TI Theft Ring Broken Up

By BOB NIGH
Managing Editor
Charges of theft over $10,000 are expected to be filed in Lubbock Monday against one Hereford man and at least five Lubbock Texas Instruments plant employees following the breaking up of a "major theft ring" dealing in watches and calculators stolen from the TI plant over the past year.

Office, information gained after 15-year-old Craig Hamman of Hereford discovered a cache of 418 TI watches abandoned in a tail-water pit led to the eventual break in the case.

The watches found by Hamman were in a dry pit about three miles west on 15th Street, when the youth stumbled upon them on Sunday, April 12.

Butcher credited investigative work by sheriff's deputy Louis Liscano as the major factor in solving the case. "Louis worked the whole thing up before calling in investigators from TI in Lubbock," Butcher said.

The subsequent arrests will clear up "between $85,000 and $100,000 worth of missing merchandise" according to Butcher.

Butcher said deputy Liscano located a local woman who had purchased a watch allegedly stolen by the ring of thieves, which may include as many as 15 persons.

"Louis also found some people who had been asked to buy some of the stolen goods, and from there he came up with the local man who has been implicated in the case," Butcher said.

The names of the persons expected to be charged in the case are being withheld until formal charges are filed against them in Lubbock Monday.

According to Mark McBride, chief of the business crimes division of the Lubbock County Criminal District Attorney's Office, several TI dockworkers allegedly conspired with truck drivers for Lubbock freight carriers to reroute merchandise, which had been taken to the Lubbock plant for repairs, back onto the trucks.

McBride said the items were then divided among the conspirators and sold. Outgoing calculators and other

Texas Solons React Favorably To Lifting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stopping shipment of U.S. grain to Russia was an absurd idea to start with, and President Reagan should have lifted the embargo the first day he took office, a West Texas congressman says.

"I think he now realizes that," Rep. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, said after the president's action was announced in a statement released at 4 p.m. EST Friday at the White House.

"The only people who were hurt by it were the people involved in agriculture in the United States. It was just one more policy where our foreign policy dictated a decision where we wound up shooting ourselves in the foot," Hance said.

He and other Texas congressmen with large farm areas were joined by Sen. John Tower in applauding the president for his action.

Tower said the president had assured him he planned to end the embargo as soon as he could do so without the action being misinterpreted by the Soviets.

"I understand his caution, but I'm gratified he has acted now. It never made any sense to me to single out the farmer to bear the burden of a foreign policy action, and it made even less sense when the evidence showed how little impact the embargo had on Soviet meat production," the Texas Republican said.

Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, called Reagan's action "was a campaign promise that was long delayed."

"But it did not come too late to be of assistance to Texas farmers," he said. "We've had excellent rains on wheat crops throughout the 17th district, and farmers should be very optimistic at this point."

Rep. Jack Hightower,

D-Vernon, was speaking to a group at an electric cooperative at Wellington when he got the word the president had lifted the embargo.

"It is good news," Hightower said.

Transferees Required To Register

Students from other districts planning to attend the Hereford Independent School District during the 1981 and 1982 school year are required to officially register for transfers at the office of the superintendent of schools. These transfers must be requested before May 1.

The statewide deadline is set up for students going from one school district to another. Any questions concerning the transfer students may be directed to the superintendent's office.

Soviets Not Wasting Time

The embargo was ordered by former President Carter on Jan. 4, 1980 after Russian troops intervened in Afghanistan.

Although Reagan promised during his campaign to lift the embargo, he was persuaded by Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. that such a move would signal weakness to the Soviet Union. Tensions along the Russian-Polish border this year emphasized the point.

But after three months in office, the president said Friday that was no longer the case.

"I have determined that our position now cannot be mistaken: The United States, along with the vast majority of nations, has condemned and remains opposed to the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan and other aggressive acts around the world," Reagan said.

"We will react strongly to acts of aggression wherever they take place. There will never be a weakening of this resolve."

A top aide, who asked to remain unidentified, said Haig argued to the end that lifting the embargo would be premature. But the secretary of state said publicly he supported the decision and Block, who has fought for an end to the embargo since tak-

Analysis Shows Grain Stocks Will Be Significantly Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new analysis shows that U.S. grain stocks will be significantly larger than previously expected by the time 1981 harvests are ready.

The analysis, issued late Friday by the Agriculture Department, followed an announcement by President Reagan that he was lifting the 16-month-old partial embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union.

However, the analysis — a routine "supply and demand" report — emphasized that the figures do not reflect "impacts of any actions taken with respect to the suspension of sales of agricultural products to the Soviet Union."

A primary basis for the new analysis was a quarterly report issued on Thursday which showed the amount of grain on hand in the United States as of April 1.

Although the inventories were down sharply from year-earlier levels, the supply of corn and other feed grains was somewhat larger than department experts previously had expected.

That was because of "lagging feed use" of corn and other grain during the first three months of this year, the analysis said.

Corn has been the leading grain sought by the Soviet Union in past dealings with U.S. exporters, followed by wheat. Those two grains were covered in a 1975 agreement providing for regular sales to the Soviets. Soybeans and other commodities also were sold, but not in the quantities involved in corn and wheat sales.

When former President Carter imposed the embargo on Jan. 4, 1980, he let stand the annual sale of 8 million metric tons of corn and wheat that was specified in the 1975 pact, which expires on Sept. 30.

A metric ton is about 2,205

Clements Approves Of Program For Prison Work-Furloughs

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says letting some inmates work outside prison walls is a good way to cut overcrowding, but not if the convicts are allowed to sleep at home.

"I will not ever agree to turning those inmates loose on the public and letting them go home and be with mama," Clements said at his Friday news conference.

The governor said he would ask the Legislature for $18 million for a work-furlough system built around prison-run, "secure" centers that would house inmates at night.

He made it clear he opposes Texas Department of Corrections Director W.J. Estelle's proposed sleep-at-home furlough system.

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice has ruled the crowded prisons violate inmates' constitutional rights. The work-furlough program would be an effort to reduce the crowding. Legislators already have approved Clements' request for $35 million for emergency prison construction.

"I am for a work-furlough program," Clements said. "I believe in a work-furlough program and the halfway-house concept. ... I believe in all of them with proper security."

The much-discussed Harris County Rehabilitation Center could be the first center for furloughed inmates, Clements said. Estelle and other prison officials visited the center today, and will file a report to Clements on Monday.

Harris County will abandon the 1,100-inmate center next year when a new jail is completed. The selling price has varied from $6 million to $11 million, Clements said.

Similar centers probably would be needed near San Antonio and Dallas-Fort Worth, according to the governor.

He said existing legislation

SHERRY HOOVER

Mrs. Hoover Honored

Sherry Hoover of Hereford received one of 10 Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Awards presented during the sixth annual luncheon hosted by West Texas State University Saturday.

The 10 honorees were chosen from a group of 98 nominees from across the 32-county Texas Panhandle.

The women were honored at an "All For The Family" luncheon Saturday morning at the WTSU East Dining Hall. Featured speaker at the luncheon was Dr. Emily Taylor, director of the office of Women in Higher Education for the American Council on Education in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Hoover was one of six women nominated for the award from Hereford. She was nominated by the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The other nominees from Hereford included Marye Fraser, Eleanor Hudspeth, Carole McGilvary, Ruth Newsom and Jane White.

Mrs. Hoover has served on the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Board of Directors where she was involved with projects concerning youth drug awareness, summer activities for school children and the Miss Hereford Pageant. For her service, Mrs. Hoover was named as 1977 Woman of the Year by the women's division of the chamber.

She is a charter member and president of the Region I Council of Child Welfare Boards for the Panhandle and has been instrumental in reorganizing the county board, beginning a protective day care program and a public awareness program on child abuse and neglect.

At the request of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court, Mrs. Hoover reorganized the Deaf Smith County Child Welfare Board in 1979. She is vice president of the board.

Mrs. Hoover also has been involved with membership on the Deaf Smith County Juvenile Probation Board, board of directors of Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Hereford, Inc., La Plata Study Club, Hereford Whiteface Booster Club and the Hereford Hustlers, a service group of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. She also has volunteered with fund drives for the United Way, American Heart Association and American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Hoover is the mother of two children and grandmother of one. She has taught Sunday school for 24 years.

Mrs. Hoover and her husband, Melvin, reside at 230 Douglas.

The first WTSU Humanitarian Award was also presented Saturday to Sybil Harrington of Amarillo whose philanthropic and financial gifts have benefited concerns in the Texas Panhandle and across the United States. One million-dollar gift is the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center which, upon completion at the Amarillo Medical Center Complex, will serve persons within 500 miles of Amarillo.

Mobile X-Ray Unit

Phase-Outs Studied

DALLAS (AP) — Several controversial mobile X-ray vans used by the Dallas affiliate of the American Lung Association may be phased out of use by next summer, a spokeswoman said.

Dr. Joy Robertson, a member of the Dallas chapter's executive board, said a committee has been appointed to come up with a timetable for retiring the X-ray vans, which have been criticized by the medical profession and by the ALA administrative headquarters in New York.

The Texas Lung Association has given the Dallas unit until April, 1982 to cease using the vans for tuberculosis screening or face revocation of its charter as an ALA affiliate.

The ALA says the vans needlessly expose patients to radiation. The preferred method of tuberculosis screening is a simple skin test, the ALA says. The organization first urged its affiliates to cease using mobile X-ray vans 10 years ago.

The Dallas chapter is the only ALA affiliate in the nation that still uses the vans as a primary method of TB screening. The chapter administered 32,000 chest X-rays last year, most of them to public employees.

Shipping Young Aliens

To Juarez Halted

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Local authorities must stop taking illegal alien minors to a Juarez, Mexico detention center, according to the El Paso County Juvenile Board, because the practice probably is illegal. The board, composed of 10 district judges and a county judge, handed down the decision Thursday when it reinstated a former county juvenile probation officer who was fired when she questioned the legality of the deportation procedure.

Margaret Ingle, 33, was fired Dec. 9 after she refused to send juvenile aliens to the Mexican detention center without first granting them a due process hearing.

The panel of judges concluded that the legality of sending the juveniles to Mexico is questionable and that Mrs. Ingle did not err in questioning it.

In February, representatives from the U.S. Border Patrol, the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the U.S. Consulate in Juarez questioned whether the county has any authority to take Mexican youths beyond the border and into Juarez.

Local authorities say the deportation procedure was an effective deterrent against burglaries and thefts in El Paso by illegal alien juveniles.

Burglars Take

Cash, 44 Snakes

NEW BRAUNFELS, Texas (AP) — At one time, cattle rustling was a hanging offense in Texas.

Betty Teska isn't sure what the penalty for "snake rustling" is, but she knows she'd like to catch the crooks who carted off 44 nonpoisonous snakes in a midnight reptilian roundup.

Mrs. Teska told police the thieves broke into a the snake farm she and her husband operate early Friday and — despite blasts from two shotguns — made off with about $225 and the snakes, valued at $10,000.

She said the fact that the burglars took only nonpoisonous reptiles indicates they knew what they were looking for.

"It had to be somebody who knew something about snakes," Mrs. Teska said. "Some of these snakes we've been collecting for eight or nine years, and we can't replace them because they're on the endangered list."

Trial Delayed Because Of Jail Bugging

VAN HORN, Texas (AP) — Convicted hit man Charles V. Harrelson's trial for alleged state drug and firearms violations, scheduled to get underway Monday, has been delayed because of the bugging last year of a Harris County jail visitor's room.

State District Judge Sam Callan granted a continuance in the trial Friday after Harrelson's attorney, Joe Chagra, asked for a hearing to determine if the federal bugging of a visiting booth at the jail violated Harrelson's constitutional right to a fair trial and his right to legal counsel.

No date has been set for the hearing. Harrelson, Chagra and Chagra's brother, Jimmy, are targets of a federal investigation into the May 29, 1979, murder of U.S. District Judge John Wood Jr.

The eavesdropping was discovered Dec. 10 during a visit between Harrelson and his stepdaughter, Teresa Starr Jasper. The two found tape recorders on each side of the visiting booth.

U.S. District Court Judge Gabrielle McDonald of Houston approved the government's request to plant the hidden recorders.

Earlier this week in Houston, Chagra, and attorneys Bob Tarrant and Don Erwin asked District Judge Thomas Routt to dismiss charges of jumping bail and illegally possessing a gun, cocaine and loaded dice against Harrelson because the tape recordings violated attorney-client rights.

Prosecution attorneys argued that because they had not heard the tapes or seen transcripts of them, no rights were violated.

Routt refused to dismiss the charges, even though he did not hear the tapes to determine whether they violated Harrelson's rights. He delayed the Houston trial until July 31 so defense attorneys can appeal his decision.

Crews Searching For Another Black Man Missing in Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — Police and volunteers were searching today for a slight 21-year-old black man missing since Wednesday, as civil rights leader Roy Innis and his staff regrouped for a further investigation into the slayings of 25 young blacks.

A man suggested by Innis as a possible culprit in some of the killings in the past 21 months was interviewed by authorities Friday and ruled out as a suspect. Innis later admitted he had no evidence that the man killed any of the youths, but said he believes the man is the "key link to break the case."

The police department's missing persons bureau pressed its search for the 21-year-old black man because he's a "small person," as were some of the recent slaying victims, an official said.

A decision was to be made today on whether the disappearance of Jimmy Payne would be turned over to a special task force investigating the slayings and one other disappearance since July 1979.

Like the three adult victims so far, Payne is small in stature, standing 5-foot-3 and weighing 130 pounds.

Public Safety Commissioner Lee Brown said of Payne, "in terms of his stature — he's a small person as we understand. That's why we're devoting all efforts to trying to reach him."

Volunteers, who have conducted weekend searches for clues in the cases since last fall, planned to make Payne and the only missing child on the task force list, 10-year-old Darron Glass, the object of their search today.

A spokesman for the United Youth Adult Conference, sponsor of the search said the volunteers would comb an area in southwest Fulton County where several victims' bodies have been found.

Brown announced Friday that authorities had located the man Innis said was linked to at least six of the 25 slayings. Brown said they had interviewed the man and decided he "is not considered a suspect at this time."

Innis, staff director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said after Brown's announcement that while he believes the man is the key to the case, he had no evidence that the man "killed any of them."

Innis first revealed his purported suspect Wednesday, telling a news conference he had a witness who could link the man to at least six of the killings. He said he had a picture of the man, and CORE would take him into custody if police failed to do so within 72 hours.

After Brown's announcement Friday, however, Innis said he was "ready to pull back the deadline and to send my people out to search and continue our investigation."

The witness Innis claimed could link the man to the slayings was identified by The Atlanta Constitution in today's editions as Shirley McGill of Miami. The newspaper quoted her mother, Maybelle McGill, as saying, "Shirley Jean would make up anything."

John Schaffner, managing editor of the Constitution, and a reporter for the newspaper had interviewed Miss McGill for five hours Monday night. But before today's combined editions of The Constitution and The Atlanta Journal, the newspaper had declined to release any details of that interview.

In today's editions, however, the Constitution reported that Miss McGill claimed to have been told by a former boyfriend who moved to Atlanta about 2½ years ago that he and two other men were the killers.

She said he visited her in Miami around Thanksgiving and confessed his guilt, but she told him she didn't believe his story. During the next few months, she said, he called her regularly to tell her about more killings.

The Constitution said the dates and ages of the victims described by Miss McGill corresponded closely with the disappearances being reported in Atlanta, but she was not precise enough for reporters to rule out the possibility that the information on the victims had been gleaned from media reports.

Miss McGill gave the Constitution an address in Miami where she said she had lived with her former boyfriend before he moved to Atlanta, but the newspaper said it learned the address was nonexistent.

Brown said that although police had ruled out the man Innis claimed was the key link, authorities "believe Mr. Innis and his witness were sincere in what they believed. They were sincere, but it was sincerely not true."

Payne was last seen Wednesday morning when he left a southwest Atlanta home to sell old coins at the Omni, an entertainment and shopping complex less than a mile from his neighborhood.

His sister, Evelyn Payne, described her brother as a small, quiet youth who liked to play pool and football and visit his longtime girlfriend who lived in the neighborhood.

Miss Payne said her brother was to have met his girlfriend at 9 p.m. Wednesday, and when he failed to show up, the family began to worry. The next morning, she said, they reported him missing to police.

Man Arrested For Hit-And-Run

Hereford police arrested Billy Wayne Haney, 29, of Rt. 3 Hereford around midnight Friday following a hit-and-run accident at the Sonic Drive In. Haney was apprehended after some difficulty and has been charged with DWI, resisting arrest, and failure to stop and render aid according to the police report.

Haney was also involved in an incident earlier Friday at the Taylor Warehouse Foods parking lot, and a charge is pending in that incident. According to police Lt. Paul Ramirez, Haney threatened Anselmo Serrano of 116 Ave. A with abusive language on the parking lot of the store.

Later in the evening police received a call on a hit-and-run accident at the drive-in restaurant. Two young girls reported that their vehicle had been hit by another vehicle while it was parked at the Sonic, and the second vehicle had left the scene.

While taking the report the officer saw the vehicle in question pull into a gas station south of the restaurant. The driver of the vehicle fit the description of the man whose car had hit the other vehicle at the Sonic, and the driver was approached.

After refusing to exit his car, Haney was finally handcuffed after a struggle with officers and taken to jail.

The HPD arrested Joe Enriquez, of 503 Grand, on a warrant from the district attorney's office, and also arrested Edmundo Merillo at Big Daddy's Restaurant on a public drunkenness charge.

Wayne Nelson, 339 Star, reported that burglars had entered that residence sometime Friday. Taken were three six-packs of soft drink, some meat, cigarettes, candy, and some butcher knives.

Associated Tool Company of San Antonio reported that a ¾-inch impact wrench had been stolen. The salesman told police that a man had bought a tool from them Thursday and brought it back Friday because it was defective. When the man had gone the second tool was found to be missing.

Police also issued six traffic citations Friday, and investigated one accident.

Farmbelt Senate and House members greeted the decision with enthusiasm.

"While there were some signs that the embargo was painful to the Russians, there are also signs that it was even more painful for American farmers," said Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn. "President Reagan had the courage and wisdom to recognize that and to act appropriately."

But Democratic Sens. Henry Jackson of Washington and William Proxmire of Wisconsin called the move a

Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., said the decision will be viewed by the world as "erratic behavior" because Russian troops remain in Afghanistan.

A high-ranking administration official, who asked anonymity, said the embargo was not ended to reward the Soviets and that Afghan freedom fighters should not read anything into the decision.

Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., said the decision will be viewed by the world as "erratic behavior" because

The new analysis showed that as of June 1, the beginning of the new wheat marketing year, the U.S. carryover from previous crops is expected to be about 954 million bushels, compared to 909 million indicated previously.

Looking at corn, which has a marketing year that will end next fall, the report said the Oct. 1 carryover now is projected at 866 million bushels, compared to the 616 million estimated as recently as April 10 in a similar analysis. Thus, according to the new information, the United States will have an "additional" 45 million bushels of wheat, about 1.2 million metric tons, on hand as of June 1. The "extra" corn in the U.S. pipeline totals 250 million bushels or about 6.3 million metric tons. Depending on how much more grain, if any, the Soviet Union wants from the United States in the near future, the latest figures suggest there is an ample supply to go around.

Extremists Warn Of New Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland was locked in a tense waiting game today as Roman Catholic extremists threatened new violence if jailed IRA leader Bobby Sands dies from his 56-day-old death fast, and Protestant militants vowed reprisals that could spark a civil war.

A last-minute effort by European human rights mediators to meet with the dying Sands in Belfast's Maze prison was temporarily delayed Friday night by a sudden snowfall that closed London's airport.

This could be his last weekend alive for 27-year-old

Sands, serving a 14-year term for gun law violation, stemming from Irish Republican Army clash with the British forces that rule this strife-torn province.

"From what we saw of Bobby this morning he is very low and close to death," his sister, Marcella Kelly, said after visiting him with other relatives Friday.

