Soaking Rain Welcome Here

By JIM STEIERT
Managing Editor

Early morning thunder-showers dumped significant amounts of moisture over a wide area of Deaf Smith County today with prospects of additional accumulations as the day progressed.

Steady rainfall set in during the wee hours of the morning in a spring - preceding soaker that should be of considerable benefit to pastures and the local wheat crop, as well as to farmland awaiting planting.

The morning's heaviest rainfall accumulation was reported at Farmer's Elevator, five miles north of Dawn where 1.4 inches of precipitation had fallen by 9 a.m.

Accumulations of over an inch were reported in the area around the elevator location as well.

Showers fell off in the vicinity of the Dawn community east of Hereford, however, as .60 inches was recorded at the elevators of High Plains Industries in Dawn proper, while the Bob Strain farm northwest of Dawn logged .70 inches.

A half inch report came from Northwest Grain, located west of Farmer's Corner and a similar report was received from the Simms community.

Chuck's Garage at the Ford community reported .75 inches at 9 a.m. with showers still occurring.

At Milo Center, north of Hereford, Pioneer Fertilizer reported a .40 inch rainfall total.

Beneficial showers were also recorded in the west part of the county where large stretches of dryland wheat have been "hanging on" with the light shower activity that has been noted here in the past two weeks.

John Frank Martin reported .75 inches of rainfall at Walcott in this morning's shower activity while Dan Hall reported .38 inches in the Walcott area.

The Clint Homfeld farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford received .50 inches of rainfall today and together with readings from showers last week that location has received an inch of rainfall in recent days.

The H.L. Hershey farm 13 miles northeast of Hereford reported .70 inches of rainfall this morning and a report of .90 inches of moisture was received from an area one mile north of the Hereford Airport.

In the Summerfield area, the Kuper farm received .35 inches of precipitation.

An even inch of rain was reported one mile southeast of Hereford and the Tom Draper farm on the Deaf Smith - Castro County border six miles southeast of Hereford received .60 inches of rainfall.

Easter Grain, south of Hereford, received .40 inches of moisture.

The slow, steady rate of today's early morning rainfall made for maximum soil penetration by the moisture and should help to begin replenishing the depleted soil moisture level here.

An Offering Of Spring

Cloudy skies and 50 degree temperatures seemed to have little effect on Michael Bartels' enjoyment of the approaching spring season signified by blooming daffodils in front of the city post office. Although the rain continues to fall over much of the area, and up to 1.4 inches of rain were recorded in the county, spring appears to be on the way. Bartels is the 23-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bartels of 920 Brevard.

Inequities Account For Water Shortages

NEW YORK (AP) — On an average day, more than three times as much water splashes down America's rivers and streams as is needed by all its cities, industries and farms. So why is there ever a drought?

The answer is that water shortages stem from inequities of distribution — both natural and man-made — not from overall supply.

"There is no shortage of water except in some places at some times," says Robert Spangler of the American Water Works Association, an utilities and suppliers group.

"The challenge is getting it in the right place at the right time."

Americans find that challenge increasingly complex and expensive.

Daily U.S. water use rose from 300 billion gallons in 1965 to 400 billion last year as population, industry and irrigation all expanded. We may use 800 billion gallons a day by the 1990s.

At the same time, the quality of our water is threatened. Fewer than half of the nation's 3,700 largest cities have met federal sewage standards and toxic wastes are threatening the ground-water supply.

"The philosophy that the air we breathe and the water we drink is free, which may have been true at the turn of the century, is no longer so in our highly industrial society," says the AWWA's president-elect, Kenneth J. Miller.

Of course, all fresh water is free initially. It is purified by the giant distillery which hydrologists, or water scientists, refer to as the "hydrologic cycle," the sun-powered engine that recycles water from ocean to air to land without ever a drop being gained or lost.

Taming the hydrologic cycle has been the cornerstone of civilization ever since the early Egyptians learned to control the Nile's annual floods to irrigate their crops.

The economic development of the West owes much to ambitious federal water programs under the 1902 National Reclamation Act.

This law was intended to provide cheap water for irrigation.

Farmers who got water paid a long-term fee for capital costs of the projects but not operating costs or interest, and hence the water acquired what amounted to a federal subsidy.

"During the last drought, there was a small market established in water and people were paying up to $70 an acre-foot," says agricultural economist Richard Howitt of the University of California (See WATER, Page 2)

Tax District

Board to Meet

The Deaf Smith County Tax Appraisal District board of directors will meet in a called session Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hereford ISD administrative office.

Among items slated for discussion during the session are bond premiums and liability insurance.

Also to be discussed are an attorney for the district, an accountant, and insurance and retirement, plus board policy and equipment.

Trustees Re-Hire Teachers

By CHERI WARD
Staff Writer

School board members unanimously agreed to rehire all teachers for the coming school year and adopted textbook committee recommendations for new books in a Tuesday meeting.

School board members retired to a closed session for over an hour to discuss a pending situation with Maria A.

Zuniga and her attorney. After the discussion the meeting was reopened with no further discussion of the situation.

Regular monthly reports were presented to the board, and the enrollment report showed a drop of seven students from last year's figure of 5,170 students to the present 5,163.

Each grade level in the district was higher for the past month with the exception of the 11th and 12th grades.

Superintendent Harrell Holder presented a recommendation to the board that Irma Medina be hired as a teacher at Northwest Primary School and presented the resignations of Jess Robinson, high school, and Mel Witte, La Plata, to be effective in the coming school year.

The board accepted Holder's recommendation and the resignations of the two teachers.

Board members also voted to hold an emergency meeting Thursday, March 12, at 6:30 p.m. to discuss the role and responsibility of being a school board member with the candidates for school board.

Four candidates for the school board were present at Tuesday's meeting, and all of the candidates appeared at a CTA meeting Monday and presented their views on many subjects to the teachers present. School board elections will be held April 4.

Holder told the board that the district is currently being monitored by Texas Education Agency employees who are looking into Title I, Title I Migrant, Special Education, Vocational and Title IV-B programs.

Monitors arrived Monday and will leave Wednesday. This is part of the ongoing program of the TEA to provide assistance in the operation of these federally funded programs.

A representative of the TEA has also been in Hereford to look at the transportation program. The representative told Larry Wartes, board member, that the program was in good condition.

Over the next 30 days, the district will sell four buses in accord with state guidelines. Fuel for the district's transportation system was also discussed by board members who asked about the policy of gasoline purchases.

District purchases of gasoline are made on the basis of a two-month survey of local suppliers. The district buys gas from the supplier with the best price.

James Gentry, board member, presented a brief summary of pending legislation in the area of education and stated that a bill supported by Speaker Bill Clayton is similar to an HISD policy in effect.

Board members also heard a report from the Classroom Teachers Association from the current president, Tommy Rosson.

Rosson said Nancy Priest is the organization's president-elect, and Nina Vera has been elected to serve as secretary of the organization for 1981-82.

Officers of the group attended a state meeting in Houston, and reported to members that CTA dues will increase $30 next year.

Charles Duvall, principal of Northwest Primary School, received an award as administrator of the year at the Houston meeting.

Board members were reminded of a joint TSTA-CTA installation-meeting to be held April 13.

In other business, Wartes recommended the purchase of building insurance be delayed for 30 days as the state board of control had not supplied local insurance agents with average state rates need to meet board bid requirements.

The district's current insurer will continue to cover the system until building insurance is purchased.

Board members were reminded about the annual past school board members banquet to be held in early May to honor those who have served on the board in past years.

Clark Andrews proposed establishing regular public meetings for specific groups or organizations in the community to provide people with a better understanding of the functions of the school.

Board president Sallie Strain appointed Andrews to set up the first of these meetings for April.

Postal Rates Headed Up

WASHINGTON (AP) - The cost of mailing a first-class letter will go from 15 cents to 18 cents on March 22, the Postal Service said Tuesday.

The Board of Governors of the service, who had requested a 20-cent rate, took sharp issue with the Postal Rate Commission, a separate agency that on Feb. 19 approved the 18-cent rate instead.

"To achieve a lower stamp today, the commission has chosen to ignore more than $1 billion in revenue needs that will have to be collected in the near future," the governors said in a statement released without elaboration.

The governors said they would ask the rate commission to reconsider its decision. If that decision stands, the statement said, the Postal Service will soon ask for another rate hike.

