New fire truck in service

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

A long awaited addition to the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department finally arrived late last night. For the first time since 1971, a new fire engine has been added to Hereford's fire fighting fleet.

The Denmark Starship, manufactured by the Denmark Company of Wichita Falls, is a custom built fire engine constructed on a 1988 Ford two-and-a-half-ton truck chassis.

"It's not just your everyday truck," said Assistant Fire Chief David Spain.

The truck, worth $100,000, has a 1,000 gallon per minute pump and can carry 750 gallons of water. Since the pumping capacity exceeds the carrying capacity, the new truck is intended for use within the city limits where external water supplies are available.

Other special features on the new engine include a 1,000 gallon per minute deluge pump on the top of the truck.

"You'd use it (deluge gun) at large, large fires," Spain said.

Fire Marshall Jay Spain, David's father, travelled to Wichita Falls for the delivery of the new truck. He called the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department Tuesday to report that the truck had passed its final manufacturer's tests with "flying colors."

Final testing before the truck was released by the manufacturer included a seven and a half hour continuous pumping trial.

The truck being replaced by the newly acquired unit is a 1948 model purchased when new for the fire department in Hereford. After better than 40 years of service to the community, the truck has been given a noble retirement.

Title to the truck is being transferred to the local volunteer firemen, and it will be used for parades and other displays.

"Insurance has gotten where we can't even give kids rides on the fire trucks," David Spain said.

The volunteers plan on insuring the retired, 1948 truck so that, once again, local children can be treated to the excitement of a ride on a fire engine.

A desire to give children a taste of what it means to be a fireman is just one example of the dedication needed to be a volunteer fireman.

"It costs these boys to be in the fire department," Jay Spain said.

Volunteers must be ready to respond to a fire at any time. If it means taking off work or ruining Sunday clothes, so be it.

"I've fought fires in a suit before," said the fire marshal.

Volunteer firemen must also maintain continuous training including three nights per month plus fire fighting school at Texas A & M University once a year. Volunteers usually utilize a week of vacation time from their regular jobs to attend this school.

Jay Spain estimates that the city saves approximately $500,000 to $750,000 per year by having a volunteer fire department. The cost of maintaining a roster of paid personnel to man the fire engines would be prohibitive.

There is a personal as well as a financial commitment for those choosing to be volunteer firemen.

"Hey, it's tough. It takes a special kind of person to be a fireman," Jay said.

Mingled with the desire to help those in trouble must also be the internal strength to watch the pain and suffering of others.

"It's satisfying because... when that phone rings, somebody needs help, and we're there to give that help," Jay Spain said.

Judge named in Clyde case

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

State District Judge Marvin Marshall of Plainview has been appointed to preside over a case charging local attorney David Clyde with sexual assault.

Clyde is a former assistant district attorney for the 222nd Judicial District.

District Judge David Wesley Gulley recused himself from hearing the case because of his association with the defendant when Clyde was serving as assistant district attorney. Judge Ray Anderson, presiding judge for the Ninth Administrative Judicial District, announced Monday the appointment of Judge Marshall.

Clyde was indicted for sexual assault by the 222nd District Court grand jury on March 31. The attack noted in that indictment allegedly occurred on Nov. 22, 1988, in a Hereford residence, not in a hereford office as previously reported in the Brand.

Clyde had resigned his post as assistant district attorney more than a month prior to the Nov. 22 incident. His resignation was offered after he was charged with Class C misdemeanor assault by Randall County authorities.

Victims slain in demonic rituals

MATAMOROS, Mexico (AP) - Satanic drug smugglers sacrificed a University of Texas student and 11 other people just south of the Mexican border in rites designed to bring demonic protection to their contraband activities, say officials who found the victims' bodies.

Police planned to continue digging today, searching for two more bodies at the Santa Elena Ranch 20 miles west of the border city of Matamoros. Cameron County Sheriff Alex Perez said the scene was "like a human slaughterhouse."

Mexican federal officials said five men have been arrested in the case. Among the victims was Mark Kilroy, 21, a University of Texas pre-medical student who disappeared March 14 while on a late-night spring break outing in Matamoros. Perez said suspects confessed to removing Kilroy's brain and spine and chopping off his legs.

Sheriff's Lt. George Gavito said the killings were part of satanic rituals in which the suspects prayed to the devil "so the police would not arrest them, so bullets would not kill them and so they could make more money."

Some of the victims' brains, blood and other organs were boiled in a cauldron, and the cult prayed for "demonic protection from any kind of evil that would affect them," said Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox.

Mattox said investigators believe there were 10 members in the cult. The Mexican Attorney General's Office said Tuesday the leader of the voodoo-practicing cult, a Cuban-American named Alonso de Jesus Constance, is believed to have fled into the United States. Officials say he is known as "Godfather" to the sect's members.

