AMARILLO BOOSTERS

All Panhandle Fair Their Song.
Extends Invitation to Hereford
A Good, Strong Team.

One of the strongest team of boosters ever sent out "to spy out the land" arrived in Hereford from Amarillo yesterday noon, when Seth B. Holman, as guide, led the way thru the gates of the city. They did not come on the slow swinging motion of a Campbell's back, but in the modern, automatic way of traveling, making the time from their city to this in a little over two hours, a distance of 50 miles. In the party were: J. E. Bryant, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce; Seth B. Holman, secretary; Col. C. T. Herring, president of the Amarillo National Life Insurance Company; Judge R. W. Hall, of the appeal bench; Judge J. L. Perry, attorney; A. S. Stinnett, manager for the organization of the Panhandle Fair; Grady Nobles, Lawrence Nobles, Fallow, Miss Nobles.

After dinner, which every member seemed to enjoy, they met about 100 citizens at the court house, where speeches were made by the visitors and a number of responses given by local orators. Col. Bill Ray assumed the initiative, introduced Secy. S. B. Holman, who, after a short talk, presented the loaded orators for the occasion. A glance at the list above will be sufficient proof that oratory was not lacking. The tune of all their songs was: All Panhandle Fair. And it was sung well. Mr. Stinnett explained the object of the fair association and the other speakers who followed gave every evidence of their earnestness in their efforts to secure the co-operation of every town and county in the Panhandle. It was evident that those present were heartily in favor of the move and the visitors were assured at the close of the meeting that the Panhandle State Fair would receive the support of Hereford. It will be held the week of October 1.

Successful Fishing Party.

A big fishing party came over from Claude, Texas, Wednesday, July 23. It required six big autos to bring the crowd and they brought with them complete camping outfits, fishing tackle and supplies of all kinds. They were joined at Hereford by Geo. A. Stambaugh, wife and son, when a quick run was made to Sulphur Park where they pitched their tents and made preparations to entice the finny tribe to "come out on the bank." This they succeeded in doing after the deceptive bait had been swallowed. And every one in camp had good luck catching their part of the fish, numbering altogether between four and five hundred, at least several bushels. The camp arrangements were not neglected; Jeff Martin was chief cook, with Sam Callahan and N. Hunter as assistants. Frank Sewell was bottle washer and Thos. G. Nance of Hereford was night watch, and was successful in keeping the hogs, snakes and spooks out of the camp. Those in the party were: Jim Christian, wife and children, Jones, Avis, Inez and Terrel; Jeff Martin, wife and boys, Buford, Talbert, Driscoll; Jim Hill and wife; Sam Callahan and wife; Frank Sewell and wife; N. Hunter and wife; Mrs. Euna Jones;

Clarence Rood, all of Claude, Texas; Misses Edna and Agnes Martin of San Antonio; Ed Carr and children, Edna and Chester, of Conway, Texas; C. R. Hendrick of Stratford, Texas. On Tuesday the crowd was joined by C. L. Sullivan, wife and son, Bruce; Elder T. G. Nance, wife and daughter, Miss Roberta; all of Hereford. The work was finished Saturday at 12 o'clock, when camp was broken, everyone declaring the "best time ever." Coming up to Hereford they looked over the fruit orchards, alfalfa farms, they saw the big irrigation wells, with which they were delighted. Returning to the city, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stambaugh, they were served with ice cream and cake before they turned their faces homeward, where they arrived at 8:30 p. m., sunburnt but happy.

Dimmitt News.

July 31—Good rain fell last Friday evening.

Mr. Shepard of Parrott was attending to business in Dimmitt Friday.

Arthur Boyd, who has been away for the past few months, returned to his home five miles south of Dimmitt. The protracted meeting, which had been going on for the past week, closed Thursday night.

Mr. Noble was a Dimmitt visitor Saturday.

C. H. Clifton, who had been attending to business in Plainview, returned home Saturday.

Will Dixon, from his ranch ten miles south of Dimmitt, was attending to business in Dimmitt Saturday.

Floyd Hacker was a Dimmitt visitor Saturday.

DOINGS OVER THE STATE

Things of State Wide Interest—Big Fine Imposed on Oil Company—Legislature Meets.

