

Guerrillas Strike At U.S. Embassy Again

By GARY R. PEDERSEN
Associated Press Writer
SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Three squads of guerrillas staged a rocket grenade attack on the U.S. Embassy, doing considerable damage but causing no casualties, American officials said. It was the third strike at the embassy this month — and the biggest. Telephone callers claimed to be spokesmen for the Popular Liberation Forces, one of several leftist groups battling El Salvador's U.S.-backed junta, told local radio stations their organization was responsible. The claim could not be confirmed. The other two attacks on the embassy this month were blamed on right-wing terrorists. An embassy statement said two six-man groups sprayed the embassy building Wednesday with automatic rifle fire in a "diversionary tactic" while a third squad fired a Chinese RPG-2 grenade at the fourth floor. The grenade exploded in a vacant office, blowing out its windows, the statement said. U.S. Marine guards and Salvadoran soldiers returned the guerrillas' fire, the statement said, but the gunmen escaped. As they fled, they lobbed a grenade into a nearby car and demolished it. "The tables and chairs are still intact, but the office is pretty messed up and all the windows in it were blown out," an embassy employee reported. The employee, who asked not to be identified, said the same office was the target last Sept. 16 of another such grenade fired at the building. No one was injured in that attack either. The office of Charge d'Affaires Frank Chapin, the acting head of the embassy, is also on the fourth floor. But for security reasons, embassy officials won't disclose the exact location, and it was not known whether he was in the building at the time of the attack Wednesday. Gunmen fired at the embassy from a passing pickup truck on March 4 and again on March 17, but the damage both times was minor. The United States recently stepped up its support of the junta, increasing the total number of American military advisers to 54 and raising total military and economic aid this year to $97.5 million. The Reagan administration has asked Congress to approve $63.5 million more in economic aid. The embassy compound is surrounded by a high steel fence and sandbags. U.S. Marines, Salvadoran soldiers and police stand guard 24 hours a day. Visitors are carefully screened, bags carefully searched. For the past three years, the ambassador has traveled in a bulletproof limousine, trailed by a car full of armed guards. A spokesman for the Salvadoran government said Wednesday that President Jose Napoleon Duarte's daughter Ines was the target of an assassination attempt Monday. He said a pickup truck forced the car in which she was riding into oncoming traffic but she was not hurt. Meanwhile, a military spokesman for the government claimed that the only effective guerrilla resistance to government forces was taking place in Morazan province, a leftist stronghold about 100 miles northeast of San Salvador. He said 1,000 troops were sent there Tuesday but gave no other details.

Maximum Interest Rates Bill Moves Step Closer To Passage

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Legislation raising maximum legal interest rates on just about any kind of credit you can name is a step closer to passage.

The House tentatively approved the bill, 91-54, Wednesday night after laboring over it for six hours and is expected to pass it on to the Senate today.

If the bill passes, interest rates can rise for auto loans, credit card balances, department store installment loans, home improvements, business loans and credit union loans.

Bankers, auto dealers, credit unions, savings and loan associations, retailers and other lenders who pushed the bill received only one setback Wednesday, but it was a big one.

Liberals and conservatives banded together to drop the limit on the "floating ceiling" proposed by the bill from 30 percent to 24 percent.

"A bunch of us just decided 24 percent was all they needed," said Rep. George Pierce, D-San Antonio, a conservative.

Rep. Froy Salinas, D-Lubbock, led the fight for the amendment dropping the outside limit on interest rates. He said lenders who are squeezed between current money market rates on one side and Texas' existing ceilings on the other do need relief.

"I think we need some relief for the needy but not a windfall for the greedy," Salinas said.

Rep. Bill Messer, D-Belton, the sponsor of the bill, said Salinas' amendment would hurt "high risk" borrowers who can only obtain credit at very high interest rates.

"There's not but one high risk business I know that can pay 30 percent interest, and that is the drug pushers and the marijuana smugglers," said Rep. Wayne Pevetto, D-Orange.

As the bill stands, it imposes a three-layered ceiling on interest rates for just about all loans but home mortgages. When the rate on six-month U.S. Treasury bills is 9 percent or below, the ceiling would be 18 percent. But when the T-bill rate is higher, the maximum legal interest rate in Texas would be twice the T-bill rate but could float no higher than 24 percent.

The T-bill rate is about 12 percent now, meaning lenders could charge 24 percent if the bill were in effect. Lenders could raise interest rates at any time during the life of a loan to take advantage of changes in the money market.

Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, tried but was outvoted, 91-48, to eliminate these "variable rate" loans, saying there was no justification to change the rate on a one- or two-year consumer loan.

"It is impossible to plan a family budget, not knowing what the market is going to do, but that is what you are calling on the consumer to do," he said.

Messer replied that consumers might benefit, that a variable rate loan might turn out to be cheaper than one at a fixed rate of interest.

Messer accepted several amendments that afford more protection to borrowers with variable rate loans. A borrower who does not accept a change in his interest rate can reject it and pay off his existing balance at the old rate. There could be no acceleration of payments.

Washington, with Messer's OK, added an amendment that would deny the new rates to firms, except insurance companies, that solicit business at people's homes. They would be stuck with 10 percent interest. House debate was cut off by an 85-57 vote before amendments dealing with consumer finance companies could be taken up.

Workers were busy Wednesday continuing the task of salvaging materials from the building which housed the Texas Migrant Council Day Care Center. The building was termed a total loss after high winds blew the roof off and toppled the East wall of the structure last week.

Preparations are being made to move the day care center to the old San Jose Catholic Church building at the labor camp. According to center director Arnold Lopez, the center may be reopened within two weeks. (Brand photo by Bob Nigh)

'Sulking' Haig May Tender Resignation

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr., described as so angry he was "pounding the table" after being denied control of foreign crisis management, has his own staff wondering whether he will resign despite President Reagan's assurances of support.

The administration and official Washington watched for some clue to his intentions today, when the strong-willed Haig was scheduled to testify before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations. The subject was the State Department budget, the same topic Haig was discussing Tuesday when he first went public with his unhappiness before a House subcommittee.

One informed official, who asked not to be identified, said Wednesday night that Haig was "very upset and sulking" and "pounding the table."

It was not only because Vice President George Bush was given the key role Tuesday in responding to foreign crises, the official said, but also because Haig felt Reagan's didn't go far enough in his statement of support earlier in the day Wednesday.

The president tried to play down what was widely seen as a rebuke to Haig by telling reporters there is no change in Haig's position as "my principal adviser on foreign affairs" and the chief formulator and spokesman for foreign policy for this administration.

The official said Haig also wanted Reagan to say explicitly that the secretary of state is responsible for carrying out foreign policy. Reagan did not say that.

The official said Haig left to attend a private dinner in New York on Wednesday "in what can best be described as an unhappy frame of mind." Meanwhile, he said, Haig left his staff at the State Department "very nervous" about his intentions and wondering whether he might resign.

While the official said he thought there was less than a 15 percent chance Haig would quit, he said others felt there was a much greater likelihood.

Another informed official, who also asked not to be identified, said the decision to put crisis management in the vice president's hands had clearly "weakened" Haig's position both at home and abroad. "I don't think he can sustain many more public rebukes," he said. "It's been a rather unseemly 24 hours," said one State Department official, who asked not to be identified. "It will have raised questions in some people's minds about the competency of this administration. This administration, after all, was hired to avoid this kind of debacle."

Haig visited the White House three times in the past three days. The president denied any suggestion that Haig had threatened to quit over Bush's job, one which the secretary of state wanted for himself.

"No. He never once threatened," Reagan said.

