WASHINGTON (AP) — Like the cast of some television soap opera, the Carter family of Plains, Ga., has survived its share of melodrama during the White House run of "Jimmy Carter, Jimmy Carter."

A son's marital troubles, a brother's bout with the bottle, a nephew's prison sentence, one sister's skirmishes with the law, the other's efforts to "save" an accused pornographer — all are real-life plots from the past three years. Little has been left to the imagination as the Carters have had their linen aired in public, perhaps more than any other presidential family.

Today, as Carter announces the start of his quest for re-election, the spotlight will shine even more brightly on his family, many of whom will be campaigning on his behalf.

Since 1976, when Jimmy Carter emerged from the pack to win the Democratic presidential nomination, the spotlight has rarely slipped off his family. Since his inauguration, Carter has experienced the death of a revered uncle, the birth of two grandchildren, a daughter-in-law's miscarriage, and the weddings of two nieces.

That's only the beginning.

There is the eccentric, outspoken matriarch, Miss Lillian, who said last week that if she had $1 million to spare, she would hire someone to kill Iran's Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

Mrs. Carter, 81, also raised eyebrows recently with her suggestive reaction to the presidential candidacy of Sen. Edward Kennedy, whose two older brothers were slain by assassins. "I hope nothing happens to him," she told Democratic Party picnickers in Nashua, N.H., early in September.

She comes off as a villain in "Cousin Beedie and Cousin Hot," a book about family feuds written by Hugh Carter Sr., the president's cousin. The gossipy book says Mrs. Carter opposed her son's marriage to Rosalynn Smith.

Hugh's son and namesake is a presidential assistant who earned the nickname "Cousin Cheap" when he removed television sets from White House offices and canceled magazine subscriptions to save money.

The president's brother, Billy, lent his name to a beer, capitalized on his redneck reputation by out-earning the president in public appearances, and finally checked into Long Beach Naval Hospital for alcoholism treatments.

Earlier, Billy had outraged many by playing host to a group of prominent

Bilingual Program Assaulted

TYLER, Texas (AP) — The government today presents three more witnesses in its case against Texas' bilingual education program.

Scheduled to testify are James Vasquez, superintendent of the Edgewood Independent School District, Angel Gonzales of the Dallas Independent School District and Dr. Roger Shuy, a linguistics expert at Georgetown University.

During the first day of the hearing Monday before U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice, three witnesses supported the federal government's contention that bilingual education should be offered through the 12th grade.

The government filed suit against Texas in 1971, alleging the state was not doing enough in bilingual education for minority students.

The League of United Latin American Citizens and the American GI Forum, two Mexican-American organizations, since have joined the suit.

Texas' bilingual education program requires instruction in Spanish for kindergarten through the third grade if there are 20 or more students in a particular grade who speak a language other than English.

Bilingual programs in the fourth and fifth grades qualify for state assistance, but are not mandatory. Students can leave the program and enter regular classes if they desire.

The federal government, claiming Texas' program denies equal education opportunities under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act, wants the state to implement a program for all non-English speaking students through the 12th grade.

State Sen. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi testified Monday that the state spends $25 a year per student on bilingual education as opposed to $700 on special education and $200 to $300 on agriculture programs.

Dr. Cortney Cazden, a professor of children's language development at Harvard University, said children must be taught in their first, or native, language.

Dr. Rudolph Troike Jr., a professor of applied linguistics from Washington, D.C., who is doing a national study of bilingual education, said he felt equal educational opportunities would keep children from feeling like second-class citizens.

Troike, who is former director of the National Clearinghouse, a cultural exchange, said skills acquired at an early age will be more likely to lead to an equal education.

Commission Authorizes Land Purchase

Hereford city commissioners Monday night authorized Mayor Bartley Dowell to enter into a contract with a Deaf Smith County landowner for the purchase of approximately 600 acres to be used for city water expansion.

The action came in the commission's regular semi-monthly meeting, but was the result of three previous closed sessions of the matter.

City Manager Dudley Bayne declined comment on where the land is located.

"He (the seller) still has to sign the contract," Bayne said today. "Maybe I can tell you tomorrow."

Bayne said that once the purchase is finalized, test holes will be drilled. "We're pretty well convinced there's water out there," he said.

Commissioners Emory Brownlow, Ed Coplen and Bud Eades attended the meeting, which had no other items for discussion on its agenda. Commissioner Wes Fisher was out of town.

Carter Pulls Even with Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, set to announce officially today that he is seeking re-election, has pulled almost even with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy in a new opinion poll.

Carter campaign chief Robert Strauss said he was surprised to see Carter coming on so quickly and suggested that Kennedy has caused himself further political damage by his criticism of Carter's decision to admit the former Shah of Iran to the United States.

Carter was scheduled to announce his candidacy officially in the East Room of the White House at 2:30 p.m. EST today, then attend a fund-raising dinner at a Washington hotel in the evening. He recorded a five-minute television speech to be broadcast at 8:55 p.m. EST on time purchased from the CBS network.

Earlier in the year, Carter was trailing Kennedy 2-1 in polls of Democratic voters, but an ABC-Louis Harris poll released Monday night showed Carter trailing Kennedy 44 percent to 51 percent among Democratic voters in a head-on race. The poll showed Carter even closer in a three-way race including Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., of California, the third major contender for the Democratic nomination. In the three-way matchup, the Democrats polled gave Kennedy 44 percent, Carter 40 and Brown 10.

Carter actually was ahead of Kennedy when Democrats were lumped together with independents, who can vote in some Democratic primaries. Among both groups of voters, the poll showed Carter led Kennedy 48 to 46 in a head-on race and 42 to 40 in a three-way race with Brown, who got 11 percent.

Carter's own chief pollster, Patrick Caddell, said the Iran crisis may be inflating the president's approval rating temporarily.

"We're still the underdog," Caddell told reporters.

Strauss, speaking at a news conference at Carter campaign headquarters, said the Iranian situation has helped Carter politically by giving him an opportunity to show himself as steady, cool and decisive in a crisis. And Strauss predicted Kennedy's attack on the shah had been a political blunder that will cost him votes. "I think it's damaging politically to Sen. Kennedy," Strauss said.

Kennedy said in a San Francisco television interview Sunday that the shah "ran one of the most violent regimes in the history of mankind," and questioned why Carter would admit him to the United States when "Hispanics who are here legally...have to wait nine years to bring their wife and their children to this country."

Kennedy later insisted he wasn't attacking Carter's handling of the hostage situation, but State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said Kennedy had not helped the crisis. Reporters were told that Kennedy's remarks could hardly help administration efforts to get another country to accept the shah as a resident.

White House spokesman Jody Powell said Carter would refuse to be drawn into a political debate on Iran while the hostages' lives are still at stake, but added: "I think you recognize how bloody my tongue is from being bitten."

Metal Prices Soar In Midst of Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Silver has taken on the glint of gold and the prices of both precious metals are rising to record heights on the world's exchanges amid speculative concern over the Iranian crisis, fear of Middle East tensions and the prospect of sharp oil price increases.

Meanwhile, the dollar plummeted Monday in its worst slump since October 1978, when the U.S. government was forced to intervene to prop up the currency.

The dollar traded as low as 1.7050 West German marks in Frankfurt, breaking record lows for open-market trading. With support from the West German central bank, it closed at 1.7068, down from 1.7290 on Friday. The dollar closed at 1.7090 marks in New York, down from 1.7265 on Friday.

Gold prices, which have risen nearly $35 in a week, closed in New York at a record $432.50, up $14 an ounce. It was a record here.

In Europe, gold had its best day since it reached the all-time high price of $444 an ounce on Oct. 2 in Zurich, Switzerland. It closed Monday at $429 an ounce in Zurich, up $13, and $431 in London, up $15.50.

Silver, which has gained nearly $4 during the past week, closed at a record $20.06 an ounce in London, a gain of 99 cents. It was the first time silver ever sold for more than $20 in London.

Silver closed at a record $20.05 an

Anti-Shah Protest Requested

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Worried city officials, unexpectedly thrust into the middle of the Iranian crisis with the shah's transfer here Sunday, are weighing the sticky question of whether to allow Iranian students to stage protest marches.

