Tommie Weemes recently returned from a radio-controlled model airplane competition event in Phoenix, Ariz., receiving a first place plaque in the general aviation category and third place in people's choice.

Weemes competed against approximately 30 people in his division at the formal 9th Biannual Sale R-C Fly-In with his Gee Bee Sportster Model E Airplane.

The plane which took nine months to build is a 1/4 scale model of the original "playboy" airplane.

Judged on accuracy of outline, color, markings, and fidelity to details, the craft is equipped with a .91 cubic inch Webra engine made in Australia. Weighing 11 pounds with a wing span of 70 inches, the model is fueled with alcohol, castor oil and nitromethane. It has a calculated speed of 62 mph.

The aircraft cost an estimated $900 to build and is the first of its kind constructed by Weemes.

Weemes is currently drawing plans of the model aircraft to be printed in the Scale RC Modeler national magazine to be published in August.

Requiring a 100 foot run, the craft can fly in a one-half to one mile area. According to Weemes, "as long as the craft is in sight, it can be flown."

Shuttle Pilots Ready; Countdown Progressing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts John Young and Robert Crippen, "ready to do the job," were flying here today to begin their launch-site exercises with a visit to Columbia, the untested shuttle they'll fly in to space Friday.

Following a long break for repairs, the countdown was back on schedule today and a spokesman said, "Everything here is going smoothly."

In the morning, workmen installed the explosive charges that would detonate the shuttle's fuel tank and booster rockets should they wander off course and threaten populated areas following launch.

Young and Crippen planned to pilot separate 1-36 jet trainer planes from the Johnson Space Center in Houston toward a mid-afternoon landing at Patrick Air Force Base, 35 miles south of here.

As launch time neared, their training coordinator, Bill Jones, reported: "They're ready. They feel fully trained. I've never seen a bunch of guys so ready to do the job."

At the pad, launch crews working overtime Tuesday made up a 10-hour slippage in the countdown with minor technical repairs: an electrical short circuit, a leaky valve and gaseous contaminants in fuel lines.

Some teams worked through a rest period — a planned hold in the countdown that was extended from eight to 12 hours — to make up for lost time Tuesday. Four hours were borrowed from another hold scheduled later today.

Meanwhile, gusty winds along Florida's east coast raised concern that weather may block Columbia's launch, scheduled for 6:50 a.m. EST Friday.

The Air Force is predicting winds of 10 to 12 mph for Friday. Space agency officials say winds can safely be up to 11 1/2 mph on the runway here that serves as the prime emergency landing strip if the astronauts have to abort the mission during the launch phase.

"They tell me that Friday looks good for weather," said John Yardley, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. "Saturday doesn't look too good."

Reagan Security 'Very Tight'; Second Antagonist Arrested

By MAUREEN SANTINI
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, his recovery from a bullet wound in the left lung perhaps slowed by his age, may have to stay in the hospital another week until his fever is gone and he is off antibiotics, doctors say.

Meanwhile, a man who authorities said shared accused assailant John W. Hinckley Jr.'s affection for actress Jodie Foster and stayed in the same New Haven, Conn., hotel was charged with threatening to kill the president after being arrested with a loaded revolver in New York. The FBI said a letter found in the hotel room threatened "to bring to completion" last week's assassination attempt.

Reagan was reported under "very, very tight" security at George Washington University Hospital. "There are hundreds of them (agents) here," said Dr. Dennis O'Leary, dean of clinical affairs at the hospital. "I don't think I am exaggerating."

Secret Service spokesman

Jack Warner denied that security had been increased because of the assassination attempt or Tuesday's arrest of Edward Michael Richardson, 22, of Drexel Hill, Pa.

But Warner said the president's detail "had to be augmented by field agents because of the hospital environment. We are away from the secure White House environment."

O'Leary said the president may be at the hospital longer than had been expected.

Reagan had a slight fever Tuesday night and doctors want him to remain in the hospital until his temperature is normal and he is off antibiotics, O'Leary said.

That could be another week, he added, explaining there is a "four- or five-day spread" in which Reagan could leave, depending upon his progress.

Earlier, there was speculation that Reagan could be released this week, although deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes said doctors were "approaching it on a day-to-day basis...not trying to pinpoint a date."

Dr. Daniel Ruge, the president's personal physician, said the 70-year-old Reagan has lost a few pounds since he was hospitalized.

Asked whether Reagan's age was slowing his recovery, Ruge said through deputy press secretary Karna Small that "defense mechanisms in older patients are not as good as they are in younger patients."

O'Leary said Reagan was walking with a bounce Tuesday and looked "first-rate. This has very clearly been his best day."

White House press secretary James S. Brady, who was shot through the brain in the assassination attempt, sat up in a chair Tuesday, a medical bulletin said. "He can now drink by himself and is eating solid foods on a regular basis."

The bulletin said Brady was evaluated by the physical and occupational therapy staffs "who have initiated appropriate treatment programs."

Policeman Thomas Delahanty was reported in good condition at Washington

Hospital Center, recuperating from a gunshot wound in the neck. His temperature was normal, but he was to remain on antibiotics for 24 hours "as a precautionary measure."

Timothy McCarthy, the Secret Service agent credited with saving Reagan's life when he took a bullet in his liver, was released from the hospital Tuesday and stopped in to say goodbye to Reagan.

"I wish you well on your vacation and trip to Mexico and I thank you from the bottom of my heart," a White House statement quoted Reagan as saying.

Afterward, Reagan gave two FBI agents a first-hand account of the attempt on his life. Speakes said there would be no comment on what Reagan remembered about the six shots that were fired as he left the Washington Hilton Hotel March 30.

El Salvador Denies Massacre Premeditated

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — El Salvador's Defense Ministry claims the massacre of 30 civilians in a San Salvador slum was provoked by firing on an army patrol. Witnesses say the victims were dragged from their homes and if they resisted were shot in front of their families.

Reporters visiting the Monte Carmelos slum district after the pre-dawn shooting Tuesday counted 23 bodies, scattered for 100 yards along a street. Residents of the area said seven people were killed in their homes.