While Haig might not have explicitly threatened to resign, one official said he made it known to the White House, although not necessarily to the president, that he might step down in what would be a major embarrassment to the administration.

The New York Times today quoted a presidential adviser as saying Haig has threatened to resign eight or nine times since Reagan took office two months ago. But the newspaper characterized some of those threats as "mere mutterings of discontent."

The first suggestion this time that he might resign apparently came Tuesday and was taken seriously enough, according to one account, (See HAIG, Page 2)

Candidates In Spotlight

The eight persons running for three at-large places on the Hereford Independent School District Board, and four candidates for city positions will be under the gun tonight when the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce holds a "Meet the Candidates" night at 7:30 p.m. in the Banquet Room of the Community Center.

All eight school board candidates are expected to be on hand tonight for the event. Those include James Self, Tom Simons, R.C. Hoelscher, Anne Ivey, Johnny Gamez, Don T. Martin, Bill Townsend and Jerry Walls. In addition, incumbent Ed Coplen and Rinaldo Garcia, opponents for the Place 2 seat on the city commission will be in attendance as well as unopposed candidates Mayor Bartley

Dowell and incumbent Place 1 City Commissioner Wes Fisher.

Each candidate for office will be given four minutes for introductory remarks, after which a question-and-answer session moderated by Dr. Milton Adams, chairman of the Chamber's Governmental Affairs Committee will be held.

The candidates were presented a printed list of questions yesterday by the committee. The questions were submitted to the chamber office by interested individuals in written form.

In addition to the questions presented to the candidates, Mayor Dowell will explain two city charter amendments to be voted on during the April 4 election.

Three Year Tax Cut 'Dead', Dairy Subsidies Boosted

By CLIFF HAAS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is beginning consideration of a $36.4 billion budget-cutting blueprint with a prediction from Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr. that President Reagan will win most of the reductions he has recommended. Reagan won one and lost one on his economic program Wednesday.

The Senate gave him his first victory on spending cuts by approving a measure to scrap an April 1 boost in dairy subsidies.

But the chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said the president wants to go along with the budget cuts is all but dead.

Democrats were holding another caucus today prior to action on the Senate floor to continue their three-day review of the cuts approved by the Senate Budget Committee.

"We will have a sort of a consensus package, but it will be presented by separate amendments," Democratic Whip Alan Cranston of California said Wednesday.

But he acknowledged that the Democrats' alternate package would "probably be voted down on a party-line" vote by the Republicans, who have a slim majority in the Senate.

Baker's confidence reflected Cranston's pessimism.

"The president is going to get most of what he wants — a high percentage of his package," the GOP leader said.

Baker has said previously he hopes to complete action on the package this week — including a Saturday session, if necessary.

Reagan is recommending $48.6 billion in cuts for the 1982 fiscal year which begins Oct. 1. The package up for floor action is smaller than that because some additional savings are to be made through separate legislation and others through administration actions that don't require congressional action.

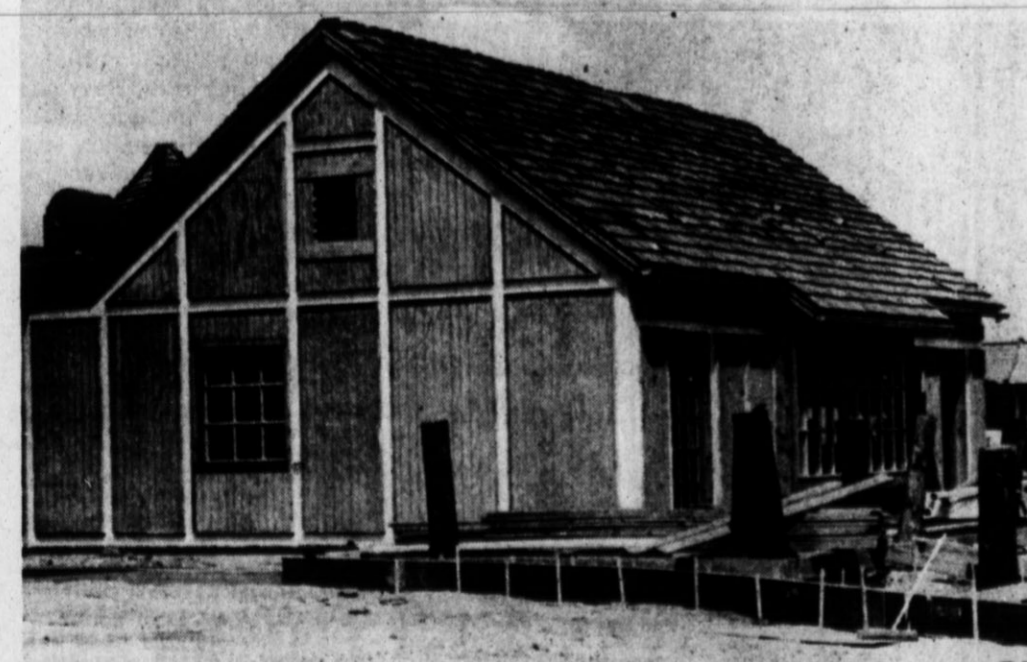

The Democrats reportedly have agreed to seek more money than the administration wants for some social programs in the areas of education, health and assistance for low-income families in buying heating fuel.

One of the Budget Committee's proposed cuts that many Democrats and the Reagan administration do not want would save more than $3 billion by financing the nation's Strategic Petroleum Reserve with private funds. Sens. Bill Bradley, D-N.J., and Henry Jackson, D-Wash., have sent letters to all senators urging that the Strategic Petroleum Reserve money be restored.

The bill to scrap the April 1 increase in dairy price supports was due for a vote this afternoon in the House, where Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. predicted "smooth sailing" after the Senate approved it on an 85-5 vote Wednesday.

The administration said eliminating the April 1 in-

Family Fun Night Features Music

The Country Four musical group will entertain at Family Fun Night Saturday from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center, it was announced today by Betty Hennessy, executive secretary for the Hereford Red Cross which is sponsoring the affair.

Serving of chili will begin at 5 p.m. with a country bazaar featuring hand made items also on sale. Tickets for the evening of fun are $2. They will be available at the door, both banks, Credit Union and the Red Cross office. The $2 price covers the cost of the chili and musical entertainment.

Bingo cards will cost 25 cents per card and the entry fee for "42" will be $1.00. Free movies will also be offered.

There will be a drawing for a quilt made by Lottie Wertenberger.

Volunteer of the Year for the Hereford Red Cross will be named and volunteers will be recognized.

Proceeds from the family night will be used locally for equipment for Red Cross sponsored classes. The public is invited.

Parish Carnival Set For Sunday

Games, food, drawings and an auction are all planned for St. Anthony's Parish's Wild, Wild, West Carnival set for Sunday at the church from 12-5 p.m.

The Carnival has been organized to raise money to pay the school's operating expenses.

Each of the eight classes have chosen various activities for the carnival including penny pitch, bean bag throw, bingo, ball toss, balloon darts and a country store.

Two of the classes combined their efforts to offer a concession stand. Food to be served will range from hamburgers, barbecue on a bun and corn dogs to homemade sausage, homemade bread and pies.

Drawings and an auction are planned for the afternoon event. A quilt and afghan will be offered at a drawing and an oil painting and macrame plant hangers will be included in the auction.

Staff Evangelist with Jews for Jesus To Speak at First Christian Church

Steve Stern, staff evangelist with Jews for Jesus, will present "Christ in the Passover," at the First

STEVE STERN

Christian Church Sunday, March 29 at 10:50 a.m.

The purpose of the "Christ in the Passover" presentation is to enhance the Christian understanding of the New Testament by showing a Jewish background for the Communion celebration. Ancient and modern Jewish customs are discussed and described with an emphasis on the aspect of redemption that Christ accomplished at Calvary.

