. Snappy plays abounded on both sides, but the features of the game were the pitching of Atteberry and the home run of Woodward. Woodward landed on the sphere squarely and put it over the left fielder's head, making the circuit before the ball was recovered.

The McLean team came over expecting to get a game also, but as no provision had been made for it on the program it was postponed until yesterday afternoon. The score was 16 to 0 in favor of Clarendon.

DR. BURKHEAD IS QUIET

Panhandle's Popular Pedagogue Enjoys Pleasing Quiet at Marlin and Tanks up on Water.

MARLIN, Texas, June 26.

DEAR BANNER-STOCKMAN:— I trust that you Clarendon people are moving along in the even tenor of your way, having as good a time as the weather will admit.

I am leading rather a quiet life just at this time, having nothing to do but to eat, sleep, read, and socialize with my good friends at Marlin.

We had a lively time the night we left Clarendon. The cars were crowded, and we had a really live wire on the train with us in the shape of a first class Jewsharper. When it comes to the Jewsharper, I pronounce him a specialist. We got our full share of his harping from Clarendon to Fort Worth.

I must confess that I enjoyed the Jewsharper, but the good women who wanted to sleep! my, my! it was intensely interesting to look at them as they would roll their optics around on him. He was the most indifferent fellow one ever looked upon, for he was so absorbed in his Jews harp that his surroundings were entirely forgotten.

A good lady said to me, "Mister, will you please speak to that man and tell him that we ladies have been traveling for some time, and would like to have some sleep?" Said I, "Madam, don't you think that it would be just cruel to disturb him as he is so absorbed in the music of his own creation?"

And just about that time, he hit the chord of "My Old Kentucky

Home," whereupon the good lady said, "My Lord, Mister, let him alone, for that gives me a reminder," and so there was no rift in that lute that made the music mute.

About the time "The Old Kentucky Home" had been completed, and our harper was getting his mouth ready for another harping spell, a sister sitting behind me was heard to say: "I wonder when that old fool is going to quit, for I was never so tired of anything in all my born days." And just about the time she said this he laid aside his harp and opened his mouth and began to sing a good old church song like a Methodist class leader or a Baptist deacon, and the good sister, said "My! that reminds me of a Methodist campmeeting, and that old song enraptures me, for I am a kind of a Methodist myself."

As I was standing in the Union Depot at Fort Worth the next morning our harper came up to me and said, "Good morning, Brother; I saw you on the train last night, and I am glad to see you this morning." To which I replied: "I am glad to see you brother; you gave us a first class concert last night." To which he replied, "I think the good sisters enjoyed it very much, don't you?" "Yes, sir," said I, "I think it was a real tonic to them."

I had the pleasure of meeting four of my old pupils in the Union Depot at Fort Worth. One is on the Court of Civil Appeals, another is a pastor of one of the leading churches in Fort Worth, one is a railroad engineer, and the other an evangelistic singer. May the quartet flourish.

I have been asked a great many questions about the Panhandle and

THE BIG GUN CLUB SHOOT

Arrangements Are Being Perfected for the Largest Event of the Kind in the Panhandle.

Among the events for July 18th and 19th is a tournament given by the Childress Gun Club. They have gotten out a program that is a delight for any one who takes an interest in such matters. July 18th will be devoted to straight trap shooting of ten events, twenty targets each. The entrance fee into each event is $2.00, and to this $7.50 is added to each purse. The money will be divided on the Jack Rabbit and Rose system of 5, 4, 3, 2.

On the 19th there will be a shoot for the Texas Panhandle championship of 100 targets. This is for amateurs. The entrance is $3.00 with $15.00 added. Also on that day there will be a live bird event of fifteen birds each. Entrance fee $5.00, with $15.00 added. The committee having this in charge is getting out a 20-page catalog which will be sent to prominent clubs over Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, and they expect fully one hundred men here to participate in the shooting. There will also be several noted fancy shooters here upon that occasion for the purpose of advertising their guns or ammunition. This will be an event that has not yet had its like in the Panhandle.—Childress Index.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels. For sale at Dr. Stocking's Drug Store.

The cantaloupe raisers met last Saturday as per call in the Banner-Stockman. Representatives from the Rowe association were present, and it was decided that the two bodies would work together in the marketing of the crop. All present reported the condition of the growing vines to be first-class, and prospects good. Mr. Dorsey, the Vernon cantaloupe man, was present. We understand the local growers are figuring with him to take charge of their crops in regard to the marketing of same.

