HOUSTON (AP) — A U.S. Justice Department lawyer has testified that an FBI informant in the Brilab investigation could be considered "a central figure in insurance fraud in the United States."

Bruce Kelton, the first witness Wednesday in the federal court trial of Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton and Austin attorneys Randall Wood and Donald Ray, was subjected to a sharp cross-examination on the part played by informant Joseph Hauser.

The defense made it clear they would attempt to prove that Hauser was "trying to land a big fish in the investigation" so he would get a short prison term on his second conviction involving insurance schemes.

Kelton said Hauser had received a 30-month sentence on the first conviction, but on the second charge — filed in Phoenix, Ariz. — had pleaded guilty and agreed to work with the FBI Brilab, so-called for "Bribery-Labor."

After the Brilab probe, Hauser was given two years on the guilty plea, but this was to run concurrently with the previous sentence. Kelton also testified that this meant Hauser wouldn't have to serve a single extra day in jail.

The justice department lawyer also said Hauser was paid over $50,000 for his assistance, including $1,500 a month for apartment rent. Clayton, Wood and Ray were indicted June 12 by a federal grand jury on charges of extortion, racketeering, fraud and conspiracy in an alleged insurance kickback scheme.

Also charged was L.G. Moore of Deer Park, regional director of the International Operating Engineers Union. He will be tried later.

Earlier, in opening arguments, Roy Minton, Clayton's attorney, said the FBI used "lies, put together a sham, and misrepresented things" in an effort to get an indictment against Clayton. He said the "government actually attempted to create a crime where there is no crime. I am personally offended by the action of my government."

"No one in the FBI ever heard anything bad about Speaker Clayton. He had never even cheated at marbles."

Assistant U.S. Attorney Ron Woods said the secret Brilab tapes "will let you hear this crime unfold. You will get an insight into Texas politics."

Clayton is accused of accepting a $5,000 bribe for his influence in delivering a multimillion-dollar-a-year state employees health insurance contract to a firm Hauser claimed he represented.

Clayton said he received the $5,000 but considered it a campaign contribution and planned to return it to Moore

Woods said Russell "Rusty" Kelley, the executive assistant to Clayton, would be called as a government witness.

He said Kelley lied when questioned by FBI agents, but could not lie before a grand jury and told Clayton of his plans to reveal the $5,000 payment.

Woods said Clayton also lied to the FBI, saying he had never received any money from Moore "and then later held a press conference and said he did get the money but thought it was a campaign contribution."

Minton said it was Kelley who had lied and Clayton who had told the truth from the first.

U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor denied motions filed by two high-ranking union officials asking they be excused as government witnesses in the trial.

Motions to quash the subpoenas to appear were filed on behalf of Sherman Fricks, business manager of Pipe Fitters Local 211 and former secretary-treasurer of the Texas AFL-CIO, and Harold Grubbs, education director of the local.

The union officials said they were fighting the subpoenas on grounds they had been told on numerous occasions they would be indicted in the Brilab probe.

Fun Breakfast Fanfare

Some of those attending the Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast go through the routine of sitting on balloons to get activities started with a bang. At right, Lynton Allred was "back in the chips" this morning after having a Bullchip award he loaned out for an earlier presentation restored to his possession. Awarding of cash prizes in the form of Hereford Bucks and a computerized printout on proceedings highlighted the breakfast, which was attended by over 200. (Brand photos by Allison Ryan).

C of C Fun Breakfast Draws 220

A crowd of early risers were treated to fun and games, cash prizes and community announcements at the C of C Fun Breakfast this morning at the Community Center.

One man who didn't rise early and attend the breakfast was C.E. Coleman. Everyone knew because his name was drawn from the chamber members' list and he missed out on $150 in Hereford Bucks.

The coveted Bull Chip award turned out to be a re-issue this month. Co-emcee Lynton Allred had previously been presented one of the awards, but the chamber borrowed his plaque in an emergency and put another name on it. Co-emcee Doug Manning thus re-issued a plaque to his cohort.

Two cash winners were named at the event. Steve Gilbert took home $75 and Andrew Kershen won $25 in Hereford Bucks.

Sponsor of this month's breakfast was Computer Systems & Solutions, a new business opening in Hereford under the management of Mike and Patsy Patrick and Bobby Jones. The sponsors helped the emcees keep track of the agenda this morning by giving them a computer printout as the program progressed.

Mike Carr, C of C executive vice president, introduced several new teachers as special guests at the event. All the new teachers had been invited to attend the breakfast. Cal also introduced several new chamber members and presented a membership plaque to the newest member—Computer Systems & Solutions.

Representatives from various organizations made announcements on coming community events. These included Gene Brock, inviting citizens to attend an open house for Hereford Satellite Center Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.; Bill Devers, promoting the Chamber Singer concert on Sept. 28; George Ochs, announced the Whiteface Kiwanis Arts & Crafts Show is set Nov. 7-8;

Also: Mark Andrews and Raymond White, reporting

the United Way campaign gets underway Oct. 1; Travis McPherson, reporting on the Art Guild "Extravaganza" to be held Oct. 25-26; Gary Phipps, promoting the Rotary Club's annual Car

Show on Oct. 11-12; Mary Sledge, reporting on Beta Sigma Phi's Golden Anniversary observance and a convention set here Oct. 25-26; and Ann Carroll announcing the observance of National Needleworkers Association Week.

The next Fun Breakfast is scheduled for November, when local merchants will sponsor the event and display unique Christmas-giving ideas.

Iran Fails to Set Up Panel

By The Associated Press

Iran's Parliament failed today to set up a committee to deal with the 52 American hostages, and hardline deputies harshly denounced the United States. Tehran Radio said the regime will not release the captives easily.

The next session of the Parliament or Majlis was not officially announced, but it was expected to reconvene on Sunday.

The Parliament first took up the hostage issue on Tuesday. At that time it voted to set up a committee to deal with the 320-day-old crisis and scheduled another meeting today to work out details.

But reports from Tehran today said the latest session failed to reach a decision, as hardline deputies of the majority Islamic Republican Party reiterated demands for an official U.S. condemnation of alleged past interference in Iranian affairs.

Otherwise, said Ali Agha Mohammadi, "we will try the spy hostages according to the Vassighah (the Moslem religious penal code) that says the punishment for a spy is death."

A second deputy, identified only as Rep. Bayat, said, "We are not ready to negotiate with American (on the hostages) because in our view the U.S. government is an infidel."

"We still shout: Death to America and do not trust in its words and promises," Bayat said. He proposed that the Americans be tried by an "Islamic court in Iran attended by international jurists."

The Parliament then went into closed session to hear a report on "security issues" from Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai and his military chiefs. The report presumably dealt with the worsening border war with Iraq.

On Wednesday, Iraq

abrogated a 1975 border accord with Iran because of the frontier fighting.

Meanwhile, the Tehran Radio broadcast appeared to signal a possible hardening of Iran's terms for the release of the Americans, now in their 320th day of captivity. It also appeared to take aim at President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, who has been campaigning for the early release of the Americans.

"Those at home and abroad who are struggling to misrepresent the act of taking the CIA spies hostages as counter-revolutionary and hence to accelerate their release now that the shah is dead, must know that our nation...will not release them easily," the state radio said, adding: "America must give in to our demands."

Saudis Hike Oil Price By $2 Per Barrel

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Taking what it said was a step toward OPEC pricing unity, Saudi Arabia — the oil cartel's largest producer and America's chief foreign oil supplier — raised its price from $28 to $30 a barrel. In return, OPEC militants agreed to freeze their $35 to $37 a barrel prices, until mid-December.

U.S. economists predicted the $2 a barrel Saudi increase would add less than one cent a gallon to the retail price of gasoline and heating oil in the United States.

The surprise Saudi price hike took effect immediately after it was announced Wednesday night, as the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries concluded an often acrimonious three-day meeting in Vienna. The new Saudi price is 125 percent above the $13.34 it was charging on Jan. 1, 1979.

Rene Ortiz, the cartel's secretary general, said the OPEC oil ministers reviewed the world market and decided that excessive stockpiling by the industrialized nations justified the increase.

"There's no hole in the world that could absorb more oil," he told reporters early today, describing the world glut caused by largely by high Saudi production.

Ortiz said the oil ministers unanimously backed the plan which at Saudi Arabia's request cuts the official OPEC benchmark price from $32 to $30 for a 42-gallon barrel. However, since OPEC militants will not be rolling back their prices, the net result is an increase of $2 a barrel by Saudi Arabia, which produces one-third of OPEC's daily output of 27 million barrels.

"Our price will remain at $35," Iranian Oil Minister Ali Akbar Moinefar told reporters early today. "It's a great victory for OPEC. We've come to some compromise. We are happy."

Iran's allies, Libya and Algeria, charge $37 a barrel for their oil, as does Nigeria.

In return for the Saudi increase, the militants pledged to freeze their prices until at least Dec. 15, the date of the next OPEC pricing session to be held in Bali, Indonesia. That blocks the price "leapfrogging" in which other OPEC members have raised prices each time the Saudis boosted theirs.

To help assure that the militants don't break their

ASUNCION, Paraguay

(AP) — Paraguayan authorities pressed a massive manhunt today for the guerrilla squad that assassinated ousted Nicaraguan dictator Anastasio Somoza in a hail of machine-gun and bazooka fire so devastating his mistress could identify the body only through his wristwatch.

Somoza's financial adviser and chauffeur also died in the Wednesday morning attack in the Paraguayan capital.

Police closed the Asuncion airport and sealed the country's borders with Argentina and Brazil in an effort to keep the attackers from leaving the country. Paraguayan authorities say they think six people took part in the fusillade that left the 54-year-old Somoza riddled with some two dozen bullets and his limousine demolished.

Authorities say Somoza's bodyguards, who returned the attackers fire from a car trailing the ousted strongman's limousine, wounded one of the assailants. The government has called on citizens to report anyone seeking medical attention for a bullet wound.

The right-wing government of Paraguayan President Alfredo Stroessner, the friend who granted Somoza asylum after his ouster by Nicaragua's Sandinista guerrillas in 1979, distributed photographs of a man and a woman believed to have taken part in the ambush.

The two, identified as Hugo Alfredo Irurzun and Silvia Mercedes Hodggers, were described as members of the Peoples Revolutionary Army, a left-wing Argentine guerrilla group. Officials offered a reward of $40,000 for information leading to the capture of the two, whose photos were picked out of police files by witnesses to the slaying.

Police said several persons had been arrested for "investigation in connection with the assassination." They gave no details.

Interior Minister Augusto Montanaro described the slaying as "a criminal attack almost certainly perpetrated by a group of foreign terrorists heavily armed with bazookas, automatic rifles and pistols of U.S. fabrication."

In Washington, the Carter administration, accused by Somoza of contributing to his downfall by failing to provide support, reacted with caution. "Naturally we deplore any assassination no matter where it occurs or who is affected," said spokesman John Tritner.

