CASTRO CO. PICNIC SET FOR AUG. 14

SCADS OF EATS WITH SPEAKING, ATHLETICS, ETC

NOTED FOR FOOD

And Hospitality, the Castro People Have an In-viable Record

The famous Castro County Annual Picnic—"the Daddy of 'em all" when it comes to Picnics—will be held on the courthouse lawn at Dimmitt on Thursday, August 14, 1924, according to announcement made here this week by the committee in charge, consisting of W. A. Tate, J. W. Bell and J. E. Turner. These gentlemen were in Hereford Thursday, looking after some business details for the big meeting, and extending cordial invitations to the Hereford people to come down on the fourteenth and have a good time.

The program calls for speaking at 11:00 a. m., with the dinner served promptly at 12:00 o'clock. At 2:00 p. m. the field events, including potato races, sack races, nail driving and sawing contests for ladies, etc., will be given, followed by a good ball game at 4:00. Also a splendid program of pony and saddle horse racing, goat roping and bronco riding has been arranged to entertain both men and women.

The committee will provide plenty of beef, bread, coffee and pickles free, but request that all the ladies bring well filled baskets to supplement these things.

For many years Dimmitt's splendid Annual Picnic has been the model for all similar affairs in the Panhandle country. It is famous for the abundance and quality of the "eats" served each year, for the excellence of the programs offered, and for the cordial spirit of hospitality shown every visitor lucky enough to attend by the good folks of Castro county.

The Committee this year invites the people of this community to come and be with them, and there is no question about the crowd that will most certainly attend from Hereford.

Mrs. W. A. Price Our Matron of New Hospital

Mrs. W. A. Price, the present manager of the Hereford Sanitarium, will be the matron in charge of the new County Hospital. Mrs. Price was named to this important public duty at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the new institution, held last week.

There is a peculiar satisfaction in this announcement to the scores of friends of Mrs. Price in this community and to every person who has been a patient in the Hereford Sanitarium. It is well known that a real County Hospital was the dream of Dr. Price's life. Mrs. Price is deeply imbued with the desire to be of service in carrying through the vision her husband possessed. The County of Deaf Smith is indeed fortunate that it will be the gainer from this unusual feature.

Mrs. Dewey Lawrence and Babe Visiting Oberthiers

Mrs. Dewey Lawrence of Paris, Texas, with her baby son, arrived Monday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Oberthier, Judge Lawrence, who has just been renominated as County Judge of Lamar county, Texas, is expected here in about two weeks.

C. B. Hershey and Wife, of Colorado, Visit Here

C. B. Hershey, Dean of Men in Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mrs. Hershey arrived overland on Wednesday for a visit with Mr. Hershey's brother, Ray Hershey. Mrs. Ray Hershey, who has been in the sanitarium, is doing very nicely now. It is reported.

Fine Prospects In Football at High This Year

Hereford High has the best football prospects for 1924 that she has had in many years. Practically all the team from last year will be back, with the experience of 1923 behind them. D. C. Arthur, who turned out such a scrappy basketball combination last fall, will coach the eleven this fall and if this young man can put half the fight and determination into the gridiron work that he injected into the basketball team Hereford High will be heard from. Another thing that will help this year is the fact that through a reclassification of high schools Hereford will not have to play Amarillo for championship honors, but only schools of a like rating in numbers and size.

It is Coach Arthur's intention to take his squad to camp near Canyon again this year, about the middle of August, and get an early start on the training season. What he needs, and the entire team needs, is a hearty backing by the people of Hereford. Here's some apparently sure prospects for the 1924 eleven, not counting new material not now heard from:

Buck Hines (last years captain), Taylor Thurmond, Onias Carroll, Artie Russell, Jess Russell, J. M. Posey, Clinton Woolry, Trix Karr, Beuron Wade, Abb Posey, Buryl Witherspoon, George Connel, Paul Patterson, Price Barrett, Robert Anthony, Clarence Karr, Gene LeGrand, Egbert Bradley, Earl Woods, Wesley Higgins, Glenn Witherspoon, John L. Wilson, Arthur Harris, Chas. Sowell, John Robinson, John Bray, Alton Sawyer, Geo. Parker, Harold Spratt.

Civil War Vets Spend Day Talking Days of '64

There was a reunion here Monday when Colonel E. T. Woodburn was host for the day to Sam Cooper, aged 87, of Parker county, Texas.

These two elderly gentlemen were soldiers together during the Civil War. Mr. Cooper has relatives in Castro county and is up here visiting them. The pair had a great meeting but Colonel Woodburn complained that "we did not have time to talk—we hardly got started in one day!"

Suggestions Made For Beacon Lights on Tower

"To The Brand"—I wish to make the suggestion that the Chamber of Commerce install two 300 candle power electric lamps on top of the water tower, with the understanding that the city will pay for the current of keeping one of them burning each night.

"Two is suggested so that in case one of them gives out the other would be available.

"If this is done it will serve as a beacon light for a great many miles in all directions from Hereford and will go a long way in advertising our town and creating favorable comment. In this connection it might be advisable to mention the fact that three of the top lights of our six white-way standards on Main street are not burning, or at least have not been burning for the past several nights.

Cracksmen Try To Burglarize Dimmitt Bank

A cracksmen, or maybe more than one of them, tried to burglarize the First State Bank of Dimmitt on last Thursday night. The robber was either an amateur or was frightened away before any real damage was done. He secured twenty dollars but overlooked about $100 in change in the vault.

The bold bad man entered the building through a rear window and drilled a hole about fourteen inches square through the brick vault, through which he crawled. No effort was made to blow the safe, however.

The robbery was not discovered until next morning when bank employees opened up for business. So far no clue to the bandit has been discovered. It is understood.

Monday Luncheon Takes Up Details of Singing Conv't

The major portion of the luncheon time at the City Cafe Monday was taken up with perfecting details of the forthcoming Singing Convention next Sunday on the courthouse lawn. There were thirty present and the question was thoroughly threshed out and complete understandings arrived at.