The corpses in the street were riddled with large-caliber bullet wounds in the head and chest. Blood had collected in small pools. Two houses were burned by fires, apparently started when they were hit by bazooka rounds.

"It was the national guard and the police," shouted several residents.

"It was horrible... indescribable," said one.

A young boy said men in uniform and civilian clothes drove into Monte Carmelos in the darkness Tuesday. He said a masked man appeared and began pointing out homes, presumably those of leftists opposed to the civilian-military junta headed by President Jose Napoleon Duarte and backed by the United States.

Uniformed men knocked at the front door of each home, entered and after a few seconds dragged one or two victims outside, the boy said.

"I could hear the screams of someone asking a neighbor to turn on the outside lights, but no one did," he said.

A Defense Ministry spokesman denied the killing was premeditated.

"One must have a sick mind to plan something like that," he said.

The spokesman claimed government forces on patrol were fired on and returned the fire. He said four soldiers were killed in the exchange but would not provide the names of the casualties.

Neighbors of the dead said they watched the killing from their windows.

"We were very afraid," said a pregnant woman.

"We could not leave the house until dawn," said another resident. "When there was sufficient light, the picture we saw was horrible. The whole street was covered with bodies."

Commenting today on the mass slaying, the Soviet news agency Tass said: "The bloody Salvadoran junta follows a policy of genocide as regards its own people, actively using methods of mass murder of civilians used by the American military in Vietnam."

The El Salvador Human Rights Commission estimates that more than 13,000 people have been killed in El Salvador in political violence since ultra-rightist President Carlos Humberto Romero was overthrown by more liberal officers on Oct. 15, 1979.

The U.S. government, believing the junta is the best hope for a stable democracy, has sent 54 U.S. military advisers and $35 million worth of arms and military equipment for the national guard. The Reagan administration claims the guerrillas are getting aid from communist countries.

Marcos' Majority Far Short Of Predictions

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos was getting overwhelming approval today of constitutional amendments to give him a six-year term as an elected president. But his 5-to-1 showing was far short of the 9-to-1 majority he predicted before the plebiscite Tuesday.

The government television service's unofficial tally of incomplete returns showed 7,867,030 votes approving the key part of Marcos' program and 1,764,086 against.

Nearly 25 million voters were registered, and government officials claimed 80 percent or more voted. Final results were not expected before the end of the week.

The referendum was the Philippines' first political exercise since Marcos, ended eight years of martial law last January and promised to guide the country back to democracy.

Marcos, 63, had predicted 95 percent approval of the measures that will allow him to run for a six-year term as president under rules that leave him as the only viable candidate.

The amendments also authorize the president to choose his own prime minister, veto national assembly legislation, seek reelection as often as he wants and name a 15-man executive committee to replace him if he is incapacitated.

The president and his subordinates would also be given immunity from prosecution for "official acts."

The voters also apparently approved a measure that will allow thousands of Filipinos living in the United States, Canada and other countries

House Panel Approves Retirement Age Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to raise the regular retirement age for Social Security from 65 to 68, given tentative approval by a House panel, eventually could save the beleaguered system billions of dollars every year, officials say.

The proposal, which would be phased in over 10 years beginning in 1990, is designed to give people an incentive to work longer while protecting those who feel they must retire at age 62.

"This is the best plan I've seen yet," said Rep. Willis D. Gradison Jr., R-Ohio, who has argued against using general revenue funds collected through income taxes for the hard-pressed Social Security system.

As a result of Tuesday's vote, the higher age will be included in a bill being drawn up by the House subcommittee on Social Security. The proposal still is subject to discussion and amendment by the subcommittee and by the full House Ways and Means Committee.

The subcommittee, by a 6-0 vote, adopted the higher retirement age at the suggestion of its chairman, Rep. J.J. Pickle, D-Texas. The subcommittee staff estimated that by raising the retirement age to 68 the long-range costs

12 Arrested In Offshore Pot Bust

GALVESTON, Texas (AP)—Three boats, 12 people and at least a dozen tons of marijuana worth $15 million are in federal custody today after a raid at sea aided by airborne surveillance, U.S. Customs officials said.

Federal authorities ordered the 12 people arrested held in the Galveston County Jail while charges were prepared against them. Customs spokesman Charles Conroy in Houston said they would be charged with conspiring to import a controlled substance and possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute it.

The marijuana "was packaged in uniform bales wrapped in burlap," he said.

Coast Guard Petty Officer Jeff Huse said a reconnaissance aircraft from Corpus Christi spotted the three boats together Monday afternoon.

"The aircraft (crew) observed some suspicious activity among the three vessels," Huse said.

Conroy said a Coast Guard helicopter, airplanes and a patrol boat were used in the 3:30 a.m. bust. He said all of the marijuana was found on a 65-foot shrimp boat, Little Al.

He said the men on two smaller motor yachts, 40 and 42 feet long, got on the shrimp in an apparent escape attempt.

"When they saw the airplanes they all came to the shrimp and apparently they were going to flee,"

Conroy said. But a Coast Guard patrol boat crew quickly arrested the dozen suspects without incident.

Six of the men arrested are from Houston, two are from Florida, two from Colombia, one from Cuba and one from Nicaragua, officials said.

Astronauts Get Ready for Job

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronauts John Young and Robert Crippen, "ready to do the job," were flying here today to begin their launch-site exercises with a visit to Columbia, the untested shuttle they'll fly into space Friday.

Following a long day of repairs, the countdown was back on schedule, and a spokesman said, "Everything here is going smoothly."

Prisoners Use Blank

DALLAS (AP)—A Dallas County prisoner made a well-planned escape from a hospital ward by firing a pistol loaded with blanks and stabbing his guard with an intravenous needle, sheriff's officers said.

"It obviously was well-planned by the way everything went down," sheriff's department spokesman James Ewell said Tuesday.

The prisoner, Alan Larry Smith, 38, was being held in Parkland Hospital at the time of his Tuesday escape, Ewell said.

