Abalos Seeks City Post Again

First Local Candidate Announces

The attention of local voters switched from the presidential race in 1976 to Hereford elections in 1977 as of this morning when Paul Abalos, City Commissioner in place 1, filed for re-election to another two-year term.

He became the first candidate here in the upcoming hospital board, City Commission and school board elections. They are all scheduled for Saturday April 1.

In seeking his third term, the local restaurant owner and school district employee said that commitments to several projects already under consideration influenced his decision to run again.

He listed these projects as follows: (1) adequate facilities for Kids Inc., baseball program, (2) adequate facilities for our seniors citizens, (3) continued support of city, school, and county working together for the betterment of our entire community, (4) continued accountability of our tax dollars and holding the line in spending within a balanced budget, and (5) continued support of projects beneficial to all citizens of Hereford.

Other city commissioners up for re-election are Mayor Jim Sears and place 2 commissioner Emory Brownlow. Neither has indicated their intentions for the election. Brownlow has been mentioned as a possible candidate for mayor since Sears has served numerous years as mayor and may not seek re-election.

School board members whose terms are expiring include board president Jim Conkright in place 6, Lynton Allred in place 7, and David Hutchins in place 4. Hutchins was serving in the unexpired term left vacant by county auditor Alex Schoeler.

Since the school board in the midst of a dispute with the federal government over the method of election, each candidate filing will be informed as to the legal status of the election according to superintendent Harrell Holder. The place system will be used until the board is told not to by federal district judge Halbert O. Woodward, who is now considering a board suit filed against the Justice Department over the Voting Rights Act. A decision is expected soon considering the emergency of the upcoming election.

Since Hutchins' place is for an unexpired term of two years, a place with runoff method will still be used in it. Most regular terms are for three years.

The filing deadline for the city and school elections is March 2. Absentee voting is from about March 14-29. School candidates may file at the district's tax office while city contestants file at the city clerk's office at city hall.

Positions open on the Deaf Smith County Hospital District Board of Directors are Dr. Hap Cavness, Isaias Gamez, and Tommy Carnahan. Those seeking these post need to have petitions containing 50 qualified signatures of local voters turned into Cavness by March 8. The absentee voting will no doubt be held at the county clerk's office.

Legislators Evacuate Building

AUSTIN (AP)—An estimated 5,000 persons, including members of the House of Representatives were evacuated from the Texas Capital Building this morning after security officers received a bomb threat.

Capt. Charles Bright of Capital Security said he received the call at 10:48 a.m. Evacuation procedures were begun minutes later.

A House session was interrupted.

"The man simply made the statement that there was a bomb set to go off in an hour," Bright said.

Campaign Waged To Head Off Defense Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional advocates of heavy defense spending are working hard to head off cuts by the Carter administration in the B1 bomber, nuclear powered warships and some other major weapons programs.

"They've been coming out of the woodwork," said one Pentagon official in describing the flow of letters and other forms of entreaty aimed at the Defense Department.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown is completing work on a package expected to trim about $2.5 billion from the Ford administration's final military budget, which proposed a record $123 billion in spending authority for next year.

The White House is due to announce President Carter's budget decisions early next week. The defense cuts will fall well below the $5 billion to $7 billion he promised during the election campaign.

Brown's associates were struck by how quickly certain members of Congress were armed with still-confidential details of proposed budget reductions just a few days after the proposals were circulated with the Defense Department. It was suspected that the armed services got their information into the hands of friendly congressmen quickly.

Pressure began building against some of the projected weapons reductions right after Carter's inauguration and has continued since then.

One group of congressmen from California and other states wrote Brown that the costly B1 be kept in production because, they said, tens of thousands of jobs are at stake.

A group of congressmen from Texas pleaded with Brown not to eliminate A7 attack planes from the budget. They, too, were worried about loss of jobs.

A committee chairman urged Brown to keep intact plans for building additional nuclear-propelled warships.

Pentagon officials said the aerospace industry has been applying weight through congressmen representing districts with production plants.

Despite congressional entreaties, the Carter administration is likely to recommend scaling down production.

Attorney Claims Flaw In Notices For Hail Suppression Hearings

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Debates over possible flaws in the public notices by Atmospherics Incorporated of Fresno Calif. and a lengthy questioning of Thomas J. Henderson, president of Atmospherics, highlighted the first day of hearings for two firms seeking license renewals from the Texas Water Development Board to engage in weather modification activities Wednesday.

WITH THE 99th District Court in Lubbock jam packed with interested farmers, Harrell Feldt, attorney for Citizens For Natural Weather, a group opposed to hail suppression activities, introduced testimony indicating that published notices of the proceedings were defective and could serve as grounds for a retrial of the hearings.

Yesterday's events set the stage for the continuation of the hearing today, and if the Wednesday proceedings were any indication, the remainder of the hearings today and tomorrow will be slow and difficult.

Only two witnesses were questioned in over five hours of testimony Wednesday, and outbursts of laughter and remarks from the farmers in attendance were frequent.

Feldt urged a halt to the hearings after they were only about 15 minutes underway yesterday, outlining what he contended were defects in the notices filed by Atmospherics.

HE INDICATED THAT maps of the land referred to in notices posted by the firm would lead some South Plains agriculturalists to feel that the company would not include their land in the area it had requested to operate over, when it actually was.

Feldt also contended that notice was not filed in many regional newspapers by Atmospherics, and that the wording in the notices was vague to the point that permits, if granted, might be interpreted to include more area than was intended by the board.

Jerome Kirby, attorney for Atmospherics, argued that sufficient notice had been given by the firm, and cited the number of farmers at the hearing as evidence of that fact.