Nicaraguans by the thousands greeted news of Somoza's death by pouring into the streets for celebrations. Violeta Chamorro, the widow of slain journalist Joaquin Chamorro, said: "Sooner or later God had to do justice." Chamorro's death, blamed on Somoza's government, sparked the final, bloody uprising which toppled Somoza in July 1979 and ended 43 years of Somoza family rule in Nicaragua.

Somoza's mangled body was taken from a hospital to the villa where he had lived with his mistress, Dinorah Sampson — a Nicaraguan — and an undetermined number of bodyguards. The woman was taken to the hospital to

Ruling Due Friday In Exhumation

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The counsel for the House Assassinations Committee says the panel thought claims that Lee Harvey Oswald had been replaced by a Soviet spy so dubious that it purposely avoided questioning the author who promotes the impostor theory.

Michael Eddowes advanced the theory in his book, "The Oswald File," and has fought numerous legal battles to exhume the body.

A judge may rule Friday on whether the body buried in Rose Hill Burial Park here should be unearthed.

Robert Blakey, former general counsel for the assassinations committee, said the committee purposely skirted Eddowes to avoid publicizing issues it concluded were of dubious importance.

"It was so preposterous and so far out that we did not want to give him (Eddowes) space in our limited hearings," Blakey said. "This kind of publicity in Fort Worth now does a disservice to the American people."

"Apart from this agony it causes the Oswald family, people ought to say, — people in the position to know — how

Walcott School Board Okays Tax Dist. Role

Members of the Walcott School Board approved participation in a central tax appraisal and collection district during their regular meeting Tuesday night at Walcott.

The move is in line with actions being taken by other governmental taxing bodies in the county aimed at centralizing assessing and collecting activities.

Board members accepted the resignation of trustee Gene Bradley, who is moving from the Walcott area to Dimmitt.

Action on appointment of a new board member to replace Bradley was tabled.

Trustees adopted a policy providing for transportation of Walcott students to after-school activities.

Board members also adopted a policy dealing with the transfer of students from Walcott into the Hereford Independent School District.

Provision for permanent facilities for one fire truck at the Walcott School was also made by board members.

In other action, board members approved a student transfer and reviewed facts concerning the water well history in the Walcott area and the cost of watering school lawns.

Bell Testifies For Rate Hike

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Inflation and increased competition have made it tougher for AT&T to attract the money it needs to keep the phones connected, says a Florida finance professor.

Eugene Brigham of the University of Florida was the second witness for Southwest Bell Telephone Co. as it tried to convince a Public Utility Commission hearing examiner Wednesday that the company needs the $326.3 million it requested.

The professor testified the Bell System may have to fight its new competitors with "one hand tied behind its back."

"At this point, investors' behavior indicates that they have begun to perceive AT&T's investment risk to be comparable to that of the large industrial companies," Brigham said in pre-filed testimony.

Those other large industries do not have to operate under the maze of regulations that Bell faces, he contended.

"Telephone utilities are required to provide a prescribed level of basic telephone service to all new and existing customers in their service areas. Industrial firms ... have no obligation to expand. They can defer expansion, abandon unprofitable products or markets," he said.

Zip Codes

To Get Longer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite complaints Americans will be driven

"digit dizzy," a U.S. Postal Service official says ZIP codes will be expanded to nine numbers for all the nation's 79 million addresses by the end of next year.

Michael S. Coughlin, assistant postmaster general, told a House Government Operations subcommittee that a major benefit of the longer code will be increased efficiency and "longer periods of time between rate increases."

"We hope!" was the skeptical reply of Rep. David Evans, D-Ind., who chaired the hearing into the ZIP code change.

The Postal Service plans to begin distributing new code assignments — adding four new digits to the present code — next February. Large-volume mailers are first on the list, with home addresses to be included by the end of the year.

Hijackers

To be Returned

MIAMI (AP) — The Cuban government said today it would return to the United States two Cubans who forced a jet to Havana on Wednesday. The government said it was taking the action to deter further hijackings.

The announcement followed by two days a Cuban vow to get tough on homesick exiles responsible for a spate of recent hijackings.

The hijacking was the 10th in the United States in the past six weeks, and authorities said most were carried out by disgruntled Cuban refugees who came to the United States this year in the "Freedom Flotilla."

Quoting the newspaper Granma, the official organ of the Cuban Communist Party, Havana radio said: "With the purpose of definitely ending these acts that may endanger the lives of hundreds of innocent peoples, our revolution has been forced to take the most drastic decision."

"Therefore, the perpetrators of the hijacking will be returned immediately to the United States."

Rape Cases

Not Connected

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Investigators trailing a man who has raped at least 16 West Texas women say there is nothing to link cases here to similar brutal attacks in Shreveport, La.

Two Shreveport investigators, armed with stacks of reports on the local assaults, flew here this week to compare notes with officers pursuing the "Traveling Rapist."

But after two days of discussions, investigators from both states, decided there was no connection, said Hal Hensley of the Lubbock District Attorney's office.

"We pondered over it and spent all morning talking about it," Hensley said Wednesday night. "It's not there. There are some similarities, but the similarities are not strong enough to lead us to believe there is a probability or even a possibility that it's one and the same."

Earlier this week Shreveport Capt. Sam Burns said news accounts of the West Texas "Traveling Rapist" described attacks similar to rapes occurring in his city.

Hensley said the "Traveling Rapist" preys on single women who usually live alone. He wears a ski mask, cotton gloves, carries a flashlight and is armed with either a knife or a gun, Hensley said.

The attacks have occurred in Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene and Fort Worth over the last nine months, Hensley said.

USSR Steps Up Missile Output

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union is stepping up the output of a powerful nuclear missile with a range of over 3,000 miles and carrying three warheads, each with a punch of 150,000 tons of TNT, the authoritative International Institute of Strategic Studies said today.

The Institute said Moscow has increased the rate of its deployment of the SS-20 missile to one every seven days and now has 160 ready to go into action. The organization called this "disturbing."

The SS-20, which is replacing the aging SS-4 Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile first deployed in 1959, is only one weapon in a buildup that has given the Soviet Union and its satellites a big lead over the United States and the Western allies in both strategic and conventional armaments, the Institute said.

There is little hope of paring the communist advantage until the alliance begins putting into service new long-range missile systems expected in three to four years time, the Institute said in its annual survey of world military might — The Military Balance 1980-1981. The survey covers research by its staff up to July.

The Institute is frequently consulted by leading governmental figures throughout the non-communist world. This year's Balance is the 21st by the organization, which is devoted to the study of the problems of international security, defense and arms control in the nuclear age.

The Institute said the Soviet program of modernization of intercontinental missiles has reached a point where more than "half the ICBM force is now less than 10 years old." The newest American ICBMs, the Minuteman III, were first deployed in 1970.

Minuteman III carries three warheads with the equivalent of 170,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT each. The Soviet SS-18, which is replacing the SS-9, carries one warhead with the equivalent of 18 to 25 million tons of TNT.

The institute said the SS-18 is reportedly to be used "against deep underground shelters."

A new generation of shorter-range missiles for use on battlefields, the SS-21, 22 and 23, are about to enter service, if some have not already done so, according to the Military Balance.

It added that evidence is growing that the Soviets are also striving to develop a new long-range bomber, probably to be equipped with long-range, air-launched missiles.

Similar modernization programs are going on in the Soviet navy, the Institute said, with two new nuclear-propelled attack submarines and a new cruiser reported on trial and two new cruise missiles.

The Institute warned the United States to hurry along more survivable strategic nuclear forces although it agreed that the MX, the new U.S. mobile ICBM, and the takeover by the longer-range Trident C-4 missile from the Poseidon in American submarines "will go far to assure the credibility of the American deterrent."

Club Wants Moratorium On N-Disposal Sites

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas should impose an immediate moratorium on selection of new radioactive disposal sites until a more effective state regulatory program can be established, a Sierra Club chapter says.

"Many people already view Texas as the next major site for the disposal of 'low level' radioactive wastes because of the vast quantities of out-of-state wastes currently stored and processed here," the club's Lone Star Chapter said Wednesday.

In a position paper, the outdoor recreation and environmentalist group warned that new state disposal laws could create more problems than they solve.

"Possibly the greatest problem would be the danger that new legislation might open the door ... to unlimited disposal in the state of wastes generated throughout the country," the chapter said.

The chapter said it could support a state low level waste management law only after determining disposal is "the only viable alternative to closing down medical research and other such facilities in the state."

And the chapter said low level waste disposal in Texas should be restricted to medical and similar wastes.

The group also stressed that high-priority attention should be given to the "human factor" in operating waste disposal sites.

"Experiences with the handling of radioactive materials have indicated that the 'human factor' is a critical one in ensuring that the public health and safety is protected," the chapter said.

"Thus, employee training and development should receive high priority in the drafting and implementation of operations plans for waste management facilities."

The chapter said its position paper represented the opinions of several thousand members of the Sierra Club in Texas.

The paper recommended that any low level radioactive waste disposal site should be owned by a public entity. But it said the chapter could support private ownership of storage, transport and processing facilities.

The chapter also said any state agency regulating waste disposal should have the authority "to reject a proposed site if the site does not meet established criteria."

It said extensive scientific and valid background monitoring of the air, ground and surface water, and vegetation near a proposed site should be required prior to selection.

And it said the scientific monitoring should continue after operations are underway.

Disposal operations should be required to employ a full-time radiation expert and all equipment and alarm systems should be inspected daily, the chapter said.

It said the state radiation control agency "should be empowered to suspend operations at the facility without having to hold a prior administrative hearing on the matter."

However, it added any emergency suspension should be followed by an expedited administrative hearing on whether the facility should be reopened after correcting problems identified in the reports.

The chapter also said the Legislature or governor's office should commission a study on how and "to what extent shallow land burial of low level radioactive wastes presents a risk to public health and environmental quality."

ABC Building Momentum

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC, which wrestled first place in the prime-time ratings race from CBS nearly two months ago, was No. 1 in the ratings last week for the fourth week in a row, according to figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co.

ABC, which led the TV competition for six of the last seven weeks, compiled a rating of 19.1 for the period Sept. 8-14, nearly four full points ahead of CBS. NBC was third with a rating of 12.7.

The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 19.1 percent of the nation's TV-equipped homes were watching ABC.

CBS ended the 1979-80 season in first place by a tenth of a point over ABC.

The start of 1980-81 programming has been delayed by the actors' strike in Hollywood, which began July 21, and the networks have been confined to broadcasting shows completed before the strike, those not affected by the labor dispute and repeats.

ABC's most recent triumph was due in part to a big audience for "The Women's Room," a movie not previously broadcast.

The rating for the made-for-TV movie based on the novel by Marilyn French was 28.2. Nielsen says that means of all the homes in the country with television, 28.2 percent saw at least part of the movie.

ABC listed a dozen of the week's 20 most-watched shows, including "Three's Company" in second place and the "Monday Night Football" game between Dallas and Washington in third.

