

AROUND A Town

Sights and Faces Seen

In the interests of all the kids aged 5 to 75—who have been interested in Mrs. M. L. Steele's solution of the gas ration problem, here are a few notes on her electric "autoette" (that's the official name). It is powered by a battery, which can be charged by simply plugging it into an electric outlet. The three tires are solid, hence, no danger of punctures; and the machine can run in the street or on the sidewalk. It steers with a gear, on the same principal as the little red wagon you used to have; and there is a large luggage compartment behind the seat, which makes it practically ideal for shopping expeditions. The machine will make 22 miles an hour, Mrs. Steele says, adding that she hasn't tried to make the speed limit yet.

Dr. C. D. Kelton says that dandelion roots, dried and roasted, make a good coffee substitute. We can just see Hereford residents working next summer in their front yard coffee plantations. Dr. Kelton says the stuff is even good, but must be boiled long and strained carefully. However, we are willing for somebody else to try the brew first—it might have an effect like some of the prohibition bathtub gin.

Dates for your ration calendar: January 15, last date to get Ration Book 1, which must be turned in before you get book number. (Continued on Page 10)

Some clubs are helping with sewing projects, the chairman reports, stating that the Camp Fire Girls are winding thread for housewives; the Horizon Club is sewing and filling "housewives" as is the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Deadline Looms For Additional Mileage

Only a few days remain in which to make appeals for greater mileage for farm trucks, it was announced this week, as county farm transportation board members pointed out that temporary transport rations cannot be used after Jan. 31, and that all appeals must be in the district ODT offices by Jan. 25 so that final war price and rationing boards can make decisions before the Jan. 31 deadline. Appeals for more mileage are made to local county farm transportation committees and then presented to ODT for consideration.

The county farm transportation committee meets on Wednesday and will be held in the grand jury room and will be held on the 25th of this month.

Increased Production Of Soy Beans, Livestock And Poultry Is Deaf Smith Goal For 1943

Order Repairs And Parts For Farm Machinery

Because of the inadequate quota of new machinery listed for rationing in Deaf Smith County this year, it will be more necessary than ever before that owners of farm machinery take good care of old equipment and get repairs done just as soon as they are needed.

This announcement was made today by County Agent A. R. Bateman, who said that owners should get repair orders in early so that machine shop and garage owners can order the necessary repair parts.

Indications at present, Mr. Bateman said, point to a fairly adequate stock of repair parts; but in order to be sure that machines are in working order when needed, farmers should order repairs and parts now.

Farm production goals for 1943 in Deaf Smith County were received here this week as plans went forward for the holding of community meetings to achieve 100 per cent cooperation of farmers in meeting the goals, which on most farms will mean an increase in livestock production with an incidental increase in feed crop production to take care of the increased number of farm animals and poultry.

Only War Crop named for the county is soy beans, for which an acreage of 3,559 is requested. Soy bean acreage in 1942 was 800 and the rate of increase is 441 per cent. Though the increase is large, it is still certain that only a small per cent of farmers will be asked to increase soy bean production; though the department of Agriculture points out that in all cases where increased production is requested, it is desirable that the county exceed the goal set, if possible.

County goals for livestock and poultry are listed as follows: Kind of livestock or poultry, 1943 goal, 1942 production, and the goal percentage of the 1942 production:

- All cattle and calves, 41,490; 41,490; 100.
 - Cows and heifers kept for milk, 2,435; 1,989; 122.
 - Sheep and lambs, all ages, 21,186; 21,159; 100.
 - Hens and pullets kept for laying, 40,772; 37,404; 109.
 - Sows for farrow in spring, 2,964; 2,410; 123.
 - Sows for farrow in fall, 2,102; 1,830; 115.
 - Chickens raised, 123,167; 103,090; 119.
 - Turkeys raised, 5,548; 4,824; 115.
- For those commodities for which increased production is requested in 1943, many factors were taken into consideration such as the need for these commodities, the farm labor situation, and the production facilities available.

Theoretical Eligibility For New Tires Does Not Mean You Can Buy Them

E. H. Norton, chairman of the Deaf Smith County War Price and Rationing Board, reminded motorists this week that tire quotas are still in effect, despite the fact that all motorists are now theoretically eligible for new tires or re-capping jobs.

The Deaf Smith County tire quota, set in Washington, determines the number of new tires and re-capping jobs which can be authorized, Norton states, and quotas permit taking care of only the most essential mileage first.

