SOLONS MAY RE-CONVENE

Governor Threatens Another Special Session of Texas Legislature. Liquor Bills Killed.

Austin, Texas, August 18. — The members of the legislature who attended the State Democratic Convention at Galveston came in direct contact with the indignant blasts of an outraged public over the special session of the legislature. The authorized custodians of Texas democracy, in convention assembled, opened up a vial of wrath and poured it over the administration by condemning extra sessions of the legislature except for extraordinary cases; assuring just and equitable treatment to capital; demanding that the legislature dispose of the fire rating insurance matter and adjourn and wound up by congratulating themselves that no scandals had marked the administration of affairs in Texas. It is the governor's next move. The defenders of the administration contend that the governor possesses his share of the cardinal virtues and that one of them is consistency. Fulfilling platform demands, regardless of what they are, has always been a hobby of the governor's and he has taken as much personal pride in counting each platform demand enacted into law as a small boy would in keeping tabs on his marbles. The friends of the governor claim that he can take medicine and like King Saul, he will now fall upon his own sword and expire. However, the governor has the reputation of being a past master in the art of politics and it is known that peace disturbs his mind. Those who wield the sceptre seldom bend the knee and politicians throughout the state are taking their position on the house top to watch the pyrotechnics ascend from Capitol Hill. Our crop of political disturbances probably exceed that of any other staple article in Texas and it is one the boll weevil refuses to attack.

The senate showed a disposition to acquiesce to the platform demand which now comes to the legislature fresh from the people, but the House rebelled. After all, the sacredness of a platform demand depends upon how you like it and it is pretty certain that the administration does not like this one. The present session expires by constitutional limitation Wednesday, August 18, and the governor is the only man who knows whether or not there will be another called session.

The Fire Rating Insurance Board bills have at last emerged from the committee rooms and are now occupying the attention of both houses, but amendments have been tacked on to them like penny ornaments on a Christmas tree and the scientists are wrangling over the sort of experiments we should next undertake. The Senate slaughtered the liquor bills as fast as they were driven out of the committee room and other liquor bills will likely go the way of their ancestors, as the antis have full control of the Senate and they are standing together.

The grim monster, Death, entered the Senate Chamber and laid hands upon Senator C. C. Stokes of the 13th District. The death of the Senator cast a gloom over the law makers and the Legislature adjourned Friday afternoon in honor to his memory. A fitting tribute was paid the remains of the departed Senator in the Senate Chamber Friday night where it lay in state for three hours and was reviewed by state officials, members of the Legislature and friends of the deceased.

Raise Sheep.

It is a fact known to the farmer that it is not an act of wisdom to depend on one kind of grain crop; but a diversity, planted each in its season, gives the best results, and the surest profits. Not less true is it, that the farmer who would have a nice little bank account, and ready money by him all the time, should not depend on one class of marketable animals to the exclusion of others.

Experience is a wise teacher, and the knowledge obtained in this way is always very valuable because it is practical.

A number of our far-sighted citizens of Deaf Smith County including Messrs Wilson, Hall, Hawkins, Laird, Goldenberg, Braden and Linville have found out that sheep raising in the Panhandle is profitable. Sheep thrive best in an upland country where the air is not too humid, and are well adapted to grazing on short grass. They are less troublesome than most any other kind of stock, and are docile and easily managed.

It is estimated that there are at least 45,000 sheep in Deaf Smith County at the present time and the number, it is thought, will increase rapidly.

Ira Braden sold his large clip of wool of 31,000 pounds at 20 cents per pound, having contracted it some months before shearing time. The average price per pound, the present season is about 36 cents and there have been a number of cars of wool shipped from Hereford.

Even if a farmer does not care to handle a large number of sheep, a few kept on the farm will bring in very satisfactory returns at the end of each year.

Will Plant Vineyards.

There is no better paying investment than a good vineyard. While there are a number of small vineyards in and around Hereford no one has a large acreage. There is however a move on foot to plant a large acreage. Two men are planning to set out about 10 acres. Others are thinking of putting out from 10 to 20 acres.

Grape culture is easy. The vines are easily grown and the fruit is easily cared for. The crop is the surest in the fruit line. In this section both vine and fruit are free from disease.

It requires about 800 plants to the acre, if the rows are 9 feet apart and the vines set 6 feet in the row.

Those who contemplate any size vineyard whether 1 acre or 10 acres should send to the Department of Agriculture for the grape culture bulletin which will give much valuable information.

Plant Cotton.

