THIRD CALLED SESSION A FARCE

Third Called Session Passes Into History Minus the Laurel Wreath—Things It Didn't Do

The Third Called Session of the 31st Legislature has failed completely in fulfilling its mission. The Fire Rating Insurance Law has neither been repealed or amended and we have spent over half a hundred thousand dollars in scientific discussion. The difficulty in agreeing on a bill appears to be due to an unequal distribution of wisdom between the House and the Senate; both those august bodies passed bills but they were as unlike as two eggs in a Cuckoo's nest and they could no more dwell together than the North and South pole of a magnetic needle. The Senate bill gave the Insurance Board the power to fix the maximum rates and permitted competition below that rate; the House gave the Board the power to arbitrarily fix rates and eliminated competition and on this rock the Houses split. A free Conference committee failed to reconcile the difference and no law was passed.

Those who make an effort to fix responsibility for the failure of the session claim that a stream cannot run higher than its source and point to the numerous subjects submitted not properly classing as extraordinary and that many of these subjects have been allowed to burglarize the time belonging to the Fire Rating Insurance question.

The governor submitted twenty-six subjects for legislation and sixty-six were introduced; twenty-three measurers were enacted into law but most of which were local in their application. The liquor question was the all absorbing topic of the session; twenty bills were introduced in both Houses and four bills were passed regulating the liquor traffic; these laws however, apply to local option territory only. The bill regulating moving picture shows and prohibiting them from exhibiting prize fight pictures, etc. was the only law of state wide application that went on the statute book; a number of city charters were renewed and minor matters relating to the Departments of state were passed. It is safe to say that the present legislative session had done less damage than any of its predecessors.

The house refused to redeem itself from contempt with the Democratic party and bellowing like a whipped child, passed a resolution suggesting that Democratic conventions hereafter attend to their own business and leave their representatives to make laws and draw mileage and per diem to their heart's content. Those who read the signs of the times correctly proclaim that this political upheaving is the natural line of progress from the Hunter to the Builder period of Government and that Texas is merely coming into her own, and this transition there are always those who perish for want of adaptability.

The Fourth Called Session of the 31st Legislature was read to both Houses at midnight on the 17th. The prospect of earning $5 per day for another thirty days engulfed the House in a sudden wave of prosperity that swept most of the members off their feet and wild cheering greeted the message and those who cringe and fawn and lick the boots of the mighty were ready with bills to cover every conceivable subject. In the Senate the message was met with a dignified silence and the Call was looked upon as the pitcher that went to the well once too often.

The governor submitted six subjects for legislation and says there are more to follow. A law protecting claimants against railroads that are in the hands of a Receiver and a Reform of the Penitentiary system was submitted and the other four subjects were brought forward from the last session including the Fire Rating Insurance matter. The committee previously appointed to investigate Penitentiary conditions will make its report and recommendations and a lively time is anticipated in dealing with this subject.

PUBLIC SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 12

Faculty Completed and Assignments Made—Building will be Completed by Date Named

At a meeting of the trustees Tuesday a complete list of teachers for the public school was made out. Two or three vacancies were filled and assignments were made. Superintendent Ben Short was present at the meeting and give his advice and counsel in such matters as pertained to his office.

The hour for the opening and closing after considerable discussion was fixed as follows: Morning session begins at 9:20 and closes at 12. The afternoon session begins at 1:00 and closes at 4:20, except for the first grade.

The faculty with the assignment of places follows:

Ben Short, superintendent; R. A. Robertson, principal of high school and teacher of mathematics and science; O. S. Thomas, Latin and modern languages; Mrs. Winnie D. McElroy, english and history; Miss Roxye Ivey, 7th grade; J. C. Vance, 6th grade; Miss Maude McLean, 5th grade; Roberta Wilson, 4th grade; Lonye Gray, 3rd grade; Frances Turrentine, 2nd grade; Anna Brown, 1st grade; Olive Elder 1st grade.

The trustees are fully satisfied that the school has a proficient faculty, and with the equipment of a new building, they have reason to expect a most successful term. They feel that each member of the teaching force will exert their every effort to advance the school's interest and it is reasonable to expect a hearty and cordial support from the patrons for whose children the school is maintained.