Some motorists have the impression that they must obtain re-capping or replacements, if recommended by the inspector, before signature of the inspector will be placed on their inspection report. The board calls attention to a line on the tire inspection record specifying that inspectors will not sign until the "required service" has been completed, "except for re-capping service or replacement."

Emergency Crop Loans Made At Local Office

Applications for seed loans are now being taken at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse under the direction of the field supervisor of the Emergency Crop Loan section of F. C. A., it was announced today.

Leo Forrest, field supervisor, announces that farmers needing financial assistance to cover the cost of preparing land and to purchase seed, fertilizer and supplies may obtain loans for those purposes. A first mortgage on the crops to be grown is the security required on the crop loans.

Loans are also available from this agency to produce or purchase feed for livestock. A first mortgage on the livestock to be fed is the security for the loan. Applicants who can secure credit from other sources are not eligible for emergency crop loans.

Penneys Sponsor Service Window At Store Here

Sponsoring a service men's window, which will feature photographs of the service men of Deaf Smith County, C. F. Penney Co. Store today invited people of the Hereford territory to bring in pictures of their sons, brothers, husbands and sweethearts now in the service of Uncle Sam.

"We would prefer a portrait rather than a snapshot," Mr. Moore said, "since we are going to try to make this window just as attractive as possible, we would like to have pictures that will show up."

Requirement is that the service man must have previously lived in Hereford or surrounding communities in this territory.

Blame for Housing Situation Is Placed on Buck-Passing Bureaus

Mrs. Troy Moore, president of the Hereford Business and Professional Women's Club, is shown as she presented a Bible to Miss Katherine Smith, W.A.C. member, who left last week for training at Ft. Des Moines. Some form of recognition will be given by the Business and Professional Women to all Deaf Smith County women who join one of the armed force auxiliaries.

With the information from reliable sources that a minimum of 100 new families—those of civilian employees, officers and noncoms of the staff at the Hereford Internment Camp—will be seeking homes here within the next few weeks or months, seriousness of the local housing situation was emphasized and chances for remedying the situation were being considered by civic leaders and Chamber of Commerce officials.

Many Agencies—And Red Tape—Actually, the situation has been under consideration by the Chamber of Commerce for months, but efforts to get help from appropriate Federal agencies have met with uniform lack of success according to E. B. Posey, Chamber of Commerce secretary, who stated that as early as September he was in correspondence with Federal agencies trying to get some type of housing relief for Hereford.

The Chamber of Commerce letters were referred successively to Washington, to New York, back to Washington and finally to Dallas, where district officials of the National Housing Agency are supposed to have the problem under consideration. An official of the Dallas office was in Hereford in October, took a brief survey of housing conditions and promised to report back in about three weeks. To date, no report from the federal agency has been received. Among other information revealed by the correspondence is (Continued on Page 10)

Second Showing Here For "Hidden Hunger"

"Hidden Hunger," an official film of the National Nutrition Program will be shown at the Star Theatre on Wednesday, Jan. 27, as a short subject in connection with the regular feature.

The film was previously exhibited here last spring and is being brought back at the request of the county home economics unit and with the cooperation of the Star Theatre management because of its great value in preaching the need of health and good nutrition.

In the belief that "seeing" is not only "believing" but "understanding," the picture tells the story of the one man nutrition campaign of farmer-Link Squires (Walter Brennan) who finally convinces a group of skeptical people that if they would only learn to eat properly, they could live the best years of their lives twice over.

Plans for registration will be announced soon. Mr. Norton said, adding that the date for registration will not be set until all forms, books and instructions have been received by local boards, who will be given adequate time to study all material and make adequate plans.

Blue stamps in the book will be used for rationing of canned. (Continued on Page 10)

Army, Navy And Marines Claim 5 Johnson Sons

Mrs. W. A. Johnson, who lives one mile south of Hereford, is claiming the record as Deaf Smith County's only five-star mother until some other proud parent comes forward for the title. Mrs. Johnson can also lay claim to some kind of title in that her sons are represented in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Army Air Corps.

The sons are Cpl. Perry Johnson, U. S. Marine Corps; Tommy Johnson, Navy; Pvt. Emmett Johnson, Army Air Force; PFC Clyde Johnson and Pvt. Leonard Johnson, Army (infantry).

