IDEAL FARM FOR IDEAL PEOPLE

Optimist Describes Conditions That Make Farming and Finds The Spot at Hereford

In whatever avocation men and women engage, the successful ones have an IDEAL and work to that end. In that women are more idealistic in nature, they succeed often where men have made signal failures. Whether men or women own and manage farms, they should have an Ideal constantly before them. True, they will often find themselves falling far short of that ideal, but the effort put forth to reach it is worth the price. It served as a sort of measure. But Ideal Farms cannot be made every where and under all conditions. Nature has endowed certain sections with peculiar settings and has by centuries of evolutionary work brought the conditions up to that standard to which the hand of man may be turned to an advantage.

One of those favored spots of the earth is the South Plains of Texas and more particularly described as the Tierra Blanco Valley at Hereford. In this valley, peculiar in that it is NOT surrounded by high mountains, but by a level circumference horizon; a level plateau stretching out in every direction and the eye is not able to follow it to the end. This valley is intersected by the Tierra Blanco River, an everlasting stream sportive with game fish that tease the Waltonites into a frenzy of excitement.

But this valley has locked within its bosom untold and undeveloped riches, awaiting the touch of industry. And nature has placed within the reach of every one the same opportunities to build to that ideal which all men, who have an ambition to get close to nature's store-houses, must necessarily have. The tiller of the soil has every condition in this valley to bring to a full realization that Ideal Farm. What one man would call an Ideal Farm, another would not be attracted by it. But whatever your notion may be, the Ideal Panhandle Farm will consist of between 80 and 160 acres according to the owner's ability. It will be properly divided into fields for alfalfa, wheat, oats, and for all kinds of forage stuff. Of an 80-acre farm, 20 acres would be in alfalfa, 20 acres in wheat, 10 in corn, 10 in other grains for silage and the remaining in such things as are best adapted to the soil and climate. A small plot should be given to an orchard and berry patch. Sufficient grounds, but not too much, should be allowed for the farm bungalow, barns, feed lots, and attached to the barn should be one or more silos. The different fields should be fenced separately, so that in feeding the cattle or hogs which must be on the Ideal Farm, they would have the open fields in which to run after the crops have been gathered. Besides the farm stock and those growing for the market, there must be a complement of chickens, turkeys and cows to supply the table and to furnish pin money for the household. The farm bungalow should be well planned and with every convenience for the kitchen, hot and cold water connections, sewer and above all a bath for the hire hand as well as for the family. The housekeeper should be remembered as well as the men of the field. Lastly, there should be a 1000-gallon well, properly equipped with the best machinery. This should be as well cared for as the buggy horse. This Ideal Farm must have all needful machinery and it should be housed when not in use. The home should be supplied with music, weekly papers and journals of current literature. This kind of a farm will solve the problem of holding the boys and girls on the farm.

The Brand does not know of any better place to build an hundred Ideal Farms than in the Tierra Blanco Valley. It needs an hundred more farms this year. If you have any notion of engaging in farming and want an ideal place to live, where the sunshine is brightest, where the soil is most responsive, where the water pumped from the everlasting underground reservoir is an insurance policy against crop failures, write to any advertiser in The Brand or address a card to A. C. Elliott, editor of the Hereford Brand, and he will place you in direct connection with the man that has more good land than his share.

New Grocery Store.

A new grocery firm under the style of Brumley & Holman has been opened in the telephone building, second door below First State Bank. The firm is composed of G. W. Brumley and C. R. Holman. They will handle a general of groceries and family supplies, and will also handle the products of the Star Mill & Elevator Co., of which Mr. Holman will still remain manager. The doors of the new store were opened last Saturday afternoon.

Betts-Tate.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at White Deer, Texas, last Sunday evening, 8:30 o'clock, when Mr. Ernest L. Betts and Miss Teleta Tate were united in marriage, Rev. J. J. Baird officiating. Those attending from Hereford were, Mr. Edgar Betts and Misses Mabel and Nora Betts. The new couple will make their home in this community, east of town. They arrived Monday night accompanied by those who went up from Hereford. Mr. Edgar Betts is a brother of Mr. Edgar Betts.

