

STARTLING FIGURES ON HEALTH OF CHILDREN IN MISS HYER'S REPORT

GREATEST TROUBLE HERE SEEMS TO BE UNDER-WEIGHT; SUMMERFIELD CHILDREN ARE NEAREST NORMAL, SAYS EXPERT

RECOMMENDS PERMANENT NURSE

Red Cross Trying to Secure Temporary Nurse, but Board Goes on Record as Favoring Employment of Trained One Who has Specialized in Dieting for Children

Who would have supposed that out of 706 school children in this community only 65 are within one pound of their correct weight—the normal weight that spells health? Or that 185 of this number have defective teeth? And that 88 of them have defective eyes? Not to mention that 479 are under-weight?

Yet that's what the expert examination given local school children the past month by Miss Pearl Hyer, Public Health Nurse, revealed. In detail Miss Hyer's report to the local school board shows a lot of other things, but here are the statistics of her work in the city schools, during Fair week, and at Summerfield:

Number of children examined in all	706
Number that were within one pound of their correct weight	65
Number that were from 5 to 45 lbs. under-weight	254
Number that were from 12 to 100 lbs. over-weight	53
Number that were from 2 to 5 lbs. under-weight	225
Number with enlarged tonsils	188
Number that ought to be examined for adenoids	26
Number that have defective hearing	62
Number that have defective teeth	185
Number that need gums attended to	31
Number that should have their vision tested out	88
Number with flat feet	24

In commenting on her work here, among other things, Miss Hyer said: "All of the above defects can be corrected, and if every parent would have their child thoroughly examined each and every year a great deal of trouble could be prevented later on in life. "No boy should be allowed to play on the foot ball team until he has had a thorough examination of his heart and lungs, and then you are not taking chances of having your boy break down later on. "Summerfield school is the first school that I have examined 25 children and not found one at least, that would be over 5 pounds under weight, but here there were only two children and they were only two pounds under. This is a splendid record for that school.

"The serious question here is the question of under-weight, and every parent should find out why their child is so much under. The authorities on this question state that a child that is ten percent under is, at least backward, in their physical and mental development."

The local school board is very intensely interested in the health of the school children and some time ago secured the services of Miss Hyer from the Texas Public Health Association.

The Texas Public Association is supported by the sale of the Knas Red Cross Seals every year, a campaign for which will open soon. The Association paid Miss Hyer's salary and expenses to Hereford, while the board took care of her local expense.

She began work on October 4 and left last Saturday November 7. Members of the board and of the Parent-Teacher Association are unanimous in the verdict that her stay here was of tremendous and vital import to the future welfare of the growing children. A movement is now on foot to secure a permanent nurse. The Red Cross has agreed to secure one for three months but this is not enough, declare members of the board, and there should be a nurse here all the year around. Chairman Parker of the board stated that all go to great pains to secure a balanced ration for white faced cows, blooded hogs and poultry; and it seemed to him of much more importance that balanced rations for children be supplied first. Mr. Parker said that the number of children in the community under-weight is alarming and that the remedy can only be secured by impressing upon parents the necessity for feeding their children the right kind of foods.

The consensus of opinion among those who studied the work of Miss Hyer seems to be that in order to follow up and secure real and permanent benefit from it, it will be necessary to secure the services of an all-year round nurse, especially equipped to handle diet for school children; and that definite steps in this direction would be taken at once.

PAUL GUTHRIE IS RADIO INSTRUCTOR AT THE U. OF T.

Paul Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Guthrie of Hereford, is now in charge of a new department of Radio work at the University of Texas.

Paul served Uncle Sam during the war as an operator on one of the mine sweepers in the North Sea. A dispatch from Austin under date of November 6 has the following to say about the new department:

"Twenty students of the University of Texas are enrolled for a course in the principles of radio work to extend over a period of four or five months. Upon completion of the course an examination for licenses will be held, and those securing licenses will be eligible for positions during the summer on ocean-going liners. The twenty men who are to be admitted to the course were chosen on a competitive basis from a number of applicants. W. P. Guthrie is at the head of the project."

TIME CHANGES TO GO INTO EFFECT ON NEXT SUNDAY

The Santa Fe railroad announces several changes in the time of its trains, effective next Sunday. Only slight alterations are noted locally. Under the new schedules train No. 22, east bound, will arrive at 10:02 a. m. instead of 9:50 as heretofore; and train No. 117, west bound, will arrive at 10:37 p. m. instead of 10:35.

A large number of changes are scheduled to occur in trains in and out of Amarillo.

ROYAL SHOW WILL ATTRACT COWMEN FROM COMMUNITY

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barber left Hereford this week for Kansas City, where they will attend the American Royal Stock Show, November 13-20. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dameron were billed to leave here next Saturday for the same purpose.

It is understood that Jones & Dameron, J. H. Bowers, and Ray Barber shipped several head of registered Herefords to the Show and Sale.

NEW ROAD ASS'N PLACES SIGNS ON COUNTY HIGHWAY

The C. A. M. A. Circle Automobile Men's Association of America has located one of their routes, designated as No. 7, through Hereford, and is marking the highway leading down the Santa Fe railway line. The colors are black and white, and danger signals are to be erected to aid travelers.

The Association is a similar one to that issuing the Blue Book, the official guide for automobile tourists, and issues a book along the same general lines. Local business men interested in this new route are the Magnolia Filling Station, Hereford Garage and Clark Drug Store.

COLD WEATHER IS HERE; PREDICTION FOR FRIDAY COLD

The real thing in the way of Winter is here at last. Thursday was a grey, cold day, with the clouds looking like snow. The Weather Man wired The Brand that freezing temperature, ranging between sixteen and twenty above, might be expected Friday morning.

Armistice Day

Armistice Day was not officially celebrated in Hereford, although the banks and many business houses closed. The schools did not turn out and there was no program.

First "War Bride" and "War Baby" Now Residing in Northern Portion of This County

Deaf Smith county's first bona fide "war bride" and "war baby" are now peacefully domiciled on a ranch north of Hereford under the care and protection of the sailor husband and father, with only memories left of the exciting days of courtship and marriage under lowering war clouds.

The bride is Mrs. Woodson Dyer, and the baby, but a few months old, has been named Charles Mackenzie Dyer. The husband is a son of J. E. Dyer, who resides near Wildorado, in the northeastern part of this county, and the bride was Miss Daisy Mackenzie of Inverness, Scotland.

The story of the romance of this young couple is typical of the many similar accounts brought home from "over there" by the boys who served Uncle Sam in the Great War. Young Woodson left Hereford and enlisted in the navy at Dallas in May, 1917. He was sent to the Great Lakes, Ill., training station and from there was sent to Philadelphia in September, 1917. On October 22 he sailed on the "St. Louis" for Liverpool, and a little later joined the crew of the Destroyer "Jones" at Queenstown, Ireland, for convoy service in chasing submarines out of the North Sea.

Shortly afterwards the "Jones" was torpedoed, two hours later Dyer was picked up by relief boats and taken to Queenstown, where after two weeks he was transferred to Inverness, Scotland, at Base 18, in charge of the guard company. Here he met his future wife.

After being transferred around to several points and suffering a seige of the "Flu" Dyer obtained fifteen days leave of absence while at Southampton and went back to Inverness to be married, the ceremony being performed in St. John's Church April 21, 1919.

After the young husband was

called back to duty and husband and wife did not see each other until October 1, 1919.

At the time of the marriage Miss McKenzie was a telephone operator in the Woman's Royal Naval Service, where she served her country for a year. Her station was at Aberdeen, Scotland. Following her marriage Mrs. Dyer sailed from Liverpool on the S. S. "President Grant" on September 6, 1919, and came on to Amarillo via New York, arriving at Amarillo September 27, where she was joined three days later by her husband after his discharge.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer are now located on the J. L. Whitsett Ranch, 15 miles north of Hereford, and the Scottish bride is rapidly adjusting herself to her new surroundings.