Hereford always boasted of her good schools and she will have no cause to change with the proper support from the patrons and pupils.

Union Sunday School.

On the last day of the big revival Evangelist Andrews asked that all the Sunday Schools of the town meet together. When the roll of each school was called out, it showed a total of 455 pupils, with a collection of nearly $20.00. Rev. Andrews delivered a short address to the schools.

AN INFANT'S TENDER APPEAL

Three Weeks Old Baby Left on Porch of Irwin Home—Mother Leaves Note.

Are the heavens that bend above us ever sad? Do the soft breezes of the night that frolic in the boughs of the trees and kiss the tiny petals of the flowers, ever sigh over the frailties of man? If so, then how the moon must have become pallid and hid her face behind a cloud when on Tuesday morning in Hereford she looked upon one of the earth's saddest scenes. The stars, too, must have ceased their twinkling, and withdrawn their light behind the clouds at the sight of the sad picture.

On Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock, when Mrs. Geo. W. Irwin was awakened and thought she heard the faint cry of a child from the outside, she at once awoke her husband. Mr. Irwin immediately made his way to the front of the house, and when he opened the door, what a pathetic sight met his eyes. On the porch in a telescope lay a tiny infant making its little appeal for help. Mr. Irwin hastened to arouse his near neighbors, and soon all were bending over the helpless child. When the little cradle bed was tenderly lifted and carried into the house there was found a baby boy with blue eyes and black hair thought to be two or three weeks old. With the child in the telescope was a neat, but very plain wardrobe, a bottle of castoria and a nursing bottle unused and the following note:

KIND PEOPLE.

I know you can't refuse to care for the babe of a wretched mother and see that he has a home. Good-bye Little William Jennings! may we both meet your father in heaven, although we are parted from each other here on earth. Good-bye, goodbye. May God bless those who care for you for I can't do so myself.

Your poor helpless mother.

Soon after day light Tuesday morning the news spread rapidly over our little city that in the George W. Irwin home was a fatherless and motherless child. How the mother heart went out to the baby child, and what a thoughtful look came over the face of each father.

Miss Grace Hopkins who is visiting in the C. B. Williams home just across the street from the Irwin residence, heard a buggy moving slowly by between the two houses about 3 o'clock on that morning, but paid no attention to it. Since, it is thought this buggy carried the little child which was left to the mercy of the darkness of the night. So far, there is no other clue to the child's identity. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin's parental hearts went out at once to the baby, but they have two children, and Mrs. Irwin not physically strong enough to rear the child, they found it another home. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brodie have taken the baby as their own, and the little fellow is now William Jennings Brodie.

This child is perfect physically and has a bright, intelligent face. The note left by the mother was written in an eligible hand, but this is all that is known about her.

What must have been the feelings of that mother when she turned away and left her child; how her heart must have sunken within her, and in utter despair bowed her head and walked away. This must have been true, for the downy pillow on which it rested its little head, and the care with which it was wrapped and placed in its little bed showed a mother's love.

Baptize Converts at Creek.

On Monday of this week large crowds gathered at the creek just below the bridge to witness the baptism of a number of converts. The Baptist brethren had eight candidates, Rev. O. W. Dean officiating, the services being held at 10 o'clock in the morning.

In the late afternoon another large crowd assembled to witness the baptism of fourteen candidates who had signified their wishes to unite with the First Christian church, the pastor, Rev. S. T. Shore, officiated. One very touching scene was the baptism of Alice and Hattie Fullerton, twin sisters. The minister immersed both of these at the same time.

SANTA FE FARMER VISITS HEREFORD

Agricultural Demonstrator for Santa Fe System Visits the Farmers and Makes Examinations

H. M. Bainer, agriculture demonstrator for the Santa Fe system of the southwest, spent Monday and Tuesday in Hereford and made an examination of farming methods around Hereford. D. L. McDonald extended the courtesy of his big auto and carried the party composed of Mr. Bainer, L. Gough, and a reporter on the trip. The first visit was made north going as far as the McDonald farm upon which the big well is situated. The next visit was made among the farms south, going to the Gough farm and the McDonald farm. Mr. Bainer examined the soil conditions on those two farms.

The best condition was found on a one hundred acre field which Mr. Gough had summer tilled. At the time of the visit four harrows were at work forming a mulch.

