

Clements: President's Energy Program Not Answer

Governor Speaks to Hereford Audience

By SPEEDY NIEMAN

Gov. Bill Clements, drawn to Hereford for a pheasant-hunting trip, took time out to share some informal remarks on important governmental issues here Wednesday at a Hereford Country Club luncheon.

"The most important topic to Texas and to our nation is energy," claimed the Republican governor. "I maintain that it is the root cause of our inflationary trend," and he added that its impact on the economy and on national security gave it his highest priority.

"Carter's program of energy conservation is no answer," claimed Clements. The solution, he said, lies in production of all energy sources, not just oil.

He drew a strong round of applause when he added that "we must turn loose our free enterprise system and produce...that will solve the problem."

At the close of the luncheon, Gov. Clements was presented the Honorary Hereford Bull Award by Ken Rogers, president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The bull trophy goes to visiting dignitaries as approved by the C of C board of directors.

And, yes, the governor got his limit during the pheasant hunt Wednesday afternoon. The governor and his party hunted northeast of Friona on the Steve Struve farm, and a "good hunt" was reported with all members of the party getting their two birds.

Asked about the proposal for a 50-cent federal tax on gasoline, Gov. Clements responded that he thought it was "a terrible idea." He believes it is "very bad judgment" for Carter and the administration to push such a proposal. News sources this week reported that Congressional leaders are telling the White House that chances of a gasoline tax passing are slim.

"I'd like to make it clear, also, that the so-called windfall profits tax is a mis-nomer," said the governor. "It is not a tax on profits. It is an excise tax placed on oil at the wellhead. I think it would be just plain stupid for government to take a huge sum of money on a gasoline tax and put it to such nebulous uses as the HEW."

Clements said he is following up his campaign promise of using good management in government just as it is used in business. He said he had reduced state personnel by 4,100 people since January, and his goal is 8,000 by next September, 25,000 in four years.

"Much of this is simply being done by attrition," he pointed out. When you cut 4,000 people from the state payroll, at an average salary of $22,000 this means a savings to the taxpayers of $88 million. If his goal of 25,000 reduction is reached, that would figure about $150 million a year, the governor pointed out.

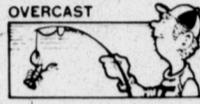

"I am no stranger to the Panhandle," the governor said at the beginning of his talk. "I helped build the prisoner of war camp here near Hereford and worked on several other projects in the area during World War II.

Clements reported he had worked closely with Speaker of the Suit Alleges Illegal Arrests

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson and three local Texas Department of Public Safety troopers were among persons named in a false-arrest lawsuit filed by two Mexican-Americans Wednesday in U.S. District Court.

The lawsuit, filed in Judge Mary Lou Robinson's Northern District of Texas court in Amarillo, alleges that Hereford residents Pedro Cervantez and John Lozano were arrested in August incidents when they could not immediately prove their American citizenship.

Named in the lawsuit were McPherson, DPS troopers Darrell Matthews, Gary Whitfill and an "unknown officer", former DPS director Co. Wilson Speir, Deaf Smith County, Border Patrol agent Tom Smiley and the Immigration and Naturalization service.

The amount of monetary damages sought by the Plaintiffs was not included in the lawsuit, filed by Texas Rural Legal Aid.

The lawsuit states that Cervantez was a passenger in a truck traveling 14 miles north of Hereford on Aug. 10. The truck was following another truck driven by David Cervantez, the plaintiff's brother, according to the suit.

A DPS patrol car stopped the truck driven by David Cervantez, who was issued a citation by Whitfill for driving with an expired inspection sticker, the suit alleges.

The suit charges that an unknown officer demanded that Pedro Cervantez produce either a visa or birth certificate. Cervantez, according to the suit, told the trooper that he was a United States citizen and that his documents proving that were at his residence.

Cervantez, according to the suit, was handcuffed, taken to Deaf Smith County jail, and held for the Immigration and Naturalization Service for three days.

Cervantez was released after Smiley interviewed him concerning his immigration status on Aug. 13, the suit states.

Lozano was arrested on Aug. 15 inside the county courthouse when he asked Matthews directions to a county office, according to the allegations.

The plaintiffs charge that Matthews demanded that Lozano produce a birth certificate. Lozano allegedly was held for two hours-until his wife arrived and proved his citizenship.

The suit charges, that Cervantez and Lozano suffered "great humiliation, embarrassment, mental anguish and loss of earnings."

It further states that the two men were arrested by DPS officers "without a warrant or probable cause to believe that plaintiffs had violated any criminal statute" and were not advised of their constitutional rights and were not taken before a magistrate.

Cervantez, according to the allegations, was not permitted to have visitors while in jail and was denied bail.

Vehicles Turned Over Early

Hospital To Take Ambulance Calls

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith General Hospital was scheduled to begin ambulance service at noon today, more than two weeks before Administrator Jim Bullard had originally planned. The Brand has learned.

Directors of Hereford's two funeral homes—John Gilliland and Ron Smith—Wednesday presented Bullard with the titles to the ambulance's, requesting that the hospital begin making runs within a day or two.

The hospital had planned to begin service Jan. 1, but Bullard said today that the new operation would go into effect at noon.

"We are ready. Absolutely. We could have taken it over yesterday or the day before or probably several days ago. He said in the September city commission meeting that we could run one in 30 days, if we had to," Bullard said.

"However, we were trying to interface and schedule and plan things. This is a surprise to us. We were planning on having another two to three weeks to get some communication equipment in, to do some more planning that would have helped."

Bullard said the early start will not hurt emergency-health care in Deaf Smith County.

"We will run as good a service today as we would have run 30 days from now or 60 days from now or whenever we would have started," he said.

Starting at noon today, anyone needing an ambulance may call the city police department at 364-2323, Bullard said.

Gilliland told The Brand shortly after he turned the title to his vehicle, a 1973 GMC van, that he hopes "they're going to take it over today (Wednesday) or tomorrow. They've had since the first of September to start working on this thing, and we asked to be relieved Dec. 1."

Gilliland said he was told by Bullard that the reason the hospital had been unable to begin ambulance service was it did not have any vehicles.

"Since that was holding them up, we're giving them the vehicles," he said. The hospital cannot purchase any vehicles until county commissioners open bids on ambulances on Dec. 20, Bullard

DPS, Motorists Don't Want '55'

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas motorists don't like the 55 miles-per-hour speed limit and state troopers don't get any thrill handing out the tickets, Joe Milner says.

Milner, head of traffic law enforcement for the Department of Public Safety, testified Wednesday before a task force of the National Highway Safety Advisory Committee. The group was in Texas to check on the state's compliance with the 55 mph national law.

Milner said lack of public support was the No. 1 problem in Texas.

"You have to have most drivers believing and obeying a traffic law before it can be effective," Milner said, and that is not true in Texas.

This situation produces a "negative morale pressure" on state troopers which much hand out the speeding tickets.

"When the law is so unpopular with the people, it produces a feeling among troopers that they are not accomplishing anything, although they work hard. They have no self-satisfaction in doing a good job," he said.

Still another effect of the unpopular 55 mph law is that it takes more troopers to enforce it. "The more unpopular a law is, the more persons it takes to enforce it. There is almost no voluntary enforcement

... I have only about one patrolman for each 129 miles of Texas highways, so it is no surprise that you can drive long distances without seeing one," said Milner.

Under the congressional act, Texas must have at least 30 percent compliance with the 55 mph rule this year or lose up to $8 million in federal highway funds. By 1983, a state must have 70 percent compliance.

Dr. Quinn Brackett, speaking for the Texas Transportation Institute at Texas A&M University, said the 1978 congressional act actually was discriminatory for some states.

"Enforcement is not a universal solution," he said. "The design of highways, the weather and population density can affect traffic speeds. States that have a large number of bad weather days will have lower speed averages," he said.

Charles J. Keese of the Transportation Institute said "there is little hope the speed curve (in Texas) can be reduced in the time the federal government specifies."

The DPS and Deaf Smith County have continually engaged in the practice of stopping, interrogating, arresting and incarcerating Hispanic persons unlawfully according to the suit.

TRLA Attorney Edward Tuddingham told The Brand Wednesday that a crucial issue in the suit is the arrest of persons believed to be illegal aliens.

"It's against the law to put somebody in jail unless they're charged with a criminal act," said Tuddingham, who filed the suit along with TRLA Laredo attorney Lee J. Teran and Linda Reyna Yanez of Brownsville. Ms. Teran and Ms. Yanez are co-directors of TRLA's Immigration Project.

"The state policy, county sheriff and its police have no authority to act on an immigration case. They cannot arrest someone believed to be here illegally," Tuddingham said. Tuddingham added that TRLA is seeking a preliminary injunction against the federal Immigration and Naturalization Service in order to "stop this practice in every county where Tom Smiley goes."

Tuddingham said that the Immigration and Naturalization Service, which is the

Buffalo Dam Breach Considered By Fed Fish, Wildlife Authorities

By JIM STEIERT
Outdoors Editor

The breaching of the dam at Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge at nearby Umbarger was one of two options listed by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service in a meeting Tuesday with 13th Congressional District Rep. Jack Hightower of Vernon.

The other option, which involved restructuring the dam and spillway at the lake was estimated to carry a price tag of from $10 to $12 million.

Under the breaching option the lake would be drained and the dam at the lake done away with.

According to Hightower, the recommendations represent a serious situation.

The Fish & Wildlife Service will have to seek funding from Congress to pursue either of the proposed options, however, and public hearings are to be held before any action is taken on the dam and lake matter.

The Vernon congressman is recommending that funding be sought from the Texas Water Development Board to save the dam.

Word on the situation came this week after an off-delayed meeting between Interior officials and Hightower finally took place.

Hightower had sought the meeting expressing concern over estimates on the cost of repairing the maligned dam which had ranged as high as $10-$12 million.

A crucial issue in breaching the dam on the Tierra Blanca Creek is that of flood control.

Area officials and other observers maintain that heavy rains such as the May, 1978 flooding which gave Buffalo a new lease on life would prove devastating to the downstream city of Canyon without the Buffalo dam in place.

Heavy flooding occurred in low-lying sections of Canyon in the May, 1978 downpour, and even more severe flooding was averted only by the presence of the Buffalo Lake dam, which held back a 17 ft. wall of water that materialized from the lake's watershed in only a few short hours.

Breaching of the dam could mean that a rain such as that in May, 1978 would cause twice as much damage in the city of Canyon.

Gordon Hanson of the Fish Wildlife Service office in Albuquerque admitted that no flood control studies had been done concerning the Tierra Blanca watershed and the importance of the dam

SALT Skeptics Might Accept Hiked Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's blueprint for sharply increased defense spending through 1985 appears to come close to meeting some demands of key skeptics of the SALT II treaty.

Carter sent Defense Secretary Harold Brown to the Senate Armed Services Committee today to sketch in details of the program, which emphasizes increasing U.S. ability to rush troops to remote trouble spots such as the Persian Gulf.

Previewing Brown's testimony, Carter told a group of businessmen Wednesday that he is proposing annual increases in defense spending authority of more than 4.5 percent for the next five years. That is 4.5 percent above inflation.

The fiscal 1981 budget will propose $157 billion in budget authority, an increase of more than 5 percent, he said.

Under normal circumstances, the defense budget would not be announced until January. However, Carter apparently tipped his hand now in hopes of winning Senate votes for the arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., expected to play a pivotal role in the SALT debate, said Wednesday he had been briefed by Brown on the administration's proposals, but was not ready to say whether he would support the treaty.

Nunn and former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, along with others, have been demanding a 5 percent increase in defense budget authority. Among other demands, Nunn also called for money to compensate for unanticipated increases in inflation, Carter said Wednesday he would do that.

Nunn is not expected to announce his position on SALT II before Christmas, and perhaps not until the start of debate on the treaty next year.

Q.—What does it cost taxpayers, on the average, to pay for a child's education in the Hereford school district?

