TRADES DAY BIG SUCCESS

Business and Pleasure Occupy Time of Visitors on First Second Monday—Many Attended Matinee.

Visitors in the city last Monday, the first Trades Day for Hereford, mingled in the proper and compatible proportions business and pleasure. The free matinee at McGhee's Star Theater drew a packed house. This event came immediately after Mollie Bailey's Texas show had given an afternoon "performance." The brass band quickened the step of pedestrians. The cool day called out a few last winter's overcoats, but the day was enjoyed by all. The merchants had a good run in the various lines as advertised, besides selling a good spinkle of other goods. The purchasers, as far as is known, were all well pleased with the merchandise, the price and the service rendered. One woman was heard to remark that she bought a pair of shoes cheaper than the same quality could be bought in Kansas City. The head of the family was showing what a good quality suit he had bought and was delighted with the low price. His neighbor was telling how well his wife was pleased with a ready-made dress and some shirt waists she had purchased at Second Monday prices. Another good woman, who does all of her own sewing and also that for her family of three girls, was telling what a nice line of piece goods she had bought to make summer dresses for herself and girls. A good housekeeper bought a ten dollar art square for about half the price and was more than delighted. In addition to the dry goods, shoes and clothing carried away, it was perfectly evident from the packages in the buggies and automobiles of the ranchmen that a few delicacies from the grocery stores were bought. We believe everybody to be satisfied, the first Trades Day was a success and this Second Monday starts a wave of social and business co-operation betwixt town and country that should benefit everyone who wants to be benefited. The next trades day will be duly observed—Second Monday in July. Big time already being planned. Get ready to come.

The Bay View Club.

Mrs. Arnold was hostess to the Bay View Club on Thursday afternoon, having as guests, Mrs. Everts of Houston, Mrs. West, Mrs. O. E. Thomas and Mrs. P. W. Price. Biographical sketches of Eugene Field, Lew Wallace, James Whitcome Riley and Jack London, some readings, and informal discussions, made the club hour both profitable and interesting. Indeed, the entire club year has been one of exceptional pleasure. The program was followed by a social hour in which conversation and games were enjoyed by all. An appetizing salad course was served.

Education Mass Meeting.

On account of the threatening weather, the public meeting at the court house Tuesday night was not largely attended, though a number braved the elements to hear Miss Rambo of the West Texas State Normal College and the local speakers. Miss Rambo discussed "The Value of Industrial Training," and all who heard her remarks were pleased with what she said and the manner in which she considered the subject. She considers that industrial training has as much educational value as any of the academic subjects, and that in pursuing a subject of domestic science, the pupil is trained not only in the hand, but in the head as well; so the industrial training subjects have a double value in school. The other speakers who followed endorsed very heartily what had been said. Messrs. Ray and Garrison spoke on related subjects. The object of the meeting was, in fact, to determine what course the Hereford school should pursue in the matter of co-operating with the state in establishing a domestic science department. Another meeting will likely be called at which a full attendance of all patrons is desired.

AUTO FIRE TRUCK ARRIVES

Purchased From Wichita Concern—Boys Made First Run Tuesday to Try Out New Machine—All Well Pleased.

The City Commission is to be congratulated upon the purchase of the new auto fire truck to take the place of the horses and wagon. This auto truck was made in Texas. The Wichita Falls concern is the first to put out a medium priced fire truck for the use of the smaller towns and Hereford is the first one to take advantage of the new equipment. The truck arrived last Monday and on Tuesday the fire boys cranked it up and "run" it around town to see how it worked. The truck is a thing of beauty and it will make Hereford look like a city to our visitors. The outfit is well built and it is an attractive piece of fire fighting apparatus.

We set the price on everything in the lumber line. R. H. Kemp. 18-2t

J. P. Simms, who lives some 35 miles from Hereford in the northwest part of the county, was in this week on business. Mr. Simms has been in this county for some 15 years and is engaged in stock farming, in which line he has made a success.

Files Brands in County Clerk's Office.

