Iran Protests Cause Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — With pro-Khomeini Iranians back again protesting in front of the White House, top Carter administration officials are worried that a possible outbreak of violence between the demonstrators and angry Americans might mean trouble for the American hostages in Iran.

About 200 Iranians gathered Thursday to protest the treatment of the 192 Iranians arrested 12 days ago during a violence-marred celebration of the death of the deposed Shah of Iran. More demonstrations were scheduled today.

Meanwhile, President Carter ordered an investigation into charges that the Iranians arrested July 27 were released before they should have been and before their visa status could be thoroughly checked.

He ordered that investigation while Thursday's four-hour demonstration was going on outside. Angry Americans, separated from the Iranians by scores of police, made clear their anger and frustration.

Hundreds of Washington residents and tourists gathered around the protesters, taunting and pelting them with eggs and garbage. One man took a tomato from his lunch sack and heaved it at the Iranians and another spat on an Iranian woman.

Administration officials are worried about a possibly violent confrontation and its potential effect on the 52 American hostages in Iran.

"We would hope that these demonstrations can be confined to peaceful expressions of view. Iranians in this country will continue to receive ... the full protection of U.S. law," State Department spokesman David Passage said.

Another State Department official said in an interview that it is "obvious" that a violent confrontation between Iranian demonstrators and increasingly angry Americans — or with police — could severely complicate efforts to get the hostages released.

"That's exactly what the (protesting) Iranians would want," he added, referring to violence. "The ramification of a violent confrontation is really nothing that has to be pointed out. It's obvious ... (It) would make gaining the release of the hostages in Iran more complicated."

Thursday's protest demonstrated a potential for violence. Police had to escort the protesters to chartered buses after the demonstration and some Americans nearby said if it were not for the police, they would have physically attacked the Iranians.

The investigation of the July 27 arrests was ordered after some officials of the Immigration and Naturalization Service complained that the Carter administration pushed for the premature release of the Iranians. The Iranians, many of whom took part in Thursday's rally, were freed Wednesday.

INS spokesmen denied that the releases came before the identity and visa status of the Iranians had been fully checked.

Iran Funds Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kent Hance, D-Texas, wants a congressional investigation to start immediately of allegations that Iranian money is entering the U.S. for a propaganda campaign.

"I think that the general public is outraged at the activity of these foreign students and so-called visitors who are abusing our society and at the same time, in their country their leadership is abusing Americans who are illegally held hostages," the Lubbock congressman said Thursday.

He wrote to House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill asking encouragement for the House judiciary and foreign affairs committees to call a joint hearing on possible subversive activities.

"There is no question in my mind that there are organized and well-funded groups which are beginning planned subversive actions against the United States," Hance wrote. "We need to know exactly who composes this organization, who is backing them and from what sources they're getting their funds."

The letter was prompted by a report in the Washington Post that quoted law enforcement officials saying at least $5 million was funneled into the U.S. from Iran to support a propaganda campaign for the Iranian revolution.

"The United States is a free country and we welcome foreign visitors, but there is absolutely no reason we should stand by and watch while a highly organized and well funded organization seeks to create chaos in our streets," the letter said.

Farm Costs May Not Rise Rapidly

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a complicated story the way government economists try to explain it, but figures compiled by the Agriculture Department suggest overall farm production expenses may not rise quite as rapidly this year as they did in 1979.

That is a generalization and overlooks some obvious flaws, including the vastly different rates of production costs that are involved for specific commodities. For example, the cost of producing wheat or corn may differ dramatically from that of turning out beef cattle or cotton.

And a further complication is that production costs vary widely, particularly for crops, from one part of the country to another — and among farmers themselves.

Farm production costs are cited often during the development of legislation in Congress, by farm groups seeking additional aid for producers and by political candidates seeking to defend or attack existing farm policy.

Two USDA reports issued this week helped cloud the complex subject by using different methods of computing

TRLA Refutes Castro Claims

By JIM STEIERT

DIMMITT — Pressure from local Texas Rural Legal Aid attorneys and a restrictive federal court order have been cited by members of the board of the Castro County Housing Authority as primary reasons for that organization going out of business during the past week.

The housing project, located on the eastern edge of this city, was the first and largest of its type in the U.S., according to a report appearing in the August 7 edition of the Castro County News.

The housing project was completed in the fall of 1967 at a cost of nearly $1 million and was built with the intention of providing better housing for agricultural workers, especially migrants.

The Housing Authority came under fire over alleged discriminatory practices in leasing apartments and block leasing by Dimmitt-area vegetable packing sheds and eventually a restraining order was issued by Federal District Judge Mary Lou Robinson that placed restrictions on management of the large agricultural housing complex.

After months of continuing problems with financing and management of the housing project, members of the

Ortega Found Not Guilty In Rape Trial

A six-man, six-woman jury deliberated three hours before finding Robert Ortega not guilty of aggravated rape Thursday in 22nd District Court.

Ortega was charged with raping a 15-year-old Hereford girl twice at gunpoint last Dec. 26 in Veteran's Park.

Ortega remained in Deaf Smith County Jail today, awaiting a probation-revocation hearing in Oldham County

Texas Braces for Hurricane

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The National Weather Service issued a hurricane watch for the entire Texas coast at 5 a.m. today as killer Hurricane Allen moved within 500 miles of this South Texas port city.

The government of Mexico also issued a hurricane watch for the northeast coast of Mexico.

Allen was continuing to move to the west northwest at 18 mph at the time the hurricane watch was issued by the National Weather Service at Miami, Fla.

Forecasters said if Allen continues on the present course at the current speed hurricane conditions could be in effect along the Texas coast within 36 hours.

They said hurricane warnings would likely be issued for calls itself — issued a report on "Farm Expenditures for 1979" in which farm production costs last year were shown at $135.1 billion, up 18 percent from $114.2 billion in 1978.

Farm Expenditures Report

It did not project 1980 farm costs.

"This was the largest percentage increase since 1973," the second report said of the 18 percent spiral last year. "The average expenditure per farm was $58,049 in 1979, compared with $48,273 in 1978."

On the backside of the four-page report, which was a summary of a detailed analysis that will be released later, the ESCS offered an explanation to those who might compare the two sets of production figures and note their discrepancies.

"Expenditure data in this report will differ from production expenses estimates in farm income tables also published by Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service," it said.

The statement said that the agency in its farm income figures treats agriculture "as a sector within the U.S. economy" and does not measure "transactions between farmers" in analyzing income.

Carter, Kennedy Fight for Support

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy shifts his command post to this convention city today to spur his final drive to convince Democratic delegates to repudiate President Carter and turn to the Massachusetts senator as the party's salvation.

Kennedy supporters planned a Park Avenue rally to greet their candidate.

President Carter planned to wait until Wednesday, the day the convention will vote on the presidential nomination, before heading for New York, but he was heavily involved in lobbying delegates.

Both camps maneuvered for advantage, each trying their best to convince delegates they were the winning side.