Two of the sons, Perry and Emmett, are now in foreign service.

Right now, Mrs. Johnson says, she is expecting to learn any day that she is the mother of one or two sergeants and after the war is over she may have to referee a family small scale war on the question of which branch of the service won the big fight.

Community Rally And Victory Sing To Be January 28th

Featuring songs and stunts, a Victory Sing and Community Rally will be sponsored in the High School auditorium Jan. 28, according to announcements today.

The rally is part of a statewide presentation each month for the encouragement of War Bond and Stamp sales and climaxes the presentations, which have heretofore featured band numbers. The rally will be sponsored by the Federated Clubs, Civic Chorus and other organizations; Ralph Smith, Miss Mattie Mae Swisher and Miss Charlotte Wheat will have charge of arrangements.

Headlined among the features will be a series of stunts by each of the clubs and organizations of the community. The stunts will not be more than seven minutes in length and a prize of $5.00 in war stamps will be awarded the winning stunt.

In addition to promoting unity, better understanding and entertainment for the community, the rally will also feature who may be stationed at the Internment Camp, Lubbock. Songs will be presented by the various stunts and a person in the community will be invited to attend the rally.

Lt. Col. McBride New Commander At Alien Camp

Lt. Col. Robert W. McBride, commanding officer of the Hereford Internment Camp, comes here with a long record of Army experience, though the work here will be his first in internment camp control.

A native of Illinois, Colonel McBride entered the Army May 7, 1917, received his regular Army commission and has been in service ever since, having been on duty both in the continental United States and in various island possessions. He served four years in Hawaii and three years on Corregidor, having been transferred from the island fortress before the start of the war. He has been in the United States since December, 1940, and has served at Fort Sheridan, Ill., Ft. Totten, N. Y. and Ft. Monroe, Va., and has been on college detail at the University of Illinois.

Must Plant 90 Per Cent of War Crop Allotment

To clear up some of the questions in farmers' minds regarding features of the 1943 allotment plan, Joe Ellis of the AAA office this week stated that the main requirement for compliance is that the farmer must have planted up to 90 per cent of his war crop goal, if such a goal is established for his farm.

Since soy beans are the only "war crop" designated for the county, with a total goal of 3,559 acres, the majority of farms will not have a specific war crop goal.

Concerning the practice of summer-fallow, Ellis states that a farmer can summer-fallow the entire farm and still remain in compliance. However, producers are urged to increase production of feed crops as much as possible in order to provide feed for larger numbers of livestock and poultry.

According to statements made recently by officials of the state office, the same rulings on volunteer excess wheat acreages will be in effect as were in 1942.

Stretch Meat Ration With More And Better Sauces And Gravies

More and better sauces and gravies are one answer to the question of how to handle the wartime meat situation. As the war continues, meat becomes more precious, and the housewife has the job of making meat flavor go a long way.

Home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture offer these suggestions: Spread and save meat flavor with sauces. Give and get more servings with gravy. Treasure all tidbits of meat, scraps of fat, and drippings. Scrape the serving platter clean—and the cooking pan, too. Some of the finest meat flavor for sauce and gravy may be "browned on" the bottom of the pan. Don't make the mistake of washing it away in the dishpan. And remember that the secret of making a smooth thickened sauce or gravy is to blend flour with fat in equal quantity, then add cool or lukewarm liquid gradually while stirring the mixture over low heat. Sauce or gravy made this way will be free from lumps and will not separate. Proportions are: 1 1/2 to 2 tablespoons each of flour and fat with 1 cup of liquid.

Fat that drips from the meat in cooking usually provides enough for the gravy. But fat left over from other meat may be used, too. Very often a mixture of fat from different meats gives an extra food flavor to gravy or sauce. Fat as well as meat is extra valuable. Keep every scrap of edible fat clean, covered and cold, ready to use for sauces and gravies or for seasoning vegetables.

Several different liquids may be used in making sauce or gravy. The juice that cooks out of roasted or braised meat, or broth made by stewing bones is best for a brown gravy. Tomato juice may also be used, or the liquid drained off cooked vegetables. Water or milk or a mixture of these are also used. Milk is the liquid for light-colored gravy or sauce—for the "cream" gravy served with fried chicken, pork chops, and ground meat patties or for plain white sauce.