E. B. Black, W. E. Dameron and A. M. Jones, committee in general charge of the affair, asked for $200 in cash and the meat necessary for the crowd, promising to attend to everything else if these two necessities were furnished them.

A. Herbst, chairman, E. S. Ireland and T. K. Wilson were named as a finance committee, and W. E. Dameron and Claude Norton as a beef committee.

Dr. Overton reported for the committee who attended the Dimmitt meeting Saturday night.

Next Monday the luncheon will be held at the Stockman's Cafe.

Rev. McCall and Wife Visit in S. J. Rice Home

The Rev. Harry McCall, wife and daughter, returned missionaries from Brazil, visited Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Rice over the past week end and Rev. McCall preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday night. Mrs. McCall is a cousin of Mr. Rice. The party left Monday for California.

Rev. McCall's discourse Sunday night was interesting to Hereford people who know nothing about South America. The speaker has lived in that country for thirty one years.

Railroad Meeting at Dimmitt Well Attended

A committee consisting of D. F. Ashbrook, L. Rankin, E. W. Harrison, C. C. Rockwell, Dr. Jao. W. Overton and W. S. Williams went to Dimmitt last Saturday night in Mr. Rockwell's car and attended a special meeting of the Castro Chamber of Commerce called to hear Col. C. H. Powell submit his plan for the proposed Texas Panhandle & Gulf Railway. Col. Powell was introduced by Judge B. D. Woodlee, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and he proceeded to outline the project of the proposed railroad that is to be built from Seymour, Texas, to Tucumcari, New Mexico, giving statements of the benefits, methods of financing and the construction of the road. The presentation of the plans was very interesting, backed by logical statements gathered from the four years of hard work he and his associates have given in promoting the railroad that is sure to bring progress and plenty throughout the territory traversed.

The proposed sale of three million dollars of preferred stock to property owners along the route of the new road was well in hand, the speaker stated, and that as soon as the road is completed he will go to New York for the purpose of floating seven million dollars in bonds, the ten million dollars being necessary for the building of the line. In addition thereto, the road will issue two million dollars of equipment notes, for the purchase of passenger and freight cars and locomotives. Col. Powell also stated that he would organize a land company of five million dollars capital stock for the purpose of buying lands along the proposed route of the road.

The quotas given to land owners along the route was rated at from two dollars per acre down ranging as low as fifty cents, owing to location, etc. It was estimated that the lands would increase in value from ten to fifteen dollars per acre if the road was built.

The present status of the project, the speaker further stated, is that the preliminary surveys had been made. The character of construction and estimated cost has been ascertained together with voluminous evidence as to the necessity for the road which has been submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing at Austin last December and the matter has been certified by the State Railroad Commission of the State of Texas to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington. The hearing on this record, before the Commission at Washington is set for October 1, 1924, at which time the road will be required to present evidence of its financial ability in order to secure an issuance of permit to build the road. The road is to be completed within two years after construction is started.

Judge Hendricks, Judge Hale, Judge Graham of Tulla, Secretary Barks of the chamber of commerce of Tulla, Bob Nichols of Tulla, Dr. Overton of Hereford, Judge Kerr of Dimmitt and others spoke encouragingly for the proposed sale of the preferred stock. Judge Woodlee, chairman of the meeting also appealed to the property owners of Castro county to buy the stock.

A committee of nine members of the chamber of commerce, was appointed to prepare the plans for the sale of the stock. The committee: Judge B. D. Woodlee, chairman; Judge C. F. Kerr, C. B. Kligore, R. C. Shurgoff, Edwin Ramey, Mack Cowser, Bruce McLean, C. J. Maple and Fred Galle.

♦ NOT a Picnic!
♦ If anyone tries to tell you that there will be a Picnic during the Singing Convention meeting on Sunday, you tell 'em to go off and soak their head—and get the Right Idea, quick!
♦ There will most emphatically be NO Picnic next Sunday—no, sir—most emphatically NOT.
♦ It will be a straight Singing Convention. Last week The Brand innocently called it a Picnic—and W-h-e-w!—what a bawling out we got from all sides.
♦ Of course everybody expects to bring a basket of food Sunday and eat a little, along with the Singing, but please get this straight—there will absolutely be nothing whatever like a Picnic next Sunday.

Careful plans for siding the County Singing convention for feeding a crowd up to four thousand people, if necessary, next Sunday, August 10, on the east and north sides of the courthouse lawn have been perfected by the Chamber of Commerce committee, consisting of E. B. Black, chairman, Judge W. E. Dameron and A. M. Jones.

A special committee of fourteen ladies have been asked to aid the three men, and have responded nobly. These ladies are: Mesdames L. B. Brady, Ray Barber, C. H. Dyar, C. C. Ferguson, Nestor Gass, H. H. Hawkins, A. M. Jones, C. O. Lee, D. L. McDonald, Henry Hastings, J. Frank Potts, P. W. Price, Alvin Thompson and W. S. Williams. The final meeting before the convention will be held by both committees at Mr. Black's store Friday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock, to check up last minute details.

Five hundred feet of temporary tables are being erected on the courthouse lawn, where the meat, bread, pickles, tea, coffee, etc., to be provided by the committee will be spread so that the people can get to the tables easily and help themselves. Suitable shade and seating capacity will also be provided.

The committees request The Brand to say that every woman in Hereford is expected to bring her own plates, cups, forks and spoons, together with a basket lunch of chicken, chicken pies, corn bread or biscuits, pastry, vegetables, etc., and also condensed tea in jars that can be diluted on the grounds and made into ice tea. The committee will also have some of these things for emergencies. Beavers have been secured and fifteen pound roasts have been procured about among the housewives of the town who will cook the meat in their homes before Sunday and have it ready to serve at the proper hour. This method was adopted in preference to the regular barbecue idea, to which some objected.

