Members of Simms Study-Craft Club wrapped up the 1979-80 meeting-year Wednesday during their monthly business session in Simms Community building.

Ending her term as president, Mrs. Harvey Bronniman turned over the gavel to Mrs. Jerry Roberts, who has been installed as president for the 1980-81 season. Other new officers are Mrs. Lawrence Jackson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Grady Hughes, vice president; and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, reporter.

Mrs. Roberts appointed members to serve on the flower, finance, hospitality and yearbook committee and accepted suggestions for next year's program topics. Also, committees for the Lions Club dinners were formed.

It was announced that a community "42" party is planned at 8 p.m. Friday, May 16 at the community building. Also, members agreed to host a Crafts Day on Wednesday, June 4, beginning at 10 a.m. in the community building. All interested persons will be welcome to join the club in working on personal craft projects.

Mary Parker from Dan's in Canyon presented the program on needlepoint, outlining the history of the craft and exhibiting various samples of the three basic stitches. The members practiced needlepoint by working on individual projects.

Doris Buske of Friona was welcomed as a guest. The club will be adjourned for the summer and will resume their meetings at a morning coffee Sept. 3 in the Lloyd home.

Others present at Wednesday's meeting were Mmes. Julian Perrin, Chris Meives, Steve Meives, Steve Meives Jr., Willis Duggan, Macey Fuqua, Morris Blankenship, Gerald Teel, Eddie Derr and Don Rhodes.

Studying Dinosaurs

The fourth grade students at West Central Elementary School recently took an annual eight-week study course in the history and structure of prehistoric dinosaurs. The class drew pictures, made clay models and gave several reports on the monsters of their choice. The students then concluded their studies of the animals by making papiermache dinosaurs and presenting a play. Later the dinosaurs were

MS Fund Drive Planned Sunday

Local residents are reminded that the youth of First Christian Church will be conducting a door-to-door fund-raising drive Sunday afternoon on behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

From 2-4 p.m. the church youth will be canvassing the residential sectors of the community, seeking donations for the fight against MS. The youth volunteers will be carrying identification from the MS Foundation.

Participating in the drive will be members of Christian Youth Fellowship and Chi-Rho, a church organization for junior high and high school students.

The fund-raising effort is under the direction of Rev. Ray Owens, minister of youth and music at First Christian Church.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

This week I've heard of recent visits in Hereford from people who used to live here? Jean Streu flew back to Apache Junction, Ariz. last week after several days here renewing friendship.

She and Urlin were due to leave that resort city, where they live in winter, the first of this week for their summer home at Powder Horn, Colo. At least they were going to nearby Gunnison, where they might have to wait until some of the snow melts so they could get to Powder Horn.

Jean and Bea Hutson's house guest while she was here, and said she appreciated Bea's chauffeuring to see as many other friends as she had time to visit. She also visited Susan Henslee, Urlin's aunt, and others in that family.

The Streus were longtime Herefordites before they left to live at Crested Butte, Colo. where they operated a resort lodge a number of years, then sold it.

Also, when I went to vote Saturday I saw Guy Lawrence, who told me his daughter, Nelda Guy, and her husband Forrest Ricketts had been here for a short visit in the Lawrence home and with various relatives in the Ricketts family here and in other cities hereabouts.

The Ricketts now live in a Dallas suburb. Their youngest, Dan, a mere brotha of a boy when they left Hereford just a few years ago, is in high school.

Ever dream of taking one of those trips on a freighter, away from the tourist crowds? Long days at sea ... stops at exotic ports ... a few congenial fellow-travelers ... leisurely schedule ... accommodations not pretentious but comfortable ... you know the way they're described.

Well, Hank and Delight Williams got home, from one last week and they say it's really like that, and more. They went to the Orient on a ship that took only a dozen passengers, and were traveling with a couple of friends who've taken freighter trips before.