These three main ingredients—fat, flour, and liquid—provide most of the food value of the sauce. But the seasonings are the "makings" of the flavor. Seasonings are important, too, in giving variety to sauces and gravies. Even if you stretch meat with sauces often for the duration, you can avoid monotony in meals. In addition to salt and pepper, try seasoning with tomatoes and chopped parsley. Or try chopped celery leaves and chopped onion. Garlic cooked in the sauce and then removed before serving gives a delicious flavor to some sauces or gravies.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Chopped chives, grown in the sunny south window, add a dash of green color as well as a delicate onion flavor.

To make sauce hot, try grated horseradish, mustard, tabasco, chili powder or dried chili pepper cooked in the sauce and removed before serving. Many garden herbs, fresh and dried, are fine for sauce—mint, thyme, basil, marjoram, and others that grandmother used. Even spices like cloves, ginger, cinnamon and allspice have their place in seasoning meat sauces. For a sweet-sour sauce, both sugar and vinegar are used.

The home economists offer a couple of tips for successful use of any seasonings. First, they say, use too little rather than too much seasoning. Just "a suspicion" or "a dash" makes a better sauce that overwhelming flavor. Second, a blend or mixture of seasonings makes a more subtle flavor; than just one kind.

One of the most popular, economical and useful sauces for stretching meat is ground meat sauce. Use any kind of ground raw meat—beef, pork, lamb, veal—and brown in a skillet with a little fat. Then add chopped onion, chopped green pepper, and tomatoes. Cook until the onion is tender. Season with salt and pepper. Serve over spaghetti, macaroni, rice, or potatoes. This makes a one-dish meal.

Other popular sauces made with tomatoes are tomato gravy made of tomato juice added to the meat drippings in the pan; tomato sauce made of flour fat, cooked tomatoes seasoned with bay leaf, allspice, onion, cloves, pepper and salt; barbecue sauce, a sweet-sour highly seasoned tomato sauce made partly with meat broth; and Spanish or Creole sauce which has chopped cooked ham or bacon added to the tomato mixture. These various tomato sauces are good with any kind of meat.

Probably the favorite gravy for roasts and pot roasts, as well as for extending small pieces of meat, is a savory brown gravy. To make it blend in a pan 3 tablespoons of flour and 3 tablespoons of fat, from meat drippings, if possible. Set the pan over low heat. Add gradually with constant stirring 1 1/2 cups of cool or lukewarm broth or water. Cool the mixture slowly until smooth and thickened. If the meat drippings are not brown in color, use browned or "toasted" flour instead of white flour for thickening. Season with salt and pepper and any other seasoning preferred.

These are only a few of the many sauces and gravies for stretching the family meat supply. Other recipes can be found in a free bulletin available on request from the U. S. Department of Agriculture—"Meat For Thrifty Meals."

Home Service Unites Miss Whitehead And Staff Sgt. Z. O. Faughn of Vernon

Miss Madyne Whitehead and Staff Sgt. Z. O. Faughn were united in marriage at ten o'clock Friday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Whitehead. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Marvin Boyd, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hereford, in the presence of close friends and relatives.

The marriage vows were read as the couple stood in a wide doorway, between the living room and dining room, flanked by tall vases of red and white carnations.

The bride wore a winter-white frock with gold trim. Her flowers were gardenias which she carried with a white Bible belonging to her mother. For "something borrowed" she wore a double string of pearls belonging to a friend, and her "something blue" was a hand-made handkerchief.

After the ceremony refreshments were served from a table decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. For a short wedding trip the bride traveled in a black wool crepe dress trimmed in gold and white with matching accessories.

Mrs. Faughn is a graduate of Hereford High School and is one

Mrs. Alton Fraser Reviews "Hour Before Dawn" For Calliopians

Mrs. Alton Fraser reviewed "The Hour Before Dawn" (W. Somerset Maugham) at a meeting of the Calliopean Club held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Pitman Thursday evening.

Recommending the story for individual reading, Mrs. Fraser described the book as the story of an English family which strives to maintain its tradition, its way of life in the midst of the cataclysmic disruption of war-torn Britain. The Hendersons, sober, upright landowners for generations, have sunk their roots deep in their lovely Sussex estate; holding tenaciously to this piece of English earth, they have made the estate a symbol for a way of living and an attitude toward the world.

Hereford Laundry didn't wait to be DRAFTED!

