More Volcanic Eruptions Feared

Hereford School District Goes 'On The Air'

Nonetheless, the Hereford Independent School District is in the television business, and school officials say the federally-funded program has been an asset.

"The Cablevision people tell me they're getting calls from people wanting to know when various programs are going to be offered. We have had good response," said Superintendent Harrell Holder, who last fall talked the school board into purchasing $13,000 worth of television

The equipment, which includes everything that would make HISD the equivalent of a mini-TV station, was bought through a federal library and audio-visual supply

"A number of school districts are beginning to use cable television as a means of communicating with their public. The Cable TV company here has been extremely cooperative in working with us in efforts to utilize the Cable TV potential," Holder said.

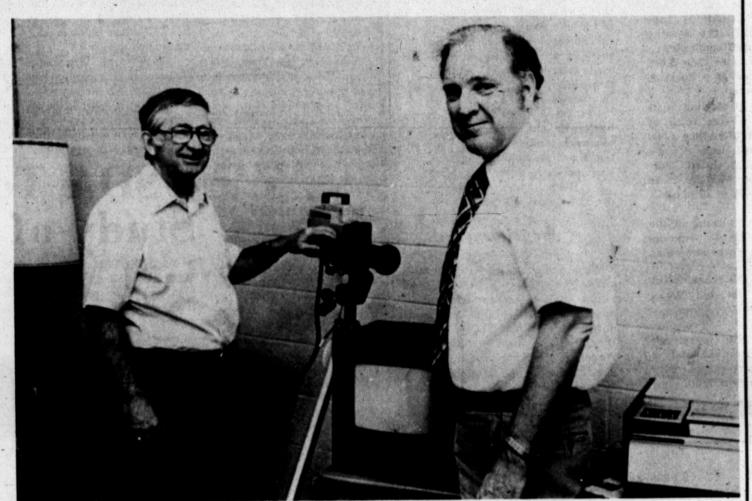

Programs since the school district put the system into operation six weeks ago have included high school activities, kindergarten, spring football scrimmage, spring music festival. Northwest Elementary's drama and physical education departments and Bluebonnet Elementary's mini-courses.

Two programs are shown each day--at 12:30 p.m. and-4:30 p.m. The same programs are shown Monday through

"I'm hoping that in the future we can make, some arrangements to be able to have 6:30 p.m. program available to us." Holder said.

But, right now, Hereford Cablevision doesn't have any personnel on duty during the prime time.'

Next year, the school district has offered a high school television communications class. The 30 students who (See TELEVISION, Page 2)

Hospital Chops Bad Debt

Deaf Smith County Hospital directors Monday night wrote off $498,000 in bad debt, but were told the Deaf Smith General Hospital has nearly $1.4 million in so-far-uncollected patient receivables and another $809, 965 in a reserve account to make up the loss.

Hospital Administrator Jim Bullard said the $498,000 in bad debt will be subtracted from $1,379.029 in receivables. It also will be deducted from the bad-debt reserve, reducing that amount to $311,965.

The bad debts had been accumulated by the hospital over the last four years and include several accounts turned over to small-claims court but still uncollected.

The hospital finance committee recommended the writeoff.

Bullard had some good news for the board-the hospital finished April with $3.841 in revenue over expenses thanks to a strong eruptions.

Helicopter pilots hoped for better weather today in the effort to find the 76 people still missing since the volcano erupted violently on May 18. The death toll stood at 21, according to the U.S. Forest Service.

Five more persons missing since Saturday - when they were last seen 10 miles from the peak - were found Monday near Tradedollar Lake, said a spokesman for the Skamania County sheriff's office. Despite their proximity to the Sunday ash eruption that blackened skies in western Oregon and Washington, the hikers were unhurt, the spokesman said.

The group included photographer Otto Sieber of Seattle, who had hiked to the summit of the mountain in early April to film the crater.

Except for an ash and steam eruption to a height of 12,500 feet, the mountain was quiet Monday. But scientists warned that small earthquakes under the volcano Monday suggest molten rock may be rising

Fatalities Surprise Forecasters

By The Associated Press Millions of Americans went back to work and school today after a Memorial Day weekend that was safer than - expected on the highways. Monday, 404 people had been reported killed in traffic accidents nationwide since 6 p.m. Friday. The National Safety Council said before the threeday holiday began that between 450 and 550 highway deaths could be expected during the period. The normal highway death toll for a three-day, nonholiday weekend at this time of the year is 493, council statisticians said.

Last year, 508 people were killed during the three-day Memorial Day weekend. The worst three-day Memorial Day observance was in 1969, when 597 people were killed in traffic. The worst year on record was 1968, when 629 persons were killed during a four-day Memorial Day observance.

of Austria said on returning from Tehran today that new sanctions against Iran would further delay the release of the 53 American hostages, now in their 206th day of captivity. A fresh attempt to get U.N. sanctions is being considered by the Carter administration.