A table is set with the traditional Jewish Passover items, including representative foods which are explained, but not eaten.

Members of the Jews for Jesus group have given this demonstration in more than one thousand different churches. It was originally written in 1956 by Moishe Rosen, the founder and leader of Jews for Jesus. It was abstracted from the writings of the former rabbi Leopold Cohn, who came to Christ in 1894 and died in 1936.

Rosen contends that some of the most important elements of Christian doctrine, such as the Trinity, the principle of substitutionary atonement, and salvation through a personal relationship with the Messiah, are implied in the Seder (Passover feast) as observed by Orthodox Jews even today.

The Jews for Jesus

organization has a national staff of 80 and is most known for their high visibility evangelism. They've distributed tens of millions of Gospel pamphlets on street corners across the United States, pamphlets with titles such as "Passover, or It Shouldn't Even Happen to an Egyptian" and "Jesus Made Me Kosher."

"Literature is not the only medium we use to preach our message," says Mr. Stern. "We have three Mobile Evangelistic Teams who use music and drama to make a statement about Jesus. Recently we have launched a program of Jewish Evangelism workshops across the country as a way of involving ordinary Christians in an effective witness to their Jewish friends and co-workers."

Those attending the special "Christ in the Passover" program at First Christian on Sunday, March 29 at 10:50 a.m. will also have an opportunity to learn more about what Jews for Jesus has planned by way of evangelism nationwide. The program is open to the general public and Mr. Stern will be available to answer questions those attending might have.

At Wits End By ERMA BOMBECK

From age 13 to 19, your teenagers will go through the seven stages of Career Searching. Why, do you ask, does he or she vacillate between one profession and another? Because it is the first time he has faced the realities of how to make a living.

Stage I (age 13) - He has learned to sign his name and can sign it just as well as Bill Walton. Bill Walton gets a million dollars a year for signing his name. Besides, coach says if he keeps growing this summer he might "start" in the fall.

Stage II (age 14) - Has not grown enough to dunk higher than Walton's knees. Decides sports is for jocks who don't want to grow up. Did an article for school paper and discovered Katharine Graham, publisher of the Washington Post, earned in excess of $375,000 in one year. Getting out the paper is all work after school, but it's worth it. Journalism gets in your blood.

Stage III (age 15) - New girl with nice-smelling hair called Shelly wanted to be walked home very night after school. He let someone else get the stupid paper out. Besides, stupid faculty censored everything. Shelly thinks he should go into law like her father. Chief Justice Warren Burger makes $84,700 a year. Besides, all those years in law school would give them a chance to mature.

Stage IV (age 16) - Shelly took shorter time to mature than he thought. He decided after she dumped him that girls are overrated. He said she'd be surprised when she hears he's going to become a priest. They don't make a lot of money, but you get a lot of people looking at you and saying, "Wonder why he never got married. He has such charisma and can reach people."

Stage V (age 17) - Son decided he didn't need religious life when he discovered the hours. He said if he wanted to work Sundays he'd be a realtor. With all the charisma people said he had, he figured he'd go into politics. After all, the mayor of New York City makes $80,000 a year.

Stage VI (age 18) - Charisma bombed out at student council level. Is undecided about career, but seems to have narrowed it down to either game show contestant who won $132,000 by knowing Butterfly McQueen was the maid in "Gone with the Wind," or a plumber who took 27 pounds of his hair out of the hall drain and makes $53,000 a year.

Stage VII (age 19) - Enrolled in liberal arts at local college. Works summers for minimum wage scale at firm selling roofing over the phone.

Is open to suggestions.

Women's Forum to Host Semi-Annual Luncheon

The Deaf Smith County Womens' Forum will meet Monday at the Hereford Community Center for its semi-annual noon covered dish luncheon.

Individuals are to bring a covered dish for the luncheon as well as a $1.50 donation. The money will go to the community center as a club money making project.

Interested women are invited to attend the luncheon which is held two times a year for fellowship among participating women's organizations and individual members.

Hostesses for the luncheon

Students Attend Homemakers Meet

Representatives from Hereford Future Homemakers of America chapters will participate in this year's Area I meeting Friday and Saturday at Lubbock.

The Hereford High School, La Plata Junior High and Stanton Junior High chapters will be represented by 15 members and sponsors.

The students will take an active part in the meeting in several areas including one as an office delegate as well as voting delegates, hostesses, choir participators and interest session leader.

Hereford High School chapter representatives are Darlene Stovall, office candidate; Donna Schlab and Annette Diller, voting delegates; Deborah Weber and Vette Riley, chair participators; Tonya Savage, interest session leader; Jo Ann Meiwes and Brenda Davis, hostesses; and Linda Cumpston and Martha Layman, chapter sponsors.

La Plata Junior High chapter representatives are Rita Garza and Shannon Valdez, voting delegates; Debra Buck and Judy Bone, Ima Dee Singers; and Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith and Louise Witkowski sponsors.

Stanton Junior High chapter representatives are Elisa Castillo and Sylvia Roman, Ima Dee Singers; Bonnie Kendrick, voting delegate; and Mrs. Karleen

Moore, sponsor. Friday's activities will include choir auditions, a banquet, election of officers and conducting of interest sessions.

Some 50 high school choir students will be vying for the 20 who can represent Area I in the state choir at that meeting later this year. Mrs. Peggy Bain, director of choir and band at Kress, will hold the auditions and will be directing the area choirs and state choir.

A special recognition banquet for outstanding HERO-FHA members and Encourager award recipients will be in the University Center Ballroom. The theme for the banquet will be, "You Are important," which will complement the overall theme of the meeting, "A Family Affair."

Officers for 1981-82 will be elected from a field of 30 candidates during the meeting of chapter delegates. Darlene Stovall, Hereford High School FHA member, is included on this year's ballot.

The chapter delegates attending the meeting who are not voting delegates will be provided the opportunity to attend two one-hour workshops sessions in either the University Center of the Home Economics Building.

These workshops will include Getting and Keeping a Job, How to Raise Super Parents, Self-Image, Teenage Love Relationships, Closing the Generation Gap, Teen Pregnancies—Issues and Answers: Communication through Listening, Pressures of Family Living and Avoiding Crises.

Also at this time a choir rehearsal is planned for the Ima Dee Singers, composed of freshmen and sophomore girls; Sharon Singers, junior and senior girls; and The Guys, all high school men.

The only general session of the Area I meeting will be Saturday at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium and on the Texas Tech University campus.

The 175-voice area choirs will perform preceding the opening ceremony. Mrs. Bain will be directing and will be accompanied by Ann Wallisford, Plainview, and teacher from Hale Center.

Lanny Voss, an attorney at law from Plainview, will deliver the main address, "Me, Married—Me, Single," to the group. Voss will emphasize the meeting's theme.

The newly elected officers will be installed by Karol Steffens, state officer from Slaton.

Following the morning session, the officers will host a luncheon in the Coronado Ballroom, University Center, for incoming officers, the administrators and advisors of both outgoing and incoming officers.

Area I FHA is composed of all public junior and senior high schools in 38 counties of the Panhandle-South Plains of Texas. Any student who has been enrolled in at least one course in homemaking is eligible to become a member of the national organization.

The purpose of the National FHA is to provide a better home life for all through providing leadership opportunities in the gainful and occupational homemaking programs in the public and private schools.

Stanton HERO Students

Stanton Junior High HERO students are planning to attend the Area I Future Homemakers of America meeting in Lubbock Friday and Saturday. Those who will attend the annual meeting are from left, Elisa Castillo, Bonnie Kendrick and Sylvia Romo. Mrs. Karleen Moore will accompany the group as a sponsor.