Another professional football game broadcast by ABC during the week, a Thursday night contest between Los Angeles and Tampa Bay, was 18th in the ratings, while a baseball game on NBC Tuesday night between Los Angeles and Houston did not do as well — 43rd.

"Dallas," in fifth place, Car Troubles

More than the recession has hit the auto industry in the 1970's, The Conference Board notes. Escalating raw materials costs and mandated safety devices have jacked up prices, which rose slower for cars than most other consumer goods in the 1960's. In addition, the number of new drivers — which boomed as post-war babies reached driving age — is beginning to decline, and gasoline prices have increased rapidly.

was CBS' highest-rated show, while NBC's most-watched program, "50 Years of Country Music," was No. 12.

NBC had all five of the week's lowest-rated programs, including "Disneyland's 25th Anniversary," an original show, in 56th place.

The Disney program was followed in the ratings by "Me and Maxx Special," "A Man Called Sloane," "Six O'Clock Follies" and "Good Time Harry."

Here are the week's Top 10 programs:

- Movie, "The Women's Room," with a rating of 28.2 representing 21.9 million homes, "Three's Company," 25.2 or 19.6 million, "NFL Monday Night Football," Dallas vs. Washington, 23.4 or 18.2 million, and "That's Incredible," 21.4 or 16.6 million, all ABC; "Dallas," 21.2 or 16.5 million, CBS; "Laverne and Shirley," 20.7 or 16.1 million, ABC; "M-A-S-H," 19.4 or 15.1 million, CBS; "Pearl," Part I, 19.2 or 14.9 million, and "60 Minutes" and "The Jeffersons," both 19.1 or 14.8 million, both CBS.

- The next 10 shows: "Fantasy Island," ABC; "50 Years of Country Music," NBC; "Happy Days" and "Love Boat," both ABC, tie; "Dukes of Hazzard," CBS; "Pearl," Part II, ABC; "Alice," CBS; "NFL Football Special," Los Angeles vs. Tampa Bay, ABC; Movie—"Anatomy of a Seduction," and Movie—"The Big Sleep," both CBS.

Break-In, Burglary Reported Locally

City police are investigating a break-in at a local vegetable packing shed and a burglary which occurred at a city residence Wednesday.

The break-in occurred at Barrett-Fisher Co. on New York Ave. and according to a police department spokesman approximately $150 damage was done to the building at that site as those responsible kicked in a door to gain entry.

A check was underway at the shed this morning to determine if anything was taken in the break-in.

A stereo and men's clothing was taken from a residence in the 300 block of Ave. J Wednesday.

Police have no suspects in either incident at this time. City police issued a total of 13 traffic citations Wednesday and answered nine police-related calls.

identify the body, but was unable to recognize it, police said. She identified on his arm a wristwatch he customarily wore.

The Paraguayan government identified the other men killed as driver-bodyguard Cesar Gallardo, a Nicaraguan, and financial adviser Joseph Peitner, a Colombian.

Sources said Somoza's son Anastasio, a former colonel in the Nicaraguan National Guard, would arrive in the Paraguayan capital today. They would not discount the possibility that he would take his father's body to Miami for burial. Somoza first fled Nicaragua for Miami, where he owned considerable real estate, but left the United States to avoid the possibility of extradition.

The attack occurred at 10 a.m. time as Somoza, Peitner and Gallardo followed by three bodyguards in an escort car, left the walled villa on a trip to downtown Asuncion some 15 to 20 minutes away.

The two cars had gone only seven blocks when they were intercepted by Chevrolet pickup with three occupants who opened fire with automatic weapons at Somoza's vehicle, police said. The bodyguards in the escort car immediately returned the fire, but Somoza's car suddenly exploded, hit by a bazooka shell fired from a nearby house, police and witnesses said.

Several more explosions were heard, witnesses said, and the pickup sped out of sight. The vehicle was found abandoned several blocks away. It contained a bazooka, several submachine guns and pistols, wigs and jackets, police said.

Three attackers who had fired from the house ran to a nearby avenue and stopped at gunpoint a car driven by Julio Carbone, an Argentine architect who lives in Asuncion. He was ordered out and the gunmen sped away in the car.

Carbone later told police that the gunmen had been fair-skinned and had spoken with definite Argentine or Uruguayan accents.

The house from which the bazooka was fired had been vacant but was rented only a few days ago, neighbors said, to five persons believed to be Argentines and Uruguayans and including at least one woman.

Police said blood was found inside the house, leading to the belief that at least one guerrilla had been wounded.

pledge, the Saudis said they will continue to produce 9.5 million barrels of oil a day, a rate that virtually guarantees a continued world market glut and makes it hard for the militants to sell their high priced oil.

Saudi production is about 1 million barrels a day higher than they themselves prefer. They agreed to it in July, 1979 in response to a U.S. request to offset losses caused by production decreases stemming from the Islamic revolution in Iran.

Saudi officials said their agreement to boost their price, the lowest charged by any cartel member, was intended to help unify the organization's prices and move toward another effort to adopt a long-term price and production strategy.

Saudi Oil Minister Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani had said early Wednesday that his country would not raise its price unless the militants in the cartel lowered theirs.

Oswald

evil this suit is. There is no merit. There is nothing to be gained by digging that man up except harm to his family."

Michael Goldsmith, senior staff counsel for the committee from 1977-79 said he is sure there was no substitution while Oswald was in Russia.

"There is no question at all that the Lee Harvey Oswald who came back from Russia in 1962 is the same one who defected to Russia in 1959," said Goldsmith, now a visiting law professor at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn.

Both men say questioning the identity of the body only deflects attention from a more important question: Who assassinated President John F. Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963?

"The conclusion of the committee was that two people were shooting at President Kennedy in Dallas, and sideshowes like this one now going on in Fort Worth divert from the central question," said Blakey, now a law professor at Notre Dame University.

Marina Oswald Porter, Oswald's widow, has given Eddowes permission to open the grave. But Robert Oswald, a Wichita Falls businessman, filed suit to halt the exhumation.

A court official said Wednesday that State District Judge James Wright had told him he would rule on the lawsuit Friday.

However, it may be some time before the question is settled. Attorneys for both sides have said they would appeal if Wright rules against them. And after appeal avenues are exhausted, a suit requiring a lengthy hearing on a permanent injunction could be filed.

Wednesday, sources said the FBI had contacted attorneys in the case, asking for permission to observe the exhumation and autopsy as an "impartial observer."

The FBI, however, declined to comment.

"We have no objections (to the FBI being present) at this time under the circumstances," said Eddowes' Dallas attorney, Jerry Pittman.

Pittman said Blakey and Goldsmith probably have not read Eddowes' book or examined his claims.

"They basically are just writing him off without examining his study of the evidence," he said.

Blakey said in three separate tests, fingerprints, photographs and handwriting samples taken before and after Oswald's defection were judged identical by experts.

"The only thing that could be done to add to it would be to look at his dental X-rays and anybody crazy enough to believe one Oswald went to Russia and another came back is not going to be satisfied with the dental X-rays, either."

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Former Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman says he wants to donate most of the money from his forthcoming book to his "Save the River" Committee.

Hoffman was in Portland for a taping of the Phil Donahue talk show for broadcast today.

The Internal Revenue Service has slapped a lien on the earnings Hoffman could make from his book, "Soon To Be A Major Motion Picture." Hoffman said he would like most of the money, if released, to go to his St. Lawrence River environmental group.

"Every single penny is assigned to people," Hoffman said. "I suppose I'll make some money on it."

Hoffman had been a fugitive since 1974 after jumping bail on a charge he sold cocaine to an undercover police officer in 1973. He was released from jail in New York on Tuesday after posting $10,000 of a $25,000 bail.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)

— In the 1960s, a Florida State University student known as "Buddy" dropped out of school and became an actor, but he didn't forget his FSU friends.

And on Wednesday, Burt Reynolds gave $600,000 to help set up an endowed professorship in theater.

A football injury cut short Reynolds' career as a college halfback, but since leaving school, he's continued to work toward a bachelor's degree.

Reynolds said he was "extremely fortunate" to be able to make such a contribution to help others, "especially since this help is being channeled through the university which gave me so much opportunity to grow and develop."

A Nation of Nincompoops - US? Ouch, That Hurts!

A nation of nincompoops-US? Ouch, that hurts! School and college test scores declining precipitously. Is Prof. Shockley right? He says because the smartest Americans have the lowest birthrates, the process of "dysgenics" is diluting our nation's brains. Then - just as you are about ready to give up on us - you hear from Sumter, S.C., that there is a way out, a way back, a way up. I cannot entirely remove myself from what I am about to relate, because the superintendent of Sumter County, S.C., schools, H. William Mitchell, says that he was inspired to try something by something I had said at a public meeting in his community in March of 1979. He was motivated, he says, to reinspire excellence in his country's schools. This involves 15 schools, 10,000 students, half-and-half, black and white. What has happened since required the support of parents, the cooperation of the school board and the willingness of teachers and staff to participate in a grand adventure: Relearning to think positively! Billboards and bumper stickers soon parroted the theme: "Think positively!" TV and radio stations and newspapers and book covers and milk cartons soon spread the word: "Think positively." And with a formula no more complicated than that, a new enthusiasm for excellence began to permeate the community.

Now the results: After one year, all 11 primary objectives of the countywide effort have been realized.

For the first time in history, the first grade students in all 15 schools scored above the national average.

Fifty-three percent of one school's third grade students scored above the national average. This was a 10 percent increase in one year. Eleventh-grade students in one school improved reading skills in the one year from 6.4 to 7.7. Science achievement improved from 7.2 to 8.7.

At St. John Elementary School, predominantly black, rural, the greatest test achievement in the district. Where first grade students had been achieving at a .7 level, they are now achieving at a level of 1.7.

Student attendance at all schools increased 2.31 percent to an all-time high 94.31 percent.

Vandalism in the schools during this past year was nil. That means "none."

Student expulsions decreased, parent involvement was enhanced.

So impressive to academicians is the miracle of Sumter County that educators are asking for details from as far away as Venezuela and India.

And Superintendent Mitchell says, "Wait'll next year; our goals are even higher!"

Superintendent Mitchell, Sir, lead on!

Italy's Abortion Law Becomes Issue

VATICAN CITY (AP) - Pope John Paul II's campaign to overturn Italy's liberal abortion law has provoked angry personal attacks on the pontiff and rekindled the bitter controversy between the Roman Catholic Church and Italy's secular political parties.

"The pope's attack (on abortion) is a challenge to the sovereignty of our nation," declared Loris Fortuna, a Socialist member of Parliament, who announced the formation of an inter-party group to "protect" the two-year-old abortion law.

Enacted over vigorous opposition by the church and the church-backed Christian Democratic Party, the law permits free abortions on demand for women aged 18 or over in the first 90 days of pregnancy. Nearly 200,000 legal abortions were reported in Italy last year.

John Paul, in an effort to build momentum for a Vatican conference of more than 200 bishops on the role of modern Christian family starting Sept. 26, has mounted new strong attacks on abortion and artificial means of birth control.