A.—According to audit figures in the school district, all expenditures last year totaled $8,496,794, including payments made on bonds. The district's average daily attendance is 5,107, which would mean that the average student's education costs $1,661. Of the total expenditures, state and local funds totaled $5,663,993, which breaks down to $1,109 per student. Local expenditures totaled $2,810,795, breaking down to $550 per child.

Newspaper Brands Kennedy as 'Instigator'

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — A leading Tehran newspaper did an about-face and published a condemnation of Sen. Edward Kennedy today after his disavowal of a bogus letter expressing his support for Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

"It would be dangerous for the Iranian nation to think that there is any difference between Kennedy and Carter," the newspaper Islamic Republic said, quoting an unidentified spokesman for the Committee of American Residents in Iran.

The spokesman said if Kennedy criticizes the deposed shah today and expresses support for Khomeini's revolution, "he is only interested in strengthening his position against Carter and as such it is yet another maneuver to benefit himself."

The paper also quoted the spokesman as saying that the 1953 coup which overthrew Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and returned the shah to power was "initiated and planned by Edward Kennedy's group which included John Kennedy," and that the senator was "one of the instigators" of the killing of religious figures by the shah's forces that preceded Khomeini's exile in 1962.

The membership of the Committee of American Residents is not known. But it presumably is the same group that supplied three American women to a government news conference last week at which they expressed support for the students holding 50 Americans hostage in the U.S. Embassy since Nov. 4.

The condemnation of Kennedy contrasted sharply with the praise heaped on the Massachusetts senator locally following his San Francisco speech Dec. 3 in which he blasted the shah's regime as one of the most repressive in history.

The fake letter was first reported by Tehran Radio Wednesday. It was quickly denied by Kennedy's spokesman in Washington, and an Iranian Foreign Ministry spokeswoman then conceded it was a fraud.—But Foreign Minister Sadeq Ghotbzadeh later brushed aside both denials and insisted the letter was authentic.

According to Tehran Radio, the Kennedy letter asked Khomeini for permission for the senator and three companions to visit Iran and said: "We support your Islamic republic 100 percent...I will give my blood for you."

The situation of the American hostages remained unchanged, but in New York CBS News reported that Palestinian guerrillas are providing "technical assistance" to the students holding them in the embassy.

CBS said the Palestinians mined the embassy grounds and have taken a direct hand in the security of the hostages. It said the Palestinians volunteered their

Bilingual Education

Ruling Due In Spring

TYLER, Texas (AP) - A U.S. district judge has given attorneys until April 1 to submit final briefs for his consideration in ruling in the federal government's battle to force expansion of bilingual education programs in Texas.

Testimony ended Wednesday and Judge William Wayne Justice took the suit under advisement.

Two Mexican-American organizations—the League of United Latin American Citizens and the G.I. Forum—joined in the government's suit against the Texas Education Agency.

Where there is a sizeable number of students with limited ability to speak English, Texas provides classes in both English and Spanish for grades kindergarten through the third grade.

The federal government is asking that Texas be required to provide bilingual programs from kindergarten through the 12th grade.

"The clearest and most uncontested evidence, offered by both sides, indicates bilingual education is only as effective as the teacher in the classroom," the state attorney, Susan Dasher, said after Wednesday's eighth and final day of the hearing.

Arrested Iranians

Fast Behind Bars

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Five Iranian students, yanked from the steps of City Hall as a cursing mob swarmed around them, have decided to continue their hunger strike in jail. "It's unfortunate there's enough trash in this town to make such a scene," City Manager Tom Huebner said of the mob that was closing in on the students when police hauled the Iranians away.

The angry crowd of about 20 persons was led by a former Marine who claimed his brother is among the 50 American hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

The San Antonio College students, charged with obstructing a passageway, were on the third day of their protest fast on the steps. For two days they sat silently on the side of the wide entrance as crowds taunted and threatened them.

The student's lawyer, Louis Linden, feared the charges would jeopardize the students' visas.

However, Richard Casillas, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in San Antonio, said his investigation had determined that the students' action was not a deportable offense.

"I was hoping it would be. We'll just have to grin and bear it," Casillas said.

Filibuster Stalls Profits-

Tax Action

WASHINGTON (AP) - A filibuster by oil-state senators kept the Senate in session into the pre-dawn hours today and blocked action on the "windfall-profits" tax on the oil industry.

The 17½-hour session ended at 3:35 a.m. with the Senate apparently no closer to breaking the impasse than when it began.

At issue is a $30.8-billion "minimum tax" amendment by Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd that would increase the total tax in the Senate bill to about $185 billion in the 1980s. The House bill would generate $277 billion.

Democratic leaders planned a second attempt today to limit debate on the bill to another 100 hours - two hours per senator. Byrd's Wednesday effort to invoke cloture, which also would bar consideration of unrelated amendments, failed 53-46 - seven votes short of the 60 necessary.

With the scheduled Christmas recess approaching, the filibuster threatens to delay final action this year on the tax bill as well as on legislation providing federal assistance to Chrysler Corp.

Iranian Diplomats

Told To Leave U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration, in its latest turn of the screws against Iran, is telling most of the Iranian diplomats in the United States to get out.

About 183 Iranians will be leaving within the next four days, leaving only skeleton staffs at Iran's embassy in Washington and its consulates in New York, Chicago, Houston and San Francisco, according to the State Department.

Undersecretary of State Davis Newsom called Iran's charge d'affaires, Ali Agah, and told him of the American demand for staff reductions, department spokesman Thomas Reston said.

Iran must reduce its embassy staff to 15 persons, from the current level of 57. Its consulates, with a combined staff of 161, will be left with only five staff members each, Reston said.

He called the move a "measured step" to show continuing American concern for the plight of the 50 hostages in the embassy in Tehran.

"We don't know what will lead to their release. We want to bring the Iranians to the point of realizing it's in their interest to do so," Reston said.

to that issue.

According to Hanson, if the dam is destroyed, there will be "no need for the wildlife refuge" at nearby Umberger.

The refuge is home to vast flights of Canada geese and mallard ducks that winter there each year, in addition to a herd of mule deer, pheasants, furbearers and other forms of wildlife.

Hanson indicated that the habits of migratory waterfowl in the Amarillo region would be affected by doing away with the refuge, and a golden opportunity for Panhandle sportsmen might well be lost.

Buffalo Lake is also a popular summer recreation area whenever sufficient water is available in the lake, and its close accessibility has made it particularly attractive with higher energy costs.

Some sources have indicated that part of the Interior Department's reluctance to salvage Buffalo Lake stems from a shortage of funding and manpower to maintain the lake area whenever it is available as a source of water-related recreation.

Hanson indicated that a public hearing will be held on the Buffalo Lake dam issue sometime after the first of the year.

Rep. Hightower is urging the Fish & Wildlife Service to bring their findings to Amarillo for the public hearing, but no location has been announced at this date for the hearings.

Clements

House Bill Clayton on the water problem. I am not saying we're close to a solution, but we are trying to find some answers. We will have to equate the issue with other states," he said of the water importation question.

Of the Iranian situation, Clements warned that Iran literally has no government, is in a chaotic state and will get worse. "In a crisis situation such as this, we have but one manager and he is the President of the United States. We need to support him on this issue."

Clements called the Iranian situation one of the "most sensitive and most critical crisis to face our nation in many years." He thinks the oil situation will get worse because of the unstable conditions in the Mid-East.

The governor touched on education as another important concern. He said he had a strong committee working on the matter. "It is obvious that people want something done about their public schools. My fundamental charge to the committee is to get the basics back in the system and to get discipline in the classrooms."

The luncheon at the country club was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Steve Struve of Friona, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Struve of Hereford, Earl Brookhart, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shackelford, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller.

Louie Welch of Houston, former longtime mayor of that city, introduced the governor. Also accompanying the Clements were Sec. of State George Strake Jr. and Jim Lesch, president of Hughes Tool Co. of Houston. About 100 people from Hereford, Friona, Dimmitt and this area attended the luncheon.

Hospital

Both ambulance companies are going to give us their ambulances for the time being—until bids have been opened and the commissioners' court can officially act on purchasing ambulances," Bullard said.

The hospital hopes to use one advance life support vehicle and two others equipped with basic life support. Bullard is anticipating bids from Dallas companies, and the entire ambulance market wherever it might be.

He called the funeral home directors' action Wednesday "not an ultimatum but a situation where they would like to get out immediately."

Gilliland told The Brand that he does not plan to be involved in the hospital service, at least in the near future.

"I do not plan to be involved in the very beginning, at this point," he said.

Smith, who is providing a 1976 Chevrolet Suburban to the hospital, was unavailable for comment. Smith has sold Smith & Co. Funeral Home to a Lubbock firm and is working out of town. City Manager Dudley Bayne said the funeral-home directors' action came as a surprise to him.

"There are two companies who say they're not going to do this to you. I think everybody felt they would not walk out on the community until the hospital district was ready," Bayne said.

He added that the city would cooperate with the transition.

Lawsuit

only authority that can legally arrest an illegal alien, has "encouraged" other law-enforcement agencies to crack down on non-citizens "and that's illegal."

Tuddingham added that the practice is common in Deaf Smith County. "Since these two men were arrested in August, I've been called on six of these cases," he said.

"It doesn't just happen here. The other day in Dimmitt, the sheriff's office told me they were holding 30 people for being illegal. I don't know how many are illegal, but every one of them was being held illegally since it was the sheriff's office who arrested them."

The immigration service has been sued at least five times in different states for encouraging other agencies to arrest persons suspected of being illegal aliens. Tuddingham said, "and in three of those, the immigration service has signed a consent judgment admitting they were wrong."

McPherson said today that he has not yet been served with notification of the complaint. He added that since he learned of the lawsuit Wednesday, he has been searching for the arrest records in the two cases.

"We can't find any arrest reports, and if there aren't any, that means they were never arrested," McPherson said.

"We're still waiting to be served, and when we are (served), we'll start looking real hard for the records. All our records are on microfilm, and they're filed by full name and date of birth. We can't look too hard until we get that information."

McPherson said the fact he is named as a defendant in the lawsuit "doesn't upset me as much as the fact that our tax money goes to a bunch of characters (TRLA attorneys) who go around soliciting business, and I intend to try to prove that."

"It's the principle of the whole thing—these people are trying to destroy everything we've accomplished in dealing with Mexican-Americans over all these years. There isn't anybody more fair to Mexican people than me, and I don't think they'd do this to us unless they've been solicited."

Whitfill and Matthews said today they could not comment on the lawsuit until they are served with notification.

"I better let my captain do all the talking on that right now," Matthews said.

Capt. Bob Russell, district commander of the DPS, said that the arrest of persons believed to be illegal aliens "are handled just like any other arrest—if we have probable cause, we make an arrest."

Concerning TRLA's allegation that DPS troopers have no authority to arrest an illegal alien, Russell said, "They're not right. We do have full authority, according to the attorney general's office."

"Our policy is, if we come across an illegal alien, we arrest him and turn him over to the Border Patrol."

Bob Heath, chairman of the attorney general's opinion committee, told The Brand the law does not allow Texas peace officers to arrest a person "solely on the suspicion that he has entered the country illegally."

Heath said he was reading from an attorney general's opinion on the issue. He said the opinion stated that an illegal alien can only be arrested by a Texas peace officer when he is actually seen entering the country or when he commits breach of peace, such as criminal offense.

Tuddingham added that the law further states that a person believed to be an illegal alien can only be held for the Border Patrol for a period of time not exceeding 24 hours.

Services Set Tomorrow for Clyde Renfro

Longtime resident Clyde "Curley" Renfro, 67, died at 2:50 p.m. Wednesday in Tulia Care Center. He had been a resident of Tulia Nursing Home for two years.

Services will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home with the Rev. Bill Fraser, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church officiating. Interment will be in Rest Lawn Memorial Park under direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home.

The grandson of a pioneer family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Renfro, who came to Deaf Smith County in 1902, Mr. Renfro was born Dec. 8, 1912 in Mabank. He was a longtime employee of Consumers Fuel and a member of the First Baptist Church. He married Neva Hamilton Feb. 25, 1939 in Lubbock.

