Ships Hospitals To Save Money

Not much longer will our big battleships, stationed in the Pacific ocean, have to come all the way home to the States for extensive repairs. In Pearl Harbor, Hawaii the United States plans to build a huge $8,500,000 dry dock, 1,000 feet long.

Into this "ship hospital" our largest warships can be floated. Gates are closed behind it like canal locks, or shoved across the entrance. All water inside the dock is pumped out and the vessel held upright on supports, is ready for any repair.

Through this is the best way to handle big vessels, there's another kind of dock, floating dock, that can raise ships right out of the water while they are floating at sea.

Through this dry dock of hollow steel tanks, is filled with water and sunk below the ship. Water is then pumped out of the surface lifting the ship with it.

History Class Listens To Hitler Speak

HEAR BROADCAST FROM MR. MULLER'S CAR

Mr. Willoughby took his American History Class to the back of the school where they listened to Hitler's speech. The reason for the place was that the students had to listen from the radio in Mr. Muller's car. Due to the length of the class period, they could not hear all of his speech, but they heard most of it however.

Mr. Muller says that he is going to charge the class a dollar, as he is just had his battery charged.

Staff Strives to Better and Uphold Standards of Paper

Is Hereford High going to have a good school paper this year? Oh my yes! The staff thinks it will be better than ever before. You should hear what happened at the last staff meeting.

Mr. Kinard talked to the group on "The Standards of a School Paper." It was very interesting and after hearing his speech, the staff decided to strive, to keep up the old standards and to make a better paper of the Whiteface Round-Up.

The group decided to have more candid camera shots in the paper this year. Students, watch out! There will be excellent feature stories and plenty of humor. You had better watch and be careful what you say and do. Be sure to read the editorials too, for they will be good.

Now, do you not think staff meetings are very necessary things, and the members really accomplish something?

Portales Rams Overrun Whitefaces On Local Turf Friday Afternoon

Students Practice Twirling

"Oh boy! I really raised a knot on his elbow today." Perhaps that might be a sentence the baton, owned by one of the students who is just beginning twirling, would speak if inanimate objects could talk. This twirling class was started last week, and even now and then the inexperienced twirler will cry out loudly after having hit himself with his baton while twirling it.

Most of the students have marks of some kind to show that they have been practicing. For instance, George Walker has a large, blue knot on his elbow where he hit it before he learned to hold his arm straight. Jeanne Williams and Edith Jackson tell of their callouses that are coming on their hands from trying to do the wrist correctly as well as fast. They are just about to believe that it cannot be learned; that you just have to know how to do it. Nelle Spradley does not seem to be showing the wear so much as the rest—maybe we just do not know about it.

Mr. Smith showed the student twirlers how to do the wrist twirl above your head, and then told them to try it. Ruth Temple Hastings was a bit backward about trying it for fear she would hit her head because she could not watch her baton.

Perhaps all of these knots that are raised, callouses and bruises will be forgotten when there is a group of good twirlers marching with the band in parades and on the football field during stunts.

WEEK PASS DEFENSE DEFEATS LOCALS

Passes, which made the tough downs or led to them, defeated the Whitefaces 18 to 0 when they played Portales last Friday, the 23rd. Hereford had six first downs compared to Portales' ten. Hambleton, Portales quarterback, was the main threat with his accurate passes. Many Portales' touchdown threats were killed as the pass receivers fumbled pass after pass that sailed to their hands.

There was no score the first quarter, but second, third and fourth periods saw Portales pass to a touchdown each quarter. Hereford made threats in the second period when J. C. Vaughn broke loose for several long runs, but off-sides or fumbles would soon stop the progress.

There were many penalties for both sides in the game. Every penalty was only five yards, however. There were eight penalties altogether.

The weather was bad for football, being very warm. Both teams were listless in their playing.

The starting lineups were:

Hereford	Portales
Hales	LE	Briggs
Knox	LT	West
Axe	LG	Powell
Boyd	C	May
Brook	RG	Burke
Ford	RT	Kirksey
Posay	RE	J. Johnson
Foster	QB	Hambleton
J. C. Vaughn	LH	Ellison
Wilkins	RH	Spence
Johnson	FB	Price

Excitement Runs Wild In Senior Class, As Rings Arrive Monday

Twenty-seven shiny new senior rings for twenty-seven happy seniors! It's times like these that make all our years of labor seem worthwhile.