The San Antonio College students requested parade permits Monday to stage anti-shah demonstrations Friday downtown and outside Lackland Air Force Base, where Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi spent Monday secluded in comfortable, heavily guarded VIP quarters.

Mayor Lila Cockrell, City Manager Tom Huebner and attorney Louis Linden, who represents the students, said Monday they feared a violent backlash from San Antonians upset with the Iranian takeover of the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

Huebner, who is huddling with federal, city and law enforcement authorities on the issue, said he will answer the students Wednesday. The applications say 400 demonstrators are expected.

Mrs. Cockrell, who was not given advance notice of the shah's transfer, called for San Antonians to be "cool and supportive" during the shah's stay. But she acknowledged that violent counter-demonstrations could result if the students march.

She said of local citizens, "They are angry and upset about the situation involving the hostages, and under the circumstances, inclined to feel very strongly about these issues."

"I don't look for trouble, but on the other hand I recognize the mood of our citizens is they are very upset and concerned," she said, adding "I feel as angry and upset as anyone."

Linden agreed, "Given the nature of the situation, there is very well may be a counter-rally. We are not planning one, but it is unrealistic to discount the possibility."

If faced with a bitter anti-Iran crowd, the students will use "Ghandian passive

Undercount of Migrant Workers TRLA Concerned over Census

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Numerous Texas migrant farmworkers will go uncounted by the 1980 census unless the U.S. Census Bureau changes its ways, a congressional subcommittee has been told.

"A serious undercount will have a devastating economic impact on the already bleak existence of migrant farm workers," Jose Camacho of Texas Rural Legal Aid said Monday.

Federal dollars for a variety of health, education and job programs for migrants are distributed according to migrant population. Camacho testified before the U.S. House Subcommittee on Census and Population, which is conducting hearings in several states on ways to make sure the census counts all Americans.

Besides federal funds, fair representation in Congress and the Legislature are at stake in an accurate count.

"The procedures presently set up by the Census Bureau will put us no closer to answering the question of how many migrant workers there are, where they live and what is their social and economic status," Camacho said.

In fact, Leo Estrada, staff assistant to the bureau's deputy director, told the subcommittee next year's census forms don't even show migrant farmworkers as an occupational category.

Camacho said the census should ascertain the permanent residence of migrant workers so their home counties will get credit in distribution of both federal funds and seats in lawmaking

Camp Residents To Change Over To New System

Residents of the San Jose labor camp south of Hereford must be hooked up to the new federally-funded water system by next Monday, according to an official with the regional office of the state health department.

Ralph Quinones, of the health department, said Monday that the new water pump, part of the $320,000 Department of Housing and Urban Development project, is in operation.

Camp residents will have until Monday morning to switch from the old water system to the new one, Quinones said. "The old system will be shut off Monday," he said.

The new system includes the pump, a 200,000-gallon storage tank, a chlorinator, lines and fire hydrants.

A public meeting of the San Jose Fresh Water Supply District is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the San Jose Catholic Church at the camp. Water rates, deposits and the opening of a water office at San Jose will be discussed.

Arab, African Countries Rip Iran

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Arab and African members of the United Nations, in an unusual show of support for the United States, are calling for the release of the American hostages in Iran.

Frequently in the past they have been part of Third World groups that opposed the positions taken by the United States. But the seven African and two Arab delegates who spoke in the first three days of the Security Council debate on the U.S.-Iranian crisis all censured Iran's violation of the principle of diplomatic immunity.

Said Ambassador Leon N'Dong of Gabon: "Despite our sympathy for the cause defended by the Iranians, we are bound to regret the fact that the diplomatic personnel of a mission, as well as its premises, should be the object of aggression and violation."

"I can understand the grievances of Iranian people," said Ambassador Blessing Akoporde Clark of Nigeria, "but to understand that is not to approve the methods the Iranians have selected to redress their deeply felt grievances."

"We earnestly implore the government and the people of Iran to release the American hostages without further delay and unconditionally."

Iranians Support

Khomeini Constitution

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iranians reportedly voted 60-to-1 for Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's Islamic constitution, giving the Shiite Moslem patriarch supreme power for life, but there was no word of how many boycotted the referendum.

Khomeini's militiamen increased the guard at the occupied U.S. Embassy, apparently in anticipation of a U.S. attempt to free the 50 Americans held hostage there by students demanding the return of the deposed shah. Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh said all the hostages were still being treated and fed well, and he denied reports that they were kept tied to chairs.

Final results of the referendum were not expected until later in the week. But initial returns from the vote Sunday and Monday pointed to landslide approval by those who voted.

The Carter mandates theocratic government in this predominantly Moslem nation, and opponents claim it will confirm Khomeini as a dictator.

Reports from Isfahan, with a population of 671,825, said the vote was 38,672 for the constitution and 1,637 against. In the smaller northern city of Bandar Gavaneh a vote of 13,300-0 was reported, and in Ardebil, near the Soviet border, the tally was 50,000-112, the government said.

11 Persons Crushed At Cincinnati Concert

CINCINNATI (AP) — "I couldn't believe it. They could see the people all piled up and they still tried to climb over them just to get in," said one man who watched in horror as 11 persons died in a crushing human wave surging into Riverfront Coliseum for a rock concert by "The Who."

Police Lt. Col. Joseph Staff said seven young men and four young women were trampled and killed when the mob pushed into the hall on the Ohio river in a crush of bodies that continued for 30 minutes.

Eight other persons were seriously injured, police said. Twenty more were treated at four hospitals and released.

The Monday night concert, which drew an audience of more than 18,000 people, went on as scheduled and "The Who" made no mention of the tragedy during their performance.

"We decided to let the concert go on. If we stopped it, we would have had a worse panic," said Lt. Dale Menkausk who led 25 police officers in a crowd-control detail.

Menkausk estimated that more than 6,000 people, some who had waited more than three hours, were crowded on the coliseum's plaza level waiting for the doors to open. Many had been drinking and smoking marijuana.

Puerto Rican Police, FBI Seek Killers

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The FBI and Puerto Rican police hunted the nationalist terrorists who killed two U.S. Navy sailors and wounded 10 others as three independence groups claimed responsibility for the ambush.

Marines with M-16 rifles patrolled the entrance to the base where the victims were quartered, and Rear Adm. Arthur K. Knoizen, the Navy's Caribbean commander, said security was being stepped up at all other bases in Puerto Rico.

Responsibility for the attack Monday was claimed by the Armed Forces of Popular Resistance, the Puerto Rican Popular Army and the Organization of Volunteers for the Puerto Rican Revolution.

They said the attack was made to avenge the deaths of two youths in a shootout with police a year ago near a communications tower and the death of an anti-navy activist in a federal prison in Florida in October.

It was the first fatal attack in nine years and the costliest ever made on U.S. military forces in Puerto Rico.

The terrorists in a van intercepted a Navy bus carrying 18 technicians to work at a transmission antenna site about a mile from the Navy's Sabana Seca Base at Toa Baja, about 10 miles west of San Juan. The attackers forced the bus driver to stop and then opened fire.

Woman to Contest Extradition

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — A woman arrested in Chicago Monday on murder solicitation charges says she intends to fight extradition to Lubbock, where her husband is being held.

Vaso V. Mraovic, 41, and his wife Ann, 69, are accused of offering $150,000 to kill Mrs. Mraovic's son-in-law, Arthur Boldt, who owns a McDonald's restaurant franchise in Lubbock. Mraovic was arraigned on a capital murder solicitation charge Monday before Justice of the Peace Charles Smith, who set his bond at $250,000. Smith recommended a similar bond for Mrs. Mraovic.

Mohammad Y. Owaynat, a 35-year-old Jordanian who also lives in Chicago, was released on his own recognizance on a $25,000 material witness bond Monday. He is accused of being the hired gunman who reportedly was offered $150,000 to kill Boldt. But the gunman apparently received only $8,500 before Mraovic's arrest.

Officials from the criminal district attorney's office and Texas Rangers said they arrested Mraovic shortly before 9 a.m. Saturday after watching him pay the Owaynat $3,500, allegedly to buy a gun and silencer.