Survivors include the widow, Neva of Amarillo; three sons, Bob of Hurst, David of Amarillo and Dickie of Clovis, N.M.;

two daughters, Sue Gallagher of Wheeler and Mary Huckert of Harrah, Oklahoma; four sisters, Mrs. Breb Hurst of Roswell, N.M., Pearl Renfro of Roswell, N.M., Edna Campbell of Matador and Annie McCaghen of Matador; a brother, Walter of Roswell, N.M.; 10 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Pall bearers will be Bobby Byers, Jerry Collier, Dale Jones, J.B. Noland, Cotton Parks and Bub Sparks.

New Rhodesian Governor Settling Into Duties

By JOHN EDLIN Associated Press Writer SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia's first British governor in 14 years has started "settling in and meeting people."

Look to the future rather than the past, Lord Soames told black and white Rhodesians.

The new governor said he understood he had to walk a fine line. "I'm just settling in and meeting people. I don't want to rush in where angels fear to tread," he said.

He made the comments to reporters Wednesday night after his first TV address to the nation. "This will not be an easy period for any of us," Soames said in the broadcast.

The black nationalist guerrillas of the Patriotic Front, which has waged a war against the Salisbury government since 1972, has insisted Soames was wrong to come to Salisbury before a cease-fire took place.

But Soames said he hoped the British-sponsored peace talks between the guerrillas and the outgoing government of Prime Minister Abel Muzorewa, now in its fourth month in London, will bring a cease-fire soon.

He urged Rhodesia's 6.8 million blacks and 230,000 whites to support him.

"In emerging from a long and bitter war there will be many difficulties. But together we must overcome them, looking to the future rather than the past," he said.

Soames said his task was "to hold the government of the country in trust while the political leaders put their case to you and seek your votes." After elections and legal independence, he said, "My task will then be complete and I shall return to London."

A son-in-law of the late Sir Winston Churchill, Soames is a caretaker governor charged with ending the guerrilla war and organizing new elections leading to black-majority rule.

Soames will meet today with local politicians, businessmen and other key black and white figures. His security chiefs will meet with their local counterparts to discuss implementation of a cease-fire and supervision of new elections. A 1,200-strong Commonwealth military force will be on hand to monitor the cease-fire and voting.

The governor's arrival Wednesday and the hoisting of the British Union Jack over the colonial mansion that will serve as his headquarters officially ended 14 years of rebellion against Britain.

Absent from the welcoming ceremony of brass band and guard of honor at Salisbury Airport was former Prime Minister Ian Smith, whose all-white government unilaterally declared its independence in 1965 in a move to head off black rule.

The British House of Commons late Wednesday approved the blueprint for Rhodesian independence, incorporating constitutional changes that will create an independent, black-ruled Zimbabwe early next year.

Resident Suffers Gunshot Wound

A Hereford man was shot in the hand by a .22-caliber rifle shortly after noon Wednesday, and police say the incident may have been an accident.

Victor Manuel Ozuna, 22, of 94 Hereford Calle, was shot once in the left hand and was transferred from Deaf Smith General Hospital to Amarillo for emergency treatment.

"Right now, we're calling it an accidental shooting, but there are a lot of facts we're going to have to consider," a police spokesman said.

Officers arrested a man for driving while intoxicated early today.

Tide Fans Blast AP Football Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — What happened to the good old days when the postman only rang twice? He rings a whole lot more than that when Alabama fans drag out the stationery to write in support of their beloved Crimson Tide.

And they had plenty to write about last week when Ohio State supplanted Alabama as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press final regular-season college football poll.

The nicer letters began "Dear Scrooge" and "To What Big Dummy It May Concern" and ended "Hatefully." And they all — all but one, that is — said the same thing...Alabama should be No. 1. Most were of the "How could you?" variety; very few recognized the fact that The AP merely counts the votes and that no AP employee has a vote. And most saw it as a cheap, political trick to boom the Ohio State-Southern Cal Rose Bowl.

Have some excerpts:
—"I do not think that you are a very nice person...You should not even be allowed to sit on the AP Pole (sic)...Even Santa Claus should be mad at you...I hope on Christmas Eve that you have nightmares and all you can see is Roll Tide."
—"For eight voters to omit Alabama from their top three choices, is absolutely a horrendous act...It is obvious that you overlooked it altogether because you are probably a part of the campaign to draft USC for national champions."
—"Well, you've done it again, haven't you? I think it's a shame that the money-grubbing bowl politicians are able to control who gets No. 1 at the end of each year."
—"How can a team that has been voted No. 1 for seven straight weeks fall in the rankings when they win their final game, then take a team that is idle and ranked No. 2 and replace the top team? It sounds like a set-up by the sports writers to have the Rose Bowl for the national championship."
—"I know that you can't tell the people how to vote, but you damn sure can see that more responsible people are appointed as voters next time."
—"Alabama proved their championship qualities in coming from behind in the fourth quarter, driving 82 yards to beat an 8-3 Auburn team; however, Ohio State had to block a punt to beat an 8-3 Michigan team. I sincerely hope this will be under serious consideration after the bowl games are completed."
—"How can eight voters leave them out of the top three and still look at themselves in the mirror? It's pure, simple politics, as usual."
—"It is my opinion that people are against the South and I disagree on how Alabama has dropped from No. 1 and don't understand and I would like a return letter if you could enlighten me on the subject because this is football country and if you could have been one of the 80,000 people to attend the Alabama-Auburn game you would agree completely."
—"Whoever voted Ohio State No. 1 is not being fair and is not in their right mind."
—"My husband and I think that it is stupid and sad that The AP poll doesn't know its job well enough to know that Alabama is and always will be No. 1."

"—You people say Alabama played a weak schedule. Yeah, they might have, but they beat every-damn-body they played, you silly damn Yankee."

"—What do you mean placing the Great Tide No. 2?"

"—I think your point of voting is about as sickening (sic) as Komenie (sic sic)."

"—Alabama WILL be the No. 1 team in the nation regardless of your eight idiots."

"—My suggestion to you is for you to get a few more competent people to do your voting and hopefully they will also possess enough fortitude to place football teams in an order that won't show such obvious partiality toward Southern football." How's that again?"

"—After seeing and hearing the results of The AP poll I am completely disgusted, although I expected as much. What does AP really stand for? Always Prejudice? And to think that the majority of Americans think that the South discriminates."

They have long memories in Alabama when it concerns 1966, a team Bear Bryant considers his best ever but which was relegated to No. 3 in the final rankings behind Notre Dame and Michigan State — they both finished 9-0-1 after playing that famous (infamous?) 10-10 tie — despite an 11-0 record.

But they have very short memories about 1978, a year The AP awarded the national championship to Alabama over Southern Cal despite a not-as-close-as-it-sounds 24-14 loss to the Trojans. Here are a couple from the "How Quickly They Forget Dept.":

"—Well, it looks like our Crimson Tide has been shot down for the third year in a row."

"—You must have some kind of odd reporters. You did it to Alabama last year."

And finally comes a letter from Hoover, Ala., which starts out like all the rest — namely, "Once again The AP has goofed." But this one is different. It goes on:

"I fail to understand how Baylor, 7-4, can be ranked in the Top Twenty and other quality 7-4 teams such as Tennessee and Notre Dame unranked."
Not even so much as a "Roll Tide!"

QB-TO-QB PASS

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers think they had a National Football League first in a 38-7 loss to Pittsburgh early in the 1979 season. Their only touchdown came on a pass from their second-string quarterback, Gifford Nielsen, to their third-string signal-caller, Guido Merkens.

Although Merkens is listed as Houston's No. 3 quarterback in the depth chart, he is also a wide receiver and a kick returner.

Phillips Prefers Houston in Tough Conference

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Coach Bum Phillips often hears the suggestion that his Oilers should find another home—the American Football Conference's Central Division is not a safe place to live.

says he wouldn't have it any other way.
"If you're planning on going to the Super Bowl, you've got to beat the Pittsburghs and the Clevelanders sooner or later," Phillips said. "I'd just as soon do it in a division race. If we can't beat the best, we don't deserve to go anyway."
The Oilers go into Sunday's regular season finale against Philadelphia with an 11-4 record and a chance to tie for the best record in the National Football League. Yet, they could still lose out to Pittsburgh for the AFC Central title.

The Oilers have beaten both 1979 Super Bowl finalists—Dallas and Pittsburgh—this season but the Steelers still could claim their sixth straight title if they beat Buffalo.

Houston would have already clinched a title if it played in either of two NFC divisions and would have a one-game lead in two other divisions going into the final week of the season.
Yet to hear Phillips talk, it would be like breaking up a family to put the Oilers in another division where they would have an easier chance to win a title.

The only time there's a problem is when two teams are playing each other.
"It's like a family where you have a fight with a brother or sister, but that doesn't mean you hate them," Phillips explained. "We have a lot of respect for each other."

Phillips said Houston's 20-17 victory over Pittsburgh Sunday was a good example of the brotherly love.

"Several Pittsburgh players fought their way through a crowd to congratulate us and it was sincere, they didn't have to do that," Phillips said. "They said how much they respected us and how we hung in there and kept fighting back."
Sunday's regular season finale will be only the second game for the Eagles in the Astro dome and they'll find a vastly different Oiler team awaiting them. Philadelphia, beat the Oilers 18-17 during the 1972 season when the Oilers finished 1-13.

Tyrone Repeats Third Time As Member Of AP 'Little All America' Football Team

By HERSCHEL NISSESON
AP Sports Writer
Offensive guard Tyrone McGriff, a 265-pound demon blocker from Florida A&M, was named to The Associated Press College Division All-America football team today for the third year in a row.
Joining McGriff as the only other repeater from the 1978 squad on the so-called Little All-America team was running back Frank Hawkins of the University of Nevada at Reno.

Aliotti, the Big Sky's Offensive Player of the Year after transferring from Los Medanos Junior College, topped Division I-AA in passing efficiency. He threw for 19 touchdowns and set a Big Sky record by completing 65.8 percent of his passes — 144 of 219 for 1,870 yards, with only seven interceptions.
Cobb broke the all-time NCAA Division II career rushing record, piling up 5,042 yards and becoming only the fifth College Division player to hit the 5,000-yard mark. For the season, he gained 1,609 yards and averaged 5.5 per carry.

Najarian was voted New England Player of the Year — including Division I-A teams — by rushing for 1,137 yards, including a 244-yard effort against Northeastern, the top single-game performance in Division I-AA.
The rest of the offensive team consists of tight end Paul Muckenhirn of North Dakota, wide receiver Jerry Young of Wisconsin-Whitewater, tackles Dave Melone of Lehigh and Jeff Lear of Youngstown (Ohio) State, guard Herb Beck of Delaware and center Jim Leonard of Santa Clara.

The defensive unit is composed of ends Plummer Bullock of Virginia Union and Pete Catan of Eastern Illinois, tackles Joe Gordon of Grambling and Doug Scott of Boise State, middle guard Ernie England of St. John's (Minn.), linebackers Andy Hawkins of Texas A&I, Ed Judic of Northern Arizona and Ezekiel Vaughn of Ouachita Baptist and backs Mike Ellis of Norfolk (Va.) State, Terry Love of Murray (Ky.) State and Jack Quinn of Springfield (Mass.).

Aliotti, Hawkins, Catan, Judic and Love are the only juniors on the first team. The others all are seniors.

Colleges Continue Cranking Out Great Ball Carriers for Pros

Joining Hawkins in the offensive backfield are quarterback Joe Aliotti of Boise State and running backs Chris "Poke" Cobb of Eastern Illinois and Mal Najarian of Boston University.
All players at four-year NCAA and NAIA colleges are eligible for the College Division All-America team except those at NCAA Division I-A schools.