The rings arrived Monday afternoon, and there was a mad rush and scramble to get last-minute payments in. A second order will go off for the rest of the class later, but in the meantime, notice the self-conscious air the seniors wear when displaying their finery.

The rings this year have changed from the style used for the past few years, which was the stone ring. This year's ring is solid metal with the Whiteface head as the crest.

BY MRS. CARL FRYE.

Last Sunday ended the last quarter of the Sunday school year. The following officers and teachers were appointed. The Adult class, H. B. Medley with V. C. Woolery as assistant teacher; M. T. Sparkman teacher for Senior class; Frank Allen the primary teacher, Mrs. Sparkman, pianist, Mrs. Fred Walton secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Carl Frye and Fred Walton assistant superintendents.

Several from this community attended the Tri-State Fair last week and pronounced it the best of all.

Again is this community glad to know that William and Wilbur Dixon both won places at the Fair with their shorthorn milch cows. We take our hats off to them as this is the second time for them. They won places at the Dairy show in Plainview last spring.

The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dixon of Easter and the grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dixon of Erie. Williams is a senior and Wilbur a sophomore in Dimmitt high school.

The election held last Saturday for the purpose of voting bonds to build a new court house at Dimmitt, failed to carry. The election at Easter box stood four for and nine against.

Fifty-five neighbors and old friends gathered at the R. T. Sullinger home last Sunday where they spread a basket dinner to honor Mr. Sullinger on his seventy-third birthday. Those attending from this community were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chambliss and family and H. B. Medley.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Allen moved this past week to the Wilson ranch northwest of Bovina.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye and children visited in the John Olson home in Amarillo Sunday afternoon.

Basis For Old Fountain Tale Still Remains

Bimini, in the straight of Florida, is a Fountain of Youth—pre-empted by the Fountain of Youth, because it is the spring Ponce de Leon's guide had in mind when he set out from Porto Rico on their famous search, observes a writer in the Detroit News.

That De Leon's guide was a native of Bimini and was merely trying to find the way home from Porto Rico supports the island's claim for its fountain. That the guide was a woman, an old woman and a bad mariner, accounts for the capricious course she set, the embarrassing blunders in Florida and all the subsequent confusion.

Water is rare in the northern-most islands of the West Indies and it is not surprising that reports of Bimini's well reached De Leon at Porto Rico. The well is a rocky cavern, its sides green from the damp and shaded even at noon by pigeon-plum and gumalmoes trees that cluster around it. Although it has none of the legendary properties, the water is refreshingly cool and seems to instill vigor into the drinker.

Fable roots easily in such a fountain and to Ponce de Leon facing old age on his beloved island of Porto Rico, it sounded like the answer to his wish for eternal youth in which to enjoy the beauty of his Caribbean home. Guided by the old woman, he and his followers ranged the islands of the Bimini group and finally landed in Florida, a short distance to the west.

Hereford Women "Look Ahead" As Fall Activities Headline Calendar

With fall club activities getting into full swing Hereford women are looking ahead to a general routine of study programs.

The second meeting of the season for members of the Pioneer Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Spradley, with Mrs. H. D. Reed as assistant hostess, Tuesday afternoon.

"Magazine Day" was observed with Mrs. O. G. Hill as leader of the program.

She quoted from The Club Woman, "The present situation with regard to the illicit use of Marijuana is so alarming that education of its menacing effects and a drive for uniform state laws is to be one of the Federation's major projects of the 1939 legislative program."

Mrs. O. G. Hill reviewed a novella, "Walking on Air," by Adele Rogers St. John. The story illustrated in fiction form, points brought out in facts previously presented in the program. Mrs. Hill stressed the fact that any boy or girl might be in danger of the dreadful drug. She told how fields of Marijuana have been destroyed in Dallas and elsewhere in Texas, the plant introduced from Mexico through the southwest is now found in almost every state.