It may be rather early to talk "Plant Cotton" but who knows and—but they are already talking it.

A number have signified their purpose to plant a few acres of the fleecy staple. The list will grow.

THE LIST.

J. F. Dollar.....	50 acres.
J. R. Hastings.....	10 "
F. H. Oberthier.....	100 "
J. A. Fox.....	50 "

G. W. Smith is raising a small "patch" this year. He planted this in May, it was in full bloom 3 weeks ago, that is the latter part of July. The weed is about 18 to 24 inches high and is fruiting well. Of course, Hereford can raise cotton.

A gin will be built in time to care for the crop.

SECOND PRIMARY PASSES QUIETLY

Local Candidates and Friends Spend Saturday Miling But Day Passes Without Jar

In accordance with the order of the executive committee a second primary election was held last Saturday to vote on the "two highest" candidates from the first primary. The result of the election was:

For Sheriff—
W. B. Baird.....	290
F. H. Britian.....	253
For Clerk—
J. S. Jones.....	283
J. M. Gilliland.....	258
For Assessor—
C. P. Arthur.....	322
J. W. Ford.....	219
For Treasurer—
Roscoe Davidson.....	291
L. A. Stroud.....	236

Deaf Smith county will have a set of competent officers, and although many did not "land" their favorite candidate, all will get the same kind of officers.

Now that this question is settled, let's get down to business. The November election will not change the results and though these same men must be voted for again, before they qualify, it is high time to have less politics and more business.

Related To Famous Woman

Doubtless it will be interesting to the readers of The Brand to know that Rev. S. T. Shore, pastor of the Christian church of Hereford, is a relative of Florence Nightingale who died in London, August 14th, past ninety years of age.

Florence's father was an English gentleman, and his real name was William Edward Shore, but he assumed the name of a grand uncle, Peter Nightingale—that being the condition on which the uncle's estate descended to him.

It will be remembered that Florence Nightingale made herself famous as the organizer of nursing in the Crimean War, and devoted her whole life to the relief and aid of the human race wherever she could.

Went Home.

While yet in the morning of life, and long before her sun had reached its zenith, Mrs. J. G. Walker was called to her eternal home. It was at Amarillo on Thursday that Mrs. Walker said goodbye to earthly things and went away. Annie May Hodges Walker was the daughter of Mrs. M. A. Hodges of Hereford, and had been married but a few months when the summons came.

She was delicate most of the seventeen and a half years of her life, and her death came in the Sanatorium at Amarillo where she had gone for treatment.

The remains were brought to Hereford on the Thursday morning train, and at 3 p. m., Rev. O. W. Dean conducted the funeral services from the Baptist church of our city. Mrs. Walker was an active member of the Baptist church and a faithful good woman. The heartfelt sympathy of the Brand together with a host of friends goes out to the bereft husband and mother, brothers and sisters of the dear one gone from among us.

H. H. Myers of West Point, Iowa, was in Hereford today on business.

Dairy Products as Food.

The products of the dairy are perhaps the most useful articles included in the human diet. A meal made up of dishes into which no product of the dairy cow enters would not be such as to inspire "the turnpike road to people's hearts I find lies through their mouths, or I mistake mankind." Take away the butter for the bread, the cream for the coffee and the porridge, the shortening in the crust and the biscuits, the milk in the gravy and in the puddings, the cream for the dessert and the various kinds of cheese which please and satisfy, then take away the cup of milk for the little one and the meal that would be left would be neither tempting nor nutritious.

The health of our people depends so much upon an adequate supply of pure products that even a scarcity is always is always attended by suffering and death.

Butter is sometimes referred to as a luxury. This is a mistake. Butter is not a luxury but one of the necessities of life, and its composition is such that nothing can take its place and perform the same functions. It is nature's product compounded in the maternal organism and the process is in accordance with nature's law, a law which man can imitate but cannot understand. Man can manufacture from various fats and oils a substitute for butter but it cannot take the place of nature's product because man cannot understand the needs of the human body as nature understands them.

The animal body is developed best when nourished by foods which have been little manipulated by man and machinery. Dairy products are as a rule, consumed nearly as nature produced them. This is particularly true with milk upon which the growing baby must depend. In the case of butter only a small percentage of other products are added to the fat extracted from the milk. Man only manipulates it in order to put it in convenient shape for use. It can still be termed a product of nature designed as only nature can design for use as food by the human body.

Eighteen Saloons.