Authorities said the gunman was paid $5,000 in Chicago and was to have collected the rest of the money when the contract was completed. Officials said they also seized $27,000 from Mraovic when he was arrested.

Although investigators refused official comment, the gunman reportedly contacted Boldt and told him of the contract. Boldt then contacted the FBI and the criminal district attorney.

Boldt and Mraovic have been involved in court battles over the 1965 will of Lillian Boldt, Boldt's wife and Mrs. Mraovic's daughter. In her will, Mrs. Boldt named her mother as the sole beneficiary and her husband as executor.

The will was probated in July 1978, but civil lawsuits concerning the property's value and how it should be distributed began in August of this year.

Last week, a state district judge in Lubbock ordered a February hearing on one of the "disputed matters." On the same day, authorities say, Mraovic arrived in Lubbock.

Mrs. Boldt, who died March

29, 1978, named her mother as sole beneficiary but stipulated that in the event her mother did not survive her daughter's death by 90 days, Boldt would inherit half the estate.

Youths Charged In Store Theft

Hereford police Sunday arrested three young male juveniles on theft charges in connection with a missing money bag at Allsup's Convenience Store, on S. Main.

The youths, age 12, 12 and 13, are charged with stealing $902.69 in cash and checks from the store between 11:30 a.m. and 12 noon Sunday.

Ofelia Martinez, a store employee, told police she noticed the bag containing the money was missing from under a counter after the youths had left the store.

Police Detective Vernon Hope, who obtained descriptions of the youths from the employee, arrested the three juveniles at Play House Skating Rink, W. Highway 60. They were released to the custody of their parents.

Police arrested a 15-year-old male for possession of dangerous drugs and public intoxication at La Plata Junior High shortly before noon Monday. Officers found a small quantity of unknown pills on the youth.

Officers received a call at 11:54 a.m. Sunday concerning two youths who reportedly were climbing over a fence behind A to Z Tire, 311 S. 25 Mile Ave., and taking batteries from the enclosed area.

Police obtained a description of the suspects' car and later arrested two juveniles, age 15 and 14. Two batteries were found in the car, according to police.

Crown Auto Sales, 1315 E. Park, reported Sunday that someone had tried to take a tire off a Dodge pickup. The tire was not stolen, although the lug nuts had been removed.

Andy Lea Jr., 406 Ave. B, told police Saturday that he discovered his billfold was missing following a party at his house Friday night. Police are investigating.

James Subocz, 140 W. 34th, reported Sunday that someone kicked open his front door, entered the house and stole a stereo, television set, records and tapes.

Officers issued 38 traffic citations Saturday and Sunday and investigated two minor traffic accidents. Thirty tickets were issued Monday.

Libyans who had feted him in Tripoli.

He was reported to have said that American Jews offended by his Libyan friendship "can kiss my ass." That remark caused a White House official to publicly disassociate the president from the slur.

The president's sisters are just as independent.

Gloria Carter Spann rides a motorcycle. She and Billy do not speak. She stayed out of the limelight until last February when she was arrested for refusing to quit playing a harmonica in an all-night diner in Americus, Ga.

Mrs. Spann's son, William, is in prison in California for armed robbery. Last January, in a letter to a Sacramento, Calif., television station, KXTV, William wrote: "I used to think I was the family fool. I gladly turn that title over to Uncle Billy."

Ruth Carter Stapleton, the evangelist sister who was with Jimmy Carter when he experienced a religious rebirth, won notoriety with her efforts to bring religion to Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt.

Mrs. Stapleton is a faith-healer who preaches a gospel of love and forgiveness. Since Carter's election, her audiences have increased dramatically.

As for the president's immediate family:

—Son Jack, 32, and his wife, Judy, had their second child, Sarah Rosemary, last year, about one year after Judy — an outspoken advocate of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment — had a miscarriage. Jack, who owns a grain elevator in Calhoun, Ga., had considered running for Congress next year, but decided against it.

—Son Chip, 29, and his wife Caron became parents shortly after the 1977 inauguration, naming their son James Earl Carter IV. The couple separated a year ago, a painful episode for the Carter family.

—Son Jeff, 27, and his wife, Annette, were reported to have smoked marijuana in the suburban home of a friend, to the chagrin of Jeff's Secret Service agents. They recently moved out of the White House to a home in the suburbs.

—The youngest child, 12-year-old Amy, attends 7th grade at a public school. Growing up in a glass bowl is no picnic, and she shuns reporters. Her parents were enraged in 1978 when a gossip column reported that Amy's Secret Service agents stole a trophy for her after she finished last in a relay race. The story was hotly denied.

With all the turbulence in the Carter family, Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter have, by all accounts, a rock solid relationship after 33 years of marriage. Rosalynn, 52, is his closest adviser and campaigns extensively on his behalf. She also rates higher in the polls than her husband.

A top federal source said Monday that the homeless, shah and his entourage were tucked away "deep inside" the 6,828-acre base about eight miles southwest of downtown San Antonio. "There are several perimeters of defense," said the source.

4-H Firsthand

By AGNES TAYLOR
 Assistant County Extension Agent
4-H'ERS WORK ON CONSERVING LIGHTING, ENERGY

4-H youth in the electric energy program know fluorescent lights can save energy. For example, one watt of fluorescent lighting will provide four times more light than one watt of incandescent lighting.

Young people 9-19 in the national 4-H electric energy program have made wise energy use a way of life.

Among energy conservation practices they engage in are these: turn lights off when a room is vacated for more than 15 minutes; keep lamp bulbs, fixtures and shades clean (dirt and dust can absorb as much as 50 percent of the light); and replace darkened bulbs with new ones where possible.

Each year, more than 100,000 4-H members learn-by-doing to conserve and manage their own use of electric energy, and to explore more efficient uses of energy and new energy sources.

Their projects and activities, supervised by the Extension Services nationwide, also include making useful electrical items, repairing small appliances, and working with electronic equipment. 4-H'ers investigate career opportunities in electric and allied industries.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. offers incentives for these 4-H members at all levels of participation: six $1,000 scholarships nationally, expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress each November in Chicago for state winners; and four medals of honor in each county.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service and awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council.

More information on the 4-H electric energy program is available from the County Extension office.

Ann Landers

Rock 'N Roll Trash

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm really sorry you found that old song of mine crude and offensive. Actually, "Cold Ethyl" is just a harmless number about necrophilia.

The point I want to make is that the kids are not bothered by this--their parents are. The kids see the song and gruesome antics, like with the guillotine, for exactly what it is--satire, done with a sense of humor to a rock 'n roll beat.

Kids know I am harmless. It's their parents that make me out to be some kind of a monster. I would like to see you print this in your column, Ann.--Sincerely, Alice Cooper

DEAR ALICE COOPER: Thank you for writing.

For those who don't know what necrophilia is, it's sexual intercourse with someone who is dead. You can call it funny if you want to, Alice. I call it sick.

I like satire as much as the next person, but chopping off heads and spurring blood all over the place is not my idea of entertainment. I caught your guillotine number in Chicago several years ago and almost lost my supper. (Guess I'm an uncool cat.)

You have in your group some exceptionally talented performers and you're no slouch yourself, Alice. I just wish you'd clean up your act.

Here's another letter on the same subject. I received thousands--mostly for your side and against mine. ANN LANDERS: I refuse to call you "dear" because you have criticized the lyrics to rock 'n roll songs.

I am 17 years of age and have grown up with rock 'n roll. It isn't one bit dirty. It's the way people of this generation think and talk. Anyone who sees something filthy in rock 'n roll lyrics must have a polluted mind.

Some rock 'n roll songs have a beautiful philosophy. They tell about being good to animals and neighbors and friends and even parents and brothers and sisters.

If you want to go after the real filth that people are hooked on, take a look at the soap operas. That's YOUR generation, not ours. I bet you'll never print this.--A Former Fan

DEAR FORMER: You lose. Read on.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was delighted to see a letter in a recent column complaining about the filthy lyrics in rock music. But why stop there? Have you listened to the lyrics of today's country music?