A Brand Advertisement the Size of

A Postal Card

Costs ONE-TENTH as Much as a Card

An advertisement the size of a postal card in the Hereford Brand costs only one-tenth as much as sending a message to the same number of families on a government postal card. This doesn't sound possible, but it's true just the same.

A three and one-quarter inch by three column advertisement in the Hereford Brand is larger than a postal card; It costs $2.93 and goes into 1,750 homes in the Hereford trade territory. Now let's see just what it costs to buy, print and address 1,750 postal cards.

First cost of 1,750 postal cards	$17.50
Printing 1,750 postal cards	5.35
Addressing 1,750 postal cards	7.50
Total	$30.35

Thus you can see that the cost per family for the Hereford Brand advertisement is less than one-fifth cent per family and that the cost per family for the same size advertising message on a postal card is almost two cents each or ten times as much as newspaper advertising.

The Brand has reader interest. Every member of the family reads your advertisement in the Brand.

Post cards, hand bills and circulars are frequently cast away after a glance. Check the post office lobby. The floor is littered and the waste basket full of direct-by-mail advertising. You don't see any copies of The Hereford Brand cast away without being read.

A complete coverage of the Hereford trade territory is given advertisers by The Brand. The advertiser gets coverage and reader interest, at a tremendous saving per person over direct-by-mail advertising.

American Music Is Study Topic of Music Study Club at Monday Session

An interesting "American Music" program was given at the Music Study Club meeting held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Broadwell.

Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath as leader, gave a brief summary of the conditions, both past and present, under which American Music has been produced and is being produced today. Mrs. Gilbreath outlined three periods in the growth of American music beginning with the coming of the pilgrims and tracing the influence and effect of immigration on American composers and musicians, mentioning such contributors as Lowell Mason, Stephen F. Foster, John K. Paine, Dudley Buck and others.

Continuing, Mrs. Gilbreath said in part, "In point of quantity American composers have written a vast amount of music. We have produced no world master, no Beethoven or Wagner, but neither has Europe in the last fifty years. Before that, America was not equipped to produce a great composer. American literature already shows marked individuality; the novel, the American Short Story, the American Drama are facts. They developed unconsciously and such will be the case with American Music. Capitalize our many heritages and weld them into something far greater than one race alone can produce, and American Music will speak not for one section alone, not for one group nor one phase of temperament, but for America as a nation and for Americans as one people."

Musical numbers on the program included a double number, "From Woodland Sketches" (MacDowell), Mrs. J. C. McCracken and Miss Ruth Conkright; A vocal duet, "Yes, Though I Walk Through the Valley" (Kinsella), Mrs. J. E. Beyer and Mrs. H. H. Hawkins; "Valse in A Flat" (Davis), Mrs. W. J. Stanford; "The Chrysanthemum" (Salter), Mrs. B. M. Wiltshire; "Country Dance" (Nevin), Mrs. Glenn Snyder and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, and a chorus number, "Some Where My Love Lies Dreaming," by the club.

Members present were Mesdames B. M. Wiltshire, O. T. Williams, J. C. McCracken, G. A. F. Parker, M. E. Roberson, S. P. Rosson, A. C. Thompson, W. J. Stanford, C. R. Smith, Glenn Snyder, A. J. Schroeter, C. C. Acker, J. E. Beyer, Troys Carmichael, R. P. Coneway, W. E. Dameron, C. H. Dyer, C. C. Ferguson, Jeff Gilbreath, H. H. Pasture Work Is Valuable For Panhandle Area

Pasture improvement work is proving of great benefit in Northwest Texas, according to reports of county agricultural agents in that section.

Contour furrowing doubled the grazing capacity of 640 acres of pasture land on the Houghton Ranch in Hartley county. The contour listing was done early in the spring of 1937 with a two-row lister adjusted so the sod would not overlap in the center.

Home Demonstration News Notes

By MISS SADIE LEE OLIVER, HDA, Deaf Smith County

TOMATOES—Select firm, ripe, or sanitary B enamel. Cool tin cans quickly.