Kennedy let it be known he had ordered work begun on his speech accepting the presidential nomination.

Carter's campaign chairman, Robert Strauss, let it be known that if the president wins the rules fight on Monday, the opening night of the Democratic convention, there is no chance he will release his delegates to vote however they want on the presidential ballot.

"There is no possibility of releasing them after the vote, none whatsoever," said Strauss, who had said on Wednesday that he wouldn't rule out such a move, which had been mentioned as a possible conciliatory gesture.

Carter picked up the endorsement Thursday of the United Steel Workers of America, which is holding its convention in Los Angeles. It is the last major union to take sides in the presidential race.

In Washington, sources said that the political arm of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, its so-called Political Action Committee, will endorse GOP nominee Ronald Reagan for president the week after the Democratic convention. Reagan planned to spend the week of the convention off the campaign trail.

The public is encouraged to come by the Hall of Fame and view her paintings.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

Summer visits of grandchildren are enlivening a lot of Hereford homes during these vacation days. Michelle Shattles of Gilmer is the Grant Hannas' guest this week. Her mother, the former Cynthia Hanna of Hereford, is in Lubbock for a state meeting of Extension Service Agents. Cynthia is the agent in Upshur County. That is right next to Smith County where Joyce Shipp, formerly of Hereford, is Extension Service agent, and Joyce also visited here enroute to Lubbock.

At the tea given for Joyce Tuesday by Extension Homemakers Clubs, I met another visiting granddaughter, Chanda Sedgewick of Las Vegas, Nev. Who is here until school starts with Peg Hoff. Chanda's mother, Judy, is Peg's daughter and also used to live in Hereford. And Mrs. Don Davidson's granddaughter, Julie Davidson, is here from McAllen. Her older sister, Suzanne, spent some time with "Mrs. Don" early this summer.

Dozens of friends went by the Community Center to tell Joyce Shipp "Hello" at the tea, which was a very nice idea of the EH Clubs.

Joyce says she is quite happy in East Texas though she misses the Hereford folks too. She has two brothers at Tyler, where she and Roy live, and her mother comes over often so naturally she feels at home.

She said the hot weather hasn't bothered her, and mentioned "the nice breeze off the water," which was a bit puzzling until she whipped out a picture of her home, set under shady trees on the very edge of a lake. No wonder she stays cool!

Roy teaches and coaches at Troup, near Tyler, as he did in Hereford High.

Before the rain came this week, Helen Parsons was bragging that she finally had her yard in shape after neglecting it through June while she took a trip to Finland.

She went to the far northern country in Europe, which is not on the travel itinerary of most American tourists, to visit the two Finnish girls who were her foster daughters while they attended school here.

One was an American Field Service student, and she liked Hereford so much that she inspired her cousin to come to America on her own and go to school a year. Of course she also recommended the Parsons family as hosts for a year in HHS.

Both the girls are now married and have children, Helen said, and she really enjoyed seeing them again and being in their homes. And of course she did some extra sight-seeing while she was that far away from home.

Don't know whether or not they are a week-kneed family, but while I was talking to Peg Hoff this week she said there had been a series of knee operations on various members of the Hoff clan, the latest on Kenny Hagar who is at home again after surgery at Amarillo.

He is Peg's grandson. A granddaughter's husband, Oscar Williams, began the saga of knee surgery a few years ago when he had to have cartilage removed from a knee joint.

Then Judy Sedgewick had a longer seige of trouble with two complicated operations that involved both hip and knee joints. After that, her brother Butch had to undergo surgery twice on the same knee.

Butch, by the way, has been promoted lately to the post of safety education officer for the Department of Public Safety at Amarillo. He has been stationed there as a DPS trooper.

For egg-restricted diets, read labels of processed foods carefully - and avoid items such as egg noodles or mayonnaise since these contain egg, advises Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Mrs. Sweeten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The Newspaper Bible

AH, THOSE WERE THE DAYS! Don't ever forget those wonderful days when you first learned about Christ. Remember how you kept right on with the Lord even though it meant terrible suffering.

Sometimes you were laughed at and beaten, and sometimes you watched and sympathized with others suffering the same things.

You suffered with those thrown into jail, and you were actually joyful when all you owned was taken from you, knowing that better things were awaiting you in heaven, things that would be yours forever.

Do not let this happy trust in the Lord die away, no matter what happens. Remember your reward!

You need to keep on patiently doing God's will if you want Him to do for you all that He has promised. His coming will not be delayed much longer.

And those whose faith has made them good in God's sight must live by faith, trusting Him in everything. Otherwise, if they shrink back, God will have no pleasure in them.

But we have never turned our backs on God and sealed our fate. No, our faith in Him assures our souls' salvation. Hebrews 10:32-39

Make small rooms look larger by "wall washing" - or lighting a larger area of wall, says Dr. Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Wall-washer fixtures light the wall smoothly from top to bottom and may be recessed, surface-mounted or portable, she says.

Dr. Berry is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Family projects" work best when developed with input from each family member involved, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Commitment to - and completion of - the project is more likely to occur, too, she adds.

Mrs. Welch is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Workers May Delay Retirement

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Smaller, less elaborate houses. Two or more households sharing one house. Smaller automobiles. Smaller families. Shorter and less expensive vacations. Wives working to bring in a second income.

Willingly in some instances, forced in others, Americans have made many adjustments to fend off the impact of inflation, higher taxes, high interest rates and, in general, economic deterioration.

To that list might be added another: a possible change in the trend of Americans workers to retire by age 65 or before, a trend that got its greatest impetus from the enactment of Social Security in the 1930s.

Now, researchers say, evidence is building that more Americans will be delaying retirement, not only because of federal legislation delaying mandatory retirement to 70 from 65, but because of severe inflation.

Studies by Morgan Guaranty suggest "there is a good chance that the decade of the 80s will see a reversal in the historic pattern: a rising, rather than a falling, participation rate for older workers."

In 1900, the study shows, two of every three men aged 65 or more were at work or were looking for work. By 1950, just under half of that age group was in the work force. And by the mid-1970s only 20 percent.

The trend of retirement at 65 or before has been more pronounced for women also, despite their increasing presence in the labor force. But analysts wonder if that trend also might bend before inflation.

"At today's underlying rate of inflation of close to 10 percent," the Morgan study points out, "the buying power of the dollar would be cut in half in a scant seven years." The rule of thumb: to find the years it takes to halve the dollar, divide the inflation rate into 72.

Cost-of-living escalators might keep Social Security payments at about the same buying power in the future, but that isn't at all true of most private pensions, which have no such automatic increase mechanisms.

These financial factors — plus greater life expectancy, a possible need for their experience, and a change in the mandatory retirement age — could make themselves felt very soon, despite government projections.

What is certain is that the 80-year decline in work participation by those 65 or over is slowing, and it isn't difficult to draw a correlation between that fact and the reality of worsening inflation.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "The Lou Grant Show" dominated the Emmy Award nominations today for the second straight year as the threat of an actors boycott clouded next month's 32nd annual awards ceremony.

