TUESDAYS—TWICE A WEEK—FRIDAYS

HEREFORD, DEAF SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1922

TREMENDOUS CROWD RESPONDS TO HEREFORD'S BANNER FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION. CREDIT DUE COMMUNITY CLUB LADIES FOR GREAT DAY

ONE OF THE LARGEST CROWDS IN HISTORY OF TOWN ENJOYS VARIED PROGRAM THROUGHOUT DAY. NOT A SINGLE DISTURBANCE

PAGEANT WAS A THING OF BEAUTY

Should be Perpetuated. Only Drawback was Lack of Platform so Spectators Could see Better. Fireworks at Night Spectacular and Pleasing to Great Throngs

It has been several years since Hereford attempted a community Fourth of July celebration and there is no recent precedent by which to judge the results of last Tuesday's efforts. But the almost universal comment heard since that date is to the effect that there has never been a smoother, better handled, more successful occasion attempted here in a public way.

The entire credit for the outcome is undoubtedly due the ladies and committees of the Community Clubs, headed by Mrs. Homer Wilkinson as general chairman and Mrs. John McLean as chairman of committee work. Each committee had a definite thing to do and all acquitted themselves nobly in the preparatory work and during the day's activities. One of the largest crowds in the history of Hereford poured in early in the day. It is believed that there were more automobiles on the streets Tuesday than on any previous day in Hereford's history. At the ball game in the afternoon the huge field was solidly ringed with automobiles filled with folks. At night, at the presentation of the Pageant and afterwards at the fireworks display the automobiles formed one long continuous line on every street leading into the main thoroughfares.

A remarkable feature of the entire affair was the fact that notwithstanding the huge crowds there was not a single arrest made by the officers during the day or night and not an untoward incident that would mar an otherwise perfect record of clean, healthful jubilation.

The Parade

Festivities opened promptly at 10:00 o'clock in the morning when the parade started at the Christian church and marched down Main. The Hereford Band led off, followed by officials of the city and county in cars, the Veterans of Wars, the National Guard company, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Real Estate men, properly badged, the fire department, displaying the old truck and the new equipment, and several novelties. Among the latter was "Dad" Childers, surmounted by a red fireman's helmet, sitting on the old hand horse cart, drawn by burros, and with huge red goggles on his head, pushing lustily from behind. The stunt drew a hearty laugh all down the line.

Following the parade the Guardsmen gave a snappy and inspiring drill under direction of Captain Ewell Morris, followed by a ludicrous water fight between teams from the fire department, headed by Captains Steckman and Gilliam. Both teams got away fast, made some startlingly quick connections, and drowned each other simultaneously. If a winner was ever picked it was not announced, as both got water so fast the streams practically met in mid-air.

There was one mob at the lunch held on the courthouse lawn. The ladies had intended to serve it cafeteria style, with the crowd on one side of the table and the waiters on the other, but the overgrown crowd swamped these plans and the hungry host literally swamped the tables. There was enough for all, however, although in spots it was not as well distributed as it could have been had the crowd held back in more orderly fashion.

Following the luncheon the crowd adjourned to the ball grounds where they witnessed foot and bicycle races and other sports until time for the baseball game between Vega and Hereford, an account of which is carried in another column. The results of the races were announced by the time keepers as follows:

Foot men's race: Rockwell 1st, Metcalf 2nd, Higgins 3rd.

Free-for-all, four entries: Dixon 1st, Elliston 2nd, Patterson 3rd, Jackson 4th.

Men's bicycle race, three entries: Rockwell 1st, Cloyd 2nd, Thurmond 3rd.

Boy's bicycle race, three entries: Murphy 1st, Green 2nd, name of 3rd not available.

Firemen's race called off.

Relay race, two teams: Patterson and Dixon 1st; Elliston and Roberson of Vega 2nd.

The Pageant

The Pageant was the "piece de resistance" of the celebration. It was different. Over 150 people participated in the different scenes, all in costume.