Mr. Bainer was much pleased with his visit and is watching these Hereford farmers with a great deal of interest. The condition on the McDonald south farm are good. Mr. Mc has a fine well and equipment, and is preparing to make crop conditions ideal for the coming year. He will plant the field in various crops and will combine scientific methods just like all other farmers should do and then he will "make it rain" when his crops need it, by turning on the water from the big well.

Fine Plums.

The writer has been placed under everlasting obligations to Mr. and Mrs. Eli Dunlap for a box full of red ripe plums gathered from their own orchard. These plums were as good as ever grew in California or even in the garden of eden. Thanks again and again until "plum time"

Word received at the Brand office Thursday that Misses Hattie and Jennie Edwards and Ruth and Ruby Wilson will leave New York City, tomorrow (Saturday) by water for Galveston, and will reach Hereford about the 5th of September. It will take the ladies seven days to make the trip by water.

Mr. and Mrs. Mace, Hawkins and daughter, Adeline, and Mesdames J. H. Stanberry and Mary Hawkins all of Midlothian, are visiting in the homes of their relatives, H. H. and Rev. D. W. Hawkins, of our city. Mrs. Stanberry is the mother of W. T. Stanberry, the hustling foreman of The Brand.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

To the Pastors and Sunday School Superintendents of Panhandle and Plains Country

The State Sunday School Association of Texas has become so large that it is impossible to accomplish the most good to the greatest number of Sunday Schools, on account of the great distances that the delegates have to travel from the remote parts of the state in holding one state convention, as has been the custom. Hence the executive committee has decided to hold a number of conventions in the different parts of the state. This plan was followed last year with splendid success.

The convention for the Panhandle and Plains country for this year will be held at Canyon City from September 12th to 14th inclusive, opening session Monday, September 12, at 8:30 o'clock p. m. The convention is for all Sunday Schools of all denominations. It will be under the direction and leadership of William N. Wiggins, our state secretary. He has arranged for W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, the world-wide leader of adult bible class work, to be with us. W. C. North will have charge of the singing, and Mr. Roper, a noted pianist, will preside at the piano. There will be several other specialists in the various departments of the Sunday School work.

We expect to make this equal to any state convention heretofore held in Texas. The Harvard plan of entertaining the guests of the convention; that is, free lodging and breakfast.

Fraternally yours,
W. J. FLESHER,
Chairman Publicity Committee

Two Farmers.

This is not a fable. Two years ago this fall, George Weisenstein of Nebraska moved to this county. He had bought 420 acres of raw land. During the first winter, he built a small house and broke out 6 acres of land. He and his two boys worked a little on the neighboring ranches. Last summer while every one else was breaking out new land, this farmer was waiting. Another planting time came around this year and he still waited, plowing none and sowing none. He still made no garden. He and his family, abandoned the farm and returned to Nebraska.

Last fall one year later, November 9th, Martin J. Wenzenger and his family moved from Kansas on a near-by farm. He built a small house and made other improvements such as fences, barns, well etc. He broke out as time permitted 65 acres of new land and has a good crop on it. He rented 15 acres from a neighbor upon which he has a good crop. Recently he has broken out 15 acres more on his own farm. He has raised a good garden, has lived at home from his chickens, eggs, milk and butter. Besides doing all his work, he has helped his neighbors for which he has received pay.

Results:—The first farmer was not industrious, was unhappy and failed. The second farmer was industrious, planned well, worked with hope of reward, has a happy family, is pleased with the country, will make a good living and save a little the first year on his farm and has succeeded.

Class in Expression

After consultation with the superintendent and board of directors of Hereford High School, we have decided to open, contemporaneously with the opening of the high school, a class in Expression and one in Physical Culture. We confidently hope to have a fair share of patronage for both of these classes.

In this age of advancement, it is not necessary to offer arguments showing the necessity for these lines of work.

Goes to College

Bruce S. DeAtley will leave in a few days to enter Park College at Parkville, Missouri, where he will enter upon a four years course of study.