The CBS series about a Los Angeles newsroom headed by Edward Asner collected 15 nominations.

"Moviola," a three-part movie series about the early days of the motion picture industry, collected 13 nominations, and "M-A-S-H" had 11.

Other shows receiving multiple nominations included "All Quiet on the Western Front" with seven, "Amber Waves" with six, NBC's "The Big Show" with six, "Baryshnikov on Broadway" with six, "The Muppet Show" with eight and two cancelled NBC series, "The Rockford Files" with six and "Skag" with seven.

"Lou Grant" was nominated as the outstanding drama series and Asner was nominated as best actor in a drama series for his title role as the prototype city editor. The series won last year, but Asner, who was also nominated, failed to win the Emmy in 1979.

The other "Lou Grant" stars who were nominated for best supporting actor were Mason Adams, who plays the managing editor; Robert Walden, who plays reporter Joe Rossi; Linda Kelsey, for her role as reporter Billie Newman; and Nancy Marchand, who plays the paper's publisher, Mrs. Pynchon. Nina Foch was also nominated as best supporting actress for a guest star appearance on the series.

CBS' "M-A-S-H" was nominated as outstanding comedy series and Alan Alda was nominated as best actor in a comedy for his starring "M-A-S-H" role as Army surgeon Hawkeye Pierce. Nominations for best supporting actor went to costars Mike Farrell, who play fellow surgeon B.J. Hunnicutt, Harry Morgan, who plays the hospital commander, Col. Potter; and Loretta Switt as nurse Margaret "Hotlips" Houlihan.

"Moviola" was nominated as outstanding limited series. Tony Curtis, who played the flamboyant movie tycoon

Culpepper Tops Toastmasters' Day

The Hereford Toastmaster Club met Thursday morning at the Thompson House Restaurant.

The club welcomes Jerry Bonner as its guest.

"Toastmaster of the Day" was Marilyn Culpepper. Marilyn introduced James Self as "Topic Master of the Day." Self led a session that saw B.J. Gilliland selected as "Best Table Topic Speaker"

David O. Selznick in one episode devoted to casting Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With The Wind," received a nomination as best actor in a limited series. Carrie Nye, who played Tallulah Bankhead in the same episode, was nominated as best supporting actress in a limited series or special.

The awards show, scheduled Sept. 7, may be in for trouble if the strike by 60,000 performing members of the Screen Actors Guild and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists continues as expected.

Negotiations are stalled at present, and SAG spokeswoman Kim Fellner said Wednesday that a boycott of the Emmy telecast was "under consideration."

"We are looking at a long strike," she said, "all the way into September."

Betty Jones was voted as "Best Speaker of the Day" and Rocky Lee captured the award for the "Best Evaluator."

Toastmaster is dedicated to the development of better communication - not giving speeches, according to Self, club president.

Anyone interested in Toastmasters should contact Self at 364-5501.

Ann Landers
Practice Makes Perfect

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl who has never been kissed. It's not that I haven't had the opportunity, it's just that I don't know how to kiss and I hate to make a fool of myself.

I am fairly popular and get asked out a lot. But I am so afraid of that goodnight kiss that I scoot into the house in a hurry to avoid it. Now I am wondering how I am going to learn to do it right if I don't get any practice. Is there a natural instinct that will tell me what to do, or does a person have to develop a technique, like dancing?

Please answer in your column. I'll bet there are others out there just like me who are too ashamed to admit it.—Inexperienced In Torrance

DEAR TORRANCE: There are many different ways to kiss, and you will learn the way that pleases you best after you have kissed a time or two—three.

Much depends on how much you like the person you are kissing. I hope you will save your first kiss for someone you really care about. Otherwise you might as well practice on the wall.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was surprised to see that you are against allowing teachers to spank (or hit) students who disrupt the class or behave in a disrespectful way.

Four years ago by buddy and I made a $50 bet as to which one would marry first. He said it would be me. I said it would be him.

In April he announced his

When I was growing up our parents made it plain that if we got spanked in school we got another spanking when we got home. Mom and Dad were smart enough to know that a teacher isn't going to hit a kid for no reason whatsoever. That kid must have done something to deserve it.

Almost every other day you read something in the newspaper about a teacher who was smart enough to discipline those animals any way they see fit.—"Spare The Rod, Spoil The Child" Advocate

DEAR ADVOCATE: You aren't going to reduce the number of assaults on teachers by permitting them to hit the students. In fact, many serious attacks on teachers occurred because the teacher hit the kid first.

No student should be allowed to be rude or disruptive. At the first sign of trouble the unruly one should be sent to the principal's office. If he or she refuses to go, the teacher should go at once to the principal's office and get some help.

DEAR SLIGHTED: To leave you off the gift list because he lost the best is a no-class act. Now forget it. It never pays to sweat the small stuff.

What's prudish? What's O.K.? If you aren't sure, you need some help. It's available in the booklet: "Necking and Petting—What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611, enclosing 50 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

engagement, paid off the $50 and asked me to be an usher at his wedding. I said I'd be honored.

On the evening of the rehearsal dinner the bride presented her bridesmaids and the maid of honor with some nice gifts. My buddy handed out gifts to his best man and ushers—everyone but me.

He said with a laugh, "You already got $50 of my money! That's enough!" We've seen each other once since the wedding. I feel insulted that I was the only usher who didn't receive a gift. Am I wrong?—Slighted In Pennsylvania JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Arthur Wilson says anyone who's in debt deserves some sympathy, so he is sending Billy Carter $220 to help pay off a $220,000 loan Carter says he got from the Libyan government.

"If there's another thousand like me, he can pay that bum off in Libya — that Khadafy," said Wilson, referring to Moammar Khadafy, the Libyan head of state.

Billy Carter registered as a foreign agent last month, after saying he received money as a loan from Libya.

Wilson, 74, a podiatrist, said he is an admirer of Carter's brother, the president. And, referring to Billy Carter's reported financial problems, he said "if someone's in debt, they have to get help wherever they can."

Wilson said he's following the example of a man who once helped him in a time of financial distress.

"I tried to repay the man and he wouldn't let me. He told me to pass it along to someone else some day."

NEW YORK (AP) — Clarinetist Bob Wilber got some unexpected help during a performance at Michael's Pub in tribute to Benny Goodman, the famous jazz clarinet player.

Moscow Laughs About Shortage

MOSCOW (AP) — It wasn't long after the summer Olympics began in Moscow that the first joke surfaced. The butt was the widespread expectation that stores would be packed with food to impress visitors.

A woman calls the local food store: "Tell me, is it true that during the Games we'll be able to order food by phone?"

Store manager: "Sure, and it'll be delivered over TV."

The anecdote quickly made the rounds in Moscow, adding to the rich store of topical underground humor that has become a permanent fixture of Soviet life.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Nelson Bunker Hunt, the Texas oil billionaire who got into financial difficulty recently speculating in the silver market, received a little unexpected help this week with his bills.