Since reading that letter I have listened to our local country station for an hour or so. Have you paid any attention to the lyrics of "Good Things," "I Can't Wait," "Put Your Clothes On Girl," "I Talk in My Sleep," "Behind Closed Doors"? Add to that, "Gotta have Some Hot Stuff."

Our problem is not our young people, it's the adults. And topping the problem are the songwriters and promoters of this trash. The man who was no fool who said, "I'd rather write America's songs than make her laws." He knew where the real power of influence was.--Yes, I've Heard

Those Lyrics!

DEAR YES: Thanks for your comments. I shall remain silent. It took weeks to respond to the angry complaints from rock 'n roll fans. I am in no shape to take on the lovers of country music.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

A lot of parents go through the phase where their children go to college and two weeks later want to have their parents tested for irregular flow of oxygen to the brain. Adults don't know anything.

Oh, I can take the humiliation of kids asking, "Do you understand what I mean by the term 'bottom line'?"

I can handle the condescending way they spell in front of me. I can even endure their impatience when they ask me something and when I don't hear it they shout, "Never mind!"

What I can't stand is their sanctimonious superiority. They all go through it. We no sooner got one child raised who didn't know how we managed to feed ourselves without a working knowledge of statistics than we had to live through an economics expert.

God has now chosen to send us a son who is majoring in "cinema."

Forget the home movies. We stopped showing those two years ago when we asked him to splice together some of our shots of South America. We own the shortest home movie ever recorded in the Guinness Book of Records. As he said, "There was only ten feet of film that had any quality to it whatsoever. I cannot believe you left home without a tripod."

What really gets to me is that I can't enjoy a movie anymore without his Ronacizing it.

Son: "Seen any movies lately?"

Mom: "The Seduction of Joe Tynan" and I loved it..."

Son: "Just missed making a statement."

Mom: "...up to a point. Of course the one I really liked was 'Apocalypse Now' which was breathtaking..."

Son: "Coppola had a concept but it didn't work."

Mom: "...dull. You're absolutely right. Of course 'Luna' was a shakeup for me, really gross..."

Son: "Beautiful film. Sensitive and real."

Mom: "...ed a million according to the critics and worth every penny of it."

Son: "What about 'Life of Brian'?"

Mom: "I haven't seen it, but the Clawsons saw it and walked out of the theatre..."

Son: "Most brilliant piece of satire to come across the screen since Chaplin."

Mom: "...laughing. My gosh, they couldn't stop."

Son: "I'd be interested in comparing your notes on '10.' Or did you relate at all to the metaphor?"

With luck, maybe I'll outgrow him.

New Arrivals

COTTAGE BISCUITS
 These may be as new to you as they were to us.

- 1 1/2 cups unbleached or all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons vegetable shortening
- 1 large egg
- 1 cup small-curd regular or tangy cottage cheese
- Melted butter

In a medium bowl stir together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and sugar, with a pastry blender cut in the 2 tablespoons butter and the shortening until particles are small.

With a fork beat egg slightly, add cheese and mix well, add to flour mixture. With the fork toss together, knead a couple of times to form a ball. Turn out onto a pastry cloth, with a stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out dough so it is a scant 1/8-inch thick, cut out biscuits with a floured 1 1/2-inch round cutter, place an inch apart on buttered cookie sheets. Brush with melted butter. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until golden - 12 minutes. Serve hot.

Makes about 2 1/2 dozen. Adapted from "The Garden Way Bread Book" by Ellen Foscue Johnson (Garden Way).

CHEDDAR POTATOES
 New version of one of our most popular recipes.
 6 medium baking potatoes (1 1/2 to 2 pounds), pared and thinly sliced
 1/2 cup butter, melted
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
 4 ounces cheddar cheese, grated medium-fine

In a generously buttered 8 by 8 by 2-inch baking dish (we used one of clear glass) arrange potatoes, overlapping, in rows; make sure top is flat. Pour butter over potatoes and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake uncovered in a preheated 500-degree oven until golden brown on bottom and sides of dish and potatoes are tender - 20 to 30 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese; bake just until cheese melts - a matter of minutes. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Americans Say Crisis Could Lead to War

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans, outraged that fellow citizens are held hostage in Iran, fear the crisis could lead to war, an Associated Press-NBC News poll says. Nevertheless, the public would support military action if the hostages were harmed or put on trial.
The poll, taken Tuesday and Wednesday, found extraordinarily strong public feelings tempered by the awareness of the grave dangers posed by the crisis. Here are some of the survey's major points:
—Four out of five Americans said they are personally angry about the taking of Americans as hostages in Iran.
—The public is frankly fearful of war. The number of Americans who say war is "very likely" has tripled since last year.

—Nevertheless, the poll found that, if the hostages are harmed or put on trial, Americans decisively favor a U.S. military strike against Iran.
—On the other hand, if the hostages are released unharmed, the public overwhelmingly opposes any U.S. military retaliation against the Moslem nation.
—By almost three to one, the public agrees that the U.S. government should not return the deposed Shah to Iran in return for the hostages.
—And more than seven out of 10 say President Carter is doing all he can to get the hostages freed.
The 50 Americans who have been held hostage by Iranian militants for 27 days in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran. The militants have threatened to kill the hostages if the U.S. attempts to rescue them by force. They have also threatened to put the hostages on trial for espionage.

Disbelief Greets Shah

By KEN HERMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Iranian college students were surprised like everyone else here when the exiled shah arrived early Sunday at Lackland Air Force Base. Some still do not believe he is here.
And the ones convinced he is at the nearby base will not know until Wednesday whether wary city officials will let them stage a rally against the man they say "urged" them to leave home for an education.
The San Antonio College students gathered Monday at a cafeteria table — their usual meeting place — as the shah recuperated behind a vast security system at the military base some 10 miles from the campus.
"He's not here," said one student, who, like many of the Iranians, asked not to be identified. "Why didn't they show him? They say they bring him someplace, but they take him someplace else."
There are 212 Iranians among the 21,000 students at the junior college. Some say they have been harassed on the phone and in person after being quoted in local newspapers. The campus just north of downtown was the scene last summer of several low-key demonstrations against the shah.
No demonstrators have appeared at the campus or outside the base since the shah's arrival.
Immigration officials determined last week that 21 Iranians here are "out-of-status" — meaning their student visas are no longer valid.
Most are hesitant to give their names, but all are unquestioning in their support of the Ayatollah Khomeini — the man they call "Imam."
"If the order comes, we will fight the United States," said Mohsen Kashani, a 22-year-old medical technology student.
The student want it known they would fight the United States government — not the American people. To them, the difference is clear.
"I am not against the people," said Kashani, who has lived here two years. "The people are innocent. We want the people to understand they should not waste their money in a war with Iran."
The students said the taking of hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran may violate international law, "but the people there do not believe international law anymore."
Kashani and the others say they would not hesitate to return home and enlist for a war against the United States. However, for now they think they should continue their studies. President Carter's order freezing Iranian assets in the U.S. makes it impossible for them to finance a trip home, the students said.
Kashani said Iran has long had enough money to open universities of its own, but the shah "urged us to come here."
"We did not want to come. It costs a lot of money for us to come," he said.
The students would not predict an Iranian victory in a war with the United States, but Kashani said the conflict would not end until all 35 million

The Lighter Side

SCROOGE Gives Christmas Tips
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — The Society to Curtail Ridiculous, Outrageous and Ostentatious Gift Exchanges, also known as SCROOGE, is saying "Bah, humbug!" to extravagant presents at Christmas.
Instead, SCROOGE is supporting the "true spirit" of Christmas past — decorated trees, good cheer with family and friends, Christmas cards with personal notes and visits to the sick and elderly.
"The only thing I'm against is all these asinine gifts that have gotten out of hand," declared Charles G. Langham, SCROOGE's founder and executive director. SCROOGE has about 75 members.
Langham, a 38-year-old Army publications officer from Charlottesville, has been thinking about cutting back on his gift buying since he and his wife ran up about $500 to $600 worth of Christmas credit card bills three years ago.
One of SCROOGE's principles is a reminder for "general self-control in gift exchanges, recognizing that a 'Merry Christmas' can't be bought."