Smith, a paroled inmate from the Texas prison system, had been jailed on firearms possession charges but was transferred to the county hospital when he complained of pain from an old gunshot wound in the leg, Ewell said.

He was shackled to the bedstead and was receiving intravenous solutions in both arms late Tuesday when an unidentified woman visited the hospital ward and apparently slipped him a pistol without knowledge of the guard, retired Dallas fireman Malcolm Watkins, 70, said Ewell.

After the woman left, Smith asked to be allowed to use the restroom, but when he was unshackled he produced the pistol and said, "I don't want to kill you. Take the IVs out of my arm," Ewell said.

Watkins struggled with Smith, but shots were fired at close range and Watkins was stabbed three times with the intravenous needles, Smith fired another shot, then ran from the building Ewell related.

Two automobiles were waiting outside, along with the unidentified woman, and Smith jumped into one of them, firing another shot at a pursuing officer, Ewell said.

"Sheriff's captain Ray Abner went to the hospital and looked around, and he believes the pistol was loaded with blanks," Ewell said. "There is no sign of any bullets hitting anything."

Kremlin Calmed the Waters; Intervention Still a Threat

MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin has "calmed the waters" in Poland but the easing of tension has not removed the threat of Soviet military intervention, Western analysts in Moscow say.

President Leonid I. Brezhnev in his speech to the Czechoslovak Communist Party Congress Tuesday said the Polish Communist Party would be able to deal with its problems. Eight hours later, official Soviet-Bloc news agencies reported that the prolonged Warsaw Pact "command exercises" had ended in Poland and East Germany and the troops were returning to their bases.

Western analysts in Warsaw said they had no evidence the Soviets had increased the 25,000 troops they have stationed in southern and northwest Poland.

But the end of the war games, which the Soviet news agency Tass reported began March 17, "certainly does not close off the threat of an invasion," said one Western diplomat who declined to be identified.

The situation continues to parallel the history of Czechoslovakia in 1968, when the Soviet Union and its communist allies conducted "command exercises" a month before their invasion crushed the liberal faction that had taken control of the Czechoslovak party and government.

The parallel was explicitly drawn on Monday by Gustav Husak, the Czechoslovak party chief the invaders put in power. He said the recent events in Poland recalled those in his country as well as the Hungarian revolution of 1956, which also was put down by Soviet troops.

And Brezhnev, along with his calming words, said Czechoslovakia's experiences in 1968 "showed convincingly that the plans of reaction hold out no prospect for success."

Before Brezhnev's surprise trip to Prague, the Soviet government media carried a series of ominous reports from Warsaw. The Solidarity labor federation had cancelled its plans for a nationwide general strike, easing tension in Poland, but the Soviet reporters said the Polish people were demanding firm action.

Western analysts in Moscow speculated that the press campaign, the continuing military maneuvers and Husak's tough speech Monday was a pressure tactic. By toning down the rhetoric and ending the maneuvers, "Brezhnev seemed to be trying to calm the waters," said one Western diplomat who requested anonymity. However, he added, the Kremlin has forcefully reminded Polish trade unionists and party leaders of its interest in keeping Poland in the communist fold.

Along with its reports of Brezhnev's speech Tuesday, the Soviet news agency Tass quoted at length from an article in the Polish army newspaper Zolnierz Wolnosci describing a "sharp struggle" still under way in Poland.

Religions of Hate

If professional newsmen are inclined to cynicism about religion it's understandable. They've been diving under tables all over the world to escape the crossfire of religious zealots.

They recognize that religion-related hate fuels far more wars than do political disagreements.

For examples: People killing people in the name of religion in Northern Ireland has cost 2,079 lives in 12 years; 144 of those policemen.

It is difficult to separate religion from politics in some world struggles. The inescapable strife which is tearing Iran asunder began as long ago as the seventh century when Islam was spread by "holy wars."

Our word "assassin" originally was the name of a group of Shiite Moslems.

Catholics and Protestants have warred for more than a hundred years in Spain and France. The English "civil war" of the 17th century was a conflict between the Protestant forces of Cromwell and the Catholic Loyalists of Charles the First.

Spanish conquistadors committed horrible atrocities on the natives of Central and South America in the name of "gold, glory and God."

It was religion-related superstition that spawned the Salem witch trials; English judiciary laws were ignored as 19 young women were hanged.

Pakistani Moslems warring with Indian Hindus... In the Mideast, Jews and Arabs.

The Jim Jones cult eventuated in mass "suicide on command" in the name of religion. Perhaps people kill people in the name of religion for the same reason that most murders are "in the family."

Police records show that brothers are more likely to kill brothers than strangers.

Teddy Holleck, Jerusalem's mayor, appears to have found a formula for peace in a city that could be torn asunder by its polyglot population of Jew, Arab, Greek, Armenian.

He encourages segregation. Each society has its own infra-structure with its encouragement and blessing.

Three thousand years since David made Jerusalem a capital, it remains widely divided yet significantly stable.

Ask Mayor Koleck about "integration in the name of peace and brotherhood," and he replies: "That is too big an order."

Let us content ourselves for now with the lesser objective of "order."

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

AUSTIN—It's high time somebody told the truth about the Blue Laws. Seldom has an issue been so clouded by so many half-truths and so much confusion.

What the Blue Laws are is a law that prohibits the sale of certain items on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays. It's not a "Sunday closing law" as many people would have you believe. Stores have a choice to open on Saturday or Sunday. Many stores are open both days, but do not sell the Blue Law items on both days.

We think the Blue Laws are good, for several reasons. One reason is that nobody should have to work seven days a week. The people in our district deserve a day off.

Another reason to keep the law the way it is now is that many of the small stores in our district probably will be forced out of business if this law passes. Large chains have the money to operate at a loss, seven days a week, until the smaller ones close. Then they have a monopoly in the market.

Also, with the price of energy of all kinds today, it is wasteful to keep a store open all week. Most of these stores would be half-full on Sunday, which would be a waste and would result in high utility bills.

But the main reason for keeping this law is that it is good for the families of all of us, not just the people who work in retail stores. If all stores were open on Sunday, we would need more policemen, more firemen and more municipal workers of all kinds. None of these people would have the same opportunity to spend time with their families that they now have.