First Shipment of Wool.

The first shipment of wool made out of Hereford for this season went out last Saturday, consisting of 23,600 pounds. In the car the following wool growers had clips: John Harrigan, 9,768 pounds; J. H. Head, 5,953 pounds; R. A. Hall, 2,555 pounds; Harry Jackson, 5,022 pounds. The average was about 12 cents and was bought by A. J. Hill of Roswell, the shipment going to Pasac, N. J. H. G. Conkright is the local agent and buyer.

Cattlemen Attention!

Cattlemen in the Plains country should take heed to the new law regarding eradication of scab which was published in this paper a couple of weeks ago. Inspectors will be active after the first of July and the probabilities are that entire counties and districts will be placed under quarantine and two or more dippings be required on each and every ranch in certain counties and districts. If cattle owners have no vats they are required to build them at once, and those who have vats must see that they are put in proper repair forthwith. The state is entering upon the work of strict eradication of the disease, and with the hearty co-operation of cattle owners scabies will be exterminated from the Plains country and the entire section be removed from quarantine. The law is strict and will be enforced to its fullest extent. Those who wish for further information should apply or write to nearest state inspector. As the time is short it behooves you to get to work at once making preparations. Jno. W. Dale, State Inspector.

Millinery.

An assortment of trimmed and untrimmed hats about 25 in all, your choice, $1.00. Another bargain lot your choice in this selection at only $2.00. Also a fine lot of fancy trimmed and untrimmed shapes going at $2.50. I am offering these exceptional bargains to make room for the fall stock. Mrs. N. C. Vogele at the Millinery Parlor, 1st door South of Britain-Dunlap Bld. It

Club Reception.

The members of the Bay View Club were at home to a large number of their friends Monday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock on the lawn of the Hawkins' home, having as special guests Mrs. C. G. Witherspoon and Miss Bertha, Mrs. Watkins of Cleburne and Mrs. Thompson of Amarillo. The porch with its furnishings of piano, rugs, cushions and chairs and the artistic arrangement of vines and daises presented the appearance of an out door living room which, surrounded by the beautiful lawn, made an ideal place for the greeting of friends. As the guests arrived they were presented to the ladies in the receiving line, namely, Mesdames Watkins, Thompson, Sellars, Wilson, Jones and Miss Bertha Witherspoon. The punch table was presided over by Miss Bertha Woodburn, assisted by Misses Bertha and Frances Dameron. Piano numbers by Mrs. Broadwell, Mrs. West, Miss Gregg and Miss Gallaher, two readings by Miss Bertha Witherspoon, and a song by the Ladies Quartette, added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Refreshments of sherbet and loaf cake were served by Misses Mattie and Meda Woodburn and Willia Elliott. Pansies were given as favors. Altogether this was an afternoon of real pleasure.

J. M. Rockwell, general manager of a line of lumber yards in Texas, of which the Hereford Lumber Co., is one, was here last week taking an eye-view of the business and renewing his friendship in Hereford.

To Kill Melon Louse.

The melon lice are again making their appearance in our Texas melon fields and now is the time to fight these small but destructive insects. The insects, feeding on the venal side of the leaf, cause a loss of nourishment at that particular part. This causes the leaf to curl and hides the insects in such a way that it is impossible to reach them with a spray.

If possible, the vines should be sprayed before the leaves curl, using an elbow extension rod so that the spray can be directed from below. In small fields the curled leaves can be cut out and destroyed. By doing this large colonies of lice that are hard to reach with a spray are destroyed. The following sprays have been successfully used against the Melon Aphid:

FORMULA NO. 1.

Whale oil soap 1 pound
Water 4 gallons

FORMULA NO. 2.