Hearing Examiner Bruce Bigelow, general counsel for the water board, brought the discussion on the matter to an end after almost an hour, when he declined to rule on the request by Feldt, but indicated that he would take the matter under advisement and submit his findings on the argument to the board (See HEARINGS, Page 2A)

C of C Board Approves Annual Audit For 1976

Directors of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce held a routine monthly board meeting Thursday morning with committee reports and approval of the 1976 audit highlighting the session.

Irene McKinster, chairman of the Hustler's committee, appeared at the early morning board meeting to report on the "Hustler of the Month" campaign, and to ask consideration of the purchase of new blazers for the committee.

The Hustler group acts as greeters and goodwill ambassadors for the chamber. The committee is presently composed of some 20 members, with membership being earned on a point system which includes recruitment of new chamber members. The board approved the "Hustler of the Month" program and agreed to study the new blazer project.

Donna Vander Zee, president of the Women's Division, reported plans were developing for the annual Miss Hereford Pageant, which is scheduled for March 12.

President Joe Shollenbarger gave a brief report for the rodeo committee, and Speedy Nieman outlined plans for the sports committee. Shollenbarger said he would soon appoint a new sports committee chairman, since Dick Montgomery had resigned for personal reasons.

It had been announced this week that Bob Duckworth of Hobbs, N.M., had accepted the board's offer to become the executive vice president of the chamber. Duckworth, 36, is presently manager of the Hobbs C of C and will assume duties here March 15. He succeeds Bill Albright, who resigned to take the C of C post in Big Spring.

Vote Wanted On Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some House members may try to prevent the House from adjourning for the weekend in order to force a vote on their $12,900 pay raise that takes effect automatically Sunday.

But it appeared all but certain that the increase from $44,600 to $57,500 for members of Congress and similar pay boosts for judges and other high officials will go into effect without a vote.

An attempt to force a recorded vote in the House failed Wednesday.

Measles Outbreaks Rise

ATLANTA (AP)—Outbreaks of measles, one of the most serious of childhood diseases, are increasing at alarming rates in some states, and public health officials are calling for means to curb their spread.

Although most states have laws requiring immunization against measles, an Associated Press survey shows little is done to enforce them.

Peter Crippen, head of Indiana's immunization program, said that state's law has loopholes "so big you could drive a bus through."

Cuban Concessions Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter is asking that Cuba pursue a policy of restraint abroad and respect for human rights at home as his price for friendlier U.S. relations with Havana.

Cuba, in turn, is demanding that the United States lift its trade embargo against the island if Washington wants an extension of an anti-hijacking agreement past its scheduled April expiration.

Carter took his White House advisers by surprise when he said Wednesday he has received indirect word that Cuba intends to remove its troops from Angola.

Hunt Out For Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—E. Howard Hunt Jr. is getting out of jail, perhaps just in time to appear as a defendant in a $2 million lawsuit brought by the men he recruited for the Watergate burglary.

If the civil trial begins next Thursday as scheduled, Hunt may see some familiar faces from his Watergate past.

The roster of his co-defendants includes these former officials of the 1972 Richard Nixon re-election committee: John N. Mitchell, Maurice Stans, Jeb Magruder, Hugh W. Sloan Jr., Herbert L. Porter and G. Gordon Liddy.

LAE Informed Of WT Luncheon

A letter concerning the Distinguished Service Awards luncheon at West Texas State University was read to members of La Aflatus Estudio Club Tuesday afternoon in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Written by Dr. Enid Bates, director of the WTSU programs for women, the letter asked that clubs of organizations nominate any deserving women for recognition at the luncheon on April 23 on the WT campus. This matter was turned over to the courtesy committee, which will decide whether to nominate an LAE club member of support another local nominee.

In other correspondence, a letter was received from the Wichita Falls State Hospital, expressing appreciation for a Christmas gift.

In adherence to this year's theme, each member answered roll call with a "thought for the day." The meeting was opened by club president Della Stagner, who asked Lucille Hughes to lead the group in reciting the club collect.

The program segment of the meeting was opened by Irene Markham, who introduced Margaret Formby as the guest speaker. Mrs. Formby presented a review of the book, "Let Our Children Go," by Ted Patrick.

The book concerns the phenomenon where bright and personable young people fall prey to pseudo-religious cults. The author's mission is to rescue these seduced disciples who are headed for "ego destruction."

Patrick's controversial "rescue" involved kidnapping the youth with their parents' help and "deprogramming" them. The author includes his own crusade against malevolent cultism.

Others present for the review were Lydia Hopson, Tresa Hale, Allyne Johnson, Pet Ott, Alberta Higgins, Madeline Bell, Leola Cook and Gladys Braly.

Miss Stagner and Miss Bell were hostesses.

New Mexico Resident Recalls Island Cruise

[EDITOR'S NOTE: A number of Texas residents, including 42 Hereford people recently returned from a cruise of the Caribbean aboard the TSS Carnivale. The same tourist sites and islands were also visited during a cruise taken by a Brand Correspondent. Her description of the trip is written below and a list of local residents who took a similar cruise is included in a accompanying story.]

By MRS. C.L. HUTCHINS
Brand Correspondent

State-Line [Special] - A Caribbean Cruise that had been several months in the planning began to be realized when 28 persons from Broadview-Bellview, Clovis and Texico communities started out at 5:30 a.m., Jan. 14, in a chartered bus to Lubbock, Tex. From there, we went by plane to Miami, Fla., changing planes twice enroute, at Dallas and Atlanta, Ga.

We arrived in Miami at 6:30 a.m. Eastern time and spent the night. On Sat. Jan. 15, we boarded the ship, the M-S Boheme.

The first island we came to was the Dominican Republic. On Monday we went ashore and got a guide to show us around Puerto Plata. We first saw the ruins of an old fortress built by the Spaniards in 1540 which is currently being restored to its 16th century appearance, then on to a rum factory which is one of the main industries of that island.