Hunt, in town Wednesday for a friend's funeral, had a piece of strawberry pie and a glass of milk in a hotel coffee shop and was preparing to pay for it when the waitress told him someone had picked up the tab.

"Who paid for it?" a surprised Hunt asked.

"I did," piped up a young banker at the end of the counter. "Now I'll have something to tell my wife when I go back to Seattle."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Princess Shams, the eldest sister of the late Shah of Iran, is staying in seclusion in southern California, according to a family spokesman.

The spokesman, Robert Garrick, said Thursday the princess was "grieving and very distressed at the death of her brother." The former shah died July 27.

Garrick refused to disclose the princess' exact whereabouts, but the Los Angeles Times said there were reports that she was either at her $1.5 million ranchhouse near Santa Barbara or in Palm Springs.

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Aug. 8, the 221st day of 1980. There are 145 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Aug. 8, 1974, President Richard Nixon announced that he would resign his office, saying "that the Watergate scandal had forced him to step down in the national interest."

On this date:
In 1588, British sea forces under Sir Francis Drake destroyed the Spanish Armada in a battle off the coast of France.

In 1673, the Dutch recaptured New York and New Jersey from the British.

In 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte sailed for St. Helena to spend the rest of his life in exile.

In 1953, the U.S. and South Korea signed a mutual defense treaty.

Five years ago, Portugal's President Francisco da Costa Gomes swore in a new cabinet he hoped would provide a political pause during which time his nation could "construct something more definitive."

Last year, a congressional delegation flew to Hanoi, Vietnam, in an effort to get the Vietnamese government to stem the tide of "boat people" leaving that country.

Today's birthday: former Supreme Court Justice and Ambassador Arthur Goldberg is 72.

Thought for today: In order to have good soldiers, a nation must always be at war — Napoleon Bonaparte (1769-1821).

Emmy Nominees May Boycott Awards Fete

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The star-studded Emmy awards ceremony could be a bit lackluster this year if striking actors — including some of the top nominees — follow through on a threat to boycott the awards night.

Nominations for the 32nd annual Emmy Awards were announced Thursday by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. The nationally televised awards show is set for Sept. 7, but one spokeswoman for striking actors has said the walkout could last into that month. For the second straight year, the "Lou Grant" series picked up the most nominations. The show, set in the newsroom of a Los Angeles newspaper, was nominated for 15 Emmys, including best drama series and best actor in a drama series for Ed Asner in the title role. Asner, one of 60,000 Screen Actors Guild and American Federations of Television and Radio Artists members on strike since July 21, has been active on picket lines. The awards ceremony are to be emceed by "Little House on the Prairie" producer-star Michael Landon, Lee Remick and Bob Newhart. CBS led all other networks with 98 Emmy nominations. ABC followed with 77 nominations. NBC got 68, PBS received 19 and 12 went to syndicated programs. Second to "Lou Grant" in number of nominations was NBC's "Moviola," a three-night retelling of three Hollywood legends, that captured 13 nominations.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The school board has accepted the resignations of three employees and the retirement of a third in connection with an alleged kickback scheme that cost the district more than $600,000 over the past several years. The board Wednesday accepted the resignations of Purchasing Director Dave Langham, maintenance department employees Dick Charles and Joe Sharp, and the retirement of Harold Young, a 30-year employee who was a general foreman, said Superintendent I. Carl Candoli.

A grand jury investigation resulted in the indictment of 10 businessmen and six school district employees on a variety of felony and misdemeanor charges. Three businessmen have pleaded guilty to the charges. Since the investigation, three school district employees have retired and five have resigned after being implicated, but not indicted.

DALLAS (AP) — Bonds for three of 14 men arrested in a five-ton marijuana raid were raised Wednesday from $10,000 to $100,000 because of officers said the men are "major distributors" of the drug. Dallas County Magistrate Tom Boardman raised the bonds on the charges of possession of marijuana and intent to distribute. The men are Jessie R. Mojica, 32; Steve Mojica, 22, and Louis Rendon Valdez, 36. The truckload of marijuana was valued at $6 million by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Texas Briefs

DALLAS (AP) — A 22-year-old man who rejected a two-year prison term in favor of a jury trial was convicted of robbery Wednesday and sentenced to life imprisonment. Rickey Lee Bradley of Dallas was convicted in the March 21 robbery of a convenience store. His attorney, Gene Gaines, said he would appeal the verdict. Gaines said Bradley refused a plea-bargain agreement and insisted on going to trial because "he said he was not guilty."

HEMPHILL, Texas (AP) — Save Indian Mounds, a citizens' group, has asked the U.S. Forest Service not to clear-cut about 200 acres on four tracts of the Sabine National Forest east of here. The group says the Indian Mounds area is designated a wilderness under a bill pending in Congress, but the forest service says it was not selected as a wilderness in a study submitted to Congress last year. The bill was introduced by Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Houston.

"That congressmen submit bills doesn't mean anything will happen. We have to continue the management of land until we do get some action."

said forest service spokesman Rich Lindell.

DALLAS (AP) — City Council members found themselves caught between two business interests Wednesday when Republic National Bank asked the panel to reject plans for a 50-story office tower on municipal land downtown. The council agreed Wednesday to work with a Toronto-based Cadillac-Fairview, a major Canadian real estate developer, on its proposal to build a building on and above property planned for a city transit terminal.

Republic officials said the land should be used as originally planned for the transit center and open park. The bank's twin towers, which once dominated the Dallas skyline, are being joined by several structures as tall or taller than Republic's — including Cadillac-Fairview's. But a spokesman denied the statement to the council was based on business pride or jealousy.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — An advisory committee has recommended exempting fuel alcohol from the five-cent per gallon motor fuel tax to stimulate production of commercial alcohol from farm, ranch and timber products.

The Advisory Committee on Agriculturally-Derived Fuels recommended that the proposed exemption be eliminated after alcohol comprised 10 percent of the total liquid fuel used in the state. The committee recommended abolishing state requirements that any company producing ethyl alcohol in Texas must have a majority of Texas owners.

It also proposed state funding of plants to demonstrate how alcohol can be produced. State Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown said 1981 "may be Texas' last chance to make real progress in alcohol production." He said the committee's recommendations would be submitted to the Texas

Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council.

BOWDEN, Alberta (AP) — The Parallax, the prisoners' monthly newspaper at Bowden Institute, may miss its press deadline this month. Its editor has escaped.

Randy Warren Johnson, 20, of Calgary was reported missing at the medium security penitentiary Thursday afternoon, just after he went to work on the newspaper.

A spokesman said Johnson had a gate pass and was on his way to the maintenance shop when an officer's car was stolen in the institute's parking lot. Johnson was sentenced in Calgary last September to five years in prison after being convicted on five counts of possession of stolen property.

High Pressure May Thwart Allen

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The return of a high-pressure ridge that has caused Texans to broil this summer could guide the killer winds of Hurricane Allen away from the Texas coast, says a state meteorologist.