CLOVIS TRIMS LOCAL HIGH ELEVEN TO 7; STRONG WAYLAND TEAM NOSES OUT LOCAL TOWN TEAM

Hereford staged a football field day last Friday—and emerged from the fracas with a pair of black eyes. One of the largest crowds of the season journeyed out to the High School grounds to witness a double bill. They saw the home boys lose twice, but they were given their money's worth.

In the first game the Clovis High eleven flattened out our local school athletes 20 to 7. In the last game the strong Wayland College team from Plainview gained the decision over our Town Huskies by a narrow margin due mainly to the fact that they were in better training, had keener team work and had better wind. Clovis won because the local boys have been without a coach all year and play an individual game instead of a team game. In consequence they could not fathom the Clovis interference. Man for man Hereford has the better team—the difference lay in coaching.

Prof. D. A. Shirley of the Canyon Normal, refereed both games, and made a good job of it.

Clovis 20, Hereford 7

Clovis used an old Georgia Tech tandem formation behind the line, with several men in front of the man with the ball on each play. This play has been easily spoiled by trained teams, but Hereford was helpless before its sweep and the visitors slowly plugged along, first around one wing and then around the other, making short but steady gains. This consistent hammering won out. Hereford's score came when Buster Lewis pounced on a fumbled punt behind the line. Hereford showed several shifts from previous games, McIntyre being used at half while two second-string men went into the line, Paul Smith at center and Alban at left end. Both Alban and Lewis played good games at end, considering all things, while McIntyre showed promise of making a corking good back. Individually, the work of Lewis at right end was outstanding.

In Detail

Clovis kicked off to Hereford. Ball in play on 38 yard line. Jowell 7 yards through center; McIntyre no gain left end; forward pass failed; Hereford penalized five yards; Jowell punted across goal line; Clovis ball on their own 20 yard line.

Clovis hit right tackle for 6; Jowell threw runner around left end for no gain; right end run failed to gain; a fake kick netted only 1 yard. Hereford takes ball on 32 yard line.

Facing high wind Jowell makes two bad kicks before getting off a good one; Clovis' ball on their 46 yard line; play around left end makes 17 yards; through center for 3; left end 1; right end 3; right tackle 4; left end 2; right tackle 2; left tackle 1; Hereford penalized 5 for off side; right tackle 3; left tackle no gain; around left end for touchdown. Goal is kicked; Score: Clovis 14, Hereford 7.

Clovis kicks to Hereford; ball in play on 25 yard line; Terry through right tackle for 5; Clovis penalized 5; McIntyre makes no gain through right tackle; McIntyre through center for 2; Jowell left end 5; Jowell center 4; forward pass is intercepted and Clovis has ball on 52 yard line.

PLAN TO HOLD BANQUET ON DECEMBER 14

COMMERCIAL CLUB DIRECTORS THINK TIME AT HAND

MORE MEMBERS

Idea is to Complete Membership Rolls and Get "Live Ones"

On Tuesday night, December 14, the Hereford Chamber of Commerce will hold a big Membership rally and banquet. A nice dinner will be served by one of the ladies' organizations of the city, and an effort will be made to secure the memberships of all the enterprising people of the county.

This step was decided upon at last Monday's luncheon. The membership banquet had been on the docket for several weeks, but owing to the Fair and many other pressing matters, it has been deferred for the time being.

Only the business men were solicited for support at the organization of the Chamber in September. They have responded liberally, and steady committee work is now in progress. But it is felt that every man and woman in the county should have a personal interest in the work of the Chamber, and it is hoped to secure the major portion of those still out at this get-together banquet.

The committee having the banquet in charge consists of W. E. Dameron, chairman, W. E. Dunlap and Homer Fox.

The dinner last Monday was attended by fourteen interested men, and reports of the progress of the work now under way were heard. With the election over, as well as details of the Fair, new measures for the public welfare will be instituted at once.

The public is always cordially invited to participate in the weekly luncheons held on Monday at noon. The meeting next Monday will be held at the Morrison Cafe.

Football Game With Clarendon Is Called Off

The football game scheduled for Saturday with Clarendon College has been called off by H. T. Burton, coach of the Clarendon team.

Mr. Burton gave as his reasons for calling the game off: first, the bad weather and the condition of the roads make it impossible to come in cars, and the expense by rail is almost prohibitive; second, the weakened condition of his team—six men out of the game on account of injuries, one of whom broke his spine in practice yesterday; third, a College championship game, scheduled for the middle of next week with Wayland at Amarillo, which he believes it would be impossible to play if they came here Saturday.

Mr. Burton says that he is sorry conditions are such that it became necessary to take this step. He also states that Clarendon could not put up their usual game, and that it would probably be a disappointment.

The town boys had prepared for this game. They anticipated a hard fight, but were expecting to win. The fans were looking forward to this game and will be disappointed.

T. E. SHIRLEY IS DODGING COLD ON CALIFORNIA COAST

T. E. Shirley left Hereford Tuesday for California, where he will spend part of the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Elster Halle. Later on he expects to go to Phoenix, Arizona, for the balance of the winter.

Mr. Shirley says that the climate at Phoenix seems to benefit him more than any other place he has found, and he is making a custom of visiting there during the winter months.

Attention Given Farm Implements Pays Dividends

In this day of complicated machinery most farmers probably give little thought to the care of so simple an implement as a plow. But more effort has been expended in the slow process of developing this seemingly simple tool than in that of any other implement on the farm. It is the basic tillage tool, the fundamental farm implement, and it is richly entitled to be properly cared for when not in use.

Should be Stored in Dry Place
When laid by, say the implement experts, the plow should, if possible, be stored in a dry place, away from contact with the ground. In any case, the bright parts should always be coated with grease to prevent rust. Once the mold board and share have become pitted with rust, an efficient job of plowing cannot be done until the corroded parts again have acquired a polish by use.

The United States Department of Agriculture, of course, does not stop with the plow in its admonition in this regard. Harrows, also relatively simple but tremendously important implements, are, next to plows, most generally neglected. Many farmers who would not neglect an expensive harvesting machine, say the experts, are careless as to harrows and other implements of this type. But these, also, represent capital invested, and a larger return is possible if they are properly cared for at the end of the season.

If harrows are stored under a shed, the teeth should be supported by blocks or boards, so that they will not become embedded in the ground. All accumulations of earth and trash should be removed. This is especially applicable to wooden-frame harrows. The earthy accumulations retain moisture and accelerate decay. When the wooden parts have dried out sufficiently they should be painted, to prevent season checking and splitting. As the harrow works in wet earth and close to the ground, deterioration is rapid once checking has started.

If the disk harrow is stored in a shed or other floorless building, the disk gangs should be run upon boards so the disks will not become embedded in the ground. Whether housed or not, the implement should be carefully cleaned of all accumulations of soil, and the disks should be greased with a heavy grease to prevent rust. The paint, particularly on the wooden parts, should be renewed frequently.

Get the Mower Under Shelter

Mowers, more generally than plows and harrows, are put under shelter, but many of them spend the winter at the edge of the meadow where the last cutting of hay was made, and in most cases they are not properly greased, even when sheltered. Get the mower under shelter if possible. In any case, clean the knife bar, wipe it with a greasy rag, and store in a dry place. Place a block of wood or other support under the mid-point of the tongue, so that it will not acquire a permanent sag. If the mower is stored with the cutter bar in a vertical position, place a block of wood under the shoe to take the weight off the frame. All accumulations of vegetable matter and dirt should be removed and all bearings and other bright parts of the machine oiled or greased. Much the same rules apply to reapers and binders.

The time to care for each implement is when its work is finished. Pressure of other work, however, frequently makes this inconvenient, but nothing should be allowed to interfere with getting all machinery greased, and, if possible, under cover before the beginning of winter. Then, as early in the winter as you can find time for it, go over every piece and see what repairs are needed. If new parts have to be ordered, order them at once. A great deal of valuable time is lost every spring waiting for repair parts to arrive from the city.