Tobacco leaves or stems 2 pounds
Water 4 gallons

The spray can be made by slowly allowing it to come to the boiling point and then removing, or by pouring boiling water over the stems or leaves. There are quite a number of commercial tobacco decoctions such as "Rose leaf," "Nicotine," etc. They are all good and when the proper amount to be used has been determined by experimentation, there is little trouble in the preparation of the spray.

FORMULA NO. 3.

Potash soap 1-2 pound
Water (soft) 1 gallon

Churn violently until it attains a soft creamy consistency; add 17 gallons of water and emulsify. This makes a 10 per cent kerosene emulsion.

FUMIGATING.

Carbon bi-sulphide, at the rate of one tablespoonful to a hill of young vines, has been used successfully. The liquid is placed in a small lid or saucer under a hood of duck-cloth, previously soaked in linseed oil. The cloth is held up by two halves of a barrel hoop.

R. H. Kemp of Roswell, owner of one local yard and general manager of the line of yards under the style of the Kemp Lumber Company, was here last week looking over the business situation. He was well pleased with what he saw and was very much interested in the Hereford irrigation as he knows from the Roswell experience that it means a substantial basis for all lines of business.

COUNTRY GENT. SEES HEREFORD

Deaf Smith County Gets Splendid First-Page Write-up in This Very Popular Magazine

The Country Gentlemen, the oldest agricultural paper in the world, published by the Curtis Publishing Co., at Philadelphia, and which must have a million or more circulation, gives the Hereford, Hurley and Plainview Shallow Districts a two-page first article write-up in its June 21st issue. While some errors may be found in the article, in the main, the write-up is above the average as to adherence to the facts. But the thing that has struck The Brand as rather unusual is Mr. Currie's sarcastic thrusts at some of Plainview's boastful attitudes towards the other parts of the Panhandle, and the funny bone of his left arm must have been given a severe punch when they told him that Plainview was not in the Panhandle and, therefore, a superior place. Yet, the writer gracefully calls Plainview's attention to the fact that the soil, water and climate were practically the same at Plainview as at Hereford. And it does seem strange that Plainview should disclaim being in the Panhandle. Hereford is more in the South Plains, for all the Plains country south of the Canadian is the South Plains, while the North Plains lie north of that river. The trouble with Plainview is that she does not want to carry the "black eye" that a bunch of northern real estate boomers have given the Panhandle, and she wants to change the geography of Texas to suit her notion. Plainview has some good wells and Hereford knows it. The writer has seen them. Mr. Currie says that Plainview has a dozen or more pumps that REALLY pump an average of 900 gallons per minute. The Brand is entirely satisfied with the showing Hereford has made with The Country Gentlemen. That 1,500 gallon well on the Hillcrest farm, the greatest well in North Texas, looks fine in the picture on the "shirt front" of The Country Gentlemen. Mr. Currie dubs the man, who has paved the way for insurance farming in the Panhandle, if you please, as Pioneer Pumper McDonald, and while Hereford discovered the water and set the pace for Plainview and other towns, we are perfectly willing for them to obtain all of the pleasure and business possible out of the opportunity. There is room for all.

J. G. Connell of Crockett, representing the Rexall drug people, was here this week looking after the interests of the firm. While in the city he visited the Brand office in company with Mr. John McLean of the Corner Drug Store. The Rexall concern believe strongly in the efficiency of printer's ink.

Mrs. H. L. Morel and Mrs. Rem Witherspoon are enjoying a visit with relatives and friends in Fort Worth. They will return to Hereford about July 4.

Summitt Breezes.

Our old time neighbor, Geo. Douglas, passed over the "Summitt" on his way to take the train at Hereford for Oklahoma City to visit his daughter, Mrs. James Carter.

Neighbor Alfred Grant marketed his fat hogs the past week, 39 head, and is now able to bear the sound of coin rattling.

Miss Mary and Master Cyrus Galley spent a few days with their brother, Hollis, who lives nine miles east of Hereford in Riceland, and report a pleasant visit.