Following an IRA threat of vengeance if Sands dies, the pro-British Protestant extremists in the Ulster Defense Association warned that a "civil war situation" could erupt in response to a new IRA explosion.

The UDA and its allies, as well as the IRA, control arms caches across the province, split between 1 million Protestants and 500,000 Catholics. Catholic militants want an end to British rule and union with the predominantly Catholic Irish Republic, a move scorned by the Protestants.

In the last 1½ years, there have been 2,090 known killings in Ulster and nearly 70 on the British mainland.

Apart from a single bomb blast in Belfast overnight, street violence ebbed Friday after nine days of clashes between rioting crowds of young Roman Catholics and security forces in Belfast, Londonderry and other towns across the province. Some sources attributed the lull to an unusual spring cold snapping the British Isles.

EVERY WOMAN'S HEALTH: the complete guide to BODY & MIND by 17 women doctors offers reliable information and sympathetic advice to women of all ages on their total health care including physical, emotional, and mental. In this one volume, there are eighteen up-to-date chapters on vital topics, an encyclopedia of over 900 medical terms, recommended health examinations, generic-brand name drug equivalents, health agencies, and more.

Two new exercise books that will be featured are STRETCHING by Anderson and JUMP INTO SHAPE by Sidney Filson. Jumping is the fastest, easiest way to good health and a great body. There is nothing you can spend less time on and get more results from, whether you want bulges reduced, muscles toned-up, or increased overall stamina. Sidney Filson tells you everything you need to know to jump your way to total fitness in just fourteen days. JUMP INTO SHAPE is a step-by-step guide to physical fitness the fast, fun way for the young, the old, and everyone in between.

NEWBORN BEAUTY by Wende Devlin Gates is a complete beauty, health, and energy guide to the nine months of pregnancy and the nine months after. At no time in your life do you undergo such radical change as you do in the nine months before and after the birth of a baby. NEWBORN BEAUTY covers every aspect of your beauty during and after pregnancy such as weight gain, hair, make-up, clothes and exercise especially for you. It is one of the most extensive works on this subject to date. For many of us, surgery is as mysterious as the masked man who wields the scalpel. THE PREVENTION GUIDE TO SURGERY AND ITS ALTERNATIVES answers such questions as: Is this operation necessary? Does surgery guarantee a complete cure? Could it endanger my life in any way? and alot more. It gives you all the information you'll need to make the best decisions concerning surgical treatment and your health. These are only a few of the books on health that will be available at the library and also at the Health Fair. Other library events: 10 A.M. Thursday morning - Public story hour. Bring your children to the library to enjoy an exciting story and also see an excellent children's film!

Quartet Sets Final Concert

With leader Bob Stice moving to Houston in the near future, the Bob Stice Quartet has scheduled its final concert today at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. The public is invited. The group has sung for many local events and has made appearance around the Panhandle, including a performance at the Shamrock Celebration. Members of the quartet, left to right: Joe D. Rogers, Jan Walser, Joyce Allred and Bob Stice. Accompanist for the quartet is Cindy Vaughn.

In parts of Indonesia people used to avoid making loud noises in the rice fields lest it frighten the rice plants.

Get Involved!

Two events are coming up in Hereford that need the support and involvement of most of our citizens.

First, the annual Beautification Week, May 1-9, is a time for all of us to clean up, paint up and fix up so that our community takes on a neat appearance as we move into spring and summer.

This event is sponsored by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. You'll be hearing more about it, and we urge your participation in helping beautify our city.

The other project is the new Town & Country Jubilee, a project aimed at providing an annual celebration event for the city and county. This has been scheduled for Aug. 20-23, and a host of activities are in the planning stages.

A number of communities have annual celebrations—such as Friona's Maize Days, Shamrock's St. Patrick's Day and Dumas' Dogie Days. Local citizens have mentioned the idea in years past, and now it will become a reality.

The jubilee will include a parade, rodeo, art show, barbecue, beard-growing contest, quilt show, and a marathon race—just to name a few.

If your organization is interested in becoming involved in the big event, contact Argen Draper or Garth Thomas, co-chairmen of the celebration.

Tax Relief?

Honorable Kent Hance
House Office Bldg.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Congressman:

One of your aides, Don Richards, happened by our office on a significant day: April 15—the annual Waterloo of most salaried workers and wage-earners in this country.

We must confess that we unloaded on Don in particular and the IRS in general about this nation's taxpayers having to go through such a traumatic experience every April 15.

And it is all so unnecessary. This nation, since its beginning, has appreciated simplicity...simplicity in design, simplicity in operations, and simplicity in goals and objectives.

The most stunning or fashionable dress is that which embodies the very soul of simplicity. Vince Lombardi created a highly successful coaching career by designing power plays in football that were brilliant in execution because of their daring simplicity. Fast food chains have proliferated and succeeded because of the simplicity of menu and operations.

Since the founding fathers created a constitution of simplicity, a key American phrase has always been: "Keep it simple."

The most "un-American" composite of the exact opposite of simplicity is the way we pay taxes in this country. We've legislated so many laws, so many loopholes, so many shelters, so many special provisions for special groups, that we're strangling the economy with a lethal morass of taxation that no one fully comprehends or understands.

We've created a whole industry, private and public, geared to nothing more than shuffling tax papers. Imagine 101.5 million returns with 118.7 million schedules and forms attached, another 26.5 million employment tax returns!

What a waste! What a burden! What an unholy, unmitigated mess! And so unnecessary!

What is needed is a bold move that wipes the tax slate clean and a fresh start - a move to simply apply a straight across the board tax on everyone.

Two former commissioners of the IRS have testified in recent years that a 10 to 14 percent income tax on everyone would yield the same amount of revenue to the federal treasury as the current hodgepodge.

An across-the-board income tax with no deducts, no loopholes, no shelters, no exceptions, no special allowances, and applied to all individuals and all businesses would get us back to a simple form that could be mailed monthly, quarterly or annually.

And every taxpayer, individual and business alike, would know where they stand, taxationwise - as the year progressed. No corporate decisions to postpone spending for capital equipment because of future tax bites, no rushing to the bank by individuals to borrow money to pay additional sums on last year's taxes, no anguished cries of outrage and frustration by those victimized by tax bracket creep.

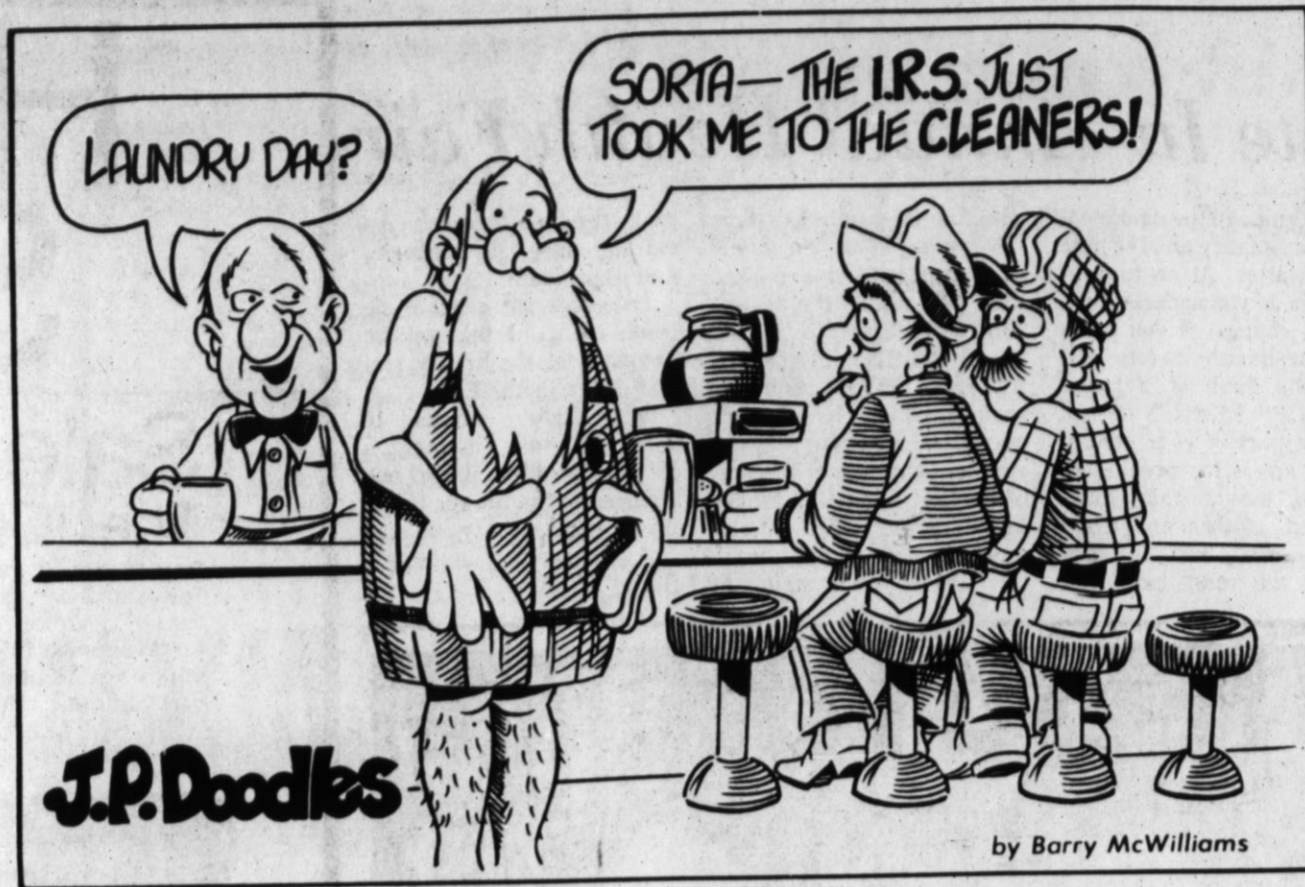

A simple tax return of a straight percentage is needed - and it is needed now.

And we personally believe that as a member of the important 44-member coalition of conservative Democrats, you can make a strong start this year. Your coalition holds the balance of power between the Republicans and a House controlled by liberals.

It would seem a most opportune time to move with boldness, with daring, with foresight, to replace a hopelessly complicated tax system with a simple, straight across the board percentage of income.

Soc 'em!

The Penultimate Word

TOYS

I found this new Gheru. He was not on a mountain in India. Matter of fact, he would never consider himself a Gheru. He just came up with a new slogan that seemed to sum up life as it is. He said, "He who dies with the most toys wins."

I have a close friend who is winning. He has a house on the lake, a pool in the yard, a china doll wife, two children so perfect even their teeth are straight, a motor home, ski equipment, snow-mobiles, the finest of stereo equipment, a red Porche sports car, four motorcycles, and he knows every fine restaurant in America.

Other folks talk about him. To them it is a shame the way he spends money. To them it is amazing the way he spends money. They say such things as, "I bet he owns everyone in town," or "One day he will wake up and find out he is broke."

When someone confronts him about his spending habits he agrees, talks about the deep psychological needs that must drive him and then asked if they know a good Mercedes dealer.

Here I sit with no toys and no money. I remember an old story of a man trying to convince another guy to quit smoking. The man said, "If you did not smoke, and used the money you now burn up, you could own the building we are in."

The other guy said, "Do you smoke?"

"No!", he replied.

"Then where is your building?"

I do not have the toys nor do I have all of the money I am supposed to have by not buying toys.

I have decided my friend must have some secret the rest of us miss. True, he buys toys but somehow he can buy toys and still stay afloat.

I went to see him. I did not go to correct him for his wild spending. I went to ask him if he would handle my affairs. Then I started looking at Mercedes cars. If he who dies with the most toys wins, I need to get hopping.

Warm fuzzies,
Doug Manning

Problem Not Us, It's Politicians

By RICHARD LESHER
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON -- Apparently the message the voters sent Congress last November has still not sunk in. That's the first conclusion one must draw from the flurry of recent reports indicating the President's economic recovery package is in trouble in Congress. Once again, it seems the public is way out in front of Congress, because the strong grass roots support for deep spending and tax cuts has run into Congressional resistance.

Many in Congress rationalize their intransigence by claiming the public also fears the deep tax cuts proposed by the President are inflationary. Baloney! Every official survey commissioned by the U.S. Chamber proves precisely the opposite. The latest, conducted between April 2-5, by Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, New Jersey, unveiled very broad support for all aspects of the program, both spending and tax cuts.

Significantly, and contrary to what these Congressional naysayers contend, well over half—57 percent of those polled—felt the President's proposed personal tax reduction of ten percent a year for three years would lessen inflation. Only 31 percent felt it would have the opposite effect.

Equally significant, fully 82 percent of those polled said they would save at least a portion of the three-year tax rate reduction or use some of the savings to repay debt. This, in itself, is another major revelation because liberals in Congress have been saying taxpayers would go out and spend their entire tax reduction, and thereby aggravate inflation. You see, it's perfectly all right for them to spend your money, but not for you to do so.

I have great confidence in our poll results, because the questions were asked in the most neutral, unbiased possible way. So, given that by more than two-to-one the people surveyed felt the President's total package would benefit the economy, the opposition in Congress would be wise to reexamine their positions. Clearly, many of the objections from Capitol Hill do not accurately reflect the true sentiments on Main Street. As usual, the reliable instincts and sound common sense of the American people enable them to grasp what so many intellectuals in Washington fail to comprehend.

This whole idea that all tax cuts are inflationary stems from a confusion of tax rates with tax revenues. The two are not identical. When President Carter proposed his infamous $50 rebate scheme in 1977, which critics accurately likened to shoveling money out of airplanes, he was merely proposing to rebate a portion of the nation's tax revenues for that year—an action which would have automatically increased the deficit.

Genuine tax reduction involves cutting tax rates, and preferably, the marginal rates that determine how much money you can keep on each extra dollar you earn above your current income, either through more work, savings or investment. Only by making this distinction can one grasp the true meaning, and intent, of the so-called supply-side, incentive-oriented tax cuts proposed by the President.

The difference between the two proposals could not be more clear: Rather than simply rebate revenues already paid, the President wants to use the lure of lower rates to encourage entrepreneurial activities that otherwise might never have occurred. And it stands to reason that by increasing total economic activity through more production, more savings and more investment, the government will have more revenues to collect, and consequently, the deficit will be reduced. The historical evidence on this last point is equally clear: Every major tax rate reduction in this century has generated increased revenues to the government.

Thus, the knee-jerk argument that tax rate reductions automatically increase the deficit is ludicrous. What the American people intuitively understand is that if government would only permit them to keep more of their own earnings, our entire economy would be much better off. That's why the President's program has so much support at the grass roots, and so many enemies in Washington.

United States patents on its solar reactor and related processes and patents have been applied for in every major nation in the world.

That may explain the low profile.

Co-inventor Alfred Browning Parker says he has no interest in going into manufacturing, he only wants "to license the technology to anyone who wants it."

I understand the developers recently made a deal for combining their process with the already developed Tesla Turbine.

Presumably the power is adaptable to power jet, piston and rotary engines, as well as gas and steam driven turbines.

Mr. Bob Scragg, the other co-developer remains a major stockholder.

All of us who are intrigued by the exploration of new horizons in science are understandably impatient.

Imagine what something like this could do to reinvigorate and revitalize us!

The engine operates on kinetic energy. As simply as that can be compared to the combustion energy which runs our cars—it is the difference between a bow with the fist and a karate chop. The latter resembling kinetic energy in that small mass is moved with great velocity.

In this engine, seawater becomes hydrogen and chlorine. These two gases are injected into a combustion chamber where the chlorine absorbs light and explodes.

The explosion is eleven times more energetic than gasoline combustion and requires no compression.

The bi-product of the explosion, hydrogen chloride, is then converted to hydrochloric acid, broken down into hydrogen and chlorine gases and recycled.

Physical chemist Dr. Burch Stewart, is quoted as believing this to be "the most energetic photochemical system in existence."

It's My Turn

Motivation is a strange thing. It can come in bushel baskets full or can be as hard to come up with as that last glob of peanut butter in the bottom of the jar which always manages to cling to the side of the container just when you think you've finally got it stuck to the end of the knife.

I've never been able to harvest a bushel of the stuff, especially when it came to coming up with the will power to begin, and stay on, a diet. I've tried various methods to cut down on my caloric intake...including a special diet prepared "just for me" by a nutritionist at the hospital, and the famous Scarsdale Diet.

Even a stern rebuke from Dr. Payne, who noted my unfortunate possession of high blood pressure, was good enough only to make me temporarily aware of the need to reduce.

My wife, who tips the scale at a robust 94 pounds, even after the birth of two children, hasn't helped much either. I'll always marvel at how she can eat whatever she wants and stay thin while I gain a pound just from hearing someone singing "Love That Chicken From Popeye's."

Still, I have resumed a jogging program, something that I have done off and on (mostly off) for the past several years. I've even read Jim Fixx's books on running, and found myself hero-worshipping the fanatics who go through the torture of running a marathon.

Until a sprained ankle sidelined me this week, I had religiously followed my running program for five days with a two-mile jaunt in the early-morning hours. Despite this minor setback, my program will continue as soon as the ankle heals.

Soon, you'll be seeing a trimmer, healthier me. As Yul Brenner as the Pharaoh in "The Ten Commandments" said to Charlton Heston as Moses: "So it is written, so it shall be."

After all, what better motivation could I find than to make public a pledge to shed my excess baggage?

See you at the track.

Bootleg Philosopher

Space Shuttle Questions Posed

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm has a few incidental remarks on the flight of the space shuttle.

Dear Editor:

I don't want to be like the people who told Queen Isabella she was wasting her money sending Columbus off on that boat trip, and I watched the take-off and the dramatic landing of the space shuttle with the same awe as everybody else, but I don't guess it'll hurt to ask a few questions.

For example, shouldn't somebody at NASA tell the official who was radioing the men aloft in the shuttle how they were doing to watch his language? He kept saying "You're right on the money, Columbia, you're right on the money."

That struck me as a little indelicate, a bad choice of words, in view of the fact the venture has cost over 8 billion tax dollars. What a space shuttle costs or how many million dollars a baseball player is getting should not be brought to mind when either is doing something dramatic. However, we should look on the bright side. Backers of the shuttle say it's going to help us operate in space. Sounds like a good idea. Maybe we'll have better luck operating out there, as we sure haven't learned how to operate here on earth.

Also, I understand it takes four or five years of rigorous, dedicated training to get a man ready to fly into space. If we used the same system to get a person ready to drive a car, especially an 18-wheeler truck or a souped-up hot-rod, think of the benefits. It takes even longer than that to get a person ready to practice medicine, and even then it doesn't always work. To be a Congressman, it doesn't take any training at all.

As I understand it, the Columbia space shuttle should be good for 100 trips aloft, if they can get those bathroom files to stay on, but I'll bet that every one of the men who fly it will, after landing, be mighty tickled to be back on earth.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Putting You in the Picture

'Views to the Future'

By JO ELLEN JORDE
The astronauts, Crippen and Young, have just returned to tell us that everything is a matter of perspective. High above the earth, a raging thunderstorm with clouds towering 80,000 ft. is a thing of great beauty. The perspective here on earth in the heart of the storm's destructive force is entirely different. It is spring, the time of fresh starts and looking to the future, to the time of the harvest. Here are some of the views.

We are able to travel at great speeds, to do surgery with laser beams, to make artificial hearts, artificial skin and survive in outer space. Here we are unable to bring many of our young to the point of graduation with the basic skills of reading, writing and arithmetic.

We do something called social passing. We say, it would be very bad for the young person's self image to be held back, that it makes him feel great to go through the ceremony of graduation with his peers.
Millions of young people are functionally illiterate. 13 percent of American 17-year-olds cannot read or write well enough to function at a minimal level. This is the bottom of the barrel.

We also have all those young out seeking jobs, who often cannot write well enough to fill out a job application form, or to continue to hold the job should they get it.
Agencies like the civil service commission of the federal government have doubled the size of remedial writing programs. Young people arriving in college are causing educators to throw up their hands at the burden of trying to teach a college level English course to students, who do not have a basic knowledge of grammar and punctuation.