TOMATO SOUP—Cook until tender 14 quarts sliced tomatoes, 14 bay leaves, 21 whole cloves, 14 sprays parsley, 7 medium sized onions, sliced, and 1 teaspoon celery seed. Add 6 tablespoons salt, 1 1/2 tablespoons red pepper, 6 teaspoons parika and 1 cupful sugar. Cook slowly for 1-2 hour. Pack and seal while boiling hot. Process quart and pint glass jars for 45 minutes and No. 2 and No. 3 plain tin cans for 35 minutes in boiling water. Soup made by this recipe may be diluted one-half on opening.

TOMATO JUICE—Select firm, freshly gathered, ripe tomatoes, wash well and drain. Trim away all decayed, bruised, green or bitter portions.

The juice may be extracted by preheating before pressing, or by extracting the juice from cold tomatoes. The last method gives an excellent product which has a good color, flavor, and consistency.

Juice extracted by a commercial piece of equipment for the purpose contains finely divided particles of tomato pulp but no seeds. A fair product can be obtained by using a sieve or colander to extract the juice. Heat to 180 degrees F. (simmering point) and fill container immediately. Process No. 1 and No. 2 tin cans or pint glass jars in boiling water for 5 minutes. Use tin cans, plain preferred.

Two 42 inch rows were listed, then a space wide enough for two rows was skipped.

"The 640 acres that were treated early in this manner have reseeded and can carry twice as many cattle as they did a year ago with the same amount of rainfall," Houghton says. He intends to build one dam and use the remainder of his range building allowance by contour listing.

"Fine results have been obtained on the pasture furrow work done this spring," said Mrs. Kathryn Binford of Wildorado and Jay Taylor, operator of the Raft-O-Ranch, who have the largest demonstrations of this kind in Oldham county. The stand and growth of grass near the furrows is about two and one-half times that on grass land not treated.

The grass near the furrows was still green at the end of July when most all other grass had turned brown because of drought. Buffalo grass runners have already spread across the furrows and there have been almost no weed on the disturbed ground. Mrs. Binford says that she would like to have the rest of her grass land contour furrowed as soon as possible.

HEREFORD

BULL

By Emma Gillentine

War clouds have darkened the horizon of tranquility, comfort, and progress. Today the sinister threat of war plays a definite part in the plans of all men and women in the civilized world.

In these troubled times newspapers and radio newscasts are awaited anxiously, and with hope against hope that peace still prevails. Watching the reaction of listeners as they bend intently over radio is within itself interesting. Alec Thompson sat Tuesday morning with his hands clasped; not a motion disturbed his rapt attention. . . . Rev. H. M. Redford's head would occasionally shake, signifying disapproval. . . . Alvin Thompson occasionally removed his pipe to make comment. Cecil Boyer and his typewriter was silent.

On every hand war has ousted weather as the common topic of conversation. The speech of Herr Hitler, Germany's dictator, caused more comment last Tuesday than any event in recent months, including the election.

Some say Hitler is bluffing. . . . but why would Hitler so arouse the sentiment of the German nation if he does intend to back down? During Hitler's address last Tuesday afternoon, Frank Gyles was heard chewing 15 to 20 match stems. Perhaps he did it unconsciously, or it may have been nervousness. The speech finished however, and the true American attitude of accepting situations for what they are was evident. Most every man and woman, young and old, contributed some humorous remark. Each of them were deeply touched, yet they assumed a "devil-may-care" attitude and joked about what may re-shape their entire lives.

