BANKERS SAY PRESENT PLAN MAKES $150,000 HOTEL REALITY

COSTS DISTRICT LESS THAN 30 CENTS A DAY TO TEACH CHILD IN HEREFORD SCHOOLS

Hereford has a school plant valued at $204,450; a staff of 30 teachers, 17 of whom have college degrees; an enrollment of 576 this year, showing a nine per cent increase over last year; a 16 per cent increase in promotion record; a larger library; and the system gave the student body instruction during the past year at a cost of $52.50 for each pupil.

So says Superintendent C. H. Dillehay's annual report just completed for the state department of education. Many of these items may be of general interest, especially when compared with a similar report made last year. The more important items are listed below as excerpts from the complete report:

There are 30 teachers in the system if the Bible teacher, who is paid by the churches and the band director, paid in part by the school, are included. Last year there were 28. Only one teacher was inexperienced at the beginning of this term, while there were two last year. Thirteen teachers hold college degrees last year, seventeen this year.

The total enrollment this year was 576, last year it was 502. The average daily attendance for the year was 697, and 644 for the year before. The number of promotions increased 80 this year, with total of 633.

A conservative estimate places the present value of all school property at $204,450, divided as follows: Building and grounds, $195,000; furniture and other equipment, $9,450. There is a net bonded indebtedness of about $141,000 against the district. The value of the property does not include the pavement and the paying indebtedness is not included. Included in the property are the 2500 library books of an estimated value of $3000, with 337 books added this year. There are seats for 900 children in all departments.

The cost of instruction per child enrolled was $41.61 this year and $42.14 last year for teachers' salaries. The cost per child in average daily attendance was $52.50 this year and $52.48 last year. It can readily be seen that the cost per child on other basis is less this year in spite of the fact that two new teachers were added and small increases in salary allowed in many cases, as provided by the salary schedule. The cost of instruction based on teachers salaries represents about two-thirds of the total cost for all purposes, including debt service, fuel, janitor, etc.

Two-thirds of the total expenditures for all school purposes is provided by local taxation with the other third coming through the state apportionment, reimbursement on the salary of the vocational agriculture teacher, tuition and transfers, the county apportionment, interest on daily balances, etc. It therefore costs the district a little less than 30 cents per day per child for each of the 275 days he is there, not counting institute and holidays, when the figures are based on average daily attendance, and a little less than 24 cents per day for the 175 days that those who have enrolled might have been in school. Of course, it must be remembered that many of those who were enrolled at one time or another later transferred to other schools.

Rock Island Starts Road From Vega About July 1

Vega, May 28.—Construction work will start here about July 1 on the new proposed Rock Island railroad line from this town to Fort-Stock, New Mexico. The 76 miles of road will be built this summer, extending into a virgin territory where residents of the section may be as far as 35 miles from a railroad. This new line will cross the northwest end of Deaf Smith county.

Saturday Is Last Day For Joining Legion

Those who desire to join the American Legion post here will have to do so this week, according to the adjutant, who says Saturday, May 31, has been set as the deadline for membership in 1930. The local post is new, just organized last year. It has a membership of 151. Dr. D. K. Robison is post commander, and Sank Ramey is adjutant.

Hopkins Will Resod, Fence Ball Grounds

The high school football field is being improved and put in shape for the opening of the season here this fall. Resodding is going on, made necessary on account of the severe freeze last January killing out the grass.

A woven wire fence with protective barbed wire at the top and bottom, is being strung on iron posts, including the gridiron, and it is planned to set up an ornamental gate, said C. H. Dillehay, superintendent. Also, a woven wire barrier will be erected down the side of the field to keep the crowds from trespassing during the play.

It had been hoped, said Mr. Dillehay, to build more bleachers but shortage of funds may not permit this improvement. A heavy loss was sustained in the basketball season, the freeze caused the expense of resodding the ground, leaving the athletic department with insufficient money to complete all the plans in one year.

B. H. Hopkins, business manager of athletics, is in charge of all the ground improvements under way.

Express Office Has Moved Into New Addition

The eighteen-foot brick addition to the express office has been finished and is now occupied, Sank Ramey, agent, moving the fixtures in Monday. The company has more than doubled its space and the new arrangements will help facilitate the express business here, according to Mr. Ramey.

The 170-foot brick platform has also been completed, as one of the valuable improvements connected with the railroad, in both passenger and shipping conveniences.

Visit Self Family

Mrs. Little Mae Self was here last week visiting in the home of J. H. Self and family. She is a sister of Mrs. Self, and left here the latter part of the week for Amarillo where she visited relatives. Her home is in Carnegie, Oklahoma.

BABE ARRIVES IN CHICAGO IN FINE SHAPE FOR SPRINTS

Word was received this morning by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Russell, from "Babe" Russell, Hereford's state champion 100 and 220 yard high school runner. He says he and Coach T. H. McCollum had a fine trip to Chicago, where Babe will compete in the national track and field meet this coming weekend, arriving there at 5:00 p. m. Monday and having a good work-out that day. Training quarters and truck are in fine shape, Babe said, although the weather is rather cool and a top coat would be comfortable.

Turtle Catching Made An Art By Warden Turner

Sam O. Turner, game warden of this district, was in Hereford Tuesday on an inspection trip and meeting friends. Mr. Turner probably has a world record for catching turtles, these marine reptiles that are the bane of bank-hook fishermen and destroyers of young fish.

Within a period of 15 days this game warden trapped 2,147 eddie turtles from one lake, and stated that he now has probably 250 more inside the traps. These turtles have been "syndicated" and are on a road trip for show purposes. When asked if they had a high death rate outside of their native element, Mr. Turner replied, "No, they are all healthy and eat like lions."

A Tulsa, Oklahoma, newspaper naively suggests that after pointing out the good work the Panhandle warden is doing, Oklahoma should steal Sam Turner from Texas and give him a good job in the Sooner state.

Now Is Time To Select For Fair Exhibits

In the absence of a fair catalog which may not be ready for several weeks, some information which community exhibitors will need right at this time is being given out by R. O. Dunkle, county agent.

In the hay and legume classifications the score card, as it will appear later in the catalogue, giving specifications for entries on alfalfa and sweet clover, will call for bundles which shall not be less than three inches and not more than five inches in diameter. Two of each or one of either may be shown.

On wheat the same specifications as to bundles apply and the community is to show two bundles and two one-gallon samples of any variety or varieties.