Have we really saved anyone's self-image? Is it more debilitating to be held back until one achieves a certain basic skill or to be sent into the world where one cannot hold a job or perform at a competent level on the job or in the university without these skills?
There is a new movement in our country, where the responsibility has been returned to us, the individual citizen. It is up to us. It is up to us to talk to our educators, to congratulate them where a good job is being done and to find out what their problems are. It is also up to us to volunteer to help with tutoring and motivational reading programs. Call Glenda Geries, Volunteer School Director, at 364-5520. See where your services can be used. It is up to you to write your state representatives and tell them your views on competency testing and other educational issues. Our view of the future will be bright or dark according to how many of us care enough to do something. You and your present action are your own future.

Around the Town

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Hazelrigg have three sons, all students at Baylor University. Two of them, Tom and Jeff, were home for Easter. Their son, Steve who is a senior student, and his wife were unable to be with the family during the holiday.

Dan VanderZee visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan VanderZee over the Easter holiday's. He is presently managing the All-Seasons Resort Hotel in Lake Tahoe, Nev. The VanderZee's other son, Dirk, flew in last night in the Baylor Jet to pick up Grant Teaff who spoke at the Monday night All-Sports Banquet. He is presently working on his master of business administration at Baylor University and flying the Baylor Jet. Mrs. VanderZee also received a visit from her parents and mother-in-law over the Easter holiday.

A group went to Arlington to the Ranger Ballgame over the Easter weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Carey Black, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hodges accompanied by two other groups were present at the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Troys Carmichael have spent the last two months vacationing in Lake Havasu City, Arizona. Mr. and Mrs. Major Schroeter joined them for the Easter weekend. Mrs. Schroeter and Mrs. Carmichael are sisters.

Easter was an unusually eventful occasion for Britany Lynne Fuller of Littlefield.

Choosing a color for makeup foundation?

Always do the testing in natural light, advises Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist. Many stores do not have adequate lighting, she adds.

Also, use the jawline to test the shade of makeup. Color should blend in perfectly when thinly applied, she says.

Ms. Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

field. Besides it being time for the Easter bunny, she was also celebrating her first birthday and meeting some relatives for the first time. On Saturday, she was entertained with a party at her grandmother's, Joyce Giles, with Aunt Kay and Uncle Percy Mays from Oklahoma City and Brite Hamm attending.

After attending church Sunday, she and her parents, George and Lynne, and sister Courtney, were guests for lunch and a party later in the home of other grandparents, Ham and Jessie Fuller, with her other granddad, Vernon Inmon, Sue Painter, H.S., Cecelia, Darla, and Dean Fuller, all from Hereford; Glen, Kay, Debbie and Duane Fuller from Lake Arthur, N.M.; George and Alleen Wilson, and Johnie Cummins from Belton; and Peggy Levy from Nolanville attending.

Besides all those gala events, Courtney and Britany stayed over with Granny and Granddad Fuller until mother and daddy returned Thursday for Littlefield's District track meet here. Fuller is their track coach.

Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Betzen and children Jennifer, Cameron and Catie, have just returned from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where they attended the wedding of John Paul Winkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler, former Hereford residents, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lookingbill.

John Paul and Cheryl Sumner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Sumner were married in a garden ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lyman April 18 by Rev. Thurston Brice, pastor of Florida Avenue Baptist Church in Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Lyman is the sister of John Paul. Dwan Johnson was bestman and Ms. Angie Sumner served her sister as maid-of-honor.

A reception followed the ceremony on the patio. The couple left for a wedding trip to the summer home of the Sumner's on "Ole River."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sublett and three children and Mrs. Hoover's mother, Blanch Williamson, spent a long weekend at the Hoover's condominium in Ruidoso over the Easter holiday.

Newcomers to Hereford Welcomed

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Newcomers to Hereford are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bell and Robin, their four months old daughter. Bell is employed with Mobil Comm and his wife Marge is a speech therapist in Panhandle public school. They have moved into the house belonging to the estate of Esther Springer. Mrs. Bell is a great neice. She is commuting to Panhandle, until the closing of the school session.

the weekend visiting his folks, the Lloyd Shultzs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ashbys parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sawyer. Both couples are from Lubbock.

The Pat Robbins entertained the Robbins kin, on Easter Sunday. They included the Gary Masons Van Mason, the Doug Janovics, the Ted Longgoods, the Frank Robbins and Gene Duvalls of Amarillo.

The Ted Caros recently visited her parents at Dallas and his mother and other relatives at Van. The Easter weekend, daughter Sonie, a student at Lipperts Court Reporting School, in Plainview, came home and she and Mrs. Cara spent Sunday with the other Cara girls, Denie and Cindy, at Portales. It was a celebration of birthdays for Denie and Sonie, who is a Senior in E.N.M.U. and will be graduating May 8. She plans to be an elementary teacher. Cindy is employed full time with the Portales radio station.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Richardson flew to McCormick, S.C. on Friday. Herry's maternal grandmother had died on Thursday. She was Mrs. Nellie Lawton. The funeral was at McCormick, on Saturday.

Mrs. Allie Burris, of Texico, has been here about 3 weeks helping her sister, Mrs. Laura Jones and Mr. Jones since they have had health problems. Mrs. Jones is home from the hospital, for treatment for her injuries due to an accident, but he is in the hospital, now. A neice, Iva Williams, Clovis, visited them one day this week.

In our May "Almost Summer Sale" Circular, we picture a solid red Wrangler® Sleeping Bag. This is in error and should have been a red Bandana Patch print as stated in the ad. We regret any inconvenience.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parris have moved into a modern apartment and their son, Walker, and family has the Parris home on Ranger. Olin and Velma Lee are sampling the more carefree life, minus the responsibilities of a large house and grounds and the grandchildren are enjoying the roomy house and nice yard.

The D.F. Yandells have been keeping in close touch with his brother, Jack Yandell, since he underwent heart surgery last week. They have been to Big Springs to be with the brother and family. He is in Veterans hospital there and is improving at latest report.

Here with the Frank Robbins during the holiday weekend were their daughter, Mrs. Gene Duvall, Mr. Duvall and family of Amarillo.

Here with Mrs. Floyd Cole and Bill for the holiday weekend were the Cole children, the Herman Vinsons, Childress, and the Sol D' Amato family, Oklahoma City. Also with them on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reno, Midland, Mrs. H.M. Mobley and the John Paetzolds. Also, Mrs. Mobeys sister, Mrs. Claude Price and her friend, Mrs. Grace Grundy, both of Floydada, came for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gripp took a tour up into Kansas, as far as Dodge City, during the Easter weekend. This week, they went to Lubbock to meet their daughter, Gail (Mrs. Mike) Probst, who brought some of her students of Brady High School to a Bi-District meet for debating and other competition. Gail has taught there a few years.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ashby and daughter, Kimber, two and a half months old, spent by Jeff Carlile, President Hereford State Bank Q. Although I don't need to borrow any money right now, I know I may need to borrow in the future. What's the best way for me to prepare myself for getting a first loan?

You can BANK on It!

A. If you haven't borrowed money before one of the best things to do is open a savings account and make deposits on a regular basis in set amounts. This accomplishes two things. First, it creates a second-to-none collateral, your savings. Secondly, a savings account, built over a period of time, will demonstrate to your banker you have the financial ability and willpower necessary to set aside a certain amount of money on a regular basis. Since you would have to set aside money on a regular basis to pay back a loan, savings history will usually be helpful in your efforts to obtain that first loan. You've already demonstrated your ability to make regular "payments". This is the same procedure as repaying a loan and you will have taken the first step in establishing a sound financial history.

County Agent Gets A New Bicycle

By LOUISE WALKER
County Extension Agent

Last week as I was wondering whether I should have another birthday — I decided to go ahead with the annual event. I've wanted a bicycle for years so I went home three days prior to my birthday and announced my wishes to my husband. We immediately jumped in the pickup and went to the store. Within fifteen minutes after my request I had a new red shiny three-speed bicycle. Hubby treated himself to a present on my birthday also — a new red shiny three-speed bike. We had matching his and hers models.

For years, I've not been able to visualize anything more exciting than eating. Well, the child came out of me. All I wanted to do was ride my bicycle. Now I know why the children don't want to come in and eat. I wouldn't have cooked dinner had I not already thawed T-bone steaks. Under no circumstances can one let a T-bone go to waste.

After hurriedly putting a meal together, it was time to ride my new investment. My first time out, I was riding along. I came to an intersection. So did a car. The car stopped at the stop sign but proceeded to cross in front of me. As I used my brakes the old-fashioned way, I started pedaling backwards and made no progress toward stopping. I was headed right smack into the moving car and I couldn't find the brakes on my machine. My brain finally told me to turn and go in the same direction as the car. Eventually the gray matter told me the brakes were on the handle bars. I have progressively gotten better at stopping my vehicle.

The second night on my bicycle, I took all the neighborhood youngsters and rode in a convoy with them. I had a kindergarten, first, second, third, fourth, and fifth grader. The smallest one could hardly reach his pedals. To get on his bike, he had to pull it up to the curb. The fifth grader was so acrobatic that he half scared me to death.

I was so proud of my bicycle. I informed my children that it was my first new bicycle. I had a second-hand one as a child. They all interpreted second-hand as a bicycle built for two.

Jill Davis, our part-time secretary and a high school senior, was in a state of shock that I could still ride a bike at my age. That really emphasized the fact that I was having a birthday and years were mounting.

Justin McBride informed me that exercise was no good unless you challenged the muscles. I wondered how one knows if he's challenging his muscles, asked Mr. McBride. He says you hurt when the muscle tissue had been challenged. Well, folks, my bicycle has challenged my muscles.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Head Drum Major

Jason Clark (Center) of Hereford, will be the Head Drum Major for the Texas A&M Aggie Band for the 1981-82 school year. Assisting Clark will be Rodney Kret (left) of Refugio, and Scott Sloan of Fort Worth. (Photo by John West).

Clark to Lead A&M Band

COLLEGE STATION — The largest military band in the world, the Texas Aggie Band, will be led next fall by Jason Clark of Hereford, Scott Sloan of Fort Worth and Rodney Kret of Refugio. The trio has been chosen drum majors of the 300-member Aggie Band, known for its intricate football halftime performances. Clark, an engineering technology major and Drum and Bugle Corps sergeant this year, will be head drum major. Kret and Sloan will wield batons as Artillery and Infantry Band drum majors, respectively.

They were chosen in tryouts before a selection committee composed of the director, Lt. Col. Joe T. Haney; associate director Major Joe McMullen; band commanders and other bandmen. Two extra drum majors are required to give flank direction to the military marching unit when it is on the march. Drum majors work closely with the director to devise and install halftime drills, usually in five one to two-hour practices a week during the football season. Clark is an Air Force contract cadet and member of "B" Battery, one of four company-size units comprising the Aggie Band in the Corps of Cadets. A petroleum engineering major, Kret also plays in the University Symphonic Band and is a member of the American Society of Petroleum Engineers.

Sloan majors in engineering technology and is in Company B, the Society of American Military Engineers and Engineering Technology Society. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clark, 315 Union, and a 1978 Hereford High School graduate.

The proportion of divorces involving three or more children has declined since 1965, says Betty Jo Smith, a family life education specialist.

Adults find it easier to cope after divorce if no children are involved, she adds.

Dr. Smith is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For summer comfort, select fibers that are absorbent, such as cotton, linen, silk, wool and rayon — to keep the body cool, advises Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

These fibers absorb the body's moisture, allowing perspiration to evaporate.

Avoid losing your cool. And your cooler.

When you buy an evaporative cooler for your home, get it installed by a professional.

You choose an evaporative cooler because it costs less to buy and up to 75% less to operate than refrigeration. So don't risk those savings by trying to cut corners on installation. Why take chances with water damage and electrical hazards? Why worry about losing your cooler every time there's a high wind or a summer storm?

Professional installation will help you keep your cool. And your cooler.

Ask about our "performance-proven" coolers. They're from the manufacturer of America's best-selling brand for over 30 years.

Use a pressure canner for home canning low-acid foods, such as meats and vegetables (but not tomatoes), says Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

A pressure canner is a "must" for low-acid foods so they can reach temperatures high enough to kill botulism-causing bacteria spores that produce the deadly toxin, she adds.

Murphy Sparks Houston By Kings for 2-1 Playoff Lead

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Rockets Coach Del Harris hopes the Kansas City Kings try to gang up on center Moses Malone again Sunday in the fourth game of their National Basketball Association Western Conference playoff series.

Kansas City Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons says the Kings will use the same strategy but try to make it work.

Harris also hopes for the same results the Kings got Friday night when Calvin Murphy broke out of a two-game slump and Robert Reid hit the pressure buckets to lead the Rockets to a 92-88 victory and a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Western Conference series.

"They geared up to stop Moses and sure, you can stop Moses Malone with two or three guys," Harris said. "Mo was basically a decoy in our offense. We couldn't just play into the teeth of their defense."

Murphy canned 23 points, including the first eight Rocket points of the second quarter to give the Rockets a lead they never lost. Reid shot holes in the Kings defense throughout the game and finished with 20 points, including Houston's final three buckets.

"I'm a long way from being a genius so we'll just keep doing the same thing, I don't want to over-coach," Fitzsimmons said.

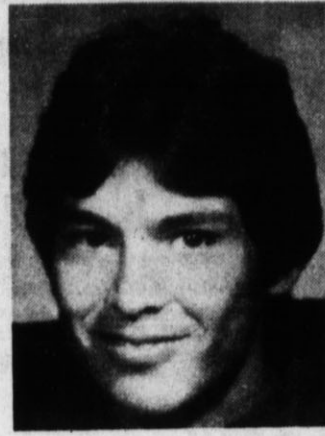

Kansas City center Sam Lacey and Reggie King bottled up Malone much of the evening.

"Yeah, we guarded Mo all right but we let some of the other cats out of the bag," Lacey said. "We've got to do better Sunday."

Murphy gave the Rockets their first big burst by hitting the first eight points of the second quarter en route to a 38-26 lead. The Kings cut it to 38-34 but Reid fueled a spurt and the Rockets took a 47-38 lead at halftime.

Houston led comfortably through most of the second half until the Kings, led by King, cut the lead to four again with 2:16 to go, trailing 88-84.

Billy Paultz also scored 20 points for the Rockets and was a thorn in Kansas City's side.

FELIX SOLIZ

NORMAN BROWN

Hereford didn't have the depth to make a run for the District 3-5A track and field championship, but Felix Soliz and Norman Brown recorded first places for the Whitefaces at the Lubbock meet Friday night.

Lubbock Coronado ran away with the team title, grabbing their first district championship in 15 years. The Mustangs dominated the meet with 225 points; Monterey was second with 132, and Hereford was third with 79. Next came Plainview with 49, and Lubbock High had 31.

Hereford's only second place came in the 400-meter relay, where Jeff Coupe, Rudy Hernandez, Harold Terry and Brown won a trip to the regional meet. The quartet actually finished third in 43.5, but Plainview was disqualified for passing the baton out of lane.

The Whitefaces appeared to have another qualifier when Terry was second by a nose in the 200-meter dash with a time of 22.3. However, he was disqualified for running out of his lane.

Hereford's 1600-meter relay team finished third, and only Brown's great 49.1 anchor lap avoided a fourth-place finish. The relay team had a 3:25.2 compared to Coronado's winning time of 3:23 flat.

The Whitefaces garnered several third places. Nieves Rodriguez took third in the shot put with a heave of 51-8 3/4. The winning toss was 55-8 1/2 by Coronado.

Terry was third in the 100-meter dash with a clocking of 10.8. Coronado's Percy Hines tied the meet record with a 10.5 run. Alfred Ball took third place in the 330 intermediate hurdles with a season's best of 39.8.

Wayne High took points in both hurdle events, winning fourth place in the high hurdles and fifth in the intermediates. Armando Rodriguez was fifth in the mile run, and Coupe was fifth in the 200 meters. Ellis Collins was sixth in the 400 meters. Terry added a sixth place in the long jump to round out the Whiteface scoring.

Twisters Host Exhibition Soccer Matches Sunday

Soccer season will be inaugurated here Sunday when the Hereford Twisters host the other teams in the United Soccer League in an exhibition tournament.

Mayor Bartley Dowell will officially launch the season with a soccer kick at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. The matches will be held on the soccer field at Ave. 1 and 15th Streets.

Victor Cantu, president of the Twister board, announced that all interested persons are invited to attend the soccer matches Sunday.

He also stated that anyone interested in trying out for the Twister's team should contact coaches Emilio Romero Sr. or Harvey Guterrez, or team captain Emilio Romero Jr. The team practices on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

All league games will be played on Sunday. The regular season gets underway May 3.

Girls In Region Run

Hereford barely qualified its two-relay teams in the finals of the Region 1 girls' track meet at the Texas Tech track in Lubbock Friday.

The meet finals were set Saturday afternoon. Hereford's only hopes for points were in the relays, the 800-meter dash with Louise Mays and Deborah Rogers, and the shot put with Maria Carreon.

Allison Thomas failed to qualify for the 400 meter finals, and Lindy Walterscheid did not make it in the 100 meters. Carreon failed to place in the discus finals Friday.

The Whiteface 800-meter relay team was composed of Lori Albracht, Dede Dobbins, Angela White and Michelle Osborn. The 1600-meter team included Thomas, Osborn, Deborah Rogers and Mays.

Golfers Finish 3rd in 3-5A Race

The District 3-5A Golf Race ended at Hereford Friday with Monterey capturing a four-stroke victory over Coronado for the team championship.

The two teams will advance to the region tourney in Lubbock next weekend. Monterey had an eight-round total of 1,906 and Coronado totalled 1,910.

Hereford's team had the best round here Friday with a 310, and the Whitefaces wound up third in the district race with a total of 1,953 strokes.

The Monterey B team finished fourth; Plainview was fifth, and the Hereford B team was sixth. Next came Lubbock, Coronado B, Plainview B, and Lubbock B.

Coronado junior Gilbert Moreno took medalist honors with a 457, and teammate Rick Alexander was runner-up at 465.

Hereford's Greg Robinson had a 475 total for fifth place and made the all-district team (the top five finishers).

Whiteface scores here Friday, and the district total: Robinson 77-475; David Dudding 77-492; Tony Flores 76-494; Derek Dirks 80-505; Frank Garcia 80-505.

Hereford B team scores: Alan Wartes 76-492; Steve Barrett 83-525; Mike Craig 88-539; Brett Barrick 82; Scott Skinner 85.

Dr. J Plays Defense Too, 76ers Beat Celtics

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When you think of Julius Erving, you think of graceful glides and swooping drives to the basket, ending most often in forceful slam dunks. But while Dr. J is not known for his defensive prowess, he does have the ability to rise to a challenge.

After Boston's Larry Bird burned Philadelphia for 67 points in the first two games of their National Basketball Association playoff series, 76ers Coach Billy Cunningham decided he had seen enough. So he took 7-footer Caldwell Jones off Bird Friday night and gave the job of stopping the Celtics' forward to Erving.

For the 76ers, it was a switch in time.

Although Bird led the Celtics with 22 points and 13 rebounds, he was never able to dominate the floor as he had in the previous games. Meanwhile, Erving led a balanced Philadelphia attack with 22 points and Jones was able to lay back for 14 rebounds and five blocked shots as the 76ers beat the Celtics 110-100 Friday night to take a 2-1 lead in their Eastern Conference playoff finals.

It was the Celtics' 10th straight loss here, a streak they hope to end when the best-of-seven series continues here Sunday.

"I think the Celtics were surprised when they saw me covering him," said Erving. "I don't think they expected the change, and if they did, it took them too long to adjust."

The Celtics, shooting from farther outside than usual, missed nine of their first 11 shots and the 76ers took the lead for good with 11 consecutive points for a 21-10 edge with 4:25 left in the first quarter.

"We didn't play well at the beginning," said Celtics forward Cedric Maxwell. "We pressured ourselves. We tried to make quick points and we dug a grave for ourselves."

"We played catch-up all night and you don't win games that way," said Celtics Coach Bill Fitch.

