

Little Wesley Harrison Smothered In Elevator Wheat

All Hereford was shocked Tuesday night, when, about seven o'clock in the evening, the news spread that little Wesley Eugene Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrison, had been smothered to death in the wheat dump of his father's elevator. Great crowds swiftly gathered at the Harrison home to express their sympathy to the grieving members of the family, dazed by the sudden tragedy.

Wesley, aged eight years, was playing with several other boys in the wheat dump on the ground floor of the elevator, where several hundred bushels of wheat happened to be at the time. The elevator crew did not know of their presence. The dump is operated on a gravity plan and when, in the run of the work, the gates were opened, the wheat in the dump began to run down into the discharge spout. Wheat in motion has much the same action as a quail sand. All the other boys, older than Wesley, got out of the dump in safety but the little fellow was caught by the suction and dragged under. Members of the crew who jumped in after him had hold of him at times but could not pull him out. As a last resort it was decided to let him come through the discharge spout, but here his body stuck and before the grain could be run off life had passed from him. Physicians were waiting when his body was rescued, and every possible effort made to revive him, without avail.

Funeral services were conducted from the Methodist church at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Revs. L. N. Lipscomb of Plainview and W. R. Hill of Hereford officiating. Every business house in town closed during the hour as a mark of esteem. The little body was laid to rest in the Hereford cemetery.

Wesley was born on January 22, 1916, making him eight years, five months and twenty three days of age at the time of his untimely death. There has not been such a tragedy in Hereford in years that has cast such a gloom over the community and brought out such genuine sympathy for the stricken parents.

Three New Rural Routes Ordered Opened by Court

In all probability three additional mail routes will be established from Hereford post office soon, and the residents of the county districts accorded the privilege of receiving their mail regularly and promptly without having to travel all the way to town to secure it.

Three petitions have recently been circulated and presented to the court, asking the formal opening of roads in different directions so that rural mail routes could be asked for. On Monday of this week the court granted the three petitions. One route, petitioned for by W. S. Williams and others, leaves 25-Mile Avenue near Ward schoolhouse, runs out to the old Howard ranch, and comes back to the Avenue near Ford school, a distance of fifty five miles. The second, petitioned for by C. E. Tice and others, runs west and southwest and then north to the railroad. The third, petitioned for by W. A. Dougherty and others, also runs west and north to the Files school.

Large Crowd Out to Hear Trinity Quartet

The Trinity Quartette, of Trinity University, Waxahachie, Texas, filled an engagement here at the Presbyterian church Tuesday night. They were greeted by a well-filled house and pleased the audience with their excellent selections and the quality of their voices.

They were entertained at the H. H. Boardman home during the day with a swimming party and other social features. Miss Dorothy Boardman has been a schoolmate and friend of the boys. After the performance the boys were tendered an informal reception at the C. C. Ferguson home.

Jess Leach, Grady, N. M., Freights Grain Here

Jess Leach, who lives with his father, E. W. Leach, near Grady, N. Mex., was delivering wheat in Hereford Tuesday. He has been making two trips daily with wheat loads, in spite of the distance and says he does it because the Harrison Highway is in good shape and because he starts early, drives hard and stays at it without looking at the clock.

The Leach family owns 1600 acres, with about 800 acres in cultivation. They expect to harvest around 15,000 bushels of wheat this year, and the yield is ranging between twenty and forty bushels per acre.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE SUCCEEDS MANUAL TRAINING IN HEREFORD SCHOOL

SCHOOL TRUSTEES BELIEVE THAT SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURAL TRAINING IS OF MORE BENEFIT TO MODERN BOYS

Superintendent C. H. Dillehay of the Hereford Public Schools, at the request of The Brand, has prepared the following explanation of the recent decision of the school board to substitute vocational agriculture for the manual training course:

"Some time ago the School Board decided to substitute vocational agriculture for manual training in the high school believing that such a course would benefit more boys and would, therefore, be worth more to the community. It was felt that vocational agriculture was possibly more practical in a community that must of necessity depend on agriculture and stock raising for its growth and development. Even then they were reluctant to give up the manual training and hoped to get a combination teacher for the two subjects but it was found that such a teacher was difficult to find and that the reimbursement from State and Federal funds would be much less.

