DSG Calls for 33% Tax-Rate Hike

HISD Studies 7% Rate Jump

By PAUL SIMS Managing Editor

Property taxes in the Hereford Independent School District will go up approximately seven percent in the 1980-81 fiscal year if the HISD board of trustees approves a suggestion by administration officials.

Superintendent Harrell Holder and Assistant Superintendent Bill Phillips told the board Tuesday in its regular monthly meeting that the seven-percent increase probably would be enough to make up for a cost-of-living pay increase for teachers and the inflated cost of supplies and

The board will adopt a tax rate along with the 1980-81 budget, in its August meeting. Holder told The Brand today that the increase may be less than seven percent.

"We had a $1.25 tax rate this year, based on 60 percent of assessed value on a piece of property. In 1980-81, we'll be going to 100 percent. To generate the same amount of money as we did this year, we'll probably need a tax rate of 74.5 to 75 cents." Holder said.

"That's what we call our tax base--that's the base we have to work from to figure our tax increase. But, right now, we don't have all the figures in, so we don't know exactly what that base will be," the superintendent added.

Holder said the 80-cent tax rate, which includes 66 cents for the local maintenance fund and 14 cents for bonded indebtedness, probably would be enough to take care of inflation and a teacher salary increase, which averages 11 percent across the board.

The school district should start the 1980-81 fiscal year with a $321,215 surplus, according to Phillips. Holder told The Brand that a "contingency fund" somewhere around $321,215 throughout next fiscal year is necessary to handle unforseen problems with the projected $6.096 million budget.

Trustees hired Northwest Elementary assistant principal Gary Billingsley as principal of Bluebonnet Elementary.

Billingsley replaces Rodney Laubhan, whose resignation was accepted by the board. Laubhan has accepted a teaching position with the Canadian Independent School District.

Other hirings included Sylvia Lopez at Northwest, Ruth Fritz and Jennifer Hoffman at Shirley Elementary, Eddie Carmichael at West Central Elementary, Gary Dorman at Stanton Junior High and Bobby Lantelme at the high school. Nena Veazey was hired as Shirley assistant principal.

Resignations were accepted from Billee Landrum at Aikman Elementary, Dianne Wood at Bluebonnet, Tomasa Perez, Jerry Walls and Tomagene Weatherred at Northwest, Cathy Adkins at Shirley, Mary Taylor at Tierra Blanca Elementary, Louisa Boyce, Gloria Echevarria and Vicki Richards at West Central, Kathi Bell at La Plata Junior High, Joyce Hickman at Stanton and Mark Elms, Lois Laubhan, Jo Beth Nepper, Freelin Suttle and Ronnie Wood at the high

Onion Strike Focuses On Vegetable Sheds

Texas Farm Workers Union strike organizers and supporters who have concentrated their efforts on area onion fields for over three weeks now apparently planned a change in tactics Tuesday.

Pickets may focus their attention on local vegetable packing sheds in hopes of calling shed workers out to join the strike and thus interrupt the processing of the onion crop being gathered in the fields.

Among area packing sheds apparently targeted for such tactics are Griffin & Brand Sales Agency, T.J. Power and Co. and La Mantia-Cullum Collier & Co.

Pickets reportedly gathered along the railroad right of way near Griffin & Brand yesterday but a spokesman working in the area of the firm's vegetable processing facilities reported the loud speaker comments of picketers could not be heard above the rattle of chains and pulleys in the vegetable packing plant. Processing of vegetables continued uninterrupted.

"I don't think the picketers represent one tenth of one percent of the working folks out here," commented a spokesman at the shed.

Trooper Britten stops a traffic violator on farm road off U.S. 60.

DPS: Priority on Lives

By PAUL SIMS Managing Editor

The radar in the trooper's patrol car beeped and flashed "67" as the red pickup in the westbound lane of U.S. Highway 60 whizzed towards Hereford.

Ken Britten turned his 'black-and-white" onto the grass separating the highway, pulled in behind the pickup and began to chase the speeding vehicle.

The driver of the pickup noticed Britten's lighted red spotlight and pulled over. Britten identified himself, asked for the driver's license and issued him a warning ticket.

"If I feel that a warning will slow the individual down, I'll sometimes give him one, instead of a citation. Our goal isn't to punish people or to see how many names we can get on a piece of paper. It's to save lives," said Britten, a young Texas Department of Public Safety trooper who so rarely cracks a smile or takes his penetrating eyes off the road that you know

he's deadset to work

back in the car. Moments later, the radar flashed "68," but Britten didn't turn his vehicle around to pursue the violator in a group of four cars and one semi truck.

"You tell me which one was speeding." Britten said. "If you can't tell, you don't want to make the mistake of stopping the wrong vehicle. It's a bad contact and destroys everything you're trying to accomplish."

Establishing good "contacts," according to Britten, is a requirement of his sergeant, Bill Scott.

"We've got to keep up a good image. This isn't only law enforcement; it's public relations," explained Britten, who has been on the job in Deaf Smith County for a little over two years.

"People complain about everything under the sun to the sergeant or captain-how you wear your hat, if your pants are clean, your attitude. Everything, especially the ticket."

"Sure, we make mistakes. That's what we've got a courthouse for.' Britten stopped a white Buick going 65 down the highway. Another warning: "She said she wasn't aware how fast she was going because it's a new car. She was courteous about it." Britten said. "You see that car? That won't be a warning." said Britten after the radar showed the vehicle was going 73 miles per hour.