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
Southern California's Charles White picked up his 24-pound Heisman Trophy Wednesday night in New York, while out in San Francisco the legendary O.J. Simpson prepared for his football adieu.
So the wheels keep turning. The band plays on. The assembly line continues grinding out fine ball-carriers. A great runner hangs up his cleats. Another plucks them off the wall.
"I would like to break loose on one more good run," said the 32-year-old Simpson poignantly, referring to his career finale against the Falcons in Atlanta. "It would be nice to finish on a high note."
It had been Simpson's aim when he came out of Southern California in 1968, himself a Heisman winner as college football's best player, to crack Jim Brown's rushing record in the National Football League.
He might have done so had not 11 years of battering and a succession of injuries dulled his skills ahead of schedule. He finishes 1,000 yards short, the equivalent of one good season. The powerful, nimble-footed Brown rushed for 12,312 yards, a record that stands.

It is not, however, a mark that is comfortably safe. This is the age of running backs in both the college and pro games, despite a sharp increase in aerial activity, and White only becomes another addition to the irrepressible young racehorse backs challenging Brown's record.
Pundits now say teams throw the pass to keep the defense honest for the running game — a reversal of an age-old axiom.

The NFL is loaded with devastating 1,000-to-1,500-yard ball-carrying specialists, while there's been a significant scarcity of quarterbacks lately of the Johnny Unitas, Joe Namath, Roger Staubach and Terry Bradshaw mold.
Dallas' Staubach, a 37-year-old, 11-year veteran, and Pittsburgh's Bradshaw, a 31-year-old warhorse with 10 years under his belt, remain the cream of the league's quarterbacks. There are some promising kids, notably Jim Zorn of the Seattle

Seahawks and Phil Simms of the New York Giants, but the pass-throwing crop in recent years has not been nearly as rich as in the infantry category.
This is reflected in the rundown of Heisman Trophy winners. White, who led the nation in running with 1,803 yards, becomes the seventh straight ball-carrier to be named to college football's highest honor.
Staubach won the Heisman in 1963. Simpson in 1968. Brown, Unitas, Namath and Bradshaw were among the football greats who had to admire the bronze statue from a distance.

Turkey Shoot Set by Simms Lions Club

The Simms Lions Club will host a turkey shoot beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Simms Community Building.
The site of the trap shoot is located 15 miles north and 15 miles west of Hereford.
Competitors in the event will have an opportunity to win hams or turkeys.
Proceeds will go toward various civic projects of the Simms Lions.

middle linebacker Jack Lambert and safety Donnie Shell.
Harris, who has gone over the 1,000-yard mark this season for the sixth straight time and seventh of his eight years in the NFL, will play in his eighth straight Pro Bowl. He is the only AFC player to be picked every year during that period.
San Diego quarterback Dan Fouts, the AFC's No. 1 passer, is one of six Chargers on the AFC team. Fouts will start along with wide receiver John Jefferson and tackle Russ Washington.
The Houston Oilers also had six players picked, including two starters on offense, AFC rushing leader Earl Campbell and tackle Leon Gray. Campbell and Pittsburgh's Webster were the AFC's only unanimous choices.
Oakland tight end Dave Casper, Buffalo guard Joe DeLamiellure and New England guard John Hannah round out the offensive unit.
The five Steelers starting on defense will be joined by two members of the Houston defense, outside linebacker Robert Brazile and safety Mike Reinfeldt. New England cornerback Mike Haynes, Denver cornerback Louis Wright and a pair of Pro Bowl newcomers, Miami tackle Bob Baumhower and San Diego end Fred Dean.
Kansas City's Bob Grupp is the punter. Houston's Toni Fritsch the kicker and Denver's Rick Upchurch the kick returner.

Harris Among 10 Steelers Named to Pro Bowl Team

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP) — Franco Harris, Pittsburgh's perennial 1,000-yard rusher, was among 10 Steelers named today to the American Conference All-Star team for this season's National Football League Pro Bowl.
The Steelers' total represents exactly one-fourth of the 40-man AFC squad that will play the National Conference All-Stars Jan. 27 in Honolulu, Hawaii.
The defending Super Bowl champions, playoff participants for a record-tying eighth straight time this season, will be represented by two other starters on offense — wide receiver John Stallworth and center Mike Webster.
Also, five Steelers will start on defense: end L.C. Greenwood, tackle Joe Greene, outside linebacker Jack Ham,

The AFC squad was chosen in balloting among the 14 head coaches and NFL Players Association members on each team, with none permitted to vote for a player on his own team.
The NFC won last season's Pro Bowl 13-7 in Los Angeles to take a 5-4 edge in the series.

76'ers are Rolling, Bucks Reeling in NBA Action

By The Associated Press
The Philadelphia 76ers are rolling...the Milwaukee Bucks are reeling.
"There's no doubt in my mind that we're in the midst of a major slump, and we can't seem to come out of it," said

Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson after his Bucks dropped their fifth straight decision Wednesday night, 112-91 to Philadelphia.
"We're just not playing well," added Nelson, whose team holds a slim 1 1/2-game lead over Kansas City in the National Basketball Association's Midwest Division. "We've had a couple of guys out with injuries and (Marques) Johnson having a pulled thigh muscle tonight certainly didn't help us."

Johnson, one of the Bucks' leaders, pulled the muscle after scoring seven points and was unable to play in the second half.
The 76ers, meanwhile, continued their hot hands. Wednesday night's victory was the ninth straight at home for the 76ers, who are tied with Boston for the Atlantic Division lead with a 22-7 record.

The Celtics kept pace with the 76ers by beating New Jersey 116-102. In other NBA games, Atlanta defeated New York 114-102; Kansas City crushed Portland 124-85; Seattle turned back Indiana 112-107; Detroit whipped Golden State 114-96 and Houston tripped San Diego 118-107.

Julius Erving scored 24 points to lead the Philadelphia offense.

Celtics 116, Nets 102
Dave Cowens scored 24 points and Larry Bird added 21 for Boston, which, leading 79-73, broke open the game in the final 90 seconds of the third quarter. Chris Ford hit two straight three-pointers from the corner and Bird connected on a layup and a foul shot to give Boston an 88-75 lead heading into the final quarter.

man combined for 68 points to spark Kansas City over Portland. Birdsong tossed in a season-high 38 points, despite sitting out the final six minutes. The Kansas City guard hit 14 of 18 shots from the field and 10 of 11 free throws.
Wedman got 18 of his 30 points in the first half and did not play during the game's final nine minutes.

Meyer Reaches 600 Win Plateau

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
The first 600 victories would seem to be the hardest for Ray Meyer. Especially No. 600.
The DePaul coach, who admits that losing basketball games "used to tear me up," reached that exalted plateau Wednesday night with a victory over Northern Illinois.
But it wasn't easy, coming in a heart-stopping 57-55 overtime thriller.
"I'm just happy to get this over with," said Meyer. "At least we don't have to go through this 600 stuff anymore."

It put Meyer up there with some good company. Only five other coaches in major college basketball history have won 600 games or more — Adolph Rupp (874), Phog Allen (771), Hank Iba (767), Ed Diddle (759) and John Wooden (667).
And the 65-year-old Meyer conceivably could pass Wooden's total if he sticks around a couple of more years, which he plans to.
"I'll stay as long as my enthusiasm and health hold up," Meyer said. "I figure perhaps two or three more years."

DePaul's victory was sealed by Mark Aguirre's two free throws with no time left in overtime. There were ceremonies for the DePaul coach to go along with this historic triumph.
"The only thing I remember about my 400th and 500th victories was that they came against Marshall and Niagara," said Meyer. "We just had cake after the 500th. It was in the locker room when I came in after the victory. I guess they were pretty sure we were going to win that night."

team. "We played with no confidence, no emotion. After we led 14-7, we folded up our tents and didn't play the rest of the night. Had they shot better, they would have handled us with ease."
Steve Stipanovich scored 12 points, including four free throws in the final two minutes, to lead Missouri over Butler. A three-point play by Lynn Mitchem gave Butler a 58-55 lead, but Missouri tied it and then held the ball until Stipanovich was fouled with 1:49 remaining.
"Butler did an extremely fine job tonight," said Missouri Coach Norm Stewart. "Their game plan was excellent. But I don't know if we were quite ready to play. This was our fourth game in six nights and the fifth day was a travel day."
Elsewhere, Mike McGee scored 36 points to lead Michigan to an 85-72 victory over Detroit in the inaugural game at the new Joe Louis Arena in Detroit; Keith McCord and Larry Spicer scored 28 and 23 points, respectively, to lead Alabama-Birmingham to an 86-67 victory over Washington State; David Burns scored 22 points to pace St. Louis University to a 67-48 triumph over Southern Illinois and Dominique Wilkins' last-second dunk shot powered Georgia over Mississippi 64-62.

Also, Rich Simkus and Craig Robinson teamed up for 23 points as Princeton defeated Fordham 53-43 for the Tigers' first victory of the season; Ed Nealy had 19 points and 14 rebounds to pace Kansas State over Arizona State 63-50; Villanova hammered the University of Baltimore 91-70 as John Pinnone scored 19 points; Bobbie Austin's 15 points helped Cincinnati defeat Miami (Ohio) 75-73; Reggie Johnson's shot at the buzzer insured a 61-58 victory for Tennessee over Auburn and Rynn Wright's 18 points triggered Texas A&M over East Texas State 85-42.

Hawks 114, Knicks 102
Eddie Johnson hit a third-period basket to put Atlanta ahead for good and scored 21 points. After a close first period, during which the lead changed hands seven times, Atlanta outscored the Knicks 12-1 in the middle of the second stanza and held a 48-46 lead at the half.
Johnson's basket put Atlanta ahead 70-69 with 3:21 left in the third period and the Hawks, who lead the NBA's Central Division with a 19-13 mark, slowly built their lead to the final margin.
Kings 124, Blazers 85
Oris Birdsong and Scott Wed-

man combined for 68 points to spark Kansas City over Portland. Birdsong tossed in a season-high 38 points, despite sitting out the final six minutes. The Kansas City guard hit 14 of 18 shots from the field and 10 of 11 free throws.
Wedman got 18 of his 30 points in the first half and did not play during the game's final nine minutes.
Sonics 112, Pacers 107
Gus Williams scored 27 points as Seattle held off an Indiana rally in the closing minutes. The Pacers battled back from 11 points down at the start of the third quarter and pulled within one on a basket by James Edwards with 2:30 remaining.
Paul Silas scored on a layup for Seattle and Indiana's Alex English countered with a basket before Lonnie Shelton's two free throws gave Seattle some breathing room with 45 seconds remaining.

Pistons 114, Warriors 96
John Long, Bob Lanier and Terry Tyler each scored more than 20 points, leading Detroit over Golden State. The Pistons broke a 13-game road losing streak, winning away from home for the first time since their season opener at San Antonio.
Long finished with 30 points, Lanier 29 and Tyler 21. The Warriors' top scorer was forward Purvis Short with 28 points.
Rockets 118, Clippers 107
Moses Malone scored 28 points and blocked four shots and Calvin Murphy added 24 points to lead Houston over San Diego.

Rockets Overcome Slump To Save Win

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Houston Rockets had a miserable third quarter against the San Diego Clippers, but found the final stanza more to their liking as they stormed back for a 118-107 National Basketball Association victory.
"I thought San Diego dug in on defense in the third quarter and it took us time to adjust," Rockets' coach Del Harris said Wednesday after Houston roared back from an 18-point third period with a 34-point outburst in the final quarter.
"We were fortunate to get some big plays in the fourth quarter to win it," the coach added.

leavy finished with 12 points, eight in the fourth quarter.
Lloyd Free paced the Clippers with 29 points and Bingo Smith added 20. Swen Nater had 15 points and 17 rebounds.
Harris was pleased with his team's effort, saying: "Overall, we're running our offense better, and that helps. We're continuing to throw a lot more plays to Calvin Murphy because he is so hot."
Murphy credited his back-court mate, Allen Leavell, with his hot shooting streak.
"I like to play with a quick penetrating guard like Allen," said Murphy. "He draws players to him and that sets me free."
San Diego Coach Gene Shue was anything but pleased with the Clippers' play.
"We had players in foul trouble early and that broke our rhythm," said the disgruntled coach.

