

EnCoRe schedules collection

EnCoRe will hold a recycling collection day Friday from noon until 7 p.m. at the Red Cross parking lot on S. Main.

A City of Hereford garbage truck will be parked at the Red Cross to collect plastics. Residents can also bring glass, bundled newspapers, tin cans and aluminum. EnCoRe volunteers will be on hand throughout the afternoon to help with the collection.

All items need to be sorted by material. Containers should be rinsed and lids removed, and labels should be peeled off if possible. The area plastics dealer requires plastic motor oil and antifreeze bottle be sorted separately from other containers.

EnCoRe can only accept glass bottles and jars (window panes and dishes cannot be recycled). Glass containers must be sorted by color (clear, brown and green).

The City of Hereford will take all collected plastics to Fanfare of Amarillo, and newspapers will be donated to St. Anthony's School. Glass items will be recycled by Amarillo Scrap Processing and metals will be redeemed at Hereford Iron and Metal.

Babbling Brooks

Well, we now have a Supreme Court justice named Clarence, 52-48. (And Anita Hill is going to make a bunch of money with that book that should be out almost any day.)

We have never had a Clarence on the Supreme Court. We had my great-uncle, Willis Van Devanter. (In his World Book biography, it says his opinions were "consistently conservative." Way to go, Uncle Willis!) We've had a Hugo, Levi, Bushrod, Brockholst, Noah, Lucius, Mahlon, Thurgood and, the all-time great Supreme Court name, Felix Frankfurter.

But no Clarence. In my strenuous research of digging for the information (actually five minutes at the Deaf Smith County Library on Tuesday afternoon), I didn't come across anything even close to Clarence being on the Supreme Court. The name on there most, I am glad to point out, was JOHN.

But no Clarence. No one has ever gone through the stuff Clarence Thomas has gone through. Bork wasn't even close. John Tower, for all the hell he went through, wasn't that close.

One of the ironies of the Senate Judiciary Committee's hearings was that one of the persons doing a lot of the bellowing was one E. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

If anyone knows anything about harassing members of the opposite sex, it would be one E. Kennedy.

While we're talking about not knowing who's honest, why don't we drag another name in here from the panel: J. Biden of New Jersey.

How do we know that someone else didn't first say, "No one's on trial here! Didn't Disraeli or Moses or King Tut or someone else say that? C'mon, Joe, attribute, attribute, attribute.

Anyway, good luck, Clarence. Write your own book, too.

J. Danforth Quayle had a luncheon speaking engagement halfway across the country on Tuesday. He jetted back to Washington, just in case. His vote was almost needed.

It's amazing what a rivalry has developed between Dumas and Hereford in volleyball.

Tuesday was a prime example. Whiteface Gym was full on the home side, something that hasn't happened in a lonnnngggg time for an indoor athletic event in Hereford.

While the Lady Whitefaces came out on the short end of the score, it was quite a match. Unless there's a couple of really big upsets, the teams won't meet again until the quarterfinals.

There was an amazing amount of pressure, not just for the players but for their parents. One of the players' moms told me she had been drinking Pepto-Bismol for two days getting ready for the match.

Well, we won't have to worry about the Demonettes for a while. I hope the girls go out and have some fun for the next couple of weeks and get ready for a big march through the playoffs.

On to Austin, Lady Whitefaces.

Rives presents DSGH recommendations

Ron Rives, interim administrator at Deaf Smith General Hospital, gave a review of all departments to the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board of directors at their meeting Tuesday night at DSGH.

Rives, on the job for less than two months, has reviewed all departments and has met with all department heads and most employees in reviewing the needs of DSGH.

The board also extended surgical privileges to Dr. Dik S. Cheung, a Clovis ophthalmologist who has returned to DSGH on a limited basis. Cheung had practiced here about three years ago.

The board also reviewed the financial statement and statistical summaries for September. The hospital recorded a loss of $24,523, when comparing expenses to revenues for the month. For the fiscal year the hospital has lost $151,750, according to the statement of revenues and expenses.

Rives presented a four-page review of DSGH departments, showing what he has done to improve various areas and recommendations for future improvements.

Rives' review included:
--Housekeeping: Increased the staff by three persons to improve cleanliness and appearance; added a janitor for floor maintenance; using a consultant to improve scheduling, inventory control and buying practices.

--Laboratory: Karen Ward is interim lab director; renegotiating pathology contract to reduce monthly costs; reducing inventory.

--Radiology: upgrade ultrasound equipment; reviewing existing contract for radiologist reading fees; enclosing or attaching CT scan unit to building.

--Nursing services: taking an aggressive approach to discharge planning and swing bed program; a nursing consultant will visit this week; controlling nursing hours and overtime; considering two birthing suites; redesign of Station II to better utilize staff and better serve patients; new monitoring equipment for ICU; redecorate and refurbish 20 patient rooms, including a possible "Adopt A Room" program for community involvement.

--Revamping the Respiratory Therapy Department.

--Home Health Agency: A new director (Sharon Johnson) hired; move department to second floor; consultants have been at DSGH for two weeks.

--Ambulance: consultants studied department during September and made recommendations which have been implemented.

--Dietary: Charlotte Clark was rehired as director; cleaning kitchen area; beginning employee meals by Nov. 15; renovate dining room.

--Central Supply: Purchasing is centralized, with a purchase order system more firmly in place; forming a loss charges committee; reduced inventory levels throughout hospital; improved buying practices.

--Pharmacy: increased hours of service and improved buying practices.

--Business office: Restructured business office; accounts receivable and collections have been reviewed, with improvements in place.

Rives said the hospital is also working with the marketing committee; updating the employee handbook; establishing a merit-based payroll system; reviewed liability issues with attorney Alan Rhodes; working with existing quality assurance programs.

Board members present included Raymond Schroeder, Craig Smith, Dr. Stan Fry Jr., Dr. Randal Vinther, John Perrin and Mal Manchec. Boyd Foster was absent.

Six nominated for chamber

Six persons have been nominated for four positions up for election for the board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Nominated for the election have been David Alvarado, Wes Fisher, Michael Foster, Elaine McNutt, Mauri Montgomery and John Sherrod.

The nominees will appear on ballots which will be mailed to each members whose dues are current and in good standing on Oct. 22. All ballots must be returned to the chamber by Nov. 5.

The four directors elected this year will serve three-year terms on the Chamber board.

Alvarado has been a Hereford resident for 35 years and has his own Allstate Insurance Agency. He is also pastor of the Good News Church, a member of the Deaf Smith County Juvenile Board and the Hereford Lions Club, and is a past board member of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Hereford. David and his wife, Elvira, have two children Cindy and Josh, and a grandchild.