"We give a certain amount of speed because of variances in the speedometer. The tolerance depends on the condition of the road, the amount of traffic, the number of accidents you've worked in that location. But, that guy's speedometer can't be off that much." He introduced himself. requested the driver's license and wrote the ticket -- all in nearly the same dialogue and identical manner as with the other speeders he had stopped.

Britten explained his department's seven-point policy regarding the stopping of vehicles. The trooper is supposed to identify himself as a highway patrolman, inform the driver of the violation, ask to see the license, then explain what action is about to be taken. The remaining three points, Britten said, are to take that particular action, explain how the action (if it is the issuance of a citation)

"Most people are as nice as they can be right when you stop them. Then, they see the ticket book, and all hell breaks loose," he said.

"It's important for me not to hold that against someone. I don't write tickets on attitude."

The board set a tax rate of 8 cents per $100 valuation based on 100 percent assessed value. Last year the rate was 25 cents per $100 with a 24 percent assessed value.

The county tax base lost $45 million because of the ag value relief but picked up $15 million on new construction and revaluation of some property. The tax base thus went from approximately $429 million to $399 million.

The new rates for the hospital district and the county will increase non-farm property by 33 percent, but ag value property will show a wide variance. Selecting several farms from the tax rolls, dryland and irrigated, The Brand found that they ranged from a 9 percent decrease in taxes up to a 20

No Surprise—Reagan To Win

DETROIT (AP) - Ronald Reagan's long-sought moment of triumph and decision arrives tonight when the Republican National Convention nominates him for President of the United States and then awaits his choice of a running mate.

Reagan the only surviving candidate from a oncecrowded field, his choice for second spot on the ticket remains the convention's only guessing game.

Will it be George Bush, the man who gave him the toughest fight in the Republican primaries? Or Rep. Guy Vander Jagt of Michigan, whose convention keynote speech was put off until tonight when Tuesday night's program ran past midnight. Or Rep. Jack Kemp of New York, whose supporters staged a noisy, sign-waving demonstration when he addressed the convention Tuesday night.

Others on most speculative lists include Sens. Richard Lugar of Indiana and Paul

Laxalt of Nevada, and former Cabinet members Donald Rumsfeld and William ·Party leaders streamed in and out of Reagan's suite on the 69th floor of the Detroit Plaza Hotel on Tuesday to discuss the vice presidential nomination and most came away with the same impression: Reagan had not made up his mind. For Reagan, the balloting on the presidential nomination will be like a moment out of one of his Hollywood movies.

Beaten in two earlier tries for the nomination, he tried again, his last chance at age 69, and this time he overwhelmed the opposition.

The former California governor, following tradition, has no plans to go to Joe Louis Arena until Thursday night when he will accept the nomination with a speech, already written, which will make a strong appeal to Democrats to cross party lines and vote for the Republican ticket. But Nancy Reagan, the candidate's wife, and his two oldest children, Maureen and Michael, attended Tuesday night's session. They were welcomed by cheering delegates and chants of "Viva, Ole" from the Texas delegation.

Before Mrs. Reagan took her seat at one end of the hall this time, the convention had quickly approved a conservative platform spiced with sharp attacks on President Carter's record and calling for a tougher foreign policy, broad tax cuts, boosts in defense spending and restraints on growth of government in other areas.

Potential fights over two planks - one dropping party support for the Equal Rights Amendment, the other endorsing a constitutional amendment banning abortions except to save the life of the mother - didn't materialize.

Tempers are rising with the temperatures, some officials are saying, and the three-week heat wave that has killed 689 people in the South and Midwest may be to blame for a rash of child abuse in Dallas.

The heat prompted Alabama Gov. Fob James to declare a state of emergency Tuesday. A state of emergency was put in effect Monday in Missouri.

President Carter directed federal officials to make $6.73 million available in six states to provide relief for poor people put in dangerous situations because of the heat wave. The money will be used to pay utility bills, buy fans and air conditioners and fund transportation to relief centers . Carole Bowdry, director of the child abuse program in the Dallas County child welfare department said that incidents of child abuse have increased steadily since June 23, when the heat wave began in Dallas. "If you're hot, you're going to get angry faster," Ms. Bowdry said Tuesday.

"That applies to parents and especially to children," she said. "Historically our wort cases of child abuse have happened in extremely inclement weather of one type or another," Ms. Bowdry said.

Temperatures were in the high 90s or over 100 Tuesday in a broad section of the country stretching from the Southwest to the Southeast and from Illinois to Alabama. Among the higher readings were 110 in Hutchinson, Kan., 109 in Kansas City, Mo., and 104 in Bowling Green, Ky.

The National Weather Service has said no relief is in sight, at least until the end of the week.

Deaths from the heat have been reported in 17 states, with Missouri having the most at 154, according to an unofficial count by The Associated Press.

However, in Minnesota, rain, high winds and hail were the weather problems Tuesday night.

* *  Oklahoma Receives

$1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) Oklahoma is to receive $1 million of a $6.7 million plan announced by President Carter to help low-income families beat the heat.

The money from the Community Services Administration is to buy fans, provide emergency medical care and pay cooling bills for low-income families and senior citizens hit hardest by the summer heat wave.

The money is the first of an undetermined amount of financial assistance the administration will make available to five states suffering from the stretch of 100-plus degree temperatures, the White House

State officials have pledged an additional $2.5 million to install attic fans and repair air conditioners on the homes of the poor and the elderly. Carter also wants the Agriculture Department to report the impact of the heat wave on crops and livestock and to estimate how much dought-related money will be needed for emergency livestock feed assistance, conservation assistancem disaster payments, emergency loans and crop insurance.

