

Good Fiscal Year is Reported for DSG

By ALLISON RYAN
Women's Editor

September proved to be a good financial month for Deaf Smith General Hospital even though the operating report for the month showed a $680 loss, hospital board members were informed at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

According to Jim Bullard, administrator for the hospital, an adjusting entry of $6,500 had to be made to Medicare for services for the year. If that payment had not been made, the hospital would have shown a $6,400 gain.

Bullard also presented the fiscal year-end report to the board of directors at the meeting Tuesday night.

"The 1979-80 fiscal year has been another good year for Deaf Smith General Hospital. Although, our patient days dropped from 11,030 to 10,717, we were able to adjust our expenses and our revenue to meet our decline in census," Bullard said.

On the financial side, fiscal year 1979-80 was good in comparison to the previous year. Net income was $180,533 compared to $189,470 for fiscal year 78-79.

"The brightest side of our financial picture this year is our current liabilities which have been reduced $123,919 over fiscal year 78-79. The most significant reduction in this area is Accounts Payable," Bullard said.

"In years past, we have had to carry a large number of Accounts Payable over from one fiscal year to another. To put this in perspective, our Accounts Payable at the end of FY 78-79 was $251,000, whereas, our Accounts Payable at the end of FY 79-80 is $84,562. This adds up to a reduction of $166,939 in the Accounts Payable ledger. Based upon this one significant factor, I feel our hospital is in one of the strongest financial positions we have been in several years,"

"I've got the best board of directors. You guys have stood by me all the way through the year," Bullard said.

In other financial business, hospital board members voted to write-off $33,752 in bad debts.

The hospital administration has been studying the possibility of using the west wing of the hospital which has been idle, for a long-term care facility and had asked the medical staff to examine the idea.

Dr. Duffy McBrayer reported at the meeting that the medical staff thought the idea of setting up such a facility would be feasible and asked the administration to continue the investigation.

In other business, Ed Reinauer, board member, commented on the hospital's ambulance service.

"I have to admit I was very anti-ambulance when we first talked about the hospital taking on the service. I didn't want us to stick our necks in it. But, now, that I see the trouble Canyon and Amarillo are having and the success we have had with our service I'm glad we did what we did," Reinauer said.

"I think people will be looking to us to see how we fund such a good service," he continued.

Other board members agreed with Reinauer as he praised the service and the staff.

"These people are dedicated to their jobs and are above and beyond reproach," he concluded.

Present at the meeting were Frank Zinser, president; Warner Lawson, Deward Roberson, McBrayer, Reinauer and Bullard.

Abadan Siege Stalemated

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A stalemate continued today around besieged Abadan and Khorramshahr, at the southern end of Iraq's 300-mile invasion front in Iran. Iran claimed Abadan's defenders repulsed Iraqi tank assaults while Iraq said its forces "consolidated their victories."

Iran said its troops and revolutionary guardsmen in Abadan beat back Iraqi tanks trying to take the Bahmanshir River bridge, the gateway to the refinery city on the Shatt al-Arab estuary.

Iran claimed its in Khorramshahr, its chief port 10 miles northwest of Abadan, poured sniper and machine-gun fire at the Iraqis occupying part of the city and battled the invaders hand to hand as the war raged into its 30th day.

But Iraq said its forces "continued to consolidate their victories in the sectors of their operations," which extend up to 50 miles deep in to Iran's oil-rich Khuzistan Province and 300 miles north from Abadan to Qasr-e-Shirin.

Iraq's first deputy prime minister, Taha Yassin Ramadan, said in an interview with the French newspaper Le Monde that Iraq will hold the Iranian oil fields it has captured "until there is a solution" to Iraq's border demands.

Iraq's chief demand is for full sovereignty and control of the Shatt al-Arab, which forms the southern end of the border between the two countries and which Iraq in 1975 agreed to share with Iran. Ramadan also indicated Iran would have to give up the three small islands at the entrance to the Persian Gulf which Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi seized from the Arab sheikhdom of Sharja in 1971 to gain control of the oil shipping lanes.

Although most of Iran's and Iraq's oil exports normally bypass the Shatt al-Arab and go by pipelines to offshore terminals in the Persian Gulf, it is Iraq's only water route to the gulf as well as the waterway for Khorramshahr and Abadan. Iraq abrogated its 1975 treaty with Iran when it stepped up border hostilities in September, charging that Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's appeals to Iraq's Shiite Moslem majority to join his Islamic revolution and overthrow the Iraqi government, which is dominated by Sunni Moslems, violated Iran's pledge in the treaty to stay out of Iraqi internal affairs.

Although Iran and Iraq are both Moslem countries, the Iraqis are Arabs while the non-Arab Persians are the dominant ethnic community in Iran.

Ramadan said Iraq had the supplies to continue the war "for more than a year without the people noticing, ... two years and even more by imposing some restrictions, and our people are willing to accept them."

Asked what would happen if Iran continued to refuse a cease-fire, he said Iraqi forces would "continue to clean out the region and to capture the cities of Arabistan," the Iraqi name for Khuzistan, where there is a large Arab population.

"We will also hit all points of military interest in Iran. After that, we will see...."

The Iraqi command said two Iranian jets were shot down in the "southern sector of the operations theater" Tuesday, two Iranian tanks were destroyed and that 10 Iraqi soldiers were killed in ground operations.

Iranian jets also attacked northern Iraqi towns, the Iraqi command said, and raided Iraq's oil-loading terminal at Fao, at the northern tip of the Persian Gulf.

Unity, Professionalism Urged on Cattle Feeders

JIM STEIERT
Managing Editor

AMARILLO—The themes of unity and professionalism were stressed repeatedly to stockmen and agribusinessmen from throughout the Great Plains area during the final day of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association convention at the Hilton Inn here Tuesday.

Dr. W.T. "Dub" Berry, Jr., executive vice president of the National Cattlemen's Association addressed the gathering on steps being taken to generate funding needed for market development and promotional activities for the beef industry while a panel of former TCFCA presidents commented on their own concepts of turning points in the livestock feeding industry, in keeping with the theme of the convention.

Berry reminded Texas cattle feeders of the basic needs for industry programs to help solve problems including low profits, reduced beef demand, excessive government regulation and anti-beef propaganda.

"There are four basic steps needed to attack and solve problems in the beef promotion and sales area," stated Berry.

"We must determine consumer opinion and discover the wants and needs for beef products. The knowledge of consumer attitudes must then be translated into profitable, precision production, with cattlemen being more precise in terms of types and amounts of beef that can be profitably produced," stated Berry.

"The industry's role in promotion and as a catalyst in beef promotion by retailers and others must also be expanded, and the cattle industry must communicate more effectively with influence groups such as government, scientists, nutritionists, doctors, consumer groups and the news media, as well as the general public," he continued.

Berry also commented on organizations which can help solve beef marketing problems, noting that the cattle industry may actually be "over-organized" in terms of the numbers of groups working on behalf of the beef industry, and yet, "under-organized" in terms of effective, non duplicative implementation of beef, programs.

"The key organizations in a unified industry effort to generate more funds and then use the funds effectively for beef promotion will include the NCA, the Meat Board, BIC, state cattle and beef organizations and related groups such as the American Meat Institute, the National Meat Association, the Food Marketing Institute and the National Restaurant Association," said Berry.