Farmers, stockmen and people in general are wearing a smiling countenance these days, for there is "a sound of an abundance of rain." My, how things are growing.

Card of Thanks.

In the time of need and distress, friends never forsake friends. So in the hour of our great bereavement in the death of our daughter, wife and niece, Mrs. Elsie Weaver, which occurred on Saturday, June 21, our friends and neighbors proved themselves friends indeed. During the weeks of her suffering they ministered unto her in every way and showed their many kindnesses in so many ways we could hardly name them all. We therefore wish to thank every one for their thoughtfulness through it all.

DRAWING THE FAMILY WASHING AWAY FROM THE HOME

Every progressive laundryman looks forward to the day when the entire family wash will be sent to the laundry. To the far-sighted this ideal condition of affairs is rapidly becoming a reality. But there are some less optimistic who still argue that it is practically impossible—that conditions of years standing cannot be overcome, and particularly in their own locality.

BY WAY OF COMPARISON. It was not so very many years ago that in a certain province of China all the inhabitants retired at dusk as their ancestors had done for centuries past, simply because they had no proper illumination. One day the Standard Oil Company invaded the territory, not only with the oil, but with lamps. They changed this custom, centuries old, in almost a day.

AS IT APPLIES TO THE LAUNDRY. And so it is with the laundry work. The man who insists that a thing cannot be done is oftentimes interrupted by someone doing it. There are hundreds of laundrymen who have developed their territory, until to-day they are handling tons of family work each week.

Notwithstanding the fact that our business has more than doubled since starting up some few weeks ago, we have the capacity and can handle five times as much business. Our charges are reasonable; suppose you give us a fair trial. We are pleasing a great many and more than likely can please you. We are here to stay and are striving to make each week's work better than the last. Phones 246, 116 and 197. HEREFORD STEAM LAUNDRY

A copy of the Lexington Herald containing a clipping from the Jessamine Journal has been sent to Supt. Short. The clipping gives an account of Prof. Cannon and his work in Germany. As Prof. Cannon was at one time a teacher in the Hereford school, his friends will be interested. The clipping follows:

"Philip Blumenthal of Lexington, nephew of Simon Wolf of the firm of Wolf, Wile & Co., accompanied by his uncle, Mr. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klein, motored to Nicholasville and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Cannon. Mr. Blumenthal has been studying in Berlin, Germany, for several years and received the Doctor of Science degree last March. He was a member of the same graduating class with Prof. Harry Cannon at State University and it was a very singular coincidence that they should meet again happily in Berlin. Mr. Blumenthal reported Prof. Cannon as standing very high at the university, having recently received his certificate in German with the signature of Dr. Eric Schmidt. In a class of one hundred and forty Prof. Cannon was one of the fourteen chosen from the class to take the examination and passed most creditably. He will specialize now for his Doctor of Philosophy degree which will require perhaps two more years study. He reported the Professor as looking well, having acquired a mustache and increasing in avoirdupois. The visit here was a most happy one as it brought news to his parents, who have been separated from him for a year. Mr. Blumenthal had been at home just five days when he came to see Mr. and Mrs. Cannon.

Compliments and Such Like.

From time to time different managers at the Brand office have, through "love and affection and other valuable considerations," placed names upon the subscription list "complimentary." Thus the paper would be sent "free" for a short or long time as the circumstances would warrant or the disposition of the manager would dictate. But occasionally, a sort of "house cleaning" would seize the circulation manager and he would drop off a number of "Comps." The present manager, alias the present editor, has always opposed a promiscuous "complimentary" list, sending the paper to most any one would dare to take it out of the post office. But even with the liberality of the usual newspaper, the Brand has but a few "Comps" on its list. Many papers, especially those whose habitat is in that part of the Great State, known to us as the "sticks," have had, for time and all past eternity, the custom of giving to each advertiser, whether he used an inch or a page, the paper free. The Brand has never followed this unbusiness like custom. There is not a regular merchant advertiser in the Brand but who also pays his subscription to the paper. Many of the individuals of the different firms not only subscribe for the paper for themselves, but they send from one to half dozen to their kinfolks and friends in other parts of the country. As a matter of right, it is unfair to compliment one merchant with a free subscription and demand of another that he pay for the paper. The "compliments" to which reference has been made, have been put on the list mostly for "love and affection" and while these things are fine to enjoy, they will not pay printers and buy groceries. Therefore, if you have been receiving the paper and have not been in the habit of paying for it, do not be disappointed next week if you fail to receive a copy of the paper; a "house cleaning" is on and a woman is using the duster.