This week, a copy of every issue of the Brand since its beginning was filed in the county clerk's office. These files include Volumes I to XII inclusive, each volume being bound separately. The first issue of the Brand appeared February 23, 1901, under the name of the Hereford Reporter, but the owners after one year changed the name to the Hereford Brand, the first issue after the change being made in March, 1902. The first issues of the paper were small, consisting of four columns, and usually just four pages. The files of the paper were placed in custody of the county, because of the historical and legal value of the paper, it often occurring that a copy of the paper is needed in court. The danger of fire in the business section of town and the security of the court house vaults made the step necessary. In some states, the law requires that a complete file of all papers be kept with the clerk, but the absence of such a law in Texas, does not lessen the necessity of preserving valuable records.

Hereford Court No. 71—Tribe Ben Hur meets the first and third Friday nights each month. Visiting members always welcome.

GROUND SOAKED WITH BIG RAINS

Entire Plains Country Reserved Big Rains—Twenty Four Hours at Hereford.

After a good shower last Friday late in the afternoon amounting to one-fourth inch, the sky did not clear during the next several days, each day heavy clouds floating over and at times a misty rain falling. But Wednesday, the battle of clouds began with a light rattle of the infantry, continuing all day, just enough to keep everybody under cover and out of view of the firing line. During the early part of the night, however, the heavy field guns were moved into position, the lightning search lights were turned on, and the heavy cannonading opened. All night long this "battle of the clouds" was kept up. At times a lull would occur as if the commanding general had ordered "slow firing" in order to take a survey of the destruction of the enemy's ranks and fortifications. Then again, the heaviest pieces would be brought into rapid action and such a down pour of "shot and shell" no soldier ever witnessed. When the day brought the return of the light and the eye could view the situation, the whole surface of the earth was covered, not in dead and wounded, but with water—water, nothing but water. The roads were literally full and running over. The lakes were receiving the flood of water and everything that was not under good shelter was wet through and through. The total amount of precipitation during the twenty four hours was full two inches. Some from the country report as much as four inches, others less. In any way you take it, the rains during the last ten days have been fine for the country. Some of the irrigation wells have been put out of "commission" on account of the extra irrigation from the clouds, but we won't mind that.

Rebekahs Off to Claude.

The team of Oddfellows and Rebekahs left in full force yesterday morning for Claude to attend the annual meeting of the Panhandle Association. They went down to take off a few of the honors and prizes. Those who were in the crowd, as far as could be learned, were: Mesdames Clarence Smith, C. L. Sullivan, H. H. Hawkins, L. Johnson, J. O. Lindsay, G. A. Stambaugh, R. W. Lovelace, A. H. Elliston, W. C. Jones, Theodore Cochell, H. C. Myrich, Misses Fern and Ruth Churchill; Lillie Wood, Gladys Ivy, Alta Renfro, Lillian Bennett, Edith Rayzor, Mary and Irene Williams. Messrs. Theodore Cochell, A. H. Elliston, A. L. Sherk.

Mule Raising in Deaf Smith County.

The Texas mule is gaining in prominence every day in the year, and the raising of these animals is becoming an important industry in Deaf Smith county. It is estimated that twenty per cent of the mules that are being used in the building of the Panama Canal were bred in Texas, and in selecting material for his cavalry Uncle Sam favors the Texas mule. There are 1,071 mules on the farms and ranges of Deaf Smith county according to a recent census bulletin and their total value is $127,305. Of this number 879 are mature mules, 172 are yearling colts and 20 spring colts. Besides the mules on the farms of this county there are 36 of these animals, owned by the urban population which have a value of $4,785. The total mule population of the state is 709,231, divided as follows: 675,558 rural and 33,675 urban. The value of the mules on the farms and ranges of Texas is $73,989,145 and those in the cities and villages of the state is $4,123,183.

Cases.

Each of some 6,000 newspapers of the United States is publishing from week to week, names of people in its particular neighborhood, who have used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder troubles and urinary disorders. This mass of proof includes over 30,000 testimonials. Hereford is no exception. Here is one of the Hereford cases.

B. W. Miller, E. Eleventh & F St., Hereford, Tex., says: "I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Woodburn & Son's Drug Store, when I was suffering from pain in my back and they quickly relieved me. Now when I stoop or lift, I do not have that pain in my loins and the trouble with my kidneys has also been corrected. I do not know of a better medicine for kidney complaint than Doan's Kidney Pills and I cheerfully give this public statement in their praise."