"We enlisted the minute we heard the tragic news from Pearl Harbor. And we've been fighting hard ever since... not by carrying guns or dropping bombs... but fighting on the all-important Second Front. We've been fighting like the rest against rubber shortages, labor shortages, etc. We've been serving Hereford to the best of our effort, and we ask for your continued co-operation until Victory is ours."

HERE'S HOW WE SERVE UNCLE SAM!

1. Laundries maintain public health. This is important to communities because epidemics are frequent during wartime.
2. Laundries aid conservation of all classes of textiles by converting each week, millions of soiled and temporarily useless fabrics into hygienically clean and usable articles.
3. Laundries are equipped to handle, if necessary, laundry work for the armed forces of the United States.
4. Laundry plants would become absolutely necessary in the event of any large scale forced evacuation of large numbers of our population from cities.
5. Laundries are available for gas decontamination purposes in potential target areas.
6. Laundries release thousands of women for war industries, as well as for Red Cross and other war services.
7. Laundries solve the housewives' problems as increasing numbers of domestic servants go into war industries, and as the manufacture of domestic washers is prohibited.
8. Laundry delivery trucks serve housewives whose tires are no longer usable and who cannot carry bundles to laundries and then home again.

In planning for you our SUPPLIES FOR THE HOME FRONT, we have searched out the things that will best help you conserve and save.

Nobody's home is going to be too well heated this winter. We're all going to have to depend on body-warmth, conserved by means of warmer clothes and bedding.

Penney blankets, for more than forty years, have been famous all over the country. Our experience has stood us in good stead in these times of need. Again this winter, we have the blankets you must have to keep healthfully warm, and conserve fuel at the same time.

And though no one should buy anything not urgently needed, in this instance we suggest that an adequate, and even a lavish supply of warm bed coverings is a sound conservation measure.

Your Income Tax!

No. 2 In A Series
 Every individual is allowed a credit against his net income which varies with his domestic status, that is, whether he is (a) a single person, (b) a married person living with husband or wife, or (c) a head of family. This credit is known as personal exemption, and is shown on line 21 of the return Form 1040. The amount of the personal exemption also varies depending upon the period during which the taxpayer occupied the particular exemption status.

The personal exemption for a single person is $500 for the year; for a married person living with husband or wife, $1200; and for a "head of family," $1200. (Personal exemption as head of a family has no effect on liability to file a return.) For Federal income tax purposes, widows, widowers, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent, as well as persons who have never been married, are classed as single persons.

A head of family is defined as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for those dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may therefore, enjoy a head of family exemption under certain conditions.

Taxpayers using a Simplified Return (which is permitted if the gross income for the year is $3000 or less and derived solely from earnings from employment and or from dividends, interest and annuities) obtain personal exemption based on their status as of July 1 of the year. Thus, a taxpayer married and living with husband or wife on July 1 is entitled to $1200 personal exemption on Form 1040A; if he were a widower on July 1, his exemption would be $500; if he became a widower. The amount of the exemption is not deductible from the income but is reflected in the amount of tax shown in the table on the reverse side of the form.

Taxpayers using return Form 1040 obtain personal exemption proportionate with the number of months during which the particular status is held. Thus, for a person who married on July 1, (who was not a head of family prior to his marriage) the personal exemption would be $850 ($250 for the six months as a single man, plus $600 for the six months as a married man). In this example it is assumed that the wife has no income.

Married persons may, however, file joint returns, even though one has no income, and by filing a joint return, a couple married during the year may obtain an exemption amounting to the exemption to which they would be entitled for the period of married status, plus the amount of their individual exemptions prior to their marriage. In the example, given the total exemption in a joint return would be $1100 ($250 for each spouse for six months plus $600 for six months married status).

If a husband and wife living together both have income and file separate returns on Form 1040, the personal exemption applicable to a married person may be taken in the return of either or divided between them in any way as they may agree, but the total personal exemption taken in the two separate returns may not exceed $1200.

Care for my Car for my Country?

Sonny, what you do to your car is your business, although chances are you won't be able to get another while the war is on.

But what your daddy does to his car is the nation's business!

The American way of life is geared to the motor car. Every automobile is a vital part of our country's transportation system. It takes the war worker to his job, transports munitions, and carries civilians in their many essential travels which form the basic pattern of U. S. business.

Every car that is laid up for whatever reason places an additional burden on the already overtaxed railroad, street car, and bus systems. That is why cars and tires must be used wisely, must be preserved to play their part in holding war production at maximum.