THE RANGER ROUSTABOUT

RAMBLES AGAIN

Hiyah, folks. 'Member me? I been away fur kwite a spell, but I cum back for a visit with Grant agin, and the fust thing I see wuz this here column of Jimmie Gillentine, called the Hurford Bul or Sumpin'. An' in this here column he wants the peepul to tell him how to cure this here house shortage that he sax is in Hurford. I'll tell ya what, ef he wud read his own paper and the advertisin' in it he wud hev had his anser a long time ago. Grant, he's ben tellin' all along, that you can get this here PHA muneey at Hurford to bid new houses and ef you have an old hous that need repairin' or paintin' or sumpin' you ket git et to. Yu no Grant never wuz fur Roosevelt, but he sez giv' im' his do, on that he sur did fix it so a feller ken bid at cheap muneey rates jst like any business ken borro muneey cheap to run ther business. Jst figger it yurself. Ef yu borro 2 thousand dollars to bid a nu hous all ya hav to pay is fourteen dollars and tu cents a month besides sumpin' to tak care of gur taxes and insurance. Wa thet takes an insurance bizness is gud cuz yu don't hev to dig up a hole tot at a time. Now, Jimmie, ef yu regly mean it, yu get to guggin' in thet headache yu edit fur the peepul to use this here PHA lone, and then git bizzy an hev thet Chamber of Commerce bunch do the same thing an fust thing yu no all the wood butchers and someent guys and even the guys what dig ditches and basements will all be bizzy and gur housin' job will be run. Anyone what wants to no about this here PHA bizness jst go down and see Grant at E. H. Kemp Lumber Company, and he'll tel em all about it. Wel, gudby Jimmie, I got to do. Ef you kent git down to see Grant, jst call him at Fore Fore an heel cum an see ya. ADIOS.

And that's that, as far as the war is concerned. Now for the more pleasant subject of dreams.

Doc Willis tells one on "Stub" Jones, new partner with Ralph Roden in the Corner Drug Store. Doc and Stub used to room together down at Friona a long time ago, and one night Doc was awakened by an unusual noise. The windows of the rooms were open and a strong wind was blowing the curtains. Stub was down on his all-fours in front of the window and was blowing against the wind with all of the power he could muster. It developed that he was trying to put out what he thought was a fire.

A lot depends upon the point of view you take, the optimist says his glass is half full; the pessimist says his is half empty.

Here's a story about Andrew Jackson, which in view of recent developments, might be interesting. Gen. Jackson always kept close counsel of his strategic moves, never telling anyone of his plans. Once when the army was making a mysterious night march, a chaplain, filled with curiosity and presuming that Jackson wouldn't mind telling a minister, rode up and asked him where they were going. Jackson looked around as if to make sure that no one was listening, then asked earnestly, "My dear sir, can you keep a secret?" "Oh yes," the gentleman replied, "you can trust me General; I certainly can keep a secret."

"Well," said Jackson drily, "so can I."

It is easy to visualize the serious Englishman and his stoic acceptance of the situation, but just what goes on behind the flashing eyes of the French at a time like this is a more difficult picture to conjure.

None of us want war, and those who want it least of all are the ones who remember the World War. Some believe war will be averted entirely, others feel that the United States will not enter the war, and still others say that America will enter the war within a few months after it starts. These things all remain to be seen. Even the world's greatest minds cannot securely predict the trend of nations — who would have thought 20 years ago that a humble Austrian sergeant would this week sway the destiny of the world, slowing down the flow of industry and commerce for an hour and a half as kings, princes, presidents

Money is not made . . . It's Saved

To the young man who is planning on getting up in the world, there is no sounder advice than to lay aside something regularly. Not only does it soften the jolts of life, but the new feeling of self respect you gain is worth the effort alone. And remember, your surplus increases more rapidly if you choose a strong bank as a partner that's interested in your success.

Opportunity In Lamb Feeding Is Seen For Farmers

BETTER WOOL PRICES ARE EXPECTED FOR ENDS OF SEASON

COLLEGE STATION—The approaching season offers an opportunity to Texas farmers and ranchmen in feeding out lambs, according to W. E. Nisbet, animal husbandman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, who has his belief on U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics figures.

"The last lamb season was unprofitable for most feeders," Nisbet declared. "A year ago they were busy contracting lambs on the range but this year they are largely absent. Experience shows that the time to make profit through feeding operations is to buy feeder lambs on a depressed market."

The largest lamb crop since 1931 has been reported and range conditions have been well above average throughout the 13 western states, while the volume of fat lambs through the spring and summer has been sufficient to make market about the cheapest meat on the market, Nisbet said. Wool, which plays a big role in determining lamb prices, reached the lowest price this summer since 1935.

Though the 1938 lamb crop is large the rate of slaughter has and will continue to be above normal. The fed lamb season of 1938-39 will likely not involve as many lambs as the ease of the crop would indicate. The outlook for an improvement in the wool market is good, the reports are.

"The spread between the cost of feeder lambs and the market for fat lambs should be good, and feeds suitable for fattening lambs will be produced in abundance in Texas this year," the animal husbandman pointed out.