The Celtics, who trailed 31-20 after the first period, made several runs at the 76ers but never caught them.

The closest Boston could come was six points in the fourth quarter, but with the score at 100-94 with 4:02 to play, Philadelphia put the game away with six straight points — a tough layup by Darryl Dawkins and two free throws apiece by Maurice Cheeks and Erving.

Reserve guard Andrew Toney contributed 19 points in 24 minutes for Philadelphia, giving him 80 points in the series. Bobby Jones and Lionel Hollins scored 16 apiece and Dawkins had 15. His Boston counterpart, Robert Parish, had a miserable night, getting in foul trouble and scoring just six points on 1-for-14 shooting.

"Credit for the victory has to go to Julius Erving and Caldwell Jones," said Bobby Jones. "Caldwell was getting the rebounds and getting us going on the fast break and Doc did an unbelievable job on Bird. He hounded him all over the place, forcing him outside and taking the Celtics out of what they wanted to do offensively. That was the difference."

Beth Solomon Is Tourney Leader

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Beth Solomon says there's a first time for everything.

Solomon, who has never led in an LPGA tournament, captured the first-round lead Friday in the $100,000 Birmingham Classic by sinking a 25-foot putt for a birdie and a 5-under-67 score on the 6,107-yard, 72-par Green Valley Country Club course.

"It's a different kind of feeling, but we've got a few more days to play, and I'll see what happens," Solomon said. "I didn't expect to finish this round as the leader, but there's got to be a first time for everything."

"I was making some putts today for a change," she said. "That was the big difference."

Gail Hirata chipped in a 70-foot putt on the final hole for an eagle and a 4-under-68, but was disqualified from the tournament after she failed to sign her scorecard at the end of the round.

"I really don't feel that bad about it," Hirata said. "There's nothing I can do about it. It's in the past. I have to learn from this."

Hirata, who joined the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour in 1979, said she signed her name on her playing partner's scorecard and signed an entry form for a contest, but forgot to sign her official scorecard. "I'm going to have to remember to continue concentrating until I leave the scoring tent," she said.

Finishing at 3-under-69 were Cathy Mant, Pat Myers, M.J. Smith, Jane Blalock, Marga Stubblefield, Jo Ann Washam, Susie McAllister and Jan Ferraris. Eleven players were tied at 71 and five players shot a first-round 72.

The Hereford Gun Club will sponsor a Trophy Trap Shoot at the club's range east of the city airport today.

The range will open for practice at 1 p.m. with the trophy shoot to begin one hour later.

A trophy for first place will be awarded in the Mens' Division, which will consist of a 100-round shoot at an entry fee of $12. Trophies for first, second, and third places will be awarded in the Junior Division, which will cost $8 to enter and consist of a 50-round shoot.

By BOB GREENE

Mike Norris stayed away from the fisticuffs and concentrated on his quota, which kept the Oakland A's on the winning track.

"I try to keep a team down to two runs," Norris said after hurling a five-hitter as Oakland stopped the Seattle Mariners 6-2 and posted its 15th victory in 16 games. "We're going to be in the ball game if I do that. I only had one shutout last year."

In other AL games Friday, Chicago nipped Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings, Minnesota stopped California 7-5, the New York Yankees defeated Toronto 4-2 and Milwaukee clubbed Kansas City 6-1. The Texas at Cleveland game was postponed because of rain.

Norris, now 4-0, also hurled his third complete game. The one game he didn't finish was last weekend when he injured his shoulder in a brawl involving the Mariners' Lenny Randle.

Oakland opened the scoring in the first inning when Rickey Henderson led off with a double and scored on Dwayne Murphy's single. Mitchell Page then singled home Murphy.

Then, in the third, Oakland chased Seattle starter Glenn Abbott, 0-4, as Murphy's homer ignited a four-run inning.

Yankees 4, Blue Jays 2
Graig Nettles' fourth homer of the season, a solo shot in the seventh inning, was the big blow as the New York Yankees stopped Toronto for their fourth straight victory.

Tommy John, 2-1, held the Blue Jays scoreless. But after he walked Willie Moseby to start the eighth inning, reliever Rich Gossage came on and gave up a two-run homer to pinch-hitter Willie Upshaw.

Nettles' homer was his 28th career roundtripper and moved him to one behind Bill Dickey and in seventh place on the Yankees' all-time home run list.

Brewers 6, Royals 1
Three-run homers by Ben Oglivie and Ted Simmons powered Milwaukee past Kansas City. It was Oglivie's third of the season and Simmons' second.

Oglivie cracked his homer off loser Rich Gale, 1-1, while Simmons hit his off reliever Dan Quisenberry.

The Royals had been shut out for 18 successive innings until Willie Aikens hit his second homer of the year with two out in the Kansas City sixth.

White Sox 3, Tigers 2
A 10th-inning home run by Greg Luzinski boosted Chicago over Detroit. It was Luzinski's second homer of the season and came off Jack Morris, 1-2.

Twins 7, Angels 5
Pinch-hitter Glenn Adams and Rob Wilfong hit consecutive seventh-inning, run-scoring doubles, snapping a 5-5 tie and giving Minnesota its victory over California.

The Twins' winning rally started with Butch Hobson's throwing error with two out, enabling Dave Engle to reach second. Adams then doubled home Engle and Wilfong drove home pinch-runner Danny Goodwin.

California's Fred Lynn had snapped a 4-4 tie with his third homer of the year, a solo shot in the sixth. But Minnesota knotted the score again in the bottom of the inning on Gary Ward's home run.

Kiwanis Track Thursday

The annual Kiwanis Club Track Meet, for all of the city's 4th, 5th and 6th graders, has been scheduled for Thursday, April 30, according to committee chairman Don Tardy.

The track meet is expected to draw more than 1,000 entrants, boys and girls, to the Whiteface Stadium track next Thursday. Students from St. Anthony's school will also participate.

The track meet will be open to the public. It will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Red Raider Day Set In Hereford May 26

Red Raider Day has been scheduled in Hereford May 26, with Texas Tech athletic director John Conley and new football coach Jerry Moore among the Tech officials planning to attend.

Dave Hopper, local chairman for the Red Raider Day, announced plans for the event, which will include a golf tournament, social hour and dinner.

Registration for Tech exes and supporters will be held through May 21. Golfers can register at the golf shop at Pitman Municipal through May 21. Entry fee is $25 for green fees, cart, social hour and dinner.

For non-golfers who wish to attend the evening program, the cost will be $10 a person. Ladies are invited. Raider coaches will make brief talks at the dinner.

The golf tourney will be a Florida Scramble beginning at 2 p.m. on May 26. The social hour and dinner, set for 6 and 7 p.m., will be at Hereford Country Club.

Razorbacks Rip Tech In SWC Baseball Tilt

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Arkansas ripped five Texas Tech pitchers for 21 hits and racked up a seven-run fourth inning Friday as the Razorbacks defeated the Red Raiders 13-4 in a Southwest Conference baseball game.

Every Arkansas starter but one had two hits, with pitcher David Carroll getting tagged for Tech's loss. Arkansas' Scott Tabor took the win.

The Raiders jumped to a 1-0 lead in the third inning, but Arkansas' seven-run explosion in the fourth tucked away the contest. The Hogs added two more in the sixth and seventh innings, and also tallied a ninth-inning run.

Dave McClure, Todd Zacher and Kevin

McReynolds each blasted three hits to lead Arkansas' scoring attack.

Kenny Allbritton led all Red Raiders with three of nine Tech hits, including two doubles.

Tech dropped to 25-18 on the season and 5-11 in SWC play. Arkansas improved its mark to 25-15 and 11-8.

The win almost assures the Razorbacks a place in the post-season SWC tournament next month at the University of Texas in Austin.

Reds Blank Houston Again

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Dodger Stadium crackled with noise, Los Angeles fans hoping for some ninth-inning lightning.

Tim Lollar wasn't about to get burned, though.

"I tried to ignore the crowd," the San Diego Padres' young left-hander said of the crowd of 49,256. "It was between myself and the hitter. I just wanted to throw strikes."

After giving up an inning-opening single to Ken Landreaux and a sacrifice bunt by Dusty Baker in the ninth, Lollar retired Steve Garvey and Ron Cey on harmless fly balls to record his first National League save by preserving a 6-5 victory over the Dodgers.

Reds 3, Astros 0

Frank Pastore allowed only four hits, two of them infield singles, and singled home a run to lead Cincinnati past slumping Houston. Pastore struck out five and didn't, walk a batter and retired the last 11 hitters to hand the Astros their third straight defeat and 11th loss in 14 games this year.

Braves 7, Giants 1

Bruce Benedict's RBI single in the seventh broke a 1-1 tie and triggered Atlanta over San Francisco. The Braves wrapped up the game with a five-run ninth keyed by RBI singles by Biff Pocoroba and Jerry Royster.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the streaking Braves and the loss was the fifth in six games for the slumping Giants, who have scored only five runs in their last four games.

Phillies 6, Cubs 4
Mike Schmidt's two-run homer capped a four-run fifth inning and led Philadelphia over Chicago. The rally benefited left-hander Steve Carlton, who won his third game in three starts despite yielding 12 hits in seven innings.

Morgan Is Leader At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gil Morgan had one small observation after his spectacular closing burst had given him a one-stroke lead at the halfway point of the $350,000 USF&G New Orleans Open Golf Tournament.

"It's still a wide-open tournament," Morgan said Friday.

And that was a massive understatement.

A total of 18 men were locked within three shots of the top with 36 holes to go and eight more, including Tom Watson, more were another stroke back, still very much in contention.

Morgan, a non-practicing optometrist who is troubled by a stiff and ailing left wrist, pulled out of the pack with a closing string of four consecutive "3's," eagle-birdie-par-birdie. That finished off a 6-under-par 66 that gave him a 36-hole total of 134, 10 shots under par on the 7,080-yard Lakewood Country Club course that yielded some of the lowest scores of the PGA Tour season.

It took a score of 142, 2 under par, merely to qualify for the final two rounds.

Veteran Dave Eichelberger, a winner last week in the Tallahassee Open, shot a 67 that left him one off the pace at 135. He has yet to make a bogey in the tournament.

He was followed at 136 by former Masters champ Fuzzy Zoelle, Wayne Levi, Jay Haas, Scott Hoch, J.C. Snead, Dave Edwards, Keith Fergus, Barry Jaekel and Mike Reid.

Fergus had one string of three holes which he played eagle-birdie-ace, 3-3-1, on the way to a 67. Levi started the day with a bogey, but put 10 birdies behind it for a 63, the best round of the day. Edwards shot 65, Reid and Haas 66, Jaekel 67, Hoch, Zoeller and Snead 68.

The group at 137 and their second round scores were Hubert Green 67, DeWitt Weaver 71, Ron Streck 68, Greg Powers 68, Pat Lindsey 70, Fred Couple 66 and Rod Curl 67.

Watson, the current Masters titleholder and the defending champion here, had a 69 despite a triple bogey-7 when he hit one out of bounds and remained in contention at six under par, four shots back. Skip Dunaway, the first leader who went from a 64 to 74, also was in the group at 138.

Georgia Speedster In Drake Relays Spotlight

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Georgia speedster Mel Lattany, steering toward an historic victory at the 72nd Drake Relays, says he's motivated by memories of a hero.

Lattany spent a busy opening day at the Relays Friday, anchoring Georgia to a record in the 800-meter relay and the fastest qualifying time in the 400 relay. He also earned a chance for an unprecedented fourth straight victory in the finals of the 100-yard dash today.

Afterward, the personable sprinter explained what drove him.

"I came to Drake to pay respects to Jesse Owens," Lattany said. "He was very moving to me as a child. He's gone, but his memory still lives on.

"Anytime you think of track and field, you think of Jesse Owens."

Lattany treated a crowd of 16,100 to some exciting running Friday. His strong anchor carried the Bulldogs to a record 1:21.08 clocking in the 800 relay and he led all qualifiers for the 100 with a wind-aided time of 10.08 seconds.

The only other men's record Friday was by Iowa State in the 6,400-meter relay. The Cyclones' "foreign legion" of Kenyans Johnson Sirma, Yobes Ondieki and Richard Kaitany, and Bob Verbeek of Belgium won in 16:09.45 to easily beat Arkansas' 1980 record of 16:14.

'Lights are Going Out' in Brownsville, Texas

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — The lights are going out in this city.

It might be for a few minutes or several hours. It might not be tomorrow but probably sometime this month.

Sporadic blackouts and flickering lights have plagued merchants and residents for years. The city-owned electric utility says things are getting better but only gradually.

That optimistic forecast fails to satisfy some businessmen, who say they are forced to install emergency power supply units for security and to protect computer operations.

Complaints from the general public range from having to reset clocks to missing a favorite television show.

"It's still a problem and it hasn't been completely solved," said Carl Chilton, a certified public accountant and chairman of the six-member Public Utility Board appointed by city commissioners to run the water, sewer and electric systems.

The problem involves equipment that needs replacing and better interconnecting service with private companies for emergencies, said Robert Roundtree, the PUB's general manager, who is leaving June 1.

Roundtree's outspoken manner and self-described "unyielding" nature led to conflicts with board members and his resignation.

"It was a lousy system in 1977 when I came," he said, "and it's a little less lousy now. It's still lousy and it's going to be lousy forever unless the board makes decisions to rehabilitate the system."

Chilton says the board is dedicated to serving the community and points to bond issues sold to finance improvements. The PUB sold $34 million in bonds in 1978 and another $12.5 million last year. The board can issue bonds without an election.

The improvements will reduce power failures, which Roundtree says now occur "10 times more than they should."

But the improvements will not come fast enough for some customers.

Channel 23, a new television station with plans to begin broadcasting Aug. 1, told the PUB it wanted to be served by Central Power & Light, a Corpus Christi-based company.

Station stockholder Peter Dean said CP&L was a more reliable power source. Chilton and the PUB refused to disconnect its lines so the station cut the wires and CP&L hooked it to a nearby cable.

Chilton said the PUB will appeal the action to the state Public Utility Commission. CP&L officials say the station had a choice because of a grandfather clause allowing CP&L to serve customers within 200 feet of cables in place before 1975.

The whole incident, said Chilton, "didn't help our credibility."

A similar dispute was resolved in 1976, when the PUB agreed to let CP&L serve Union Carbide's large plant at the Port of Brownsville.

"We knew we could not have a plant of that magnitude with the PUB," said plant manager Bill McManus.

Other businesses don't have a choice.

Anthony's Department Store downtown gives employees flashlights in case of a blackout and plans to install an emergency lighting system during remodeling next month, said manager Rene Ramirez.

Grocer Sam Pate says he closes one of his stores because automatic doors will not work in a power failure. He installed a gasoline-powered generator atop his other Brownsville store.

"We have electronic registers that don't have a memory. They go down if the lights are out for any amount of time," said Pate.

The Brownsville Herald was forced to install a $30,000 backup battery to protect its new computer system against fluctuations in the electric current, said Publisher Doug Hardie.

The PUB also has suffered financial problems.

"We're in pretty good shape now," Chilton said. "Our financial position when I came on the board in 1980 probably left something to be desired."

In 1978, Moody's Investors

Service Inc. lowered the PUB's bond rating from "A" to "Baaa-1" based on an engineering study that cited deteriorated physical facilities, poor maintenance and failure to keep up with area growth.

Chilton said those problems have been remedied and he expects the bond rating to be increased.

Last year, Roundtree discovered 62 commercial customers had been underbilled almost $3 million over the past decade due to meter and computer problems. All but three accounts have been settled.

"There were not as many rate increases in the past as there should have been," Chilton said. "The PUB was just absorbing higher operating costs."

The city has a natural gas-operated power plant and buys half its power from Central Power & Light. The system's peak summer load is 116 megawatts. Options to purchase interests in nuclear and lignite plants are being considered, Chilton said.

Electric rates went up in February 2.5 percent. A residential bill for 760 kilowatts rose from $39.81 to $40.97. The board rejected a request from consumer advocacy groups to adopt "lifeline" rates aimed at reducing bills for low income customers while raising those for commercial and industrial customers.

An estimated 40 percent of PUB 22,300 customers are at or below the federal poverty line. "I think those people have to be helped but that's not the responsibility of the ratepayers," Roundtree said. "We don't have the staff or data to determine who would be qualified (for lower rates.)"

Both Roundtree and Chilton agree the system should remain publicly owned. Sale of the PUB has been debated for many years. The PUB turns over $400,000 in revenues annually to the city in addition to providing free service to city facilities and 330 local jobs, said Chilton.

"If we had an investor-owned utility, it would pay property taxes and a franchise fee but the city would not come out near as well," he said.

A word about pre-arrangements and pre-financing

The funeral serves a wide range of purposes, with religious, psychological and physical significances. There are many aspects and details to the meaningful funeral that are arranged with the assistance of the professional funeral director, usually at the time of need. However, some people prefer counseling prior to need.

We offer complete information on pre-arrangements and pre-financing, available without cost or obligation of any kind. Feel free to contact us at your convenience.

UTILITIES TOO HIGH?

Save On Winter Heating Bills! Save On Summer Cooling Bills!

Have you already added more attic insulation and still find that your utility bills are too high?

You can be more comfortable and save up to 67 1/2% on the cost of your ever-rising heating and cooling bills. Let us add a thermal blanket of cellulose fiber around your home, business structure or mobile home. You save wear and tear on your heating and air conditioning equipment as an added bonus.

We offer one day installation on most homes and including clean-up.

We blow 6 1/2 inches of insulation in attic and completely fill all exterior walls, from outside, above and below the firebreak, right over your present insulation. This is done through 3/4 inch holes in mortar joints for brick homes or 1 inch holes for wood or mobile-homes. We do fill the holes.

Cellulose Fiber Insulation Features:

- Life of structure guarantee — will not settle
- Fire retardant
- Moisture resistant
- Sound retardant
- Resists decay
- Resists rodents and insects
- Non-toxic
- Extends life of heating and AC systems
- Increases value of home
- Non-abrasive
- Non-corrosive

Look what some of our satisfied users have to say:

Before you re-insulated our walls and attic the best room temperature we could hope for on a hot day was 78 degrees. Now its nothing for our evaporative cooler to cool the house to 68 degrees.
Martin Urbanczyk
405 Ave. G
Hereford, Texas
Since having Full Home Insulation Co. reinsulate our home over the existing rock wool already in the walls and attic, our heating cost has been cut by a good 40 percent. Thanks for a job very well done in only one day.
James & Sandy Burrus
106 Ave. I
Hereford, Texas
In February of 1981 when the temperature got to 7 degrees below zero, our heater was turned completely off. The fireplace with a heatolator kept the house at 68 degrees.
Alton Hartley
510 Sycamore
Hereford, Texas
In winters before Full Home Insulation Co. reinsulated my mobile home, the heater ran all of the time and still couldn't warm it. Now in winter, it is very comfortable and with the heater cut off at least 60 percent of the time.
Denise Kelley
713 13th St.
Hereford, Texas

...and, read what the NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC'S Special report on energy has to say about the need for proper insulation..

The Princeton group estimates that a commercial house-doctor visit and quick-fix would cost from $200 to $400. Even such a summary treatment should lower heating bills by 15 to 20 percent, Dutt estimates.

A full-fledged retrofit by a contractor would run from $1,500 to $3,000, but could save half a home's yearly heating costs. This investment, they say, would give a much better return than the interest paid on savings accounts."

HEALTH FAIR SCHEDULED

Thirty-two health related agencies will have educational booths in this year's annual Health Fair scheduled Tuesday, April 28 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center.

Purpose of the fair is "to acquaint as many residents as possible with the health services that are available in the area," according to Louise Packard, chairman of the fair.

This year's event is sponsored by Deaf Smith County Family Living Committee of which Mrs. Packard is chairman and the County Agricultural Extension Service.

Additional Health Fair committees include Publicity, Janet Coleman; Registration, Doris Morgan; Booth, Cindy Norvell; and Evaluation, Tillie Miller.