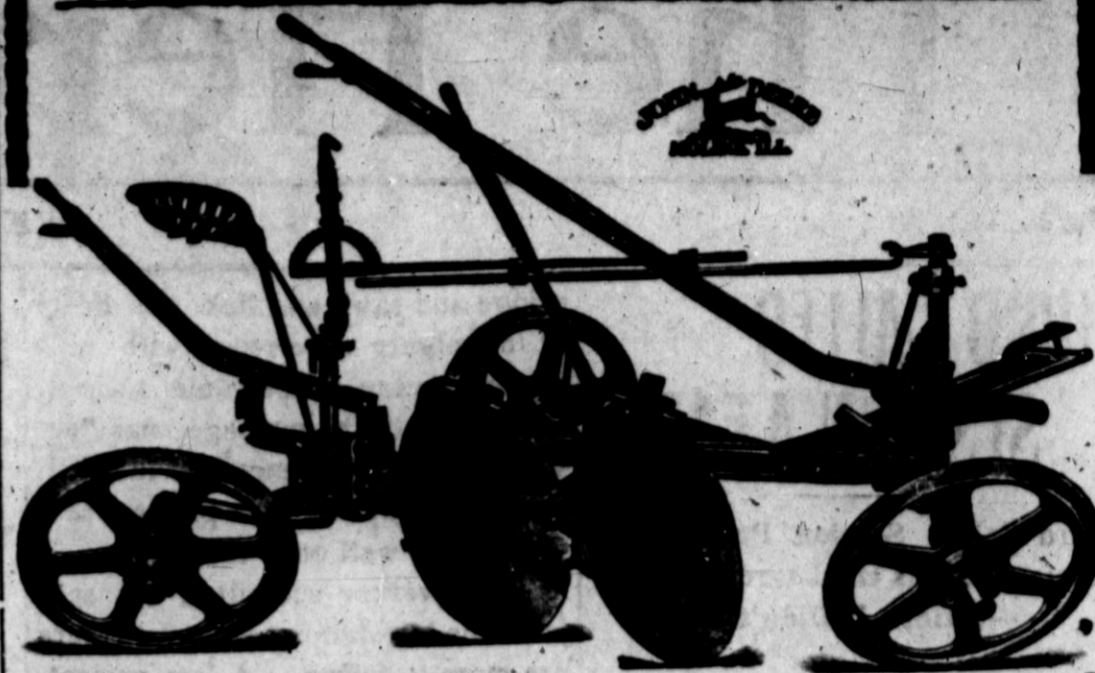

This college is one of the best in the state of Missouri, and offers exceptional advantages to ambitious young men. It will be remembered that Bruce DeAtley graduated from the Hereford high school before he reached his sixteenth year, being the youngest member of any class, wearing his knickerbockers at the time of his graduation. He entered the third grade at the age of six years, having been taught by his mother at home. After completing the high school course, he entered Hereford College where he pursued a literary course and later completed a course in the business department in the remarkably short time of ten weeks. During the summer of 1909 he entered this office as "devil" and in a few days made a regular hand at the case, picking up the preservative art with readiness. This summer just passing, he assisted in the recorder's office of this county and made a most proficient clerk.

The Brand predicts for Bruce a brilliant career in the college and his many friends will be pleased to hear of his success.

Shotwell-Coston.

The blue wates were rippling, and the sunshine was bright over head, when two life crafts that had made part of the voyage on the ocean of life apart, signaled each other, and will now journey together until the landing is made on the farther shore.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Jowell on West 6th Street and Lee Avenue, on Sunday, at 3:45 o'clock, Mrs. Jowell gave her daughter, Miss Elgie Coston in marriage to Mr. Saron A. Shotwell of Canyon City. Rev. S. T. Shore of the Christian Church performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of a large number of the relatives and close friends of these young people.

After congratulations and happy wishes for the future of Mr. and Mrs. Shotwell, the bride and groom led the way to the dining-room where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served.

The bride was attired in a soft gray silk with trimmings of silver fringe and lace, while the groom wore a neat suit of black.

Mrs. Shotwell is one of Hereford's best girls, having been reared from childhood in our city. Mr. Shotwell is a young business man of Canyon City at present an employee of the Santa Fe Railroad at Canyon City.

The young people left on the morning train Wednesday where they will reside for the present.

The Brand with their many friends bids them a "bon voyage" and a safe anchorage far across the billowy way.

Revival Closes.