"Alfalfa hay and grain, such as milo or corn, is the standard lamb fattening ration. High quality silage plus grain and cottonseed meal can be marketed successfully through lambs," he said. "Fattening a lamb means the sale of approximately 300 pounds of feed."

Practical suggestions on all phases of lamb feeding can be obtained from county agricultural agents.

The only security Olen Birdwell had to offer was his ability to work and 15 hens. His first loan was for $563 in 1936 with additional loans of $106 in 1937 and $81 in 1938. Of the total, $454 has been repaid. The value of recoverable goods now securing the remaining debt has been appraised at $789.

Ayers A. Cox, of Haskell county. Keeton obtained a FSA loan of $335 in 1937 to make his start and repaid $195 that year. Another loan of $407 was made to him this year. Approximately one-half of both loans was spent for implements, reproductive livestock and other capital goods. At present his chattels consisting of 400 Leghorn hens and pullets, three brood mares one colt, one litter of five pigs, implements, canned food and feed are estimated to be worth $1,500 more than his indebtedness.

Trees Improve Texas Highways In Short Time

AMARILLO, Tex.—The approximate 150,000 trees and shrubs planted in the Soil Conservation Service demonstration areas in the Texas Panhandle this year are showing a high percentage of survival, reports H. D. Petheram, forester for the service.

However, it is pointed out, the tree sites should be cultivated especially at this season of the year, in order to keep down weed growth which will rob the planting of moisture.

Since moisture is the limiting factor for successful tree growth in the semi-arid Southern Great Plains, the forester points out that sites for field windbreak and homestead planting should be located where additional water can be provided. Run-off water from fields and roads, diverted to the sites and then held there by means of small terraces, soaks into the soil to encourage vigorous tree growth.

Location of tree sites where the benefit of additional water may be provided, careful cultivation of the ground before planting, fencing to prevent damage by livestock, protection from fire, and frequent cultivation to keep down weed growth all aid in assuring success of tree planting in this semi-arid area, the Soil Conservation Service forester declares.

Species best adapted to climatic conditions in this region are the Chinese elm, red cedar, thornless locust, Osage orange, black walnut, and others.

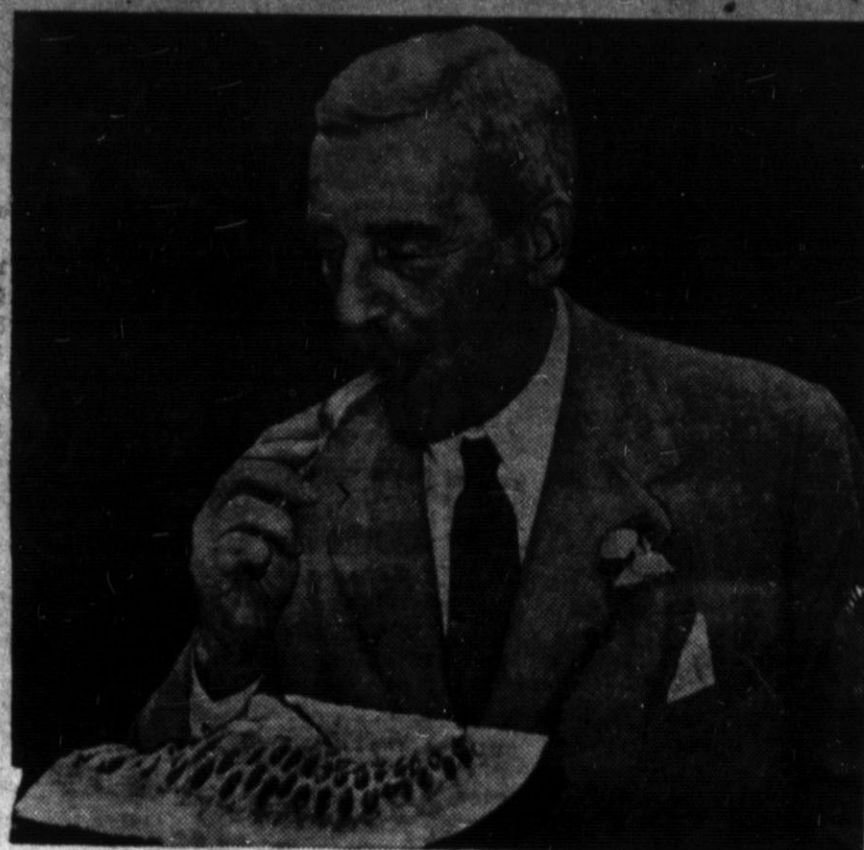

Where proper care has been given many trees have attained growth of from 10 to 12 feet within three years, it is reported.