The 11th-ranked Blue Demons were one of only three ranked teams in action Wednesday night, as No. 5 Kentucky defeated Kansas 57-56 and No. 19 Missouri stopped Butler 64-60.
Sam Bowie scored 17 points and veteran Kyle Macy added 10 to lead Kentucky's victory over Kansas in a battle between the two winningest teams in college basketball history. The Wildcats twice appeared ready to pull away and led early in the second half by 10 points, 41-31.
But Kansas, led by Darnell Valentine and Ricky Ross, chipped away at the lead and tied at 47 with 5:53 left on a basket by Chester Giles. Bowie, a 7-foot-1 center, got the Wildcats back on top with a stuff shot, but a jumper by Ross with 3:37 left made it 51-51.
Another Bowie dunk and two Bowie free throws helped put the Wildcats ahead 57-52, before a Valentine jumper and a layup by Giles with 19 seconds left trimmed the margin to one, Kentucky managed to run out the clock for its 14th victory in 12 games against the Jayhawks.
"When we got seven points ahead, we went down and had four straight turnovers," said Kentucky Coach Joe Hall, obviously upset with his young team. "We played with no confidence, no emotion. After we led 14-7, we folded up our tents and didn't play the rest of the night. Had they shot better, they would have handled us with ease."

Steve Stipanovich scored 12 points, including four free throws in the final two minutes, to lead Missouri over Butler. A three-point play by Lynn Mitchem gave Butler a 58-55 lead, but Missouri tied it and then held the ball until Stipanovich was fouled with 1:49 remaining.

PIONEER Harvest Hotline

Barry Love reports

Deaf Smith Co. Results

Again this year Pioneer brand seeds are delivering outstanding yields in field after field. But we know it takes more than one year's performance to tell the whole story. Look at these results, then ask your Pioneer dealer to show you records from several years. You'll see for yourself why Pioneer brand seeds have become famous for their consistency.

PIONEER 3311

Rocky Kay of Hereford reported a yield of 11,637 lbs./A. with this corn hybrid as it out-yielded five other hybrids in his hybrid evaluation test. This kind of outstanding performance was seen in 48 tests throughout the Central High Plains with 3311 showing a yield advantage of 495 lbs./A. over competitive hybrids. 3311 has shown excellent drought tolerance and will adjust kernel depth to match growing conditions. It's one you should count on for dependable performance in 1980.

PIONEER 3195

In 38 tests on the Central High Plains, including several in Deaf Smith County, this excellent corn hybrid showed a yield advantage of 269 lbs./A. over competitive hybrids. A very popular hybrid, 3195 has earned its reputation by delivering top performance under a wide range of conditions. High seedling vigor adds extra appeal to make 3195 a top choice for silage or grain in Deaf Smith County.

PIONEER 3360

A tall, semi-upright leaved hybrid, 3360 showed a yield advantage of 268 lbs./A. over competitive hybrids in 45 tests on the central High Plains in 1979. 3360 is one of the most consistent performers you can plant in the Deaf Smith area and has outstanding tolerance to head smut and MDMV. Standability is better than most of the upright leaved hybrids; too.

PIONEER 3184

Outstanding drought tolerance contributes to the consistency this hybrid has shown over the years. In 47 tests on the Central High Plains, 3184 averaged 10,390 lbs./A. in 1979. Over the past four years 3184 has averaged 387 lbs./A. more than competitive hybrids in 148 on-farm comparisons. 3184 has strong cobs that helped speed harvest and it holds ears of medium-textured grain well to minimize field losses.

Mrs. Tucker Earns PLS Status

By KERRIE STEIERT
Women's Editor

Jeannie Tucker of Hereford has joined the ranks of 996 other Americans who have been certified as Professional Legal Secretaries. By passing the stiff examination, Mrs. Tucker becomes the fifth member of Deaf Smith-Castro Counties Legal Secretaries Association to earn her PLS designation. These five members are the only individuals in the Panhandle area to achieve PLS status.

Although having the letters "PLS" tacked after one's name is a coveted honor, it does not guarantee higher wages or a better position. Mrs. Tucker explained. For the most part, it is a source of self-satisfaction for those who earn it and can be helpful in seeking employment.

PLS examinations are administered twice each year and are composed of seven parts: 1) Written communication skills and knowledge, 2) human relations, 3) secretarial procedure and office management, 4) secretarial accounting, 5) legal terminology, techniques and procedures, 6) judgment skills, and 7) preparation of legal documents. If an individual fails any part of the test four times, the entire exam must be taken again. Mrs. Tucker had passed all seven parts after her third sitting.

Designation as a PLS is only the first part of Mrs. Tucker's personal ambition with the final goal being certification by the Internal Revenue Service. This would qualify Mrs. Tucker to represent clients in tax court and during an audit.

Mrs. Tucker has lived in Hereford for two years and is the wife of KPAN employee Jim Tucker. She became interested in legal secretarial work during the 8 1/2 years she was employed by Floyd Richards-Robert Ferguson-Dalhart. She studied secondary education for three years at Panhandle State College in Goodwell, Okla.

In order to take the PLS test, an individual must have had five years of experience in the legal field. The PLS test has a reputation for being difficult and, when given to graduate lawyers recently, it was revealed that they could not pass the exam. Part 7 of the test, which deals with preparation of legal documents, is the toughest area and is being reviewed by the National Association of Legal Secretaries. Mrs. Tucker and Mildred Sheffy, 33, sit in on pilot testing of Part 7 to determine whether this part of the exam should be altered. Only five of the 50 PLS candidates tested this fall in Lubbock passed the exam.

California, Texas and Ohio have the greatest representation of Professional Legal Secretaries in the nation. Membership in the NALS is 24,000 active members. Mrs. Tucker, a native of Dalhart, states that she is indebted to the local chapter of Legal Secretaries Association for the study sessions, moral support and inspiration offered by the dozen members from Hereford and Dimmitt. Education is the basic purpose of the local Legal Secretaries Association, which is a branch of the state and national organization.

The Legal Secretaries meet on the third Monday of each month for the purpose of keeping the membership abreast of efficient, practical techniques and secretarial skills. This year, the Deaf Smith-Castro Counties Chapter is focusing on the "Personal Encouragement Program" (PEP), which stresses the motto "Work Smarter-Not Harder."

In addition to study sessions, the Legal Secretaries hear programs from guest speakers on a variety of topics, such as postal regulations, personal motivation, taxes, and volunteer organizations. The Legal Secretaries are involved in several service projects, such as helping the United Way, Heart Association, Cancer Society and other charitable foundations. The chapter's main community service is support of Hereford and Dimmitt Satellite Centers.

An annual event sponsored by the group is the Thanksgiving prayer breakfast for members and their employers. This is usually attended by a representative of the Texas Association of Legal Secretaries (TALS).

The Legal Secretaries annually recognize excellence among their peers by naming a "Secretary of the Year" and "Boss of the Year." The secretarial citation went to Mrs. Tucker this year and her name will be submitted for the state honor.

In July, the Deaf Smith-Castro Counties organization received the TALS Chapter Achievement Award in recognition for their hours of community service. The local chapter was honored at the national convention in Las Vegas.

The Legal Secretaries are currently working toward the TALS board meeting which they will host Feb. 15-17 at the Villa Inn in Amarillo. According to Mrs. Tucker, the acceptance of the local bid is "quite an accomplishment" because the board has never before convened in the Panhandle.

Although the Legal Secretaries organization is celebrating its 50th golden anniversary, on the national level, the local chapter is only 5 years old. Playing an instrumental role in the success of the local chapter's programs has been Mildred Sheffy, the first Panhandle woman to earn her PLS. Mrs. Sheffy has been named "Secretary of the Year" on the local and state levels and is currently editor of the state publication "The TALS Docket." She is also editor of the local publication "The Legallites," which is available to all members of the legal community.

Mrs. Sheffy is currently employed by attorney Richard Green, but plans on establishing a secretarial service here in the near future. Others who have earned their PLS are Mildred Fuhrmann, employed by attorney John Aikin; Barbara Wheat of Dimmitt; and Ruth Wynne, who recently moved to Amarillo. Mrs. Tucker is a former employee of Witherspoon, Aikin and Langley Law Firm and is now employed by Doyle Elliott, attorney and CPA, in Friona.

The 13 members of the Deaf Smith-Castro Counties chapter represent five lawyers, one abstractor and one real estate firm.

Preparing for School

Final plans for the School of Instruction to be hosted here for the Order of the Eastern Star, District II, Section III, are discussed here by Mrs. Eugene Heath, Deputy Grand Matron, and Mrs. Marvin Coffey, co-chairman of the event. The School is to be held today at the Masonic Temple. A luncheon and evening banquet are planned. [Brand photo by Denise Smith]

Reception Set For Thompsons

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Thompson are invited to attend a reception in honor of the couple's 50th golden wedding anniversary from 3-5 p.m. Sunday in the parlor of First Christian Church.

Hosting the anniversary reception will be the Thompson's children, Mrs. Dan Trew of Canyon and Mrs. Donald Smithson of Trenton.

Robert L. Thompson and Alice Womble were married in Hereford Dec. 15, 1929 and have made their home here since that time. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Thompson, pioneers of Hansford County, and she was the daughter of local pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Womble. Mrs. Thompson was reared in Hereford, attending local schools until she enrolled at West Texas State University, where she earned her degree. Thompson is also an alumni of WTSU, where he received his bachelor of science and master of arts degrees.

Thompson continued his graduate studies at the University of Texas, University of California at Los Angeles and San Diego State College at San Diego, Calif. He was employed as a drug clerk and pharmacist until 1939, when he became Deaf Smith County Clerk. He filled that position until 1953. For the next 20 years, Thompson was employed by Hereford Independent School District as a high school teacher and counselor. He retired in 1974, as did his wife, who taught at Northwest Elementary School for 11 years.

Following their retirement from the school system, the Thompsons accepted positions as official escorts for Trailway Motor Coach Tours. They continue to work in this capacity and travel approximately 25,000 miles annually on seven tour routes throughout the United States, into Canada, Mexico and Nassau.

The Thompsons are members of First Christian Church, where he serves as an elder. Thompson is past president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, of which he has been a member for 50 years. He has been a member of Hereford Lions Club for 40 years and is a life member of Hereford Masonic Lodge, being a Past Master. He holds membership in Scottish Rite and the Khiva Shrine Temple.

Thompson served for 33 years as president of Hereford, Tx. Federal Credit Union. He is also a trustee of the J.E. Hill Estate, which has benefitted many civic projects, including the Jim Hill Hotel, Hereford Community Center and the children's wing of Deaf Smith General Hospital. Thompson is a member of Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity and is past president of the Amarillo chapter. He is also listed in Marquis' "Who's Who in the South and Southwest."

Mrs. Thompson is charter member of Lone Star Study Club and holds the distinction of life membership. She is also a member of Order of the Eastern Star.

The Thompsons have two daughters: Elaine (Mrs. Dan) Trew and Lynn (Mrs. Donald) Smithson, both of whom are teachers. The Trews have three children, Tom, Terry and Tammy (Mrs. Dwight) Bird. The Smithsons also have three children, Donna, Lori and John.

Victory Sunday School Class Holds X-Mas Party

The Victory Sunday School Class of Avenue Baptist Church held their annual Christmas party in the decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wall recently.

Brother Bill Fraser lead those present in the invocation and Billy Wall gave the devotional. Those present enjoyed a buffet style dinner and a game of "42" with Johnny Townsend and Dorothy Sargeant having the high score.

Gifts were exchanged and a Lottie Moon offering was taken for their class teacher, Fanny children, Tom, Terry and Tammy (Mrs. Dwight) Bird. The Smithsons also have three children, Donna, Lori and John.

Townsend. Husbands were Messrs. and Mmes. Carlyle Sargeant, Don Davison, Johnny Townsend and Bill Fraser.

The NATIONAL BIBLE CONTEST

wants you to win a share of $16,500!

It's not a sweepstakes. Not a drawing. But a Bible contest based on your answers to questions taken directly from the Bible. How much you win doesn't depend on how lucky you are—but on how well you know your Bible.

Three chances to win

The contest is divided into three parts. Part one asks you three questions about the Old Testament. Part two asks three questions about the New Testament. And part three asks three general Bible questions that require knowledge of both Old and New Testaments. You may enter any parts of the contest you wish—first, second, third—or even all three.