Mrs. Elsie Weaver Dies.

Mrs. Elsie Weaver, age 23, wife of T. C. Weaver of Westfield, N. Y., died at their temporary residence in Hereford Saturday, June 21, 1913, at 10 o'clock p. m., after an illness of some two years. Mrs. Weaver was a niece of Mr. H. B. Webb of this place. She was stricken with scarlet fever some two years ago and had never fully recovered, that ailment being followed by other complications. In February of this year Mr. and Mrs. Weaver came to Hereford, thinking to benefit her health. She, however, did not improve as the family had hoped, but every attention was given her that human hands could extend. About ten days ago it was feared that she could not bear her suffering much longer, so her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wratton, also of Westfield,

N. Y., came to her bedside. Her husband also returned from his duties as clerk in the post office at Westfield, and they were present when the final summons came. Mrs. W. H. Jordan of Arlington, Texas, a sister of Mr. Webb's, was also present. The body was prepared for shipment to her home by local undertakers. Funeral services conducted by Rev. R. H. Purser of the Baptist church were held at the residence Sunday at 1 o'clock, and the remains removed at once to the station, where a number of Eastern Star members were present, the deceased having been a member of that order. The father, mother and husband accompanied the remains of their loved one back to the old home, where the last sad rites will be performed. A sad journey. The Brand extends to the bereaved family the heart sympathy for the entire community and for the many friends the family made while in Hereford.

DON'T TAKE THE WRONG MEDICINE

If Your Liver Gets Lazy You Need a Liver Tonic, Not Merely a Laxative for the Bowels.

Many people take a simple laxative when their liver gets sluggish rather than take calomel which they know to be dangerous. But a mere laxative will not start a sluggish liver. What is needed is a tonic that will liven up the liver without forcing you to stay at home and lose a day from your business.

You have such a tonic in Dodson's Liver Tonic. Dodson's Liver Tonic must be all they claim for it because they guarantee it to take the place of dangerous calomel and agree to hand back the money with a smile to any person who tries Dodson's Liver Tonic and is not satisfied with the relief it gives.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a harmless vegetable liquid with a pleasant taste, and is a prompt and reliable remedy for constipation, biliousness, sour stomach, and the other troubles that come from a torpid liver.

Betts-Clark give it their personal guarantee and if you will ask about this guarantee you will protect yourself against imitations that are not guaranteed. Large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic is 50 cents.

Says The Brand Mistaken.

In a short article concerning the appointment of Ralph Barnett as postmaster for Hereford, The Brand stated:

"Mr. Stephens' many friends in Hereford feel that in naming Mr. Barnett for this responsible position that he has made no mistake and that the entire citizenship will endorse the action of the high authorities in their selection."

The Brand carries continuously at its mast head this line—"Any erroneous statement affecting the reputation of any individual which may appear in The Brand will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publishers."