This information is being given at present as now is the time to select such exhibits. When the catalog comes out it will probably be too late to make such good selections.

A good way to prepare alfalfa and sweet clover for show purposes, according to Mr. Dunkle, is to cure it in the shade—in that manner the green color is retained.

Charles Rice To Compete for Edison Honors

Charles Rice, high school graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Rice, has been recommended by G. M. Hudson, principal, as eligible for the national competition in the successor-to-Edison selection.

Only those high school youths who have had four years of science have a chance at the honor, and each high school may make a nomination for the state elimination which will be held in Austin June 10. Charles has had courses in physics, chemistry, biology and general science.

The winner at Austin will have all expenses paid to New Jersey some time this summer where his qualifications will be measured with those from 47 other states and the District of Columbia. The fortunate boy there will receive an honorarium and several years' study in the sciences.

Thomas A. Edison started this move last year, and a former San Antonio youth, son of a minister, was selected. Especially apt students are being located to carry on the work of Edison. At least, they will receive special training that will fit them to be practical scientists, patterned after the great American inventor.

GETS TWO DEGREES

MARGARET THOMPSON

Margaret Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex O. Thompson, will receive her Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Music degrees on June 4 at Simmons University, Abilene.

Margaret is twenty years of age and gets her two degrees with four years of university work. She is a member of the Julius Olsen Chapter of the Scholarship Club, the highest honor attainable for a student in club work as it takes scholarship, good behaviour and the recommendation of the faculty of the university to be eligible for membership.

She is a member of the Pi Kappa Delta Society, the Press Club, a member and secretary of the Panhandle Club, and on the Brand staff, the university paper. She has been acting as secretary to Dr. O. Wiley, director of the famed Cowboy Band, transposing music for the band and studying band and orchestra directing, taught by Mr. Wiley.

Margaret will spend the summer in Hereford.

A. A. Foster Is Showing Improvement from Illness

Thoughts On Memorial Day

MAY 30

Once again, in the course of time, the nation observes a day set apart in the honor of, and to commemorate, the brave sons of this Republic who have in the past sacrificed their lives on the altar of liberty.

It would be tragic indeed if those of us now living who have enjoyed the blessings of a great nation, should forget the supreme service that has been rendered, and allow the deal past to bury glorious heroism, and noble patriotism.

The blind worship of war, now gradually being discarded, should not be confused with the proper recognition of duty well performed or hinder a grateful people in paying homage to those who responded in the hour of national peril. Whatever may be our idea about the abolition of war the men who gave themselves to meet dangerous emergencies deserve the appreciation of their posterity.

The Brand joins with its readers in calling attention to the virtue and valor of American soldiers, sailors and marines. May those of us now living in peace, practice in daily life the same patriotic impulses which moved them, and unselfishly give ourselves to the service of our state and nation, to the end that this Republic shall well and truly be "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Memorial Day To Be Observed By Veterans

The American Legion will observe Memorial Day, not on Friday, May 30, but next Sunday, and arrangements for the day have been announced by Sank Ramey, local post adjutant. At ten o'clock Sunday morning members of the Legion, together with the veterans of all other wars who are especially invited to participate, will assemble at the court house in the legion's quarters.

At eleven o'clock the ex-soldiers will march to the Baptist church where Rev. J. W. Boukinghouse, pastor of the Christian church, will deliver the Memorial Day sermon. In the afternoon there will be services at the cemetery, during which rifle salutes of respect will be fired and graves decorated.

"This is not an American Legion observance alone," says Mr. Ramey, "and all veterans of the late war and any of the preceding wars are urged to be present for the services."

Band Director Takes Place In Pampa Schools

R. E. (Pop) Frazier, director of the Hereford municipal band, has accepted the position of orchestra and band director in the Pampa schools, and will begin his work there next Tuesday in order to have the band in trim by the football season.

He expects to organize junior and senior bands and orchestras, the junior classes providing the experience for successful senior organizations.

Mr. Frazier is one of the most successful band men in Texas, and was last year president of the State Band Teachers' Association. He was formerly band director at Breckenridge.

HOTEL FINANCE PLAN IS ADOPTED; COMMITTEE WILL PROCEED TO RAISE MONEY

Hereford Will Attend Reunion in Regalia

An invitation has been extended to all Hereford people to attend the Old Settlers' Reunion at Bellview on June 11. It is planned for the visitors from this vicinity to wear distinctive headgear, and J. A. Miller, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will provide each with a printed ribbon. A large delegation will attend, according to the interest now being shown.

Machine Picks 1,555 Pounds of Nails Off Road

The new nail picker of the highway department passed through Hereford Tuesday, and when it had arrived here at noon from Amarillo it had picked up no less than 1,555 pounds of nails, staples and other small pieces of metal capable of puncturing tires.

This close to a ton of metal debris was picked up on U. S. Highway 306 over the 50-mile stretch, according to T. W. Ziegler, an official for Division 4, who was supervising the work.

"Between here and Umparger was the foulest road I have ever seen," said Mr. Ziegler. "We picked up 739 pounds of nails and loose metal traveling the 18 miles, or 41 pounds to the mile."

The nail picker was recently assembled in Amarillo by the highway department. It will pull nails from a depth of three inches under loose dirt. It will often pick up weights of 50 pounds and is capable of lifting from the road 100 pounds of metal if lying just right, said Mr. Ziegler.

The picker will traverse only about 30 miles a day. When the metal is dumped it first falls on scales on the machine so that accurate record may be kept of the work that is done.

Foot-Rot Expert Arrives To Aid Farmers

Farmers who have had trouble with foot rot disease, better known as hot spots, kinkie joint, or whitehead, which caused so much damage in the Panhandle last year have an opportunity to get some good advice and information on the subject from Dr. Hurley Fellows, who will be in Hereford this week.

Dr. Fellows is accompanied by two other pathologists of the U. S. department of agriculture and will arrive here about Thursday for several days' stay. They want to discuss wheat diseases with the farmers. Dr. Fellows is an authority on "hot spots" and is planning to conduct several tests in the Panhandle to determine the most feasible methods of control.

Those who are interested should get in touch with R. O. Dunkle, county agent, some time this week.

Amarillo Thanks Hereford for Reception to Trippers

Appreciation of the fine reception accorded the Amarillo goodwill trippers on their recent visit to Hereford has been received by the office of the Chamber of Commerce. In the letter the Amarillo business men commented upon the hearty welcome they were accorded by all the citizens here, claiming it was one of the best given them on the whole tour.