Free screenings will be given throughout the day by the Texas Department of Health, Kidney Foundation, American Heart Association, Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing, Planned Parenthood, South Plains Health Providers and Goebel Hearing Aids.

These organizations will be screening diabetes, blood pressure, TB, urinalysis, hematocrits and hearing.

Betty Henson, Red Cross executive secretary, reported that Red Cross will be doing first aid, water safety and CPR demonstrations each hour while Larrymore Dance Studio will be doing a Jazzercise routine throughout the day.

Texas Tech University Health Science Center at Amarillo and West Texas State University School of Nursing will be conducting stress tests.

Additional agencies participating in the Health Fair are as follows:

Big Brothers-Big Sisters, American Cancer Society, Department of Human Resources, Eye Bank (Lions Club), Hereford Family Services Center, Hereford Camp Fire Council, Panhandle Home Health Agency, High Plains Epilepsy Association, three local TOPS Chapters and Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Other agencies participating in the annual event are Hereford Satellite Work Training Center, Deaf Smith County Library, Lorene Johnson Company, Texas Society of Prevent Blindness, CowBelles, Deaf Smith County Hospital with John Thames, Pharmacist, Arrowhead Mills, Inc. Panhandle Chapter National Multiple Sclerosis Society and Texas Rehabilitation Commission.

John Thames, pharmacist with Deaf Smith General Hospital will be on hand during the Health Fair to answer any questions about medications.

Grace Covington and Helen Brown, members of the Deaf Smith General Hospital Auxiliary will be in charge of registration during the day. Extension Homemakers club members will be hostesses.

Free transportation will be provided by Hereford Senior Citizens. "Call their office at 364-5681 for further information," stated Mrs. Packard.

The fair is being coordinated through the local county extension office, located on the third floor of the Courthouse. Any questions or further information one can contact Louise Walker, County Extension Agent at 364-3573.

Education programs conducted by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

The American Heart Association will have a booth in the annual Health Fair Tuesday, April 28 in the Community Center at which Rosalia Gilbreath, RN will be taking blood pressure. Cookbooks, balloons for the children and AHA literature will also be available at the health related booth. Chairman of the booth is Bessie Story, right. She is having her blood pressure checked by Mrs. Gilbreath prior to the fair.

Deaf Smith County Family Living Committee with the aid of the County Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring this year's Health Fair. Members of the family living committee have been planning and preparing for the health fair scheduled Tuesday, April 28 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Community Center.

Members of the committee are, left to right, Louise Packard, chairman of health fair and committee; Louise Walker, extension agent; Janet Coleman, publicity; Cindy Norvell, chairman of booths; and Jewel Hargrave, a representative of the extension clubs which will be hostesses during the fair.

South Plains Health Providers located in the Old Catholic Church at the Labor Camp will have a booth displayed in the Health Fair Tuesday, April 28 at the Community Center. Minerva Acevedo, LVN, will be located at the booth to check weight, height and hematocrits. Above Ms. Acevedo is checking Rusty Coleman, son of Janet Coleman for hematocrits. The fair will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, free to the public.

HEREFORD BRAND

Sunday, April 26, 1981—Page 1B

Deaf Smith County Family Living Committee and the County Agricultural Extension Service will sponsor the annual Health Fair scheduled for Tuesday, April 28 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center. Thirty-two health related agencies will have educational booths set-up at the fair. John Thames, left, pharmacist for Deaf Smith General Hospital will be on hand to answer any questions concerning medications during the fair. Above he is answering questions Penny Cribbs, county agent, has concerning her medication.

Brand Photos by Denise Smith

A Urinalysis screening project designed to detect kidney disease among people, will be one among the 32 health related booths to be displayed in this year's Health Fair Tuesday, April 28 in the Community Center. The program, sponsored by the National Kidney Foundation of West Texas, is to detect kidney disease early and to distribute educational materials and information throughout the area. Marian Yosten, RN, Donna Brockman and Clara Reinart will be located at the booth to assist with the screening. Above preparing information and their display are Mrs. Yosten, left, and Mrs. Brockman.

Class of 1940 Plans Reunion

The Hereford High School graduating class of 1941 has planned a reunion for May 30 which will include a reception, dinner and dance.

To kick off the 40th anniversary of the class a reception will be held at the Community Center from 2-5 p.m. for informal greeting and visiting.

A catered dinner by the Caison House will begin at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. The dinner will be dutch treat.

The dance, "Denim and Diamonds," will begin at 9 p.m. with live musical entertainment planned.

Several local members of the class have contacted all classmates with the exception of Lois Martin. Anyone who has information about her address is asked to contact a member of the group including Donald Dee Henslee, J.P. Jones, Baxter London, Margaret Ohlig, Zinser, Vesta Mae Landers Nunley, Margaret Higgins London, Jeanne France Caison and Troyce Stambaugh Hanna.

Members of the classes of 1940 and 1942 who still live in the area have also been invited to attend the festivities.

All classmates are encouraged to bring photographs or keepsakes to "share and reminisce about the good times."

Each one attending is asked to contribute $10 to help defray expenses.

Miss Barkley, Duncan To Exchange Vows

Former Hereford resident, Keith Duncan will marry Merrianna Barkley, a native of Royce City, Tex., on Friday, May 15 in Palestine. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Duncan of Hereford.

The couple are presently attending College Station majoring in Range Management. Duncan will receive his Ph.D. in August of this year and the bride-elect will receive her bachelor's degree in July of this year.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1970 Hereford graduate. The bride-elect is a 1977 graduate of Royce City High School.

After their marriage, the couple plan to reside at College Station.

Consumer Specialist To Present Program

Joy Gibson, consumer information specialist for Energas Company, Amarillo, will be doing a program on "Food—Don't Let It Go To Waist" on Wednesday, May 6 at the Flame Room, Energas, 301 W. 3rd. This is the program originally scheduled for April 9.

The program, sponsored by the Deaf Smith Family Living Committee of County Extension Service, will be presented at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. on May 6.

Topics of discussion will include: stretching the food dollar—not the waistline; following a balanced diet easily; realizing caloric and nutritional values of food; identification of the five food groups; caloric consumption versus activity level; facts about sugar, fat, sodium and fiber; what is the U.S. RDA and what does it mean to you; and how to include fast foods in your diet and be nutritionally balanced.

Food samples and recipes will be included with door prizes. The program is free of charge and open to the public.

Title VII To Meet Tuesday

Parents whose children are in a Title VII bilingual education program, grades 4-6, will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the High School cafeteria.

The program will be presented by two E.S.O.L. teachers, Mrs. Sara Aguilar and Mrs. Louisa Boyce of West Central.

Everyone interested in bilingual education is invited to attend this meeting.

May Wedding Set

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Kemp, former Hereford residents now of Coleman, announce the engagement of their daughter, D'Ann Rene' Kemp to Rickey Dwaine. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tisdale of Coleman. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. H.B. Whittington of Hereford and the late H.B. Whittington and the late Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Kemp. The couple plan to exchange wedding vows May 23 in the First United Methodist Church in Coleman. The couple are both 1978 graduates of Coleman High School and are students at Abilene Christian University. The bride-elect is a senior Psychology major and the prospective bridegroom, also a senior, is majoring in Agri-Business.

Don't add salt or sugar to your infant's baby foods, says Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

These foods contain enough salt and sugar without adding extra amounts, she adds.

At Wits End By ERMA BOMBECK

I think that I shall never see,
A wall as it was meant to be,
And if my wife with nails does not withdraw,
I'll never see a wall at all.

The meter is Joyce Kilmer. The sentiments belong to every husband who signed a marriage certificate, but if you're going to frame it, insists it be hung from a doorknob.

I have no idea why men feel no maternal about walls, but a small nail in it constitutes a violation second only to the rape of their champion Yorkshire by a Baskin-Robbins-96-flavored stray.

My husband is paranoid about nails in the wall. To him, the most beautiful room he ever saw in his life was a recovery room. He couldn't stop talking about it. "Do you know there wasn't one nail hole in the entire wall?" he said. "You must get the name of their decorator."

My father is the same way. If someone gave him the Mona Lisa, he'd prop it up on the music rack of the piano until "you're sure you want to display it permanently."

I can always tell how secure a marriage is by the number of pictures hanging on the wall. If the walls are barren, the commitment to one another is fragile. It is only a matter of time before the wife appears one day with hammer in hand and announces, "Either you hang this picture or I hang it." At that point she will either adjust to what she has married or turn and run.

Men measure to hang a picture as if they are guiding a kidney stone through a birth canal. They do this because they want you to know at the beginning that the wall is crooked and from then on in, nothing is their fault.

They measure from side to side, top to bottom, the four corners, the wire tension, the distance from eyelet to eyelet, then they will balance the picture against the wall, covering it with their entire body, and ask you to tell them if it looks even. Say yes. Then, they will jiggle the picture so it will make a mark on the wall. At this point, you reach your hand behind it, make a faint X with a pencil and they are ready to drill.

Newspapers are scattered to catch the "wall droppings" and a final check is made. The commitment made, they proceed to drill with the caution of a diamond cutter. They miss the stud by three inches.

My husband once said, "We've been through a lot together and I know things get tense, but just remember, I care deeply for you and want your respect."

I wish he'd said that to me instead of the wall.

Executive speedup

Speedreaders range from Jimmy Carter to Joe Namath. Lately, more companies have set up speed-reading courses for their executives. One reason: while executives spend at least one-third of their work days reading, their rate of speed is about 200-250 words a minute, no higher than the national average and less than the college level.

New MDA Poster Child Announced

Stephen Brown, a bright and outgoing 8 year old from Amarillo, has been named Poster Child for the Panhandle Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), it was announced today by Gene Rodgers, Chapter President. "As the Panhandle Chapter's Poster Child," Mrs. Rodgers said, "Stephen will serve as the Association's junior goodwill ambassador in the area, inspiring volunteers in the Association's year-round educational and fund-raising drives. He will also represent MDA on radio and television programs and take part in a number of the Chapter's special events."

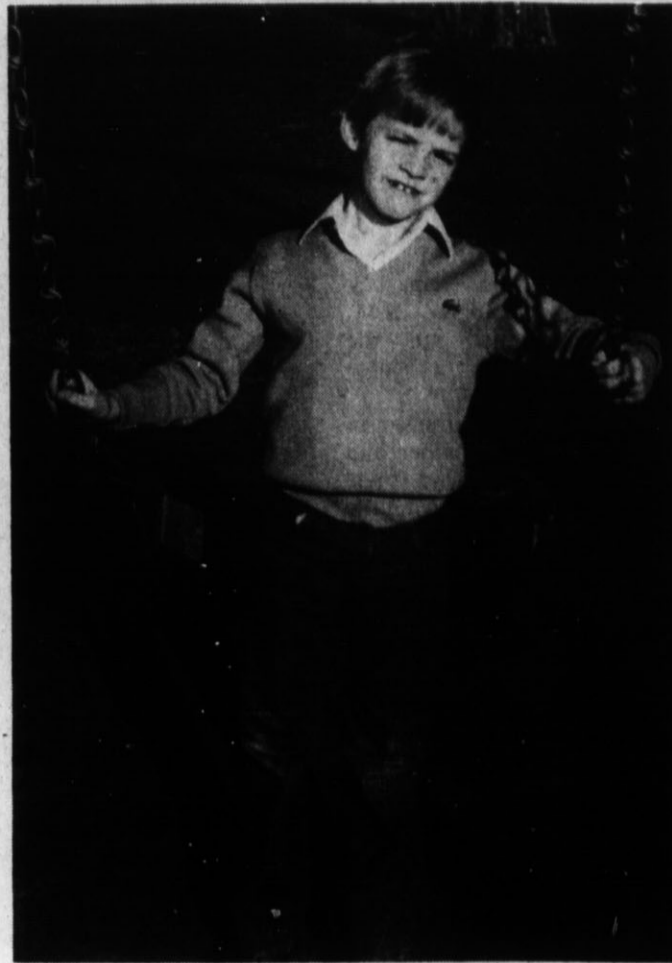

Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brown of Amarillo. His condition was diagnosed as Duchenne Dystrophy at the age of 2. Duchenne is one of the 40 muscle diseases included in the MDA research and patient care programs. "Although now unable to run as others his age do, Stephen is a very independent youngster," Mrs. Rodgers said. MDA supports a comprehensive research program, including 10 university-based research-clinical centers in the U.S. and England. In addition, the Association funds some 800 individual research projects in the U.S. and abroad. While supporting this intensive research projects in the U.S. and abroad. While supporting this intensive search for the causes and cures for muscle diseases, MDA maintains a nationwide network of 230 clinics that provide diagnostic and medical services free of charge. Through its chapter affiliates, MDA also provides a wide variety of other patient services, including orthopedic aids, transportation, and recreational activities.

The heaviest users of print media - books, magazines, newspapers - make the least overall use of television, a recent survey showed, according to Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

Discovery Center Open to Public

Earth, the blue planet, covered by clouds and seas, presents itself as an impressive body to anyone viewing it from a vantage point in space.

This rather small planet carries as its passengers all the life known to exist in the entire solar system. Earth alone has the requirements and balances necessary to the living organisms which inhabit our home. But earth hasn't always been like this, nor will it always be.

To understand better this celestial body on which we travel through space we need to go back to the beginning, as scientists understand the beginning, take a look at the world then and at its changes as it evolved into its present status.

Visitors to the Don Harrington Discovery Center planetarium in Amarillo will be able to take this journey through time and space in comfort as planetarium passengers on weekend excursions scheduled Saturday evenings at eight and Sunday afternoons at three. Doors open an hour before show time for visitors to see the many interesting health and science exhibits on display. Special group showings can be arranged. THE BLUE PLANET is scheduled through the month of May.

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Robert Huckert of Hereford and Lawrence Kennedy of San Angelo announce the engagement of their daughter, Drenda Sue Kennedy to Coy DeLynn Mason. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Tindol of Summerfield. The couple plan to exchange wedding vows May 17 in Frio Baptist Church. The bride-elect is a 1980 Hereford High School graduate. She is presently a relief supervisor at K-Mart in San Angelo. The prospective bridegroom is a 1980 graduate of Hereford High School. He is currently a student at Oklahoma State Tech majoring in diesel and heavy equipment.

Local Couple to Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Tucker are honoring the couple on Sunday, April 26 commemorating their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

The reception, scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. will be held in the Hereford Country Club, lasting until 5:30 p.m. C.M. Tucker and Travis Smith were married April 26, 1931 in Lovington, N.M., after an 18 mile train trip they returned to Hobbs, N.M. where they had met the previous year for a honeymoon.

In 1930 Tucker moved to Hobbs as a rig builder and Mrs. Tucker moved there with her family following the oil boom. Shortly after his arrival in Hobbs, Tucker was employed by Midwest Oil Co. and remained with the same company, whose name changed from Midwest to Standolind, to Pan American then finally to Amoco, until his retirement in 1969.

They watched the city of Hobbs grow from the original oil booming tent city to the thriving oil and ranching city of today.

In 1977 the couple moved to Hereford to be near their children. The couple reside at 138 Ranger. All five of their children were born and raised in Hobbs.

The couple's children are Valmeta Wisdom of Odessa, Arvella Lauderback of Hereford, Willetta Ison of Lockney, Carroll Tucker of Friona and Travis D. Tucker of Abilene. The couple has 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. They are members of Central Church of Christ.

The couple has invited all friends and relatives to attend the celebration.

MR. AND Mrs. C.M. TUCKER
...to be honored during reception

Couple to Wed

Florince Zepeda of Hereford announce the engagement of Mary Rose Zepeda to Martin Gavina. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gavina also of Hereford. The couple will be married May 30 at the Community Center. Miss Zepeda is a junior at Hereford High School. She is presently employed by the Hereford Day Care Center. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Hereford High School and is employed by Tagco Industries.

L'Allegra Study Club Votes To Have Page in County Book

L'Allegra Study Club met in the board room of Deaf Smith General Hospital with the reading of a letter from the Historical Society inviting the club to be a part of the upcoming book on Deaf Smith County. The letter was read by Kathy Allison.

Members voted and decided to take a half page in the history book. Members will have their picture taken at the next meeting to be placed in the book.

Treasurer Susie Manschreck reported on the club's recent ballot. A check for $1,250.25 has been given to the Satellite Training Work Center from proceeds made on the ballot. A report on the recent plant sale showed the club raising $705.95. A finance committee was asked to meet and bring recommendations to the club as to where they might donate the plant sale money.

Mrs. Allison informed club members that this was the year for the club to nominate an Outstanding L'Allegran. At the next scheduled meeting members will be briefed on how to go about selecting "Outstanding L'Allegran."

A nominating committee was elected to help with nominating new officers. Members to serve on that committee are Naomie Schroeter, Selsey Metz, Betty Martin and Kathy Allison, president.

A discussion on the recent fire at Girlstown ended with the calling committee being asked to phone members. Each member is suppose to bring at least a new pair of panties to the next meeting. The meeting was adjourned followed by Jim Bullard, hospital administrator, Carolyn Andrews, OJ supervisor and Shawn Poland, respiratory therapist, being introduced to L'Allegra.

An informative tour of the OB facilities was given to those members present. L'Allegra received a thank you from Bullard and Poland for the fetal respiratory monitor. They demonstrated how the fetal respirator worked.

Punch and cookies were served by Charlotte Clark, dietician for the hospital. Additional members present were Lynne Carille, Carmen Flood, Kitty Gault, Rosie Griffin, Susan Perrin and Beverly Ward.

A name-brand product does not ensure a quality product, reminds Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

Quality is usually determined by the durability of a product and its function rather than form, she adds.

Red Cross Update

Water Safety Classes Set

By BETTY HENSON
Executive Secretary

The Water Safety Committee headed by Elaine Taylor set the dates for the upcoming Water Safety classes. The Advanced Lifesaving class will begin May 16. The time has not been set. Anyone interested in taking this class is asked to call the Red Cross office - 364-3761, for further details. The class will be held at the City Pool.

The first group of classes will begin June 8, Monday, at the City Pool. Registration for that session will be held Friday, June 5 at the City Pool. Other sessions will be held June 29 through July 10, and July 20 through July 31. A class for Aides will be held beginning May 16. Aides must be 14 years old or had previous experience. Young persons interested in helping with classes as an aide should call the office for information about this class. A class in Disaster Nursing, Vital Signs Instructor and Parenting Instructor will be held June 19 and 20. Bob Berge, Nursing Specialist from Dallas will be teaching these classes. Anyone interested in taking these classes should contact the office.

With the swimming and boating season here, drownings are already in the news. One of the goals of the Red Cross is to help equip an individual with skills and knowledge that contribute to safety and enjoyment while in, on, or around water. These classes average 10 hours in length. Adapted Aquatics programs are also available for physically and mentally disabled individuals. The Advanced Lifesaving course is a minimum of 21 hours in length. The prerequisites for enrollment are a minimum age of 15 years and successful completion of the preliminary skills test. Adult classes will be offered as well as classes for children.

Faced with a "lemon," consumers tend to replace rather than complain, says Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

Studies show that consumers would rather spend money to replace a faulty item than invest time dealing with manufacturers, government agencies or lawyers, she says.

Wives are quicker to give up on a product than their husbands, but they're also more inclined to register a complaint about the product, says Mrs. Piernot, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Spring Dinner Party Held by Calliopian

Calliopian club met in the home of Mrs. Claudia McBrayer recently for their spring dinner party. The social committee served a dinner using spring colors and flower for decoration. After the dinner President, Mary Fraser called the meeting to order for a brief business session. Members were reminded to have their pictures taken for the Deaf Smith History book, and Mrs. Fraser discussed the coming dinner which the club is to serve to the members of the Roger Wagner Chorale and the Concert board members. The program consisted of the life resumes of two members. Kay McWhorter told how she grew up in Haskell with her four brothers, attended school in Haskell then went to North Texas Teachers College. She taught school and attended summer school until she graduated then became a home demonstration agent in Spur, Texas where she met her future husband, D.C. McWhorter. Soon after their marriage he went into service. He was sent overseas when their first child was six weeks old and stayed for 2½ years. When he came home they moved to Hereford where they have resided since. Faye Holt was born and reared in Oklahoma. She attended the small schools there until she graduated from high school. While in high school she starred in basketball and drama. When she started to college she thought she would major in drama, but after a brief try at it she decided against it. She went on preparing to teach. At a pie supper she met a dashing young man who was principal of a school nearby.

