Carter Brands Tax Bill as 'Unacceptable'

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Senate-passed tax bill is heading for a conference committee where negotiators will be working against the calendar and the threat of a veto to put together a compromise tax cut just in time for election day.

The Senate measure, which would reduce taxes by $29.3 billion in 1979, includes cuts for most individuals, a heavy reduction in capital gains taxes on investors and new tax relief for businesses.

The bill was passed on an 86-4 vote

Tuesday night, a few hours after President Carter described it as unacceptably large.

He told a news conference that if the conference committee will take the best parts from the Senate bill and the best from the $16.3 billion version passed by the House, "We can have an acceptable tax bill which I will sign."

New figures by congressional aides estimate the Senate bill would result in a $285 tax cut in 1979 for a typical four-member family earning $17,500, compared with $145 in the House bill. At $20,000, the Senate tax cut would be $316 and the House cut $146.

For a married couple with no children and earning $20,000, the Senate bill would mean a tax cut of $239 while the House cut would be $81. A single person at $20,000 would get $147 under the Senate bill and $105 in the House version.

The $29.3 billion price tag on the bill compares with the $16.3 billion passed by the House and the $20 billion level proposed most recently by the Carter administration.

Sen. Russell B. Long, floor manager of the bill, told reporters that Senate-House conferees will begin work on the tax legislation Thursday and likely will be unable to finish before sometime Saturday - when Congress hopes to adjourn for the year and hit the campaign trail.

After the compromise clears the conference, it still is subject to a final vote in the House and Senate.

Despite their differences, the Senate and House bills agree on at least four major priorities. Both would:

-Replace the current $35-per-person individuals tax credit as well as the optional credit of up to $180 and the $750 exemption with a $1,000-per-person exemption.

-Increase the standard deduction, which is used by taxpayers who do not itemize. This would go up to $2,300 for single persons and $3,400 for couples filing a joint return.

-Repeal the existing deduction allowed for state and local gasoline taxes. This will mean slightly higher taxes for most of the 30 percent of taxpayers who itemize deductions.

-Provide for a big cut in the tax on capital gains, which are profits from the sale of property owned for a year or longer, in an effort to spur investment.

The Senate bill would go considerably beyond the House version in cutting individual taxes, mainly through adjustment in the tax rates. The Senate voted about $19 billion in individual reductions; the House, $10.4 billion.

Trouble's Cheap, Claim Police After Incident

For 65 cents, Loretta Levario bought herself a lot of trouble. Hereford police allege.

Police received a call around 7 p.m. Tuesday about a shoplifter at Safeway Supermarket.

Ms. Levario, age 19, allegedly had tried to steal an apple and pomegranate--65 cents worth of fruit from the supermarket.

Sgt. Vernon Hope and Officer Ted Langgood told Ms. Levario she was under arrest.

Ms. Levario reportedly told Hope and Langgood, "I'm not going to jail, you (expletives deleted)."

She then kicked the two officers "several times", according to a police report, and slugged Langgood in the jaw.

Ms. Levario was charged with assault on a police officer, a felony.

Aerial Spraying For Mosquitoes Planned Tonight

Aerial spraying for mosquitoes is planned for tonight, according to City Manager Dudley Bayne, who says he is baffled over the latest outbreak of the pesky insects.

"If the wind doesn't blow tonight, we'll spray," Bayne said.

Mosquito Control of the Southwest, a Plainview spraying company, has been contracted by the city for aerial application. City trucks have sprayed this week, but Bayne said he isn't sure how effective they have been.

"I've heard some people say they didn't do any good, and some say they did.

"I don't know where these mosquitoes have come from. It's unusual this time of year. I haven't had any at my house, but it's one of the few places that hasn't."

Bullock Denies Cover-Up

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - "Mr. Superstar, you're going to crawl one of these days," a Dallas woman once screamed at Comptroller Bob Bullock after he had closed her restaurant for not paying taxes.

Bullock's not crawling, but he's hurting.

His "media boys" have turned against him, and he says, "I'm sitting here trying to wiggle a dagger out of my back and figure out 'Who's Brutus?...' I thought I deserved better than that."

It was disclosed in published reports Tuesday that two former aides had told Bullock Oct. 2 he should fire deputy comptroller Ralph Wayne and then resign himself.

Bill Collier, former director of tax information, and his assistant, George Kuempel, said in a joint letter of resignation that they informed Bullock and Wayne numerous times of unspecified "actions that could be considered wrong legally or morally."

They said Bullock should resign to avoid "the inevitable scandals that will one day envelop the comptroller's office and everyone who works here."

Jim McNabb, also from the tax information division, quit on Saturday. He accused another employee of covering up information on flight logs requested by two reporters in the aftermath of the Collier-Kuempel resignation.

"They gave them the reporters more than they asked for," Bullock said. "The suggestion of a cover-up is ridiculous."

Collier and Kuempel had quit the Houston Chronicle to work for Bullock, and McNabb had left radio broadcasting. All got much higher salaries on their state jobs, with Collier making $32,500, Kuempel $30,000 and McNabb $24,000.

Collier-Kuempel said Bullock's recent actions "show that your arrogance toward the law and disrespect for the public trust placed in you is worse than ever."

Bullock said Collier's wife also had worked for him until she got pregnant, and he added, "Mister, you talk about a puzzled fellow, you're talking to him."

He said he had never received any spoken or written complaints from Kuempel or McNabb, but that Collier had voiced several complaints.

One was that Bullock concentrated too much office time criticizing Attorney General John Hill during Hill's successful Democratic primary race against Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Bullock says being governor "is a lifelong dream." Hill's election could bump Bullock out of real contention for (See BULLOCK, Page 2)

U.S. Congress George Bush, says George Bush, who adds that his opponent, a Democrat, would probably be inclined to go along with the leadership.

"And the leadership hasn't done a good job," Bush said Tuesday following a campaign speech at the Hereford Rotary Club.

"There is pressure by the leadership to go along with the leadership. That has been evident in the past. And, if you go along with the leadership today, you're talking about inflationary spending, deficits, a weaker national defense and more regulations in areas such as farming and energy," Bush said.

"A man has to go up there and either say to the leadership of the House, the liberal Democratic caucus, that your point of view is all right or your philosophy's not worth a darn.

Russians, U.S. Meet Over Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) - A delegation of Russians is meeting with U.S. officials to talk about the grain supply and requirements of both countries in the year ahead.

The meeting, scheduled for today, is one of two each year that are routinely held as part of an agreement requiring the Soviet Union to buy a minimum amount of wheat and corn annually from the United States. This year's earlier conference was in Moscow.

According to the latest estimate by the Agriculture Department, the Soviet Union's total grain production this year will be about 220 million metric tons, the third largest harvest in its history.

Also today, the department will issue an updated estimate of U.S. production of corn and some other key crops. A month ago, it forecast the 1978 corn harvest now under way at a record 6.8 billion bushels.

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said Tuesday that he hopes to announce next week how much cropland farmers will have to set aside next year to qualify for federal price supports on corn and other feed grain.

HEW Letter Says HISD Program OK

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Hereford Independent School District board members Tuesday night were given copies of a letter which stated that the district's bi-lingual education system had met the approval of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The regional office of HEW in Dallas contacted Superintendent Dr. Harrell Holder nearly two weeks ago concerning the department's approval and forthcoming letter.

The letter stated: "From our assessment of the documents you have submitted and the information provided to Mr. Littlejohn (John Littlejohn of the HEW staff) at the time of the visit (last year), we have determined that the district has corrected the violations of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964."

HEW, which visited school campuses in Hereford last year, had stated that HISD was deficient in its language-response program in that it provided no programs for students with limited English-speaking ability in grades 4-12.

The district submitted a plan to HEW earlier this year for approval.

