

Hostages May Be Moved on Saturday

By The Associated Press

The American hostages probably will be transferred from the U.S. Embassy in Tehran to a new location Saturday in hopes "they will be treated better," and as soon as they are moved the U.N. commission will be allowed to see all of them, Iranian Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh said today.

He also said the three American diplomats held at the Foreign Ministry will be allowed to rejoin the other hostages if they wish, and that the U.N. panel had already visited the three — Charge d'Affaires L. Bruce Laingen, political officer Victor Tomseth and security chief Michael Holland.

"As soon as the hostages are transferred, the meeting (with the U.N. commission) will be held," he said.

But he declined to say where the hostages would continue to be held by the Iranian government. "Let's do it first and then we'll announce it," he said.

Ghotbzadeh added that he is heading a special commission set up by the ruling Revolutionary Council to take over responsibility for the approximately 50 Americans, who began their 125th day in captivity today.

Ghotbzadeh said the special commission would meet today to arrange for the council to take custody of the hostages. He also indicated Iran's conditions for their release are unchanged.

Ghotbzadeh did not identify the other commission members.

The militants holding the hostages announced Thursday they would deliver them to the ruling council because of pressure put on them by the Iranian government.

The announcement was critical of the ruling body and brought a crowd of 2,000 to the embassy gates Thursday night. The demonstrators burned an American flag, shouted slogans in support of the militants and called on the government not to compromise with the United States.

There was no indication that the ruling council, after taking control of the hostages, would speed up the mechanics of their release prescribed by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the leader of the revolutionary regime.

Khomeini said the new Parliament elected next month would decide their fate, and the secretary-general of the Revolutionary Council said the legislators wouldn't get around to the matter before mid-May.

After two weeks in Tehran, the members of the U.N. panel were preparing to leave for New York Thursday when the militants made their announcement. They unpacked their bags to stay for two or three more days.

The Carter administration reacted cautiously to the promised change in the status of the hostages. "We're watching," said National Security Adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski.

Growing Pains Often Literal

By PAUL SIMS

The youngest child in the family didn't learn to walk until he was 2½.

All the children were filthy. Teachers and classmates often complained of their smell.

The parents knew there was a problem in the household. They wouldn't allow their baby to walk on the floor inside the house because of the dirt and trash and rat poison. So, he didn't learn to walk.

In another family, the little girl repeatedly showed up at school with tiny indentions covering her face. It was later learned they were made by a hair brush.

The 3-month-old infant with an arm broken by a parent, the numerous reports of children with head lice, scabies and infantigo, the filthy households, the unsupervised pre-school youngsters—all have been cases handled by Hereford child-placement workers employed by the Texas Department of Human Resources (TDHR).

Child abuse and neglect often seem to be running in epidemic proportions in Hereford, says local worker Beth

Beth Igal: 'We don't snatch a kid away from the parents without an investigation.'

Igal, whose office investigated 11 reports of possible maltreatment last month alone.

"I can definitely say that I have more cases here than I would like. It's surprising," Mrs. Igal said.

Child abuse is considered by TDHR workers to be intentionally injuring a youngster either physically or sexually. The most common results of abuse are bruises, abrasions, fractures and burns.

Child exploitation—using the child for the benefit of the parents by means such as prostitution or forcing the young person to work while not attending school—can be considered either abuse or neglect, depending upon the seriousness of the situation.

The youngster who was not allowed to walk on the floor because his parents feared the dirt and rat poison was a victim of child neglect—the parents' failure to meet a child's basic needs, such as food, clothing, shelter and medical supervision.

Abandonment—leaving a youngster at home without supervision—also is deemed neglect by TDHR.

A case reported by The Brand last month to Mrs. Igal involved five children, the oldest 9-years-old, who were left in a run-down mobile home while their parents worked.

One of the pre-school-age children accidentally started a fire in the mobile home. Firemen contacted city building inspector Bill Phipps, who promptly condemned the home.

"It was just completely unlivable," Phipps said. "We found the floor had insufficient strength to be safe, the electrical conditions were improper, the gas stove wasn't even capable of cutting off after turning on, clothing was stacked next to the water heater, the windows were knocked out and the condition of sanitation was such that it could have cockroaches and infestation in there."

Mrs. Igal is presently working with the parents on improving their lifestyle.

"When we get an intake, we first contact whoever is responsible for the care of the child. We then have to interview the child himself, examine the child and determine whether this child has been abused or neglected," Mrs. Igal said.

"In case of the child who wasn't allowed to walk on the floor, we did everything possible to avoid having the parents lose their parental right. They took the rat poison off the floor, and some of the other problems were remedied where it would have been unjustified for them to lose their children," she said.

According to Homer Ann Hooper of Amarillo, who directs the activities of child-placement workers in eight counties, including Deaf Smith, child abuse and neglect is prevalent in all types of environment.

"Although Mexican-Americans are considered the minority in Hereford, you can't fairly say that there would be more abuse or neglect cases in the Mexican-American culture. But, the Mexican-American cases are reported more often," Mrs. Hooper said.

Dr. Jerry Kleinpeter: 'Some are steel rods—they resonate, take the blow and go on pretty good.'

"Your middle-class, Anglo people aren't going to be reported as frequently. It just seems that your minorities come in contact with more social service agencies who will report cases to us."

Mrs. Igal said that her office has received some "very serious" referrals from the upper-economic section of the local population.

"And, generally by the time the upper socio-economic cases are reported to us, they were more serious by that time," Mrs. Igal added.

If a case is reported, the investigation by Mrs. Igal and fellow placement worker Harold Crow will determine if

Housewife To Seek HISD Post

Housewife Stephanie F. Ramirez this week joined the Hereford Independent School District board race, creating the second contested local April 5 election.