"Maternity is sacred," the pope declared during a visit to Siena last Sunday, standing next to Cardinal Giovanni Benelli of Florence, a leader of Italy's anti-abortion movement. "How is it possible to speak of human rights when the life of the unborn is threatened?"

In a visit to a Rome suburb last week, the pope condemned "attacks on fecundity itself with means that human and Christian ethics must consider illicit."

"What is euphemistically called 'interruption of pregnancy' cannot be judged from a viewpoint of authentic humaneness by anything except moral laws, conscience," the pope said on another occasion.

His remarks immediately evoked sharp criticism of the popular Polish-born pontiff from a wide spectrum of liberal and left-wing quarters of Italian politics.

"This is the same pope who demands absolute respect for sovereignty when it comes to his native Poland," said Parliament member Fortuna, referring to John Paul's appeals during the recent Polish labor crisis.

"A scandalous and shameful insult to the nation's law," charged the floor leader of the Radical Party, Adelaid Aglietta. "This pope from afar has learned to play Italian politics and thinks he can mobilize a majority in his attempt to interfere with the Italian legal process," observed Alfonso Gianni, a deputy of the far left Democratic Party for Proletariat Unity.

L'Unita, the Italian Communist Party newspaper, demanded that the pope "cease his maneuvers forthwith."

"Say okay to contraception, then you won't have any abortion to worry about," said a spokesman for a nationwide planned parenthood organization, AIED. The Vatican bans all forms of contraception using devices and chemicals such as the pill.

The church's Synod, held once every three years, is expected to endorse John Paul's strong opposition to abortion, divorce and artificial contraception. Many Vatican analysts see it as the formal opening of the church's legal battle to repeal the abortion law.

Republican Party Appoints John Clark

Chet Upham, chairman of the State Republican Party, has announced the appointment of John E. Clark of San Antonio as the 1980 Ballot Security Chairman for the Republican Party of Texas.

Clark served in a similar capacity in the 1978 gubernatorial campaign. A United States Attorney during the Ford administration, he is currently engaged in a private law practice.

In his announcement Upham stated: "We feel that the efforts of John Clark contributed greatly to the Republican victories in 1978 and are pleased that he has accepted this assignment for the 1980 campaign."

As part of the overall program, Clark stressed that Ballot Security includes having poll watchers at the polls on election day. "Poll watchers," Clark said, "will assure that only eligible voters cast ballots and that the voting process is conducted in accordance with the requirements of the Texas Election Code." Major emphasis will be put on a statewide network for reporting irregularities at the polls. In addition, Clark plans to implement an election night reporting system similar to the one used in Governor Clements' 1978 campaign.

Brookshier -- The Working Man's Color Man

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

This football Sunday is a perfect time to throw down a couple of cold brews with the guys and watch the Tampa Bay-Dallas game for the sheer fun of it. That's Tom Brookshier's game plan, and he'll be doing the national television broadcast.

Brookshier, who along with play-by-play man Pat Summerall forms CBS' No.1 football announcing team, cultivates a macho, fun-loving barroom image on the air, intimating how the game he's doing is just halftime between his last and next drinking bouts.

But that's not all there is to Brookshier, the working man's color man. To paraphrase the slogan for one of his favorite products, he's everything you always wanted in a man. And less.

—Did you know that Brookshier collects paintings from young artists? One year he gave pieces of art as Christmas presents to his crew.

—Did you know that when he has time off with his wife, Barbara, he enjoys redecorating the rooms in their suburban Philadelphia home?

—Did you know he likes to read a lot. He's currently wrestling with James Michener. "He's tough. I have to reread him," he says.

—Did you know he runs a charity golf tournament for cystic fibrosis?

—Did you know his ambition is to "some day raise big dogs and show horses. I want to find a good broodmare and live in the wilderness."

—Did you know he thinks the worst broadcasting job he ever did was his work in last January's Super Bowl? "I just wasn't as prepared as I can be. My confidence factor was at an all-time low."

Brookshier played for the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1950s and '60s when Chuck Bednarik was the last great two-way player. Brookshier only played defense, but today he seems to go both ways. Will the real Tom Brookshier please stand up? "I think I'm the guy who's been there but I haven't left the neighborhood. If I go out late at night, I still go to the diner to have eggs. I like to have a good time when I'm with the boys, but a lot of the things I say are because people want me to be that way.

"I appeal more to the working stiff, the 8-to-5 guy. He's much more a booster of mine than the real sophisticated fan. I can't betray that. It's very hard for me to ride in a limo."

I would get about 10 minutes of copy into a two-minute show."

Brookshier says his bosses were patient with him because he was still a football legend in town. "They waited for me to grow up. I think my injury helped. When I was carried off Franklin Field, the team made more of my loss than I did."

He moved to Philadelphia TV in 1964 when local broadcaster Jack Whitaker landed a network job at CBS. Several years later, Brookshier became the first former athlete to do play-by-play, not commentary.

He rose in the CBS ranks and was eventually teamed with the low-key Summerall. Super Bowl XIV was Brookshier's third Super Bowl — and his worst.

Philly Hurler Throws 5-4 Decision Over Pirates

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD
AP Sports Writer

Tug McGraw was cuffed around so badly by the Pittsburgh Pirates last year that he was listed as their batting practice pitcher in the program at an offseason banquet.

But the flaky Philadelphia left-hander's two victories this season (he has 17 saves), have both come against the defending champion Pirates, including a 5-4 decision in 11 innings Wednesday night.

With the triumph, the Phillies cut Montreal's lead in the National League East to 1 1/2-games when the Expos lost 5-2 to the New York Mets, while the Pirates stayed five games back.

In other NL games, Los Angeles took over sole possession of first place in the West with a 2-1 victory over San Diego, while Cincinnati beat Houston 7-0, San Francisco blanked Atlanta 2-0 and St. Louis whipped Chicago 8-5.

McGraw, who was the self-proclaimed Pittsburgh Most Valuable Player in 1979, won't get any awards from the Pirates this season.

"I wouldn't have accepted the invitation to the banquet except I knew the Pirates would have been disappointed not to have their MVP there," McGraw said. "Maybe now the plane won't shake every time I fly over Pittsburgh."

The Pirates battled back from a 4-1 deficit against 22-game winner Steve Carlton to tie the game. But McGraw pitched two shutout innings and Sparky Lyle registered his first National League save after Garry Maddox led off the 11th for the Phillies with a single, stole second and third and scored on Del Unser's pinch-single.

Mets 5, Expos 2
Montreal had its East Division lead sliced as Lee Mazzilli drove in four runs for New York with a homer and a sacrifice fly.

The Expos led 2-0 until the fifth inning, when Jose Moreno, batting for winning pitcher Dyar Miller, 1-1, opened with a single, went to third on a double by Mookie Wilson and scored on Wally Backman's single. Then Mazzilli walloped his 16th home run of the season to give New York a 4-2 lead.

Dodgers 2, Padres 1
Rookie Jack Perconte scored one run and his bunt single brought home the decisive tally in the sixth inning as Los Angeles broke its first-place tie with Houston. Don Sutton won his fourth straight game and 12th in 16 decisions this season by scattering seven hits in seven innings. Steve Howe allowed only one hit the final two innings to earn his 17th save.

Reds 7, Astros 0
Ray Knight hit his third grand slam homer of the season and singled in another run as Cincinnati remained 4 1/2-games behind Los Angeles in the West. Mario Soto, 10-6, pitched a five-hit shutout, allowing only one runner to reach third base, and George Foster had two RBI with his 23rd homer and a single.

Cards 8, Cubs 5
Leon Durham and Tito Landrum knocked in two runs apiece and St. Louis took advantage of two Chicago errors in the first inning to score three runs. John Vuckovich worked 7 2/3 innings to gain his 12th victory.

Whitefaces Square Off Against Borger

NINE TEASINGLY SLIM SECONDS were all that separated the Hereford Whitefaces and Borger Bulldogs (both 5-5 on the year) from the winner's-loser's side of the fence during last year's 14-13 slugfest.

Borger never forgot the disappointing loss (a would-be victory that had been pushed out of its grasp following a late staged HHS rally) and likewise, the Hereford team made a point to remember it - to recall just how narrow an advantage it had shackled on the Bulldog crew.

Mauri Montgomery

AND ALL THOSE REMEMBRANCES would come into play as the two squads would be pitted against one another once again Friday night in Borger. Both had one comparatively good reason for winning the grudge match as each squad was packing a 1-1 preseason ledger, and wanted their win columns to outweigh defeats in order to establish momentum going into their respective district encounters.

HEREFORD'S MARK HAD COME with a season opener loss with Pampa and a 14-0 victory over the Palo Duro Dons a week ago, while Borger had capped a 21-12 drumming over Perryton and was currently coming off a 21-19 loss to Vernon. "Overall, Borger is the most balanced team we have as yet been up against as far as the team's offensive and defensive capabilities go," said head HHS coach Don Cumpton. "They're a very good team - they just barely lost to Vernon a week ago and they've got a well oriented attack on both offense and defense."

THE BULLDOGS, UNDER the direction of 6-5 senior signal caller Shawn Harrington (who rushed 17 times for 101 yards, and tossed 6-11 pass completions to earn him player-of-the-week honors by the Amarillo Globe News) led Vernon through three and one-half quarters of play before succumbing to a scoring onslaught in the final period of play.

"There are really four ways Borger is capable of hurting us Friday night," said Cumpton. "First is Sedrick Love (who ran a 9.8 100 last year in track). He's a top-notch runningback and if he ever breaks into the open there's a good chance he can go all the way. Then there's Harrington on the bootleg or option plays. Mike Meek is a tough runner when he gets out wide and number four is a combination of Harrington and his receivers. They can really burn you with their passing game, but they like to run the ball."

"ANOTHER GUY WHO COULD GIVE us trouble is Tony Tillman," Cumpton added. "I think he ran a punt back 50 yards against Perryton and it was called back, but then against Vernon he returned a kickoff for a 92-yard score - he makes their kicking game real dangerous."

But even if those prominent looking statistics worried the HHS mentor, it was difficult to tell because he had the perfect poker face.

IN ONE HAND HE HELD A Whiteface defensive unit that had allowed an explosive Palo Duro team only 97 total yards rushing, and in the other hand he grasped an offensive crew that had posed serious trouble for that same Amarillo team (an offensive detail that had reeled out 265 yards against the Dons).

"We've been successful in controlling the ball better each week and that's where we're advancing in our play," Cumpton related. "We're not going to change much in our tactics because I think you need to keep doing the things you know how to do rather than try and pick up something else. If we can control the ball on the ground (something we did well against Palo Duro - we held the ball seven minutes more than they did) and keep our passing to a minimum, then I think we will continue to get better."

"DEFENSIVELY WE CONTAINED MUCH better this past week and that's where we made the biggest strides, but our offense blocked much better and executed a lot more smoothly. And continual improvement like that each week will put us where we need to be when district play begins," he said.