Sunday night the revival which had been in progress three weeks closed with the largest congregation. Before the beginning of the service Rev. J. W. Story pastor of the Methodist church, made a short appeal for additional subscriptions for the benefit of the evangelist and singer and sufficient was raised to make the total $500.

Nearly one hundred members were added to the four churches participating in the meeting. To the Methodist church, 37; to the Presbyterian church, 22; to the First Christian church, 15; to the Baptist church 10.

The church members of the town feel that great good has been accomplished. Rev. J. B. Andrews and singer, R. E. Huston are earnest workers. They go to Fort Smith, Arkansas, where they will begin a meeting next Sunday.

Hereford Grapes.

The Brand is under lasting obligations to C. C. Ferguson for a quantity of most excellent grapes gathered from his own garden. He has but 20 vines and the yield is good, that is, an acre of the same kind of crop would produce over 13,000 pounds of fruit.

Church Social.

The members of the First Christian church have arranged for a social gathering at the church next Tuesday night. Suitable entertainment will be furnished. All members are urged to be present. Friends are invited.

No other numbers will be announced and no one will know whose ticket will be numbered "42" until called out. This "42" prize sale will be conducted perfectly fair to all parties. If you are lucky and happen to get "42" written on your sale ticket, you get that purchase free whether it be a Fifty Dollar Bed or a Fifty Cent shade. Every piece will be counted as a purchase. Resolutions of Respect

Whereas, God, the great giver of life, the ruler of the universe, has in His infinite wisdom and goodness, taken from this life and transplanted into His Kingdom above, our late sister in this church, and the wife of our late pastor, Sister Cora Keiry, wife of Rev. W. G. Keiry.

Therefore, be it resolved by the membership of the First Presbyterian church of Hereford, Texas, that it is with the deepest sorrow that we learn of this dispensation of God's providence to his creatures; yet we bow in humble submission to His holy will, knowing that he doeth all things well, and that what is our loss is her eternal gain.

Sister Keiry was the sweet spirited christian, the loving wife, the devoted helper of her husband, loyal to her church and its every interest, and true to every obligation of life. None knew her but to love her. She is now enjoying the rewards of her life of labor and love. The entire church extends to the beloved and sorrowing husband, the father and mother, and brothers and sisters their sincerest sympathy.

Resolved further, that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the husband, that they be furnished The Brand for publication, and that a copy be spread upon the minutes of this church.

MOTHER'S CLUB ENTERTAINS.

How thoughtful to let our hearts speak in the presence of our friends ere they depart.

On Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 Mesdames T. M. Palmer and W. M. Cogdell at the home of Mrs. Palmer entertained the Mother's Club and a number of its friends complimentary to Mrs. John W. DeAtley and Mrs. Ralph Barnett who will soon leave Hereford to make their different homes elsewhere. On account of an indisposition, Mrs. Barnett could not be present.

Both Mrs. DeAtley and Mrs. Barnett have been very active members of this club ever since its organization and their going away causes deep regret, and a pang of sadness enters the heart of each member as she says good-bye.

Delightful fruit punch was served by Mrs. Ezra Norton to each lady as she was welcomed into the reception hall by Mrs. T. M. Palmer.

After an hour of free and happy conversation, all were invited into the dining-room to partake of cream and wafers. Near the close of the evening, Mrs. S. B. Edwards in a befitting way presented Mrs. DeAtley with a hand painted vase, a little token of remembrance from the Mother's Club.

Mrs. Ezra Norton and sister Mrs. Ambrose Gibson rendered some beautiful selections of music for the pleasure of those present at this time.

Mesdames Palmer and Cogdell are to be praised for the pleasant afternoon they gave on this occasion.

EIGHT O'CLOCK BREAKFAST

How our memories are lengthened, and how our friends are endeared to us, when we recall the little courtesies and kind acts shown us when we were near them.

On Wednesday morning, Mrs. J. N. Russell bade twelve of her lady friends to come and spend the hours from eight to ten with her in her home, and partake of the breakfast she had prepared in honor of Mesdames Harry Mason and Joel H. Massie who are soon to leave our city for their respective homes.

Mrs. Russell's adaptation for entertaining can hardly be excelled, and this morning's function will long be remembered by each one present. There were favors given the guests of honor, and the time passed away so rapidly that the long stroke of the clock told the ten o'clock hour ere any one was aware.