Burglary Under Investigation

Criminal activity in Hereford slowed down overnight in comparison to this past weekend, however several thefts and burglaries kept officers busy Tuesday night.

Dickies Restaurant was burglarized Tuesday night with $941.50 in cash and items taken and $460 in damage was done to the cash register.

The activity was discovered when a police officer discovered the door knob on the west door of the building had been broken off the door. Further investigation showed the business had been burglarized. Police have no suspects at this time.

Oralia Silva, 331 Ave. E., reported to police someone had attempted to break into her home sometime yesterday between 7:45 and 8:45 a.m. Officers have no suspects.

Willie Houston, 214 Whiteface, reported the theft of a 10-speed, red and white, Western Flyer bicycle. The bike was taken from his home and is valued at $70.

Terry Morris, 417 Ave. I, reported to police his calculator had been taken from his locker at the high school sometime yesterday morning.

Bob Varner, 801 14th street, reported that children in the neighborhood were being cruel to his dogs. According to the report the dogs were hit with sticks and one of the dogs might have been poisoned.

Police answered four non-offensive calls and issued three citations Tuesday.

Brilab Jury Deliberating

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal court jury abandoned deliberations in the Texas Brilab trial after two hours, opting to return and continue discussions today in the case against Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton and Austin attorneys Donald Ray and Randall Wood.

Attorneys wrapped up final arguments in the six-week trial Tuesday afternoon and the case went to the jury at 3:31 p.m. The seven women and five men decided to go home at 5:31 p.m.

Clayton a 20-year veteran of the Texas Legislature, declined to comment during deliberations.

"I have no comment now. The jury is still out. I will make a statement when the verdict is in," said the three-term speaker, who had hopes of running for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1982.

During final arguments prosecutors described Clayton as a man whose ambition led him to take a bribe while defense attorneys said the key witness against their clients was a "liar, a devil and a con man."

Roy Minton, Clayton's attorney, told the jury, "There is no evidence to convict Billy Clayton. All you have heard are lies from Joseph Hauser and L.G. Moore...and it become clear to the prosecution that their case was going down the tube with grease on it."

Assistant U.S. Attorney Ron Woods, the chief prosecutor, said Clayton wanted to be governor so badly "he compromised his values and accepted a bribe."

Clayton, Wood and Ray are on trial on charges of extortion, racketeering, bribery and conspiracy, all arising from the 10-month FBI undercover operation Brilab, short for "Bribery-Labor."

L.G. Moore, regional director of the International Operating Engineers Union, also was indicted on the same charges and will stand trial later.

Minton said there had been negligence on the part of the FBI agents who worked undercover in the case and that the secret Brilab tapes contained the statements of a "pathological liar like Joseph Hauser and a pitiful liar like L.G. Moore."

Hauser, now serving a 30-month prison term for insurance fraud, was an FBI informant throughout the Brilab investigation.

Minton said, "It is difficult to argue against this young prosecutor," and he pointed to Woods, "with a face like Clint Eastwood."

"Speaker Clayton wouldn't anymore take a bribe from L.G. Moore that he would from Dracula," the defense

Carter, Reagan Meet Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of shouting at each other long distance, President Carter and Ronald Reagan have agreed to air their differences face to face in a no-topic-barred televised debate next Tuesday, a week before the election.

With nothing less than the presidency possibly at stake, they'll aim their arguments at the millions of voters, an estimated one-fifth of all those planning to cast their ballots, who are shown by polls to remain undecided.

The 90-minute debate will begin at 9:30 p.m. EST, it was announced Tuesday. It will be held in Cleveland's Convention Center and will be nationally televised.

The contest will be the first time this year that Carter has taken part in a debate. He opted out of a scheduled debate with his Democratic primary rivals before the Iowa caucuses last winter, citing his need for constant attention to the hostage seizure in Iran.

Reagan let other Republicans slug it out in the first debate of the political season in Iowa, then took part in all later GOP pre-convention contests. He debated independent candidate John Anderson last month in a nationally televised debate in Baltimore.

To reach their agreement, negotiators for the two candidates met for more than six hours over two days. But afterward they seemed to be reluctant to talk about what separated them.

"The stakes are big, there was a great deal of detail," said Robert S. Strauss, chairman of Carter's campaign. "It just took a little time. We had a lot of areas of disagreement, but never a lack of cordiality in dealing with them."

James Baker, Reagan's chief negotiator, said each side "gave a little bit of this, a little bit of that."

Strauss had said earlier that the format was the major sticking point.

In Shreveport, La., Reagan told reporters that even when he refused to take part in the Republican primary debate before the Iowa caucuses last January, "I said I'd debate Jimmy Carter...anytime."

As to stakes in the debate, Reagan said, "I don't know whether it's all on one roll of the dice or not. I don't know that this campaign is decided either way."

Carter, who had recently been the most anxious to debate, indicated he was pleased with the agreement.

Geries Elected YMCA President

Dick Geris was elected new board president for 1981 by the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA Tuesday as the board met in regular session at the country club. Geris, along with the new slate of officers, will assume his post Jan. 1, 1981.

In addition to Geris, the board elected Bill Johnson First vice president; Charles Hoover, second vice president; Regina Kester, secretary; and Sid Shaw, treasurer. The board also selected 10 persons to join the board as of Jan. 1. Those included Bob Huffaker, Hoover, John Stagner, John Faulkner, Mike Carr, Judy Williams, Lynton Allred, Glenda Hansen, Paul Ramirez, and Mary Parker.

Board members whose terms expire this year include George Belford, Marsh Pitman, Pauline Howard, Dave Hopper, Romilda Friemel, Ed Coplen, Bartley Dowell, Speedy Nieman, and Dr. Harrell Holder.

In other action the board reviewed a proposed budget for 1981, and tentatively approved a budget of some $69,446 pending possible changes in administrative salaries. They also heard reports and were informed that a candle sale will soon be held by members of the 20 flag football and four girls' soccer teams currently active in the YMCA program. That sale is under the direction of Donna Jones and Carmen Flood.

The 10 new board members to begin terms in January will raise the YMCA board's number to 26. Holdover board members are Tom Burdett, Danny Boyer, Marie Griffin, Cal Jones, Bud Snyder, and R.C. Hoelscher, Class of 1982, and Mrs. Flood, Greg Black, Doug Janovec, Shaw, Johnson, Mrs. Kester, Geris, Waldo Baxter, Bob Nigh, and O.K. Neal, Class of 1983.

White Says

Line May Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Attorney General Mark White said Tuesday that the state's consumers may gain if a rail line is built from the coal-rich Powder River Basin to compete with Burlington Northern Railroad.

"The introduction of competition in the transportation could result in reduced costs of coal burned by electric utilities which supply any consumers in Texas," White said in a statement issued in Austin.

An administrative law judge has given approval to the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad to build a second line to carry coal shipments from the Powder River Basin in Wyoming.

Currently the Burlington Northern Railroad operates the only rail line from the basin.

Chicago and Northwestern sought approval from the Interstate Commerce Commission on a $300 million project to build a second line and operate it in conjunction with the Union Pacific Railroad, providing competition to Burlington Northern.