Tom Larkin suggested the movement of Allen's 175 mile an hour winds into the warm waters of the central Gulf of Mexico would make the hurricane even stronger.

Larkin said, however, the apparent return of a "tropical" weather ridge over the state might "serve as a blocking action" and steer the hurricane westerly. It is the same ridge, Larkin said, that has heated Texas to record 100-plus temperatures for more than a month.

Larkin and other state officials met Thursday in the underground Disaster Emergency Services Communications Center to prepare for Allen, the third strongest Atlantic storm in modern history.

Lameduck Sen. Bill Braecklein of Dallas appeared as acting governor in the absence of Gov. Bill Clements, who was in New Mexico on vacation, and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who was en route to the national Democratic convention in New York.

If the Texas National Guard had to be activated for hurricane relief, it would be Braecklein, the assistant presiding officer of the Senate, who would issue the order.

"If there is a great calamity, I think he'll be back," Director Frank Cox of Disaster Emergency Services said of Clements.

"We're prepared to be on the ground several hours after the governor says it's time to go," stated a guard spokesman.

Larkin said Allen has been moving over 82-degree water but would encounter 86-degree water in the Gulf "and is likely to intensify and take a new direction."

He said it was too early to say where the hurricane would hit land.

Forecasts called for up to four inches of rain on the southern tip of Texas and in Northwest Mexico by Saturday morning, he said.

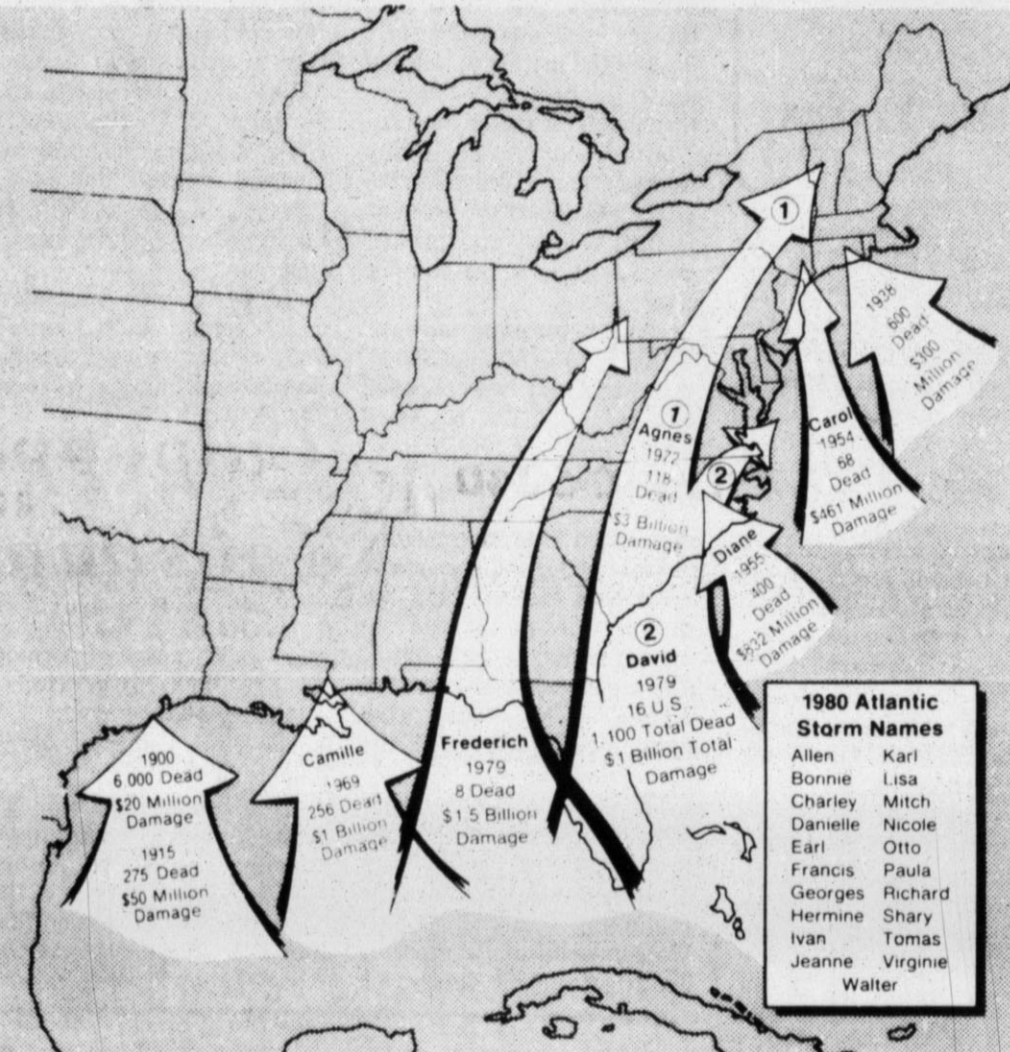

Bill Lauderback of the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council service stations should have enough gasoline and diesel fuel to enable motorists to evacuate the coast.

A representative for the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation said the department was prepared to evacuate patients from Harlingen, Corpus Christi and Beaumont if the hurricane gets close. At Richmond, he said, "We'll ride it out."

A spokesman for the highway department said workers had been told to make sure no construction equipment was clogging evacuation routes.

"Hopefully, this will be a dry run," said Cox.

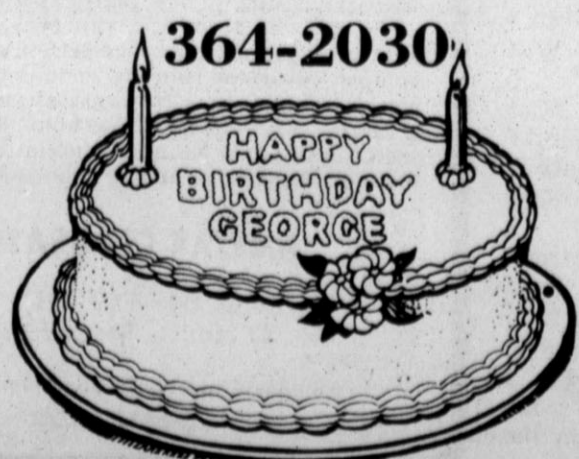

Hurricane Season: 1980

THE ANNUAL HURRICANE season runs from June through November, with most of the storms occurring in August, September and October. In a two-week span during that period in 1979, two of the most devastating storms of the decade hit the United States. Hurricane David struck areas of 12 states, the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. Hurricane Frederic was felt by 10 states. Until those storms, the country had been largely spared serious hurricane damage since Agnes in 1972.

'Mania' Still Alive

DALLAS (AP) — Mike Ford's knee feels fine. Eric Dickerson's toe is OK. Blane Smith's stress fracture has healed. Michael Carter's knee is better...

Any pre-season preview of Southern Methodist's 1980 football fortunes would be remiss without an update on last year's campaign that started out as Mustang Mania and ended up Mustang M-A-S-H.