We wandered through the streets lined with people and children trying to sell their wares. The municipal market had open stalls lining the street where they displayed their jewelry, necklaces, bracelets and earrings made from amber which is mined there. Also there was really beautiful crocheted purses and straw hats.

We went to a really modern hotel where we were entertained by native dancers.

Everywhere we went, there was a band playing native music.

The next island was St. Thomas, one of the Virgin Islands. They have a population of 40,000. Its 28 square miles of

When Stork Comes, Be Calm, Collected

COLLEGE STATION—Careful planning will allow an expectant mother to arrive a little more calm and collected at the hospital, Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says.

"Since this is an important trip, prior planning about personal items for self and baby will help. Also, ask if the hospital has policies regarding pre-delivery arrangements—to satisfy fears about costs," she suggested.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The checklist might be:
--Arrange for transportation to the hospital and an alternate way in case of emergency.

--Pack your suitcase well in advance and include robe, slippers, nightgown (short) and bed jacket (if desired), supporting bra that fastens in front nursing bra, toilet articles and cosmetics.

--Pack baby's clothing and include diaper, diaper pins, rubber pants (if desired), one outfit of clothing, blanket (kind depends on the weather), and a cap (if desired).

--Take writing or reading materials or announcements to address-for entertainment.

--Make arrangements for child care if you have other children at home.

--Take your health insurance registration card with you.

"Careful planning before the rush to the hospital cuts down on shattered nerves and the 'what have I forgotten' syndrome of prospective parents," she said.

The next total eclipse of the sun to be seen from New York will be on April 8, 2024.

Cut Glass Collection Exhibited At Museum

CONTRIBUTED BY
See Coleman

Dating back three generations, cut glass pieces acquired by his family as early as 1881 are in the collection now on display in the Deaf Smith Historical Museum, on loan from Leroy Williamson.

Arranged in a tall cabinet in the museum's fine arts room, the cut glass, pressed glass, some pieces of Bavarian china and other items, including exquisitely embroidered handkerchiefs, are from the collection of Williamson's mother, the late Willa Keppel Williamson.

The oldest piece for which Williamson can fix an authentic date is a caster set, its glass bottles held in a silver caster of elaborate design. His grandfather, William Hays Keppel of Harper, Kan., had that when he was married.

Unusual knife-rests of many faceted glass, including a large one for a carving knife, were also Keppel's, and a handsome glass cider pitcher dating about 1890.

Most of the glassware, Williamson said, was bought by his mother in 1902 or 1903 when she purchased furniture for a new home built near Drummond, Okla. The family had come to Oklahoma in the famous "land run" of the late 1800's.

They lived in that state until the Leroy Williamsons moved here in 1950 from Walters. His mother, who made her home with them since 1933, came with them.

She continued to be interested in antiques, and her son shared that interest. He has bought and sold glassware as well as furniture, but refuses to sell the pieces which have been handed down in the family such as all those in the museum display.

It contains some quaint items like toothpick holders, graceful oil and vinegar cruets and perform bottles with fan-shaped glass stoppers as well as large pieces, such as vases and bowls.

The museum has a number of articles on loan, as well as its permanent exhibits which were largely gifts from Deaf Smith County pioneers or their descendants. All displays are arranged for their historical value or to show how early settlers of this area actually lived and worked.

No admission charge is made to visitors. The museum is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, except Mondays, and from 1-5 p.m. on Sundays. Tours for groups may be arranged by a telephone call.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

One of these days a new sport will be added to the Olympic games, called simply, "Convention."

Hardened athletes from all over the world will come together to compete in one of the most gruelling events in sports history: surviving a convention.

The event will be a combination of marathon running, drinking relays, freestyle lying, and a creamed chicken catathon. But all eyes will be upon the winner of the Convention Decathlon -- a series of 10 events to test the physical and mental endurance of the athletes.

1. 100-Meter Elevator Dash. Two elevators are situated in a hotel boasting 525 rooms and hosting 1500 conventioners. The meetings are scheduled in the Promenade Room which is on the mezzanine between the third and fourth floors, and is serviced by elevator No. 1 between the hours of 3:00 and 6:00 a.m. No one knows this.
2. Outlasting the "Keynodder" Speaker. This has been compared to waking up in the recovery room and being asked to applaud. A conventioner in Miami once sat through 15 keypad speakers in four days. They say his cigar burnt right through his index finger and he didn't even feel it.
3. The Name Tag Hurdle. Some smart-aleck will always leave his name tags in his rooms and you are forced to look at his face. This could throw a "lapel man" who goes through the entire convention smiling and conversing with chests.
4. The Surprise Visit From The Wife High Jump. The record this one was set in 1954 by a cookbook salesman from Gary, Indiana, who tried to convince his wife he was nearsighted and thought the sign read, "Message Parlor."
5. Small Talk Bull Throw. A five-day, non-stop talking competition in which the talker must carry on a conversation without saying anything worth repeating.
6. Challenging The Great Divide. A week of dividing dinner checks 20 ways, dividing room service 40 ways and bar bills nine ways. This is culminated by dividing the cost of a taxi ride to the airport in which Frank got off at TWA, Fred rode on Eric's lap, Harvey went to Braniff, Rod to American and Neal left his luggage at the curb at the hotel.
- 7, 8, 9, 10. The last four events are related to one another. After the conventioner has overeaten, overindulged, overstayed, and overestimated his worth to the company, he must return home and explain to his employer why the seal on his convention kit is still not broken and why a item on his expense account reads, "tongue shaved...$5 plus tip."