La Plata FHA Students

La Plata Junior High Future Homemakers of America will attend the Area I meeting Friday and Saturday in Lubbock to represent the school chapter. Those attending are from left, Rita Garza, Shannon Valdez, Judy Bone and Debra Buck. Mrs. Beryl Burelsmith and Louise Witkowski will sponsor the delegates.

HHS Student Council Will Take Local Telethon Calls

Hereford High School Student Council members will man the phones taking contribution pledges during the National Easter Seal Telethon this weekend.

The students will be using the facilities at Lone Star Agency. Contributions may be made by calling 364-0855.

The Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas is sponsoring the telethon to air on KPDA-TV, Channel 10, beginning at 10:30 p.m. Saturday. It will continue until 6 p.m. Sunday.

This year, Pat Boone will join local hosts Tom York and Judy Carter as National Chairman and host of the 20-hour telethon. The show will focus on informing people of the community about the vital services of Easter Seals.

Services include the purchase of orthopedic equipment, treatments, and therapy; transportation to therapy centers; and the Easter Seal Action Line (800-482-5555) a toll-free information, referral and follow-up service.

Contributors may become Easter Seal "Angels" by giving $100 or a business firm a "Sponsor" with a contribution of $250. Small contributions will be accepted and appreciated.

Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce Schedules City-Wide Clean Up

Dimmitt residents will combine forces to clean up their city Saturday when the chamber of commerce sponsored "CafuPu," begins at 7 a.m. The "CafuPu," which means clean up, fix up and pride up Dimmitt will begin with a breakfast at the United Methodist Church followed by a "parade" of volunteers traveling to their designated points to begin the clean up.

Areas will include sidewalks and alleys, business and industry, and parks and vacant lots.

"This is the first time we have done this, and I think it will be a success," Dorothy Hopson, chairman of the drive said.

"Everybody in the community is involved in some area of the clean up and the response to the idea has been encouraging," Ms. Hopson said.

Hart Couple Will Celebrate Wedding Anniversary Sunday

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Pete J. Steiert of Hart will host a reception in honor of their parents' 35th wedding anniversary Sunday, March 29.

The come-and-go reception will be held from 3-5 p.m. at the Steiert family home four miles north of Hart on FM 168 and 3/4 mile east on FM 928.

The home is also located seven miles south of Nazareth on FM 168 and 3/4 mile east on FM 928.

Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend. It is requested that no gifts be presented.

Earlene Goodman, originally of Paducah, and Pete Steiert of Hart were married March 26, 1946 at Holy Family Church in Nazareth.

The couple are long-time residents of the Hart area and still reside on the family farm northeast of Hart.

Carnival Contest Winners

Melissa Sherbon, left, Jimmy Curtis, center, and Bradley Blum are the winners for the Wild West poster contest held recently to promote St. Anthony's Parish's Sunday carnival. Curtis, a sixth grader, won first place, Blum, a fourth grader, won second place, and Miss Sherbon, a kindergarten student, won third place. The carnival will be held at the church from 12-5 p.m. with proceeds going to the school's operating fund.

Around the Town

A nice way to celebrate your 80th birthday is to receive a telegram of congratulation from the president of the United States, and that's just what happened to Mrs. Ruth Rogers.

The telegram read, "Nancy and I join your family and friends in sending congratulations as you celebrate your birthday. We hope today is filled with special joy and that the coming year brings you every happiness. Ronald Reagan."

A longtime resident of Hereford, Mrs. Rogers has lived here since 1907. She is a 50-year-member of the Hereford Rebecca Lodge, the American Legion Auxiliary, Senior Citizens, Canton Auxiliary, and the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Rogers' brother, Leland Lee, and niece, Carolyn Coppland, both of Dimmitt, treated her to a birthday party.

Other Austin visitors last weekend were Mrs. Steve Jones and her two daughters who flew down to visit ex Hereford neighbors. It was the girls first plane ride on a large plane and they giggled nearly all the way to Austin and back, loving all the things that might ordinarily scare some youngsters.

Psychologist Discusses Cults with CYO Members

Gail Blain, an Amarillo psychologist discussed the nature of cults to members of the Catholic Youth Organization when they met recently.

Her presentation covered three areas including cults in general, how young people get involved in a cult and how difficult it is to get out of a cult.

"I think the program was excellent for the kids. Because they have grown up away from a large urban area, they have been isolated from the dangers of cults,"

Donna Lindeman, monitor for the group, said. Approximately 100 people attended the meeting.

Ann Landers California Clarified

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have written a letter to the public and I hope you will print it.

Dear Fellow Citizens of the United States: I am a Californian and am proud of my state. But someone needs to set the record straight.

Believe it or not, not everyone in California goes to the beach every day and to Disneyland weekends. We do not live on oranges and avocados that grow on the trees in the backyard.

Everyone in San Francisco is not gay, nor do they take drugs and go to work on roller skates. We are not all crazy drivers out to ram the rear ends of anyone with an out-of-state license plate.

We have many beautiful parks, art galleries, museums, universities and colleges, excellent theater, symphonies, churches, synagogues and a fine public school system.

We also have pollution, overpopulation and under-employment. But we love California and would rather live here than any place in the world. — Mr. Contented

Almost everybody is trying to lose weight. Here are two simple rules. If followed, success is guaranteed.

(1) Never eat anything you can eat with your fingers.

(2) Always leave something on the plate.

This eliminates cocktail goodies, candy, cookies, cheese, crackers and nuts. See how easy it is? — Alice F. In Manhattan

DEAR ALICE: This might work for a normal person, but I can (and would) cut any cookie or piece of chocolate with a knife and eat it with a fork if I had to. I can also eat a pound of nuts with a spoon. But thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 15 and my brother is 13. Our parents are being divorced and we are in the middle. Dad has moved out, but we see him weekends. He always tries to pump us about what Mom is doing. He is critical of her housekeeping and keeps asking if she has cleaned the place up and if her cooking has improved.

It is all over town that Mom is involved with the doctor who operated on her back last year. She denies it, but he is over here a lot evenings and they spend time in the bedroom. Mom says it is professional, but the TV is turned on very loud.

We love both our parents but are glad they are splitting up. Ever since we can remember they have been fighting. What we need to know is how to keep from being dragged into their problems. Can you help us? — Pulled And Hauled In Massachusetts

DEAR P AND H: You and your brother should issue a joint declaration of neutrality to both warring factions. Tell them you don't want to hear any more talk about one against the other. You can also let them know they can write to me if they need to let off steam. I'll be glad to listen.

The average public swimming pool contains about 250,000 gallons of water.

Also spending a few days in Austin last week were Lavon

DEAR MR. C.: Apparently a great many other people also would rather live in California than any place in the world. Its population has exploded like no other state in the union. California may have smog and mud slides (two items you didn't mention) but it does NOT have ice storms, blizzards, tornadoes, cyclones and six feet of snow to shovel before you can open the garage door and get the car out.

I love Chicago, but California is enormously appealing — especially in March!

Tulsa Edges Syracuse, 86-84

Western Texas 'Refugees' Capture NIT Cage Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — They were refugees from junior college — some called them outlaws — but Tulsa basketball Coach Nolan Richardson, himself a refugee, molded his players into winners of the National Invitation Tournament.

"If I have a chance to shoot, I shoot. They say junior college players are outlaws," said Golden Hurricane forward Greg Stewart, "but I don't believe it. Junior college players might be quicker; they're usually smaller."