Even the pessimist is beginning to glimpse the rising of a $150,000 hotel in Hereford some time this summer, following the unanimous adoption at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday of the assessment plan of financing and the authorization of the hotel committee to proceed to raise the money.

The committee will draw up at once full details of the plan, explaining its operation, and present it to the general public through the Brand. After the measure has been thoroughly digested, letters will be mailed to realty owners with the exact amount of the individual assessment figured out. The collection of the money will follow. These were the steps decided upon in a harmonious session of about 85 business men at the luncheon in the Christian church, with C. W. Humble, vice-president, presiding.

Matters were brought to a head by members of the hotel committee, some of whom stating they had been serving in that capacity for about ten years. The best plan of all has been proposed and now is the time to quit talking and start doing was the tenor of the speakers' remarks.

"It we have it in us to make a success, now is the opportunity to show it," said G. A. F. Parker, president of the Western National Bank. "I have been here 42 years and can state with authority that the wheat crop is the most uncertain crop of the county. Sowing wheat is betting. If we wait till another railroad is built across the county and other towns spring up, we will have slept on our rights. By displaying a little more courage than other towns, we will retain our lead. Courage in the face of a short wheat crop is what Hereford needs."

Mr. Parker was in favor of proceeding with the assessment plan to build the hotel, in "the good old Methodist fashion of assessing members to pay the preacher." He advanced the theory that people, like churches, buckle down to doing things when they are saddled with a debt.

George L. Muse, president of the First National Bank, and experienced as a hotel committee man, having eight years of service, succinctly put it that Hereford is to have a modern hotel, "There is no other way; we have found that out," he said. "In the city there is realty property with an assessed valuation of $1,600,000. A five per cent assessment should raise the necessary $50,000 for the citizens' part. It oversubscribed, the pro rata amounts can be reduced."

J. T. Cronin, merchant, was of the opinion that the hotel money could be gathered without any hardships upon any one with everybody contributing.

W. E. Dameron, attorney, and W. B. Arnold brought the suggestions to a close with the pointed remarks that the time is past whether Hereford out to, should or can have a hotel worthy of the city's advancement. It remained only to find the best way to do it, and the assessment plan, as used successfully in Corpus Christi, seemed to be the proper method. Now is the time to act, the time to build, when business is slow; and the same applies to the paving of the county's roads, they said.

The ladies of the Christian church did the serving at the luncheon, and a splendid meal was set, topped off with strawberry shortcake.

Such has been the development of the Curtis Model 30 Combine, tested and perfected until the different harvesting, threshing and separating functions have been embodied in one process and combined in one complete machine. The Curtis Differential Cylinder plays an important part in the synchronizing of the different units. Carried on the main frame, positive action is assured, regardless of uneven ground. Uniformity is guaranteed by the momentum of the special fly-wheel construction. The differential action eliminates telescoping connecting parts. Regardless of weeds, tangled crops or wet fields, the Curtis Model 30 threshes surely and cleanly.

while gains were reported in but ten," Mr. Nichols said. "The industry is expected to show a slow, irregular recovery during the next few months. Dullness In Pupils Caused by Physical Handicaps; Children Require Proper Food and Rest

Editor's Note—Just at this time Deaf Smith county's health service is carrying its work to the pre-school children, the workers going as evangelists of mercy. The rejoined statement of the health committee at Friona, which is now trying to have a similar department established for Farmer county, should be read and studied by every parent here and the free service offered next week by Miss Nell Hill should gladly be accepted. It may mean a rich and full life for that little jewel of the family.

BY HEALTH COMMITTEE OF FARMER COUNTY.

Many parents and teachers in this county are thoroughly convinced that children's health is the true base from which all highly successful education work must proceed. Excellence of sight and hearing, readiness and precision of movement and exactness of understanding are qualities which in the child make parents grateful and happy. Intelligence, goodwill and an agreeable voice and manner in friendship making easily surpass sectarian religion and party politics in attractiveness and satisfaction. A cultivated personality is ever in order to wide and cordial welcome. A sense of beauty and of the eternal fitness of things properly rules the world.

Dull Are Unhealthy.
To promote what is universally pleasing and acceptable is the chief business of religion and education. When the Christ rose to his seat of power and glory on high, he gave gifts to men, and every one of them was a gift for teaching. The word of God, the Scriptures, is exceedingly quick and powerful, and the truth is put on record that men may be perfect and abound in every good work. To this divinity of character and purpose every family and nation is graciously called.

Very many persons are now feeling the force of these truths. As well, they see and deplore the handicaps that many of the young bear, when they come into competition with their more fortunate companions. Social life of every kind, whether of school or church or of mere pleasure party, discovers these unhappy differences. Half the teachers' work is to meet and help along a few whose progress is slow and uncertain. Only a generation ago a leading teacher said, "Our business is to take care of block-heads, the heads will take care of themselves." He thought, and almost everyone else thought, that he had said something unusually bright. But now a searching science has come on the field and is taking a full account of these delinquents, so mistakenly and unfairly called block-heads. It is being found that practically all the shortcomings is at the bottom physical. Dullness of hearing, defectiveness of vision, pus in the system from diseased nasal passages, tonsils, teeth, digestive organs and toxins from sluggish excretory organs now certainly account for a large majority of the marks in teacher's grade books strewn along from B to F. To make A's is the natural, normal and easy thing to do where there is perfect soundness of body and honesty of effort.

Few Good Talkers.

Take the havoc that chronic colds work in the head. One so suffering cannot have a pure and pleasant voice. His enunciation is rancous and his articulation imperfect. It is with difficulty that he can consistently make himself understood. Half that is spoken in public is unheard.

At Canyon in the district meet of city senior high school students, very few declaimers had effective voices. It was so with a majority of rural high school declaimers at the Austin state meet. Some of the presiding teachers were equally imperfect. The winners in the finals had only this to their credit, that their vocal organs and freely working facial muscles were in fit condition to express the thought and sentiment of their pieces. The will to do well was in all. No one can speak well and effectively without clean nasal passages, mouths and throats, and freely and naturally acting digestive organs. It should be seen that bodily organs functioning in health are indispensable to success of every kind and to happiness in the higher degrees.

Health Helps Morals.