In other business during the unusually-brief meeting Tuesday, trustees hired Glenn Williams to head the alternative-school program for expelled students, decided to take bids on three vehicles, considered state policy changes, tabled a decision on purchasing health insurance for HISD employees and heard routine reports.

The enrollment report studied by the board showed 5,597 total students in the district on Tuesday, as compared to 5,599 last year and 5,594 on Sept. 12, 1978.

Elementary school enrollment Tuesday was 2,533, junior high enrollment 1,394 and high school enrollment 1,145.

Assistant superintendent Larry Wartes, in giving the cafeteria report, said participation was up, "a good sign for us," as compared to last year.

Tax assessor-collector Fred Fox said that current collections in September totaled $178,374, "about twice what we got last year." Fox said that delinquent taxes collected totaled $14,629 in September.

Vocational director John Quinby, who began working in the school district this year, reported on the adult education program, which he said was divided into the following areas: adult basic education, adult vocational education, college credit courses and avocational courses.

Williams began working today in the alternative-school program for expelled students. The program will allow those students to make up work they normally would have missed out of school.

Norma Arroyos and Linda Gonzales were employed as aides in the school district.

Holder recommended that the board table action on school health insurance until after an insurance committee comprised of nine district employees meets today.

The committee will recommend either Blue Cross-Blue Shield or Boon-Chapman for health insurance.

The district presently has insurance under a Boon-Chapman plan, but increased premiums have prompted the district to reconsider its insurance policy.

The board voted to take bids on a Buick LeSabre, a Ford station wagon and a Plymouth van.

Board members will study new state policies until their next month's meeting before implementing the policies in the district.

In closed session Tuesday, the board discussed a personnel matter - no action was taken.

A United Way Agency Council on Alcoholism Stresses Prevention

Don't confuse the Council on Alcoholism with organizations such as Alcoholics Anonymous, says Jewel Smith, a director on the council, who says both organizations are crucial in the prevention and treatment of alcohol addiction.

"Our purpose is strictly education and referral," Mrs. Smith said of the Council on Alcoholism, a United Way agency. "We refer those with a drinking problem to Alcoholics Anonymous. Or if it's a wife whose husband has a problem we refer her to Al-Anon."

"We often refer people to Jim Sanders, the local counselor located at Family Services Center. Or, if they need to be committed to the hospital for treatment, we refer them."

The Council on Alcoholism also is designed to prevent persons from becoming alcoholics.

"We provide material and hold meetings for educational purposes. If school kids want to write about alcoholism, we supply materials. If people want speakers, we secure speakers. We arrange programs," Mrs. Smith said.

"The women's division (Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce) wanted a film on the woman alcoholic for tomorrow (today), so tomorrow (today) there'll be a film on the woman alcoholic."

"We have some excellent films."

Mrs. Smith, who is Deaf Smith County Welfare Department administrator, said United Way is crucial to the operation of the Council on Alcoholism. The council has asked for $2,500 from United Way.

"I hope people will support us through the United Way," Mrs. Smith said.

"I don't know of any organization other than United Way that helps as many people with as many services. I support the United Way."

Candidates Stress Voting

By The Associated Press

Republicans and Democrats in Texas are in agreement on at least one issue this week - both have mounted serious "get-out-the-vote" campaigns.

State Democratic Chairman Billy Goldberg has urged the state executive committee to turn its efforts toward getting out the vote, and State GOP chairman Ernesto Angelo has announced a vote-getting reception in Midland next Tuesday, headlined by former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Goldberg predicted Tuesday that about half of the state's eligible voters will turn out at the polls Nov. 7 to elect a governor, U.S. Senator, attorney general and dozens of local candidates.

He said Democrats are concentrating their voter-registration drive in precincts that have voted at least 70 percent (See CANDIDATES, Page 2)

Kennedy, Official

Argue over Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and an American Medical Association official had an angry exchange during a hearing on the senator's national health insurance proposal which the AMA says could lead to rationing of health care.

Testifying before Kennedy's Senate health subcommittee on Tuesday, Dr. William C. Felch, chairman of the AMA's Council for Legislation, objected to various sections of Kennedy's health insurance plan.

Felch said some cost control elements of Kennedy's plan would go farther than those proposed by the Carter administration, and impose revenue limits on physician services.

"It is grossly inequitable to single out a segment of our society and economy for discriminatory controls," Felch said.

But when Felch said that the hospital industry's efforts to control its own costs have been "highly successful," Kennedy, D-Mass., interrupted, saying: "That's just not so... You're talking about bankrupting the American people."

Felch also said a strict "budget" imposed by the federal government on the medical system would result in a "rationing of health care" to the people.

"That's a scare tactic," Kennedy shouted back. "We have rationing today."

FBI Agent Testifies

During Davis Trial

HOUSTON (AP) - An FBI agent testified Tuesday he once told the major witness against Fort Worth industrialist Cullen Davis in a kill-for-hire plot, "you talk too much. Let Davis do the talking."

Agent Ron Jennings, during his second day on the stand during pretrial hearings, said the witness, David McCrory, also had in his possession a .22-caliber pistol with a silencer, contrary to federal law. Jennings said the FBI knew that McCrory had the weapon, but took no actions.

McCrory was an employee of Davis who went to authorities and said his boss had paid him $25,000 to kill State District Judge Joe Eidson, the presiding jurist over the long and bitter divorce proceedings of Davis and his estranged wife, Priscilla.

Eidson removed himself from the divorce trial after Davis' arrest and charges in the murder-for-hire case.

Earlier Tuesday, State District Judge Wallace Moore ruled that four tape recordings, allegedly linking the millionaire Davis with a scheme to kill Eidson, can be admitted as evidence in the trial, now scheduled to begin Monday.

Moore overruled a defense motion by his old friend, chief defense attorney, Richard "Racehorse" Haynes, to keep the tapes out of the trial.

Military Spending Vote Forthcoming

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress is preparing to vote on a huge military spending bill but perhaps not in time to prevent payroll problems for more than 2 million service personnel and civilian employees.

With a $117.5 billion price tag, the legislation would be the largest appropriation ever passed by Congress. It will finance practically all defense spending in the fiscal year that began Oct. 1.

Senate and House conferees wrapped up their work on the bill Tuesday after four days of negotiations. The conference report, which includes one still-unresolved issue, must be approved by the full House and Senate.

The House, which is expected to act first on the conference report does not plan to vote before Thursday at the earliest. Then it would go to the Senate and, finally, to the White House for signature.

The conference report leaves unresolved whether to consolidate Army and Navy helicopter pilot training at Fort Rucker, Ala. The House originally approved the consolidation but the Senate rejected it. The issue will be voted on again separately by both houses. In theory, failure of one house or the other to yield on that point could jeopardize the compromises reached by the conference committee.

Explosions Jolt Lebanese Cease-Fire

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Bursts of gunfire and explosions jolted the Syrian-Christian cease-fire in Beirut before dawn today as Syrian troops and their adversaries in Lebanon's Christian militaries were reported bring up reinforcements.

On the political front, President Elias Sarkis won agreement from Arab countries policing Lebanon's civil war armistice to hold a foreign ministers conference Sunday to try to achieve a comprehensive settlement of the Lebanese crisis.

Beirut police and other eye-witnesses reported an increase of sniper fire on roads leading into the city's Christian enclave, apparently to cover the influx of reinforcements.

The Christians accused the Syrians of initiating the firing during the night. They claimed Syrian sniper fire killed 15 Christians and wounded 25 on the bridges leading into East Beirut from the Christian hinterland to the north.

There was no comment from the Syrians.

Independent observers said both Christians and Syrians were reinforcing their positions with artillery and tanks in the area of the Quarantina and Borj Hammoud Bridges that control access from the Christian sector to the north.