Ford, of course, suffered a badly torn knee in the opener against Texas Christian and the Mustang quarterback missed the season, drawing a hardship ruling from the NCAA. He has two seasons left.

The highly touted Dickerson gained over 100 yards and scored three touchdowns in his first game as a freshman then was ineffective the rest of the season because of a toe injury. He sparkled during spring training.

Smith, a sure-tackling safety who Coach Ron Meyer called "the heart and soul of our defense," was lost for the season with a leg injury and Carter, a blue chip tackle, went out with a knee operation.

"I am obviously worried about the ability to come off the injuries which we incurred last year and which were so devastating to us," said Meyer. "I just hope the injury situation doesn't hit us as hard as it did last year. But, because of the injuries more young players got experience and we should be deeper because of that."

SMU returns 7 of 11 starters on offense and 9 of 11 on defense. In all, 38 of 50 let-teners are scheduled back.

"I'm feeling good," said Ford after a recent workout.

"I'm rusty but I believe everything will come back." Ford will have limited mobility because Mustang trainers plan to strap him with a knee brace to protect against reinjury.

"It will take awhile to get his confidence factor going

"We want to win...we've got to win to show everybody where our program is headed," says Meyer. "I'm a great believer in Mustang Mania. But it's much deeper than just a catchy phrase."

SMU was 5-6 last year, Meyer's best record in four years. "It's amazing that we're this close to .500 in the four years we've been here," says Meyer. "Talent has been at such a low ebb we've only had four players drafted by the pros in four years. Baylor, for example, had nine players drafted last year."

Ford has been working out hard all summer. Meyer wants him to report at 210 pounds which means he has some 10 pounds to pare before the Mustangs start fall drills.

but he should get that back after some scrimmages," said Meyer.

Craig James, who finished the season with 162 yards rushing against Arkansas, will share tailback duties with Dickerson when the Mustangs are in the I Formation. Meyer said there will be occasions when the pair of swifties are in the same backfield together.

"We are fortunate to have both of them," said Meyer. "They are both gifted individuals."

Meyer is heartened by the depth his team should have: "This will be our first legitimate four year class. You have to have great leadership and great talent in senior classes to be a winning football team."

Seahawks Beat Atlanta In Preseason Opener

SEATTLE (AP) — In the Seattle Seahawks' first four seasons in the National Football League, they were unsuccessful in finding a quality kickoff return specialist.

For example, six different players returned the kickoffs for the Seahawks last season. But maybe they've had the right man — without knowing it — for the past three years.

Cornell Webster raced back the opening kickoff 98 yards Thursday night and the Seahawks went on to beat the Atlanta Falcons 14-10 in a National Football League exhibition opener for both clubs. "Webster really hadn't done it on kickoffs before," said Seattle Coach Jack Patera. "But I think we'll have to take another look at him."

Webster, a cornerback from University of Tulsa who came to the Seahawks as a free agent in 1977, took Falcon placekicker Tim Mazzetti's kick on the Seattle 2 and it was goodbye Atlanta.

Webster volunteered for kickoff return duty after Jeff Moore, who returned 31 kickoffs for Seattle last season, suffered an ankle injury in practice last weekend.

"I've been trying to get them to put me back there for three years," Webster said.

Atlanta lost the war but won the battle. Trying to come back after a 6-10 season in 1979 after making the playoffs in 1978, the Falcons had a 315-198 advantage in total yards Thursday night.

"I was pleased with our offense," said Falcon Coach Leeman Bennett. "We moved the ball pretty well especially with our No. 1 offense in there."

Second-year quarterback Larry Fortner almost pulled the game out for the Falcons in the final quarter. He marched Atlanta from its own 6 with 8:02 left to the Seahawk 32 with 1:31. But he misfired on three straight passes to tight end Junior Miller.

Seattle scored its second touchdown in the second quarter to break a 7-7 deadlock on a 1-yard run by Sherman Smith after Sam Adkins and Steve Raible combined on a 45-yard pass.

The Falcons got their points on a 46-yard touchdown pass from Steve Bartkowski to Wallace Francis in the second quarter and a 23-yard field goal by Mazzetti in the final period.

The Atlanta-Seattle game kicked off the first full weekend of NFL exhibition games.

Nine games will be played Saturday night: Cincinnati at Denver, Cleveland at Kansas City, Green Bay at Dallas, Oakland at San Francisco, San Diego at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at New York Giants, Philadelphia at Buffalo, St. Louis at New Orleans and Washington at Baltimore.

Detroit will play at Miami Sunday afternoon, while the New York Jets will host Chicago Sunday night.

The action concludes with two games Monday night: New England at Los Angeles and Tampa Bay at Houston.

El Paso Nips San Antonio

By The Associated Press

Rick Adams singled home Jamie Hamilton with the winning run in the 12th inning Thursday night as the El Paso Diablos took a 7-4 Texas League baseball victory over the San Antonio Dodgers.

In other Texas League games, Shreveport shut out Jackson, 12-0, Arkansas beat Tulsa, 7-3, and Midland edged Amarillo, 11-9.

Adams had earlier hit a solo homer for the Diablos. Brian Harper also had a solo homer for El Paso.

The Diablos scored 3 runs in the 12th inning to take the victory. Hamilton opened with a single, advanced to third on a single by Scott Carnes and scored on Adams' single. Mike Bishop then added two more runs with a single.

Mike Walters, 5-4, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Jim Nobles, 1-3.

Jim Rothford had a two-run homer and Chili Davis had a solo homer as the Shreveport Captains shut out the Jackson Mets, 12-0. The victory ended a four-game losing streak for Shreveport and put an end to a five-game winning streak by the Mets.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Craig Stadler, despite what he described as an erratic day, believes he's in fine position to capture the 62nd Professional Golfers Association championship. "I've only shot under par four times on a Thursday and I either won or finished high," said Stadler who had a 34-33-67 opening round Thursday, over the 6,964-yard par 70 Oak Hill Country Club course. "That sort of pumps me up. I'm looking forward to tomorrow." The 27-year-old Stadler, a five-year touring pro who won the Bob Hope and the Greensboro, said he was fortunate because he had to scramble to have pars Thursday. But, he added, every time he made a shot to get the par, he came right back with a birdie on the following hole which enabled him to take a one-stroke lead over a group of five — Howard Twitty, Bobby Walzel, Curtis Strange, Gil Morgan and Bob Murphy. "I didn't play real well at times but then I play awfully good at times," said Stadler a winner of $183,297 this year, good enough for fourth place on the money list. "Every time I made a bad shot, I made a good shot to save par. That made the day." "It was a fun day," said Stadler, the only player in the second half of the field who played in the afternoon to break par. Favorites Tom Watson and Lee Trevino, who also played in the afternoon, came in at 75 and 74, respectively, while Jack Nicklaus, another considered in the class of the field, shot an even par 70. However, Watson and Trevino showed no outward concern for their plight. "I still believe that over par will win," said Watson, who couldn't recall the last time he played a round without at least one birdie. "I have to think 280 is still a good target for me. And it is usually easier to play in the morning. By the afternoon, all the greens are spiked up." Trevino, who won the U.S. Open here in 1968, said he also

Burris Tosses 6 Hitter In Win

Mets Mash Expos, 7-1

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN AP Sports Writer

New York's Ray Burris, back after more than a month on the sidelines, and San Diego's Bob Shirley, a relative newcomer to the starting rotation, pitched their first complete games of the season Thursday.

