

Reagan Insists Alternatives No Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, beginning to re-emerge as chief fighter for his economic program, insists that congressional alternatives to his embattled three-year tax cut plan "are not the answer, they are the problem."

"Taxes are much too high to deal in half-measures," a convalescing president said in a written statement issued Wednesday, the deadline for filing personal income tax returns.

"I ask all Americans to join me in changing our tax system so that next April 15 we shall begin to celebrate tax reductions instead of simply one more predictable and painful tax increase," he said.

The one-page statement was issued as Reagan continued his recuperation in the White House living quarters from a bullet wound inflicted in an assassination attempt March 30.

Other administration officials, primarily Vice President George Bush, have been substituting for Reagan at appearances he might ordinarily be making to pitch for his economic program.

Aides say Reagan almost certainly will focus on his program when he delivers his first broadcast message since the assassination attempt. A radio or television broadcast is possible, perhaps as early as the end of next week, the aides say. Another possibility is a nationally televised appeal for his economic program on April 27, a date that would coincide with the end of a two-week congressional recess.

Reagan's written statement Wednesday appeared designed to prod Congress into approving his tax cut plan, which has run into strong opposition in the Democratic-controlled House.

The Washington Post reported today that a new study by the Congressional Budget Office estimates the president's proposed budget cuts in four programs alone would mean less after-tax income for 20 million to 24 million people. would says in a report commissioned by two prominent opponents of the president.

Those four programs — welfare, school lunches, public service jobs and food stamps — are targeted for $5.3 billion in cuts by the administration. The budget office said it was unable to estimate the effect of $10.1 billion in proposed cuts in Medicaid, Social Security and other programs.

The 20 million to 24 million people are 51 percent of an estimated 16.5 million

Cowgirl HOF To Sponsor Fun Breakfast, Western Day

The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Hereford will sponsor April's Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast Thursday, April 23 at the Hereford Community Center.

The breakfast, which is scheduled to get underway at 6:30 a.m. is open to the public. Breakfast will be served for $3.25 per person. In conjunction with Mayor Bartley Dowell proclaiming April 23 as Western Day in Hereford, the Hall of Fame steering committee urges all citizens to wear western clothing the day of the Fun Breakfast as a kick-off for upcoming events.

Those attending the breakfast will have a chance at winning a free weekend trip to New Orleans, sponsored by the Hall of Fame. Tickets for the drawing are $1 each and will be available at the morning event. The drawing will be held May 23 during the Rhinestone Roundup.

During the Fun Breakfast, the Hall of Fame will be promoting Hall of Fame Weekend, May 23-24. Starting off the Hall of Fame Weekend will be the second annual Rhinestone Roundup Benefit Ball to be held at the Hereford Country Club featuring the music of Tiny Lynn, according to Margaret Formby, president of the board.

In conjunction with the "Roundup" there will be a silent auction of several pieces of art. Western art will also be displayed during the weekend.

The auction will offer such items as a John Birdsong painting, two 50-yard line box

Members of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame steering committee are currently making plans for the Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast to be held April 23 in the Community Center. The Hall of Fame will sponsor this month's breakfast promoting events scheduled during the Hall of Fame Weekend, May 23-24.

Board Accepts Resignations; Approves Concert

By ALLISON RYAN
Staff Writer

The board of education for the Hereford Independent School District accepted resignations from nine teachers and approved recommendations for employment of two people.

The board met this morning at the administration building in lieu of its regular meeting time, which is the second Tuesday of each month, because of a conflict in schedules.

Resignations include Aurora Delgado, Aikman; Kathleen Giliuson, Aikman; Margaret Smith, Northwest; Barbara Dickerson, Dan Giliuson, Patricia McGaughey, Diana Reese, and Lynn Sciumbato, all high school personnel; and Jerry Wilbourn, Stanton and high school. Dr. Harold Holder, superintendent, told board members the resignations were submitted because the personnel were moving from the area with the exception of Wilbourn who is leaving the teaching field to sell insurance.

The board accepted Damie Jean Meyer and David Fanning for employment. Ms.

Meyer will teach at Stanton Junior High and Fanning will serve as the Educational Diagnostician.

R.C. Hoelscher, new board member, questioned several expenditures before officials voted to pay bills for the month of March.

Hoelscher inquired about money that had been spent for health services for students.

Holder explained that federal funds are received to use for student support services to use in these areas.

Ed McCrary, administration personnel, told the board that $10,000 was received for migrant programs and $500 for Title I programs from the federal government.

"When our nurses find kids that have medical problems, they are referred to a doctor.

However, some families need money to pay for these services. Nurses determine if the family is in need of financial aid, and, if so, they are provided with money," McCrary said.

"We are expecting our federal funding to be cut by 25 percent next year, so we will see some curtailment in our student support services as well as migrant summer school and pre-school for 4-year-olds," Holder explained.

Holder then suggested the board meet at a later date so that he could explain the process and procedures of federal funding for the school. Members agreed to meet April 28 at 6:30 p.m.

In other business, Sid Shaw, Noon Lion's Club member, appeared before the board to request the use of the football field May 31 for a musical concert for the public.

According to Shaw, the group, "Raisin' a Ruckus" from South Plains College at Levelland performs a Country-Western musical concert throughout the Panhandle.

Blast Rips Colorado Mine; 15 Still Missing

REDSTONE, Colo. (AP) — Rescue crews inched their way along a 7,200-foot sloping mine shaft early today, trying to reach 15 miners trapped by an explosion that swept through the lower limits of the Dutch Creek No. 1 coal mine on Colorado's Western Slope.

Seven men came out of the mine in two groups after the blast Wednesday afternoon. Four were uninjured, but three were admitted to Valley View Hospital in Glenwood Springs for treatment of burns, bruises and shock, officials said.

One of those who escaped unhurt, David Chiarello, said that when the explosion occurred, "air came at me sort of like a hurricane. It didn't knock me over but there was so much dust I turned around and tucked my head in."

Company rescue teams making their way toward the 15 men, estimated to be as far as 7,000 feet into the mine, were having to stop occasionally to test the air for deadly gases, a spokesman said.

Before dawn rescuers had inched within 1,200 feet of where the men were believed to be.

Five people identified as relatives of the trapped men sat in parked cars at the foot of the 4 1/2-mile entrance road to the mine. They avoided reporters, but rushed to hear any scraps of news from officials coming from the mine.

"We tell them there's no use staying here. But when something like this happens, and it's someone in your family, you don't stop to think about things. You just get in your car and drive up here."

Company rescue teams making their way toward the 15 men, estimated to be as far as 7,000 feet into the mine.

Sources Say

Administration Pushing Arms Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration has decided to sell Saudi Arabia ground radar stations and 10,000 more anti-tank missiles in a concerted effort to build the oil-rich kingdom into an anti-Soviet bulwark, sources say.

That's enough missiles "to knock out every tank in the Russian arsenal, certainly all the tanks Israel has," a highly placed source said with some exaggeration. Actually, the Pentagon estimates the Soviets have about 45,000 tanks and the Israelis about 3,000.

The size of the up-to-now secret missile deal and another secret plan to provide Saudi Arabia with a dozen highly sensitive ground radar stations for controlling interceptor planes surprised diplomatic and other seasoned observers.

were having to stop occasionally to test the air for deadly gases, a spokesman said.

The blast also knocked out the communications system in the mine, slowing the rescue attempt, authorities said.

The cause of the blast was

(See BLAST, Page 2A)

Although arms requests are frequently scaled down, the Saudis are to get all the TOW wire-guided anti-tank weapons they asked for. They already have 4,000.

When the Army asked why the Saudis needed so many more, according to a source who asked not to be identified, the Saudis said one reason was "they wanted to shoot some up for training."

The administration's arming of Saudi Arabia is designed to stem Soviet adventurism toward the Persian Gulf, but it has worried Israel. The Saudis are one of Israel's most implacable foes and a heavy financial backer of another foe of Israel, the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Rotary Fish Fry Friday

The Hereford Rotary Club will sponsor a fish fry from 6-9 p.m. Friday at the Bull Barn. Proceeds from the event will go to help the Deaf Smith General Hospital District purchase a Thumper Cardiopulmonary Resuscitator System.

Tickets for the fish fry are $4 per person for "all you can eat." The fare for the meal includes fried fish along with coleslaw and french fries and either lemonade or iced tea.

The Thumper machine has been a long-time goal of the hospital according to Doris Morgan, assistant director of nursing, and will cost around $4,000.

Mrs. Morgan said the machine performs automatic, continuous Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). The function of the machine according to Mrs. Morgan is to free attendants to perform other required duties.

Holmes Fund Established

A fund to help defray hospital and medical costs for Kristi Holmes, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes of Hereford has been established at the Hereford State Bank.

Miss Holmes, suffering from a brain tumor, is currently at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, but is due to be transferred to care under a specialist at a hospital in St. Louis, Missouri.

Astronauts Complete Day One Of Debriefing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — With specialists firing questions and tape recorders spinning, Columbia's astronauts are going over all the technical details of their historic flight, hoping their answers will speed the day when the shuttle can start operations as a space-faring cargo ship.

Scientists Eager

Future Missions Include Telescope

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — On a space shuttle cargo manifest for 1985 is the Space Telescope, eagerly awaited by scientists as one of their most promising missions ever.

Above the obscuring atmosphere, the 45-foot-long device will detect objects 50 times fainter than those seen by the best Earthbound instruments. Astronomers will be able to see seven times deeper into space, and gaze at up to 350 times the volume of the Universe now visible.