Health has much to do with moral character and spiritual aspirations. There is far more degility in torpid livers than in all the fiddles that ever jiggered foot-lifting melodies. A blood full of toxin is a very fountain of stormy emotions from peevishness to cold blooded murder. The majority of the inmates of prisons and reformatories are there because of mental delinquencies arising from physical causes. It is not an accident that Christianity has healing as the first step to a life redeemed and useful. The first consideration of every state should be the conservation of the personality of its citizenship. On the vital powers' depend health, wealth and wisdom. The decline of every nation begins in neglect and abuse of the vitalities conditioning unity, loyalty and honorable success.

Health vs. Wealth.

How much is health worth? He who prefers wealth to health will have neither. The grave is his home. He who sells his life for gold is insane. The country that yields to the clamor for strong drink, narcotics and sensual indulgence will go down in the very way. It is pitiful to hear taxpayers who share in the spending of billions for artificially created appetites and idle pleasure pleading against the expense of education, religion and manhood. Can a being really human deny his own God-made nature and withhold the cost of means and measures to make the most of it? Money spent for the gifts and powers of manliness is the only money that is spent for home and country and humanity. Many thousands of dollars are spent in this country for immediate relief from disease in its acute stages. The loss of time costs still more. Why not spend a few hundreds for prevention. As ounces to pounds so prevention to cure. Wisdom is justified of her children.

First Law of Nature.

Heaven wrote the law of self preservation not on tables of stone but on the fleshy tables of the heart. It is the first law of nature and strange to say the easiest to be neglected. Heaven ever recalls men to think of their physical duty to themselves and by virtue of Christian grace to others as well. God's love for others and for generations yet to rise. Inferiority must be bred out and superiority bred in. Children are of far more worth than birds and beasts.

They who have been saved from the grave, and spared to see and walk in the light and hope of life plead with men and pray to God that the like good may be extended to others. Science has given eyes to the blind and college education to thousands who else would know little or nothing of letters and the wisdom of the ages stored up in sacred and secular lore. Sanitation and hygiene have saved other thousands to effectiveness in the great business of life. Millions are yet to profit through deliverance from body and soul-debasing conditions.

Bovina Child May See.

Shall the children of this county have means to a nearer approach to perfect manhood and womanhood through the services of proper and competent health officers? The child at Bovina whose eyes were tested by Miss Moore last year and finally fitted with glasses and who, looking up into the evening sky, for the first time saw the stars in all their glory should answer, "Yes, let all children be made to see and hear and to learn all that God would have them know."

If what some teachers say is true, there are hundreds of school children in this county who are hindered in their progress by causes that can be wholly or in part removed. One of the most noticeable of these is the lack of variety of easily digested food. No child can have the power of sustained attention and a retentive memory without proper food, rest and exercise.

Now some will say, "This is the work of a home demonstrator." No, it is the work of a home health demonstrator. The conditions to health are wholly within the scope of duty of the health nurse.

The county federation of women's clubs, sponsoring this article, feel deeply the need of a health visit-

Mrs. Abbott Is Giving Aid to Many Mexicans

Mrs. Mae E. Abbott of Bovina, who is a home missionary for the Mexicans in her district, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Messenger of Hereford.

Mrs. Abbott is now doing home missionary work among the Mexicans who inhabit this part of the Plains country, having five counties under her charge. She is working under the direction of the Tierra Blanca Baptist Association.

Mrs. Abbott is issuing a little paper called the "Su Amigo," which she uses in her missionary work as a help toward interesting her charges in the work and the conditions surrounding them. This work is all done with the support of voluntary contributions from any who care to assist in the work.

Before visiting any locality, Mrs. Abbott sends word a few days ahead of her intended visit and the ladies of the church in that place lend their aid by preparing luncheon or refreshments of some kind, which are served to the children and their mothers.

or and counselor in the schools and homes of the people to aid and direct the preservation of vital capital and the recovery of the ailing and sick. They invite everyone to carefully consider this matter with a view to whatever relief may be obtained by state authority and cooperation. We are helping other counties in this respect and shall continue to do so. What should we do for ourselves?

Thousands of motorists know exactly why

TEXACO DRY GAS is better!

1. A wet gas is an atomized mixture of gasoline vapor in which are suspended drops of raw gasoline.
2. These drops of raw gasoline form an uneven mixture which resists the action of the spark.
3. Result: Destructive crankcase dilution, difficult starts, slow acceleration—a sluggish motor.

1. The new and better Texaco vaporizes so readily that it forms a dry gas—an active mixture of gasoline and air.
2. This pure, dry gas responds instantly to the action of the spark.
3. Result: Lightning starts, rapid acceleration, smooth action—power!

Like lightning, the news travels—"Texaco starts easier!—it forms a DRY gas—it's a better gas!" And here are the reasons why the new and better Texaco is better!

The new and better Texaco vaporizes so readily it forms a DRY gas—an active mixture of gasoline and air! And what a tremendous difference that makes! When you touch the starter, Texaco leaps into action—answers the first flash of the spark—speeds you on your way with a zip and a dash.

Wet gasolines do not vaporize readily, they easily form drops of raw gasoline in the manifold, slow down pick-up and make starting a hit-or-miss annoyance.

And there's the whole story in a nutshell—the difference between WET and DRY gas, the difference between Texaco and ordinary gasoline—the reason why more and more motorists are asking for Texaco, the original dry gas. Obtainable only at the Texaco pump.

LET'S KEEP ON GROWING

Hotel committees have worked valiantly, many ideas and plans have been advanced to financing a hotel, but only recently has a plan been offered that seems to meet the approval of all who have familiarized themselves with it.

This plan is to take the valuation of all city property (real estate only), levy an assessment of 5 per cent of the value of the property as rendered for taxation on each property owner, for which they will be issued second mortgage bonds, bearing 6 per cent interest annually, for the amount of the assessments.

The assessment plan has been discussed and weighed from every standpoint by a dozen of the leading business men of Hereford, who serve as a hotel committee in the chamber of commerce, and this seems to be the most equitable plan advanced so far for raising the amount necessary to finance the hotel.

The proposition has been presented at the last two chamber of commerce luncheons, 85 people being present at the last one, and it is the consensus of opinion that this is the most feasible method of securing the hotel, and there certainly will be very few who are not loyal enough to Hereford, who do not want the town to go ahead and grow, along with other parts of the country, to the extent that they will refuse to get behind this most worthy project—with both their moral and financial support.