Uncontested elections are scheduled for the City of Hereford and Deaf Smith County Hospital District. There are six candidates running for three spots on the Walcott Independent School District Board.

Mrs. Ramirez, a Hereford resident for 17 years, said she decided to file in order to "help my children."

Her children are 8, 5, 2 and 5 months old.

"If I can help my children get interested in school by my being active with the school board, that's what I need to do. I'm also running because I'm interested in what's going on in school and the decision that the board makes," Mrs. Ramirez said.

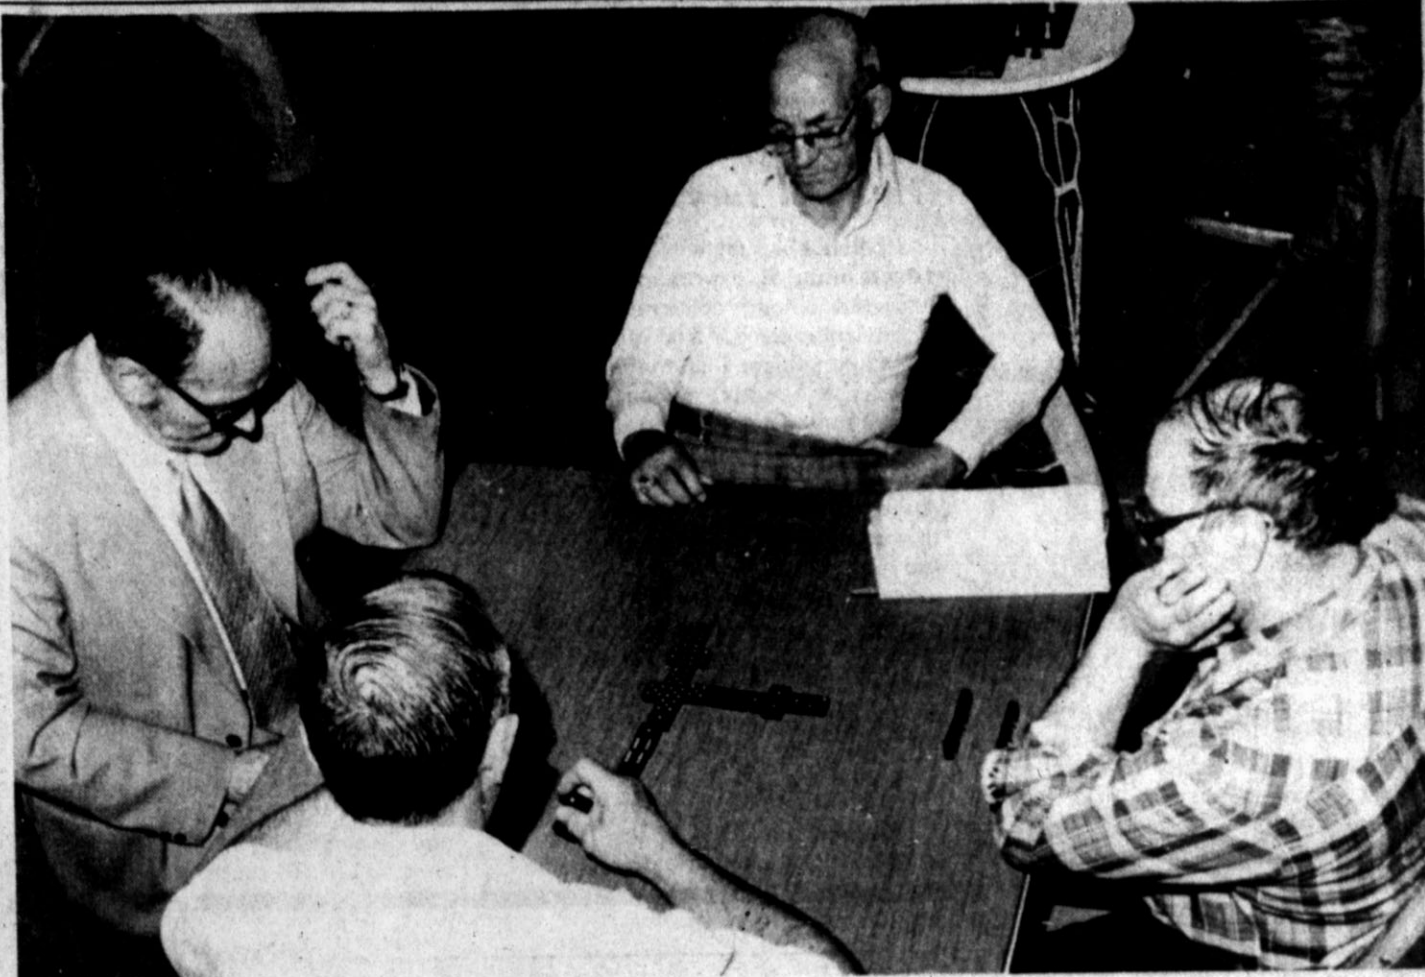

She said she is more qualified than her opponents — Police Lieutenant Paul Ramirez and Realtor James Gentry — "because I'm a mother, and as a mother, I can do a better job than they can."

"The children bring their work home from school, so I know what's going on. Fathers, because they work, don't have a chance to."

She said the race will be "tough" against the two incumbents, "but I'm willing to do this for my kids."

Bentsen: Balance Budget First

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, a leading advocate of a tax cut to spur business investment said today that despite the need for a tax reduction, balancing the 1981 federal budget must be the "first priority."

But the Texas Democrat, chairman of the congressional Joint Economic Committee, also told the Senate Budget Committee that a $25-billion tax cut should take effect in the summer of 1981. He said the cost of such a "modest tax cut" would mostly be felt in fiscal 1982, which starts Oct. 1, 1981.