It was supposed to be a trip of two months or maybe three (one of the charms of freighter travel is that it's unscheduled) but it stretched into about four.

After crossing the Pacific they were to the places with fascinating names - Hong Kong, Shanghai, Taipei, five different ports in India, and others.

Listen to them talk about it, then hurry to book your trip because they say this kind of travel has its days numbered by "progress."

Now cargoes are becoming more and more compartmentalized, packaged so it takes only hours instead of days to load and unload. As a result a freighter will be in any port only a short time and so it won't take even the present limited number of passengers.

Surely is good to see Billee Johnson back on her usual busy schedule, saying that she is doing fine after eye surgery.

Less Beef to Barter For
Severe losses to beef producers over the past three years have caused them to reduce the size of their herds, which means less beef coming to market and higher prices. The inventory of all cattle and calves showed a decrease of 13 per cent from 1975, or 18.6 million fewer animals. Because of the biology of the cow, it will be almost four years before herds can be rebuilt and supplies appreciably increased, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Most caviar sold in the United States is made from the roe, or eggs, of red salmon or whitefish, rather than from sturgeon.

Ann Landers

Divorce Minded Women

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read with interest your response to the person who asked why so many marriages are breaking up. You said if marriage was as expensive as divorce, people wouldn't be so quick to rush into it.

I have lived many more years than you, and I have a different theory. I say, if young couples would put half the effort into making their marriages work as they do their careers, the divorce lawyers would have to close up shop.

My daughter wouldn't think of spending an evening bowling with her husband, but she is out night after night attending business meetings or working late to impress her boss. It is just a matter of time before her husband gets fed up and leaves her, and I wouldn't blame him.

Dance Tomorrow Night To Benefit Brockman

"Country Cookin," a band from Dalhart, will be performing here Saturday evening during a benefit dance for Allen Brockman, local kidney patient, in St. Anthony's School auditorium.

Admission to the dance, scheduled from 8:30 p.m. - 12:30 a.m., will cost $7.50

Public Invited To Meal

The Women's GI Forum Organization will be sponsoring a Mexican dinner from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. Sunday, in St. Anthony's school cafeteria. The public is invited.

Breakfast Drink Gives Fast Energy

A special treat for a special day! Mother's Day! Everyone will like this tasty refresher that keeps spirits up and appetites down with "good-morning" nutrition.

ORANGE ENERGIZER
Yield: 2 cups
2 eggs
1/4 cup frozen orange juice concentrate
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/4 cups milk
In mixing bowl or blender combine eggs, orange juice and sugar. Gradually add milk. (200 calories per 1 cup serving)

I know it's not possible for you and your staff to read every letter. You probably pull out as many as you can handle-and throw the rest away--so you will never see this. But I feel better for having written it--A Concerned Mother.

DEAR MOTHER: Every letter that reaches my office gets read by someone. Obviously I can't read them all myself, but I do see a great many.

Your basic premise was a good one--that if young couples would put half the effort into making their marriages work as they do their careers, the divorce lawyers would be out of work. Then you go off and blast your daughter.

Actually, the gung-ho, upward-mobile, super-achieving male more often is guilty of neglecting his family than the female. I'd say the ratio is about 50 to 1--and my mail supports those figures.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl writing about my brother, 12, who is physically handicapped. (I will call him Sam.) I love Sam and am proud of his courage. He is very smart, but my parents cater to him. I think he would progress more rapidly if they let him do more things for himself. They wait on him hand and foot and expect me to do the same.

Sam's physiotherapist agrees with me. I don't mind doing things for my little brother, but I think he'd be better off if he were forced to be more independent. Please say something about this, Ann--Sam's Sis.

DEAR SIS: Ask the physiotherapist to write a list of the things you and others do for Sam that he should be doing for himself. Give the list to your parents. The professional's word should be final.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like the opportunity to respond to the teacher who said children of foreign-born parents should speak English at home because those who don't will have a difficult time in school.