There will be no church services in any of the churches Sunday morning. Sunday schools have been asked to cooperate by turning out early, so that the singers and ladies who are siding may reach the convention as soon as possible. The committee requests all those who will help with the meat and other things to eat to be on the grounds by 11:00 o'clock if possible.

A canvass of the business men of the city was made this week by a special finance committee consisting of A. Herbst, chairman, T. K. Wilson and E. S. Ireland. A liberal response enables the committee to say that the expenses of the project has been taken care of.

It is hoped that every family in Hereford will be represented at the convention Sunday, and that the visitors to the city will go away with the feeling that they were welcome and were accorded a reception that will remain with them in memory for years to come.

Nope, we haven't made up our mind about it yet—have you?

Smatter of fact, if the Republicans put out a real good man, and he should win by any kind of a rascade, it would probably be the best thing for Texas Democracy that could possibly happen. Keen competition makes for better work and better men as a rule. As it is, they can win with any kind of a man—or woman. The necessity for putting out the very best man in the State in order to win, as obtains in some other states, does not exist here.

Yes, it may be hot Sunday, and you may prefer to stay at home at the noon hour and "take it easy." But remember that on that occasion YOU are supposed to be host to our country visitors at the Singing Convention, on the Courthouse lawn, and it would hardly look right for the HOST to absent himself, or herself, on such an occasion, would it?

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN, IT'S YOU

Summer vacations should bring the folks back home with a broader vision, greater health, and a firmer appreciation of the old home town.

Every man and woman secretly nurses in the mind the vision of a town that would be most desirable. They work through the winter months and then when holiday time comes around they make a dash for what they hope will prove their ideal surrounding, only to find as a rule that they have found nothing particularly new. Right then they should realize that the kind of town they really want can be had right where they have their real estate investment if they only set to work to make it so. As the good verse says, "It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town: it isn't your town IT'S YOU."

Real towns are not made by apathetic existence in them. They are not built by jealousies nor by ruinous competition. Prosperity and happiness are fruits of a constructive spirit, the result of every one working for the same end, no one dodging a fitting responsibility. The persistent activity of a half dozen unselfish men, backed by ideas, can raise a town from the dead. Snag and life in any community simply reflect the character of its residents. Indifference is the besetting sin

Finnigan and Mulligan Discuss Governor's Race

(By "Mark Anthony")

Finnigan passively sat on the courthouse steps pulling his old clay pipe. Mulligan, sad faced, down hearted, smoked a scoger. Says Finnigan to Mulligan:

"Devil a time we'er fur havin in Texas now, a-trying to nominate a Givnor. Eight foins and near-foins liddies and won womans. Wan ballot and only two was lift. That shore do hate the record of the Dimmercratic convenshun in New York."

Says Mulligan: "But look what is lift—a Ku Kluxer and the pecking part of the Ferguson family. God give your soul, Finnigan, the Dimmercranks lost another Glo-o-rious oppertunity to do thimselves proud. That was a foine bunch of Bhoys, Tim Barton wud hiv made a rale Givnor. Tim won the war, no dute about it. I got it from eye witnesses of the last grate battle. The American troops was drawn up in battel array, Foch, Haig and Jack Pershing, jst before the last grand charge was made rayvned forty miles from front. Foch did same quite satisfied. He turned to Jack Pershing and says: 'General, where is Tim Barton, thim cow gentlekin of West Texas?' We all stepped proudly to the frint with Tim, the owid frinch marshall grinned and says: 'Let the battle begin! Tim Bartin giv wan yell 'Come on bhoys' and when the English and Frinch cote up with us the war was over. Tim wud hiv made a foine candidate but his opponents brung awful charges agin him; they accused him of Vichitory, and that is a serious charge in a dimmercratic primary in Texas. No soldier bhoys that iver sot in France to make the "world safe fur the Dimmercratic party", to use the foine frase of W. Wilson, made iver ask fur office—he's barred, he's outlawed."

"Thin there is Tay W. Davidson, a foine man, lift-tinnent to Givnor Pat Niff. Whit thraded his liver for a hart in his early childhood and iver toime Pat Niff goes out if the State Whit pardons simbody. Twas him that turned Clancy and Dinty Moore out if the pennynshary."

"Burkett and Collins is both good Irish names. Look at the grate Irishman in this foine, fray land. There is the polose force of New York, me and you, and Charley O'Bryan, the Dimmercratic candidate for Prsident, if Davis should die. Thin his riverince the Pope was a candidate."

"In the 'also rans' was Lynchin Davidson, the bhold boy of Huston town, risher than Hennery Ford or Jawn D. But he raised the price of lumber so high that had that grate patriot, Ebernezer Bushrod Black invinted the May-tillick coffin, there would have been no coffins fur the poor. And shure the poor have a right to die."

"But none of these survived the first of American community life. You and your neighbor can make this town the best little town on earth if you put yourselves into it. Remember it isn't your town IT'S YOU."

vote. Only two was lift, Jedge Robertson and Mistress Jim Ferguson. Take your choice, or as fur as I am concerned ye kin hiv thim both. If Jedge Robertson is illected Givnor the Rangers will be dressed in Ku Klux shates and masked balls will be all the rage, and our old friend Jiggs will be tared and feathered for mistrating Maggie. On the ither hand if Sis Miriam is illected she may 'sign on the dotted line' but Jim will git he pay envelope. She says she "only wants to be Givnor wan term." Shure Mike—kan't you see it? Sure, her first act will be to pardon 'Farmer Jim,' then he can run 'his own swate sif' and git two terms; thin he will want to go to the Senit, and then his children, and his children's children would want to be Givnor.

"It's the Ferguson Dinnastay, Finnigan, or swapping the Sthars and Sthripes iv Ohld Glo-o-ory fur the two hote shate of the night prowler. So what are ye goin to do about ir?"

Says Finnigan: "I'm going tao the polls, scratch thim both with red ink, and pray to God to hav mercy on Texas; thin I'm going to move to Oak-lyohomy."