"Our first priority must be to work toward a balanced budget," Bentsen said. "But I am convinced that we also need to begin planning now for a modest tax cut on the order of $25 billion to take effect in the summer of 1981."

However, even if most of the tax cut's effect is delayed until fiscal 1982, Bentsen's proposal would require additional spending cuts to balance the 1981 budget.

Battle lines are already forming on Capitol Hill for what could be a titanic political struggle over where to cut to balance the 1981 budget. "It's going to be blood," one senator said.

President Carter's proposed 1981 budget, submitted on Jan. 28, calls for a $16-billion deficit, and congressional budget specialists say the actual

Safeway Freezes Some Food Costs

Safeway Stores Inc. and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. Inc. — two of the nation's largest supermarket chains — say they are freezing prices on some products in response to a plea from the Carter administration for help in fighting inflation.

About 50 of the nation's largest food chains were asked to participate, but few had announced their decisions by Thursday.

Company officials said prices on private label products were frozen for 30 days, effective immediately at the 2,500 Safeway stores and 1,500 A&P groceries nationwide.

"This action is in response to a request by the Carter administration that food retailers consider voluntary approaches to control food prices to halt inflation," said David R. Morrow, president of A&P, based in Montvale, N.J.

"This is the strongest move we could think of," he said.

Peter A. Magowan, chairman and chief executive of the Oakland, Calif.-based Safeway, said the action was taken "at the suggestion of Esther Peterson, President Carter's special assistant for consumer affairs."

"The president has asked me to determine what more we can do to keep the cost of food from rising so rapidly," Mrs. Peterson said.

She said she had written to about 50 supermarket chains across the country proposing they begin a voluntary ceiling plan to "ease the inflationary pressures that are causing such hardships to all consumers."

She said Giant Food Inc. was the first to respond, promising a 21-week freeze

Wholesale Prices Soar Again During February

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Wholesale prices soared 1.5 percent in February, nearly matching January's surge, but unemployment declined slightly to 6 percent, the government reported today.

February's increase in the Labor Department's Producer Price Index showed little improvement from January's 1.6 percent rise, mainly because of near-record increases in gasoline and home heating oil prices.

If prices at the producer level — one step short of retail — continue to rise for the next 10 months at the same rate as in the first two, inflation at wholesale will exceed 20 percent.

Wholesale prices last year went up 12.5 percent, the largest increase since the Middle East oil embargo sent prices soaring more than 18 percent in 1974.

The Labor Department's report on unemployment showed joblessness down from 6.2 percent in January to 6 percent in February. In both months, about 6.3 million persons were out of work.

As in 1974, price increases on crude oil imported from members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries again are the main cause of the nation's inflation problem, said John Layng, a Labor Department analyst.

Prices of gasoline and home heating oil rose 7.5 percent at wholesale in February, considerably higher than January's 4.4 percent rise and the largest since an 8.8 percent surge in

Barber Jim Cherry Practices Art of Talking

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Jim Cherry is a master of the art of gab.

His business, The Barber Shop on W. 4th St., is an idea place to practice.

"I like talkers," said Cherry, who with 20 years of cutting hair in Hereford, has more local seniority than any other barber in town.

"And, I like to talk. The key to doing it is starting the conversation by finding out what the man's really interested in," Cherry said.

"Yeah, I like to talk. I go to Hobo's (restaurant) every morning and shoot the bull.

"I also go there to eat every morning. I have a lot of favorite places to eat. I guess eating's my favorite pastime—I don't smoke and drink, but I like to eat."

At 6-4 and 270 pounds, it's obvious he's good at it. But, he swears "there's not much fat on me."

Cherry said that because of his size he wears his short, even though hair covering just the tops of the ears is the most popular style.

"Long hair makes your face look bigger, your face and features look wider," Cherry said. "But, if I cut your hair off your ears, you'd look like a '49 Ford off in a barditch with the doors open.

"Hair styles are going back to being shorter. Not flat tops and burrs. We went from flat tops and burrs to long hair. Now, the trend's going back to shorter hair. I wear my hair short because I'm a redneck at heart," he said.

A head of hair is like a fingerprint, says Cherry.

Every head of hair is different. You'll have a calic or hair-growth pattern that's different from everyone else. You cut every head of hair a little different," explained Cherry.

"There are two secrets to being a good barber—you've got to be able to shoot the bull and you've got to be interested in the person you're working on."

Cherry, 39, was raised in Clayton, N.M., and attended barber college in Amarillo after high school graduation. He barbered for a short time in an Amarillo bank, then moved to Hereford in 1960.

"I came to Hereford to fill in for an ol' boy who was on vacation at the Whiteface Barber Shop. They liked my work, and since this guy was getting ready to retire anyway, they kept me and let him go," Cherry said.

His bosses were Charlie Morris and Abe Martin. He worked at Whiteface for 1½ years.

Cherry, Perry Ray and Joe Rojeck became partners at the City Barber Shop at 419 N. Main.

"I worked awhile, then I wanted to put in men's hair styling. Since Whiteface Barber Shop had the room, I went in partners there with Leo Hollowell (the present owner)," Cherry said.

On March 19, 1975, Cherry opened The Barber Shop, along with Ronnie Paggett and

Federal Judge

Apologizes For Remark

HOUSTON (AP) - A federal judge who said he had never seen anything of worldwide importance published in Spanish apologized for his remark during a hearing on a suit challenging a Texas law requiring illegal alien children to pay school tuition.

"The quotes...do not reflect my opinion about the Hispanic people, the Spanish language or the culture," said U.S. district Judge Woodrow Seals in a letter to Rice University professor James A. Castaneda.