She is full of donkey dust! Too bad a person who is so ignorant is permitted to teach. I am a teacher of languages and can attest to the fact that it is easier to learn English if the pupil has experience with another tongue.

Furthermore, the student who comes to school knowing two languages will do much better with a third.

English is an international language, and as such has its variations, slang expressions and regional accents--all acceptable. So, while the emphasis should be on English, any additional language must be considered a plus. The earlier it is learned, the better--E.S.L.

DEAR E.S.L.: Many English teachers agree. Thanks to all who wrote.

What's prudish? What's OK? If you aren't sure, you need some help. It's available in the booklet: "Necking and Petting--What Are the Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611, enclosing 50 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Club to Honor Moms Tomorrow

Plans for a Mother's Day luncheon, to be held tomorrow in the E.B. Black Historical House, were finalized Tuesday evening by members of Young Homemakers of Texas, who met in the home of Marilyn Culpepper.

Members' mothers and mothers-in-law will be special guests at the luncheon. Following a salad supper, the YHT women held their election party with the following to serve: Gail Blain, president; Linda Goss, vice president; Nelva Swopes, treasurer; Bobbie Patzig, secretary; Karen Smith, reporter; and Brenda Campbell, parliamentarian. These officers will be installed in August at the start of the 1980-81 year.

Committee appointments for the upcoming year were made and it was announced that 1980-81 program will be planned during a meeting on May 17 in Mrs. Culpepper's home. The club will be recessed during the months of June and July.

Painful Road For Tito Ends

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Josip Broz Tito was buried Thursday in a quiet hillside garden, having come to the end of a "long painful road" as wartime hero, national patriarch and world leader.

The metalworker who replaced a king was laid to rest after one of the century's epic state funerals, and after his political heirs pledged continued allegiance to his brand of independent communism.

Jet fighters roared overhead and thousands of troops marched behind a gun carriage carrying Tito's flag-draped coffin as it rolled past hundreds of thousands of solemn Yugoslavs packing Belgrade's sidewalks for the two-hour procession from the Parliament building to the Tito estate.

he said, "what you will always be and of everything that you have left behind you."

Tito was buried on the 35th anniversary of VE Day, the time when he left behind years as a Communist partisan leader and began his long turn at Yugoslavia's helm. By 1948, he had taken his country out of the Soviet bloc and in later years he helped found the movement of non-aligned nations. He died last Sunday, three days before his 88th birthday.

"You have traversed this whole, long, painful road, leaving in your wake one of the deepest traces that a man can imprint upon history," Kolisevski said.

"Our people thank you for their most precious possession — that of being sovereign masters of their fate."

At a ceremony in front of the Parliament building earlier, Communist Party leader Stevan Doronjski said Yugoslavia's break with the Soviet Union was "one of the turning points in the history of our movement."

There, the oak casket was lowered into a gleaming white marble vault in the garden overlooking the city. As it was, gunfire rolled over the Danube River and sirens wailed across the nation.

A host of kings, presidents and world leaders — envoys from 115 nations — had gathered at the gravesite under a bright spring sky as Yugoslav President Lazar Kolisevski read the nation's farewell to its leader of 35 years.

"We are proud of everything that you were,"

Tito's independent communism and efforts to maintain internal Yugoslav unity were essential for the country's future, he said.

"Our gratitude to Comrade Tito," he said. "Glory to Comrade Tito."

Guests of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday were Stanley J.J. Mansbridge, town crier for the city of Shaftesbury, England (center) and the students of the fifth and sixth six-week periods at La Plata, Stanton, and the high school. Also honored was Gene Brock, next to Mansbridge, as a teacher of the six weeks at the high school.

Manufacturing Rights Purchased

HOUSTON (AP) — China has purchased the right to manufacture American-developed oil drilling bits in a $200 million deal hailed as the most significant transfer of U.S. petroleum equipment technology since trade relations resumed in 1973.

