Wendy Connally crowned Miss Hereford

By GAYE B. REILY
Staff-Writer

Wendy Connally was crowned the 1989 Miss Hereford Saturday night during the Miss Hereford Scholarship Pageant held in the Hereford High School auditorium.

The 18-year-old Hereford High School senior is the daughter of Betty and Butch Connally of 503 E. 5th Street. She was crowned at the pageant's climax by the 1988 Miss Hereford, Deanna Hobbs.

Jill West, daughter of Mary and Joe West, was chosen first runnerup while Brenna Reinauer, daughter of Brenda and Bob Reinauer, was named second runnerup. West, 17, is a junior at HHS and Reinauer, 16, is an HHS sophomore.

The new Miss Hereford will receive a $600 wardrobe scholarship courtesy of Pants Cag, The Vogue, ETCetera, Class Act, Gaston's, J.C. Penney's, and Little's. She may select a scholarship from either West Texas State University, South Plains College, Frank Phillips College, or Clarendon Junior College. Each of the two runners-up will also receive wardrobe scholarships and can choose a scholarship from South Plains College or Clarendon Junior College.

The scenario of the pageant focused on the theme, "The Times of Your Life" and featured some songs from the hit movie, "Dirty Dancing." The 13 contestants dressed in white shorts and tennis shoes and brightly-colored T-shirts and matching socks for the opening number. Each contestant had a dance partner during the opening song, "The Times of Your Life."

Contestants were Connally, West, Reinauer, Leasha Deyke, Brenda Allen, Karen Ward, Vaavia Rudd, Andrea Borden, Renee Sublett, Dawn DeBord, Gina Alley, Kristina Kerr, and Laynie Souter. Dance partners, attired in blue jeans and white T-shirts, included Paul Coplen, Jonathan Hancy, Ben Perry, Jason Barrett, Brad Smith, Brian Wagner, Greg Urbanczyk, Andy Luccero, Mark Scott, John Malouf, T.J. Head, Ben Weatherly, and Jim Allen.

At the conclusion of the opening number, each contestant, who ranged in age from high school sophomores to 20-year-olds, introduced herself and her dance partner to the near-capacity audience and recognized sponsors. Emceeding the event was Tom Simons, who introduced the three judges, Dr. Robert D. Hubbard, Debbie Kirkpatrick, and Larry Benton, all from Amarillo. The judges conducted the interview portion of the contest Saturday morning.

Deanna Hobbs, 1988 Miss Hereford, was accompanied by Mayor Wes Fisher and City Manager Darwin McGill in their rendition of the '60s song, "Do You Love Me? (Now that I Can Dance)." Miss Hobbs led the men in an entertaining routine featuring such dances as the Twist and the Mashed Potato.

Scott Devers escorted each contestant during the evening gown phase of the pageant. A slide presentation showed each contestant from early childhood to the present as each contestant modeled an evening gown.

Connally chose a simple, black, tea-length dress featuring a tapered hemline. A row of rhinestones marked the shoulders and accented the vertically-gathered skirt. The long sleeves were puffed, then fitted from the elbow to the wrist.

West wore a light pink gown fashioned with a dropped waist marked with a bow at the side. Sequins adorned the gown which featured a molded bodice flowing into a full skirt.

Reinauer wore a black tea-length dress featuring rhinestone spaghetti straps, a fitted bodice accented with two large sequined floral designs. It was accented with a peplum at the waist; the skirt featured a walking slit in the back.

Donna West, president of the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, (sponsor of the pageant), spoke briefly at the conclusion of the evening gown competition. "Our 13 contestants are all charming, talented, and beautiful.

Through entering this pageant, they have undertaken to achieve a special goal in presenting their own personal best efforts." West praised the pageant's steering committee, co-chaired by Betty Drake and Lanette Leasure, for their efforts in making the pageant a success.

Other committee members included Dancell Culp, Linda Daniel, Gayla Sanders, Lacy Driver, Kathy Allison and Judy Barrett; special assistants were Pam Wagner, Julia Laing, Debra Perry, Kim Buckley, and Kyla McDowell.

The talent portion of the pageant featured everything from singing, dancing, performing on the piano or violin, humorous skits, and twirling to a magic act. Contestants had been interviewed Saturday morning by the judges.

Gina Alley won the talent competition with her humorous portrayal of Ray Stevens' song, "Ahab the Arab." Alley twirled—and juggled—three batons during the performance.

"Praise to the Lord" was the contemporary religious song performed by Connally. "I Told You I Love You, Now Get Out" was sung by West. Reinauer performed "Georgia Porcupine" on the piano.

While contestants changed back into their gowns, Devers sang Paul Anka's "The Times of Your Life." Dressed in a white tuxedo, Devers added a cowboy hat and boots and sang, "Buttons and Bows."

Once Hobbs made her tearful farewell as Miss Hereford 1988, it was announced that Dawn DeBord had been chosen by other contestants as Miss Congeniality.