"If there are new pressures, this could create new problems," Kreisky told an Austrian radio interviewer who spoke to him at the airport in Athens, Greece, where he arrived on a state visit prior to returning home.

Kreisky said the hostage crisis was "just one of many, many questions we discussed' with Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, and that a solution to the problem must be found in a "calm atmoshere."

Kreisky said he had the impression that the Iranian government was interested in an end to the hostage dilemma but "I cannot give you a date." Kreisky, former Prime

Railroad-Fund

Drive Nears End

OKLAHQMA CITY (AP) - The fund drive by shippers in three-states to reopen the defunct Rock Island north-south mainline is now less than 10 percent from the goal, organizers said Monday.

Representatives of the Oklahoma-Kansas-Texas Rail Users Association said the drive to raise $3 million to subsidize "start-up costs" for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad to reopen the mainline is now only $300,000 short.

The Katy has offered to reopen idle track between Herington, Kan., and Fort Worth-Dallas if shippers can raise loans to cover initial costs.

Elevator operators, farmers and businessmen are hoping for a reopening before harvest begins in early June, to forestall a possible grain transportation crisis.

The line was closed when the Rock Island went out of business on April 1. It roughly parallels U.S 81 in Oklahoma and serves about 36 communities.

Protestors Plan

Television-

SEABROOK, N.H. (AP) - A depleted band if anti-nuclear protesters plotted an early morning blockade of the Seabrook nuclear power plant today, raising the possibility of a confrontation with construction workers.

Fewer than half of the protesters who began the demonstrations on Saturday remained at the site Monday night. But spokesmen for the organizer of the protest, the Coalition for Direct Action at Seabrook, said they planned a "mass presence and moving picket" today along U.S. 1 in front of the plant.

The first shift of the 2,500 workers at the partially completed plant was to report this morning after the three-day holiday weekend.

Gov. Hugh Gallen said state troopers and National Guardsmen stood ready for the fourth day of demonstrations, "and just as we kept Route I open, they will see that gate is kept open."

A steady stream of arriving boats has pushed the 37-day total of refugees past 81,000. More than 2,000 boats have returned from Cuba's Mariel harbor and Coast Guard Cmdr. Samuel Dennis said Monday there may be as few as "100 to 200 boats" remaining.

Boats have been returning at the rate of about 40 to 50 per day, whil the Coast Guard has prevented new boats from going to Cuba.

"We're hoping it will be over soon. It's hard to predict." said Judy Weiss of the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

Meanwhile, a 19-year-old refugee became the 26th fatility of the fatality. Officials said the youth apparently died-Sunday of carbon monoxide

Carter Praises Sailors From Nimitz Group

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter says the 7,000 sailors of the nuclear-powered Nimitz Battle Group were "the major factor in protecting the lives of the 53 hostages still held" in Iran.

Carter flew out to sea Monday to offer his personal thanks to the men of the aircraft carrier Nimitz and its two cruiser escorts as they neared a Memorial Day homecoming in Norfolk, Fa., after nearly nine months away from home port.

It was from the deck of the Nimitz that the helicopters which proved fatal to Carter's abortive attempt to rescue the hostages were launched on the night of April 24. But the president made clear he does not hold the ship or its men responsible for the failure of that mission.

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart," he said. "You not only served to provide stability in the Persian Gulf. but I am absolutely convinced that your presence there has been the major factor in protecting the lives of the 53 hostages still held."

Decision 'Traumatic'

HOUSTON (AP) - The George Bush campaign consumed two years and $16.2 million and involved hundreds of thousands of miles of travel and countless speeches, rallies and handshakes.

And after all that, it barely put a dent in front-runner Ronald Reagan's bandwagon.

After a week-long period of reassessment and a "traumatic weekend" of decision, Bush bowed to the realities Monday and said he had too little money and too few delegates to have a real chance of turning the tables

Bush said the decision went against all his instincts. He said his own inclinations echoed the words on a button worn by his wife:

"Stay In And Fight." Indeed, Bush stayed in what started as a crowded Republican field longer than any of the other seven major candidates who dropped out along the way. Bush had presented himself throughout the campaign as a moderate alternative to Reagan and said from the outset his strategy was to narrow the field to the two of them. "I am an optimist," Bush said at the news conference where he announced his withdrawal. "But I also know how to count to 998," he added, referring to the total number of delegates needed to clinch the nomination.

A number of major news organization projections say Reagan has already passed that total. The Associated Press delegate count, which is limited to those committed by law of party rule or by public declaration, is 919.