TAKE YOUR CHOICE. ANOTHER MILESTONE. MERCHANT FARMERS. VALUABLE WASPS.

Republicans demonstrate to you beyond the shadow of doubt that La Follette will take his votes from John W. Davis. "Organized labor States will desert Democrats," and "Davis will get nothing but the South."

Democrats can prove, if you have any intelligence at all, that La Follette's vote will be taken from Coolidge. La Follette is a Republican, his following is chiefly among the farmers of the Northwest. They are Republicans. La Follette will carry Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, cripple Coolidge and elect Davis. That is what the Democrats say.

Civilization continues to pass important milestones. The end of slavery was one. The steam engine was another, the electric dynamic another, telegraph and telephone others. The most romantic milestone is soon to be labeled "Around the World in a Flying Machine."

Twenty-five million dollars' worth of grain elevators are included in a big merger that will allow men that grow grain to control marketing. This is one of the biggest cooperative marketing enterprises ever organized.

The farmers owning this concern, IF they own it, and IF they control its management, would have storage for 50,000,000 bushels of grain, in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, Fort Worth, Texas, etc.

Men that produce the wheat, pigs, corn, potatoes, etc., ought to have something to do with the marketing and price regulation. They haven't managed it yet, but California has proved that it can be done.

United States athletes have secured the track and field championship in the Olympic games. Those are the most important events, since they indicate possession of the most intense nervous and mental concentration.

Running, jumping, etc., mean nothing now except as they indicate brain and nerve power behind the record. This mixed race of ours, which is NOT a "Nordic" race, a Latin race, a Semitic or Celtic race, is doing as mixed races have done for centuries, in Greece, Rome, France, England—beating races that have allowed the breed to stagnate.

B. G. Lamme is dead. How many of our 12,000,000 know his name. He was one of the four greatest electricians in this country. Edison, Tesla, and Steinmetz were the other three. Lamme and Steinmetz are gone.

A master of electrical science, Lamme was creator of 150 useful inventions, and called "the greatest mathematician."

At his work as chief engineer for the Westinghouse Company, Lamme was helped by two sisters, one with a desk beside his was chief designer of direct current motors.

These two sisters worked with their brother, as the sisters of Herschel and Reagen worked with their famous brothers.

Such work is better than the fame that passes with the death notice.

Of all the news to-day, for permanent value nothing is more important than the importation by the State of Ohio of seven thousand wasps from France. These peculiar French wasps are brought here to fight the corn borer. They and their children's children might save the country hundreds of millions a year.

United States ceases issuing Treasury savings certificates and stamps that have paid 4 1/2 per cent. The Government can borrow money from big banks and financiers at a lower rate. So why pay 4 1/2 per cent to the little people?

What about the high minded, magnificent, unselfish, patriotic desire to "cultivate thrift in the masses"? Did that die suddenly when interest rates fell? Did the Government want to help the masses, or only want the savings of the masses?

The prosperity outlook is cheerful, even for farmers, something that could not be said a few weeks ago.

"Ten dollar pork," which means $10 a hundred for hogs on the hoof, is in sight. That's due to the high price of corn. Pork is corn transformed in the pig's digestive apparatus. Farmers that raise the pork also raise the corn. They'll get the money. And cattle are going up.

INTRODUCING SALLIE

Sallie is a modern, pretty young creature, with all the emotions and desires you yourself had when you were at that glorious age that lies somewhere between sixteen and twenty-five.

Again, she is your own daughter, or the daughter of your very best friend. In other words, there is some one dear to you with the same warmth of sentiment, the same eternal struggle between "right and wrong," and underneath it all, that innate desire to "do right" that God creates in all our little girls—that prompting spirit called conscience to be tenderly nurtured and made strong by clean thoughts and actions or left to grow lax and imperfect as a weed.

Sallie is everywhere. The eyes of the world are upon the ultimate outcome of her moral code. Is she going to weaken her creed of right and wrong and stretch her philosophy of life to that of girls who have a "good" time?

In this day of cigarettes, cocktails and corsets parked at the dance, your little girl is just where Sallie is. She must decide for herself. Your protecting arms cannot reach out to her when problems arise. Do not be too stung and self-satisfied about your daughter being "different" from the rest of her crowd. They are all Sallies at heart. Perhaps Sallie's own experience, put down truthfully from the pages of her own life, will help your Sallie to pause before she rushes headlong into the cataclysm that yawns to-day for every young girl.

"Goat" Jenkins Gives Some Advice

"Wake up, Bright Eyes, I've brought you some flowers."

It was Anne Coddington standing with her arms full of bright pink roses beside my bed. She looked attractive as she stood there in her little white linen frock, her eyes sparkling and her cheeks as pink as the roses she held. There was a crisp wholesomeness about her.

I glanced at my wrist watch. Ten o'clock! I knew it was an unearthly hour.

"I'm sorry to wake you, Sallie," Anne apologized, "but I wanted you to know that I couldn't help seeing—I've felt wretchedly about it," she stammered, "I just had to stop by to let you know I'll never breathe it to a soul—but you know I wouldn't, anyway, didn't you, Sallie?"

I had no idea what it was all about. "What in the world's the matter?" I inquired. "Have you just got fire to the orphans' asylum?"

Anne smiled, or rather tried to, but I knew it was more of a reprimand for my frivolity. Anne is serious minded, being one of those women with a purpose. She even has an office down town where she writes advertising and makes gobs of money. She is from one of the oldest families in the state and "belongs" but is not very popular because on a party she is not a good sport.

"Oh, you know what I'm talking about," Anne continued. "Last night, Sallie, don't you remember? Ted and I—er—Sallie, how long have you been engaged? Wait 'til I put your flowers in water and then tell me all your plans."

She moved over toward the window and began arranging the roses in a dull, blue bowl.

Then over me came a flood of memories. The dance—the music, wafted to us in the car—Ted—the evening air, soft-scented and caressing, like purple chiffon—then Ted again—the lady in the moon—the kiss—the unexpected appearance of Anne.