This will in no wise encumber the property—in fact, the assessment is not, nor could it be, compulsory, nor would the chamber of commerce, under any circumstance, sponsor a movement that would involve any citizen of Hereford against his will. This is strictly an appeal to the patriotism of the citizenship, and those who have the interest of Hereford at heart and want to see the town progress will gladly respond and help put this proposition over. This plan differs from those formerly submitted here, in that the people are not asked for a donation, but are offered an investment in the form of a second-mortgage bond, bearing 6 per cent annually, and which will, in all probability, be retired at full value at the end of ten years. The object of the hotel man is to retire the first mortgage yearly, during the first ten years, at the end of which time he would re-finance the proposition, and retire the second-mortgage bonds.

A hotel, such as is in prospect, will enhance the value of every piece of property in Hereford. It will be an incentive for people passing through the country to stop over night, affording them an opportunity to learning something about the town and county, when they would otherwise pass on through and never take the trouble to investigate the possibilities this country has to offer.

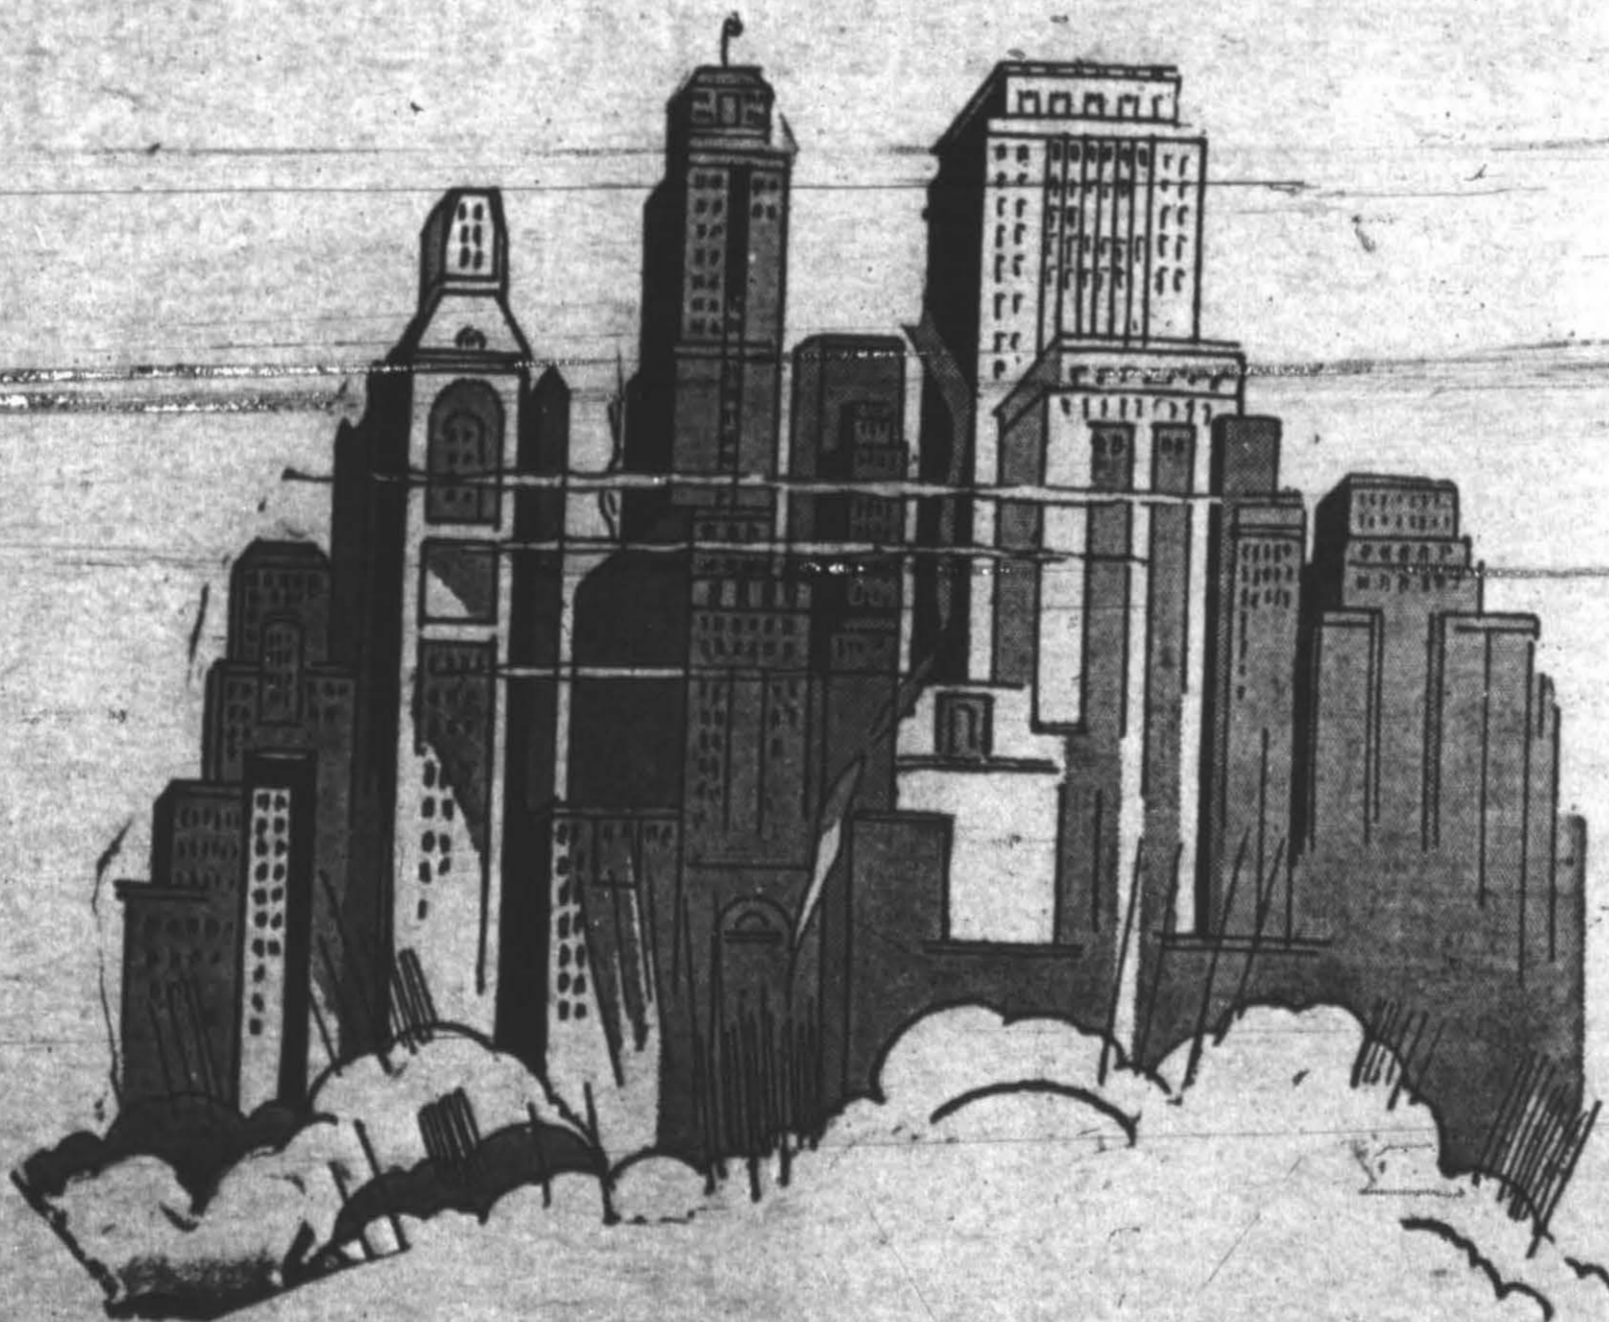

It would furnish a meeting place for our citizenship, a place where banquets, conventions, tea parties, luncheons and other social activities might be held, with all the accommodations to make such affairs a success. A place to which every citizen, who has a part in making it possible, can point with pride and a satisfaction of having done their bit in securing it.

No one should get the idea that there will be any coercion. The idea of using the assessor's rolls is to derive at a fair amount each should contribute according to property owned. Each will benefit in proportion to real estate owned by having a modern hotel here, and the voluntary response to the assessment plan will be assisting in proportion to the benefits that will accrue through the project.

Now Let's Build Our Hotel

This would be a four-story structure with elevators. Every room with either private or connecting bath, ceiling fans and all other accessories for the comfort and convenience of guests. Such a hotel will cost $150,000. The builder will place a loan for 40 per cent, or $60,000 of the amount; Hereford to raise $50,000, and the builder to make up the difference, or $40,000, and the furnishings which, the committee was told, would be about $40,000.

The need for a modern hotel in Hereford has been evident for a good many years. That fact no one would deny who is familiar with conditions as they exist here. It has been the opinion of every hotel man who has looked over the situation here that Hereford needs a hotel of not less than 60 guest rooms, a banquet room that will accommodate 400 or 500, a first class coffee shop, drug store, barber shop, beauty shop, tailor shop—in fact everything to be found in the most modern hotels.

If every citizen of Hereford could hear the remarks of visitors that come here about the need of more adequate hotel facilities, and know of the many traveling men and tourists that leave Hereford every night for lack of hotel accommodations, there would be no hesitancy on the part of anybody in getting squarely behind this proposition and getting a hotel started at the earliest possible moment.

The committee hopes that the plan, as outlined, will meet the approval of everybody in Hereford, and a letter will be mailed to every property owner in the city within the next few days, stating the amount of the assessment and asking their approval of same.

If the people of Hereford want a hotel, now is the time to show it by helping put the proposition over. If they don't, they will still be sitting here wishing for one ten years from now and will be no nearer the goal. Furthermore, towns all round will have built good hotels and will be enjoying the business and popularity that should be Hereford's, if she is to stay ahead of the procession.