The Hereford Band played selections before the curtain rose and during the presentation of the scenes. The only difficulty encountered was the unexpected size of the crowd which somewhat handicapped the performers for room. Next year it is planned to enlarge the Pageant and present it from a platform so that spectators in the extreme rear can have an equal chance to see it all. The entire idea was new and novel and splendid and it is hoped it will be a permanent feature of Fourth of July celebrations at Hereford in the future. The committee who made this feature possible deserves special mention and was composed of the following: Mrs. Homer Wilkinson, general chairman, Mrs. John McLean, general chairman, Mrs. John McLean, general chairman of committees, Mrs. B. F. Guthrie, director of the detailed scenes, Homer Wilkinson, general handy man, Misses Helen Sisk, Elizabeth Corbett, Lollie Shore, Mesdames Ben Allen and Jno. E. Ferguson. This committee worked like slaves, had their trials and tribulations, but emerged tired and triumphant. A motion has been made that this committee be continued for another year to another and greater Pageant.

The pageant gave in panorama, a picture of America from its beginning to the present. The first scene depicted the discovery of America, the setting showing a rocky beach skirting a wooded shore-land of tropical verdure, a cliff partly hidden beneath overhanging vines, gave realism to the distant expanse of ocean upon whose surface the sails of the approaching ships could be distinguished. The opening curtain revealed a picture of Indian life. Children waded near the shore and sported among the wigwags; squaws chanted around the campfire as they cooked the feast for their lords; the haughty chief, gay in war paint and feathers, held the honored place at the council fire where with his warriors, he smoked the pipe of peace. Suddenly two braves who, returning on gaily caparisoned ponies from the hunt, sighted the now anchored Santa Maria, dashed to camp spreading the news and pointing out the vessel.

The scene quickly became a picture of superstition, fear and awe, which revealed itself into worship as the natives fell on their knees before Columbus and his brilliant retinue as they landed and took formal possession of the new world.

As Columbus drew his sword and unfurled the banner of Castile, the priest raised his hand in benediction and the tableau lights added splendor to the inspiring scene.

With a slight change of setting the second scene, "Pocahontas and John Smith" was shown. A fantastically garbed Indian maiden emerged from the wigwag and spread the deerskin for the seat of Chief Powhatan. A war party of braves dragging the captive John Smith created a vivid picture of savagery as they taunted and tormented their prisoner while waiting the chief's decision as to his fate. At a signal Smith was bound to a tree while a blood-curdling war dance was executed, then his head was placed on the block while the anguished Pocahontas held the center of interest with her manifestations of grief. As she threw herself upon the neck of the captive, Powhatan signified his yielding to her pleadings and the tableau showed Smith in the arms of his benefactor.

The third scene, "Puritans Going to Church" gave a most realistic and impressive picture of the life and character of the early colonists. Following a beautiful rendering of "The Landing of the Pilgrims," a company of colonists—men, women and children—came slowly and reverently through the forest, the men carrying guns, the women Bibles. Guns were stacked at the door and a sentinel kept watch. Soon from the church floated the strains of an old time hymn and presently the company emerged for the tableau, lurking Indians completing the effective scene. So perfectly was the Puritan portrayed in both costume and demeanor that the participants seemed almost to have stepped bodily from the pages of history.

Again was perfect characterization and costuming true in a series of colonial scenes which beautifully illustrated the life of the later colonial days. First came "Signing the Decla-

Three-Year-Old Gladys Rockwell Fatally Burned Fourth of July As Clothing Fires From Matches

The happy-go-lucky Fourth of July crowd was suddenly stilled, and the joyous celebration changed to keen sympathy, sorrow and regret last Tuesday afternoon when the news spread rapidly that little Gladys, 3 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rockwell had been fatally burned in a deplorable accident at the Rockwell home. The remainder of the afternoon and night program was sobered by the realization of the people of the tragedy in their midst.