Fisher, who served eight years as mayor of Hereford, has lived in Hereford since 1963 when he and his wife, Pat, moved here with Holly sugar. He left Holly in 1966 to enter the produce business, and he is part owner and executive vice president of Barrett-Fisher Company. Fisher served 11 years on the Deaf Smith County Juvenile Board, and was appointed by the governor to serve on the Panhandle Community Development Review Committee. He was instrumental in founding the Panhandle Conference of Mayors and served as its chairman. He presently served on the Hereford Area Tax Abatement Board and is chairman of the Panhandle Area Alliance.

Foster is owner of Foster Electronics in Hereford, which he started in 1987. He also works for Hereford Emergency Medical Service, serving as a paramedic team leader. A graduate of Hereford High School, he has attended Texas Tech and has completed over 60 hours of paramedic courses. He is an Eagle Scout and is active in Rotary Club and Deaf Smith County Crimestoppers.

McNutt, a life-long Hereford resident, attended St. Anthony's School and Hereford High School, and majored in commercial art at West Texas State University. She and her husband, Larry, have three sons, Bryant, Eric and Wade. She is a partner in Inkahoots and is busy with commercial sign painting and commercial art. She has been active in the Town and Country Jubilee, Fourth of July celebration, Little Miss Hereford pageants and St. Anthony's School activities.

Montgomery, advertising director at the Hereford Brand, has lived in Hereford since 1969. A graduate of HHS, he has a journalism degree from Texas Tech University. He worked at the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal for a short time before returning to Hereford. He was sports editor of the Brand for a short while before becoming advertising manager of the paper. He and his wife, Lydia, has two children, Kerris and Kanen. Montgomery has served the past two years as the chairman of the chamber's beautification committee and the Town and Country Jubilee. He is a member of the Kiwanis club and is a United Way volunteer.

Sherrod moved to Hereford in 1989 to become executive vice president of the First National Bank. A native of Hale Center and graduate of Texas Tech University, he served as a bank examiner for three years and was with a Lubbock bank for 10 years. He is currently chairman of the chamber's economic development committee, vice president of United Way and a board member of Deaf Smith County Crimestoppers. He and his wife, Karen, have two children, Curt and Kari.

On the ballot

Here are the six nominees for the upcoming election of board members for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce:

- David Alvarado
- Wes Fisher
- Michael Foster
- Elaine McNutt
- Mauri Montgomery
- John Sherrod

Additional nominations may be submitted to be placed on the ballot by any member in good standing. The name of the person being nominated along with 10 signatures of current members must be submitted to be placed on the ballot. Additional nominations should be submitted by 5 p.m. Monday at the Chamber office, Seventh and Main in Hereford.

Thomas ready 'to go forward'

WASHINGTON (AP) - Clarence Thomas takes his seat on the Supreme Court under a cloud of unresolved allegations and bitter emotions, but he'll still be able to help shape the nation's laws for decades to come.

"I'd like to thank America," Thomas said after the Senate's 52-48 confirmation vote Tuesday night.

"No matter how difficult or painful, this is a time for healing in our country," he said. "We have to put these things behind us. We have to go forward."

With the most contentious confirmation battle in the nation's history now completed, the 43-year-old Thomas is likely to be sworn in Monday and assume the court's ninth seat.

He does so in time to join the review of a heavy load of high-profile cases. Ironically for a man whose nomination was nearly lost in a swirl of allegations involving sexual harassment and X-rated movies, one of his first cases involves the question of prosecution of pornography customers.

President Bush telephoned the newest justice as soon as the confirmation vote was in. He praised the conservative black jurist as "a man of honesty, dedication and commitment to the Constitution and the rule of law."

Thomas had the support of 41 Republican and 11 Democratic senators. In the end, only three of 13 Democrats who had publicly endorsed Thomas before Anita Hill's harassment allegations became public changed their mind. One Democrat, Charles Robb of Virginia, had been counted undecided before.

Thomas' Senate supporters celebrated the victory but acknowledged it had come at an extraordinarily high cost to Thomas, to the Senate and to Hill, the former assistant who said Thomas sexually harassed her at two government jobs a decade ago.

"No question that both of them have been smudged by the charges and this process that brought them out," Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, one of Thomas' leading defenders, said following the vote.

Hill, back home in Oklahoma where she teaches law, said she hoped her experience would not deter others from coming forward in cases of sexual harassment.

"The issue of sexual harassment is now part of a dialogue," she said. "I cannot tell you how many letters and cards I have received from people throughout the country who are concerned about this."

"Women who have experienced the same thing have written and said now for the first time they could talk about it. And that's important," Hill added.

Thomas' confirmation was made possible by the critical votes of Southern Democrats, several of whom need the support of black voters to win re-election next year.

News Digest

World/National

ACROSS THE USA - Some Americans are hoping that the ordeal Clarence Thomas went through will make him a better Supreme Court justice. Others worry that the whole lurid process will leave him embittered.

WASHINGTON - Clarence Thomas takes his seat on the Supreme Court under a cloud of unresolved allegations and bitter emotions, but neither will diminish his ability to shape the nation's laws for decades to come.

DAMASCUS, Syria - Secretary of State James A. Baker III is extending talks with Syrian President Hafez Assad on a Mideast peace conference, apparently because of difficulty in ironing out details for a possible Oct. 29 start.

BANGKOK, Thailand - While Soviet economists paint a dire picture of the state of their economy, Western leaders encourage the central government and the republics to quickly reach agreement on economic cooperation.

NEW YORK - Public colleges and universities are hitting students with the biggest tuition increases in eight years as campuses in at least 30 states struggle to make up deep budget cuts.

WASHINGTON - For more than a year, L. William Seidman repeatedly assured anybody who asked that he would be quitting soon. But there always seemed to be one more big bank to rescue, one more banking squabble in Congress to help settle.

GENEVA - Western companies are scrambling to meet vast new demand for global communication since the fall of the Iron Curtain, using satellites and cellular phones to bypass ancient switching systems.

SAN FRANCISCO - Not surprisingly, many arrived at this convention by train. And not in the coach section, either. Hundreds of hobos - hobbyists, "professionals" and wannabes - gathered to share the joys of hopping a freight.

Texas

WASHINGTON - The Senate didn't distinguish itself in its handling of Clarence Thomas' nomination to the Supreme Court, but at least the right decision was reached, says Sen. Phil Gramm.

AUSTIN - Texas' small businesses say they need credit, and Gov. Ann Richards says she wants to talk with bankers about their need. Voicing fears that the state's economic recovery might be stalled by recession in other regions, the governor on Tuesday called for a meeting with bankers to discuss more loans for small businesses.

BROWNSVILLE - The state has failed in its obligation to provide quality higher education for all its residents, leaving the border region unable to compete economically, former San Antonio mayor Henry Cisneros says.

AUSTIN - Making the sentence fit the crime will be one of the most important issues for a new commission charged with recommending an overhaul of the state's penal code, state leaders said.