I laughed. Ted had said nothing about being in love with me and here she was taking it for granted that we were engaged. Anne was a funny girl. Although we are as different as two sides of a coin, I am closer to her than any other girl in my crowd. Maybe it is because she helped me out of so many scrapes in boarding-school days. Then, too, it is only natural, I suppose, to like those who love us, and certainly Anne had proved that she was devoted to me. Why, I could not understand.

"Good night, Anne," I finally managed to say, "do you think just because Ted kissed me, that I should drag him to the altar and make him promise to love, honor and obey?"

There was a pained look in Anne's eyes.

"For goodness' sake," I added, "don't look so shocked, you make me feel positively immoral, my dear." She sat silent with a puzzled frown and I noticed that tears appeared. If I had not known her so well I might have thought she was a woman with a past.

"Did you have a good time, Anne?"

"I did, in a way," she answered. "But that was one reason I came out looking for you. I thought maybe you and your date would take me home. I didn't want to make Gordon leave and I was having such an unhappy time. I think now I know why I am such a walk-flower at a dance," she said.

"That's silly, Anne," I comforted, "you're not." Though I had noticed that, in spite of the fact that Anne was a good dancer she was never rushed, and it was not at all unusual to see her with the same partner for several dances.

"Well I found out something last night," she ignored my remark. "I was waiting with 'Goat' Jenkins. He had been drinking a lot and what do you think he said?"

Anne blushed. She was one of the few girls left in the world who could. "I'll bite," I answered. "What did he say?"

Anne's voice sank to a whisper. "You're the only girl on the floor with one of these on," he said, and meant my corset, Sallie. "Go up stairs and park 'em and you'll get more dances," he suggested.

"It's funny, Sallie; I love to dance, I feel the music to my very soul," she continued, "and yet I'm conspicuously unpopular. I noticed last night that you couldn't get two feet without three or four of the boys breaking at once, and there was one time when I counted eight breaks before you could get half way 'round. And yet you sat out three whole dances with Ted. If I were as popular as you, I certainly wouldn't spend my time outside. Sometimes I wonder—"

"Don't do it, darlin', it's an awful tax on the brain," I wanted to cheer her up again.

"Well, maybe you're right, Sallie. Anyway, I must be running along." Half way across the room, she turned. "I've some publicity to do for the Lingerie Shop and guess what I've got to write for the feature ad?"

I couldn't. It was too early to even try.

"Corsets," she flung at me, and smiling humorously, she hurried away.

The phone rang. I reached it from the taffeta skirts of the doll-lady on my bedstead table. "Hello." It was Majorie Chenoweth.

"Curtis Wright's in town and he's the most thrilling person you've ever known. He and Bob were classmates and we were going to ask you both over to-night to dine."

"Yes, yes," I replied, "go on."

"Well, in the first place, all the ambitious mothers are trying to marry him off to their debutante daughters because he's a very successful architect, but so far none have been able to hold his interest. He has been quoted as saying all sorts of scathing things about 'jazz type'—you know, he's the cynical kind."

"Oh, Marjorie, not a woman-hater—how divine!" I was overjoyed.

"That's all right, Sallie," she warned. "I know they all fall for you, but not Curtis Wright. I'll be—"

"What time did you say we were to dine?" I interrupted.

"That's the thrilling part, Sallie. He couldn't come. He's having dinner with your dad."

"That's great!" I announced. "This is one night I dine at home."

THE PASSING DAY

By Will H. Mayer, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

Since the women have been voting, greater numbers of them are to be found standing as near the polling places as the law permits, handing out candidates' cards to voters on their way to vote. The candidate who can't get some pretty young women to hand out his cards seems to regard himself as out of luck. It is doubtful whether many voters change their votes on their way to the voting booths just because a pretty girl hands him a card and asks him to vote for her candidate. Still, there is little harm done by this custom and it does help the printers who print the cards.

Do the women vote for candidates because they know them and like them, or do they vote for them because of the principles for which they stand? It is pretty safe to say that as yet most women do not take the trouble to inform themselves as to the views of candidates on public questions or as to their records in public service. They are more influenced by friendship for candidates than are the men, or by the social or moral standing of those offering their services. That accounts largely for the extensive circulation just before elections of rumors reflecting on morals of candidates, for whatever may be his virtues on other questions women as a class will not vote for a man of doubtful moral character or of social vices. Some of them insist on knowing the candidates personally and excuse themselves for not voting with the statement, "Oh, I am not crazy about any of them and do not care to vote."

The next attractions to follow after the second primary that will get the people together in large numbers will be the district, county and community fairs. It is to be hoped that they will draw as large crowds as the political picnics and barbecues. If they do, they will be worth more to the people than all the political gatherings of the year. The campaign orators, of whom the year has developed many, might be utilized to impress the people as to the importance of co-operative effort in the right kind of community development. Every community in Texas has great opportunities that are going to waste through lack of systematic effort. The people merely need to be aroused to the advantages of united effort.

The time is coming when a Texas county that grows cotton will be ashamed to admit that all its cotton crop is sent out of the county to be manufactured into goods that sell for from three to ten times as much as the raw cotton. Such an admission will be regarded as evidence of thriftlessness of a kind that is inexcusable. Heretofore there has not been enough money in Texas to carry on the farms, to handle the commercial business of the State, and to operate factories to any great extent, but with the State steadily growing richer it will soon be in position to manufacture its products of all kinds.

Judging from the space given to it by the daily papers, baseball has become one of the leading industries of Texas. It is a mighty poor town that hasn't a ball team and that doesn't regard its team as a bit superior to teams from other towns of like size. This writer may be a bit "old-foggy," but he can't understand why strong young fellows who can't do a day's plowing without complaining, can play ball in a temperature of 110 degrees without a murmur, and why people who can't walk two blocks in the hot sun can cheerfully sweeter in the sun on the bleachers of a ball park. It must all be in the mental attitude toward the thing one is doing.