While economic considerations are important, the most important consideration is the family itself. People are our greatest resource, and that is the resource we want to work the hardest to preserve.

We believe in separation of church and state, so religious arguments are not perfectly proper in the Legislature. But because the law, the way it is written now, gives retailers the option of closing on Saturday or Sunday, it really is a non-religious law that benefits people of nearly all religions. Most faiths observe a Saturday or Sunday sabbath. This law gives them that choice.

So far, our mail has been overwhelmingly in favor of keeping the law the way it is now. But whether you favor the law or not, we want to hear from you. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Criminal Mischief, Thefts Investigated

Several cases of theft and criminal mischief were reported to Hereford police officers Tuesday night.

Womble Oil Co., 208 S. Main, reported that someone broke or pried off the lock of a gas tank and took $25 worth of gas.

Fileman Valdez, 224 Ave. I, reported the theft of a ten speed bicycle. The silver, Sears bicycle is valued at $100.

Mrs. Abalos' Mexican Food Restaurant, 1107 E. First, reported a break-in Tuesday night. Apparently the back door was pried open to gain entry. Some $6 in pennies was taken.

Felipe Hognin, Star Route, told police someone threw eggs on his car while parked at Ideal Foods Tuesday.

Dan Walker, 1410 Long St., reported three tires had been cut. One tire was cut on a car and two on a pickup. Damage is estimated at $160.

Sandra Burrus, 106 Ave. I, told police two individuals in a maroon and white Oldsmobile drove through the yard of the residence while children were in the yard.

Oma Dickson, 1520 Blevins, told police she had allowed two dogs to stay in her house, but while they were in their home, the animals tore a rug, couch and chair. The owner of the dogs had been contacted for payment of damage.

Officers issued 10 traffic citations Tuesday.

Future plans for the aircraft and its owner include a possible trip to California to compete in the Western Regionals.

"I like to attend the event for the fun and people," stated Weemes.

Modeling for 30 years, Weemes said the playboy model aircraft was "ecstatically appealing." "If I were to ever decide to build a larger plane, it would be the playboy," he said.

To fly the model aircraft, Weemes is required to possess a FCC license for the radio and an AMA (Academy of Model Aeronautics) license.

Enthusiastic about his new hobby, Weemes recalls when Ted White, one of the vice presidents of AMA flew the craft demonstrating several difficult maneuvers, a skill the pilot of the aircraft has to conquer in time.

"The hobby is not a toy," according to Weemes, comparing it to the art of golf. "A person can get a self-satisfaction in building a model aircraft," he continued.

In addition to his models, Weemes is talented in playing trap drums and is presently learning the art of photography.

Columbia is the first spaceship designed for repeated trips into space — as many as 100 roundtrips. Young and Crippen plan to wrap out all its systems in a 54 1/2-hour orbital trip, piloting it to a landing at a large dry lake bed at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Components of the space shuttle have been tested, but Friday's scheduled launch will be the first test flight for the Columbia.

vice, Stuart Knight, paid a five-minute courtesy call on Reagan and was thanked for the protection his agency gave the president outside the hotel.

"I want you to know how proud I am of your service," the president was quoted as saying. "I am personally grateful."

Security has been increased around Vice President George Bush, who used an out-of-the-way garage entrance Tuesday night when he spoke to a Republican gathering in the same hotel where Reagan was shot.

As a further security precaution, the White House press office asked Washington newspapers not to publish Bush's daily schedule, including times and places. Speakes said a decision on whether to do the same with the president's schedule will be made once he is discharged from the hospital.

Warner, the Secret Service spokesman, said Tuesday night there has been a "substantial increase in threats and unusual interest toward the president" since the attempt on his life.

But FBI spokesman Roger Young said there was no apparent connection between Richardson, the man arrested in New York, and Hinkley, the 25-year-old drifter charged with shooting Reagan and three others nine days ago.

"That's an early appraisal, and we're checking into the possibility," Young said. "It's something you just can't not check."

Young said, however, there still is nothing to suggest a conspiracy in the attack on Reagan.

Federal sources, who asked not to be identified, said the FBI has reconstructed Hinkley's movements for the 38 days before the shooting. Young said agents are still trying to determine why Hinkley traveled to Los Angeles from his family's home in Colorado before taking a cross-country bus trip to Washington in the days immediately preceding the assassination attempt.

On Samar Island, in the central Philippines, heavily armed men believed to be communist guerrillas raided four polling places and carried off the ballot boxes. They told the voters the plebiscite was a "Marcos gimmick" to legalize an "illegal government."

There were also scattered reports of voters staying away from the polls because armed men were present, but the referendum was generally peaceful.

Friday Night Club

Plans May 1 Dance

The Friday Night Square Dance Club will meet May 1 instead of the regular date of April 17 because of Good Friday.

The club voted to move the dance date when they met Friday at the Community Center. Sammy Parsley called for the two squares present.

Jame Pettus of Clovis will call May 1 at the Community Center at 8 p.m.

The club is presently selling tickets for the state square dance festival set for June in Dallas.

Ann Landers

Truth Revealed

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have seen you on the John Davidson, Gary Collins and Phil Donahue shows. You look lively, youthful and beautifully dressed.

When I commented to my husband that you seem to have some difficulty talking, he said, "She is probably wearing dentures and isn't used to them yet."

Is this true, Ann? If not, what is the problem?—Mrs. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: My teeth are my own. I have a strong Midwestern accent. That is the "problem."

I seriously considered speech lessons years ago when someone asked me if I was born in this country. Several knowledgeable friends in communications advised against it. One well-known TV anchorman said, "Your voice is very distinctive, and this can be a great asset. Let it alone."

So, I've been making do with my nasal Midwestern twang, hoping that in spite of it I may one day be a success. Thanks for your concern.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister and I (ages 37 and 42) are planning a trip to Europe soon. Our husbands have given their approval and told us to have a good time.