AUSTIN - A state regulator has urged the financially troubled El Paso Electric Co. and its customers to try to devise a compromise rate plan that would put the company back on its feet.

MIDLAND - For the first time, Clayton Williams is asking investors to take a stake in his Midland-based energy company. Williams, the outspoken rancher and 1990 Republican gubernatorial nominee, announced plans Tuesday for an initial public offering for Clayton Williams Energy Inc.

HOUSTON - The former owner of a bankrupt Houston mortgage company has been indicted on federal fraud charges in connection with an alleged $45 million scheme prosecutors say involved hundreds of Texas homes as collateral.

SAN ANTONIO - Federal authorities have charged a police officer and a bank employee in the holdup of a Texas Commerce Bank in which more than $237,000 was stolen.

PALESTINE - Two men have been arrested on drug and weapons charges after a young hunter apparently detonated a booby trap planted outside a marijuana patch near Palestine, authorities say.

SPUR - A Dickens County commissioner has been arrested on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the hit-and-run death of a 14-year-old Spur football player who was walking home from a homecoming dance at the time he was struck and killed.

WASHINGTON - Texas will receive more than $7 billion over a six-year period if Congress adopts a $151 billion transportation bill endorsed by a House panel.

AUSTIN - Police say three officers were justified in shooting a 14-year-old boy who approached them with a baseball bat, knife and a fake gun tucked into his belt.

HOUSTON - A bronze bust depicting the late U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland has been erected at Houston Intercontinental Airport's terminal bearing the name of the lawmaker killed two years ago in a plane crash in Africa.

DETROIT - The forum was called a student news conference but it resembled a pep rally absent the pompons. Corporate maverick H. Ross Perot used his brief appearance before an audience of impressed high school and college students Tuesday for a soapbox to decry the ills of government spending and indifference.

FORT WORTH - The state will continue monitoring conditions at a nursing home after control of the facility is returned to the owners, the Texas Attorney General's office said.

Commission to study crime, penalty

AUSTIN (AP) - Making the sentence fit the crime will be one of the most important issues for a new commission charged with recommending an overhaul of the state's penal code, state leaders said.

Gov. Ann Richards said Tuesday that the Texas Punishment Standards Commission should emphasize alternative sentencing programs in order to ensure that the state prison system is reserved for violent offenders.

"Our criminal justice system is broken," Richards said.

"Texans are fed up with the spectacle of violent offenders being released from prison after serving only a fraction of their sentence. They are frustrated and angry with the revolving doors in our 'prison system.'"

The 25-member commission, established by the recent state prison bill, will propose legislation in 1993 to rewrite the state penal code.

The panel will study punishments for criminal offenses in Texas, sentencing practices in criminal courts, prison construction costs, jail and prison overcrowding, and parole laws.

"This commission has the opportunity to restore some rationality to the way we go about sentencing criminals in this state," Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said.

"In doing so, their overriding concern must be to ensure that violent criminals in Texas serve the time - not just a fraction of it - that they deserve," he said.

House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, said the new panel "must develop a comprehensive, long-range strategy that will allow Texans to once again feel safe in their homes and their neighborhoods."

The panel includes five state senators, five House members and 15 public members.

The senators, all Democrats, are Temple Dickson of Abilene, Rodney Ellis of Houston, Ted Lyon of Rockwall, Jim Turner of Crockett, and John Whitmire of Houston.

Lyon said priorities must be made in sentencing so that "we are no longer turning loose murderers and rapists to make room for hot check writers and petty thieves."

He said the panel must also ensure that similar types of crimes receive the same punishment regardless of where the crime occurs.

The House members are Bill Carter of Fort Worth, Al Granoff of Dallas, Allen Hightower of Huntsville, Sam Russell of Mount Pleasant, and Mark Stiles of Beaumont. All are Democrats except Carter, a Republican.

The public members include Betty Blackwell, an Austin attorney; Hannah Chow, a Houston criminal court judge; Susan Cranford, a state prison warden from Gatesville; John Cruzot, a Dallas state district criminal court judge; Joe Evans, sheriff of Nacogdoches County; Orlando Garcia, a San Antonio appeals court judge; Larry Gist, a Beaumont criminal district court judge; and Ellen Halbert, of Austin, who is a member of the state prison board.

Other public members are Maryellen Hicks, a state district court judge in Fort Worth; Carl Jeffries, of Huntsville, who is an assistant director of the state prison system; Frank Maloney, a member of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals; Steve Martin, an Austin criminal justice consultant; Dora Olivo, a Richmond attorney; Michael Sharlot, an associate dean of the University of Texas Law School; and Dain Whitworth, an Austin attorney.

Dickens official charged

SPUR, Texas (AP) - A Dickens County commissioner has been arrested on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the hit-and-run death of a 14-year-old Spur football player who was walking home from a homecoming dance.

Commissioner Vernon Wright, 74, surrendered to Hale County officers Tuesday in connection with the Saturday night death of Jesse Glenn Land.

Justice of the Peace Shirley Groce said Wright was released on $3,000 bond following an arraignment.

Land, a football player and band member at Spur Junior High, was buried Tuesday in Amarillo.

Wright, who owns Spur Barber Shop, was staying Tuesday with his brother, Wayne, who lives in Plainview, Hale County Sheriff Charles Tue said.

An arrest warrant was faxed to Tue on Tuesday shortly after he talked with District Attorney Becky McPherson, Tue said.

Spur Police Chief Woodie Woodward said Wright became a suspect after authorities in Dickens and Spur received telephone calls on Sunday "that were sort of odd."

Dickens County Sheriff Doyle King checked on the calls and contacted the person who made them, Woodward said.

The boy's body was found Sunday morning about two blocks from his home by family members who had been searching for him after he failed to return from a the Saturday night dance, Dickens County Justice of Peace Bonnie Edwards said.

Police linked physical evidence from where the boy's body was found to a vehicle belonging to Wright, Woodward said.

Dickens County Judge Woodie McArthur said Wright would continue serving on the commissioners court until a final decision was reached on his guilt or innocence.

Church Women United make plans

Eloise McDougal, left, and Zula Arney look over plans for World Community Day services to be held in Hereford Nov. 1. Sponsored by Church Women United, the services will be held at 10 a.m. in Ward Parlor at First United Methodist Church, and a nursery will be provided. McDougal is the current state president of CWU, and Arney is a past local president.

Swaggart to seek counsel,

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) - Jimmy Swaggart, stopped last week in the company of a woman who says she's a prostitute, is stepping down from the pulpit to get counseling, the evangelist's son says.

After "a time of healing and counseling ... Dad will once again assume the pulpit at Family Worship Center," Donnie Swaggart said in a statement Tuesday.

The younger Swaggart said he will take charge of Jimmy Swaggart Ministries in the interim.