Adamson flew the track, corked himself and fell down in the home stretch, thus allowing Johnson to win by the length of a good long nose.

The growth of the church has been very rapid, 1,600 baptisms, two-thirds of them those of adults, having been recorded in a single year.

Lace Makers' Complaint.

A singular complaint is made by 230 people employed in a lace factory at Long Eaton, near Nottingham, England. Opposite the factory are a number of trees in a cemetery. The workmen say that whenever there is the slightest breeze the movement of the branches causes a blinking light, which seriously injures their eyes, the lace work demanding the closest attention.

Clarendon, Tex., July 6, '06

CLARENDON did herself proud in entertaining the visitors on the 4th. We have yet to hear of a single dissatisfied person. The celebration was a success in every way.

With the Bells ringing, the Campbells coming and the Brooks running will some one tell us where Colquitt is "at?"—San Angelo Standard.

Why, Col. is getting ready to—quitt, of course.

THE Canyon City News last week issued one of the most creditable special editions ever seen in this section. It was very full and complete in character, and abundantly justified the promises the management had made for it.

ONE of the most pleasing features of this year's 4th of July celebration was the work of the Clarendon Concert Band. The band is young, but the boys are faithful workers and their efforts Wednesday were received with much satisfaction by all our people.

Mayor Carhart, of Clarendon, has appointed officers for the newly organized fire department at that place. These officers have selected twenty men to serve with them, and with this enthusiastic band Clarendon will have one of the best fire departments of any town her size in the state. Wait till Seymour gets her's.—Baylor County Banner.

For County Commissioner.

Capt. E. E. McGee, yielding to the solicitation of many friends, has consented to make the race for commissioner from the Rowe precinct, No. 3, and we are authorized to place his name in our announcement column. The usual mention accompanying political announcements might well be omitted in this instance, for there is no better known or more universally esteemed citizen in Donley county than Capt. McGee. He is the right sort of man to have on the board of county commissioners, possessing good business and executive ability, and being of the honest, rugged class of citizenship which adds to the advancement of a community. The Banner-Stockman commends him to the voters of his precinct as a good man for the office to which his friends are so desirous of seeing him elected.

District Judge Ira Webster and wife were visitors in Clarendon on the 4th, the Judge being here for district court which convened Monday.

There was no lack of coffee at the picnic on the 4th, and it was all good coffee, too. There were two coffee booths on the grounds, one under the management of the Powell-Trading Co., with Geo. N. Wilson at the helm, the other by The Martin-Bennett Co. The coffee was free to all, and large quantities of it were consumed. The Powell booth also served coffee up and down the dinner table line at noon.

AGRICULTURE

Manure Spreaders.

There are a great many manure spreaders used in this locality. Farmers are beginning to find out the advantages of spreading manure with a spreader as against the old way. The spreader is more thorough and economical. As to the difference in time, we have not taken any notes, but shall do so this spring. Well-rotted manure works the best. The mixing of horse and cow manure would be advisable. By mixing the two, the horse manure being very warm and the cow manure moist, fermentation takes place quickly. The better rotted the manure the better it handles, both with the spreader and by hand. It will spread more evenly. Litter causes the spreader to throw out large bunches at times, which will have to be spread by hand or it will kill the grass or clog the plow. We have two spreaders. One of them, an old machine, seems to wear out first where the slats are fastened to the chain, the rust seeming to rot the slats. Do not know the weight of our spreaders. They are each three-horse. Should think the heavier spreader the more durable. S. W. Perin.

Farm Superintendent, University of Nebraska.

I have used a manure spreader for the past few years and am very much pleased with it. It saves labor and at the same time does the work better than it could be done by hand. There are several dozen spreaders now in use in this vicinity, and all of them were purchased after we got ours. All that have them like them. I think that a man can do one-half more work with a spreader than by the old way. I find that the spreader works equally well with all kinds of manure. I do not find that a large amount of litter in the manure makes any difference with the spreader. Our spreader is well built, and we have not had to lay out a cent in repairs since we had it. I think the weakest part of the machine is probably the small chain that runs the beater. This might break unless one were very careful to adjust it, for on very rough land the shaking would throw it off, and then, of course, it would break. Our machine holds forty bushels and is hauled by one pair of horses. We never use more, and ours is a hill farm. I think a fairly heavy machine is the best, but the heavier the machine the more horses that will be required to haul it. H. W. Frye.