Padding around his home in barefeet - serving beer, cheese and crackers to the reporters who had covered his campaign - Bush pronounced the day 'gloomy'' and wondered aloud about the efforts that took up "two years of my

He said he doubtless will go on to something else, noting that his career has moved from one step to another: World War II pilot, successful businessman. congressman, candidate for the U.S. Senate, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. U.S. envoy to China, director of the Central Intelligence Agency and Republican national chairman. "I plan no more press conferences for awhile." Bush said. "I plan to go pleasantly about decompressing. I'm not going to be petulant about it. I'm not going to go off on some retreat, at least on one where you can find me."

If not petulant, Bush does retain an edge of bitterness about some aspects of the campaign.

He says the high point of his effort came last week in Michigan when he trounced Reagan by a startling 25 percentage points.

Bush leaves no doubt he is resentful that instead of hailing his victory as an upset of Reagan, many major news organizations declared that Reagan had won enough delegates that night to lock up the nomination. "As a result," he said,

"there is a widespread perception that the campaign is over" and that perception helped dry up contributions. ..

projection of income for the campaign in April and May left it facing a $300,000 deficit.

If Michigan was the high point, Bush says his campaign's low water mark came when he won Massachusetts only to find press coverage focusing on the surprisingly strong showing of Rep. John Anderson, R-III. He said he believes Anderson drained away votes from his own campaign overall. Bush started his campaign early. Not being bound to any official job or duties, he was free to travel and organize. In 1979 alone, he was on the road for 328 days and logged 246,000 miles.

His first success came in the Iowa caucuses and he proclaimed that "Big Mo" for big momentum -- was on his side. But Bush stumbled in a debate with Reagan in Bush acknowledged that New Hampshire and really 255 delegates. Bush said that in the end, 'Reagan ground us down." He attributed Reagan's success to the fact that the former Hollywood actor and California governor is a household name who ran an effective campaign after actively seeking the White House for a dozen years.

Bush continued to spurn all talk of becoming Reagan's vice presidential running mate. And he said he has given no thought to renewing his bid for the GOP nomination in 1984.

He and his wife. Barbara. joked that Bush, who earned a fortune in the oil business in the 1960s, soon will have to find a paying job.

USDA To Increase Study of Productivity

WASHINGTON (AP) -With modern U.S. -agricultural production meeting the food needs of America and many other countries, the Agriculture Department is expanding its research efforts beyond the farm.

"For the past half-century, our great agricultural success depended, and has legitimately so, on constantly improving our food and fiber productivity," says Deputy Agriculture Secretary Jim Williams.

"But now we're finding that we really don't know how to best handle that productivity to make its benefits available to the greatest number of people." Williams says.

It's with that view, explains Dr. Terry Kinney of USDA's science and administration. consumer-oriented research is being expanded.

"We are giving renewed emphasis to many of the problems that are consumer related and of consumer concern without really jeopardizing our base research, without really reducing out production research," Kinney says.

"There has always been a real strong emphasis on the producer and that emphasis has to remain because without that production we don't have to worry about the consumer," he said. "But we also have to take additional steps to fill our responsibility to the consumer.'

Kinney said the department has established a

AnniversaryShows Change In Club

Changes in program emphasis in the past halfcentury for Texas Extension Service women's clubs will be noted as Wyche Extension Homemakers Club celebrates its 50th anniversary with a reception at Community Center from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 1.

· Inviting all former members, also 4-H Club girls, county Extension Service agents and office personnel who have worked with Wyche Club over the years, the present members are planning exhibits of scrapbooks. old yearbooks and other records of club activities as a focal point of reception decorations.

The member who has been active in the club longest. Mrs. Ira Ott, is general chairman of arrangements. She joined the club in January, 1934, shortly after her marriage.

Special guests will be Mrs. Jewel Elliston and Mrs. Joe Reinart, charter members but no longer active, and Mrs. Alice Cox, who was a member of the Wyche Community Club out of which the women's club grew, but had moved out of the county before the women's, group was formed.

The community club had been organized in the early 1920's and continued to function with the help of R.O.

Dunkel, county agricultural agent. When Emma Gunter was assigned to the county as home demonstration agent in 1929, the Wyche women decided to form a Home Demonstration Club, as they were called then and until a few years ago.

" Under leadership of two early HD agent, Miss Gunter and Lula Mae Martin, who later married Ralph Wolf of Hereford, the club carried on a program which was concerned with the basics of homemaking.