"That ball control strategy is essential because we can keep our defense fresh - like we did the other night."

The Whitefaces are scheduled to pair off against the Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. in Borger, and the game will be aired on KPAN radio at 106 on the FM dial.

The HHS junior varsity (now 2-0 in season play following a 21-12 victory over the Clovis Wildcats Saturday) is slated to meet Amarillo Palo Duro here Thursday at 6 p.m. in Whiteface Stadium.

American League Roundup

Royals Clinch West Title With Win Over Angels

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees have picked up some supporters in their bid to win the American League East title - the Kansas City Royals.

That was the general feeling expressed by the Royals Wednesday night after they clinched the AL West championship with a 5-0 victory over California in the first game of a doubleheader - they'd like to settle an old score with the Yankees in the AL pennant playoffs.

"It's not vengeance," pointed out Kansas City third baseman George Brett. "It's just wanting to regroup and regain your pride and self-respect. We were in Chicago one day and I saw a sign that said, 'Welcome Pennant Chokers.'"

That referred, of course, to the Royals' lack of success against the Yankees in three previous playoff meetings, in 1976, 1977 and 1978.

The clinching of their fourth West title in five years was the earliest in Royals' history. And the crowd of 25,908 at Royals Stadium was on its collective feet cheering when Dennis Leonard struck out Jason Thompson to end the game.

"I really didn't feel that much pressure," said Leonard. "We had a 17-game lead. It was more exciting in 1977 when I pitched the clincher."

The Angels went on to win the inconsequential second game, 7-4.

In other AL action,

Baltimore defeated Detroit 9-3; Cleveland edged Boston 6-5 in 11 innings; Oakland trimmed Texas 6-4; Milwaukee swept a doubleheader from Minnesota 3-2 and 6-1 and Seattle blanked Chicago 4-0. The game between Toronto and New York was suspended by rain in the top of the 10th inning with the Blue Jays leading 5-3.

Leonard, 19-9, struck out nine and walked two in winning his ninth game in his last 10 decisions.

The Angels, last year's West champions, won the second game behind a five-RBI performance by Brian Downing. Brett, the major league's leading hitter, returned to the Kansas City lineup for the first time since injuring his hand on Sept. 6 and collected two singles in five at-bats to keep his average at .396.

Orioles 9, Tigers 3
Dan Graham, Terry Crowley and Rich Dauer combined to drive in seven runs as Baltimore defeated Detroit.

Graham clouted a two-run homer, his 11th in the second inning, and his RBI-single capped a three-run rally in the fifth. Crowley rapped a two-run single in the fifth and Dauer's third hit, a bases-loaded single in the seventh, drove in Baltimore's final two runs.

Reliever Sammy Stewart, 5-7, who allowed three hits over 51-3 innings, was the winner as the second-place

Orioles trimmed the Yankees' lead in the East to 5½-games.

Indians 6, Red Sox 5
Gary Alexander drove in pinch-runner Jerry Dybzinski with a two-out pinch-single in the 11th inning to lead Cleveland over Boston.

Jack Brohamer started the rally with a one-out single and gave way to Dybzinski. Tom Verzyer followed with a single off reliever Mike Torrez' leg, sending Dybzinski to second. Miguel Dilone forced Verzyer at second, but Alexander followed with a single off reliever Tom Burgmeier, scoring Dybzinski and handing the victory to Dan Spillner, 15-10.

Dwight Evans sent the game into extra innings tied at 5-5 with a two-run homer in the Boston ninth.

A's 6, Rangers 4
Rickey Henderson set a club record with his 82nd stolen base as Oakland defeated Texas in a game that saw Rick Lanford's complete-game streak come to an end at 22.

Langford, 17-11, failed to finish a game for Oakland for the first time since May 18, when he was pulled with one out to go in the ninth after giving up a two-run homer to Rusty Staub. Bob Lacey got the last out, chalking up his fifth save of the season.

This was only the fourth time in 29 starts that Langford failed to finish.

Twins 3-6, Brewers 2-1
Jerry Koonsman scattered

eight hits and Roy Smalley contributed a game-winning sacrifice fly in a three-run fifth inning, leading Minnesota over Milwaukee in the first game of their doubleheader.

Koonsman, 13-13, struck out eight and walked two.

Rob Wilfong hit his first career grand slam and Glenn Adams and Ron Jackson hit solo shots as the Twins scored six runs in the seventh inning to earn their second-game victory.

Backfield Meeting

Whiteface runningback Harold Terry meets an incoming rush of Palo Duro Don defenders during the squad's Thursday night meeting last week. The Whitefaces beat the Amarillo squad very handily 14-0 to advance their preseason slate to 1-1, and will be looking for a similar win against the Borger Bulldogs as the two teams square off against each other Friday night in Borger. Kickoff time for the clash is set for 7:30 p.m. (Brand photo by Mauri Montgomery)

Trevino Plays in Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Lee Trevino, who trails only Tom Watson in earnings, figures he can edge Watson for the PGA low stroke championship with a decent finish in the $250,000 Texas Open golf tournament beginning today at Oak Hills Country Club.

That gives Trevino a double incentive to win the Texas Open title, one of the few tournament championships that has eluded him during his $2 million career.

Trevino, who will be playing his last U.S. tournament of the year in this bicentennial city where he always draws the biggest gallery, and fellow Texan Ben Crenshaw are considered favorites in a field of 156 players who tee off today in the opening round of the 51st Texas Open.

Trevino, second only to Watson in 1980 earnings with $430,815, said he could clinch the low stroke championship in this late tour event, which Watson has bypassed.

"The B.C. (Open) is short but difficult," Trevino said. "I shot an 11-under-par which put me 200th of a stroke under Watson. I figure if I shoot at least even par here."

Jones' Prevail In College Grid Contests

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Now that college football is swinging into its third big week, let's have a loud one for the Jones boys.

Rooster Jones, for instance, the runaway truck who turns corners for highly-rated Pittsburgh, Or. A.J. "Jam" Jones of Texas, remnant of a Longhorn litter that turns them out in clusters — Bam, Slam, Scram, and Lam.

Fullback Paul Jones busts lines for California. Tom Jones, brother of Baltimore's Bert, is a ball-faking magician at Arkansas. Joey Jones is a crackerjack wide receiver for No. 1 Alabama.

Brigham Young counts on tailback Homer Jones and split end Lloyd Jones for another winning season. Tennessee is also doubly blessed with cornerback Wilbert Jones and tackle Kenny Jones, all 245 pounds of him.

Chuck Jones nose-guards for Kentucky. Tony Jones place-kicks for Yale and tackle Wayne Jones spews bodies for Utah.

Whatever happened to the Smiths? Are they still making cough drops?

Last week's score: 37-9, 804. Season: 63-21, 750.

Ohio State 40, Minnesota 7; The Art Schlichter Show on live TV. Watch him pass. Watch him run. Watch him do everything.

Alabama 38, Mississippi 14; The Old Professor, Bear Bryant, gives a lesson to his heir apparent, Steve Sloan.

Nbraska 35, Iowa 14: "The fastest and strongest team we've ever had" says Husker Coach Tom Osborne.

Michigan 22, Notre Dame 18: One of the bitterest rivalries in the Midwest. It's the Wolverine year.

California 30, Army 7: The Golden Bears come east by air and in the air they stay for their romp.

South Carolina 24, Southern Cal 20: The week's Upset Special. The kids from Dixie have the weapons and the urge.

Quarterback Files Suit for Judge's Sack Ruling

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Dave Wilson, who came from California to quarterback the University of Illinois to victories in its first two games this season, has been sacked by a judge.

Judge Harry Clem of Circuit Court ruled Wednesday that the Big Ten Conference eligibility committee had the right to declare him academically ineligible Sept. 11, reversing its May 4 ruling because it was based on bad information.

"I don't think it's fair or just," said Wilson's attorney, Robert Auler. "Every piece of reasoning for the Sept. 11 decision was wrong."

Judge Clem, too, questioned the committee's reasoning, but said the decision belonged to it.

Illinois Coach Mike White, who recruited Wilson, did not comment on the decision, and said he did not know who would be quarterback Saturday at Missouri.

The Wilson case centers on whether the quarterback had taken enough classes each year to make regular progress toward graduation. The Big Ten, which considers him a senior, says no. Wilson, who regards himself a junior, says yes.

The eligibility committee agreed May 4 to waive its 78-hour rule and allow Wilson to play football if he completed 51 hours by September. The more powerful Big Ten faculty representatives group overruled that decision, and Wilson filed suit.

Penn State 23, Texas A&M 20: Another step in the long road back for gridiron psychologist Joe Paterno.

Georgia 22, Clemson 10: President Carter would swap his odds for those of his fellow Georgians.

Brown 14, Yale 7: The feature of the Ivy League opener, the Brownies don't forget the 13-12 loss in '79.

Southern Methodist 32, Texas Christian 13: The Ford in SMU's future is now — Mike Ford, aerial artist.

Auburn 32, Duke 13: Watch Joe Cribbs (Auburn's fine runner, now with the pros) on Sunday, James Brooks on Saturday.

Freedom, Australia Race for America's Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The U.S. 12-meter yacht Freedom and challenger Australia resumed competition for the America's Cup today with Freedom leading the best-of-seven series 1-0 and holding, if nothing else, a psychological advantage over her rival.

"We know now that the Australians have a good boat," said Freedom's navigator, Halsey Herreshoff.

"They have a fast boat, so we know we have to do everything right to beat them. We are not overconfident."

Freedom overcame some mechanical problems with her rudder over the final two legs of the six-leg course on Tuesday to win by 1 minute and 52 seconds.

"The race was a little more than three hours, so what's that, 200 minutes? And we beat Australia by less than two minutes. That's less than one percent," Herreshoff said.

Freedom actually led Australia by as much as 2:17 at the fifth mark after a run with the wind at her stern. That run was the beginning of Freedom's rudder troubles.

"The rudder cable broke just before the second weather mark, so we sailed the fifth leg almost entirely without the rudder," Herreshoff said. He said skipper Dennis Conner used the spinaker sail and trim tab.

GOD KNOWS NO 'SUPER RACE'

The day will surely come when at God's command Jesus Christ will judge the secret lives of everyone, their inmost thoughts and motives; this is all part of God's great plan which I proclaim.

You Jews think all is well between yourselves and God because He gave His laws to you; you brag that you are His special friends.

Yes, you know what He wants; you know right from wrong and favor the right because you have been taught His laws from earliest youth.

You are so sure of the way to God that you could point it out to a blind man. You think of yourselves as beacon lights, directing men who are lost in darkness to God.

You think that you can guide the simple and teach even children the affairs of God, for you really know His laws, which are full of all knowledge and truth.

Yes, you teach others - then why don't you teach yourselves? You tell others not to steal - do you steal?

You say it is wrong to commit adultery - do you do it? You say, "Don't pray to idols," and then make money your god instead.

You are so proud of knowing God's laws, but you dishonor Him by breaking them.

No wonder the Scriptures say that the world speaks evil of God because of you.