Police reported finding the 12 bodies in a total of nine graves, Mattox said.

Perez said the cult members removed some of the victims' vertebrae "to use them for necklaces."

Authorities declined to identify other victims, but said all were males. Police believe two of them died after Kilroy.

HISD has routine meeting

Hereford school trustees, in a routine session Tuesday, approved a summer food service program and a request for a water-well site by the City of Hereford.

The board also authorized bid advertisements on a downtown building, located next to the Office Center. The building was formerly occupied by The Hereford Brand. The board tabled discussion on property located by the bus barn.

The board okayed a water-well site, 50 by 50 feet, on school property at the west end of Moreman Street. Two student hearings were on the agenda but no complainants appeared at the meeting.

Honored as employees of the month were Willie Braddy, professional, and Julia Scott, para-professional.

For information purposes, Supt. Charles Greenawalt reported that CAT scores were "good, overall, and showed improvement." Trustees also hear a report on campus action plans being made by principals.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says a fanatic is someone who can't change his mind and won't change the subject.

Gene Dow, in The Seminole Sentinel, tells about the out-of-state couple driving through Texas when they stopped in Mexia to eat. They like to learn about the places they visited and struck up a conversation with the waitress.

"We saw the sign outside town and wondered how you say the name of this place," they told her. "Say it for us, slow and clear, so we'll be sure to understand it."

The Mexia waitress shrugged her shoulders, leaned closer and said slowly and carefully, "Day-rec-Queen!"

Our heartfelt thanks go out to many friends who expressed love and sympathy this past week on the death of my mother. We've mentioned her in this column on several occasions. Her mother died at an early age and she helped raise her brothers and sisters. She was the matriarch of the family and she handled it with assurance, confidence and with a sense of humor that provided strength and courage to family, friends and neighbors.

She was divorced shortly after her only child was born, and she mothered and worked hard as a housekeeper and waitress to provide for her and the son. She raised him by herself, using a mother's love and substituting a father's discipline until she found the right man to share their lives.

I was 10 years old when I adopted my new father. His was a world of gentleness and patience and he tempered the iron will my mother had developed through the tough times. They made a good pair and great parents.

She was loved and admired by family and friends. She was a good 'un and we'll miss her.

Eades, Carr attend meeting

Bud Eades, volunteer director of the Hereford Area Economic Development Commission, and Mike Carr, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, attended a two-day "Cities on the Rise" conference Monday and Tuesday sponsored by the Texas Department of Commerce.

"To show you how important this was, the governor addressed the meeting," Eades said.

Clements pointed to the development of the Commerce department, a consolidation of several government agencies into a 300-person department that handles areas from business development, research and planning to tourism.

"Good jobs, diversified growth and new opportunities are our priorities and I know they're yours as well," Clements said in his address.

Clements said the state must "encourage job creators and corporate decision makers to invest in Texas live never before," he said the state must bring "comprehensive reform" to the workers' compensation system, change the product liability laws, and grant a freport exemption to goods in transit through Texas.

"We learned more about the Texas Department of Commerce and ways they can help us in Hereford and Deaf Smith County," Eades said. "I think it was worth our while to attend and learn about what the TDOC can do for us."

Other incidents investigated by the Hereford Police Department included:

Credit card abuse reported in the 500 block of N. 25 Mile Avenue; criminal mischief reported in the 100 block of Main; and a report of a young runaway in the 400 block of Blevens. The child was later found in the 200 block of Avenue J.

One arrest was made by city officers when a 76-year-old female was charged with shoplifting.

Police issued 11 citations and investigated one minor accident.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department was called to two minor grass fires with one of those fires also damaging a fence.

DALLAS - State health officials say a resurgence of syphilis can be linked to the increase in the use of cocaine and crack.

Helmet bill sent to governor Legislature approves motorcycle protection

AUSTIN (AP) - A bill that would require all motorcycle riders to wear helmets for protection has been approved by the Senate, which narrowly defeated a motion that would have delayed passage.

The Senate on Tuesday completed legislative action on the bill by accepting on voice vote a House amendment that would exempt motorcycle riders from wearing helmets for 10 days if they had a medical excuse from a doctor.

Prior to that vote, the Senate rejected an attempt to send the amended bill to a House-Senate conference committee to address riders who might have long-term physical disabilities, and would need waivers for more than 10 days.

The motion for a conference committee failed 14-16, although Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, assured sponsor Ted Lyon, D-Rockwall, that he was "not trying to use this as a means to kill the bill."

Sen. Lyon asked the Senate to vote with him "so that your offices are not flooded with calls you've been receiving" and could go on to other business.

Current law requires motorcycle riders under 18 to wear helmets. The law requiring adults to wear helmets was repealed by the Legislature in 1977.