Burris, out since July 3 with a broken thumb, fired a six-hitter as the Mets downed the Montreal Expos 7-1. It was his 18th starting assignment.

Meanwhile, Shirley, making only his fourth start after working out of the bullpen until July 18, allowed only four hits as the Padres whipped the Houston Astros 5-1.

In other National League action, the Pittsburgh Pirates flattened the Chicago Cubs 11-3, the Atlanta Braves edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 and the Philadelphia Phillies shaded the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2.

Cincinnati and San Francisco had the day off. "I haven't had to wait this long for a win since there was a blackout in New York in 1978," said Burris, who notched his first triumph since June 8.

"I had to wait two months for that game to finish," Burris was pitching for Chicago against the Mets in New York when the game was suspended because of a citywide power failure and resumed on the Cubs' next visit.

This time, the Mets supplied some power in the form of home runs by Jerry Morales and Joel Youngblood off Fred Norman while Burris blanked the Expos until Rowland Office's homer in the seventh inning.

"I felt that if I stayed in front of the hitters and followed my game plan, which meant keeping the first two batters off base, that I'd have a good game," said Burris. Despite his long layoff, Burris did not walk a batter.

Padres 5, Astros 1
Jerry Mumphy rapped out three hits and drove in three runs in support of Shirley's pitching as San Diego snapped a 10-game losing streak in Houston's Astrodome and a four-game skid over-all.

Mumphy drove in San Diego's first run with a third-inning single and added a two-run double in the sixth against loser Joe Niekro. Despite the setback, the Astros maintained their half-game lead over Los Angeles in the NL West when the Dodgers also lost.

"We hadn't won here in a long time," said Shirley. "A complete game like that really helps out. We only had six all year before tonight and that will give our bullpen a chance to rest for a while."

Baltimore Pulls Within A 5½ Game of New York

Chicago Trails Baltimore In AL Clash

BALTIMORE (AP) — For a long time, the Baltimore Orioles were treading water in pursuit of the New York Yankees. Now it's time for the defending American League champions to sink or swim.

A 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night pulled the Orioles within 5½ games of the first-place Yankees in the AL East, the closest they've been to the top since May 20.

But starting with the opener of a three-game series in New York tonight, the Orioles face the Yanks eight times in the next 11 days and play three against Kansas Ci-

Pirates 11, Cubs 3

Bill Madlock hit a two-run homer, pitcher Eddie Solomon cracked a pair of doubles and Tim Foli drove in three runs with a double and two singles to highlight a 16-hit attack. The triumph moved the Pirates within 1½ games of first-place Montreal in the NL East.

Solomon allowed early home runs to Mike Tyson and Jesus Figueroa but then settled down and pitched his first complete game in 11 starts, scattering eight hits.

Madlock was booed heartily by the Chicago fans for knocking second baseman Steve Macko out of the game and onto the disabled list while breaking up a double play a day earlier. He responded with a single in a two-run second inning, then broke a 3-3 tie with a two-run homer in the fifth.

"The boos don't bother me," said Madlock, a former Cub. "I understand. The fans are frustrated. They've never had a winner and they have to take it out on somebody. Really, it's fun when the fans boo me here. The things they boo me for now are the things they cheered me for when I was here."

Braves 4, Dodgers 3

Jeff Burroughs and Bruce Benedict delivered consecutive sacrifice flies in the sixth inning to bring Atlanta from behind. The Braves began their winning rally on a Bob Horner single and Dale Murphy followed with a double.