Wichita Falls has eighteen saloons and according to the school census is entitled to another and the application is to go in at once. There are many dollars of Wichita Falls going to the saloons which should go to the grocery store.—Childress Index.

But saloons make a wide open town and brings business and you should encourage business. Of course, the $100,000 or more that finds its way into the tills of the saloons of Wichita Falls would help the dry goods and grocery stores, but men will have whiskey and why not let them have it! Drink and be merry for tomorrow they may be dead.

Prospectors Here

A number of prospectors from Kentucky and Illinois were here this week. Snyder, Evans & O'Brien had the largest number. Several autos left this morning to drive over the country and to take a look at the farms. There will likely be a number of trades made.

Complimentary to Friend

Mrs. Emmett Cardwell will entertain in her home on 25-mile Avenue this evening from 5:30 to 6:30 in honor of Miss Nell Carcoran of Denison, who is a guest in her home.

ESPERANTO IS COMING SPEECH

Delegate to Congress at Washington Predicts Language's Universal Adoption

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16. — "Within the next ten years Esperanto will be the language of all international business and of diplomacy," asserted Elwood Ryerson, a Chicago manufacturer and an Esperanto enthusiast, at the Arlington. Mr. Ryerson is attending the international Esperanto congress now in session.

"The need of a universal language, especially for international trade and business, has long been felt," he continued. "At present all international business is carried on through the medium of six principal European languages. How much more simple it would be if one universal language, like Esperanto, were used for the purpose.

"Even the Asiatic nations, whose commerce is growing rapidly, would find Esperanto to be a great aid in their commercial transactions. Esperanto is easily learned, much more so than any foreign language, and I believe we will see the time when it is taught in every high school and business college, the same as French or German.

"If it becomes the medium of exchange in international commerce it will also, as a matter of course, become the language of diplomacy, where French is now almost exclusively used. In Chicago there is a school where Esperanto is exclusively taught, the same as in any language academy. It had three hundred students when I heard from it last.

"The present convention will be the greatest gathering of Esperantists ever held. There will be teachers and students from all over the world, with a majority from European countries. Esperanto already has spread over the whole of Europe but like anything new, it takes time to get a firm foothold. There is much more interest in the universal language in Europe, especially in Germany, than in the United States but its spread here, once it gets a good start will be rapid.

"In the Orient and Asia little interest is taken in Esperanto, but it will eventually become known and used in those sections of the globe."

At Hereford

"A letter has been received at the Herald office from Dr. O. H. Judkins, stating that he has located at Hereford, Texas, and asking that The Herald be sent to him at that place. Dr. Judkins lived in Plainview more than two years, and during that time, he made a clean record for himself as a citizen and physician. His friends here regret to give him up, but in doing so, they heartily commend him to the people of Hereford."—Plainview Herald.

The people of Hereford welcome Dr. Judkins among them. The new physician has his office at the drug store of E. T. Woodburn & Son.

Men's Prayer Meeting.

The business men have been holding a prayer service at 4 o'clock each afternoon during the progress of the revival. The number present runs from 20 to 30. All this week meetings have been held at the office of Suggs & Jones. Everyone is invited to attend.

THE AMERICAN WOMAN'S LEAGUE

More Information Concerning This Organization That Is Doing So Much Good for Women

If the ladies of this community would only stop to consider the many advantages of the American Woman's League in addition to the beautiful Chapter House, we will have built for us as soon as we have thirty members, we would soon have enough members to entitle us to the Chapter House.

Men work most effectively when they work to a definite purpose. This is an opportunity for the ladies. Here is a proposition which makes all the magazine subscriptions in Hereford count on the Chapter House. All we pay for is the magazines—for that we get the magazines. The Chapter House and all the rest is our premium.

Frankly, you do not understand the plan, do you? You are willing to? You agree that the building would be nice to have? Why? It would be a pleasant place to go evenings. The concerts, the music, the educational and social opportunities, isn't this worth while? You are not asked to donate to this cause. The money is ready and will be sent here to be spent just as soon as thirty members have completed the membership requirements. The plan is much the same as life insurance. The magazines pay the premiums.

All Hereford's friends should send every possible subscription and renewals through The Brand or other friends here. Make every subscription help build the Chapter House.

The magazine business is being systematized by the American Woman's League. Publishers have been scrambling for subscriptions, and giving all sorts of premiums. The wasteful traveling agent and the worse premium plan are being given up. Instead, the League, through its members, gets the subscriptions, and the commission that would ordinarily be waste is devoted by the League to the building and upkeep of a People's University at University City, and beautiful Chapter Houses all over the United States.