Mrs. Russell is so often mindful of the pleasure of others, and the doors of her home thrown wide open to the entertainment of her many friends.

Those present were: Mesdames Mason, Massie, Collins, W. C. Witherspoon, P. W. Price, Oberthie, C. W. Dodson, Wright, W. H. Garrison, Luther Hough and Miss Ina Gregg.

MRS. JOHN W. DEATLEY SHOWERED.

Some one has aptly said that the immortal gods have given to man nothing better, nothing more gladdening than friendship.

On Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Geo. W. Barcus on 25-Mile Avenue, the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church and a few of its close friends met for one happy little hour to do honor to one of its beloved members who is soon to leave the city and make her home in another state.

After all had assembled, and Mrs. G. A. F. Parker had rendered a piano solo, and Mrs. H. S. Rowland a vocal selection, Mrs. F. T. Rolson stepped forward, and in beautiful language told how, when she came to Hereford a stranger and entered the Methodist church that Mrs. John W. DeAtley was the first to greet her, and since she had come to know her, found that she was always thoughtful of strangers, and tried to make them feel comfortable and happy even in strange land. And now that the fates have decreed that the presence of this good woman should be removed from her friends in Hereford, she on the part of the Missionary Society wanted to express their appreciation of what she had been to this society as a member, and how her place could never be filled. At the conclusion of Mrs. Rolson's talk, she lifted from a deep box many useful and beautiful articles and placed them all about Mrs. DeAtley. Mrs. DeAtley promptly responded in a very touching manner and thanked her sisters and friends for this kindly remembrance.

The shower consisted of many beautiful pieces of hand-painted china, hand-made center pieces, dollies, handkerchiefs, collars etc.

As the hour was drawing to a close fruit punch and wafers were served in the dining-room.

The good-byes were said with tears for all realized what it meant to have Mrs. DeAtley go from among us.

NINE O'CLOCK BREAKFAST.

Complimentary to Misses Graham Gamble, Patterson and Corcoran, visiting young ladies of our city at the present time, Miss Ina Gregg entertained at a 9 o'clock breakfast at her suburban home on Tuesday.

The breakfast was served in three courses; the first course being sliced oranges; second flakes with cream and graham wafers; third course, breaded hamburger, baked potatoes, La Klondyke toast, hot biscuits and butter, and cocoa.

Miss Corcoran rendered several selections of music and the breakfast hour spent with Miss Gregg was full of real enjoyment. Besides the guest of honor were Mesdames Emmett Cardwell and Bernard Arnold and Misses Jowell, Arthur, Gyles and Vaughan.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC

On Monday evening, at the sunset hour, a company of young people on the "classic hay-wagon" might have been seen, and surely heard, leaving the city for the banks of the clear-flowing waters of the Tiera Blanco. As the school year approaches, and a number of the young people are preparing again to enter school in a short time, it seemed just right to have another outing, and one more big cup full of enjoyment. Nothing was wanting to fill up the measure, and nothing was left off that would add to the pleasure of the occasion. When the cloth was spread, and the

Peters' Work Shoes are Soft

These Shoes are as far superior to the old fashioned boiler-plate work shoes as the electric light is to the tallow-dip.

The uppers are extra-plump weight Chrome Calf; thoroughly tanned with oak bark which makes them as soft and easy as kid. The soles are solid leather, Goodyear welt and will "wear like wire." For all working purposes this shoe is a leader and is in line with modern ideas of 20th Century comfort.

If your dealer does not have this shoe please write us.

baskets emptied, the modest moon looked down and smiled at the feast that might have served the gods when they walked with men.

Thus the hours went on, until the twinkling stars hinted to the more thoughtful of the company, that it was time for the home going.

Those who will remember how "easily" this wagon-carried them to and from the goal of pleasure, are; Misses Head, Garner, Jessie and Bessie Sisk, Dean, Potter, Shirley, Arthur, Meda Woodburn, Fuqua, Lena and Letha Edwards, Griffith, and Messrs. Cox, Sasser, Burkhalter, Dameron, Wilson and Cross.

MISS DORIS BOWERS ENTERTAINS.

For a number of days, Miss Gertrude Taylor has had for her guests her cousin Miss Leta Taylor, and her friend Miss Spence of Tulia.