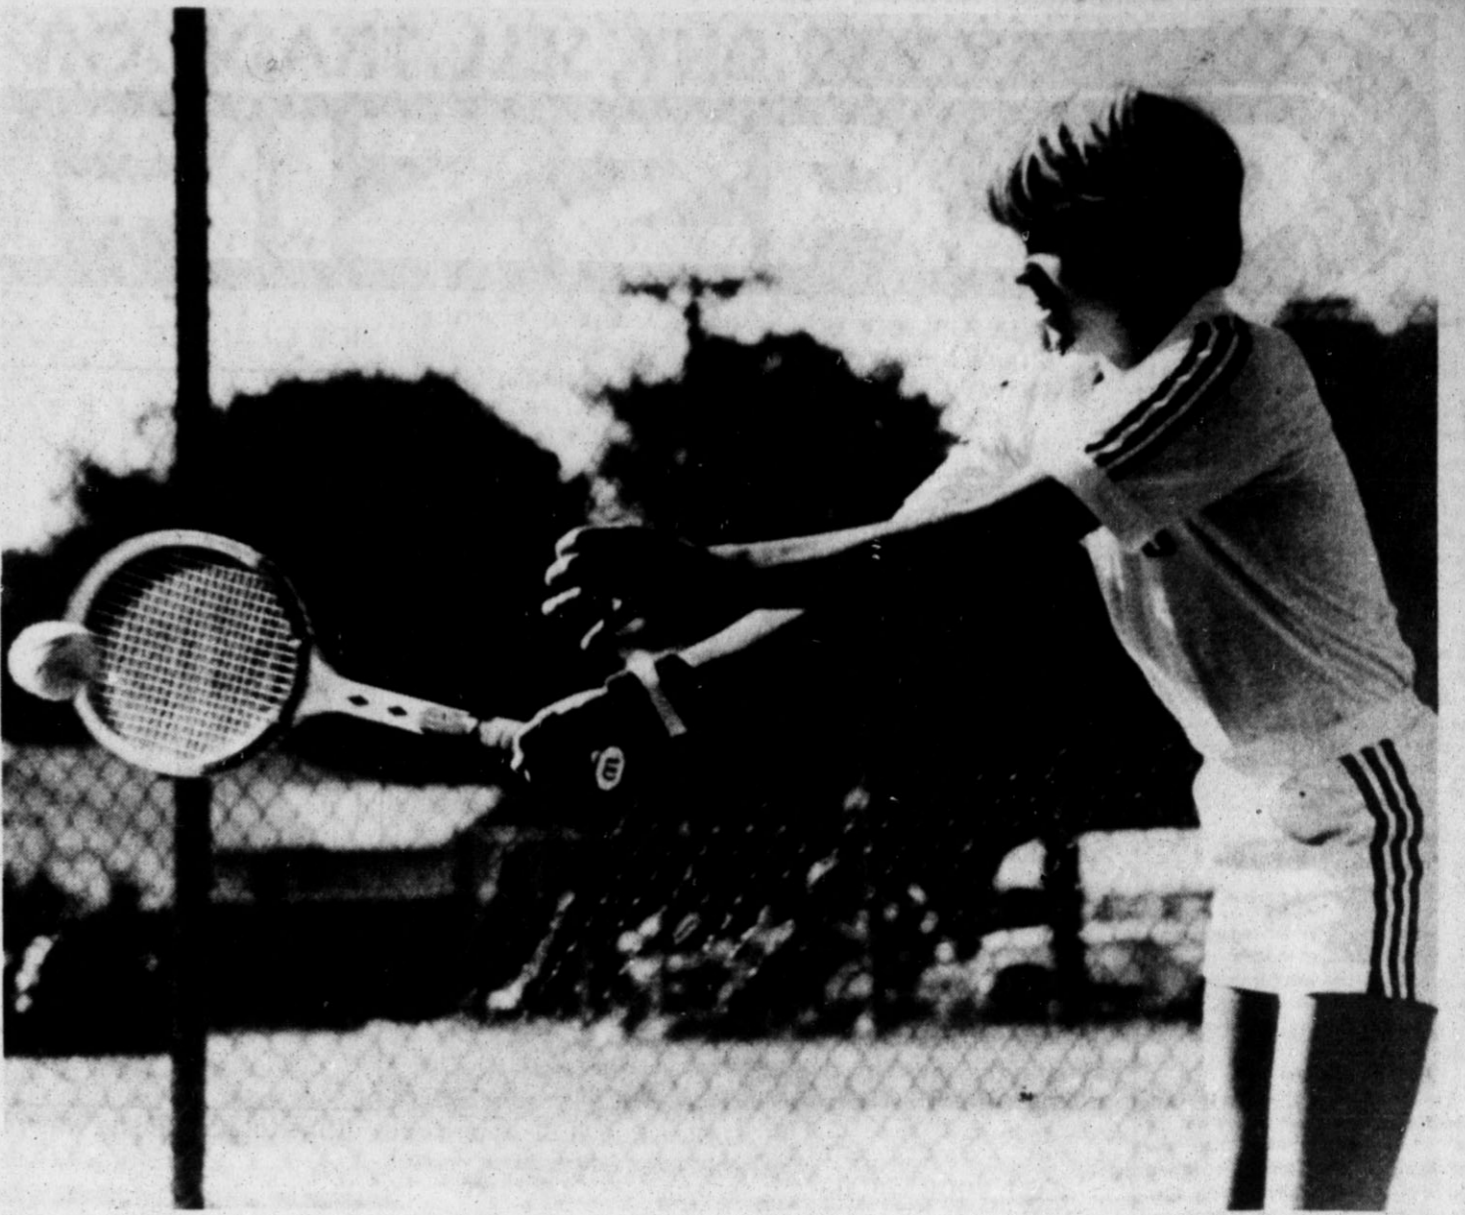

Doyle Alexander picked up his 10th victory, working into the eighth inning before he was replaced by Rick Camp because of leg cramps. Atlanta's Glenn Hubbard homered in the third inning, a two-run shot off Bob Welch that followed Alexander's single.

Phillies 3, Cardinals 2

Pitcher Steve Carlton drove in the eventual winning run and became the NL's first 17-game winner with the help of a superb defense and a key two-run single by Larry Bowa.

The Cardinals' John Fulgham pitched four perfect innings before the Phillies scored all their runs in the fifth.

Mike Schmidt walked and was forced by Garry Maddox. Manny Trillo doubled Maddox to third and Bowa then singled, sending the Phillies ahead 2-1 and taking second on the throw to the plate.

NASSAU, The Bahamas Nassau is colorful and exciting. See Fort Charlotte with its eerie dungeons... Blackbeard's Tower... or the famed Straw Market. Beautiful scenery, sandy beaches with crystal-clear water and British-style "bobbies" make Nassau a delightfully different port.

ST. CROIX, U.S. Virgin Islands You'll love St. Croix. It's a spectacular island of rolling green hills and fairytale Danish architecture. World-reknowned for abundant duty-free shopping, the island also boasts fascinating historic sites, including 18th century Danish sugar plantations.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico You'll sense the excitement of this foreign atmosphere the moment you land. San Juan is alive with great cabaret shows, elaborate casinos, boutiques and fabulous restaurants. Visit El Moro Castle, Old San Juan and the old fortress of San Geronimo... San Juan is a delight!

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Too young to be so tired

DEAR DR. LAMB - I respectfully request that you address yourself to something concerning my health which is giving me more than a little concern. I am a female, born in 1916. I have been in moderately good health, height 5-feet-2. On my last physical five months ago I weighed 124 pounds, consistent with my usual weight. Six weeks later I weighed 108 pounds and have stayed at that weight. My doctor's nurse says this is due to aging. I require more sleep and am lacking in energy and endurance. Please advise me, if you find it pleasing to you.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I recently became involved with a group of "health" food enthusiasts. I've always thought I had a well-balanced diet but I would like your opinion on my sample diets that I'm enclosing. I'm 5-feet-5 and weigh 108 pounds. Everyone says I'm too thin but when I weighed 120 pounds, I had a roll in the middle and very heavy thighs and the veins in my legs bothered me. Now I'm more active and my legs don't turn so blue in the veins and I don't tire easily. Do I have to eat more if I feel great already? I need an answer from you that I can use when people tell me I'm too skinny. They also comment on how my bones show in the neck area.

DEAR DR. LAMB - A recent blood check at a senior citizen's blood testing program indicated that my triglycerides were quite high. I understand this is due to an excessive fat intake. Do you have any information or diet regime that one could use to reduce this level?

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer
Has ant problems

DEAR POLLY - Each summer we have a terrible problem with black ants, even though we spray outside and in the basement inside. I understand this is what exterminators do, except they spray throughout the house and I am reluctant to do this. We are desperate and would appreciate any suggestions you or the readers may have. - MARY M.

DEAR POLLY - I had at all possible try to find where the colony of ants starts from - possibly outdoors. If you see decayed wood any place look all around it and under rocks and stones. If the colony is discovered keep pouring boiling water on the hole. If the colony cannot be discovered you can safely spray borax powder where you see them but it must be freshened often. Fly spray will kill random ones but not a big infestation as you seem to have. It may be necessary to call a professional exterminator as the ant colony could be in the woodwork or some place you cannot see. - POLLY

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

Steven D. Bookout, Pastor
15th & Ave. F

Faith is your haven of refuge in a troubled world.

In today's world of strife and torment, we can hardly listen to a news report without being plunged into a morass of deep despair by all the accounts of war, crime, corruption, economic woes, shortages and predictions of further disaster; with the feeling of gloom perhaps reinforced by some experience in our own lives. In times like this, it becomes more important than ever to turn to God as an unailing source of comfort and the assurance that with His help and guidance we will survive these storms that would seem to threaten our very existence. Take refuge in your Church this Sunday.

Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom; Lead thou me on!
— John Henry,
Cardinal Newman