The best possible use should be made of such housing space as is available, and grease and paint should be used without stint. Any farm implement with bearings and bright parts well protected with heavy grease is better off out in the weather than standing in a shed without any protection by grease or oil. The United States Department of Agriculture has two bulletins—Farmers' Bulletin 946 and Farmers' Bulletin 947—devoted to the repair and adjustment of farm implements. With all implements safely sheltered for the winter, you have time to write for these bulletins and to use the information they contain in putting your implements and machines in the best possible condition for next crop season.

BOVINA

Lillian Ezell has been quite sick, but is better at present.

Bovina is suffering every day from having no hotel whatever. When strangers come to town they either have to trust to luck to get a room in a home, or else move on. This condition should not be allowed to exist. There is a good opening here for at least a rooming house.

Mr. Wakefield has bought the Hecox home and will occupy same within a few days. Mrs. Hecox will join her husband, who has gone to Arnett, Okla., to study law.

Mrs. Spring has been quite ill, but is up now.

Mrs. Martin, of Friona, was a brief visitor here last week. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Hecox.

Mrs. Berggren and children have gone to Farwell for the winter, where the latter are attending school.

Last Friday night the Missionary Ladies gave a very successful Parcel Post sale and fish pond. They netted over $105.

Several things happened while your correspondent was away attending conference, the most important of which was the wedding of a popular young couple of this vicinity. The contracting parties were Harry L. Green and Miss Helen Ross. Mr. Green has for the past several months been agent for the Santa Fe here, and the bride is the daughter—of M. Ross, one of Bovina's most successful farmers. They are now at home in Bovina.

Last Wednesday night a few of the friends of B. P. Abbott surprised him with a "stag" party, in honor of his birthday. We do not know just which one he celebrated, but we wish him many more to enjoy.

The new garage will be open for the public right away, as will also the barber shop and short order establishment.

JERUSALEM ARTICHOKE ARE GOOD

Have you ever eaten Jerusalem artichokes? They are an excellent fall and winter vegetable and, by the way, not an artichoke at all but a member of the sunflower family. In some ways they are like potatoes, but they differ just enough, in flavor and texture to add pleasing variety to the daily meals. Before potatoes came to be a popular stand-by Jerusalem artichokes, steamed, boiled, or made into soup were a common dish, but nowadays they are somewhat neglected. They are still for sale during the fall and winter in many city markets and they can be grown in practically any home garden if the soil is well drained.

Here are some good ways of using Jerusalem artichokes in the menu:

Boll the tubers in salted water until they are tender, just as you would potatoes. The skins may be removed either before or after boiling. Combine the artichokes with cream sauce, or serve them with melted butter, salt, and pepper.

Cold boiled artichokes make a delicious salad when combined with mayonnaise, French, or boiled dressing and served on a bed of lettuce or other salad greens. Many persons prefer this to potatoe salad, for the artichokes have more flavor and are less starchy than potatoes. Jerusalem artichokes may also be used raw in salad, like radishes. They are particularly crisp if left in the ground all winter and dug before they begin to grow in the spring.

Former Hereford Girl Married

Friends of Miss Lillie Jewell Allen, a former Hereford girl, will be interested in the announcement of her marriage on Thursday, Nov. 4th, to Mr. Wheeler Answorth Thomas, of Dallas.

The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. C. Smyth, of Fort Worth, Rev. Forrest Smith, of the Broadway Baptist church officiating.

A beautiful setting for the pretty ceremony was produced by an elaborate use of exquisite chrysanthemums in bronze and yellow combined with fern and ivy. The wedding arch between the reception hall and dining room was formed of the ivy whose glistening foliage brought out the beauty of two baskets of lovely chrysanthemums placed on either side of the opening. In the center of the table a handsome cut glass basket of chrysanthemums tied with yellow tulle was beautiful under the light from yellow shaded candles in cut glass candlesticks also tied with tulle and placed at the four corners.

The bride wore a handsome tailored suit of brown velvety with harmonizing accessories and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses, lilies of the valley and fern.

At seven thirty the bridal couple, preceded by the minister, entered from an open stairway to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Robert Ball, "Tronneri" being played softly through the ceremony immediately following which an informal reception was held.

The young couple left the same evening for New Orleans, where they will spend a few weeks before going to Dallas where they will make their home.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. W. H. Ray of this city. After finishing high school she attended T. C. U., Decatur College and C. I. A. and has been a teacher of literature in the schools of Fort Worth. The groom is a former school friend and a business man of Dallas.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. W. H. Ray of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thomas and daughters, of Dallas, Miss Jeanette Allen of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Mason Cleveland and Miss Leon White of Cleburne, and Mrs. Clyde Buchanan of Itasca.

Mrs. Witherspoon Honored

An afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. Ferguson honoring Mrs. C. G. Witherspoon, of Waxahachie, was enjoyed by the ladies of the Presbyterian Missionary Society on Wednesday.

Pleasantly informal, the afternoon was a delight to all present, a musical program adding much pleasure.

Pumpkin pie with whipped cream, sandwiches and chocolate furnished a delicious refreshment course that was served to about fifty ladies.

Hereford was formerly the home of Mrs. Witherspoon and the courtesy extended by Mrs. Ferguson afforded an appreciated opportunity for meeting many with whom she was closely associated years ago.

Bay View Club

Thursday's meeting of the Bay View Club was marked by keen interest and evident appreciation of the great drama being unfolded in the interesting lessons on "Othello."

"Current Notions of Witchcraft in Shakespeare's Day" was the subject of a paper in which Mrs. Ray Barber brought the day of the Puritans both in Europe and America vividly before her auditors.

A pen picture of the island of Cyprus by Mrs. J. Frank Potts furnished the setting for the lesson. Ingo's picture of Desdemona was portrayed in a memory sketch by Mrs. W. E. Dameron.

The lesson questions and the text of Act II, Scene I, concluded the program.

Miss Clara Dunlap was hostess for the afternoon.

Entertains Classmates

The boys and girl of the 9th grade in the public schools were given a delightful evening Wednesday when little Miss Mary Elizabeth Wilkinson entertained her entire room with a line party, honor guests of the occasion being her teachers, Misses Marie Haberer and Faye Burrus, and Mrs. Jim Lipscomb.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson had charge of the jolly bunch of kiddies who met at the Star Theatre promptly at 6:30 and whose pleasure in the evening's entertainment was so manifest. The pictures were well adapted to the understanding and appreciation of the children as well as being an appeal to their better instincts and furnished a pleasing and instructive entertainment.

After the play, the party was taken to the Geo. E. Burns pharmacy and served with ice cream cones.

About thirty children enjoyed the hospitality of their charming hostess.

Hear the star of the American concert platform. Oscar Seagle, Dec. 2nd, Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Barnett Honored

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clark was the scene of one of the largest and most enjoyable of the week's social events, when on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Clark entertained a party of friends in honor of Mrs. Ralph Barnett, who is leaving Friday to spend the winter in California.

The receiving rooms were most attractively arranged for the occasion, the roseate glow from tinted shades adding to the effectiveness of a charming scheme of floral decoration with baskets and vases of chrysanthemums furnishing the keynote. Ferns and pot plants completed the picture of cheery hospitality so welcome in contrast to the crisp winter atmosphere outside.

Forty-two was the diversion of the afternoon, the players responding to the congenial environment with un wanted animation and interest.

A delicious salad course with coffee was served to the large number of guests who enjoyed the delightful afternoon.

Do you love music? Hear the best. Oscar Seagle, Dec. 2nd, Presbyterian Church.

Music Study Club

A very pleasant meeting of the Music Study Club on Monday evening had for its hostesses Mesdames E. V. Allen and Cliff Estes with Mrs. H. H. Hawkins as leader of the interesting lesson study on style, figure, melody, and thematic work.

Illustrative examples included vocal and instrumental numbers and a concise analysis of style and interpretation in an excellent paper by Miss Williamson.

Miss Lambert's "Tocatta in D Minor," by Bach, was a brilliant rendering of a difficult study. In contrast to this Mrs. Norton's "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls," pleasingly illustrated simple melody. Miss Zena Owen, in her artistic rendering of Moffat's "The Skylark," made the melody of this famed warbler very real to her listeners. Mrs. Monday's selection from McDowell's "Sea Pieces" was a charming interpretation of this favorite composer, while the sweetly melodic tones of Tchaikowski's "Cradle Song," as sung by Miss Swisher, was a delight to the ear.