"The 18-cent stamp is a recommendation for fiscal irresponsibility in postal matters. It is a recommendation for constant rate changing and it is a recommendation for higher than necessary postal rates in the future," the governors said.

Brown: Time Now For Water Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown says modern machines could dig the Panama Canal in three weeks, so there is no reason to delay the projects that could solve the nation's looming water crisis.

"We've studied it to death — it's time for action," he said Tuesday at a House Agriculture Committee hearing.

Brown said canals or pipelines should be built to import water from the nation's wetter areas to Texas and other arid agricultural states where the water table is declining rapidly.

He said conservation and increased research also are needed to solve the problem.

The water shortage was just one element of a potential agricultural disaster that Brown said would exist without a comprehensive program to help farmers and ranchers.

He said the United States has no more than 10 years before current agricultural problems reach crisis proportions.

The committee, chaired by Texas Rep. Eligio "Kika" de la Garza, is holding hearings on the 1981 farm bill.

De la Garza, a Mission Democrat, has said he hopes the 1981 farm bill will cover a four-year period. The 1977 farm act that authorized major farm commodity programs and other legislation, including the food stamp program, expires this year.

Brown said a top priority in the new bill should be setting government price supports to cover the "true cost of production" plus a fair profit for the producer.

Farmers and ranchers recognize that the federal government does not have to guarantee a profit, he said, but that does not prevent the government from using the price support program as a tool to smooth the swings in the farm economy.

"One of our greatest tasks in the years ahead will be to explain to the 97 percent of our population who do not farm why the other three percent is so important," the Texas official said in a prepared statement. "If we are to achieve real progress toward building a long-range policy for agriculture, it must be with the understanding and support of our urban citizens and legislators."

Brown called for quick, decisive action to correct such major problems as the water shortage, a war against insects that "the bugs are winning" and energy shortages.

He noted that the Texas agricultural economy would grind to a halt without undocumented workers and said it is important to develop an adequate, dependable labor force.

State Only Holdout In Proposals

TYLER, Texas, (AP) — The Texas Education Agency has failed to meet a federal judge's deadline for submission of a plan to upgrade the level of bilingual instruction in the state's public school districts.

District Judge William Wayne Justice had ordered the state to submit its plan by Monday after he ruled in January that the bilingual instruction offered to Texas' Spanish-speaking students is inadequate.

Two plaintiffs in the suit and the U.S. Justice Department met the deadline and the plans they submitted to Justice both call for substantial increases in the number of public school teachers with bilingual skills.

Gov. Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton last week announced a joint task force would develop a plan beyond the third grade, the last grade for which bilingual instruction is required by state law. The state has asked for an extension of its deadline until June 15, after the state legislature has adjourned.

The Justice Department proposed a broad new program of bilingual instruction for Texas school districts enrolling 20 or more students who lack English language proficiency.

The department's proposal was submitted to Justice as part of the suit over bilingual education brought by the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Education Fund and the Harvard Center for Law and Education.

The two plaintiffs met the Monday deadline and proposed that Texas more than triple the number of public school teachers with bilingual skills by 1984. They also want Justice to appoint two court masters and 20 regional monitors to oversee implementation of any court-sanctioned program.

2-Year-Old Exhumed; Stepfather Charged

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Houston man is in jail on murder charges here after an autopsy showed that his 2-year-old stepdaughter, secretly buried five years ago, was a battered child and died as a result of violence, investigators said.

Bruce Allen Taylor, a 31-year-old draftsman, was arrested Sunday afternoon in Houston, said assistant district attorney Allen Hill. A warrant charging Taylor with murder had been issued Saturday by Travis County Justice of the Peace Guy Herman.

Taylor was held on $50,000 bond.

Dr. Roberto Bayardo, Travis County medical examiner, said an autopsy on Joy Lynn Lewis, whose remains were exhumed Feb. 27, revealed that the child had six healed fractures of her right arm, left leg and ribs at the time of death, and probably had died from a blood clot in the brain.

She was wrapped in a blanket and buried in the back yard of Taylor's rented southwest Austin home more than five years ago, authorities said.

Though no specific cause of death could be determined from the child's skeletal remains, Bayardo ruled that she "came to her death as a result of being a battered child."

Special crimes investigators from the Travis County District Attorney's Office, acting on a tip from the man's estranged wife, unearthed the skeleton from a shallow grave, Hill said.

Hill said Taylor and his common-law wife, whose name was not released, moved to Austin in November 1975. The child's death allegedly occurred in January 1976 and police think the couple moved from Austin in 1977.

of the abduction should appear in the news media.

"This thing isn't over yet," said sheet metal firm owner Milton Dwayne Hudson.

Eldon Trent Hudson, 20, a Sam Houston State University sophomore, was taken from the family's summer home Friday near Huntsville. He was found bound and gagged in a ditch 12 hours later, after his father said he paid the ransom.

Harris County Sheriff's Deputy Norman Sanford said Tuesday investigators had few clues and were faced with a kidnapping "that wasn't cooked up in a couple of hours over a few beers."

"The kidnapers put a great of thought into this. It just went down so smooth. When they called Mr. Hudson the first time, they knew he was called by his middle name, Dwayne."

And, Sanford said, "they had Mr. Hudson's unlisted phone number, indicating they had put some thought into it."

The abduction was not reported until Monday.

Sanford said young Hudson went to see what had activated a burglar alarm at the summer house. There he was grabbed, a pillow case placed over his head, and was pushed into the trunk of his own car.

The demand for the $100,000 in small bills was made about four hours later. Hudson said he was sent to four different public telephones in north Harris County before being instructed to place the money in his son's car parked at a shopping center near the Houston Intercontinental Airport.

Upon returning home, another telephone call led him to a ditch near the shopping center where he found his son, bound and gagged but otherwise unharmed.

Weather

West Texas — Considerable cloudiness and a chance of rain through Thursday. Widely scattered thunderstorms southwest today and central and south tonight and Thursday. Highs near 50 north to mid 60s extreme southwest. Lows upper 30s Panhandle to upper 40s extreme south. Highs Thursday lower 50s Panhandle to upper 60s southwest.

Water

at Davis. An acre-foot is the amount of water that would cover an acre a foot deep, or 325,851 gallons.

The current cost of (federally subsidized) water is around $5 to $7 an acre-foot. The cost, even if farmers were paying interest, would be somewhere around $35 an acre-foot. So there's an extra $35 profitability in that water," Howitt says.

But owing to the subsidy, farmers can't sell any excess water since that would be making a profit off a public service. The result, says economist F. Lee Brown at the University of New Mexico, is to encourage waste and misuse. However, farmers can sell their water rights, and a small but active market has developed, Brown says.

About half of Americans get their drinking water from aquifers, and farmers use it extensively for crops.

But the supply is not inexhaustible. Corn and sorghum farmers have pumped so much water from the Ogallala Aquifer, a 225,000-square mile system stretching from Texas to South Dakota, that the water table is falling 3 feet a year in some places.

This raises the cost of pumping and may put an end to irrigation by the turn of the century in parts of the Ogallala, experts say.

Groundwater pumping has other hazards: some dozen homes near Houston have been flooded by tidewater from Galveston Bay as pumping caused the land under them to sag like a drying sponge.

Pollution is also a threat: an estimated 7,500 injection wells around the country are pumping toxic wastes directly into the ground, and scientists say if any of the slow-flowing aquifers become contaminated it could take decades to clear them.

One former state engineer in Florida put his family on bottled water after studying groundwater conditions in the south of that state. "I don't expect to be able to drink tap water again in my lifetime," Jim Bacht told a hearing on water quality in January.

Coastal communities that rely on groundwater face a special threat from potential contamination by saltwater. On New York's Long Island, where all drinking water comes from the ground, Nassau County will prevent salt water intrusion by recharging the underground reservoir with treated sewage. The sewage will be purified to meet drinking water standards then pumped into the ground.

Meanwhile, a new problem has cropped up. It appears that chlorine, the standard water disinfectant since 1913, reacts with organic pollutants to form traces of potentially cancer-causing chemicals called trihalomethanes, the most common of which is chloroform.

The EPA wants cities to switch to new disinfectants or change the way chlorine is applied to cut trihalomethane levels by this November. But many cities say the cost is too high.

But there are steps which can be taken to stretch our water supply, says Gerald Seinwill, acting director of

Economic Package Promised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is making no promises about what President Reagan's proposals for $48.6 billion in spending cuts will look like after it finishes testing the political winds, but congressional leaders vow to complete work on some kind of economic package this summer.