The judge, who is presiding over the suit challenging the constitutionality of the state law, read the letter before the trial began Thursday, after conferring with attorneys for both sides.

"It was a most senseless statement for me to make," Seals said.

"I simply do not know how I could say that. It was dreadful and I am exceedingly sorry."

Environmentalists Vow

To Fight Conversion

WASHINGTON (AP) - Environmental groups are vowing to defeat President Carter's $10 billion program to convert utilities to coal because the proposal does not impose the safeguards they consider essential to protect against a growing acid rain problem.

Carter, in sending his proposal to Congress Thursday, said it represents a "sound investment in the nation's energy future" and is vital if the country is to meet his goal of halving foreign oil imports.

But environmentalists charged the proposal could undo all the gains made in the last decade in cleaning up the air.

The program would provide $3.6 billion in federal grants to pay up to 50 percent of the costs of converting 50 power plants, primarily in the Northeast, to coal by 1985.

Besides these mandatory conversions, the program would provide another $6 billion for voluntary conversion programs by utilities nationwide away from oil and natural gas. Utilities could qualify for these funds by converting to coal, nuclear power, synthetic fuels or "renewable resources" such as hydroelectric power.

Stafford Trial

To Be in Jury's Hands

PURCELL, Okla. (AP) - A seven-man, five-woman jury was expected to begin deliberations today in the triple-murder trial of convicted mass killer Roger Dale Stafford.

Defense rebuttal testimony, jury instructions and closing arguments by defense attorney J. Malone Brewer and McClain County District Attorney Kay Huff were scheduled for this morning, on the eleventh day of the trial.

Stafford is charged here with killing Air Force Sgt. Melvin Lorenz 38, his wife, Sgt. Linda Lorenz, 31, and son Richard, 12, of San Antonio, Texas, during a robbery along Interstate 35 near this central Oklahoma town on June 22, 1978.

Stafford could be given three death sentences if convicted of the Lorenz murders. The 28-year-old Alabama high school dropout currently is appealing six death sentences he received in October for the July 16, 1978 murders of six Oklahoma City streakhouse workers in the worst robbery-murder in Oklahoma history.

Hobby Blasts DPS

For Unmarked Cars

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Lt. Gov. William Hobby says the Department of Public Safety should stop using unmarked patrol cars to snare speeding drivers.

But the new commander of the state police agency says the practice is an effective technique and he vows to keep it in force unless the Legislature acts to stop him.

"Our goal is to save lives and to try to conserve gasoline. I think what we're doing is reasonable. It's not illegal, it's not unlawful and it has proper goals," said Col. James B. Adams.

Hobby, who found out about the new procedure Wednesday, said Adams overstepped his authority by not getting formal approval from the Legislature or the three-member Public Safety Commission that sets DPS policy.

Adams, who resigned as the No. 2 man in the FBI and took command of the DPS Jan. 2, instituted the policy Feb. 12 - changing a long-standing internal policy prohibiting the use of unmarked patrol cars.

Texas Briefs

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Some former employees of Sunny Isle Dress Co., Mart, may be eligible for government assistance because they lost their jobs due to foreign competition, the Texas Employment Commission said Thursday.

TEC said the employees involved were employed at the plant from March 2, 1979, to Jan. 31, 1980. Those eligible will be notified by letter.

"The workers affected lost their jobs when sales declined, possibly due to foreign competition, and thus qualified under provisions of the Trade Act of 1974," the TEC said.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Congressional cutbacks have forced the Texas Department of Human Resources to cut social services to welfare recipients by $28.6 million this year, Commissioner Jerome Chapman said Thursday.

The department's commissioner said a congressional conference committee has voted $2.7 billion for such services, nationwide, a $200 million drop from last year.

Chapman said services that will suffer include day care, family planning, emergency family services, employment services and licensing activities.

He said state legislative mandates, however, mean there will be no cutback in protective services to children and help for the needy aged, blind and disabled.

The Texas social services budget has been cut because of the federal reduction from $227.5 million to less than $198 million, Chapman said.

DALLAS (AP) - Lynn Swann Haag, 39, executive editor of the chamber of commerce magazine "Dallas", was killed Thursday when a van jumped a downtown curb and struck her as she walked along the sidewalk.

Mrs. Haag was pronounced dead at the scene, said Dallas traffic investigator John Cannon.

The 51-year-old driver of the van was uninjured, Cannon said, and later was arrested for investigation of involuntary manslaughter.

Mrs. Haag was walking northbound and the van was travelling southbound when it jumped the curb and slammed into a vacant building, Cannon said. Mrs. Haag was crushed under the wheels and dragged 10 to 12 feet along the sidewalk before the vehicle struck a light post.

Cannon said the slant of the street pavement may have caused the driver to lean away from the steering wheel and lose control of the vehicle.

Mrs. Haag previously directed the News and Information Services at the University of Texas at Arlington and had worked for the Jerre Todd public relations firm in Fort Worth and as a reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. A graduate of Texas Christian University, she lived in Arlington.

She is survived by her husband, Marty Haag, executive television news director for WFAA-TV in Dallas.

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - Six Amarillo firefighters were injured in a three-alarm blaze that destroyed a motel restaurant, club and swimming pool Thursday night.

Firemen said all guests at the Travelodge on I.H. 40 in downtown Amarillo were evacuated safely.

Four firefighters suffered from smoke inhalation, another sustained a broken elbow and a sixth reportedly injured a leg.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately known.

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - A federal court jury here has convicted suspended Municipal Court Judge Glen Sutherland in a ticket-fixing operation.

Also convicted were bail bond worker Grace Walker and retired city policeman Edward Maynard.