Hillsboro County, N. H.

I purchased a manure spreader three years ago. I can cover about twice as much with the same manure by using a machine as I can by hand, and the results per acre are just as good. Almost every farmer in my neighborhood has one and their use in the county is increasing. A man can haul out one-fourth more manure in one day than by the old way, and then he will whistle and sing as he does up the chores at night. It does not make any difference what kind of manure you spread with the machine. It will spread anything. I think it does the best work with manure consisting of coarse and fine mixed together. I have been asked what part of the machine is the weakest. I reply that the drive chain on the spreader is about the weakest part of the machine. The machine that I have is the 60-bushel box, and I think it the most serviceable for the ordinary farmer. Two horses will handle it with ease on level ground if the soil is not too wet. On uneven ground three horses are required. The larger machines may be all right for farmers with large farms. I wish I had purchased one years before I did.—Samuel Hartwell, Will Co., Ill., in Farmers' Review.

Do Not Pasture Meadows in Spring.

We allow our cattle and other stock to run upon the meadows in the fall, but never do this in the spring. Generally the soil is harder in the fall than in the spring, especially if there have not been many fall rains. In the spring the ground is soft from the effects of the frosts, the melting snow and the spring rains. Most of our meadows have only surface drains. As to fertilizing, what surface manure the farmers have is spread upon the meadows. The principal hay grass grown here is timothy, but now and then some clover is grown. As to the disposal of the hay crop, I think that taking the whole of Hancock county together, about as much is shipped as is fed. All that is shipped is baled. I think the general production of hay per acre here is about 1 1/2 tons. We pay no attention to native grasses, and in fact they are not allowed in the meadow. The usual practice in this locality is to keep the meadow in grass while the yield of timothy is good, or even while the yield of clover is good. But if this is crowded out by blue grass or weeds the land is put into some other crop for a time.—William A. Moore, Hancock Co., Ill., in Farmers' Review.

Wet Lands.

Wet lands are generally unproductive lands. A large number of our farmers are yearly trying to farm land that is too wet to give good returns in any year. Land that has in it a great deal of moisture all the time is never suited to crop production, even in years when drouth prevails. The reason is that water occupies the soil for so large a portion of each year that it is impossible for the chemical changes favorable to the elaboration of plant food to go on. The drouth comes and simply dries up the soil, which is not then suited for the sustenance of life. If the same land had been drained, the elements year after year, combined with the multitudes of animal and vegetable life operating on the soil, would have improved its condition. This is not known or is lost sight of. The earth worm is a great assistant in preparing the soil for the growing of crops, but the earth worm lives and works only in moist soils, not in soils that are saturated with water. By all means drain the wet land and give a free opportunity to the air, the fungi, the earth worms and all other forces of nature that are helping to make our soils productive.

Our Much Abused Soil.

Farmers upon every hand are nothing loath to say that their land is "worn out," so that they have made up their minds to discover "pastures new." While such remarks are being made, every farm expert who has "made a trip to the 'ancient and egypt' countries of Europe comes back with the enthusiastic report that bumper crops there are grown each year upon land that centuries ago was farmed by the makers of history.—Hundreds, yes, thousands of years have these old-world farms been tilled, and yet they are still producing crops that far exceed our own in average number of bushels per acre, although our western farms are little more than fifty years old. Farms that are less than one hundred years old are already so worn out that they have been abandoned to the briar and the hazel bush. It is a disgraceful fact and it evidences the most destructive of ruinous policies, and the densest ignorance of obstinate nonobservance of the simplest truths of agricultural science and practice. Our soil should still be richer than that of any other nation. It has been so rich that it has tempted men to robbery of its riches. It has required so little effort to obtain a crop that men have cropped it year after year without proper cultivation and without return of adequate added fertilizing matter. The foreign farmer knows that manure is necessary to the successful raising of a crop. If he neglects to fertilize his fields abundantly they will refuse to bestow a crop sufficient to pay expenses, and so fertilization has become not only a necessity, but a necessarily scientific study and is wonderfully well understood and practiced abroad. Our farming is still the most careless in the world. The soil robbing and ruining work is still going on, and thousands of strong men and their families, who should possess fine, fertile, profitable farms at home, are flocking to new soil in the far northwest that there they may again practice the ruinous policy of continued one-crop production without fertilization or stock keeping. No nation is paying more attention to agricultural education, saying more, writing more and doing less in the field so far as average practice by her farmers is concerned. The lessons read and listened to are daily forgotten and certainly are not being put into practice, although the trend of practice is perhaps in the right direction. But the time is coming when men must wake up and stop insulting our magnificent soil. Farms are becoming scarce and dear. Each acre will soon have to maintain many more people than has heretofore been the case, and intensive farming will then become a necessity. It is stern necessity that has kept old European soils productive, and the fertility of our virgin soil has been its bane. Let us stop complaining about worn-out soil and laughing at foreign methods of farming and take a lesson from those who still produce paying crops from land thousands of years in use.