"The State and Federal governments will reimburse the local Board more than half of the salary of the agriculture teacher if he devotes his entire time to that work. By getting a full time man or a man who devotes his teaching time to agriculture the teacher will cost the Board less than some of the high school teachers, though his total salary must be more since he is required to furnish and use his car in the work.

"For the first year two classes in animal husbandry will be offered and next year it is planned to add to this subject a course in plant production. Each course will include farm shop work. The shop work will include woodwork, rope work, leather work, harness repair, cement, tin work, general repair, etc. It will be seen from the above outline that much of the shop work offered in manual training except finishing work will be found in the farm shop work, and other valuable training not found in manual training will be given. The purpose of the farm shop course will be to give the boy a general, practical knowledge of the shop problems which arise on the farm, and to give him enough practice so that he can do these jobs with a fair degree of accuracy and skill, but is not designed to make a finished cabinet worker of him. In this way the course meets the demands of the many, rather than the special few.

"The animal husbandry course will include a study of the types and breeds of farm animals, placing emphasis on these types and breeds which are best adapted to local conditions. It includes dairying, beef cattle, horses, hogs, poultry and sheep, and the breeding, feeding, care and management and judging of these. The course in plant production will be made as practical as possible, especially applicable to this section of the country. The work of the agriculture teacher is primarily with the high school boys but he will be glad to assist the farmers and other citizens of the community in any way possible.

"For this important position the Board has employed Mr. C. W. Humble of Albuquerque, New Mexico. Mr. Humble holds a B. S. degree from the New Mexico Agricultural College where he taught as assistant in the animal husbandry department for two years, during which time he had charge of all of the livestock around the College. He has already introduced vocational agriculture in two high schools in Texas and New Mexico. He comes to us highly recommended by the State Director and the Assistant State Director of Vocational Agriculture for Texas. He is also well recommended by many others who are in a position to know about his work.

"The Board feels that the community is fortunate in having a man of Mr. Humble's training and ability introduce this popular and extremely practical subject in the local school. This is a work that has been well established over the State and nation for a number of years and is not an experiment. Many of the Panhandle schools have been teaching the vocational agriculture for some time and with few exceptions it has been done in such a way that its value to the community is

Rev. Sharp Tenders Resignation; Goes to Dalhart

After five years of service here Rev. J. H. Sharp, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hereford, Wednesday night asked the officers of his church to release him from his contract. Mr. Sharp stated that he had received a call to the church at Dalhart and had decided to accept it. He did not set a definite time for leaving, but asked that he be given some leeway in regard to this question. He went to Dalhart Thursday to settle final details there, but will return in time for his regular pulpit engagements next Sunday.

The church officials have a call in this issue of The Brand, for a congregational meeting next Sunday, when the resignation of Rev. Sharp will be discussed.

Hereford Golfers Spend Much Time Practicing

These are busy days for the members of the Hereford Golf Club. The tournament committee arranged a handicap match for the present week, giving each man a handicap according to his regular scoring, and then drawing for partners. Some interesting matches have been the result. Next week the second round of the tournament will be played.

On Sunday, July 20, the Hillcrest team of Amarillo will again visit Hereford and the two clubs will try to settle the argument which has now gone through three matches. On the following Sunday, July 27, the Tucuman, N. M., team will be the guests of the local players.

S. P. Edwards and Family, Kansas City, Visit Here

Mr. and S. B. Edwards and their son, Bryan, with his wife, drove in overland Wednesday afternoon from their home in Kansas City for a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends here.

C. S. Richards, Constable, Victim of Stiff Hands

C. S. Richards is carrying both hands stiffly by his side, unable to use either of them. About ten days ago his young bull dog bit him on his right hand and rendered it almost useless for the time being. Wednesday Mr. Richards rubbed the left hand to the raw while working his crop, leaving a severe sore spot.

The Constable is practically helpless for the next few days until his hands have time to heal.

T. E. Barbee and Family, Whitewright, Texas, Here

T. E. Barbee and wife and boy, grain man from Whitewright, Texas, arrived overland Tuesday and will be here for several days yet. Mr. Barbee is the owner of the old Will Gilbreath place west of Hereford and is here to harvest a nice grain crop.