The jury listened to seven days of testimony in the case.

U.S. District Judge Harry Lee Hudspeth said the trio could remain free on bond until sentencing March 28. They could receive a 20-year sentence on the racketeering conviction.

The government argued successfully that Maynard and Mrs. Walker sent traffic tickets, keeping $10 above the price of the tickets for themselves.

HOUSTON (AP) - The second million was much quicker for Southwestern Bell Telephone.

The company reported the installation of the 2 millionth telephone in the Houston metropolitan area.

It took the company from 1891 to 1969 to break the million mark but the second million required only 11 years.

The company expects to have 137,000 additional installations this year.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements says Texas will have a representative Friday at a 13-state meeting in Kansas City to discuss problems of the Texas Panhandle region and loss of the segments would increase cost of grain shipments.

Clements said three rail segments of the Rock Island are vitally important to the Texas Panhandle region and loss of the segments would increase cost of grain shipments.

The governor estimated the loss of the railroad transportation would cause nearly a dozen major businesses to close or move with a resulting loss of 644 jobs and a $4.1 million annual payroll.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner said Thursday he will go to Washington in April to discuss high speed rail transportation with Texas' senators and congressmen.

He made the statement in a letter to the Texas congressional delegation.

Tower To Open Regional Office

WASHINGTON, D.C. - U.S. Senator John Tower, R-Texas, announced today he will open a regional office in Lubbock to serve the West Texas-Panhandle area.

"The needs of citizens in the vast and vital West Texas area can no longer be adequately served by existing state offices in Dallas, Austin and Houston," Tower said.

"Opening an office in West Texas will give me better insight into the needs and concerns of the area, and will give citizens faster and easier access to their senator. I hope people will use the new office for help with federal-related problems to get information and to make their views known," he said.

The senator chose Lubbock as the site for office because of its central location. "I would like to have offices in all major Texas cities so that no one would face the inconvenience of getting in touch with my staff, but unfortunately we have had to stretch limited resources to fund this fourth office," Tower said.

"I believe, however, I will be better able to serve all West Texans when the new office opens."

Tower emphasized that the Lubbock office director will travel throughout the region to serve the needs of each city. The office is scheduled to open in June with an initial staff of two persons.

It will serve the Panhandle, South Plains, Permian Basin and El Paso area.

the matter needs to be pursued in court.

"We don't snatch a kid away from the parents without an investigation," Mrs. Igal said.

"And, if the kids are taken, most of them return home when the problem has been worked out."

"Only a very small percentage of cases in this area have been referred to court," Mrs. Hooper said. "We will make the determination if the child's health is in danger or life is in danger and whether the parents are willing to make some changes, work with us."

"If the situation doesn't improve, we do petition the court. If an emergency situation exists, we contact the district judge, and if the child's life is in danger, we can pull the child immediately and get temporary conservatorship."

In those extreme cases, a hearing is scheduled in 222nd District Court within 24 hours. Placement workers are required to show that an emergency exists in the household and that they were justified in removing a child.

In a second hearing 10 days later, evidence is presented concerning the need to maintain the child in foster care.

"If they're in foster care, in six months we have to present our case as to why we should or shouldn't return the child. The ultimate decision by the judge could be termination of parental rights," Mrs. Igal said.

Abused or neglected children are placed in a family home until adoption plans are made.

"Older kids may not be ready for adoption, so they may be placed in an institution, children's home or group foster home," Mrs. Igal said.

There are three licensed foster homes in Deaf Smith County. "We need more," stated Mrs. Igal.

Abused or neglected children who have suffered emotional problems as a consequence often are referred to Dr. Jerry Kleinpeter, a clinical psychologist in Amarillo.

Dr. Kleinpeter also counsels the parents who abuse their children.

"Frequently, the folks that abuse children have fairly short fuses, impulsive personalities, and they lose control of themselves when angry or frustrated," Dr. Kleinpeter said.

"And, frequently after they lose their temper, they have lots of regrets, strong feelings later. It seems to be a typical pattern," he added.

"Often, the patterns of their own child-rearing were such that they were abused. And, sometimes, they just have chronic problems with living-inadequate personalities with lots of problems all their lives."

It is "more difficult" to determine behavioral patterns in victimized children, Dr. Kleinpeter said.

"Some abused children respond very normally to other people. A lot, of course, develop some kind of anti-social or angry personalities that could later lead on to delinquency," he said.

"Some children, if you hit them with a hammer, they break like glass. Some will bend a lot, like Plexiglass. And, some are steel rods—they resonate, take the blow, and go on pretty good."

Bentsen and Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, ranking Republican on the economic committee, said more than half of the tax cut should go to encourage higher savings and business investment.

They claimed the tax cut would improve the sagging U.S. productivity rate and slightly reduce inflation.

Even as Carter continued work on a package of $20 billion in possible budget cuts, Democratic senators met for about two hours Wednesday to go over the bleak options facing Congress if the projected 1981 deficit is to be eliminated.

"That'll tell you something about Hereford."

on its private brand food and household items as well as a freeze on its generic prescription drugs and notions.

"We hope volume (of sales) will increase as a result of this program," said Barry Scher, spokesman for the Washington-based chain. He would not comment on how much the proposal might cost.

The Giant freeze covers about 375 items, while the number of Safeway products affected — Scotch Buy brands ranging from detergent to peanut butter — will vary from area to area, officials said.

Safeway, with stores in 27 states and five countries, reported sales of $12.5 billion last year.

Michael Rourke, A&P vice president for corporate affairs, said the freeze on Anne Page brands and generic foods and products would be evaluated after 30 days. He told the New York Times the brands account for 20 to 30 percent of sales. The company's sales volume last year totaled about $6 billion, the newspaper said.