Cooper To Head Realtors

Neil Cooper was elected president of the Hereford Board of Realtors during a regular monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hereford Country Club.

The board's installation banquet is scheduled Nov. 16. Cooper will succeed Mark Andrews as president. Other officers elected for the coming year include Jeanne Coker, vice president; Billie Sonnenberg, secretary-treasurer; and Lloyd Sharp, multiple-listing director.

Named to serve on the board are Sharp, Pat Ferguson, Marn Tyler, Melvin Jayroe—an ex-officio member as divisional chairman of multiple listings on the state level—and Andrews, immediate past president.

Appearing as guest speaker for the board meeting Tuesday was Jim Tucker, who spoke to the group on real estate auctions. He demonstrated his skill by raising several hundred dollars from the Realtors to be used for the board's new library.

Andrews also announced that the Hereford board won first in its division for TREPAC (Texas Real Estate Political Action Committee) participation the past year. The Hereford chapter reached 268 percent of its quota for TREPAC and ranked second in the entire state in this competition.

Recruiter Charges Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) - Pressures to recruit new Marines were so intense in Cleveland that a "phantom soldier" was created to meet enlistment quotas, a former recruiter testified Tuesday.

In Houston, medical reports on potential recruits were falsified, allowing young men with high blood pressure to join the Marines, another recruiter said.

A third recruiter who worked in Columbus and Akron, Ohio, said potential recruits in those cities were told to lie about whether they used marijuana or other drugs.

The three Marine recruiters testified before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating enlistment malpractices.

Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, said a separate inquiry by his office has turned up evidence of additional improper practices by Marine recruiters in Wisconsin, Brownsville, Texas; North Dakota; California; Iowa; Illinois; Connecticut; Indiana; Oregon; Georgia; Missouri; Florida and Minnesota.

Subcommittee chairman Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., said there are also indications of recruitment abuses in the Army.

Donald Robinette, who has since been court-martialed for falsifying recruitment records and has left the Marines, described how his recruiting station reacted to the need to find just one more recruit last spring.

As the Memorial Day holiday approached, he said, there was a risk that all the recruiters in Cleveland would be required to work over the weekend to meet the quota.

Robinette said paperwork was prepared for a fictional recruit named Chris Murray.

He said Reagan will also appear at events promoting Jim Baker, GOP candidate for attorney general; Rep. Joe Robbins, R-Lubbock, candidate for the state senate; and GOP state house hopefuls Dubb Duff of Odessa and Jim Brandon of Amarillo.

STATE CAPITAL
HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—A new Austin-based group headed by former Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr is gearing up for a statewide fight to check taxes and government spending.

Carr announced here hundreds of invitations have been sent to citizens and groups over Texas in an effort to form a far-reaching organization dedicated to fiscal responsibility and economy.

Acknowledging a kinship to California's "Proposition 13" crusade for a property tax rollback, Carr said the "Texas 13 of Travis County" group is interested in all kinds of tax cuts.

"We find the situation is now so out of hand that we cannot turn the tide individually," said Carr. "The job is now so massive that so long as we act individually, we remain ineffective, confused and frustrated. We will organize in order to be heard. We shall not rest until our government returns its spending and taxing to a level of sanity and reasonableness."

Goals of "Texas 13" in the 1979 legislature include:

—A "reasonable but strict ceiling" on state government spending, with no increase for the next two years beyond available revenues from existing tax sources, and return to taxpayers of any surplus funds beyond current revenues.
—No new state taxes for the next two years, and a constitutional requirement that a two-thirds record vote of the entire House and Senate be necessary to pass future tax bills.

—A constitutional amendment giving Texas voters the right to initiate and veto legislation at state and local levels.
—Creation of a blue ribbon commission of citizens to investigate waste and excessive bureaucracy in state government.

—The State Supreme Court upheld dismissal of two Pasadena policemen for planting a gun along the path of a fleeing theft suspect.
The high court turned down another effort of a Houston television reporter to stop a Nazi telephone recording that offered a bounty for non-whites.

The Supreme Court also ordered El Paso's city water company to supply a restaurant nearby in New Mexico, and concluded a Port Arthur family didn't move fast enough to enjoin leaking sewer gas from a municipal sewer system.

Public employees, the Supreme Court held in a Corpus Christi case, are entitled to present grievances through a non-striking organization.

Texas Municipal League and Houston filed suit to reverse a Public Utility Commission decision ordering $31 million in city franchise taxes on telephone services included only on bills of customers within city limits.

AG Opinions
Local school districts are not authorized to pay required employee contributions to the Teacher Retirement System, Attorney General John Hill said.

In another recent opinion, Hill concluded a commissioner court has "reasonable discretion" to permit payment of office expenses for official court reporters.

Hearing Begins
The Public Utility Commission last week began hearing testimony in Houston Lighting and Power Company's $174.9 million rate increase request.

PUC staff members recommended a $40.5 million increase with a 13.8 percent return on equity.

Short Shorts
The Department of Public Safety expressed serious concern about a traffic death toll which has jumped 11 per cent over last year and an increase in violent crimes.

Texas AFL-CIO Executive Board announced unanimous opposition to the tax relief amendment on the November 7 ballot because it would grant tax breaks to corporate farms, ranches and timber interests.

The Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston proposes to administer its own federal grants, including manpower training funds.

Not all homeowners will get relief from the sales tax on utilities this month. It all depends on the billing cycle. If the cycle is September 25-October 25, the tax must be paid through October 25. But if the billing period is October 3-November 3, the tax went off October 3.

Joe Carter, veteran chairman of the Texas Water Commission, died here last week.

A House select committee suggested counties be given an option whether to pick grand juries at random or through the old commission system.

Discussing Charm

April Lawrence from St. John's Modeling School in Amarillo entertained members of the Chamber Women's Division last night during their quarterly membership meeting at the Country Club. Mrs. Lawrence's program, which focused on personal development, launches a series of programs being presented here through Thursday as part of Women's Emphasis Days, being sponsored by the Women's Division. The public is urged to attend those programs, being conducted at the Community Center.

Heavy Agenda Tackled By Women's Division

Mary Herring was introduced to the membership of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division last night as their president for the 1979 fiscal year. The introduction came during the monthly dinner meeting at the Country Club, where approximately 65 members and guests attended.

Mrs. Herring was elected by the Chamber board of directors and will assume office in January. She will be taking the reins currently held by Margaret Formby, who presided during Tuesday evening's business session.

Donna VanderZee, chairman of the Women's Division nominating committee, gave a report from that unit. She stated that the following women had been nominated to serve as board directors beginning Jan. 1: Frances Berry, LaJean Henry, Marcia Snyder and Olivia Denning. These four women will be filling the expired terms of Donna VanderZee and Carrell Ann Simmons and the unexpired terms of Sharon Davis and Janet Welty.

The nominating committee's recommendations were approved by the general membership. In other business, Joan Coupe, chairman of the public affairs committee, reminded the Women's Division of Women's Emphasis Days, which commenced with last night's program. She encouraged local citizens to attend the series of informative programs and demonstrations being offered free to the public at the Community Center today and Thursday. Mrs. Coupe also introduced members of her committee.

A report was heard from the fine arts committee, promoting the Oct. 21st presentation of the musical "Gypsy" and an art show in the new wing of the Community Center. Meredith Wilcox, dramatist, and Jane Gulley, vocalist, will be recreating the life of Gypsy Rose Lee through narratives and song. Members of the Hereford Art Guild will have their works on display prior to the show. Proceeds of tickets sales will be used by the fine arts committee for the purchase of a living Christmas tree to be planted on the lawn of the Courthouse and decorated each December by the Chamber Women. Peaches Reinauer is chairman.