The plan allocates $2.5 million for Texas, $1.25 million for Missouri, $1 million for Arkansas and $500,000 each for Louisiana and Kansas.

Of Oklahoma's $1 million. Oklahoma County is to receive $107,000, Tulsa County $81,000, Cleveland and Pottawatomie counties will jointly receive $40,492.

The report projected U.S. exports of a sixth consecutive record 74 million metric tons of coarse grains in the coming marketing year, but said that would probably reduce the stock of those commodities substantially since this year's harvest is expected to be below the 1979 record. Heat Triggers Child-Abuse Cases

DALLAS (AP) - Tensions between parents and children cooped up to avoid the heat are on the rise and welfare workers here say they are seeing more and more cases of child abuse.

Carole Bowdry, director of the child abuse program in the Dallas County child welfare department, said incidents of abuse have risen steadily since the unbroken string of 100-degree plus temperatures began June 23.

The families I'm working with are experiencing a lot of stress," said Ms. Bowdry. "In the last two to three weeks, my case load has been up substantially."

With expected high temperatures above 105 this week and lows in the lower 80s, no end to the psychological fallout is in sight, Ms. Bowdry said.

Not only have I been getting new people, but some people that came to us for child abuse counseling in the past are coming back," she said.

Clements: Texas Delegates Crucial

DETROIT (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements says the Texas delegates at the National Republican Convention are the nucleus to "create the momentum and enthusiasm to carry Texas for Ronald Reagan.'

But, said Clements in a talk at a delegation luncheon Tuesday, there is no room for "divisiness, kibitizing or bitching.

"We don't have time to put up with it." he said.

Clements' remarks were part of a continuing effort of state party leaders to put down uneasiness among some Reagan delegates, particularly in North and East Texas, about the part they will play in the general election campaign.

"We are still going to have some unhappy people, both Democrats and Republicans," Clements said, "but I am sure we can solve all these problems."

Clements and Ernest Angelo, state Reagan campaign director, assured the delegates that the November campaign organization was well under way and some regional chairmen might be announced next week. County chairmen will be named later.

'A nine-cent per $100 would give us $350,000," said Frank Zinser, president of the hospital board," but we could probably get by on an eight-cent rate. The public health clinic might come off our back."

"It'd be pretty close, but that's the way we ought to operate on the taxpayer's money," he said.

An increase in the ambulance rates was also approved.

Currently, the charge for an emergency run is $50, a transfer in to...a is $35, and a transfer to Amarillo is $95.

Next year, while the in-town transfer will remain at $35, an emergency run will go to $75 and an Amarillo transfer will cost $135.

During discussion on the proposed rate changes. director Jerry Smith asked how they compared to MSI rates and to other ambulance rates in the area.

Bullard explained that MSI charges a $65 base rate, plus one dollar per mile, and also charges for all insulary services.

"If they have to use a backboard to pick you up with, they charge you for that," he said. "They charge for the tubing if you have to have oxygen, and if they have to do anything to you (other than carry you to the hospital), they charge for emergency care.

In the Deaf Smith General rates, there is a base rate on ambulance calls, but no extra charge for extra mileage.

"As for our expertise and emergency care," said Bullard, "there is no charge. We only charge for non-reusable supplies. There is also an extra charge if a defibrator or a monitor is used, he explain-

A $30,000 loss was estimated in ambulance operations for next year, and will be subsidized through

Care of indigents is also subsidized through taxes. The hospital is projecting $130,748 to be used for indigent care.

"We could throw all that (expense) on hospital patients by increasing the hospital rates," said Zinser, "but that's not fair. It's a responsibility of the general public."

During the monthly operating report, Bullard reported that expenses exceeded revenue for the month of June by more than $10,000. "We are below our break even," he said. "Expenses are down a little for the month..." What you mean is that we're $3,000 plus in the hole and that's what we're going to have to subsidize," said Zinser, following the reading ment," said Bullard. The hospital has a cash-on-hand balance of more than $61,000. According to Bullard, that's a good balance. The hospital does owe a quarterly payment to FICA. which will be mailed in sometime this week.

The Census figures showed a 27.5 average daily census of adults and children compared to last year's 37.3. The year to date figure is also down slightly, this year being 30.3 compared to last year's "Surgical procedures are up," said Bullard, "Most other things are fairly consistent with things we've seen in previous months."

He also reported that Medicare has paid the hospital the money they owed.

In addition to discussion on the budget and the operating report, a report of the medical staff meeting was given by Dr. Duffy McBray-

"We had a frank and open discussion about perceived differences in our relationship with Kings Manor," he said. A liaison between King's Manor residents and the medical staff was proposed, and will be discussed by the King's Manor board.

"We also heard an exhaustive medical audit for the time period between January of '79 and June of '79," he said.

Ann Landers Cabbie Fears PG Women

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I heard you say something on the radio recently that was awfully stupid. A woman told you she was expecting her first baby and she wanted her husband to go with her to the hospital. He said he hated hospitals -- the smell alone made him sick. He fainted the last two times he went into a hospital to visit his mother, then his brother.

Your advice was, "Stop begging. He would be more trouble than he'd be worth. Let him stay home. When the pains start to come about 10 minutes apart, call a taxi."