Pretty soon, radio listeners in Europe will hear what their counterparts in northwest Ohio have been listening to — polka music.
Sure, they play lots of polka music in Europe. But these broadcasts will originate at WNDH-FM in Napoleon as part of a "sister-station" exchange aimed at bringing Europeans and Americans closer together.
Dick McBroom, manager of WNDH, said he recently received a telephone call from Guergen Koester of Saarland-discher Rundfunk in Saarbrücken, West Germany. According to McBroom, Koester asked if the Ohio station could record a couple programs of greetings, explaining "a lot of people (in Europe) are angry with America because of the Iranian situation."
"He said he got our number from the American Embassy, but I don't know why they picked us," McBroom said. WNDH is a 3,000-watt station in an area with a "large German ethnic background," McBroom said.
"You don't hear a lot of people speaking German on the street (in Napoleon)," McBroom said, "but there are lots of people who didn't learn English till they went to school."

Basketball Tournament Concludes Saturday

The Deaf Smith Invitational Basketball Tournament concluded Saturday night with the two championship games. Monterey was able to turn back Canyon in overtime 52-51 to take home the first place trophy in the boys division and New Deal won the girls division, defeating Hereford 61-32.

The Hereford Defense was unable to hold off New Deal's Vicki Teal who exploded for 22 points in the first half. New Deal held the Whiteface girls to only seven points in the half giving the Lions a 32-7 halftime lead.

Hereford was unable to close the gap in the second half and New Deal went on to win the championship.

The order for finishing were as follows: Monterey, Canyon, Pampa, Morton, for the boys, and New Deal, Hereford, Clovis, and Amarillo High for the girls. The Hereford boys finished in seventh place defeating Dimmitt 75-58.

The All-Tournament team was named following the championship game Saturday night. Hereford placed one member on both the girls and boys team with Amy Schumacher being named to the girls team and Norman Hill to the boys team. The rest of the members for the girls were Marcy Dale of Amarillo, Kellye Richardson of Pampa, Barbara Nuckols of Clovis and Melissa Mayo of New Deal. The tournaments most valuable player in the girls division was Vicki Teal of New Deal.

In the boys division Joe Bob Wynn of Morton, Ronnie Faggins of Pampa, Bill Gruhkey and Kendall Walling of Canyon were named to the All-Tournament team along with Hill. The most valuable player in the boys division was Trav Clardy of Monterey.

Mike Carr, Vice president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce described this year's event "as a very smooth tournament."

Hereford will play Borger tonight at the LaPlata gymnasium, while the Whiteface girls will be playing at Palo Duro.

HHS Graduate

In Hula Bowl

A graduate of Hereford High School and a former member of the Whiteface football team will be taking part in the Hula Bowl to be held in Honolulu Jan. 5

Dave Charest who is a Senior Cadet at West Point will be part of the all-star team from the East. Charest is a starting cornerback for Army and has been a letterman for all four years while at the academy.

Charest graduated from Hereford High School in 1976 and played football for Coach Fred Upshaw and Larry Dippel. Cadet Charest is the son of Mel Charest and Jo Charest both of Hereford.

The U.S. Open, called that because the competition is open to both amateur and professional golfers, is one of the world's major golf tournaments.

White Wins Heisman Trophy

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — His coach describes 1979 Heisman Trophy winner Charles White as "a player who gives 100 percent even when he isn't carrying the football."

And there were doubts when the 185-pound tailback was injured in the season opener that he would even be in the running for the honor as the nation's outstanding collegiate football player.

He missed the next game with a shoulder injury but came back to lead the nation's rushers with 1,803 yards.

"In his case, the main factor in winning the Heisman was his competitiveness," said Coach John Robinson, whose Trojans won the Pacific-10 title and rate second in the nation in The Associated Press poll.

"Check the final quarters of our games or when a game was in doubt, and you see the true value of Charles White."

White, a 21-year-old senior from nearby San Fernando, said he was so nervous about the Heisman poll "that I didn't sleep" on Sunday night.

"That's why I'm so jumpy today," the 6-foot tailback added, but his worries were needless.

He won 1,695 points to 773 for Oklahoma's Billy Sims, the Oklahoma runner seeking to repeat the Heisman honor he captured in 1978. Quarterback Marc Wilson of BYU was third with 589, but White had majority points in each of the six districts of voting.

"I came to Southern California wanting to make good and make a good impression of myself in growth," said White, who wants to beat Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, graduate in June with a degree in speech communications, and play professional football.

"I have come a long way in four years learning and learning about myself. I know now, I set my goals too high. The whole University of Southern California setup helped me."

White became the third Heisman Trophy winner from his school, joining Mike Garrett, who won in 1965, and O. J. Simpson, 1968.

In his four years, White gained 5,998 yards rushing and scored 48 touchdowns. He caught 57 passes for 534 yards. A year ago he finished fourth to

Sims in the Heisman voting. Sims was gracious in defeat. "My vote went in for Charles White before the season was over with," said Sims. "He worked his tail off this season."

This year, Ohio State quarterback Art Schlichter, the only non-senior among the top six finishers, was in fourth with 251 votes, followed by Notre Dame running back Vagas Ferguson, 162; Southern California quarterback Paul McDonald, 92; South Carolina running back George Rogers, 81; Purdue quarterback Mark Herrmann, 54; Florida State nose guard Ron Simmons, 41, and Alabama quarterback Steadman Shealy, 32.

Stanton Downs Canyon

The Stanton Junior high basketball teams traveled to Canyon last night to take on Canyon White with the girls winning all three of their games and the boys winning two out of three.

Kristin Walterscheid contributed 15 points as the seventh grade won 23-20. The eighth grade won 26-13. Amy Noyes had nine points and Kathy Vartels had eight. The ninth grade also came away victorious, winning by a score of 42-33. Rosie Garza had 12 points and Tiffy Dirks, Jennifer Eggen and Angie White all had eight.

The boys also played Canyon White with the seventh grade losing a close one 17-12. The eighth grade won 31-15. Ted Ramirez had eight points and Jeff Streun had six. The ninth grade put three men in double figures in a barn burner winning 55-49. Alfred Ball had 12 points.

Jay Hodge had 11 and Ricky Valdez contributed 10. The seventh grade girls are 1-2 for the year, the eighth and ninth grade girls are both 2-1.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department's annual pheasant hunter's breakfast will be held Saturday from 5:30-7:30 a.m. at the Hereford High School cafeteria.

The meal will include ham and eggs, biscuits and gravy and coffee at a cost of $2.50 per plate.

Auxiliary members will also fill thermos bottles for hunters at a fee of $1 for regular size containers and $1.50 for air pots.

All proceeds from the breakfast will benefit the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department.

The Brand's "Fearless Forecasters" may have been fearless, but they weren't real accurate over the season's 13-week guessing game. Only editor Paul Sims finished over the 70 percent mark as he hit on 237 of 338 games. Ad manager Bob Nigh was next with a 66.6 percentage, while sports editor Rick Grossman and publisher Speedy Nieman tied at 65.7 percent.

Sims built up a comfortable lead in the final few weeks, and the other panelists desperately attempted to pick the "upsets" and gain ground, only to wind up losing ground most of the time.

The topsy-turvy final week was fairly indicative of how the panel fared over much of the season. Sims got 15 of 26 the last week; Nieman was 16 of 26, Nigh 14 of 26, and Grossman only 12 of 26.

Actually, a percentage of more than 70 percent is considered quite good on the number of games picked in the contest each week. Some forecasters sport a better percentage on fewer games.

Last Second Free Throws Wins

By The Associated Press
Tom Colbert sank two free throws with one second left to give Texas-Arlington a dramatic 81-80 win over Rice in an inter-sectional college basketball game Monday night.

In other contests involving Southwest Conference teams, Texas-El Paso, downed Baylor, 81-64; Arizona State ran away from Houston, 78-65; Arkansas beat Centenary, 65-53; Southern Methodist blasted Texas Lutheran, 123-90; and Texas Tech overwhelmed South Dakota State, 111-75.

Rice's loss came only moments after the Owls appeared to have wrapped the contest up on an 18-foot jump shot by Ricky Pierce with three seconds left. Texas-Arlington threw the ball out of bounds and their case looked more hopeless than ever.