Stewart, a 6-foot-9 junior center, is one of four players Richardson brought from his national junior college championship team at Western Texas Community College when he departed after last season for Tulsa. The others were guards Phil Spradling and Paul Pressey and forward David Brown, all starters this season for Tulsa.

Western Texas went 37-0 last season, and Richardson's transplanted team compiled a 22-7 season record with a second-place finish in the Missouri Valley Conference tournament. Still, the Golden Hurricane was ignored by the NCAA tournament's selection committee, but Richardson hopes Wednesday night's 86-84 overtime victory over Syracuse for the NIT title is a sample of great things to come.

"This is one of the highest points in Tulsa basketball history," Richardson said. "In the dressing room, I told the guys if we can win one more game, it would be a grand slam of sorts. If we can win the junior college title, the NIT and the NCAA next year, I quit."

Stewart, named the NIT's most valuable player, scored a team-high 23 points. He capped off a 12-point run that started midway in the second half with seven straight points, giving Tulsa a 69-65 lead with 7:03 to play, and he hit the winning basket with 30 seconds left in overtime. The Golden Hurricane finished the season with a 26-7 record.

No Clear-Cut Favorite In NCAA's Final Four

By MIKE HARRIS
AP Sports Writer

It's been well documented that teams coached by Dean Smith have lost each of the five times they've appeared in the finals of the NCAA basketball tournament. But the veteran coach of North Carolina remains excited about making the Final Four for the sixth time.

"I wish all coaches had this opportunity," Smith says. "All four of us are on top of the mountain."

North Carolina's Tar Heels, 28-7, play Atlantic Coast Conference rival Virginia, 28-3, in the semifinals Saturday at the Spectrum in Philadelphia. Indiana, 24-9, takes on Louisiana State 31-3, in the other matchup, with the winners meeting Monday night for the national championship.

The battle between North Carolina and Virginia will be their third of the season, with the Cavaliers roaring from behind in the second half of each game to win both of the previous meetings.

"We're playing with more confidence now," Smith says. "But Virginia also is playing better."

It will be the first meeting of the year for Indiana and LSU. Both teams expect to stick with the formula that got them to Philadelphia.

"To counter Indiana's size, we must rely on our quickness, and that is the best attack we can use," says LSU Coach Dale Brown. "Defense will dictate the course of the game. Whether it will be up-beat or laid back depends on what happens."

"We've played both styles, and we've been able to win both ways. Our best style of play, obviously, is the up-beat style."

Indiana's Hoosiers rely heavily on an intense man-to-man defense that often eats up fast-break offenses. And their own scoring machine, led by sophomore guard Isiah Thomas, appears capable of staying with LSU.

"Things have really turned around in our last five or six games," explains Indiana junior guard Randy Wittman. "We're not going to Philadelphia to play, we're going to win two games."

"Going there is everyone's dream, but we won't be satisfied unless we win."

Houston, Golden State, KC Vie for NBA Berths

By The Associated Press
Under the National Basketball Association's new math, 3 goes into 2 twice.

Translated, that means that of the three teams in contention for the remaining Western Conference playoff berths, only two will make it.

The Kansas City Kings, Golden State Warriors and Houston Rockets all won Wednesday night and remained in an exact tie with two games remaining.

Scott Wedman poured in 34 points and Ernie Grunfeld added 25 as the Kings held off a Phoenix rally for a 110-101 victory over the Suns. Lloyd Free sent Golden State ahead with a driving layup in the final minutes, leading the Warriors past San Diego 120-114. And Moses Malone scored 32 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to lead the Rockets to a 117-111 victory over San Antonio.

Meanwhile, Boston and Philadelphia remained deadlocked atop the Atlantic Division. The Celtics defeated the New Jersey Nets 111-105 while the 76ers crushed the Detroit Pistons 114-75.

Elsewhere, the Dallas Mavericks downed the Denver Nuggets 126-115, the Washington Bullets trounced the New York Knicks 105-84 and the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Seattle SuperSonics 112-103.

Kansas City's victory not only kept the Kings tied with Golden State and Houston but trimmed the Suns' Pacific Division lead over idle Los Angeles to 1½ games. Phoenix' magic number is still one.

Phoenix battled back from an 18-point third-quarter deficit, closing the gap to 91-90 on a drive by Walter Davis, who had 27 points, with 4:44 to play. Two jumpers by KC's Grunfeld put the game out of reach with three minutes remaining.

Warriors 120, Clippers 114
The loss ended San Diego's playoff hopes. Swen Nater of the Clippers tied the score at 114 on two free throws with 1:13 remaining. Free drove for the game-winning basket nine seconds later and Golden State's Joe Barry Carroll added two baskets in the final 31 seconds. Bernard King scored 25 points for the Warriors and Purvis Short added 24.

Rockets 117, Spurs 111
Robert Reid aided Malone with 29 points and Billy Paultz 20 for Houston. San Antonio's James Silas scored 34 and teammate George Gervin 30 for the Midwest Division champion Spurs. Houston led by as many as 12 points during the third quarter until Gervin scored 15 points in the period to pull the Spurs within 89-88 as the final period started.

Celtics 111, Nets 105
Nate Archibald's 3-point play with 33 seconds left helped keep Boston tied with Philadelphia. The game was tied at 97 when Kevin McHale hit a jump shot, followed by a free throw and turnaround jumper by Robert Parish, giving the Celtics a 102-97 advantage with 2:35 remaining.

76ers 114, Pistons 75
Darryl Dawkins, Lionel Hollins and Andrew Toney scored 16 points apiece for Philadelphia. The 76ers, who never trailed, got eight first-period points from Maurice Cheeks and finished the quarter ahead 24-11. They widened the margin to 16 points with 3:31 left in the half.

Mavericks 126, Nuggets 115
Brad Davis directed Dallas' deliberate attack and scored 25 points as the Mavericks downed Denver for the third time this season and second in less than a week. Although much of the front line was in foul trouble, the Mavericks took a 61-56 halftime lead and never trailed after that.

USA's Nieman Wins Pentathlon Champion

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Robert Nieman won five individual events and paced the U.S. men's A-team to the sweepstakes in the U.S. Invitational Pentathlon Competition.

Kathy Tayler of Great Britain emerged as the women's winner and Great Britain took first place in the women's team standings in competition ending Wednesday.

The meet was scheduled by the U.S. Olympic Committee as an alternative to the boycotted 1980 Olympic Games in Moscow and drew competitors from 11 countries.

Overall scores reflected the athletes' prowess in equestrian, fencing, swimming, pistol-shooting and cross-country events.

Nieman, the world champion pentathlete in 1979, accrued 5,536 points over the five events and was paced by Jan Bartu of Czechoslovakia with 5,474 points. Also finishing in the top five were Tamas Szombathelyi and Attila Csaszari of Hungary and D. Glesnek of the United States.

The United States wound up with 16,327 points in final team standings followed by Hungary with 16,214, Poland with 15,931, Great Britain with 15,548, and Czechoslovakia with 15,428.

The British woman was paced by teammates T. Purton with 4,928. Another British woman, W. Norman, came in third, followed by Termlie Nielson of Denmark and A. Lekander of Sweden.

Taylor and the British women racked up 14,816 points to take the team division, followed by the U.S. A-team with 14,129, Sweden with 13,831, West Germany with 13,803 and the U.S. B-team with 13,440.

Pirates, Tigers Brawl In Exhibition Baseball

By HERSCHEL NELSEN
AP Sports Writer

Dwight Evans has made a big jump in Boston's batting order...and so has his average.

A lifetime .262 batter, mostly from the lower part of the lineup, the power-hitting right fielder raised his spring average to .390 Wednesday with a home run, double and single in the Red Sox' 8-4 exhibition victory over the Montreal Expos.