The telescope will be carried aloft by Columbia, which performed near-flawlessly on its first space test this week, or by one of three other shuttle craft expected to be flying routinely into orbit by then.

Shuttle crews will rocket up periodically to service the telescope, changing lenses, Crippen were to conclude the first phase of the week-long debriefing today with discussions on the performance of Columbia's steering jets, electronics, computers and other systems.

They returned to Earth on Tuesday — a perfect landing on a desert runway at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. — concluding a near-flawless retrieving film, adding the latest in technology. Science eagerly awaits the age of the shuttle, though it is not getting all it wants. Budget cuts have forced the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to curtail some projects it had hoped to carry on the shuttle, including a Venus mapping device and a probe to Halley's Comet.

Columbia's potential as a military machine and a cargo carrier for industry — communications satellites, metals experiments and the like — have received most of the attention. But science will have its opportunity.

"The engineer and scientist are going to be the astronauts of tomorrow," says Christopher C. Kraft Jr.,

(See FUTURE, Page 2A)

2 1/2-day flight of the 80-ton reusable spaceship.

What the astronauts tell the experts about the flight could help accelerate Columbia's switch from a test vehicle to an operational space freighter, carrying satellites and experiments into orbit for industry, scientists and the Pentagon.

The present schedule calls for three more Columbia test flights, each longer and more demanding on its systems. Because of the success of the maiden flight, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said they are considering cutting the last one.

That could move ahead by several months the first operational mission, a communications satellite now set for launching in September 1982. NASA and the Pentagon plan eventually to operate a fleet of at least four shuttles, each capable of carrying up to seven people and 65,000 pounds of cargo. Each would make 100 or more round trips into orbit.

Officials said the pinpoint landing Tuesday has them thinking about landing the spaceship sooner than planned on a 15,000-foot runway at Cape Canaveral, Fla. That currently is set for the fifth flight.

Rogers Dry Lake, the lakebed strip at Edwards, was selected as the prime landing site for the test flights

Good Pilots; Bad Photographers

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — From early indications, space shuttle astronauts John Young and Bob Crippen may be better pilots than photographers.

The first batch of 70mm color photographs taken during the historic 54-hour mission were released Wednesday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

None of the first three pictures processed was exceptional.

The astronauts captured views of the damaged thermal tiles on the spaceship's aft section, the curvature of the Earth from space and the craft's open bay doors.

According to reports from the NASA laboratory, many photos in the first packet were underexposed, overexposed or even blank.

A batch of 35mm film, perhaps of better quality, will be released Thursday.

Quipped one space agency technician, "Apparently they're better test pilots than they are photographers."

Body in Car

Trunk Identified

DALLAS (AP) — Members of a Hot Springs, Ark., family have positively identified a body found in the trunk of a car at Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport as that of 69-year-old Vladimir Vejrosta.

Airport Police Chief Thomas

Shehan said officers were sent to Hot Springs to search for clues in the slaying Tuesday after Vejrosta's relatives identified the body.

An autopsy performed by the Tarrant County medical examiner's office showed the man had been shot once in the back of the head with a .22-caliber bullet.

His body, wrapped in a tarpaulin and placed inside a cardboard box that had been taped shut, was found last Friday in the trunk of a 1972 Lincoln Continental.

The car, which was registered to Vejrosta, had been parked at the airport for 80 days.

The body was discovered when a passerby noticed a strong odor was coming from the car and that flies were swarming around the car's trunk, said airport spokesman Jim Street.

Interest Rate

Bill Revised

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Senate committee took something that was "merely ugly and created a monster" when it revised the interest rate bill, Jim Hightower, president of the Texas Consumer Association, said Wednesday.

On Monday, the Senate Economic Development Committee amended a House-approved bill to allow a maximum of 28 percent on business loans. Other loans have a maximum of 24 percent. The bill is pending on the Senate calendar.

"This amendment allows bankers not only to get 24 percent from consumers, but also to charge 28 percent on crop loans, farm expansion, construction projects, and new business capitalization," Hightower told a news conference.

"It is bad enough to pillage the budgets of Texas consumers but it is even worse to saddle our hard-pressed farmers and small businesses with such an intolerable load."

He said his organization hoped to support amendments in Senate debate that would return the overall maximum to 24 percent as it passed the House.

2 Cab Drivers

Barred from Ft. Hood

KILLEEN, Texas (AP) — At least two cab drivers have been barred from Fort Hood following an investigation into allegations that drivers sold marijuana and solicited prostitution, a Killeen radio station reported Wednesday.

Station KIXS, quoting documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act, said military investigators, acting as customers, had documented specific incidents in which cab drivers sold marijuana and openly solicited prostitution.

The documents showed three of the alleged solicitations were initiated by its investigators, the station reported.

Although two of the cab drivers under scrutiny were permanently barred from entering Fort Hood, there was no indication the Army has taken any legal action against other drivers or their employers, the station said.

KIXS said it obtained its information through the Freedom of Information Act after military authorities and cab company officials refused to comment on the allegations.

Washington Post Apologizes For '8-Year-Old Addict' Story

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post, calling itself "the victim of a hoax," publicly apologized today for printing a fabricated story about an 8-year-old heroin addict that won a Pulitzer Prize, journalism's highest honor.

Reporter Janet Cooke relinquished her $1,000 Pulitzer Prize for feature writing and resigned from the newspaper Wednesday after admitting to her editors that her story was a composite and the child addict she described and quoted did not exist.

"The (article) was a serious misrepresentation which I deeply regret. I apologize to my newspaper, my profession, the Pulitzer board and all seekers of the truth," Miss Cooke said in a statement in a front-page story in today's Post.

Post executive editor Benjamin Bradlee advised the Pulitzer board Wednesday that Miss Cooke would not accept the award, which was bestowed two days earlier.

The episode triggered concerns about news media credibility and the way Pulitzer Prize winners are selected.

"The credibility of a newspaper is its most precious asset, and it depends almost entirely on the integrity of its reporters," Bradlee said.

He continued, "When that integrity is questioned and found wanting, the wounds are grievous and there is nothing to do but come clean with our readers, apologize to the Advisory Board of the Pulitzer Prizes and begin immediately on the uphill task of regaining our credibility. This we are doing."

Columbia University, which issues the Pulitzer Prizes, accepted the Post's decision to surrender the award and, after a telephone poll of board members, gave it instead to Teresa Carpenter of the Village Voice for her story about a man who killed his wife while on leave from a mental institution.

The Post has won 14 other Pulitzer Prizes, including one for meritorious public service in 1973, when its reporting was instrumental in the unraveling of the Watergate coverup that later drove President Richard M. Nixon from office.

The Post said today that its ombudsman will investigate the circumstances surrounding Miss Cooke's article and his findings will be published.

"We apologize," the Post said today in an unsigned editorial. "This newspaper ... was itself the victim of a hoax — which we then passed along in a prominent pageone story, taking in the readers as we ourselves had been taken in."

In the story, "Jimmy's World," published last September, Miss Cooke told of watching the boyfriend of the child's mother inject heroin into the boy's arm and described his addiction to drugs. The story was published at a time when an influx of cheap, high-quality heroin into Washington led to a surge in use of the drug.

HPD Pistol Team Wins 2 Trophies

Members of the Hereford Police Department's pistol team participated in a trophy match at Clarendon recently with officers Joe Scott and Ted Langgood bringing home first place trophies in two categories.

Scott placed first in the 500-600 score class with a score of 520 and 600, while Langgood took close combat course honors with a score of 233 out of a possible 250.

In addition, officer Kenny Sifford placed second in the 400-500 score class with a tally of 459 out of 600.

The HPD pistol team is currently working on having a trophy match here.

Incident Reported At Local Store

Hereford police are searching today for a Mexican-American male suspect following an incident at White's Auto, 330 N. Main yesterday.

According to HPS Sergeant Vernon Hope the store reported yesterday afternoon that the man had entered the store, and was observed putting something inside his shirt by store personnel. The man was reportedly approached by the store's assistant manager when he tried to leave, and pulled a knife on the manager and fled on foot.

The suspect is described as having long hair and a moustache, and was wearing a light-colored hooded shirt. Taylor Petroleum, 301 N. 25 Mile Avenue, reported to police that a man had purchased $26.71 worth of gas yesterday morning and paid for the purchase with an expired credit card. The man, in Hereford on a visit from Colorado, was located and the bill taken care of. No charges were filed in the case.

Rutherford & Company, 322 N. Main told police that someone had shot two holes in their front window with what appeared to be a BB gun, while Adelina Rodriguez, 612 Irving, Apt. 97, reported that someone had taken $110 in food stamps from the glove compartment of her car sometime between April 10 and April 13.

Gaylon Ward, 401 Centre, reported that a chair he had taken to a local upholstery shop about 60 days ago was missing when he came to pick it up Wednesday. Shop personnel told Ward the chair had already been picked up by its owner. Sergeant Hope said police may have a suspect in that incident.

Hereford police investigated a minor accident on the parking lot of Allsup's Store on South Main Wednesday, filed two non-offense reports, and issued six traffic citations.

"They are a great group, and we think it would be a good deal for the area citizens. They have a program at the college for Country-Western music, and some of our area Hereford students participate in the program," Shaw stated.

The board voted in favor of the request.

Members also voted to accept the school policy manual which is filed in the superintendent's office as the official copy.