Committee to

Eye Houston Home

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Antiquities Committee has decided to get itself up as the judge of whether Sam Houston lived in a humble log cabin or a scaled-down southern plantation house.

The committee said Tuesday the Sam Houston Home in Huntsville will be the first building considered for designations as a State Archeological Landmark. Under that designation any renovation plans would have to be approved by the committee.

Sam Houston State University officials have hired an architect to complete a $289,000 restoration of the home across the street from the school. However, the Walker County Historical Commission says the renovated house would not be historically correct.

Rush Assessed

Death Penalty

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — A state court jury that had convicted an Amarillo man of capital murder deliberated a little over an hour Tuesday before recommending he be put to death for the crime.

Paul Barry Bush, 27, as indicted in the July 12 shotgun killing of Hemphill County sheriff's deputy M.L. "Corky" Guthrie during investigation of an attempted burglary at Ladd's Pharmacy in Canadian.

The 89th District Court jury deliberated two hours and 21 minutes Monday before convicting Bush on the capital murder charge. Following final arguments Tuesday, they recommended death by injection.

Appeal of a death sentence is automatic under Texas law. The case was moved here on a change of venue.

Family Confab

Sidesteps Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's White House Conference on Families, sidestepping the most controversial issues, is identifying working conditions, alcohol and drug abuse and tax discrimination against married couples as the major problems confronting the American family.

The conference's final report, being presented to the White House today, ranks ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment as the 32nd priority. There are no recommendations on abortion and homosexual rights.

"We did not focus on the bizarre or extreme," said conference chairman Jim Guy Tucker. "We did not redefine the family... We found broad areas of agreement which cut across racial, religious, political and ideological lines."

The 250-page document makes few specific recommendations.

Officials Would

Visit Iran

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie says top administration officials, perhaps even President Carter, would be willing to travel to Iran if such a dramatic gesture would help free the American hostages.

Muskie's offer came as Carter, apparently referring to the war between Iran and Iraq, said without elaborating, "I do believe the hostages will come home safely before it's over."

However, renewed administration offers to Iran in return for the hostages' freedom were branded in Iran on Tuesday as American electioneering.

And Carter, campaigning in Miami, cautioned that "I can't predict to you that the hostages will come back soon. I don't know yet." Muskie also said the "slow, painful approach" of quiet diplomacy is needed to end the hostages' ordeal.

The 52 Americans will have been held captive in Iran for one year on Nov. 4 — Election Day.

Charges, Counter-Charges Fly Over American Hostage Issue

By TIM AHERN

Associated Press Writer

There have been a lot of rumors lately that the American hostages in Iran may soon be released, and the fate of those 52 Americans is the subject of a new series of charges and counter-charges by President Carter and Ronald Reagan.

While Carter and his Republican opponent disagreed Tuesday about who said what about the hostages, their aides were agreeing on the date, time and format for a face-to-face debate between the two men.

The 90-minute debate will be held next Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. EDT in Cleveland. It will be sponsored by the League of Women Voters, who underwrote the 1976 debates between Carter and then-President Gerald Ford.

Both the major party candidates were campaigning in the South today, Reagan in Louisiana, Mississippi and Florida, and Carter in Texas and Arkansas. Independent candidate John Anderson was stumping in Michigan.

Reagan, who had talked little about the hostages in recent weeks, charged Tuesday that the hostages "have been there as a result of this administration's policies for almost a year now."

Carter, in Miami, was quick to answer, claiming Reagan had broken a pledge "not to talk about the hostages during the campaign." "The fate of the hostages is too important... to be made a political football. I will not make any statements that would tend to complicate an already grave situation."

Then Reagan answered the answer, contending it was Carter who thrust the hostage issue into the campaign, back during the Democratic primaries. And besides, Reagan said, what he pledged was that he wouldn't discuss possible negotiations for the release of the hostages.

"Now that's a little different than simply stating to the people that the hostages have been there as a result of this administration's policies... President Carter is speaking with the same inaccuracy that he usually speaks."

During his Florida visit, Carter also hammered away again in his effort to raise doubts in the minds of voters about Reagan's reactions under crisis.

Reagan may be a better campaigner, Carter said, but "when you're in the Oval Office dealing with a crisis... you can't rely on 3-by-5 cards and you can't read a Teleprompter."

Reagan, meanwhile, was happy about the possibility that he might win the endorsement of former Sen. Eugene McCarthy, the Minnesota whose anti-Vietnam war candidacy for the presidency in 1968 helped spur the decision by Lyndon Johnson not to seek another term in the Oval Office.

Reagan said the backing of McCarthy would be "very fine" and commented that "maybe this will give people some confidence I don't eat my young."

That endorsement was endorsed, said Reagan aides, but the iconoclastic McCarthy demurred. "I believe they (the aides) said I might endorse him. If they said any more, then they said too much," he told the Associated Press in Nashville, Tenn.

Earlier, McCarthy said, "I have not said I am going to endorse Governor Reagan. I don't know if I'm going to endorse anyone."

Reagan adviser Mike Deaver had said McCarthy offered to actively campaign with Reagan. Tom Palmer, an aide to Libertarian candidate Ed Clark, said that McCarthy has appeared in a television ad for Clark.

Independent candidate Anderson, meanwhile, charged that Carter tried to buy votes in drought-stricken New Jersey with a $4.5 million federal grant for new emergency water pipelines.

Anderson admitted such practices have been used by all presidents. However, he added, "I don't think there's ever been a more shameless exhibition of vote-buying. I mean it is Christmas in October."

Anderson, whose candidacy has been slipping in the polls in recent weeks, also again answered in the negative to what lately has been an almost daily question from the press — will he pull out of the race?

He contended again that many people won't decide how they want to vote until they're "in the privacy of the voting booth."

attorney said.

Later, another assistant U.S. Attorney, Wendell Odum, told the jury, "the whole case is that a man can come into this state of Texas and offer $5,000 and a flim-flam letter and get bids reopened on a state insurance contract."

Clayton is accused of accepting a bribe during a Nov. 8, 1979 meeting with Hauser and Moore.

Hauser, posing as a representative of Prudential Insurance Co., gave the money to Moore, who gave it to Clayton, during the brief meeting.

Clayton acknowledged receiving the stack of $100 bills but said he thought it was a campaign contribution and planned to return it later.

Wood and Ray are accused of agreeing to accept money to use their influence at the state capital to make sure Prudential got the state insurance contract with $4 to $105 million a year.

provide us with spare parts." The Majlis, Iran's Parliament, met Tuesday, but there was no indication the hostages were discussed.

Tehran Radio said Rajai met for three hours with his Cabinet Tuesday night to report on his weekend trip to New York and his address to the U.N. Security Council. It gave no details.

In New York, a U.N. spokesman announced that the members of the Security Council would hold private consultations today on "Iran, Iraq and other business."

merchandise cattle with less grain. We won't produce fat cattle from a 450 pound calf in the future. I don't think we'll ever see the surplus grain again to do so. We'll be feeding and finishing on less grain," said Deen.

"I'd like to think we are approaching a turning point where, through cooperative national effort, we can arrive at solutions and work to attain them. I hope we can look to more sophistication in the industry," Carter concluded.