Ann, honey, I am a taxi driver and we don't want fares like that. Every time I get a woman in my cab who is on her way to the hospital to deliver, I get heart failure. I've been hacking for 10 years and I have carried three women in labor. They were all alone with nobody to help me calm them down. Those little mothers can take years off a cabbie's life.

The first one I drove was just a kid. I'll bet she wasn't 17 years old. She asked to sit in front with me. Every time she got a pain, she grabbed hold of the wheel. We darned near hit a truck. The second lady begged me to go through red lights and stop signs. Finally, a squad car spotted me. The policeman was a nice guy. He took the dame in his car, put on the siren and rushed her to the hospital. (I was stuck for $4.40 on the meter--she couldn't find her wallet--

The last time I wasn't so lucky. The woman said it was her sixth kid, and by golly if she didn't have the baby two blocks from the hospital-right on the back seat of the cab. The emergency room doctors came out, finished the delivery and carried the kid off in a blanket. The woman went inside in a wheelchair. She was so thrilled, she gave me a $20

Mademoiselle Visits With Local Relatives

'Dishwashers, only the rich families have in France," she said, comparing American affluency to the French standard of living.

Miss Gross is visiting with Marie Sears of 117 Star for a month, and also with two other cousins, Frank Huckert and his family, and Joe Huckert, all from this area.

There are also two cousins in California, but Miss Gross thinks she will be visiting, "only in Texas."

CAN YOU BELIEVE IT IF GOD SAID IT?

Although God's promise still stands - His promise that all may enter His place of rest - we ought to tremble with fear because some of you may be on the verge of failing to get there after all.

For this wonderful news — the message that God wants to save us-has been given to us just as it was to those who because they didn't believe it. They didn't mix it with

For only we who believe God can enter into His place of rest. He has said, "I have sworn in My anger that those who don't believe Me will never get in," eventhough He has been ready and waiting for them since the world

We know He is ready and waiting because it is written that God rested on the seventh day of creation, having finished all that He had planned to make.

Even so they didn't get in; for God finally said, "They shall never enter my rest."

Yet the promise remains and some get in - but not those who had the first chance, for they disobeyed God and failed to enter.

But He has set another time for coming in, and that time is now. He announced this through King David long years after man's first failure to enter, saying in the words already quoted, "Today when you hear Him calling, do not harden your hearts against Him.'

This new place of rest He is talking about does not mean the land of Israel that Joshua led them into. If that were what God meant. He would not have spoken long afterwards about "today" being the time to get in.

Dear Editor:

The recent second annual King's Manor Barbecue was a tremendous success because of the support given by the Hereford community.

We could not continue to provide the excellent care and extra services without the support of the community. With the help and support provided by Hereford and the surrounding area it makes everyone connected with King's Manor want to do a better job.

Your help will enable us to continue to provide and care for those whose retirement funds are in no way able to keep up with inflation.

Mexican Industry Said Moving Fast

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Texas Industrial Commission's international trade manager advises vendors looking for new business in Mexico "to stay on your toes" and keep up with rapid developments.

"Things are moving fast, and I mean they're moving fast in practically all areas," the manager, Frank Alagna, said Tuesday at a State Department seminar for state and local officials on the border economy.

Texas is the only state that maintains an office in Mexico City to promote local businesses. The TIC office opened in 1971.

Alagna said U.S. companies are in a stiff competition with Japanese, West German, French and other international businesses for Mexican foreign trade. "We're not home free; we've got a lot of competition," he said.

Although oil and gas receives most of the public's attention, Alagna said development is taking place in many Mexican industries. The Mexican federal power commission alone spent $392.

million through its Houston office last year, he said. Alagna later said he hopes to expand the commission's regular operations from Mexico to Central America and Europe. He said Texas is one of the few states that has not opened a European industrial office to assist state businesses abroad and to attract international in-

Babe Ruth Squad Ready for Tourney

and the state of t

Pictured are this year's 15-year-old Babe Ruth All-Stars who will be competing in the League's state tournament Monday. The squad advanced to the tournament after sweeping the district tournament 4-0 in Pampa this past weekend. By MAURI MONTGOMERY Brand Sports Editor

About the only question being asked around the ranks of the 15-year-old Babe Ruth All-Star baseball squad these days is "What in the world is a Cajun?'

The Hereford baseball crew may not know what one is other than the fact that they eat a lot of crawdads. but after the team pulled out a. 9-2 rout over favored Pampa to sweep the Babe Ruth district tournament 4-0 in Pampa this past weekend-the All-Stars are relatively sure they will be playing a few of those Cajuns in their own back vard on Louisiana

And the only obstacle standing in the Hereford team's way now is the state match-up which is slated for Monday night in Dimmitt.

"This isn't going to be any easy walk-away deal when we play in Dimmitt," said head coach David Ashby about Monday night's seven team double elimination tournament. "Everybody that's listed on the tournament bracket is capable and has a very good chance of winning the thing. It just comes down to who makes the fewest mistakes and this club doesn't make a whole lot."

The Hereford diamond crew's ability for shving away from costly mistakes was demonstrated first hand to Pampa Saturday as the squad, lead by hurler Rod Simon, granted the Pampa team a meager tally of 6 hits with only two of those being notched up as scores. In addition to that particular facet of the game, the Hereford All-Stars netted a total of three errors as compared to Pampa's nine miscues during the affair.

Phibbs each creased singles past Pampa's defense in the opening frames of play.

