VERNON RECORD SEES BIG WELLS

Says Hereford Country Blossoms and Irrigation Placing Shallow Water Belt on Map.

J. Ray, editor of the Vernon Record and for a number of years editor of the Hereford Brand, was in Hereford a few days ago and on returning home sat down "with pen in hand" and wrote the following article about the irrigation at Hereford:

The writer was in Hereford for several days this week, the first visit for nearly a year. We were very greatly surprised to note the development that has taken place there during this time. A year ago, the first irrigation wells were being installed, and there was much doubt in the minds of even the older settlers as to whether irrigation would succeed. But the courage and finances of a few men have wrought wonderfully. There are now about forty of these big wells in operation, some of which are pumping day after day as much as 2,000 gallons of pure, soft water per minute, and the result is that that country has become an oasis in a seeming great desert. This water is being handled by expert irrigationists, and is being pumped in quantities sufficient to flood a whole half section, one well being sufficient to care for this much land in the driest times. Their wheat, oat and alfalfa crops are simply enormous, where irrigated, and the maize and kafir crops certainly could not be better. Six thousand dollars will put everlasting water on a half section, which makes one of the cheapest irrigation propositions in the entire southwest. Many investors and homeseekers are now going there to behold the wonderful transformation, and much foreign capital is being used in putting down additional wells.

The writer in making a little calculation finds that there are 200,000 acres in the shallow water belt adjacent to the town of Hereford, which, when placed under irrigation, will sustain at least 5,500 families. This is one of the largest projects of the kind ever attempted in the state, and the fact that there seems no limit to the water supply, linked with the richness of the soil and readiness with which irrigation may be carried on, renders the Hereford country superior to the celebrated Salt River Valley of Arizona, or the Pecos Valley of New Mexico. It is certainly the biggest thing of the kind the writer has yet seen.

Wants to Keep Up With Irrigation and the Bench Congress.

The following letter to the Brand which had a much mutilated signature at the bottom and which even a newspaper man could not decipher, is from a gentleman in Oklahoma. The signature looks like the marks that would be left on the ground after a hot contest between a bull dog and a Purcell badger, but we take it that it is the name of the writer of the following letter:

Dear Sir—I wish to ask if you are still putting out what some call the hot air paper of the Plains, (The Hereford Brand.) For some cause I have not been receiving mine. I have been under the impression that my subscription did not expire until some time during this month, but thinking I had been misled, I sent you a check some few days ago for $1.00 to mark me up for another year, and still I do not receive your paper, which I regret very much. As I would like to at least keep up with the development of the irrigation wells, club halls, the Bench Congress, etc., kindly look over your records and see just what the trouble is. If you are out of ink, I hope it will only be a short while until you have in a new supply, so you may start the wheels again. I now ask that you do not put any of this in your paper, but send the paper along.

A. O. Davidson and family of Estelline, Texas, were visiting in the home of his brother, Rosco Davidson, last week, leaving Saturday. His cousin, T. D. Gee and family, were with Mr. and Mrs. Davidson this week, returning to their home at Estelline Wednesday.

Weed Cutting a Success.

The Brand has been severely criticised for not giving the volunteer weed cutters a bigger write-up. Some explanation becomes necessary. The news fakir for the Brand made three attempts to get a "full and complete report" of the facts from two experienced news reporters, who were in the street gang, but they would not "give it up." With the little material obtained from them, the news fakir would have had to stretch his imagination beyond its usual limit of stretchedness to have given a column write up. The mistake made was due to the statement that only "about 50 men and few small boys" engaged in the weed cutting campaign, whereas 113 men actually worked all day at the onerous job of cutting some other feller's weeds. The small boys were also there. This crowd of happy volunteers, headed by the mayor of the city in overalls, cut the weeds on all of the main streets in and adjoining the business section. There were piles of weeds left by the different brigades. They did a good job and they say that they will be at it again soon. Counting that each of these men are worth at hard labor $2.00 per day, this makes a total donation of $226 to the city. And they (that is nobody in particular) said that the Brand was "poking fun at the weed cutters." Not much; the Brand did its best to brag on the volunteers and the "they" mistook a nicely worked compliment for a "fun poking." When the Brand turns loose to "poke fun" at a big crowd as that, it will first encase itself in a steel jacket and arm itself with rapid-fire shootin' irons. There were too many heavy weights in that crowd. If this explanation is satisfactory, the Brand will drop the subject by saying that the weed cutting campaign was a blooming success. Selah.