Rosedale Members Observe Valentine's

State-Line [Special] - Members of the Rosedale Community Center met Thursday evening 7 p.m. for their regular monthly meeting at the center with a Valentine Party and business meeting.

NO MORE WASTED LAND NOW IRRIGATE THE CORNERS WITH VALLEY

It's a revolutionary new concept in center pivot irrigation. The new Valley Corner System is the first center pivot that hits the corners. It allows you to irrigate up to 150 acres per quarter and to adapt your system to any shape field. Expensive corner land can be converted into profitable new acreage with a Corner System Pivot. The amazing versatility of this unique system extends all the obvious advantages of center pivot irrigation—dramatic water savings, automatic irrigation the moment you need it, and precise fertilizer applicator to every farmer. Unusually high yields from land that was previously unproductive will enhance your whole farming enterprise. By irrigating nonproductive farmland, you are upping the overall value of your land as much as $500 per acre. You'll find, as many progressive farmers have already, that the corner catcher will actually pay for itself, and then some.

For just $2.44 or less, you could take down these recipes by Long Distance.

We're printing these recipes to make a point: a Long Distance call lets you say so much, for so little. In a 10-minute phone call to San Francisco, between 5 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. tonight, you could take down the recipes below. And by dialing 1+, the most you pay is $2.44, plus tax. So enjoy a pleasant visit tonight by Long Distance. Whether you call to get a couple recipes... or just to find out what's cookin'.

1. SOURDOUGH STARTER

1 package active dry yeast
2 1/2 cups warm water (105° to 115°)

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 tablespoons sugar
4 cups all-purpose flour

a) Stir yeast, water, dry milk and sugar in 2 1/2 quart crock or non-metallic bowl until yeast is dissolved. Stir in flour gradually until a smooth batter forms. Let stand loosely covered in warm place, 3 to 5 days. Stir down batter occasionally. Store loosely covered in refrigerator.

b) Replace exact amount of starter used for each recipe by stirring equal amounts of homogenized milk and flour back into starter. (For example, replace 1 cup starter with 1/2 cup homogenized milk and 1/2 cup flour). Let stand loosely covered until it bubbles, overnight. Stir down. Each time this process is repeated, the starter becomes more active and develops a more sour flavor. Note: if stored as much as two to three weeks between usings, just pour off the watery layer on top and replace following procedure in (b).

2. SOURDOUGH BREAD STICKS

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
1 cup warm water (105° to 115°)
1 cup Sourdough Starter (see Recipe No. 1)
2 cups all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons vegetable oil

2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 to 1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

a) Mix dry milk, water, Sourdough Starter and 2 cups flour in non-metallic bowl; cover loosely. Let stand in warm place until mixture is coarse and bubbly, at least 8 hours.

b) Mix oil, salt, sugar and baking soda into sourdough mixture. Stir in enough of the remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Knead dough lightly on well-floured board, about 2 minutes.

c) Roll dough into rectangle, 15 x 10 inches on well-floured board. Cut into fifteen 1-inch strips. Roll each strip into even round strand, about 14 inches long. Double strand over and twist to form bread stick. Place bread sticks on greased baking sheet, brush with melted butter. Cover with plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place until double (1 to 1 1/2 hours).

d) Heat oven to 375°. Bake bread sticks until golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. (Makes 15).

Long Distance. What else is so nice for the price?

Wheat Under Loan Increasing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The amount of wheat under the government's price support loan program has continued to increase but not as fast as last fall, the Agriculture Department says.

As of Jan. 31, there were slightly more than 264 million bushels committed to the loan program, a gain of about 19.5 per cent from 221 million bushels on Dec. 31, the department said Monday.

Last November, after USDA increased the price support loan rate, the amount of wheat in the program jumped 80 per cent, from 80.4 million bushels on Oct. 31 to 145.3 million a month later.

Although the amount of wheat currently committed under loan is far greater than it has been in recent years, the levels are still short of what they were in many years before 1973. On Dec. 31, 1972, for example, farmers had 305 million bushels of wheat under loan and three years before that 706 million.

The reason for the lesser amounts in recent years has been that cash market prices have been much higher than the loan rate, which is the amount growers can borrow from USDA by using their crop as collateral.

When cash markets are relatively low, the trend is to make more use of the loan program. And when prices improve, farmers can redeem the grain by paying off the loans and selling it for cash.

Last Oct. 13, then-President Gerald R. Ford boosted the wheat price support loan rate to $2.25 a bushel from $1.50 previously in effect. Cash market prices, on the other hand, are down substantially from a year or two ago, averaging $2.43 a bushel nationally at the farm in mid-January against $3.43 a year earlier.

The corn loan rate also was increased last fall to $1.50 a bushel from $1.25, and that has encouraged some farmers to make more use of the program.

As of Jan. 31 farmers had 225.7 million bushels of corn under loan, up 11.5 per cent

TFB Head Says Property Tax Primary Agriculture Problem

AUSTIN—The president of the state's largest farm organization told an assemblage of state government officials, legislators, and county farm leaders that the property tax burden is one of agriculture's primary problems.

Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, leader of the 195,571-member Texas Farm Bureau, recomended that agricultural land be assessed for taxation at its productive value. He also outlined TFB's legislative recommendations on school financing, state inheritance taxes, farm-to-market roads, taxation and regulation of underground water, and funding agricultural research and education.

The dinner highlighted a two-day session attended by more than 300 county Farm Bureau leaders, including presidents and chairmen of membership and state affairs committees.

Other speakers at the conference included Governor Dolph Briscoe, Lieutenant-Governor William Hobby, House Speaker Bill Clayton, Attorney-General John Hill, Comptroller Bob Bullock, Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo, Reps. Bill Sullivant of Gainesville and Tom Massey of San Angelo. TFB Executive Director Warren Newberry of Waco, and TFB State Affairs Director Pat Smith of Austin.