Program subjects listed in the 1931 yearbook which Mrs. Ott still has, include home improvement with emphasis on living room arrangement, furniture and accessories; planning, buying and making clothing for the family; growing and preserving food for a farm

A little later, Sadie Oliver came to the county as HD agent and is remembered for teaching nutrition, and for insisting that farm home grounds be beautified by planting trees and shrubs. Miss Oliver, now of Belton. may be here for the

A class of fourth-graders at the Grimes Center for Creative Learning are nine years old ... going on bankruptcy.

They're all enrolled in a class of money management and fiscal responsibility. They perform all kinds of jobs like cleaning cabinets, dusting erasers and inspecting the locker room. For these chores, they're paid a salary with blue mimeographed money.

At the end of the week they are paid. However, 20 percent of their money is deducted for taxes for the teacher's salary. Then there's deductions for rent, water, electricity and a special fee for using the pencil sharpener.

Students are fired for being absent from or late to their jobs. If they are "evicted" for non-payment of rent, their desks are stacked at the back of the room and their belongings piled on top. So far the locker room inspector has been fired and had to learn to live below his means, a couple of students were "evicted" and a few of them had to form a loan company and live in the "low rent" area of the room in a cluster of desks by

4-H Volunteers Receive Awards

By AGNES TAYLOR Ass't County Extension Agent

Being a 4-H volunteer calls for effective time management, and the rewards of giving unselfishly of one's time are many.

Adults who volunteer their time to the 4-H program reap many special rewards such as the following:

* Personal recognition --Everyone needs to be recognized and 4-H provides many ways for volunteers to receive notice for their contribution and achievement. From a letter of thanks from a parent or an Extension worker to an upward pin or certificate to newspaper articles recognizing their accomplishments, 4-H volunteers are important and are recognized for their contribu-

* Learning new skills -- As a part of the 4-H program. volunteers receive training in . how to teach skills to boys and girls. Beyond the local level are many opportunities for volunteers to learn more about particular subjects. Many 4-H volunteers learn skills which they use for their personal or family enhance: ment as well as for teaching boys and girls in 4-H clubs. * Acquiring self-confidence - 4-Volunteers are trained to relate and interact with others through 4-H club meetings, project training meetings, 4-H activities and a host of advisory committees. Through this exposure 4-H volunteers gain experience and confidence while active in community affairs and perpares them for leadership roles.

* Pride -- There is no price which can be placed on the pride that 4-H volunteers feel when they see a boy or girl develop into a productive. responsible, and happy adult. This is the ultimate reward.

As a 4-H volunteer, it only takes a few hours per year to sow the seeds of responsibility in a young boy or girl. Once sown, we all reap the benefits. Become a 4-H volunteer today by calling the county Extension office at 364-3573, Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Please use it. I am a person. I am also a female. But I am not "the girl."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My 56-year-old husband has gotten a 25-year-old woman pregnant. She is not married and never has been. We have two fine sons, both grown and on their own.

"Bob" says he loves me and does not want a divorce. Meanwhile, he continues to see this other woman (which kills me) because she is "the mother of his child." The situation is becoming intolerable. The only reason I don't ask him to leave is because I love him dearly. I would gladly take the baby and raise it if the woman would give it up, but she won't.

I believe Bob should pay child support, but I do not want him to continue to see the woman, nor do I think he should have anything to do with the child. Please give me some advice on how to deal with this mess. -- Big Trouble In Gulfport, Miss. DEAR B.T.: First: If your husband is the father of the child, he is obligated by law to pay child support

Second: Even if the woman would allow you to take the baby, it's best that you not do so. The child would be a never-ending source of ambivalence and trouble as well as a permanent link to the woman.

Third: Accept the fact that your husband is going to continue to see her. After the child is born he probably will see her more frequently. I urge you to get some counseling now. You need a source of strength and emotional support to see you through the turbulent days -and perhaps years -- ahead.

AUSTIN - Former Texas Attorney General John Hill, who lost the 1978 gubernatorial race to Republican Bill Clements, was back in the headlines last week after winning a multi-million dollar damages lawsuit against the nation of Iran.

A Dallas federal court ruled Electronic Data Systems Corporation (EDS) was entitled to collect $19.2 million in damages from the government of Iran for a breach of a computer services contract

Ironically, EDS is owned by H. Ross Perot, who heads up Gov. Clements' task force against narcotics trafficking. Perot, by the way, is the hero-organizer of last year's commando raid into Iran to free Americans (his employees) held in Tehran pri-

Hill apparently has been building more than his private law practice since his '78 political defeat. A recent Texas Monthly magazine poll showed that 52 percent of Texans now prefer him over Clements (48 percent) in a governor's race.

In the Iranian lawsuit. Hill lead a team of four lawyers who first secured ar attachment on Iranian funds in New York banks.

He told one reporter last week he believes, the Mexican government is liable for damages to Texas beaches from the Ixtoc I oil spill under provisions in the Sovereign Immunities Act.