Merry-Go-Round.

That the Hereford people like the merry-go-round is clearly in evidence by the way they patronize such institutions. The last one here, which was during the carnival, took in $510.15, according to the checked report of W. T. (Red) Smith. They made 809 runs. All of the concessions at the carnival had a gross income of $1895.35. This does not include the rolly-bolly and other gambling devices. Mr. Smith says that he has the honor of acting as check clerk for every merry-go-round that has run in Hereford since the town was a town. The one before the last which held forth on the corner of the court house yard, had a three days' run and took in $465. The people at Hereford patronized the riding machine better than the Amarillo folks; for it is reported that the carnival people had to borrow money to get out of town. It's good sport, this merry-go-round business, and the children enjoy an occasional trip in a circle that leads them nowhere.

Miss Jessie Sisk Hurt By Fall.

While visiting with her aunt at Erlington, Ky., Miss Jessie Sisk sustained severe injuries by falling from the porch. It seems that she and some others were reclined against the porch railing when it gave way and they fell backwards to the ground, a distance of a few feet. Miss Jessie has not been able to leave her bed since the accident, which happened some 15 days ago.

Shadowgraph Story.

Who's Them?

These two familiar maps are not victims of the shadowgraph artist; they have been in the shady work business so long that a shadow has no terrors for them. In fact, they have been shadowing other victims so long that they have become notorious, but not until Harry Thaw escaped from the Bug House did they come into public notice. One is Herlock Sholmes and the other guy is his main sluth, who can track a shadow along the alleys in the darkest Egyptian night. The daily papers say that Thaw was caught at Hereford and it was these two men that did that nifty piece of work. But it was Herlock Sholmes that put the idea of escaping from the Bug House into Thaw's noodle by means of an auto as he was the first man in America to chase criminals in an auto. The sluth in the shadow works when other men are supposed to be asleep. Note his attitude; see how he is looking into Herlock Sholmes face with his sky-piece pulled down and is telling him how to capture Thaw. He out-burns Burns when it comes to detective work; he needs no dictograph; he does better work with a mower and bay haler. Herlock Sholmes is the chief hotel lobbyist and forty-two player, but but this is only done as blind as he cares nothing whatever for the game and only plays with the boys to lay his awful paw upon some fugitive from justice. In their natural dispositions, these men are really fine fellows; they enjoy their friends when off duty; but always like a square deal and a chance to cut after the shuffle. One of them never ran for office, but the other has several times. There is nothing against their personalities, neither are they members of the Bench Congress, as they spend their money freely, (when they have any.) One is an optimist, the other a pessimist; but the two play an important roll; the one reaches for the doughnut while the other sees only the hole.

A Good Investment.

W. D. Magli, a well known merchant of Whittemound, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicines so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. Dollar Diplomacy.