Would Construct Federal House In Every County

Earl W. Wilson, county judge, has received a letter from the secretary of the National Welfare Association, proposing a unique plan for stimulating business and relieving unemployment. The welfare association would have the federal government issue five billions of dollars in special currency with which to build in every county seat a federal building not to exceed in cost the courthouse. This would house the post office and other federal departments. It is figured that the rent saved on postoffices would redeem the five billions within a certain time; from $50,000 on up would be expended in each county of the nation; millions of people would be given work; and the five billions put in circulation over the construction period would help out all the various kinds of businesses, both factory and retail.

CONTRAST BETWEEN FAITHFULNESS AND SLOTHFULNESS

Matthew 25:14-30

Golden Text: His Lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.—Matt. 25:21.

Introduction.

The Parable of the Talents is in many respects similar to that of the Pounds (Luke 19:11-27) and a great many people confuse them. The differences are much greater than the similarities. The Parable of the Pounds was spoken at Jericho as Jesus was going to Jerusalem; that of the Talents on the Mount of Olives three days after his triumphal entry. The former was addressed to the promiscuous multitude; the latter was meant more particularly for the Twelve. In the former the same sum of one pound was given to each servant; in the latter, one receives five talents, another two and another one. The former illustrates different degrees of improvement of the same opportunity, with corresponding gradations of reward; the latter illustrates equal proportionate improvement of different opportunities, with equal proportionate reward. The former was designed to correct the error of those who were looking for the immediate coming of the kingdom of God; the latter was intended, in conjunction with the story of the ten virgins, to teach that the right attitude of the disciples of Jesus toward his second coming is one of combined readiness and activity; while in both the episode of the unprofitable servant was meant as a warning to all. In view of these differences why should the two parables ever be confused?

According to His Several Ability.

"To each according to his several ability." People have different capacities, they vary greatly in mental ability, in physical beauty and strength, in social charm, in business skill, in spiritual insight. God would have every person given work according to his powers, but the world often places "square pegs in round holes." "Solomon's proverb, so often mistranslated and misapplied, 'Train up a child according to his way' (to his bent), and when he is old he will not depart from it,' furnishes a true principle of education; and in the future we may hope that our youth shall be clearly taught the real basis of all true division of labor, as grounded in capacity and circumstances." — Rev. Daniel Shephardson, Ph. D. "And went on his journey." There is deep pathos in this, for Christ knew that he was to take a journey from earth to heaven and leave men to labor without his visible presence.

The Talent.

The word meant originally a pair of scales; then the thing weighed; and so it was used for a unit of weight and money. Among the Phoenicians the weight talent was approximately 96 pounds. The monetary talent had various values. It was never a single coin. A talent of gold was in some cases as much as $60,000 of our money. The talent referred to here was perhaps the Syrian silver denomination, equivalent to about $200. From the figurative use by Jesus in this parable talent has passed into nearly all languages as the word for natural endowments or gifts, faculty, capacity or ability. Praise Worth More Than Blame.