Hoelscher was elected to serve on the Juvenile Board to represent HISD. Members from city and county boards serve on the board to provide input to the juvenile office.

Members polled their vote for the Education Service Center Board. According to Holder, school boards with the educational district elect all members and not just those directly connected to that area.

General and professional reports were presented to board members.

Enrollment report showed a decrease in both the elementary and junior high schools while the high school enrollment was up from this time last year.

not known. Attorney Robert Delaney, a spokesman for Mid Continent Resources Co., operator of the mine, confirmed there was an explosion and said it occurred at about 4:15 p.m. MST, when 22 workers were in the mine.

A short time later, he said, three men emerged uninjured. Then a rescue team came out with four men who had been working as far as 5,000 feet from the mine entrance, he added.

Chiarello said he was working alone at the time of the explosion and afterwards walked 1,000 feet into the mine where he found three men down but conscious.

He said he administered

Taxes collected at this time totaled $2,666,755.90 which is about a 90 percent collection rate.

Texas State Teachers Association officer Melissa Tubb, and Classroom Teachers Association officer, Tommy Rosson, announced their next meeting will be April 27 in which new officers will be installed and services pins will be awarded to 27 teachers.

During the superintendent's report, Holder told the board his office is preparing a survey which will be presented to parents in an effort to evaluate the present school system.

"A professional staff will handle the survey. We want people to respond from the heart, because we know there are things people don't like about the system," he said.

In that same area, James Gentry, board president, asked members Dave Hutchins and Paul Ramirez if more study had been done on the possibility of conducting community neighborhood school meetings.

"I visited with some of the principals and some feel it would be better not to have such meetings for they will only open old wounds such as school pairing," Ramirez said. "At one of the seminars I sat in on (school board workshop) the idea was presented to have meetings where board members meet with 10 key people within the schools. These people can provide information as to what is going on within the school," Tom Simon, board member, said.

"I am having this same type of program this afternoon with the Easter Lions Club. There is no program, we are just going to talk about whatever they want. It's a good way to set up communications," Holder said.

Sallie Strain, past board president, agreed with the idea of public meetings. "Public meetings are not always negative but can be a learning process," she said.

The board took no action on the discussion but decided to wait until the May 12 meeting to vote on the issue.

Julie Helms, who directs the Coordinating Vocational and Academic Education program, talked to the board about the newly established seat tickets to the Texas Tech and A&M football game in Lubbock, a United States Flag which was donated by Senator and Mrs. Kent Hance and which has flown over the Capitol, a stain glass window and a silver and crystal epergne donated by Cowans Jewelers.

"During the afternoon of May 23, Hereford Riders Club will stage a "Playday" at its arena in Veteran's Park beginning at 1 p.m. It will be open to all local riders. Several clubs of the United Sheriff's Posse of Texas are expected to compete," stated Mrs. Formby.

"These students are behind in grade level, are potential drop-outs and have limited interest. Through the program we are trying to change their attitudes and redirect their goals," Mrs. Helms said.

The two-year program includes 19 students.

"The overall program will help a child go into the working world," she continued. "We would like to invite all of the board members to come in and visit with the kids and see how the program works. I think it would mean a lot to them to have you visit the classroom," she said.

The board will meet again May 12 at 5 p.m. at the administration building.

Board members present at the meeting were Simons, Gentry, Bill Townsend, Mrs. Strain, Hoelscher, Ramirez and Hutchings.

'Poor People'

-A Profitable Business

Chairman Rostenkowski of the House tax-writing committee says his committee will not support the Reagan across-the-board tax cut; will support only a tax cut for poorer people.

It's obvious where the pressure is coming from. And it is professionally orchestrated pressure.

Representing "poor people" in Washington has become a very profitable business.

Hugh Sidey, in Time, describes Big Labor's Lane Kirkland as "riding through Washington in his chauffeured limousine, often in tuxedo with his cigarette held at a jaunty angle — field marshal for the downtrodden."

I know of 185 organizations representing special interests and resisting any cutoff of tax money for themselves.

director of the Johnson Space Center here. "The real payoff out there is going to come from the people who can use that unique environment to produce things, to learn things."

Shuttles also will take up instruments to study dense dust regions trillions of miles away, where new suns may be forming. Other devices will collect X-ray emissions from black holes, quasars, pulsars and white dwarfs as scientists seek to learn more about these puzzling celestial objects.

On some flights the chief occupant of a shuttle's 60-foot-long cargo bay will be Spacelab, designed to function as a spacecraft within a spacecraft. It is basically a cylinder about 13 feet in diameter, and either 9 or 18 feet long, depending on whether a single or a double laboratory unit is used.

As many as four biochemists, astronomers, doctors or other professionals can work there in a shirt-sleeve environment.

Spacelab was built by a consortium of companies in the 10-member countries of the European Space Agency. A German, a Dutch and a Swiss scientist are training to serve on board, with one of them to share the first mission with an American scientist-astronaut.

gest share of oil imports from the Saudis, is foolishly banking on a backward monarchy. They charge that Saudi Arabia is being turned into another well-equipped military power, similar to Iran, at the risk of modern weapons falling into hostile hands.

Administration defenders demur, saying the arms sales are part of the new U.S. strategy to build up U.S. allies in the Persian Gulf as a shield against the Soviets.

The deal for the anti-tank missiles was put together even as opposition grew on Capitol Hill to two other arms sales to the Saudis.

One would deliver, beginning in 1985, five of the world's best radar command planes. The other would enhance the range and firepower of the 60 U.S. F-15 jets which the Saudis will get beginning next year. Congress has yet to approve any of the three deals.

Almost 50 senators and 100 House members have expressed concern over the proposed sales, raising such issues as a threat to Israel, the stability of Saudi Arabia and the danger of U.S. technology being taken over by enemies.

At the same time, skepticism may be growing within the administration.

It was learned that Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. and several other key officials are arguing for a slowdown.

Haig pushed hard for deferring the decision on the sophisticated Airborne Warning and Control System radar planes but lost out in an argument with the Air Force, several sources said.

Rebekahs Discuss Upcoming Events

With twenty members present Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 met Tuesday evening at Odd Fellow Temple.

Noble Grand Faye Brownlow presided at the regular business session as 21 visits to the sick and 26 greeting cards were reported.

In the absence due to illness of team captain Anna Conklin, team practice was held with Ben Conklin as director.

Coming events were discussed including the Panhandle Association in Amarillo, April 25-26; visit of Texas Grand Master and Grand Patriarch, April 28 and the Woody McDermitt Memorial Opry, May 9.

More musicians are needed for the Country-Western music show. Musicians register with Jerry Hodges at Sound Stage One.

Roberta Combs and Lavila Fitzgerald were co-hostesses to Nellie Beauford, Peggy Lemons Bessie Lawrence, Estelle Hopson, Karrol Rettman, Ada Hollabaugh, Ursalee Jacobsen, Faye Brownlow, Lydia Hopson, Susie Curtsinger, Ruth Rogers, Verna Sowell, Guy Lawrence, Ben Conklin, Glessie Shelton, Edna Mathes, Leona Sowell and Bessie Saulcy.

Donation Made

La Plata Junior High School Future Homemakers of America Chapter recently held a bike-a-thon raising $164 which the chapter chose to donate to the Hereford Satellite Training Center. Accepting the check was Director Janie Maldonado. FHA girls raising the most money during the bike-a-thon, were Michelle Stuck, Shannon Valdez and Carol Weber. Chapter advisor is Mrs. Beryl Burelsmith. Pictured, left to right, are Miss Weber, Miss Valdez, Ms. Maldonado and Miss Stuck.

Dietary Guidelines at Odds Over Cholesterol Controversy

The fact that sets of dietary guidelines differ helps explain why they are called guidelines instead of rules.

In composing the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) guidelines published a year ago, government scientists assumed a "public health" approach to the dietary fat-cholesterol issue.

Since the scientists were convinced by their data that dietary fat and cholesterol are a significant risk factor in coronary heart disease, the USDA guidelines recommend modest cuts in consumption of fat and cholesterol across the nation.

USDA officials felt this recommendation was needed, even though there is "no such thing as a guide for all people," in the words of Louise Light, director of Dietary Guidance and Nutrition Information at the USDA's Human Nutrition Research Center in Washington, D.C.

However, another set of guidelines, published by the Food and Nutrition Board (FNB) of the National Research Council, insists that cholesterol and fat modification be individually prescribed by a physician, and that recommending major revisions in the national diet represents an unnecessary infringement on public freedom.

defending the board's position, FNB Vice-chairman Henry Kamin expressed his disdain for the viewpoint, "What do we have to lose by eating less fat and cholesterol?"

"I am reluctant to try to persuade the entire American population to become experimental subjects," he said, pointing out that some dietary proposals would reduce by half the U.S. intake of animal fat, including dairy products, red meats and eggs. "This is a remarkable degree of austerity to recommend to the entire population," he said.

Kamin further pointed out that the decline of cardiac mortality among U.S. males since 1968 parallels a decline in deaths from many other causes and cannot be explained solely by dietary changes.

The USDA and FNB differ greatly in their approaches to a national dietary policy with regard to cholesterol and fat guidelines. They do agree that the two primary areas of concern are that individuals eat a variety of foods and

Fraternal Order of Eagles Instituted in Hereford

The Fraternal Order of the Eagles, Area No. 3975, has been instituted in Hereford and new officers elected.