About the most difficult feeling for most persons to overcome is that something else than what they are doing affords better opportunities than the work they have in hand. The farmer wants to get to town and the town man is anxious to live in the country. The lawyer wants to be judge of a court and the judge wishes he had a law practice that would pay him as well as a position on the bench. The traveling man thinks he could be happy if only he could stay at home and the fellow who has always lived at home knows he could have a good time on the road. The women think they could make a huge success and be perfectly contented in business and the men would like to loiter around the house in loose kimonos. If you have learned to be fairly content with your position in life and your work, you have learned about the most helpful lesson that can be taught any one.

Robertson Says He is Member of Ku Klux Klan

Dr. Jno. W. Overton recently addressed letters to Felix D. Robertson and Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, the two candidates for Governor of Texas, in which he asked them some pointed questions. Thursday morning a reply was received from Judge Robertson's office. So far Mrs. Ferguson has not answered. Among other things Dr. Overton asked Judge Robertson if he is a member of the Klan, and also if he is and is elected governor to what extent would he be governed by Klan counsel, etc. The following reply, signed by W. C. McIntire of the Robertson Headquarters staff at Dallas, came today (Thursday):

"Replying to your letter of the 31st, addressed to Felix D. Robertson, candidate for Governor, permit me to advise you as follows, upon the instructions of Judge Robertson:

"Judge Robertson, in the primary recently held, declared publicly in several speeches, that he is a member of the Klan. He declared that if he is elected Governor he will be the Governor of all the people of Texas, regardless of religious affiliations.

"I believe the reply in the above paragraph answers your three questions.

"Referring to statement made by Judge Robertson in the Dallas News on August 3, and in other papers in Texas, these words were used—'I shall, if elected, administer the affairs of the people of Texas in the great office for which I am a candidate, for all the people.' I think the above answers in full your queries, and thank you for the opportunity to give you the information."

Keefe Carter and Party Play Exhibition Game Here

Local golfers enjoyed a rare treat last Sunday afternoon when they were privileged to follow a foursome from Amarillo in an exhibition match. Henry Ansley, the well known "Ima Cowhand," piloted the visitors down here and the following is his accurate story of the exhibition in The Amarillo News Tuesday morning:

"The record for eighteen holes on the links of the Hereford Golf club was broken yesterday afternoon when Keefe

FAIR COMMITTEE ASKS FOR EXHIBITS

In as much as the time is drawing near for the usual fall fairs, and exhibitions over the country, Deaf Smith county should be alert to attain the place she rightfully deserves in the agricultural and live stock schedule.

The Chamber of Commerce is fostering our activities along this line and it is proposed to have a one day display here of exhibits just about two or three days before the Amarillo-Tri-State Fair; then such articles as are needed, will be collected and carried on to Amarillo, and perhaps to Dallas and Lubbock.

The Chamber of Commerce will offer prizes for articles displayed here for the day preceding the out of town fairs, so we feel that it is doubly worth while for each individual to do his level best to produce something a little better than the other fellow.

Publicity is all that we need to demonstrate the fact that we have as good country as the Texas Panhandle affords and we feel that the channel as suggested by the County Fair or general exhibit is the very best way to let the outside world know the truth about us. Too, the getting together and talking things over will do us good and we will feel more in unison to have the closer touch once a year at least.

A schedule of prizes offered by our local Commercial organization will be published within the next week or so, and this will give something definite to work to.

The Committee will be glad to give any information or advice that is possible to give.

A. M. JONES, Chairman
 J. B. JONES
 J. S. JONES.

Carter, amateur champion of Oklahoma, shot the course in 69 strokes, two under the record.

"Young Carter was accompanied to Hereford by his brother, Dorsett, Jr., Jim Threatt, W. W. Woolsey and I. A. Cowhand of the Amarillo Daily News.

"The foursome began playing at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and a large gallery followed the players.

"Young Carter took a 36 on the first round and made a par 33 on the second round. Threatt was the only one of the visitors to clear the creek in driving to the second hole. This cost the Oklahoma champ two strokes.

"The first hole in the local course is a par 3. Young Carter made it, in 4 on the second round but by making a birdie on number 3 he got back to a par score.

"Carter was greatly bothered with his putting and had he been able to have handled his putts as he did his drives and approaches would have made a much lower score. The greens here are much faster than the ones at Amarillo and Carter could not get the knack of playing them in such a short time. Local golfers believe that if he played for a short time on the local course that he could negotiate it in 30.

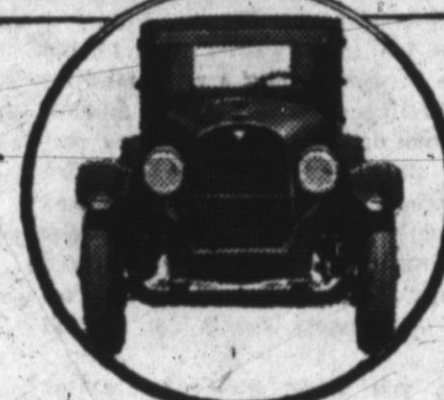

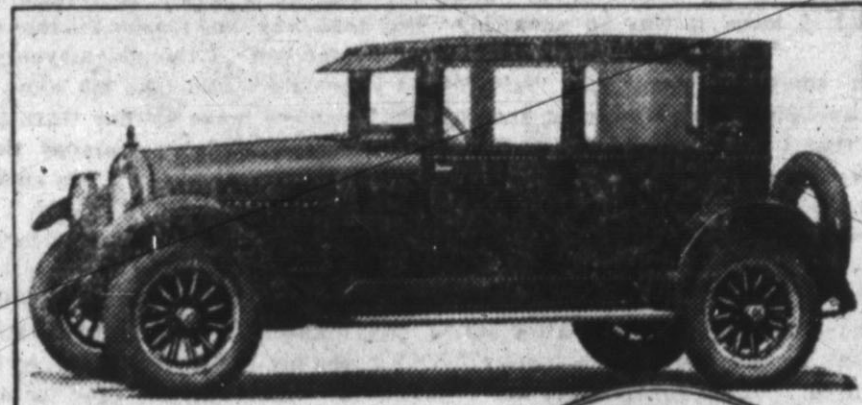

"Carter's approach shots were a revelation to local golfers. He was deadly accurate with them and should have had at least three birdies and two eagles on the last round but failed because of missed putts.