Brian Burns was fouled before the Owls could put the ball back in play, but the Rice sophomore missed on the first shot of a 1-and-1. Burns then fouled Colbert, setting up the game-winning charity tosses.

Roshern Amie pumped in 17 points as Texas-El Paso posted its third straight win of the year. Baylor, which was unable to overcome a 40-29 halftime deficit, dropped its second straight game.

Arizona State put four starters in double figures and took advantage of some cold Houston shooting in posting a 13-point win.

Alton Lister nabbed 22 points and 10 rebounds for the Sun Devils, while forward Sam Williams added 16 points for the winners, Byron Scott 14 and Kurt Nimphious 10.

Hollie Hoots scored 18 points and four other Mustangs were in double figures as SMU set a school record for scoring in a single game Monday night.

The Mustangs used the red-hot shooting of Billy Allen and Brad Branson to increase a seven-point halftime lead to an 89-54 margin with just over nine minutes to play.

Texas Tech's 111 points were the most posted by the Red Raiders in 13 years. David Little paced Tech with 21 points.

The game's top scorer was Steve Lingenfelter, who dropped in 24 points for South Dakota State.

Johnson Captures Grand Prize In Contest

The Brand Football Contest, sponsored by local merchants, ended over the weekend with Dr. Howard R. Johnson capturing the grand prize of $100.

Johnson and 35 others who won cash prizes during the 12 previous weeks competed for grand prizes of $100, $35 and $15. Bobbie Kitchens, 310 Stadium Dr., and Lela Duggan, 204 Ironwood, tied for second and earned $25 each. Johnson missed six games while the runners-up each missed seven and both had the same tiebreaker total.

The regular weekly winners on the final week included Shelby Rice of Dimmitt, who missed only five games, and Todd Collier, 123 Ironwood, and Louis Jones, 718 Ave. K. Collier missed six games and Jones missed seven. The three won cash prizes of $25, $15 and $10.

A number of other entrants missed seven games in the regular weekly contest, but Jones was just one point off the tiebreaker total of 50 points in the Philadelphia-Detroit game.

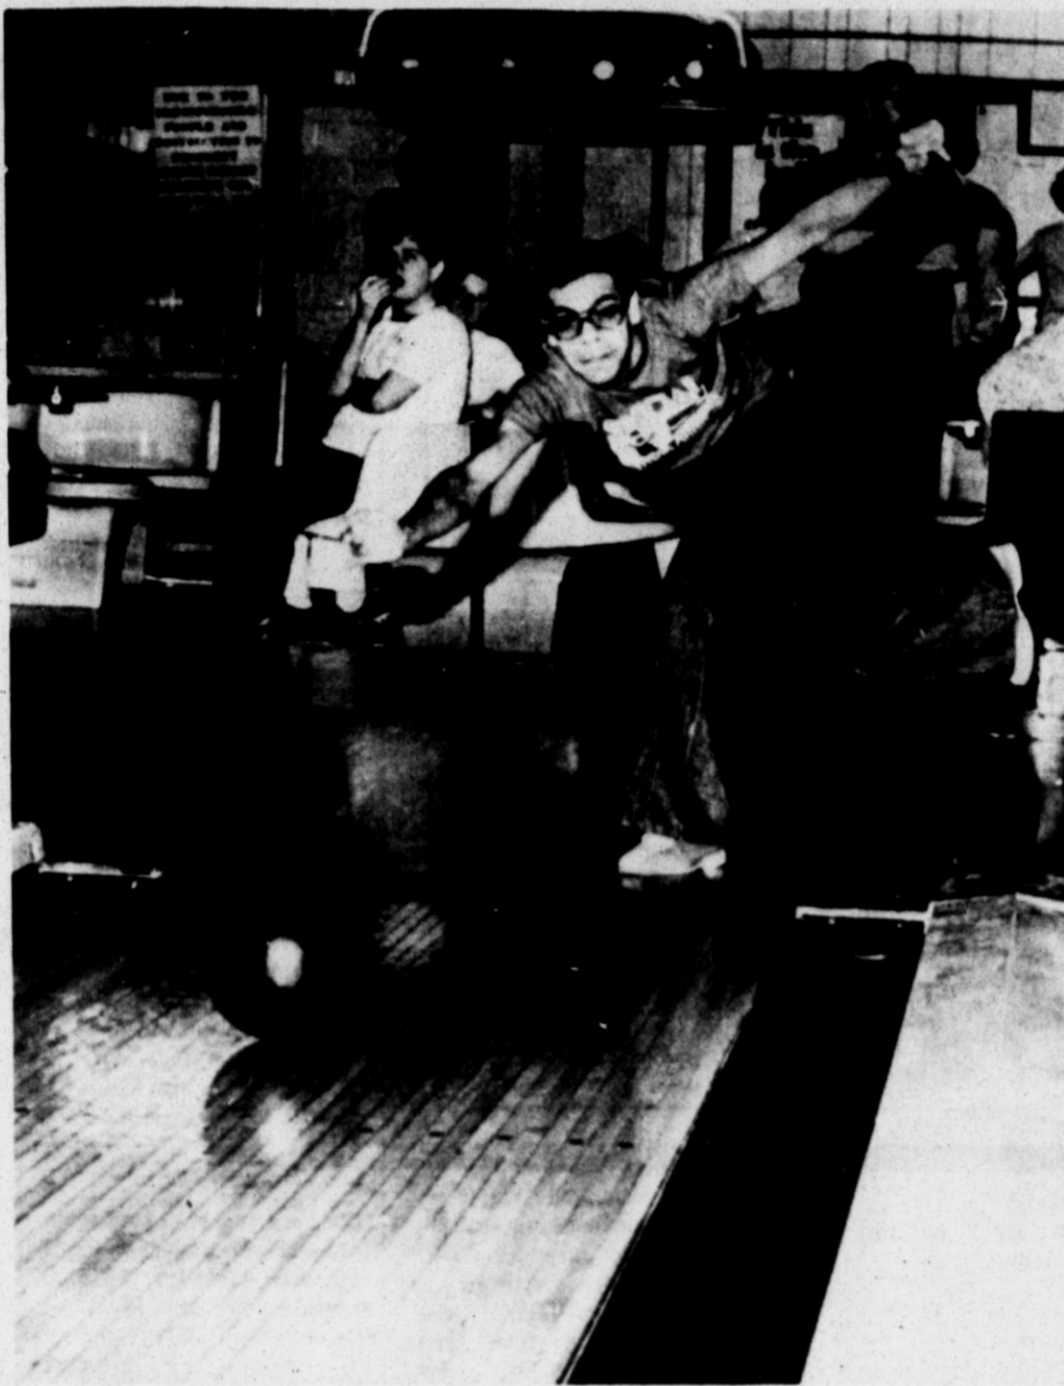

Cuby Kitchens missed just seven games in the grand-prize group, but his tie-breaker total of 32 points was short of the mark. Missing eight games in the grand-prize competition were Joyce Wartes, Dave Hopper, Zane Foster, Raymond Lueb, and L.L. Shultz.

Those who missed seven games in the final weekly contest, but missed out on a prize due to the tiebreaker score were: Shirley Wyssman, Craig Keating, Christine Petree, Larry Brogdon, George Loerwald, Martha Isaacs, Darla Duggan, Dickey Sims, Poppy Richardson, Charley Hill, Carolyn Johnson and Joani Kalka.

The popular contest drew a large number of entrants during the 13-week span. Determination of the grand prize winners for the season was charged this year, with all contestants who won any cash awards during the first 12 weeks competing in a separate selection contest the final week. A total of 36 qualified for the "winners circle."

Sponsors of the contest this year were: Simmons Carpet, Rainbow Car Wash & Quick Lube, First Printing Co., Deaf Smith REC, Stairway to Fashion, West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Gonzales Bros. Plumbing, Kester's Jewelry, Hereford State Bank, Wall & Sons Drilling;

Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, L&B Enterprises, Spangler's Diamonds Ltd., Texas Gallery, Crafts Original, Anthony's, TG&Y, J.C. ## Ohio State Moves Into Top Spot In AP Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Alabama's come-from-behind 25-18 victory over Auburn cost it the No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press' final regular-season college football poll today and enabled Ohio State to vault into first place in a torrid three-way race with the Crimson Tide and Southern California.