In other action Tuesday, the Senate approved and sent to the House proposals that would:

- Authorize the issuance of $500 million in water development bonds.
- Reconstitute the Finance Commission with a smaller membership - 12 to nine, which would include five public members.

Tighter controls would be placed on the savings and loan industry. The commission would meet six times a year, instead of twice.

- Encourage all state health and social service agencies to include information on AIDS in continuing education requirements and curricula.
- Create a program within the Texas Department of Human Services for at-home care for people with mental or developmental disabilities.
- Extend the life of the Texas Commission on Human Rights, which investigates job discrimination complaints.

In one of the stranger occurrences in the Senate, discussion began on another bill that should not, under the rules, have been discussed.

The bill by Sen. Craig Washington would allow parents or legal guardians to prohibit the use of corporal punishment - such as hitting, spanking or paddling - against students by filing a written waiver on or before the first day of school or before the date on which the punishment occurs.

Washington, D-Houston, withdrew the bill after several senators questioned the way it was written. He said he wanted "them to be comfortable with it."

The vote announced to bring up the bill was 20-10, which was the bare minimum. It was learned later, however, that the vote was 19-11, so the Senate Journal will show that the rules failed to suspend and, in effect, the discussion never took place.

Andrews will be the club's president beginning July 1.

RITUALS

"I've been an investigator 15 years and it's one of the worst things I've ever seen," Gavito said.

Kilroy apparently was taken at random after members of the cult "were told to pick one Anglo male that particular night," Gavito said.

At least one of the suspects admitted involvement in Kilroy's death, said Oran Neck, agent in charge for U.S. Customs in Brownsville.

The case is being investigated by Customs, the U.S. Attorney's Office, Mexican federal authorities and local law enforcement agencies on both sides of the border.

It is the second drug-related mass killing discovered near the border in less than two weeks.

Mexican authorities found the bodies of three women and six men March 29 on an abandoned ranch near Agua Prieta, Sonora, just across the border from Douglas, Ariz.

Five were at the bottom of a well, and four, covered with lime to decompose them, were in an earthen septic tank. All nine had been tortured, mutilated and bound, officials said.

On April 1, the bodies of three more men killed in similar fashion were fished from the well. All were believed to be Mexican nationals.

Investigators said possible motives for the Agua Prieta slayings range from revenge for lost narcotics or drug money to discouraging informants to fighting between drug-smuggling factions.

At a Tucson news conference on Thursday, Pima County Sheriff Clarence Dupnik termed as "reasonable speculation" the likelihood that the Agua Prieta deaths were linked to those of five Hispanics, two from Arizona and three from Sonora, found March 27 bound and stabbed in a Tucson shed.

Law officers on both sides of the border had been stumped by the Kilroy case, with no clues despite an intensive search, the questioning of nearly 100 people and a $15,000 reward.

Kilroy's disappearance also was re-enacted for a segment on Fox Television's America's Most Wanted program.

The mother of Bill Huddleston, one of the students with Kilroy the night he vanished, took the Kilroys from their Santa Fe, Texas, home to the airport Tuesday for the trip to Brownsville.

"Helen (Kilroy) of course is very upset after finding out the news that it really was Mark down there," Gwen Huddleston said. "They went down there in hopes that it wouldn't be, but it didn't turn out that way."

Brownsville authorities called the Kilroys on Monday night and requested their missing son's dental records, Ms. Huddleston said.

Santa Fe residents had been donating time and money to help Mark's parents with their search. A citywide garage sale and car wash last weekend went towards a fund set up for the Kilroys.

A yellow ribbon ceremony had been scheduled for today to draw attention to Kilroy's disappearance. The ceremony now will be a memorial service.

Zack Creech, who had been with Kilroy shortly before he was abducted, said he now can only wish he had kept closer tabs on his friend as they walked back to the international bridge.

"I wished I would have went with him," Creech said. "I just wish to God I was there. I wouldn't have let this happen."

Beatrice Cistkovic said she and other Matamoros residents sympathize with Kilroy's parents, who had offered a $15,000 reward seeking information about his disappearance.

"They should give those guys the death penalty because it's horrible what they did," Ms. Cistkovic said. "They should hang. They don't deserve to live."

There is no federal death penalty in Mexico and it has been abolished in most of the country's states.

Today in history

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, April 12, the 102nd day of 1989. There are 263 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On April 12, 1945, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, 32nd president of the United States, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in Warm Springs, Ga., at age 63 - just three months after beginning an unprecedented fourth term in office. Vice President Harry S. Truman became the nation's 33rd chief executive.

On this date:

In 1606, England adopted as its flag the original version of the Union Jack.

In 1861, the Civil War began as Confederate forces fired on Fort Sumter in South Carolina.