The fraternity was instituted recently during ceremonies at the Community Center. Rudy and Gloria Valdez were commissioned to encourage the charter in Hereford and were assisted by Henry Hofeldt of Amarillo.

Officers appointed are Rudy S. Valdez, junior past worthy president; Ray E. Reddinger, worthy president; Herman Montoya, vice president; Lorenzo Vigil, secretary; Ramon Zamora, treasurer; Raymond Martinez, inner guard; Joe Valdez, chaplain; Ascension Rangel, conductor; and Weldon Tolwes, Joe De La Garza and Don Reives, trustees.

Ernest Carpenter, state president from Houston, W.R. Harper, instituting deputy from Dallas and the Instituting Team from Odessa were in Hereford to institute the new organization.

The charter was closed with 55 signatures with 25 of these instituted at the meeting.

Dinner was served at the center after the completion of the ceremonies.

F.O.E. No. 3975 is located at 841 E. First Street. Anyone interested in the F.O.E. Ladies Auxiliary can contact Mrs. Valdez or any member of the Eagles.

Kingdom Seekers Show Easter Hats

The Kingdom Seekers Class of Avenue Baptist Church met in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room Tuesday with Nancy Duncan as hostess.

Roll call was answered with members modeling "funny" Easter hats they had made. Pictures were taken of the women as they modeled such hats.

During the business session, the ill in the church were discussed and prayer was held for Billie Wall, Mrs. Ella Harper, David McDonald and the class mother Mrs. Hattie Fore.

Devotional was given by Shirley Brown and the next meeting scheduled for May 12 with Maxine Coleman.

Those present were Fannie Townsend, Louella Thomas, Erma Bain, Velma Hodges, Shirley Brown, Coy Tice Juanita Houle, Pauline Landers and Nancy Duncan.

Title I/Title I Migrant Parent Advisory to Meet

Astros Blank Braves; Rangers Shutout Tribe

Expos Score 'Frosty' Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Atlanta's Tommy Boggs knew he had the right stuff when he was taking his warmup tosses in the bullpen — but he didn't count on Houston's Nolan Ryan, a bad throw to first and a wild pitch.

Boggs sailed into the bottom of the seventh inning of Wednesday night's game between the Braves and the Astros with a no-hitter.

He came out of the inning with his no-hitter gone and trailing 2-0, which turned out to be the final margin of victory for the Astros.

"I had a good curve ball, as good as any I've ever had," Boggs said glumly as he sat in the dressing room after Wednesday night's defeat.

A pulled hamstring which sidelined Ryan during much of spring training forced him to bail out in the eighth.

"I didn't feel comfortable warming up, and after seven innings, I had had it," Ryan said. "I didn't feel like I was capable of getting anyone out and I just didn't want to jeopardize the team."

"I didn't have any strength at all in my right leg," Frank LaCorte got the save for the Astros.

Houston's Craig Reynolds punched a single — one of only two hits Boggs gave up — in the bottom of the seventh to halt the no-hitter, but the Atlanta pitcher contributed to his own demise when he made a throwing error on a bunt.

Cesar Cedeno put the ball down and Boggs picked up the ball and fired it over first baseman Chris Chambliss' head, sending Reynolds home and leaving Cedeno on third. Boggs then tossed a wild pitch and Cedeno scored — but Boggs, now 0-1, says he's not too upset with the loss.

In other National League action, the New York Mets defeated St. Louis 5-3, Houston blanked Atlanta 2-0, Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 4-3 in 11 innings, Cincinnati bombed San Diego 10-1 and Los Angeles took San Francisco 4-2 to remain unbeaten.

All baseball players dream of swinging a hot bat. On Wednesday in Montreal, even that didn't help them make it through the frosty day.

The record books will show that the Montreal Expos beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in their home opener, but the chill in the players' bones will be remembered long after the score is forgotten.

"I prayed we weren't going to play 13 or 14 innings out there," said Gary Carter, whose eighth-inning single capped a two-run rally that won the game for Montreal.

The game-time temperature was announced as 39 degrees, but third baseman Larry Parrish said the chewing tobacco in his back pocket froze and he found ice patches on the field. A biting wind made it feel 20 degrees colder.

"It was so cold that you'd get to the plate and wouldn't be able to feel the bat in your hand," said Andre Dawson, who singled home the tying run in the eighth and scored the winner on Carter's hit.

Mets 5, Cardinals 3
New York also won its home opener, getting a two-run single from Doug Flynn and a two-run triple from rookie Mookie Wilson, both in the second inning.

Right-hander Pat Zachry went 51-3 innings for his second straight victory. He was bailed out of a jam in the sixth when reliever Tom Hausman threw one pitch and coaxed a double-play grounder.

Neil Allen, who has two saves and a victory in New York's three wins, pitched hitless ball the last three innings.

Phillies 4, Pirates 3
Newly acquired Gary Matthews opened the 11th inning with a home run to cap Philadelphia's victory over Pittsburgh.

Matthews, obtained late in spring training from the Atlanta Braves for Bob Walk, smacked a 2-0 pitch from Enrique Romo deep over the left-center field fence for his first homer of the year.

Jim Bibby took a seven-hitter and a 3-1 lead into the last of the ninth inning for the Pirates, but the Phillies tied it on a two-run single by Keith Moreland.

Reds 10, Padres 1
Dan Driessen knocked in four runs and George Foster and Dave Concepcion each brought in three to back the three-hit, nine-strikeout pitching of Mario Soto.

Driessen slammed a three-run homer in the sixth and Foster added a two-run shot in the seventh. Dave Collins scored three times for Cincinnati, which won its ninth straight game in San Diego Stadium.

Dodgers 4, Giants 2
Burt Hooton continued his mastery of San Francisco, upping his record against the Giants to 16-6. Hooton, 2-0, got relief help from Bobby Castillo to win for the 10th straight time at Candlestick Park.

Hooton doubled in two runs in the fourth to help his cause and raise the Dodgers' record to 6-0.

Gold Sox Rained Out; San Antonio Is Winner

By The Associated Press
The San Antonio Dodgers used home runs and the Jackson Mets used bunts, but the results were the same as both teams captured Texas League baseball victories Wednesday night.

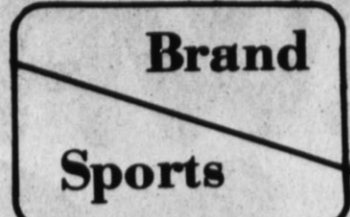

San Antonio had four homers in a 12-3 victory over El Paso and Jackson used three bunts in the 10th inning for a 1-0 10-inning victory over Shreveport. Midland's scheduled game at Amarillo was postponed because of rain.

The Dodgers spotted the Diablos a 3-0 lead in the first inning and then took over. Dale Holman had a three-run homer in the eighth inning and Greg Brock had a solo homer in the fifth inning. Leo Hernandez and Dave Sax wound up the home run barrage with back-to-back round trippers in the ninth inning.

Charlie Jones, who struck out four batters and allowed nine hits, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Rick Kranitz.

Shake Moore and Al Pedrique opened the 10th inning for the Mets with back-to-back bunts. Marvel Wynne sacrificed them to second and third, setting the stage for Rusty Tillman's game-winning bunt that drove Moore home with the game's only run.

Mark Daley, 1-0, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Jim Dunn, 0-1.

HHS Teams Active On Weekend

School turns out early today for the Easter weekend, but some of Hereford High School's athletic teams will still be active.

The varsity boys will be at Canyon Friday for a track meet. The varsity girls who qualified in the district track meet will be in Plainview Saturday for an area qualifiers' track meet. The boys' district meet is in Lubbock April 25.

The Hereford baseball team is in district action here Saturday, taking on the Monterey Plainsmen in a doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m.

Who Am I?

Is sports a business? You bet. I was the first baseball player to incorporate. And I was one of the first player representatives. But I loved to pitch — fast, too. Yet Joe DiMaggio said my curve was the best he ever saw.

ANSWER: Bob Feller, the Hall of Famer who pitched a 26-153 record for the Indians (1926-56).
Known as "Rapid Robert," he set many strikeout records.

(c) 1981 NEA, Inc.

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Even a lifetime .300 hitter like Al Oliver needs a tip every now and then.

Oliver, relegated to a designated hitter role because of a sore shoulder, came into Wednesday night's meeting with the Cleveland Indians hitting a mere .111 on 2 hits in 18 at bats.

Texas Ranger Coach Tommy Helms suggested to him during batting practice that Oliver might be squeezing the bat too tightly.

Oliver homered, doubled and knocked in a third run with a fielder's choice grounder and the Rangers romped to an 8-0 victory over the Indians.

"The tip really helped," said Oliver. "Sometimes I forget I'm only human."

Right-hander Doc Medich earned his first victory of the year, scattering five hits over seven and one-third innings.

In other AL action, the Seattle Mariners edged the Minnesota Twins 6-5; the Boston Red Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles 7-2; the Chicago White Sox stopped the Milwaukee Brewers 5-4; New York Yankees beat the Toronto Blue Jays 6-3 and the Detroit Tigers blanked the Kansas City Royals 4-0.

The Oakland A's pitchers are starting this season where they left off last year. And so are the Oakland hitters, particularly Tony Armas.

The A's, who set a major-league record last year for complete games with 94, got another complete game out of a starter when Rick Langford went the distance Wednesday night in a 5-3 victory over the California Angels. That's the sixth time in seven games this year that a starter has completed a game for the undefeated A's.