An innovation that was much enjoyed was a costume rendering of the Scotch melodies "I'm Wearing Awa' Jean" and "By the Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond," by Mrs. Allen, her number closing the program.

A great man, a great singer, a great American. Oscar Seagle, Dec. 2nd, Presbyterian Church.

Bennett-Gass

A quiet wedding celebrated on Sunday afternoon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. John Meyer Asbell, pastor of the Christian Church, united the lives of two of Hereford's most esteemed young people, Miss Dimple Gass and Mr. Earl V. Bennett.

Following a simple marriage service the young couple left immediately for Amarillo, where they will make their home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett represent the worthiest type of young manhood and womanhood. Both have spent practically all their lives here and have been a valued part of the community life. The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gass, is a young lady of charming personality, culture and genuine worth. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bennett and is an exemplary young man of good address and recognized ability. He is one of Deaf Smith County's honored ex-service men and since his return from the army has been employed as traveling salesman for the Texas M. and M. Co. with headquarters at Amarillo.

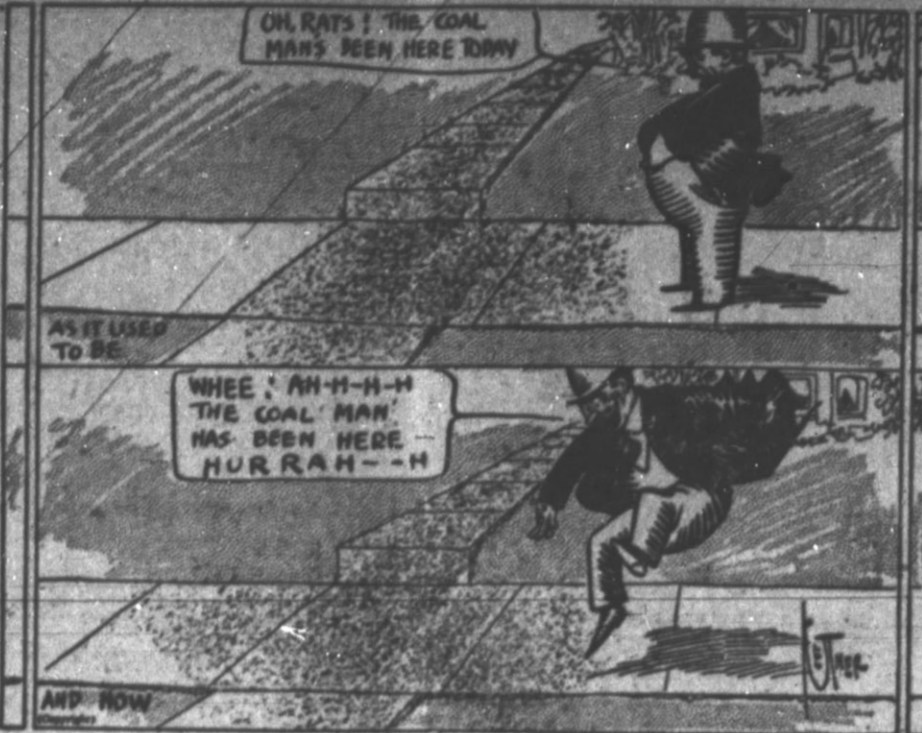

The good wishes of a community of friends follow these young people to their new home.

Pastor's Reception

A social courtesy expressive of the high regard of the congregation of the Baptist Church for their retiring pastor, Rev. J. E. McClurkin, and his family, was extended on Monday evening in a beautiful "At Home," given by the W. M. U. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hicks at which the hostesses were Mesdames John Brownlee, J. H. Pitman, W. H. Fuqua, Edgar Johnson, H. G. Conkright, W. E. Hicks and Miss Miller.

In the reception hall, a pleasing color effect in white and yellow was obtained through an artistic blending of chrysanthemums with crepe paper. The open stairway was transformed into a graduated floral piece in which the blossoms and paper ornamentations were charmingly intermingled. The table from which punch was served was completely covered with chrysanthemums, their pretty coloring reflected in the handsome cut glass punch bowl. The softened glow from yellow shaded lights completed an enchanting picture.

The library showed a similar color treatment while the dining room, featuring decorations of roses and carnations in pink and white, with pink shades, rivalled the other rooms in beauty.

The guests were received by Mesdames Browlee and Johnson and directed to the table where punch was served by Mrs. Earl Wilson. In the library an enjoyable musical program contributed to by Misses Bonnie Chamness, Elizabeth Oberthier, Helen Lambert and Mrs. Cliff Estes, was supplemented by graphophone numbers. A beautiful hand decorated guest book in charge of Mrs. J. W. Hicks and in which the guests were registered, was presented to the honor guests.

A refreshment course consisted of fruit salad, pressed chicken, sandwiches, pickles, celery and chocolate.

A formal goodbye to Rev. and Mrs. McClurkin was an impressive close to the evening's program. In the line with the honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes, Miss Robinson, and Miss Mattea McClurkin. As the large party of guests filed by in farewell greeting to a beloved pastor, their appreciation of the genuine worth, capable leadership, untiring zeal, and sterling Christian character of both Mr. and Mrs. McClurkin, was expressed in good wishes for their happiness and success in their new field of labor.

Rev. McClurkin is recognized as one of the very strong men who have occupied a Hereford pulpit and this expression of esteem upon the part of his congregation, speaks the sentiment of the entire community.

America's greatest-concert singer, Oscar Seagle, Dec. 2nd, Presbyterian Church.

Free Matinee, Big Success

The second picture show which was given free by the Merchants and the management of the STAR THEATRE last Saturday afternoon, for the out-of-town folks was well attended, as the tickets checked up, proved to be nearly 500. If the out-of-town folks will call upon their merchants they will be given free tickets for themselves and all the family. The merchants and the Star Theatre are expecting a larger crowd than ever this Saturday. So do not forget the show starts at 2:30 p. m. and don't fail to come.

on 45 yard line. Clovis' ball; they go around left end to 31 yard line; beautiful forward pass across line makes touchdown. Goal missed. Score: Clovis 20, Hereford 7.

Clovis kicks to Hereford; ball in play on 25 yard line. Quarter up.

Fourth Quarter

Three forward passes in a row fail; Terry right tackle 2; Clovis' ball on 36 yard line.

The second struggle was a cracker-jack from start to finish. The teams were very evenly matched and the winner determined only after active training showed its effect. For Hereford the work of Wilkinson at center, McDonald at guard, Chamness at end, Skelton at quarterback and McLean and Acker in the backfield stood out prominently.

All three touchdowns made were put over with the aid of forward passes, neither eleven being able to put the ball across the line by straight football. All scoring was done in the last quarter. Hereford drew first blood when, after a series of line plunges and end runs a pass, Acker to McLean, was good for fifteen yards and a touchdown. A strong head wind spoiled the attempt at goal. Shortly afterwards Wayland took the lead by one point when, after a series of forward passes, they scored a touchdown and goal was kicked with the wind in their favor, making the score 7 to 6.

The visitor's last score was a pure fluke, and was put over with only twenty seconds left to play. Hereford was taking desperate risks with the forward pass, owing to the lack of

Blanton Objects To Naval Cruise; Pleads Economy

The Brand is in receipt of the following copy of a letter addressed by Congressman Thomas L. Blanton to Secretary of the Navy Daniels:

"HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES U. S., Washington, D. C. November 5, 1920.
Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.
My dear Mr. Secretary:
There has recently been placed on Pennsylvania Avenue at the corners of 7th, 9th, 10th and 13th streets large Navy two-sided billboards, advertising on one side an urgent appeal for navy enlistments, specifying in enticing terms sixteen different special inducements, with the opposite side of the billboard containing in attractive type the following:

"TWO HUGE U. S. FLEETS TO ENCIRCLE THE GLOBE
200 Fighting Ships, Most Powerful in American History, To Make Year's Voyage

"Washington, Oct. 17. The two great fleets that the Navy Department plans to send around the world next June will be the most powerful ever assembled under the American flag. It was stated here today. Each fleet will include approximately one hundred and ten units, selected with the greatest care from two hundred or more warships available. As described today this stupendous armada is aimed to be a spectacle that will impress the world with America's great naval power."