Swaggart, 56, was stopped by Indio, Calif., police on Friday and ticketed for traffic offenses. The woman with him, Rosemary Garcia, 31, said afterward that she is a prostitute and that Swaggart had asked her for sex.

The evangelist was not charged with any sex-related offenses.

Swaggart resigned from the Assemblies of God, the nation's largest Pentecostal denomination, in 1988 after rival minister Marvin Gorman released photos of him with a prostitute. Swaggart confessed to an unspecified sin.

Before the 1988 scandal, Swaggart was the nation's top-rated televangelist, reaching 2.1 million households. In July, Robert Schuller held the top spot with 1.3 million households, and Swaggart ranked seventh with 403,000.

Swaggart faces a series of lawsuits by his creditors, and Gorman recently won a $10 million defamation judgment against him and others.

Pilot lieutenant governor visits Hereford Pilot Club

Dot Leavitt of Alpine, regional lieutenant governor of Pilot Club International, met Tuesday with the Pilot Club of Hereford.

Leavitt is the dean of registration at Sul Ross State University at Alpine. She said she admired the Hereford club's achievements, community activities and enthusiasm, and encouraged Pilot Club members to expand their horizons through service to other and involvement in the club.

The officials visit by Leavitt, at the club's monthly business meeting at the King's Manor-Westgate dining room, included individual meetings with President Vesta Mae Nunley, President-Elect Betty Taylor, and the executive board of Martha Jones, Shannon Hacker, Kim Leonard, Mary Edwards, Betty Mercer and Peggie Fox.

On Sunday, eight members of the Hereford club attended a workshop sponsored by the Pilot Club of Dumas. Information sessions were held for officers in which Pilot policy, by-laws and duties of officers were discussed.

The Pilot Club of Hereford is actively involved in the community, providing assistance, service and funds to causes including United Way, Senior Citizens, the Satellite Center, the Latchkey program in the Hereford schools, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and other organizations.

Hints from Heloise

COLORING FROSTING

Dear Heloise: I like to make cakes and cookies for my family and came upon this idea for flavorful frosting.

I add a few sprinkles of powdered drink mix to plain white or butter-cream frosting. It adds just a hint of tartness as it colors the frosting.

Cherry and strawberry work great, but any flavor can be used. Keep up the good work. — Mary Bast, Kenosha, Wis.

SOGGY FOOD

Dear Heloise: I thought you might like my idea for preventing soggy food in the ice chest.

I wrap sandwiches and fruit as usual and place them in 1-gallon plastic milk jugs that I have cut the tops off of.

I put the jugs in the ice chest and place ice under and around them. — Maria Sacchetto, Temple City, Calif.

FROZEN SOUP

Dear Heloise: Here's an idea that I have used for years. I make chicken, beef and vegetable stock. After skimming off the fat, I put one cup of stock in each of several margarine containers, put on the lids and freeze.

Once frozen, I take the stock out of the cup, wrap it in aluminum foil and put it back into the freezer for future use. It works great. — Daniel Joffe, Long Beach, N.Y.

DSGH nurses complete hospital equipment training

The nursing staff at Deaf Smith General Hospital has recently completed training on the use of two new types of equipment the hospital recently purchased: four Glucometer QA Glucofilm units and an oxygen analyzer.

The Glucometers are set in the emergency room, the intensive care unit, the newborn nursery unit, and the medical-surgical area, according to Renee Hammock, RN, director of nursing.

The device is used to monitor the level of glucose in the blood. "This equipment requires only a finger stick. Many diabetics have to have four checks a day on their glucose level, and this test is not as painful as having blood drawn from the arm," she said.

A diabetic's glucose (the level of sugar in the blood) must be monitored frequently to determine if he needs additional insulin or fruit juices to regulate the level, she said.

"The new equipment also helps us monitor our quality control," she explained. "Each time the unit is used, the operator's identification number is required. The glucose level is instantly read on the computerized equipment and stored. A report is then generated and an analysis performed to assure that proper controls are being used. This also helps us discover any incorrect operation of the equipment," she said. The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Health Organizations (JCAHO) reviews this type of data, she noted.

Donna Kemp, RN, the OB supervisor and assistant director of nursing, is excited about their new MiniOX III Oxygen Monitor. "This is a state-of-the-art piece of equipment that is small, easy to move, and very convenient," she said.

The device is designed to monitor the percentage of oxygen that a patient is getting, and is especially useful for babies, she said. "Caring for the newborn is really a very specialized field. Because newborns stay in the hospital such a short time, we watch them carefully before they go home. We monitor their temperature and breathing and their oxygen levels to be sure they are healthy," she said.

Eleven members of the OB department and the respiratory therapy department attended a special in-service training on the new oxygen analyzers.

Kemp noted that her staff has a combined experience of 70 years, counting her 13 years on the job. "I have an outstanding staff with long years of experience and training. This new equipment helps us perform our jobs even better," she added.

Sex, marriage seminar set Friday, Saturday

Larry and Delta Meaux will conduct a seminar on sex and marriage Friday from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center.

The seminars are sponsored by the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship of Hereford. Cost for either of the sessions is $15 per couple and $10 for a single person. The cost of the seminar will include audio tapes, and free child care will be offered at the Family Life Center at First Baptist Church, where children up to 11 years of age will enjoy a puppet show and children's videos.

The Saturday session will feature a barbecue luncheon for $4.50 per person.

The Meauxs have been presenting their full-time evangelistic Christian ministry for many years across the country, and have also counseled many couples with failing marriages and broken homes, helping them experience successful lives and happy marriages.

Among the many things that have been manufactured to coddle the owners of pets are a pair of doggie sunglasses, and doggie pajamas.

Lady Whitefaces fall in showdown with Dumas

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

The Lady Whitefaces volleyball team lost its chance to share the district title Tuesday when they lost to the Dumas Demonettes 15-12, 7-15, 15-12.

Fans from Hereford and Dumas packed Whiteface Gym for the showdown between the District 1-4A rivals. The visitors' side of the gym had room for maybe another 100 spectators, while the home side could have squeezed in an extra dozen.

Both sides were loud. "It was a barn-burner. We knew it would be," Dumas coach Jack Wilson said.

The fans were fueled by close games. Neither team could hold the momentum for long, especially in the first and third games.

It also was a mostly well-played match between two of the top teams in Texas.

"I haven't seen Dumas play as well as they did tonight," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said, "and I don't think we've played as well as we did tonight."

Even though Dumas is the three-time defending state champion in 4A, losing to the Demonettes again is frustrating.

"It's frustrating because this is the best team we've ever had. It's better than last year, better than two years ago," Reeh said.

In the first game, Hereford jumped out to a 4-0 lead, but Dumas came back with four to tie.