Meanwhile, Armas, hoping to match last season's home-run total of 35, slugged his fourth of the season. "If 7-0 isn't rolling, nothing is," said Manager Billy Martin. "It's just great. The kids are excited and we're going home Friday to a sold-out crowd. I'd take 7-0 any time of the year."

Red Sox 7, Orioles 2
Carl Yastrzemski drove in three runs in his 1981 debut and Tony Perez hit a two-run homer to lead Boston over Baltimore. Yastrzemski, who missed his first season opener in 21 years because of back-muscle spasms last week, drove in Boston's first run with a groundout in the first inning, then lined a two-run single in the fourth for his 3,110th major league hit.

Perez hit his first homer of the season in a four-run first inning.

"I felt all right but I felt lost up there," said Yastrzemski. "My first time at the plate I almost felt I had never swung the bat. My timing was off, almost as if I didn't have spring training."

White Sox 5, Brewers 4
Bob Molinaro's pinch sacrifice fly in the eighth scored Harold Baines to carry Chicago over Milwaukee. Baines opened the eighth with his third single of the game, went to second on a sacrifice by Jim Morrison and took third on Tony Bernazard's bunt single.

Before his sacrifice fly, Molinaro thought he had worked Rollie Fingers for a walk on a 3-0 pitch, but it was called a strike. "I thought it was ball four," said Molinaro. "But I also knew the next pitch would be a fastball, because he couldn't fool around with a breaking pitch at that point. I was ready and got enough bat on it to get it to the outfield."

Yankees 6, Blue Jays 3
Oscar Gamble's solo homer and Dave Winfield's two-run single keyed a five-run fourth inning that carried New York over Toronto.

Rudy May recorded his second victory in as many starts for the Yankees this season and 10th regular-season triumph in a row since July 22, 1980, when he lost to the Milwaukee Brewers. The big left-hander pitched seven innings, striking out four and allowing no walks.

Tigers 4, Royals 0
Dave Rozema fired a six-hitter in his 1981 debut and Al Cowens tripled home a run and scored another to lead Detroit over Kansas City. Larry Gura gave up only seven hits as the defending American League champions suffered a two-game sweep by the Tigers.

Steve Kemp's first-inning sacrifice fly gave the Tigers a 1-0 lead and all the margin they needed. They added two insurance runs in the second on Cowens' RBI triple Mick Kelleher's single.

Mariners 6, Twins 5
Richie Zisk and Joe Simpson each knocked in two runs and Jerry Don Gleadon pitched four-hit ball for seven innings as Seattle beat Minnesota. Trailing 2-0 in the third inning, the Mariners scored four times to take the lead for good as Zisk's RBI double keyed the rally.

Spurs, Rockets Even Again; Phoenix, 76ers Record Wins

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

In Texas, the visitin' folks still feel right at home. Wednesday night, for the fourth time in six National Basketball Association playoff games between Houston and San Antonio, the hosts were most gracious. This time it was the Rockets, who allowed the Spurs to win 101-96. That sends their Western Division semifinal series back to San Antonio for Friday night's decisive seventh game — and the Spurs hope the home-court hex will finally vanish. "We've had such a strong home record all season, and now I hope it comes back to us," said George Gervin, who led the Spurs with 26 points. "It's time now for us to take advantage of our fans screaming at us to put it away." In the NBA's other Western semifinal, Kansas City failed to wrap things up, losing 101-89 to Phoenix. The Kings lead the series 3-2. And in the remaining Eastern semifinal (the Boston Celtics won their series from Chicago in four straight), Philadelphia took a 3-2 lead with a 116-99 triumph over Milwaukee. Moses Malone, who had 36 points and 10 rebounds for the Rockets, saw the game as "an opportunity to jump and strut and celebrate tonight. Things just didn't go our way. It seems like we've just got to do things the hard way." That's the way it's been all year for the Rockets, trying to become the first team in 13 years to reach an NBA conference final with a losing record (40-42) in the regular season. Calvin Murphy, who had 20 points, put Houston ahead 90-87 with 7 minutes to play, but Gervin, Paul Griffin and Mark Olberding hit successive baskets to put San Antonio in front to stay. Griffin and Olberding finished with 12 points apiece. Suns 101, Kings 89. Truck Robinson scored 15 points and grabbed 20 rebounds to keep Phoenix's hopes alive. "We had to have that type of effort," he said. "There was no other alternative." Walter Davis scored 16 of his 20 points in the first half, including six in a 19-2 Suns burst that gave them a 47-31 lead with 3:42 remaining in the second period. Kansas City cut the margin to 10 points in the fourth period before Robinson led a late charge that widened it to 20 with barely three minutes to play. 76ers 116, Bucks 99. Lionel Hollins and Maurice Cheeks scored 20 points apiece and Julius Erving had 19 as Philadelphia moved within one game of eliminating the Bucks and setting up yet another 76ers-Celtics confrontation. Sidney Moncrief and Mickey Johnson each had 20 points for Milwaukee, which shaved a 15-point Philly lead to six points with about 8 minutes to play but couldn't get any closer.

Champs Chase Watson In Golf's '5th Major'

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Tom Watson, by his own assessment, didn't even have his game at a peak when he won the Masters last week. But — bad news for the other 28 players assembled for the elite, $300,000 MONY-Tournament of Champions — he's got it moving in the right direction. "That's the first time I've won a major when I wasn't playing at my best," Watson said before teeing off today in the first round of the unique, winners-only event that many players consider golf's fifth major, less than a half-step below the recognized Big Four, the Masters, PGA, U.S. and British Opens. "It's a cyclical thing," Watson said of the golf swing, "and right now I'd say I'm more than halfway up the curve."

Augusta, but a frequent challenger here, said he's fully recovered from a back ailment that plagued him in the Masters and brings to this event a better, more positive attitude than he had last week.

The other men who have won more than once over the past 12 months are Bruce Lietzke, Curtis Strange, Larry Nelson, Ray Floyd and Australian David Graham. Strange is one of 10 men making their first appearance in the T of C. The others are Mark Pfeil, Scott Simpson, Scott Hoch, Peter Jacobsen, Don Pooley, Phil Hancock, Mike Sullivan, John Cook and Canadian Dan Halldorson.

Also on hand are John Mahaffey, Bill Kratzert, Ben Crenshaw, Bob Gilder, Howard Twitty, Wayne Levi, Hale Irwin, Andy Bean, Tom Kite, Doug Tewell and Bill Rogers.

National television coverage or portions of the final two rounds will be provided by NBC.

The tournament is sponsored by Mutual of New York.

Rocky Bleier, a hard-running Pittsburgh Steelers back, recovered from serious injuries suffered in Vietnam to become a pro football player.

The United States failed to win a single gold medal in boxing in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin.

Lopez-Melton, Daniel Top Lady Citrus Field

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Nancy Lopez-Melton and Beth Daniel, who have dominated the women's golf circuit for the past three years, are among the favorites in the Lady Citrus golf tournament starting today. Not only that, they are paired together in the first two rounds in the $100,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association event that will draw 90 pros to the Rio Pinar Country Club.

Another strong prospect is Donna Caponi, the one-stroke winner of last week's LPGA tournament in Raleigh, N.C. The 6,209-yard Rio Pinar Course can be treacherous, particularly in the wind. Par is 73.

"I feel pretty good about the way I'm playing," said Lopez-Melton, winner of Player of the Year awards and leading money winner in 1978 and 1979. "The fairways aren't in real good shape but the course is good," said Lopez-Melton, a first-time entrant here. "It requires accuracy off the tee. And the greens are in real good shape." Daniel earned the same two titles last year and will play in a threesome today and Friday with Lopez-Melton and Alice Miller.

Donna Horton White, who won by a stroke over Jane Blalock last year, is pregnant and will miss this year's tournament, officials said. But Blalock, winner of the first tournament in 1979, will try again.

The field includes seven of the top 10 money winners and 14 of the top 20.

Missing from the field will be Pat Bradley, No. 2 on the money list, and JoAnne Carner, No. 3.

Caponi is feared for her habit of winning consecutive titles.

"I do tend to play in hot streaks," she admitted.

Boosters Honor HS Athletes

Booster members planning to attend the All-Sports Banquet Monday night should pick up their tickets at either Hereford bank, it was announced today by Bob Josserrand, Whiteface Booster Club president.

Free tickets are available to booster club members and program advertisers. Athletes were to take home tickets for their parents.

The All-Sports Banquet is set for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Bull Barn with Baylor Coach Grant Teaff as guest speaker. A number of special awards will be presented to athletes at the annual event.

The male and female Athletes of the Year for Hereford High will be honored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce sports committee. Top athletes in each sport—selected by coaches—will be presented with special News Media awards from The Hereford Brand and KPAN Radio.

The booster club sponsors the Fighting Heart award, which will be presented to the athlete who displays outstanding effort and determination.

Josserrand urged boosters and program advertisers to pick up their tickets as soon as possible, in order for the club to have an estimate on the attendance for the banquet.

Yung Sets Three Goals For WT Spring Grid Drills

Spring football drills are underway for the West Texas State Buffaloes, with Coach Bill Yung and his staff setting three goals for the workouts.

"We want to develop good technique in our players at the various positions," said Yung. "Next we want to give the players as much experience as possible and a fair shake at various positions."

"Finally, we have to come out of spring practice with our top 22 players. Then, in the fall other people can challenge."