Pars, the Iranian news agency, said Iraqi MiGs raided Abadan and Khorramshahr, and that two were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and both pilots were killed. Pars said Iraqi jets also attacked Ahwaz, the capital of Khuzistan.

Iran's military command reported heavy artillery exchanges near Dezful, 150 miles north of Abadan, and said Iranian helicopter gunships attacked Iraqi troops. It said at least 200 Iraqis were killed in surprise attacks in the central and northern sectors of the invasion front and that 28 Iraqi tanks were destroyed.

Iran also claimed its troops recaptured two districts on the northern end of the front that had been overrun by Iraqi forces in the first week of the war.

There was no way to check the conflicting claims and battle reports since Western correspondents were barred from the front lines.

Meanwhile, the Iranian government scorned President Carter's offer Monday to free some $8 billion in frozen Iranian assets and resume trade with Iran if it freed the 52 American hostages who today began their 354th day in captivity.

Tehran Radio said the Iranian government would not "give Carter the slightest signal and will not allow him to show this signal off on American television and bring them news of an imminent solution to the hostage issue."

Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai was quoted in another broadcast as saying "negotiations will not be considered even though they might for example offer to

Carter responded to the query, stating, "I think we have a real problem in breaking into the European or Japanese markets so long as we accept their export products without negotiating some sales of our products in return."

Herrick also commented on the export question.

"I don't think we have fully realized that what we have to sell isn't what these foreign customers want to buy. The Europeans and Japanese don't want our beef. Until we change our product, expansion of foreign markets for U.S. beef hasn't much hope," stated Herrick.

Miller pointed out that Mexico is opening up as a promising new market for U.S. beef.

"We may see a lot of lower quality U.S. beef going into Mexico within the next two or three years. That's one of the most exciting developments in foreign markets for our beef that I see," he remarked.

Participants offered their own views on turning points in the cattle industry.

Several agreed that crisis situations dating from 1973 have constituted numerous major turning points for the industry.

"The beef boycott got our attention and forced a lot of us to start thinking. It knocked us off our pedestals," stated Miller.

"A turning point, if I see one coming, is that we will

China Signs Agreement to Buy U.S. Grain Over Long Period

PEKING (AP) — China signed an agreement with the United States Wednesday to buy 6 million to 8 million tons of American grain a year for the next four years at market prices. About 15 to 20 percent will be corn.

The agreement, signed by Ambassador Leonard Woodcock and Foreign Trade Minister Li Qiang, gives China the option of buying a total of 9 million tons within a year without giving prior notice to the U.S. government. But Peking must consult with Washington if it wants to buy more.

The agreement takes effect Jan. 1. In the current 1980-81 fiscal year, China is expected to buy more than $2 billion worth of U.S. farm commodities, including about 6 million tons of wheat, 2.5 million tons of corn, almost a million tons of soybeans and 2 million bales of cotton, U.S. officials said.

The Chinese agreed to try to space their purchases to permit orderly adjustment of the market. And the U.S. government promised to use its authority to maintain stable wheat and corn markets.

The agreement provides for consultations if "exceptional circumstances" reduce the U.S. supply of grain or curtail Chinese purchases. In the former case, it says, the United States will not discriminate against China in cutting foreign grain sales, and in the latter China will not discriminate against the United States in reducing its imports.

The agreement also provides that the U.S. government will inform China promptly of any measures that might affect any Chinese plans to buy more than 9 million tons of wheat and corn.

China agreed not to resell any of the U.S. grain without the approval of the U.S. government.

China also has long-term grain agreements with Canada, Australia, Argentina and France, but the United States is already its biggest foreign supplier. Last year, China bought about 4 million tons from the United States, 2.7 million from Canada, 2.7 million tons from Australia and 900,000 tons from Argentina.

Conclusion of the agreement had been delayed because of Chinese

There also was speculation that the Chinese were delaying because of their displeasure over the recent agreement giving diplomatic privileges to the private institutes that handle relations between the United States and Taiwan, the seat of the Nationalist Chinese government. The Chinese government made a formal protest last Wednesday.

World Series Boosts NBC's Ratings Again

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC set its ratings record with "Shogun" last month and came close to duplicating the effort for the week ending Oct. 19 due largely to four games of baseball's World Series, according to figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co.

NBC compiled a rating of 25.5 last week, based on audience figures from Nielsen's latest weekly survey, compared to the 26.4 recorded during "Shogun" week. The 25.5 rating was the third-highest ever reported for NBC.

The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 25.5 percent of the nation's TV-equipped homes were tuned to NBC.

ABC and CBS tied for the runner-up position with average ratings of 15.9 for the week.

NBC finished the 1979-80 season a well-established third. When actors walked off their jobs July 21, delaying production of most prime-time series, ABC and CBS put off the start of fall programming as NBC went ahead with "Shogun."

NBC now has won the ratings competition three times in the five-week period. In the most recent check, the network listed eight of the 10 highest-rated shows of the week, including all four of the World Series games played in prime time.

The portion of Game 5 between Philadelphia and Kansas City broadcast in prime-time Sunday evening — 38 minutes — was the week's No. 1 program, by NBC's account, with a rating of 35.3. Nielsen says "at means of all the homes in the country with television, 35.3 percent saw at least part of the program.

Neither ABC nor CBS counted that part of Game 5 in their calculations, but the difference of opinion did not affect the ratings.

In addition to the baseball, which occupied the first four positions in the week's standings, NBC had the third rerun of a Clint Eastwood movie, "The Outlaw Josey Wales," in fifth place, and an episode of "CHiPs" sixth.

ABC and CBS each had one program in the Top 10, ABC with "That's Incredible" in seventh place, CBS with the "Country Music Association Awards Show" in 10th.

Repeats and paid political announcements continued to figure in the ratings, though ABC, unlike CBS and NBC,

Recipes Sought For Tabloid

A tabloid of recipes submitted by local residents will be published with the Thanksgiving issue of The Brand on Nov. 26, it has been announced by Women's Editor Allison Ryan.

Recipes are now being accepted for the special section from Deaf Smith County cooks. Recipes will be published in the tabloid if they are received prior to Nov. 12. Emphasis will be placed on recipes for the holiday season.

Ann Landers Questioning Husband

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am not very good with English. This letter is from Bangkok, Thailand, so please excuse the mistakes.

My husband is a high paid executive in a big bank here. Because of his position he must do much night entertaining and traveling. When he returned from a trip recently, I discovered some unused condoms in his bag. It shocked me. When he came home that evening, I confronted him with my discovery.

I cannot believe even now his explanation. He said the condoms were not his and that his colleague who shared his room on the trip must have left them in his toiletry bag by mistake. He further added that, if he were to be unfaithful, he would not be so careless about leaving the evidence around.

I decided to phone his colleague and ask him straight out. He confirmed that the condoms were his and that my husband was completely innocent. What is your opinion? I am not a woman of the world and I need your words to settle my mind.—A Far Away Friend With Doubts

DEAR FRIEND: I am not up on the social mores of Thailand, but I can tell you that if an American woman telephoned the colleague of her husband and asked such a question she would be in big trouble. Problems of such intimate nature should be settled in the family.