"He won the election; he is entitled to the chance to see if his program works," said Sen. Alan Cranston, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate.

But the Californian added: "Congress will disagree in specifics where we think people are being hurt. Congress doesn't give a blank check to any president."

The administration's plan would save $409 billion in the next five years, about three-quarters of the reductions needed to meet Reagan's goal of balancing the budget in 1984.

The package sent to Capitol Hill Tuesday contains reductions in 300 domestic programs from the projections left by former President Carter and shoots for total spending of $695.3 billion in fiscal 1982.

"The thundering herd of sacred cows has now been reduced to a handful," said White House budget director

David A. Stockman.

But House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., said the package left too many questions unanswered and predicted the current surge of pro-Reagan sentiment will abate "when people truly appreciate" what the cuts will mean to the nation.

"Then," O'Neill said, "the wind will blow."

Reagan's proposals would reverse a two-decades-old trend of giving social programs more and more of the federal dollar while reducing the percentage going to the military.

"The revised fiscal 1982 program, which would boost defense spending by more than $4 billion, leaves a projected $45 billion deficit, partly stemming from the administration's separate proposals to cut tax rates. Spending next year would be about $40 billion higher than this year's projected spending.

Despite the sharp program cuts for fiscal 1982, which begins Oct. 1, Reagan would only slow — not stop — the rise in federal spending. Under his plan, spending would increase 6 percent next year, compared with 13 percent this year.

Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker Jr. of Tennessee has exhorted his fellow Republicans to postpone until next year any legislative proposals not connected to the tax and spending efforts. He asked them to make 1981 "Ronald Reagan's session of Congress."

However, Rep. James R. Jones, D-Okla., chairman of the House Budget Committee, said his panel will "review and improve on this budget."

That process is certain to involve hearing cries of anguish from organized labor, civil rights groups and other organizations that oppose the social cuts and already have mobilized coalitions to combat the proposals.

Cranston said congressional approval of 75 percent of the spending cuts "would be a victory for Reagan."

"Congress doesn't respond to problems, Congress responds to pressure," said Rep. Edwin R. Bethune Jr., R-Ark.

With Republicans in control of the Senate, the main battleground for Reagan's proposals is expected to be the Democratic-controlled House.

Democratic and Republican leaders in the House have agreed on a timetable that would call for completion of action on the administration's package of tax and spending cuts by August.

O'Neill said a bipartisan group of House leaders and committee chairmen would meet every two weeks to monitor progress on Reagan's program.

"Every time one of those

Hostages Growing More Nervous

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Beginning their ninth day in captivity, more than 100 hostages aboard a hijacked Pakistani airliner were reported getting increasingly nervous as they awaited the Pakistani government's response to their captors' latest demands.

A 22-year-old flight attendant released by the hijackers Monday night, Farzana Sharif, told reporters the hostages were being treated well. But "the psychological situation of the passengers is extremely difficult," she said, "...especially since they all know the hijackers will blow up the entire plane."

The hijackers, after they brought the Boeing 720 jetliner from Kabul, Afghanistan, to the Damascus airport early Monday, made new demands for the release of imprisoned opponents of Pakistani President Mohammed Zia ul-Haq's authoritarian military regime. They warned they would take an "extremely drastic measure" if their demands were not met.

The demands were radioed to Pakistan, but early today there was no word of any response from the Pakistani government.

Truckloads of Syrian troops armed with automatic rifles moved into the airport Monday night and took up positions around the airliner. Zia was reported to have given the Syrians a free hand in dealing with the hijackers, but there was no evidence of preparations to rush the plane.

Syrian officials maintained radio contact with the green-and-white airliner parked on an auxiliary runway about half a mile from the control tower of the busy airport. Apparently trying to keep tension down, they advised the hijackers in advance when the guard was changed or when there was to be other movement around the plane.

The airliner was hijacked by three young armed men Sunday, March 1, during a domestic flight from Karachi to Peshawar and diverted to the Afghan capital.

During seven days of negotiations in Kabul, the hijackers threatened to shoot the passengers one-by-one and to blow up the plane. They released 29 hostages Thursday, killed a Pakistani diplomat who was among the passengers on Friday and free four more people Saturday.

The Pakistani government broke off the negotiations Sunday when the hijackers added more names to the list of prisoners whose freedom they demanded. The gunmen then ordered the plane into the air, and it landed in Damascus nearly out of fuel.

No Hitch Noted In Benefit Show

ATLANTA (AP) — Despite a veiled threat that the killer would strike again, no missing children were reported as a sellout crowd turned out to hear Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr. in a concert that raised more than $148,000 for the costly investigation of the deaths and disappearances of 21 black children.

Security was tight during the three-hour concert Tuesday night at the Atlanta Civic Center, where the 4,600 people who plunked down $25 or $100 for concert tickets included 44 relatives of children killed in the Atlanta area during the past 20 months.

Local businesses had chipped in to buy tickets for many of the families, who watched Sinatra and Davis and rubbed with such celebrities as Roberta Flack, Burt Reynolds and Dizzy Gillespie.

"We intend to do this kind of affair...where we can utilize all the celebrities and stars," said Davis, who came up with the idea for the benefit after city officials said the lengthy — but so far futile — inquiry already had cost $1 million, with expenses mounting at the rate of $200,000 a month.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

AUSTIN — "Neither a borrower nor a lender be" may have been good advice in Shakespeare's time but it doesn't work in today's Texas. Everyone from the biggest corporation to the individual is in the business of borrowing money—whether he likes it or not. Many also are in the business of lending it.

These days, it is impossible to talk about borrowing money without also talking about interest rates. We all know the story. Interest rates are higher than ever. The Senate Economic Development Committee recently passed a bill—SB 628—to raise the ceiling on interest rates. We think this bill is very important to everyone in Texas who has a job, owns a business, or wants to borrow money or buy something on credit anywhere in the state.

It would be nice if we in the Legislature could just pass a law to keep the rates down. That would save a lot of money for a lot of people, because there are few winners in an economy like the one we have today.

We cannot do that. We would like to, but it is impossible. Interest rates, like any other prices, are controlled by supply and demand. The only way to make the rates go down is to increase the money supply or decrease the demand. The Texas Legislature has no control over either of these.

All we can do is impose a ceiling on certain interest rates, which we have done for many years. For years, the rate people charged did not reach the ceiling, and things went pretty smoothly.

But now, the "real" interest rates are above the ceiling. In another world, that would mean that lenders

Thefts, Vandalism Reported

A new automobile bumper was stolen from the back of a pickup parked in front of Bowling's Bowl, 110 N. 25 Mile Ave., Tuesday.

Police said Ken Rogers of Yucca Hills reported the theft of the bumper valued at $160 while he was in the building.

Jessie Barrett, 342 Ave. D, told police damages totaling $200 had been done to his trailer home. Barrett said someone entered the trailer, removed some furniture, broke windows and some shelves and pulled some curtains down.

Police officers were investigating a car theft when the owner of the car reported that a relative had borrowed the car.

Officers issued 13 traffic citations.

Aggie Moms Prepare For District Meet

Several Aggie Mothers gathered at Sondra's Craft Corral in Sugarland Mall Monday to learn to make maroon and white silk camelias.

The camelias will be used in arrangements and corsages at the March 28 District 10 meeting at the Hereford Country Club.

Members from the Amarillo and Lubbock Aggie Mothers Clubs as well as a number of state federation officers will be hosted by the local club at a morning coffee, noon luncheon and a business meeting.

Randy Matson, executive director of the Association of Former Students of Texas A&M University, will speak at the luncheon. Matson's sister, Carla Patterson, resides at Yucca Hills north of Hereford.

Arrangement Preparations

Several Aggie Mothers learned to make maroon and white silk camelias in preparation for the March 28 District 10 meeting at the Hereford Country Club. The camelias will be used in arrangements and corsages. Shown from left are Merle Clark, Charmayne Klett, Vondell Plummer, Amalia Bracht, Pat Clark and Sadie Brandt.

Members working under the direction of Sondra Blankenship were Pat Clark, Charmayne Klett, Vondell Plummer, Merle Clark, Sadie Brandt and her mother Amalia Bracht of Umbarger.