Compliments Ad in Brand.

The Drygoodsman, the most widely read trades journal in the United States, and one whose opinion is worth while, has the following to say about Stambaugh's Special Sale Ad which appeared in the Brand some weeks ago:

"Geo. A. Stambaugh, Hereford, Texas—Very effective circular headed 'After Inventory Sale.' From a typographical as well as copy standpoint the ad is strong. The man who prepared it has a good idea of type display and made good use of knowledge. We have always maintained that even a clearing sale should have the same care as the opening announcement; that people are attracted by harmonious display at any time. We believe that a clearing sale will produce better results when it is attractive."

Sheriff's Sale.

State of Texas,
County of Deaf Smith,

By virtue of an Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Deaf Smith County, on the 3rd day of June, 1913, by the Clerk thereof, in the case of J. H. Jackson versus E. Van Meter, Sam S. Wright and J. W. Wright, No. 501, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I will proceed to sell, within the hours prescribed by law for Sheriff's Sales, on the FIRST TUESDAY in July, A. D., 1913, it being the 1st day of said month, before the Court House door of said Deaf Smith County, in the town of Hereford, the following described property to-wit:

Being all of Section No. 54, Certificate 4-568, Block K-11, Grantee G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co., and containing 640 acres of land situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas, about 35 miles Northwest from Hereford, Texas, and generally known as the O. M. Bell land.

Levied on as the property of E. Van Meter, Sam S. Wright and J. W. Wright, June 4th, A. D., 1913, to satisfy a judgment amounting to $10,228.00 in favor of J. H. Jackson and cost of suit.

Given under my hand, this 4th day of June, 1913.

Big Candle Burned 56 Hours, 24 Minutes, 26 Seconds.

A lot of interest was stirred up when the big candle in the Corner Drug Store window was lighted as a number had made guesses. Some of the guesses were as low as 24 hours, others as high as 150 hours. The nearest one was that of Leslie Moreman, who missed the time only 2 seconds. The committee made the following report:

We, the committee, after carefully examining the guesses, find that the nearest and second nearest guesses are as follows: 56 hours, 24 minutes, 24 seconds made by Leslie Moreman, and 56 hours, 25 minutes, 11 seconds made by Frank Richards, and there were twenty other guesses within 5 minutes.

Children's Day at Presbyterian Church.

The children's special program at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night was well attended. Some forty girls and boys took part in the exercises. The stage was festooned with red tumbler roses, and here and there about the choir place the "Conquerer's Flag" was displayed. Rev. Baker, pastor, was charge-de-affairs. The program consisted of a number of special missionary songs and choruses, the wee tots taking a leading part in a number of song and recitation quartettes. The exercise in which a garland ladder was built and the pumber called the "Evangel" in which the different nations were represented by young ladies in costume, deserve special mention. The solo entitled "Old Time Religion" was well received and would have brought an encore if permissible. A number of young ladies "passed the hat" during the playing of the offertory. The exercises from beginning to end were good and all who attended enjoyed the occasion.

THE Brand trusts that the country folks received the free matinee tickets in the same spirit in which they were sent. True, the price or cost of a ticket, if you bought it, would be little, but it is not the cost of a gift or compliment that makes its value, but the spirit and purpose of the gift. The gift of a single blushing rose bud, when accompanied by that graciousness that becomes a true man, brings far more pleasure than a purse of coin. Despise not little things—dimes make dollars.

WHEN the Brand refers to "country folks," it is a designation that carries a distinction of independence. Of the two classes, town folks and country folks, the latter enjoy a greater opportunity for independence than the city-fied ever dared to dream. The Brand uses the term "country folks" in the proper way, and not in any sense as a reflection or in derision. It is to be hoped that more town people will seek the independence of the country. It should be the ambition of every man and woman to get acquainted with the soil by actual industrial contact and not be compelled to "bite the dirt" in an effort to live in the city. To be called "country folks" should carry a distinction of honor. No such can be found in the empty honors of a store job or on an office stool. The city-fied folks are the despised of earth: They don't know it, but their country cousins, yes, the very "country folks" at whom they fling their sneers, furnish them with

No. 75 was awarded the silverware prize this week. Who will get the next prize? It will be a set of tea spoons and a sugar shell. Do personal work with your friends. Get them to trade with us and give you their votes. Every contestant has friends who are glad to help you in the race and will gladly give you their votes if you will only ask them. Beginning Monday we will give a special vote sale on perfumery and toilet articles, 100 votes to each 5c purchase or 1,000 to each dollar purchase for one week and will increase the votes from 100 to 200 for each dollar purchase on any article in our store, smaller or larger sales in proportion. Sell trade books and get 30,000 votes for each $5.00 book sold. We appreciate very much the work the contestants are doing. Their work shows they are really in earnest. Every prize is worth working hard for.