While Evans kept pounding the baseball, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers took turns pounding each other...literally. Before Tim Lincecum's ninth-inning homer gave the Tigers a 4-2 victory, the game was marred by beanballs and a bench-clearing brawl.

Pittsburgh's Bill Robinson suffered chipped and loosened teeth and a cut lip when he was hit in the mouth by the first pitch from Detroit's Howard Bailey in the fourth inning. Both benches cleared as Robinson staggered to the mound. Pittsburgh's John Candelaria had thrown a pitch over John Wockenfuss' head in the top of the inning.

Meanwhile, Phil Niekro and Gene Garber combined on a seven-hitter as the Atlanta Braves blanked the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-0. Niekro worked the first six innings, allowing three hits.

After the game, the teams finally completed a trade that sent Atlanta outfielder Gary Matthews to Philadelphia for pitcher Bob Walk.

Rick Manning and Von Hayes drove in three runs apiece to pace a 24-hit attack and lead the Cleveland Indians to a 14-5 victory over the Seattle Mariners.

Silvio Martinez pitched five scoreless innings as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Yankees 3-1 while the Minnesota Twins scored all their runs off rookie Billy Smith in the sixth inning to defeat the New York Mets 5-3. The Mets completed a triple play in the first inning.

Mike Caldwell, Chuck Porter, Balor Moore and Rollie Fingers combined on a six-hitter and Don Money tripled home the only run as the Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Oakland A's 1-0.

Mario Soto pitched six no-hit innings to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Soto, who struck out eight and walked two, has not allowed a run in 13 innings this spring.

Mike Tyson and Steve Henderson collected three hits apiece in the Chicago Cubs' 6-5 victory over the San Diego Padres while two-run singles by Harold Baines and Jim Essian in a six-run third inning and homers by Rusty Kuntz and John Hanley carried the Chicago White Sox past the Toronto Blue Jays 10-7.

Kemper Open Draws Top Women Golfers

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Beth Daniel set a Ladies Professional Golf Association record last year by earning $231,000. She is off to a slow start in 1981, but doesn't seem too concerned.

"My strong suit is usually my consistency; that's one thing that I haven't been able to do this year," said Daniel. "I make some dumb mistake, I take a bogey when I shouldn't, but it'll come. It could come here."

Daniel referred to the $175,000 Women's Kemper Open, a 72-hole event that was scheduled to begin today at the 6,134-yard, par 35-36-71 Mesa Verde Country Club. The tournament runs through Sunday, with the winner collecting $26,250.

Daniel, 24, is in her third year on the LPGA tour. She ranked 10th on the money-winning list in 1979 with $97,027 in earnings before exploding in 1980, when she won four tournaments on her way to player of the year honors.

At present, Daniel ranks 14th on the money-winning list with $19,686 in earnings. She hasn't finished better than fifth this year.

"I'm kind of a slow starter," she said. "I don't know why. I work on my game but it takes me a while to get it going in competition. I still don't feel comfortable over the ball, but it's just a matter of time when it all comes around."

Daniel has played seven tournaments this year and averaged 73.14 strokes per round. Last year, she averaged 71.59 shots per 18 holes. Her three worst finishes in 1980 were in three California tournaments. She wound up in a tie for 18th in the Kemper last year.

Daniel is one of 127 pros entered in the third Kemper Open. Three amateurs are also scheduled to play. Among the entries are JoAnne Carner, Sally Little, Donna Caponi, Pat Bradley and Nancy Lopez-Melton, ranked first through fifth, respectively, on the 1981 LPGA money-winning list.

Caponi will be looking for her second straight victory.

Sex Exploitation Is Issue with Fem Golfers

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Sex exploitation has become a raging issue among female golfers with Jan Stephenson and Jane Blalock firing barbed shots at each other across the continent while their contemporaries are choosing up sides.

It's the most intriguing controversy over women's attire since Gorgeous Gussy Moran's lace panties were barred from Wimbledon's sacred Centre Court back in 1949.

"Quasi-pornography," fumed Blalock after seeing Stephenson photographed in Fairway Magazine, an organ of the Ladies Professional Golf Association, reclining on a bed in a slinky, revealing white dress.

"Is our organization so unaware of the real glamor and attraction staring it in the face that it must resort to such trash?" she complained in a signed article for the Miami Herald.

Stephenson responded sharply, using the Los Angeles Times as the vehicle to defend her provocative — if not risqué — pose as a means "to add a new dimension to the public's image of women golfers."

"In one of the three pictures of me," she said, "I am relaxing on a bed, reading a book, in a beautiful white dress which, admittedly, is doing a somewhat incomplete job of covering all of the outside of my left thigh."

"The galleries can see a lot more of my legs, however, anytime I play in shorts."

Blalock, a 13-year veteran with 27 tournament victories, acknowledged that the addition of such beauties as Stephenson and Laura Baugh had contributed to the tremendous growth of women's golf. But she also said that a new breed had emerged "not indoctrinated in the glamor-sex appeal selling points...Sweat, work, sore muscles, callouses, elation and disappointment took precedence."

"Maybe next year we should drop the fashion feature and do a photo series on callouses," snapped back the Australian-born Stephenson, adding that the tour prospered through sponsors promoting femininity: Colgate, Sarah Coventry and Mary Kay.

"Maybe we can interest Mack Truck, Caterpillar Tractor and Bull Durham," she said. "I am afraid this controversy has split the tour."

The ladies are playing this weekend in the Kemper Open in Costa Mesa, Calif. Call callouses and all.

UPS isn't allowed to pick up a package in Texas and deliver it in Texas. We don't have what's known as intrastate authority here.*

How do the people most affected—the manufacturers, wholesalers, small business owners and consumers of Texas—feel about this? Just ask them.

There's a bill before the Texas Legislature which would help to overcome this problem. We think it's important that it pass, and we'd like your support.

If you agree with us, a note to your Senator and Representative in the Texas Legislature could be very helpful.

IN WASHINGTON

Robert Walters

Flaws in the economic plan

WASHINGTON (NEA) - With Congress about to begin consideration of President Reagan's ambitious economic program, it's an appropriate time for an overall assessment of the truly revolutionary package of proposed budget and tax reductions.

First, Reagan deserves high praise for attempting what no other president in modern times has even dared to try — to significantly reduce the ceaseless, unwarranted growth of the federal government.

There is little or no justification for the dizzying pace of expansion in recent decades of what Reagan recently described as "the federal Goliath — unleashed and uncontrolled."

The president also merits commendation for including in his list of federal programs whose budgets are to be eliminated or drastically slashed a substantial number of indefensible operations that for too long have enjoyed "sacred cow" status.

Among the most notable programs in that category are the lavish price supports provided to the dairy industry, the elaborate network of regional development commissions and the outdated system of "impact aid" to public schools near large federal installations.

In addition, many of the ill-conceived, inefficient or ineffective social welfare programs identified by the White House as logical candidates for reduction or abolition probably deserve that fate.

But the president's economic package is seriously flawed in many crucial respects. It fails, for example, to fulfill his pledge "to be as fair and even-handed... as is humanly possible" in distributing benefits and burdens.

Government largesse available only to wealthy individuals and corporations remains virtually untouched while programs targeted for decimation are almost exclusively those designed to serve low- and middle-income citizens.

Similarly, the White House boasts of "proposed consolidation of nearly 100 narrow categorical grant programs into a few flexible block grants for state and local support of education, health and social services."

Returning programs to the state and local levels, where they can be more efficiently administered and tailored to meet specialized needs, is a noble goal — but those efforts still require substantial funding.