The trouble is with Mother. She is 67 years old, and you would think we were high school kids—the way she is acting up. Mom says we shouldn't go because we will surely be robbed, beaten, raped or murdered. The woman is so angry with us she is barely speaking. According to her, we have no right to cause her such anxiety at this time in her life.

Do you believe it is safe to travel to Europe? We will abide by your decision, Ann, so think it over carefully.—Half Packed But Heavy-Hearted

DEAR HALF-BUT-HEAVY: According to the statistics, you would be safer in Japan or England or many countries in Europe than if you went to New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit or Atlanta. The countries with the strictest gun laws have the lowest homicide rate. People cannot live in fear, or they would never leave their back yards. My advice is exercise caution and good judgment, wherever you are. Don't go alone into sleazy neighborhoods, especially at night. Leave off the fancy jewelry. Use traveler's checks instead of cash. And stay sober.

Club Profits Rising

NEW YORK (AP) — In its 41-year history, members of Detroit's Mutual Investment Club have bought $137,038 worth of stocks, withdrawn $257,643 for other uses, and have a million dollar portfolio.

The best is to come, said George A. Nicholson, Jr., usually credited with being the father of the investment club movement. Nicholson, a member, estimates that by 1986 the club may be worth $2.3 million.

The biggest paper profit in its present portfolio of 42 stocks is Moog, Inc., up more than nine times. Trinity Industries has risen seven times, Core Industries five times, Air Products, Avco and Mobil Oil four times. Two socks have tripled, six have doubled.

Critics say the group isn't typical of clubs in the 3,900-member National Association of Investment Clubs because some of its members are professionals. They concede this, but insist nevertheless that amateurs can be properly prepared to make big gains.

Tom O'Hara, chairman of the NAIC board of trustees, tells the story of one of the club's biggest gains. As is the custom, members allowed their wives to pick a stock at the annual meeting. In 1974 they chose Amcord. The purchase price, said O'Hara, a member, was $2.875.

In 1979 Amcord shares were repurchased from shareholders at $34. Suddenly finding themselves with about $54,000, the biggest lump of cash they ever had the opportunity to invest, they bought among other things 1,200 shares of Kennecott Copper at $24 a share.

O'Hara said the club's figures showed a portfolio value of $1,039,000 on the morning of March 31 (helped along by Moog reaching a new high).

"People view stocks as I do — that stocks are one of the few things that have not risen sharply, and that if there are bargains anywhere they're to be found in stocks," he said in an interview.

Ranchers Urged to Support Brucellosis Change

The president of the Independent Cattlemen's Association has called on cattlemen throughout Texas to show their support of Gov. Bill Clements for his "courageous" decision to direct state officials to change emphasis in the state's brucellosis program from test and slaughter to vaccination.

Roy Wheeler of Pleasanton said the Governor's action is the major breakthrough that his association has been hoping for. "This is a concept we have recommended for several years at every hearing on brucellosis held in Texas and Washington," said Wheeler. "I hope cattlemen everywhere will show the governor their gratitude."

Wheeler said he hopes a new vaccine will be in use by the time the governor's proclamation is carried out. Recent conversations with Dr.

George Race of Dallas, Clements' advisor on brucellosis, have convinced Wheeler that some ranchers, particularly those in West Texas, do not like Strain 19 vaccine because it is a "live" vaccine. Dr. Race said these ranchers would prefer a "killed" vaccine because they suspect Strain 19 is actually bringing the disease onto their ranches.

A "killed" vaccine would cause more unity within the state, he said.

The most interesting aspect of Clements' proclamation, Wheeler said, is that it possibly will result in a showdown between the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. If the Commission follows the proclamation, they potentially could be in violation of the Uniform Methods and Rules of the federal government. But, Clements' proclamation says that amended brucellosis rules and regulations adopted by TAHC to go into effect April 10 should cease to be in effect on or before March 15, 1982, when a new program "moving toward" vaccination should begin.

If the "new" rules don't meet the Governor's approval and he fails to officially "proclaim" them, the Commission would find itself without any rules at all and would be subject to federal sanctions.

Wheeler asked that cattlemen notify the Governor of their support by writing him at the State Capitol, Austin, Texas, 78711.

"He needs to know how much we appreciate his action because there are those who favor regulation and control no matter how much it costs the individual ranchers and government," said Wheeler.

Wheeler and ICA Vice President Dr. C.E. Payne returned from Washington this week where they testified before House and Senate Appropriations subcommittees on proposed funding for the brucellosis control program. They pointed out to members of Congress that in the more than 45 years the federal brucellosis program has been in effect, several billion dollars has been spent. This does not include the money ranchers have spent to gather and test their cattle time and time again, said Wheeler.

"Yet," said Wheeler, "the man who heads the federal brucellosis program, Dr. Paul Becton, recently told a congressional committee that it will take 20 more years to control brucellosis. And, in this time when fiscal responsibility and balancing the budget is so important, the government wants a budget of $8.3 million for the control program alone, and predicts it will take another 20 years to control brucellosis. This test and slaughter approach has not worked and has ignored over the years that we have a vaccine that is supposed to provide immunity. It has also ignored research for a better test and a better vaccine."

He said he hopes governors in other cattle producing states will do the same as Clements has. "If this is carried out in other parts of the country we can put an end to wasteful federal spending on a program that has not worked and does not have the full cooperation of the majority of cattlemen," said Wheeler.

Field Hearing Concerning '81 Farm Bill Will Be in Amarillo

U.S. Congressman Kent Hance has announced that field hearings concerning the 1981 Farm Bill will be held in three West Texas cities this month. Included in the schedule is a hearing in Amarillo on April 22.

The Amarillo hearing will be held in the Villa Inn, I-40 and Grand Street. It will begin at 9 a.m. and last until noon, with an afternoon session set for 2-4 p.m. Congressman Jack Hightower will preside at the hearing, and persons wishing to testify should contact Marjorie Errington, care of Rev. Hightower at Box F-13207, Amarillo, Texas, 79101. Mrs. Errington may also be reached by phone at (806) 376-2381.