It is estimated. Reports that have come to us from a number of schools indicate that the subject is well liked by the students, the farmers and the community in general. Doubtless this will prove to be a step in the direction of progress toward the goal of making the schools render the greatest possible service to the community.

The special aeroplane stamp cost the sender sixteen cents.

Ten Cent Bounty Offered by Court On Jack Rabbits

If you are a good shot with a target rifle you can make quite a sum for the next thirty days in Deaf Smith county killing Jack rabbits.

They ought to be thinned out by that time, following action by the Commissioners Court Monday in placing a bounty of ten cents per rabbit on all that are brought in to the county clerk. The commissioners acted after many prominent farmers and business men had petitioned them to do so, showing that the rabbits are doing tremendous damage all over this country.

Since the action of the court Clerk Berry Orr has been busy receiving rabbit ears. The question of what to do with them has been solved by burning them as fast as possible after receipt.

LARGEST WHEAT FIELD IN THE PANHANDLE LOCATED IN DEAF SMITH COUNTY

JOHN HEISELMAN AVERAGES 28 BUSHELS PER ACRE ON 1620 ACRES SOD LAND. HAS A DREAM IN DOLLARS COME TRUE

Hereford Withdraws From the Amarillo Pageant

At last Monday's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the City Cafe it was voted to rescind action taken the week before regarding Hereford's participation in the Pageant at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo this fall. The various committees in charge of the work were discharged, and Hereford will not be represented in the Pageant, so far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned.

President McDonald explained that the officers believed this to be best, in view of the financial conditions at this time, and that it would be better for Deaf Smith county to confine participation in the Fair to a cracker-jack good agricultural booth. The motion was carried without opposition of any kind.

Mr. McDonald told the diners of a trip made by himself and the secretary as guests of L. F. Borden on an automobile trip last Sunday to visit the 1620 acre wheat field of John Heiselman, thirty miles northwest. Mr. McDonald called attention to the new crop combination in the Panhandle-cotton and wheat, instead of the old "cotton and corn."

He urged that now is the time for every resident of the county to write his friends elsewhere to come to the Plains and see themselves what can be raised here.

Next Monday the dinner will be held at the Stockman's Hotel and C. W. Humble, who will teach vocational agriculture in the Hereford public schools next year, will tell the business men about his work and its importance in the educational field of the present.

Those present Monday were: D. L. McDonald, Chas. Paddock, J. E. Hill, E. C. Eubanks, L. Baskin, Homer Wilkinson, E. W. Harrison, Geo. Overton, A. Herbst, A. H. Stren, G. A. F. Parker, E. S. Ireland, A. A. Ott, W. R. Steckman, C. C. Rockwell, W. E. Dameron, Ralph Barnett, Herman Gray, W. E. Dunlap, Tom Ivey, Dr. Overton, J. C. Allred.

Mr. and Mrs. Flaherty visited here one winter with her daughter, and were known to a number of people here. Mrs. Guthrie had been at their bedside three weeks prior to her father's death.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Eastland, of Lucille, N. M., accompanied by Mrs. Roger Swain of Los Angeles, Calif., who is visiting them, stopped off here Wednesday enroute to Amarillo on a shopping tour. Mr. Eastland does his banking business here and has many friends in Hereford.

Car-load of Oyster Shells Arrive Here

Probably very few people realize the volume and importance of the poultry industry in the Hereford country. Just as an indication Jones & McLean this week are shipping in a solid car-load of oyster shells to be put out among the poultrymen here. And that is only one firm's activities. There are several others who handle shells.

Mrs. Arthur Brooks and three children left on Thursday morning for Vaughn, N. Mex., where they will spend a few days with Mr. Brooks. Mr. Brooks is working on the highway there.

How many people in Hereford know that probably the largest wheat field in the Panhandle of Texas is located in Deaf Smith county?