A romance soon sprang up, and when she had finished her junior year of college this young man offered her a job in his school. She gladly accepted, and soon she became his wife. She and Earl continued their careers of teaching and farming until they moved to Hereford where Earl expanded his farming enterprises and she taught school in Hereford and Dimmitt until her retirement. Members present were Mmes. Lee Cave, Irene Con-away, Zella Mae Crump, Audine Dettman, Mary Fraser, Peggy Furr, Jane Gulley, Virginia Holmes, Faye Holt, Mary Sue Hill, Sue James, Elizabeth McDowell, Kay McWhorter, Marjorie Mims, Wilma Nobles, Kathlee Palmer, Nancy Stewart, and guest Mrs. Buddy McBrayer.

The next meeting will be a dinner at Mrs. Kathlee Palmer's home, May 14.

Bluebirds Set Date Of Council

The Backyard Bluebirds held a meeting Thursday to practice their dances for the Grand Council May 8 at 7 p.m. The girls are planning to end the year with a slumber party May 1 at the Campfire Lodge. They have planned meals, games and a ceremonial to be held after breakfast the following day. Applications for Camp Lani Wa Day, June 1-5, were given to the girls. Candy sales camperships may be applied to this day camp. The girls were also reminded of upcoming practice dates for the Grand Council at the Bull Barn. Leader Ann Cummings served refreshments and the meeting ended with a Friendship Circle and a Bluebird Wish.

Alpha Iota Mu Chapter Holds Sorority Rituals

Pledge Rituals

Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held their annual "rituals" Thursday evening at the Hereford Community Center.

Those girls taking the pledge ritual were from left, Michelle Brisendine, Shirley Robison, Tonya Gilliam and Kay Williams.

Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Thursday evening at the Community Center for rituals and a short business meeting.

Those participating in the rituals were Michelle Brisendine, Shirley Robison, Tonya Gilliam and Kay Williams taking pledge rituals; Debbie Donaldson, ritual of jewels; Xi Epsilon alpha exemplars progressing to preceptor chapter Alpha Alpha, Jeannie Tucker, Bonnie Decker, Jo Ann Richburg, Toni Jones, Karren Ruland, Sandy Owley and Pam Fogo.

During the business session members decided to sale tickets for a piece of stain glass at 50 cents a ticket. The stain glass will be made by the club members and the drawing will be held May 21. This is the chapters service project.

Members also discussed the upcoming Chamber Singers concert scheduled for May 17. Roberta McNeese and Susie White will be responsible for collecting money from the tickets. All Beta Sigma Phi Sororities will be selling tickets to the concert.

The next meeting was scheduled for May 7 at 7:30 p.m. beginning with a tour of the County Museum followed by a business meeting in the First National Bank.

Hostesses for this meeting will be Mardale Robinson and Terri Laing.

Founders Day was discussed and members urged to attend on Thursday, April 30 at the Country Club beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Members present were Susan Shaw, Trisha Britten, Connie Matthews, Roberta McNeese, Sharon Bodner, Mary Brinkman, Patsy Douglas, Charla Edwards, Donna Grady, Terri Laing, Glenda Nigh, Janie Street, Ginger Wallace, Debbie Donaldson, Tonya Gilliam, Michelle Brisendine, Shirley Robinson and Kay Williams.

Plastic Bottles Needed For Camp Fire Day Camp

The Hereford Camp Fire Lodge is asking for plastic coco-cola, shasta or litter bottles with black bottoms and small bleach, downy or detergent bottles for Camp Fire Day Camp.

The plastic bottles will be used to make terriams and the detergent bottles will be used to make bird feeders, according to Cindy Norvell.

Anyone having the items can drop them by the lodge or call the lodge and someone will come to the house to pick the items up.

Planning Fellowship Day

"The Spirit of the Lord Frees...and Unites" is the theme for May Fellowship Day, which will be celebrated on Friday, May 1 by Church Women United in Hereford with a worship service and program at First Baptist Fellowship

May Fellowship Day Celebration Slated

"The Spirit of the Lord Frees...and Unites" is the theme for May Fellowship Day which will be celebrated on Friday, May 1 by the Church Women United in Hereford. A worship service and program in the First Baptist Fellowship Hall will be held in conjunction with the celebration.

The history of Church Women United will be reviewed by Mrs. Mary Fraser on the local level and by Mrs. Eloise McDougal on the national movement. 1981 marks the 40th birthday of Church Women witness to their faith and unity in Jesus Christ through prayer, study, celebration and action.

Communities. Celebrated each year on the first Friday in May, May Fellowship Day emphasizes the potential for creative and healing relationships in every community.

share in the history and hopes of CWU as we pray together and develop peace building relationships so necessary for healthy communities," urges Mrs. Troyce Hanna, chairman for May Fellowship Day.

A covered dish luncheon at 12 noon Friday will precede the celebration. A free nursery will be provided and mothers are asked to bring sack lunches for their children.

The first May Fellowship Day celebration was held in 1933 when "Dedication Day" brought together church women in their own com-

ARE YOU A GOOD NEIGHBOR?

One day an expert on Moses' laws came to test Jesus' orthodoxy by asking Him this question: "Teacher, what does a man need to do to live forever in heaven?"
Jesus replied, "What does Moses' law say about it?"
It says, he replied, 'that you must love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind. And you must love your neighbor just as much as you love yourself.'
"Right!" Jesus told him. "Do this and you shall live!"

The man wanted to justify his lack of love for some kinds of people, so he asked, "Which neighbors?"
Jesus replied with an illustration: "A Jew going on a trip from Jerusalem to Jericho was attacked by bandits. They stripped him of his clothes and money and beat him up and left him lying half dead beside the road. By chance a Jewish priest came along; and when he saw the man lying there, he crossed to the other side of the road and passed him by. A Jewish Temple-assistant did the same thing; he, too, left him lying there.
"But a despised Samaritan came along, and when he saw him, he felt deep pity. Keeling beside him the Samaritan soothed his wounds with medicine and bandaged them. Then he put the man on his donkey and walked along beside him till they came to an inn, where he nursed him through the night.
"The next day he handed the innkeeper two twenty-dollar bills and told him to take care of the man. 'If his bill runs higher than that,' he said, 'I'll pay the difference the next time I am here.'
"Now which of these three would you say was a neighbor to the bandits' victim?"
The man replied, "The one who showed him some pity." Then Jesus said, "Yes, now go and do the same."

Ann Landers

Unreachable Parents

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this for those parents with the "unreachable, mixed-up always-in-trouble teenager." I know where they are coming from. My husband and I have been there, and there is no hell like it.

We, too, were desperate and without hope. Our son was a bum, in debt, stealing from us, on drugs, breaking up the furniture, cursing and hitting us. We were beside ourselves with anxiety and fear. We tried everything to please him and nothing worked. The nicer we were, the worse he got.

Finally, we called the police. They gave us the phone number of an organization called "TOUGHLOVE." From that day on we became members of a community network of parents who are successfully coping with the unbelievable behavior that their kids are dishing out.

Before we came to TOUGHLOVE we were ashamed and felt weak and guilty because we couldn't stand up to our son. We thought nobody in our community had failed so miserably as parents. Then we met other members of TOUGHLOVE, and knew we were no longer helpless. We had the support of other parents, the police, the schools, the courts and the rehabilitation facilities. We didn't have to throw our son out, nor did we have to continue to take his abuse. We laid down a whole new set of rules and gave him a choice. He chose to STAY.

I'm enclosing a little pamphlet that tells you more about TOUGHLOVE. Please, Ann, share it with your readers. IT is the greatest thing that could have happened to us, and we want to spread the word. Thanks for your help.—Forever Grateful In Bucks County, Pa.

DEAR FOREVER: It is I who am grateful. Bless you for sharing. Here are some facts for those who need them.

TOUGHLOVE is a program to help parents who are troubled by their teenagers' behavior in school, within the family, their involvement with drugs, alcohol and the law.

TOUGHLOVE asks you to choose which road you will travel. Will it be confrontation, firm guidelines and mutual respect—or excuses, denial, helplessness, indulgence and bribery?

TOUGHLOVE teaches you to face the crisis, take a stand, demand cooperation and meet challenges. TOUGHLOVE will help you develop new strengths so you can give your young person a sense of direction and support.

Phyllis and David York, the founders of TOUGHLOVE, say: "We know how helpless you feel when your kid is in trouble. You are not alone. Many parents in your community are having similar problems and also feel isolated, guilty and ashamed."

"We realize it is difficult for you to reach out at a time like this, but we have seen the lives of many who join a TOUGHLOVE parent support group change dramatically. Take a risk and come to a parent group so you can judge for yourself.

"Write to TOUGHLOVE, Community Service Foundation, P.O. Box 70, Sellersville, Pa. 18960, or phone (215) 766-8022. We are here to help you."

Coke Party Set Today

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Miss Hereford Pageant Steering committee convened recently to prepare for today's Coke Party for those girls and their mothers interested in participating in the Miss Hereford Pageant. The coke party will be held at the First National Bank Community Room. Due to the fact that no Miss Teen Hereford will be held this year, all girls who are sophomores, juniors and seniors during the school year 1980-81 are eligible for the Miss Hereford Pageant. Sophomores are to be at the bank at 2 p.m., juniors at 3 p.m., and seniors at 4 p.m. Above steering committee members are, left to right, Shirley Wilson, Donna Jones, Betty Gilbert, Carolyn Hays and Betty Lady. Not pictured is Janice Faulkner.

'Tomato Sea Soup' for Spring Fever

COLLEGE STATION — Spring makes home chefs think of salads, cold plates and soups — "and Tomato Sea Soup" can make your menu as bright and fresh as spring. It's economical, nutritious and definitely TASTY! says Annette Reddell Hegen, a seafood consumer education specialist.

In fact, this soup has all the qualities of a top-notch meal, she adds.

Mrs. Hegen is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For this exquisitely perky dish, use fresh fish fillets from the Texas Gulf Coast, she suggests.

It's important to add the fish exactly when the recipe below says to, she cautions. Because fish cooks so quickly, be sure to cook the other ingredients first to make certain they will be done and the flavors will be blended before you add the fish. Then add the fish and cook until it turns from a translucent look to opaque or milky white.

Tomato Sea Soup
1 pound fish fillets, fresh or frozen

1/4 cup diced bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion

Choose belts for warm or cool comfort — tight belts around the waist trap and hold body heat, while small or loose-fitting belts are cooler, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

Ms. Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

1/2 cup chopped celery
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
1-3 cup uncooked rice (not instant)

2 cups tomato juice chopped parsley
Skin fillets and cut into one-inch pieces.

Fry bacon until crisp. Add onion and celery. Cook until tender and slightly brown.

Add two cups boiling water, seasonings and rice. Cook for 10 minutes.

Add fish and cook 10 minutes longer or until rice and fish are tender.

Add tomato juice and heat.

Serve immediately with chopped parsley over the top. Makes six servings with about 180 calories per serving.

Sewing Denim For Sports Fashions

COLLEGE STATION — Denim, a "popular" in sports fabrics, has special characteristics and sewing requirements, advises Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

Ms. Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Denim has body, it is a firm twill weave, and it tailors beautifully. In selecting a pattern for denim, choose one that has few curves and no extreme bias," the specialist says.

In cutting denim, use the "with nap" layout to make sure all pattern pieces are going in the same direction. When pattern pieces are cut from a double thickness of fabric, always fold the fabric lengthwise, she advises.

When sewing denim, use cotton or cotton-polyester thread of a size that is suitable for the fabric weight.

In finishing denim seams, remember that it ravel more than any other sports fabrics, so it does require a seam finish. Which kind depends on the type of garment being constructed.

For a tailored look, use welt or flat-felled seams. These will eliminate bulk, and they'll add an interesting detail to the seams. Zigzag or edge stitch the seam edges. Seams of an unlined jacket may be bound by encasing the edge of each seam allowance with doublefold bias tape and then edge stitching.

"IT'S A BIG JOB . . ."

Slowing down the rising costs of anything these days. Even your electricity.

You've got someone working on it for you in the Southwest. Southwestern Public Service is using Wyoming coal to make electricity in its new power plants. Because some of the old plants run on fuel that just plain costs too much.

Electricity could cost a lot more than it does. But thank goodness it doesn't — because of coal.

Receiving Buckles

Tamara Myers of Hereford, Texas, won the Limousin Championship in Texas Club Calf Association competition this year. Tamara exhibited the Reserve Champion Steer at the Houston Livestock Show on her way to becoming Limousin Champion. Tamara is seen with Cherie Rash of the Texas Club Calf Association.

Randy Vogel of Hereford, Texas, accepts the Championship Buckle for accumulating more points in the Chianina Breed Division than any other TCCA exhibitor during the 1980-81 Show Circuit. Randy won three TCCA Buckles this year, accumulating one for the Champion Prospect Steer at the Garretson Show, the Grand Champion Steer at the Houston Livestock Show and then winning the Breed Division Buckle.

For Most Points

TCCA Recognizes Myers, Vogel

Two young people from Hereford, Texas, were big winners in this year's Texas Club Calf Association competition, as well as being winners at the Houston Livestock Show. Tamara Myers and Randy Vogel both won belt buckles for accumulating more points in the Limousin and Chianina steer division than any other exhibitor during the 1980-81 show circuit.

The Texas Club Calf Association (TCCA) is a non-profit organization designed to promote the exhibition of steers throughout the state. The TCCA awards gold and silver trophy belt buckles to TCCA members who have accumulated the greatest number of points in each of 14 different breed divisions at TCCA-sanctioned shows. Sanctioned shows include the State Fair of Texas, the Southwestern Livestock Exposition in Fort Worth, the San Antonio Livestock Show, and the Houston Livestock Show, as well as sanctioned Prospect Shows throughout the state.

Randy grabbed the lead in the Chianina Division at the first Sanctioned Show last August and held on to it the entire way. Along the way, he also won three TCCA belt buckles for exhibiting the Grand Champion Steer at TCCA shows.

Tamara fought off a tough contender in Susan Holcomb of Stanton, Texas, to win her buckle, but the breed division championship at Houston put her over the top in Limousin points to win the prize.

"Both Tamara and Randy were charter members of the TCCA last year," stated TCCA representative Cherie Rash. "They are both very deserving young people, as well as being tough competitors. We are very proud to have them among our champions for 1980-81."

Anyone interested in further information about the Texas Club Calf Association may write Mrs. Rash at P.O. Box 2465, Texas City, Texas 77590.

Texas Farmers Want Minor Changes

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas farmers, generally an independent, free-thinking group, feel the current government farm program is good enough for them although they would like to see a few minor changes.

This was the general assessment of farmer and rancher attitudes based on a recent survey by Texas Agricultural Extension Service economists Dr. Ron D. Knutson, Dr. William E. Black, and Dr. Vance Young.

With the 1977 Farm Bill due to expire at the end of this year, the economists polled a sample of Texas farmers and ranchers to find out what they would like to see in new farm legislation.

"Most (49 percent of the respondents) felt that Congress should keep the present policy framework and make only minor changes in such areas as target prices, loan rates and reserves," note the economists. "Another 23 percent favored elimination of all government price and income supports, including reserves. Seventeen percent favored developing totally new legislation while 11 percent had no opinion."

Only 27 percent of the Texas farmers and ranchers responding to the survey said that they agreed with Secretary of Agriculture John Block's position of eliminating target prices. On the other hand, 37 percent disagreed with Block while 36 percent had no opinion.

Only 27 percent of the Texas farmers and ranchers responding to the survey said that they agreed with Secretary of Agriculture John Block's position of eliminating target prices. On the other hand, 37 percent disagreed with Block while 36 percent had no opinion.

Only 27 percent of the Texas farmers and ranchers responding to the survey said that they agreed with Secretary of Agriculture John Block's position of eliminating target prices. On the other hand, 37 percent disagreed with Block while 36 percent had no opinion.

"Respondents supported substantial increases in both target prices and loan rates," point out the economists. "Recommended increases in target prices averaged 23 percent while recommended increases in loan rates averaged 30 percent."

Farmers and ranchers were also asked about the farmer-held grain reserve program, a new feature of the 1977 Farm Bill. Its purpose was to increase the stability of farm prices, something that 44 percent of the respondents favored although 59 percent felt this stabilizing effect benefitted consumers more than producers. Most producers felt that the release price of feedgrains and wheat should be raised. (The release price is the price at which farmers holding grain in the reserve program can sell on the open market.)

On the other hand, most respondents agreed that reserve call prices for wheat and feedgrains were about right. (The call price is the price at which a producer participating in the reserve program must pay off his loan.)

As far as the new all-risk crop insurance program is concerned, respondents were about evenly split regarding favoring or disfavoring the system. However, 63 percent of the cotton producers disagreed with elimination of the current disaster program.

"Two-thirds of the farmers responding to the survey favored reorienting farm programs to give most price and income support benefits to small and medium-size farms with gross sales under $40,000," point out the economists.

House Checks Ag Donations

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee on small business is looking into allegations that the Agriculture Department is following cumbersome and sometimes wasteful procedures in buying food commodities for donation to school lunch programs.

Rep. Andy Ireland, D-Fla., chairman of the panel, said Wednesday he will begin hearings next week on the role of small businesses in the department's commodity procurement process.

"Small businesses have complained to the subcommittee that there is a lack of competition for and growing concentration in the bid awards made by the USDA for meat, poultry, fruit and vegetable buys made," Ireland said.

"They also have told me that the same problem exists in the processing of USDA commodities. As a result, I have scheduled several hearings to explore this issue."

Ireland said two days of hearings will be held on April 28-29. Witnesses will include school board members, school food service directors and several small-business operators.

A subcommittee staff member said at least one more day has tentatively been added for sometime next month to give Agriculture Department officials, including Secretary John R. Block, an opportunity to testify.

Currently, the department spends about $1 billion a year on a wide variety of food commodities which it then donates to schools, nursing homes and other institutional programs.

A background paper accompanying Ireland's announcement included a list of allegations that the subcommittee's staff gleaned from interviews with small-business people, food service officials and others.

The allegations charges that the Agriculture Department:

—Buys frozen ground pork and frozen ground beef in 55-pound blocks when the commercial trade sells the same product in tubes weighing 10-15 pounds. The physical requirements of handling such blocks are a problem.

—Buys whole turkeys, several 20-pound turkeys to a case. Most school districts can't use whole turkeys because they are labor-intensive. So they must be processed.

—Ships raisins to school districts in 1.3-ounce boxes. "Can you imagine the labor cost of opening several hundred such boxes to use the raisins in baking? Once again, school districts would still use raisins but not the way the USDA supplies them."

—Occasionally supplies cheddar cheese in 42-pound blocks "which frequently make their way to vocational education schools where they are subdivided using band saws."

The report said, "Another problem is how to open, use and dispose of the thousands of No. 10 cans in which USDA supplies commodities. It is not uncommon for a school food-service director to have to open hundreds of No. 10 cans to serve one meal."

The subcommittee's report also traced some routes which some food items were alleged to have taken before reaching their final destination.

"Peanut butter bought in Georgia is shipped to New York state where it goes into a leased warehouse," it said. "It is then transported to a school-district warehouse and from there to Ohio to be made into a peanut butter-jelly roll. Then it goes back to the school-district warehouse and then to school lunch kitchens."

Another allegation said "ground beef bought in Kansas goes to northern Michigan into a leased warehouse and from there to a local school warehouse. Then the bulk beef goes to California to be made into beef patties, and from there back to the school-district warehouse and finally into school lunchrooms."

Attend Potato Board Meet

A goal of increasing assessments for potato research and promotion programs was reaffirmed by Potato Board members at the recent annual meeting in Denver, Co. Attending the meeting from Hereford were Wesley Fisher, left, and Tenna and Bill Reinauer. Fisher completed a three-year term on the board and was replaced by Reinauer.