Under terms of the agreement signed Thursday, China will be licensed to manufacture oil drilling rock bits developed by Hughes Tool Co.

"It is conservatively estimated this agreement will bring over $200 million in sales of bits, bit parts, and royalties to Hughes Tool," said Hughes President James R. Lesch.

Lesch, who called the deal the most significant transfer of petroleum equipment technology to China, said the Chinese will spend another $50 million to build a plant at Chengdu in Sichuan Province.

He said a good portion of that will go to other American suppliers of machine tools and equipment.

During the first two years of the 10-year agreement, China will purchase completed bits for use while the plant is being built. During the next 30 months, rock bit parts will be purchased for assembly in China.

Lesch said orders for the first $25 million of such purchases will be signed immediately.

"At the end of 54 months, the plant should be fully operational and complete Hughes bits can be manufactured in China," said Lesch. He said Hughes will receive a royalty payment for each bit the plant produces.

He said the annual output is expected to be 20,000 to 25,000 bits and the agreement includes no export restrictions.

The agreement was signed after the first news conference called by Hughes in 21 years.

Signing with Lesch was Madam Wu Xiaolan, vice managing director of the China National Machinery Import and Export Corp.

Madam Wu said Hughes will transfer without reservation up to date techniques.

"The signing of the agreement ushers a new starting point for long, friendly relations between the two sides although a large amount of work will have to be done and many problems will have to be achieved before the agreed objective is achieved," she said.

The agreement is contingent upon Hughes receiving a federal export license. Lesch sees no problems, however, saying Hughes sales to China since 1973 already have approximated $75 million.

Lesch said negotiations for the agreement began after Chinese Vice Premier Deng Xiaoping expressed interest while visiting Houston and the Hughes headquarters plant on Feb. 3 last year.

The agreement signing coincided with the closing of the 12th Offshore Technology Conference that attracted more than 88,200 persons from nearly 100 nations.

More Arrests To Stem From Drug Operation

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Drug agents here say more Texas arrests will stem from a Massachusetts indictment charging convicted narcotics dealer Jamiel A. "Jimmy" Chagra and several others in connection with a 1975 New England smuggling operation.

A federal grand jury in Boston indicted Chagra and the others for the alleged delivery of 27 tons of marijuana to a Gloucester, Mass., beach, authorities said Thursday.

Chagra, 35, left El Paso this week to serve a 30-year federal prison term on a continuing criminal enterprise conviction.

During his trial last August in Austin, Chagra was accused in the smuggling of large amounts of marijuana and cocaine from Colombia to the United States.

A spokesman for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration in El Paso said agents here arrested William Russell and Kermit Schweidel in the New England case. Russell and Schweidel appeared before U.S. Magistrate Janet Ruesch here Thursday. She set bond at $25,000.

"We're looking for more people in the El Paso area," a DEA spokesman said.

Robert Stutman, special agent in charge of the DEA Boston office, said Russell and Schweidel would be extradited and "a lot more" will be arrested in the case.

Stutman said agents also arrested Mark Snyder, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Daniel Susjner, of Miami in the Gloucester case.

Chagra and another man arrested in the case, Daniel Cacy, already are in federal custody.

All arrested face charges of conspiracy to import with the intent to distribute marijuana.

The charges stem from an alleged operation to land marijuana at the beach in July, 1975.

"This is one of the most significant drug smuggling operations ever encountered in Massachusetts," said Stutman.

Chagra disappeared after his Austin trial, but was arrested six months later in Las Vegas, Nev.

He was convicted of bail jumping last month and sentenced to five years in prison.

Chagra's brother, Lee, noted for defending drug cases, was killed in December, 1978, during a robbery at his El Paso office.

Loan Rates Up For Soybeans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $275 million proposal to increase federal loan rates for soybean farmers in 1980 and 1981 was approved by the House Agriculture Committee on Thursday.