The lawn party given by Miss Anna Garrison on last Thursday evening was the most unique and cleverly arranged of any party of the season. By the use of many electric lights, the appearance was quite festive, rather suggestive of a carnival on a small scale. To the right of the entrance was a red tent, having in large letters, "Seventh daughter of a seventh daughter," and this was presided over by a Gypsy fortune teller. Next there were improvised bargain counters. On the left of entrance was a lemonade stand and the "Wild West Show." As the guests arrived they were each given a paste board dollar. On the dollars given to the boys appeared the words, "He who goes into bankruptcy suffers imprisonment. He who is penurious suffers shame." The dollars given to the girls had the following quotation: "She who first obtains the dollar's worth wears the rose of honor." Just here the real fun began: The girls by many innocent wiles trying to influence the boys to "treat" them at the different booths, while the boys resisted, oftentimes, with enviable firmness. Nevertheless, the places of attraction were all well patronized. For each favor the dollar was punched. Fortunes were told by drawing a petal from a large sun flower resting on a plate, the fortunes or wish being pinned to the end of the petal. At the bargain counter one bundle purchased had on the outside "A boy capture," and on the inside the word "Girls." Another package labeled "Reflections of an idle fellow," had in it a mirror. These examples give some idea of what the entire evening's entertainment was to Miss Anna's friends. Miss Vern Pratt was the first to receive her dollar's worth and was given a bouquet of roses. The boy who spent the least, Charlie Bennett, received a card with the word "Miser" on it. The boys who became bankrupt were imprisoned, and the girls, ever loyal and true, performed some deed to have them liberated. The boys and girls are grateful to Miss Anna and Mrs. Garrison for a very delightful evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

For Misses Easley and Allgood.
Misses Easley and Allgood were guests of honor at quite a large party given by Mrs. C. L. Sullivan and Mrs. H. H. Hawkins at the Hawkins' home on last Monday evening. Mrs. Sullivan received the guests and Mrs. Hawkins introduced them to the ladies of the receiving line as follows: Misses Allgood, Easley, Nicholson and Juanita Hawkins. Mrs. Cardwell served punch in the tastily decorated dining room, after which the guests passed to the lawn, the scene of so many former enjoyable occasions. For this party the soft light of many lanterns and the effulgence of full moon made a fairy like setting for the prettily gowned girls and their gallant companions. Music rendered informally during the evening aided conversation in its lighter vein, and, perchance, gave to some suggestions of greater responsibility. Some contests gave the variety necessary to an exceptionally pleasant evening. Sherbet and cake were served.

A Morning Lawn Party.
Mrs. Emmett Cardwell was hostess last Tuesday morning to quite a large number of young ladies, complimenting her friend, Miss Nicholson, of Sanger, Texas. The pretty, vine-clad porch of this bungalow home was an ideal place for Mrs. Cardwell to receive her guests and to have them meet her friend. Other visiting ladies thus honored were Misses Easley and Allgood of Fort Worth and Mrs. Dillard Simpson of Terrell. After the greetings, score cards were given and the guests passed to the lawn where a number of games of "42" were enjoyed. Mrs. Cardwell, in her characteristic manner, made the morning one of unusual pleasure. She was assisted in the various duties by her sister, Miss Johnnie May Borne. Cream and cake were served.

An Evening Lawn Party.
Mesdames P. W. Price and W. H. Garrison were at home to a limited number of their friends on the lawn of the Garrison home Friday evening of last week. The guests were received by Mrs. Garrison and her daughter, Miss Anna. After a delightful half hour of pleasant intercourse with friends, score cards were given for a series of games of "42." A very beautiful feature of this party was the blooming clematis vine, which covered the front porch. There were a number of out of town guests, who come to Hereford each summer because of our delightful climate and the ties of friendship. Mesdames Price and Garrison assisted by Mesdames George Garrison, Gallaher and Anna Garrison served dainty refreshments.

A Picnic Spread.

Mrs. B. S. Arnold, ever thoughtful of visitors and friends, invited to her home Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Will Evants and sister, Mrs. Tom Fowler; Mrs. Gallaher and sister, Mrs. McMillan; Mrs. Stephens and mother and sister, Mrs. McCampbell and Miss McCampbell; Miss Mattie Woodburn and sister, Mrs. Squires. When the supper hour arrived the conventionalities of the house were laid aside and the guests invited to the lawn where a most appetizing supper, including fish, was served in real picnic style.

A Surprise Birthday Dinner.