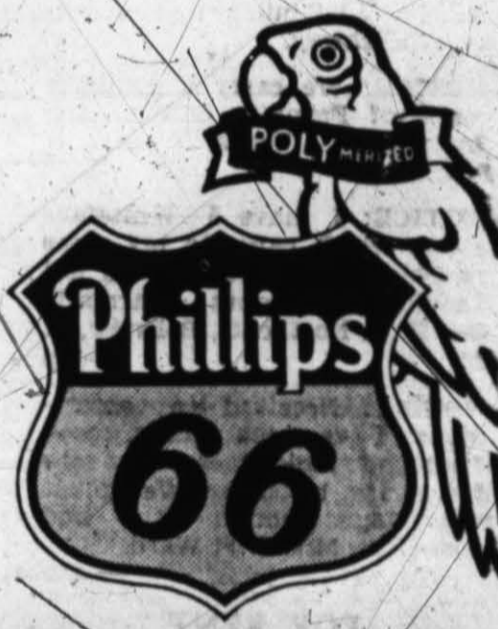

Your Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you Care For Your Car... For Your Country. And though you drive less miles, don't make the mistake of assuming that your car needs less care.

Reduced driving may actually increase crankcase dilution of oil by unburned fuel... may increase sludge because of added condensation of moisture. Both greatly reduce the motor protection and lubricating efficiency of your oil.

Your battery, with charging time cut down, will need more frequent inspection. And spark plugs must be scientifically adjusted to prevent waste of fuel.

Your Income Tax!

No. 2 In A Series

Every individual is allowed a credit against his net income which varies with his domestic status, that is, whether he is (a) a single person, (b) a married person living with husband or wife, or (c) a head of family. This credit is known as personal exemption, and is shown on line 21 of the return Form 1040. The amount of the personal exemption also varies depending upon the period during which the taxpayer occupied the particular exemption status.

The personal exemption for a single person is $500 for the year; for a married person living with husband or wife, $1200; and for a "head of family," $1200. (Personal exemption as head of a family has no effect on liability to file a return.) For Federal income tax purposes, widows, widowers, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent, as well as persons who have never been married, are classed as single persons.

A head of family is defined as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for those dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may therefore, enjoy a head-of-family exemption under certain conditions.

Taxpayers using a Simplified Return (which is permitted if the gross income for the year is $3000 or less and derived solely from earnings from employment and or from dividends, interest and annuities) obtain personal exemption-based on their status as of July 1 of the year. Thus, a taxpayer married and living with husband or wife on July 1 is entitled to $1200 personal exemption on Form 1040A. If he were a widower, on July 1, his exemption would be $500, irrespective of the date on which he became a widower. The amount of the exemption is not deductible from the income but is reflected in the amount of tax shown in the table on the reverse side of the form.

Taxpayers using return Form 1040 obtain personal exemption proportionate with the number of months during which the particular status is held. Thus, for a person who married on July 1, (who was not a head of family prior to his marriage) the personal exemption would be $850 ($250 for the six months as a single man, plus $600 for the six months as a married man). In this example it is assumed that the wife has no income.

Married persons may, however, file joint returns, even though one has no income, and by filing a joint return a couple married during the year may obtain an exemption amounting to the exemption to which they would be entitled for the period of married status, plus the amount of their individual exemptions prior to their marriage. In the example given the total exemption in a joint return would be $1100 ($250 for each spouse for six months plus $600 for six months married status).

If a husband and wife living together both have income and file separate returns on Form 1040, the personal exemption applicable to a married person may be taken in the return of either or divided between them in any way as they may agree, but the total personal exemption taken in the two separate returns may not exceed $1200.

Teacher Shortage Threatens Blackout On Educational Progress, Hill States

CANYON—Many communities of the Panhandle face an educational "blackout" next fall unless drastic steps are taken to meet the acute teacher shortage, President J. A. Hill of West Texas State College declared this week in announcing spring semester plans of his institution.

While West Texas State is offering short courses, pre-induction and pre-professional work, aviation mechanics, radio, and many other wartime classes, the college is at the same time mindful of the plight of schools in this area, Dr. Hill added.

With the assistance of Panhandle principals and superintendents, he proposes that a survey be made of persons who might, with some quick preparation, go into the schoolrooms in the emergency. The college will offer "refresher" courses and beginning classes in the spring semester opening January 26. It will have other courses leading to all Texas teaching certificates.