Col. Jake Wolters has issued a statement that explains why the Governor called him a "hotel politician," that he and a few others were trying to put over Texas people a man like Hanger of Fort Worth. That's sufficient reason why the people will not accept Hanger.

The Legislature has passed the bills necessary to provide for the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people. According to the bill, a candidate for the Senate must not spend over $5,000, an amendment having failed to raise the amount to $10,000. An amendment to allow the Legislature, in session, to elect a U. S. Senator, also failed. They died hard.

Subscriptions Expires.

The Brand has several hundred subscriptions expiring this month. Those who have received notices and have neglected to send the Dollar, will be dropped from the list at once. The manager regrets to do this, but he takes this view of it: When notices are mailed out and subscribers do not respond, he takes their silence, not as a consent, but as a strong indication that they do not want it. Therefore, he promptly drops their names from the mailing list. So if you do not receive the paper after this issue and have not remitted, do so immediately if you do not wish to miss a copy. We cannot supply back numbers.

Shadowgraph Story

The victim of this shadowgraph was born under a lucky star; in fact, his star was winging its swift path through the milky-way, scattering the cream in every direction, when first he opened his blue orbiculars upon this mundane sphere and beheld that even then that the milk supply was at his command. His shadow, as will be seen, is without a penumbral outline, hence he has a deep-seated constitutionality and a heavy disposition. The vestibule of his avoirdupois would indicate that he had been a member of the bar association, but this seeming incongruity in his reputational eccentricity has been the result of his thirty years' indulgence in the publicity biz and orderly conduct. But this heavy disposition has been greatly augmented of late by his advantageous position at the political pie counter and his successful attitude at the hind teat of the public dug. And only recently the guiding rays of his luck star has given him a better hunching position and consequently will likely increase his anatomical proportions. Having a large mouth and big lump under his hat, which does not show in the shadow, he is a man of large generosity and holds sacred the ties of friendship. He will defend even to his own hurt his personal friends, especially his political friends, for whom he will labor "without money and without price." He is a member of the Bench Congress, but was admitted on three months' suspension, which aspersion he has overcome. His luck star is now blazing out a new, easy path for him and he will soon be enjoying a siesta to the lullaby of the tamale vendors. He is a man of frugal habits, having raised a large family, and though his shadow does not warrant the conclusion, he is a man of quiet disposition when at home. May his shadow never grow less.

Weed Campaign Lags.

There seems to be a lassitude in the weed cutting campaign since the exertions of carnival week. While a few homekeepers have not ceased their efforts, others have worked hard to keep from tackling the weed question. The citizens of Hereford might emulate the example of Canyon, whose citizens turned out en masse, closing their places of business for the day, and fought the battle against the encroaches of their worst enemy—the weeds. Since the timely rains, the weeds, have almost hidden from view some of the fences and houses in Hereford, the streets will soon become like the wilds of Africa, and it will be positively dangerous to allow small children to run errands for fear of being torn limb from limb by some lurking wild beast. Our visitors have been praising our trees and our nicely kept yards and parks, but they have laughed in their sleeves (those who wore sleeves) at our weeds. It reminds them, they say, of the boy who patted and parted his front locks and smeared a white place on the middle of his face, but never touched the dark side spots nor blacked his boots. Will Hereford ever be cleaned up just one time? We fear not. The Brand calls upon the Commission to enforce the sanitary ordinance or repeal it.

Non-Resident Owners Respond to Weed Campaign.

City Marshal Brazil sent out a few days ago a number of notices calling the attention of non-resident lot owners to the sanitary ordinances. More than seventy-five have responded already, each saying for the City to go around and have the weeds cut and that they would be glad to pay the cost thereof. Probably the first to have weeds cut on his lots is R. Roelfs of Pekin, Ill., who is the owner of two valuable pieces on Main street at the corner of 4th, near the Brand office. The other seventy-five lot owners will put a number of weeds off the map this week. The marshal declares that not one complaint has been received, but that many have written that they were glad to assist in putting Hereford in the front ranks of clean towns. They believe in clean towns.