The good neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Davis, adepts at finding out birthdays, again prepared a surprise. This time it was for Mrs. Venable, the mother of Mrs. Davis. There were about twenty guests, all appearing at the same time, each one having in hand, some delicacy for the bounteous repast that was to follow. August 19th was also Esther Fox's birthday, and to this child of ten years there was no greater pleasure than to be a guest on this occasion and thus add to the joy of Mrs. Venable.

A Dinner.

Mrs. Alice Lea entertained with a twelve o'clock course dinner on last Tuesday. The table, laid in embroidered pieces, had its attractiveness completed by a center of assorted, Hereford grown fruit. Those enjoying this courtesy by Mrs. Lea were: Misses Easley and Allgood of Fort Worth; Mrs. H. B. Stephens and mother and sister, Mrs. W. L. McCampbell and Miss McCampbell, of Mendon, Mo., and Mrs. C. C. Ferguson.

With Willard Garrison.

Just the very jolliest little party was that given by Willard Garrison recently to his class mates in Sunday school and to a few other girls and boys of his age. The various games, played in the joyous, happy manner of childhood, made the allotted hours all too short. Cream and cake, generously served, were greatly enjoyed by the children.

A Correction.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Pitman were given the credit of planning the fishing party for their guests, while the courtesy was from Mr. Betts and other young people of the town.

Scratching For Fun.

We would have great sympathy for those who have to scratch continually, if there wasn't a remedy for the trouble, but as Hunt's Cure is guaranteed to cure or money refunded, it would seem that those who scratch do so just for the fun of it. It's a special remedy for Itch, Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, etc.

A FAIR WARNING

One That Should be Heeded by Hereford Residents.

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney trouble over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

J. D. Bailey, carpenter, Canyon, Tex., says: "I had pains across my back and sides. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended by people whom I knew, I got a box and used them as directed. They did me so much good that I didn't need any more."

Weed Cutters Number One-Thirteen.

Not at all unlucky, the weed cutters that changed the face of the earth in Hereford last week numbered exactly one hundred and thirteen. There were five brigades: E. B. Black with 23, J. H. Head with 33, H. B. Webb with 9, W. D. Keliehor with 28 and J. I. Walker with 20. Each crowd took a different part of the town and as a result of 8 hours hard work (some of them had not touched a hoe in 20 years) they harvested tons of Syper alfalfa. A mention was made of the fact the men who cut the weeds around Mothers' Park were treated to ice cream, but the Brand was not aware that Mrs. W. F. Orr made and carried an ice cream freezer full of delicious cream more than two blocks and fed the bunch under J. I. Walker with cream and cake. This was too good for them, but she felt sorry for their hot condition and sought thus to relieve. They all say the cream and cake did the work.

The Best Medicine in the World.

L. P. Landrum, after making a long trip thru many parts of the Plains and off the Plains, reports that Hereford has, by far, the best fruit crop of any section. CLEAN COURT HOUSE.

A visitor in Hereford the other day from a distant state was admiring our beautiful court house and went over to see the inside. He returned much disappointed and asked if the county employed a janitor, and said that he was disappointed to find the district court room and corridors in a very dusty and uncleanly condition. The Brand feels that this criticism is altogether justifiable as the writer has always found the floors clean, the chairs and seats free of dust, the windows clear of cobwebs, and the junk and necessary plunder carefully stored and hid away. Perhaps at this particular time, the janitor has had more than he can do attending to the yard and trees, and the windy day or two, which we have had, the visitor did catch the floors a little dusty. All of our visitors remark that Deaf Smith county has the prettiest court house lawn and trees and finest court house in Texas. This is due to the enterprise and progressive spirit of the several commissioners which the county has had. The public is indebted to the last court and the untiring efforts of the judge in making the lawn a thing of beauty, and the Brand feels that if a visitor counts a little dust on the seats, it cannot be laid at the officers.

DAY IS ADVERTISED BETTER THAN NIGHT.

By Holland.