The little girl had been home but a short time, the women folk of the household having returned from the ball game to rest before the evening's entertainment. Little Gladys in some manner secured some matches and carried them out into the back yard where she was lighting them one at a time. Probably the entire pile became ignited. At any rate the flare was large enough to catch her clothing. Her cries aroused the household and the neighbors and every possible effort was made to extinguish the blaze, but not before the child had been terribly burned about her body and arms. She was hurried to the sanitarium and medical aid given but the little sufferer expired about seven o'clock Wednesday morning.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock, and practically every business house in town closed. Members of the Fire Department, the Hereford Gun Club and the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, with all of whom Mr. Rockwell is actively identified, walked in a body to the residence and from there to the church. Beautiful floral wreaths were contributed by all three organizations. The simple and sorrowful services at the church were conducted by the Rev. M. M. Beavers, and a great concourse of friends and acquaintances from Hereford and surrounding towns at the grave testified to the general sorrow of the community as a whole in the loss of this sprightly and universally loved baby girl.

Card of Thanks

We want to try to tell the splendid people of this community just how deeply grateful we are for the thoughtful kindness and sympathy they have showered upon us since the tragedy which caused the loss of our little girl. It has brought home to us in a way we never quite realized before just how true and generous and neighborly the people of this community really are. We want to especially thank the good ladies who looked after our bodily comfort during these trying hours, and the Hereford Fire Department, the Hereford Gun Club, the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, and others who contributed the beautiful flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rockwell.

The prayer for world peace offered by Rev. Beavers was a fitting close to the program.

The entire pageant was made much more beautiful and impressive by the excellent and appropriate music furnished by the band under the direction of Mr. Brothers.

The Fireworks

The fireworks display, winding up the festivities at night, was a fine dandy. The large supply obtained was surprising, requiring over an hour to burn it all up. Cars lined the streets solidly about the City Lake, and the crowd stayed to the end, so longly did the people enjoy the beautiful displays. Chairman J. S. Jones of the Fireworks Committee handled his squad in a business-like and orderly way and there was not a hitch from start to finish. Mr. Jones has asked The Brand to make his public acknowledgment to the boys of the town for their helpfulness to him Tuesday night. He made a deadline for the boys, and asked them to stay beyond 6. To a boy they kept the faith with him and not a boy crossed over or caused any worry throughout the night. Mr. Jones says Hereford's boys are the politest and most gentlemanly to be found anywhere.

It was a clean, wholesome, well-handled celebration of which the town can well be proud, and especially are the ladies of the Community Clubs to be congratulated upon their idea and its execution.

Firemen Squelch Another Fire by Efficient Work

The fire department made a beautiful run Wednesday forenoon on a call to the old Miller place in northeast Hereford, now occupied by Clarence Bliggs. The blaze was just getting a good start when the chemical engine dashed up and stopped the spread of the flames without further ado. The men worked quickly and smoothly and the fire never had a chance. The new fire siren is given credit for calling the men in just the right time to keep the fire from getting too strong a hold. Very little damage was done, thank to the efficiency and training of the fire boys.

The report of the department indicates that the fire originated from home-made wiring that had not been installed and insulated according to the code.

BLOSSOM, TEXAS, LADY IS VISITING MRS. J. M. BOONE

Miss Dencie Jones, of Blossom, Texas, arrived in Hereford Tuesday morning and is visiting in the home of her cousin, Mrs. J. M. Boone. Miss Jones was formerly editor of the Blossom Bee. She will be the guest of Mrs. Boone for the summer.

Dr. W. A. Price is Very Ill; Crisis Not Yet Reached

Dr. W. A. Price has been an extremely sick man since his return from Temple last week and has been hovering between life and death for the past two days and nights. Last reports indicated that he is just holding his own, with hopes on the part of his family and friends that he will fight off the present crisis. His daughter, Miss Annie Price, reached here Tuesday night from the northwest, where she has been teaching the past year. Another daughter, Mrs. Royal A. Terry of Shattuck, Okla., is also at his bedside. Other relatives who are here are Miss Annie Price of Fort Worth, Texas, Dr. Price's sister, and Mrs. Robert A. Johnson of Tyler, Texas, a sister to Mrs. Price.

Mrs. John Higgins has also been reported as very ill all week, but at last reports was improved and slowly gaining in strength.