The measure would increase loan rates from $4.50 a bushel to $5.02.

Rep. Dawson Mathis, D-Ga., the sponsor, said the increase was needed to help cover rising costs of soybean production. Mathis said the $5.02 figure would boost the price support loan rate to about 65 percent of the average farmer's costs, which he estimated at between $7.50 to $7.75 a bushel.

The Carter administration opposes the increase as premature. Howard W. Hjort, chief Agriculture Department economist, said the soybean price support rate should not be adjusted independently without regard to loan rates for corn, its chief competitor commodity.

On Wednesday, the Agriculture Committee approved a proposed boost in loan rates for corn and wheat. But the administration, while sympathetic in principle to the increase, said the $653 million price tag would probably violate budget balancing efforts.

That measure would increase loan levels for corn and wheat in the farmer-held reserve for those grains from $2.50 to $3.30 a bushel for wheat, and from $2.10 to $2.40 a bushel for corn.

Moore said he had arraigned the boys on delinquent conduct charges that specified one burglary count. One of the youths was also named in a charge that specified possession of a prohibited weapon — a Thompson submachine gun.

Curry said he objected to

The Newspaper Bible

YOU'D BETTER BELIEVE IT!

Later He said to them again, "I am going away; and you will search for Me, and die in your sins. And you cannot come where I am going."

The Jews asked, "Is he planning suicide? What does he mean, 'You cannot come where I am going?'"

Then He said to them, "You are from below; I am from above. You are of the world; I am not.

That is why I said that you will die in your sins; for unless you believe that I am the Messiah, the Son of God, you will die in your sins."

"Tell us who you are," they demanded. He replied, "I am the one I have always claimed to be.

I could condemn you for much and teach you much, but I won't, for I say only what I am told to by the one who sent Me; and He is Truth."

But they still didn't understand that He was talking to them about God.

So Jesus said, "When you have killed the Man of Glory, then you will realize that I am He and that I have not been telling you My own ideas, but have spoken what the Father taught Me.

And He who sent Me is with Me — He has not deserted Me — for I always do those things that are pleasing to Him."

Students To Be Tried as Adults

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — In a case he called "a little unusual," District Attorney Tim Curry moved that two high school students be tried as adults on burglary and weapons charges.

"It seems this is not your run-of-the-mill juvenile case and it shouldn't be handled like one," Curry said Thursday. "This is a little unusual for a 16-year-old."

The students were arrested last week and charged with delinquent conduct in connection with a series of crimes including burglary, attempted extortion and weapons dealing.

After Curry filed the adult certification motion, Juvenile Judge Scott D. Moore cancelled the delinquent conduct hearing that had been set for Friday. A certification hearing will be held later in the month.

A third student, arrested Monday and later released for lack of evidence, returned with her lawyer Wednesday to give a statement to police, said Lt. A.M. Patterson.

The 16-year-old girl was arraigned before Moore on delinquent charges Thursday. Curry has not filed a petition to have her tried as an adult.

Moore said he had arraigned the boys on delinquent conduct charges that specified one burglary count. One of the youths was also named in a charge that specified possession of a prohibited weapon — a Thompson submachine gun.

Curry said he objected to prosecuting the students as juveniles because once they reach 18 "any supervision you've got over them is pretty well over."

"I'm not interested in sending a 16-year-old to the penitentiary, but I'm also not interested in having one on probation for 14 months or so and then turning him out free," said Curry.

Police said the series of crimes included the theft of more than $60,000 worth of silverware, the burglary of at least four Fort Worth homes and an office and a money-laundering operation.

Police said they began investigating the student's activities after a March 23 burglary of a professor's home in which $30,000 worth of silver and some "embarrassing" tapes were stolen.

The professor received a letter telling him that if he did not pay $10,000, the tapes would be turned over to "the right party." He contacted police.