Being a Jew is worth something if you obey God's laws; but if you don't, then you are no better than the heathen.

And if the heathen obey God's laws, won't God give them all the rights and honors He planned to give the Jews?

In fact, those heathen will be much better off than you Jews who know so much about God and have His promises but don't obey His laws.

For you are not real Jews just because you were born of Jewish parents or because you have gone through the Jewish initiation ceremony of circumcision.

No, a real Jew is anyone whose heart is right with God. For God is not looking for those who cut their bodies in actual body circumcision, but He is looking for those with changed hearts and minds. Whoever has that kind of change in his life will get his praise from God, even if not from you.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Local school trustees have voted to seek a temporary reprieve from the federal court order requiring a free education in Texas schools for illegal alien children.

The Brownsville Independent School District's board of trustees also voted Tuesday to investigate possible litigation to obtain monetary relief for the poor district.

On Sept. 4, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell said Texas must enroll all illegal alien children while the original case is on appeal.

However, Powell wrote that poor districts and those with large numbers of undocumented alien children could receive a stay.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Department of Health reported Wednesday that a 5-year-old Brownsville girl has dengue fever.

The child became ill on Aug. 21, complaining of a rash and muscle pain. She also had a fever.

The fever is transmitted by mosquitoes.

The health department said it is the only known case.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Madalyn Murray O'Hair says for $10 her American Atheist Center will "de-Baptize" former Christians who want to undo the "superstitious ritual."

Ms. O'Hair is offering "Certificates of De-Baptism" through her organization here.

The first public de-Baptizing will take place in Salt Lake City at the American Atheists' national convention in April. A former Mormon missionary will preside.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission on Wednesday approved the first step toward the reconstruction of a coastal highway heavily damaged by Hurricane Allen.

State Highway 87 in Chambers and Jefferson counties suffered extensive damage between Sea Rim State Park and the Galveston County line.

The commission approved right-of-way acquisition that will cost about $150,000. Reconstruction of a 10-mile stretch of the road is scheduled at a cost of $2 million.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas operators reported 75 gas discoveries and 30 oil discoveries during the first half of September, the Railroad Commission said Wednesday.

Through the first eight and a half months of the year, the commission said, operators have reported 1,041 gas discoveries, 176 more than in the same period last year.

A total of 516 oil discoveries were reported by mid-September, 170 more than in the same period last year, the commission said.

The new gas discoveries included 21 in South Texas, 18 in the Refugio area, nine in west central Texas, eight in southeast Texas, five each in East Texas and the Panhandle, four in east central Texas, three in the San Antonio area and one each in North Texas and the San Angelo area.

The new oil discoveries included eight in west central Texas, five in the Refugio area, three each in southeast Texas and the San Antonio and Lubbock areas, two each in South Texas, North Texas and the San Angelo area and one each in East Texas and the Midland area.

In the Sept. 1-15 period, operators reported 153 dry holes, the commission said.

HOUSTON (AP) — A 22-month-old boy died in an apartment fire Wednesday. Firemen said the mother burned her hands in an unsuccessful effort to save him.

The names were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Firemen said the child apparently crawled into a closet in a vain effort to escape the flames.

HOUSTON (AP) — Prison sentences of 20 and 50 years have been assessed two brothers charged in a fatal shooting prosecutors said followed a neighborhood argument.

A jury in the court of visting state District Judge George Taylor sentenced Michael V. Guillory, 21, to 20 years and Edmond Guillory, 20, to 50 years.

The brothers had been charged with murder in the May 14 rifle slaying of Eddie L. Pipkins, 37.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Public Utility Commission hearing examiner has recommended that Texas Electric Service Co. be granted about half the $123 million it requested.

Mark Zeppa's report says the company is entitled to a $66.8 million increase. TESCO serves 510,000 customers in 78 North, Central and West Texas cities.

The report, however, does not specify where the additional revenue should come from. Zeppa recommends the company conduct further cost allocation studies and submit a rate structure proposal.

The PUC staff had recommended $69.4 million in increases. Several cities recommended only a $24 million increase.

Under TESCO's original plan, a residential customer who paid $40 a month would have paid $50 if the full increase was granted.

Part of the difference between the TESCO request and Zeppa's report was in cost of construction work in progress (CWIP). The company asked that 100 percent of the CWIP be included in the rate base. Zeppa recommended 50 percent.

Intervenors in the case asked that none of the CWIP be included.

PUC spokeswoman Martha Bartow said the commission has not set a date to issue a final order in the case.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements asked the U.S. Small Business Administration on Wednesday to declare Llano and Menard counties disaster areas because of heavy rains and flooding on Sept. 8-9.

Clements said a disaster declaration would allow individuals and businesses in the two counties and adjacent counties to apply for long-term, low-interest emergency loans.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The largest privately owned collection of Russian theater designs outside the Soviet Union has been loaned to the University of Texas Art Museum for five years.

Included in the Lobanov-Rostovsky Collection of 20th century designs are 600 works of theatrical scenery and costume designs created for opera and ballet by leading Russian painters.

The collection is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Nikita D. Lobanov-Rostovsky of London. He is a vice president of Wells Fargo.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements requested damage surveys Wednesday for Jefferson and Nolan counties, which received torrential rains from Tropical Storm Danielle.

Data from the surveys will be used to determine whether the counties are eligible for federal disaster relief.

Rainfall of up to 17 inches was recorded in Jefferson County on Sept. 6. Remnants of the storm dropped up to eight inches of rain in Nolan County on Sept. 9. Flooding was extensive.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A 20-year-old man was shot to death by a grocery store owner Tuesday after he was refused credit on a bottle of wine and then broke the owner's car window, police said.

The victim was Kenneth McArthur, a 10th-grade dropout.

William Strange, owner of the Circle T Grocery and Drug store, was charged with murder and bond was set at $10,000.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The first black person to hold a high-level administrative job within the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation was fired recently. He reportedly says it was because he is black.

Vernon Leviege, who was fired Sept. 11, had been director of the Beaumont State Center for Human Development, which employs 300 persons, since March 28.

The Austin American-Statesman quoted MHRM Commissioner Jerome Kavanaugh as saying Leviege had been on probation for 50 days before he was fired. Kavanaugh refused to comment on Leviege's allegation to the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission that he was fired because he was black.

Leviege said an Oct. 7 date has been set for an EEOC fact-finding conference on his situation.

"In my opinion, I was fired because of my race," said Leviege.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Medical challenges and costs in the 1980s will be discussed Saturday at the Texas Medical Association's fall conference.

Dr. Edward Annis of Miami, former president of the American Medical Association, will analyze the impact of inflation and interest rates on health services.

Dr. Daniel Cloud of Phoenix, Ariz., the association's president-elect, will speak on "The Challenges of the 1980s: What Physicians Can Expect."

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — The Farmers Export Co. grain elevator that was wrecked by a 1977 explosion that killed 17 people is back in operation.

The Brazilian freighter Forteleste began taking on a cargo of 925,000 bushels of wheat Tuesday for shipment to South America.

The Dec. 27, 1977 explosion attributed to a spark igniting grain dust also injured 22 people.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — State Treasurer Warren G. Harding said Wednesday interest earned on state funds totaled a record $225.2 million in the fiscal year ending Aug. 31.

This was an increase in interest earned of $47.3 million over the previous year, Harding said.

He added in a statement that in August an all-time high daily average of 98.1 percent of the state's operating funds were invested and earning interest for the state.

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas County grand jury has refused to indict a police officer in the July 15 shooting death of a handcuffed burglary suspect.

The jury decided Wednesday not to indict officer Danny Cain in the shooting death of Samuel S. Stone, who was shot to death after Cain said he saw Stone and another person ransacking Cain's home.

The other man was not apprehended by Cain.

Cain faces possible action by Dallas Police Chief Glen King because he told differing versions of the shooting death to internal affairs investigators on different occasions, a police spokesman said. The differences concerned whether or not Stone was handcuffed, he said.

Assistant District Attorney Jim Burnham said the grand jury conducted an extensive investigation, calling the medical examiner and six police officers to testify. One officer was called before the grand jury three times, Burnham said.

DALLAS (AP) — It looked like a typical murder-suicide case when Dallas police entered a southeast Dallas home Wednesday.

Officers said they found the body of a woman who had been shot to death on a couch. In another room, they said, they found the woman's husband in bed with a sheet pulled over his head. On a table beside the bed, officers said, they found a cocked pistol and what appeared to be a suicide note.

It turned out that the man was not dead, just very drunk, a police spokesman said. Several empty liquor bottles near the bed indicated that the man consumed a great deal of alcohol and either "chickened out" or became too drunk to shoot himself, an investigator said.

The man was being held in the city jail today, pending completion of the investigation.

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — Dowell Co., the oil well servicing division of Dow Chemical USA, has received the deed to a 16.3 acre site here for a district plant that will cost an estimated $5.1 million.

The plant will have about 500 employees by 1985, a company spokesman said.

The new facility is the result of an agreement between Dow and the Longview Industrial Development Corp. for the project to be financed through the use of tax exempt revenue bonds, first to be issued by the development corporation.

Announcement was made Wednesday night by Winston Wahl of Houston, regional manager.

Based in Tulsa, Dowell operates world wide and has about 7,000 employees.

Farm Workers Union Falls on Hard Times

By ROGER GILLOTT
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United Farm Workers union — long the darling of grape- and lettuce-boycotting liberals — has fallen on hard times.

Now in the second year of a dispute with vegetable growers in the rich deserts of southern California and Arizona, the UFW concedes defeat on the picket line and admits its boycotts do not have the impact they once did.

The UFW is also running in to difficulties over back taxes and government grants.

Things were considerably more glamorous 15 years ago. The UFW's strike against central California grape growers began Sept. 16, 1965 — the 15th anniversary of Mexican Independence Day — and stretched on for five years of marches, fasts and boycotts.

The bitter but publicity-rich strike took on sort of a "Grapes of Wrath" romanticism that captured the fancy of urbanites from coast to coast. The colorful union leader, Cesar Chavez, wearing his familiar plaid shirt and khaki pants, became a national symbol as he took up the cause of impoverished Latinos everywhere.

Today the situation is less glowing:

—Investigators for the Community Services Administration issued a report challenging a CSA grant of $951,000 in migrant worker funds and suggesting the UFW may have violated a federal regulation by using the money for union activities. The CSA is expected to decide within a month what action to take.

—Other federal authorities are investigating whether $1 million from the Labor Department and the former Department of Health, Education and Welfare was misused.

—The Internal Revenue Service says the UFW owes more than $400,000 in back taxes for unemployment and Social Security.

—The state Legislature has approved a bill prohibiting the UFW from making members contribute to its campaign war chest, effectively curtailing the union's political clout. Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., a longtime Chavez ally, vetoed a similar measure last year and is expected to do the same again. But mere passage of the bill indicates an increasingly hostile political mood directed at the UFW.