After a series of side outs, Hereford's Lori Sanders started serving and soon Hereford had an 11-5 lead. Dumas came back again, and on hitting errors by Shantel Cornelius and Jennifer Hicks, pulled to within one at 11-10.

"We hit the ball out," Reeh said. "We hit it wide, we hit it long, in the net. We had some service errors at crucial times. We relinquished the momentum and they grabbed hold."

From there, many rotations passed before Dumas could take a 13-12 lead. Points were difficult to come by, but sideouts were plentiful. Finally, Dumas' Angela Miller made a great save of her teammate's bad pass and sent it over the net for the 14th point, and moments later Hicks hit into the net, giving Dumas the win.

Hereford came back in a second game which wasn't as close as the other two. Hereford was ahead from near the beginning, scoring at least once on every serving rotation.

"We cleaned up our hitting errors and double-blocked," Reeh said, adding that double-blocking was something the Herd used only sporadically in the first game, but used for success in the second two.

The game had a strange ending. With Hereford leading only 10-7, Teresa Baker served for four points to game point, then served what appeared to be a game-ending ace. The line judge called the serve as having hit the line, but the referee overruled her and ordered a replay after loud complaining by Dumas players and fans and after the Hereford players had left the court.

Hereford got a quick side out, and with Kara Sandoval serving, Cornelius ended the game with an emphatic stuff.

The third game was even closer than the first, with neither team ever gaining more than a two-point lead.

Hereford was down 10-8 when Reeh called a timeout, and Hereford came out fired up. Cornelius had a hard kill which hit the back line for a side out, then after a Dumas hitting error and a Cornelius stuff, Dumas was called for a lift, giving Hereford a 11-10 lead.

Later, two straight kills by Dumas gave the Demonettes a 13-12 lead. Cornelius had a kill for a side out, but two straight soft hits by Dumas fell virtually untouched for a 14-12 lead. Dumas' Stephanie Clement had the last kill when a pass from Lori Sanders went too close to the net.

Cornelius had a season-high 17 kills in the match, and she added 9 stuffs and 14 digs. "Pretty awesome," Reeh said of the stats.

Brek Binder had five kills with six stuffs, and Hicks, Sanders and Erin Bullard each chipped in four kills.

From the service line, Baker and Sanders each had 12 points, and Sanders and Binder each had two aces.

The loss means Hereford has lost both district meetings with Dumas, and barring something very unusual, the Demonettes will take the district championship. It's not the end of the world for the Lady Whitefaces, however.

Besides hurt pride, the major problem with not winning district is having to play a district champion in the first round of the playoffs. In District 2-4A, that means Lamesa.

"They're by far the best team in that district," Reeh said. "We played them last year and we beat them."

Reeh hasn't seen Lamesa play, but from reading newspapers, she thinks they've improved, she said. "They're playing with more maturity; they're not so emotional (as last season)."

The Hereford junior varsity team also suffered a disappointing loss Tuesday, falling 15-7, 15-4 to the JV Demonettes.

Coach Jill Harrison said the girls were affected by the large crowd much of which was there for the JV match.

"We just did not ever settle down and play," Harrison said. "We were just too nervous."

The loss is Hereford's first in district against five wins; they beat Dumas the first time around. They are 12-8 overall.

Jump set

8th Maroon 'A' beats Pampa

Hereford Junior High's Maroon teams squared off against teams from Pampa Tuesday, but only one came up a winner.

The eighth grade Maroon "A" team got two touchdowns each from Marquise Brown and Joe Ricenbaw to win 28-12 in Hereford. In the second quarter, Brown had a 43-yard touchdown run and Ricenbaw had one of 77 yards. Brown ran the two-point conversion on both to make it 16-0 at the half.

Pampa came back in the second half to within 16-12, but in the fourth quarter, Brown scored again on a 47-yarder. Then, as Pampa was driving into Hereford territory, Hereford's Bric Wall intercepted a pass, sealing the game and setting up Ricenbaw's 23-yard TD run.

"Offensively, we played real well. We had some good blocking," coach James Salinas said. "Defensively, we bent a lot but we didn't break."

Hereford fell in the "B" game 18-8. Hereford got a 3-yard touchdown run in the third quarter from Justin Scott, and Danny Rivera ran for the two points. The game was called a short time later when someone on the Pampa sideline had a seizure, Salinas said, and darkness was approaching.

The seventh grade Maroon teams played in Pampa, with the "A" losing 28-0 and the "B" losing 14-0.

Coach Henry Perez said that when Pampa scored, it was usually when their speedy backs got loose on broken plays. Also, the Hereford offense was slow to get started.

"We finally got to move the ball like I wanted to in the third quarter--in fact, we had the ball most of the third quarter--but we couldn't put it in the end zone.

Pirates start their big-game pitcher

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Whenever the Pittsburgh Pirates have a big game, Doug Drabek always seems to be there.

He was there when they clinched the National League East title in 1990 and when they clinched again last month. He was there in Game 5 of the NL playoffs last season, when it was win or go home for the Pirates. He was there in Game 1 of the playoffs against Atlanta.

Drabek will be there again tonight when the Pirates - one game away from going to the World Series - play their biggest game in 12 years, Game 6 of the NL playoffs against Atlanta. The Pirates haven't been this close to the Series since 1979.

"I was lucky enough to be out there when we won the division the last two seasons and I can be out there now for the pennant," said Drabek, who will pitch for the first time since straining his left hamstring in Game 1. "If you're a pitcher, you have to want to be in that position."

But the Braves and Game 2 winner Steve Avery promise they'll be there, too, that they're not going away just because their offense has.

"We're not playing anywhere near as good as we usually do, and we've stayed pretty close to them," David Justice said. "I think that shows if we start playing as well as we normally do, we'll be all right."

Still, the Braves are scoreless in their last 18 innings and, down 3-2, can't afford to stay close any more. The Pirates aren't exactly imitating the 1927 Yankees, either, not with Barry Bonds hitting .150 with nary an RBI. But they've found ways to win.

Bizarre ways, certainly, but ways to win.

"The thing is Barry Bonds was 17 for 100 during the beginning of the season and the Pirates were still in first place," Bonds said. "That goes to show in baseball there are 25 guys who win a game, not just Barry Bonds."

Maybe what the Braves' offense needs isn't a return to the Chop Shop in Atlanta, but a trip to the repair shop.

Atlanta's offense certainly needs to step on it - specifically, third base. Justice didn't touch it in the fourth inning of Game 5, and the Braves lost a run they couldn't afford to lose in a 1-0 loss.

"I know I'm going to look back at a few things and say, 'I wish I hadn't done that,'" Justice said.

The Pirates' offensive problems have been thoroughly documented, with Bonds still looking for his first postseason extra-base hit and Andy Van Slyke hitting .222. The next thing you know, manager Jim Leyland will let reliever Roger Mason bat with a runner on third and two outs in the ninth inning of a one-run game.