"And this Navy recruiting advertisement states that these two fleets will embrace the powerful dreadnaughts PENNSYLVANIA, ARIZONA, OKLAHOMA, NEVADA, KANSAS, UTAH, FLORIDA, DELAWARE, N. DAKOTA, MICHIGAN, S. CAROLINA, MINNESOTA, NEW HAMPSHIRE, NEW MEXICO, WYOMING, ARKANSAS, TEXAS and NEW YORK and the wonderful superdreadnaughts TENNESSEE, IDAHO and MISSISSIPPI, and that each fleet, the Atlantic and the Pacific, will be accompanied by numerous battleships, 8 cruisers, 80 destroyers and 10 auxiliary ships.
May I remind you that ever since the Armistice, just such seductive representations as the above have influenced hundreds of ambitious young lads, 15, 16 and 17 years old to run away from home, and with the connivance of recruiting officers, falsely swear that they were 18 years of age, and enlist in the Navy for a term of years, without their parents' knowledge, and later realizing their mistake, when parents sought a release, your Department has threatened their frantic mothers into the frightened belief that if a discharge is insisted upon, prosecution for false swearing will follow, and the son be dishonorably discharged, and turned loose hundreds of miles from home without mileage or travel allowance.

"I could not believe the assertions in this recruiting advertisement, or the similar newspaper reports thereof, so I went to see Admiral Robert E. Coontz, Chief of Naval Operations, who, while claiming that the above exaggerated the program, admitted that the Navy Department had the plan of a junketing on foot, denying however, its extent. I respectfully submit that in permitting these Navy recruiting advertisements to be publicly displayed on Pennsylvania Avenue here in Washington, the Navy Department thereby adopts and thereby becomes responsible for such assertions.

As one humble representative of the people, I hereby respectfully protest against this junketing trip. It should not be taken. Admiral Coontz advised me that he expects to defray expenses out of the general blanket appropriations. Congress has not authorized any such trip. In none of the appropriations made did Congress even contemplate such a trip. It is my belief that Congress will not authorize it. As one humble member I shall vote and vigorously fight against any appropriation proposed to pay for it. It is simply ridiculous.

"Naval statistics show that it would require at least 70 percent more coal and oil than ordinary, to run these two fleets on such a cruise. Considering the present fuel situation, aside from the enormous expense which should not now be incurred, it would be almost be criminal just now to waste the hundreds of thousands of gallons of oil and tons of coal necessary to operate our two big fleets on such a jaunt. There are now several thousand households in Washington absolutely without coal, and even when love nor money will procure it, we are now threatened with the price of coal going to $20 a ton. A serious shortage of gasoline is also threatened, with the price in some communities ranging now as high as 40 cents per gallon. Both England and France have been depending largely upon us for coal. Shipping has been retarded in many ports for lack of coal.

"Moreover, Mr. Secretary, I respectfully submit that this is no time for the United States to make a vain display of our submarines, destroyers, cruisers, battleships, dreadnaughts, and superdreadnaughts. It would cause every nation in the world to become apprehensive and suspicious, would cause many to become jealous, and would influence many to further grind their already over-burdened people with increased naval programs. And every new keel laid by any nation would cause every other, including ourselves, to use same as an excuse for laying additional keels and further increasing naval armaments.

"Our people are already tax-burdened. There is but one way to reduce taxes. We must quit spending. Our Government has no money except that it takes from the people. As you well know every time we spend public money our only way of providing it is to take it out of the pockets of the people in taxation. It matters not whether it is taken directly or indirectly, after all it comes from the people. The people of the United States who foot the bills have become tired of the waste and extravagance daily prevalent here in Washington.

Last Tuesday's election was not a repudiation of Democracy, or of a League of Nations, but it was a repudiation of wanton extravagance, high taxes and lawless anarchy permitted by Congress and for which Republicans are fully as much if not more to blame, though the people have held us Democrats responsible for it. There will be a League of Nations to enforce the peace of the world, entered into even by the incoming Republicans, for our people are tired of war. No war can occur between any two nations, however far removed, without vitally affecting our rights and interests. For we depend upon the markets of the whole world for a sale of our products. The people will learn that not since the war Congress convened in April, 1917 has there been a Democratic majority in the House of Representatives and that since May 17, 1919 the Republicans have been in absolute control of both House and Senate, and are justly responsible for present conditions, for which we Democrats have been whipped. It was a Republican Congress which caused Admiral Coontz to leave Washington tonight with a Congressional Committee on an expensive junketing trip to the naval bases on the Pacific coast and in addition to providing for the expenses to be paid out of the contingent funds, appropriated an additional $50,000. When the blame for present conditions is justly placed where it belongs, the people will soon be glad to have Democrats run their business again. I hope, Mr. Secretary, that you will not permit this world cruise. Life may grow monotonous, and being entertained in foreign ports is enticing, but our naval officers should forego it now, and seek diversion in their local clubs.

Very sincerely yours,
THOMAS L. BLANTON.

Double Alfalfa Yields is Goal Of Experiments

M. E. Dickson, Superintendent of Spur Texas Substation, Agricultural Experiment Station of A & M College, is engaged in an elaborate selection project looking to the development of a more prolific alfalfa.

After having determined that the common Texas alfalfa is the one best adapted to the vast "Red Beds" region in which his station is centrally located, Mr. Dickson has taken 26,000 individual plants of this variety and set them under equal and uniform conditions, 12 inches apart each way, in the test plot. He is carefully observing their behavior, involving the weighing of the hay produced by each plant, etc., and has now discovered about thirty plants in the entire test, to be outstanding in quality. These he will further observe, and from them will select probably three or four of the very best for a final contest for the honor of being chosen as the parent plant of what Mr. Dickson expects to be a superior, pure line alfalfa, capable of producing far better yields than are now possible from any general seed supply available.

When the test is completed and a supply of seed can be had from the increase plots, a general distribution will be made through the usual channels for dispersing a valuable find by the Experiment Station. The project has now progressed far enough to indicate a splendid success within another year or two.

There is nothing particularly magical about this very tedious enterprise. It is well known that cattlemen improve their herds by selecting the best individuals for breeding purposes. Animals with outstanding tendency toward the type desired are chosen to head the herds and it has come about due to such careful breeding, that whole herds may be found every individual of which, is of high quality and very like the others. It is plain that such a herd is worth far more than on composing, even a percentage of inferior animals.

Plant life is similarly improved. In a considerable number of plants, individuals may be noted which are very superior to other individuals; and it is here the plant breeder finds the most abundant reward for his efforts, by using for breeding purposes those types found most preferable, thereby establishing high-producing strains.

The farmer cutting his alfalfa may note that if every plant in his field were a good as the best plants, his yield would be, perhaps doubled. He knows it would pay him to see that all those plants are as good as the best and he is disappointed when he finds no source of selected seed supply. The Experiment Station hopes to meet this demand from results of the Spur project.

Alfalfa has been carried through the severest drouths at the Spur and the Lubbock substations and is producing both valuable hay and seed crops as well as grazing for hogs. At Lubbock, alfalfa, this season, in 36 inch rows has been cut three times, yielding at the first and third cuttings about a half ton per acre each cutting, and at the second cutting, yielded also a crop of seed worth $75.00 per acre rated at 30c per pound. At Spur it has not been found necessary to plant in drills and even greater yields result. On the Federal Station at Big Springs, Texas, row alfalfa is giving good yields. The subirrigated sections around Amarillo and Chillicothe are famous alfalfa sections. Thus it would seem that in nearly every part of west Texas, alfalfa can be grown successfully; and a better producing variety is therefore very desirable.