Clements Blasts Carter

Clements predicted President Jimmy Carter will lose Texas votes because of a U.S. Justice Department decision to seek integration of city and suburban school districts in Houston.

The motion to seek interdistrict integration "will be a catastrophe" in Clements' opinion, and will work against Carter and for his projected Republican opponent, Ronald Reagan, at the polls in November.

Goldberg said Clements "has been using every amount of force available to his high office" to support speaker candidate Rep. Gib Lewis of Fort Worth.

Clements retorted Goldberg was "babbling utter nonsense," but a lobbyist told reporters Clements had boosted Lewis at a lunch for legislators.

New Speaker Candidate

A new candidate for the 1981 House Speaker race emerged last week: Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, who claims he can become the first black ever elected to that chair if Bill Clayton steps down because of Brilab woes.

According to Washington, if the speaker election were held today, front-runners Lewis and Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, would only receive about 50 votes each (short of the necessary 76 votes majority) . . . and Washington would win on the second

Washington said he entered the race because of the lack of a moderate candidate, but other theories are floating about the Capitol halls. One guess is that Washington is holding the black legislative bloc until it can throw the race decisively to Lewis or Bryant (receiving a few committee chairmanships in return). A second scenario paints Washington as a spoiler, stalling both Bryant and Lewis candidacies until Clayton can clear himself of Brilab and solidify his chair.

Clayton Unruffled

If Clayton is indicted this month on allegations he accepted a bribe, his political hopes depend on whether he can obtain an early trial and quickly run the course to a "not guilty" verdict before fall. The magnit de of the trial itself may prevent its early end, and Clayton has said he will step down before the general election if he isn't cleared by then.

Thus, the speaker's race gets hotter every week, but

HE WORKS MIRACLES: LET'S KILL HIM!

Then the chief priests and Pharisees convened a council to discuss the situation. "What are we going to do?" they asked each other, "for this man certainly does miracles. If we let him alone the whole nation will follow him -and then the Roman army will come and kill us and take over the Jewish government." And one of them, Caiaphas, who was High Priest that year, said, "You stupid idiots --

Let this one man die for the people -- why should the whole nation perish?"

This prophecy that Jesus should die for the entire nation came from Caiaphas in his position as High Priest -- he didn't think of it by himself, but was inspired to say it. It was a prediction that Jesus' death would not be for Israel only, but for all the children of God scattered around the world.

'So from that time on the Jewish leaders began plotting Jesus' death.

Jesus now stopped His public ministry and left Jerusalem; he went to the edge of the desert, to the village of Ephraim, and stayed there with His disciples.

The Passover, a Jewish holy day, was near, and many country people arrived in Jerusalem several days early so that they could go through the cleansing ceremony before the Passover began.

They wanted to see Jesus, and as they gossiped in the Temple, they asked each other, "What do you think? Will He come for the Passover?"

Meanwhile the chief priests and Pharisees had publicly announced that anyone seeing Jesus must report Him immediately so that they could arrest Him. John 11:47-57

Merger of Hospitals Shows Unique Alliance

N.M. 88201].

GROVE CITY, Pa. (AP) -Grove City was a little town with two little hospitals, neither of which could fill its Solution: merge the two. Simple enough, except that one was run by medical doctors, the other by osteopaths, whose schools of medicine have rivaled each other for the past century.

But the merger went through, and the new United Community Hospital symbolizes a rather remarkable alliance between two old

"Years ago, there was a lot of strong feeling," recalls long-time Grove City resident Alvin Schell, who is also board chairman of United Community. "You were a Republican or you were a Democrat. You went to an osteopath or you went to a medical doctor." United Community is the result of the 1978 joining of Grove City Hospital, which practiced traditional (allopathic) medicine, and Bashline Memorial Hospital, an osteopathic institution.

"We put aside a lot of our biases," said Dr. Ray Saloom, an osteopath and chief of staff of the new hospital in this Mercer County community about 60 miles north of Pittsburgh.

Osteopaths, to their chagrin, often are confused with chiropractors, who do not have medical degrees.

Since the merger, United Community has operated in the buildings of the two old hospitals, less than one mile apart. By the end of 1981, a new $17.5 million complex approved by the regional health planning agency is expected to be ready, and the old buildings will be sold.

Construction - slated to begin this fall - depends on the sale of $14 million in bonds. In addition, $900,000 was raised privately.

"It was a landmark achievement...the fact that together the two groups would spend millions of dollars building a new hospital," said Tom Travers of the state Health department, who reviewed the building plans.

The new hospital will have 128 beds, 50 fewer than the The figure was based on regional health surveys. The work force will be trimmed through attrition, said Administrator G.B. Serrill.