The father of one of the boys brought his son to police after he found $1,300 cash, a .45-caliber Thompson submachine gun and other weapons, explosive chemicals and several "how-to" books on terrorism in his son's room, police said.

The game of squash supposedly originated in 19th-century London's sinister Fleet Prison, where prisoners shaped rag balls and batted them against the walls with crude rackets to pass the time.

Philadelphia Slips By Lakers

76ers Tie NBA Series

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Darryl Dawkins, who plays center for the Philadelphia 76ers when he isn't roaming the wilds of his adopted planet Lovetron, lists "Chocolate Thunder" among his favorite nicknames.

So he didn't react too kindly when a couple of Los Angeles writers, unimpressed by his 18-minute performance in the Lakers' 109-102 victory in the opening game of the National Basketball Association championship series, changed his nickname to "Chocolate Blunder" — or worse, "Chocolate Pudding."

"They should know better than to mess with my name like that," said Dawkins as he killed time in the lobby of the Sixers' hotel in Los Angeles Wednesday prior to the second game of the series. "I'm no dessert. But they can call me whatever they want — I know I'll come up solid."

Hours later, the 6-foot-11 252-pound Dawkins did just that, scoring 25 points in 39 minutes and playing a solid all-around game in helping the Sixers even the best-of-seven playoff finals with a 107-104 victory.

The next two games of the series, both afternoon contests, will be played here Saturday and Sunday. Game Five is scheduled for Los Angeles Wednesday night.

"Darryl is a guy who wants to win," said Sixers Coach Billy Cunningham. "He is willing to work for it and he showed it. He was a completely different ballplayer."

"In the opener Sunday I blew my cool," said Dawkins, who picked up three early fouls in that game and finally fouled out in the fourth quarter. "I didn't stay in and play my game. I got out of the offense. This was a different story. I got myself going early and got better and better."

To keep Dawkins out of foul trouble and in the game, Cunningham switched him away from the Lakers' awesome center, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, and had him guard Los Angeles' less potent forward, Jim Chones. While Abdul-Jabbar was brilliant with 38 points and 14 rebounds against slender Caldwell Jones, the move worked in that Dawkins managed to stay off the bench.