Do personal work among your friends and get their votes.

Ralph Barnett Appointed Postmaster.

A wire from Washington Tuesday brought the information that R. H. Barnett had been appointed by President Wilson as postmaster at Hereford, and his name with some twenty five others in Texas, had been sent to the Senate. It was on May 30, that Postmaster General Burleson asked Congressman Stephens for his recommendation to the Hereford office, and he immediately sent in the name of his friend, Ralph Barnett. Mr. Stephens' many friends in Hereford feel that in naming Mr. Barnett for this responsible position that he has made no mistake and that the entire citizenship will endorse the action of the high authorities in their selection. It is not known just when the Senate will pass on the appointment, but it will not be many days.

In Memoriam.

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His almighty wisdom to send His Death Angel and take from us our beloved sister, Mrs. C. S. Richards,

Be it resolved that we, the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Hereford Baptist church, do extend to the family and bereaved ones our deepest sympathy.

Resolved further that in the death of our sister, we, as an Aid Society and a church have lost a most worthy consecrated member, her family a devoted wife and mother, and the community a useful and exemplary Christian.

Hers was a beautiful, unselfish life, its blessed influence shall inspire our hearts and lives throughout the days to come. Many of us, with her pastor, had the blessed privilege of being present when she realized that death was near. Her tender caresses and last words of admonition to her children and loved ones, touched our hearts and strengthened our faith. May God comfort the husband, the children, the dear old mother, and the relatives.

A copy of this Resolution shall be spread upon the minutes of our Society, a copy sent to the family and a copy furnished the Hereford Brand for publication.

Creek Out of Banks.

For the first time in several years the creek (called crick by some good folks) but which the natives call the Tierra Blanca river, is out of its banks: higher than it has been in a long time. Some old timers say it was never so full before. Well, we won't blame it for getting "full" occasionally, especially as the Tierra Blanca runs through "dry territory" and has been a "teetotler" for quite a spell.

PLANS TO RE-Forest EAST TEXAS.

Timber Supply Decreasing.
 Houston, Texas: Mr. Jno. H. Kirby in his report to the Texas Welfare Commission estimates that the forests of Texas will be exhausted in a period of fifteen years and recommends that plans be considered for re-foresting East Texas. The report is quoted below in part: "There were 31,934 mills in operation in the United States in 1910 producing 40,018,202,000 feet of lumber and of this quantity 14,143,471,000 feet was yellow pine. "There are 466 mills in Texas, 20 mills operate exclusively upon hardwood timber and 70 mills operate on both pine and hardwood, while the remaining 376 operate exclusively upon pine. The average annual production of these mills is in round figures two billion feet. The consumption of lumber in Texas is about equal to the production of Texas mills. The Texas sawmills produced in 1910 an aggregate of 1,884,134,000 feet board measure which was 4.7 per cent of the total amount of lumber produced in the United States.

"It is estimated that there is about 30,000,000,000 feet of yellow pine timber still standing in Texas. I think this estimate ultra-conservative. Taking this estimate, however, as a basis, it will be seen at a glance that at the present rate of consumption, the volume of raw material will be exhausted in a period of fifteen years. I do not believe that the forests will be entirely denuded in that period. On the contrary, I think the manufacture of yellow pine will be carried on in this state for half a century at least, though it goes without saying that there will be an annual reduction in the volume of the product as well as a steady increase in the volume of consumption.