While The Brand does not believe that any one's reputation has been injured by the publication of the paragraph above, attention has been called to the statement that Mr. Stephens' many friends in Hereford were NOT pleased with his recommendation and that the "entire citizenship" does not endorse his action. Therefore, it becomes the duty of The Brand to either correct the statement or make some explanation as to its meaning. It seems that the use of the expression, "many friends," was inadvisedly used, but consultation with Webster reveals the meaning that "many" simply means

"numerous; an indefinite number," while the word, "all," means "every one of." The Brand did not intend to convey the meaning that "every one of" Mr. Stephens' friends would feel that he had made no mistake, for it knew that whomsoever he endorsed would not please all or every one, but the general meaning to be conveyed was carefully guarded in the use of the word, "many friends." Perhaps, Mr. Stephens does not count those citizens among his "many friends" whose advice he did not see fit to follow in endorsing a man for the place. But a letter from Mr. Stephens' clerk will, perhaps, throw some light on his position. In a communication dated March 14, 1913, he writes:

"In making these appointments, Mr. Stephens is going to be guided largely by the wishes of the majority of the local Democracy and I know of no one man who can bring such pressure to bear upon him as to control any appointment, for he has often told me that these appointments were local and the local people are the principal ones to be consulted."

Now, if Mr. Stephens followed this declaration and doctrine, he certainly consulted the local Democracy before he named the man; if he did not, but simply passed it out upon a "silver platter of political preferment," at the suggestion of some one man here or elsewhere, he has violated his own platform and has insulted the local Democracy.

Again, in the use of the expression, "entire citizenship will endorse the action of the high authorities," the Brand has been called to task.

President Wilson recommended a man to the Senate upon the double endorsement of Postmaster General Burleson and Congressman Stephens. The local Democracy had, no doubt, been "heard from," in various and divers ways and after due consideration on the part of Mr. Stephens, a recommendation was made. With the many applications with their petitions and private endorsements before the "high authorities," Mr. Barnett was selected out of the ten or more applicants. When this became known at Hereford, it then was the duty of every loyal Democrat to endorse the action of Mr. Stephens and the others; and upon second and more sober thought, The Brand believes that the entire citizenship will endorse the action of the high authorities. The Brand did not say that the "entire citizenship" DID endorse the action, etc., but that it will do so. After the first flush of defeat passes, those who have felt the keen disappointment, like all good Democrats should, will come up to the "lick log" and be good.

Before closing this "explanation" The Brand wants to deny one accusation which has been made. The thirty line local about Mr. Barnett and his appointment, and which has seemed to disturb some of the friends was not paid for by any one in Hereford or Vernon or by any living man anywhere. The editorial comments of The Brand are not for sale either for ten cents or ten dollars and the man who makes the accusation that The Brand received "pay" for the article is simply blowing off at the top valve. The honor of The Brand is not for sale. The Brand nor its editor is under no financial nor political obligation to any one connected with Mr. Barnett's appointment. Another thing. The Brand had no choice nor took no stand in endorsing a man for the place. The writer had given his support to a long time friend long before Mr. Barnett got in the race, but since the high authorities have seen fit to name him instead of some other, we shall endeavor to be satisfied with the result, and do endorse the action of the Democratic President.

is as good as if it were made of one-piece staves, and very much less expensive. There is no metal at these joints to become corroded by the acids and no outside moisture can collect in them to rot the wood. This joint adds years to the life of your silo and many dollars to its value.

We have a plan by which you can own an Indiana Silo and let it pay for itself out of what it saves for you on next winter's feed bills. Give us a chance to explain it to you.

11,000 Demonstration Farms in 215 Counties In Texas Industrial Congress Contest

From 1,736 students of better farming in 161 counties of the State in 1911, the Texas Industrial Congress has steadily increased this number to 10,869 in 215 counties in 1913.

Unique among associations for agricultural development, the Congress, by offering $10,000 in gold annually for the best yields of specific crops, cost of production considered, has in a little more than two years awakened among the farmers of Texas enthusiastic interest in scientific cultural methods, improved seed selection, better preparation of the soil and the conservation of its fertility through crop rotation and diversification.