"We are not suggesting that agricultural land be taxed at something other than fair market value," Chaloupka said. "We are only suggesting that the method of finding fair market value be limited to 'income capitalization' based on the agricultural productivity of the land." He said this would eliminate "most recent sale" evaluations which he said may be distorted because of speculative or commercial use of nearby land.

The TFB leader said the primary effect of this change in present laws, which must be in the form of a Constitutional amendment, would prohibit future sudden increases on the property tax on land that is being used for agricultural purposes.

Chaloupka explained that the effect of this change in property taxes on school district revenues would be offset by TFB's recommendations that the state should shoulder a larger load of local school financing.

"This change could be easily financed because of favorable revenue surplus in the hands of the 65th Legislature," Chaloupka said.

The state farm leader said farm families need relief from "oppressive" state inheritance taxes.

LUBBOCK—"Food and Fiber for a Hungry World: A Decade of Progress" will be the theme of Water, Incorporated's, 10th Annual Membership Meeting at the Hilton Inn here Saturday (Feb. 19).

About 300 persons are expected to attend the meeting and a hearing scheduled by the Texas Water Development Board Friday (Feb. 18) in conjunction with the Water, Inc., session.

The Water, Inc., program will examine the role of the High Plains of Texas and New Mexico in food and fiber production for the state, the nation and the world, provided adequate water resources are supplied the region.

The meeting will begin Saturday at 8:50 a.m. in the ballroom of the Hilton Inn. The session is open to the public.

Water, Inc., is a non-profit organization which encourages long-range water resource planning and development with an emphasis on securing supplemental water for the High Plains.

The TWDB hearing is set for Friday at 2 p.m. in the Hilton ballroom. The TWDB is currently revising the Texas Water Plan the topic of the hearing.

Fertilizer Industry Vulnerable

WASHINGTON (AP)—A newly released study of the impact of energy-related shortages on farming suggests that the fertilizer and chemicals industries are relatively more severely hurt by fuel shortages than other agricultural suppliers.

The authors of the Agriculture Department study, J.B. Penn and George D. Irwin, noted that most plans for dealing with the energy crisis emphasize getting gasoline and other fuels directly to farmers for their machinery.

But they found that such an emphasis is pointless unless key supply industries are also able to operate.

"Energy constraints on processing, transportation and distribution sectors could still curtail the supplies of food and fiber reaching consumers," they reported.

Final Grazing, Wheat Certification Dates Set

By JOHN FUSTON
Executive Director

FINAL GRAZING DATE—MARCH 20 - WHEAT & BARLEY: The state committee established March 20th as the final grazing date for Deaf Smith County. The established date is the date by which the producer must certify the acreage that is intended for grazing or non-grain use, and not have it affect disaster eligibility on the remainder of the crop.

FINAL DATE TO CERTIFY WHEAT ACRES FOR 1977 - MAY 15: May 15th is the final date to certify wheat for proven yield. Also, it looks like we may update some allotments someday, and we feel that it would be to your advantage to certify your wheat by May 15th.

$2,283,587.00 DISASTER PAYMENTS FOR 1976: We have about completed making disaster payments for 1976 crops. If you think you had some money coming or you have not received your low yield payment, come by and check with us. Due to dryland crop failure, lower yield on some irrigated land with light water, and the low market prices we have today, Deaf Smith County is approximately $30,000,000.00 short on 1976 gross farm income. We hope, here in the office, that with just a little help from the good Lord we will have good crops and a good market for 1977.

COTTON ALLOTMENT TRANSFERS: The county committee approved the sale and/or lease of cotton allotments outside Deaf Smith County for 1977. This will be effective from March 1 through May 1. Important - If you plan to plant cotton in 1977, it would be to your advantage to have a cotton allotment equal to the number of acres you plan to plant. If you have any questions about cotton, come by the office and visit with us. Remember, May 1 is the final date for transfers, and to release or request reapportioned cotton acres.

FARM CHANGES - OWNER, OPERATOR: Please inform this office if you have rented, bought, or sold a farm so we can update our records. We will be mailing out allotment and yield notices in the near future, and they need to be sent to the correct person.

PRODUCER PAYMENT STATEMENT-FORM CCC-182: Each producer that received a program payment during 1976 should have received Form CCC-182 showing payments earned during 1976. This form is sent to you directly from the Data Systems Field Office and is intended to assist you in preparing your income tax return.

IMPORTANT DATES TO REMEMBER:
1. March 20 - Final grazing date for wheat and barley.
2. March 20 - Final date to certify wheat if you plan to graze it out.
3. May 1 - Final date to transfer, release or request reapportioned acres.
4. May 15 - Final date to certify wheat.

HOLIDAY: This office will be closed February 21, 1977 in observance of Washington's birthday.

Coneway Elected To TGA Board

Steve Coneway, secretary-treasurer of Water Industries Inc. of Hereford was elected to a three year term as a member of the board of directors of the Texas Groundwater Association during the organization's state convention in Austin Feb. 9-11.

He is presently a member of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Water Committee, and served as president of the committee during 1976.

Coneway passed the driller's licensing exam administered by the Texas Water Well Driller's Board in September, 1967, and was one of the youngest individuals to receive a license to drill within the state at that time.

Both he and his father, R. Paul Coneway hold certificates in mud rotary drilling which they received upon completion of a test administered by the National Water Well Association in 1976.

The father-son team are the only drillers in the local area who possess this certificate.

Ann Landers Rude Awakening

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What is wrong with a man who hits, picks, or pulls his wife's hair in his sleep? Four times in the past three months, I've been awakened by a fist in the face and a kick in the back. Once he tried to choke me. Last night he was pulling my hair, shouting,

"Why did you do that?" When I question him the following morning he seems resentful, as if I have no right to say anything seeing as how he does all this in his sleep. This morning, after receiving a nocturnal black eye, I decided to ask YOU about it.