Representing the beautification committee, Leatrice Clark announced that the beauty spots for the month of October are Plains Insurance and the Alford Smith home, 710 Baltimore. Presenting the program for the evening was April Lawrence of St. John's Modeling School in Amarillo. She was introduced to the Women's Division by Billie Fay Ham.

Personal development and a positive attitude formed the crux of Mrs. Lawrence's presentation, entitled "Charm after Forty." Stressing the importance of inner beauty, she said, "Basic things come from within. Americans buy packaging but the product is very important and that is the way with people."

The speaker, who has lived throughout the world, stated, "The only person who holds you up is you. Unless you're satisfied with yourself, make yourself satisfied. To be charming, you must be a whole package."

She emphasized the impact which one's posture has on appearance and health. She advised her audience to "Go well-dressed everywhere, even to the garbage can."

Mrs. Lawrence encouraged the group to devote at least ten minutes of each day to exercise. She also recommended that, in order to develop new interests, one must "really be involved in life." She asserted, "You're never too old for anything."

After her program, Mrs. Lawrence answered questions posed by members of the audience. During a brief intermission Tuesday night, the following announcements were made:

- * A reception will honor Mike Carr, the new executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, and his wife from 3:30 - 5:30 p.m. Oct. 26 at the Chamber office. The welcome committee, headed by Virginia Adams, will be in charge.
- * A tree lighting ceremony is planned Nov. 27 on the grounds of the Courthouse with the Chamber Singers and other choirs providing entertainment.
- * The Women's Division installation banquet is slated Jan. 9.
- * Jerry Clower has been secured as the keynote speaker for the Chamber of Commerce banquet Jan. 11.
- * Helen Kirkeby, Wilma Taylor and Ruth Swayze were winners of door prizes, donated by Merle Norman Cosmetics, The Face Place and Park Ave. Florist.

Square Dancers Summerfield, Pioneer Clubs Merge for Lunch

Raise $6,719

Fourteen couples from Merry Mixers Square Dance Club attended the dance Saturday night benefitting the Arthritis Foundation in the Activity Center on the West Texas State University campus. A total of $6,719 was collected in tickets sales for the Arthritis Foundation. The local Merry Mixers chapter came in second in ticket sales.

Local square dancers are reminded that a workshop is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the Community Center with Freddie McKee of Amarillo calling. Also, the club will convene at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 20 for a business meeting, followed by a dance to be called by Sid Perkins of Amarillo.

When a recipe calls for 2 cups flaked fish, you'll need to cook a pound of fish fillets or steaks to yield this amount.

Pioneer Study Club, and Summerfield Study Club, both of which are affiliated with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs (TFWC) merged for a joint federation meeting Tuesday at K-Bob's Steak House. Hostesses were Mmes. L.H. Lookingbill, Ray L. Johnson and Guy Walsler, all of whom share memberships in both clubs.

Mrs. William W. Wimberley, president of Pioneer, delivered the invocation and Summerfield Club's president, Mrs. Johnson, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Harry Youngblood of LeFors, president of TFWC Top of Texas District.

Using the theme, "Patchwork of Service," Mrs. Youngblood compared Federation work to a patchwork quilt. She stated that the framework is the foundation for the quilt and enthusiasm is the framework for the Federation. She likened the lining of a quilt to the Federation's history, dating as far back as 1868. Symbolizing the club presidents and members is a quilt's filler and its pattern is the Federation's seven departments.

Mrs. Youngblood discussed her chosen projects for this year as district president. These study themes and service projects include the "Hands Up" crime prevention program, SHARE (A program for youth), helping the emotionally and physically handicapped, the free enterprise system and Girlstown at Borger.

Accompanying the Federation speaker was Inez Julian.

Music Club Urged To Support WTSU

Mrs. Allen Cansler, chairman of the Friends of Fine Arts at West Texas State University, urged her fellow members of Hereford Music Study Club to support that program Monday afternoon during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Lynton Allred.

Mrs. Cansler invited members to join the Friends organization, marking their donations for the applied music scholarship fund, so that the music grants may continue. Mrs. Cansler also asked that members write Max Sherman, president of WTSU, expressing community support for the Fine Arts Department. She added that it would be "unfortunate" if the Fine Arts Department were combined with the Agriculture Department, as has been proposed.

In other business Monday afternoon, president Mary Thomas announced plans for the District convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs Nov. 4 in Borger. Representing the Hereford club will be Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. W.T. Carmichael.

Mrs. Carmichael presented the club's yearbooks for the 1978-79 season.

Members were invited to attend the harvest concert to be presented Oct. 29 in the high school auditorium by the Chamber Singers. Tickets are now on sale from members of the Chamber choir.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer Jr. was welcomed as a guest.

After adjournment of business, the musical program, "Transition to a New Age," was introduced by Mrs. Wes Fisher. She cited the beliefs of several composers, through the following quotations:

"To write a symphony is, for me, to construct a world" - Mahler.

"I love music passionately and because I love it, I try to free it from barren traditions that stifle it. It's a free art gushing forth, an open air art boundless as the elements. It must never be shut in and become and academic art." - Debussy.

"Any music created by technique and brain alone is not worth the paper it is written on. A composer should feel intensely what he is composing." - Ravel.

Mrs. Tom Burdett led members in singing the monthly hymn, "Mrs. Lyle Holmes accompanied.

Three songs composed by Debussy were performed by club members. "Clair de Lune" was presented as a piano solo by Mrs. Thomas. "Petite Suite" was heard in piano duet by Mrs. Burdett and Mrs. Holmes. Concluding the program was Mrs. Thomas's piano solo of "Reverie."

Other members present were Mmes. S.F. Clements, J.C. McCracken, C.J. Mountz, J.D. Neill, Sid Shaw, J.R. Allison, W.E. Dameron, Ed Line, Harold Close, A.J. Schroeter, Bill Bradley and Mary B. Carter.

IN WASHINGTON Integrity isn't enough

Martha Angle and Robert Walters

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The dirty little secret of the General Accounting Office (GAO) has now been revealed: The work performed by the vaunted "watchdog" of the federal bureaucracy too often is slow, narrowly focused and overly technical.

For more than a half-century, GAO remained immune to criticism while it regularly exposed all manner of waste, inefficiency and incompetence at virtually every other government department and agency.

Until recently, nobody ever seriously examined the quality of the work done by the revered "investigative arm of Congress." Now, however, a congressional committee has completed an unprecedented assessment of GAO's performance.

The report of the House Select Committee on Congressional Operations was released without any fanfare. But that's not surprising since GAO is one of Congress' "children" and politicians are notoriously chary of criticizing members of the "family."

Thus, the report's primary conclusion is that "GAO is a valuable asset to Congress." That's followed by another equally favorable finding:

"A substantial majority of the agency's congressional clients ... have a generally high regard for the quality, professionalism and integrity of its services and products and for the competence of its personnel."

But buried in the committee's 84-page report is considerable material suggesting that there's a great deal of room for improvement at GAO. Some examples:

When representatives, senators and staff members of their committees were asked to evaluate GAO, approximately half of those queried were critical of the lack of timeliness of the agency's reports.

Comments from those surveyed, all reported anonymously, include characterizations of GAO as "rarely quick enough to be effective," "slow and ineffective" and "thorough and reliable but slow."

One legislator is quoted as saying: "GAO is excellent when you inform them of specific and serious fraud. They can be utterly unresponsive and late at other times."

The committee report also alludes to GAO's penchant for "meticulous" investigations of very limited scope, as well as "certain bureaucratic rigidities" and "internal rivalries" within the agency.

The unattributed comments from the House and Senate members are far more explicit. One of those surveyed complains of "auditors" possessing "little policy insight or basic program understanding."