So far local inquiries have been unable to hear of anything approaching the wheat farm of John Heiselman, thirty miles northwest of Hereford, and ten miles south of Adrian. Mr. Heiselman has 1620 acres of wheat, or the best part of three adjoining sections, in a solid body of wheat, thick as hair on a dog's back, averaging twenty eight bushels to the acre, although a straight sod crop, waving in the wind with a rustle like so many greenbacks, and presenting a sight which almost stuns the imagination. The Saturday Evening Post has carried several stories in the past of huge areas of wheat in the Northwest and in Canada, but here is the actual thing right in the corner of Deaf Smith county.

Mr. Heiselman is an Ohioan and was always intrigued by the gamble and lure of wheat raising. In 1914 he moved to Crosby county, Texas, where he kept on raising wheat, always with fair success. Last year he traded in a section of land in Crosby county and purchased these three Deaf Smith county sections. He hired W. A. Knox to break and disc the land with power outfit, this work costing him around $7,000. It is reported, then purchased a whole carload of seed to plant the place. He sunk a small fortune in ready cash and credit before he ever saw a tangible cent of return. He managed to plant all but something less than 400 acres last fall, in spite of the rainy weather.

That season made an independent man of Mr. Heiselman. Last Sunday he had one big combine mowing down a swath sixteen and a half feet wide, two acres to the mile, thirty five or forty acres per day, 1,000 to 1,200 bushels during that time. Another crew was busy erecting a second big combine. Over forty thousand bushels of wheat in one pile, waiting for combines to cut it!

Mr. Heiselman was perched high in the air over the rear of the combine, on the elevated box that receives the grain from a spout, after it goes through the machine. When the reservoir in the air is full a Ford truck, with wheat bed attached, runs under the overhead bin, a spout is pulled open, the bin emptied, and the combine proceeds on its way.

Power farming on a huge scale. Horseless farming, too. There is not a horse of any kind on his place. Mr. Heiselman is operating the entire plant by machinery from start to finish.

The Heiselman wheat farm gets a man's breath. It's a stupendous thing. The nifty proprietor sold his first five thousand bushels for ninety eight cents. This week the price went to $1.05. It's easy to make figures on such a place and to build air castles and stuff from which dreams are made.

E. C. Whitford of Fairfax, Mo., who, with his wife and son-in-law, J. B. Darnall and wife, have been visiting here for several days, departed Monday afternoon for their home, via Oklahoma points.

Mr. Whitford owns a section of land in Castro county, which he purchased fifteen years ago and the family came down to look over the property. This was Mr. Whitford's first visit here since he made the investment.

Some of the wheat yields in this country this year are phenomenal. Eli Dunlap has perhaps the best figures of any of them. On portions of his crop Mr. Dunlap's wheat has yielded over forty bushels to the acre.

One of the largest yields of wheat to the acre in and around Hereford has been harvested by Cleve Hartman, living northwest of Hereford about nine miles. Mr. Hartman sowed his wheat in early fall, and has had no rainfall on it since last November. Mr. Hartman had his wheat combined, making all told 5,963 bushels and 20 pound off of 215 acres. His tests run from 56 to 60 pounds to the bushel. Mr. Hartman is a new comer in this country, having lived at Lockney, Texas, before moving here.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye and daughters attended a re-union of the Woodburn family in Hereford Sunday.

Miss Della Stagner visited last week with Mrs. Henry Allman.

"Grandpa Easter" left on Tuesday morning for Paula Valley, Okla., where he will visit several weeks with his daughter and family, Mrs. Si Mullins.

The attendance at literary Saturday night was smaller than usual, but the program rendered was one of the best we have had. The little one act play, "Those Awful Husbands of Ours," was a grand success. So true to life was it, that the men ceased to applaud. We understand that some of the men are plotting, so the wives had better be on their guard.

Mrs. W. O. Squyres, Veita and Vodia Squyres of Weatherford, Texas, Miss Catherine Gooch of Fort Worth, Mrs. W. E. Betts of Claude and E. T. Woodburn of Hereford visited Tuesday in the Carl Frye home.

The season's largest gathering was at Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Applegate's Saturday night. The occasion being a surprise ice cream supper for Mr. and Mrs. Applegate. They never "caught on" to what was going to happen, even after several of their neighbors arrived. Mrs. J. C. Williams spent Sunday with Mrs. Decker.