You have already done more than enough checking. Now I hope you will accept your husband's word and never mention the subject again.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You (and the London Times writer) have gone on record as being opposed to the use of "Ms." So far I have not seen a letter defending the use of Ms., and I would like to submit mine. I hope, in the interest of evenhandedness, you will print it.

I prefer to be addressed as Ms. because:

As a 40-year-old currently single female, I haven't been "Miss" for a long time. I wouldn't think of calling a 40-year-old businessman "Master."

I resent any title that indicates whether or not a woman is married. This is nobody's business. The only thing that counts: can she do the job?—Minnesota Message

DEAR MS. MINNESOTA: Here's your message, and it's a good one. But please call me Ann.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Here's the situation. I'm a guy, 17. I have a younger brother, 14. We've always been close. I hug him a lot and even give him a brotherly kiss when I feel like it. The thing that bothers me is that my friends think I'm some kind of a weirdo. I'm no weirdo, and I'm NOT gay. I just happen to love my brother.

I wanted to use your column to ask if there is anything wrong with brothers showing affection for each other. What do you say?—Big Brother

DEAR BROTHER: I say it's great. In many European countries it is not uncommon for male friends to greet one another with hugs and sometimes a kiss on each cheek.

These days when "Man's inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn," any expression of affection is a joy to behold. Keep it up, fella, and if you get any flak,

Ms. Woodford Featured At Study Club Meeting

Suzy Woodford, who recently returned from Iran after residing there eight years, spoke to members of the La Plata Study Club at their meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Don Taylor.

Ms. Woodford told about the culture of Iran and showed several souvenirs she brought back to Hereford. She also touched on her thoughts about the politics in Iran stating it would take years to bring the country back to the state it was in before the Shah was forced to leave the country.

Mrs. Charles Kelly, president, conducted the business meeting after the members repeated the club collect. A budget was presented by Mrs. Audine Dettman and approved by the members. It included donations to United Way, Campfire Girls, Deaf Smith County Library, Wycliff, Heart Association, Cancer Fund, March of Dimes and Girlstown.

It was announced that the club's next meeting will be a Thanksgiving dinner for their husbands at the Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. Taylor and co-hostess Mrs. Mary Helen Askew served refreshments of pumpkin pie and nuts with hot spiced tea and coffee.

Other members attending were Mmes. Jay Boston, Jack Brown, Gayle Cotton, Truman Hazelrigg, Lewis McCusick, Mozelle Neill, O.G. Nieman, Frank Prowell, Ken Rogers, A.J. Schroeter, Harlan VanderZee, Raymond White and Louis Woodford.

Everyone Welcome

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Monday morning as I passed her house, Jewel Rogers was working in her yard and I simply had to stop by one of the most striking fall floral displays in town.

Mrs. Rogers and her next-door neighbor at the north end of Beach Street, Helmi Batterman, have both set borders of chrysanthemums in red-purple shades around their houses, along walks and in a hedge between the houses. Right now the two yards together make quite a spectacle.

It's only one of many as chrysanthemums and marigolds flaunt their bright colors all over town and the last blooming of roses adds another dimension.

A drive around, just to look at yards, is a good way to spend an hour and be convinced that Hereford is really a beautiful place to live.

My annual resolution to stay away from the Friends of the Library's book sale because I've run out of room for books, was broken when Audine Dettman phoned to ask if I could help for a couple of hours out at the mall Saturday.

It as hard to resist buying instead of selling as stacks of books were carried away at bargain prices.

Helpers, members of the Friends, were Marguerite Newell, Helen Eades, Peggy Furr, Helen Nelson, Ruth Newsom, Janice Conkwright, Mozelle Neill, Frances Hennen, Wynell Hutson, Amy Gilliland, Betty Sue Worthan, Lorene Newmen, Grace Tinnen, Lucille Hughes, Sydney Ann Owens and Elizabeth Holt.

Offices said they wanted to thank them, and also the Key Club members who took the books to the mall.

Also all who bought books, and helpers like Emmett Ziehr, who was looking at books when he noticed that a buyer of a big stack of volumes needed help in taking them to a car on the parking lot, so he manned a dolly to take boxes of books on several trips.

Talking to Frances Hennen during lulls at the check-out table, I learned that the women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church will have a couple of very special items for sale at their annual bazaar this fall—two doll houses calculated to please some lucky little girls.

Mrs. Henne, Buddy McBrayer and Rev. Charles Threewit have made the houses, which are complete down to (or up to) roofs that are really shingled instead of just covered with paper marked like shingles.

The builders admit their houses have turned out better even than they hoped, and Mrs. Hennen says they laugh at themselves when they finish a room, stand back and look at it and exclaim, "Isn't that the cutest thing you ever saw?" But sure enough it is, she insists.

County 4-H Exhibitors Fare Well at State Fair

In addition to bringing home Reserve Grand Champion steer honors from the State Fair of Texas, Deaf

Smith County 4-H members also took honors in several of their individual livestock classes and realized good prices for their animals in the fair stock auction. Randy Vogel's Reserve Grand Champion Chianina steer, a 1,285 pounder, sold for $5,000 in the fair auction on Friday. The steer, a Chianina-

Angus mix named "Clyde," was chosen Junior Reserve Champion Crossbred and Other Breeds before being selected as the Junior Reserve Grand Champion Steer.

Kent Hicks showed the first place lightweight Hereford, which sold for $1.30 per pound.

Tamara Myer had the fourth place lightweight cross steer which sold for $1.28 per pound.

The sixth place heavy cross steer was shown by Rickie Vogel and sold for $1.18 per pound and Gay Myers showed the 8th place heavy Hereford, which sold for $1.25 per pound.

Jeff Shire exhibited the 9th place heavy cross which brought $1.16 per pound and Paul Smith had the 11th place light heavy cross, which sold for $1.18 per pound.

Melissa Brumley had the 11th place heavy Hereford which sold for 92 cents per pound and the 14th place heavy light cross was shown by Joni Hicks and brought $1.06 per pound.

According to County Extension

Agent Juston McBride, all of the steers with the exception of the Brumley animal were "Blue Ribbon" steers, which should grade USDA Choice or Prime and yield grades 1 or 2.

The Brumley steer received "Red Ribbon" which meant it should grade USDA Choice or Prime and yield a grade of 3.

Second Time Around

It was the second time around for Deaf Smith County 4-H member Randy Vogel during the state fair in Dallas as he captured Reserve Grand Champion steer honors in the show for the second time. Here, Vogel shows off the 1,285 pound Chianina-Angus cross which he exhibited to win the honor. The steer later sold for $5,000. Others shown helping the county 4-H member savor the win, from left, are father, Herb Vogel, County Agent Juston McBride and brothers Gary and Rickie Vogel.

Dairymen Can Cut Costs

COLLEGE STATION - By practicing a little conservation and installing heat exchangers into their operations, dairymen can cut water heating costs and boost profits.

Hot water usage is fairly high in dairy operations since both equipment and cows must be cleansed regularly. Therefore, any system that can reduce the cost of heating large volumes of water can produce considerable savings to dairymen, points out Dr. Bill R. Stewart, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Hot water requirements of dairies vary widely, but recent studies show an average of 3 to 4 gallons of 160-degree F. water per cow per day, notes Stewart. By simply cutting hot water usage in half, a dairyman could save about $10 per cow per year (assuming about 400 kilowatt hours of energy a year to heat the water at 5 cents per hour).