Ann Landers

Midwest Indiana

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My grandson asked me a question I couldn't answer. Maybe you can. He wanted to know why the weathermen on national TV refer to Indiana as the "Midwest." I agree with him that Indiana is Mideast.

As a former teacher I recall we showed our pupils a map that divided the states according to the Mississippi River. The states along the Pacific were the Far West. The plains states of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas were the Midwest. The states east of the Mississippi were the Mideastern states. The Atlantic Coast states were the East. No way could Indiana be considered the Midwest.

I wonder what people in California think when they hear such statements. Please comment. -- O.M. Of Syracuse, N.Y.

DEAR O.M.: I called John Coleman, whose friendly, down-home weather commentary is heard on ABC ("Good Morning, America"). John said, "I've had many complaints about how I refer to various regions of the county, so I try to stick to the guidelines of the National Weather Service. It is impossible to keep everybody happy because there are so many different possibilities. Indiana, for example, can rightfully be called one of the Great Lakes states, or the Ohio Valley, also part of the Central Midwest, and on rare occasions, in the Eastern part of the U.S."

I then called Willard Scott, the jovial, sunny weatherman who does his lively number on NBC's "Today Show." He said, "People from Indiana think of themselves as Midwesterners - not Easterners. I refer to Indiana as the lower part of the Ohio Valley, part of the Great Lakes area or the middle Mississippi Valley. Hoosiers do NOT consider themselves Easterners."

F. Gordon Barnes, the golden-voiced meteorologist of CBS News, said, "I think this problem dates back to the time when there wasn't much west of the Rockies. Although Indiana is in the Eastern time zone, it is definitely considered part of the Midwest. I can tell you that the people who live in Indiana resent it when they are called Easterners."

So, if they are still using those old maps in the Syracuse schools, maybe they'd better invest in some new ones. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know the odds of getting a letter in your column are about 2,000,000-1, but maybe I'll be lucky.

I am writing about the problem of mistaken identity. Here is what happened to a friend of mine: We were walking home from church on a beautiful day having a pleasant conversation. Suddenly someone grabs my companion from behind, begins to jerk him around and kick him in the groin. The assailant yelled, "Mike, you low-down so-and-so, at last I caught up with you - you lousy crook. I want the money you owe me."

When the big-mouthed bully saw that he had made a mistake, he said, "Gee, I thought you were someone else." The poor fellow he accosted nearly had a stroke. We had to call a doctor, who gave him medication to calm him down.

We know it was unintentional, but all the same it was a terrifying experience. What can be done about an incident like this? - Still Outraged

DEAR STILL: Your friend can sue that hot-tempered fellow for assault and battery. And I hope he does. It might help him think twice before he attacks another innocent person.

COMMENTARY

Iran in brief

Have you noticed anything different about Iran lately? It isn't making the headlines it did for so long and until so recently. The country and its continuing tumult have by no means dropped out of the news, but they have slipped from front to inside pages.

It could, of course, be sheer coincidence that this has followed so rapidly upon the release of the hostages. But it is not. This country and the rest of the energy-consuming world have long since adjusted to the impact of the Iranian revolution on oil economics and politics. The war with Iraq is stalemated, and in their internal squabbles the revolutionaries have been repeating themselves for some time. In short, there's not much new coming out of Iran to make news.

With the removal of the hostage issue that had brought that country's institutionalized chaos so intensely and personally home to this country, Americans have with something like relief turned their attention to other matters — to the settling in of the Reagan administration, early skirmishing over the budget and economy and the explosive development of a new international crisis in El Salvador.

If this comes as relief to Americans, it could also be of some benefit to Iran. A little less publicity for a time may make it somewhat easier for the Iranians to bring themselves to the compromises and accommodations necessary in dealing constructively with their manifold problems, most of what they have brought upon themselves. The revolution has a great deal of unfinished business to dispose of.

This is a situation and a period when little news may in fact be the best news.

They won't go home again

There is also some unfinished Iranian business closer to home — the matter of all those students who were welcome in the United States in is question.

And at the rate the investigation of each individual's status is going, it could remain unfinished indefinitely. Through February, the Immigration and Naturalization Service had invited 2,445 with visa violations to leave. That's out of the some 64,000 Iranians in the country. Only 757, however, had actually packed up, picked up and gone.

Deportees, actual and potential, are outnumbered by another group among the Iranians. Almost 3,000, who know there's no place like home. And that is apparently what bothers them. They've requested political asylum.

Something completely different

Second Thoughts on Headlines Department:
"40 Iran legislators warn of drift toward anarchy."
(From the New York Times, reporting the concern of members of the Iranian parliament that increasing street violence and infighting between political and religious factions may be endangering the revolution.)

Look at it this way: At least they all seem to be going in the same direction for a change.

"An ounce of work is worth many pounds of words."
St. Francis De Sales

It has been said that Alexander the Great had his armor made especially large so his enemies would think him a giant.

4-H'ers Get Creative with Wood

By ROBBY VANN
County Extension Agent
In the 4-H wood science program, youth can use their creative talents in crafting innumerable wood items. The program has spurred 4-H'ers to use their wood-working skills to fashion such things as curio cabinets, bookcases, workshops and garages. Some have refinished furniture and family antiques. The 4-H wood science program is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and supported by Weyerhaeuser Company Foundation. 4-H members work on a wide variety of creative woodwork projects. They tackle learn-by-doing projects such as building bird and dog houses, making attractive gifts from scraps of wood, and remodeling buildings. Members develop skills in the selection and appropriate use of various types of wood and wood products and explore career opportunities associated with the manufacture and use of forest products. Awards, donated by Weyerhaeuser and arranged by the National 4-H Council, are presented to members who excel in the program. Medals of honor are given to four members in each county.

One Texas 4-H'er will earn an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago where six national winners each will receive $1,000 scholarships. More information about the 4-H wood science program and other 4-H activities is available from the county Extension office. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Book Review Presented At Meeting

Irene Kanpan's, "Nobody called at this hour to say hello," was reviewed by Audine Dettman at the Valeda Study Club meeting held Monday at the home of Frances Crume. The book reflected on a family coming over from Russia and living in the eastern part of the United States. It told of involvement in sibling differences and of the family's florist business. Ms. Kanpan writes in a manner that enables readers to relate a friend of family relative to situations she describes in the book. Members answered roll call by naming a favorite teacher before a short business meeting was conducted. Those present for the meeting were Billie Birdwell, Marcella Bradley, Janice Brownlow, Juanita Brown, Frances Crume, Darlene Fields, Betty Gilbert, Margarie Lasiter, Donna Lindeman, Arvella Lauderback, Morna Martin, Marcella McLain, Teddy Poindexter and Joyce Ritter. The club will meet again March 23 at the home of Betty Gilbert. A representative from Pioneer Natural Gas Company will explain to members how to make cleaning agents at home. Guests are invited to attend the meeting which begins at 8 p.m.

Thomas, Mrs. Hoover Given Top Awards

Wayne E. Thomas and Sherry Hoover received the highest awards at the Deaf Smith - Castro County Legal Secretaries Association Annual Boss Night Tuesday.

Thomas was named Boss of the Year and Mrs. Hoover was named Secretary of the Year.

Each year members of the Legal Secretaries Association nominate by secret ballot an employer they feel deserves the honor and in addition name one of their own members as Secretary of the Year.

Schalun Atkinson, who was the 1980 Boss of the Year, presented the award to Thomas and read what his secretaries had listed as the reasons he should be given the honor.

"His professional ethics are above reproach. He is never too busy to answer any questions or explain any matter we do not understand. He respects our judgment. He encourages our participation in professional and civic organizations, even during working hours," the nomination ballot stated.

The honor of Secretary of the Year is based upon the education and continued education of the nominee as well as experience and service to the national, state and local organization.

When presenting the award, Jeannie Tucker, 1980 Secretary of the Year, listed a few of Mrs. Hoover's outside activities including committee membership within the association as well as outside activities such as the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the Child Welfare board.

"Our honoree is outstanding! She has been a member a short time, but she has done so much," Mrs. Tucker said. The Country Four entertained approximately 40 people who attended the annual event held this year at the Cason House.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson presented an informative program concerning hypnosis, rape and the power of suggestion.

"Hypnosis has been one of the best tools for rape victims and something that really helps us. There is so much information available and hypnosis enhances the recall to remember everything that happens. Hypnosis gives the victim a chance to see the crime was not her fault," McPherson told the group.