The People's University a year ago was only a dream. The League is only eighteen months old. Today the first of the six great buildings of the University, the academy of Fine Arts, is built and occupied. The cost of this beautiful building alone is over $125,000.

The People's University is giving instruction by correspondence to thousands. Complete lessons-by-mail courses, embracing over two hundred separate subjects are now ready. Members may take as many of these courses as they desire. The minor children of all members are also welcome to take any courses desired. Think of this great opportunity to educate your children at no cost to you whatever.

A booklet on the courses now ready may be had on request at the Brand office, or you may write direct to the Publicity Department, American Woman's League, University City, St. Louis, Mo., for any detailed information you may desire.

Among the courses which are given free to all members of the League, may be mentioned; Teachers' Courses, Arithmetic, Agriculture Journalism, Book-keeping, Stenography, Home Economics, Drawing, Sculpture, Art, Embroidery, Dress-making, Music, Photography, Jewelry Engraving and Designing, Penmanship, Ceramics, Leather Work, Short Story Writing, Business Courses, Millinery, etc.

Remember—All we pay for is the Magazines. For that we get the Magazines. The chapter house and all the rest is our premium.

Send your application in now to the Brand office.

Well Pounded

At a preconceived moment last Tuesday evening, the home of Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Dean, of the Baptist church, was a scene of life and movement. Here at the five o'clock hour, came about two hundred people to "pound" their former pastor.

It has been known for some time that Rev. Dean will probably go to new fields of labor soon, and many of his congregation and other friends thought this a most befitting time to show their appreciation in a small measure of what Rev. Dean had been to them the past nearly five years he has labored in Hereford. Great stores of both dry goods and groceries came and the wagons that carried them groaned under their weight. The social features was not forgotten, for eleven freezers of cream and fifteen large cakes were brought along to furnish the climax of the evening's enjoyment.

While the whole was planned so skillfully that Brother and Sister Dean were kept in total ignorance of it all, yet they met the occasion heroically, and it will be a long time before those present will forget the real pleasure this evening brought to them.

Mrs. R. W. Lovelace returned on Sunday from a weeks' visit with friends at Amarillo.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Authorizing the Establishment of a Home for Wives and Widows of Confederate Soldiers and Sailors.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7.
Joint Resolution to amend Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, so as to authorize the grant of aid in the establishment and maintenance of a home for the disabled and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers sailors and widows of Confederate soldiers sailors and such women as aided the Confederacy, and making an appropriation.

The sum of $5,000.00, or so much thereof as may be necessary, hereby appropriated to pay the expenses of carrying out the provisions of this Resolution.

Printing at Home Cheaper

There are two print shops at Hereford and both are well equipped offices and do all kinds of printing. We mention this because some may not know the fact. Nearly everybody imagines that foreign houses at Dallas, Paris and Oklahoma City can do and do printing cheaper than home offices. The facts do not warrant such vain imaginations.

For example, last week a drummer called on a local business house and solicited a certain job, remarking that his house could save one-third on the bill. The good merchant being satisfied with the local printing, called up The Brand and asked for quotations on the job. The Brand made a price and the drummer was astonished and the merchant gratified when they found that we would furnish 6,000 copies, or printed sheets, for the same price the aforesaid drummer asked for 5,000.

Another merchant did the same thing and we made a price of $16.90 on a job of 3,000, when the drummer's price who had offered to save one-third on the bill was $16.75. The express of 75 cents or more added to this would make the drummer's price higher than the Brand's.

Sometimes a good meaning business man will order printing from other places, because they think it can't be done here, but they don't take time to investigate.

The Brand is not complaining—yes, this is a complaint straight out. We do not enjoy paying a bill when made out on stationery printed away from home; while on the other hand it is a pleasure and joy forever to plank down the cash—if we've got it—when the imprint of a home office is on the bill.

The Brand has always taken a stand against mail order business but as everyone, merchants as well as farmers, patronize mail order houses, there is little consolation to a print shop to "fly up" about it, because it tramps on too many toes.

Therefore, henceforth, The Brand will favor that every man spend his money where he pleases—he will do it anyhow—and as for it and its The Brand will get all the business it can by competing with other print houses. The Brand feels that if all the printing business in Hereford was given to the local offices that there would be ample business for both.

All the county, city and school district printing should be given to home concerns. This is sound business and good politics. Nearly all the blanks, except what is furnished by the state and heavy bound books can be printed at home.