"His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant." "There is a homely proverb that an ounce of praise is worth a ton of blame. Nothing helps people along the hard road of life and the uphill road to heaven like encouragement. At a boat race the spectators on shore shout to the rowers, 'Well rowed! You're gaining!' and every muscle is strained, and every effort made in response. Once at a great fire one of the firemen tried to reach a window and save the inmates, but the flames and smoke poured forth and drove him back; he tried again, and failed. Then someone in the crowd cried, 'Give him a cheer!' and as it rang forth the fireman dashed forward through the fire and entered the room." — Rev. H. J. Wilmot Buxton. Faithful Service Rewarded. "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." The commendation to the two-talent man was exactly the same word for word, as the praise and the reward bestowed on the five-talent man. "The parable affirms that our term of service is to be followed by a day of judgment, in which every man's work will be tried, and either approved or condemned.

The reports of the first two servants are strikingly similar: "Lord, thou deliverest unto me five talents; 10, I have gained five other talents." "Lord, thou deliverest unto me two talents; 10, I have gained other two talents." The words of the master's reply are particularly significant, for in them is conveyed the central truth of this parable: "Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things; I will set thee over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord." He spoke precisely the same words to both. What matter if one had made five talents while the other had made only two? Both had doubled the money entrusted to them. Both had been faithful. Both were worthy; therefore, of the same high commendation. For the principle upon which the rewards of the kingdom of heaven are apportioned in faithfulness. "Our Master does not care about quantity, but about quality and motive. Christ rewards not actions, but the graces that are made visible in action; and these can be as well seen in the tiniest as in the largest deeds. The light that streams through a pin-prick is the same that pours through the widest window." — Maalaren. The Penalty of Idleness and Neglect.

The condemnation of this servant's idleness was severe. "Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knowest that I reap where I sow, and gather where I did not scatter." Granting the truth of the servant's charge, it was no excuse for his neglect. The master, is, of course, merely "answering a fool to his folly"; he does not mean that the charge was actually true, but that if true, the servant was inexcusable. "Take ye away, therefore, the talent from him." The penalty of the failure to serve is the loss of the opportunity to serve. A few days, before this Jesus had said to the barren fig tree, "Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward forever." The curse of fruitfulness is the perpetuation of that fruitfulness. "And cast ye out the unprofitable servant into the outer darkness; there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth." What a solemn and dreadful doom! The climax of the punishment of those who neglect to serve God is banishment from the presence of God.

Illustration.

"An eminent merchant of St. Petersburg supported at his own expense a number of missionaries in India. Some one asked him how he could afford to do so, to which he replied, 'Before my conversion, when I served the world and self, I did it on a grand scale and at the most lavish expense; and when Christ called me out of darkness, I resolved that he should have more than I had ever given the world. At my conversion I promised I would give a certain per cent of what my business brought in. Since that time it yields double as much.' — C. W. Bibb.

Meadow Lark
 One Bird That Is Increasing

BY ZELLA WINGENT
 Another bird which nests on the ground is the meadow lark. Its grassy home, with its domed roof is almost impossible to find. Five speckled eggs are laid. Unlike the quail, the young meadow lark is helpless and it is but two weeks before they are able to follow the parent birds into the grass and search for their own food.

Every farm lad knows the meadow lark with its conspicuous black crescent on its yellow breast. When we meet it in the field it is impolite enough to turn its back on us in order to hide its showy breast.

About three-fourths of the lark's food consists of insects. Ground beetles, crickets, grasshoppers, cutworms and army worms are among its favorite food. It does a little damage to crops but not so much that farmers complain about it.

The meadow lark is one of the few birds in this country that is increasing in number. It likes the open field so that the clearing and cropping of the land have made conditions favorable for it.

The western meadow lark looks much like the eastern bird, but it is much more famous as a singer. Its song is loud and clear, and has one more note in it than has the cheery song of the eastern friend.

Midgets Have Hard Luck In Rural Tilts

Some interesting games have been played by the Junior baseball teams over the past week. Last week the Midgets had a regular game of war with Jumbo. Going into the ninth inning hopelessly behind, the kids staged a rally of nine runs and fell short one of tying the score. Jumbo won, 22 to 21.

The Midgets lost another one yesterday when they went up against a young team from the Frio community. The Frio boys had the best of it in size and put it to work in scoring.

Jumbo will probably play here tomorrow, having as their opponents Homer Fox's kids again.

Much Learned at Poultry Clinic
 By Flock Owners

If poultry farmers will keep the premises clean and thoroughly worm their flocks, most of the disease troubles will be eliminated, was the keynote of the poultry clinic held at the sales pavilion here Monday.

The clinic, something new for this section, was sponsored by R. E. Conaway, of the Hillside Hatchery. About 75 people were present and remained intensely interested during the three-hour course on diseases of poultry.

Dr. D. S. Meyer of Omaha, Nebraska, performed the dissections, giving post mortem examinations of ten diseased fowls. Unsanitary conditions and presence of worms are the most damaging in that they weaken the vitality of the birds, he said. If these two phases of the poultry industry are handled properly, the fowls will remain strong and will resist most of the ills that the uncared-for flock falls prey to, he explained.

Walter Burton, nationally known poultry judge and in charge of the poultry division of the Dallas State Fair, was present to assist in the practical lecture.

A huge Continental Oil Company bus was here last Friday with a party of officials from the company. J. D. Davis, assistant manager, of the Texas division, of Wichita Falls, with five associates made up the party.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sherrieb left Wednesday for a vacation and visit with some folks to be spent between here and California and along the Pacific coast line.

Game Matched
 for Sunday With Sudan Players

A ball game has been matched for Sunday between the Hereford Regulars and Sudan. Sudan has a fast team, all young men, alert, and natural ball players, capable of pushing over a few runs at almost any time.

What makes the outlook not so good for Hereford is the match last Sunday in which Sudan defeated Farwell, 4 to 2, and Leonard Road, star moundman here, was pitching them over for Farwell. Apparently he was not out of form, either, for the box score shows that he struck out 14 Sudanese. While his team-mates were making the other 13 outs, four failures were counted and the game was lost.

If Hereford is to win Sunday, Bose will have to be given about half a dozen scorers by his slug-gers. More than half of the visitors may strike out, but the others are up for pushing a few runs around. "It will be a tight game," says Homer Fox.