"The Big Church with a Big Welcome"
Pastor Asbell will start the series of sermons on, THE PROBLEMS OF THE HOME, Sunday night and continue them every Sunday night during the month of November. The first of the series is, "THE FAMILY IN OUR NATIONAL LIFE." There are forces operating in America today that would do away with our hopes, as well as all other institutions of freedom, therefore these home problems are well worth studying.

We feel sorry for the people who missed Dr. Lemmon last Sunday. He was a treat. He brought us three thrilling messages and his Philippine pictures will linger with us for a long time. We hope he will come to us again soon.

The young folks' class are planning something new in the way of a banquet. They are all going to meet at the church cook a supper, eat it, let off a barrel of oratorical fireworks, then wash the dishes and go home. If that won't be fun, I would like to know where you would go to find it. We want an average attendance of fifty in the young people's class. We have sixty names on our class books, and have room for all the young people who are not connected with some other church. Here is our program:
Bible School nine forty five.
Communion and preaching, ten forty five.

Christian Endeavor at five thirty.
Sermon, "Problems of the American Home," at seven p. m.
We are glad to welcome Neighbor Beavers on the block south of us. The churches are bunching up in our part of the town. The Presbyterians can sing "Will There be Any Stars in My Crown," the Methodists, "No Not One," and the Christians can sing "Oh, That Will Be Glory for Me."

There will be a meeting of the Official Board next Sunday at three o'clock in the church office and every member is asked to be present. Study of the Sunday School lesson and prayer service Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Guarantees Not Made Railroads Under U. S. Act

"The Earth," official organ of the Santa Fe railroad, has issued the following explanation of the Transportation Act, as relating to guaranteed returns to railroads:

"A good many citizens have the notion that the transportation law enacted by Congress early this year guarantees a minimum return of 6 percent to every railroad. The purpose of this bulletin is to correct that impression.

"Following the specific requirements of the new law, the Interstate Commerce Commission divided the United States into four regions for rate making purposes—(1) the eastern states; (2) the southern states; (3) the central part of the country, east of the Rocky Mountains, and (4) the territory west of the Rockies. This done, the Commission made a valuation of all the railroads by regions, and then established freight and passenger rates which, in its judgment, would give an aggregate return of 6 per cent on the total value of the railroad property in each region. But no individual road is guaranteed 6 per cent, nor any other rate of return.

"The law fixed 5 1-2 per cent as the minimum earnings on which the combined railroads of a region can safely operate, and gave the Commission the discretion of raising the minimum rate of return to 6 per cent, which was done in the case recently decided.

"Competition—one purpose of the law—is maintained in every region, and the railroads will fight for business as they did before the war. If any road fails to secure sufficient business to make 6 per cent on its valuation, it is out of luck, and must look to some source other than the government for direct relief; the law does not give it. If any road makes more than 6 per cent, it must split the excess earnings with the government for the creation of a fund from which weak roads may borrow in emergencies. If all the roads combined in a region earn 6 per cent, the law will be satisfied, even if some individual roads make nothing at all. If the earnings on the combined railroad property of the region are under 6 per cent, it becomes the duty of the Commission to readjust the rates.

"The Santa Fe System lies in the central and western regions, and its property, therefore, is valued in two regions for rate making purposes. Some of the Santa Fe's neighbors made money prior to federal control, and some of them lost. That situation may continue to obtain under the new law. While earnings for no road are guaranteed, the machinery of the law is supposed to work in such a manner that railroad credit will be improved, which will help the railroad industry generally, and give the public assurance of better service.

The government having taken the railroads and used them for its own purposes for 26 months, did, after it got through with them and returned them to their owners, guarantee earnings for half a year, to allow time for investigation of rates; but that period expired the last of August. The railroads now depend wholly on what they can earn on the rates fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

1 VINE YIELDS 40 POUNDS POTATOES

Nine sweet potatoes, aggregating forty pounds in weight, were dug Saturday from one vine by Henry Graf—nearly two-thirds of a bushel. Mr. Graf lives in the forks of Red and Pease rivers. The largest tuber of the nine weighs exactly seven pounds.

Mr. Graf dug two wagon loads of the potatoes from two rows extending across his garden. It is impossible to figure an acre yield with any degree of accuracy, but Mr. Graf says the vine which yielded forty pounds of potatoes was not very unusual. The yield from the two rows—not one-twentieth of an acre—was about forty-five bushels.

It is such yields of sweet potatoes as this which make many people in Wilbarger county anxious to see a drying house established in Vernon so that the crop might be cultivated commercially.—Vernon Record.

PANTHER IS KILLED IN COMANCHE CO.

A panther measuring six feet and six inches, and weighing 127 pounds, was brought to Comanche Tuesday morning and was the object of interest to hundreds of people who had never before had the opportunity of seeing one of these historic and dreaded animals.

It was killed Monday evening near the Buffalo school house in Wet Valley, about 12 miles northeast of Comanche by Scott brothers, Mac Roach, Clarence Haley, and Florence Londermilk, after it had been run down and treed with a pack of hounds. They shot him seven times—two shots being from highpowered rifles and five from shot guns. The animal had killed a yearling for Charlie Cathey on the Leon river on Saturday night before, and they had tracked him for some distance before the hounds gave him chase. Frank Cowden and Ernest Ballou followed the trail and assisted in bringing the animal to bay.

It was one of these same "critters" that went into the streets of Fort Worth one night back in the '70's and "made Fort Worth famous," giving it the name "Panther City." At that time they were quite numerous in the bottoms all along the Leon river in Hamilton and Comanche counties, and in the hills back from the water courses. Mexican lions and cougars which are very similar in appearance to the panther, were also found in great numbers and committed nightly depredations on stock. But they have long since practically disappeared, and where this one that was killed Monday evening came from it is hard to surmise, though probably there are still a few of them back in the rough hills.

The parties who killed this panther found that only a $5.00 bounty was offered for the scalp of such animals, and they did not care to have its ears cut off by the authorities. They may decide to have the hide converted into a rug. Standing upright the animal was 34 inches tall.—Comanche Chief.

SERIOUSLY HURT

While crossing the Denver track at Lela about nine o'clock this (Thursday) morning, Miss Ella Yeager, Red Cross nurse of Donley county, was seriously injured and her car demolished. That she escaped death is little more than a mystery. Her view of the oncoming east bound passenger being obstructed by the stock pens, she was not aware of her dangerous position until the train was upon her. She immediately steered her car in the direction in which the train was going that her car might not be overturned and pinned beneath the wheels of the engine. The auto was bumped over the ties for some distance, finally being cast to one side. Bystanders rushed to her assistance at once and lifted her was left of car intact. J. R. Mace and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mace rushed the injured nurse to the Adair hospital here where a local physician made an examination finding that she had received serious though not fatal injuries. The greatest injury was due to a crushing impact to the hips. Miss Yeager, though greatly shocked, displayed great presence of mind and an unusual amount of nerve, directing her assistants at all times as to what should be done.—Clarendon News.

Ralls Man Dies
In Gin Accident

Word was received in Lockney Thursday afternoon of the death of Claude Holland at Ralls. His death occurred from a cotton gin accident, in which Mr. Holland got caught in a belt. No further particulars were learned of the accident.

Claude Holland was a brother of Shorty Holland of Lockney. Deceased lived here for quite a while and is well known in Lockney. He was a splendid citizen, and a fine man, and his death is spoken of with general regret.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced at this time, but will probably be held in Lockney some time today or tomorrow. The Beacon extends sympathy to the bereaved ones in their sorrow.

Mr. Holland leaves a family and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his demise.—Lockney Beacon.

Binder Ties Boy
Fast in Bundle

We have heard of miracles and coincidents, but the following as told by the father of the little fellow who performed the miracle has all of them set aside, and probably nothing to equal it has ever been recorded: The strange incident occurred while E. M. Packett, who resides south of town in the Ideal, Texas community, was cutting some cane with a row binder. The little boy two years of age, was hiding in the cane. Unaware of his presence by the father, the little fellow was picked up by the binder, carried up the elevator through the machine, tied and thrown to the ground with half a bundle of cane. It was then Mr. Packett discovered what had happened, and after an investigation found that aside from a few slight scratches about the arms the fortunate boy was unharmed.—Texhoma (Oklahoma) Times.