Elevator Structure Studied

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Grain elevators could be safer if they were flatter like those in some foreign countries, says a scientist investigating the April 7 blast at the Corpus Christi Public Elevator.

Many American grain-handling facilities, such as the one here that exploded killing eight, are tall with conveyor belt systems to move grain located inside, said Dr. Veron L. Grose, a member of the National Academy of Sciences.

A tall building offers more efficient land use and easier emptying of grain from silos, he said.

Platter construction, as used in Australia and Turkey, does not have "near the potential for explosions," he added.

Investigators have not determined what sparked the volatile grain dust within the elevator to explode and rip apart the massive concrete structure. Damage is estimated at $30 million.

Concentrations of grain dust often are high around the grain-moving equipment, the horizontal conveyors and vertical "legs" that use a bucket system to move grain up the elevator.

Grose said placing the conveyor system outside the complex significantly reduces hazards because an enclosed space is necessary for an explosion.

"If they're not buried inside concrete and steel, the damage potential is greatly reduced," he said. An explosion at a Mobile, Ala., elevator caused significantly less damage because the conveyor system was outside, he said.

The Corpus Christi Public Elevator had a reputation as a safe facility.

"This was a clean house, so it kind of pushes us in the direction of looking at the conveyor system and the legs," Grose said.

An unusual feature found by investigators is an enclosure of the conveyor belts.

"The steel covering keeps belt-generated dust from flying around the elevator but you can't open them to see what the concentrations are around the belts," the scientist said.

The dust control system sucks out dust from the enclosed belts, but Grose added, "We still don't know if it pulled off enough or in the right places."

"It's very hard now that it's blown apart to say how good it was," he said of the dust control system.

Wheat Board May Reduce Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Creation of a U.S. Wheat Board operated by the federal government probably would result in reduced exports and returns to producers, says a new study by the Agriculture Department.

The traditional method of U.S. marketing — for most other farm commodities as well as wheat — is based on the free-market system in which the private trade buys and sells at prices dictated by supply and demand.

Some people have advocated setting up a federal board to handle exports of wheat and other grains. The report, issued Wednesday, said the United States "has achieved many of the objectives of wheat boards for marketing exports without creating such a board" such as those in Canada and Australia.

Using a simulated set of conditions comparing it to a competitive market, analysts concluded a board "would not benefit U.S. producers and would increase price instability." But compared to a situation in which the market was dominated by a single grain exporting firm, the board "would reduce price instability and benefit producers."

WT Horse Center Offers Workshop

WTSU — West Texas State University will host a "Getting Ready to Show" workshop on Saturday, April 25, at the WTSU Horse Center, located north of campus on the Canyon Expressway.

The program will include a 3 a.m., washing and conditioning of the horses' mane, tails, feet and legs and a review of showmanship with the horses on halter.

At 1:30 p.m., a second session will begin featuring a review of trail position and three previous trail obstacles. Preparation for four obstacles requiring lateral control also will be introduced.

Admission for each session is $6.

Persons who need help in clipping should consult Gary Marble, instructor in animal science at the WTSU Department of Animal Science office of the WTSU Horse Center.

A Hunter Jumper Workshop, which previously was scheduled for April 29, will not be held.

Caution Urged in Planting Cotton Now

LUBBOCK -- Relatively high soil temperatures might encourage South Plains cotton farmers to become anxious to plant, but caution is urged by the area cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Planting now doesn't insure an earlier crop than if cotton is planted in May, but actually increases the producer's hazards, Dr. James R. Supak, the Extension cotton specialist, said.

Rains such as have dotted the South Plains in the last several weeks cool the soil, but they need to be retained and used, not allowed to run off, Supak added.

"On April 10, for example, one to five inches of rain fell in portions of Hale and Floyd counties," he noted. "The rain fell hard and fast and much of the water eventually ended up in bar-ditches and playa lakes. The few farmers who had furrow-diked their fields managed to trap a significant percentage of this moisture and assure its availability for crop production."

The majority of the spring rain on the High Plains comes from this type of shower, Supak said. If fields are furrow-diked prior to these rains, runoff can be controlled, soil erosion can be greatly reduced and more soil moisture will be available for crop development, he explained. "Now is the time to dike those furrows," he emphasized.

Soil temperature is an excellent guide for establishing the earliest feasible time for planting cotton," Supak agreed. "On the South Plains, good stands are more likely to be obtained when the minimum soil temperature at the eight-inch depth averages 60 degrees Fahrenheit or more for at least 10 days before planting.

"However," Supak cautioned, "the decision to begin planting should not be based on soil temperature alone. In addition, we need to consider the calendar date and especially, the long range weather forecast."

This year, he noted, several weather stations on the South Plains reported reaching the 60-degree average minimum soil temperature by mid-April.

But planting cotton at this early date is risky, the agronomist stressed, because we can expect more high winds, blowing sand and several days of cool, wet weather during late April and early May.

In fact, Supak said, the 30-day weather outlook, valid through mid-May, predicts near-normal temperatures and near to slightly below normal rainfall for the South Plains. Long-term weather records indicate a drop in soil temperatures can be expected during the first week in May.

"This occurs following the rains which are common this time of year," Supak said.

The relatively high soil temperatures reported in early to mid-April are partly the result of the measurements being made in relatively dry soils, the Extension agronomist said. In most irrigated fields, or those that received appreciable rainfall recently, the 10-day average soil temperature is generally several degrees cooler, he noted.

"Also, long term weather records show that the last 15 days of April often are much warmer than the first 15 days of May. Consequently, cotton planted in April might come up to a good stand, but is subjected to many more weather hazards than cotton planted in May."

Supak cited a study of planting dates conducted at Lubbock by Dr. J.D. Bilbro, research agronomist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Science Education Administration.

Bilbro's results, shown in the accompanying table, showed that cotton planted on April 10, April 20 and May 1 all reached the first bloom stage on approximately the same date.

This study indicates that in most years there is no advantage in earlier fruit set resulting from April planting, Supak said. "Since anticipated rain and soil cooling in the next two weeks can lead to serious problems, farmers might consider playing the odds and delaying planting until May," he said.

Delaying planting until the 10-day average soil temperatures reach or exceed the 60-degree mark in May is recommended when seed quality is questionable, or in fields where seedling disease is a recurring problem, the Extension agronomist said.

Fly Species Costing U.S. Producers $225 Million a Year

Two species of flies are costing U.S. livestock producers about $225 million annually, according to studies in Illinois and Nebraska.

The two species -- the stable fly and housefly -- are most threatening to feedlot cattle, dairy cattle and swine, says Dr. John Campbell, an entomologist with the University of Nebraska.

The bloodsucking stable fly reduces weight gains in feedlot cattle and milk production in dairy cattle, Campbell says. Houseflies may contribute directly to animal production losses in dairy cattle and swine, but create most of their damage through disease transmission, the entomologist says.

A prudent fly control program is a good investment, according to Campbell. "For insect control, every dollar spent to obtain control will gain you $4 to $8 in return," Campbell says. The best fly control program for stockmen is a two-step approach, he says: Sanitation, major fly breeding problems are, and if possible, clean up or reduce breeding areas," Campbell says. He recommends cleaning up any combination of spilled grain, feed, moisture and manure -- the ideal fly breeding environment. Also, he says, make certain waterers don't leak and contribute to the breeding environment.

"Once you've done this, it's still necessary to use insecticides. Attack the adult population," Campbell says.

Ideally, an insecticide for spraying livestock premises would have both knockdown (immediate kill) and residual qualities, Campbell says.

The new synthetic pyrethroid insecticides available this year have that combination of qualities, according to the entomologist. A formulation for use as a premise spray, Permethrin 10 Percent EC (emulsifiable concentrate), recently was introduced by anchor Laboratories.

The new synthetic pyrethroid products are "much safer" and "much more efficient than the ones we've used in the past," Campbell says.

When implementing a fly spray program in barns and livestock premises, any spray can be made more effective by knowing where and when to spray the insecticides.

"Do your spraying when flies are resting, because it's much easier to control them when they're concentrated in a small area," he suggests.

During the day, stable flies prefer sheltered shade, Campbell says, but not dark interiors. Stable flies tend to rest on the building fronts and shady areas or vegetation during the hot part of the day.

During the heat of the day, both stable flies and houseflies may seek shady areas such as surrounding trees. An application of insecticide in the trees at this time can be an effective control measure, Campbell says.

Houseflies actually are easier to spray at night, the entomologist says. "They're a little like chickens. They roost somewhere at night -- inside a building on the walls or ceilings, or under the eaves of a building."

If you choose to spray at night, choose a warm evening. Most insecticides work better at temperatures over 65 degrees Fahrenheit, Campbell says.

Shortage of World Food Threatening

COLLEGE STATION -- There's a time bomb scheduled to go off in the near future throughout the entire world -- global hunger -- and it's just as deadly as any bomb, a national spokesman for the red meat industry said here recently.

Orville K. Sweet of Des Moines, Iowa, said "the threatening time bomb is world food shortages. Some 80 million people are born each year, and another half billion in developing countries are reported starving. This is the only known country where people are fighting to get in, and the reason is our food supply."

In many other countries, people are fighting to get out," Sweet added.

Sweet addressed the Texas Animal Agriculture Conference's beef and swine short courses.

"Our food production system was developed over a period of the last 60 years because we placed a priority on it and supported research to improve our technology. In the past, one of our biggest problems was living with a surplus food supply. From now on, however, our problems will concern living with food shortages. What will we do when our protein source costs as much as caviar?"

Forty years ago, 39 percent of the national budget for research was given to agriculture for production and development of food, Sweet said, while today only 2.2 percent goes for agriculture.

"We are not going to be able to feed the world, but we are going to have to export technology so that people can stay at home and help themselves," declared the executive vice president of the National Pork Producers Council. Sweet is also a rancher and former official of a major purebred beef organization.

"Research on food safety and nutrition is the key, and we need more money for research," he said. He suggested that the nation's red meat producers, especially beef and swine, must make their voices heard "in the statehouse and in Washington, because that's where decisions are made. We need to win the battle of the 'soapbox' and convince consumers that our products are safe."

Food For Thought

Gerald McCathern

Last week, this column began a two part series of recent testimony by Marvin Meek, national chairman of the American Agriculture Movement, to the Senate Agriculture Committee's hearings. His testimony is completed today. He said--

"Last years' drought, which still continues in the farm belt, has brought even closer the ultimate danger that short sighed cheap commodity price programs have been heading us towards; absolute shortages of grain! The January 16, 1981 Foreign Agriculture Circular shows that world wheat and coarse grain stocks as a percentage of utilization are at their lowest levels since records have been kept. The fact that even now, with these low supply levels, the market prices still do not cover cost of production tells just how well our markets are working!"

"To continue to say, in the face of that higher support loan prices would interfere with our 'free markets' is to just recount an awfully old fairytale. Children and adults alike would all laugh if it weren't so sobering to think that the result of continued wrong agricultural policies is hunger!"

"As long as there is even a remote chance of markets being destroyed by embargoes, or prices being affected by imports, or strikes halting shipments of our commodities, or manipulations of prices by international grain companies, or world trade agreements establishing price levels at less than our production costs, or oil embargoes increasing our energy costs, or any other negative actions which farmers have no control over, then agriculture commodity prices must be indexed by law at levels which will return production costs."

"If I were a person living in urban America today, I would be scared to death of the present economic conditions which exist in rural America. There is one thing which we all have in common, we like to eat three times a day. Farmers have the ability to continue to feed themselves, but their ability to feed this nation, and the world, is fast disappearing because of the price structure.

"A weak agriculture, and I might add, a broke agriculture, is more of a problem for the 220 million Americans who are not farmers than it is for the 2 1/2 million Americans who are farmers. Those members of this committee who represent urban constituents should be more concerned about restoring a healthy agriculture than those members who represent rural constituents.

"Agriculture can solve this nation's economic problems. And because you, ladies and gentlemen, are members of the Senate Agriculture Committee, you have the ability to solve the nation's economic problems. That is an awesome responsibility.

"If you refuse to listen and refuse to act, then I must ask you these questions: To whom are you listening? Who benefits by your inaction? Who profits by an industry and a nation in debt? Who benefits by low farm gate prices? Who will own the land of this nation after our family farmers are gone?"

"I implore this committee; implement the agriculture program that was law from 1942 to 1952, when our nation had a balanced economy, only 2 percent inflation, very little unemployment, low interest rates, and a balanced budget. You must do it, not for farmers, but for everyone in this great nation. Thank you."

Many of the Senators complimented Mr. Meek, saying that it was the best testimony that had ever been given before their committee. That is food for thought, April 26, 1981.

FIX IT FACTS

What saves energy, privacy and space, but is easy to install and costs little? Louvered shutters. If you have west or south side windows which let in a lot of heat in the summer or lack privacy or have a window which looks unfinished, louvered shutters may be your solution. Easy to install, most popular are the pre-hinged ones coming in natural or pre-finished stains. Measure the height and width of each window. If the shutters come slightly larger than your window they can be trimmed to fit. Place the shutter in its desired position with the hanging strip flush against the wall. Allow one-eighth inch clearance at top, bottom and between the shutters to allow easy operation. Drill through the hanging strip and into the wall behind it. Attach the hardware by screwing into the soft wood. Shutters can be installed in an easy afternoon and offer excellent insulation both in summer and winter while adding a finished look to any room.

Production Of Eggs Up This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Egg production in March was an estimated 5.98 million, slightly more than the 5.96 billion eggs produced a year earlier, the Agriculture Department says.

As of April 1, according to a monthly report, the average "rate of lay" was 67.4 eggs per 100 hens, compared with 67.6 a year earlier.

'Caveman'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Director-writer Carl Gottlieb ate a hearty lunch over an interview at the posh Bistro Gardens. No wonder. He had been on the picket line all morning.

Gottlieb, like the other 8,300 members of the Writers Guild of America, was on strike against the motion picture and television producers. He had done his morning duty at 20th Century-Fox studio, where he has an office ("I thought about using my parking space on the lot but decided against it").

He presented his interviewer with a flyer ("MANAGEMENT FAILED TO BARGAIN IN GOOD FAITH!") and then settled down to talk about "Caveman," the new United Artists release he directed and co-wrote (with Rudy De Luca). It is all about cavemen and dinosaurs, with a cast including Ringo Starr, Barbara Bach, Dennis Quaid, Jack Gilford and Oakland Raider footballer John Matuszak.

Crucial to "Caveman" was the casting of Atouk, the hip member of the Misfit Tribe.

"What we needed was a charming, romantic star who was short and unprepossessing," said Gottlieb. "After Robin Williams, Dustin Hoffman and Dudley Moore, who is there? The casting chief Lynn Stalmaster suggested Ringo Starr, and I said, 'Right!' Especially since Gary Coleman isn't old enough."

Gottlieb checked with Richard Lester, for whom he had acted in "Petulia." Lester had directed Starr in the Beatles movies, "A Hard Day's Night" and "Help!" and assured that Ringo was a solid performer who could improvise during scenes.

Still concerned, Gottlieb was finally convinced by a musician friend who observed: "British bands like the Beatles, Rolling Stones and The Who were really oriented to show business, not merely rock 'n' roll."

In any case, Ringo would have no worry about dialogue. The cavepeople speak a prehistoric jargon which is unintelligible to the modern ear. The only English in the movie is spoken by a visitor from China.

"Ringo was always on time — a real, old-fashioned professional," Gottlieb testified. "We shot 55 days, and he had only two days off."

Gottlieb admitted he had trouble convincing United Artists to go for amovie without dialogue:

"I tried to tell them that motion pictures thrived for 30 years without sound and that most good movies can be understood on television with the sound off. I believed we could communicate with primal sounds only, and I've been pleased to see that audiences have no trouble understanding what is happening."

Sam Elliott Starring In 'Murder in Texas'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sam Elliott, thought of as a man of action, had to overcome barriers to win a role as the sophisticated, musically inclined surgeon accused of killing his wife in the NBC miniseries "Murder in Texas."

"It took some doing to get this part," Elliott said. "A little wheeling and dealing. I think the trouble came from the image that NBC had of me."

"The last thing I did for NBC was the mountain man in 'The Sacketts.' That character is as far from Dr. John Hill as you can get. It was nothing personal. It was just that last image. It happens to every actor. I guess I talked too long about doing Westerns, and I did have to ride a horse in this one."

The two-part, four-hour "Murder in Texas," produced and directed by Billy Hale, will be broadcast Sunday and Monday nights. It had been scheduled against ABC's "Masada," but was postponed to avoid a clash with the $23 million ABC production. The program substituted was "The Sacketts," also starring Elliott.

Elliott plays Hill, who became the central figure in a sensational murder case — involving Houston's oil money and socially elite — until he was shot down himself.

Farrah Fawcett is Jean Robinson Hill, a socialite and horsewoman whose death on March 19, 1969, seemingly from illness, set in motion the story of wealth, passion, betrayal, revenge and violence.

Katharine Ross is Ann Kurth, Hill's second wife and author of "Prescription: Murder," the book on which the series was based. Andy Griffith is Ash Robinson, the oil man who fought tenaciously to have his daughter's death declared a homicide.

"Murder in Texas" was the center of controversy from the beginning. Thomas Thompson's bestseller, "Blood and Money," which tells the same story, was bought by producer David Merrick for a CBS miniseries. The series was delayed and never made.

Elliott, meanwhile, surely must hold the record for starring in the most miniseries. He was with William Holden in the first ever, "The Blue Knight." He was the soldier who rose to general in "Once an Eagle" and the hotshot criminal lawyer in "Aspen." In "Wild Times," he was Col. Hugh Cardiff, a plainsman around whom a Western legend was spun.

"I love doing Westerns," the actor said. "You can't do enough to make me happy." He winked and added, "I thought 'Murder in Texas' was a Western until I got on the set."

Country Star Reflecting Back

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Grand Ole Opry star Roy Drusky says country music is better now than when he started in the business nearly 30 years ago.

"The sound is so much better," says Drusky, who is 50. "The songs are meatier, the business is healthier."

The gray-haired Drusky qualifies as something approaching an elder statesman. His 30-year career includes singing on the Grand Ole Opry for 23 years, writing several No. 1 songs, and working stints as a record company executive and in other behind-the-scenes activities.

different expression of it.

He recently returned frxxx-concert tour of Ireland, Scotland and England, and will cross the Atlantic again ter.

"The crowds there are very good," he says. "They seem to like the old things."

Just a year or two ago, Drusky had lost his nerve for entertaining. Doctors told him he was a candidate for a massive heart attack. That, combined with a career on the downside, left him frustrated.

"I wasn't getting what I thought I'd earned. I had devoted 20 years to it and thought things ought to be better. Plus, I was getting sick. I finally decided no one owes me anything. Almost overnight, I had a new desire to do something again."

He doesn't sell as many records as he used to, and you don't hear his songs as often on the radio. But there's no bitterness toward the younger entertainers who have shoved his popularity into the shadows.

"Charlie Daniels has done some contemporary things and some flat country things," Drusky says. "He has helped country music because he attracts so many people."

"Some of the younger kids in the studios are fantastic," the entertainer adds. "The new breed is another generation of country music — just a

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. Patience plays a part

DEAR DR. LAMB - I feel that I need to lose at least 10 pounds. I'm 5 feet 2 and weigh 130. I'm 45 years old I can't seem to lose weight. I have been on several diets, including a 1,000-calorie diet, but I don't lose. I have low blood sugar and can't fast. My extra weight is all around the middle. Is this the fate of the 40s? Must I look like a little round tub?

DEAR READER - You are talking about what some people call middle-aged spread. There are group studies that show women have a decrease in metabolic needs about that time. For a long time this was believed to be a function of age and someone handy with words referred to it as the ebbing of metabolic fires.

Well, your metabolism per ounce of lean body tissue stays the same. A pound of 45-year-old muscle uses as many calories at rest as 20-year-old muscles. The difference is that at middle age people tend to lose their muscle mass. More of their body weight is fat and less is muscle. The metabolic requirements are the same for each pound of lean body mass (weight minus body fat).