On Monday evening, Miss Doris Bowers entertained at her home with a moonlight picnic in honor of these visiting ladies. Miss Doris has solved the mystery of entertainment, and the young people always deem it a rare privilege to be invited into her home.

At the proper time, seasonable refreshments were served, and the evening passed most pleasantly. When the good nights were being said, each face was radiant with joy and all thanked Miss Doris for another happy evening in her home.

WITH MRS. CLARENCE SMITH

Mrs. Clarence Smith opened her doors on Thursday evening for the entertainment of the younger set of young people and complimentary to Miss Maud Dean who is soon to leave the city for her new home at Haskell. Different games afforded entertainment for part of the evening's pleasure, and the dainty refreshments at the timely hour seemed to be a fitting climax. That the evening was full of pleasure came as an assurance, when the young people bade their hostess good night.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith often are thoughtful of the young peoples pleasure and entertain them in their home.

MRS. LESLIE MOREMAN ENTERTAINS

When we know we are remembered, and are bound to the hearts of others by the strong cords of friendship, it makes the absent present, the rich poor, and the weak strong. On Tuesday evening, Mr. and

Mrs. Leslie Moreman threw wide the doors of their beautiful home, and entertained many of their young friends with a so party. The young people indulged in the freedom accorded them, got that ever a cloud crossed bright sky of their lives, and flew by on golden rings. In the latter part of the evening, dainty refreshments were served, and hour for the homegoing came too soon. The young people entertained, were in their latter teens and the buoyancy of their young lives lifted them far above any the cares that come in later years. Mr. and Mrs. Moreman have thanks and appreciation of this bond of young folks for their consideration and kindness.

Rev. O. W. Dean to Haskell.

Rev. O. W. Dean leaves this p.m. for Haskell where he has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church. The family will follow Monday.

Some six weeks ago, Rev. Dean tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church at Hereford, but his congregation was loath to accept it. In a conference a few days since, the membership recalled their former pastor, but after fully considering the matter, Brother Dean thought best not to accept.

Rev. Dean served the Baptist church in Hereford four years and nine months, and during that time, he received 470 into the church and baptized 169. His work as a pastor has been eminently successful, and his place can hardly be filled. The sick always knew his presence and those in trouble had a sympathizing friend.

The Brand commends this good family to the people of Haskell and assures them they are fortunate in securing Rev. Dean's services as a pastor.

Why send your boys and girls off to school until they are advanced enough to take the work in the higher classes. Keep them with you also save those board bills and railroad fares. You can do it by sending to the college. Ask about it.

Jno. W. Deatley Goes to Missouri.

One of our most esteemed families, that of John W. DeAtley, will leave the city this week for their future home in Blue Springs, Jackson County, Mo., the old home they left some five years ago to live in Hereford.

In August, 1905, John W. DeAtley formed a partnership with W. E. Rayzor in the real estate business in this city. During the first 12 months, this firm sold one million dollars worth of real estate which far exceeded the amount sold by any other firm in this city at that time. The following year, Mr. DeAtley connected with the Hereford Realty Co., which also did an immense amount of business. Since that time Mr. DeAtley has been in the real estate business for himself, buying and selling a considerable amount of property. He not only bought and sold for other people but proved his faith in the town and country by making many investments in city and country property for himself. He has sold off most of his holdings, still retaining some valuable residence property on Lake and Fulton Streets, two blocks west of 25-Mile Avenue, one of the prettiest residence streets in Hereford, also a valuable business lot on Main Street. On account of Mr. DeAtley's fair and square way of dealing, we never have heard of him having a single dissatisfied customer.

Mr. DeAtley proved to be a citizen of enterprise and push while in Hereford. He improved and kept improving his residence properties here without a penny of expense to his tenants, and as a result he has always had his property rented to good and desirable occupants.

Mr. DeAtley's family consists of three sons and one daughter. Mrs. DeAtley has been an energetic worker in the M. E. Church and Sunday School of the city, and has been president of the Home Mission Society and vice-president of the Mothers' Club.

A large number of friends regret to lose this estimable family, but what is our loss is the gain of the community to which they move and the kindest regards and best wishes of their many friends go with the family to their old Missouri home.