TOM IVEY BRINGS LUBBOCK FRIENDS HERE FOR FISHING

T. C. Ivey and wife headed a party of friends from Lubbock who drove in Thursday for a camping and fishing vacation of several days on Mr. Ivey's Big Spring ranch on the Tjara Blanca. The visiting party is composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bacon and son, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Arnett and son, Mr. and Mrs. Will Adkins, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edson Wolfarth and children, and Glen Hunt, all of Lubbock. They expect to remain here five or six days.

MRS. E. S. IRELAND LEAVES TO JOIN HUSBAND IN CALIF.

Mrs. E. S. Ireland left Hereford Wednesday morning for Long Beach, Calif., where she will join her husband who has been in the Porter Sanitarium for the past thirty days. Mrs. Ireland made the statement just before leaving that Mr. Ireland is improving rapidly and that they will spend about two weeks sightseeing in California.

PARTY FROM TULIA MOTORS OVER FOR JULY 4 PROGRAM

A party composed of Misses Dot and Ruth Owen, Elmer McFarlin, Opal Browning and Messrs. R. N. Garnett and R. Pierson, all of Tulia, motored to Hereford the Fourth and spent the day visiting with relatives and friends.

VEGA NOSES OUT WINNER SCORE 3-2

TREMENDOUS CROWD IS PLEASED BY FAST TEAMWORK

ANYBODY'S GAME

Hereford is Threatening Until Last Man Was Out in Ninth

Before one of the largest crowds ever assembled in one place in Deaf Smith county the Oldham County Outlaws nosed out the Deaf Smith County White-faces by the score of 3 to 2 July 4th, in a close and interesting contest. It was anybody's game from the start until Jim Robinson whiffed in the ninth, throwing down his bat in utter disgust over the outcome. Jim put everything he had into that last chance, but Mr. Otto, Amarillo twirler with the Vega nine, was still too good.

This "Otto," by the way, is a "regular" pitcher and after the first inning had his game well in hand. Hereford used the Rawn battery and both boys gave an excellent account of themselves. Perkins really outpitched Otto all the way. There are always errors of commission that do not show in the box score, and Perkins was handicapped by a little dumb playing in spots and the breaks of the game. But Vega has a great team and the teams were so evenly matched and the decision so close that it was no disgrace for either side to lose.

Hereford's two scores both came in the first, when it looked like Otto was in for a cleaning. Karl Shirley grabbed Carter's grounder for the first out, Curtisinger singled and Jim Robinson was safe on short stop Robinson's error. Both runners advanced a peg on a passed ball, and then Charlie Bennett scored them both with a single to left. Charlie stole second but was nipped at third. Perkins then smashed out a double to left, but Vega fanned, ending the rally. From that time on Hereford threatened in nearly every inning but Brother Otto would tighten in the pinches and choke them off.

Vega evaded the count in the third on a walk, a passed ball, three steals and two bunts. The deciding run came in the sixth. Robinson scratched an infield hit, but a moment later was nipped off second by Perkins. Karl Shirley whipped a man one to center for a clean single and the ball got away from Carter, Shirley making the circuit.

The ball field was ringed entirely about by parked cars, through with interested spectators who saw a good game and were all apparently well satisfied. The box score:

ANOTHER CONVERT

Hon. Clarence Onsey is undoubtedly gaining ground in his race for U. S. Senator and The Post believes Texas could do no better than elect him. He is a brilliant, scholarly statesman and one that would maintain well the name of our state for sending big men to represent us in that great lawmaking tribunal. In his campaign speeches, Mr. Onsey makes no appeal to the rabble and the unthinking masses for their approval. His every address is characterized by a clear logic, becoming dignity and an undoubted sympathy with the toiling masses, but at no point does he tell the people that he knows everything nor does he promise them to do everything in case of his election. Texas could do lots worse than send Clarence Onsey to the U. S. Senate. Childress Post.

To Our Customers —Warning

We find it a very common practice for persons when fuses are burned out to put pennies in behind the old fuses and in that way get light. When a fuse burns out there is something wrong that should be corrected before trying to get light again.