So you have let your muscles get smaller, probably from not doing the kind of exercises that strengthen and maintain your muscle size. I would recommend a greater interest in using exercise to help with your program. Walking is fine but you probably would get additional benefit with a program that would enable you to use some strength or weight-training equipment. As you grow muscles and your metabolism is increased, you'll have more success with your diet.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I was told that I have fluid around my heart, along with other conditions. My doctor says it is not serious but he never explains why I have the fluid. I am taking Digoxin, one every morning, three Vasodilans a day and a Nitrostat only when I need it for pain. I take two Lasix and four Slow-K tablets once a month. Would you please give me some more information about this condition?

DEAR READER - You probably have what doctors call cardiac insufficiency, meaning that your heart does not contract with enough force each time to move your circulation efficiently. When that happens the body may retain sodium and that causes you to retain fluid. The fluid can accumulate in the lungs, or in other parts of the body, depending upon how much of the heart is involved. That is why he is giving you Digoxin, to strengthen the heartbeat. The other medicines are to help your body clear sodium and water, except for the Nitrostat that is for pain caused by a heart condition.

Evidently, your doctor feels that with your medications you are doing well and he doesn't want you to worry about it.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer = No trouble with sheets =

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY - I have read your readers' suggestions for marking the center of sheets with an indelible pen or colored stitches to make placement on the bed easier, but I see no reason to go to all that trouble. If, after laundering, the sheet is folded lengthwise first, a crease will be formed that will stay in the sheet all the while it is on the bed. Commercial laundries fold linens like this and then press to make a more crisp line. Some nurses even use this method when making beds in hospitals.

Please tell me how to permanently store an all-white nylon dress with an acetate lining to keep it as white as possible. - J.S.

DEAR J.S. - I haven't been able to learn of a way that such a dress can be permanently stored with a sure-fire guarantee that it will stay white. Many things decide the results.

Whether the dress has been laundered or dry cleaned can make a difference. Any body oils remaining in the garment or even minerals in the wash water can cause it to yellow. A nylon dress must not be packed with anything colored, as it may pick up the color. Before packing, be sure the garment is really clean and that the box is taped, so it's completely airtight. One authority says polyester fabrics will yellow with age unless washed frequently. This is a problem where one has to take chances. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I have often washed church linens that had candle wax on them. It worked quite well when I placed the cloth with the wax side down, over a bowl (fastening with a rubber band or string) and poured boiling water through the wax spot. I have also used this method for removing berry stains from tablecloths. - CHARLOTTE

DEAR READERS - This would be even easier if the blobs of wax were first removed with a table knife. If they do not loosen easily, put in the freezer for a bit. - POLLY

Prince Valiant

created by Hal Foster

Our story: VAL MESSAGE CREATES HAVOC AT BATTLE. TITLE HAS FALLEN AND MORGED IS FORCED TO INVADE BRITAIN. YET ALL BUT REAL AND TOOTHLESS KNIGHTS ARE AWAY AT THEIR ESPATES TO OVERSEE SPRING RAINING.

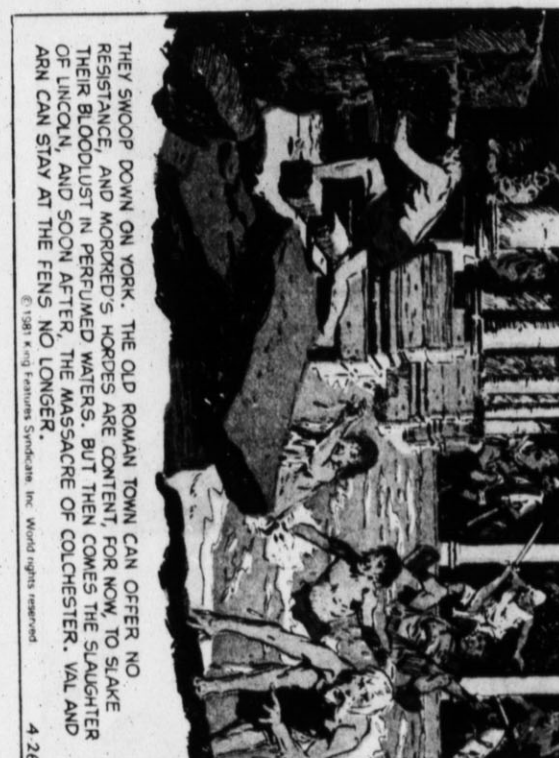

'6497' KING ARTHUR SPORTS, RAISING AN ARMY NOW WILL MEAN FAMINE IN SEPTEMBER. HE PRAYS THAT MORGED WILL DALLY BUT HIS HALF BROTHER HAS PLANNED WELL.

ALREADY HIS FLEET SAILS FOR CALEDONIA, LAND OF THE PICTS. THE 'PAINTED ONES' GENTLETS BEFORE THE EMPEROR HORRIAN HAD FEARED IN AT DINNER. A GREAT WALL ACROSS BRITAIN'S 'NO' 'AT DINNER' AT DINNER. THE PICTS HALL MORGED AS 'LIBERATOR'.

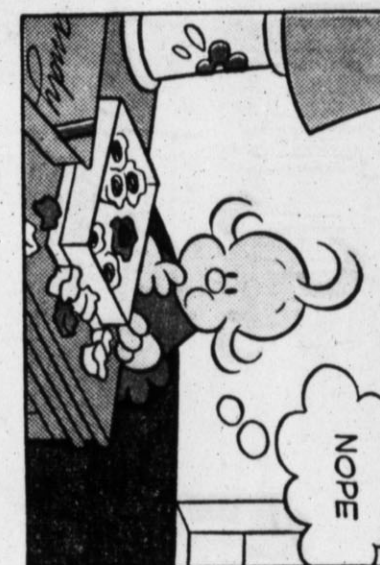

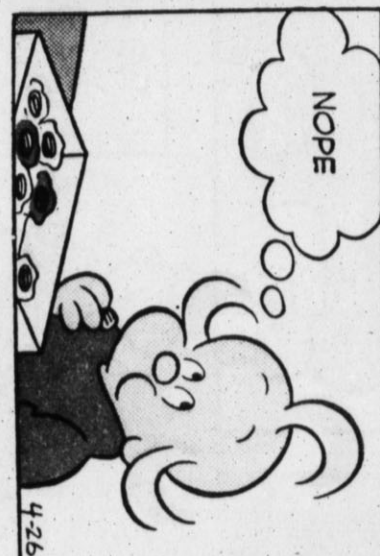

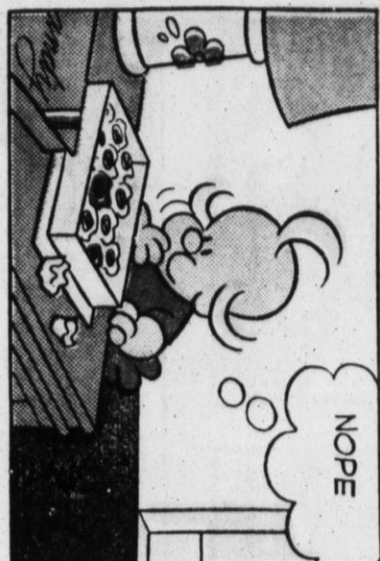

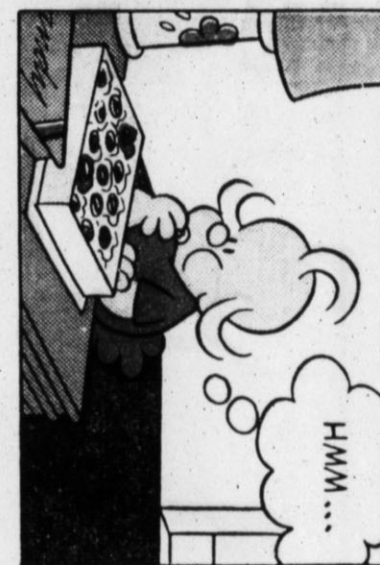

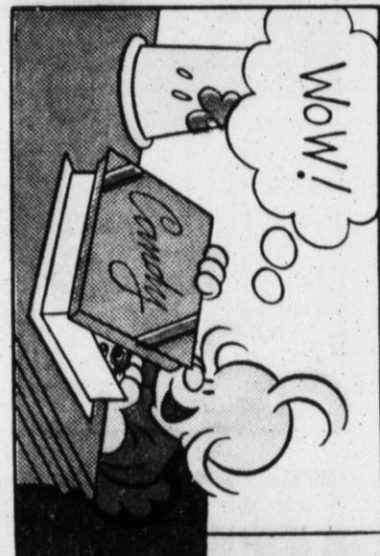

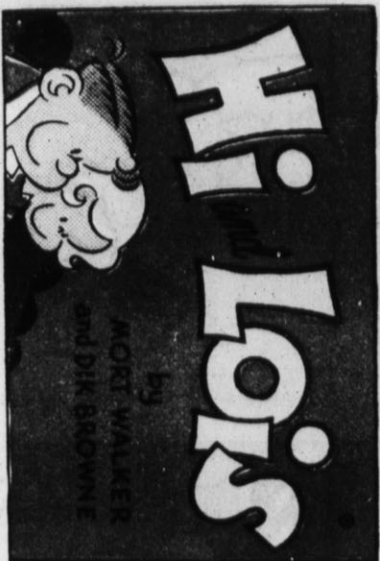

FROM AOP MAORIAN'S WALL HE SCANS THE COUNTRYSIDE WITH THE PICTISH CHIEF. 'HELP ME CONQUER CAMELOT' MORGED PROMISES 'AND ALL THIS SHALL BE YOURS.' AT ONCE THE DYE-POIS COME FORWARD AND THE PICTS DABR THEIR SKIN WITH BATTLE BLUE.

THEY SWOOP DOWN ON YORK. THE OLD ROMAN TOWN CAN OFFER NO RESISTANCE, AND MORGED'S HORSES ARE COMENT FOR NOW. MAKE THEIR BLOODLUST IN PERVIOUS WATERS, BUT THEN COMES THE SCAVATTER OF LINCOLN, AND SOON AFTER, THE PICTS SACK OF COLCHESTER. VAL AND ARN CAN STAY AT THE TENS

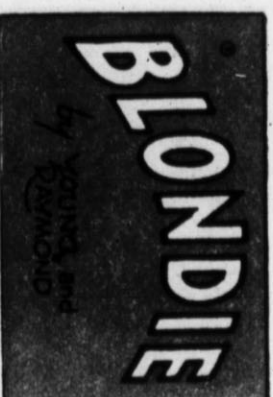

'ARTHUR NEEDS US,' VAL TELLS AGUAR, 'AND SO DOES ANY PAULIX MORGED HAS PASSED YOU BY. YOU WILL BE SAFE.' NEXT WEEK: SHOG 2307

Our Story: VAL MESSAGE CREATES HAVOC AT CAMLOT. WHILE HIS FATHER AND MORGREDD IS POSSED TO MURDER KNIGHTS ARE AWAY AT FRENCH ESTATES TO OVERSEE SPRING PLANTING.

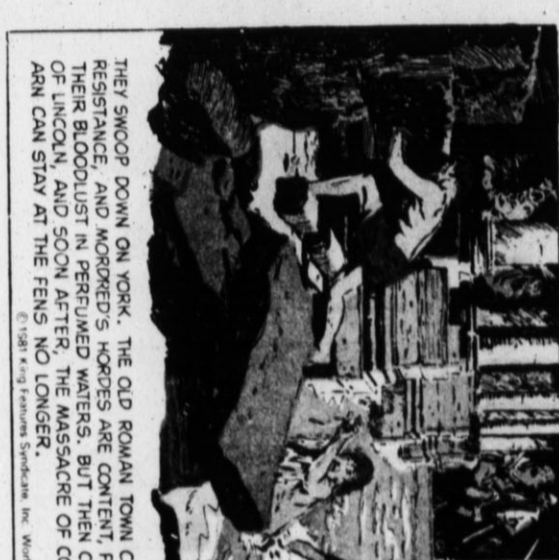

'62497' KING ARTHUR SNORTS, RAISING AN ARMY NOW WILL MEAN FAMINE IN SEPTEMBER. HE PRAYS THAT MORGREDD WILL DALLY BUT HIS HALF BROTHER HAS PLANNED WELL.

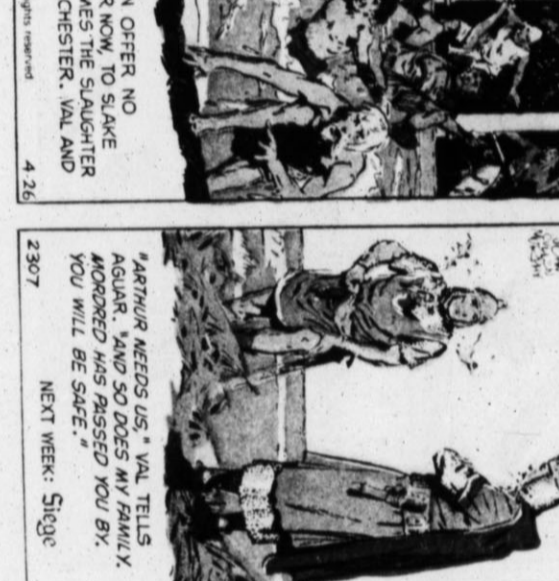

ALREADY HIS FLEET SAILS FOR CALEDONIA, LAND OF THE PICTS, THE 'PAINTED ONES,' CENTURIES BEFORE THE EMPEROR HADRIAN HAD PENNED THEM IN WITH A GREAT WALL ACROSS BRITAIN'S NECK. NOW AT DUNDEE ROOK, THE PICTS HALL MORGREDD AS 'LIBERATOR.'

FROM ADOP HADRIAN'S WALL HE SCANS THE COUNTRYSIDE WITH THE PICTISH CHIEF, 'HELP ME CONQUER CAMLOT.' MORGREDD PROMISES 'AND ALL THIS SHALL BE YOURS.' AT ONCE THE DYE POTS COME FORWARD AND THE PICTS DAB THEIR SKIN WITH BATTLE BLUE.

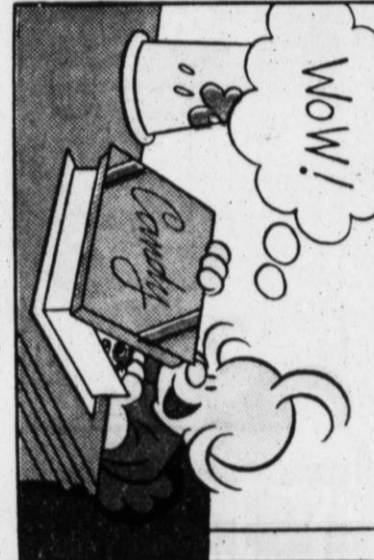

THEY SWOP DOWN ON YORK. THE OLD ROMAN TOWN CAN OFFER NO RESISTANCE, AND MORGREDD'S HORSES ARE CONTENT FOR NOW, TO SLAKE THEIR BLOODLUST IN PERFUMED WATERS. BUT THEN COMES THE SLAUGHTER OF LINCOLN, AND SOON AFTER, THE MASSACRE OF COCHESTER. VAL AND ARN CAN STAY AT THE FENS NO LONGER.

'ARTHUR NEEDS US,' VAL TELLS AGUR, 'AND SO DOES MY FAMILY. MORGREDD HAS PASSED YOU BY. YOU WILL BE SAFE.'

MELT, JUG, HOW SHALL WE TACKLE THE TASK OF CLEANING UP MY ROOM?

DO YOU HAVE A BULLDOZER?

ARCH, LOOK, I'M REALLY WORKING!

GEE BETTY'S SET IS IN THE SHOP-- I'D BET SHE'D DIG MY LENDING HER THIS!

HEY, THAT'S NEAT! ARCH, HOW COME YOU DON'T USE IT ANYMORE?

LOOK, JUG, HERE'S A TV SET I BOULI FROM A KIT IN FIRST-YEAR SHOP CLASS.

BOY! DIGGING THROUGH ALL THIS STUFF WILL BE LIKE ARCHAEOLOGY!

NO-- IT'LL BE MORE LIKE ARCHE-OLOGY!

I DON'T REMEMBER I GUESS IT NEEDS SOME TUBES!

LET'S PLUG IT IN AND SEE IF IT WORKS!

ARCHIE! LET'S TRY ANOTHER, BEAUTIFUL!

ARCHIE! YOU BLEW A FUSE! PULL THE PLUG!

NOW I REMEMBER WHY I DON'T USE IT ANYMORE!

I CAN'T GO ANYWHERE, I'LL GIVE UP MY ROOM!

I GOTTA GO ANEW, I'LL GIVE YOU A HAND, ARCH!

I GOTTA LOSE WEIGHT, DR. ZOOK!

DR. ZOOK, THIS IS SERIOUS--LOOK!

YOU JUST GOTTA HELP ME!!

I'LL DO ANYTHING!

GOOD!

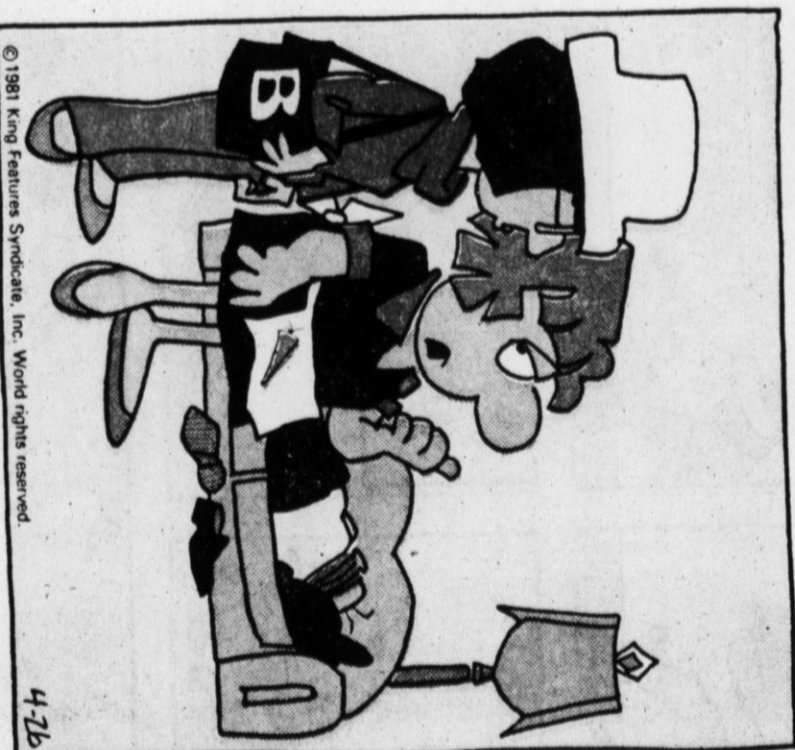

THESE ARE THE LAST PAIR OF PANTS THAT FIT ME!

I MEAN ANYTHING WITHIN REASON...

I WANT YOU TO GO ON A DIET... STOP DRINKING AND GET MORE EXERCISE.

● Flower Box! Find the name of a familiar flower in each sentence: 1. Our hero served. 2. Soda is your first choice. 3. She rned past errors. 4. The tapir is a strange animal.

● Tongue Tests! Say fast and repeat: Bruce Booth's blue spruce. Sharon Shaw's soft suede shoes. Frank's a freak on physical fitness.

WORD GAME!

ADD-A-LETTER
You are challenged to complete the diagram above by finding seven words ending in CENT. Each word is one letter longer than its predecessor. Definitions follow:

1. Stress in voice.
2. Bloodhound trail.
3. Airport approach.
4. Kind of room.
5. Getting old.
6. Rainbow-hued.
7. Gloriously grand.

Remember, each word is one letter longer than the preceding word. Five is a good score.

HIT PARADE! What is missing from this whimsical bathing practice scene? To find out, add lines 1 to 2, 3, etc.

CAN YOU TRUST YOUR EYES? There are at least six differences in drawing details between top and bottom panels. How quickly can you find them? Check answers with those below.