REV. W. H. TERRY
NOW AT CANADIAN

The Rev. W. H. Terry and his family are now at home in the Methodist parsonage, having moved to Canadian from Hereford the first of the week.

Bro. Terry preached two excellent sermons at the church Sunday, and large audiences were out to get acquainted with the new Methodist pastor.

The Rev. M. M. Beavers and his family left the first of the week for their new home at Hereford, where Bro. Beavers is stationed for the current conference year as pastor of the Methodist Church. The many friends of this excellent family in this city send their best wishes with them to their charge at Hereford.—Canadian Record.

Origin of Word Booze
"Booze," a general term for intoxicating liquor, first became a synonym for whiskey back in the year 1840.

In that year occurred the celebrated "log cabin and hard cider" campaign of W. H. Harrison for the presidency. After he had been nominated by the Whigs his opponents sought to belittle him by describing him as a man who lived in a log cabin and drank hard cider. His friends succeeded in turning this in his favor. A log cabin carried on men's shoulders and followed by cheering crowds was made a prominent feature of political rallies.

In the heat of the campaign one E. J. Boose had quart whiskey bottles made in the shape of a log cabin. On the roof of the cabin were the words, "E. J. Boose's Log Cabin Whiskey." The liquor became fairly popular and soon drinkers got in the habit of designating it simply by the name of "booze," calling for a "bottle of booze" or "some booze." Thereafter the term came to be applied indiscriminately to intoxicating drinks in general.

HENRY FORD'S TRACTOR SETS NEW RECORD

Experimented Twelve Years to Perfect Tractor 150,000 in Use
Word comes from Henry Ford's tractor plant near Detroit, that Fordson production figures are jumping monthly, and that nearly half of the tractors now being manufactured in this country are Fordsons.

When the motor-wizard began experimenting with tractors some twelve years ago, he is credited with having promised farmers a machine that would make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant and profitable profession in the world." Deviating from old tractor beliefs and manufacturing customs, he set about building a light, mobile tractor—a tractor not especially for use on the big farms and ranches, but so constructed that it would handle the work on the smaller farms. The principles of manufacturing and selling which had brought the Ford car to success are now applied to the tractor. As a result nearly 150,000 Fordsons have gone into service; approximately one-third of the tractors in use in the United States are Fordsons—this, in spite of the fact that the Fordson has been on the market only a little over two years.

June was a great month in the Fordson industries, but it has been eclipsed by July. Not content with breaking production records once, the five Fordson assembly plants shattered the mark during July by turning out 9,766 Fordsons, or 617 more than in June. Never before have the Fordson plants smashed records on two consecutive months, and the hope is expressed in view of the production figures to date, that August will see still another high mark established. The plants averaged 375 tractors daily against 351 in June. The Dearborn Michigan plant has been doing the bulk of the work. In addition to supplying parts for work at other Fordson plants, 4,188 tractors were completed, which is nearly half the number which broke the record. At St. Louis, 2,101 tractor were turned out; 2,341 at Des Moines; 819 at Kearney, New Jersey, which commenced assembly work late in June, and 236 at Cork, Ireland.

The Hamilton, Ohio Plant which has just commenced to play an important role turned out 2,740 transmissions which were shipped to the various plants. Although July saw the breaking of the June record, there was no day upon which a greater number of tractors were assembled than the record day of June 29, when 545 were finished. (adv.)

DARKNESS
Reigns in Hereford

Nearly all business houses in town are dark as dungeon these nights. Some fine night a burglar will accept the invitation offered by these dark places and break in and help himself to a few hundred dollars worth of expensive goods, then we will kick our selves for negligence. And besides, Mr. Business-man, we are trying to attract trade from the outside edges of our trade territory and if our places of business are not attractive we fail to impress the public. Light attracts people and it is good advertising. When you strike a hill put on more steam, don't unhitch one of the best pulling horses.

HIGH PRICES

High prices mean cheap dollars. Cheap dollars induce speculation. Speculation is fine so long as prices soar—but look out for the DROP.

Here is our advice in times like these: Avoid debt, for the debtor may have to pay back these cheap dollars with dear ones. Avoid speculation. Above all, SAVE, now while money is plentiful and prices are soaring. The cheap dollars of the present will be more valuable some day. Grab them now and hold onto them. It is the chance of a lifetime to save. Use our Bank as a depository. Every dollar entrusted to us will be carefully safeguarded.

Judging Team of A & M Gets Trip To Old England

The Extension Service of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas has scored another great victory, far-reaching in its effects, which will make history, remarked Director T. O. Walton upon being shown the telegram received by the Extension Service from W. B. Cook, announcing that the Texas team was declared the victors in the contest at the southeastern Fair held in Atlanta, Georgia, carrying with it a trip to the Royal Livestock Show in London, England, next June.

The Texas boys scored 3,110 points against 2,925 for the Mississippi team which came second.

The team is composed of Gilbert Weiting of Marlin, Jack Turner of Hillsboro, and Alva Debnam of Lamesa.

This means that the team, one State official and one official from Washington will be given a free trip to the Royal Livestock Show in England.

A free trip was also offered for the high individual score to the boy making the high score and his county agent. However, here is a complication, since Jack Turner of Hill county and W. G. Elting of Falls county tied for the high individual score with 1057 points, and as these boys are also on the winning team R. W. Persons, State agent, says that it is impossible to tell at this time what disposition will be made of the trip for individual score.

Fourteen teams competed and the other twelve ranked as follows: Kansas, Virginia, Iowa, Florida, Arkansas, South Carolina, Louisiana, Michigan, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Texas was high in Guernseys and Jerseys, tied Kansas for first place in Herefords, was second in Hampshires and hogs, third in Angus and Short-horns, fourth in Holsteins. No money offered in Shropshires, Southdowns, Poland-Chinas and Berkshires.

This closes an itinerary of something over 3,000 miles which commenced at College Station, where the team was given thorough instruction in judging. They then jumped to Des Moines, Ia., where they judged and studied some of the finest hogs in the country. From here they went to Ames, Ia., where they judged livestock at the State Agricultural College. The next stop was Waterloo, Ia., during the Dairy Cattle Congress, where they had a chance to judge some of the best dairy cattle in the country. They then visited the National Livestock Judging Contest, being held in Chicago where they took third prize. Teams from eighteen states were represented in this contest. The team then turned southward and visited the leading stock farms in Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee, where they studied the best livestock to be found in the sections visited. Then into Atlanta and victory.

MUTTON IS CURED—JUST LIKE PORK

More mutton would be consumed, the United States Department of Agriculture believes, if farmers realized generally that cured and smoked mutton is as delicious as pork. At present, only 3.9 per cent of the meat used in the United States is lamb or mutton. This is partly due to the fact that there is a popular impression among farmers that after a sheep is slaughtered, the only domestic use for the flesh is eating it while it is fresh. As a consequence, the farmer's family grows very tired of mutton before the carcass is consumed.

For the purpose of finding some way of obviating this difficulty, experimental work in the curing and smoking of mutton has been done recently by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Those who have been doing this work give the following directions for home curing mutton:

The first essential in curing is to be sure that the mutton is thoroughly cooled. The meat should never be frozen, either prior to or during the period of curing. The time to begin curing is when the meat is cooled and still fresh; the proper time is from 24 to 36 hours after killing. Because of the high shrinkage incident to curing, only large pieces, such as the legs and shoulders, are suitable for treatment.

Mutton may be cured by using any good brine formula, but dry-cured meat is better for future use than brine-cured and requires less work. However, danger from rats and other vermin is less in the case of brine-cured meat. Both methods of curing are very successful if care is taken to see that each operation is executed properly.

Following the method of dry-curing mutton advocated by the United States Department of Agriculture: For each 100 pound of meat use 7 pounds salt; 3 pounds sugar or sirup, 2 ounces salt-peter, 2 ounces red pepper, and 3 ounces black pepper.

Mix all ingredients thoroughly, then rub the mixture well over the meat and pack it away in a box or on a table. Allow one and one-half days' cure for each pound of meat the pieces average. After the meat is cured hang it in the smokehouse.