But the Braves' problems, except for their 10-3 victory in Game 3, have been much worse. They haven't scored since the first inning of Game 4, and now must return to Three Rivers Stadium, where they scored exactly two runs in the first two games.

During their 18 scoreless innings, the Braves have had runners on base 11 times and runners in scoring position 10 times. They've even had a runner cross the plate with an apparent run, only to have an umpire take it away.

"With a couple of breaks, it could've been very easy for us," catcher Greg Olson said. "We could've been celebrating right now."

Not with batting champion Terry Pendleton hitting .190, with Lonnie Smith hitting .222, with Ron Gant hitting .238. Not with Otis Nixon, the leadoff hitter who was Atlanta's biggest weapon against Pittsburgh during the season, under suspension.

Of course, Avery isn't used to getting much support. He needed just one run to win 1-0 in Game 2, beating Zane Smith on Mark Lemke's bad-hop RBI double.

Twins found right combination

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - For the most part, the Minnesota Twins aren't the most recognizable team around.

When they go on the road, Chuck Knoblauch, Mike Pagliarulo and Kevin Tapani don't have to wear sunglasses to avoid autograph seekers.

Part of the Twins' success is how they get along with each other. They don't have any themes, like "We are Family," or go out of the way to tell the world about it. They just seem to really like each other.

"It's special," said Knoblauch, 23. "Everybody feels the same, whether rookie or veteran. I don't think it makes a difference how old you are. It's a great feeling."

The two biggest stars on the team, Kirby Puckett and Jack Morris, have reputations as hard workers and the rest of the team seems to follow their lead as well as soft-spoken manager Tom Kelly.

"We had the best record in baseball in spring training," Puckett said. "I knew it was something special then. I'm not going to say to you I thought we were going to the Series, but I knew we were a much better club. With the changes we made with Chili Davis, Pagliarulo and Steve Bedrosian mixed with what we had, Tom Kelly had a winning combination."

'Chop' offends Native Indians

ATLANTA (AP) - Seeing Jane Fonda, Ted Turner and Jimmy Carter doing the "tomahawk chop" on national television may have delighted Atlanta Braves fans, but it outraged some American Indians.

They regard the sight of thousands of baseball fans doing the chop, singing an Indian-like chant and waving toy tomahawks during the NL playoff games as blatant disregard of Indian traditions and ceremonies. Some Indian groups say they will demonstrate in Saturday's opening game against the Twins at Minnesota if Atlanta reaches the World Series.

"It's dehumanizing, derogatory and very unethical," said Aaron Two Elk of Atlanta, regional director of the American Indian Movement.

Four win scramble

Frankie Garcia, Chris Hodges, Steve King and Don Tardy shot a 65 to win the annual Nazarene Golf Scramble held Saturday at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

King won the closest to the pin contest, while Jerry Walker had the longest drive.

Asked about the personality of his team, Kelly said: "I not smart enough to tell you about that stuff. We just go out there and play hard."

This week, the Twins will have to settle on practicing hard until starting the World Series Saturday night in the Metrodome against Pittsburgh or Atlanta. Game 6 of the NL Playoffs will be held tonight in Pittsburgh, with the Pirates leading the best-of-7 series 3-2.

Kelly has selected Morris to open Game 1 of the Series. Morris won two games against Toronto in the AL playoffs, including Game 1.

"I always thought about pitching for the Twins when I was a kid," said Morris, a native of St. Paul. "Winning the pennant in my first year is what the game is all about. To start the first game of the World Series in your hometown will definitely be one of the highlights of my career."

Morris' career has plenty of highlights, too.

He was the winningest pitcher in the 1980s while playing for Detroit and won two games in the 1984 World Series as the Tigers beat the San Diego Padres in five games. The right-hander has also pitched a no-hitter and has 216 lifetime victories.

"You know when Jack is out there that you will usually be in the game," Puckett said. "Even when he doesn't have his good stuff, he hangs in there and gets out of jams. He's a winner."

Morris, 18-12 this season, wanted to sign with the Twins four years ago but was denied in the era of collusion. He finally got his chance in 1991 and made the most of it, signing with a last-place club but ending up in the Series.

Halloween snacks made fun

By the Associated Press
 Throwing a Halloween party for the kids? Serve these crunchy snacks-on-a-stick to your little band of ghosts and goblins. The only tricks to this recipe are the granola, cinnamon candies and dried apples. The rest is all treat.
Cinnamon-Apple Popcorn Balls
 10 cups popped popcorn (about 1/2 cup unpopped)
 1 1/2 cups granola
 1 cup sugar
 2-3rds cup water
 1-3rd cup red cinnamon candies
 1 tablespoon vinegar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 One 6-ounce package dried apples, finely chopped
 10 wooden sticks
 Remove any unpopped kernels from popped popcorn; discard. Place popcorn in greased 17- by 12- by 2-inch baking pan; stir in granola. Place in a 300-degree F oven.
 For syrup, butter the sides of a 1 1/2-quart heavy saucepan. In the saucepan combine sugar, water, candies, vinegar and salt. Cook, uncovered, over medium-high heat until boiling, stirring constantly to dissolve sugar and candies; about 6 minutes. Avoid splashing syrup on the sides of the pan.

Carefully clip a candy thermometer to the side of the pan. Cook over medium heat until the thermometer registers 270 degrees F (soft-crack stage), stirring occasionally. The syrup should boil at a moderate, steady rate over the entire surface. (Reaching soft-crack stage should take 20 to 25 minutes.) Remove the pan from the heat; remove the thermometer.

Stir the dried apples into the popcorn mixture; pour the hot syrup over mixture. Stir gently to coat popcorn. Working quickly, with buttered hands, shape mixture into 10 to twelve 3-inch balls, placing a wooden stick in the center of each. Wrap the balls in clear plastic wrap. Makes 10 popcorn balls.

Frosty the Pumpkin Ice Cream Cake
 For the cake:
 1 pint chocolate ice cream, softened

2-3rds cup strawberry preserves
 1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
 For the whipped cream frosting:
 1 cup heavy whipping cream
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 3 drops green food coloring
 12 drops yellow food coloring
 6 drops red food coloring
 For the decorations:

One 4- by 1 1/2-inch golden sponge snack cake with creamy filling

2 dark chocolate wafer thin mints, cut into triangles
 1 red licorice shoelace
 3 pieces candy corn

In an 8-inch round cake pan, spoon chocolate ice cream. Press to form an even layer. Spread with strawberry preserves. Repeat with vanilla ice cream, cover with foil. Freeze until firm, about 1 hour. Meanwhile, prepared Whipped Cream Frosting.

To prepare Whipped Cream Frosting: In a small bowl using an electric mixer, beat the 1 cup heavy cream, 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla until soft peaks form. Remove 1/2 cup; place in another small bowl. Stir in green food coloring, set aside. To remaining whipped cream, stir in yellow and red food colorings until blended to make orange frosting.