ILLINOIS TEACHER SEES BIG WELLS

Comes Doubting, Goes Away Praising; Thinks Wonderflow Wells Always Insures Big Crops

Prof. J. S. Brubaker of Divernon, Ill., was here this week taking first eye view of the irrigation projects at Hereford. He is returning from an extended trip thru the Southwest and has visited a number of irrigated districts, but he says that Hereford has by far the best proposition of all, that the wells around Hereford are marvelous and that the crops on the irrigated farms are the best he ever saw, especially the oats. "I was surprised," he said, "when I saw the first big well; I had no idea of the volume of water coming from the many wells nor the extent of the irrigation at Hereford, though I had seen the pictures and occasional write-ups in the Brand. Some of our people in Illinois simply will not believe anything good about this country and when the reports begin to come telling about the big irrigation wells and the fine alfalfa raised, we were indifferent about it, as we did not believe much about it; but now, that I have seen the wells and the crops with my own eyes, I will believe most any report about the crops, especially if I see it in the Brand.

W. L. Pike of Shawnee, Texas, and F. F. Carroll of Tioga, Texas, were visiting in Hereford last week and made a call at the Brand in company with Henry Hubbert, the obliging co-stable, but they were not under his care.

MUSINGS OF LUKE CARAWAY

Enjoys Hereford's Pure Air and Hospitality; Sees Prosperous Future for The Country.

Editor Hereford Brand:

During my sojourn here in the "city beautiful" I have been transported to the highest degree of exultation and delight. History is said to be the light of truth, part written and part unwritten. Hereford justly can claim a man who has the honor of knowing more unwritten history of the Civil war than any man in Texas. I had the pleasure of listening to him one day. I hope we will live another year so he can finish his story on my return. Since my annual visit last year I can see visible signs of civic pride and improvement and intelligent progress. Two things must be done in this part of Texas to insure perpetual prosperity: one is the county must be stocked up with practical stock farmers, and the irrigation industry must be fully developed by skilled irrigationists. Time, the great healer and revealer, will do the rest. Deaf Smith county is destined to be the home of the happy and prosperous. I presume Hereford is commercially solvent and in fairly good condition. To sell too cheap would be fatal to success, and to sell too high would prove in the long run equally disastrous by driving customers to other points to buy goods and increase the mail-order business. The credit system is an American institution and is here to stay. A man whose credit is not good in a bank is not entitled to trust in a store. Fidelity to principle is the thing of value. Mexico is in a deplorable condition in the absence of a stable government; anarchy reigns supreme. The great problem with Uncle Sam is what to do with Mexico. With other powers urging him to interpose in some way the laws of humanity demands that something must be done to stop the destruction of life and property by outside authority. It is to be hoped that amicable relations will not be severed between our government and Mexico. I regret to leave Hereford with her splendid citizenship of amiable, affable and hospitable people, for the most agreeable occupation of my leisure hours have been spent lingering about the stores and offices chatting with ladies and gentlemen of refinement and intelligence. It is needless for me to say I wish the Brand eminent success in its magnanimous efforts to promote the best interest of Hereford and surrounding country. One more suggestion before I close, and that is, it occurs to my mind that one year hence Hereford should trot out the next man in this Congressional District to represent the people in Congress. Very respectfully,

L. J. Caraway.

Another Shower.

Last Monday night a good shower fell at Hereford, the measure not exceeding 0.15 inches. The July rains on the Plains have not been as general as they usually are, some localities being short on showers.

of the amendment and Senator Johnson must know it, if he knows anything. Are the members of the Alumni Association and the Faculty of A & M not prominent in educational affairs? We wonder what the A & M Faculty will think of the Senator from the Panhandle when he adds in his next issue that "Every educational interest in Texas is in favor of the resolution? Neither statement is near the truth and the Brand challenges the right of Senator Johnson to represent this section of the state if he continues to lose his bearing on the truth like these two statements.

Lubbock Avalanche—When you go to a boarding house to eat you select what you like and don't kick because a brother man likes everything on the table and pays the same you do. Still, you make a roar if something in the newspapers doesn't suit you. It always pleases somebody. Don't be a philosopher about stomach and a fool about your head.