Following a scoreless first stanza, Ricky McCracken advanced to first on an error and the moved to third on a Ronnie Collier single past Pampa's first base on a bunt. Collier then stole second on an error and was driven home as his brother Mark reeled off a single of his own between the left infield. Glenn Phibbs then singled to bat in Collier and scampered across home fourth following a Robert Martinez double, three runs in the fifth and one game cinching run in the sixth as Brian Taylor managed to cap a single off to centerfielddriving in McCracken before leaving two stranded at the close of the game.

"This team has got a lot going for it in experience, and I hope they can do what they've set out to do--win the state tourney and then get into the regional tournament." said Ashby. "Six of these players have seen tournament experience as part of last year's 14-year-old regional finalist in Louisiana. Ronnie Collier, Robert Martinez, Micky Stengal, Jeff Streun and Stacy Evans all went last year and Mark Collier, Alfred Ball, Rod Simon and Raymond Martinez were four that competed in the state finals in Graham last year. So we've got the experience and the personnel to win this thing outright."

But the key to the team's potentially explosive nature lies in the heart of the dugout where Hereford bats have reeled out a massive tally of 68 runs over a span of four

And approximately one-Alfred Ball, Ronnie Collier,

That Hereford scoring thrust set the stage for an onslaught that would later cease during only one stanza eighth of that batting power of the contest as the squad was unleashed on Pampa as came out of the third frame without a score, but

Mark Collier and Glenn retaliated with one run in the U.S. Upset OverRussia's Decision To Raise Flag

MOSCOW (AP) - The opening ceremonies for the Moscow Olympics are just three days away, but it's the closing ceremonies that have already angered the United States because of the International Olympic Committee's decision to raise the American flag at those festivities Aug. 3.

Monique Berlioux, director of the IOC, told a news conference Tuesday that Olympic protocol requires ending the Games by raising Minister Ignaty Novikov said the flag of the next host representatives of the U.S. country. The 1984 Summer government had written Games are scheduled to be held in Los Angeles.

Peter Ueberroth, general manager of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee (LAOOC), who was to update the IOC today on Los Angeles' preparations for the 1984 Games, said the decision to hoist the Stars and Stripes here was strictly an. IOC matter.

"That's ceremony," Ueberroth said. 'We're not part of that decision."

At President Carter's Georgia vacation retreat, presidential spokesman Jody Powell said: "If they do that, it will be against the wishes of the American govern-

Department in Washington said the United States objected to the flag-raising and would contact the IOC about it. However, there appeared to be nothing that the U.S. could to do to stop its flag from being used at the Games, the boycott of which has been President Carter's most visible form of protest against the Soviet Union's military intervention in Afghanistan. Soviet Deputy Prime twice before requesting that the American flag not be flown at the XXII Summer

"This is not our decision." said Novikov. "The objection was raised by the United States. But it is not our problem because the closing ceremony belongs to the IOC." He added that the Soviet Union will send athletes to the Los Angeles Games if invited to do so.

Novikov told the IOC Tuesday that preparations for the Games, which begin with the opening ceremonies Saturday and a full slate of events Sunday, are complete.

Today, it will be Ueberroth's turn to appraise the IOC of the preparations for the Los Angeles Games. He said Tuesday that he didn't expect any sanctions imposed against the U.S. Olympic Committee, and certainly not against the LAOOC because of its unique independent stucture.

"For the first time in Olympic history, the Games were awarded not to a city but to a private corporation,' he said.

Also scheduled for today's IOC session was the election of a new president to succeed Lord Killanin of Ireland, who is stepping down after eight years in office. Five candidates have emerged. They are Juan Antonio Samaranch of Spain, Marc Hodlf Canada and Lance Cross Daume of West Germany, James Worrall of Canada and Lance Cross of New Zealand. A clear majority is needed for victory. If no majority is gained on a ballot, the low vote-getter drops out for the next ballot.

Samaranch, Spain's ambassador to the Soviet Union, is the favorite. His strength was expected to come from Latin Americans Eastern representatives of the IOC. His strongest challenger was expected to be Hodler, longtime president of the International Ski Federation. whose support comes principally from European IOC members.

Meanwhile, athletes and visitors continued to arrive here. Forty members from an expected French delgation of 130 athletes arrived Tuesday. The French team, along with several other western European delegations, will not participate in the opening ceremonies in protest of the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan. In all, nearly 6,000 athletes and some 2,000 team officials were housed in the Olympic Village.

Among the many journalists on hand, the major topics of conversation were the weather and security things they could do nothing about except complain.

The weather, cloudy with a cold chill in the air, was more typical of the kind that greets the American football season. The Soviets call it "horseradish weather," like the harsh and bitter taste of horseradish.

The Soviet weather station's chief said cloudseeding techniques were not sophisticated enough to turn the skies sunny.

But newsmen are finding the Soviets' security highly sophisticated. Metal detection devices were at the entrances to all Olympic areas, causing some long lines and numerous delays. Generally, the officials manning the electronic equipment were cordial and gracious about the constant checks.

A veteran Soviet commentator criticized western reporters for their complaints about security measures. Spartak Beglov, writing in the semi-official Soviet news agency Novosti, said: "What has become a norm, acceptable to everyone in other countries, is unacceptable for certain western maligners only because it takes place in

Kansas City Clips Red Sox

By BOB GREENE AP Sports Writer

Don't look now, but the Kansas City Royals have George Brett and Rich Gale back, and a whopping lead in the American League West.

"We went through a period of about two weeks before the All-Star break when we were getting hits and couldn't score," Kansas City Manager Jim Frey said.