54 cash winners! $16,500 in prizes!

Prizes are as follows:

Part One	Part Two	Part Three
First Place: $2,500	First Place: $2,500	First Place: $2,500
Second Place: 1,000	Second Place: 1,000	Second Place: 1,000
Third Place: 500	Third Place: 500	Third Place: 500
Plus 44 Fourth Place prizes of $100 each (15 for each part)

That means you could win up to $7,500 cash money, depending on how many parts of the contest you enter and win.

Easy to enter

To participate, all you need do is answer the three questions to each part of the contest you wish to enter. Then merely fill out the rest of the entry blank and mail this whole ad, along with your free will entry contribution of $1 for one part, $2 for any two parts and $3 for all three parts. (Free will entry contributions are tax deductible.) Mail to:

Christian Church Union
Dept. C-1508 • Box 750 • Independence, MO 64052

Judging

Entries will be judged—and winners selected—by a panel of judges selected by the Christian Church Union. The King James version of the Bible will be considered the standard authority for judging entries. Judging decisions are final.

Proceeds to fight world hunger and spread the Christian message

All after-expense proceeds derived from free will entry contributions go toward research leading to the development, production, and international distribution of fish protein concentrate for infants and children suffering from malnourishment and protein starvation—and toward production of Christian films designed to carry God's message to mankind. Any additional contribution you wish to make over and above your $1, $2, or $3 entry contribution will be greatly appreciated. Send cash, check, or money order. Please make checks and money orders payable to: Christian Church Union.

National Bible Contest, Part One, Old Testament:

$1 entry contribution requested

- Name the man God used to deliver Israel from Egypt?
- Who killed Goliath?
- What prophet was kept safe in the lion's den?

National Bible Contest, Part Two, New Testament:

$1 entry contribution requested

- What did the Wise Men follow to find Jesus?
- Who was sent to prepare the way for Jesus?
- Which disciple was famous for doubting?

National Bible Contest, Part Three, General Bible Questions:

$1 entry contribution requested

- Name the first book in the Bible
- What is the longest book in the Bible?
- Which two books of the Bible are named after women? _____ and _____

Well-Known Poet Speaks at School

Students involved in the Pegasus Project which is housed on the Bluebonnet campus, have been working with David Yates, a resident poet, who has been provided to the District with the aid of the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities, the National Endowment for the Arts and the United States Office of Education.

Yates has met with several classes in the Hereford District providing them with a better understanding of the current trends in poetry.

Students participating in the Pegasus Project are fifth and sixth graders from each of the district's elementary schools. Project Pegasus is designed to provide these students with more critical thinking skills with the opportunity to do so. The program provides activities that are not readily available in the District's regular classroom.

At the present time, there are 20 fifth graders and 20 sixth graders involved.

Students attend these classes once a week and are in their regular classes the remainder of the time.

The Project Pegasus teacher is Mrs. Leslie Paschel.

New Agent Hired For Extension Job

Effective Jan. 1, 1980, Louise Walker from Vega will be serving as Deaf Smith County Extension Agent, a position vacated in August by Joyce Shipp. Mrs. Shipp is now serving as Extension Agent for Smith County at Tyler.

Mrs. Walker was hired this week by Deaf Smith County Commissioners.

Mrs. Walker is presently employed at Vega as Oldham County Extension Agent, a job which she has filled for two years. Prior to this, she had seven years experience as County Extension agent in Arkansas.

The agent received her bachelor of science degree in education from Henderson State University at Arkadelphia, Ark. She has done graduate work at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark. and at Texas A&M University at College Station.

Mrs. Walker is the wife of David L. Walker, who is general manager of Friona Consumer's Co-op in Friona. The couple has three children, Stuart, 8, Bryan, 6, and Allison, 5.

Mrs. Walker's hobbies include sewing and flying with her husband.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

It was such good news I couldn't believe it was in the newspaper.

A group of Boston doctors reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association that "moderate" consumption of beer, wine, and liquor may reduce the risk of heart attack.

Is that only wonderful? Have you any idea how long it has been since anything people enjoyed was declared good for them? Year in and year out for the last decade, we have seen "living" go from a pretty good alternative to a condition that is injurious to your health.

I immediately called my father, who is always shopping for a doctor to tell him what he wants to hear.

"Did you hear about the doctors who said people who had a little drink each day may be less likely to die of coronary disease?"

"I heard," he said, "and I don't trust 'em."

"You didn't say that when you shopped for a doctor who said exercising caused itching."

"That was different."

"What about the dentist you found who told you you'd have healthier teeth and gums if you smoked a lot of cigars?"

"This isn't the same."

"Why not?"

"Doctors who recommend things you enjoy don't go public. Can you imagine what would happen if you found a doctor who put you on a 4,500-calorie-a-day diet and told you to cut out carrots and cottage cheese? He'd be swamped. Besides, it's not man's nature to like things that are good for him. It isn't any fun anymore. How long do you think people would eat chocolate if they thought it would clear your skin up? Or party all night if they thought it would get rid of a cold? Do you really think people would eat a pizza just before going to bed if it put them to sleep?"

"I don't understand you at all," I said. "I thought this piece of news would make you happy. Why don't you just toddle off and have a nice glass of wine before dinner and relax?"

"Do I have to?" he pouted.

David Yates, Poet Speaks to Chapter

Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday afternoon in the community room of the First National Bank with hostesses Mary Sledge and Janey Whitaker.

Guest speaker David Yates was introduced by Jo Ann Richburg. Yates is the editor and publisher of "The Cedar Rock Press." He teaches journalism at Southwest Texas University in San Marcus and is supervisor of the student teachers there.

Yates read some selected poems which he had written, to the club members.

During business, the Valentine Dance was scheduled for Feb. 16 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The social for this month will be held Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Medallion Room of the Rural Electric Co-op building. At this time, members will exchange secret sister gifts.

The club's service project for this month will be to help a needy family for whom members will bring canned goods and the chapter will furnish a turkey and toys.

Members also voted to help with the "Mothers March" this year beginning Jan. 13. The club will act as team captains for people walking in Hereford. The chapter also voted to send $400 to Girlstown, U.S.A. as a Christmas gift to them.

Members present were Ila-jean Brinkman, Barbara Burkhalter, Debra Cook, Betty Davies, Bonnie Decker, Nan Gauthreaux, Opal Glenn, Toni Jones, Barbara Kendall, Phyllis Neill, Jo Ann Richburg, Mary Sledge, Linda Kay Sorrells, Pam Stephens, Brenda Thomas, Linda Thorell, Alene Tindal, Jeannie Tucker, Janey Whitaker and Dixie Williamson.

DSC Bucks to be Presented To Winners of X-Mas Contest

A total of $300 worth of Deaf Smith County Bucks will be given away this year to winners of the Home Lighting Contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division. These 'bucks' are only redeemable with local merchants. December 17 is the deadline for local residents to submit their names as entrants in the contest.

Interested persons wanting to enter the home or business category can call the Chamber, 464-3333 or visit the office at 701 N. Main St. It will not be necessary for entrants to fill out a form.

Cash prizes are to be awarded in six categories: Total Home--$35 first place, $25 second place and $15 third place; Home window--$20 first place, $15 second place; Home door--first place $20 and second place $15; Total business--$35 first place and $25 second place; Business door--$25 first place; and Business window--$25 and $15 second place.

Last year's winners will not be eligible for prizes this year, according to: Kylene Gentry, project chairman. Contest participants should have their decorations completed and illuminated on the evening of Dec. 20, when judging will be conducted. Winners will be chosen according to the following points system:

- *Fifty points for attractiveness, considering perspective from the street (10 points), general eye appeal (10 points), material used (10 points), good scale and proportion to surroundings (10 points) and proper function of lights and moving parts (10 points).
- *Twenty points for suitability to Christmas theme, legend or custom associated with Christmas (10 points) and use of colors and lights depicting the yuletide season (10 points).
- *Twenty points for creativity with a minimum of 10 points allowed for handiwork and personal planning, plus an additional 10 points for materials showing originality.
- *A unified motif can earn up to 10 points if it depicts a single idea or prominent theme (5 points) and keeps lighting in the boundaries of the theme (5 points).

Stanton Dogie Roundup

Most students and all teachers are counting the days to Christmas vacation. Hopefully, there won't be many, if any, who leave before the holidays actually begin. This works a hardship on the students who leave, their teachers, and those who don't leave early.

Those who leave early have make-up work to do, the teachers have extra work in providing that make-up work, and the faithful students who rarely leave, or miss school, feel caught in the middle. Praise to those faithful ones!

Several English classes are busy writing Christmas poems and stories to be published in The Brand. This is an annual activity in which our students have been invited to participate.

Mrs. Montgomery's English classes will be reading Truman Capote's "A Christmas Memory" and Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" in class before the Christmas holidays. Several classes are devoting some of their class time to Christmas activities.

Both the 8th and 9th grade girls teams did a pretty good job at the Canyon Tournament last weekend. Both teams won consolation and received trophies for their efforts. The freshman team won over Canyon White, 50-34, and over La Plata, 51-34, and lost to Olton, 39-52. The 8th graders lost to Olton, 17-28, and won over Canyon White, 35-27, and over La Plata, 27-21. Our weakest points seem to be in making our shots. We ran our plays to the tee, but just couldn't hit the bucket. (Jennifer Eggen)

About 25 Stanton Band members will be in Amarillo Saturday for the all-region tryouts. The students will leave early and be gone most of the day. The tryouts will be at Austin Junior High.

COCONUT TORTE
Crackly top and chewy interior.

10 single salted crackers each 1 1/4 inches square, finely crushed (1 and 1/3rd cups)

1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

1 cup finely cut pitted fresh-style dates

1 large egg whites

1 and 1/3rd cups firmly packed light brown sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 ounce can flaked coconut

1/2 cup chopped medium-fine walnuts

1/2 cup heavy cream whipped, sweetened and flavored to taste

Stir together crackers and baking powder; add dates and separate pieces with your fingers. Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks; gradually beat in brown sugar; continuing to beat if necessary until meringue holds stiff, straight peaks. Fold in cracker mixture, vanilla, coconut and walnuts. Turn into a buttered pie plate 9 by 1 1/4 inches. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until top is crisp - 25 to 30 minutes. Cool on a wire rack. Torte may sink a little. Before serving, swirl cream over top. Makes 8 servings.

Food Show Winners Named

AMARILLO — Knowledge of nutrition and skills in planning and food preparation won four youths from the Texas Panhandle silver trophies at the District 1 4-H Food Show here Saturday, Dec. 8. The four advance to state competition next June at College Station. The top winners are Becky Hughes and Glenna West, both of Deaf Smith County; Anette Clements of Moore County, and Revis Ann Massey of Hemphill County. Four other winners took second place honors and the right to serve as alternates should the first place winners not be able to compete at the state contest. The alternates are Karen Alderson of Donley County, Penny Miller of Gray County, Kayla McEntire of Hemphill County and RaLynda Wharton of Dallam County. Junior division contestants received ribbons but will not compete beyond the district level. Juniors named best in class in each of the four food categories were: Snack and beverage-Polly West of Deaf Smith, Tanya Wharton of Dallam, Amy Diedrichsen of Moore and Darla File of Lipscomb. Side dish-Robin Conkright of Deaf Smith, Stacey Reynolds of Hartley, Jalene McAdams of Hemphill and Mary Ann Terry of Moore. Bread and dessert-Debbie Said of Dallam, Jessica Bookout of Hartley, Donna Peters of Moore, Lisa Wiley of Sherman and Hope Coffman of Wheeler. Main dish-Kim Formway of Donley, Lee Ann Tate of Gray, Melanie Morehead of Hemphill and Traei Carnahan of Moore. 4-H'ers from Deaf Smith County and their awards were: Glenna West-Snacks and Beverages-1st place, Becky Hughes-Breads and Desserts-1st place, Cynthia Lutz Side Dish-Blue Ribbon, Kathy Morrison-Main Dish-Blue Ribbon, Polly West-Junior Snacks and Beverages-1st place, Robin Conkright-Junior Side Dish-1st place, Annabeth Friemel-Junior Breads and Desserts, blue ribbon, Heather Gee-Junior Main Dish, blue ribbon. Sue Farris, district Extension agent, said the annual event is a critical test of the 4-H member's knowledge of nutrition and culinary skills. A total of 131 4-H'ers from 19 counties in the Panhandle competed in the senior and junior divisions in this year's show, held at Bonham Junior High School. Miss Hughes won the senior breads and desserts trophy with a holiday treat of miniature fruit cakes served with hot wasail, a spicy punch. Miss West's award-winning snack was tarts combining a cheese pastry with a pineapple-orange filling.