Past winners of the Miss Hereford title have been Hobbs, 1988; Delight Thames Iler, 1987; Dallas Ann Phillips Paetzold, 1986; Amy Quillen Lee, 1985; Dana Cabiness Ketchersid, 1984; Gina Griffin Blanton, 1983; Lisa Snyder Cassels, 1982; Dana Ulibarri Limon, 1981; Dianne Warden Jackson, 1980; Lynn Mitts Ross, 1979; Cindy Heard, 1978; Dee Ann Cason Trotter, 1977;

DSGH dinner for endowment slated May 13

A fund-raising dinner for the Deaf Smith General Hospital Endowment Fund will be held May 13 at Hereford Country Club, it was announced today by Dr. Nadir Khuri.

State Sen. Teel Bivins of Amarillo will be the speaker for the $100-a-plate dinner. Reservations should be made with Dr. Khuri's office (364-2266).

The special endowment fund was originated about two years ago, explains Dr. Khuri, "but not many residents are familiar with the project." He said the dinner is a one-time event designed to promote the fund and to make local residents familiar with the project.

"The purpose of the endowment fund is to secure future financial security for the hospital," said Dr. Khuri. Before the fund was initiated, he added, there was no way for people to make tax-deductible gifts in their wills or to make memorial gifts to the hospital. The principal in the fund cannot be used, only the interest.

Ideally, said Khuri, the endowment fund could grow to a point where the hospital could reduce rates, or where the district could forego a tax hike.

Checks for the dinner should be made out to the Deaf Smith General Hospital Endowment Fund. They can be mailed to Dr. Khuri at 801 E. 3rd St.

Congratulations to the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce for another highly successful Miss Hereford Scholarship Pageant! The ladies did a great job in producing the pageant, and all the young ladies who participated are winners.

Congratulations, also, to Wendy Connally, the new Miss Hereford, and to Deana Hobbs for representing Hereford so well this past year!

Employers who are struggling to pay the premiums on group medical insurance, brought about by ever-rising health-care costs, should be aware of two pending bills that would be certain to hike the premiums even more.

SB 911 by Sen. Bob McFarland and HB 954 by Rep. Chris Harris, both of Arlington, amends the insurance code to mandate that all group health insurance policies provide benefits for the care and treatment of chemical dependency (drug abuse) the same as any other illness.

That sounds good, but the impact on small businesses could be disastrous. You may want to ask your State Senator and House member to either vote against or amend the bills. One business group has suggested an amendment to limit the benefits to one 30-day admission per patient, which would at least put a cap on the costs.

No one has asked us, but here's how the "other guy" feels about questions posed in a recent survey:

*20 percent of Americans would rather have a tooth pulled than take a car in for repairs.

*35 percent of Americans go out for dinner once in an average week.

*54 percent of Americans think mowing the lawn is risky.

*79 percent of American fathers are in the delivery rooms when their children are born.

*98 percent of American households have at least one TV set.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I nearly killed someone last night. I wasn't driving drunk. I am a tired, overworked nurse. The hospital where I work has a nurse shortage. Please, before you say, "So does every other hospital in the country," hear me out.

We were told that because of the nurse shortage we had to work short-handed, even though we are terribly understaffed. Then a small hospital in this city closed its doors and many nurses became available. My hospital hired a few, then put on a hiring freeze. It cited budget problems.

Now hear this! The hospital has just broken ground to build a multi-million-dollar parking garage that we could do without. Out of the clear blue sky, it formed a partnership with the library across the street to buy a building. This hospital has purchased several small hospitals and opened several health centers. I am not the only nurse around here who resents the way it spends money on things that do not enhance patient care.

This hospital not only has a serious shortage of nurses, but the lab routinely makes mistakes, and the x-ray department isn't even second-rate. Covering up errors is routine here. Who is paying the price for these inadequacies? The unsuspecting public.

Maybe someone reading this will have a child in this hospital who will be given the wrong medication by a nurse who has worked too many hours and has too many patients. Just sign me--Tired and Discouraged

DEAR T AND D: Go talk with the editor of the newspaper. When the common interest is not being served and lives are in danger because dollars are being put ahead of people, the public should be informed.

A civic-minded newspaper will be keenly interested in your story and I urge you to tell it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing to you because I don't know what else to do. My husband died several years ago. I have a 22-year-old daughter who ignores me. She speaks lovingly and fondly to and about other people. When it comes to me she is cold and nasty.

I have tried everything from pleading with her to tell me what is wrong, to writing letters which she ignores. I'm afraid she is a very angry young lady.

I have not spoken to her since Christmas Day in an effort to avoid arguments. Your help will be greatly appreciated.--D.M., The Bronx

DEAR BRONX: It is entirely possible that this young woman's hostility, while directed toward you, may be rooted elsewhere.

You do not say whether or not your daughter lives with you. I hope, for your sake, that she does not. I cannot imagine a worse hell than having a person in the house who refuses to speak.

Is she getting counseling? If not, she should be. And what about you? Have you discussed this with a professional? I recommend it. You need to know how to deal with the rejection. Perhaps a different approach will open her up. I hope so. Good luck, dear.

She performed a comedic routine to Ray Stevens' song, "Ahab the Arab." Dawn DeBord, right, was selected Miss Congeniality by the other contestants. Chosen the 1989 Miss Hereford was Wendy Connally; Jill West and Brenna Reinauer were selected first- and second-runners-up, respectively.