We have two empty bedrooms now that our children are gone. Should I sleep alone for my own safety? My husband is strong as an ox and I'm afraid of him.—A Shiner For My 33rd Wedding Anniversary
DEAR SHINER: Quit while you're behind and move into the guest room. If the ox walks in his sleep, put a lock on the door. The man has some deep-seated hostilities which may or may not involve you. Nevertheless you could wind up with a fractured skull.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: That boy who cried when his cat died but couldn't manage a tear for his grandmother upset me. Had he known his grandmother, maybe he could have cried for her too. That boy's letter pointed out one of the major tragedies of our time—the breakdown of family life. Everybody is so busy doing his own thing there's no time for excess baggage like grandparents. We are the lost generation—strangers to our children and strangers to their children.

I have search my soul for answers and can find none. I am available and eager to see my family and they know it. But my phone doesn't ring. Sad, isn't it?—Lonesome
DEAR LONESOME: Yes, it is, and I have no magic solution. If you live in the same city, perhaps you could invite the grandchildren to your place and teach them to knit or crochet or bake cookies. Buy coloring books and paints and crayons.

In other words, DO something together. Sometimes the mountain has to go to Mohammed.
DEAR ANN: I'm 17 and have had some bad luck. In the last five months I totaled a car and lost three teeth in the process. A few weeks later I fell on some glass, cut my leg to the bone and had to have 25 stitches. Last week I broke my wrist skateboarding.
I'm a good skateboard rider and love the sport. But that was the straw that broke the camel's back as far as my dad was concerned. He says I'm cursed and has ordered me to say away from anything that could get me into an accident.

I say I'm not cursed and I plan to continue skateboarding as soon as I get this cast off my arm. Do you agree with me?—Hard Luck Harry
DEAR HARRY: I don't believe in "curses," but you certainly are accident prone. If your dad says nix on the skateboard, you'd better cool it, fella. With your defiant attitude you're a good bet to land in the hospital again if you continue to take risks.
CONFIDENTIAL to In A Very Big Mess But I Meant Well: Take your lumps. Don't look for an escape hatch. Oscar Wilde was right when he said, "It is always with the best of intentions that the worst work is done."

Breaking the Banco
Originally meaning "bench" or "shell" in Italian, the word banco was applied specially to a tradesman's counter, and hence to a money-changer's bench or table, from which the modern word bank is derived. In Italy, when a moneylender was unable to continue his business, his bench or counter was broken up, and he was spoken of as bancorotto — bankrupt.

Anita Bryant To Fight Despite Threat To Income

MIAMI (AP) - Anita Bryant says she will continue fighting a gay rights ordinance even "if my livelihood is stripped away from me."
"I will not be moved," Miss Bryant said in an interview Tuesday. "I'd rather have the love of God and be making this a better place to live for my children and other children."
She has helped organize a group called "Save our Children Inc." because she believes the local gay community is "trying to recruit our children to homosexuality."

Gay rights leaders call her efforts "bigoted" and "fanatical." They have tried unsuccessfully to pressure the Florida Citrus Commission, for which she has advertised orange juice since 1968, into taking her ads off the air, and they talk about a possible boycott of Florida citrus products.
Miss Bryant, 37 and mother of four children, was Miss Oklahoma in 1959 and was second runner-up in that year's Miss America contest.

She later was a singer voice on numerous network television programs and served as a spokeswoman for a soft drink before signing up to represent the Florida citrus industry.
A Southern Baptist, she has written numerous books with religious themes and often has appeared with Rev. Billy Graham during his religious "crusades."
Miss Bryant, who in the past has avoided involvement in local issues, appeared at a Dade County Commission hearing last month to testify against an ordinance to ban discrimination against homosexuals in housing and employment.

"As an entertainer, I have worked with homosexuals all my life, and my attitude has been live and let live," she said at the meeting, her voice choking with emotion. "Now, I believe it is time to realize the rights of the overwhelming number of Dade County constituents."

The ordinance passed, but Miss Bryant and other opponents promptly announced formation of the protest group. Petitions to either force the commission to overturn its decision or put the question up for a referendum were distributed in churches and synagogues last weekend.
She said Tuesday she does not believe that many school children would be subject to physical abuses, but she said she objects strongly to the "role models" that homosexual teachers would present.

"Some males who could become teachers even want to wear dresses to work and flaunt their homosexuality in front of my children..." she said. "As a mother, if we do not have the right to protect our children from this kind of thing...well, our children are very vulnerable."
"I would give my life if necessary to protect my children."

Atheist Puts Down Boy Scouts

AUSTIN (AP) - Atheist Madelyn Murray O'Hair sent a telegram Wednesday to President Carter urging him not to accept the honorary presidency of the American Boy Scouts.
The scouts discriminate against atheists by requiring a belief in God, she said.
"Please, Mr. President, American atheists have rights, too," she said.

She said atheists "beckon you to decline" acceptance of the position in ceremonies Thursday.
Kovachi, a submarine volcano in the British Solomon Islands of the South Pacific, was first observed in eruption by an airline pilot in October, 1968. What began as a bubbling discoloration of sea water eventually turned into a new island.

What Will Tomorrow Think Of Us

Bumper stickers are the 1977 version of graffiti.

Graffiti heretofore consisted of words and slogans scrawled on walls.

You and I can remember carving four initials on two heart with an arrow through them—in the bark of a tree—during our childhood infatuations.

Perhaps some of use wrote Saxon words of drew naughty pictures on the schoolhouse cloakroom wall.