The hearings are being conducted by the House Agriculture Committee, and are designed to allow interested persons and organizations to testify when they otherwise would not be able to appear before the committee in Washington. "The 1981 Farm Bill will be completely re-written and will have major impact on the economy of the state and nation," Hance said.

Persons who wish to testify before the committee must notify the office listed above ahead of time. Witnesses must also submit 25 copies of their prepared remarks to the hearings for use by Congressmen who are members of the Agriculture Committee and their staffs.

If possible, the copies should be sent in advance to the person with whom they arrange their appearance at the hearings. Oral presentations will be limited to 10 minutes per witness to allow time for all persons who wish to testify.

Other hearings in this area include April 20 in the civic center in Abilene, and April 21 in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center in Lubbock.

Officials Want Exports To Highlight Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A number of Reagan administration officials and some Republican members of Congress have been pushing for weeks to get White House approval to have exports as one of the highlights in a new farm bill.

But full support of the White House — notably the Office of Management and Budget — has not been forthcoming, according to knowledgeable sources who asked not to be identified.

One of the sources said Monday that "as of a few days ago" drafts of the administration farm bill did not include a separate title — a main section — that covered agricultural exports.

The Food and Agricultural Act of 1977, which expires this year, does not single out farm exports for special treatment. Congress is drafting new legislation to replace or amend the 1977 law.

Agriculture Secretary John R. Block has voiced strong support of U.S. farm exports and has been urged repeatedly by some of his senior aides to push for a special export title in the administration's final bill.

The strongest push within the Agriculture Department is led by Seeley Lodwick, who is undersecretary-designate for international affairs and commodity programs — a post generally considered the No. 3 job in the department.

Lodwick, an Iowa, for years has been close to Sen. Roger Jepsen, R-Iowa, and was his state administrator after Jepsen's election in 1978.

Jepsen, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, has been pushing for a revolving credit fund to serve as a financing source for loans to help finance certain kinds of agricultural exports. The idea has support among several Farm Belt members of Congress.

In a position paper sent to Block, Lodwick also stated the case for such a revolving fund and, perhaps more significantly, wanted it included in the administration's farm bill to help the Reagan administration maintain control of the legislative package.

"In our view, the Congress will find unacceptable any international title that does not contain substantive proposals designed to expand exports of agricultural products," Lodwick said.

Thus, he said the administration's bill should contain "an export trade title that among other provisions would establish a revolving fund to provide a consistent program level" for offering qualified foreign buyers credit to buy U.S. commodities.

Lodwick, with backup from the department's Foreign Agricultural Service — one of the agencies he will oversee — said that since 1956 the USDA's Commodity Credit Corp. has made $9.2 billion in direct loans of up to three years each to help foreign buyers finance commodity purchases.

In District Baseball Opener Here

Herd Splits Twinbill With Plainview

By SPEEDY NIEMAN

Hereford won its opening District 4-5A baseball game here Tuesday afternoon over Plainview, but the Bulldogs rallied to take the second game of the doubleheader.

The Whitefaces used two five-run innings to put away the Bulldogs in the opener, 13-5. Hereford took an 8-3 lead after three innings in the second game, but Plainview rallied to score a 14-12 win over the Whitefaces.

It wasn't a lack of bat power that cost the Herd the second game. Errors and walks led to the defeat. Hereford outhit the visitors by 12-10 in the second contest.

Mike Mason went the distance in the opener, dishing out seven hits to Plainview while picking up his third mound triumph against one loss. Mason contributed to his own cause by lashing out two triples in the game, while Norman Hill and Matt Collier also rapped three-baggers. Ken Cosper and Don DeLozier each collected doubles in the opener.

The teams were knotted at 3 after three innings and Plainview moved out to a 5-3 lead in the fifth frame. Hereford rallied for five runs in the bottom of the fifth, however, and exploded for five more in the sixth to put the game on ice. Mason got into several jams in the opener but managed to pitch himself out of most of them. His mates committed only three errors in the field.

The second contest was a different matter. Matt Collier was tagged for 10 hits by the visitors, but six errors hurt his performance and kept him on the mound too long. Collier also had trouble with his control.

Plainview used a seven-run outburst to take a 10-9 lead in the fourth inning. Then the Bulldogs scored three runs in the fifth on just one hit. Hereford rallied with three runs in the bottom of the sixth, but darkness was closing in at that hour and the game was called after six frames.

The pitching defeat left Collier with a 2-2 won-lost record. Glenn Phibbs relieved Collier in the last inning and stopped Plainview after a run had scored.

In other 4-5A action Tuesday, Monterey swept a doubleheader from Lubbock Coronado by 9-4 and 8-1 scores. Lubbock High won a 14-0 game over Palo Duro in a non-district contest. Lubbock High opens district play Saturday when the Westerners host Hereford.

Phils, Reds Launch Season; Others Make Debut Thursday

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

The teams that battled down to and beyond the wire to decide the National League West a year ago resume hostilities in Los Angeles. The NL's two newest managers square off in San Francisco. The main men in a major trade will try to draw first blood in Chicago.

And the 1981 baseball season — lasting anywhere from seven weeks to six months — will be under way for real.

The traditional opener was scheduled for today in Cincinnati, with the Reds hosting the world champion Philadelphia Phillies, whose manager, Dallas Green, says, "We're the team to beat." Once that is out of the way, 16 more teams open on Thursday, four games in each league.

In Los Angeles, the Dodgers meet the Houston Astros, their conquerors in a one-game divisional NL West playoff last season. A Dodger Stadium crowd of 50,000 will see Joe Niekro, Houston's 20-game winner, take the mound against Los Angeles' Jerry Reuss, who authored the majors' only no-hitter a year ago.

Up the coast in San Francisco, Frank Robinson, the first black manager to be hired and the first to be fired, gets a second chance with another team, the Giants. Across the field in the other dugout with he huge Frank Howard, making his managerial debut as pilot of the San Diego Padres.

the Padres and Vida Blue of the Giants will be the pitchers before a crowd of 50,000 in Candlestick Park.