Repeat it, oh sage! Shout it in Gath, whoop it up in Askalon, megaphone it in Plainview and thunder it Slaton. Apt is the simile, forceful the adjuration. The man who gets mad at something in the paper is full brother to the boarder who gets mad at squash on the dinner table. Of course, few of us have any patience with squash, but some people like it—or say they do—therefore we have no right to leave the dining room in a huff when the landlady includes squash in an occasional bill of fare. So the subscriber to a newspaper who becomes indignant at the baseball or the divorce or the Panama Canal news has no right in reason to fly into a rage because there isn't more poetry or fiction or scientific miscellany in the sheet. Eat what you like at the table; read what you like in the paper. But don't forget that what you appreciate may be despised by others, and that what you despise may be appreciated by others. The editor and the landlady are in the same boat, so to speak (with a chaperon, of course), and if certainly does make them tired to have to cater to a customer who thinks the whole establishment should be razed and rebuilt to conform to his more or less important taste. There never was in all the realm of articulation a truer saying than that "there are others."—State Press.

bona fide as the interest taken by the Brand. It is the duty of newspapers to give all sides of public questions to their readers. It is also commendable that they have back bone enough to take a stand on these questions, whether they be big dailies or country weeklies.

What the Brand objected to was the fact that these "ready-to-wear" editorials on the issues were sent out by those interested and expected the country editor to pan off the "dope" as his own. The Brand editor may not be able to write very "strong" stuff, but one thing is sure, the Brand is not going to let a bunch of guys at Austin or anywhere else editor the Brand. And another thing, of all the "dope" sent in on No. 18, not one dose has been accompanied by the cash and that was one dollar from A. M. Kennedy to pay for a six inch plate; and the Brand run it as paid adv.

Hall Co. Herald—Every prominent educator in Texas is advocating passage of Resolution No. 18. It is truly remarkable that the resolution should be so objectionable when this class of people are endorsing it. Every educational interest in Texas is in favor of Senate Joint Resolution No. 18. This is one thing in which there is no pro and no anti side. Gov. Colquitt as well as all the leading pros of the state are for this amendment.

Senator Johnson, editor of the Herald, has lost his bearings on the truth when he makes the two statements above. "Every prominent educator in Texas" is not in favor

Claude News.—The Hereford Brand of last week gave the manufacturers of "ready-to-wear" editorials for the country press a good, healthy roast, one well deserved. The News has received enough of this rot to fill every column of the paper. Every line of this has gone to the waste basket. The News generally has views of its own on public questions and has never palmed off made-to-order stuff on its readers. Our advertising columns are always open to the public and if gentlemen want to "boost" their pet schemes, they can readily learn our terms, but they will find "adv." stuck at the bottom of each article.

This is true enough. Editor Elliott leaves himself open to criticism, though, when he jumps on the dailies of the state for taking a hand in the amendment fight. They are flooded with the same kind of "dope" only more of it. The big dailies are tax payers, too, and heavy ones, hence their interest can as easily be

UNITED STATES' GREAT PANAMA CANAL CELEBRATION WILL BE MARKET PLACE OF WORLD.

Texas Leads Union in Agricultural Production and Can Make Vast Exhibit of Its Wonderful Resources.

IN what measure and to how great an extent is the state of Texas to benefit from the opening of the Panama canal?

Figures and statistics will not suffice to tell at this date, because, apart from the inevitable beneficial results which must accrue to all countries blessed with a coast line bordering one of the extremities of the new waterway, the ultimate good that Texas will reap from the canal will be culled from the action taken by Texas herself.

Upon cotton Texas builds her main hope. She is the greatest producer of that necessity in the world. Her exports are largely to the orient and to the west coast of South America, where are the greatest consumers of cotton cloth. The Panama canal will bring those customers of Texas nearer by several days' time and by leagues of distance, thereby creating a quicker and more expeditious supply to a demand that is continually increasing. The rich corn and the full crops of wheat, the multifarious fruits and the ever widening supply of cattle which Texas is producing year by year—these, in addition to its command of the cotton industry, are commodities for which the Lone Star State will find new markets upon the opening of the Panama canal. The demand will be brought into closer touch with the supply. But how is Texas to secure that demand to herself?

She must find the opportunity that will present her products to the new markets and emphasize them before the old markets.

Such an opportunity will be provided by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, which will be held at San Francisco in 1915.

This gigantic festival of commerce is by decree of the United States government the official celebration of the completion of the Panama canal. The Exposition has a purpose which reaches even higher than a national assertion of a nation's success in establishing a means of revolutionizing the commerce of the world. The purpose of the Exposition is to bring the nations of the world together, that all may see what all have done in their industries and in their commercial enterprises, that one may compare with the other and so determine upon the best sellers and the best buyers.