The day is a more popular time than night. Most of the work of the world is done while the sun shines, and only that which can't be done at other hours is performed while darkness reigns. The day is the more popular and the more fully utilized because it is better advertised. The sun is the great publicity agent. It forces all to see and to remember. If it were possible to advertise any product of man as well as sunlight is advertised that particular product would drive all competitors from the field. Any breakfast food, baking powder, brand of shoes, style of furniture, cough drop, patent medicine, or what not, if it were only as well known as daylight, would have a monopoly of trade that would defy all rivals. Such successful advertising of the works of man is not possible, but it can be followed at a distance. Successful manufacturers and merchants do follow it, and as a result the best advertised articles are the most widely sold. This is due to the fact that advertising makes the name of an article known, and it also insures its quality. Goods must be of superior merit to make it profitable to advertise them. ADVERTISING MEANS RELIABILITY.

Mayor Knight was seen with his well worn grip Monday afternoon to board the east bound train, and it was learned that he goes to Denver to take a rest from his pressing duties as chief officer of the city. S. F. Foris, Albert Bivins, Foster Klous, Lee Klous, and Low Klous were here Tuesday to investigate the irrigation wells. This makes the third trip some of these men have made to Hereford for this purpose and their visit here this week will more than likely result in three or four irrigation wells at Tulia. They are fully convinced that Hereford has the best wells and best equipment over any other irrigated section on the Plains.

Albert Crawford of Tulan, Calif., was here last week and made a careful investigation of the many irrigation plants around Hereford. In the language of the slogan he said: "You have oceans of water for every acre. And though I had been reading the Brand carefully, I must say that the many favorable reports published do not, in the least, overdraw the real picture and the real value of the irrigation possibilities; in fact, I think the Brand has not done its whole duty in this line; it should have made a real noise about the water, the soil and the sunshine, as there is nothing anywhere to equal them. If we had your soil and your water in California they would ask you $500 per acre for the land and you would buy it, thinking it was cheap."

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble. When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

THE STORE FOR SAFE BUYING

Complaining Grouch.

Some of the exchanges that come to the dump in the Brand office have a tone of complaining grouch, their grudge being the apparent stintedness of the merchants of their town in the matter of advertisement. One exchange has even threatened to suspend publication if the merchants did not "come across" with more advertising. The Brand is pleased to state that it has never had any occasion to complain about the amount of ad-space occupied by the merchants of Hereford. They know that the judicious use of space in a newspaper is good business and they know how to make their space bring results. They do this by studying their ads. They devote some time and attention in composing the message to their customers. The Brand doubts whether there is another town of the size in Texas whose merchants take as much thought and pride in their ad-space. There is not another town in Texas where the banks and drug stores furnish as good "copy" as they do in Hereford. In nearly all places, cities as well as towns, the banks run the same old ad the year round, and the drug stores do little advertising, and if they do, it is over the shoulder of some patent medicine concern. The other lines of business in Hereford find it profitable to employ expert ad-writers, if the proprietors do not have the time to devote to their ads. In this way, the ads which appear in the Brand are works of thought and are not just thrown at the public or given to the paper as a sort of charitable donation. The Brand has never asked for a public donation and never will. It is a business institution as much so as any merchant's whose ad it carries; it has "Ad-Space" to sell and it is worth the price when properly used. The liberal use of "Ad-Space" used in the Brand is evidence that the merchants of Hereford appreciate the value of good space.

The Mexican Situation.

The trouble in Mexico has developed one act of importance in the U. No wonder, since it makes the pain go away almost at once. All druggists sell it in 25c and 50c bottles. 26-5t

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst. I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework. I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off. I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

GETTING MISSIONARY KNOWLEDGE.
 A missionary reading contest in the Euclid Avenue Christian Intermediat Society, Cleveland, O., made a stir and was a success. Seven weeks were given to the reading. Six teams took part, the teams being distinguished by colors. Twenty-five points were given for every one hundred pages of a missionary book read by the members of the teams. It was a neck-and-neck race all through. With the exception of the last two weeks, no team lead two weeks in succession. The winners had 6,500 pages to their credit, and a total of 23,350 pages were read by all the teams together.