District Court.

District court convened Monday with Judge Webster and Attorney Bishop both present. The grand jury was put to work and held over until Thursday, finishing their labors Thursday night, after which court adjourned. There were five true bills returned, three felonies and two misdemeanors. The petty jury was called and immediately dismissed, there being nothing for them to do.

Verily, the court business in Donley county is small and of little consequence.

J. M. Jones, of Dallas, representing the Southwestern Life Insurance company, is spending a few weeks in Clarendon on business and visiting the family of his father-in-law, W. J. Parsons.

Composite Race Wins.

With nearly three times as many points to her credit as her nearest competitor, Greece, the United States emerges an easy winner from the greatest and latest of the international athletic "meets" of the world. A possible reason for American success in this as in other fields is the fact that we are a highly composite breed. We have incorporated into our national body representatives of nearly every race on earth. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that we do more things well than the purer racial strains.—N. Y. Globe.

Tabooed by Moslems.

The ulemas of the University of Al Azhar have decided as to the phonograph and insurance that there is nothing in Islamic doctrine to forbid Moslems to listen to the phonograph, and that, if the verses of the koran are suitably intoned from the phonograph the listener may be justly considered to be performing an act of worship. Fire and life insurance are, however, condemned by the sheik as a gambling transaction contrary in spirit to the teaching of the Koran.

"Oooo!" Says the Iceman.

The largest mass of ice in the world is probably the one which fills up nearly the whole of the interior of Greenland, where it has accumulated since before the dawn of history. It is believed now to form a block about 600,000 square miles in area, and averaging a mile and a half in thickness. According to these statistics the lump of ice is larger in volume than the whole body of water in the Mediterranean.

Special Features at the Skating Rink Next Week

ON MONDAY NIGHT, regular ladies' night. Prof. Wedelin, of Sweden, a celebrated fancy and trick skater, will give an exhibition of his skill on roller skates. The admission fee will be 15c to all. Skates for the evening 10c extra. Regular skating will begin at 8:30 as usual, continuing until 9:30, when the professor will occupy the floor with his performance of fancy and trick skating, after which the session will continue until 10:30.

ON FRIDAY EVENING, beginning at 9:00 o'clock the rink will give its second "skating en masque" fete. No one allowed to skate unless masked. Only a limited number of skates will be rented. Gentlemen can engage skates ahead of time for themselves and ladies. Admission fee for the evening 15c; no extra charge for skates. Session begins at 9:00; unmask at 9:45; session will close at 10:45. No skates will be rented after masks are removed.

Card of Thanks.

We so much desire to express our thanks and gratitude to our many dear friends who so willingly and kindly ministered to us in our saddest hours of grief and desolation. May God's richest blessings ever be yours.

MR. AND MRS. C. T. MCMURTRY.

Oh, what a precious treasure;
More precious far than gold;
Its worth in earthly values
Has never yet been told.

It filled our house with sunshine,
So gentle, pure and bright;
The darkness fled before it,
All our hearts were full of light.

It came, of course from heaven,
As the angels' gift of love;
Such gems, all pure and spotless,
Are only sent us from above.

'Twas our's we thought, and loved it,
And with kisses pressed it oft;
Little black eyes and cheeks and lips,
All so pure and sweet and soft.

Oh, how we loved our baby!
But the angels loved him too;
And when sick and faint and weary
They alone knew what to do.

We hugged him to our bosom,
And tried to keep him here;
But the angels bending lowly
Bore our darling form, so dear.