To put the situation even more practically, the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is to be the shop window of the world in 1915. It is to be the general department store, the universal bazaar of a new era. And to that department store or bazaar every buyer and seller in the world will come to look upon the newest product, the most modern means of manufacturing the product into the salable article and to learn the reason why one thing is better than another and why one way is more advantageous to the benefit of the consumer, to the credit of the producer and to the welfare of the community.

Briefly, then, that is the boon that the Panama-Pacific Exposition offers to those who participate. It proposes to establish sounder trade between states, between countries and among the peoples of the world. The Exposition is a peace movement of the most definite compass. Its compass is the binding of nations, because commerce is the surest tie of friendship.

And the one tremendously moving principle of the Exposition is that the participants in this international festival shall reap its benefits practically for the mere asking. The space for exhibits is extensive, but is nevertheless limited. Those who come first are the first served. It is not a question of who pays the biggest price. It depends upon who grasps the opportunity most firmly. The race is to the swift. The battle is to the strong. If Texas runs Texas will win; if Texas strains and strives Texas will be the victor.

It costs nothing to win. There is no charge to the victor. Exhibit space is absolutely free to all exhibitors at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. All the capital which has been put into the great Exposition and all the millions who will attend are at the disposal of the exhibitor, without any cost whatever to him, except the cost of transportation, installation and maintenance.

There are those who are in the race already—those who have caught the meaning of the opening of the Panama canal and understood the expression of that meaning in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Many of the nations of Europe and China and Japan in the orient already have officially accepted the invitation of the president of the United States to take part in the United States celebration of the nation's grandest achievement. A more complete representation of the Latin-Americas in an Exposition has never before been made. Of the western countries which have realized that they will find markets at the Exposition are Bolivia, Chile, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Guatemala, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama; Peru and Salvador. All of those countries will be at the Exposition, represented by exhibits of their resources, displayed in a manner that will impress and convince, assuring other countries of the world of their natural and industrial power.

Half the advantage of a good shop window is the manner in which the goods are set out. A well arranged store will always sell more than a store which is a jumble of effects thrown together in unmethodical profusion. America has determined that the universal department store of 1915 shall be the best looking store that has ever been opened to the world.

It is costing $80,000,000 to complete. California, chosen as manager of the store by national approval, has devoted $17,500,000 in hard cash to the equipment of the Exposition, and her total investment, when the appropriations of the counties are considered, will exceed the magnificent sum of $20,000,000. So that the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is not going to be an ordinary exposition. It celebrates an event which is very much above the ordinary. The opening of the canal is an event of supreme significance. The Exposition which celebrates the completion of the canal will be of such an extraordinary kind that it will fittingly express that tremendous significance.

San Francisco is making ready for the reception of the nations of the world which will visit the great bazaar in 1915. She has begun to build. The site of the Exposition is Harbor View, San Francisco, where the waters of the bay of San Francisco narrow down to the channel of the Golden Gate, is now taking shape rapidly. Giant structures of truly massive grandeur are being erected.

In all there are fourteen palaces of exhibits to be erected by the Exposition Company in the middle section of the World's Fair. The other two sections are to be occupied on the west by pavilions of foreign nations, of which twenty-four have accepted the invitation to participate, and on the east by an aggregation of amusement concessions which are to be of the most novel and entertaining kind.

The fourteen main exhibit palaces will house the displays of eleven departments, which have been classified into 156 groups, subdivided into 800 classes. The departments consist of the following: Fine Arts, Education, Social Economy, Liberal Arts, Manufactures and Varied Industries, Machinery, Transportation, Agriculture, Live Stock, Horticulture and Mines and Metallurgy.

Texas will find its particular appeal in the palaces of Manufactures and Varied Industries, Agriculture, Live Stock, Horticulture and Mines. In those palaces will be found the competitors of Texas in the industries there represented. All the great cotton growing states will have their exhibits to show to the world, while the countries which want cotton to manufacture into cloths and textures will visit those displays and choose their markets.

The palaces in which the displays will be arranged are of an unprecedented beauty, set in a picture which no previous Exposition has had for its natural surroundings. California's climate permits of floral extravagance if there ever could be such a joy as a superfluity of charm. The Exposition will be a garden in which the efforts of man will stand among the results of nature's own working.