Reflecting on the 1980 season, Yung had some definite thoughts concerning WT's performance. "I think three things hurt us last season. First, the conference was a lot tougher and much improved over the last few years. Secondly, we suffered a lot of injuries in the Baylor game.

"Thirdly, we played seven games on artificial surface and our kids were just not used to falling and rolling on that surface. I'm sure this was part of the reason for our injuries."

Yung is entering his fifth campaign at West Texas State. The Buffs were 5-6 last season, and under Yung the record is 19-23-2 for four years. Yung's Missouri Valley Conference mark with WT is 13-10.

The Buffs will have 14 returning starters—7 on offense, 5 on defense and 2 specialists. Only loss in the offensive backfield is fullback Jackie Gimplton—third leading rusher in the MVC last year. His backup, Floyd Smith, is also gone.

The tailback spot is solid with two-year starter Danny Clark and Hereford's Paul Bell returning. Two-year starter Mark Tidwell returns at wingback, and Ricky Davis and Matt Patterson return as quarterbacks.

On the offensive line, finding replacements at right tackle and right guard will be the main goal. Greg Hatch (6-3, 230) and Hereford's Jim Fish (6-1, 225) are vying for the guard position.

One of the big goals of the spring will be overhauling the defensive line. It was hard hit by graduation. One bright spot is nose guard, where Elvin Keller (6-2, 240) returns after making all-MVC and third team All American last season.

Two fine kicking specialists return for the Buffs—punter Larry Martin and place kicker Rob Clark. Martin led the conference in punting last season with a 41.8 average. Clark scored 55 points for the Buffs and was second in the conference in scoring average.

Yung lists 35 recruits for next season. He said some of the incoming freshmen will have a chance to fill spots in the offensive line.

Two of those who signed with WT are John Josserrand (6-1, 249) and Bert Wofford (6-4, 230) of Hereford.

Who Am I?

Yeah, I'm a fast-charging Texan. But I have to be sensible and bold in my sport, it's crucial. To relax, I paint, ski, play the trumpet or fly my P51 Mustang. I've even conducted the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

ANSWER: Johnny Rutherford. Auto race 2 three-time winner. His 500. He first raced in 1959 in a 1974. 1976. 1980 of the Indianapolis 500.

Golden Yucca Races Slated Again in Hobbs

Plans for the second annual Golden Yucca Marathon to be held on the campus of College of the Southwest in Hobbs, NM Saturday, April 25 are shaping up, according to race director Steve McCleery.

The marathon and its two companion races, and 8.6 mile and a 3 mile are open to men and women and will begin at 7 a.m. MST.

Last year's marathon drew nearly 250 runners to the CSW campus and was won by Chris Chambers of Denver, Colorado.

The marathon course is a flat, paved course which never crosses an intersection.

Registration for the race will be held at the Mabee Physical Fitness Center from 5-8 p.m. on Friday, April 24 and from 5:30-6:30 a.m. Saturday morning, April 25.

Entry fees are $6 per person if registered by April 17 and $8 thereafter. All entrants will receive an official Golden Yucca t-shirt. All finishers will receive a certificate noting the time in their respective races.

Awards will be presented to the top three finishers in each of 24 divisions.

343.2 Tons of Arms Sent El Salvador

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the bulk of U.S. military aid still to be sent, American arms shipments to El Salvador already have topped the tonnage of weapons that the Reagan administration contends Soviet-bloc countries smuggled to leftist guerrillas.

The Defense Department said Tuesday that the United States has sent 343.2 tons of military supplies to El Salvador since Jan. 1. That compares with an earlier State Department estimate of 200 tons of Soviet-bloc weapons in the hands of the guerrillas.

U.S. charges that sophisticated Soviet-bloc weapons were being shipped to the guerrillas led to the Reagan administration's decision to increase arms shipments and dispatch 20 more military advisers to the strife-torn Central American nation. The flow of U.S. weapons — and a reported drop in supplies to the guerrillas — appear to be having an impact on the civil war. Government troops have been on the offensive recently and the guerrillas have fallen back to their mountain strongholds.

American aid already in El Salvador is also only a fraction of the assistance in the pipeline for the ruling civilian-military junta. U.S. military aid ranges from helicopters to M-16 automatic rifles.

"There's a heckuva lot more in terms of money" to come, said Lt. Col. Jerry Grahowski, a Pentagon spokesman.

The weapons shipments counted in the Defense Department report include the $5 million in emergency assistance released by former President Carter in January and about $4 million of the $25 million in aid promised by President Reagan, Grahowski said.

That would leave about $21 million in aid still to be sent.

In a Feb. 23 special report, the State Department charged that Soviet-bloc countries had pledged almost 800 tons of military aid to the guerrillas and that 200 tons actually had been delivered, mainly through Cuba and Nicaragua. Later, State Department officials said the communist flow of arms, which it denounced as "indirect armed aggression," apparently dwindled to a trickle after the guerrillas' failed offensive in January.

CPR Demonstrated For Lions Club Here

A demonstration on cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) was presented to the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday by Carolyn Hays and Rosie Griffin.

The program was part of the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club. Club president Sid Shaw introduced the program.

Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Griffin explained CPR techniques and used a dummy to demonstrate how mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is performed. The ladies also explained and demonstrated how to come to the rescue of conscious persons whose airways become blocked.

Shaw announced that plans are being made for a number of local club members to attend the District 2-T1 Lions Convention in Amarillo April 24-25.

He also announced that the club will sponsor a Trash Bag Sale on May 2, using the chamber office as central headquarters for the project.

Critics of the report, however, note that the State Department presents no firm evidence that the 200 tons in alleged Soviet-bloc aid ever reached El Salvador. Cuba and the Soviet Union have denied arming the guerrillas.

And the critics say that even if the 200 tons did arrive, it is a relatively small amount of equipment that would last the insurgents for only a couple of weeks of fighting.

Grahowski conceded that 200 tons would be used up "rather quickly" in continuous fighting, but he said the guerrillas appear to be husbanding their supply of ammunition by avoiding major battles.

The Pentagon report, prepared by the Defense Supply Assistance Agency, said that since Jan. 1, the United States has supplied the junta with 265.3 tons of arms and ammunition, 24 tons of helicopters and spare parts and 53.9 tons of "non-lethal equipment" such as helmets, flak jackets and communications equipment.

Artisans of the Ming Dynasty of China were reported to have made "eggshell" porcelain wine cups weighing less than 1/48 of an ounce.

The first U.S.-British checkers competition was held in Boston in 1905. Britain won 73 games to 34 with 284 games declared a draw.

Pensions granted as recently as the early 1970s have lost half their value because of inflation, according to a Conference Board report.

Horse-Drawn Vehicles On Display at Museum

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon possesses one of the largest collections of horse-drawn vehicles in the Southwest. Several of these, including a mountain wagon, a buckboard, a racing sulky, and a phaeton road cart were restored and donated to the Museum by Levelland dentist Bob Roberson. Roberson also constructed a replica of a nineteenth-century shepherd's wagon, complete with stove and bed, for use at the Museum's sod house living history experiment. Every year thousands of school children and other Museum visitors view these early forms of transportation.

"My first restoration was my father's 1905 dentist office," said the genial West Texas State University graduate. He added, "I've always been nostalgic for the past."

In 1971 a chance remark by a local rancher occupying his dentist chair led Dr. Roberson into the restoration of wheeled vehicles: "He said he had a delapidated chuckwagon that he was ready to burn, but I convinced him to give it to me so I could restore it." In the last decade Roberson has retrieved and restored dozens of wagons, buggies, and carts from locations all over the Southwest.

"Many people will look at a broken down old wagon and see a pile of junk. I look at the same vehicle and see it as something that deserves a better fate," said the dentist. To help ensure authenticity in restoration, Dr. Roberson maintains a research library of books and trade literature relating to historic transportation.

The avocation that has provided Roberson with so much pleasure has also benefitted seventeen different museums in Texas, Louisiana, Colorado, and New Mexico. There is something intriguing about artifacts that long ago played a vital part in industry, commerce, sport, and society. As one museum curator put it, "Historic artifacts are history's stage settings without the actors or the script." They are tangible evidence of the past - things that can be seen, touched, smelled, and heard. They can help us internalize history and, in so doing, better understand who we are.

Initiative-Referendum Bill Defined to Republican Women

Complex provisions of the Initiative-Referendum Bill now before the Texas Legislature were explained to Deaf Smith County Republican Women's Organization Monday by a guest speaker.

Browning Lloyd, district aide to Rep. Chip Staniswalis of Amarillo, representative from the 67th district, spoke to the county RWO at a noon meeting in Hereford State Bank Community Room.

Basically, the bill would give Texas citizens the power to propose and vote on laws directly, bypassing the state legislature or forcing legislators to take action on measures desired by the voters, the speaker said.

Initiative permits voters to put an issue on the ballot or petition the legislature to do so. By referendum a law may be submitted to direct vote by citizens, or a law passed by the legislature may be put on the ballot so voters may cancel it, he said.

Lloyd listed arguments for and against the current bill and gave examples of the use of initiative and referendum in other states, notably in California's Proposition 13 which reduced state taxes there recently.

The speaker was introduced by Shirley Costello of Amarillo, district director for the Texas Federation of Republican Women. She urged the county organization to send representatives to a TFRW board meeting to be held at Amarillo June 26-27, also announced the national convention of Republican Women in Denver Sept. 16-19 and the state convention in Waco Oct. 16-17, when a bus will take Panhandle delegates and visitors.