Past knowledge about rapists is rapidly changing and as more study is being done, people need to be educated about these changes McPherson stated.

"We are finding out that all the past knowledge is not necessarily true. For instance, we are finding out that the window peeper can be the most dangerous person, whereas as at one time, he was considered harmless," he continued.

He emphasized the importance of reporting a rape stating that if it is not reported the rapist is only encouraged to rape again.

Local Student

Selected To

Honor Society

Damie B. Meyer, Route 1, has recently been named to the Delta Chapter of Kappa Delta Phi at the University of Texas.

Kappa Delta Phi, national honor society in education, accepts for membership only the top 10 to 15 percent of students in education.

Grade point averages required for membership are 3.25 for juniors, 3.00 for seniors and 3.5 for graduate students on a 4.0 scale.

Big Brother, Little Brother

"Sharing A Child's Tomorrow," is the theme for this year's Big Brother-Big Sister Appreciation Week this week. Robert Media (standing) one of the 15 Big Brothers in the Hereford program is matched with Angel Lopez. The purpose of the appreciation week is to thank volunteers in the program as well as to emphasize the need for more volunteers.

Club Members Elect Officers

Mrs. Lynton Allred will serve as the new president for the Music Study Club. The new slate of officers were elected at the Monday meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. Wayne Thomas.

Mrs. Joe Reinart, Jr., was elected first vice president; Mrs. Wes Fisher, second vice president; Mrs. Allen Cansler, recording secretary; Mrs. Wayne Thomas, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Thomas Betzen, treasurer; and Mrs. Sid Shaw, reporter-historian.

In other business, members voted to change the meeting time to 1:30 p.m. beginning next year. The scholarship committee, Mrs. Ken Walsler, Mrs. Bob Sims and Mrs. J.C. McCracken, were asked to begin preparations for the annual award.

The music of Leonard Bernstein, Allan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe was studied and performed following the business meeting.

Mrs. Simms told of Berstein's work before Mrs. Tom Burdett performed "Four Movements from West Side Story," on the piano. Selections included, "Jazz," "Cha-Cha," "Jump" and "Cool."

From the same production, Mrs. Joe Hacker and Mrs. Walsler played a piano duet of "Tonight."

Mrs. Reinauer Jr., told the group about Lerner and Loewe explaining that Lerner wrote lyrics while Loewe composed the music. "Brigadoon" was the duo's first success and the production of "My Fair Lady," was also a success.

"Come to Me, Bend to Me" from "Brigadoon" was performed by Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Brent Caviness and Mrs. Reinauer Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Lynton Allred.

Selections from "My Fair Lady" were performed by club chorus under the direction of Mrs. Cansler and accompanied by Mrs. Walsler at the piano. Songs included "On the Street Where You Live" and "I Could Have Danced All Night."

The club will meet again April 13 for the Student Musician Day at the Deaf Smith County Library. Programs will be performed by students, children and grandchildren of club members.

companied at the piano by Mrs. Hacker. "Almost Like Being in Love," from the same production was sung by Mrs. Shaw accompanied by Mrs. Walsler at the piano.

"Camelot" was the sixth and final production by Lerner and Loewe. Mrs. Cansler and Mrs. Walsler performed "Before I Give at You Again," and "Simple Joys of Maidenhood."

Selections from "My Fair Lady" were performed by club chorus under the direction of Mrs. Cansler and accompanied by Mrs. Walsler at the piano. Songs included "On the Street Where You Live" and "I Could Have Danced All Night."

Alpha Iota Mu Members Discuss State Project

Alpha Iota Mu members discussed several ideas for a state-wide project for chapters of Beta Sigma Phi when the club met recently at the First National Bank Community Room.

According to Trisha Britten, reporter, each year individual chapters in Texas send recommendations to the state office for a project. Once all recommendations are received, ballots are sent back to the chapters for a vote.

New members were introduced at the meeting including Tanya Gillian, Michelle Brisendine and Shirley Robison.

In other business, a report was presented concerning the recent teen dance sponsored by the club. Those reporting said the dance was considered a success. In addition, Founders Day which is set for April 30 was discussed.

Donna Grady presented a program about psychology in which she told of a report relating home sofas to the owners personalities.

The club will meet again March 26 at the home of Mary Brinkman. Officers and committees members will be elected. Connie Matthews will serve as co-hostess and Mardel Robinson will present the program.

Members present at the meeting were Susan Shaw, Mardel Robinson, Trisha Britten, Connie Matthews,

Students Receive Degrees

Three local students graduated from Texas State Technical Institute in Amarillo February 27.

Marc Kemp, son of Tommie Kemp of 151 Kingwood, and Jeff Janssen, son of Margaret Betzen of Route 4, received Associate of Applied Science degrees in diesel mechanics technology in the ceremonies.

Clifford Ross Williams, son of the Oscar Lee Williams of 507 W. 5th, received a certificate in commercial art in advertising.

Kemp and Janssen are graduates of Hereford High School.

Hereford Boys Take 4th in Lubbock Track Meet

The Hereford varsity boys' track team, paced by Felix Soliz' 1st in the 800-meter run and 3rd place finishes provided by the mile-relay team, Norman Brown in the 400-meter run, and Jeff Coupe in the 200-meter run, accumulated 44½ points for an overall team finish of 4th in the Lubbock Track Meet this past weekend.

Amarillo Tascosa won the affair with 153 total points while Monterey trailed for 2nd with 138½, Lubbock Coronado had 124½, Plainview netted 43, Lubbock High scored 17 and Amarillo Caprock had five at the tail end of the field.

Hereford's only gold medal performance of the affair was recorded by Felix Soliz after he out-ran Tascosa's Harley Ratliff for a 1st place finish in the 800-meter run with a time of 2:00.9.

But the Whiteface cinder squad did manage to place in six other events. Norman Brown trialed the first-place 50.7 effort of Tascosa's John Patterson in the 400-meter run with a 3rd place clocking of 51.8. HHS sprinter Jeff Coupe capped 3rd in the 200-meter run with a 24.1 in that event while the Hereford mile relay netted 3rd behind Monterey's winning 3:27.5 after clocking a 3:32.9.

In addition to those showings, the Whiteface 400-meter relay team trailed Lubbock Coronado, Plainview, and Tascosa for 5th after pacing-off a 45.2 and Nieves Rodriguez cinched 4th place in the shot put after he hurled the weight for a throw of 49-8½ feet.

Correction

Hereford linksters Tony Flores and Greg Robinson completed play in the two-day Deaf Smith C of C Invitational Golf Tournament with respective total scores of 189. Flores ended the two-day tournament with rounds of 78-81 while Robinson carded a two-round total of 81-78. A story carried in Tuesday's edition of the Brand, inadvertently stated Flores finished with a 78-71.

La Plata Girls Show Well

The 7th and 8th grade La Plata girls' track teams took respective 3rd and 4th place finishes in the Dalhart Track Meet this past weekend to highlight cinder performances for the junior high in continuing competition. The 9th grade, having its share of trouble against Dalhart senior high schools, managed sixth place with 15 points.

Maverick harrier, Adelia Rodriguez, worked her way to a 1st place finish in the 400-meter run with a time of 71.74 in order to give the La Plata 7th grade its only gold medal performance of the day.

Other finishes which helped the Maverick cinder crew in accumulating 88½ team points were; the 400-meter relay team's 3rd place run of 59.2, Selma Moreno's 3rd place 5:01.28 finish in the 1200-meter run, and the 800-meter relay ran a 2:07.68 race for 3rd.

Diana Devers' 1st place (new school record) effort in the shot put, a throw of 31-7½ feet, helped the 8th grade La Plata girls' track team claim 4th place out of a 10-team field in Dalhart with a total of 81 team points.

In fact, La Plata virtually swept that field event after two other Mavericks placed in the competition. Eliesha Peters rifled a throw of 27-4½ feet for 3rd place while Lisa Dirks netted 4th in the weight event on a throw of 26-1½ feet.

Other highlighted showings distributed for the team came from Sandra Valdez after she netted 2nd in the 400-meter run with a time of 69.12, and Cindy Morgan's 2nd place 30.91 in the 200-meter run.

Carla Alford placed 4th in the 400-meter run on a 76.27 run. Fifth and 6th place finishes pushed the 9th grade La Plata squad into an overall 6th place team finish as the Mavericks struggled against high school opponents rather than junior high competitors.

