According to dietitians the avage American family fails to ame an adequate amount of eals. That important vitamin "which provides energy seems to be neglected in most homes. Several have requested that this recipe for All-Bran rolls be rinted. It isn't easy to include he proper amount of vitamins in the diet of every member of he family but you won't have to coax appetites when you serve se rolls, they go in a hurry, amin "B" and all.

ALL-BRAN ROLLS

1 cup fat 8-4 cup sugar 1 cup all-bran 1 1-2 teaspoon salt 1 cup boiling water 2 cakes yeast 1 cup luke warm water 6 1-2 cups flour (or more)

Put fat, sugar, all-bran and salt in a large mixing bowl; add bolling water and stir until fat is melted. Add well beaten eggs and yeast which has been softened in the luke warm water. Add 1-2 of the flour and beat until batter is smooth. Add remainder of flour and mix until smooth. Cover tightly and place in refrigerator shape into small rolls on greased pan about two hours before baking and allow to rise in warm room. Bake in moderate oven 55 F. for twenty or thirty minutes.

No matter how simple your tastes, you'll find that this recipe has what it takes to make a plain meal into something special. Tis gingerbread-you'll like it served with lemon sauce, whipped cream or piping hot with butter and honey.

GINGERBREAD

1-2 cup fat 1-2 cup sugar 2 eggs 2 1-2 cups flour 1 1-2 teaspoon baking powder 1-2 teaspoon soda 1-2 teaspoon salt 1-2 teaspoon ginger 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1-4 teaspoon cloves 1 cup molasses (sorghum)

1 cup boiling water Cream the fat and add the sugar gradually while creaming. Add the beaten eggs, then the dry ingredients, which have been sifted with the flour, alternately with the liquid. Beat enough to mix thoroughly and pour into a well greased pan. Bake for forty minutes in 350 degree oven.

VITAM

By Jimmie Gillentine

This sure has been a rough week on the newspaper business. All of the prospective advertisers were listening to the trial, and slowed everything down. This is the first time a courtroom has been packed and jamed here in many years. People used to go to court as regularly as the terms rolled around, but it takes something sensational to get them out now days. During this term of court, however, there seems to have been a marked interest in judiciary proceedings on the part of the ministry. Not particularly this week, but during the entire term the ministry has been well represented.

G. W. Newsom says I should have certainly attended the Tuesday evening lecture of Byron Lopp. Someone asked him "Why do newspaper men usually go around needing a shave?" Lopp coudn't answer the question, or else he was kind enough to withhold his opinion. Anyway, it's true of reporters. I noted the big-shot reporters from Colliers, Atlantic Monthly, and the big city daily papers when they rode the Sante Fe Streamlined deisel freight awhile back. They all needed shaves were without ties, and none would have deserved a "Best Dressed Man" prize.

There are plenty of things to write about, but Rev. M. B. Norwood brought in an article which is worthy of space. He is praising our business men for their fine spirit of cooperation, and I know he is right. Nowhere in the country will you find a better or more deserving group of merchants.

tire state of contributions to the Methodist Orphans' Home, at Waco, this week, Hereford's truck load of Hereford potatoes and Hereford Flour stood at the head of the list of contributions of had bulls in the auction sale at supplies to this institution.

"At the Youth Rally at Austin recently, sponsored by the lation. United Texas Drys, the load of young people taken by Rev. Stroble from Hereford received the distinction of coming from the farthest distance to lend their support to this cause.

"In a report of a subscription campaign sponsored by the Southwestern Advocate, official organ of the Methodist Churches in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, the Amarillo District, in which Hereford is located, had sent in the largest number of subscriptions of any district in the territory. (949, while the next largest number was from the Dallas District, 409, and is the district in which the paper is published.)

Incidentally, Rev. Norwood is director of the subscription campaign for the Amarillo district. It is indeed fine for the churches and other institutions of the community to have the cooperation of our merchants-and it is equally fine that the organizations realize and appreciate these efforts and the spirit which prompts them.

A lot of folks have complimented me on the poem which appeared in this column March 20th, entitled "Wind." Actually. I don't know who did write the poem, but it was good. It was mailed in addressed to the Bull Column. It has attracted glad to publish the name of the composer if we had it. Anyway, don't give me credit. I never wrote a poem in my life.

It used to be a common practice by many borrowers to renew their loans over and over again. They paid the interest but, as they were "good for it," did not seem to think it was necessary to be in a hurry to pay the principal.

Today this practice is recognized as unsound and contrary to safe banking principles. Banks are no longer permitted to extend loans indefinitely.