"The visitors were extended every courtesy by the local club and they were loud in their praises of the local course."

Tom Ivey Extending Invitations To Try His Fish

"I want every body in the Panhandle that likes to fish and enjoy a real outing to be my guest at Springvale farm sometime during the month of August, free of charge," says Tom Ivey, owner of the Springvale Farm.

Springvale farm is located 8 miles east of Hereford and five miles southwest of Dawn, 45 miles from Amarillo. On this farm is a large spring said to be the largest in the Panhandle.

Mr. Ivey and his partner, Dr. I. E. Barr of Lubbock plan to sell 400 acres of the farm to a club. On this four hundred acres there will be more than one and one-fourth miles of running water with more than one mile of it averaging more than six feet deep. The big spring will also be on this tract.

Springvale Farm has always been recognized as one of the ideal fishing places of the Panhandle but for the past seven years no one has been allowed to fish there. This summer the place has been open to the public and a nominal entrance fee charged but Mr.

Ivey says that he wants everybody in the Panhandle to come to the farm and see just what he has.

A large quantity of fish were placed in the creek last fall which in addition to those already there makes it exceptionally well-stocked.

More than 200 acres of the 400 acres is sub-irrigated land, suitable for the growing of alfalfa and prairie hay is cut from it every year.

Mr. Ivey and Dr. Parr plan to sell 200 shares in the club at $200 a share and deed the land outright to the stockholders. They also will spend more than $4,000 in setting out trees, building fences and making other improvements. The land has a good five wire fence on three sides at this time.

Ervin Robinson Weds Hereford Girl July 26

The young couple returned to Hereford the same day and will make this their home. They are both well known young people of Hereford and their many friends wish for them much happiness through out their married life.

MR. AND MRS SHARP HONORED

With Mr. and Mrs. Sharp as the honorees, and husbands of the members invited guests, the Bay View Club entertained last Friday evening at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Seth B. Holman with a very delightful lawn supper. The small tables arranged on the shady velvety lawn, covered with snowy linen, and crystal baskets of sweet peas in the center of each was in itself a most attractive picture, but with the background of trees, and in the far west the gorgeous clouds of sunset made an alfresco feast one of summer's greatest pleasures. The menu temptingly prepared consisted of fried chicken, potato chips, pickles, fruit salad, hot buttered rolls, iced tea, white and black cake and fruit sherbets.

Mrs. Sharp since her marriage has been a member of the Bay View Club. Her brilliant and well trained mind, her sweetness at all times, and her efficiency in all departments of club work made her one of its most loved and valued members. Her absence in the future will be a matter of keenest regret to all who have had the good fortune to be associated with her in the past. As a memento of the occasion and an expression of club feeling a dainty hand painted book containing names of the guests present, together with sentiments of love and good wishes was presented to Mrs. Sharp at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp leave this week for their new field of service at Dalhart, Texas. They have during their residence here upheld and fostered all that is highest and best, and their loss will be one not easy to replace. The sense of this loss was the only shadow on an otherwise very enjoyable evening.

Among the forty guests of the occasion were some out of town visitors, Mrs. Laird, a former member of the club, bit now of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Price, of Seattle, Washington; Mrs. Potter of Wichita Falls, and Miss Mary James of Dallas, a sister of Mrs. Sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Borland and son of Vernon came to make their old neighbor, O. L. Sharp, a visit. As the Sharps did not know they were coming no one was at home. One morning lately Mr. Galley found an old turkey hen nearly eaten up in a yard near the buildings. On looking around he found eight of her flock dead. What ever it was that did the killing, did not kill the young ones to satisfy hunger, and some were found on one side of the woven wire fence and some in another field, so it must have been the work of a dog, as a coyote seldom comes over a fence so close to buildings. We have the gun loaded and we are watching the turkeys.

Nearly every one is through harvesting now and a good rain would be welcome.

We don't see so many jack rabbits around now since cars have become valuable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Galley called on Mrs. Ray Hershey at the Sanitarium Sunday. We are glad to report she is improving.

Edwards Desires To Be Useful To the State of Texas

Will C. Edwards of Denton county, who will be a candidate against Barry Miller of Dallas in the August primary for lieutenant governor of Texas, made the following statement after the results of the primary were certain:

"I am seeking the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor for the honor and the opportunity for service it gives. I entered the race in the belief that Texas Democrats would react favorably toward a candidate who had eschewed all factional groups, whose only purpose was to serve and who would be pledged only to service of the whole people. After advising with friends I announced my candidacy without seeking the endorsement or consent of anybody or any group.

"Returns of the first primary show enough Democrats did so react as to give me, with the support of my friends and their friends, a place in the runoff, which is between Judge Barry Miller of Dallas and me. Judge Miller has said the only reason he entered the contest was that he was drafted by the Farm-Labor bloc. He has their support and their platform has his endorsement.

"As for me, I shall run in the second primary as in the first—in no alliance with any group or bloc or candidate, still holding to the belief that there are enough Texas Democrats unswayed by radicalism, factionalism or prejudice to constitute a majority. If I am mistaken, I shall be content, for I am wholly sincere in the determination to go into office my own man, with my only pledge to be fair and just to all and to give the very best service of which I am capable, or stay at home.

"I am for law enforcement all down the line and opposed to lawlessness or mob rule any time, anywhere, in any form, believing in law enforcement through duly constituted authorities and nowhere else.