Remove cake from freezer. Using a metal spatula, loosen edges. Dip pan into warm water for about 10 seconds; unmold onto a serving platter or board. Cut 1 inch from snack cake. Place at the top of the ice cream cake to form a stem. Frost stem with reserved green frosting. Frost pumpkin with reserved orange frosting. With a knife, make four curved lines from stem to center bottom of pumpkin to resemble pumpkin ridges. Use mint triangles for eyes and nose; form mouth with licorice shoelace, use candy corn for teeth. Serve immediately or freeze until serving time. Makes 10 servings. Cultured pearls, fashion mainstay

By FRANCINE FARNES
 For AP Special Features
 A strand of cultured pearls is always in good taste, our mothers used to say.

That's still true today. Even the faux pearls Kenneth J. Lane created for Barbara Bush when she became first lady are discreet.

But for pearls this fall, discretion is not in fashion. Rather, the more - and the bigger - the better.

The trend started with Karl Lagerfeld and the House of Chanel on the runways of Europe. He showed pearls with black leather, pearls with denim. Ropes and ropes of pearls.

The look spanned the Atlantic and spread into all segments of the market as a bold statement in jewelry and clothing embellishments. "Blaster bijoux" is one look at Express as described by Phillip Monaghan, vice president for marketing.

These fashionable fakes cost about $25 - for a typical 16-inch strand from Napier - and up. One Chanel version is $775. But they look as good as any that a diver would find. And they come in a lot more colors - from the palest peach to pewter and darker.

"The fun is to mix pearls up in an unexpected way," says Louis Dell'Olio, who designs for Anne Klein.

Start piling them on. "Sometimes less is more, but right now more is more," says Lee Kagan, a designer for Lee Wolfe, a New York fashion jewelry company. "Women feel good in pearls, and they're having fun wearing, say, good-sized earrings and a pin, combined with loads of pearls on the arm."

It was in the 1930s that Coco Chanel draped yards and yards of throwaway pearls to her couture and declared the look high fashion. Now the look is interpreted by Karl Lagerfeld designing for Chanel.

"He should be credited with showing the masses tons of pearls on his runway models - more than any of us could possibly walk with, without falling," Carolee Friedlander says. She's the owner of Carolee Designs, a Greenwich, Conn., maker of costume jewelry.

While you're loading it on, toss in gold chains or some other showy baubles.

"Mix brushed gold beads with

It's out of this world—a nebula, that is. These masses of glowing gas, millions of miles across, are visible from 900,000 light years away. Each is as large as an entire galaxy like our own.

pearls and polished link chains, or mix white pearls with colors. They're all updates," according to Beth Miller, fashion coordinator for Napier in New York.

Indeed, the more, the better. And the bigger, the better. The best-seller at Carolee is the gumball. Her big-bead choker, available in 10 colors, is about $40. A matching coil-wired six-row bracelet is $30.

Whatever you pick, make sure your pearls have a hint of tint - anything from gold to bronze or peach will do.

"Colored pearls now are as hot as firecrackers," says Foree Hunsicker, Dallas jewelry designer. Her current collection is dipped in shades of slate and rose.

One of the biggest selections comes from Carolee. Her 15 colors include peach, pink, beige, platinum, navy, gold, pewter and black.

The palette of pearls rivals the best cosmetics in their ability to complement the complexion, Friedlander says.

"Pearls are a finishing touch," she says. "A new and exciting way to enhance your skin, your hair coloring, your outfit."

Go for peach, gold or beige-colored pearls if you have brunette or red hair, Friedlander suggests. Silver, pink or creamy white pearls are best for blonde or gray.

At Express stores, "the most updated look in pearls is metallics - copper, silver and gold pearls mixed with natural colors," Monaghan says. A bracelet in a mixture of colors runs about $30.

At Liz Claiborne, "we're mixing the whole cornucopia of pearls, layering together colors, lengths, sizes and shapes," says Eric Schumann, president of the jewelry line. "They really can be worn with everything, and you really don't need to think about matching. "You know it'll look good with whatever you wear."

How long since you've updated your business insurance?

That's one question our business clients never have to worry about. As an independent insurance agency, it's our business to watch for the changes that come with growth—new locations, additional employees, new equipment. Then we analyze how these changes affect our clients' insurance needs, and recommend the best protection available. Years of working with major insurance companies, like CNA, have given us the experience to make business insurance protection keep pace with our clients. If you're responsible for your company's business insurance, give us a call.

THE BUCK STARTS HERE.

Newspaper is usually the first place people go when considering a purchase. It's their primary source of advertising information.

Newspaper helps spark the local economy by putting dollars into circulation. And that's good for everyone, not just the retailer.

Because a strong local economy means lower property taxes, more jobs, tax support for community services and a better place to live.

Newspaper is more than just a smart place to advertise. It's an integral part of our lives.

Newspaper: It delivers.

The safflower, popular today for its oil and meal, was once grown chiefly for the red dye made from its blossoms.

Up until 1830 when anyone purchased a bar of soap, the grocer simply hacked off a chunk from a large block.

The weaverbird, a relative of the sparrow, lives in large nest colonies—with as many as seventy birds populating a single tree.

Here's An Idea That Can Strengthen Your Family

Tonight at the dinner table, read something out loud to your family. Tomorrow night, let another member read something. A news story. A Bible verse. A Robert Frost poem. A cereal box panel. History. Humor. Anything. Each night a different family member can read a selection. Imagine the wide range of subjects your family will read in 365 days. What a stimulating way to have your children develop good reading habits. We have 23 million illiterate adults in America. We wouldn't have one, if each of them had been served reading as part of their nightly diet. It's non-fattening, but enriching. And it doesn't cost a dime.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 66-year-old widow. I have one daughter who lives in Ohio and I don't see much of her.

About a year ago I met a man at the Senior Citizens Club. I'll call him "Owen." At the time, he had been going with another woman for two years. Once a week he would take her out for dinner and dancing.

When Owen asked me out for dinner, I was thrilled. Later I reciprocated by having him at my home. I don't like to eat alone and he is good company. Well, now, a year later, Owen is eating at my place six nights a week. He takes me out on Saturday. He broke up with that other woman. She never cooked a meal for him in the two years they went together. He always took her out.

I'm getting tired of cooking for this man. He has never offered to help with the grocery bill which has tripled since he came into my life.

I don't want to lose him, but I'm afraid if I stop feeding him he'll look for another woman. He likes the ladies and there are 14 widows living on this block.

What do I do, Ann? I'm on a fixed income and am barely getting by. Owen puts his money in the bank. He is 79 years old. We don't have sex; I'm just his cook. I need some advice.-No Name in Philadelphia been educational. Now I would like to offer some advice that may help your readers. I hope you find it worth printing.