That mood is making itself felt at the state Agricultural Labor Relations Board, to which the UFW had hoped to turn to salvage something from its long strike against the vegetable growers.

The union is asking the ALRB for unfair labor-practice rulings against the growers. If the ALRB rules for the union, the growers could be forced to pay strikers millions of dollars in wages they would have earned had the growers negotiated and a new contract been agreed upon.

But the state Senate has refused to confirm two ALRB members who growers contend are biased toward the UFW. According to one board official, who asked not to be identified, the senate action has intimidated many ALRB members.

"There is a perceived feeling on the part of some people that caution is the desirable approach," he said. "There has been a chilling effect in general on the morale of the staff."

In addition, when it returns from recess next month, the Assembly will take up a bill that would revamp the state's landmark Agricultural Labor Relations Act of 1975.

The measure would eliminate the Act's requirement for a speedy union representation election, often within seven days, and the powerful "make-whole remedy," under which employers can be ordered to pay workers for all wages lost during a dispute.

"There is a great deal of pressure on the Legislature to pass this measure," the ALRB source said.

One bright spot for the troubled union is that it recently snapped a relatively dry membership spell.

The union was enormously successful winning elections — 214 out of 425 — in the six months immediately following passage of the farm labor act.

Little by little, however, new unionization efforts slowed to a trickle. From July 1, 1978, to June 30, 1980, only 86 elections were held, and the UFW lost 56 of them.

But since the start of this fiscal year, the union has won 16 of 19 contests, mostly in the northern California vegetable country near Salinas and San Jose.

"There's been a big change lately," said ALRB spokesman Bill Camp, who credited the recent surge in elections on the impact of the UFW's 21-month-old strike against the vegetable growers.

Nonetheless, that dispute may stand as the union's worst failure. One striker was killed, scores of persons were injured and millions of dollars in lettuce, cauliflower, broccoli and carrots rotted in the field.

Only two of the 11 growers originally struck have settled, although a number of others — led by SunHarvest Inc., the nation's largest lettuce grower — agreed to contracts that will boost farmworkers' wages by more than 60 percent over three years (to more than $6.00 an hour) because of cost-of-living hikes.

The strike — the union's most ambitious because it took on some of the state's largest growers — was also the first UFW walkout over traditional economic issues. Previous strikes sought simply to gain recognition of the union as the field workers' bargaining agent.

Mecca for American Root-Digger

SMITH MILLS, Ky. (AP) — If you believe the western Kentucky map, somewhere between Dam No. 48 Road and Jenny Hole Timber Slough Wildlife Area lies Smith Mills.

Hides is more like it. Smith Mills hides so successfully that there ought to be some sort of reward for all strangers who manage to find it.

There is. Sandwiched between the lone cafe and the only grocery in this town of 500 people is a business unlike any other: Pearson's Trading Post, serving trappers and root-diggers for nearly a decade. The novelty of it all is not lost on proprietor Judson Pearson, 58, a big bear of a man whose clothing is perpetually coated with fur. "This place is totally unique," he says proudly. "There isn't anyone else who does everything we do."

To underscore his claim, Pearson will put off packing the afternoon shipment — seven coyote heads bound for Arizona — to tick off the ABCs of root-digging (angelica, bloodroot and chicory).

The brown bags of beth root and glass jars of ginseng that are brought in by area diggers are sold to manufacturers of medicines and makeup. "It's no hocus-pocus," Pearson says in a kindly growl. "This is the real merchandise."

Henderson County, just south of the Indiana border, is rich in roots, says Pearson, who claims 98 percent of common American medicinal roots sink deep into the soil alongside the soybeans.

His dark Main Street storeroom holds 65 varieties of the strange, knobby things. They poke from their sacks, gnarled and twisted as arthritic fingers.

In and around the bags are boxes that hold something stranger still.

"Rabbits," Pearson says matter-of-factly, pointing to flat, waxy yellow strips that look a little like cardboard. Rabbits indeed, their hides skinned and scraped and bound for the tannery, alongside the raccoons and coyotes.

The old white warehouse is headquarters for Pearson's wholesale business, which accounts for 5 percent of his annual income. He receives orders and merchandise from 49 states, and his mail order trade is credited with keeping the local post office in business.

Across the street from the warehouse, Pearson sells trapping supplies. With the exception of guns and hunting dogs, he says, "if we don't have it, they don't need it."

There are traps for everything from 60-pound beavers to 8-ounce weasels, as well as dyes and dirt-sifters to hide the tell-tale metal from sharp-eyed foxes.

There are rubber boots, knives and axes; hide stretchers, trap waxes and pack baskets. Liquid scents to lure animals to the traps come in a smorgasbord of flavors, ranging from sweet to putrid.

Books on wire racks share the secrets of "Snares and Snaring" and "Traps and Trapping." Another reveals "Ferret Facts and Fancies."

Hardly necessities of life for most people. But for the 60 or so active trappers and raccoon hunters in the area — and the thousands more who stalk distant woods — they are just that. Necessities.

"Most people trap part-time, to supplement their incomes or as a hobby. You can probably make $10,000 in a season if you go at it steady. For most folks, $1,000 is more likely," says Pearson.

He takes exception to the lobbyists who try to outlaw the traps he sells, saying "the majority of hunters and trapto protest the meat price increases which eventually touched off the nationwide strikes in August that brought the government concessions.

This year a politically active group of workers at Ursus began organizing an independent trade union committee within days of the Aug. 31 agreement under which the government recognized the right of workers to form independent unions.

The new Ursus group is affiliated with Mazowsze, a regional organization with members ranging from doctors to factory workers. Its temporary offices are in Warsaw's Club of Catholic Intelligence, across the street from the Central Trade Union Council.

Elections to posts within Ursus' old trade union, which were to have been held from today until Monday, were suspended because so few workers took part, sources claimed.

One management official at the plant acknowledged that the new unions had gotten the jump on the old organizations and that the situation had left both workers and managers confused about the future.

"The new unions began organizing early," he said. "But there is more to operating a union than merely slogans. There are questions of finances and benefits."

One young worker who supports the independence movement said he thought at least some Ursus workers would be lured back to the old union by the promise of reform.

"A certain amount will come back," he said. "Management is using some pressure as far as financial problems are concerned. They tell people they may lose social benefits or not be able to borrow money from the union funds. In this way they try to get people to stay."

Ursus Tractor Factory Workers Uncomfortable

URSUS, Poland (AP) — "People in Poland used to sit in their chairs and watch the world go by. But now they are afraid. They just watch their chairs," said a young man outside the main gate at the Ursus tractor factory.

The young man, who asked that his name not be used, was referring to the doubts, confusion and insecurity among his 20,000 fellow workers at this plant because of rivalry between independent and state-controlled unions.

The rivalry is expected to intensify with word from Gdansk that independent unions from all over Poland will unite into a confederation. That will make Poland the only Soviet bloc country with rival national labor groups.

Many workers here and at other factories in Poland appear confused by the slogans and claims of the two groups and are uncertain which organization will better protect their interests.

The decisions of workers at this plant and others in Poland will determine the future of the country's independent labor movement and of the liberalization wave sweeping the country.

So far the tide appears to have been in favor of the independence forces. But the old trade unions have the advantage of money and state backing and are mounting a counterattack, promising to reform themselves while guaranteeing social and economic benefits.

In the new spirit of reform, the state-controlled steelworkers union has called for a congress next month to consider withdrawing from the Central Council of Trade Unions and operating independently.

And the metalworkers union, which represents employees at Ursus, is also expected to call such a meeting.

But many free trade union activists see this as a ploy by the old, state-run outfits to win back members by passing themselves off as "autonomous" labor groups.

"Well certainly that is what is happening now," said Janusz Onyszkiewicz, a leader of Mazowsze, an independent trade union federation in the Warsaw area.

"By changing their slogans, they are taking a bit of the wind out of our sails. So far they have managed to create a significant amount of confusion."

The degree of confusion was apparent at the Ursus plant, a factory complex in a grimy suburb of Warsaw known for its politically active employees.

In 1976 workers in Ursus and Radom staged strikes to protest meat price increases which were eventually rolled back. And last July workers at Ursus were among the first

Has Fear of Heights; Works over Mt. Rushmore

MOUNT RUSHMORE, S.D. (AP) — A man with a fear of heights has no business dangling from a cable over Mount Rushmore, but Bob Crisman would not trade that duty with anyone.

"I've come to have very strong feelings about that sculpture," he was saying the other day, safe on the ground under the gaze of those four presidential faces. "It's hard to put into words, but once you've been out there, touching it, moving over every square inch of it, you develop a certain attachment to it, a pride such as the men who actually carved it must have felt.

"It's a personal matter. I asked for the job, they let me have it, and I don't want anyone else to do it but me." The National Park Service titles Bob Crisman's job "sculpture maintenance," an accurate but juiceless description of what he actually does. What he does is strap himself in a bosun's chair and allow himself to be lowered over the face of the mountain, or rather the faces, by two trustworthy friends above operating a hand winch that was left for that purpose when the carvings were finished in 1941. Same old winch, same old cable.

From below, he looks like a tiny puppet on a string. Thus deployed, 300 feet above "impact level," as he puts it, he goes about filling hairline cracks in the granite so that water won't get in them, freeze, and possibly break off somebody's nose, or lip, or eyebrow.

Texas Society To Prevent Blindness Slates 'Lazy Eye Alert' This Fall

Demonstrating Home Eye Test

Five year old Travis Loy of El Paso demonstrates with the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness Home Eye Test the "E" that this fall is as important as "ABC" to children entering Texas schools for the first time. The "E" is the symbol on that basic vision test that, by law, all children must have. In Travis' case, the "E" chart indicated he had amblyopia or "lazy eye." If his problem had not been detected and treated before he was six, Travis would have lost all functional sight in his "lazy eye."

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness is putting Texas on a "Lazy Eye Alert" this fall, the importance of which is highlighted by the new state law that requires a vision test for every child entering school, says the Society's president, Clymer L. Wright, Jr.

"The purpose of the new law is to find the one youngster in 20 who has an eye problem that needs to be treated early in life," Wright said. "However many children, especially those with amblyopia or 'lazy eye', have a condition that can be best corrected in the preschool years, often when the child is as young as three or four. That is why Prevent Blindness, even though busy certifying personnel in over 300 school and health agencies to screen under the new law, is also sponsoring open 'Lazy Eye Alert' screenings during September and October through its volunteer preschool vision screening units around the state.

"Vision screening of preschoolers is a year-round program for TSPB," Wright pointed out. "Over 40,000 youngsters were screened by the Society last year alone. The 'Lazy Eye Alert' has been added as a special project to draw attention to children's eye care needs and to increase the number of children reached by the program.

"The Texas Health Department says that 20,000 children enter school each year with vision problems. Two percent of those probably have 'lazy eyes,' the chief target of all childhood screening programs. Without early treatment of this problem a child can suffer permanent vision loss or even blindness in the lazy eye by the age of six, an age when many children are just starting school."