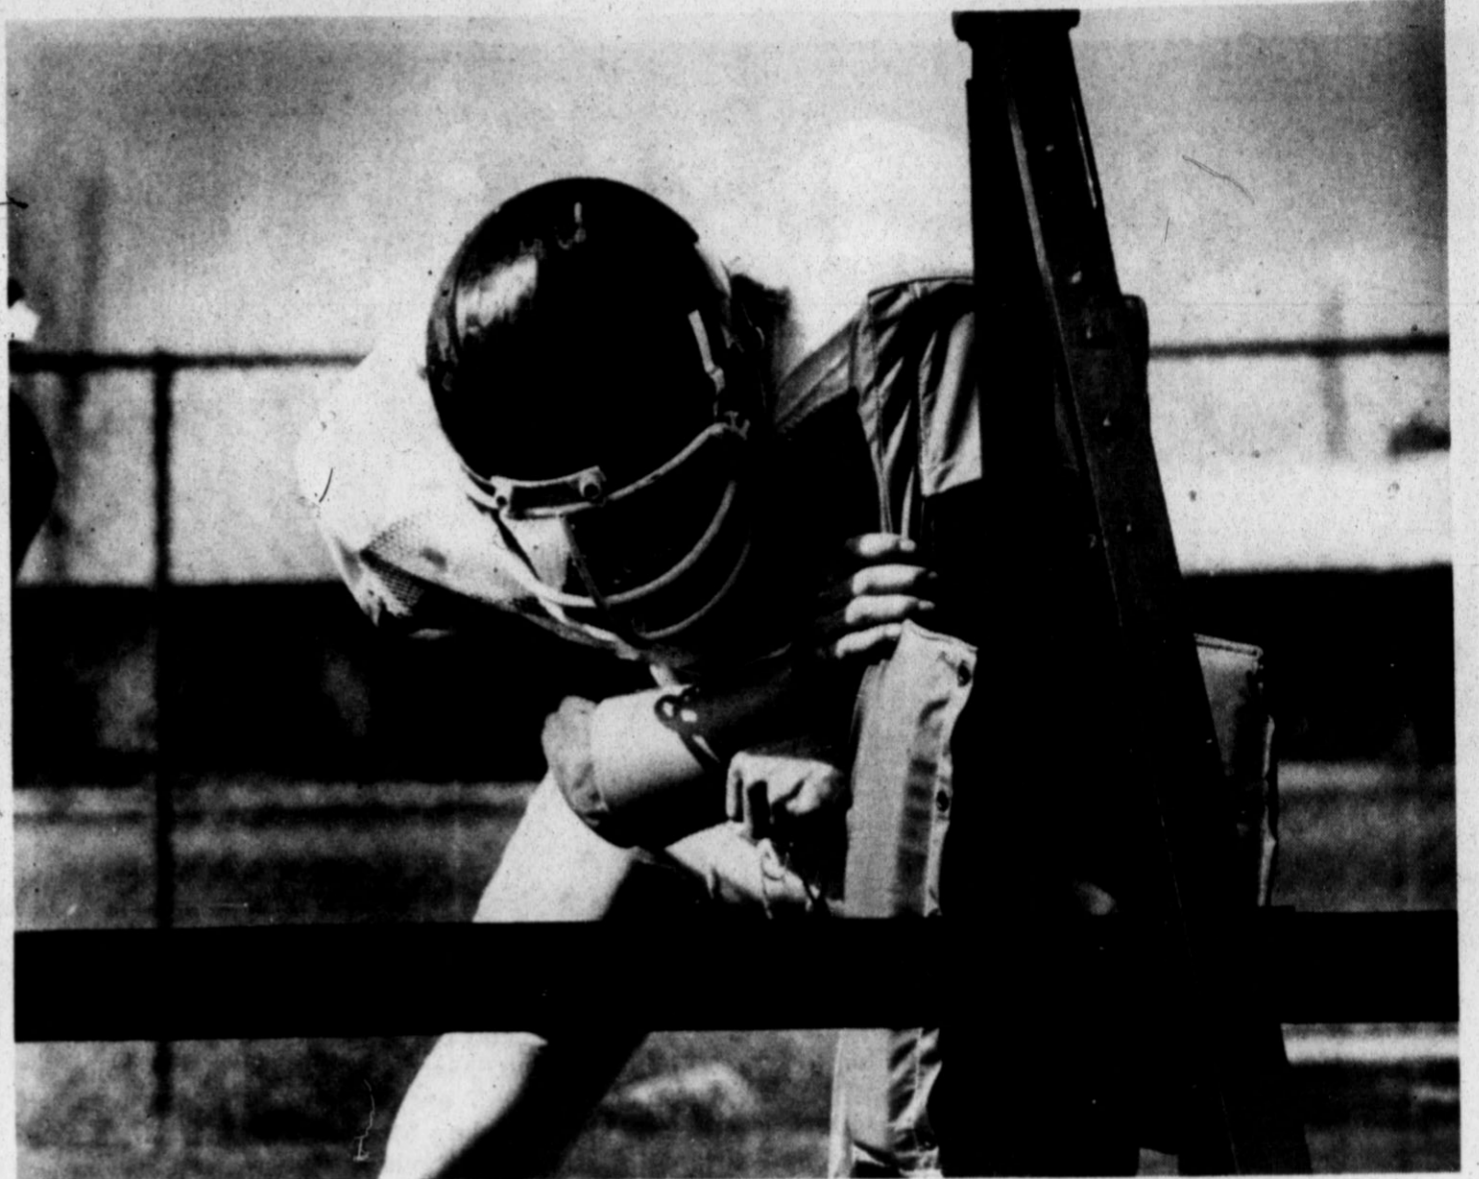

The victory enabled the 76ers to take away the homecourt advantage in the series, which Los Angeles had earned by winning 60 games during the regular season to 59 for Philadelphia.