While this remarkable growth has been the result primarily of the stimulus caused by the prize offer, this inducement to use brains as well as brawn in crop production, is recognized by thinking men as but an incident for the purpose of accomplishing the real object of the Congress, which is to lower the cost of production while at the same time increasing the acreage yield, hence its slogan, "Smaller farms; better farming." The enrollment of nearly 11,000 contestants in this year's competition means that many demonstration farms in as many neighborhoods, intensively cultivated by 11,000 farmers who are seeking the best information they can get both from the Congress and from other sources, and are striving for the highest farming efficiency, thus educating not only themselves but presenting an ocular demonstration of better cultural methods to their neighbors as well.

Every dot on the above map represents a demonstration farm cultivated in corn, cotton, cowpeas, kafir or milo, in accordance with the advice and suggestions of the Congress. This information is furnished by bulletins at frequent intervals and also by personal letters. The stars indicate those counties in which prizes were won in the contests of 1911 and 1912.

Among the 215 counties represented, Bexar County, which in 1911 had but seven contestants and in 1912 but nine, leads the State with 505 entries. Ellis County is second, having 381 contestants; Hunt County, with 339, is third and Kaufman, Cooke, Navarro, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Hill and Rusk Counties rank next in the order named.

The counties represented in this year's contest and the number of entries in each are as follows:

Mrs. T. E. Shirley left Monday for a visit with relatives and friends at her old home at Malissa, Texas, and at other places.

We take this method of expressing our earnest appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us by Hereford friends during the long illness in our home. We thank Mrs. Godwin, the faithful nurse, the faithful girl who did the work, the Ladies' Aid for their help, and our dear neighbors, who were ever ready day or night to administer to our every need. We pray that God's richest blessings may be showered upon one and all. Inasmuch as ye have ministered unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me.

Gratefully,
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bodkins.

Farmers' Institute.

Under the direction of the State Department of Agriculture, Farmers' Institutes will be held at the following places: Canyon, July 1, 1:30 p. m.; Hereford, July 3, 1:30 p. m.; Friona, July 5, 1:30 p. m.

These institutes will be conducted by W. J. Duffel, who will discuss those subjects affecting the agricultural and horticultural development of this section of the State, paying particular attention to forage crops, adopted fruits, live stock, etc.

The State Department of Agriculture publishes from time to time, valuable reports upon topics of vital interest to the farmers of the State. All institutes will receive copies of all bulletins issued by the Department free of cost, and will be placed on the regular mailing list for future bulletins and reports.

These institutes are farmers' meetings devoted to the upbuilding of the best interests of the farmer. It is urged, therefore, that farmers bring their families and devote, at least, one day to a careful study and discussion of the agricultural questions which lie nearest their hearts.

The Mayor's Call Clean Town Organization

At the request of a number of citizens I have entered Hereford in Holland's Cleanest Town Contest for 1913. In addition to that we are soon to have a Water Carnival here. In order to organize for cleaning up the town and putting it in the best possible sanitary condition, I hereby call a meeting of the citizens, and especially of the ladies of the community, to meet at the County Courtroom in the Court House on Monday, June 30th, at 5 o'clock P. M.

I suggest that Saturday, July 5th, and Monday, July 7th, be observed as general clean up days in the community, and that every body turn out on those days and cut weeds and clean up their premises, acting in concert and in accordance with the program and ideas which may be formulated by the organization perfected on next Monday, June 30th. I especially invite the assistance and co-operation of the Ladies of the community in this enterprise and hope they will use their telephones liberally in inviting their friends and neighbors to attend the meeting next Monday to help perfect a first class organization for cleaning up the town and maintaining it in a sanitary condition.

WM. KNIGHT, Mayor.

Goodnight's New President.

Rev. E. B. Moore, the newly elected president of Goodnight College, was here last Saturday to Tuesday. At the Baptist church Sunday night he preached on the subject of Christian education. He is recently from Alabama and has had many years' experience both in educational work and in the pulpit. He says the prospects for the institution are brighter than ever before and he already has promises of a good student body. The trustees have just raised the grade of the institution from an institute to a junior college, and the graduates of the college will in future be admitted into Baylor and other higher universities without doing any additional preparatory work. This school has always received a good patronage from this neighborhood. —Memphis Herald.