I am in the middle of a divorce, initiated by my wife after almost 20 years of marriage. It is a bitter, unwanted divorce, with young children involved. My therapist says what I am going through is just like a death in the family. My life as I knew it for the past two decades is being torn apart. I am losing my wife and, to some extent, my children.

One of my greatest needs, and that of anyone going through a divorce, is the support of friends and family. I need people to talk to, to do things with, to make me stop feeling like a loser. So many people have been sympathetic and kind. They usually say, "Call me if you want to get together and do something."

Here's my advice. If a friend or relative is going through a divorce, call him up and suggest lunch, dinner, a movie--anything. Chances are he is too scared and depressed to call anyone and make that suggestion. He needs to know that someone cares. You can't imagine what a boost it will give to a person who is down in the dumps. He will appreciate it more than you know.--Hurting in the USA

DEAR HURTING: You've written an excellent letter, but why "he"? The same holds true for women who are in the same unhappy boat. Thanks for writing a letter that is sure to make a difference.

Gem of the Day: Doctors will tell you that if you eat slowly you will eat less. Anybody raised in a large family will tell you the same thing.

Do you have questions about sex, but no one to talk to? Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teen-Ager," is frank and to the point. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: teens, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

DEAR PHILADELPHIA: He sounds like a freeloader to me. I suggest that you have a frank talk with Owen. Tell him you enjoy his company but you can't afford to cook for him six nights a week. Suggest that he pay half of the grocery bill.

If he refuses, you haven't lost much. There must be another man in that Senior Citizens Club who would enjoy your cooking and maybe hold your hand once in a while.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have read your advice for more than 20 years. Some of it I have found relevant, some not so relevant, some funny, some absurd, but all of it has

Costumes made abundant

NEW YORK (AP) - The variations of Halloween costumes are as limitless as the imagination, so it's usually the depth of the wallet that defines the detail of the demon.

With adequate funding, there's Robin Hood and his Merry Men; Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles; Clowns, both Bozos and Hobos; Bart Simpson; Killer Tomatoes (and other edibles, such as M&Ms, Snickers, Hershey Kisses); Ariel "The Little Mermaid" and Prince Eric; baby dinosaurs; scary monsters, such as witches, ghosts, mummies, vampires and devils; cartoon characters, including Mickey & Minnie Mouse, Snoopy, Garfield, the Flintstones, Jetsons.

But for the creative, the patient and the thrifty, consider making a costume yourself - it's not as hard as you think.

The variety of Halloween sewing patterns has grown tremendously in recent years. These can be used for individual parts, to make ears, or a hat, a cape or skirt, as well as to make a complete costume from scratch.

Just be sure to make the costume roomy enough so that sweaters or jackets can be worn underneath, in case it's cold outside.

The craft-hobby and fabric markets offer supplies that even the novice seamstress can handle. In fact, with some of these products, children as young as toddlers can help make their own costumes.

Here are a few tips from the Craft & Hobby Information Bureau:

- A myriad of fabric paints, especially those that glow in the dark, can jazz up any costume. These paints also can be a safety feature because they make costumes visible when trick or treating at night.

- Pre-cut felt shapes come in different Halloween motifs. A moon or star, for example, can be glued onto a ready-made witch hat; a ghost and pumpkin surrounded by the word "BOO!" can be adhered to a trick-or-trick bag.

Music club plays Broadway

The Hereford Music Study Club met October 14 at the Community Center.

Barbara Manning presided at the business meeting as Linda Gilbert was elected to be a delegate for the District I Convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs. The convention will be held in Amarillo on November 9.

ann Meyer led the club in the hymn "Onward, Christian Soldiers" with Bradley at the piano. To begin the program, Mary Thomas told about Leonard Bernstein's life and music. Music numbers were: piano selections from "West Side Story" performed by Evelyn Hacker, "Tonight" performed on piano by Hacker and Pat Fisher, "Somewhere" performed vocally by Leslie Woodard and accompanied by Gilbert, "I Feel Pretty" and "One Hand, One Heart" performed by a vocal ensemble including Frances Parker, Susan Shaw, Claudia McBrayer, Gilbert, and accompanied by Manning.

Others present were Cheryl Betzen, Donna Ruland, Margaret Schroeter, Mary Carter, Charlotte Close and Mozelle Neill. Tina Langehennig was the guest.

Toujours Amis met recently, enjoyed meal

Members of Toujours Amis Study Club met recently in the home of Kim Porter. A meal was served by Hostesses Brenda Koenig, Marilyn Leasure, Shelly Moss and Porter.

After eating, the business meeting was conducted by Sarah Lawson.

Members present included: Judy Barrett, Kim Bigham, Melinda Bridge, Janet Brigance, Patti Brown, Trish Brown, Kim Buckley, Tami Charest, Lisa Formby, Keana Griffin, Shannon Hagar, Sharon Hodges, Donna Demp, Sarah Lawson, Lesia Lewis, Becky Reinart, Cindy Simons, Marsha Winget.

Accent on Health

For the first time, infection with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), which causes AIDS, has been listed among the leading 10 causes of death in Texas.

The Texas Department of Health's (TDH) Bureau of Vital Statistics, which records the state's death certificates, has announced that 1,836 Texas residents died as the result of HIV infection in 1990. The total was an increase by 354 over the 1,482 deaths attributed to HIV in 1989. On the bureau's "10 leading causes" list, HIV infection ranks 10th, a place previously held by cirrhosis of the liver.

Tom Pollard, director of the bureau's Statistical Services Division, said that the list of 10 causes is derived from a larger list of 72 categories, some of which are groups of diseases. HIV infection has been listed separately from a group of other infections since 1987. "The first year we listed HIV infection as a separate cause of death, it ranked 15th on a list of 72. The next year (1988), it tied at 13th place with atherosclerosis. and in 1989, it ranked 11th," Pollard said.

Pollard explained that other states which have reported high incidence of HIV infection also have listed HIV among their 10 leading causes of death. "New York listed HIV at sixth place on its list from 1987 to 1989, and that state's reports are not yet complete for 1990. Similarly, New Jersey's (1988) and the District of Columbia's (1989) latest lists rank HIV infection at eighth place. Florida ranked HIV ninth on its most recent report (1989), while California ranked the infection seventh.

On the national level, HIV infection was listed as the 11th cause of death in both 1989 and 1990 Pollard added.

Pollard explained that although HIV infection replaced cirrhosis of the liver as the 10th leading cause of death, there was no change in the order of the other nine causes.

"Heart disease again led the list, claiming 39,443 lives, followed by cancer, causing 28,483 deaths; Cerebrovascular disease ranked third, with 8,388 deaths. And accidents, resulting in 6,225 deaths, ranked fourth," Pollard said.