J. W. Dugan and family visited in the Charlie Penn home Sunday afternoon.

"PERSONAL" To Robert Jr.

It came addressed "personal" to Robert, Jr.—a letter from the bank where he had deposited from time to time, money earned at mowing lawn—shoveling snow—and running errands. A letter—in the life of little folks is quite an event—and Robert was duly impressed.

Opening it he studied its contents quite closely—slowly reasoning his way through the message it bore. Finally, a smile of delight spread over his face. Right then was character made—the first molding of a trait which perhaps would influence his whole life. A lesson had been taught. He had learned that income could be had through the practice of thrift.

Ben. Franklin said "Instill Thrift—instill it young." Is your boy or girl being encouraged in such worthy effort?

A WORTHY CANDIDATE

Judge Tatum of Dalhart, Dallam county, Texas, known by his friends as Reese Tatum, is a candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals of this district.

He has been district judge of the Sixty-Ninth District for about eight years and is regarded by those who know him to be one of the ablest judges in the state. He has a keen intellect and ready grasp of legal propositions, which with a pronounced judicial temperament renders him a great jurist, being absolutely fair and impartial, he has the faculty of reserving his opinion until all the facts and the law of the case have been developed, and when so developed, he decides the case regardless of the nature thereof, who the litigants may be, without fear, favor or friendship.

Judge Tatum is in the prime of life, strong and vigorous, a native of Tennessee but has resided in the Panhandle of Texas for more than twenty two years. He has been very active in the development of this section, giving of time and money when the occasion demanded. He has come up from adversity to the top of his profession, is in truth a self-made man. He is the kind of a man who gives his time and best efforts when needed, as during the war when laborers were so scarce, he went into the fields of the farmers of this section and assisted in the harvesting of the crops working side by side with them and when offered pay for his services refused any compensation whatever.

He is a member of the Methodist church and is broad enough to accord to any person the same rights and privileges as to their religious convictions as he reserves for himself. He is affiliated with several fraternal organizations.

Politically Reese Tatum is a lifelong democrat and has supported the democratic platform of Texas ever since becoming a citizen of the state. He stands for law enforcement of every kind, is capable of interpreting the law and has the courage to stand for its enforcement.

Judge Tatum's record as a jurist has gained for him a solid endorsement from the county officials, the bar, the business men, bankers, farmers and railroad men of his district. He is capable in every way of filling the position with honor and dignity. One of the ablest lawyers and scholars in the state said Reese Tatum was one of the best informed men he had ever met.—Dalhart Texan.

Misses Daphne and Edna Smith stopped off here Thursday for a short visit with the Hull family. They have been visiting in Clovis, and are now enroute to their home in Amarillo.

PROGRESSIVE

On Friday night of last week, this community sought to favor two of our most popular young men—the Messrs. Curtisingers. These boys, for some reason best known to themselves, have chosen to add to their daily routine of tilling the soil, seeding and harvesting the crops, such special duties as sweeping the house, cooking three meals a day, churning and washing dishes. Not that they seemed at any time discouraged or disheartened with their lot in life, their friends made their pathway a little brighter by giving them a surprise social. The guests found them eating supper, which with harvest men don't take place at six or even seven in the evening but at nine thirty. Many out door games were played throughout the evening. Cream and cake were served at a late hour.

Flossie Bowman invited her Sunday school class, The Loyal Workers, to her home to spend the hours between Sunday school time and singing. Some thirty guests were present and enjoyed the repast.

The sing Sunday night was one of the largest and best ever. Such special numbers as the Sunday school class songs, boys and girls choruses etc., added immensely to the evening program. Messrs. Sharp, Park and Lewis are on the new committee and promise to have a program for the next four Sunday nights. Everybody invited and welcome.

The singing school was discussed and will probably begin about August the first.

Preaching next Sunday afternoon, the 30th, at four o'clock. Rev. J. R. Sharp will preach for us. Come to the services.