Separately, Bashline and Grove City operated at barely 54 percent capacity. Services were duplicated. Neither could get government approval for capital improvements needed to meet state and professional safety and health codes. And since the population of the four counties they served had stabilized, no relief was in sight.

Michelle Peres, 36, studied 15 cohabiting couples for her Ph.D. dissertation, and the University said her work might be the first sociological study of cohabitation involving people other than undergraduates.

Ms. Peres' subjects were ages 28 to 40, had college degrees and were either in professional jobs or graduate school.

"While only a little more than half of the respondents planned to marry the partner, the great majority of them (26 of 30 persons) definitely wished to spend the rest of their lives with the partner," she said.

Ms. Peres said 23 of the 30 said they would not move to. another city without the partner and would follow a partner who relocated.

But then there's that "element of tenuousness," she said, reflected in separate checking and savings accounts and lack of common ownership of property.

Most, she said, "drifted into" living together without discussing it first. Many said they were spending more and more time together until they realized "in effect, they lived already in one domicile while paying rent in two."

Couples talked about equality, she said, but men and women disagreed about who did household chores.

"Women tended to assign much more importance to this area. Sometimes a fight would come out of it, and the man wouldn't even know where it came from," she said.

Ms. Peres said participants saw their relationships as an alternative to marriage, as a notlegally-binding quasimarriage of as a "trial marriage" before entering a traditional marriage.

Johnny Rutherford. pocketing his share of the largest purse in auto racing history, turned to the president of the Indianapolis' Motor Speedway and quipped, "It's been a pleasure doing business with you.'

The glib Texan, the newest member of a select group of three-time winners of the Indianapolis 500, earned $318,020 for Sunday's 31/4hour drive through heavy traffic. The total purse of more than $1.5 million was divvied up among the 33 drivers at the annual victory banquet Monday night.

"It's hard to believe." Rutherford told more than 1,000 people at the Indianapolis Convention Center. "Three times...It's fantastic."

Ten of the drivers did not attend the Victory Banquet. including former winners A.J. Foyt, Mario Andretti, Al and Bobby Unser and Gordon Johncock. Another driver. sixth-place finisher Pancho Carter, walked off the dais after the master of ceremonies made a cutting remark about his unsuccessful, protest of a penalty.

Otherwise, the banquet was a harmonious affair, in contrast with the tense scene a year earlier amid the bitter feud between the U.S. Auto Club and the dissident Championship Auto Racing

The reconciliation, and the record purse, resulted in large part from the steady hand of new Speedway President John Cooper, who noted that money indeed had been a part of the unrest.

"We're making some rapid strides in that area," Cooper said. "This is the first $1.5 million purse in racing history. Last year was only $1.2 million, and both first and last place will receive record amounts."

The first prize has jumped $100,000 in five years. The payoff for 33rd, more than $25,000, has nearly doubled in that span.

Rutherford's total included $23,600 in lap prizes for leading Sunday's race. He also received the Pontiac TransAm pace car and the winner's ring. The former record payoff was $290,364 to Al Unser in 1978.

Tom Sneva, finishing second for the third time in the past four years, earned $128,945, and third-place Gary Bettenhausen, the. slowest qualifier for the race. took home $86,945.

Carter said he' thought a signal from the pace car to slow down was a gesture for him to go ahead. The protest was turned down because "no really new facts were. presented beyond those considered at the time the penalty was assessed," said chief steward Tom Binford.

Watson for Win By GEORGE STRODE AP Sports Writer

Graham Strokes

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) -David Graham was always deriding his own golfing prowess until victories in last year's American PGA National and the Memorial tournament last weekend.

"I always thought of myself as that guy from Australia who had no talent. who taught himself how to play. I was not out of a college with a lot of talent and a beautiful swing." he Graham needed three playoff holes to nip Ben Crenshaw for the PGA title last year at Oakland Hills. His Memorial triumph came in regulation Sunday, a 1shot victory-over Tom Watson.

"The PGA changed me as a person. It gave me confidence. Maybe I'm not as bad a player as I think I am," he said. "I'm much more relaxed. That ability to stay relaxed is what it is all about."

Even in the face of a headto-head duel with Watson. the 34-year-old was ice cool. He rolled in a 20-foot putt for an eagle-3 at 15 and then sank a 30-footer for his clinching birdie.

Graham's 8-under-par 280 total was worth $54,000. Watson's 281 produced a $32,400 payday, pushing him into the sport's $2 million career club with Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino.

Maybe. Graham's biggest improvement has come in his bunker play. Five times in the Memorial's final round he blasted one or two feet from the hole to save pars.

"I used to be the world's worst bunker player." he said. "Bruce Devlin and I are very close friends. He's one of the best sand players.