La Plata sprinters Paula Mason and Teresa Hibbs took respective 5th and 6th place finishes in the 400-meter run with times of 68.82 and 68.84, while Lori Walterscheid netted 6th in the 200-meter run. Both the 800 and 1600-meter relay teams raced for 5th place finishes after jolting down times of 2:00.74 and 4:53.72.

The next scheduled competition for the 9th grade team will be in the junior division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Invitational Track Meet Friday and Saturday. The 7th and 8th grade teams will travel to compete in the Olton Track Meet Saturday.

Winning Team

Members of the Hereford High School Rodeo team are pictured with the team trophy they received as overall team winners during the Hereford High School Rodeo this past weekend. The boys' team, which has led area Tri State Rodeo Association clubs (encompassing squads from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas) since the beginning of the year, retained its lead after it accumulated 18 team points in the HHS Rodeo. Those pictured (back row left to

'Grandpops' Stargell Still Active

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Overhead a small plane flew across the cloudless sky, trailing a banner which read: "Happy 40th, Willie Stargell."

"Okay Pops," chided little Phil Garner, "now we'll call you 'Grandpops.' Where's your rocking chair?" "No rocking chair, just roller skates on my crutches," replied the Pittsburgh Pirates' towering first baseman and captain. "Swing, grab my crutches and zoom down to first."

All the guys in black and gold uniforms laughed.

"No laughing matter," said Stargell. "I'll have to pay the bill for that plane."

Not many modern baseball players reach the 40-year milestone and remain not only active but a driving force in the team's destiny.

"He's the guts and heart of this ballclub," said Manager Chuck Tanner.

Getting old poses no concerns for this 6-foot-3, 225-pound hulk of a man whose powerful bat and inspirational leadership have influenced the Pirates' fortunes for 19 years.

He's never played for another major league club, probably never will. He was 40 last Friday. He was on the sidelines at the time with a bothersome left thigh, now almost fully healed.

He is not coming apart — mentally or physically.

"When I get up every day," he explained, "if I'm healthy, I tell myself, 'This is going to be the best day of my life'."

On the loosest, wildest, most relaxed team in all baseball, Stargell is the loosest of the lot. He shoves all his problems on the top shelf of his locker.

Stargell said it's become an unwritten rule of baseball that you're through at 32 or 33 years of age.

"That's silly — depends on the man," he insisted. "Look at Carl Yastrzemski, Gaylord Perry and Phil Niekro, all over 40 and still going strong, and Pete Rose, who will be 40 next month."

Lessons Help Navratilova's Serve

DALLAS (AP) — Martina Navratilova came to Dallas and immediately became a very effective advertisement for the teaching skills of Rosie Casals.

Navratilova, the top seed in this week's Avon Championships of Dallas women's pro tennis tournament, went to fellow pro Casals last month for help with her serve.

Casals gave her a lesson and in Tuesday's first round, Navratilova blistered 11 aces past Julie Harrington to win easily, 6-2, 6-1.

"I'm serving much better than last year," said Navratilova, a former resident of Dallas. "Rosie (Casals) helped me with my serve a month ago and it's much better now. I can hit with a lot more pace and I'm able to win my serve easier."

However the tournament's

No. 2 seed, Wendy Turnbull of Australia, showed the ill effects from a recent week-long but with the flu and was eliminated in round one by unseeded Sue Barker of England, 6-3, 6-1.

Barker, attempting a comeback from a series of accidents late last year, said she was pleased to have made it past the first round since she had been ousted in opening matches two weeks in a row — and both times by No. 2 seeds.

Baseball Coaches To Meet

Hereford Kids Incorporated will hold a meeting of individuals interested in coaching boys' baseball in the pee wee, minor and major leagues Friday, March 13.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Southwestern Public Service Co. Reddy Room, according to Jerry Collier, president of Bronco League baseball here.

Texas Bean Growers Seek Free Trade Policies

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Texas soybean growers have encouraged congressional and government leaders to support policies which will allow the uninterrupted growth of agricultural exports.

Texas Soybean Association National Director Robert Horn says soybean growers are concerned that government proposals, such as import restrictions on foreign autos and intervention in normal commercial trade, would invite foreign retaliation against U.S. agricultural exports.

"In 1980 the U.S. exported more than $40.5 billion in agricultural products with an agricultural trade surplus in excess of $23.4 billion," the Nome soybean producer said after his meetings in Washington. "America's efficient agricultural industry, coupled with reduced trade barriers, has made our products competitive all around the world. We urge Congress to avoid any actions to impose protectionist import restrictions against foreign products as a means of protecting inefficient U.S. industries."

Soybean producers from Texas and 23 other soybean producing states also emphasized to congressional leaders that the role of the federal government in export policy be one of acquiring and maintaining maximum access for U.S. agricultural commodities abroad and in assisting producers in developing foreign demand. Federal intervention into normal commercial exports should be avoided, they stressed.

Another proposal requested that Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) market development funding reflect a percentage of total agricultural export value. FAS enters into contracts with non-profit commodity associations, such as the American Soybean Association, sharing the costs of programs which maintain, develop and expand foreign markets for U.S. agricultural commodities.

"In 1980 soybean growers invested $5 million of their own funds to expand markets — up from $1.3 million in 1974 to $3.1 in 1981, not keeping pace with exports or inflation. Soybeans and their products are our top farm export and foreign exchange earner. The increased exports resulting from these programs benefit our entire economy and more than pay for the government's investment."

The 1981 Farm Bill represents another area of grower concern. Agricultural exports generated an estimated $83 billion of economic activity. Because of this vital role in America's economy, growers requested that Title I of the 1981 Farm Bill be entitled International Trade and be restricted to provisions designated to maximize agricultural exports. Soybeans account for a quarter of the $40.5 billion in farm exports and growers want soybeans to remain more dependent upon the international free market than on the federal government. Congress was urged to address soybeans in a separate section of the general farm bill.

Misconceptions over farm prices and food price inflation was another topic farmers discussed with Congress.

"We asked our legislators to inform their constituents and fellow legislators that food price inflation does not accurately reflect farm prices," says Horn. "Farmers receive only 30 cents of each retail food dollar, the remaining 70 cents pays for labor, transportation and other non-farm costs." Discussing federally-funded agricultural research, producers said growing world demand for U.S. food and fiber, soaring production costs and conservation concerns make continued investment in agricultural research absolutely essential. Both public and private investment will improve production efficiency and develop new and improved products for the expanding domestic and world market.

Agricultural production and marketing require adequate transportation. Soybean growers urged their legislators to encourage cooperation between Congress, government agencies and private industry to implement programs to improve the U.S. transportation system and our nation's ability to market its farm products. Conservation of natural resources is another concern voiced by soybean growers. They asked that government continue to fund programs which help remedy soil erosion, that farmers be given incentives to correct erosion problems and farmer participation in soil and water conservation practices be voluntary.

The Texas Soybean Association is affiliated with the American Soybean Association, the national, non-profit, volunteer single commodity organization of soybean growers working to build profitable soybean farming.

Texas Ag Receipts Decline for 1980

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas farmers and ranchers won't forget the summer of '80 for a while. The seemingly endless stretch of hot, dry weather took a heavy toll of crops and forced ranchers to market a lot of their stock at low prices, pushing net income down sharply. In spite of all this, total cash receipts from agricultural sales topped the $10 billion mark for the second year in a row.

"Our latest estimates of cash receipts from agricultural products for 1980 put us at just over $10.1 billion," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "That's down about $280 million from 1979. Still, it means some $27 billion in economic activity generated in the state."

Sales from the livestock sector, including dairy and poultry, totaled almost $5.7 billion last year while crops contributed about $3.8 billion. Another $633 million came from such agriculturally related areas as timber, horses, fish farming and hunting leases.

"Cash receipts from cattle and calves alone accounted for $4.4 billion or more than 43 percent of the state's total agricultural sales last year," points out Anderson.

Despite the serious effects of last year's drought on the Texas cotton crop, King Cotton still contributed $1.4 billion in cash receipts to lead all other crops. While virtually all crop yields were reduced by the drought, higher prices kept cash receipts at a respectable level and helped farmers survive an otherwise disastrous year.

"Due to last year's drop in agricultural receipts, Texas likely will fall back to third place among the leading agricultural states, behind California and Iowa, after grabbing the second spot in 1979," notes Anderson.