"Since the break it seems we've turned it around and are scoring runs. The one big thing that has happened since the break is we got George Brett back."

Tuesday night, Gale, the Royals' big right-hander. returned with a winning performance as Kansas City stopped the Boston Red Sox

"He hadn't pitched in a couple of weeks, but he threw the ball well and with good control." Frey said. "I really didn't expect him to go as long as he did, hoping he'd go just six or seven innings.

"Maybe he needed the little rest to rejuvenate his arm. His control is better than it was early in the season, but maybe the fact we're getting him a lead once in a while has helped."

Kansas City, 18 games over .500 with a 5-1 record since the All-Star break. leads the Chicago White Sox. the Minnesota Twins and the Texas Rangers by 111/2 games in the AL West.

In other AL games

Tuesday, Minnesota edged the New York Yankees 5-4, Chicago nipped Texas 2-1, Baltimore stopped Milwaukee 7-3 and California topped Cleveland 7-1. Gale allowed only five hits for eight innings before needing relief help in the ninth as the Royals pounded out 15 hits. He was making his first appearance since being stricken by shoulder tendinitis July 2 for the second time in three years.

"It's something I thought was over when I felt great all. last summer," Gale said. "However, it's there and I'm a little concerned about it. I also feel a little frustrated because it's the second time in two years."

Amos Otis staked Gale to a 1-0 lead with a homer off Steve Renko, 5-3, in the second and Hal McRae made it 3-0 with a two-run shot in the third.

Otis finished with three hits and Willie Wilson, Brett. Willie Aikens and Frank White two apiece against Renko and relievers Win Remmerswaal and Skip Lockwood.

White Sox 2, Rangers 1

Rookie Britt Burns outdueled veteran Ferguson Jenkins in Chicago's victory over Texas. Both pitchers gave up seven hits and Jenkins struck out 13, his best as a Ranger, before being relieved in the ninth.

Burns, 10-7, got a fifthinning home run from Bob Molinaro and outstanding defensive support from shortstop Todd Cruz. Molinaro's homer in the fifth gave Chicago its winning margin.

Twins 5, Yakees 4

A suicide squeeze bunt by Mike Cubbage scored Ron Jackson from third base in the eighth inning, giving Minnesota its victory over New York.

Two of the Twins' runs were tainted. Ron Jackson singled to left in the second inning and continued all the way to third when Lou Piniella let the ball go between his legs and all the way to the left field wall. Jackson scored on a single.

Then, in the seventh, Sal Butera singled home Pete Mackanin and went to second when right fielder Reggie Jackson fell down and bobbled the ball. Pinchrunner Rick Sofield replaced Butera and eventually scored. Rob Wilfong homered for Minnesota while Reggie Jackson and Willie Randolph slammed home runs for the Yankees. Angels 7, Indians 1

A bizarre four-run fifth inning, keyed by Don Baylor's single. California past Cleveland.

California loaded the bases in the fifth on singles by Rick Miller, Carney Lansford and Rod Carew. Miller and Lansford scored on Baylor's single and Carew came home when Baylor eluded a rundown to get back to first

Later in the inning, Bobby Grich scored Jason Thompson from third with a long sacrifice fly. When left fielder Miguel Dilone thought the inning had ended and started to trot towards the dugout, Larry Harlow tried to score from second base, only to be thrown out on a relay by shortstop Tom Veryzer.

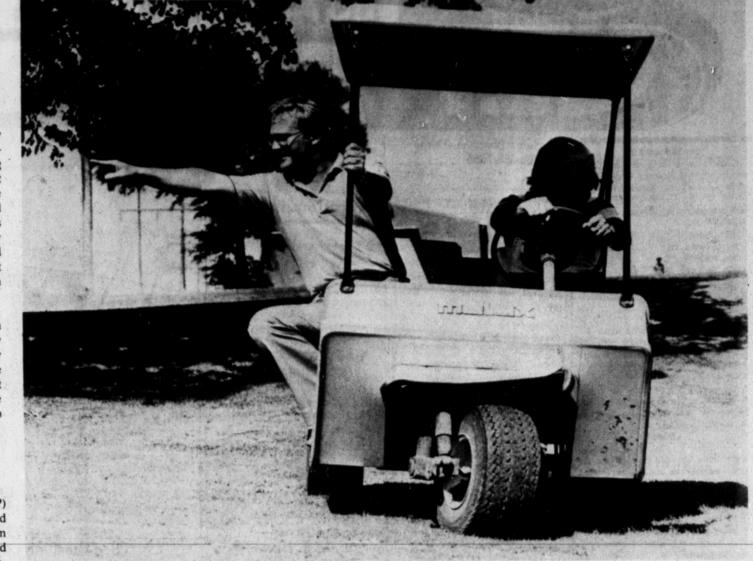

Orioles 7, Brewers 3

Three RBI by Dan Graham and two by Terry Crowley paced Baltimores' victory over Milwaukee. The Orioles' Jim Palmer, 9-6, got the victory although he needed eighth-inning help from Tim Stoddard.

Connors Beats Freyss 3-6, 6-3

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) - Jimmy Connors survived an early scare from Christophe Freyss and battled back for a 3-6, 6-3, 6-0 triumph in the opening round of the $175,000 U.S. Pro Tennis Championships.

In other action, Gene Mayer advanced with a 6-0. 6-1 victory over Fernando Maynetto; Jose Higueras of Spain beat Geoff Masters of Australia, 6-1, 6-2; Victor Pecci of Paraguay ousted Alvard Betancur of Colombia, 6-3, 6-2; Mike Cahill topped Corrado Barazzutti 7-6, 6-4; and Marty Riessen advanced with a 7-6, 6-4 win over Francisco Gonzales.