"It is unfortunate that no practical plans for re-foresting the lands of east Texas are being considered. These are the only lands in Texas to which yellow pine is indigenous or upon which forests may be cultivated at a minimum expense. It is true that the present generation of home builders enjoys a condition of cheap material which will be denied to succeeding ones. These same benefits might be preserved to our posterity if the public which is interested, would provide the means therefor by appropriating funds from the public treasury for the promotion of practical forestry plans."

ATTRACTIVE LILY BEDS.

Flowers Planted in Shady Place Need Little Attention. No garden is complete without a bed of lilies of the valley. These fragrant flowers should be planted in a shady place and left there permanently. They need practically no attention and year after year appear on schedule time. Although their flowering period lasts only about a week, the bed containing them is an attractive spot of green for many weeks during the spring and summer. If left to themselves they will spread rapidly, and a small bed will soon be a bed of generous proportions. For outdoor planting clumps of lilies of the valley are generally used, the pipes being for indoor forcing principally. When planted out of doors, however, the pipes will give good satisfaction, for each one contains a flower.

Deaf Smith County Farms.

The value of agricultural property in Deaf Smith county is $7,283,927, according to a report of the United States Census Department which has just been issued. Land represents 81 per cent of the total value of all farm property in this county, build-6, implements and machinery 2, and domestic animals, poultry and bees 11 per cent. The total value of farm property in Texas is $2,218,645,164, divided as follows: 74 per cent land, 9 per cent buildings, 3 per cent implements and machinery and 14 per cent domestic animals, etc.

The farm property of Deaf Smith county has increased $6,096,125, or 513 per cent during the past decade and that of the entire state has increased $1,256,168,891 or 130 per cent. The per cent of increase for the entire United States during this period was twenty.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble. When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

ADVERTISERS ARE IN GOOD COMPANY.

By Holland.

Mr. Business Man, have you ever thought that advertising puts you in good company? It is an old saying that a man is known by the company he keeps. When you join the ranks of the advertisers you join the ranks of the biggest and most successful merchants and manufacturers of the world.

How many concerns can you name in Chicago, in New York, in Kansas City, in Boston, in any large city in the country? Name them and you will notice that all are big advertisers and all are leaders in their lines. Ask your friends to name the most successful merchants they know in the big cities and in each case the name of a great advertiser will be mentioned. The same rule is true of smaller cities and towns. The successful merchants are the advertisers. The advertiser stamps himself as one having confidence in himself and his wares, as one proud of his calling and seeking publicity and the test of patronage. JOIN THE RANKS OF SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISERS.

Auto Struck by Lightning.

Tuesday evening at about five o'clock the Parker brothers, who live five miles north of town, pulled out for home in their automobile and took Jim Bratton as a passenger. They had reached the lake near Bassett's Dairy when a bolt of lightning struck the car and tore one side of the car up badly and hit Bratton in the hip, going down the leg to the foot, splitting the skin in places and tearing one shoe and sock entirely into fragments. The lightning seemed to go out at the toes and split them open. Mr. Bratton is suffering some today, but is very much improved from last evening. —Crosbyton Review.

BIBLE STUDY ON ALL THINGS WORK FOR GOOD TO THEM.

Genesis 46:28-47:31—June 15.
"To them that love God all things work together for good."—Romans 8:28.

SO Jacob and all his family left Canaan, the Land of Promise, and at the invitation of Pharaoh through Joseph, they located in the land of Goshen, suitable to their business, which was that of herdsmen and shepherds. Joseph went in his chariot to Goshen, and there met his father Jacob, whom he had not seen for many years; and Joseph wept. Then came the official presentation of Jacob and his family to Pharaoh. Joseph was careful that they should make no mistake. He therefore let the king clearly know that their occupation was that of shepherds and herdsmen; for the Egyptians despised that business, and would keep themselves separate from the Hebrews. Thus the land of Goshen would be almost like a separate country from Egypt.

Jacob at this time was one hundred and thirty years old and quite feeble. Brought into Pharaoh's presence, Jacob blessed him, in the sense of asking the Divine blessing upon him. Thus the family of Jacob, now called by their new name, Israel, became firmly established in Egypt. Jacob lived seventeen years thereafter, during which Joseph and his people, the Israelites, were in favor with Pharaoh and the Egyptians.