America is the hostess of the world in 1915, and she wants to see that her own household is properly represented at the international "at home." Not to be fully represented is to offer a slight to the guests who are going to be there in their best clothes.

Texas has much to show. She has much to smile for. She has much to give, but infinitely more to receive. And she receives with no outlay whatever.

The Best Hot Weather Tonic
GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC cures the blood, builds up the whole system and will wonderfully strengthen and fortify you to withstand the depressing effect of the hot summer. 50c.

From Supt. Short.
A card from Ben Short says "Please send us a train load Hereford—cool breezes and a fifteen minute run of pure water from one of the big wells; that's all today." He's certainly asking a plenty, but we know how the climate knocks on the thermometer at Austin; it is hot there often in more ways than climatically. Feel sorry for you "fessor," but can't reach you. Say, how did the amendment come out down in those parts?

HEREFORD entered Holland's Clean Town Contest. Will she stay entered or will she fall out before the first lap is run. Just because a few homemakers have cleaned up is but a small beginning to what will have to be done. The Brand favors a full and complete co-operation of all citizens in this matter of making Hereford the most sanitary town in all Texas.

PRINTER'S INK TO MAKE YOU THINK.

By Holland.

Millions of dollars are spent in this country every year to promote thinking. You are induced to think on all sorts of subjects at a vast expenditure of money. Some concern want you to think about clothes, others want you to study the question of breakfast foods, while others want you to investigate the care of the teeth and think what sort of paste, powder or liquid wash is best for preserving them. Advertising is the method by which these men are inducing you to think. They know that if you begin to think you will insist on the best, and each advertiser knows that his goods possess real merit. He knows it would not pay him to advertise something that would not stand the hard test of actual use. If you will do the thinking the aim of the advertiser has been achieved, for you will in time try his goods. That is all he wants—just a trial. He will then depend on the goods to make a favorable impression. Advertising merely interests—makes you think. THERE IS FOOD FOR THOUGHT IN OUR ADVERTISING COLUMNS.

The Harvest is On.

Most of the small grain, wheat and oats on the irrigated farms around Hereford have all been cut and the crops all been good, some extra good. John J. Zinzer, has harvested 65 acres of oats and ten acres of wheat; B. M. Hester has in shock 70 acres of fine red oats and a few acres of white oats; Jim Robinson has cut 50 acres of good oats; E. Renfro has 40 acres of oats and 30 of wheat; Utesch on the Hillcrest Farm has 70 acres of oats, 20 acres of barley and 40 acres of wheat; Kottmeyer on the McDonald Farms has 30 acres of oats, 10 acres of wheat and 10 acres of Manitoba millet; Scheutee on the same farm has 20 acres of oats and 7 acres of spring wheat; Morgan has 50 acres of wheat and 30 acres of oats; Rush has 40 acres of oats; Webster in South Hereford has 20 acres of oats.

Of the alfalfa, B. H. Hester on the Wonderflow Farm has cut his crop the second time finishing on July 4, the yield being one ton per acre; Scheutee on the McDonald Farms has cut from second year growth, second cutting, 2 tons per acre and the crop is nearly ready for the third clip. The yields of the oat crops have estimated from 65 to 75 bushels per acre; the wheat from 25 to 40 bushels per acre. When the threshing has been completed, a complete report will be made of both the wheat and oats. Some will begin threshing this week. Of the feed crops, Zinzer seems to have the best showing, some estimating the silage from his kaffir at 15 tons to the acre. He will have 2 200-ton silo to take care of the crop.

Mrs. B. F. Neely and Ned were in Hereford Tuesday playing the "Good Samaritan," doing errands for the neighborhood.

Miss Fanny Neely returns to Omaha next Tuesday. Mrs. John assisted Miss Fannie in packing her dishes, Miss Florence Hacker in packing pictures, and Mrs. Hanlin and Mrs. B. F. Neely in sewing.

John Hacker and Mr. Floyd, who have been gone some months, returned Thursday much to the joy of their families and the neighborhood. We were so glad to have them here during out meetings, for each is a whole host in helping at such a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Jennings and Mr. Renfro's were fishing last week.

Mrs. W. E. Hacker and Miss Gladys gave the school house a thorough cleaning for the meetings.

Mrs. Blackwelder and son are visiting her father, Mr. Guthrie.