In 1862, Union volunteers led by James J. Andrews stole a Confederate train near Marietta, Ga., but were later caught. This episode inspired the Buster Keaton comedy "The General."

In 1877, the catcher's mask was first used in a baseball game.

In 1955, the Salk vaccine against polio was declared safe and effective.

In 1961, Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin became the first man to fly in space, orbiting the earth once before making a safe landing.

In 1975, the U.S. embassy in Phnom Penh was closed, and the last of the American personnel, including Ambassador John Gunther Dean, evacuated in the face of advancing Khmer Rouge forces.

In 1980, the U.S. Olympic Committee's House of Delegates endorsed, by a 2-1 margin, President Jimmy Carter's call for a boycott of the Moscow Summer Olympics.

In 1981, the space shuttle Columbia, carrying astronauts Robert Crippen and John Young, blasted off on its first test flight.

SERVICE BY TERMINAL

NEW YORK (AP) - Bank customers, who have been able to get money, travelers checks and bank statements from automated bank terminals, now can use similar terminals to obtain more services.

For instance, car loans now can be approved by terminal, using standard credit information that had been previously compiled in the bank's computer system.

"Banks have been trying to sell more products on a self-service basis and the new self-service terminals will aid them in the effort," says Raymond L. Miolla of NCR Corp., a maker of financial terminals.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was disappointed in your answer to Hillary's Mom in N.J. She was very uneasy because she believes that her daughter's fiancé may be a homosexual.

The young woman confided that she and her fiancé don't have sex very often because he doesn't enjoy it much. So what's the big deal?

I am a 28-year-old straight male. All my life I have been accused of being gay. I am sick of the commonly held notion that if a guy isn't interested in bed-hopping five nights a week, he is gay. I have been called a "fag" to my face because I declined offers to take out girls who were a sure thing.

Why didn't you tell that mother to mind her own business? What goes on in her daughter's bed is none of her affair. If Hillary and her fiancé love and respect one another, that's all that matters.--Quiet and Straight in L.A.

DEAR Q and S in L.A.: Thank you for expressing a point of view that has a great deal of validity. Here is a letter from a reader who sees it differently:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Hillary's mom is right on target and I hope her daughter listens. I speak from experience. Here's my story.

When I met "Pat" I was ready for a serious relationship. He was warm and kind, fun and funny, gentle and gentlemanly. What more could a woman ask for? Right?

I wish I had recognized the signs that are staring Hillary in the face. Pat, too, was always joking. How right you are when you say "humor can be a great distrancer." Pat would never let anyone get really close to him.

When he finally told me that he had never been with a woman, I thought it was wonderful that he had such high morals. Soon after, I agreed to marry him.

Three months later, after a beautiful (and expensive) wedding, Pat confessed that he was gay. I nearly had a nervous breakdown. When the hurt turned to anger I filed for divorce.

Guess what? That sweet and gentle man really did a number on me. He had no credit and I foolishly let him charge a complete wardrobe to my account plus anything else he wanted. When he realized that I couldn't stand the sight of him and would do anything to be rid of him, he and his shark of a lawyer cleaned me out.

Now, in addition to all of my other problems, I am worried about AIDS although I have tested negative.

Please tell Hillary to take a good look at her fiancé and make sure that she knows what she's getting into. I wish I had.--20-20 Hindsight

in Lansing

DEAR 20-20: Thanks for the crash course. Are you listening, students?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am short. My mother is short. My daughter is short. We are all about 5 foot 1 in our stocking feet. I cringe when someone makes a joke about our height, and it happens quite often.

Recently my daughter and I attended an aunt's 50th wedding anniversary. Everyone on that side of the family is tall and they all wear high heels. Minutes after we arrived one of the tall nieces grabbed my daughter and said, "Hello, shorty! Why don't you grow up?" Needless to say, her evening was ruined and so was mine.

Please print this letter, Ann, and wake up some people.--E.L.H. in Indiana

DEAR INDIANA: They aren't asleep, they are insensitive and boorish.

Why do you give the clods such power over you? I'm a shorty too, but I'll be doggoned if I'll let some ignorant clod spoil my day.

PRODUCTIVITY IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The gross national product of Ohio, the total retail value of all the goods it produces in a year, now exceeds the GNP of all Arab states and many Asian and European countries.

Ohio's GNP is $176.1 billion. Less than eight years ago, the state had a budget deficit. Now, it has a budget surplus of $297 million and a "rainy day" fund of $284 million, largely due to production advances in autos and trucks, fabricated metals and chemicals.

Astros capitalize for 5-3 win over Reds

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Astros have been getting their hits this season, they've just come at the wrong time.