But now you can purchase a bumper sticker for your car which, like earlier graffiti, will tell future generations a lot about you.

At the University of New Orleans a graduate student wrote her master's degree thesis on the subject of "Graffiti in New Orleans."

Janice Gilbert concluded her research convinced that today's "handwriting on the wall" may be useful to tomorrow's historians. She believes that the topics too sensitive, too bigoted and too outrageous for traditional recorders of history to record will be revealed to future researchers from our uninhibited wall scrawls.

With friends guarding the doors who was able to examine and compare public washrooms of both WOMEN and MEN.

Those of us customarily confined to one of the other may be interested to learn that the MEN'S room is likely to include random crudities—words and sketches.

WOMEN'S lounges, unless she is pulling our leg, abound with quotes by T.S. Eliot, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Bob Dylan, Camus, Thoreau and Lenny Bruce.

It is not uncommon for a troubled woman to write a question on the powder room wall under which a number of others will offer advice and—or sympathy.

In Philadelphia there is a graffiti club of some 90 members—youngsters who meet regularly to line up targets for the words and messages which they inscribe on public walls, the more public the more challenging.

Because they prefer to write with spray cans of paint, that city's council is contemplating requiring merchants to keep spray paint supplies locked up.

What will tomorrow think of us when it reads PIG COPS? Or when it reads such expressions as EVIL SPELLED BACKWARD IS LIVE!

But to assist tomorrow's historians in their evaluation of this phenomenon of anonymous expression, let me mention several that I have seen. In Italy, for example, there are some very naughty verses on politics and sex and such.

One of the milder ones reads:

CLARINDA LAY HERE WITH A YOUNG CAVALIER WITH HER HEART OF FEAR FOR HER HUSBAND WAS NEAR.

Actually, graffiti derives from an Italian word meaning "scribbling" or "scratching."

And the very large number of examples which you can see in Italy, if you like, were inscribed indelibly on the walls of Pompeii when they dug the city out from under the Vesuvius volcano of 79 a.d.

For better or worse, it is not new.

Bigger Rebates Eyed For Lower Tax Brackets

WASHINGTON (AP) - Taxwriters in Congress are considering whether to take President Carter's proposed $50-per-person rebates away from upper income taxpayers and give a few dollars more to those in lower brackets.

That is among alternatives that the congressional tax staff has outlined for the House Ways and Means Committee, which began work Wednesday on the tax proposals in Carter's $31.2

billion economic stimulus plan. Committee Chairman Al Ullman said he expects the panel will complete work on the proposals by Thursday.

Carter will send Congress additional work Tuesday when he submits his proposed changes in the 1978 budget proposed by former President Gerald R. Ford.

Budget analysts say Carter is likely to increase Ford's proposed 1978 spending.

NBC Sinks In Ratings

NEW YORK (AP)- NBC has slipped deeper into third place behind CBS in the national television ratings race, according to the latest A.C. Nielsen figures.

Claiming four of the top four programs for the week ending Feb. 13, ABC retained its grip on first place. CBS, meanwhile, extended its lead over NBC for the season to date by two-tenths of a point.

The most popular program last week was the second part of "How the West Was Won" last Monday night. At the bottom of the list of 68 rated shows was "Executive Suite" on CBS.

National Nielsen prime-time averages gave ABC a 23.2 rating, meaning it was preferred in an estimated 16.5 million households during the week. The CBS average 19.1, or 13.6 million homes, and NBC's was 16.7, or 11.9 million.