Saturday night and Sunday morning we had two "God sent" sermons, genuine master pieces, as one of the men said. The service Sunday morning was most beautiful. One of the charms was the beautiful music rendered by R. S. Neely's victrol. Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Ricketts and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Neely joined the church by letter. Sunday night Brother Smith gave us a very able sermon in spite of his extreme fatigue, the first of the sermons that he is to deliver through a whole week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Neely entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hanlin for Sunday dinner.

Miss Griffith and Miss Dora Shepard dined with R. S. Neely Sunday. Tom Shepard, Misses Gladys Hacker and Mary Metcalf took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Ricketts Sunday.

Elder Hicks and Rev. Smith took supper at F. R. Metcalf's Saturday night.

Miss Ethel Jennings had a rag tacking all day Thursday. The guests were Misses Alva Metcalf, Rhoda Bess Fincher and Hazel Hacker. The four girls assisted by Mrs. Jennings and her son, Waldo, sewed about 14 pounds.

Waldo Jennings spent Saturday night at his brother's, B. R. Jennings.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble.

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places.
 When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health.
 It has benefited thousands, and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you.
 You can't make a mistake in taking

GARDUI
 The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything."
 Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

Bench Congress Notes.

The little gaming spirit which seized the Hereford people during the Water Carnival has been the main topic of discussion at the Bench
 Congress since that eventful evening.
 Some members claimed that it was not gambling and could not see the difference between the Jap's rolly-hole game and a nice game of forty-two where prizes were given. Others argued that gambling was gambling and that the ring throwing, the wheel-o numbers, the Teddy bear game, the balls and the holes were all in a class by themselves and smack poorty loud of games of chance. They tell it that even Clovis would not allow the games.

Another subject that has absorbed a good deal of time of the Congress is that of bugs—just plain bugs—squash bugs, potato bugs and pumpkin bugs especially. How to kill bugs was the main issue. Some suggested poisoning, some catching them by hand and then killing them with wire pliers; but the latest catch was suggested to a prominent member, who hales from Arkansas, that he bore an inch hole in a two foot board and place the board near his pumpkin vines and he was assured that the bugs, when they saw the hole, would leave their succulent resting place and hike to the hole, all of them. Then it would be easy to kill them by pouring boiling water into the hole; and he tried it.

It has been suggested that the Bench discuss the question of keeping a new fire truck; that is, what to do with it. A citizen has made the suggestion that it be stored in the north vestibule of the court house, as it is seldom used and it would be a convenient place for it.
 The basement rooms on either side could be fitted up for the night watchman, and as the city secretary's office is in the basement, he could keep an "eye open" during the day, if a fire should break out.

Scratching For Fun.

We would have great sympathy for those who have to scratch con-for the trouble, but as Hunt's Cure scratch do so just for the fun of it.

Does your scalp itch? If so, heed this warning Nature is saying: "Your hair needs food." When the hair falls out, it is harder to restore it than to keep it vigorous while you have it. Every man and woman should use a hair tonic while their hair is still healthy. Frequent, thorough brushings are also necessary for your scalp and hair. Mrs. P. W. Price Entertains.

On Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock, Mrs. P. W. Price gave quite a large party, complimentary to a number of ladies who are visiting in the city. This thoughtful courtesy by Mrs. Price, thoroughly appreciated by all, was an opportunity for the greeting of old friends and the forming of new and pleasant acquaintances. The receiving rooms, cool and inviting, had their attractiveness made complete by the use of ferns and bowls of sweet peas. In the living room Mrs. B. S. Arnold introduced the ladies of the receiving line as follows: Mesdames Claude Witherspoon, Bakersfield, Calif.; R. Collins; W. L. Wilson, Temple; J. A. Knoles, Kilgore; T. Fowler, Bartlett; Percy Truitt, Whitewright; Benton McMillan, Renlig; C. R. Barber; Dean, Coleman; Earnest Watkins, Cleburne; G. J. Hudspeth, Greenville; and Misses Julia Tarver, Austin; Ina Burkhalter, Waco; Dora Adams, Tyler; Gladys Johnson, Emporia, Kansas; and Mary Graham, Hubbard. The guests passed into the dining room where a salad course with an ice was daintily served. In the entrance hall score cards were given for a succession of games of "42" to be played on the shady lawn. The house party for this very pleasant affair was as follows: Mesdames F. T. Koloson, G. A. F. Parker, B. S. Arnold, H. H. Hawkins, W. H. Garrison and Misses Belle Woodburn, Percy Gallaher, Anna Garrison and Vern Pratt.