Assessment blanks, tax receipts, letter heads, envelopes, sales, orders, etc., look good when printed at home.

Talk about the newspapers co-operating in a good work or boosting the town, there is no better "hot drops" to use on the papers than to turn all sorts of printing over to the home offices. It's a tonic, it's an elixir. It acts like a shower on a thirsting crop.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday evening from five to seven, Mrs. L. M. Forester of Hereford Heights, assisted by her mother, Mrs. George Pierce, entertained twenty little folks in honor of her little son's birthday.

On Tuesday, August 16, Howard was three years old, and for several days in his little mind, he pictured the great time he was going to have at his "party." When the children had all arrived, it made one think of a beautiful flower garden where the buds were opening to the rays of sunshine that were kissing their tiny petals. The children were first served to lemonade, and later, Mrs. Forester seated them at small tables and fulfilled their little desires with cream and cake. It was a gala day for the little tots, and made happy impressions in their little minds.

Those present were: Edna Earl Johnson, Mabel and Robert Renfro, Lucile, Nettie and Edgar Cooper, Carleta McCrary, Pearl and Earl Woods, Ruby Fay Bennett, Henry and Pearl Skein, John and Georgia Robinson, Artist Russell, Frances and John L. Wilson, Virginia Laird, Jack France, John Frank Leonard and Milton Wolf.

HARBERTSON-BELL

Though the Heavens are sometime shrouded
By the midnight storm, and clouded
Till the pallid, moon is crowded
From the Sky,

Yet, when two lives are linked together—each in each—touring upward and onward for the sky, there is soon a rift in the clouds, and the "sun beams glisten, and the stars come out to listen and rejoice."

On Monday, at high noon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thad C. Bell of Amarillo, Rev. J. N. Ivy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Amarillo, in a very impressive way, united in holy wedlock the lives of Mr. Barclay T. Bell of Dimmitt, and Miss Minnie Harbertson of Gainesville. While only a few of the immediate relatives and friends were present, yet this union is the happy consummation of quite an extended acquaintance and courtship. After the marriage ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell remained in Amarillo until Wednesday, then went to Dimmitt, where they will spend a few days visiting Mr. Bell's parents and other relatives, before coming to Hereford to make their new home.

Miss Harbertson has taught in this section of the Panhandle the past three or four years, having taught at Dimmitt last year. She is a lady of superior intelligence, and possesses those characteristics which are embodied in true womanhood.

Mr. Bell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Bell near Dimmitt, and comes from one of the oldest and best families of Castro country.

The Braud joins the many friends of these young people in wishing them a happy life, and when they sit down at the sunset of life, waiting for the dip of the oar, and the coming of the boat, may they have a safe voyage across the narrow stream.

TWELFTH BIRTHDAY

Miss Mamie Landrum celebrated her twelfth birthday on Monday, August 15th, by entertaining quite a number of her girl friends from three to five p. m. Although the weather was very inclement, it in no way affected the mirth and pleasure of this happy group of young girls. Interesting games were played, and at a proper hour refreshments of cream and cake were served in the dining room. Some excellent music was furnished by Miss Strothman.

When the good byes were said, it was with the hope that each succeeding year would bring Mamie as happy a birthday as her twelfth had been.

Those present were: Mary and Nellie Parmer, Helen Jenkins, Jessie Glenn Bullock, Thelma Tabler, Crystal Ray, Rowena Mooney, Eloise Pitman and Lura Gregg.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER.

Mrs. B. S. Arnold made Tuesday evening most pleasant in her home for a number of young ladies whom she bade to a Six o'clock dinner and a happy hour thereafter. The dinner was served in three courses and on each place card was found a little conundrum, which afforded a great deal of pleasure in unraveling. The honor guest of the evening was Miss Nell Corcoran of Denison, who is a guest of Mrs. Emmitt Cardwell.

Mrs. Arnold often entertains for the young people, and they are all loud in their praises of her thoughtfulness for their pleasure and entertainment.

Those present were Misses Corcoran, Gregg, Vaughan, Jowell, Gyles, Graham, Head, and Mrs. Cardwell.

The Texas Newspapers

The dissemination of information has largely to do with the prosperity and development of a country. In no country on the globe does Nature possess such astounding possibilities and reveal them in such rapid and cumulative order as in Texas, making an imperative necessity for newspapers in the home of every farmer who desires to profit by the gifts of Nature and the experience of his neighbors.