And in their gentle bosoms
Bore our darling babe away
To a home all bright forever
Where there shines eternal day.

Now there's nothing left to us
But the lonely little mound
Where we laid our precious treasure
In the cold and cheerless ground.

True, the hands of friends so tender
Made soft its lowly bed
And flowers so sweet and lovely
Cluster 'round his little head.

We grieve for the ray of light
That shines upon us here,
And fading out has left us
In sadness dark and drear.

But the angels caught the fragrance
Of this sweet bud of ours,
And now it blooms in heaven,
'Mong the fairest of the flowers.

Thanks

We want to thank the people of Clarendon and surrounding country for the liberal patronage extended us on picnic day. We assure you that we appreciate your coming to see us. Many are the compliments we heard passed that day on the line of goods we carried and the way we took care of our trade. Again thanking you we are,

Respectfully,

Rowe Rumlblings.

ROWE, TEXAS, July 4.

EDITOR BANNER-STOCKMAN:

Weather very dry, farmers' say early corn will be badly damaged if it does not rain soon.

It seems like Sunday in Rowe today as most everybody attended the "big barbecue" at Clarendon.

We hear that one of Tom Bain's children is very sick with the flux.

Tom Adamson, who has been very sick is much better.

Master Donell Blair is about convalescent after a spell of slow fever.

The prospects are for a large crop of cotton this year, as the acreage is large, and the plant is looking well.

We learn that Dr. Steadham, who bought lots in Rowe a short time back, will move in about July 15.

J. L. Johnson, of Ft. Worth, was looking after business interests in Rowe this week.

Miss Wilkins, of Memphis, is visiting her friend, Miss Pearl Newman, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick, of Bray, were in town the past week.

Mrs. E. B. Dishman visited Mrs. W. E. Reeves Wednesday.

Mr. J. B. Grimsley and children visited Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McDougal Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Cash of Bray, took the early morning train Monday for Clarendon, where Mr. Cash goes as a Grand Jury man and Mrs. Cash to visit friends and take in the 4th.

Carl Carson, of Elida, N. M., visiting friends near Rowe, this week.

J. T. Thaxton, of Giles, was in Rowe the first of the week with a load of ripe peaches which sold at once for $1 per bu.

A rural telephone is to be put in at Rowe real soon. This is one of the best things we can get for our town and country, as the line will run in each neighborhood, and the town and county will be connected.

Dr. and Mrs. Gray, of Clarendon guests of Prof. and Mrs. Pile this week.

Contractor Spencer, of Memphis, will begin the erection of a five room dwelling for C. E. Thornton first of next week.

The Rowe commissioners precinct can not make a mistake this year, as she has the chance at two of her best citizens as commissioner: R. H. Jones is asking the people to elect him the third time and Capt. E. E. Metcree is asking the people for the same office; either of these men would make a good commissioner.

Young Mr. Cooke of Lelia, took the train for Erath county Monday.

Jericho Jottings.

Jericho, Texas, July 3.

EDITOR BANNER-STOCKMAN:

Col. L. B. Watkins, of Dallas, Texas, candidate for representative 10th district, was here shaking hands with his old friends and making new ones. He thinks he will get all the votes in this part of the Panhandle.

F. D. Martin, of Clarendon, is in town today looking after the interests of his firm Martin-Bennett Co.

Judge Altizer drove over to Clarendon today.

All the harvesters in this part of the county are busy cutting oats these days.

D. C. Priddy and J. A. Donley, of Clarendon, were doing business in Jericho today. Come again Mr. Priddy.

F. D. Martin and wife, of Clarendon, A. S. Connally and wife, of Rockledge, and Miss Martin, of Clarendon, made up a dinner party at Hotel Lyons this afternoon.

The election is coming on.

Let us be pol-i-tic,

And every body vote

For Panhandle Dick.

Let us rally to our colors

And do it mighty quick,

And every body vote

For Panhandle Dick.

Regardless of the weather,

Without a single kick,

Let us all pull together

For Panhandle Dick.

Wells! Wells! Wells!!!

If you want a well dug see or write me. A brand new outfit.

RACES AND TOURNAMENT

A Big Crowd Watch the Quarter Ponies and Tournament Riders. Some Good Races.

The races Wednesday did not occur just as advertised for the reason that there were no entries until just about the time they were to be pulled off. No harness horses were entered, and but three pony races were run, as follows:

1st Race—Quarter mile dash: "Sweetheart," owned by Clint Phillips, first; the Silverton Black, owned by Will Ward, second.