The basic screening test for both the Society's and the state's program involves "reading" a chart with the letter E turned in different directions. To children who haven't yet learned alphabet recognition, the "E" is a game in which they point in the direction they see the "legs" of the letter pointing.

"A companion project to the TSPB screening programs is its Home Eye Test for Preschoolers," Wright added. "This is a free do-it-yourself kit that allows parents whose children are not able to take advantage of an organized vision screening to play the 'E' game with their youngsters at home. The Society recommends that children who fail the 'E' test should be taken for a professional eye examination."

A comprehensive new 76-page factbook, "Vision Problems in the U.S.," just published by the National Society to Prevent Blindness, presents detailed estimates on the legally blind, the visually impaired, eye injuries, and medical care for eye disorders (doctor visits, hospital stays, operations). Included are cause, age, sex, and state data.

The factbook will provide a valuable reference resource for the eye care professions, health care planners and providers, organizations serving the blind, researchers, writers, educators and students.

"Vision Problems in the U.S." is available at $10 per copy from the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness, P.O. Box 13400, Houston 77019.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

Every fall, an army of authors swathed in polyester and hope hits the trail to bring their books to the attention of the public.

They will spend full days being interviewed by the press, answering questions from radio listeners, doing talk shows and signing books in department stores.

At the end of eight or ten weeks, they will return to civilian life. They will not be the same people they were when they left.

They will not be able to pass a couch without sitting on it and launching into a discourse on how they got their start. They will refuse to use a bathroom that does not have a sanitized strip over the commode. If anyone puts so much as a passbook at the bank in their hands, they'll mechanically write, "Best Wishes," autograph it and give it back.

The Willy Lomans of the literary world are rarely championed. Having survived six book tours, I have found solace in the fact that every author from Bacall to Vidal, from Krantz to Michener has endured the selling of a book. As I sat around greenrooms, I used to fantasize that if Matthew, Mark, Luke and John were coming out this fall with the Four Gospels, they would be going through the same thing I was going through.

MERV GRIFFIN GREENROOM: "Okay, guys, Merv has a doctor theme show for tonight. Got any ideas? Luke is a doctor? Fantastic! You can do eight minutes on diet pills. You'll follow Joyce Brothers."

DINAH SHORE GREENROOM: "Hey, fellas, this is going to be fun. You and Dinah are going to put together a zucchini casserole with parmesan and talk about your books. Geez, wish you all hadn't worn white. Have fun!"

MIKE DOUGLAS GREENROOM: "Now, the co-host this week is Shelley Winters. Anything you got that relates to Shelley, throw it in. Read your books last night. Love 'em. Mark, maybe you could expand on the miracle stories. Had Jeanne Dixon a few weeks ago. It's dynamite."

JOHNNY CARSON GREENROOM: "What's your book about again? I know they're gospels...they all say that. What about humorous stories like signing books in a department store and someone wants to buy the desk. Anything upbeat you can think of. You follow Gordon Liddy."

JOHN DAVIDSON GREENROOM: "John will ask you why you wrote the books, how long it took, what they're all about and what impact they will have on civilization. Take your time, you've got 4 1/2 minutes. You don't sing, do you?"

Heard any good books lately?

Ann Landers

Love or Infatuation

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old who has read your column for a long time. While baby-sitting, I saw "The Ann Landers Encyclopedia" and read your piece explaining the difference between love and infatuation. I thought it was terrific. Will you print it in the column, please? I wish I had seen it a couple of years ago.-ABC In K.C.

DEAR ABC: With pleasure, Here it is: LOVE OR INFATUATION?

Infatuation is instant desire. It's one set of glands calling to another. Love is friendship that has caught on fire. It takes root and grows one day at a time.

Infatuation is marked by a feeling of insecurity. You are excited and eager, but not genuinely happy. There are nagging doubts, unanswered questions, little bits and pieces about your beloved that you would just as soon not examine too closely. It might spoil the dream.

Love is the quiet understanding and mature acceptance of imperfection. It is real. It gives you strength and grows beyond you-to bolster your beloved. You are warmed by his presence, even when he is away. Miles do not separate you. You want him near, but near or far, you know he is yours and you can wait.

Infatuation says, "We must get married right away. I can't risk losing him."

Love says, "Be patient. Don't panic. He is yours. Plan your future with confidence."

Infatuation has an element of sexual excitement. If you are honest, you will admit it is difficult to be in one another's company unless you are sure it will end in intimacy. Love is the maturation of friendship. You must be friends before you can be lovers.

Infatuation lacks confidence. When he's away, you wonder if he's cheating. Sometimes you even check.

Love means trust. You are calm, secure and unthreatened. He feels that trust and it makes him even more trustworthy.

Infatuation might lead you to do things you'll regret later, but love never will.

Love is an upper. It makes you look up. It makes you think up. It makes you a better person than you were before.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been married nine months to a man I cannot understand. He had a previous marriage which lasted two years. There were no children.

"Mr. R." has had trouble with his liver for years, also arthritis and an ailing prostate. A few years ago he had a business failure that depressed him so bad he needed therapy.

The problem I am writing about is sex. He doesn't believe in it. Since this is my first marriage I am shocked beyond words. I automatically assumed that sex went with marriage even though we didn't talk about it. Actually I was impressed with his high morals because he never made a wrong move during courtship. Can you help me?—Missing Something In Mississippi.

DEAR MISSING: His problem could be both physical and emotional. If he refuses to see a doctor, you ought to see a lawyer. A marriage this is not.

DAR, Los Ciboleros Chapter Proclaims Constitution Week

The Constitution of the United States of America was adopted Sept. 17, 1787, ratified June 21, 1788, and in effect March 4, 1789. The United States will celebrate the 200th Anniversary of Adoption in 1987. With this in mind, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, Los Ciboleros Chapter, has proclaimed the week of Sept. 17-23 as "Constitution Week" in Hereford. Mayor Bartley Dowell recently signed a proclamation stating that "in the City of Hereford, all citizens are urged to pay special attention during that week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American Citizenship."

On January 5, 1956, Senator William F. Knowland introduced the following Senate Joint Resolution 105:

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress Assembled, That the President of the United States is authorized and requested to designate the period beginning September 17 and ending September 23 of each year as Constitution Week, and to issue annually a proclamation inviting the people of the United States to observe such week in school, churches and other suitable places with appropriate ceremonies and activities."

This Resolution was adopted July 23, 1956, and signed into law (Public Law No. 915), August 2, 1956.

ALEXANDER GINZBURG
...recently released from harshest prison camp in Russia

Russian Dissident To Present Lecture

CANYON -- Alexander Ginzburg, a Russian dissident, will present a public lecture at West Texas State University Oct. 22, at 8 p.m. The event is sponsored by the United Campus Ministry and the Special Programs Committee.

Ginzburg, who was the co-founder of the Russian Social Fund, a charitable organization which aids Soviet prisoners and their families, was released from Mordovian Camp No., the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics' harshest prison camp, in April, 1979. He and four other political prisoners were exchanged for two convicted spies.

Ginzburg was born in Moscow in 1936. His open opposition to the Soviet Union's repressive policies began in the late 1950s and continued through 1966, when he first was arrested for preparing a book on the trial of writers Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuli Daniel. He again was arrested in January 1967, and sentenced to a five-year term.

In 1976, Ginzburg became one of the founding members of the Moscow Helsinki Watch Group, an organization formed to monitor the USSR's adherence to the humanitarian provisions of the Helsinki Accords.

The KGB once again arrested Ginzburg in February 1977, because of his widespread involvement in human rights activities. This trial was publicized worldwide and, despite the efforts of such groups as the International League for Human Rights, Amnesty International, and the Alexander Ginzburg Defense Committee whose membership included Arthur Miller and Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, Ginzburg was given an eight-year sentence.

Ginzburg had spent a total of nine years in prison at the time of his release. His family, consisting of his 70-year-old mother, his wife, and two young sons, remain in the Soviet Union. The Ginzburgs also have a 19-year-old adopted son.

Above Cindy Norvell, vice-president of the council and a member of Palo Duro Club is working with County Extension Agent Louise Walker in organizing and preparing the cookbooks which will sale for $1 during the "Tasting Bee."

Taiwanese Students to Portray Culture in Performance at NMU

PORTALES--Chinese culture will be portrayed through song and dance in a performance by Taiwanese students in the Eastern New Mexico University Theatre this Sunday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. The free public performance is part of the sixth tour by the Youth Goodwill Mission of Taiwan to the United States. Selected from 104 colleges and universities in Taiwan, the 14 performing members will present a one-hour interpretation of their cultural heritage in their premier New Mexico performance.

Four musical numbers based on traditional songs from different areas of China are contained in the first half of the program which begins with a love song using the metaphor of a river. Other pieces feature a folk song, a ballad, and a story-teller. A tribute to the early Chinese settlers to Taiwan marks the second half of the show. In the six pieces the students perform roles of their ancestors who emigrated to Taiwan from mainland China about 300 years ago.

The Mission is sponsored by the Chinese Student Association, an organization of 60 Chinese students attending Eastern.

'Families' To Hit Newsstands

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — In her 59th year, The Reader's Digest, self-described as "that worldly lady with the common touch," has given birth. Her first, is a test-tube creation, conceived after long deliberation. The new publication, named Families and carrying a Sept. 23 date, is probably the most carefully marketed product to reach the newsstands in years, having been pretested, tested, retested. It is, itself, a test. In some markets, for example, it will cost $1.25, in others the price will be $1.95, and in still others it will cost $2.49 and contain 48 additional editorial pages. Sales to price-size ratios will be studied. Some markets will be supported by newspaper advertisements, others by television, and some by radio. In certain markets no advertising at all is planned. Sales-ad ratios will be scrutinized for promotion guidance. Readers are expected to help. In every 15th issue of the 400,000 print run a questionnaire will solicit reader responses, and future issues conceivably could be changed because of recommendations or criticisms. In fact, the first issue of Families will probably produce as much information for the Reader's Digest people as it will for readers, and they will ponder and digest that information for many months. Though the new publication is destined to be a monthly, the next issue won't be until April, a "confirmation" issue, and the regular monthly schedule isn't likely to begin until October of next year. "We are more conservative than other publications about this," says Richard McLoughlin, publisher of both the Digest and Families. "We are approaching it prudently." The Digest, he reminds you, has never done anything of the sort before; it never published another magazine. "Maybe a million people want this magazine, maybe five million," said McLoughlin. "We don't really know until we put it out." But, he said, "we have an awful lot of hope." The family is "diversifying," said McLoughlin, father of five. "Mine is a conventional family, but we have divorced mothers, single fathers, step-parents, working mothers..." In short, diversity. And the magazine will have a diverse subject matter: acne, puberty, bed-wetting, pot, family backpacking, the value of the dollar, communicating, custody, dating, school marks, college, careers, emotional disturbance. Almost endless. To find its stories the Digest will read everything available in newspapers, magazines and books, and probably will search through the contents of speeches and seminar discussions. Then it will condense. Advertisers seem to ap-