And in Chicago's Wrigley Field, with 36,000 expected, outfielders Steve Henderson of the Cubs and Dave Kingman of the New York Mets, who were swapped in the early days of spring training, will probably steal the spotlight from pitchers Pat Zachry of New York and Rick Reuschel of Chicago.

The fourth NL game is in Pittsburgh, where 40,000 are expected to watch the skidding Pirates and 19-game winner Jim Bibby entertain the hungry young Montreal Expos, who will call on Steve Rogers.

In the American League, 55,000 Yankee Stadium fanatics will help the East Division champion New York Yankees get under way against the Texas Rangers. Tommy John, a 22-game winner, will be on the mound for the Yankees and Jon Matlack for Texas but the microscope will be on multi-millionaire left fielder Dave Winfield.

At Bloomington, Minn., where the estimate is for a crowd of 25,000, the Oakland A's send 22-game winner Mike Norris against Jerry Kosman of the Twins. In economically depressed Detroit, the Tigers call on Jack Morris to pitch against Jim Clancy of the Toronto Blue Jays. Detroit's blue-collar fans, 50,000 strong, are expected to vent their ire on left fielder Steve Kemp, who took the Tigers to a controversial arbitration and won a $600,000 salary.

The AL's most topsy-turvy team, the California Angels, get under way Thursday night against the Mariners in Seattle. Free agent pitcher Geoff Zahn gets the call against Glenn Abbott before 35,000 in the Kingdom.

The Angels' pitching staff a year ago was in worse shape than the economy and the team slipped from a divisional crown in 1979 all the way to sixth place. One of baseball's great cliches says "pitching is the name of the game," so it will be interesting to see whether the Angels have any to go with a veritable murderers row of batsmen.

"Pitching is the key," says Joe Torre of the New York Mets, echoing the feelings of every other manager.

On Friday in Baltimore, with 51,000 expected, the Orioles send Cy Young Award winner Steve Stone, 25-7 a year ago, against the AL champion Kansas City Royals and Dennis Leonard, himself a 20-game winner.

Another AL opener in Boston finds Dennis Eckersley of the Red Sox facing Britt Burns of the Chicago White Sox in a game that is certain to be an emotional return of free agent catcher Carlton Fisk to New England, where 32,000 will pack friendly Fenway Park.

Friday's only NL opener is a night game in Atlanta where the hard-hitting Braves, with Tommy Boggs as his pitcher, entertain the Reds and Mario Soto. The Braves expect a crowd of around 38,000.

Grass Creates Controversy At Master's Golf Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A mild controversy involving grass — the kind you walk on or, in this case, putt on — surrounds the start of the 45th Masters.

The greens on the famed Augusta National Golf Club course, site of the event that begins a 72-hole chase Thursday, have been changed to bent grass.

It's generally considered to provide a faster putting surface than the old mixture of rye and Bermuda.

The players' reaction has ranged from the dark mutterings of older competitors about trifling with tradition — so important a part of this event — to predictions that the greens will be "fast, bumpy and brown" to the ever-bright outlook of Gary Player that in "a year of so they'll be better than ever."

At least two dozen men in the elite international, invitational field of 83 — 66 pros and 6 amateurs from the United States, 10 pros and one amateur from the foreign ranks — appear to have a good chance on the 7,040 yards of flowered, rolling hills that make up one of the world's most beautiful courses.

Most attention centers on Ray Floyd, Johnny Miller and Bruce Lietzke, each a two-time winner this season.

There's Watson, the outstanding player in the game for the last four years; two-time U.S. Open winner Hale Irwin, one of the world's most respected players and obviously reaching a peak of performance; Ben Crenshaw, whose game would seem to be ideally suited to the course; massive Andy Bean, capable of hot streaks that make him virtually unbeatable.

There's Texans Tom Kite and Bill Rogers, each a recent winner and each moving into his golfing maturity.

There's Lee Trevino, that master craftsman who last year established the lowest scoring average in 20 years of PGA Tour activity.

There's the foreign field, three-time Masters winner Player; former PGA champ David Graham of Australia; Isao Aoki, the little Japanese who was runner-up in the 1980 U.S. Open, and the troubled defending champion Seve Ballesteros of Spain, in a continuing dispute with the European Tournament Players over appearance money.

But the man most watched by press, public and other players is Jack Nicklaus, the mighty Golden Bear, the man who has won more Masters, more majors than anyone else.

Golf Tourney Set

The 1981 men's golf season gets underway at Pitman Municipal Golf Course in Hereford this weekend with the annual Two-Man Scramble Tournament.

Defending champs Jim Haren and Jack Coffey of Borger will be back to defend their title, it was announced today by Mike Horton, local golf pro.

The partnership tourney will be a best-ball format. Teams will be flighted by first-day scores. Shotgun starts will be at 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Entry fee for the tourney is $75 per team. Horton said entries will close at 6 p.m. Friday.

Tumblers Qualify For Region

The Hereford tumbling team entered a district meet in Amarillo over the weekend and qualified 13 members of the team to a regional tournament.

The region meet will be conducted in Lubbock Saturday.

Hereford's qualifiers for the meet include Rick Alley, Chris Block, Brenna Reinauer, Stephanie Skelton, Lee Reinauer, Vicki Brock, Cody Davis, Missy Alvarado, Jodie Decker, Leslie Nelson, Allison Farr, Jill Reinauer and Brooke Bryant.

Houston Shocks Spurs, 107-98; Bucks Even Series With 76ers

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Bucks have taken the home-court advantage away from the Philadelphia 76ers in their National Basketball Association playoff series, but they aren't taking anything for granted.

"We can't get too ecstatic about winning in Philadelphia," said Milwaukee forward Marques Johnson, after the Bucks did just that by a 109-99 count Tuesday night to even their best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal at one victory apiece. "It's just one game, and this figures to be a long series because these are two very good teams."

Another very good team, the Boston Celtics, took a 2-0 lead over Chicago in the other East semifinal by beating the Bulls 106-97. And in the West semifinals, both of which opened Tuesday night, the Houston Rockets defeated the San Antonio Spurs 107-98 and the Phoenix Suns whipped the Kansas City Kings 102-80.