In three of their five losses, the Astros out-hit the opposition but they reversed the trend Tuesday night

Schramm may be out quickly

IRVING (AP) - Tex Schramm won't be in the Dallas Cowboys' front office much longer.

Schramm, the glue that held together one of the NFL's most successful franchises, is too much of a professional and a loyalist to jump the gun on his announcement as the commissioner for a new NFL International League.

But he said on Tuesday, "I'm keeping my options open."

However, Schramm, president and general manager since the club's founding, has been on the outside looking in since Jerry Jones purchased the Cowboys from Bum Bright on Feb. 25.

For example: Schramm didn't know Jones gave new coach Jimmy Johnson a 10-year contract until reporters told him.

with the help of third baseman Ken Caminiti.

Caminiti hit a two-run single in the four-run first inning as the Astros got only five hits but beat Cincinnati 5-3.

Schramm wasn't asked to join a meeting last weekend between Jones, Johnson, quarterback prospect Troy Aikman and his agent, Leigh Steinberg.

Schramm didn't attend a recent beer-and-barbecue session that Johnson and Jones held for the players. Jones invited some 100 business friends including Dallas Mavericks' owner Donald Carter to the affair.

Asked about being left out in the decision-making cold, Schramm said, "That's the prerogative of the new owner. He said from the beginning he was going to be involved in everything from socks to jockstraps. He has."

Schramm also said from the beginning he didn't think he could handle a day-to-day caretaker role after nearly three decades of calling the shots.

"That's not my style," he said. Schramm won't admit he's made a decision but he talks like he's decided to do something other than be a figurehead for the Cowboys.

All the signs are there. He will be in New York City on Tuesday at a special meeting when owners vote on the sale of the Cowboys and proposals for the organization and operation of an International League.

"The prospect of the International League interests me," Schramm said. "I'm very happy and very proud of what's been accomplished here. I'm also pleased I also could make a contribution as far as the league is concerned. I feel an individual club's success depends on the strength and soundness of the league."

As sure as Schramm helped invent instant replay as a member of the NFL Competition Committee, his days as a Cowboy are numbered.

"It would be a difficult decision for me because this has been my life for 30 years," Schramm said. "I guess the thing I would miss would be that relationship with all the fans. You get to know 'em all."

However, Schramm on Tuesday spoke like he would soon be gone. He was eager to reminisce about his days with the Cowboys.

Asked his proudest moment with the Cowboys, Schramm said "both winning and reaching the highest pinnacle of popularity at the same time."

Cincinnati out-hit the Astros 7-5 but Astros manager Art Howe will trade hitting stats for victories every day.

"I don't think we've been too tense, we've been hitting the ball but it just hasn't happened at the right time," Howe said.

The right time Tuesday night was the first inning when Houston got three of its hits and took a 4-0 lead off Rick Mahler, who lost to the Astros for the ninth straight time.

"We got four runs out of three hits in the first inning, we made the runs count," Howe said. "We got the lead and relaxed at the plate."

Chris Sabo's error allowed Billy Hatcher to reach first base to start the Astros' first inning.

After Craig Reynolds grounded out, Terry Puhl singled to score Hatcher. Bill Doran singled to score Puhl and after Kevin Bass walked, Caminiti's single to right field scored two more runs.

Mahler, who hasn't beaten the Astros since 1985, retired 15 of 16 batters from the second through the sixth inning when he was lifted for a pinchhitter.

But the damage was done in the first inning.

"In the first inning, nothing went right," Mahler said. "I was lucky to get out with just four runs. I just lost it for awhile and got wild. After the first inning, I felt good."

Caminiti eased concerns about the third base position with his performance.

He was a question-mark at the start of the season but has played well at third base and hit above expectations.

"Kenny has been swing the bat good," Howe said. "I'm happy for him because there were a lot of people questioning his ability around here."

Eric Davis hit his second homer in as many days with a solo in the second inning and the Reds rallied for two runs in the seventh on a wild pitch by reliever Danny Darwin and Ron Oester's single.

But Caminiti helped kill the rally, starting a double play by catching pinchhitter Ken Griffy's line drive. He threw threw out Oester at first base for the double play.

Reds manager Pete Rose wished for more runs for his pitcher.

"Rick pitched real good, they had four runs on three hits but he pitched good enough to win," Rose said. "I'd like to see him score more runs when he pitches."

Jim Deshaies, 1-1, shut down Cincinnati after Davis' home run in the second inning--until the seventh.

Deshaies gave up a single to Paul O'Neill and a double to Jeff Reed before leaving the game.

"I didn't run out of gas but I did feel a little tired in the seventh," Deshaies said. "We've got plenty of guys in the bull pen to help out."

Andrews provides insurance

Hereford catcher Kyle Andrews, pictured here as he watches the action in a recent game, socked an RBI double in the top of the seventh inning Tuesday to help insure a 6-2 win at Dumas in a District 1-4A game.