2nd Race—Quarter mile dash: The Childress horse, owned by Tom Jeffries, first; "Bobbie," owned by R. L. Gibson, second; the Lou McClellan horse, third.

3rd Race—Three-eighths mile dash: The Collingsworth county sorrel mare owned by J. E. Everett, first; Matador horse, second.

In the tournament riding contest Eph Stephenson, of Silverton, took first money, with J. N. Bozeman second.

A big crowd waited long and patiently for the races which were slow in materializing. The committee having the races in charge had many difficulties to contend with, and the lovers of horse racing were lucky to get to see anything whatever in the shape of a race.

W. W. Curnutte.

W. W. Curnutte died Tuesday morning at his home three miles south of town, after a long illness. Mr. Curnutte had only been a citizen of the county a year or so, but made many friends in that time. He had suffered long with cancer of the stomach, and had only recently returned from a trip to lower altitudes where he had hoped to be benefitted. He was 55 years of age and leaves a family.

The funeral was held from the Methodist church yesterday morning, Rev. Dodson officiating. Deceased was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the funeral was under the auspices of that order, there being a large attendance.

Farmers, Attention.

I will buy your fresh vegetables and fruits. Bring them to me at the Cold Storage Market and get the highest price in cash.

FRED CHAMBERLAIN.

Dr. Wm. H. Cooke made a business trip to Ft. Worth, Dallas and Denton last week, returning Sunday night. He brought home with him his little grandson, Master Sidney Erwin, who will spend the summer.

For Sale or Rent.

Two good work horses, two sets of harness, and one good second-hand wagon. Will sell together or separately. A GREAT BARGAIN. See me at my residence in Clarendon.

J. T. BELL.

Ice.

No family can afford to be without this luxury when they can get 50 pounds of ice for 25 cents. Phone orders to the Cold Storage Market, No. 16, or stop the ice wagon.

—For a sewing machine of the best quality at a special low price see me at once. Am offering a special bargain in the two on hand.

J. M. Clower. —Phone orders for Fred Chamberlain's vegetables and fruits to the Cold Storage Market. Phone No. 16.

SPLENDID TRAP SHOOTING

Local Shooters Make Good Scores on the 4th—Dick Allen Won First Money.

The gun club shoot on the 4th was one of the prettiest features of the day despite the fact that arrangements for same were begun so late as to preclude the possibility of having any visiting clubs to participate. The local club had only been organized about two weeks, and in that length of time it was found impossible to obtain the necessary traps, and supplies for a match club shoot. The two events held, therefore, were participated in by local parties only, with the exception of J. B. Goode, of Childress, and Eph Stephenson, of Silverton, who took a hand in the game and made good scores.

The first event was a 15-bird, free-for-all affair with 13 entries; prizes, $7 first, $5 second, and $3 third. First money was taken by Dick Allen, with John E. Cooke second, while M. T. Crabtree and Eph Stephenson divided third money. The score:

Geo. Melton	.....	00011	0100	11011	—	8

The second event was for ten targets and there were eleven entries. First money was divided between J. G. Martin, H. B. White, J. B. Goode, M. T. Crabtree and Bond Johnson, each scoring 9 out of the 10 targets. Second money went to Dick Allen with 7, while B. F. Smith and John E. Cooke divided third money with a score of 6. The score:

—Stocking has sold Hammar Paint nine years and knows what it will do.

Count the Cost

Buy paint—not canned oil at paint prices. Because, when you buy the ready-mixed paint the oil is almost sure to be dead. Killed by months of confinement in airtight cans with the chemicals in the paint. That is why ready-mixed paint peels or washes away so soon. Dead oil. Dead paint.

Hammar Condensed Paint

Is the best paint because it is minus the oil. You add your own oil—pure, fresh linseed oil. One gallon of oil, one gallon of Hammar Condensed Paint. Easy enough. Then you know you have a live paint that will stick. Guaranteed for five years. See us and save money. Costs less. Looks better. Wears years longer.

Hammar Condensed Paint

If you are going to paint this season, count the cost. Come in some day before you paint and let us show you how you can save 25 per cent on your next paint bill.