Another refers to GAO researchers who "pull their punches," are "too tradition-bound in their approaches" and "don't offer creative solutions to the problems they find."

Staff members are even more critical, referring to GAO as "timid and political" or "anxious not to displease vested corporate or congressional interests."

One aide chides GAO for its "ultimate unwillingness to 'make waves' and (its) obsession to detail," while another notes that the agency "often resists taking bold stands and initiatives."

Years of examining GAO's work confirm most of those findings. The agency has displayed extraordinary independence and integrity in its work, maintaining uncommonly high standards while operating in a political environment.

But the diversity of opinion represented in Congress produces continuing discomfort for GAO. If the agency praises or criticizes any policy, program, philosophy or institution, there are bound to be legislators who strongly disagree.

Because GAO is part of the legislative branch of the federal government, those legislators are seldom reticent about expressing their feelings. To protect itself, GAO invariably waters down potentially strong conclusions.

The congressional report includes numerous proposals for improvement at GAO, but notably absent is one obvious suggestion: The politicians on Capitol Hill ought to minimize their meddling in the agency's work.

In Opening Game Tuesday... Dodgers Blast Yankees, 11-5

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Davey Lopes, the team captain, showed the way with a pair of home runs and some rousing exuberance around the bases as the Los Angeles Dodgers began their emotional campaign to capture the 1978 World Series title.

Supplying the power from his leadoff position, Lopes keyed a pair of three-run innings with a two-run homer and a three-run blast, leading the National League champs to an 11-5 opening-game victory over the defending world champion New York Yankees Tuesday night.

As he rounded first base in the second inning, Lopes raised his right fist toward the sky. When he passed the bag following homer No. 2 in the fourth inning, he thrust both arms in the air.

"Yeah I was thinking of Jim," said Lopes, the fiery Dodger second baseman, referring to longtime Dodger coach Jim Gilliam, who died Sunday night after three weeks in a coma following a stroke. "He meant so much to me."

"I know Gilliam is up there watching us. The Dodgers don't have to beat just 25 of us. With Gilliam, they have to beat 50 of us."

"I mean that Gilliam's spirit is in each one of us. We're trying to do our damndest to win this thing for him. If you look out there closely, you'll see Jim Gilliam in all of the holes in the field."

Gilliam was to be buried today and Lopes, one of his favorite pupils, was expected to be one of the pallbearers.

Then Lopes and his teammates will try to back the Yankees to the wall when Dodger ace right-hander Burt Hooton hooks up with right-hander Catfish Hunter in Game 2 tonight.

"We'd like to leave here with a split," said Hunter, who will be pitching in his 11th Series game. "Any team is better in its own ballpark. The Dodgers are better here and we're better in our park."

Hooton, who was 1-1 against the Yanks in last year's Series, expressed little outward excitement about his starting assignment.

"I'm sure my heart will be beating a little bit tomorrow," said the dour Hooton, who is sarcastically nicknamed "Happy" by his manager, Tom Lasorda. "A pitcher dreams about being the World Series all his life and I've been in two back to back. A whole bunch of guys haven't played in one."

"All I can say is that he (Lopes) said he was as high as the sky, and now I believe him," said Hunter.

Reggie Jackson, the Yanks' inspirational leader this October and last, supplied three hits, including a record-breaking, 430-foot homer, but it wasn't enough against left-hander Tommy John's baffling sinkerball.

Jackson, who homered on his last three pitches in the Yanks' triumphant Game 6 last year, singled his first time up Tuesday night, then grounded out. In his third at-bat, he creamed John's fastball, giving him six homers in his last four Series games. Yankee immortal Lou Gehrig held the record of five in four games spanning the 1928 and 1932 Fall Classics.

"Lou Gehrig was one of the alltime greats," said Jackson. "I'm just one of the faces in the crowd. Maybe a little more recognizable."

John, who had his Dodger infielders eating around ground balls until he tired late in the game, said Los Angeles' 7-0 lead entering the seventh caused him to change his pitching pattern.

"I can tell you this, Reggie wouldn't have gotten that pitch if the game were close," said John, who was victimized by some shoddy fielding that made three of the five Yankee runs unearned.

Lopes' two homers and a solo shot by Dusty Baker had provided Los Angeles with its early edge.

"With a big lead, you don't have the sharpness or concentration you should have," said John, whose streak of 23 straight scoreless innings was snapped by Jackson's seventh-inning homer. "Your primary concern is not to walk hitters. You just want to make sure they hit the ball."

But John was impressed by the Yanks' rally and was happy to give the ball to ace reliever Terry Forster.

"The Yanks are a very good late-inning ballclub," said John, while soaking his valuable left arm in a pool of ice. "That comeback had the markings of a quality ballclub with a lot of character."

Forster came in the eighth with the Dodger lead shrinking. He gave up one single, then struck out three of the next four Yanks to end the game.

"I just want to beat the Yanks so bad," said Forster, who bears the bruises of Yankee beatings while he pitched for the Chicago White Sox. "I could pitch three innings in every game in the Series."

"I want to beat them more than anything else in my life."

LaPlata Whips Canyon, 13-0

The La Plata 7th graders defeated Canyon Purple here Tuesday 13-0 at La Plata Field.

The young Mavericks scored on a 60-yard touchdown pass from Steve George to Mickey Stengel. The extra point try failed but Hereford led 6-0.

La Plata scored again when Robert Martinez scored from 30 yards out.

George kicked the point after and the scoreboard read 13-0.

The La Plata defense reportedly played well and the offense was much improved said the La Plata coach.

YMCA Grid Games Played

Fourteen teams participated in YMCA boys flag football games on Saturday.