Victor leads Herd

Jared Victor had a home run and a double, and hereford pitchers Clint Cotten and Jason Scott scattered six hits over seven innings as Hereford took a 6-2 District 1-4A win on Tuesday at Dumas.

Hereford led 3-2 through six innings before Kyle Andrews spanked a RBI double in the top of the seventh that boosted the Herd to a three-run cushion.

Dumas had taken a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the second off Cotten, who went six innings for the win, before Victor hit a homer in the top of the third to tie the score at 1-1. Hereford took the lead for good with two runs in the fourth.

Cotten gave up six hits and struck out three Demon batters before giving way to Scott in the seventh.

Hereford is now 8-0-1 on the year and will host Dunbar at 2 p.m. Saturday in its next contest.

Non-golfers, men and women, are welcome and encouraged to attend the social hour and dinner, noted Hopper. Price is $15. Others on the planning committee are Tom LeGate, Cal Mitts and Speedy Nieman.

Twins, KC continue mastery of foes

By The Associated Press
 "Every day you come to park you think you're going to win." - Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson, whose Tigers have dropped 12 straight games to the Minnesota Twins. And, Anderson noted, "rather easily."
 "There are no automatics. Any team can beat any other team any day." - Kansas City's George Brett, whose Royals have taken 15 in a row from Baltimore.
 Both streaks continued Tuesday. Pinch hitter Carmen Castillo hit a grand slam in Minnesota's eight-run eighth inning and Kirby Puckett drove in two runs with a double and homer, leading the Twins over Detroit 14-0, the Tigers' worst shutout loss since a 14-0 setback to Boston in 1973.

 Meanwhile, Bo Jackson and George Brett hit two-run homers and Danny Tartabull had a solo shot as Kansas City beat the Orioles 6-5.
 Another streak continued when the New York Yankees dropped their seventh straight, losing to Toronto 11-6 on a five-run 10th inning. In other American League games, it was California 7, Oakland 1; Chicago 8, Seattle 6.
 Believe it or not, Anderson liked what he saw.

 "That's a great team," he said of the Twins. "They can play baseball and they enjoy playing. I enjoy watching them play."
 Allan Anderson, no relation to Sparky, pitched seven innings for the Twins, allowing seven hits as he beat the Tigers for the fourth straight time.
 The Tigers didn't get much pitching as Minnesota rapped out 19 hits. The Twins chased Jack Morris in the fourth inning. He was charged with five runs and eight hits. Puckett homered off Charles Hudson and Castillo connected off

Guillermo Hernandez.
Royals 6, Orioles 5
 Kansas City hit only one home run in its first seven games, but there's something about Baltimore that brings out the best in the Royals.
 "We can hit home runs," said Tartabull, whose homer following Brett's two-run shot tied the score 3-3 in the third inning. "The wind has been blowing in a lot. You know, we play in one of the biggest ballparks in the league and it doesn't help when the wind is blowing in."

Jackson's two-run homer in the sixth made it 5-3 and Bob Boone's single chased Orioles starter Jose Bautista. Boone moved to third on consecutive wild pitches by Gregg Olson and scored what proved to be the decisive run as Bill Pecota hit into a double play. Pinch hitter Joe Orsulak hit a two-run homer off Tom Gordon in the eighth.
Blue Jays 11, Yankees 6
 For the seventh straight game, something bad happened to the Yankees. Toronto shortstop Manny Lee, whose ninth-inning error helped New York tie the score, hit a tie-breaking two-run single in the Blue Jays' five-run 10th against Dave Righetti.
 Fred McGriff hit a pair of solo homers off Dave LaPoint.
 With the score 4-4 and the bases loaded in the seventh, reliever Lance McCullers apparently struck George Bell out. But catcher Don Slaught had asked for time just prior to the pitch. Given another chance, Bell singled to give Toronto a 5-4 lead.
Angels 7, Athletics 1
 Bert Blyleven hurled a four-hitter for his first victory with California.

 The Angels were shut out on two hits through four innings by Storm Davis but scored six times with two out in the fifth. With two runners on base, consecutive RBI singles by Glenn Hoffman, Mark McLemore, Devon White and Claudell Washington made it 4-0 and Lance Parrish added a two-run double.
White Sox 8 Mariners 6
 Steve Lyons hit a two-run homer off Seattle reliever Tom Niedenfuer with two out in Chicago's three-run ninth inning. Billy Jo Robidoux doubled with one out and, after Niedenfuer struck out Ron Kittle, Lyons hit his first home run of the season. Eddie Williams followed with a double and scored on Ron Karkovice's single.
 The Mariners had taken a 6-5 lead in the eighth on pinch hitter Scott Bradley's RBI single.