Runnerup Alabama received 29 first-place votes from a nationwide panel of 67 sports writers and broadcasters to 16 for Ohio State and 19 for Southern Cal.

But eight voters, apparently unimpressed by Alabama's close call, left the Crimson Tide out of their top three choices while the Buckeyes of Ohio State were lower than third on only three ballots and piled up 33 second-place votes to overcome Alabama's edge in first-place votes.

Ohio State, which was unranked in the preseason ratings, totaled 1,267 points to 1,265 for Alabama in what may be the closest first-place race in the 44-year history of The AP poll. Southern Cal was breathing down Alabama's neck with 1,257 points.

Ohio State and Alabama finished the regular season with 11-0 records while Southern Cal wound up 10-0-1. Ohio State and Southern Cal will meet in the Rose Bowl while Alabama faces sixth-ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl.

A week ago, Alabama had 34 first-place votes to 12 for Southern Cal and 13 for Ohio State and led in points 1,193-1,142-1,141. However, the fumble-plagued Crimson Tide blew a 17-6 second-half lead against Auburn and needed a touchdown with 8:17 left to play to nip the Tigers.

Florida State, 11-0, held onto fourth place with 1,103 points and 10-1 Oklahoma, the Seminoles' Orange Bowl opponent, remained fifth with one first-place vote and 1,068 points.

Arkansas, 10-1, jumped from eighth to sixth with 951 points. One voter split his first-place pick between the Razorbacks and eighth-ranked Houston. Arkansas replaced Texas, which fell from sixth to 11th after losing to Texas A&M 13-7.

Nebraska, 10-1, remained in seventh place with 908 points while Houston, also 10-1 and the Cornhuskers' Cotton Bowl foe, went from 10th to eighth with 893 points following a 63-0 rout of Rice.

The other first-place vote went to 11-0 Brigham Young, which held onto ninth place with 848 points. Pitt, 11th a week ago, moved into 10th place by defeating Penn State 29-14 to complete a 10-1 regular season. It marked the Panthers' first appearance of the season in the Top Ten.

The Second Ten consists of Texas, Purdue, Washington, Michigan, Tulane, South Carolina, Auburn, Clemson, Baylor and Temple.

Last week, it was Pitt, Purdue, Washington, Auburn, Michigan, Tulane, South Carolina, Clemson, Penn State and Baylor.

Penn State dropped out by losing to Pitt while Temple returned to the Top Twenty after a two-week absence.

Trujillo Leads National Finals Rodeo

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A man known as "the Lee Trevino of rodeo" is leading the dash for the world champion bareback riding buckle at the 21st annual National Finals Rodeo here.

C. Trujillo of Steamboat Springs, Colo., goes into tonight's fourth go-round of the NFR with a 30-point lead in the overall bareback standings. He scored a first Monday night on aumping Jack, horse he didn't think would help him mark that well.

"I kind of had it figured a little different," Trujillo said. "T.J. Walter drew a good horse he has made money on before and I figured he would win the day money."

But Trujillo's mount from the Jim Shoulders' string charged from the chute and provided a good ride.

"The whole time I was really in control," he said. "I had everything together and it felt good. He took off and at first I was afraid he was going to quit bucking and run, but he didn't."

Trujillo marked an 83 Monday night.

Roy Cooper, a former world champion calf roper, threw some excitement into his event Monday night with a lightning 8.8-second time.

The 24-year-old Durant, Okla., cowboy placed first in the NFR's third go-round taking some of the attention away from the tight race for the all-around cowboy title.

In the all-around race, Tom Ferguson of Miami, Okla., lost the advantage he had going into the third go-round by missing with his first loop and ending up with a poor 29.4 seconds in calf roping.

Grand Prize

Howard R. Johnson (left) receives a check for $100 from Brand Managing Editor Paul Sims. Johnson was the grand prize winner in the football contest sponsored by local merchants. Johnson competed with 35 other weekly winners for the award. Bobbie Kitchens and Lela Duggan tied for second and will each receive $25.

First Place

Bob Handley holds the first place trophy and a check for $1200 dollars after winning the Hereford PBA Tournament Sunday afternoon. J.B. Blaylock was second and received $850 third place went to Pete McCordie who received $750 and Henry Gonzalez was fourth receiving $615.

CHICAGO (AP) — Walter Payton, the great running back of the Chicago Bears who has captured three straight NFC running titles and one league championship, doesn't like to be compared to any other ball carriers.

"I don't think anybody tries to imitate another player in style. I know I don't," he said. "I don't even know what I'm going to do in a game, although I'll try to visualize moves I will make in a certain situation. It doesn't always work out that way, though. It really all boils down to instinct and reaction when you are running with the ball."

3-Day-Old Baby Found in Manger

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — Pastor Charles Holland walked by the Nativity scene in front of his church and heard the sound of a baby's cries coming from the manger.
"My initial impression was that they had added this as an effect. Then I realized it was not from a tape but it was for real," Holland said.
Close behind the manger, in a cardboard box about a foot and a half square, "sure enough, there was a little baby boy, without clothes, covered with a crib sheet doubled a couple of times," said Holland, pastor of the First Baptist Church.
An unsigned, handwritten note found along with the baby Monday read: "I'm Timothy. Please take care of me."
"The temperature at that time was about 32 degrees," Holland said. "So I quickly took him inside to our nursery area and asked some of our workers to give me a hand."
"The baby was in good shape," said Betty Nethery, director of the church's day care center. "He was crying lustily out in the cold, but when he came into the warmth of the nursery, he became very still, very quiet. He was so still, I was alarmed. But on closer look, I realized he was bright and alert. He was looking around."
"He was clean and obviously had just been fed. There were traces of milk around his tiny mouth."
"Our people cleaned him up as best they could," then called the police and Texas Department of Human Resources, Holland said.
Timothy was taken to a hospital, where he was pronounced in "perfect health," said police Detective Captain Earl Claxton. Barbara Cavin of the Department of Human Resources said the baby weighed 7 pounds, 14 ounces and was 3 days old.
Timothy was placed in a foster home while the department tries to find the mother, she said.
"We are not interested in punishment for the mother," Ms. Cavin said. "If she were to come forward, we would counsel with her, and if she wished, the baby could be returned to her. If she decided to give up the baby, she could give us information that would help find the best adoptive parents available."
Timothy's appearance has the "whole church family filled with awe and wonder," Holland said. "It's been an unbelievable experience, a religiously stimulating, a holy, a unifying time for us. I see this as a reminder of another baby brought into a cold, angry, hostile world."
"My hope is that Timothy Christmas will be a reminder of God's special gift... My prayer in this experience is that this little baby born in this Christmas season will receive more loving care than that baby 2,000 years ago whose birthday we celebrate," he said. "This is Longview's Christmas gift."

Cranes Threatened By Avian Cholera

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — An outbreak of avian cholera, an often-fatal disease, is threatening the 75 rare whooping cranes at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, a spokesman said Monday.
But so far, the cranes' shy nature has kept them away from infected birds, refuge manager Frank Johnson said.
"It is highly contagious, but there's hardly any feasible way to catch and inoculate them," Johnson said. "At zoos they can, but not at a wildlife refuge."
"Until Monday, the disease appeared confined to 5,000 snow geese at the refuge. One of 60 snow goose deaths has been traced to the disease, also called fowl cholera. And one sand hill crane found Monday suspected of dying from the disease."
Dr. Christopher Brand of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife laboratory in Madison, Wis., came to the coastal refuge Friday to perform autopsies on the birds.
Johnson said the outbreak was first discovered at a refuge near Hudson Bay, where about 10,000 snow geese were afflicted. He said those birds are suspected of carrying the disease to South Texas when they began arriving in mid-October.
Avian cholera is a bacterial disease spread through waste and immediate contact among birds, Johnson said, adding it is no threat to humans as long as the meat is cooked. The disease affects the birds' internal organs, and they die about three days later.
"I would stress that this is fowl cholera and it has nothing to do with human cholera. We've been handling these cases for the last couple of days and as far as we know, it can't be transmitted," Johnson said.
He said refuge workers haven't seen any of the 75 cranes closer than a half mile from the area where the snow geese have died. But when they spot cranes near a snow goose, they shoot guns or make other loud noises to scare away the birds, Johnson said.
He said the marshland is inspected twice a day, and foot patrols have been increased.
The disease "is not known to occur in whooping cranes, but there is no reason to believe they are not susceptible to it," Johnson said.