Yet, the administration's own figures show that the White House is prepared to make only $86.4 billion worth of grants to state and local governments during the next fiscal year to finance programs that this year are expected to cost at least $94.4 billion.

Moreover, the people most adversely affected by those reductions in federal, state and local services would benefit least from the president's proposed tax cuts.

Approximately 15 million households have annual incomes so low that they pay no federal income taxes — and thus would receive no benefits from the president's proposed "across-the-board" tax reductions, although they would be required to pay increasingly high Social Security taxes.

Middle-income families would fare only marginally better under Reagan's tax proposals. More than half of all taxpayers — the bottom 51.3 percent who earn $15,000 or less per year — would receive only 9.4 percent of the projected 1984 tax reductions.

At the other end of the economic scale are the 4.4 percent of all taxpayers who earn $50,000 or more annually — but would be the beneficiaries of 30.2 percent of the 1984 tax cuts.

Another 1984 projection: A wealthy family of four with an annual income of $100,000 would receive a yearly tax cut of $10,775, while a middle-class family with an annual income of $25,000 would have its taxes reduced by only $809.

chase when they met at the Community Center Tuesday night with Travis McPherson presiding during the business session.

Cake Mix Program Given

Louise Walker gave a talk on cake and cookie mixes to members of the West Hereford Demonstration Club when they met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Estelle Burrell.
 Alice Cox was winner of the hostess gift.
 Refreshments were served to Roy and Robert Boyd, Alice Cox, Opel Andrews, Almada Pinman, Wilma Nell Pierce, Christine Lawson and Evelyn Bell.
 Mrs. Cox will hostess the next meeting on April 14.

In other business, the club voted to give $25 to the member who recruits the most new members within the year. It was also decided the art guild money would be used for civic projects. Several items were discussed, but no decisions were made.
 Jean Reinauer, program chairman, displayed a colorful bouquet of flowers and explained how each were made. Several members displayed oil paintings and crafts explaining details of each.
 During the social hour, hostesses Audrey Rusher and Eunice Peterson served cake, nuts, candy, punch and coffee. An Easter motif was used to carry out the decorations.

Joy Gibson, a consumer information specialist employed by Pioneer Natural Gas in Amarillo, was speaker when Veleda Study Club met Monday night in the Community Room at First National Bank.
 Mrs. Gibson told the group that a few of the inflation fighters were proper installation in caulking of cracks around windows and doors and that the largest and second largest energy user in the home is the heating and cooling unit and hot water heaters.
 She said there is a device that can be installed to automatically turn down the thermostat and she suggested to use cold water whenever possible.
 Mrs. Gibson demonstrated several items in the home that could be used to help every homemaker in the search for new ways to save time, money and energy.
 A short business meeting was conducted by Juanita Brown, president.
 Refreshments were served by DeAnn Sisson, who served as hostess.

 Guests for the evening were Mrs. Edward Lemons and Janice Betzen. Members attending included Billie Birdwell, Marcella Bradley, Brown, Darlene Fields, Margarie Lasiter, Norma Martin, Betty Olson, Teddy Poindexter, Joyce Ritter, Sisson, Norma Walden, Carolyn Waters, Margaret Zinser and Jean Ruther.
 The club's next meeting will be held April 13 in the home of Mrs. Olson, east of Hereford. The program is to be a surprise. Members are urged to be at Mrs. Brown's at 7:40 p.m. for direction.

Matson To Speak to Aggie Moms

Highlighting Saturday's District 10 meeting of the Amarillo, Lubbock and Hereford Aggie Mothers Clubs will be the luncheon speaker, Randy Matson, executive director of the Former Students Association of Texas A&M University.
 The annual meet will open at 10:30 a.m. at the Hereford Country Club with registration and coffee, to be followed by a brief business session. Mrs. Thomas Pfeiffer of Lockhart, president of the Federation of Texas A&M University Mothers Clubs, will be one of several state officers present.
 Matson, who graduated from Pampa High School in 1963 and from Texas A&M University in 1967, has been employed by the Association of Former Students since 1972, and became executive director in 1979. Being quite athletic and playing basketball for TAM in 65-66, Matson went on to become the first Texan to throw the 16-pound shot-put 60 feet at the National Federation Meet in Houston. In 1964 Matson received a silver medal at the Tokyo Olympics with a shot-put throw of 66 ft. and 3 1/2 in. and later broke the world's record four times.

 Matson was a gold medal winner in the '68 Olympic Games in Mexico City. He has received numerous athletic awards, including Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 74 and Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame in 79.

 Matson spends much of his time traveling about Texas speaking to groups about Texas A&M University. He will be joined at Saturday's luncheon by his sister, Mrs.

Bud (Carla) Patterson, who lives in Yucca Hills north of Hereford.
 All husbands of Aggie Moms, former students and other A&M supporters wishing to hear Matson's program are urged to call Pat Clark at 364-0493 or 364-4151 by Friday morning to make reservations, at $6.50 each.

Richard Allen Speaks Out on Foreign Policy

By TERENCE HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) —
Richard V. Allen was supposed to be the silent partner in President Reagan's foreign policy hierarchy, the man who stayed in the background as Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. publicly voiced the administration positions.

But with a single speech, Allen propelled himself into the center of a minor flap in Europe, rekindled an ongoing argument about who speaks for the administration and set in motion the makings of a new policy for top staff members about speechmaking.

Breaking two months of silence, Allen made his public speaking debut as Reagan's national security adviser last weekend, criticizing
"outright pacifist sentiments" in Europe and worrying about the renewal of "the contemptible 'better Red than dead' slogan of a generation ago."
By his own admission, it was an assessment sure to raise eyebrows overseas. "It is difficult to discuss this subject without risking some affront or some insult to our friends on the other side of the Atlantic," Allen said.

"But it is a subject that cannot be avoided."

His remarks seemed at little at odds with Haig's attempt to foster closer relations with European allies, and they quickly became a subject of attention for officials at a Common Market summit in the Netherlands.
Some brushed aside the comments or said they were poorly timed, while others said Haig — not Allen — speaks for the Reagan administration.

"Allen is not a policy-maker," West German spokesman Kurt Becker said in dismissing Allen's speech.
"We rely upon the German-American statements ... by Mr. Haig on several occasions."

Curiously, White House
spokesmen appeared uncertain what to make of Allen's remarks.

More than 36 hours after the speech, White House press secretary James S.
Brady was not ready to declare that the national security adviser's comments matched the administration's position.

"I would imagine that he was speaking for himself," Brady initially offered at a news briefing.

Even so, he said, when a top-level official speaks, "it's safe to assume that he's speaking the views of this administration. If he misspeaks and strays from the views of the administration, it will be pointed out."

The White House obtained a transcript of Allen's speech, and a day later the press secretary pronounced the president's endorsement of the remarks.

The end result, however, was a change in policy. Brady had said Tuesday the White House was "not the 7th Precinct police station" and that top officials did not have to clear their remarks in advance with anyone.

By Wednesday he was ready to announce a change in that policy.

Henceforth, Allen, Haig
and Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger are to exchange their speeches among each other in advance of delivery. Brady insisted it was an informal, voluntary agreement among the trio.

The Jefferson Memorial in Washington, D.C., was dedicated April 13, 1943, the 200th anniversary of Jefferson's birth.

Teachers Say More Money Needed

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas is not now attracting high quality professionals to its public schools, and won't do better in the future unless teachers get more money, a Dallas educator says.

"We're not attracting the very best to the teaching profession," said Harley Hiscox, head of the Dallas local of the Texas Federation of Teachers.

Hiscox said that a bill to institute teacher competency testing indicates that Texas teachers are not among the nation's finest. Poor pay is one reason, he said.