There are 950 publications in Texas, of which 89 are dailies, 768 weeklies, and the remainder are issued at regular intervals. The total listed circulation of all papers in Texas is 3,170,515 copies, an average of four papers for each family in the State. In the number of papers published within the State we rank sixth in the Union; Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and Missouri leading in the order named. The Federal Government census for 1905 reports capital invested in printing and publishing in Texas of $6,074,319, a pay roll of $2,063,935 per annum, and the annual output is valued at $7,782,247. Among the industries of the State it ranks sixth in capital invested, fifth in pay rolls and sixth in the value of products. One issue of all the papers in Texas approximates one copy per capita, and making the comparison from a population basis we lead all States in the Union in the number of periodicals issued and the number of copies printed.

Circulation 3,170,515.

Texas stands first in intelligence, first in progress and first in industrial opportunities of all the States in the Union, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

The newspaper is the channel of communication between the producer and consumer; brings the city to the farm and the farm to the city; gives information of the markets and of the development of the country; carries warnings of impending danger and gives the farmer the advantage of the experience of all his neighbors and informs him of the general condition of affairs so essential to his success. The improvement of our public highways and the establishment of rural free delivery routes have extended the zone of circulation of the press to the remotest sections of the State, and reading the papers is as much a part of the work of the Texas farmer as feeding his stock.

Four Papers Per Family.

The ability of a farmer can be easily judged by the literature he reads as by the crops he harvests. The printing press is the industrial educator of the age.

How often do you eat this food?

A short time ago there appeared in the columns of one of the prominent magazines an article on building brain and muscle by the proper selection of the foods you eat.

A good many people were surprised to find oatmeal placed at the top of the list of foods recommended; but if the article had appeared in an English or Scotch paper every reader would have expected to see first place given to good oatmeal.

As a matter of fact Great Britain and Europe come to us for tremendous quantities of Quaker Scotch Oats because it represents to them perfect food, being the richest in flavor and best in cleanliness and purity, of all oatmeals.

It is packed in regular size packages, and in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates.

Manufacturing

The factory is the farmers' market house and he must travel until he reaches it and pay the freight all the way. Building factories in Texas to manufacture the raw material we produce, will increase the market value of farm products $150,000,000 per annum. The farms of Texas produce annually $527,905,000 of raw material for the factory and of this amount $75,905,000 is manufactured in the state and $452,000,000 is shipped to other countries. The cut shown below clearly exhibits the proportion of raw material manufactured and shipped out of the state.

"Texas Manufactures."

A few general rules governing manufacturing are of interest in this connection. As a rule the factory doubles the price of the raw material. A factory investment of $2,000 gives employment to one man. One factory laborer creates $1,300 of wealth annually. These are general averages and may not apply in every specific instance. We need a billion dollars invested in factories to manufacture the raw material we ship out of the state. The advantages of the factory may well be illustrated by the bale of cotton, and what we say of cotton applies with equal force to most all products. Texas produces a bale of cotton valued at $50. This cotton is shipped to England and manufactured into cotton goods and its value doubled or $50 added to it. The finished product is shipped back to Texas and at the port of entry the Federal Government levies a tariff of $30 per bale making a total value of $150 per bale instead of $50 as at present.

"Increased Value of Manufactured Bale of Cotton."

If Texas manufactured all her cotton, we would save the transportation expense, import duty and the manufacturing expense would remain at home. We would then get $150 per bale for cotton instead of $50 as at present multiplying our prosperity and commercial importance. We manufacture one bale out of every 70 bales produced in the state. Texas needs cotton factories. The cotton manufacturer employs cheap labor but so must the cotton farmer and if we are going to be a manufacturing country we must manufacture the things we produce, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

Death of J. C. Compton

J. C. Compton who was here visiting his daughters, Mrs. J. C. Carroll, who lives four miles north of town, and Mrs. J. C. Chandler who lives in town, took sick in the country on Wednesday of last week and was immediately brought to town for medical aid. Medicine seemed to have no effect, and on Friday at 10 p. m. he answered the call and was gone.

J. C. Compton was a native of Kentucky and was fifty-seven years old at the time of his death. He had been married twice, but both wives had preceded him to the great home beyond. He leaves two daughters and three sons to mourn the loss of their father, and these were all present at his bedside to minister to his last wants.

The funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon from the Baptist church and interment took place at the city cemetery. Mr. Compton had been a member of the Baptist church for thirty-seven years. The Brand offers condolence in this hour of shadow and extends sympathy to the fatherless.