Blind Leading Blind

As representatives of the Noon-Kiwanians Club II, John Stagner and Danny Boyer get in a little practice time in preparation for the annual YMCA sponsored 'Anything Goes' sports spectacular. The competition which is open to all groups and clubs is slated to kickoff Saturday in Whiteface Stadium with women's preliminaries beginning at 9 a.m., men's prelims starting at 1 p.m. and the finals are scheduled for 5 p.m. Such famed events as water balloon tossing, the blind golf cart driver which Stagner and Boyer illustrate and the obstacle course will be offered for those who aren't afraid of grueling sports. Nicklaus, Watson Favored In Open MUIRFIELD, Scotland hitting the ball all right," (AP) - Jack Nicklaus. spurred by his U.S. Open victory, is making an untroubled approach to his next major challenge: winning the British Open golf championship for a fourth time.

Nicklaus and fellow-American Tom Watson are co-favorites for the tournament that opens Thursday over the windswept 6,926yard par 71 Muirfield course on Scotland's East Coast.

"I'm playing all right, said Nicklaus, who has completed three practice rounds here and found nothing amiss with his game.

Nicklaus, 40, won his first British Open title as long ago as 1966, following up with further wins in 1970 and 1978. But then came the longest lean streak of an illustrious career, leading to rumbles that he was over the hill. But his win last month in the U.S. Open silenced the gloom merchants and the Golden Bear was back on top. Other leading rivals in the tournament that offers more than $400,000 in total prize money are Seve Ballesteros, the Spaniard who added the Masters title to the British Open championship he won last year, PGA champion David Graham of Australia, South Africa's Gary Player, Japan's Isao Aoki, who was runnerup in the U.S. Open and a whole squad of America's seasoned circuit veterans.

Crenshaw told reporters that he is backing himself to win this time, although he. nominated Nicklaus and Watson as his major. problems while Trevino was, playing "very well."

Arnie Palmer is watched with the reverence due to one of the sport's immortals. "He's such a gentleman," gushed a grey-haired Scottish matron. "He'll always take time to talk."

Futile Leap

Redbird third baseman Alan Wartes leaps up in the air in an attempt to stop an overthrown outfield toss in the Hereford American Legion Post's opening encounter with the Caprock Longhorns this past weekend. Leftfielder Matt Collier looks on, and a Caprock runner rounds third during the futile attempt. The Redbirds lost the contest 15-5.

but vaulted back to win the nightcap 12-2. The next scheduled competition for the squad is slated for Thursday as the Hereford team pairs off against Palo Duro in Amarillo in a scheduled double-header. [Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery]

Steve Ovett Ties Record In Games

OSLO, Norway (AP) Steve Ovett of Britain, who two weeks ago broke Sebastian Coe's record for the mile, equaled Coe's mark for the 1,500-meters in the Oslo Games.

Ovett was timed in 3 minutes 32.09 seconds. Under the rules of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, that will officially be recorded as 3:32.1 tying the mark set by Coe, a fellow Briton, at Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 15, 1979.

HOT DOG

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He sold very good hot dogs.

He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried:

"Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?

There's a big depression.

The foreign situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse " Whereupon the father thought,

"Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Relieving arthritis pain

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have arthritis of the hip and leg. The pain has been terrible. My doctor put me on Motrin. It has eased the pain. What I'd like to know is will my body get used to this medicine and will the medicine lose its effect? What is this medicine? I'm 77 years old.

No, your body probably will not become accustomed to the Motrin and it will continue to be effective in helping to prevent or control your pain. There are a number of other pain-relieving medications that also are frequently used to control the pain of arthritis.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My

mother is 83 years old and has swollen legs which are swollen from the feet to her knees. The doctor says it's caused by hardening of the arteries and poor circulation. At present she's taking potassium chloride slow release tablets, Diuril and Digoxin. The legs also leak fluid which is hard to stop. What causes this and what do you suggest for stopping it? Is there another medication that could be used to help decrease the swelling of her legs? Her blood pressure is good and the heart is good

DEAR READER - The Diuril is to wash out salt which also eliminates excess water. Unfortunately, it can also result in loss of potassium and that's why your mother is taking potassium. The Digoxin is to strengthen the contractions of the heart.

The combination of these medicines plus your doctor's comment about poor circulation indicates that he believes that your mother's problem is caused by a weak heart. The heart is no longer able to contract strongly enough to progood circulation. We call this heart failure.

You can think of it as pump failure. When this happens and involves the right side of

The legs could be wrapped in elastic bandages or other pressure devices but that would simply shift the fluid to other parts of the body and not correct the basic heart failure problem. Occasionally strict adherence to a very low sodium salt diet will help. That also greatly decreases a person's enjoyment of food.

I wish I could give you a more encouraging answer but it's important that you understand the basic problem and the limitations available in treating it.

I'm not sure what you son's goal is with weight lifting, but if he wants to develop larger and stronger muscles he may not be following the proper program. Very good studies show that excessive exercise can result in a plateau effect. Specifically, the muscles don't get any larger and the strength is not increased further. There is an optimal rate of training for continued increase in muscular size and strength.

Alcohol Fuel May Buy Time, But Cost to be High

COLLEGE STATION .. There is good news and bad news for the farmer who wants to make his own fuel.