Milwaukee was led by its forwards, Johnson & Johnson. Marques Johnson scored 22 points, 18 of them in the second half, and Mickey Johnson added 20 points, including 14-for-14 from the foul line, where the Bucks outscored the 76ers 45-25.

"They played 48 minutes of good, consistent basketball and we didn't," said 76ers Coach Billy Cunningham. "We had stretches of very good basketball but we couldn't sustain it."

Philadelphia, which was led by reserve forward Bobby Jones' 22 points, was crippled by 26 turnovers although both teams shot just 40 percent from the field.

It was a game of spurts, and it was the Bucks who had the decisive one midway through the fourth quarter, outscoring Philadelphia 16-4 in a 4:09 span to turn an 87-82 deficit into a 98-91 lead. Four points by Jones lifted the 76ers within three, but a three-point play by Bucks center Bob Lanier with 3:03 left clinched the victory.

Now the series shifts to Milwaukee, and Marques Johnson expects the 76ers to be even tougher the next time out.

Celtics 106, Bulls 97

Chicago will have the home-court advantage for its next two games against Boston, and Bulls Coach Jerry Sloan will take any edge he can get after the way his team played Tuesday night.

Chicago didn't get a basket in the first five minutes, trailed 32-14 after the first period, fell behind by 26 in the second quarter and could never get out of that hole. Robert Parish and Nate Archibald led the Celtics with 27 points apiece while Reggie Theus topped Chicago with 21.

Rockets 107, Spurs 98

Houston, still riding high after knocking off the defending champion Los Angeles Lakers, surprised the Spurs at San Antonio behind 27 points by Moses Malone and 21 by Calvin Murphy.

San Antonio led 27-18 late in the first quarter, but 15 second-period points by Murphy helped Houston to a 62-53 halftime lead and the Spurs came no closer than six after that.

The Rockets limited San Antonio to 42.6 percent shooting while hitting 50.5 percent themselves.

Suns 102, Kings 80

While San Antonio lost after coming off a nine-day layoff, Phoenix, which also received a first-round playoff bye after winning its division, won rather handily.

Phoenix pulled away from a 51-46 halftime lead to an 87-60 margin with 8:01 to play and coasted home. Included in that surge was a run of 14 consecutive points and another 8-2 spurt in which all eight Suns points were scored by Len "Truck" Robinson.

Guards Walter Davis and Dennis Johnson led Phoenix with 16 points apiece while forward Reggie King scored 16 for Kansas City.

Rangers, Astros Close With Wins

By The Associated Press

Larry Hise has missed most of the past two seasons with injuries, but this spring he's been putting the hurt on the opposition.

Batting at a .351 clip in exhibition games, the Milwaukee outfielder continued to burn up the Cactus League Tuesday with three hits, including a home run, as the Brewers walloped the Seattle Mariners 12-4.

Elsewhere, newcomers John Urrea and John Littlefield held California hitless over the final four innings and Juan Bonilla's two-run double put a split San Diego squad ahead to stay in a 7-3 victory over the Angels.

Luis Gomez drove in four runs as the Atlanta Braves pounded the St. Louis Cardinals 11-3. Pinch-hitter Gary Woods' two-run single in the eighth inning capped a four-run rally that gave the Houston Astros a 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Rich Dauer hit a sacrifice fly in the first inning and a bases-loaded grounder in the seventh for two RBI to lead the Baltimore Orioles past the New York Yankees 3-2. Pitcher Charlie Hough singled for one run, then scored the winner on Bill Stein's double as the Texas Rangers scored all their runs in the ninth and beat the Montreal Expos 4-3.

The Detroit Tigers pounded left-hander Frank Tanana for 11 hits in five innings and beat the Boston Red Sox 4-3. Hal McRae broke a scoreless tie with a third-inning double.

Rusty Kuntz singled home Chicago's winning run in the sixth as the White Sox beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1. Steve Garvey's grand slam homer in the fourth inning sent the Los Angeles Dodgers on their way to a 12-8 rout of the Chicago Cubs.

Reb Picciolo's squeeze bunt broke a 6-6 tie in the seventh inning and the Oakland A's scored three runs en route to a 9-7 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Tim Leary, preparing for his first major league start Sunday against the Chicago Cubs, hurled seven strong innings to lead the New York Mets to a 5-2 victory over their Jackson AA farm team.

Reserve catcher Craig Stimac drove in three runs with three singles, leading the remainder of the Padres to an 8-1 victory over San Diego State.

MX Missile Hearings Set in Four Texas Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The exact locations have been determined for the Air Force's public hearings in Texas on the proposed MX missile system. The hearings will be held in four Texas cities — Austin, Lubbock, Amarillo and the Panhandle town of Dalhart. Hearings also are scheduled in New Mexico, Utah and Nevada. The first public hearing in Texas on the draft environmental impact statement released last December about the potential effects of the massive MX system will be held at the auditorium of the Lyndon B. Johnson Library in Austin. Sessions are scheduled at 7 p.m. April 14 and at 1:30 p.m.

April 15. The remaining hearings are scheduled April 16 at the banquet room of the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, April 20 at the Amarillo Civic Center and April 21 at the Dalhart High School auditorium. In each of the three cities, sessions are scheduled at 1:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. each day.

The hearings were scheduled to collect public comment on the draft environmental impact statement released by the Air Force late last year. Six of the eight possible choices outlined in the draft environmental impact statement would locate the entire system of 200 missiles and 4,600 shelters in Utah and Nevada.

The seventh alternative would place the entire system in eastern New Mexico and West Texas, with the support bases at Clovis, N.M., and at Dalhart. The eighth alternative would split the system between New Mexico, using Clovis as the support base, and Utah-Nevada. The Air Force's format for the public hearings calls for a 30-minute briefing on the MX system, about 90 minutes for a question-and-answer session and two hours for public comments. Written comments also can be submitted for the official record. The Reagan administration recently started two new studies of the plan to base the MX mobile missile system on land, saying a decision will be made by early summer on whether to proceed with it or switch to a sea-based system.