Ontiveros leads Phillie victory

By The Associated Press
 Steve Ontiveros found out he can do more than just pitch in the major leagues.
 Ontiveros threw seven shutout innings and drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double as Philadelphia beat Montreal 6-2 Tuesday night.
 Last season, Ontiveros appeared in only 10 games for Oakland as he spent most of the season on the disabled list with a sore right elbow. After the season ended, Ontiveros had surgery and also became a free agent. The Phillies, a team in need of pitching, took a chance and so far Ontiveros has been their lucky charm.

"You have to believe in yourself, have confidence," Ontiveros said.
 Elsewhere in the National League it was Pittsburgh 4, New York 3 in 11 innings; Houston 5, Cincinnati 3; Chicago 5, St. Louis 4; San Diego 3, Atlanta 2, and San Francisco 8, Los Angeles 3.
 Leading 1-0, Chris James and Ron Jones led off the Phillies' fourth with singles and Darren Daulton drove in a run with a single. Pascual Perez, 0-1, walked Steve Jeltz to load the bases and Ontiveros doubled to right field to score three runs.

Pirates 4, Mets 3
 Bobby Bonilla singled home Jose Lind from third base with two outs in the 11th inning as Pittsburgh beat New York in its home opener at Three Rivers Stadium.
 Lind singled with one out in the 11th off Randy Myers, 0-1, stole second and moved to third on Andy Van Slyke's ground out to second.
 Bonilla then bounced a slow roller that third baseman Dave Magadan caught with a backhand stab. But Bonilla easily beat his three-hop throw to first, as Lind scored standing up.
 Jeff Robinson, 1-1, retired all three batters he faced in the 11th for the victory.

Padres 3, Braves 2
 Ed Whitson allowed five hits in 7 2-3 innings and added a run-scoring single as San Diego beat Atlanta at Jack Murphy Stadium.
 Tony Gwynn hit his second homer in the fifth inning.
 Mark Davis pitched the final 1 1-3 innings for his fourth save in as many appearances. He yielded Andres Thomas' leadoff homer in the ninth.
 Darrell Evans hit his 404th career homer for Atlanta's other run.
Giants 8, Dodgers 3
 Will Clark drove in five runs with a three-run homer and two doubles, as San Francisco beat Los Angeles at Candlestick Park.
 Kelly Downs, 2-0, allowed eight hits and one earned run in 6 2-3 innings and got relief help from Craig Lefters.

Tarpley earns reinstatement

DALLAS (AP) - Roy Tarpley was scheduled to break his silence today at a press conference to announce his return to the Mavericks' active roster in time to play against the Phoenix Suns.

Tarpley will still be unavailable for comment on his fight with chemical dependency and after returning to play, Tarpley can only comment on questions pertaining to games, his drug counselors said.
 Dr. Dave Lewis of the ASAP Family Treatment Program notified the Mavericks Tuesday that Tarpley was ready to begin the next stage of his aftercare program.
 "Roy is moving to the next phase of his aftercare, which is activation," Lewis said. "We'll continue to observe him and see how he does."
 James Donaldson, who suffered a season-ending knee injury March 10, will be placed on the injured list to make room for Tarpley.

 Norm Sonju, Mavericks chief operating officer and general manager, said the organization is encouraged by Tarpley's progress and is in full support of the National Basketball Association and drug counselors involved with the Mavericks' forward.
 Tarpley, 24, missed 49 games after being suspended by league officials Jan. 5 for violating the provisions of his previous aftercare program.
 The 7-foot forward had averaged 14.8 points and 10.6 rebounds in 13 games this season.

4-H Around the County

Two unique and exciting summer opportunities, SpecTra '89 and Prime Time '89, await Texas 4-H members at the Texas 4-H Center. Each is a command performance geared toward teaching educational 4-H project objectives and developing and building upon life skills.

SpecTra '89, offered Aug. 6-11, extends into all rays of the 4-H spectrum: project enhancement, leadership development, self-image enrichment and career exploration. 4-H'ers 13-19 will cultivate new visions of themselves, their goals and aspirations and commit themselves to grow personally and professionally.

During SpecTra '89, 4-H'ers will devote a total of 20 hours to one of the 12 project areas from which they may choose. Choices include image and attire, archery, advanced computers, entomology identification and public speaking. Also, offered will be recreation training, meats identification, basic swimming and diving, photography, canoeing and sailing, tennis and agricultural enterprises.

Resource people to instruct these courses include Texas Agricultural Extension Service personnel, Texas 4-H Center summer staff members and Brownwood area civic leaders.