A Tribute to Women dinner at Austin, sponsored by national and state Republican Women, was announced and the local group voted to nominate its president, Jane White, to receive a state honor.

The next meeting will be May 11 at which time the Deaf Smith County Republican Women will host the Dimmitt Republican Women and the Dimmitt Women will present the program on "Political Humor."

Facing the Shame

DEAR ANN LANDERS: As a wife who for 34 years has been a good mother to four children and worked hard in a family-owned business, I knew what the woman meant when she said God must let women live longer so they can enjoy a few years free of the grief their husbands can cause them.

Twelve years ago I discovered that while I was busy minding the store, my husband was enjoying himself in our bedroom with the town tramp. I caught them there one day by accident. He was a nervous wreck and promised never to see her again. So now they meet in motels.

I love my husband, and I don't want a divorce, but his continuation of this affair is very hard to take. He insists that she runs after him - that he has never once made the first move. I believe him.

My question: Should I continue to be loyal and protect him, or should I tell the whole world about his sex orgies with this rotten broad and let him face the shame?

I pray every night that the Lord takes him first, so I will have a few years of happiness after the skunk is dead.--Cassville, Mo., Woman

DEAR WOMAN: You say you love your husband and don't want a divorce, yet you pray he dies first so you can have some happiness? That's a funny kind of love, lady.

The marriage sounds like a nightmare. Your hostility darn near ate a hole through the envelope. You don't want advice, you just wanted to express your anger. What you really need is a professional who will listen to you rant and rave on a regular basis. I hope you find one. It would be cheaper than ulcers or migraines.

DEAR L.L.R.: I will stop saying "strangely enough." It is not proper usage. Thanks for pointing it out.

If you will read the "Come see us" column again, you will see that it was not "just a polite phrase." It was one of those phony, empty invitations that are an insult to a person with taste. Another example of same: "Why don't you ever call me?" Get the picture?

CONFIDENTIAL to Waiting by the Mailbox in Memphis: You, kind sir, are the victim of a long list of "Misses." They are Miss Understanding, Miss Information, Miss Conception, Miss Interpretation, Miss Representation and, finally, Miss Behavior.

Are drugs OK if you learn how to control them? Can they be of help? The answers are in Ann Landers' new booklet, "Straight Dope on Drugs." For each booklet ordered, send a dollar, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (28 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois, Illinois 60611.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I frequently use your columns in my English classes as an example of clear writing and sound judgment. Permit me to offer this wee censure.

(1) Please stop saying, "strangely enough." The word "enough" is redundant and unworthy of you.

(2) I was distressed by your advice to the Philadelphia woman regarding "Come see us." You suggested that she trap the person into a definite, convenient time. In some regions "Come see us" means nothing more than "goodbye." This expression is not an invitation. It is a touch of courtesy.

When the British are introduced, they often say, "How do you do?" Would you respond by saying, "How do I do, WHAT?"

I'm sure you get the point.--L.L.R.

Baptist Layman Speaks To Night Baptist Women

The Night Baptist Women of First Baptist Church met for a covered dish meal in the church fellowship hall. Guest speaker for the meeting was Morris Cobb of Amarillo.

Cobb, a lawyer and outstanding layman of Baptist work throughout Texas and the entire South, is presently serving on the Board of Foreign Missions of the Southern Baptist Convention. He gave the history of the cooperative program of the Southern Baptist outlining its purpose, functions and needs.

The First Baptist Church staff, deacons and their wives were guests at the recent meeting. The next meeting of Night Baptist Women will be May 7 at 7 p.m.

Correction

It was incorrectly stated in the Wednesday edition of The Hereford Brand that Latham and Garnett Insurance, located at 506 S. 25 Mile Ave. was chosen as the residential beauty spot of the month by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Beautification Committee. The article should have read Lathan Garnett Agency located at 810 S. 25 Mile Ave. The Brand regrets this error.

Tonya Savage Named Future Young Homemaker

Tonya Savage, Hereford High School junior, will serve as the 1981-82 Future Young Homemaker for the Hereford Young Homemakers chapter. Miss Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Savage, was given the honor when the local chapter met Tuesday night for its annual Future Homemaker Tea and style show.

Dana Barber, this year's future homemaker, was presented a gift for her involvement in the club.

Miss Savage is an active member of Deaf Smith County 4-H, a second year homemaking student and a two-year member of Future Homemakers of America.

She and four other students who qualified for the Future Homemaker were interviewed by a panel of Young Homemaker members.

The other girls who were interviewed included Lisa Layman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Layman; Brenda Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Davis; Annette Diller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diller; and Darlene Stovall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Stovall.

Glenda Goss, Shirley Carlson, Connie Gilbert and Karen Smith served as hostesses for the tea.

Executives of Hereford sponsored the style show which featured spring fashions. Models included Karen Payne, Poppy Head, Renee Hill, Sharon McNutt and Bert Jacks.

During a brief business meeting after the tea, members voted to sell praline pecans door-to-door May 2.

Plans were made for the Young Homemakers-Young Farmers banquet April 25 and the Mother's Day Luncheon May 9.

In addition, it was announced the executive committee will meet Monday to nominate officers for next year.

Additional members present were Bobbie Patzig, Brenda Campbell, Gail Blain, Barbara Durham, Marilyn Culpepper, Ann Kemp and Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith.

Several guests at the meeting including Brenda Meiwes, Georgia Auckerman, Linda Cumpton, Yvette Riley and the nominees' mothers.

New Homemaker

Marilyn Culpepper, Young Homemaker member, congratulates Tonya Savage, the new Future Young Homemaker. Miss Savage was given the honor for her outstanding work within the homemaking program at Hereford High School. Dana Barber is the outgoing future homemaker.

Western 'Outlaws' Reviewed During Pioneer Club Meeting

"Famous Characters of the Wild West," were brought to "life" when Mary Panciera reviewed Richard Garrett's book concerning the early day "outlaws" when the Pioneer Study Club met.

The British author, takes a penetrating look at six of the characters of the wild West best known for television series depicting their lives. He compares the myths with realities, though Mrs. Panciera said she would question the authority with which he writes. "He seldom misses an opportunity to insert prejudicial statements about our country and our people," she said.

The author wrote that Billy the Kid, Jesse James and Butch Cassidy were all invested with a "mantle of virtue." They robbed because they were misunderstood and thus were forgiven, because they gave their illegal earnings to the poor.

"In this book," Garrett wrote, "I may have been guilty of breaking up a few of these myths. After all, why should people continue to revere characters totally unworthy of reverence?"

Among the characters which Garrett discusses are Billy the Kid, Wyatt Earp, General Custer, Jesse James, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid.

In regard to the author's intent to "discredit the reverence given these characters," Mrs. Panciera said, "I was surely unaware that any reverence was given to the infamous characters in this book. It has always been my opinion that they were outlaws."

During the business session with Mrs. R.L. Wilson presiding, the club voted to participate in the Hereford Town and Country Jubilee, August 20-23; to again sell spring bulbs as a fund-raising project; and to send $100 to Girls Town.

Brief reports were given by the president and Mrs. L.H. Lookingbill about the Top of Texas District Convention which they recently attended in Borger. Mrs. Eunice Petersen won two blue ribbons and one judges' ribbon for her paintings entered at the convention. Mrs. Guy Walser received blue ribbons for her knitted afghans.

Mrs. Jim Clark and Mrs. H.E. Miller were hostesses for the luncheon which was held at Caions. Tables were decorated with lilacs and apple blossoms with ivy.

Those attending the meeting were Miss Roberta Campbell, Mmes. C.P. Cockrell, Herman Ford, O.G. Hill, Paul Rudd, Delmar Sigle, Wm. W. Wimberly, Wilson, Lookingbill, Panciera, Petersen, Walser, Miller and Clark.

COMMENTARY

David Hendin
A celebration of freedom

On Saturday night, April 18, Jews around the world will gather in family groups to celebrate the holiday of Passover. The ritual of the Passover meal reminds Jews not only of the exodus from Egypt in biblical times but of the responsibilities of freedom in every age.

Among the Passover rituals are the Passover meal, called the Seder, and the reading of the Haggada, the Passover story. The Jewish people recite the Haggada story "so as to affirm our commitment to our past, our present and our future as a people," says Dr. Gerson D. Cohen, chancellor of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York. "Insofar as possible, we relive our slavery and exodus from Egypt so as to possess yet again the full meaning of freedom and its responsibilities."

The Passover Seder is a ritual meal that is rich in historical symbolism. Four cups of wine are drunk in the traditional Seder. Each one refers back to elements related to the Jewish exodus from Egypt:

- Matzo, or unleavened bread, is eaten with bitter herbs, as a reminder of the bitterness of slavery. Salt water on the table also commemorates the tears of slavery.
- Green leafy vegetables, normally parsley, are indicative of the spring harvest.
- A roasted egg and a roasted lamb shank are reminders, respectively, of the festival and paschal sacrifices that were offered with the Jewish Temple stood in Jerusalem.
- A mixture of apples, nuts and wine recalls the mortar with which Israelite slaves built pyramids and other public structures in Egypt.
- Juxtaposed with the symbols of bondage in the Passover ritual are reminders of freedom. During the festival meal, participants are meant to recline since this was once the exclusive privilege of free men and women in the Roman Empire. It is also customary for one to be served by other participants in the Seder, since this, too, is an indication of redemption from slavery. The Passover meal itself is sumptuous, served on one's finest dishes, which are traditionally reserved for exclusive Passover use.