Stewart also suggests insulating pipes and hot water tanks to reduce heat loss and using cooler water (90 to 100 degrees) for such jobs as cow preparation and general cleanup. Separating high and low temperature water supplies will result in less overheating of water and lower pipe and tank losses.

In addition, dairymen can reclaim heat from milk during the cooling process to be used for water heating. For a production level of 40 pounds of milk per cow per day, 2,240 btu's of heat energy are rejected in cooling milk from 93 to 37 degrees F. This is enough energy to raise the temperature of two gallons of water 134 degrees.

Furthermore, Stewart notes that a portion of the electrical energy input to a refrigeration compressor is lost in the form of heat and may be reclaimed through proper system design. Thus, if water is used to cool the hot refrigerant gases, studies have indicated that 40 to 70 percent of this heat can be captured for heating water.

According to the engineer, milk cooling systems can be modified in several ways to heat water. One requires adding a water-cooled heat exchanger between the compressor and its air-cooled condenser. Water is circulated from a storage tank through the heat exchanger until a temperature near the required refrigerant condensing temperature is reached. At this time the air-cooled condenser-fan comes on to provide condenser cooling.

Another method for heating water involves cooling the refrigerant completely with water. In this system, water is drawn off the heat exchanger at one point and may only reach temperatures of near 120 degrees. However, water usage is usually increased with this method.

A third alternative is to use a water-cooled heat exchanger with two water drawoff points, says Stewart. This provides a source of water at 100 to 110 degrees for general use and a small amount at higher temperatures.

Hereford Faces Biggest Challenge

In retrospect, all the Hereford Whitefaces needed last Friday night was a win in their crucial district opener with Plainview in order to cast what many thought could be a timely run at the league's championship. A victory would have complemented an existing 5-1 going into the tough yet seemingly pliable district thoroughfare. But in discord, what the Whitefaces got was a different story — a 21-0 defeat that tumbled them out of a five game winning streak and more importantly left them cornered against the wall with a 0-1 mark in the district lineup.

In Clash with Monterey Plainsmen

the Hereford grid squad has to rise to the occasion and meet the demand that has been placed on it.

"I think we're facing our biggest challenge of the year right here in this game because we can't afford to lose any more of the three remaining games on our schedule after losing to Plainview," he said. "And I think our players are going to meet that challenge because of the type of individuals they are."

"I've said all along that I didn't believe any one of the teams in our district would go through conference play without a loss, and I still believe it. It's a close race this year. I think that anyone in our district is capable of getting beat on a given night and that's why our challenge is a big one," said Cumpton. "If we're going to be contenders for the championship we can't afford to get any more losses because some of those other teams are going to lose a game too, in my opinion."

Going into the battle (an epic tilt not only for its importance in district contention, but also because of the two squad's deep hatred for one another) Monterey follows the Hereford crew in the league's total offensive and defensive scales.

That in itself, doesn't automatically open the door for the Whitefaces as witnessed in the encounter with Plainview — the Bulldogs ranked in the bottom half of the conference before the 21-0 onslaught ever began.

In total team offense, Hereford continues to maintain a second place berth behind top-rushing Coronado with 1,417 yards compiled on the ground and 568 in the air for 1,985 on the season. That averages out to approximately 283.6 per outing.

Monterey currently rests only fourth in the league over Lubbock High with 1,860 total yards. Most of that accumulative (1,260) however, has come on the ground under tailback Steve David's awesome display of 770 yards on 174 carries (those coming over the length of seven games) which averages out to 110 yards each contest.

The highly regarded and former parochial school running back at Lubbock's Christ The King Highschool is the league's second leading rusher behind Plainview's Pat Brown (who netted a 93-yard tally against the Herd last week). David had previously rushed for over 2000 yards in his stint at CTK before his transfer to Monterey following the school's closure.

Another MHS weapon Cumpton felt could pose problems in the Herd's ongoing attempts in the district lineup was the conference's leading pass receiver Clay Powell.

Powell has added up 380 yards on 24 completions out of Monterey's long-oriented passing attack for an average of 15.8 yards per reception. Last week's 22-yard pass reception against the Westerners sent his touchdown record to four on the year.

"Powell has great speed and Monterey likes to throw deep to him — both of those aspects make him a dangerous segment of MHS's game," Cumpton said.

And Cumpton wasn't the only coach to voice a little praise on the receiver's potential to break the big play.

"If Powell had any kind of speed at all he'd be really dangerous," said head MHS coach James Odum of the 160 pound senior strong end. "I don't know how he gets in the open as well as he does because he's just a little slow white kid. Somehow, though, he has managed to do it in almost every one of our games, and as a result he is one of the keys to our attack."

Unlike Monterey's infrequent use of passing on the front, Hereford had netted 558 yards in the air as its forte in narrow battles before its loss to Plainview. In that last clash however, the Whitefaces completed only two passes for a total of 14 yards — a severe downturn to what the offensive crew had reaped earlier.

"We did drop some crucial passes that we should have had, but then our whole game was off its usual standards against Plainview," Cumpton said. "We got beat and that's all there is to it. What we've got to do is not get beat anymore. We can't worry about last week — that's in the past now. And I think our players realize that and are ready to even the mark we lost a week ago."

The Whitefaces are scheduled to pair off against the Plainsmen at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in their second district clash of the year. In other district play, Lubbock Coronado meets Lubbock High Friday in Lubbock before having an open date and Plainview lays off this week before hosting Monterey in Plainview next week.

The HHS junior varsity is slated lock horns with Lubbock Estacado at 1 p.m. Thursday while the Shorthorns meet Lubbock High at 3 p.m. following the junior varsity tilt.

Mauri Montgomery

Now, just three games (three contests Hereford can't afford to lose) shy of the completion in both the season and district campaigns, the Whitefaces face what has been billed as their biggest challenge up to date as they pit their talents against the moderately successful Monterey Plainsmen (also boasting a 5-2 mark on the year, but unlike the Herd, the squad has plugged a 1-0 ledger in district following last week's 29-0 victory over the faltering Lubbock High Westerners) Thursday night in Lubbock's Lowrey Field.

And according to head mentor Don Cumpton,

Philadelphia Takes World Series

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They came from ignominy, this rag-tag bunch of malcontents, molded into world champions by guts, desire and the iron will of a man named Dallas Green.

The Philadelphia Phillies reign today over baseball's world of grownup kids, supreme in their own very special realm of make-believe. They rule it for the first time in the history of a club that has been baseball's lost child for so many summers.

Mike Schmidt, the Peter Pan of this "Never-Never Land," could not express his feelings.

"I can't muster the right words to describe how I feel," he said. "We're world champions, and I've barely had two sips of champagne. I just feel so good there's no batting practice tomorrow."

Schmidt, who led the major leagues with 48 home runs during the season, leant his bat to this fairy tale with decisiveness. His two-run single in the third inning started the 1980 Philadelphia Phillies on their way to baseball immortality. He was chosen Most Valuable Player of the Series with seven RBI, six runs scored and a .381 batting average.