Our lesson relates especially to God's willingness and ability to make all the experiences of His people work out for their good. This naturally suggests that we inquire in what way Jacob's life experiences were to his welfare. The Scriptures declare, "Jacob have I loved; Esau have I hated [loved less]." God's Love should be distinctly seen manifested in some way, in making all things work for good to Jacob and his family. The question is, How? Can we see how Divine favor operated for the welfare of Jacob and his family?

How Did God Bless Israel?

Jacob, having become heir of the great Abrahamic Promise, "In thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed", straightway seems to have gotten into trouble. He fled from home, leaving everything to Esau. He served his uncle Laban for seven years, that he might have Rachel for his wife. But Providence permitted him to be cheated, and he was obliged to serve seven years more for her. Time and again Laban changed his wages, endeavoring to get the best of him. Thus Jacob was thrown into competition with his uncle, to protect his own interests.

Finally, with the fruit of many years' toil, he returned to Canaan, fearful of Esau, whom he placated with a rich present. Later, he lost his wife and was bereft of Joseph, his beloved son. Then came the famine, the recovery of Joseph, and the incidents of today's lesson. Later on, that very move into Egypt appeared to have been disastrous, for the Egyptians enslaved the Israelites.

Finally they were delivered, only to have trying experiences in the wilderness for forty years. Then it was a gradual matter to get possession of Canaan. Then they had wars, pestilences, famines, captivities, rebellion, until they were carried away to Babylon. Later on, a few returned. By and by, Jesus came, and was repudiated by all except a few. Then God repudiated the nation. Gradually trouble and anarchy came upon them, until as a nation they went to Hades—nationally they fell asleep. They have been asleep for more than eighteen centuries, while personally they have been persecuted in many nations.

To understand how God's blessing was identified with Israel's experiences, we must glance at the experiences of other nations, and then look also into the future. Egypt, Assyria, Philistia and other nations which flourished in Israel's day have either been merged with other peoples or blotted out by natural processes. But Israel exists, even though nationally in Hades. Sheol, awaiting a national awakening and resurrection. That awakening is already arousing dry bones from despair, and pointing forward to a future day of blessing and prosperity.

The trying experiences of Israel tended also to develop noble characters, strong in faith and loyal to the core. St. Paul enumerates some of these. This selecting process continued down to Jesus' time, and found a glorious company, though small. God found the people He sought. These faithful ones of Israel are the ones for whom all things worked together for good. The time is near, we believe, when these will constitute Messiah's earthly representatives in ruling and blessing all mankind.

Throughout the Gospel Age, God has been selecting a Spiritual Israel from amongst all nations. These, too, have had bitter experiences—opposition from Satan, the world and their own flesh. These Spiritual Israelites are heirs with Jesus of the spiritual phase of the Messianic Kingdom.

Israel's national awakening arousing dry bones of despair.

RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Made Strong by Vinol.

Run-down conditions are caused by overwork, worry, too close confinement, a chronic cough or cold which it is difficult to cure.

We want to say to every person in this condition—you need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, the great strength creator. It will supply iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form, create a good, healthy appetite, strengthen your digestive organs and make you eat better, sleep better and feel better.

A case has just come to our attention from West Scranton, Pa., Mrs. Chas. Propper says: "For three years I was all run down, weak and had no appetite, and after all that time I am glad to say Vinol has brought back my health and strength, which is just what I was told it would do."

We are confident that Vinol is the best body-builder and strength creator we have ever sold.

Try a bottle on our guarantee to refund your money if it fails to benefit you.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

So much is being said in the present times concerning the lack of efficiency of our public schools and the subject having become of local interest, the Brand publishes this week an article prepared especially along that line of thought. The public meeting recently at which a number of addresses were made favoring a more practical course of study is in the right direction and the subject in this article clinches the question at issue.

"Many people believe that the learning obtained in a high school, a business college or a university will fit them to command high salaries immediately upon graduation. Those who have wide experience tell us that this idea is fallacious. They state that a surprisingly large proportion of the students graduated are almost totally unprepared for business activities. To meet this condition various special arrangements have been made.

Manual training schools have been established in many cities for teaching the trades. In many communities students in the upper grades spend part of their time in school and part in those shops which expect to utilize the services of these young men after graduation. The boy scout movement has been valuable in teaching self-reliance, and in inducing students to take pleasure in the ordinary activities of life.