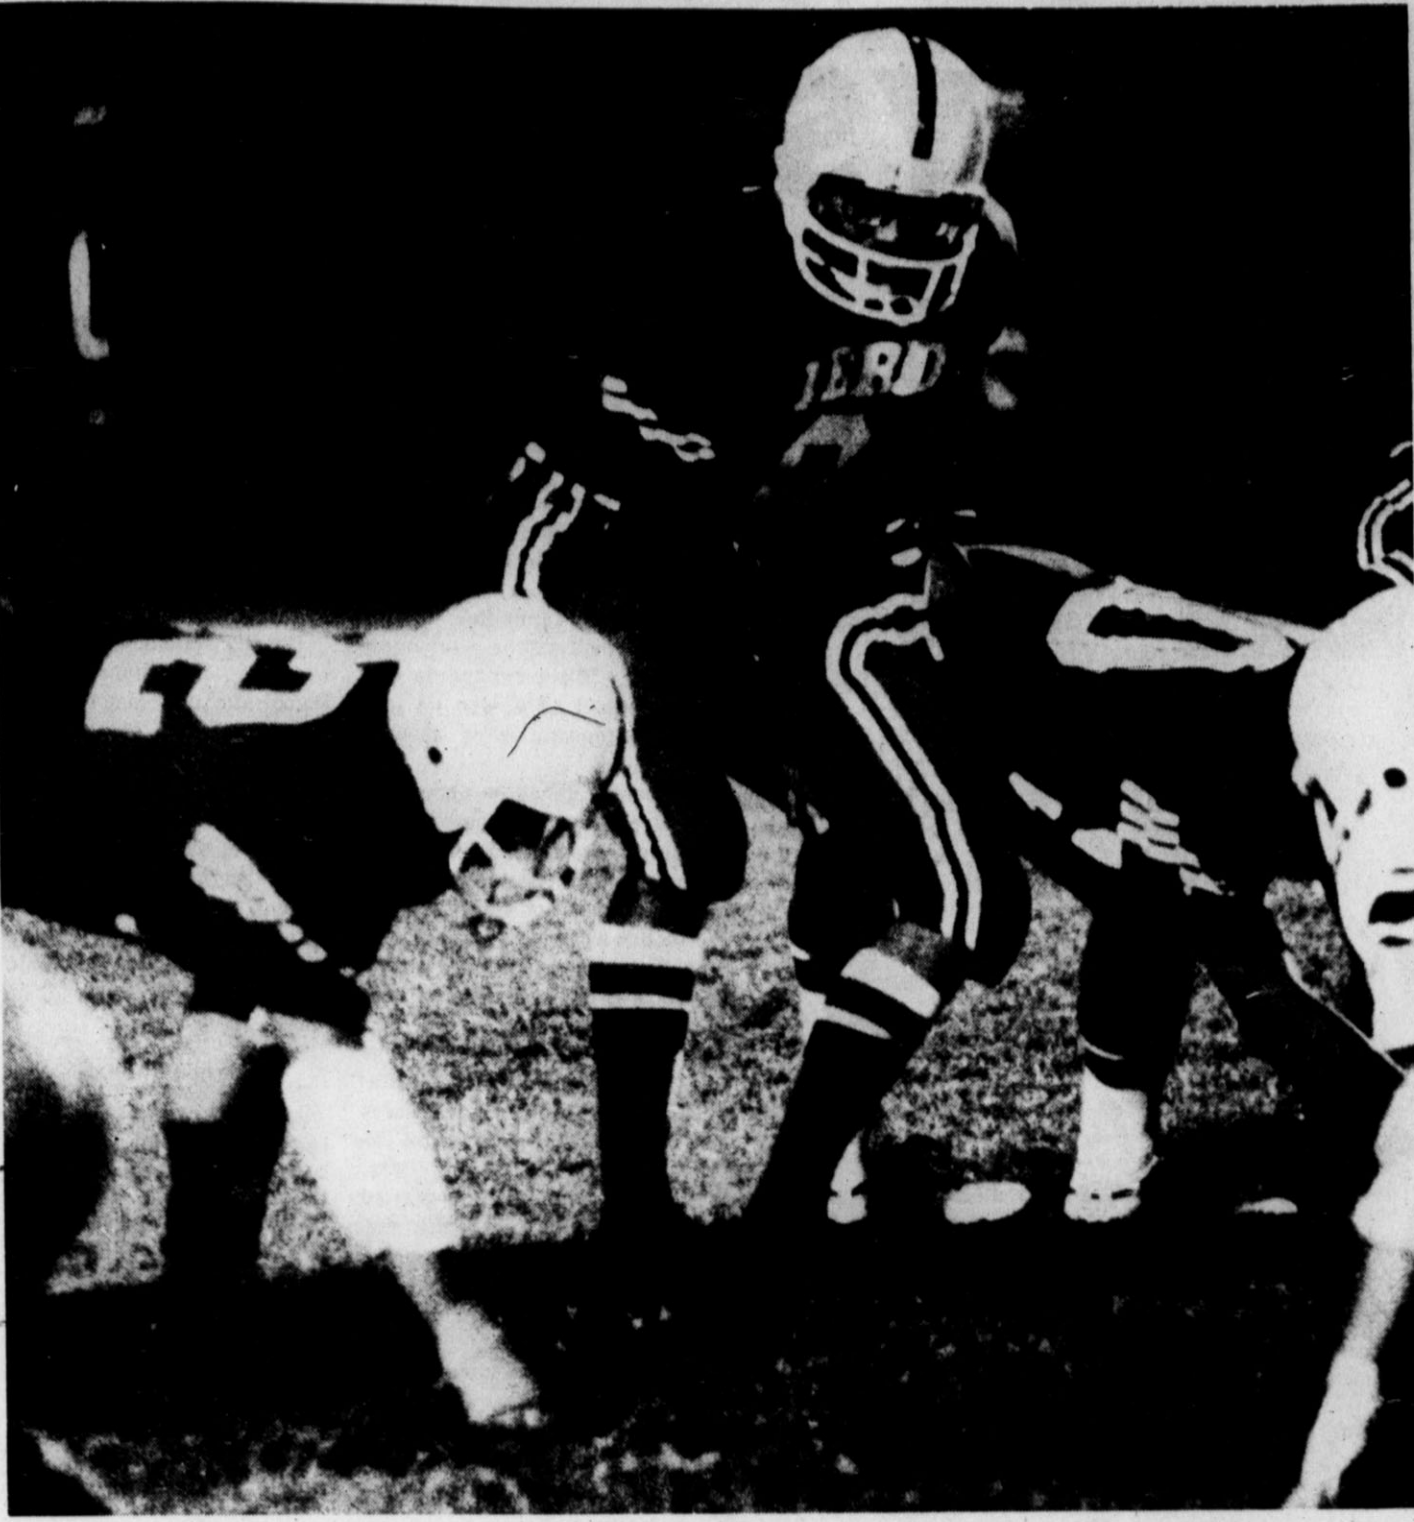

The first game produced a 12-10 victory for the Bears over the Cowboys in 3rd and 4th grade action.

Also in the 3-4 division, the Packers whipped the Saints 29-7, while the Cardinals downed the Lions 27-6 and the Rams beat the Falcons 24-18.

In the 5-6 division, the Colts beat the Oilers 38-0, the Jets outdid the Raiders 20-6 and the Chargers slipped past the Dolphins 16-14.

Portland's Lucas Out With Fractured Bone

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - Maurice Lucas, the man Portland Coach Jack Ramsay wants to replace Bill Walton as leader of the Trail Blazers, will be lost to the National Basketball Association team for at least three weeks.

The Blazers announced Tuesday that Lucas had suffered a fractured bone spur on his right index finger. Team publicist John White said the 6-foot-10 NBA all-star would have a splint placed on the finger for three weeks.

Lucas missed the last five preseason games because of soreness in the fingers of his right hand. The fracture was diagnosed this week by Dr. Samuel F. Gill, a hand specialist in Portland.

The Blazers can place three players on the injured reserve list by 3 p.m. Thursday. Probably Lucas, Walton and Bob Gross - the front line of the Blazers' 1977 championship team - will be placed on the injured list.

Walton is still recovering from a broken foot, and has demanded to be traded, claiming dissatisfaction with the Portland team's medical policies. Gross is recovering from a broken ankle.

Larry Steele probably will be placed on the team's 11-man active roster, although he won't be able to play for a week or two. He is recovering from a broken hand suffered last month.

There have been other injuries - guard Dave Twardzik missed the entire eight-game exhibition season because of a bruised kidney and forward Lloyd Neal is trying to bounce back after the latest in a long series of knee injuries. Starting guard Lionel Hollins was used sparingly in preseason game after undergoing knee surgery during the offseason.

That leaves center Tom

Owens and guard T.R. Dunn as the lone healthy veterans on the club. The other seven are rookies, and at least two of them probably will be waived before the start of the regular season Sunday.

Two of them - first-round picks Mychal Thompson of Minnesota and Ron Brewer of Arkansas - are guaranteed spots on the team.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - George Donald, a sophomore running back at Elmhurst, has been named the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics' offensive player of the week for his performance in a 38-12 victory over Milliki Saturday.

Donald rushed for 158 yards and four touchdowns, threw two halfback option passes and caught two others in the triumph.

Ernie England, a junior nose guard at St. John's in Minnesota, was named defensive player of the week for his role in a 35-15 upset of previously unbeaten Gustavus Adolphus.

England had three quarterback sacks, seven solo tackles and five assisted tackles in the game Saturday.

PISCATAWAY, N.J. (AP) - Seldom-used second-year forward Rich Laurel has been placed on waivers, the New Jersey Nets have announced.