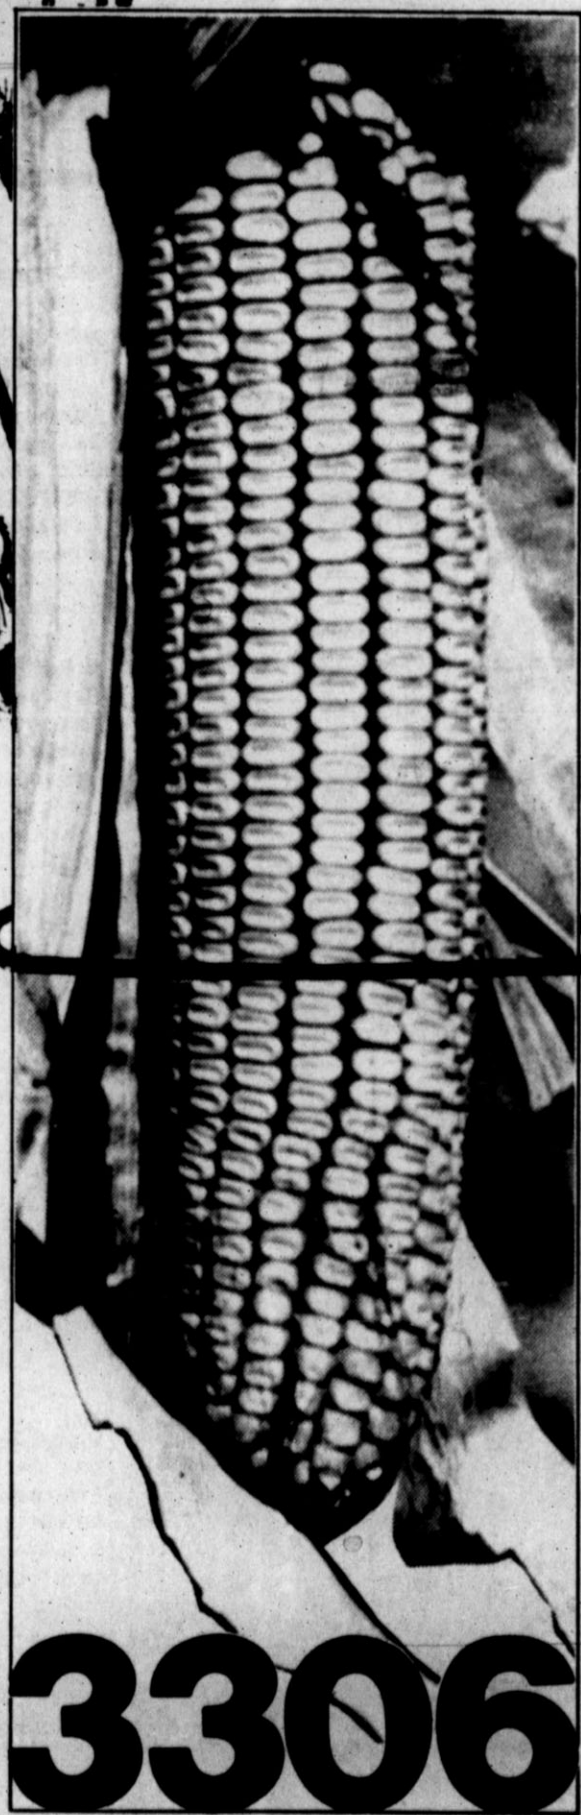

The season-to-date ratings stand at 22.1, or 15.7 million, for ABC; 18.8, or 13.9 million, CBS; 18.5, or 13.2 million, NBC.

Two premieres were tied in 35th and 36th place. They were "Blansky's Beauties" on ABC and "The Life and Times of Grizzly Adams" on NBC. But NBC's "Big Event" Sunday night, "2001: A Space Odyssey," turned up in 46th place.

According to the Nielsen figures, the top 10 shows were as follows:

"How the West Was Won," ABC, a 32.2 rating, seen in 22.9 million homes; "Happy Days," ABC, 31.8, or 22.6 million; "Laverne & Shirley," ABC, 31.4, or 22.4 million; "Charlie's Angels," ABC, 27.9, or 19.9 million; "M*A*S*H," CBS, and "Six Million Dollar Man," ABC, each 27.6, or 19.7 million; "People's Choice Awards," CBS, 26.6, or 18.9 million; "The Last Dinosaur," ABC's Friday movie, 25.2, or 17.9 million; "One Day at a Time," CBS, 25, or 17.8 million, and "Welcome Back, Kotter," ABC, 24.8, or 17.7 million.

The next 10 shows were in order, "Baretta," ABC; "60 Minutes," CBS; "All in the Family," CBS; "Starsky and Hutch," ABC; "Switch," CBS; "Bionic Woman," ABC; "Carol Burnett," CBS; "Alice," CBS, and "What's Happening," ABC, tied in 18th and 19th place, and "The Jeffersons," CBS.

One Horse of a Hybrid

for Deaf Smith County

If you ever cowboied for a living, you had one horse you liked best. It may not have been the prettiest or fastest but it rode easy and got the work done no matter what.

Pioneer brand 3306 is that kind of corn hybrid for a lot of farmers in this area. It's the hybrid that brought corn back to this country ten years ago and there is nothing to beat it yet for good steady production no matter the weather, insects, or disease.

NO HEAD SMUT.

In the big Texas Ag Extension Service Head Smut Test west of Dimmitt last year, they compared everything that would sprout to 3306. This included the new glamour girls that look so good... until it gets a little dry or a little wet or the wind blows. 3306 showed no head smut. It was still standing straight up with ears firmly attached when the big judge — the combine — got there.

TAKES STRESS IN ITS STRIDE.

3306 is the most dependable corn hybrid ever grown on the High Plains. It can adjust to almost any kind of stress... over planting, drought, extreme heat, early freeze, high winds, bugs, disease... you name it and 3306 has been there and produced a good corn crop.

If you're not farming in a greenhouse, tell your Pioneer dealer to save you some 3306.

FRESH SPRING BLOSSOMS:
If you would like to have some fresh flowers in your living room or den, I suggest that you force some of your flowering shrubs or fruit trees.
Even while it is still winter outside, we can have the beauty of spring in our homes by cutting dormant branches from trees and shrubs in our gardens and making them bloom through a process called forcing. I have tried this process many times and it really does work.
Select branches which already have full, thickly formed blossom buds in order to be forced inside. Choose carefully, first selecting those which flower first, the blossoms will be more real as to size and color.
First take invoice of potentials, then select the branches which will arrange gracefully. Cut stems at an angle, slit and scrape six inches, removing bark.
Select large jars which have been washed thoroughly and sterilized. Fill with water (a gallon capacity container is best) add 1/2 teaspoon of liquid bleach to retard bacteria growth. This is very important for forcing over a long period. Change water at least once a week. To encourage an earlier bloom and aid in developing the blossoms to normal size add 1/2 teaspoon water-soluble plant fertilizer (I use Rapid-Grow) to each gallon of water. Do not crowd materials, they will develop more perfectly if not crowded. Place the containers in a dark room for at least a week, then remove them to a sunny window or under grow-lights. If placed in warmer areas in the house the branches will develop faster.
Another suggestion is to mist with warm water once a day, if possible, especially if they are in extreme dry conditions (like we have here). Misting can be done while misting the potted plants. Sometimes I add a small portion of fertilizer depending on container, to the water which is used for misting this aids the potted plants and will help to keep branches from drying out and will promote faster budding.
When cutting the materials, keep in mind, that to have an attractive arrangement good lines are easier to arrange, also do not cut the branches too long, 18 to 24 inches is a reasonable height for home use, for arrangements in public buildings one should cut longer branches, not more than 3 feet.
Another step I use in forcing is to groom branches after selection, then fill bath-tub with luke warm water and submerge them completely in the water and let them remain there for several hours or a day this causes them to respond quicker to budding and bloom.