Top Cooks
Two of the top four awards in the District 1 4-H Food Show at Amarillo were won by these Deaf Smith cooks. Glenna West, left, took top honors in the snacks and beverages category while Becky Hughes earned first place in the senior breads and desserts class.

Ticket Sales Continue For Hall of Fame Ball

Local residents are reminded that tickets are still being sold at $15 each to the first Hall of Fame "Hall-iday Benefit Ball," which is scheduled on the evening of Friday, Dec. 28 in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Admission to the event will be limited so it is stressed that tickets to purchased early from Patsy Patrick, 364-6893, Cissy Wagner 364-6475, or the Hall of Fame, 364-5252. The ticket price is tax-deductible. Theme of the upcoming dance will be "Rhinstone Roundup" with guests invited to attend in "western chic" costume. Twenty-five dollar cash prizes will be presented to the best dressed "Rhinstone Cowgirl" and "Rhinstone Cowboy." Although it is hoped that guests will participate in the costume aspect of the ball, those attending in traditional formal attire will not be turned away. Beginning with the Grand March at 8 p.m., the benefit ball will include several special dances, such as Ladies' Choice, Virginia Reel, Tag, Put Your Little Foot, and other Western favorites. Providing dance music will be "Susie and Group," spotlighting vocalist Susie McGee. Door prizes are to be presented and refreshments served. Also during the evening, a silent auction will be held on three Western canvasses. Proceeds of the auction as well as the Hall-iday Ball will go to the Hall of Fame's operating expenses.

Packards, Browns Host Party

Deaf Smith Lapidary Club met Monday night at Pioneer Natural Gas Flame room for a covered dish supper and their annual Christmas party. Hosting the special occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Packard and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown. Decorating the room were greenery and candles depicting the Christmas theme. An announcement was made by Helen Nunley informing club members of an upcoming outing during the spring called "Visit the Club's Rocks." Members will go to various club members' homes to admire their rock collections and then they will visit in the country and have a dinner with one of the club members. Special guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Whitey Voelm and their daughter, Patty. They are owners of Wagon Yards Rock Shop outside of Canyon. The couple brought the door prize which was a group of quartz crystals. Bert Brown won the prize. Another guest was Opal James of Littlefield. The next scheduled club meeting will be Jan. 28 in the Flame Room. Those attending were Messrs and Mmes. J.B. Culp, Bub Newell, Jack Nunley, Lester Rape, Ralph Packard, Cecil Lady, Bert Brown, Dale Henson, Jake King, Garth Thomas, Preston Gee, Wayne Elmquest, Tim Dodson, Ray Martin, Clarence Borts, Julia Perrin, Don Henslee and Weldon Roberson. Also present were Betty Rice, Joe Williams, Thama Pearson, Lurlene Cawthon, Henry Wedel and Carrie Mae Doak.

The populations of the black rhinoceros, Kenya's only native rhinoceros, has dropped from 15,000 in 1969 to an estimated 1,500 today. Most have died at the hands of poachers, who covet the animal's horns. In the past few years thousands of rhinos in Kenya have been killed so their horns could be exported, although it is illegal. The word "diamond" comes from the ancient-Greek word "adamas," meaning unconquerable. The first woman to wear diamonds was Agnes Sorel, mistress of King Charles VII of France. Until then, only men of importance wore them.

Cooperatives Can Help Single-Father Families

COLLEGE STATION — There IS help for single-father families, but it may take their organizational- and creative-skills, says a family life education specialist. "Cooperatives" or small businesses formed by single fathers to help themselves could "take some pressure off" of their single-parent role and allow them more qualitative time with their children, says Dr. Betty Jo Smith. Dr. Smith is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Today more than 1.3 million fathers are learning to cope as single parents, she says. "They list a variety of problems, some similar to those listed by single mothers," Dr. Smith reports. "However, single fathers have special problems--parenting and homemaking head the list. "After all, these are the areas in which men usually have the least training," she points out. "Cooperatives" or small businesses formed to serve these single fathers and their children would be one answer to this dilemma, Dr. Smith suggests. For example, together several single fathers could form a registered, organized house-keeping service. Also, they could create a "cooperative" that would provide services for school children before and after school. These child-care facilities could maintain longer hours of service, such as from 7 or 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. In addition to meeting the needs of the children, these "cooperative" or small business offer great potential for creative enterprises, Dr. Smith adds. Other ideas for helping single fathers meet their children's needs are these: *More flexible work schedules for everyone (such as part-time, half-time or altered hours). *More acceptance of children in a variety of housing situations. *Family Resource Centers that provide information and counseling.

SAUSAGE AND CORN PANCAKES
We think Mark Twain would have approved of these all-American flapjacks!

- 1 cup all-purpose flour, fork-stir well before measuring
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 large eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 pound bulk pork sausage, cooked (see Note below)
- 1 cup corn kernels and pulp, cut and scraped from fresh cobs

Stir together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg yolks and milk to blend; stir in sausage and corn. Add the flour mixture; stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in. On to hot greased griddle, drop 1/4 cupfuls of the batter, well apart; when bubbles form on top, flip over to brown other sides. (We used an electric griddle set at 375 degrees; each batch of pancakes took about 5 minutes to cook through and brown.) Makes about 1 dozen. Serve with maple syrup.

Note: In a large heavy skillet, over moderate heat, crumble the sausage with a fork until it loses its light color and then cook gently for about 10 minutes. If there is an excess amount of fat in the skillet, you may not want to add it to the batter.

VFW District Convention To be Held in Hereford

R.W. "Rusty" Richmond of Denison will be representing the Department of Texas at the District 13 convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary here Saturday and Sunday. Richmond is currently serving as State Junior Vice Commander of the Department of Texas, VFW.

Also officiating during the district convention here will be District Commander Lonnie M. Black and District Auxiliary president Dena Loerwald. Local post commander is Tommy Goheen; his wife, Marie, is president of the Hereford VFW Auxiliary.

The convention will begin with registration at 2 p.m. Saturday at the post home. A School of Instruction is planned that afternoon from 4-6 p.m. A social will be held from 6-7 o'clock, to be followed by a dance, open to the public, from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m.

On Sunday, registration will continue from 10 a.m. - 12 noon. Following the noon luncheon, the VFW and Auxiliary will convene in joint session. The welcome address is to be presented by Jim Tucker and State Junior Vice Commander Richmond will speak at this time. The VFW chapters and Auxiliary units will convene in separate session at 2 p.m. Featured speaker for the Auxiliary will be Billie Rhoades.

Ann Landers

Fooling Around Wrecklessly

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is the ninth time I have written this same letter to you. Finally I am mailing it. Each time I wrote I changed the names of the people involved. This time I will call my wife Nora and her niece will be Susan.

Nora and I have been married three years. She is 29, I am 33. This is the second time around for both. So, what's the problem?

Nora has a 19-year-old niece. Susan has had two years of college and is very intelligent. She is also a real eye-fund, as we used to say in high school, "built like a Canadian out-house."

The girl stayed with us several weekends last year, and I could feel that she was coming on to me strong. Nora laughed it off as a "crazy crush on an older man."

About three weeks ago Susan and I were alone in the house while Nora was across town, visiting her sister. Susan's charms proved too much for me, and we have been going at it like a couple of crazies every chance we get. I am a nervous wreck worrying about getting caught.

Yesterday Nora told me Susan wants to quit college, stay with us and go to beauty school. She (Nora) said, "I think the girl should finish college, but she has a right to live her own life. I told her anything she decides to do is okay with me."

Ann, I do NOT want Susan living in our home. It will surely lead to trouble. How do I block this pass without confessing everything?--In One Mell Of A Hess

DEAR MELL: Keep quiet and remember the Ann Landers

Motto, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." Tell your wife in no uncertain terms that you do not want Susan to share your home because it will interfere with the privacy a husband and wife should enjoy during the early years of their married life. (Next stop fooling around with this girl, or you will surely wind up in serious trouble.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am enclosing a clip from he Stockton News Record. It made me so mad I couldn't see straight. Will you please print it?

The judge in a rape case cautioned an alleged victim Tuesday to answer questions directly and not to make rambling comments before the jury. The judge who presided in Superior Court, after sending the jury from the courtroom, told the woman when she interrupted him: "Will you shut up for a minute? If you can't play by the rules, I'll dump the case." Sign me--Outraged

DEAR OUTRAGED: That makes two of us. The courts must stop treating rape victims as if they were defendants. The implication that they are guilty of something is reprehensible. I'm with you--all the way.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was married for a short time. Now, three years after the divorce, I am planning to be married again--to a wonderful, understanding man.

Would it be proper to wear the same wedding dress? It is a very pretty ivory color and still in style. With the price of clothes so high, it would be quite a saving.

We want to have a small wedding, and my fiance told me it would be okay with him. I'm undecided and need your thinking--Pennsylvania Woman

DEAR P.W.: If I were you, I'd put away the ivory number and wear something else--for luck.

HONEY RYE BREAD

In answer to a reader who wants to use rye flour in breads.

- 1/2 cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
- 2 envelopes dry yeast
- 1 1/2 cups lukewarm milk
- 3 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup honey
- 2 tablespoons butter, soft
- 3 1/2 cups medium rye flour
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour

In a large bowl dissolve yeast in water; with a wooden spoon stir in milk, salt, honey, butter and 1 1/4 cups of the rye flour; with the spoon beat in more rye flour, 1 cup at a time, until mixture is smooth. Work in remaining rye flour and the all-purpose flour until dough leaves sides of bowl. Turn out on a well-floured, smooth surface; knead until elastic--30 minutes. Place in greased bowl; turn to grease top; cover; let rise in a draft-free place (80 to 85 degrees) until doubled--1 to 1 1/2 hours. Punch down; turn out; divide into 2 equal portions; shape each into a loaf; place each in a buttered 9 by 5 by 3-inch pan. Cover; let rise as before until doubled--1 to 1 1/4 hours. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes. Turn out on wire racks to cool.

H.W. Longfellow published his "Evangeline" in 1847.

Martin Luther, church reformer and translator of the Bible, nailed his 95 theses on the church door at Wittenburg in 1517. His original theses, directed against the sale of indulgences by the Dominican monk Johann Tetzel, were burned as heretical but translations survived and spread throughout Germany.

Real Estate Tips

Can you tell the quality of a builder's work from viewing his model homes?

Not always. Builders' models are usually enjoyable to tour but you shouldn't choose a house just on the strength of a trip through a model home. What you see isn't always what you get. Builders will sometimes dress up a model home with better quality carpet, more ornate lighting, and wood work finishes. Sometimes the house you buy may be less "fancy" and lack the quality of finish materials that were provided for the "show house". Before making a commitment to buy, bring your broker into the deliberations. He will help you judge floor-plans and specifications, determine how to obtain a written warranty, and help you decide which "extra" features you might want.

Nicaraguans Arrested

PORT ISABEL, Texas (AP) — Twenty-six Nicaraguans who arrived in the United States safely, after fleeing what they considered oppressive conditions at home, are worried about three friends who didn't make it.

Kent Ellis Gordon, 27-year-old Captain of one boat carrying the refugees, said Tuesday three boats started the journey from El Bluff, Nicaragua but one turned back with three persons aboard.

"We have had no communication with them since last Saturday," Gordon told KGBT-TV at the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service detention center.