This society contributed $100 to missions last year and sends a monthly letter to the church missionary in Africa.—C. E. World.

So Many People Die of Blood Poison.

A little scratch on the hand, a splinter, or small abrasion of the skin is often fatal because the poisonous germs start the infection. That's where Hunt's Lightning comes in handy as an application on the abrasion, kills all germs which may have lodged there, thereby preventing infection and death. It pays to keep this remedy in the home, especially where there are children. All drug stores in 25c and $0c bottle. 26-5t

Barnes Big Shows Coming Here Friday, Sept. 5th.

Tucked away somewhere deeply in the inner most consciousness of every human being is the remembrance of the first circus ever attended. In the onward progress the Al. G. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus has forged to the front until now it is the largest exhibition of its kind in the world. This big show will give two full and complete performances at Hereford Friday, Sept. 5.

The Al. G. Barnes Circus is the one show that is different. It is in a class by itself. The feats performed by the man eating forest bred animals have never been duplicated in any exhibition.

With the show is carried 350 educated and trained animals. Among them are thirty African Forest Bred Lions, a herd of elephants, a caravan of camels, leopards, tigers, pumas, boars, jaguars, hyenas, zebras, monkeys of every known species, dogs and ponies. Every animal carried with the show is a performer.

All the wild animal acts are performed in steel arenas, weighing many tons, under the supervision of a corps of the world's greatest and most celebrated trainers. Altogether there are more than half a hundred heart stilling acts, each of which has never yet been duplicated with any animal exhibition in the entire world.

Some idea of the magnitude of the show may be obtained when one takes into consideration that it requires twenty-five specially constructed railroad cars to transport this zoological paradise. Three hundred employees are required to operate it.

Al. G. Barnes personally supervises and directs each and every performance. He prides himself with the clean and high tone standard he has always held for the show. No gambling is allowed upon the show grounds or city streets on the day of exhibition.

A gorgeous street parade headed by two trumpeting military bands will leave the show grounds at 10:30 a. m., on the day of the exhibition. Two performances will be given in the water proof-tents at 2 and 8 p. m.

Birthday Surprise.

On last Tuesday morning there gathered together at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Stanley about eighty friends and neighbors of Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Ora Newsom to celebrate the birthdays of both of these good women. Mrs. Newsom had been invited over by Mrs. Ed. Stanley to help quilt and found this delightful surprise. Mrs. H. H. Stanley had gone away to spend the day, having accepted an invitation to dine out. Some of her friends phoned her to come home about 11:30 o'clock that they had come to spend the day and she hurried home to find her friends there and a delightful dinner spread on a table beneath the trees, for each and every one had brought a well filled basket, and after thanks, which was returned by John Tice, all partook of and did justice to same. Several amusements were participated in and music for the day was furnished by Mesdames Tice, Henry, R. H. Mounts, J. H. Williams, and after singing "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," and wishing Mesdames Stanley and Newsom many happy returns of the day, they all dispersed and went to their many homes. Among those present were Mesdames Ora Newsom and family, Axe and children, Sain, Bridges and mother, Bottsford and daughter, Funk and daughter, J. H. Williams, R. H.

Mounts, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dancy, W. B. Green and wife, John Tice and wife, Mr. Henry and wife, and Misses Hattie Easter, Boyd, Carter, Ruby Williams. May such gatherings continue to brighten the pathways of friends in life while they are here to enjoy and see the sweet acts of human efforts. May the hinges of such friendship never rust is the wish of

One That Was Present.

Storage COAL

We have had little to say about Storage Coal because the power house of the mine from which we buy burned, and when we can't offer the best we don't say much, but now we are receiving plenty of the genuine and it usually sells for 50 cents per ton more than other coals. We offer during August

Rugby Niggerhead COAL

$7.00 Per Ton Delivered
$6.75 Per Ton to Nesters

These prices on coal are from $1.00 to $1.50 per ton cheaper than offered at any other town on the Plains.