Some SPS customers to receive credit on their bills

Beginning this week, Texas retail customers of Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) who live outside city limits will receive on their bills a credit related to a 4.3 percent reduction in electric rates.

"These customers have been billed at the new, lower rate since December," said Jerry Diller, SPS group manager of rates and regulation. "On April 19, the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) finalized the lower rate. This decrease was made possible primarily by lower federal income tax rates on corporations and SPS's ability to hold down other costs."

The electric-rate decrease was first agreed to by SPS, the PUCT staff and others on July 8, 1988. The finalization of the rate allows SPS to credit customers' bills as though the new rate had been in effect beginning July 8.

"The credit will be based on the actual amount of electricity each customer used between July 8 and the date interim lower rates began," Diller said. "These one-time credits total $3.4 million and average about $13 for a residential customer outside city limits."

SPS's Texas retail customers inside city limits received a 3.1 percent rate reduction on March 28, 1988. They soon should receive an additional 1.2 percent reduction to match the amount of decrease for customers outside city limits. They also will receive a credit as if the additional reduction had been in effect since July 8.

"When the cities approved the rate reduction last year, we planned that if the PUCT approved a larger decrease, SPS would match the decrease for customers inside city limits," Diller said. We expect to implement the additional decrease in each of the 74 affected cities within the next 60 days, with a one-time credit to follow shortly thereafter.

The staggered effective dates are the result of the regulatory process in Texas, in which cities regulate rates within city limits and the PUCT regulates rural rates.

"When it's all said and done," Diller said, "rates inside and outside city limits will be identical and all SPS's Texas retail customers will have received an average 4.3 percent rate reduction. In all, the actions amount to a $20.6 million reduction in SPS's Texas retail rates."

The 4.3 percent rate reduction which has been in effect equals a decrease in the monthly electric bill of $3.84, from $73.51 to $69.67 for a residential customer who uses 1,000 kilowatt hours of electricity.

Study club to give scholarship

La Madre Mia Study Club will once again be giving a scholarship to a graduating Hereford High School senior.

The scholarship presentation will be made during the annual HHS Awards Assembly May 18.

Outreach Program explained to club

Cindy Simons gave a program on the Outreach segment of the Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center when members of L'Allegria Study Club met Thursday in Deaf Smith County Library. Sylvia Khuri and Ella Marie Veigle served as co-hostesses.

Simons explained that the center is situated in Hereford due to the overwhelming need for it. The program was initially started by JoAnn Dwyer of Amarillo, a former Hereford resident. The local agency is staffed by a full-time counselor, Joy Foster, a secretary and has approximately 20 volunteers.

The purpose of the agency is three-fold: providing treatment and counseling for victims; providing shelter for victims during and after a crisis; and educating the public and especially the children through programs like W.H.O., and to promote an understanding of the crime through the perspective of the victim.

Simons said that there is a 24-hour hotline provided by W.T.R.T. and immediate counseling is provided for the victim whether charges are filed or not. Also, preparation for the ordeal of a trial is provided.

Simons further explained that according to F.B.I. statistics, a rape occurs every six minutes in the United States with only 10 percent being reported and that battery is the single major cause of injury to women.

The shelter in Amarillo can house 30 victims and offers training, counseling and so forth for up to 30 days. The shelter is always in need of personal items such as toiletries, clothing and toys for its residents.

Club members have been planning their 12th annual plant sale which will begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in Sugarland Mall. Proceeds will go to the Outreach Program.

Eighteen members answered roll call and minutes were read and approved for the previous meetings.

Blood drive Wednesday

A blood drive will be held from 4-8 p.m. Wednesday in the Community Center.

"Most of our blood drives are held from 4-7 p.m., so we hope the extra hour will encourage donors to come in," said Carol Kelley, co-chairman with Mildred Fuhrmann.

Sponsoring the event is the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Hints from Heloise

GREASE SPOT

Dear Heloise: I noticed that I have a couple of grease spots on the wallpaper in the kitchen. Is there any way to remove them? They look terrible! — Dee Johnson, Amarillo, Texas

Sometimes they can be removed. The following method should be followed ONLY if the wallpaper is a washable type.

Make a paste using baking soda and water. Apply the thick paste to the grease stain. Let it dry and use a soft brush or cloth to brush it off.

If these stains were behind the stove area, you may want to consider putting some clear adhesive-backed plastic to protect the wallpaper.

This is just one of the hundreds of handy uses for baking soda that I have mentioned in my pamphlet, Heloise's Best Baking Soda Hints. For your copy send $1 and a stamped, self-addressed, legal-sized envelope to Heloise/Baking Soda, P.O. Box 19765, Irvine, CA 92713. — Heloise

Allison advances to semis

Kristie Allison advanced to the semifinals of the Region 1-4A tennis tournament this morning in Austin, but Hereford's three doubles teams were defeated in their Monday quarterfinal matches.

Allison defeated Amy Sherman of Cedar Hill, 6-2, 6-0 in their quarterfinals match and was to meet Diane Lowery of Brownwood at 9 a.m. today.

A win in that match would boost Allison to the finals and insure a trip to the state tournament in Austin.

In boys' doubles, Rick Alley and T.J. Head were defeated in the quarterfinals by Rodriguez-Winter of Snyder, 6-2, 6-4.