The broad outlines of the Passover Haggada were formulated in biblical times and expounded upon by rabbis and preachers over the past 2,000 years.

During the meal the children ask, "Why is this night different from all other nights?"

Their parents answer by recounting the Passover story. Says Cohen: "The Seder is a shared experience that enables children to question and participate and parents, as teachers and guardians, to provide answers and responses from personal and historic experience. 'In every age,' says the text of the Haggada, 'one is obliged to see himself or herself as if personally redeemed from slavery, and the more one recounts the more he or she is to be praised.'"

In anticipation of the eight-day holiday, Jewish homes are cleaned of leavened products and Passover dishes, pots and utensils replace those used throughout the year.

Children and adults alike prepare themselves by reading the Haggada and researching material with which to enrich their Seders.

Furthermore, today many Catholic and Protestant seminarians read, study and enact parts of the Passover Seder ritual. This is done because some elements of the Seder strongly influenced the development of Christian liturgy.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

No longer rings the bell

DEAR DR. LAMB - Before my prostate operation I had plenty of women after me. Since my operation I can't seem to hold a steady girlfriend. There were two I wanted to marry. They dumped me after I had sex with them. I want to know if it is because I'm shooting blanks and they get no feeling from me. No one will tell me why, only that I should find someone else, and that I should cool it with them.

I'm a perfect specimen, in good health, very good build, 5 feet 9, 173 pounds, with my head of hair and my own teeth. I'm clean cut and good looking.

They won't tell me but I believe they all dump me because I don't ring the bell anymore. Why can't they transplant a prostate like they do a heart so you can have a 100 percent climax. Incidentally, I'm 63 but I look 55.

DEAR READER - With all those good credentials, I'll get a lot of mail from women who would like to meet you. You don't sound like you are doing too bad.

I suppose we would all like to stay young forever and enjoy the pleasures of youth without its frustrations and problems. You really do not know that your responses are because of prostate surgery. It isn't unusual for a man to slow down a bit at your age. And maybe you would do a lot better with women who realized that you are 63 and not 28.

Your letter should give encouragement to many men who wonder if there is sex after prostate surgery. How you do depends on some of the type of surgery and your general medical status. It is true that retrograde ejaculation is the rule. But that should not diminish the overall sensation.

In middle age and older, too much prostate gland is the problem, so I doubt there will be much enthusiasm about transplanting one. It wouldn't prevent the retrograde discharge anyway; that is related to valves at the outlet of the bladder. Be happy and enjoy your good looks, youthful appearance and the fact that you are still attractive to women.

DEAR DR. LAMB - What is Paget's disease? Is it untreatable? I noticed the additional notation on my doctor's statement, but I was given no new medications. I'm 76 years old. I have been jerking and itching. Is that part of Paget's disease?

DEAR READER - Paget's disease is a disease of the bone. Mostly the bone degenerates and then regenerates. The changes cause the area involved to be weak.

It occurs in many people without causing any symptoms at all and may be an incidental finding in an otherwise long life. In other instances it produces symptoms that vary according to which bones are damaged. If the vertebrae are involved, that may cause pain from pressure on the spinal nerves. If the skull is involved it may cause headaches.

During the last 10 years a lot of progress has been made in treating Paget's disease, even though we still don't know what causes it. Calcitonin, a hormone that inhibits bone resorption, is one of the agents used in many cases. There are other medicines as well. Often these will stop the pain if that is a feature of the involvement.

The Newspaper BIBLE

TWO LITTLE FISH TO FEED 5,000 HUNGRY MEN!

Late in the afternoon all twelve of Jesus' disciples came and urged Him to send the people away to the nearby villages and farms, to find food and lodging for the night. "For there is nothing to eat here in this deserted spot," they said.

But Jesus replied, "You feed them?" "Why, we have only five loaves of bread and two fish among the lot of us," they protested; "or are You expecting us to go and buy enough for this whole mob?" For there were about 5,000 men there!

"Just tell them to sit down on the ground in groups of about fifty each," Jesus replied. So they did.

Jesus took the five loaves and two fish and looked up into the sky and gave thanks; then He broke off pieces for His disciples to set before the crowd. And everyone ate and ate; still, twelve basketfuls of scraps were picked up afterwards!

One day as He was alone, praying, with His disciples nearby, He came over and asked them, "Who are the people saying I am?" "John the Baptist," they told Him, "or perhaps Elijah or one of the other ancient prophets risen from the dead."

Then He asked them, "Who do you think I am?" Peter replied, "The Messiah—the Christ of God!"

He gave them strict orders not to speak of this to anyone. "For I must suffer much," He said, "and be rejected by the Jewish leaders—the elders, chief priests, and teachers of the Law—and be killed; and three days later I will come back to life again!"

DEAR DR. LAMB - My 14-year-old son was diagnosed by the school nurse as possible scoliosis. The doctor specializing in this field indicated a slight curvature and recommended exercises. He felt the condition didn't warrant a brace. A follow-up examination three months later suggested a possible larger curve on the X-rays but the doctor said it could be the way the X-rays were taken. We are to go back in three months. I still don't know any more than I did when we started. What is the future for my son?

DEAR READER - You know that his condition is not advanced and not serious enough to require treatment other than exercises at this time. Since this developed at age 14, his outlook is quite good.

Scoliosis is a complex subject. If it occurs in early childhood, it is more serious than if it occurs near completion of growth. Sometimes scoliosis is secondary to such things as a short leg. This is entirely different from those cases caused by deformities of the vertebrae. Any of us can have lateral deviation of the spine (scoliosis) during an acute muscle spasm or faulty posture. You are approaching this situation the right way, but be patient. Your doctor has to wait, too, and see if there are any changes with time. He can't hurry the process either.

DEAR POLLY - If Sarah has not gotten the glue (left by a label) off her storm door glass, she might try peanut butter. I could not get the glue off an aluminum pie tin until I tried the peanut butter treatment, and it peeled the glue right off. - MRS. G.M.L.

DEAR POLLY - To remove glue left from labels I use cooking oil. To remove oil or grease spots from the concrete driveway I use that laundry spray for spots and stains, and then wash and scrub with a broom or hose off it. - JANET

Camp Fire Clubs Compete In '81 Spring Art Show

Camp Fire members displayed their works of art for competition during the recent 1981 Spring Art Show held this past weekend at the Camp Fire Lodge.

Horizon Art Winner

Sandy Evers was one of the Camp Fire Horizon members who participated in the recent 1981 Spring Art Show. Miss Evers exhibit placed second in the printmaking category. She also placed first and third with her work in the craft category. Her work was included at an open house Sunday at the Camp Fire Lodge.

Of those participating in the show, 23 girls took top places. The show was held in conjunction with the national art show. Although the national competition only includes one category of art, printmaking, the local show included three other categories, art, craft and stitchery.

Those who won first place in the printmaking category will advance to national competition to be held in June.

Blue Bird and Blue Jay winners in the local contest are Tracy Flood, first, art; Kristi Halford, first, Glenda Kendrick, second, and Rhae Lyn Lesley, third, all in crafts; Annette Thorell, first, Miss Flood, second, and Stephanie Fox, third, all in printmaking.

Adventures taking top awards in the contest are Linda Emmons, first, art; Andrea Wall, first, Amy Conaway, second, and Kristi Milton, third, all in crafts; Kandi Sparkman, first, Miss Emmons, second, and Melissa Flores, third, all in printmaking.

Discovery club members placing in the annual show are Sylvia Vera, first, Crystal Finley, second and third, crafts;

Horizon members winning awards are Sandy Evers, first and third, and Shannon Evers, second, crafts; Bethany Boyd, first, Sandy Evers, second, and Martha Zamora, thirds, all in printmaking.

Charles Lyles, Jean Lyles and Norman Harder were the judges for this year's contest.

Adventure Art Winners

Business Reports Given At Valeda Club Meeting

Valeda Study Club held a relatively routine business session when members met at the home of Betty Olson.

Several reports were read at the meeting including treasury, nominating and communications.

The club voted not to participate in the project County History book.

After the meeting adjourned, a surprise baby shower was hosted for Darlene Fields.

Eighteen members were present at the meeting.

Extension Club Meets

West Hereford Extension Homemakers Club met Tuesday in the home of Wilma Neill Pierce with Alice Cox as co-hostess.

The next club's meeting will be the health fair.

Present at the Tuesday meeting were Almeda Pinman, Opal Andrews, Roy and Robert Boyd, Christen Larson, Estell Burrell, Alice Cox and Evelyn Bell. Mrs. Pitman won the hostess gift.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Lee Fangman are the parents of a son, Blair Leigh Fangman born April 14. He weighed 6 lbs. 7 1/2 ozs.

Discovery Art Winners

Camp Fire Discovery members Sylvia Vera and Crystal Finley took the first and second places, respectively, at the recent 1981 Spring Art Show. Miss Finley also took the third place in the craft category. The show included entries from each of the four divisions in Camp Fire including Blue Birds and Blue Jays, Adventures, Discovery and Horizon.

Camp Fire Blue Birds display their winning exhibiting which they displayed in the recent Spring Art Show. Annette Thorell placed first in printmaking; Tracy Flood placed second in printmaking; Glenda Kendrick placed second in crafts and Stephanie Fox placed third in printmaking. Miss Thorell will compete in the national contest in June. The exhibits were displayed for the public Sunday at the Camp Fire Lodge.