Mrs. Jeanette Hartwell of Bovina, and the manager of her big farm-ranch at that point, J. J. Weinan, were in Hereford on business Monday. They reported 400 acres of fine cotton prospects on their place.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Casteel and two boys, Robert and Barnie Parks, arrived here Tuesday evening from Atlanta, Georgia. They are visiting in the home of Mrs. Casteel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. L. Wilson. They will probably remain here until the middle of August.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION

RELATING TO GRANTING OF CONFEDERATE PENSIONS

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollar valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purposes, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together, in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article No. 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

Approved, March 20, 1923.
S. L. STAPLES,
Secretary of State.

"Somebody's Hurt"

Mid-afternoon—A busy street—A sudden cry—The rush of nearby figures—"Somebody's hurt!"

Tragedy—Broken health—A broken home—for someone—may lurk in that familiar phrase.

Yet how casually we say it. How soon the fleeting lesson is forgotten!

"SOMEBODY'S HURT!" Have you ever paused to consider that some day this cry may be raised above you? Recent statistics show that in a year one person in every fourteen is killed or injured in an accident.

What if you were to meet with prolonged or permanent disability to-morrow? How would your family be fed, clothed and sheltered if your earning ability suddenly were cut off? How long would your savings keep your family in its present comfort if your income were severed and there were additional heavy expenses for surgical attention, nurses, hospital care, specialists' fees, etc.?

Your best protection against the constant menace of accident and illness is an Accident and Health Policy with—

Col. E. T. Woodburn in Celebration of Birthday

Col. E. T. Woodburn's home once again is scene of gaiety. Last Sunday brought another memorable day to Col. Woodburn, when he had with him all of his children, although his eighty first birthday was not until Tuesday. His daughters and sons arrived as early as Friday afternoon, and by Sunday noon all were present with the exception of five grand children and two sons-in-law. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Woodburn, Loma and Lon Woodburn of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cross of Texico, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Neely and little daughter Jimmye Louise of Texico, Mrs. O. W. Squyers and twin daughters Vadia and Velta of Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woodward and daughter Jimmie Joe of Claude, Texas, Mrs. Chas. Woodburn and son of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Woodburn and son Pat of Lockney, Miss Mattie Woodburn of Hereford, Mrs. W. E. Betts of Claude, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye and daughters Louise Anne and Caroline, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woodburn of Amarillo.

Those who were unable to attend the re-union were: Cooper and Lalkie Woodburn of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs.

Frank Woodburn of Clovis, Guydelle Woodburn of Claude and little Sarah Dona Woodburn of Amarillo, W. E. Betts of Claude, and W. O. Squyers of Weatherford, Texas.

Little Jimmye Louise Neely is the only great grandchild of Col. Woodburn, and attended her first re-union of the family.

Dad Childress is maintaining his reputation as an expert cotton farmer, established last year. In 1923 Dad, whose one big stalk was located between the sidewalk and the paving back of the first National Bank, was the first farmer here to show a bloom. He had every prospect for a whale of a crop until some vandal topped the crop one dark night.

This year Dad has two good sized rows in the parking space in front of his place of business, and puts in a lot of time and hard work in tending to them. Monday morning Dad was excited by the discovery of a big bloom on one of the plants, which is also literally loaded down with squares.

Dad declares he will make a bale to the acre in 1924 if the insect and human pests let him alone.

E. B. Black Is Owner of Very Fine Hereford Calf

The registered Hereford cattle industry here has of course been badly crippled in recent years, but there are still a few breeders who are quietly hanging onto the cream of their herds and awaiting the day when the Hereford returns to his own. Among these long-visioned men is E. B. Black of Hereford, who has about forty head of picked stuff on his farm near Black, Texas.

Mr. Black is highly elated over the arrival last Wednesday of a bull calf that its owner declares to be the "best calf ever dropped in Texas." The youngster, who has been named "Domino Stanway," has an awesome pedigree of blood of the bluest blue. Mr. Black says he is thirty two and one half percent straight Anxiety blood, his four paternal grand parents being none other than the great Anxiety bulls Stanway, Militant, Domino and Beau Brummel. On his dam's side he is equally distinguished.

The mother of the calf is a Domino cow which Mr. Black purchased in the Cox sale at Monette, Mo., and the sire is a high class Stanway bull brought here from Midland by Mr. Black last year.