WILL BE MUCH BENEFITED

Richard Walsh Says the Beef Trust Investigation Will Help the Cattle Business.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 30—Richard Walsh, general manager of the J A ranch, and vice president of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, was here today en route home from the pastures near Liberal, Kan., where the J A people have in pasturage 20,000 head of cattle. While up in Kansas Mr. Walsh completed the delivery of 3,000 head of 3-year-olds to Messrs. Roberts & Adams, which were sold last year as 2s, but had been on pasturage during the last year. The terms of sale were private.

In speaking of Panhandle conditions, Mr. Walsh said: "I left the ranch about one week ago and conditions could not have been better. This year has been a banner year for the cow man. Rains have been regular and plenty of water and grass, and cattle are looking well. The calf crop this year will be a large one—one of the largest in years."

In speaking of market prospects for this fall he said: "I have great hopes for the cattle market and feel that all the cattlemen will be benefited by the recent investigations instead of being the losers. So far the market has not been affected very much and prices seem to be holding up fairly well."

"The cattlemen of this country owe a debt of gratitude to Congressman Wadsworth of New York. He has been our friend and benefactor in taking the stand that he did in the meat inspection bill in holding out that the Government pay for the inspection. We will be on easy street yet; at least I feel that way at present."

"We are also beginning to cut up our ranches into farming tracts and within the past month we have sold about 20,000 acres of our Swisher county pasture up in the plains country at about $6 per acre. Land values are on a boom all through the plains and Panhandle section of the State."

Suggestion for home seeker advertisement: "Why not buy a home as you buy sugar—a little at a time? If families had to purchase a year's supply of sugar all at once and pay cash for it, most of us would drink our tea and coffee unsweetened. So with one's home, the home that lasts not a year, but a lifetime. Few can afford to pay the whole amount required in cash. The bank or the trust company that lends the money required is in a sense like the grocer who buys sugar by the barrel and sells it by the pound. Each purchases for us the thing we desire and lets us have it little by little as we can pay for it.—Ex.

Cattle For Sale.

The commissioners court in session last week as a board of equalization were very busy and a number of changes in assessments were made. The railroad was raised from $6500 per mile to $7000, with an additional $1500 per mile assessment on "intangible assets" as per a new state law.

Childress Barbecue.

The program committee and the soliciting committee for the barbecue on the 18th, and 19th of July have been at work during the past week. About $500 has been raised to pay the expenses and to create purses for the races and other contests. The program committee plans to have some unusual features for the occasion, that is unusual for this section of the state. They are corresponding with a balloon man, also with a high diver, and expect to have both here on those days. Several race horses will be here and several good events are promised in that line. Prominent state speakers are also invited to be with us. It is intended to have a program such as will appeal to the whims of all the people.

Be sure to make arrangements to be present both days.—Index.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at Dr. Stocking's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

Messrs. W. T. Hayter and Lanham Logan, business men of Seymour, were here last week, and we understand closed a contract for a business house in which they will open up a stock of ladies' furnishings, millinery, etc., early in the fall. We are also informed that the firm is a strong one and will add materially to our business interests.—Clarendon Banner-Stockman.

Messrs. Hayter and Logan are both prominent citizens of our town, the latter a member of the well known firm of Logan & White, and are perhaps in quest of a good location for the profitable investment of surplus capital. If Clarendon has located them she is fortunate, for they are enterprising business men and desirable citizens in any community.—Baylor County Banner.

They are located, all right, but their line will be men's and boys' goods instead of as stated above.

Saved His Comrade's Life.

"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition" says Mr. J. E. Houghland, of Eldon, Iowa. "I gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold at Dr. Stocking's Drug Store.

A preacher once said: "Editors dare not tell the truth. If you did you could not live; your newspaper would be a failure." The editor replied: "You are right; and the minister who at all times tells the truth about alive or dead, will not occupy the pulpit more than one Sunday, and he will find it necessary to leave town in a hurry. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with whitewash brushes and kind words, magnifying little virtues into big ones. The press, pulpit and gravestones are the great saint-makers." And the minister went away looking very thoughtful, while the editor turned to his work, telling about the surpassing beauty of the bride, while in fact she was as ugly as a mud fence.—Ex.