"Many schools are so overcrowded that their students receive but few opportunities to express individuality. Whenever the teaching staff is overworked, it cannot be expected that the desired inspiration will flow from a curriculum of itself. Self-development is noticeably rare under such conditions. People generally require example or rivalry in order to be induced to train themselves. It is so easy to fall into perfunctoriness. And after all, the school can only furnish educational facilities—it does not really educate. Education depends upon the efforts of the individual. It is not the intention to convey the thought that schools and colleges are useless. They are useful in proportion to the purposeful, intelligent activity of the scholars. Teachers have recognized this, and they attempt constantly to induce their scholars to think independently—to analyze for themselves the statements in their textbooks and to put the results of their own observations into action.

"The necessity of generalizing in compiling textbooks leaves the great multitude of individual practices and problems unexplained to the student. In other words, it is painfully evident to thousands of graduates every year, that the absorption of scholastic theory is but the threshold to the practical work of the day. The best that students can attain at school is a good method of thought, an introduction to logical ways of study.

"These plain truths are not usually apparent to the youthful student. He has been nurtured for years in the glamor of academic activities. His standard is a certain percentage or mark for passing examinations. It is well known that school 'exams' can be but fragmentary at best. The callow student has acquired a cocksureness that does not perceive those large problems which are not stated. His graduation thesis most likely contains a formula for the working out of problems, the solution of which have not yet been attained by the sincere and life-long striving of his seniors. What are we going to do with our students? How can we place them so as to imbue them with the right incentives? How can we early secure for them a much-needed practical education, and make them useful citizens, not dependent and purposeless? This is an individual problem. The circumstances vary in every family, and with each member of the family.

"Not so long ago our sons were 'bound out' as apprentices in various trades. They have told us of their many privations, but it would appear that they must have really learned something as apprentices, for they founded business and political institutions which are worthy of respect. The rigorous apprentice system has been superseded by a more gentle practice. The rights of minors are today more tenderly regarded. And yet, there are millions of eager youths who are searching for their right place. They are striving to find their proper employment. An unstable element exists in the present apprentice employment conditions, due to the ease with which apprenticeships may be abandoned by our youths. This partially explains the activity of wise employers who are searching for the 'best men.' These valuable men are they who make their employment profitable, and who make working conditions agreeable to their fellows. Who is not acquainted with unprofitable servants and with disagreeable working companions? No more sensible provision for overcoming some of these conditions has been made than those instituted by our great corporations. Each of their departments has some system for training young people for its work—and instead of requiring their students to pay a tuition fee, their apprentices are paid moderate salaries.

"To the young man who is willing to invest some of his time and effort in self-education in its relation to business, a large office furnishes an excellent training ground. His compensation will not be great at first, but it will increase as he demonstrates fitness for advancement. If he is not satisfied merely to 'hold down his job,' and if he will put his mental and physical energy into his work, he cannot fail to receive a merited reward. This has been said so often that it sounds trite. It is again repeated here because so many express dissatisfaction with their early employment. This expression comes not through more intelligent effort, but sometimes in attempts to throw discredit upon fellow employes, or in restlessness because a much-wished-for increase in salary or advancement to high position does not come as soon as ever they have become acquainted with the names and faces of a number of their seniors.

"The relation of the office man to his employer has always been confidential. To those who merit confidence, this connection can but be profitable. The employer is usually pretty well aware of the attitude of his men, and naturally defends himself from the ungrateful and disrespectful, while those who overcome their aversion to effort—those who love their work, are highly rewarded. It takes time for these relations to be placed on a firm basis, but to those possessed of patience and true self-respect, this field is constantly presenting greater promise. We quote a recent saying by the author of 'Buster Brown':

"Resolved—The best educated man is the man who is most useful. Book learning furnishes us with the tools to get knowledge. Schooling is only the foundation of education. Remember that experience is the best teacher and that learning is no good unless you can apply it in practice, like religion. What good is a religion that you cannot apply to your every day life, and what use is an education that you can't use? Knowledge is power, and learning helps us to get knowledge—so does work."