As far as 1981 is concerned, Anderson sees an increase in agricultural receipts due to an improved cattle market and stronger prices for most crops.

All in the Family

Rickie Vogel, a member of the Deaf Smith County 4-H and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Vogel of Hereford is shown with his middleweight Chianina steer which took first place honors in the Chianina division of the Houston Livestock Show last week. Vogel received $4.75 per pound for the breed champion. Rickie's older brother, Randy, exhibited the Grand Champion Steer of the Houston livestock show.

Farm Census Due in '82

COLLEGE STATION -- While most U.S. citizens get counted only once every 10 years, farmers and ranchers get tabbed at that time as well as every five years, or four years as will be the case with the upcoming Agricultural Census.

Farmers and ranchers can look forward to the 1982 Census of Agriculture which is being conducted for the first time to coincide with the Economic Census, said Joseph Horak with the U.S. Census Bureau at a recent Census of Agriculture Data Users Conference at Texas A&M University. Conference sponsors were the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M's Department of Rural Sociology.

The last Agricultural Census was conducted in 1978. Following the '82 census, the cycle will return to five-year intervals. The census started in 1840 and was conducted every 10 years until 1920 when the five-year cycle began.

In addition to agriculture, the Economic Census will include business, construction, economic surveys, foreign trade, governments and industry, said Horak.

Soybean Association Sponsoring Ag Mission

ST. LOUIS -- Members of the American Soybean Association have an unsurpassed opportunity to take part in a specially-developed tour of the People's Republic of China, August 20 to September 10, 1981.

"China holds a special charm and interest for us all, but especially for those of us who work with soybeans since China is their birthplace," says Jeffrey Gain, executive director of the American Soybean Association (ASA). "Several ASA leaders and staff have traveled in China and we are now actively helping the Chinese develop soybean markets and soybean products. A great potential for U.S. soybean farmers and all Americans awaits us behind the China door." Gain will be leading the 1981 Agricultural Mission to the People's Republic of China.

The unique trip offers a view of China's past and present with special emphasis on Chinese agriculture. Departing from San Francisco, tour members will fly non-stop to Tokyo, Japan. Three days will be spent in the Tokyo area on sightseeing and agricultural visits. On August 24 the tour will enter the People's Republic of China and begin their visit in the ancient city of Beijing (formerly Peking). Beijing is the dominant city of China, the seat of the People's Republic of China and its cultural hub. It is the site of the Forbidden City and the Ming Tombs, as well as the center of a thriving agricultural center. An eight-month growing season makes the surrounding area an agricultural cornucopia.

From Beijing, the group will fly north to Shenyang. This large industrial city is the communications focus and industrial center of northeast China. Efforts to make Shenyang agricultural self-reliant have been stepped up and the dry northern terrain now yields soybeans, as well as other crops. Traveling by train to get a closer look at the countryside, the group will then go even farther north to the city of Harbin, amidst the famous Manchurian Plain -- China's largest wheat, corn and soybean producing area.

Shanghai is the next stop on the itinerary. China's most populous city is the center of trade and industry through which about half of the country's commerce passes. Agriculture is very important to Shanghai. The output from surrounding farmlands meets the city's requirements for vegetables and cooking oils and has made it nearly self-sufficient in total food needs. The region is a model area for farm mechanization.

The final stop in China will be the southeast city of Guangzhou (Canton). This port city is a focal point of Chinese foreign trade. The rich alluvial soil of the Pearl River Delta provides the region with its highly productive agriculture base. Hong Kong relies completely on Guangzhou for its water, electricity, food and many other essentials. A train will transport the group to Hong Kong for the final two and one-half days of the trip.

Foster Travel, Ltd. of St. Louis will be arranging the ASA Agricultural Mission to China. The tour price from San Francisco is $3,329.00 per person, based on double occupancy, and is limited to ASA members and spouses. For reservation forms and trip details write to: American Soybean Association, c/o Foster Travel, Ltd., 818 Olive Street, St. Louis, MO 63101.

Jennings Completes Seminar

John Jennings, serviceman for Ulysses Irrigation Pipe Company of Hereford, has completed a 5-day "state of the art" seminar on irrigation systems conducted by the Lockwood Corporation at its plant in Gering, Nebraska. The theme of the 1981 service seminar was "Blueprint to Service" and concentrated heavily on the benefits of highly qualified professional service.

The major thrust of the intensive briefing and training program was to help the attendees in their efforts to attain the company's goal of complete customer satisfaction.

More than 100 participants from across the country attended a series of sessions covering subjects ranging from equipment circuitry and product assembly to pumps and generators and to hydraulics and water management.

Lockwood Corporation is a pioneer in electric-drive center pivot irrigation systems and also manufactures the revolutionary HydrLinear lateral move irrigation system.

Kids who count chickens before they've hatched grow up to become stock salesmen.

A farmer we know is trying to cross a parrot with a chicken, so he'll have a hybrid that can tell him where the eggs are hidden.

They call the office mooch the Demon Bowler - if he senses you have 10 bucks in your pocket, he makes a strike.

THE NEW WEST: Lawmen still patrol the streets of Houston on horseback as they did when the West was young. This is Deputy Sheriff J.W. Hilton, whose beat includes the area around the Harris County Courthouse.

HE'S HELPING PEOPLE. LET'S KILL HIM!

One Sabbath as Jesus and His disciples were walking through some grainfields, they were breaking off the heads of wheat, rubbing off the husks in their hands and eating the grains. But some Pharisees said, "That's illegal! Your disciples are harvesting grain, and it's against the Jewish law to work on the Sabbath." Jesus replied, "Don't you read the Scriptures? Haven't you ever read what King David did when he and his men were hungry? He went into the Temple and took the shewbread, the special bread that was placed before the Lord, and ate it - illegal as this was - and shared it with others." And Jesus added, "I am master even of the Sabbath." On another Sabbath He was in the synagogue teaching, and a man was present whose right hand was deformed. The teachers of the Law and the Pharisees watched closely to see whether He would heal the man that day, since it was the Sabbath. For they were eager to find some charge to bring against Him. How well He knew their thoughts! But He said to the man with the deformed hand, "Come and stand here where everyone can see." So he did. Then Jesus said to the Pharisees and teachers of the Law, "I have a question for you. Is it right to do good on the Sabbath day, or to do harm? To save life, or to destroy it?" He looked around at them one by one and then said to the man, "Reach out your hand." And as he did, it became completely normal again! At this, the enemies of Jesus were wild with rage, and began to plot His murder. Luke 6:1-11

Disagreement about flat feet

DEAR DR LAMB - What causes flat feet, and what problems can one expect to encounter because of them? What can be done to help someone with flat feet? How do flat feet affect one's ability to walk and run?
DEAR READER - You may not get too much agreement about flat feet and fallen arches even among specialists. For some people flat feet are normal. Many Olympic athletes have flat feet, so if they are normal for you, there is no reason why you can't exercise and live an entirely normal life. Babies are born with flat feet because of the fat pad they have to help them when they first start walking. The fat pad usually disappears within two years. Overanxious parents sometimes pressure their doctor into doing something when time is all that is really needed. Feet will break down in some diseases, such as arthritis, or from injuries. The problem is that foot pain is often attributed to flat feet or low arches when in fact the foot pain is on an entirely different basis. Many normal people with flat feet have no foot pain. In general, if you have had flat feet or low arches all your life and have not had foot pain, you should disregard the finding. To strengthen the arch muscles you might want to do exercises, such as picking up objects with your toes and learning to curl and extend your toes to move those muscles.

on the skin. And the washcloth will help rub the skin clean if you need a mild abrasive action. Closing the pores after bathing is a good idea to help retain the natural moisture in the skin - which does help prevent wrinkling on a temporary basis. Failure to do so won't cause permanent wrinkles, though.
DEAR DR LAMB - Tell that woman who said her son has a constant problem with heartburn that he should stop drinking milk. He drinks two glasses of milk at each meal as well as in between meals. I found that milk was causing my digestive upsets. I've been off it completely for two years.
DEAR READER - Thank you for wanting to help. Burning in the pit of the stomach can be caused by many things.

Milk intolerance can be a factor for some people. But in other cases milk helps to neutralize the acid produced by the stomach and relieves burning. The acid production could be from stress and the relief from milk. Other people have a mechanical leakage at the opening of the stomach and the acid burns the lower esophagus. If I were to choose one dietary habit as the most frequent cause for burning in the pit of the stomach it would be drinking coffee. Sensitive people who use decaffeinated products may still get a burning feeling in the pit of the stomach. Incidentally, those who quit using milk and milk products run the risk of a calcium deficiency if they do not find another source of calcium, or use calcium supplements.