"I have been a prohibitionist since early manhood, supporting prohibition individually and editorially. I have advocated woman suffrage since it became an issue.

"I believe in an economical, efficient administration of the State's affairs and that Texas needs a better distribution of its tax burdens rather than additional taxes.

"Believing that in education lies the solution of most of our economic and governmental problems, I am interested in every phase of education and as a citizen, editor and legislator I have labored to the limit of my ability for the upbuilding of the educational system of Texas from bottom to top. I have been particularly interested in the betterment of the rural schools and was instrumental in getting through the rural aid and emergency school appropriations in the 38th Legislature.

"I believe in collective bargaining for labor. I have been an employer of labor for a quarter of a century and that I have been fair and just to my employes is proved by the fact that without an exception so far as I know and believe every last one who ever worked for me is my supporter in this race.

"Saturday's results show that a candidate who has back of him only his friends and his friends' friends and who has the coherent opposition of a powerful and well-organized bloc is on a difficult road. But I yet believe that when the facts are put before the Democrats of Texas—men and women who are Democrats first of all—they will decide that the interest of the state will be best served by selecting a Lieutenant-Governor who is not concerned in factionalism or radicalism but would be fair to all; who wants sincerely to be of some service to the whole state who is not a chronic office seeker, and who will either go into office free and untrammelled or not go at all.

"I have made my campaign on my own qualifications and with no criticism of any opponent and I had hoped to adhere to that policy throughout, but my opponent's opening speech makes that difficult. I seek the support of the Democrats of Texas on the ground of service to the state and fairness and justice to every citizen, every section, every legitimate interest.

"I shall include my position on the foregoing and other matters of public interest during my campaign which I shall open next week and during which I expect to visit as many parts of Texas as is possible in the limited time between now and August 23.

"In closing I would render up my thanks to those friends whose active and enthusiastic support gave a comparatively unknown man more than 185,000 votes. Hundreds of them gave up their time and energy to soliciting votes for me and interesting their friends in my campaign. I am deeply grateful to all of these and hopeful they will continue their active interest in my candidacy through August 23."

Amarillo, Aug. 6.—The first coffee roasting plant in the Panhandle-Plains region has been installed here by the Junior Coffee Company, which also has a plant at Fort Worth. The company will specialize in preparing freshly-roasted coffee for the region. J. W. By keeping small shipments going forward, consumers will be furnished with coffee roasted only a few hours before.

So keen has become the popular desire for jack rabbit ears, worth ten cents per pair, that now some complaints are coming in from farmers that there is a little too much promiscuous shooting going on. This is especially so at night, when hunters cannot see cattle in the pastures.

One farmer told The Brand this week that night hunters, shooting down the rays of light from their autos, can not see cows bedded down ahead and as a consequence one of his cows was shot in the neck one night recently.

"I am in favor of this bounty," said this farmer. "It's a good thing and we must get rid of the rabbits. But men should be more careful in handling firearms, especially at night."

Unique Drama Also Big Fashion Review

Frank Lloyd's production of "Black Oxen," a First National Picture featuring Corinne Griffith and Conway Tearle, which is the feature attraction at the Star Theatre next Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9, is more than just a unique drama—it's a fashion review as well.

Being a society drama of the present day with reference to the later years of the last century, "Black Oxen" covers a span of more than thirty years in milady's wardrobe.

Miss Griffith, who plays a dual character makes twenty-two complete changes of wardrobe during the course of the production and her gowns are valued at more than $35,000, with furs totalling almost an equal amount. A majority of Miss Griffith's gowns have been created with Walter J. Israel, who has been responsible for many of Norma Talmage's costume creations, and by Lucile, famed French modiste.

In addition to the beautiful costumes of Miss Griffith, those of Clara Bow, her flapperish associates, and several scores of other girls in the production have been especially designed by Israel that "Black Oxen" might display the newest ideas in feminine attire.

Mr. Lloyd has even provided tailor made suits for a group of eleven elderly women who appear with Kate Lester in a scene laid in the Oglethrope home. Furs, capes, boots, hose and in some cases even lingerie, was provided by the screen director for women participating in the action of the play.

Amarillo, Aug. 6.—When the old-time cowpunchers of the Panhandle meet on August 28, they will have as their guest Dr. John A. Lomax, known throughout the nation as a collector of cowboy signs and stories. Word that Lomax will attend has been received by Judge L. Gough of Amarillo, chairman of the arrangements committee.

Every cowboy who came to the Plains before 1890 is invited to come to this reunion, and bring their families. It was originally organized by ex-cowboys of the T-Anchor outfit, but has been extended to include all old-timers.

The reunion will be held on the Palo Duro, about a mile north of Canyon, and the program will be a re-enactment of the old range life, including everything from chuck wagon to camp fire. Stories, speeches, songs and yells will recall the departed days.

Amarillo, Aug. 6.—The Panhandle Baptist assembly, now holding its fifth annual session at Ceta Canyon, near Happy, will close Sunday with what is expected to be one of the greatest religious festivals ever staged in this section. This assembly resembles an old-fashioned camp meeting in its programs, but there also are facilities for fishing, swimming and other vacation amusements, and an increasing number attend the sessions each year. There were 200 campers when the meeting opened on August 1, and Saturday night there were 350 campers. Seven hundred attended the Sunday services. The camp grounds may be reached through Canyon, Happy or Tulla.

Amarillo, August 6.—All that is worth while in dairy cattle will be on display at the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition, September 22 to 28, according to present indications. The majority of Northern exhibitors, have chosen the Amarillo fair as the starting point of their swing through Texas, and the importance of this show also is being recognized by Texas breeders. This is because of the rapid increase in dairy farming in this section, and the demand for high grade animals. By sowing at Amarillo, breeders are able to come to the heart of the best market in the west.

Swisher and Potter counties, among others, will uphold the standing of the Panhandle against outside entries. Swisher county will send about twenty notable animals, including five recently purchased from Ed S. Lassar farms at Falfurrias.