That was the message for participants in an Alcohol-Fuel Sumposium sponsored jointly by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University last week.

The good news is that technology needed for building successful on-farm ethanol plants is developing rapidly and alcohol fuel may be the short-term answer for current fuel problems. The bad news is that smallscale alcohol plants are not yet economically feasible for the average farmer unless federal and state tax credits are favorable.

"Now is the time to think alcohol," Dr. R.R. Davison, professor of chemical engineering at Texas A&M University, told conferees. Davison believes that as a short-term solution to high prices and scarce petroleum fuel, alcohol is the fuel which will give the nation lead time for developing alternate

"There is a high possibility that alcohol can become a very important fuel, and technology is available already for converting gasoline driven motors to alcohol fuel," he said. Experiments that Davison has conducted since 1972 with Dr. W.B. Harris, also a Texas A&M chemical engineering professor, on fueling automobile engines with methanol and ethanol show that the conversion is relatively simple.

"Although we can never produce enough ethanol to eliminate our dependence upon petroleum, if we can reduce oil imports while coal and other alternate fuels are developed, alcohol production will have served its purpose," Davison said.

Practical techniques and safety warnings for the onfarm alcohol producer were detailed for conference participants by Dr. Bobby L. Clary, professor of agricultural engineering at Oklahoma State University. Critical to fermentation of the feedstock which has been cooked to gelatinize starches. and treated with enzymes to convert starches to sugar is control of temperature. Clary warned. Fermentation takes place best at about 90 degrees F., never over 95 degrees. Control of pH (acidity) is also important, he

Agitation of feedstock during cooking, saccharification and fermentation is essential, Clary

"Producers must also have a knowledge of safety hazards to avoid real problems," Clary pointed out. High pressures, high temperatures, possible explosion of ethanol or dusts, handling acids, and threat of suffocation from improper disposal of carbon dioxide, a by-product of production, are dangers the farmer must be aware of.

Economically, Clary said, commercial producers with larger operations than onfarm units can make ethanol for $1.60 per gallon and sell it for up to $2 per gallon. Crucial to cost efficiency, however, is the federal and state tax subsidy of $1.05 in his home state. Oklahoma. Not many states have yet matched the federal tax credit of 40 cents a gallon for ethanol, the engineer added.

An economist's analysis of ethanol production costs conveyed the bad news to would-be farmer fuel manufacturers.

Dr. Loyd K. Fischer, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Nebraska, told his listeners that his analysis of a plant producing 6,000 gallons

Sprinkles, who described his own plant, said he has made several changes in his plant since operation began. He emphasized the value of a hydraulic system to provide power for agitating the cooker and fermentation tank. He also told conferees that careful steam cleaning of fermentation tanks between batches was essential to eliminate harmful bacteria.

Texas Ranks in Top 10 In Poultry Production

COLLEGE STATION ... More chickens, more eggs and more money were the fruits of labor for Texas poultry producers last year.

Texas ranked well within the "top 10" states in all categories of poultry and egg production in 1979, continuing a trend of several years, point out Dr. David B. Mellor and Dr. James H. Denton, poultry marketing specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. who compiled the informa-

The specialists report that Texas ranked sixth among the states in gross income generated from poultry and egg production, accounting for about 5 percent of all such income in the U.S. Leading states in this category are Arkansas, Georgia, North Carlina, California and Alabama. Gross income from egg and poultry products rose 8.5 percent in Texas and about 11 percent for the U.S. as a whole last year.

Texas remained ninth among all states in total egg production for the second year in a row and eighth in income solely from eggs. In Texas, the average price for a dozen eggs was 65.9 cents. up 5.1 cents from 1978. Nationwide, eggs/ rose 6.1 cents a dozen during 1979.

Americans also ate more eggs in 1979--283 eggs each, or five more than in 1978. However, egg consumption increased less than egg production because more eggs were used in hatching

broilers and replacement

Broiler production also increase in Texas last year but was offset by increases in all 21 major broiler states. Because of this, Texas still ranked seventh in both production and income from broilers, point out Mellor and Denton. The average live weight price for broilers in Texas was 27.5 cents per pound, compared to the average U.S. price of 25.9

U.S. consumption of young chickens such as broilerfryers, roasters and capons rose to about 49.2 pounds last year. 4.5 pounds more than in 1978. The specialists expected this to increase another 1 or 2 pounds in 1980 as more broilers move to Texas turkey production increased slightly but generated less income for producers. Gross income from turkeys dropped from $64.2 million in 1978 to $60.8 million last year. The average price for turkeys in Texas was 43.9 cents a pound in 1978 compared to only 40 cents last vear.

Beef a Key Zinc Source

Beef is an excellent source of zinc, reports the National Live Stock and Meat Board. A 100 gram (31/2 ounce) portion of cooked lean beef provides 5.8 mg. Animal sources such as beef are reliable contributors of zinc to the diet. In contrast, cereals and legumes, although containing significant amounts of zinc, also contain substances that may interfere with the intestinal absorption of this element. Losses of zinc in milling are also significant. For these reasons it is best to rely primarily on animal sources for an optimal supply of zinc.

Meat Helps Improve Diet

One of the best examples of a food with a high number of nutrients for the calories it contains is beef. A 3-ounce serving of lean, cooked beef supplies significant amounts of high-quality protein, iron, zinc and the B-vitamins niacin, thiamin, riboflavin, B-6 and B-12, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Yet this serving contains less than 160 calories, making it a nutritional bargain.