2nd Cleanest Town Contest

In 1912 Holland's Magazine offered $1,000 in cash prizes to be divided among the three Texas towns of 1,000 to 10,000 population making the best record for cleanliness during the year. Eighty-six towns entered the contest, and, although only three of them, according to the rules of the contest, won cash prizes, by far the greater number enjoyed campaigns of sanitary education and of practical cleanliness that wrought immediate and lasting benefit.

So thoroughly satisfied is Holland's that a good work was done, not only for the towns that were in the contest but for the entire state, it has been determined to offer prizes in a second cleanest town contest along similar lines but with some added features.

Prizes

The territory in Holland's Cleanest Town Contest for 1913 includes both Texas and Oklahoma, but the contest in each state will be virtually independent of the contest in the other.

Prizes are offered by Holland's Magazine as follows:

To the town making the best score in each class a sanitary drinking fountain for each of the public school buildings within its corporate limits.

Towns will be divided into five classes, three in Texas and two in Oklahoma as follows:

In Texas—

Class A—Towns of 5,000 and not more than 12,500 population.

Class B—Towns of 2,500 and not more than 5,000 population.

Class C—Towns of 1,250 and not more than 2,500 population.

In Oklahoma—

Class D—Towns of 5,000 and not more than 10,00 population.

Class E—Towns of 2,500 and not more than 5,000 population.

Towns in each class will compete only with other towns in the same class in their own State.

The towns entering this contest will be classified according to the figures of the latest official census.

Methods of Entry

Towns in Texas that won prizes in 1912 may enter the contest this year and be entitled to inspection and score but not to receive prizes. They may be awarded certificates of merit. Any other town in Texas or Oklahoma, within any of the classes specified, may enter the contest by sending to Holland's Magazine, Dallas, Texas, application signed in one of four ways.

First—By the Mayor and city health officer, or (if there be no city health officer) by the mayor.

Second—By two officers of any civic organization, commercial club or women's club, duly authorized to act for their organization.

Third—By the superintendent of schools and the president or other officers of the school board.

Fourth—By adult citizens (either male or female) 100 signatures being required for towns in Classes A and D, 50 signatures for towns in Classes B and E, and 25 signatures for towns in Class C. Entry blanks with space for signatures will be furnished on request.

Applications must be made in accordance with the form on page 10 of the June issue of Holland's.

Time of Closing Entries

All applications for entry must reach the office of Holland's Magazine before July 1, 1913. No town will be considered in the contest unless properly entered according to the rules. A list of the entries will be published in the August issue of Holland's and all towns desiring to enter should send in their applications as early as possible.

No protest relative to the entry or classification of any town will be considered unless received by July 27. No fees of any kind for any purpose will be required at any time during the contest.

Inspections

Inspections for the towns entered will begin August 1, 1913, and will be continued until all of the towns in the contest have been inspected and scored. To decide between towns making close scores second and even third inspections may be made.

No information will be given as to date on which any town may be visited by inspectors. All towns must be ready for inspection without warning on and after August 1.

Each town entering the contest will be inspected and scored on the following points:

Conditions of Streets, Parks and Alleys. Water, Water Supply and Drainage. Collection and Disposal of Garbage. Removal and Disposal of Sewerage. Condition of Vaults and Privies (if no sewer system.) Condition of Vacant Lots. General Appearance of Homes. Ventilation and Care of Public Buildings and Semi-Public Buildings. Public Conveniences, especially those for schools. Presence of flies, mosquitoes and other disease-carrying insects. Handling and exposure of meat, fruit, pickles, ice, milk and milk products and other food products offered for sale. Such special conditions as may directly affect the health or cleanliness of a town.

All inspections will be made wholly at the expense of Holland's Magazine and will be under the personal supervision of Dr. M. M. Carrick, medical director in charge.

Every Town Must Win

Every town in Texas and Oklahoma which enters this competition must be a gainer, whether it wins the prize or not, in health and comfort of its citizens.

To women's clubs and civic organizations having for their object the improvement of their towns, we trust the competition will serve as an incentive for increased effort.

The advertising value of any town which may be justly heralded as the cleanest town in its class, we think, should not be overlooked by commercial clubs and similar organizations devoted to commercial and industrial advancement. Such a town would doubtless show a very material increase in population before the taking of another census.

Blank Applications appear in Holland's for June