Laurel, released Tuesday, was signed by the Nets as a free agent after playing with three National Basketball Association clubs in his rookie year. Laurel, 6-foot-6½, was a 1977 first-round draft choice from Hofstra University by the Portland Trail Blazers. He later played with Atlanta and Milwaukee. Laurel was used sparingly in two exhibition games by New Jersey, scoring eight points in 30 minutes of action.

ATLANTA (AP) - The Atlanta Flames have cut defenseman Miles Zaharko and goalie Rejean Lemelin, reducing their National Hockey League roster to 22 players, three over the regular season limit.

The club said Monday that Zaharko was assigned to Tulsa of the Central Hockey League and Lemelin to the Philadelphia Firebirds of the American Hockey League.

The Flames must meet the 19-man limit before Wednesday night's season opener at Chicago.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) - Coach Bear Bryant says three of his Alabama standouts were injured in last week's game with Washington, but he has hopes they'll be back before the week is over.

Bryant listed running back Tony Nathan, defensive tackle Marty Lyons and defensive end E.J. Junior among the walking wounded.

"I don't know how long they'll be out, but that's a pretty good hunk of talent," the coach said.

Alabama is preparing to meet Florida at Guscaloosa Saturday.

3 Million Persons Predicted To Vote

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - State Democratic Chairman Billy Goldberg predicted Tuesday at least 3 million Texans will vote Nov. 7 - about 50 percent of those registered.

"I hope it will be more than that, maybe 60 percent," Goldberg told a news conference presiding the first meeting of the new State Democratic Executive Committee. "But I think there will be a turnout of at least 50 percent and the best estimate I have seen on total voter registration is about 6 million."

Goldberg said he understood maybe 1 million names were purged from voter registration rolls in an effort to eliminate duplications and voters who had died or moved to a new address. "However, I understand at least 500,000 new registrations have been made since last June."

He also said that the Democratic party voter registration drive has been successful in registering an estimated 174,000 new Democrats.

"We have already started converting our voter registration organization into a get-out-the-vote drive," Goldberg said.

"For voter registration to be effective we must get those new voters to the polls on election day."

Goldberg announced the formation of an advisory committee to the state party.

headed by Calvin R. Guest, Bryan, former state chairman. Other advisory committee members will be former national committeeman Jess Hay, Dallas, and Harry Hubbard, president of the Texas AFL-CIO.

"This will not be a campaign committee but a year-around committee working to strengthen the party," he said.

The new state chairman, who was the personal pick of Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Hill, said the four senior Texas congressmen retiring this year will be honored at a party event before the first of the year. "Between them, Congressmen George A. Mahon, W.R. Poage, Omar Burleson and Olin Teague have served their country, their state and their party 150 years," he said.

A Home at Last

Americans have been spending heavily on their homes. The Conference Board notes. During the past two years, a record eight million houses were sold. Meanwhile, people already living in their own homes spent almost 40 percent more on renovation and other improvements in 1978 than in 1976.

Harvard College, founded on Oct. 28, 1633, is now the oldest in the United States.

Boosters Hear Cub Report

The Hereford Booster Club met here Tuesday evening at the high school cafeteria. The boosters heard a scouting report from assistant coach Stacy Bixler about Friday's game with the Brownfield Cubs. Bixler told the group that the Cubs have plenty of speed, along with one of the better linebackers in the area. He said they use a 'flex' type of defense, similar to the Dallas Cowboys. The Cubs have a 2-3 record so far this year, losing to Andrews last week, and Monahans and Levelland. They have defeated Denver City and Seminole.

Head coach Don Cumpton told the audience that defensive end Glen Yosten may not play Friday because of an ankle injury. Yosten leads the district in fumble recoveries. Hereford moved up last week in total offense, after their point total offense, after their point-producing game against Amarillo High. The Whitefaces have run 194 plays, rushing for 777 yards for a 4.0 average. They've completed 14 of 41 passes for 176 yards and a 12.6 average. After five games, they have an overall offensive average of 180.4 yards per game. The boosters meet at 8 p.m.

Phoenix May Be Davis Site

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - The final round of the Davis Cup tennis competition could be played here in December, but there are many ifs to be answered before a final decision is made. The United States faces Great Britain in the contest scheduled for Dec. 15-17. Community leaders met Tuesday with officials of the United States Tennis Association to discuss requirements for the event.

"We didn't know until Monday that we the United States would have choice of ground site," said Marvin Richmond, USTA vice president. The American team defeated Sweden and Great Britain eliminated Australia in semifinals rounds last weekend. "A proposal must be presented within a week if Phoenix is to be considered a possible host city," said Richmond. "The site must be confirmed before the USTA."

Landry: 'My Guess Is As Good As Yours'

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer DALLAS (AP) - According to Tom Landry's personal computer, the eventual National Conference Eastern Division champion should lose at least four games. Since prognostication is far from an exact science, the Dallas Cowboy football coach hastily adds: "My guess is about as good as yours." Well, not exactly, because Landry comes close almost every year to picking the won-loss record of the division king. "I'm still not sure what effect there will be from the 16-game season," says Landry. "The longer season will take its toll. A 10-4 season in the past would almost guarantee the championship and the playoffs. I believe a 12-4 season would put you at the top of our division." Of course, Washington leads the Cowboys by two games with a perfect 6-0 ledger. Landry says the Cowboys must pick up the pace immediately. "We'll need an 8-2 record. That means we have to streak the last 10 games," Landry says. Landry's teams usually start fast, slump, then come on strong the last half of the season. "You could probably lose six games and still get a wild card but wild card teams usually come up short," says Landry. "We are playing against the level of performance Washington has set for us. We have to win every week or we'll be watching them in the playoffs." The Cowboys added fullback Larry Brinson to the squad Tuesday to make up for the loss of running back Doug Dennison. Preston Pearson will move from fullback to halfback to back up Tony Dorsett. Brinson will back up Robert Newhouse. Brinson was a victim of the final cut and was at Florida helping Coach Doug Dickey's staff and resuming his studies. "Larry is in good shape," says Landry. "We worked him out Monday and he looked good. He's quick and can carry the ball well. Larry suffered a groin injury in camp, and that's probably the main reason we had to release him. It went right down to the wire." Dennison was injured on Dallas' specialty teams in a 24-3 victory over the New York Giants. "We'll miss Doug because he was a great team man," says Landry. Dennison suffered a torn knee capsule and will be lost at least a month. Asked if he thinks the offensive line is the weakest part of his team, Landry says, "It's the least experienced part of our team. But it will pick up with Rayfield Wright performing. Wright, who has been bothered with a leg injury, started at right tackle last week for the first time this year. He also will start against the Cardinals.

Vikings Play Spoiler Often

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Minnesota Vikings have shown a knack for turning the Los Angeles Rams from world beaters to weatherbeaten. The Vikings ousted the Rams from the National Football League playoffs by a 14-7 score in a mud-soaked game in Los Angeles last December. The Vikings also ended Los Angeles title dreams in playoffs games of 1969, 1974 and 1976 when the Rams left the warmth of Southern California to play in Minnesota's frigid weather. Coach Ray Malavasi of the Rams said Tuesday: "Our players want to play a good game and have the extra incentive," when they meet the Vikings on Sunday at Bloomington, Minn. And this time they can expect mild-weather. "It's always close when we play up there," said Malavasi, a Ram assistant coach for five years before taking over at Los Angeles in August when George Allen was fired as coach. Since then the Rams have had a perfect record, two exhibition victories and a 6-0 regular-season mark under Malavasi. Malavasi didn't say it, but a victory at Minnesota would also lessen the Vikings' chances of qualifying for a playoff opportunity against the Rams in 1978. Minnesota is 3-3 after a 29-28 loss to Seattle last Sunday and already has fallen two games behind National Conference Central Division leader Green Bay, which is 5-1. Veteran quarterback Fran Tarkenton was "throwing the ball very well" against Seattle, Malavasi said after viewing the Vikings-Seahawks films. "He presents a particular problem because of his ability to scramble, sprint out and throw on the run. He may not be the same quarterback he was 10 years ago, but he hasn't slowed down that much. I haven't seen much dropoff," he said. Although 10 regular season games remain, the Rams are in pro football's most enviable position in terms of division races. The other teams in the Western Division of the National Conference have woeful records, 2-4 for Atlanta and New Orleans and 1-5 for San Francisco. "No way that we've got the division locked up," Malavasi said. "Once you think that way, everybody is in trouble."