What he has taught me in three-four years has been invaluable.

"I now feel I'm one of the better bunker players on the (American) tour. Graham's new looseness shows in his media relations.

He invited them all to join him in eating a birthday cake on his 34th birthday Friday. In the manner of the late Tony Lema, Graham promised reporters champagne if he won. He delivered, ordering and pouring four bottles of the bubbly after his final round. "Just put it on my bill. I can sign here. I'm a member," he ordered a Muirfield Village official.

Graham is bypassing the Kemper Open at Bethesda, Md., starting Thursday. He's spending time with his family in Delray Beach, Fla., taping a commercial in Boston and participating in PGA Golf Day.

He may play in the Atlanta Classic next week. "I'm in a position to be more selective. But I owe the sponsors my appearance as long as I'm the PGA champion. Golf has been good to me," he said.

The winner of 15 tournaments on five continents is beginning to make it big on the American tour. Five of those victories have come in the United States. He has $106,000 in 1980 earnings, cashing in 12 of his 13 starts with four Top Ten finishes.

Cards End Losing Streak, Take Victory Over New York

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals finally won a baseball game, by George.

Thanks to slugging George Hendrick, the longest losing streak in the National League this season came to an end Monday when the Cardinals stopped their 10-game spin with an 8-5 victory over the New York Mets.

"He's some kind of hitter." marveled Cardinal third baseman Ken Reitz of Hendrick, who smashed two homers and drove in three runs. "That first home run he hit was about as long and hard as any you'll see.'

Hendrick's first homer of the day, his seventh of the season, tied the game at 3-3 in the fourth inning. His second homer, a two-run shot, keyed a three-run sixth and gave the Cardinals a 6-3

In other NL action, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-6: the Montreal Expos blanked the Chicago Cubs 4-0; the Atlanta Braves nipped the San Francisco Giants 2-1; the Houston Astros beat the San Diego Padres 4-1 and the Los Angeles Dodgers stopped the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 in the opener of their Memorial Day doubleheader before losing the second game, 5-4.

The Cardinals' production was their biggest in 15 games. Both of Hendrick's homers came off Pete Falcone, 3-3, who departed during the Cards' tiebreaking three-run sixth.

Bob Forsch, 3-3, went the route for the Cardinals despite yielding 13 hits.

Had the Cardinals lost, it would have tied their longest losing streak since 1929.

Phillies 7, Pirates 6 Larry Bowa's RBI single capped a two-run rally in the ninth off Pittsburgh relief ace Kent Tekulve, giving Philadelphia a comeback victory over the Pirates.

Mike Schmidt opened the rally with a double and took third on Greg Luzinski's single. Bob Boone then doubled home Schmidt with the tying run as pinch-runner Lonnie Smith took third. Garry Maddox was intentionally walked by Tekulve, 5 5-3, before Bowa followed with his gamewinning hit. Winner Ron Reed, 3-0, pitched a scoreless ninth.

The victory boosted the Phillies over the Pirates into Benedict was thrown out at home on Joe Nolan's grounder, and pinch-runner Chico Ruiz and Nolan moved into scoring position on Jerry Royster's grounder to second, setting up Blanks' game-winning hit.

"Very few kids get full rides at any school," said Brown. "But to get the really great players, you've got to give them one. We had three kids come to play golf here this year that got no help at

The NCAA tournament has been held on the Scarlet course six previous times and Ohio State won only once, in 1945. The Buckeyes' 1979 crown came at Bermuda Run Country Club in Winston-Salem, N.C.

"Our kids know where not to hit the ball (at Scarlet). We need to use that to our advantage. When these kids come from down south, they won't believe that much grass on one course. The fist thing they'll have to do is find their ball in the rough and then hit it." said Brown.

"Ten or 12 teams can win the title. If one or two of your players don't play well, you will be out of it though," said the man who has coached Ohio State for seven years.

Oklahoma State, champion twice and runner up twice in the last four years, will challenge the Buckeyes. So will Wake Forest and Brigham Young, third and fourth behind Ohio State and Oklahoma State in 1979.

Gary Hallberg of Wake Forest will be seeking his second straight individual crown. He shot a 1-under-par 287 to beat Brigham Young's Bobby Clampett by 3 shots.

Avoid baking soda

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm a 36-year-old male. I'm 6 feet tall and weigh 180 pounds. I have trouble with gas. I take ordinary baking soda for it and it gives me relief. My question is, does ordinary baking soda taken on a daily basis cause any harm?

DEAR READER - Yes, it can if you take too much too often. That's why baking soda treatments for acid conditions have been largely replaced with modern antacids. Baking soda is completely absorbed into the bloodstream. This can upset your body chemistry. It can also cause you to absorb a lot more calcium into your system, some of which may settle in your kidneys and other soft tissue. This is particularly true if a person has a high calcium diet (usually from milk) and uses large amounts of baking soda at the same time.