Hereford Teachers Attend Convention

Members of the Texas Classroom Teacher's Association recently attended the State convention in Dallas. Those attending were Josephine Wilson, Nancy Priest, Teddie Poindexter, Nena Vera, Tommy Rossen, Rose Mary Shook and Aurora Dominguez.

The three days were spent observing educational displays, electing 1980-81 officers and taking care of association business.

The main item on the agenda was the TCTA consolidation with TSTA/NEA. Prior to convention time, a Hereford poll had indicated the teachers of HSD wished to remain separate. Most of the teachers in the Deaf Smith Unit are members of all three organizations.

"We, in Hereford, do not experience the problems as some of our fellow teachers across the state. There are two strong active organizations here which we feel are badly needed. In our two units, we work together for the best interest of all concerned—students, teachers, schools and community," stated the organization.

Another matter of concern on the agenda was the state dues. It was reported that they would not be increased. The State Board questioned the teachers as to why so many were leaving the teaching profession for the business world. Most teachers agreed it was due to the low salaries. Last reported, Texas was 33rd in the nation in teachers wages.

Several teachers felt that contract bargaining or unions would be the answer, while TCTA is fighting against these two methods of increasing salaries.

Also during the convention, Margaret Formby was recognized as the runner-up for the "Friend of Education" Award.

The next local TCTA meeting will be March 10 in Shirley Media Center at 4 p.m. All TCTA members are urged to attend.

Ann Landers

Babysitter's Notes

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a teenager and my only source of income is babysitting. I have some steady customers, but every now and then I get a call to go to the home of people I don't know. (Friends of my regulars.) They walk out the door as I walk in without giving me any information or instructions. It's hard to believe that some parents are so anxious to get out of the house they won't even take a few minutes to tell the sitter things one ought to know. Please print the following suggestions to parents. It would help brand-new sitters a lot.

1. Tell the sitter exactly what time the kids are supposed to go to bed. Specify what the kids are supposed to have in the way of snacks, as well as what they should NOT have. Also, are they supposed to be given baths and have their hair washed?

2. The sitter should know how far to go with discipline. Is one allowed to spank or not?

3. Leave a number to call in case of emergency. (Another relative, if the parents can't be reached.)

4. Make sure the sitter knows if any of the children have a medical problem, such as asthma or epilepsy, if they need to take any medication, or if they should not take any medication -- such as aspirin.

5. Let the sitter know what time he or she can expect you home.

Thanks, Ann Landers. -- A.M. Gulf Breeze, Fla.

DEAR BREEZE: You're welcome. It's hard to believe parents would NEED these reminders, but after 25 years of writing this column I would believe anything. Thank you for writing. (P.S. Two facts should be established in advance: How much the sitter is to receive for his or her services and how the sitter is going to get home.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You are going to settle this. The etiquette books don't cover it. When announcing the birth of a child whose grandparents are divorced and remarried, is it proper to mention the names of the step-grandparents, as well as the natural grandparents? Also, if one of the remarried partners had adopted the mate's children, are the new sisters and brothers considered aunts and uncles? I hope you can figure this out. The way people are divorcing and marrying left and right, the tangled mess of "yours, mine, ours and theirs" is too much for me. -- Boggled In El Paso

Be a Friend, Have a Friend

'Let's Celebrate!'

By JoAn Dwyer
Big Brothers-Big Sisters

March 9-15 has been proclaimed Big Brothers-Big Sisters Week in Hereford by Mayor Bartley Dowell. Our theme this week is "Operation 80's." We are celebrating the fact that in 1980 we have 48 volunteers who give their individual time to one child. We are also setting the goal that a child will not have to wait more than 80 days to be matched with a Big Brother or Big Sister.

A Big Brother or Big Sister is a person who cares about other people. This volunteer not only cares, but puts his concern into action by spending two hours each week with a special friend—a young boy or girl.

Now that's something to celebrate!

concern into action by spending two hours each week with a special friend—a young boy or girl.

DEAR BOGGLED: I see no reason for the names of any grandparents to appear on a birth announcement. (Part Two: Adopted children should be considered the same as if they were blood relatives.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have tried to be friendly to my next-door neighbor, who is a sensitive person (cries easily) and is unable to tolerate any criticism whatsoever, especially about her children. I told her a couple things about her daughter that I thought she already knew. Now she's mad at me for no reason at all. How can I patch things up? -- Dayton Dilly

DEAR DILLY: It would have been helpful if you had told me what you told her about her daughter. A hole is considered "nothing at all," but people have been known to step in one and break their necks.

What kind of wedding goes with today's new life styles? Does anything go? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" tells what's right for today's weddings. HHS discus hurler, Joe Mitchem, unleashes a throw in one of the Herd's practice sessions this week in preparation for the squad's first meet of the year in Lubbock Saturday. The Whitefaces were scheduled to have a meet last week in Pampa, but the competition cancelled due to inclement weather.

Beat Canyon, Lose to Pampa

Whitefaces Split Games

PAMPA — Hereford's head baseball coach David Ashby found out that the old phrase, "all good things come to those who wait" held an element of truth—at least partially—as he watched his diamond crew defeat the Canyon Eagles 149 for the Herd's first win of the season in the Pampa Tournament Thursday.

But, then the "partially" cropped up. The Whitefaces dropped the championship round of the double-header to host team Pampa by a narrow margin of 4-3. The victory and loss brought the Herd to a 1-2 mark in season play.

"We played very well in both games even though we lost the second, and ironically enough—we played better defense during the second game. I think we only had a couple of errors in nine innings," said Ashby.