At "Willow Wood."

"Willow Wood," the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gregg, opened often and to the various ages, was on Tuesday evening opened to a limited number of Miss Ina's friends, complimentary to Miss Mary Graham of Hubbard, Texas. On the porch, in the soft light of many Japanese lanterns, Miss Ina received her guests and gave out the score cards preparatory to a series of games in doors. These cards, the work of the hostess, were little bits of art, yellow chrysanthemums done in water colors and tied with white ribbon. In the lower left corner was written: "Willow Wood, July 29, 1913. Miss Graham." Music was rendered informally during the games. Refreshments of cake and sherbet were served.

Complimentary to Mr. Carr

Mr. Noel Carr left on last Friday for his home in Plano, Texas, after a pleasant visit of ten days with relatives and friends. Mr. Carr spent the past year in Columbia University doing post graduate work. While in Hereford a number of social courtesies were shown him, among them a pleasant little six o'clock dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Moreman. Other guests on that occasion were Miss Willia Elliott, Mrs. Paul Barnett and Mr. Skelton. The gracious manner of the host and hostess made that evening one of unusual pleasure. Miss Bess Moyers was at home to several friends one evening complimentary to Mr. Carr. Dainty refreshments were served.

For Mrs. Paul Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barnett entertained a few friends Saturday evening complimentary to Mrs. Paul Barnett of San Bonita, Texas. Music, "325," and conversation were the diversions of the evening. Refreshments of cake and punch were served. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Barnett home on this occasion were Mrs. Paul Barnett, Misses Nance, Moyers and Elliott, and Messrs. Thomas, Skelton and Dyar.

A Dinner.

Delightfully informal was the six o'clock dinner given on Tuesday evening by Misses Bertha and Frances Dameron complimenting Miss Ina Burkhalter of Waco, and Miss Bernice Graves of Denver. The prettily arranged table had covers laid for Misses Burkhalter, Graves, Bertha and Frances Dameron and Messrs. Burkhalter and Elmer Dameron.

QUALITIES OF HONEY LOCUST

Drought Resisting Tree May Well Be Grown on Most Farms in the Northwestern States.

The honey locust is a most beautiful tree and one that might well be grown to some extent upon most farms. It belongs to the legume family or pod producers and has a beautiful compound leaf. It grows very large and has sharp thorns on both the branches and trunk of the tree, says a writer in the Dakota Farmer. When closely set in the form of a hedge, it makes a most formidable barrier against any kind of stock. The Colorado station in a recent bulletin recommends the honey locust as the most drought resistant of any species of deciduous trees. When this is taken into consideration, it will be seen that this tree deserves a much larger use in the northwest. It does not sucker as does its closely related species, the black or yellow locust, and is not nearly as subject to the attack of the locust borer. The writer has in mind a specimen of the honey locust in Jerauld county, South Dakota, which is one of the handsomest trees he has ever seen in the Dakotas. It is about twenty-five feet high, very spreading, and has proven a rapid grower. Northwestern nurserymen highly recommend this tree and offer seedlings and young trees at low prices and the Dakota Farmer would urge a larger trial of this beautiful tree in its territory.

No animal that gets only feed enough to support life can make a gain or profit.

Corn fodder that is dry and dusty will be improved a little by sprinkling in the mangers.

The man who can double the productivity of his farm more than doubles its value.

Provided your cow is a good one, the more she is fed along right lines, the more she will give.

Haphazard methods of breeding never pay with dairy cattle. The best herd bull is none too good.

One of the chief reasons for butter becoming rancid at an early age is the fact that it is not washed thoroughly.

The bigger the ears of corn when they are put in the silo, the bigger the milk flow will be when the silage is fed.

The milk utensils must be free from seams and cracks. It is impossible to keep them clean if this is not the case.

Before warm weather comes prepare a cool place for the milk and cream. Make the milk and cream room cool, sweet and clean.

One advantage of succulent feed is the fact that it not only provides the cow with more moisture, but at the same time is more appetizing.