In girls' doubles, Bridget Baker and Wendy Connolly won their first round, or "play-in," match 6-0, 6-2 over David-Barron of Taylor.

The "play-in" was required of four doubles teams because there are only six districts in the region.

In the quarterfinals, Baker-Connolly won the first set from Hughes-Bartlett of Sweetwater, 6-4, and led the second set 4-1 before losing the last two sets, 7-6, 6-3.

The other duo of Misty Reed and Brenna Reinauer, the District 1-4A champions, fell to Bishop-Brych of Monahans, 6-4, 6-3.

Herd takes wild 17-16 win

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

As the top of the seventh inning started Saturday at Whiteface Field, Hereford players Kyle Andrews and Roger McCracken looked like the Sheiks of Araby with water-soaked towels over their heads.

Andrews explained the head-dress. "We're trying to do a rain dance."

About all the rain dance kicked up was a gusty wind. The wind was just enough to blow Mike Cagle's fly ball just over the scoreboard in left field.

The headresses were shucked. It was time for Andrews, McCracken, and three other Hereford starters to re-enter the game. It had been tied at 16-16.

The Herd had taken a 14-6 lead after five innings, and held a 16-9 lead going into the seventh when four Hereford errors, including three after two were out, helped Pampa tie the score.

Jason Scott, now 10-0, finally got the third out on a groundout to second baseman Jared Victor, one of the six starters pressed back into service.

In the bottom of the seventh, Coby Kilpatrick opened with a walk, then Victor and Scott singled, loading the bases. Glenn Parker then walked on a 3-1 pitch to force Kilpatrick home with the winning run.

It was the 20th walk of a game best described as ugly.

Pampa's Brandon McDonald opened the game with a triple. Pampa combined a passed ball, a single and two walks to earn a 3-0 lead in the first.

Hereford came back to take the lead in the bottom of the inning. Parker walked with one out, stole second, and scored on Keith Brown's double to center. Roger McCracken then uncorked a homer over dead center field, a 400-foot-plus shot to tie the score.

Kyle Andrews, Russell Backus, Clint Cotten and Jared Victor walked, giving Hereford a 4-3 lead, then Scott's grounder to shortstop was bobbled, scoring Backus for a 5-3 lead as Hereford sent 11 batters to the plate in the inning.

Pampa scored one run in the second on a walk and a double, but Hereford came back with six runs in its half-inning.

Brown singled to left, then McCracken played deja vu, sending the ball over the wooden wall in center just to the left of where his first homer went out.

Walks by Andrews, Cotten and Parker and singles by Backus, Victor and Scott gave Hereford three more runs and an 11-4 lead after two innings and an hour and 15 minutes of play.

Pampa posted single runs in the third and fifth to cut the lead to 11-6, but Hereford almost ended the game in the fifth.

Andrews opened the inning with a walk, then Backus uncorked a deep fly to center. The ball hopped over the head of the center fielder, and Backus hustled around the bases for an inside-the-park home run for a 13-6 lead.

Cotten reached on an error, and Victor doubled him home to give the Herd a 14-6 lead.

In the sixth, Hereford coach T.R. Sartor emptied his bench, but Pampa came up with three runs on two errors and two singles to cut it to 14-9.

In the bottom of the inning, Parker walked, stole second and went to third on a throwing error, then scored on a Brown single to right. Brown came home on a single by George Jowell to give the Herd a seven-run cushion.

Then the dam broke.

After a pop-up out to first baseman Fidel Ceballos, Pampa came back with a single to center, two infield errors, a fielder's choice grounder that resulted in no outs, and a passed ball on a strike out that would have ended the game. Instead, the third Pampa run of the inning came across, cutting the lead to 16-12.

Scott hit the next batter, filling the bases for Cagle's slam.

"I liked to have made a mistake there," Sartor said about his substitution. "Of course, if I didn't think they could play they wouldn't have been out there. It just got to rolling bad on us."

"We came out and put them away, and we let them back in. Jason may not have had his best stuff today, but they had a bunch of unearned runs off of us."

Scott's win was his tenth of the season, and he picked up 10 strikeouts, giving him 100 for the season.

But no matter how ugly it was, Sartor accepted the win.

"We just have five games left, so we have to feel pretty good about getting the win." Hereford is now 10-0-1 in District 1-4A and 17-2-1 overall.

The Herd will hope for an easier time today when they host Borger at 4 p.m. at Whiteface Field. Borger is 2-10 in District 1-4A and 2-15 overall.

The Herd owns two wins over Borger, a 15-0 victory in the Dumas tournament on March 11 and a 14-1 win at Borger on March 28.