In the first contest, Whitefaces Norman Hill and John Dudding both batted in Hereford runs during the 1st inning, yet the Eagles countered with three runs of their own.

But, the second innings play became the sole possession of the Herd.

The Whitefaces riddled the Eagles for 16 hits and six runs after Ken Cospier grasped two RBI's. Edward Dominguez batted in one run and Norman Hill brought in two runs with a baserun while the bases were loaded.

Then in the top of the 3rd, John Dudding, knocked in three more runs for HHS after he ripped off a homer that carried the park to give the Whitefaces a district 11-4 advantage.

Finally, the Whitefaces rounded out their play with three runs in the fifth following a Matt Collier hit that brought in two HHS scores and an RBI by hurler Ernie Suarez for one run across the plate.

Harvestors often managed a double steal which inevitably brought about the winning advantage.

"We really played very well in that second game—the Harvestors just got us right there at the last, but I'm pleased with how the kids are coming on. I'm especially happy with Norman Hill's performance in that second ball game. He pitched an excellent ball game," said Ashby.

The Whitefaces won't have long to rest though, because they are slated to meet the Dumas Demons here today at 4 p.m. The Pampa tournament had been rescheduled from a week ago due to inclement weather.

"We're certainly going to be tired going into the Dumas game, but Dumas is going to be tired too because they played in the Pampa Tournament too," he said. "They lost the first round 10-0 and the game for third place with Canyon by one point but they aren't going to be a pushover team."

The championship round of the tournament became a different story for the Herd however as Pampa's Mark Jennings hit a sacrifice fly ball to score Steve McDougall in the ninth inning of the contest for the Harvestors winning run. The score had been doubled up at 3-3 beforehand.

McDougall led off the ninth with a single and advanced to second when his brother Jeff McDougall followed with a single. The

Stretching

Two members of the HHS women's harrier squad stretch out and stride in an attempt to ready themselves for their first track meet of the season at the Lady Bulldog Relays in Plainview Friday and Saturday. The women's track team earned 1st place honors as the district champions last year and could provide a similar threat this year considering returning depth to the squad.

Fast Heat

Head track coach, Lester Kirkland, stars the clock and watches as his harriers get some running time in on the 220-dash Thursday. The Whitefaces have been getting ready for their first track meet of the year which is slated to take place in Lubbock Saturday. The meet will feature all of Hereford's district 4-4A counterparts plus teams from Hobbs, N.M., Abilene, and Amarillo.

NAC Votes Against Jones Fight

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The Nevada Athletic Commission, fearful a proposed heavyweight bout between Ed "Too Tall" Jones and Yaqi Meneses would damage the state's boxing reputation, has voted not to allow the bout as a nationally televised attraction.

At an emergency meeting Thursday, the commission rescinded its earlier approval of the 10-round bout, which was scheduled to be televised by CBS from the Aladdin Hotel on March 22.

The commission, however, left the door open for Jones to fight, but only with another opponent replacing Meneses and the bout being downgraded from the "main event" of the card. If another main event is televised, a Jones fight could also be shown but only if the first fight ends in an early knockout, the commission decided.

After ruling out the Jones-Meneses bout, commissioners were still not happy with having Jones fight in Nevada but approved him with the two stipulations.

Snyder Tigers Win Semifinal Contest

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Snyder Tigers — outshot and outrebounced for much of the game — used near-perfect late free throw shooting to whittle away Waxahachie's 13-point lead and take a 65-62 win in the Class 3A boys' basketball semifinals.

Snyder will face Beaumont Hebert, a 69-57 winner over Bay City in Thursday's other semifinal, in Saturday's 3A title game.

Tiger senior Mark Preston, top scorer with 18, connected on 10 of 11 free throws down the stretch as Snyder, northwest of Abilene, hit 18 of 20 in outscoring Waxahachie 29-13 in the fourth quarter.

In Class 2A semifinals, Abernathy used a last-second shot to take a 58-57 win over previously unbeaten Coleman, and Boling beat Columbus 56-53.

Defending Class-B champ Snook rolled over Goree 56-38 and moved to the finals against Petty West Lamar, a 53-50 winner over Nazareth.

Waxahachie, now 32-4, used a 10-point second quarter spurt to build a 34-23 lead. The Indians, behind Ken Cox' strong inside game, ran to a 17-point lead with 2:35 to go in the third period.

chance when it came," said Dore. "I don't feel I did it alone. Any win is a team effort."

At 7-foot-2, Tom Dore is the tallest player ever to wear a Missouri uniform. And the big senior rose to the occasion Thursday night with freshman sensation Steve Stipanovich, Missouri's starting center, suffering from an upset stomach complicated by four first-half fouls.

The West regional at Ogden, Utah, produced a pair of thrillers but 17th-ranked Weber State, playing on its home court, became the first member of The Associated Press Top Twenty to be bumped from the 48-team tournament.

San Jose pulled ahead of heavily favored Missouri behind the hot shooting of Wally Rank and Mickey Jackson. Dore ended that nonsense in the second half, taking control inside and constantly intimidating the shorter Spartans.

Rolando Blackman scored 15 points to lead a balanced Kansas State attack against Arkansas. The Wildcats led throughout — they held Scott Hastings, Arkansas' leading scorer, without a point in the first half — and broke it open with a 17-4 spurt that began with 13 1/4 minutes left.

With the 16th-ranked Tigers trailing upset-minded San Jose State 30-23 at halftime of a first-round game in the NCAA Midwest regionals, the 6-11 Stipanovich remained in the dressing room and gave way to Dore, who promptly gave San Jose a king-sized headache.

The Wildcats, down by 22 points with 5:08 left, put on a furious rally only to fall one point short, losing to Lamar 87-86. In the opener, Clemson held off Utah State 76-73. Saturday's pairings match Lamar against fifth-ranked Oregon State and Clemson with No.12 Brigham Young.