Red Cross Work All Over World Shows Big Total

There are today 3,650 American Red Cross Chapters, 3,502 of which are in this country and 57 in foreign territory and American possessions outside continental United States, according to a summary of localized Red Cross work just compiled at National Headquarters. In American territory overseas—the Canal Zone, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands—there are eight Red Cross Chapters; in foreign territory—Asia, Central and South America and Europe—there are forty-nine.

The summary provides the first complete picture of the home town projects of service which are the concern of Red Cross Chapters. In performance of the duties undertaken during the war in behalf of service men and their families, 2,521 Chapters are still engaged in completing some form of the war job, such as ministering to men in the Army, Navy and Public Health hospitals and aiding the disabled men who are receiving vocational training. Home Service for the families of these men did not cease with the signing of the Armistice, but has been continued and extended to civilian families as well and is now being undertaken by 623 Chapters, while 273 others have applied for authority to carry on such work on a peace-time basis.

The Health Service, a new project of the Red Cross, has already effected the establishment of Health Centers in 123 Chapters, while in 429 other Chapters various other forms of health activities are being undertaken. Classes in First Aid form a part of the programs of 299 Chapters; instruction in Life-Saving is given in 75 Chapters. Health Information Service is conducted by 75 Chapters, 118 have a general information and 219 a combined general and health information service.

Recognizing the value of the work of the public health nurse in disease preventive work, 713 Red Cross Chapters are today employing 950 public health nurses. Under the direction of Nursing Service, classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick are held in 1,006 Chapters and instruction in Nutrition in 85.

In 286 Chapters Disaster Preparedness Committees have been formed for the purpose of furnishing immediate relief to their communities in the event of disaster. Canteen Service, which is maintained by 47 Chapters, and Motor Service, which is a definite project in 40 Chapters, have both proved invaluable in time of disaster and in other emergencies.

In the rural districts, where there is especial need for recreational activities, forty-eight Chapters have adopted programs of this nature while nine are co-operating with other agencies in providing facilities for recreation. Community centers which provide rest rooms, and offer a place where entertainments and community gatherings may be held, have been established in thirty-five Chapters. In nine other agencies the Red-Cross is helping other agencies in this work.

Junior Red Cross activities are being undertaken by 1,639 Red Cross Chapters, the report discloses. This means that the American Red Cross program of service has been established in nearly 60,000 schools throughout the country and is daily reaching millions of American school children.

PANHANDLE TO BE AT DALLAS FAIR

Col. R. P. Smythe, president of the State Fair Agricultural Exhibitors' Association, and Mr. George McCollum, of Plainview, were in Tulla Wednesday. Col. Smythe was in consultation with County Agent H. G. Ware, who is the secretary of this association.

The Herald last week carried a news item of the organization of this association in Dallas. There are twenty-nine counties thus far in the association. They are—Angelina, Bailey, Baylor, Brown, Childress, Crosby, Collingsworth, Dawson, Donley, Ellis, Fisher, Foard, Gray, Haskell, Harrison, Hale, Hill, Howard, Johnson, Lubbock, Lynn, McCulloch, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Smith, Swisher, Wheeler and Wilbarger.

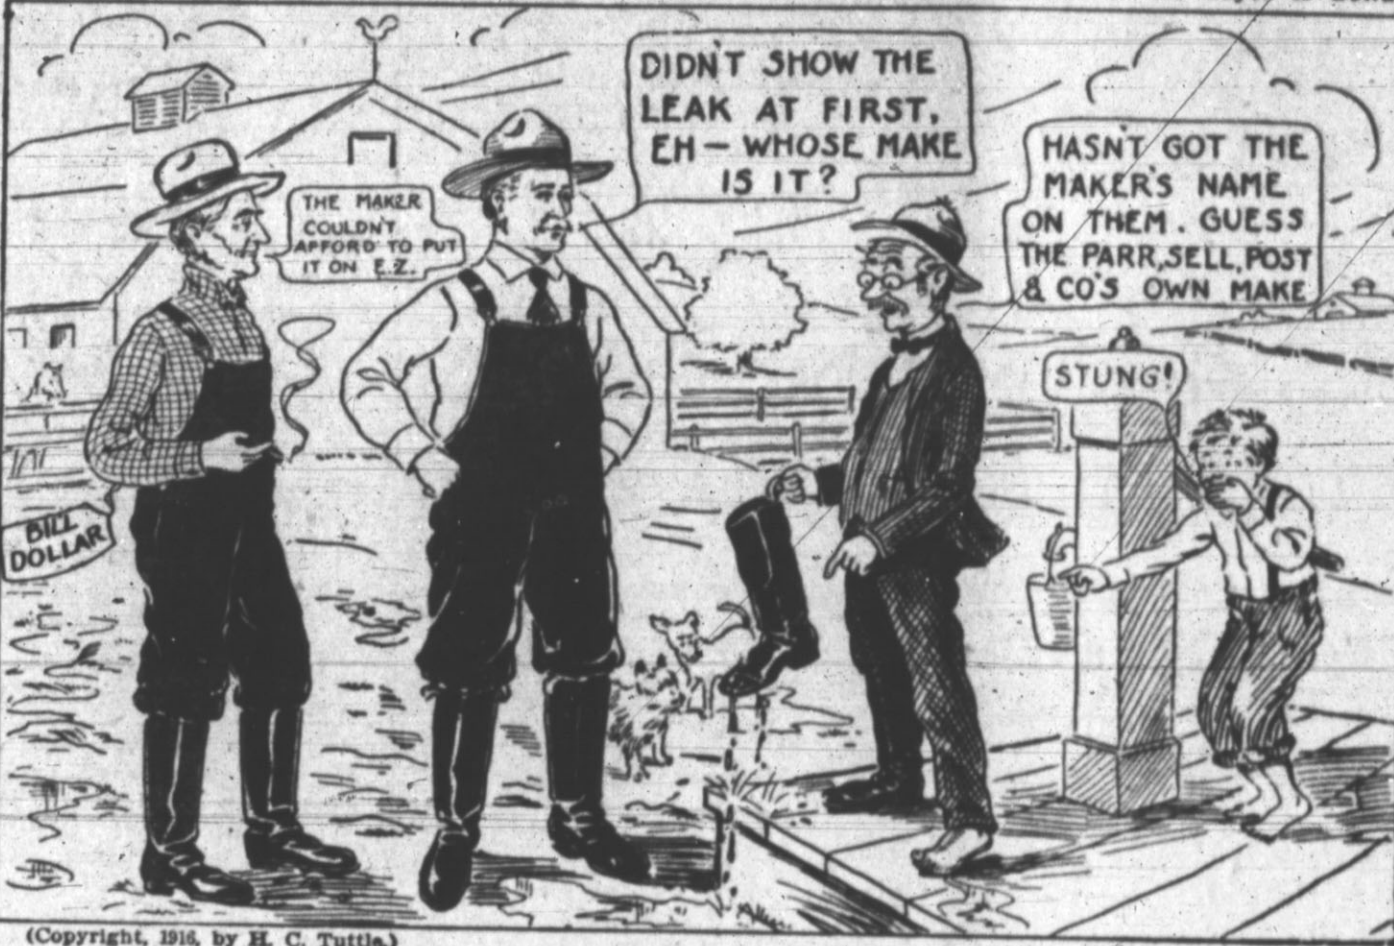

Messrs. Ware and Smythe were in consultation as to perfecting plans for the exhibit by the various counties of Texas at the State Fair in Dallas for 1921. Many matters for the better placing and housing of the various exhibits by the counties are to receive the attention of the association officials.

We of Tulla and Swisher County feel proud that our worthy citizen, County Agent Ware, was selected from among the many good men from these various counties as the secretary of the association. Mr. Ware is a booster and a most energetic young man, and we know that he will do everything in his power to further the interests of the State Fair Agricultural Exhibitors' Association. Therefore, while the 1920 State Fair was great, we believe that through this association the 1921 State Fair at Dallas will be even better. Tulla Herald.