He told the House Public Education Committee on Tuesday his group supports a bill by Rep. Arnold Gonzales, D-Corpus Christi, that would give teachers a 54 percent raise over the next two years.

"In this country, we reward those we like with money," he said. "There's dedication, sure, but we think there must be a financial magnet to attract the very best."

The Gonzales bill would give teachers a 27.2 percent pay hike in 1982, at an estimated cost to the state of $1 billion and to local school districts of $367 million. A 16.7 percent raise the year after would cost the state about $1.7 billion, and local boards about $500 million.

"There's no question that this (salary hike) is very expensive," Rep. Arnold Gonzales told the committee. "But we're so far behind, that's what it's going to take to catch up."

"I know we're reaching for the stars on this one, but we should try," he said.

Gov. Bill Clements said last week he opposes the increases and that the union's statements about low salaries are nothing but "propaganda."

The measure was routinely referred to a subcommittee for further study.

The bill would make a number of changes in state funding of administrative positions, virtually eliminating state support for all administrators except principals.

Witnesses said the cutbacks are intended to eliminate bureaucracy and top-heaviness in school administration.

"There's been just an explosion of the number of coordinators, directors, assistant coordinators, assistant superintendents, and so on. We think a lot of these people are in make-work positions," said John Cole, president of the Texas Federation of Teachers. "If you take away state funding, you might not have many of these."

In addition, the bill limits class sizes, mandating no more than 15 students per class in kindergarten and first grade, no more than 20 in grades two through six, and no more than 25 in secondary school classes.

Nails in early America were hammered out by hand on an anvil.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Types of cataract surgery

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a 78-year-old man with diabetes. My doctor told me I have cataracts in both eyes but not to worry about them because they are small. If I should require surgery in the future, what type of surgery would you recommend? I understand there are three types of surgery and they can put a lens inside your eye. Also, I have heard that with some types of surgery you lose your peripheral vision. Is that true?

I suppose you can say there are three types of operations. One method involves a larger incision and the whole lens is slipped out of the eye. A second is a small incision and the lens is fragmented by vibrations and sucked out. And in a third procedure as the lens is taken out, an artificial lens can be implanted inside the eye.

Those very thick cataract eyeglasses that distort vision are the real cause for loss of peripheral vision. The use of contact lenses after surgery causes very little distortion. The implanted lenses cause the least distortion but are not for everyone.

You'll need to rely on your doctor's evaluation to decide which operation and lenses you should use.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am having a problem which I am afraid to mention to my doctor. I feel like I must have a bowel movement almost all the time, even though I have just had one. There is always a pressure in my bottom. Lately I have been passing blood in my stool. It is bright red. Also I have a lot of pain in my lower back which my doctor said was arthritis. I am a 44-year-old female and in fairly good health. I've heard to check something like this the doctor has you bend over a table and uses a metal instrument which is very, very painful. Can you help me?

DEAR READER - Yes. Don't delay another day. See your doctor at once. Anyone who has unexplained rectal bleeding may have a cancer of the rectum. It may be just hemorrhoids but you cannot tell without an examination. The examination you speak of is not that painful. In experienced hands it is a fairly simple procedure. I hope your back pain is just arthritis but rectal and colon cancer can spread to the spine. Rectal and colon cancer combined is the second most common cause of cancer deaths. Everyone over 40 should have at least a finger examination of the rectum once a year.

DEAR DR. LAMB - For the past three months I've been bothered with vertigo or dizziness, always when lying down and arising, plus other times during the day. I can cause it by a quick turn of the head. I have no nausea, headaches or vision problems.

I had a general medical checkup and I'm fine. My doctor sent me to an ear, nose and throat specialist and he took a lot of X-rays of my ears which showed nothing. Now he wants me to go to the hospital for a brain scan and EEG. Does this sound serious to you? No doctor has prescribed any medicine. If it were serious wouldn't I have a headache? I don't smoke and drink very little coffee, tea, cocoa, alcohol or soda.

DEAR READER - If you are correct in saying you have vertigo you have an illusion of motion, either feeling that things around you are moving or that you are moving. Dizziness, by contrast, can be caused by an impending faint, usually from insufficient blood flow to the brain. That usually occurs when you are standing.

There are lots of causes for vertigo. I get a lot of letters from readers about Meniere's disease. It really only causes about 10 or 15 percent of all the cases of vertigo. You can have vertigo from an inflammation of the little balance canals in the ears (labyrinthitis) following an upper respiratory illness. Meniere's disease usually affects only one ear, but, rarely, both can be involved and it is associated with a measurable hearing loss on testing along with ringing in the ears. It occurs in attacks but does not last for days as may vertigo from other causes.

Vertigo can be caused by disorders of the eyes that incorrectly perceive your position, nerve impulses from your body that provide a sense of body position, impulses from the balance canals in your ears or from a disorder within the brain where the inputs from eyes, nerves and ears are integrated to give you a sense of balance and position.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I really sat up in my chair when I was reading your column that said many lifesaving medicines can also be harmful. You wrote that digitalis may save your life but too much can cause serious cardiac irregularities and other problems. Well, I take digitalis for attacks of fast heartbeat. Just how dangerous is it to take this medicine?

DEAR READER - Don't be so surprised. Almost all important medicines can cause trouble if you take too much. It is definitely not true that a little is good, more is better. Even too much of life-giving oxygen can kill you. Too much aspirin can cause ringing in the ears and other serious problems.

Too much digitalis affects the electrical action of the heart muscle fibers, and may cause serious irregularities. It may also cause nausea, vomiting and yellow vision. Now don't get excited. It is a very good medicine, even life-saving, to many heart patients.

What can patients do about this general problem about medicines? Follow their doctor's directions and if they have any problems, check with the doctor to see if any adjustment in medicine is needed.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer

Feather-leak

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY - I have two cushions in my armchairs that make such a mess, as the feathers keep coming through the material. What can I do about this? - KATE

DEAR KATE - I assume these are extra decorative cushions or pillows. Open a seam just enough so you can shake all the feathers out into a big paper bag. Make a new cover from heavy, closely-woven cotton that is about one-fourth inch larger than the original cover all around. Put feathers in this new cover and closely stitch opening together. Put this inside the original cover and your problem should be solved. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - When buying socks for my hubby and the kids, too. I get the same pattern and color for each one. This way they can be put away together in one small drawer without any sorting or rolling and any two socks they pick up match. I used to have at least one sock missing each time I washed, and it was really frustrating to have so many odd socks. Now, when I buy socks to replace worn ones, they are just the same and can be thrown in the drawer with the others. Sure helps. - SHIRE

DEAR POLLY - When I find it necessary to touch up a bedspread after washing or after unfolding a new one, I spread it on the bed and iron out the wrinkles. I also do the same with draperies.

In order to keep my skeins of yarn clean while using them, I place one in a plastic bag, tie the open end and pull the loose end of yarn through the small hole I have made in the bottom of the bag.

I use a cotton-tipped stick to wash the leaves of my house plants. I dip it in a cup of water that I carry with me from plant to plant. - ROSE

DEAR POLLY - I clean my enamel range with a damp cloth I have dipped in baking soda and then rinse with another cloth that has been dipped in clear water. - NARDELLE

DEAR POLLY - I have a way to catch a "smart" mouse - one who eats the bait off a trap without getting caught. Take a peanut in the shell, poke a hole in one end and tape it to the trap. After unsuccessfully trying cheese, peanut butter, bacon grease, etc., this is the way I caught mine. - MRS. P.H.

DEAR POLLY - I keep a pair of jersey work gloves in the car to put on when I pump my own gas in a self-serve station. No more gas spilled on my good gloves. - COLLEEN