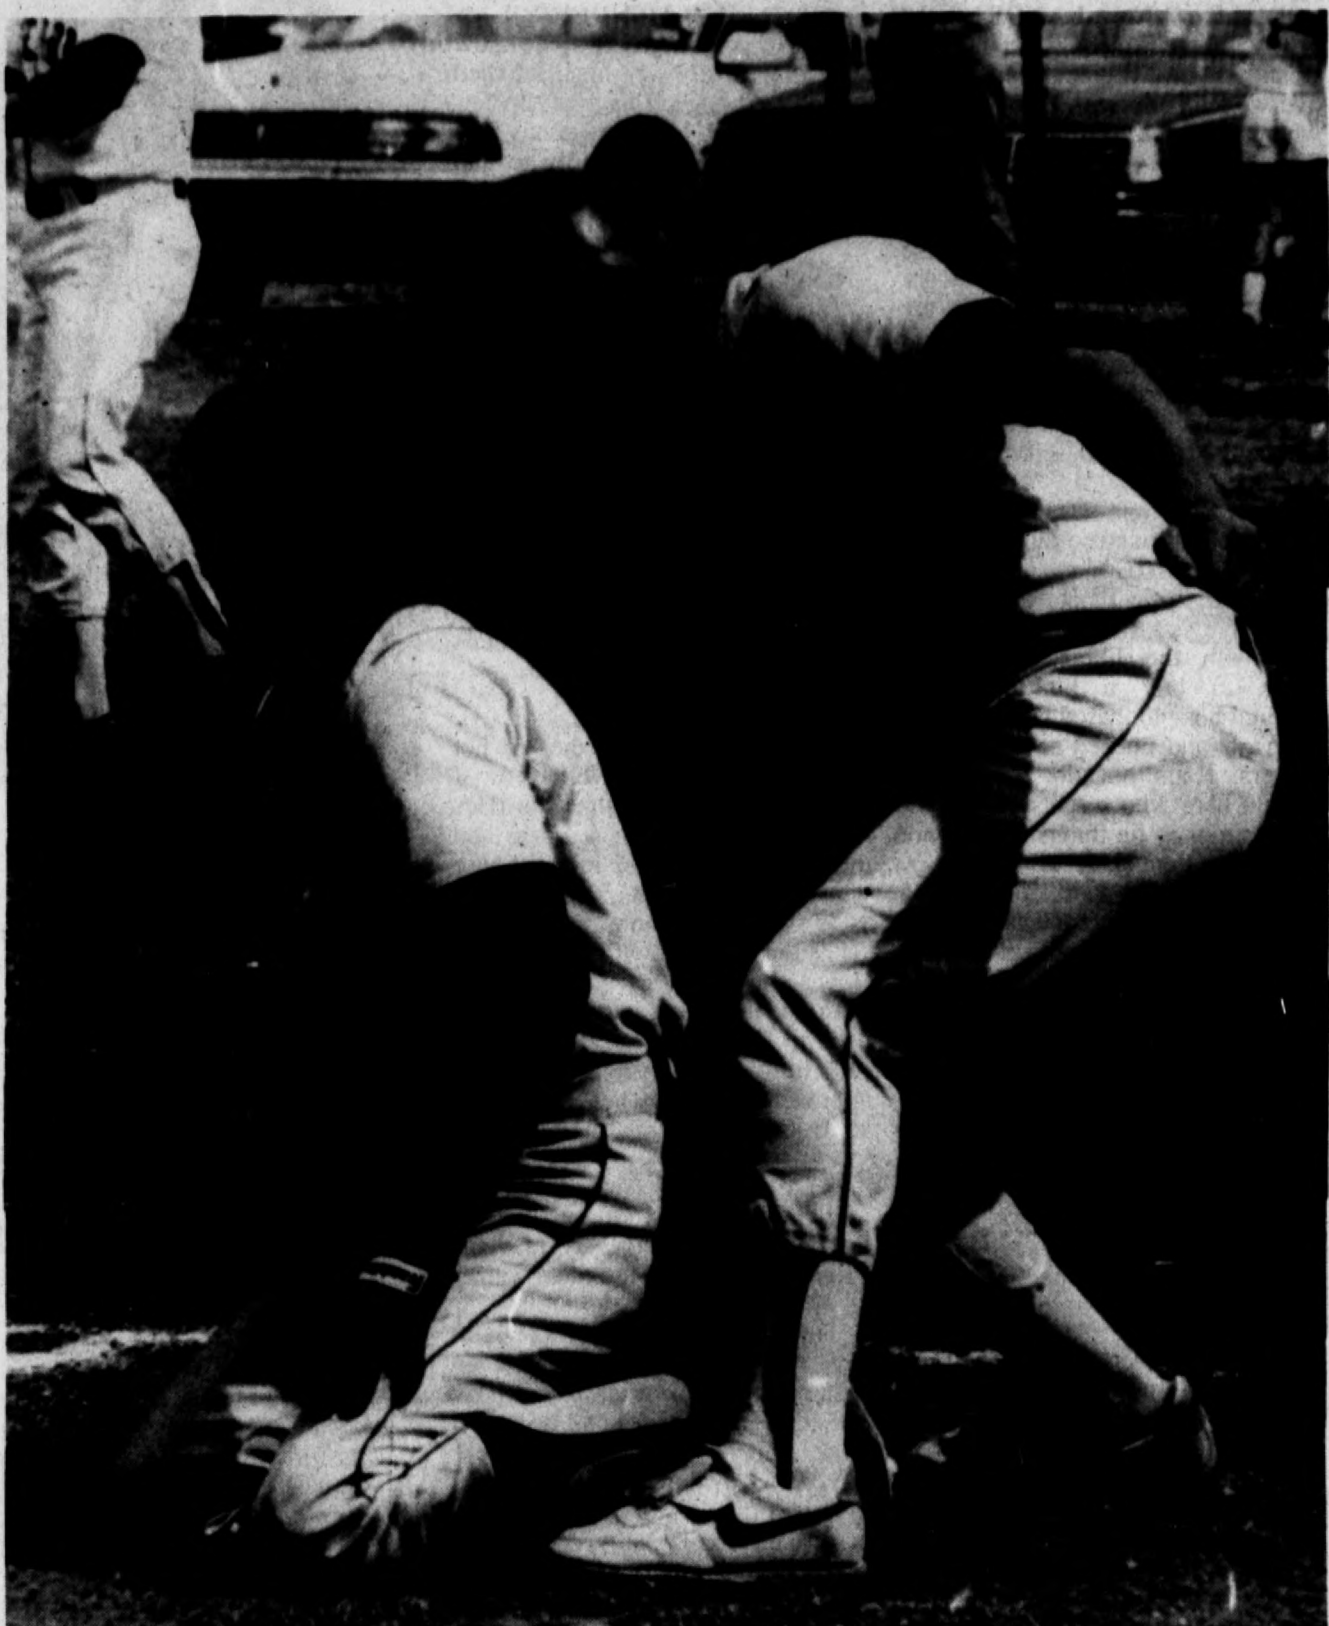

The Hereford JV baseball team used a 10-run first inning to take a 15-4 win over the Pampa JV in a game called by the 10-run rule in five innings.

Hereford left-hander Andy Kalka gave up just two hits over four innings, then Backus, in his first pitching appearance of the season after straining his arm in early March, shut down Pampa in the fifth.

Hereford took command early, with nine walks, a hit batsman, a double by Cody Page and a single by Patrick Newton in their second trip to the plate in the first inning to give Hereford a 10-2 lead.

The Herd scored three runs in the second on two hits and two walks, then scored twice in the fourth with two walks and a single.

Citation, the 1948 Kentucky Derby winner, was the first horse to win that race after having previously scored in the Belmont Futurity.

Back slap for Backus

Hereford Kyle Andrews, right, congratulates teammate Russell Backus after Backus had driven in Andrews on an inside-the-park home run in the fifth inning of Saturday's game against Pampa at Whiteface Field. Hereford took a 17-16 win.

Public Notice

On March 14, 1989, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas an application which proposes to revise its Toll Restriction Tariff in Section 21 of the General Exchange Tariff. The Commission received the application as Docket No. 8700.

The application proposes to reduce the monthly rate for Toll Restriction residence service from the current $15 a month to $5 a month per residence access line. This proposed application will affect approximately 2,487 residence customers who presently subscribe to toll restriction. It is estimated that the proposed rate schedule will reduce the Company's annual revenues from this service by approximately $298,000, which is less than one percent of the Company's total intrastate revenues. If the application is approved, the effective date of the rate reduction will be set according to the Commission's Order.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A deadline to file motions to intervene has been set for May 30, 1989. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Giamatti believes testimony truthful