Trio Returned For Man's Murder

ABILENE, Texas — Three men were on their way back to Abilene from Hobbs, N.M., early today to face murder charges in the beating death of air traffic controller Hubert O. Tobey.
Abilene Justice of the Peace Silas Clark set bond at $1,000 each for William Batte, 19, of Abilene, Clifton Charles Russell, 18, of Abilene, and Michael Mark Wicker, 21, of either Lovington, N.M., or Plains, Texas.
Hobbs police said the trio was arrested when a check of the 1974 Lincoln Continental they were driving revealed it was registered to Tobey.
Abilene Police Lt. Jack Dieken and Sgt. K.Z. Bradshaw led Monday night to bring the three men back from Hobbs.
Tobey, 41, apparently was beaten to death with a foot-long rock early Monday, police said. His partially nude body was found behind a house in an undeveloped part of Abilene about 1 a.m. Monday.
A preliminary autopsy report showed Tobey died from blows to the head, a police spokesman said.
Police said the case was similar to the June 8, 1978, death of William Favors, who apparently was beaten with a tire tool in West Abilene.
Favors, 49, of the Dallas suburb of Richardson, was found in a field with his pants around his ankles. Police said Tobey's shirt was pulled up over his head and his shorts were around his ankles.
Tobey's wife had reported him missing when he failed to return to his home in Potosi, just south of Abilene, from his job at Abilene Municipal Airport.
An Abilene policeman said that about midnight, he saw Tobey with another man at a convenience store near the site where his body was found.
Police had said earlier that the other man was a suspect.
The body was found when a caller, receiving no answer at the door, went to the rear of the house. Police said the house and its occupants were not connected to the slaying.

Unsafe, insane weight loss

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What do you think of this diet? Roast beef with all the fat, hamburger meat — very fat, tuna in oil (she eats the oil), all the eggs you can eat, chicken, lots of butter and mayonnaise. For example, she eats ground hamburger and adds four or five eggs, fries it in lots of butter and puts it on the plate with a big chunk of butter on top and loads of mayonnaise all over it. She eats it grease and all — no sugar or salt.
She's not allowed any breads, fruits or vegetables, no milk, coffee, tea, etc. She's been on this diet for over a month and has lost 25 pounds. She was told to stay on it six more weeks.
She takes a diuretic, potassium and vitamins daily. I don't think this is a sensible diet. It was doctor prescribed. He said eat all the eggs you want, there's no cholesterol.
DEAR READER — I really don't care where it came from — it's a terrible diet. First, it's grossly deficient in calcium. Since she's taking a diuretic as well as not consuming any carbohydrates, she must have washed out a lot of salt and with it, would have lost some important minerals that affect how the heart functions. That also means losing a lot of body water which may be how she has lost pounds.

It's just this kind of dietary nonsense that got people into trouble with the liquid protein diet. Eggs do have a lot of cholesterol in them. The high fat content in the diet that you described would increase the absorption of the cholesterol as well.
It's true that you can lose weight on some of these ridiculous diets but it's usually because the total calories in the food have been restricted. If you don't decrease the calories taken in or don't increase the calories used, there's no way that you'll lose calories of fat. Those people who lose part of their initial weight from washing out normal body water or dehydrating the system are not losing fat. The water loss can be dangerous.
To give you a better idea on some of these ridiculous diets, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 2-2, Low Carbohydrate Diet Fads. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

There are many ways to lose weight. Some of them aren't very safe. The only safe and sane way to lose weight is to go on a well-balanced, regular diet combined with a sensible exercise program. The adjustment in lifestyle should be permanent. The weight loss should be slow and gradual.
In the process a person learns to eat properly and live properly so that he can avoid obesity. Crash diets are the ones that usually cause the most trouble. The more odd-ball a diet is, the shorter length of time a person should be on it if he wishes to maintain his health.
Excessive loss of water or salt or both can cause a person to be fatigued. It can cause mental confusion and disorientation. This is sometimes mistaken as senility when it happens in an older person. Salt and water disturbances, particularly potassium salt loss, can contribute to serious heart irregularities. That is apparently one factor in the deaths from the liquid protein diets that were reported.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My brother passed away from acute myelomonocytic leukemia. He died 10 days after the onset of his symptoms. I've made numerous inquiries to determine the approximate length of time that he had this condition prior to his symptoms. The opinions have varied from one year, eight months, three months or to the day the symptoms were detected.
I'd like your opinion on a more definite length of time. My brother was 72.
DEAR READER — Unfortunately, no one can give you a definite time. Untreated acute leukemia usually has a stormy course and ends in death in less than one year. Treatment in recent years has altered this picture in many instances.
You must remember that we do not know the exact cause of leukemia although there is a body of evidence that suggests certain forms of leukemia may be related to viral infections that alter basic cell reproductive mechanisms.

To make matters more complex, a chronic form of leukemia can change suddenly to an acute form. A person may live for years in relative comfort with no symptoms at all with chronic leukemia, then suddenly it changes to the acute form and the life expectancy may be very short indeed.
It's not unusual for a person to have leukemia, particularly the chronic form, and have no symptoms. The acute forms usually cause symptoms by affecting a certain organ or by causing a severe anemia, bleeding or what appears as a respiratory infection. When the doctor examines the patient for the symptoms, he finds out there's an underlying leukemia.

The Good New Days

Have you seen the latest public opinion survey by pollster Daniel Yankelovich?
He says Americans have gone from optimistic to mostly pessimistic, that the average American today believes that "yesterday was better and tomorrow will be worse."
If that's true, we'd ought to be spanked!
Our country is the best that ever was!
Americans are detesting and protesting pollution while forgetting that in New York during horse and buggy days, so many horses dropped dead that every year some 15,000 bloated carcasses had to be hauled away.
If there is smog in the air New Yorkers breathe today, in 1908 there was so much pollution from horse manure and flies and fleas that 20,000 New Yorkers died from cholera.
Anybody longing for the "good old days" has been seeing it all cleaned up on TV—without the cholera, typhoid, pneumonia, TB, dysentery, infant diarrhea.
Those "Little House on the Prairie" people had a life expectancy of less than 30 years.
Today's babies can expect to live more than 74 years and, if they survive that precarious first year-of-life, they have an excellent chance of reaching a healthy, active 100.

In one generation we have conquered or controlled diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid, measles, tuberculosis, pneumonia and polio. In one generation!
We complain about noise from air and truck traffic, but iron horseshoes on cobblestone streets made a deafening dip.
Headlines scream that our nation's crime rate increased another two percent last year.
One hundred years ago our per-capita crime rate was double what it is today.
Drug addiction, called by other names, was more prevalent then than now.
Prostitution plagued all urban centers and venereal disease was more widespread then than now.
We—our generation—have built more schools and more colleges and more libraries and more hospitals than all other generations since the beginning of time.
We have trained and graduated more scientists, more doctors, more dentists, more teachers and engineers than had been trained in the thousand years before us.
The average black person in our nation is more likely to go to college than the average citizen in England or Germany or Belgium or Denmark or Italy or Spain. We have 300 black millionaires in our country.
So we have to pay 10 times more for a new car than we did 40 years ago. I have just refueled a 40-year-old car—until it is "as good as new."

And driving it I can tell you that the comfort, convenience, performance and reliability of your present car is worth 10 times more.
THAT WAS NOT ALL!!!
Search history as you will, you will find no time and no place where there had been less social ferment, less labor strife; less disease than right here right now—and your children are taller, healthier, handsomer, smarter, more capable and more prosperous than any generation which preceded theirs.
And with the horizon unprecedentedly pregnant with a whole gamut of new energies—these good new days are going to get even better.
Happy New Year!