They Got Things Mixed.

Tulia Herald—That bunch of exploiters down at Austin who are trying to foist upon the people of Texas an indeterminate bond issue by the adoption to the State Constitution of amendments to Sections 49 and 52 of Article 3, need a press censor to keep them from getting their wires crossed.

Dr. Mezes and the State University Regents in a recent address to the people of Texas, and which was published in many of the daily papers and some of the weeklies, made the statement that "the adoption of the bond amendment will provide the funds necessary for the proposed expansion of the University without any addition whatever to the taxes borne by the people. The income from the University permanent endowment is amply sufficient to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund for the bonds proposed."

Now, under date of June 16th, comes an appeal from the office of the "Constitutional Amendment Committee, Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas," of which R. M. Colquitt is manager, the statement that "If the amendment is adopted and the legislature permitted to issue bonds covering a period of a generation, the interest and sinking fund to take care of bonds at maturity, would be raised by taxation of less than half a cent on the hundred dollars."

The State University regents say that the adoption of the amendment will add nothing to the taxes borne by the people. The Constitutional Amendment Committee say, "there is no valid reason why the taxpayer of today shall be burdened with a taxation for the benefits that will be received by future generations."

There's a burden coming if the amendment is adopted, else there would be less of the specious arguments made to the people to induce support.

Cemetery Association.

The Brand again calls attention to the urgent necessity of a cemetery association; not as an auxiliary to some other order or society, but a separate organization. This organization should have full charge of the cemetery grounds and should have authority to make such rules as will bring the desired ends of a beautiful and well arranged "City of the Dead." One thing that should not be further neglected, and that is the location of the graves within the different lots. Some of the graves have been made so close to the edge of the lots that there is not sufficient room to erect a stone or to build a fence or curb without encroaching upon the grave mounds.

Hereford Entered in Holland's Clean Town Contest.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a "Call" by the Honorable Mayor of the City for the organization of the citizens in order to clean up the town. The approach of the Water Carnival date and the fact that Hereford has been entered in Holland's Clean Town Contest makes it an urgent necessity that the town be thoroughly cleaned. And the best way to have it clean is to CLEAN IT. Every loyal citizen is expected to join hands with the City Commission in making Hereford sanitary for health's sake and attractive to our visitors.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-known Hereford People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Hereford the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman or child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

A. C. Barnhart, Miles Ave., Hereford, Texas, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills about a year ago when my kidneys were troubling me and they brought prompt and satisfactory relief. I have never been bothered by my kidneys since and I can therefore say that Doan's Kidney Pills are permanent in their effect."

Mr. Barnhart is only one of many Hereford people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Barnhart had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. A Dinner.

Mrs. J. E. Ferguson was hostess at a very pleasant dinner party on Friday of last week, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Witherpoon and their daughter, Miss Bertha, and "Mother" Ferguson. Other invited guests were Mrs. Alice Lea, Mrs. C. C. Ferguson and Miss Roberta Nance. For this occasion the dining table was laid in beautifully embroidered pieces, the center being marked by a bowl of Shasfa daises and sprays of misty "Baby Breath." Mrs. Ferguson was assisted in her various duties as hostess by Miss Julia Lambrith.

Dismissal.

Boy Scouts.

The first hike and camp for the Boy Scouts was enjoyed Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Led by one bearing the American Flag and closely followed by the other members with the insignia of the order, the young lads marched out towards Deep Spring to spend a day in camp. Supt. Short scouted with the boys and on their return Wednesday, somewhat tired, but thoroly convinced that all had had a good time, they declare that they will want another hike in a few days.

At the Presbyterian Church.

Sunday school and preaching at the usual hours. At the morning service an opportunity for the baptism of infants will be given. The night service will be conducted by the Ladies' Missionary Society, the theme being Mormonism's Errors and Remedy. No charges or offering will be taken at the night service. All are cordially invited.