NEW YORK (AP) - Prosecutors say an Ohio bookmaker told them he took as much as $1 million in sports bets from Pete Rose, while a letter from A. Bartlett Giamatti says the commissioner believes the bookmaker's testimony in baseball's investigation of the matter was truthful.

A transcript of a pre-sentencing conference at Cincinnati last Friday in the case of the bookmaker, Ronald Peters, was made public Monday.

At the hearing, assistant U.S. attorney Robert C. Brichler said: "Mr. Peters has indicated to us that he took bets over a period of two years from Mr. Rose that could very well amount to in excess of a million dollars."

Giamatti, in a letter to U.S. District Judge Carl B. Rubin that was released Monday by the commissioner's office, stated Peters "provided critical sworn testimony about Mr. Rose and his associates" in baseball's investigation of the Cincinnati Reds' manager's involvement in gambling.

"Mr. Peters has provided probative documentary evidence to support his testimony and the testimony of others," Giamatti wrote in the April 18 letter to Rubin, who will sentence Peters on felonies of cocaine trafficking and tax evasion. Peters could receive up to 23 years in prison and $1.25 million in fines.

"Based upon other information in our possession, I am satisfied Mr. Peters has been candid, forthright and truthful with my special counsel," Giamatti wrote.

Nothing in the 13-page transcript indicates that Rose bet on baseball games. However, Alan J. Statman, a lawyer representing Peters, has said in the past that his client had information linking Rose to baseball betting. Statman declined comment Monday.

The Reds lost to their minor-league affiliate in Nashville, Tenn. 5-4 Monday night and a team spokesman announced during the game that Rose would answer only questions concerning baseball when he met the media afterward.

According to the Cincinnati Post, a federal grand jury is investigating Rose on tax matters. In the transcript, Rubin says that he doesn't want to get into the Rose case now because of the possibility of an indictment.

"I don't want to get into imbroglia involving Pete Rose," Rubin said. "Now, it is conceivable - I guess the odds are one in three - that if you indict him, that I may draw that indictment ..."

Rubin, according to the transcript, was surprised and disturbed by Giamatti's unsolicited letter, which was written by the commissioner's special counsel.