Prime Time '89 is a three-day experience offered to younger 4-H members 9-14 years old. This activity concentrates on educational and recreational experiences that are out-of-the-ordinary. At Prime Time '89, young people will learn interpersonal skills of working with others and ways of becoming successful at new things while developing a better self-image and building self-esteem. Activities include shooting sports, canoeing, high adventure, crafts and outdoor education. In addition, there is organized night time recreation. Dates for the four sessions are July 23-26 (ages 9-11), July 26-29 (ages 9-11); July 30-Aug. 2 (ages 12-14) and Aug. 2-5 ages 9-14).

The Texas 4-H Center encompasses 78 acres of wooded land on the shores of Lake Brownwood. Modern, air-conditioned lodges offer housing for 200. College-aged counselors and adult advisors offer adequate supervision.

Make the most of your summer-attend SpecTra '89 or Prime Time '89 at the Texas 4-H Center. For applications or additional information, contact Davy Vestal, County Extension Agent, Deaf Smith County, at 364-3573.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

NEW YORK (AP) - Kay Thompson, the author of "Eloise," a popular fictional character who roamed the halls of the Plaza hotel, has turned down a request from Donald and Ivana Trump to use the character in hotel promotions.

"What we would have liked was for Eloise to be reborn and live at the Plaza hotel," said Dan Klores, spokesman for the Trumps, who purchased the hotel during the past year.

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)
Cartoonist Gary Larson has drawn his first album cover - for jazz guitar legend Herb Ellis, who paid for the art with a few music lessons. "I've drawn so many 'Far Side' cartoons while listening to Herb Ellis ... that I probably owe him a credit line on most of my work - let alone a cover," Larson wrote.

Released Wednesday by independent Concord Records, the album has a cover showing the inside of a nightclub called "The Stuffed Cat." Inside, upright-standing dogs, common characters in Larson's wacky cartoons, are being served drinks by poodle waitresses and listening to two dog musicians on stage.

On the tables, a sign reads: "Please keep table barking to a minimum." A sign with a fireplug and an arrow hangs on one wall.

Arnold inducted into bowling Hall of Fame

Bertha Arnold of Hereford was inducted into the Hall of Fame of the Amarillo Women's Bowling Association at their awards reception held Sunday in Amarillo.

The honor recognized Arnold's efforts in donating time and knowledge in promoting the game of bowling.

AUTOMOBILE MAGAZINES
DETROIT (AP) - There are several hundred automotive magazines in the United States.

A few of the more popular ones are Automotive News, which is a trade magazine that covers the latest industry developments; Autoweek, once a newspaper but which now has a magazine format, and Car and Driver, which often compares two similar cars.

She has been bowling 34 years and is currently serving on the AWBA board of directors, a position she has held for 14 years. She was named Woman of the Year in 1979 by the AWBA.

Arnold is president of the Amarillo Women's 600 Club. This club makes donations to Camp Wigwam of this area and children's services in Camp Wigwam, which is an organization for abused children.

She served as president of the Hereford Women's Bowling for two years and coach/instructor of the Hereford Junior Bowling Association as well as bowling in leagues here.

Luncheon, dental trends highlight Toujours Amis Club meetings

The offices of Stan Fry, Jr., DDS, served as the meeting place of Toujours Amis Club members recently. Dr. Fry gave the group a tour of the new facilities and gave information on new trends in dentistry.

Members then met in the home of Judy Barrett. She, along with hostesses Kim Buckley, Shelly Moss, Donna Tidmore, and Camille Williamson, served an Easter meal.

A brief meeting followed. Project committee chairman Debbie Donaldson reported that the club would make donations to Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center, the WATCH program at Hereford High School, Deaf Smith General Hospital for use in the nursery, Friends of the Deaf Smith County Library, and Big Brothers/Big Sisters.

The club also voted to reserve a booth at the Town and Country Jubilee Arts and Crafts Show and will feature the annual ice cream crepe sale.

Nanette Ashby volunteered to serve as historian for the remainder of the club year. Easter Secret Friend gifts were exchanged, thanks were given and the meeting was adjourned.

Other members present included Kim Bigham, Patti Brown, Cindy Black, Kathy Carthel, Shannon Hagar, Tonja Horrell, Karen Keeling, Brenda Koenig, Ange Lauderback, Sarah Lawson, Marilyn Leasure, Leisa Lewis, Elaine McNutt, Becky Reinart, Nena Veazey, Marsha Winget, Melinda Bridge, and Kyla McDowell. Most of the members, including Lori Hall and Cheryl Davison, were present when the club met at the E.B. Black House for a luncheon sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Historical Society recently. A style show featuring fashions from the early 1900s was presented by the society.

A short meeting in which a slate of officers was presented followed the meal. Hostesses who scheduled the event were Brown, McDowell, Donaldson, and Veazey.

The Motel Inn in San Luis Obispo, Calif., was designed by Arthur Heinman, who originated the word "motel" in 1924.