Water mark on bench

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY - My Early American maple deacon's bench has a white water mark on it. I have tried to remove it every way I know, but with no luck. Could you help? - UNSIGNED

DEAR UNSIGNED - If your bench is waxed, you might try removing it with liquid wax that may take the water mark with it. If so, re-wax. Also, you could wring a soft cloth out of water, to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. Rub dry with a soft clean cloth and polish as usual. Good luck. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY AND ROSEMARY - A nice waste basket can be made with egg cartons. Use just the part of the cartons that have the cups. Using a darning needle and a double strand of yarn, tie together six cartons and then tie between each egg cup. For the bottom, tie the middle of a carton to a foil plate. These can be made all in one color, or two colors could be alternated. I keep a brown paper bag with the top turned down to fit inside mine. - MARY BELLE

DEAR POLLY - I no longer have to buy an expensive satin pillowcase to sleep on, so as not to ruin a new hairdo or permanent. I have discovered an old nylon or satin slip pulled over the pillow works just as well. I pin (with a safety pin) the slip to my pillow at each end, so it stays on straight and firm. When I get up in the morning my hairdo is in place. - ANNETTE

DEAR POLLY - I have found that putting a dry bath towel in the dryer with nylon clothing removes the static. - MARY THA

DEAR POLLY - If you must repair seams in jeans and find the material is so thick that the machine needle jams and breaks, stop the forward motion and make a series of bar tacks with the zigzag at its widest. Do this until you can return to normal stitching. - D.B.

IF YOU NEED $5,000...20,000 EVEN UP TO 500,000 TO START A NEW BUSINESS OR TO EXPAND AN EXISTING FIRM—THEN READ WHY YOU TOO WILL CALL THIS INCREDIBLE MONEY RAISING MANUAL

“THE SMALL BUSINESS BORROWER’S BIBLE”

Practically prepares the loan application for you line-by-line...the “proper” way
All properly prepared applications are processed in just 3 weeks...no red tape!
Guaranteed Loans...Direct Loans...and Immediate Loans are available now.

Most men and women seriously interested in starting their own business are eligible — including those who already own a small business and need capital fast for expansion...or to stay afloat...even if they've been flatly refused by banks and turned down elsewhere! Yet, too, many never qualify, simply, because they do not know how to “properly” prepare the loan application...

In order to help those people applying for these guaranteed and direct loans fill out their loan applications the “right way,” ICC, through its diligent compilation and research efforts, has successfully assembled and published a comprehensive, easy-to-follow seminar manual: The Money Raiser's Guaranteed and Direct Loans Seminar Manual, that will quickly show you practically everything you'll need to know to prepare a loan application to get federally guaranteed and direct loans.

Here are just some of the many important benefits the Money Raiser's Guaranteed and Direct Loans Seminar Manual provides you with:

- a completely filled in sample set of actual SBA loan application forms, all properly filled in for you to easily follow — aids you in quickly preparing your own loan application the right way. Each line on the sample application forms is explained and illustrated in easy-to-understand language.
- fast application preparation procedures for getting loans for both new start up business ventures and established firms.
- advises you on how to properly answer key questions necessary for loan approval and in order to help avoid having your application turned down — gives you advice on what you should not do under any circumstances.
- what simple steps you take to guarantee eligibility — no matter if you do not presently qualify.
- where you can file your application for fastest processing.

You'll get, at only a small fraction of the cost, virtually the same invaluable know-how as you would if you were one of the hundreds of people whom we expect will pay the full $450 registration fee to attend the proposed seminar where this amazing seminar manual will serve as the very basis for the personally conducted 3-day course.

More about this most amazing and effective manual later on. At this point the most important question you want answered is: Just where is all this loan money coming from? Incredible as it may sound — these guaranteed loans...Direct Loans...and Immediate Loans are indeed available — from the best, and, yet, the most overlooked and frequently the most ignored and sometimes outright ridiculed...“made-fun-of” source of ready money...fast capital, in America — THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

Of course, there are those who upon hearing the words “UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT” will instantly freeze up and frown and say:

“...only minorities can get small business loan money from the government!”

Yet, on the other hand (and most puzzling) others will rant on and on and on that:

“...don't even try, it's just impossible — all those Business Loans Programs are strictly for the Chryslers, the Lockheeds, the big corporations...not for the little guy or small companies.” etc.

Still there are those who declare:

“...I need money right now...and small business government loans take too darn long. It's impossible to qualify. No one ever gets one of those loans.”

Or you may hear these comments:

“...My accountant's junior assistant says he thinks it might be a waste of my time!” “Heck, there's too much worrisome paperwork and red tape to wade through!”

Frankly — such rantings and ravings are just a lot of “bull” without any real basis — and only serve to clearly show that lack of knowledge...misinformation...and not quite fully understanding the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT'S Small Business Administration's (SBA) Programs have unfortunately caused a lot of people to ignore what is without a doubt — not only the most important and generous source of financing for new business start ups and existing business expansions in this country — but of the entire world!

Now that you've heard the “bull” about the United States Government's SBA Loan Program — take a few more moments and read the following facts:

- Only 9.6% of approved loans were actually made to minorities last year
- What SBA recognizes as a “small business” actually applies to 97% of all the companies in the nation
- Red tape comes about only when the loan application is sent back due to applicant not providing the requested information...or providing the wrong information
- The SBA is required by Congress to provide a minimum dollar amount in business loans each fiscal year in order to lawfully comply with strict quotas. (Almost 5 billion this year)

Yet, despite the millions who miss out — there are still literally thousands of ambitious men and women nationwide who are properly applying — being approved — and obtaining sufficient funds to either start a new business, a franchise, or buy out or expand an existing one. Mostly, they are all just typical Americans with no fancy titles, who used essentially the same effective know-how to fill out their applications that you'll find in the Money Raiser's Guaranteed and Direct Loans Seminar Manual.

Therefore, don't be shy about applying for and accepting these guaranteed and direct government loans. Curiously enough, the government is actually very much interested in helping you start a business that will make a lot of money. It's to their advantage — the more money you make the more they stand to collect in taxes. In fiscal 1981, our nation's good old generous “uncle” will either lend directly or guarantee billions of dollars in loan requests, along with technical assistance and even sales procurement assistance. Remember, if you don't apply for these available SBA funds somebody else certainly will.

Don't lose out — now is the best time to place your order for this comprehensive seminar manual. It is not, and will not ever, be sold in stores. Available only at the seminar, or by mail through this ad, directly from ICC, the exclusive publisher, at just a small fraction of the proposed seminar fee. Our company felt that the seminar manual's quality instructions were so crystal-clear that anyone unable to personally attend the seminar, who could read, could successfully use its techniques.

Therefore, for those purchasing the seminar manual by mail, no 3 day class, no course and accommodations are required. And rather than $450 we could drastically slash the price all the way down to just a mere $35—a small portion of the seminar attendance fee—providing you promptly fill in and mail coupon below with fee while this special seminar-in-print manual offer is still available by mail.

Remember, this most unique manual quickly provides you with actual sample copies of SBA Loan application and all other required forms—already properly filled in for you to easily use as reliably accurate step-by-step guides—thus offering you complete assurance that your application will be properly prepared...and thereby immediately putting you on the right road to obtaining fast, no red-tape loan approval.

You get not 1 but 2 Strong binding guarantees! Your loan must actually be approved or your money back!

GUARANTEE #1

Simply — look over this most effective money raising loan preparation assistance manual for 15 days — and, then, if you are not convinced that it can actually help you obtain the Business Loan you need right away — just return it for a full and prompt refund.

GUARANTEE #2

Even after 15 days — here's how you are still strongly protected — if you decide to keep the manual — and you apply for a SBA Loan anytime within 1 year...your loan must be approved and you must actually receive the funds or your money will be refunded in full.

Clearly we are firmly convinced that any sound business request properly prepared and submitted to SBA will be approved. Only because we are so confident that this is a fact do we dare make such a strong binding seldom-heard-of Double Guarantee. No stronger guarantee possible! It actually pays for you to order a copy of this remarkable manual — Don't delay send for yours right now.