GENUINE ARTISTRY IN MILLINERY

BY GRETCHEN THOMSON
 After several seasons when any piece of felt that fitted around the head was a hat, we have returned to a period of genuine artistry in millinery. Never before have there been so many novel styles—so many different materials or such a marked distinction between hats for various occasions. There are hats for the suits—hats for the frock—hats for morning, noon and evening. There are straw hats, tweed hats, ribbon hats, hair-braid hats, linen hats and hats of practically every material that goes into the summer costume.

Sports Hats of Fabric Match Frock

Shanting for sports wear will be more popular than ever judging by the number of shanting hats that are seen on smart heads already. Pique and linen are also much in evidence for entire hats, as well as trimming. The vogue for tweeds has brought many charming hats for morning of country wear, developed in straws woven in tweed effects. They show a blending of colors and tones that is pleasing and that brings out

Combine Is Not Only Cheapening
 Cost of Wheat Harvesting, But Brings Radical Market Changes

"The combine has not only cheapened the cost of harvesting but it has brought about beneficial changes in wheat production and along with these economic advantages is forcing radical changes in storage and marketing methods," says H. M. Balner, director South-western Wheat Improvement Association.

Continuing he says: "The combine saves labor, reduces grain losses, avoids long delays in threshing and leaves the straw on the fields. It clears the fields quickly, making early seed-bed preparation possible for the next crop, killing weeds and saving moisture, thereby insuring better yields."

Combine Wheat too Moist.
 "The combine is responsible for an immense amount of heat damaged and musty wheat. This is due to too much moisture in the wheat at the time it is harvested. The best way to insure dry combine wheat is to wait until the crop is thoroughly mature before beginning to harvest it, or else cut it with a binder or swather. Dew and rains should be permitted to dry off before going ahead with the cutting. For best results, green patches as well as weedy wheat should be cut with a binder or swather and should be cured before threshing. Damp wheat should not be mixed with dry wheat. One load of wet wheat will lower the grade and quality of a bin full of dry wheat."

Store More Wheat On Farms.
 "With the present method of harvesting, as much wheat is made available for market in three weeks as was formerly made available in two months. This is too much wheat to handle in such a short time. No marketing system can move it fast enough. Piling wheat on the ground provides temporary relief but it is wasteful and unsatisfactory. The only satisfactory solution, therefore, must come thru more of the right kind of farm storage. The only safe plane to store combine wheat is in properly ventilated bins or in storage units

Milk Cooling System
 In Use by S. O. Wilson

S. O. Wilson, dairyman, believes in keeping up or ahead in the quality of his product and precautionary measures for the health of his customers.

Recently he installed an expensive Superlux milk cooling system, a photo of which is carried elsewhere in this issue in the Wilson Dairy advertisement. "We are cooling our milk now as soon as it is milked, down to 40 degrees," said Mr. Wilson.

With the new cooling machine, sanitary bottles, capping apparatus and steam sterilizer this dairyman is able to produce milk with a very low bacteria count.

Science is working wonders for the comfort and health in the home, and the makers of the Superlux being used by Mr. Wilson, have on the market in this territory iceless refrigerators, cooled through a kerosene flame.

BY NELL HALL
 County Health Nurse.

A child who is to grow and develop normally requires plenty of good food, sleep, exercise and out-of-door life. In addition special care must be devoted to the prevention of certain weaknesses and defects by attention to them in the earliest stages.

A child must be guarded as far as possible against attacks of illness. Every mother should recognize the fact that any illness however brief and slight, is a hindrance to growth, and that every hour spent by the child in pain or disturbance means some loss to him and may mean permanent impairment of some organ or function of the body. It is now known that many serious and chronic illnesses of adult life have their beginnings in some disease of childhood, like measles, the whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria or the serious disturbance of digestion.

An important measure which the intelligent mother may take in the prevention of illness as well as of weaknesses and defects, is to have the child thoroughly examined by a physician at regular intervals. After a child is ill or some defect or disability has grown up, the physician will do all he can to relieve the condition, but his services would have been infinitely greater to the family if he could have had the opportunity to foresee and prevent the bad result.

Every child, though he seems healthy, should be given a complete physical examination by a physician, preferably once each six months, but at least each year. When these periodic health examinations are made, the physician is better able to advise the mother about the proper food, suggest methods or body care and to establish healthy mental habits. It is possible for him to detect disturbances of growth, to time to prevent physical defects or to correct those which may have developed. Faulty mental habits also may be checked before they lead to fixed method of action.

The County Health Service has now arranged to have each child under six years old examined. We urge that the parents bring their children to the court house in Hereford between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. on the days as scheduled below, where they will be given a thorough physical examination by the physicians and dentists.

The children from the following communities will please be present Tuesday, June 3: Bippus, Sims, Messenger, Walcott, Dean, Westway, Summerfield.
 Wednesday, June 4: Ford, Ward, Fairview, Progressive, Daniel, Dawn, Wyrche.
 Thursday, June 5: Hereford.

We hope to have every child in Deaf Smith county present. Let us do our best to give the children of the county every opportunity to make strong, healthy, useful citizens.

"For months my nerves were upset and I was so rundown that I was unable to do any housework, and hardly able to get out of the house. I was so weak I spent most of my time in bed. My appetite was poor, the lightest foods disagreed with me and I suffered continually with chronic constipation. I am on my fourth bottle of Sargon, my appetite is splendid, my digestion is perfect. SUGGESTIONS INVITED

Folks, this a mighty dry time, but what can we do about it? We can't quit. Wouldn't this be a good time to start the cow, sow and hen rotte? These folks that are getting a $15.00 weekly cream check, $100.00 every month or so from hogs, and enough eggs to pay the grocery bill—these are the ones that don't lay awake at night thinking about the dry weather. Why not start that dairy herd now and head it with a McCormick-Deering cream separator?

WHAT WERE YOU DOING IN HERFORD 19 YEARS AGO?

J. H. Head, county treasurer, thought he had lived down his past, but it "bobbed" up last week in the 19-Years-Ago column that he was mayor and had a flock of sheep—a sheep-man in a cow-country! One of the treasurer's friends among the old cattlemen was seen to throw up his hands when he read the item and to exclaim: "Just think, I've been voting for that man all the time!" But when it is recalled that he was also mayor, the situation is more rosy. Any man who makes the sacrifice of serving his home-town as mayor deserves to be forgiven everything and put in line for a few honors.