"We came out to their building and got a split," said Cunningham. "We would rather have won two, of course, but we have to be satisfied. Now they have to win at least once in Philadelphia."

No Laker team has won in Philadelphia since 1975, a streak of nine losses. It's a streak that's about to end, says Chones.

"We know we are better than they are," claimed the Los Angeles forward. "We know we can come back, and we know we can win on the road in the playoffs."

There are 11 laps to the mile at Madison Square Garden in New York.

State Meet Begins

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Only three individual champions return in the top two divisions — 3A and 4A — at the state schoolboy track and field meet today and Saturday. Eight defending champions will compete in the other three conferences.

Defending state team champions Killeen, Needville, Snook, and possibly Bay City, appear to be in shape to win again this year at the state meet.

Timpson, the defending champion in Class A, only has a relay team and a sprinter in the 200-meter dash and apparently will relinquish its crown to Crosbyton, Falls City or Kerens.

The defending 4A individual champions are

Robert Scott of Killeen in the long jump and Dennis Brantley, who tied the conference record last year in the 110-meter hurdles in 13.5 seconds.

In regional competition won the mile last year in 4:16.6 but ran the 1,600-meters in regional two weeks ago in 4:29.6, which is only the sixth best time in that event in 3A.

Based on regional performances, Killeen should defeat Houston Worthing for the 4A title. Worthing was sixth last year.

Bay City and Terrell should be close in 3A, and Needville's stiffest competition could come from Waller in 2A. Snook looks like an overwhelming favorite in B.

Last year, Snook scored 58 points, Bay City 56, Needville 54 and Killeen 52 in winning state championships.

Houston Yates and Baytown Lee will be running for a state record in the 1,600-meter relay, the final event of the two-day meet. Yates beat Lee in regional in 3 minutes 12.3 seconds, 1.2 seconds off the state mark set in 1970 by Dallas Lincoln.

Stacy Ready for LPGA Tourney

ATLANTA (AP) — Hollis Stacy is full of confidence as she enters the $100,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament beginning today on the rugged hills of the Brookfield West Country Club course.

"I think I'm primed for this part of the country," said Stacy, a two-time Women's U.S. Open champion who has enjoyed success on this par 73, 6,270-yard course in her home state.

Her confidence was boosted last week when she edged Amy Alcott in a sudden death playoff to capture the Women's International event at Hilton Head, S.C., only a few miles from her Savannah home.

Stacy, who in her sixth pro season ranks among the top 20 in career earnings, won here in 1977 with a 10-under-par 209 total and tied Gloria Ehret for second place a year later when the twosome lost in a three-way sudden death playoff against Janet Coles.

"I'm very confident going in because I am hitting the ball so solidly," Stacy said. "I'm hitting the ball as well as I have in three years. I'm ready for the next three tournaments. I seem to play my best golf in April and May."

Because of her success here, Stacy has to rank among the favorites in the field of 102 players, including five amateurs. One of the five is Hollis' sister, Martha, who plays on the women's team at the University of Georgia. The event's official name is the Lady Michelob tournament.

Your mother was your first source of protection against the hard realities of life. From your earliest childhood, she stood ready with a bandage for an injured knee or a dose of sympathy for your wounded feelings. She always gave you her best advice, based on the trials and errors of her own experience; and even if you chose to ignore it you could return home at any time, sadder and probably no wiser; but always assured of being welcomed and forgiven with open arms. At the Church of your choice, you will learn that the Bible contains many references to the advantages of listening to your mother's teachings and heeding her advice. If you are blessed with a mother still living, show her, without waiting for a special occasion, that you love and appreciate her while you can.

arise up, and call her blessed."
—Proverbs 31:28