Joint Resolution to amend Section 2 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to certain exemptions from taxation.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Section 2, of Article VIII, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended that the same shall read as follows, to-wit:
"All occupation taxes shall be equal and uniform upon the same class of subjects within the limits of the authority of levying the tax; but the Legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes; actual places of religious worship; places of burial not held for private or corporate profit; all buildings used exclusively and owned by persons or associations of persons for school purposes and the necessary furniture of all schools, also the endowment funds of such institutions of learning and religion not used with a view to profit and when the same are invested in bonds or mortgages, or in land or other property which has been and shall hereafter be bought in by such institutions under foreclosure sales made to satisfy or protect such bonds or mortgages; that such exemption of such land and property shall continue only for two years after the purchase of the same at such sale by such institutions and no longer, and institutions of purely public charity; and all laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above mentioned shall be null and void."
Section 2. The Governor of the State shall and he is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas at the next general election for State and County officers.

Section 3. The qualified electors for members of the Legislature of the State of Texas shall vote upon this amendment on the — day of —, at which election all persons favoring said amendment shall have written or printed on the ballot as follows: "For amendment to Section 2, Article 8 of the Constitution exempting from taxation endowment funds used exclusively for school purposes." And those opposed to said amendment shall have written or printed on the ballot as follows: "Against amendment to Section 2, Article 8, of the Constitution exempting from taxation endowment funds used exclusively for school purposes."

Section 4. The sum of $3000 or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication, proclamation, and election.

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Authorizing the Levy of a Tax to Pay Jurors.

Joint Resolution amending Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the levying of a tax not exceeding fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, to pay jurors.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen cents for road and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen cents to pay jurors, on the one hundred dollars valuation, except for the payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment September 25th, 1883, and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as is in this Constitution otherwise provided; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws.

Sec. 2. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for submitting this amendment to the Constitution to the qualified voters of the State of Texas, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1906, at which election all voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, "For the amendment to authorize the levy of a tax to pay jurors." The voters opposed to this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, "Against the amendment to authorize the levy of a tax to pay jurors."

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Fixing Salaries and Per Diem of Legislators.

House Joint Resolution authorizing the submission to a vote of the people of the State of Texas of a proposed amendment of Section 24, Article 3, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, fixing the salaries and mileage of members of the Legislature, and preventing the accepting, for themselves or for others, by members of the Legislature of free passes, franks, rebates, privileges or advantages from certain persons and corporations.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: That at the next general election of the State of Texas, or at any previous election, in case an election for the Governor shall be had or ordered by the Governor for other purposes, there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Texas, for their approval or disapproval, the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, as provided for in Section 1, Article 17 of said Constitution, relating to proposed amendments thereto, it being intended to amend Section 24, Article 3, of said Constitution, relating to the pay of members of the Legislature, so that the said Section shall read as follows:

Sec. 24. The members of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury such compensation for their services as may from time to time be provided by law, not exceeding one thousand dollars for the year succeeding their election, payable in equal installments, on the first days of January, February, March and April of the year succeeding their election, and five dollars per day for each day of every special session held during the second year of the term for which said members shall be elected. In addition to said compensation, the members of each house shall be entitled to mileage going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed three cents per mile, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel by land, regardless of railroads or water routes; and the Comptroller of the State shall prepare and preserve a table of distances to each county seat, now or hereafter to be established, and by said table the mileage of each member shall be paid; but no member shall be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after adjournment of any regular or called session. It shall be unlawful for any member of the legislature during his term of office to accept any free transportation over any railway line or lines in this State, and any member of the Legislature violating the provisions of this Act prohibiting the acceptance of free transportation shall forfeit the office to which he has been elected. And it shall be unlawful for any of such members to accept, receive, have, use or enjoy, directly or indirectly, for themselves or any other person, any free pass, frank, rebate, privilege or advantage not accorded to the general public from any railroad company, telegraph company, telephone company, sleeping car company, or other corporation, or any persons, firm or corporation acting as a common carrier in this State. Any member of the Legislature violating this provision shall forfeit his office. And the necessary laws shall be enacted to carry out the provisions of this Article.

Only 82 Years Old.
"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. B. H. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by J. D. Stocking druggist. Price 50c.

An editor of a western exchange recently began worrying how he would get his shirt on over his wings after reaching paradise. An envious contemporary sarcastically observed that his real trouble would likely be in finding how he could get his hat on over his horns.—Ex.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, or, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial was therefore a great surprise instead of a disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale at Dr. Stocking's Drug Store.