The men, women and children with Gordon traveled for nine days aboard two 80-foot shrimp trawlers.

They requested political asylum and are being processed by INS officials, said INS District Director Hal Boldin of Harlingen.

Processing usually requires a month, Boldin said. Six Nicaraguans are being held in a detention area while the others were allowed to return to the boats, where they have adequate food supplies, Boldin said.

Gordon said he left his wife and five children to escape confiscation of private property by the new government formed after President Anastasio Somoza was ousted by Sandinista rebels. "You have something and work and own something and they take it away from you," said Gordon, who owned the boat he guided to the United States.

When asked what he wanted out of the trip, he answered, "Liberty."

Turkey Stuffing Needs Preparations

COLLEGE STATION — Stuffed turkey or roasted turkey with dressing is the star attraction of many Christmas meals. However, a few precautions should be followed to make sure that the stuffing is of the highest quality and entirely safe.

Problems with a stuffed turkey may result from under-cooking. Other safety hazards may arise if the stuffed turkey is stored prior to cooking.

"A stuffed turkey, if improperly handled or cooked, can be an idea place for harmful bacteria to grow. Like most living things, bacteria requires proper nutrients, moisture and temperature. Generally, bacteria is introduced when the stuffing is prepared," points out Dr. David M. Mellor, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, poultry marketing specialist, Texas A&M University System.

A safe method for preparing bread stuffing—and stuffing a turkey—is to combine the ingredients, stuff the bird and immediately begin roasting it in a preheated oven, Mellor says.

"A meat thermometer may be inserted through the skin between the first and second ribs and directed toward the center of the stuffing to take the temperature of stuffing. The thermometer should read 165 degrees F when the stuffing is cooked. This temperature is high enough to kill any food poisoning organisms," Mellor explains.

Research shows that turkey cooked to an internal temperature of 180 degrees F, in a calibrated oven at 325 degrees F, came out ahead in flavor, tenderness, juiciness and yield, as well as heat penetration and safety for both turkey and dressing, Mellor adds.

"Most turkey bags have instructions for thawing and roasting, which should be followed with care. Holiday chefs should be sure to cook the turkey meat to an internal temperature of 180 degrees F, and the stuffing to 165 degrees F," the specialist cautions.

To prepare a turkey for stuffing, salt the body cavity before adding the stuffing. Prepare and place the stuffing in the bird just prior to roasting. Stuff loosely to allow for expansion. Never hold a stuffed, uncooked turkey at room temperature or in the refrigerator—proceed with the cooking process immediately," Mellor says.

After serving the turkey and stuffing, remove the remaining dressing from the turkey body cavity and the meat from the carcass before storing in the refrigerator. This will assure a shorter cooling period for the stuffing as well as the turkey.

"Always refrigerate leftover stuffing and turkey as quickly as possible to assure rapid cooling and prevent any possible growth of bacteria. Stuffing and meat should both be refrigerated at least within four hours after removal from the oven. Plan to use cooked, refrigerated stuffing and turkey within five days," Mellor suggests.

Deadline Nears For PCC Gifts

Only three days remain for local residents to make their contributions to Project Christmas card in time for The Brand's special Christmas issue. Individuals who make their PCC donations before Dec. 16 will have their names "signed" to giant holiday greeting in The Brand's Dec. 25th edition.

Project Christmas Card, which is entering its 23rd annual campaign, was conceived by Hereford Medical Auxiliary as a better way to utilize the money usually spent on sending Christmas cards locally. By donating this amount to Project Christmas Card, participants will express their holiday greetings through The Brand and will support improvements in the community's health care facilities.

Canisters are located in stores throughout the community to receive Project Christmas Card donations. Donors should indicate how they wish their names to appear in The Brand's joint Christmas greeting. Both banks are also equipped to accept PCC contributions.

Co-chairmen of this year's campaign are Carolyn Canon and Claudia McBrayer. It is hoped that Project Christmas Card will surpass last year's proceeds of $4,000. It is determined by the community's physicians and dentists as to how the proceeds of Project Christmas Card are spent each year. As of now, the yuletide project has gleaned more than $72,000 for health care improvements since it was initiated in 1956.

Local residents are urged to support Project Christmas Card by the co-chairmen, who stated, "Your contribution will be truly appreciated by everyone in our community who daily receive the benefits of many things made possible by this project."

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Cluster headaches

DEAR DR LAMB - My husband is 25 years old and he has been having severe headaches for the past two years. They usually occur at night, sometimes waking him out of a sound sleep. The headaches are preceded with dizziness, spots and blurred vision. Recently one of these occurred in the daytime and the doctor was able to see him during the attack and decided he has cluster headaches based on the fact that the headaches come on abruptly and are throbbing pain behind the eye on one side of the face. He sweats excessively with these attacks and the headaches last about seven hours. The headaches occur frequently for a period of time and then they don't occur at all for several months.

The doctor prescribed Cafegot with strict warnings about taking it only when necessary. Are there other medications that are effective that are safer? He has taken mild tranquilizers and aspirin but they don't help much. Will these headaches go away without returning? Some of them seem to occur after drinking. Can this be a cause?

DEAR READER - You've given a fairly good description of cluster headaches. They're really just a variant of migraine headaches and the reason they're called cluster headaches is because a person may have a series of attacks of headaches or a cluster of them and then there may be no attack for several months, as you described in the case of your husband.

They are sometimes difficult to treat. In addition to Cafegot or ergotamine tartrate, there is a long list of medicines that have been tried with varying success. A few are very effective but can only be used for short periods of time.

You'll need to rely on your doctor's advice on which one he might try. Propranolol (Inderal) is effective in 50 to 60 percent of the patients who have migraine headaches, and might be useful. Some other medicines that have also been used to treat high blood pressure are sometimes helpful - even though the headache patient doesn't have high blood pressure.

Your husband might benefit from a better understanding of headache problems and so I'm sending you The Health Letter number 2-9, Headache Man's Most Common Pain. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

In general, cluster headaches tend to be more difficult to treat than most migraines (although some migraine headaches are pretty refractory to treatment).

In both instances, an improvement in lifestyle does help. People who have migraine headaches tend to be perfectionists and strive to please. The tension this sometimes creates seems to be a factor in precipitating frequent attacks in some people.

It's hard to say whether alcohol has any relationship to your husband's cluster headaches or not. It is not usually thought of as a cause of such headaches but, of course, it is generally appreciated that if one overdoes it, one can have a rather severe headache the next morning. But those are called hangovers, not cluster headaches.

DEAR DR LAMB - What do you think of these so-called grapefruit diets? I've just started on one and been told that the acidic content of grapefruit will burn holes in your stomach. Is this true? Is it harmful to eat too many grapefruit in one day and seven days per week?

DEAR READER - The harm is not in the grapefruit. Most normal people produce an appreciable amount of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. That amount of acid is so much more than any acid you get from grapefruit that the grapefruit isn't very important.

Now if a person happens to have acid indigestion or ulcer problems, then he might need to go easy on grapefruit and other citrus fruits or might find that he would do better to avoid them entirely. Otherwise, I don't think you'll have a problem with them.

I'm not particularly fond of the so-called grapefruit diet and I'm not fond of most diet fads including starvation diets, extreme low-carbohydrate diets or the whole gamut of fad diets that promise people they'll lose lots of pounds in a short time.

The truth is many of these fad diets simply wash out a lot of body water rather than eliminating body fat. In the last analysis, if you want to get rid of body fat, you have to consume fewer calories than you use. There are many ways of doing this but it's important to do it in a healthy, sensible manner.

For this reason, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. It will provide you a balanced diet that you can follow. If you use this plan it will enable you to lose excess fat slowly. How fast you'll lose will really depend on how physically active you are as well. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

And I'd like to caution you about overdoing it. The very fact you've started a fad diet suggests that you might. The safest way to lose weight is gradually. Many people think you can lose two pounds a week but I think people do better losing about one pound a week unless they are very obese, in which case they need to be under a doctor's supervision for the weight loss program.

The key to successful dieting is learning proper nutrition and adjusting your habits so you'll eat properly thereafter. Otherwise, you'll just go on one of the fad diets and lose a lot of water and perhaps some fat, then return to your usual eating habits and regain most everything you've lost.

DEAR DR LAMB - While a friend of mine had earphones on, someone turned the radio on full blast. Can it cause deafness or damage ear drums?

DEAR READER - Any noise that is sufficiently loud can cause ear damage. Sometimes if the noise exposure is of brief duration, the hearing will gradually return to normal. There is no way I can say what will happen in this individual case since I don't know how loud the noise was or what effects it had, but it certainly is the kind of thing that can cause permanent ear damage. For that matter, even exposure to loud rock bands and loud music on a persistent basis can lead to ear damage as well.

Dallas Store Offers Unique Assortment

By SALLY CARPENTER Associated Press Writer DALLAS (AP) - Some things never change.

In the midst of North Dallas' singles bars and apartments lies an oasis of an earlier, simpler life.

Inside the Vickery Feed Store, the bustle of the busy Greenville Avenue melts away to country-western music on a radio and the earthy smell of whole grains.

Now surrounded by fast food and theme restaurants, the white frame store has sold "Feed, Seed & Fertilizer" for 32 years.

"If there's another place like this around here, I don't know about it," said one man who hauled out a sack of sunflower seeds. "I've been coming here for 15 years."

Sacks of oats, scratch, milo and bran are piled high on the aging hardwood floor.

Customers advertise racing horses, a stud service, rabbits, barn stalls, deer leases, Russian wolfhounds and hay and firewood on a bulletin board.

Manager Michael Yeatman says his customers come from all around North Dallas. Some have bought feed there since it opened in 1947, and some have wandered in to find the store offers something for city dwellers as well.

"A lot of people come in who thought this was a restaurant," Yeatman said. "That brings people in quite a bit."

The Vickery Feed Store now stands as the last stubborn survivor of the community of Vickery, most of which gave way to sprawling Dallas and its "restaurant row" at Greenville and Park Lane.

Vickery is the feed store owned by Del Armstrong, Armstrong retired in 1974 and leased the store to Shelton Feed Co. of McKinney.

Yeatman, 22, said he has added to the inventory somewhat since he took over as manager two years ago. City dwellers can find dog food, collars, leads and dishes; a multitude of fertilizers and insecticides, bird feed and cat litter.

"We don't sell near as much feed as we used to," Yeatman said. "Now we sell a lot of dog food and insecticide."

"And we sell a lot of grass seed, mostly for these new homes over here on Abrams."

"We have several different types of dog food, and it's usually less expensive than you can get in a grocery store. You know that you can buy a large quantity, and my helper and myself you better than someone in a store."

The store offers feed for horses, hogs, cattle, rabbits and birds.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer
Pillows, get a wash

DEAR POLLY - Can one wash feather pillows in the washer and dry them in the dryer? If so, how does one do it? - RUTH

DEAR RUTH - A short whirl in the washer, on delicate setting, will not hurt feather pillows if you are sure all seams in the ticking are securely stitched. Rinse gently in clear lukewarm water. Dry, but do not over-dry, in an automatic dryer that is not too hot. A nice finish is to pin them securely to an outside clothesline and finish the drying in the sun. A breeze will help fluff them up. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - While washing in the basement I opened the dryer door and my eyeglasses fogged up. I could not see for a few seconds. I took the fabric softener sheet out and cleaned my glasses with it. This did such a perfect job that I now keep some used sheets in convenient places throughout the house, as well as one in my purse. When my glasses are dirty I just grab a sheet and clean them quickly and thoroughly. - MONETTE

DEAR POLLY - When the locks on my friends' cars were freezing during an ice storm I put tape over my door locks before taking the car out of the garage. When the storm was over I removed the tape and the locks worked beautifully. The tape should be put on at various angles to thoroughly seal the lock against moisture.

If a car lock has frozen it can be easily opened by heating the car key in the flame of a cigarette lighter and then inserting the key in the lock for a couple of seconds. Repeat this procedure as often as necessary (sometimes five or six times) to melt the ice and the lock can be opened without forcing it. This only takes a few minutes and avoids inserting anything that could creak or freeze. - DIXIE