"There is evidence here, in my opinion, of a vendetta against Pete Rose," Rubin said. "Again, I don't care, but it seems to me that whatever cooperation Mr. Peters gave them on their investigation is totally and thoroughly irrelevant to any charges against Peters, and the idea of confusing the two of them I just find very offensive ..."

John M. Dowd, a Washington lawyer, is heading baseball's investigation of allegations that Rose bet on baseball games. Dowd did not return telephone calls Monday but issued a statement saying that Giamatti's letter "is customary and was intended to be helpful to the Court."

Giamatti, who will decide whether Rose will be suspended, did not wish to make any comment, according to spokesman Rich Levin. If Giamatti determines Rose bet on baseball games, he would be suspended for one year. If Giamatti determines Rose bet on games involving the Reds, he would be banned for life.

Rueven J. Katz, Rose's lawyer, said last weekend that Giamatti should consider disqualifying himself from the case because of the letter.

A quarterback was named the MVP of the first four Super Bowls. Bart Starr won in 1967 and 1968, Joe Namath in 1969 and Len Dawson in 1970.

Kienzle fans will relish the latest novel that combines his keen understanding of life in Detroit with a firsthand look at newsrooms, morgues, police stations, chancery offices, rectories and even the souls of criminals.

A priest and four religious brothers establish the congregation of St. Stephen, a quasi monastery in an abandoned bank building in down town Detroit.

When their bank account begins to swell along with their flock, Father Robert Koesler, representing the interest of Detroit's Catholic hierarchy, begins his investigation. Mrs. Anne Whitehead, wife of philanthropist Emery Whitehead is blessed with a holy relic, and finds her sight restored after years of blindness. Soon the word of the miracle is spread throughout the city, and investigative reporter, Pat Lennon is sent to determine the legitimacy of these faith healers. Koesler's intuitive thinking tells him that all is not what it appears to be. Father Koesler's astute observations of human nature eventually lead him to the truth, but not before the reader is taken behind the makeshift altar, and into the monks' spartan living quarters, which became more than intriguing.

Eminence by William X. Kienzle is one to put on your current list of reading.

"Shortly past midnight, Stefanovich tramped down the creaking, solidly frozen boardwalk at Long Beach. He was humming 'Surfer Girl,' one of those awful beach-town ditties that could usually bring a smile to his lips.

Stefanovich's eyes stayed sharply focused. They very carefully swept the silent, gritty beach front neighborhood.

The Grave Dancer was nearby. Stefanovich felt it all through his body. It was a second sense..." This is how the Midnight Club by James Patterson begins. Alexandre St. Germain the most insidious of outlaws becomes the archrival of John Stefanovich when he kills John's wife and leaves John for dead. Who the next victim will be is anyone's guess, in a world where right and wrong, friend and enemy are so easily confused. Stefanovich has but two allies on which he can count, Isaiah Parker, a Harlem cop with obsessions of his own, and Sarah McGinniss, a talented journalist investigating the Midnight Club murder. The Midnight Club is a thriller that will keep the reader breathless to the end.

Some nonfiction books you may find interesting are:

Cults: Faith, Healing, and Coercion by Marc Galanter. "Galanter offers the most extensive psychological analysis of cults available. Although based on extensive on-site research, it is immediately accessible to both the general reader and to anyone personally or professionally concerned with cults." Marc Galanter is Professor of Psychiatry and Director of the Division of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse at the New York University School of Medicine. He is also the editor of the American Psychiatric Association's official report on cults and new religious movements.

The Port Chicago Mutiny by Robert L. Allen is the story of the largest mass mutiny trial in U.S. Naval history. In the summer of 1944, thousands of tons of ammunition were loaded onto Libert ships at a tiny California port near San Francisco. All the seamen who actually handled the ammunition were blacks with little or no training. All were told the bombs couldn't explode because they had been defused. On the night of July 17, 1944, two ships, E.A. Bryan and the Quinalt Victory, were being loaded by floodlight with 650 pound incendiary bombs. It was particularly dangerous "hot cargo." A little after 10 p.m. an explosion blew Joseph Small out of bed and the barracks collapsed around him. The small town of Port Chicago located 1 1/2 miles away was nearly razed to the ground. The two ships and their docks simply vanished. 320 people were dead, 202 of them black. When black seamen were ordered to continue working in the same type of unsafe conditions they refused. Fifty were singled out for court martial on a charge of mutiny, and if found guilty could be sentenced to death. A young lawyer working for the NAACP went to California to defend these 50 seamen. The attorney, Thurgood Marshall, later became a U.S. Supreme Court Justice. Who was ultimately responsible for the disaster and shocking trial? This and many other questions are answered in The Port Chicago Mutiny.

A Mother's Story: The Truth About The Baby M. Case by Mary Beth Whitehead is another true story of interest to many.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) - Women have traditionally been keepers of the home - a position usually thought of as powerless.

However, at a recent conference on "Power" at the University of Rochester, a political scientist argued that the home can function as a center for economic activity, as a place of healing in times of sickness and as the place where procreation occurs.

"All of these things are central to human life and can therefore be seen as powerful," said Jean Elshaint of Vanderbilt University. "It is only our society's values that have interpreted the home and women's role in it as a powerless position."