I'm very skeptical about baking soda eliminating gas problems for you anyway. In fact, it may cause gas by the release of carbon dioxide in the stomach when it reacts with stomach acid.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I read your column in our paper about the importance of calcium in a person's diet. This struck a note with me because I can't use any milk. Let me explain. I'm 48 years old and for most of my life I've been plagued with sinusitis, colds and upper respiratory infections. I even started developing polyps in my nose and I have trouble breathing through the nose because of this. I even had polyps removed surgically.

All of my symptoms disappeared, I began to breathe normally and I feel like a new person. But, of course, I'm a little concerned about the fact that I'm not getting any calcium. Since I can't consume any dairy products, what would you advise me to use?

DEAR READER - At the age of 48, you certainly should e concerned about having an adequate calcium intake. The next time you go to your gro-cery store, go to the baby-food section and look at the canned milk products. There are some products that are made only with soybeans and contain no milk at all. An example is ProSobee.

If for any reason you can't use the soybean milk products, then you should ask your doctor to give you a prescription for calcium tablets.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My inquiry is about cancer and how many symptoms of cancer there are. I understand

DEAR READER - There are innumerable symptoms of cancer since you can have a cancer anywhere in the body involving almost any tissue. suspect you're talking about the seven danger signals of cancer that are provided by the American Cancer Society. These are: 1) Change in bowel habit, either unexplained loose stools or constipation; 2) A sore that does not heal; 3) Unusual bleeding or discharge (that includes bleeding from the uterus, bowels or coughing up blood); 4) Thickening or lump in the breast or elsewhere; 5) Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; 6) Obvious change in a wart or mole; 7) Nagging cough or

Now, you can have any one of these and not have a cancer, but they're warning signs that deserve an immediate checkup. I would add to the list weight loss and anem-vent cancer. I'm very impressed with what could be done to prevent a large number of cancers in our society. In many instances if prevention was used we wouldn't need to worry about cure. This particularly applies to cancer of the lungs associated with cigarette smoking. The early detection that has led to early cure of many cancers has also been dramatic Deaths from cancer of the uterus have decreased to onethird of what they used to be That's primarily because of public education and early detection. There has also been a similar decrease in deaths from cancer of the breast. We're hoping that there will be decreases in the incidence of cancer of the colon and rectum in both men and women and cancer of the prostate in Public education, appropriate regular examinations for early detection and proper treatment will improve the cure rate in cancer even more. You might be interested to know that today one out of three cancer victims will live five years or more. So there's a lot of good life left for a lot of people after they first hear that they have cancer. In many instances, if detection is early enough a complete cure may be effect-

NOTICE PUBLIC MEETING

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE HEREFORD INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT WILL HOLD A PUBLIC MEETING AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM ON THURSDAY MAY 29th, AT 8 P.M. THE PURPOSE OF THIS MEETING IS TO SECURE INPUT FROM CITIZENS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF A LONG RANGE PLAN TO DEAL WITH PROBLEMS FACING THE DISTRICT.

THE PROBLEMS FACING THE DISTRICT

1. DECLINE IN STUDENT ENROLLMENT

This is resulting in loss of state revenue. This year's losses are approximately 191,000. With an additional 150,000 projected to be lost for next year. No reversal of this trend is anticipated.

2. SHIFT IN POPULATION

Changes in residential patterns have resulted in over crowding at West Central and Shirley Elementaries at the same time student population at Tierra Blanca and Aikman have decreased.

3. INFLATION

Costs of education are rapidly increasing. The cost of utilities are expected to increase over '50,000 during the next school year. Salary increases are in order for the district's employees.

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS

1. SHIFTING ATTENDANCE ZONES

Attendance zones could be changed to create two elementary schools with 2 sections of each grade and four schools with 3 sections of each grade. This only solves the problem as it exists today and would have to be done annually.

2. RESTRUCTURING GRADE LEVELS (PAIRING)

This plan calls for grades K-3 to be offered on three campuses and grades 4-6 to be offered on three others.

3. CLOSING A SCHOOL

4. RAISE IN TAXES

Some raise in taxes will be necessary through the years simply to keep up with rising costs. If no changes are made all of the increased expenses will have to be paid for by local taxpayers.

AT 6:30 P.M. or 10:30 P.M. To hear these issues discussed by board members and media personnel

The Board of Education is committed to a quality education for its students. Its decisions are based on this committment.

We urge you to come to this meeting with real solutions to the problems as well as criticism of the above plans. This is a community problem and needs to be solved by the community. Your input is earnestly solicited.