Missouri, behind from the outset, finally took the lead with 12:24 left on a three-point play by Mark Dressler that ignited a 16-3 burst. Missouri's Ricky Frazier topped all scorers with 24 points.

"I've never had a team play as bad as we did tonight," said Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton. Lamar's Mike Olliver scored 37 points and the Cardinals needed every one of them to outlast Weber State. With Bruce Collins taking charge, the Wildcats roared back in the final five minutes while Lamar suddenly went cold.

The big guy scored 11 points and blocked five shots as Missouri, the highest ranking team in action on the tourney's opening night, roared from behind and prevented an embarrassing upset by pulling out a 61-51 victory over a team making its first postseason appearance in 29 years.

In a Midcast doubleheader at West Lafayette, Ind., 20th-ranked Purdue, also playing at home, turned back LaSalle 90-82 behind 7-foot-1 All-American Joe Barry Carroll's 33 points while Penn's Ivy League's champs, last year's Final Four Cinderella team, stunned Washington State 62-55.

"Dore did a heck of a job," said Missouri Coach Norm Stewart. "He's a smart kid who's been with us a long time and come up with several big games. I'm very happy for him."

East Carolina made 47 touchdowns by rushing in 1979.

Eight games were played Thursday, one doubleheader in each of the four regions. In the Midwest opener, Kansas State thrashed Arkansas 71-53. On Saturday, Missouri meets ninth-ranked Notre Dame while Kansas State Purdue's Saturday opponent will be No.13 St. John's while Penn goes against No.14 Duke.

The Ace spray arms are custom made for efficient application of Betanex/Betanal sugar beet herbicides. The spray arms have windshields to reduce drift and are hinged to float freely and follow land contours. The twin nozzles give complete coverage for maximum efficiency and control.

You can't miss when you use a Betanex/Betanal tank-mix. It's approved for repeat application to give protection against early and late germinating weeds. A Betanex/Betanal tank-mix helps prepare your stand for electronic thinning. Betanex/Betanal, the herbicides that make hand labor a thing of the past.

Beat the high cost of hand labor, get Betanex/Betanal sugar beet herbicides. And don't forget about Nor-Am's special grower's price on Ace spray arms.

CAUTION: This product can be dangerous if not handled and used properly. Please read the entire label and use only as directed.

THE SPACE AGE REVEALS THE GLORY OF CREATION

Man's conquest of space is just beginning; although it has already achieved many astounding feats of technology that hardly anyone believed possible even a few years ago. And yet, the farther we progress through the intricacies of modern science, the more we are compelled to marvel at the magnitude of God's Creation, that reaches out into an infinity we cannot comprehend; and also, at our God-given ability to engineer and perform these feats. However, you need not go to the moon, but only as far as the Church of your choice: to thank God for this vast universe and for the intelligence granted to man to explore it, and thereby enrich all our lives on earth.

"For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible..."
— Colossians 1:16

And while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrodden sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.
— John Gillespie Magee, Jr.

Help for cramps

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm 29 years old and have two children. My first period started when I was 13 and I had severe cramps. I've had them ever since then except when I was pregnant. I've been to several gynecologists and one suggested I needed to see a psychiatrist. I don't have enough money to pay for that. The gynecologist told me I had fibroids on top of my uterus on the left side but they should not be causing the pain I described.

For the past three months I've had cramps lasting two days. This is very inconvenient since I work. About three days before my period my body starts discharging heat. I can feel the heat emitting from my pores until the day I have my period. On that day the heat stops and I lose most of the weight. Also at this time I'm very irritable and can become enraged at the least excitement. I'm fine again until two weeks after my period when the weight gain starts and the whole thing starts again. Any suggestions would be appreciated.

DEAR READER - Painful menstrual cramps is a symptom, not a diagnosis. Some of them are caused by certain defects including fibroid tumors if they're located in

Escaped Mental Patient Gives Up

TERRELL, Texas (AP) - An escaped mental patient, who warned authorities to bring plenty of firepower if they intended to return him to the hospital, has returned quietly on his own to the state facility here.

The man, believed armed with a machine gun, evaded an intense manhunt, ducked a Collin County SWAT team and returned to the hospital Thursday.

"He came in of his own free will," said Noel Woodley, assistant superintendent at the mental hospital.

Woodley identified the man as James Edward Jones, 36, who escaped last December shortly after he was committed by a court order in an action brought by Jones' wife.

He said Jones was committed for 90 days, and despite the escape, Woodley said Jones is scheduled to be released later this month when the 90 days expire unless he is re-committed by another court order.

Jones' return ended an intense manhunt centered near Nevada in southeastern Collin County, where Jones' wife lives in a farmhouse.

Collin County Sheriff Jerry Burton ordered the search Wednesday after Jones told him on the phone that he would not return to Terrell.

Burton said Jones told him to bring all the "firepower" he could if he expected to force Jones to return to the mental hospital.

Chief Deputy Royce Abbott said a sheriff's SWAT team, sent to the farmhouse, waited 5 1/2 hours before storming the vacant residence.

"We know he (Jones) was in possession of an Ingram .45-caliber fully automatic weapon (a machine gun)," Abbott said. He said the weapon was legally registered to Jones' wife.

"We were on the scene for 5 1/2 hours - you don't rush a .45-caliber automatic weapon headon," Abbott said.

He said Jones apparently left before officers arrived Wednesday afternoon.

The search was still in progress when Jones showed up at the hospital unarmed.

"As far as we're concerned, we're through with him. Our primary concern was returning him to the Terrell State Hospital as per the court order," he said.