Man Caught With Classified Information

Claims information regularly published

Neighbors today were surprised to learn Melvin Kline, a seemingly quiet, well-mannered man was making extra money with classified information. When questioned earlier this morning, Kline professed surprise that everyone wasn't using the classified section to earn extra income and get rid of unwanted items.

"It's common," he said. Recent studies tend to bear Kline out. Consumer Data Service reported that over 85% of the public read the newspaper and over 80% of those read the classifieds. Kline claimed newspaper use was being made of widespread use was being made of the classified information. "But you have to act quickly," he remarked. "If I have something to sell, I can be in the paper by tomorrow. I do that a lot now," he confessed. "With classified, whether I'm buying or selling, I can reach a large market instantly. And it's easy...just pick up the phone."

When asked if price mattered at all, Kline stated he was in possession of Consumer Data Service documents that indicated newspaper readership increases as income increases. "The more money they make, the more they read the paper," he said, "and I can prove it."

Asked for a last comment, Kline replied "No matter what you're looking for, a new job, a great car, merchandise, or even a home, take a long look at the classified section.

"Sure, I've made some money from classified information, but so can anyone who reads the paper."

The information's all there." Response Analysis Corp. studies indicate the public does exactly that, with 98% preferring the newspaper over radio and 68% preferring the newspaper instead of TV.

Kline was last seen in the company of an unidentified man carrying two outboard motors.

Mid-Plains Pioneer Day Celebration plans discussed

The Mid-Plains Pioneer Day Celebration officers and steering committees met recently at K-Bob's Steak House to discuss plans for the event set May 27 at the Bull Barn. President Tom Draper appointed the following committees and chairpersons: registration, Byrdie D. Fellers and Inez Witherspoon; courtesy and ribbons, Bartley Dowell, Benny and Joan Womble, L.J. Clark and Doris Bryant; food, Vesta Mae Nunley; coffee, Wilma Clark and Louise Streun; welcome, Wes Fisher; entertainment, Alex Schroeter; plaques, Bill Bradley; and nominating committee, Jerry Jackson.

The highlight of the annual event is the naming of the Pioneer of the Year. The award will be presented by a representative of KPAN Radio Station. Several Hereford High School class reunions are planned in conjunction with the celebration including the classes of 1937, 1939 and 1944.

All those attending the Mid-Plains Pioneer Day Celebration and Reunion are asked to bring a covered dish of vegetables, salads and desserts. Meat, bread and beverages will be furnished.

Those attending the meeting were Tom and Argen Draper, Alex Schroeter, Byrdie D. Fellers, Donald and Mildred Hicks, Benny and Joan Womble, Bartley Dowell, Jerry Jackson, Bill Bradley, Doris and Cawthon Bryant, Clarence Betzen and Betty Bagley.

Certificate presented

Amy Mason Greer, a senior graphic design major from Hereford, was awarded a certificate of merit for a poster promoting a telephone operators' convention. Her design was exhibited April 21-22 at the Dallas Society of Visual Communications Student Show. Her poster, a project for an advanced design class taught by Bob Caruthers, was one of 74 selected for the show. More than 610 entries representing 18 colleges and universities and six states were submitted for consideration.

April specials spotlight vegetables, fruits, meats

Good supplies of fresh spring and summer fruits and vegetables should result in consumer savings at supermarkets during April, according to a food marketing expert at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Dick Edwards, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, said a 10 percent acreage increase in vegetable plantings this season should be reflected in food store prices as supplies increase this month.

He said growers have increased their production to take advantage of expanding consumption of such popular vegetables as broccoli, cauliflower, peppers and sweet corn.

"Making the biggest splash during April will be strawberries. Supplies have been spotty up to now, but beginning this month consumers should see lower priced offerings," he said.

Edwards said companion items, including shortcake and whipping cream, will be among April supermarket specials.

He said other vegetables now appearing in large supply will be snap beans, cucumbers, squash and sweet corn, arriving fresh from Florida.

"April specials also will be featured on carrots, asparagus, celery, spinach and citrus fruits, as harvests of these products continue," Edwards said.

He said lower prices for orange juice is indicated for the retail level in April, as world production increases.

"April supplies of canned tuna will be the last to reflect a lower duty import tax, and prices will inch upward from May forward. This may be an opportune time to replenish supplies although there will be spot features through the year," Edwards said.

The economist said a number of specials will be featured at the meat counter this month.

"Beef prices will reflect specials on ground beef, chuck roast, chuck steak and shoulder roast. Some stores also will feature more choice cuts such as roast or steak at a price of 25 to 30 percent below the normal price, so take advantage of these specials," Edwards recommended.

He said poultry prices should provide good buys as well.

Watch for whole broilers on special at 49 cents per pound or below. The leg and thigh combination is still an excellent buy at 29 to 39 cents per pound when bought in quantities of 10 pounds or more. Some smaller turkeys will be featured at 69 to 79 cents per pound," Edwards said.

He said pork products also will continue to be of good value, with all popular cuts being featured during the month.

Edwards said the opening of the baseball season in early April will cause retailers to promote specials on hot dogs, soft drinks, potato chips and other snack items associated with attending a game.

The economist said that retailers will feature specials in their floral sections and other gift sections during the 1st week of April in observance of National Secretaries Week. "Don't overlook that special occasion," he said.