Rehabilitation Stories Told

In 1937, Chester Keeton, 42, moved to a Milam county farm with only his household goods, seven chickens and sixty five cents in cash. His success was chosen as the best example of rural rehabilitation as reflected in stories submitted by Farm Security Administration county supervisors at their annual conference at Texas A. and M. College early this month.

The four best stories typifying the FSA program including Keeton were those of Olen L. Birdwell of Fannin county, Fred Pearson negro, of Limestone county; and

Improving the place Mr. Gililand traded it for the old Hereford Hotel, which formerly stood on Main Street. He operated the hotel for several years. Later he was engaged in the furniture business until 1908, when he began operating a large ranch northwest of here; he continued the ranch until 1923, when he retired.

During the past 35 years, Mr. and Mrs. Gililand have come to acquire hundreds of friends in this area who mourn his death. The long list of friends included men and women who had come to know and love him in early days of settlement of the Deaf Smith area, others included children of these men and women — and still others came to know him in later years as this country became more thickly populated. Hundreds of these friends paid final tribute to him at the services last Sunday.

Mr. Gililand was a devout member of the First Baptist Church of Hereford and contributed much toward the advancement and service rendered by the organization.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Sid Loving of Gainesville, Texas, and Mrs. W. R. Williams of Hereford; five sons, J. M. Gililand and P. M. Gililand of Hereford; P. L. Gililand of Cushing, Okla., H. E. Gililand and Guy S. Gililand of Los Angeles, Calif.; also 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

All of the children were present for funeral services.

Pall bearers were W. B. Beach, G. M. Hudson, J. S. Orr, Wirt Phillips, Earl W. Wilson and Sank Ramey.

Among relatives and out-of-town friends attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hart and family of Elk City, Okla., Claude Hart and Darrell Hart and families of Yukon, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rutherford and family of Beaver, Okla., Mrs. Ben Roberts, Grady, N. M.,

Mrs. Cavot Hunt, Mrs. Benlah Davis, Mrs. B. F. Hodges, all of Lubbock; C. E. Wheeler and family, F. E. Walker and E. M. Blackburn, all of Amarillo. A large number of friends from Dimmitt were also here for the services.

Interment was made in West Park Cemetery.

Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Borden left Thursday for Sayre, Okla., to visit their son, Rev. E. M. Borden, Jr., who is holding a meeting there.

fill out the accompanying blank and submit it to Judge Earl Wilson in the Court House, or to Mrs. Dyalthisa Brady in the Welfare Office. We furthermore want farmers to know that this is not a matter of going on WPA, due to special acts of Congress, which provide farm labor on WPA projects as an emergency measure in view of droughts, low commodity prices and general conditions."

Just what type of projects will be created, provided enough demand appears to justify them, was not definitely announced by the court. It was indicated, however, that the work will be concerned with improvement of definite points over the entire area in order that they will permanently benefit roads, bridges and other substantial points of progress. All work will be supervised in conjunction with WPA, and county machinery will likely be used if the demand for work necessitates projects in this county.

The matter of farmers traveling to and from work presents a problem in this county, and for this reason it is likely to believe that a series of small projects may be started at such points where the greatest demand for work is voiced by farmers.

"It is entirely up to the people," the court pointed out. "If they want work and need work, we are willing to provide it in the form of WPA projects."

ruling from effective fire prevention.

"Fire Prevention Week is designated for every Texan interested in performing a distinct service to his state, to his community, and to himself," Hall said. "If we remember that the fire that never starts will never get out of control, and keep that thought before us each day of every year, then we will rightfully say that the practice of fire prevention pays big dividends in human lives and happiness."