Fuses are for protection—they are intended to burn out before the wiring in the house gets overheated—they are the safety valves that protect the house. Fuses should not be of too great capacity—use as small a fuse as will carry the amount of current that is used. Don't under any circumstances put coins behind both fuses as in that case you have no protection. A coin can be put behind one fuse temporarily—till you can get another fuse—but never behind both.

Why hens go on a strike!

When hens do not receive both the white and yolk-forming elements in their feed, they cannot lay.

Missouri Experiment Station tests with 100 lbs. of an average mixed grain feed produced about 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from these experiments, Purina formulates make (above bodily maintenance), as follows:

Purina Hen Chow	247.49 yolks	142.11 whites
Purina Chicken Chowder	182.05 yolks	282.55 whites
Combined Ration	429.54 yolks	424.66 whites

These Purina Chows not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but make more of both than ordinary feeds.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Purina Chicken Chowder supplies plenty of white for all the yolks in the hen's body, thus insuring a maximum egg yield. That's why we can absolutely guarantee more eggs or money back on Purina Poultry Chows if fed as directed. You take no risk.

in Kirkcaldy, Scotland. She and Mr. Mackenzie were married in Hongkong, China, December 4, 1911, near which place Mr. Mackenzie was doing Y. M. C. A. work.

She first came to America to live in 1916 and settled in Harpersville, Georgia, where Mr. Mackenzie was pastor of the Congregational Church. In 1919 she made a visit to Scotland, taking with her the three children, and early in 1920 she joined her husband at Springlake where she lived till the day of her death. From the first she made many friends and was much loved by all.

Her death was due to peritonitis, but back of this and causing it was some disorder which was never diagnosed but which for some months past had involved her in a great deal of suffering—suffering which toward the end became almost unbearable. This she bore with marvelous fortitude.

Besides her husband, she leaves behind her three children, Jean 9, Dorothy 7, and Ronald 5.

Her death, being such a shock to all, stirred the community to such depths of sorrow as could only be felt for one so dearly beloved by all. Hers was a character of greatest purity and kindness, a character which will shine for years in the lives of those with whom she came in contact.

While we know Mrs. Mackenzie has gone home to the God whom she loved and trusted, our hearts are sore with grief and full of sympathy for the father who must be more than a father to the dear children left in his care.

DAWN

Smiles are spread on everybody's face these days on account of the recent rains. Row crops are fine and the oat crop is about harvested.

W. E. Neal left Dawn last Thursday for Hereford where he boarded the train for Belton, Texas. His interests there are keeping him quite busy.

Dawn won another ball game Sunday evening from Umbarger. Errors galore were made on both sides while few hits were made off the Dawn pitcher, Mac Mangum, Dawn's perfect catcher, was missing owing to a misunderstanding, which accounts for Umbarger making so many runs. Lyman Perkins' home run in the 5th with the bases full, was the best of the season. Umbarger also got a homer. The score by innings:

Umbarger	4	10	23
Dawn	11	14	6
Batteries	4	3	2

Batteries: Umbarger—Hicks and Herdman; Dawn—Hodges, Young and Plant, Umpires—Hess and Fremel.
 Sunday School was well attended last Sunday. Mr. Bengt acted as Superintendent, while Mr. Neal is away.

PROGRESSIVE

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Womble and family were dinner guests in the home of Mrs. C. O. Norton Sunday.

Sam Ratcliff is helping Otto Massey in the harvest field this week.

Several families were represented at the all day services at the Methodist church Sunday.

David Broadwell was a visitor in the Kimmons home this week.

Mrs. Kimmons had charge of the Bible class at Sunday School.

The weather man thinks it quite popular to have it rain on Sunday afternoon at about three o'clock, absenting some of our most valuable attendants from the afternoon meetings.

Never mind, though, some Sunday when the twenty-eight that were absent on the Sunday when seventy-two were present, are there and the seventy-two are present, if the Matthew Senior Class continues to grow in numbers and enthusiasm it will take the combined effort of the rest of the classes to keep up with them.

"Let us then be up and doing with a heart for any fate, Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait."