The Phillies defeated the Kansas City Royals 4-1 in the sixth game of the World Series to wrap it up in four games to two, and Steve Carlton tied a big bow around it for the two million inhabitants of this town. The town took the gift joyously.

who almost certainly will win his third Cy Young for his 24-9 season, went seven strong in innings and didn't give up a run until the eighth. He struck out seven and walked three to win his second game of the Series, and he left to a standing ovation from the crowd of 65,838, the largest ever to witness a baseball game at Veteran's Stadium and largest to watch a Series game in 16 years.

"It's a monumental feeling," said Tug McGraw, who finished up for Carlton. "I've been through a lot. It goes back to a club that's been able to put everything aside when we get on the field and learn how to win."

The Phillies won the first two games of the Series at home, then lost the first two in Kansas City. They came back to win Game 5 in Kansas City and send the Series back home for the clinching game, the game that gave the Phillies their only world championship since the franchise was moved from Worcester, Mass., '98 years ago.

It began with a third inning error by perhaps the best defensive second baseman in the American League, Kansas City's Frank White. Royals right-hander Rich Gale issued a walk to Phils catcher Bob Boone. Fleet-foot Lonnie Smith then bounced a grounder to White's right. White fielded the ball cleanly, but his throw pulled shortstop U.L. Washington off the bag. Royals Manager Jim Frey came out to argue, but everybody was safe.

Pete Rose loaded the bases with a bunt single, and Schmidt strode to the plate, holding that tiny stick of wood in his Popeye arms. Schmidt worked the count to 1-1, then looped a single toward right

HHS Linksters Win Match

The Hereford Whiteface golf squad drove in a team score of 333 in Lubbock this past weekend to better district rival Lubbock Coronado's one stroke 334 disadvantage and win its second match of the year.

And all things considered, coach Jerry Wilbourn felt like it was a good effort going into the squad's last fall outing against Plainview in November.

"We played fairly well on the front nine, but we're still exhibiting the inability to come back through the last nine of play as well," Wilbourn said following the squad's winning performance. "I believe we have the depth and the individual talents to win the district this year if they will only get their heads on straight and play consistently throughout each particular round."

Delivering the lowest scores for the HHS linksters were veteran golfer Tony Flores and Frankie Garcia who earned the medalist honors of the affair after adding up respective low rounds of 78 and 80.

Other members of the squad who added to the overall winning tally included Greg Robinson (who led the field on the front nine of the competition, but later came in with the Herd's highest score on the day with an 88), plus Miceal Craig and Scott Skinner's identical totals of 87 for the tournament. In "B" team competition, the Hereford team fell to Coronado's 359 with a team total of 365.

David Dudding continued to lead that group of linksters after adding up an 85 for the day, Paul Jorde netted the team's second lowest tally at 91, Brett Barrick drove in a 92, Bob Foster capped a round of 97 and Roger Hodges completed the pack with 102 on the tourney.

"I was very pleased with Tony and Frankie's play in the tournament, but we've got to get at least four good rounds together all at once if we expect to do anything in district," Wilbourn said.

Turkey Shoot Slated

Hereford Ducks Unlimited will hold its second annual fund-raising turkey shoot Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. at the Hereford Gun Club, located just east of the Hereford airport.

Winners of each round of competition will receive turkeys, ham or bacon as prizes, with proceeds from the event going to Ducks Unlimited to help further waterfowl conservation work of the organization.

Interested individuals may also join Ducks Unlimited during Sunday's event, in addition to registering for drawings for a Ducks Unlimited "Greenwing Special" 20 gauge shotgun donated by Harrington and Richardson, and a Marlin 120 pump action 12 gauge shotgun choked full and chambered for three inch shotshells.

Facilities for Sunday's fund raiser are being donated by the Hereford Gun Club.

Hereford Rodeo Team Wins Trophy

The Hereford High boys' rodeo team capped its third straight win of the year this past weekend as it overwhelmed other competing teams from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Texas for the McLean Rodeo team trophy with a total of 35½ points.

The 35½ point team total advanced the team to a 45 point advantage over squads from the three other states in addition to Texas.

Leading some of the Hereford team's one-sided efforts were Brett Cunningham who finished first in calf roping competition with a time of 12.430, Sid Howard's second place finish in the event with a clocking of 12.670 and Lee Washington's third place finish in Ribbon Roping after jutting down a time of 12.061.

In other rodeo competition, Cunningham took sixth in ribbon roping. Sid Howard and Lee Washington followed one another in the steer wrestling event with second and third places after recording respective times of 5.574 and 11.428.

Steve McConnell came in behind Howard and Washington toting a fourth place time of 15.564 to complete the high finishing field of Hereford rodeoers in that event.

In bare-back bronc riding, Howard clinched a second place berth with a score of 55 and in team roping he pitted his talents with Olin Douglas for a first place finish of 7.825.

Rita Ward, the only member making up the girl's team this year, compiled a second place finish in pole bending with a 23.085 clocking and concluded the Hereford team's winning efforts for the rodeo after netting fifth in barrel racing with a time of 18.559.

Phillies Win

field, scoring Boone and Smith.

That brought Frey out of the dugout again, and Gale was through for the season. Reliever Renie Martin got the side out, and the Phils were quiet until the fifth.

Smith led off that inning with a liner to center that he stretched into a double. When Rose flew to center, Smith was on third. Martin then walked Schmidt, and he was through. Left-hander Paul Splittorff made his first appearance of the Series, yielding Bake McBride's run-scoring grounder, and he was in almost immediate trouble again in the sixth.

Garry Maddox led off the Phils sixth with a single but was doubled up on Manny Trillo's grounder back to the mound. Larry Bowa then doubled and scored Philadelphia's last run of the 1980 season on a single by Boone.

By then the crowd was cheering at nearly every pitch, roaring as each Phillie batter came to the plate.

Carlton, meanwhile, cruised along with some fielding help and an overpowering fastball. He walked two men with one out but escaped on a double play initiated by Bowa at shortstop. He yielded his first hit of the game to Washington, who led off the fourth with an infield single, but Washington was cut down in a double play, again started by Bowa.

Bowa wound up initiating a record seven double plays in the Series.

"I didn't even know it until they flashed it on the scoreboard," Bowa said.

"This is the greatest feeling in the world," added Bowa, a target of fan derision earlier in the season after he criticized their lack of support. "We went down the tubes in three playoffs (1976-77-78), and we carried around the label of chokers. There wasn't a guy on this team who choked. We've proven we're a good baseball team."

Carlton had given up only three hits through seven innings, but he started the eighth by walking John Wathan. Jose Cardenal then lined a single to left, and Green stalked to the mound.

"I knew from the first pitch that Steve had it tonight," Boone said. "He was outstanding. He had a good slider, but we went mostly with his power game, his fastball. I think he got tired a little at the end, but overall, he pitched real well."

Carlton left to a standing ovation. He held his head down and didn't even acknowledge the cheering until he touched the bill of his cap before stepping into the dugout.

Enter Tug McGraw. McGraw, who had 20 saves and a 1.47 ERA this year, got White on a pop up but loaded the bases by walking Willie Wilson.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Farms, ranches and oil wells. Sometimes during an election year you begin to think that's all there is in Texas.

Both candidates in the presidential slugfest, or at least their proxies, tuned in to those two BIG ISSUES all last week. Texas is regarded by both President Jimmy Carter and former Calif. Gov. Ronald Reagan as a must-win state.