ST. LOUIS (AP) - George Bamberger of the Milwaukee Brewers has been named Major League Manager of the Year by The Sporting News magazine. The St. Louis-based magazine said Bamberger received 11 votes among the 26 major league managers polled.

TIMBERVILLE, Va. (AP) - Residents of this Shenandoah Valley town have a beef about a lot of bulls - the seven August bulls owned by Rudolph Miller. The town of 959 has asked Shenandoah County Circuit Court to order Miller to restrain his bulls, saying the animals break fences, eat shrubbery and pose a danger to residents. And lest the court need further definition, the suit describes the bulls - as being animals "of large size and unpredictable temperament."

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) - Mentally, he was fine. Physically, his bones ached, his joints were stiff and his muscles needed stretching. But Ben Prewitt, 28-year-old director of the Kansas Humane Society in Wichita, expected that after 125 hours in a doghouse.

Levi Fever Hits Russia

BY NIKKI FINKE
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet authorities hope that Orbita may be the cure for the persistent Levi Fever afflicting Russian teen-agers.

No, Orbita is no miracle drug. And Levi Fever? Well, perhaps it can be defined by two bizarre examples:

Five Communist Youth League members recently chased a youth through the streets of Tbilisi in Soviet Georgia demanding he give up his western-made denims. He refused, and the gang stabbed him and fled with the pants. Also in Georgia, two girls were left wounded and pantless by two 15-year-old girls carrying knives and razor blades.

Though extreme, these two stories show the importance western-made jeans have in lives of fashion-conscious young people here.

It has Soviet authorities so worried that they've developed the new fabric for blue jeans called Orbita, which they claim is equal in quality to western denim, known for its toughness and endurance.

Zinaida Nesova of Moscow's Central Department Store pronounced this judgment on the development, in a newspaper interview: "Jeans that look like jeans. We could sell millions, even more."

At present, however, the material is being kept as secret as blue prints for a new bomber. Repeated attempts by an American reporter to see the fabric have been met by a firm "nyet" by the Ministry of Light Industry and the director of the jeans-producing factory.

Soviet officials say the pants will be widely available by early 1979, however, and they even plan to export them to Eastern Europe.

That may not be a big market, though. Polish-made jeans, for example, are prized here for their quality. And Hungary recently inaugurated a blue jeans factory in collaboration with the Levi Strauss Co. which is supplying raw materials including Greek cotton.

And, more importantly, the Hungarian-made jeans will bear a Levi label on the back - a prized fashion signature here.

The young people's newspaper Kosomolskaya Pravda recently carried a story of a youth who wanted to impress women with jeans he had concocted with a rare Lee jeans pattern, an equally rare U.S. fabric and a tailor's help.

"But...this beautiful woman in a jeans suit saw me and immediately suspected that something was wrong," the youth recounted. The lady demanded, "Where is your label?"

It was then that he realized that "in her circle, a label is considered the visiting card of a real gentleman, taking the place even for knowing the latest books or cultural events."

Russian-made blue jeans are generally scorned by Soviet young people, who will gladly pay five or even 10 times their price of 23 or 25 rubles - about 38 dollars - for denims smuggled from the West.

And this with good reason: Soviet jeans are sloppily sewn and of cotton so thin and lifeless that they hang on a teenager's body instead of hug it like U.S. denims. Even Soviet newspapers acknowledge the "shameful" quality of Soviet jeans.

One Soviet journalist said this of the Russian jeans' quality: "If you sat on a nail, you would tear the seat rather than your jeans."

At the open-air markets in Moscow, teen-agers follow westerners pleading for "real jeans," and there is money to be made by wheeler-dealers in the underground jeans trade.

Orbita results from this western domination of the jeans market, and the one Orbita-producing factory already has received 990,000 feet of the material and has 30 workers making more than 800 pairs of jeans a day. Its machinery can make a buttonhole or fix a rivet "not worse than they do it abroad," according to Soviet newspapers.

But, obviously, one factory cannot begin to meet the heavy Soviet demand for well-made jeans - just as demands for Soviet factories to make more consumer goods are not being met.

Recent figures in a Soviet journal show that light industry - which makes jeans and other consumer goods - gets only 12 percent of capital investment and basic production funds though it employs as much as 25 percent of the industrial work force.

All this might make used jeans sound like the answer, but things don't work out that way. Indeed, noting that worn jeans are especially in demand, one Soviet writer said: "If you wash a floor with your new jeans, they will inevitably become priceless."

Economy Said Top Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) - The square-jawed Republican congressman from the Illinois prairie who wants to be president, Philip Crane, says American voters see their country's foreign policy like everything else - in terms of "me, here, now."

In other words, says Crane, the most important question for any individual is what impact an issue is likely to have on his or her personal life and, most especially, on the pocketbook.

Americans may praise President Carter for achieving a Middle East summit agreement, he adds, but it isn't the sort of thing that will win votes while inflation remains the nation's most important problem.

"The viability of our economy is the No. 1 issue, and it is intimately tied to national defense and our ability to play a strong leadership role in the world," Crane said in an interview.

"But even at the height of the Vietnam War, the war itself was never the main issue. Me, here, now - stick to that, and you will have the people's interest. Anything beyond our shores is an abstraction."

In a sense, it was an expression of the strategy Crane employs as he travels about the country, talking to businesspeople, labor, students, retired persons and ethnic groups in pursuit of the Republican Party's 1980 presidential nomination.

This week, the 47-year-old lawmaker is embarking on another such trip, an 8,000-mile flying tour of the U.S. heartland and some Southern states where political conservatives like himself are seeking office at the local, state and national levels in the November elections.

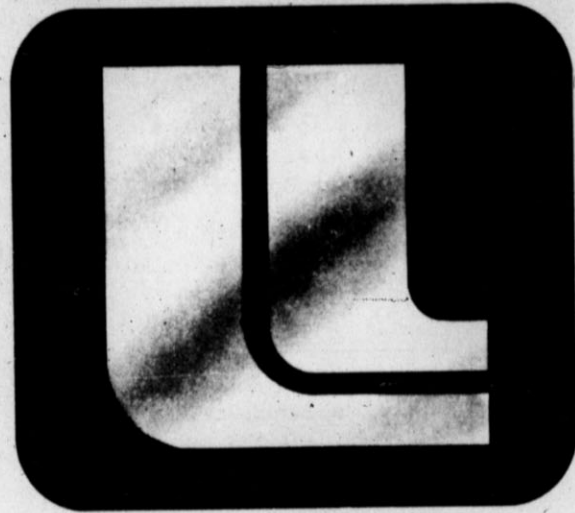

Crane is a conservative ideologue, a former university history teacher and a writer of books presenting conservative views of the United States and the world.

The most recent was a lengthy condemnation of the Panama Canal treaties, which Crane opposed on grounds the documents would risk giving the Soviet-Union eventual control over the waterway.

In addition to Lockwood's quality center pivots, they are offering a no-nonsense water management program called CEW. CEW is designed to boost your yields and at the same time reduce your water and energy requirements.

As for service, we got PEP - a new service program designed to keep your pivots in top running condition.

So stop in at your nearby Ulysses store and let us tell you the full Lockwood story.