Our Rally Day comes on the 10th of this month. We extend to all a cordial invitation to meet with us spread your dinner with us and help us sing. The program begins at eleven o'clock then dinner, Sunday School and preaching the afternoon. Rev. M. M. Beavers will have charge of the services. The program follows:

FRIONA

A good soaking rain fell here Friday night and it was followed by another on Saturday night and another Sunday afternoon. Crops were beginning to need these rains and they have started them growing in fine condition.

A. O. Drake began harvesting his crop of volunteer oats last Friday. They did fair to make a good yield.

Mr. Frank A. Heaton, of Los Angeles, California, who with his wife and daughter are making a tour to Chicago and Indianapolis and returning via New Orleans stopped off here Monday for a short visit. Mr. Heaton owns land west of Friona and is investigating the feasibility of improving it and putting a farmer on it.

Sheriff Aldridge, of Farwell, was here a while Monday morning shaking hands with his Friona friends.

The ladies of the Congregational Church will hold a pie social on Friday night at the home of Mrs. Kinney. The proceeds of the social will be devoted to the church building fund. The novelty of the affair is that each lady shall bring a pie and the gentlemen will buy the pies by number and the price will be one cent for each pound the lady weighs. Free lemonade. Everybody invited.

There will be a R. Y. P. U. social given by the young people of the Baptist-Methodist church at the home of Mr. Holt, north of town Friday night. A. W. Henschel met with a rather peculiar and painful experience Sunday evening while in attendance at church services at the schoolhouse; a small bug flew into his ear and refused to come out. The managers of the little insect caused much pain to Mr. Henschel. On reaching home several drops of sweet oil were poured into the ear which stopped Mr. Bug's antics and relieved the pain so that it was possible for Mr. Henschel to sleep. He went to Amarillo Monday to have the intruder removed by a physician.

On Saturday of this week, the 8th of July, will occur the election on the school bond issue. The election will be held at the Friona Bank and all friends of good schools and better education for our children, should be there to cast their vote in favor of the bond issue. The amount necessary may seem large, but when we consider that it will be an average of only one and one-half cents per acre on the taxable land in the district one can readily see that the burden will not fall heavily on anyone. There is nothing that will build up a community and enhance the value of property more quickly and surely than a good school, so come out and vote for the bonds.

JOEL

The young people's class of our Sunday School are planning to spend the 4th in the breaks of the Tierra Blanca. Their teacher, Mr. Hollis Galley and his wife will accompany them. Fishing and water sports will be the order of the day.

Two carloads of young people came from Hereford with Bro. Beavers for the preaching service. The company was composed of Abbie Parker, Mildred Cross, Zoe Beavers, Lenis Anthony, Ray Hawkins, Hall, Lana and Milton Beavers, Mr. Hodges, Wes Anthony and M. P. Phemester. We enjoyed having this bunch of young people with us. They made themselves useful in helping with the singing and Miss Cross played the organ for us. Please come again. Some of our farmers started their combines in the oats the latter part of the week but found the grain too green to put in the bin, so will wait a few days.

Mrs. J. O. Miller and her little ones and Mrs. McConnel drove to Clovis on Sunday, June 25 to attend a gospel meeting and to visit Mrs. Miller's sister. Horace and Mary Ella Hershey were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Arch Conklin Sunday.

The Hershey and Sharp families spent the 4th picnicking on the creek. Our whole crowd enjoyed the program at Hereford in the evening.

Piping made of paper by an improved process is the invention of a Frenchman. This piping is made by winding paper to a very tight manner together with the use of an adhesive compound. It is almost unbreakable and very light.

There's a poultry secret that smart folks around Hereford have learned long ago—the secret of HOW TO SELL THEIR CHICKENS for a profit.

The Secret is simply this:—Bring 'em to the HEREFORD PRODUCE, where the price is always the best there is to obtain. Whenever you hear a fellow saying that poultry prices are higher somewhere else don't swallow it, hook, line, sinker and all—do your own thinking and investigating and examine into the real truth of such statements. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred you will find there is nothing to it. Look up prices in other towns.