Carter's Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland started the ball rolling with a swing through the Panhandle, then the Central and Northeast Texas farm belts. Following him all the way were a band of angry, protesting farmers who staged a public walkout wherever Bergland began to speak. Although the small band of radicals, generally considered to belong to the American Agriculture Movement, they nevertheless have won sympathy from the farmers who stay home in the fields. Their message: enough of Carter, let's try Reagan. Whether or not they are actually winning farmers over to Reagan is another matter. Just an hour after the farmers plagued him at a Temple breakfast, Bergland toured the prototype "on-farm" gasohol plant in Rockdale built by Rep. Dan Kubiak and spoke of the need for several more such plants in Texas.

Dollars for Gasohol
Bergland also promised Kubiak, a gasohol advocate in the Legislature, that $260 million in Farmers Home Administration loans are available for gasohol plants across the nation immediately including two in the Texas Panhandle. Kubiak apparently was relieved at Bergland's commitment of gasohol dollars for Texas, having stuck his political neck out for his pet project. The radical farmers had angrily threatened to picket Bergland in Rockdale, then reportedly promised Kubiak's aide they would back off only out of respect for Kubiak's 100 percent pro-farm voting record.

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Enjoy your exercise

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm a 35-year-old male and a jogger. I jog at least two miles every day. And I think it does a lot for me. When I get home from the office a good jog relaxes me and seems to wipe away the tension.

I've always believed that jogging would help keep me from having a heart attack. Now in the past few years I have seen many reports about men dropping dead when they jog. I'm beginning to get concerned that this could happen to me, too. Is this a real danger?

DEAR READER - The question is not that simple. The essential things of life can kill you if you don't use them right. We need oxygen to live but too much can cause oxygen poisoning. You need sunlight. It's the source of energy that runs the earth, including you, but too much may damage your skin, cause skin cancer or under the right circumstances cause a heat stroke and death.

Exercise done properly in the right person can be very helpful. It will relax a person and is excellent for the "after the office" fatigue. It also helps lift depression.

Most of the people who die from jogging do so because they have abused the sound principles they should have followed. Running against the clock is one way. Overdoing it when you already have a medical problem is another way. Literally straining instead of training or enjoying yourself is the big killer. Even so there are not too many people who really die from jogging.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-2, Jogging, Exertion, Sudden Death, to give you more details on this question. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. As this issue explains, you must expect a certain number of people to die while exercising, just as you expect some people to die in bed. Some people even have heart attacks while riding in a car so don't jump to conclusions because you have heard of someone dying while exercising. He might have died in bed if he had been sleeping instead of exercising at that time.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Please don't think me a nut or mentally ill. I'm not. But is there a drug that may be used to stimulate the growth of hair, particularly that on one's chest. I'm a 26-year-old man and I'm not gay but the father of two beautiful children. This has always bothered me.

DEAR READER - Whether a man has hair on his chest or not has little or nothing to do with whether he is or is not gay. After all, there are large numbers of ethnic groups throughout the world who are inclined to have little hair except that on the top of their head. The American Indian male is a classic example.

No, there is really no medicine that will help you increase the growth of hair on your chest. It's an inherited characteristic and since you can't do much about choosing your parents, you'll just have to accept yourself as you are. And that may be pretty good. Different people have different opinions about what is attractive and not attractive even about their own personal appearance. The important point is it's usually just an opinion and a matter of attitude. Be glad you're healthy and are the father of two beautiful children.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Is beef a high-fat food or a low-fat food? I've heard that round steak is only 5 percent fat but a friend said you need to limit it if you are on a low-fat diet.

DEAR READER - Facts can sometimes be confusing and can be used to mislead the public. Food values can be measured by weight, by volume or by calorie content and that is where the confusion lies.

Lean round steak with all the visible fat removed is only 5 percent fat by weight. After all, 73 percent of the steak by weight is water. That 5 percent fat by weight does represent more than 30 percent of the total calories in the raw steak. That is still moderately low in fat but not nearly as low as you might think when you are told it is only 5 percent fat.

About half of the fat in beef is saturated fat and only 2 percent is polyunsaturated fat. That is why it still must be used in limited amounts if you are restricting your saturated fat intake.

You can roast lean meat and half way through the process remove the liquid, cool it and skim off the fat. Return the fluid and complete the roast. That helps eliminate unwanted fat.

The different fat content in different red meats is discussed in The Health Letter number 8-12, Red Meats: Good and Bad, that I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Polly Cramer
Bay leaves - no problem

DEAR POLLY - You suggested putting bay leaves in a canister with flour, etc., to prevent bugs. Do you put the leaves in the flour itself? It seems it would crumble and there would be bits of leaves in the flour. Or do you take a strip of tape and press as many leaves as will stick to it on the tape and stick the ends (let the middle hang loose) to the underside of the tin, or simply lay the whole strip on top of the flour? Or do you put the bay leaves in a very small jar and set it on top of the contents of the canister? A hint for the column would be to be more specific as sometimes much is left to the imagination. - ANN Y.

DEAR ANN Y. - Space does not allow detailed instructions which may be good in some cases, as in yours, where you have come up with good and different ideas for using the bay leaves. I just drop them in my canister and when I use flour it is sifted in a strainer that stays in a nearby drawer. The leaves, and bits of leaves, that are left in the strainer are dropped back in. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I always keep extra notebook paper at home to have ready for the kids to use here or to refill their school notebooks. We used to run out (almost a minor crisis) but now I take that first sheet in a package that has printing on it and insert it about three-fourths of the way down in the back and when anyone comes to it they put it on the bulletin board and I know I must buy more.

We only use our felt marking pens once in a while. They would often get lost and when found were dried up so now we keep them in the freezer. They are never lost or dried up and there is no time lost thawing them as they write instantly. - BETTY

DEAR POLLY - I no longer use the foam head I had for my wig so I had my grandkids stick all my pins, needles, safety pins and thumb tacks in it so they are all in one place when needed. I have found this to be a super idea - HILDA

The Newspaper Bible

GOOD NEWS FOR JEWS: GOD LOVES YOU

Does this mean that God has rejected His Jewish people forever? Of course not! His purpose was to make His salvation available to the Gentiles, and then the Jews would be jealous and begin to want God's salvation for themselves.

Now if the whole world became rich as a result of God's offer of salvation, when the Jews stumbled over it and turned it down, think how much greater a blessing the world will share in later on when the Jews, too, come to Christ.

As you know, God has appointed me as a special messenger to you Gentiles. I lay great stress on this and remind the Jews about it as often as I can.

So that if possible I can make them want what you Gentiles have and in that way save some of them.

And how wonderful it will be when they become Christians! When God turned away from them it meant that He turned to the rest of the world to offer His salvation; and now it is even more wonderful when the Jews come to Christ. It will be like dead people coming back to life.

And since Abraham and the prophets are God's people, their children will be too. For if the roots of the tree are holy, the branches will be too.

But some of these branches from Abraham's tree, some of the Jews, have been broken off. And you Gentiles who were branches from, we might say, a wild olive tree, were grafted in. So now you, too, receive the blessing God has promised Abraham and his children, sharing in God's rich nourishment of His own special olive tree.