Dr. Hill noted that practically all young male teachers would be in military services or industries by next fall. Hundreds of young women are leaving the schoolrooms for military auxiliary services or jobs in business and industry which pays more than school teaching.

"Unless something far-reaching is done quickly, this generation of youth is going to reach adulthood with the poorest preparation to carry its rapidly increasing responsibilities that has characterized any like body of citizens in a quarter of a century," Dr. Hill said.

He called for increased salaries for teachers, re-entry of former teachers, acceptance of married women as teachers, and emphasis upon the importance of the teacher in this national emergency.

Do You Remember?

January 9, 1903

As had been announced from the pulpit on Sunday last and by circulars distributed on the day of the lecture, Rev. Granville Jones of Austin, appeared in the pulpit of the Baptist church Wednesday evening and delighted his audience, which filled the house to overflowing, with his interesting and educating discourse entitled "Boys Adrift."

His lecture was interspersed with humorous and pathetic anecdotes together with a strong plea for the abolishment of the saloons of the country, and gave statistics which were astonishing to even some of the most ardent prohibition workers.

The friends of Ross Witherspoon who was seriously injured by his horse coming in contact with a wire fence Christmas night, will be pleased to learn that he is improving rapidly.

M. Labadie, of Endee, N. M., well known as the former stage driver from this point to the former place, was in town yesterday and paid this office an appreciated visit.

Inquiry develops the fact that Tucumcari is a gay town, the eight saloons of which were running wide open last Sunday and big piles of money stacked upon the gaming tables. Hardly the place to take one's family.

After a span of 34 long years apart, not knowing each other's whereabouts, two brothers unexpectedly met in Hereford Tuesday and a joyful reunion followed. The two men are R. F. Farris of Hereford and Miles Farris of Kansas City, a traveling oil salesman for an Ohio concern.

Announcement is made by Chairman C. R. Smith of the local Exemption Board that Dr. J. W. Hicks has received the appointment from Governor Hobbs as Medical member of the Board, succeeding Dr. W. A. Price, resigned.

Local boy scouts, just after the holidays, purchased a Service Flag, containing one service star, and presented it to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ricketts of Hereford, parents of Claude Ricketts, former Scoutmaster, who is now in the service of Uncle Sam.

The Bay View Club met with Mrs. Jno. McLean on Thursday, January 3, 1918, with Mrs. Roloson as leader.

Mrs. J. E. Ferguson's paper on "The Oratorio, Its Origin and place in music today" was very interesting.

War recipes printed included one for ground-rice muffins and one for rye gems.

County Judge James A. Hughes is a candidate to succeed himself. The Brand feels that it would be like carrying coals to Newcastle to attempt to dwell on the qualifications of the candidate.

Dear Mom:

Well, you know the Lexington was sunk. So I know you'll be glad for this word that I didn't sink. Yes, I was in it, and all through it. . . . The Coral Sea stuff, and now that it's over I'm no kid any more and I can see why this war is to save America. Mom, I'd dry dishes for you for a month. For one quiet evening on our porch—Hearing crickets and tree toads. Twanging away and smelling moss roses. Are the strawberries ripe? Does Kitty still come over after supper? I wish I'd told her how swell she is. When the bombers came at us first, I felt goose-pimples and light all over. Then I saw Toby get killed—From California . . . my pal out here. And that made me feel like iron. So I could lick the whole Jap fleet. From then on I pumped lead like mad. Dad licked me once. For shooting him in the pants. With a bee-bee . . . and I remember that when my ack-ack caught a bomber square. I guess you don't know what war is. Till you see enemies coming to kill you. I've been thinking about it. It's not only us fighters. Our enemies want to kill. They want to kill you and grand-dad. They want to kill Uncle Jess and Kitty. And even the kids . . . They want to kill America. Do you see Mom? The Axis is all-out to win—There is no halfway in their plan. We have to be deadly tough. If we are to stop them soon enough. When I think these thoughts, I feel very old . . . do you see it too? One man returned from home. Said it was like a bad dream—So much awful war here. And life so much like usual back there. Are people at home fighting mad Mom? Fighting mad and determined? You feel awful helpless out here. If you get the idea That ALL of America isn't fighting this war. Did Jimmy pass into 6th grade? Tell Kehoe I haven't had a decent Chocolate sundae since I joined up. I love you Mom.

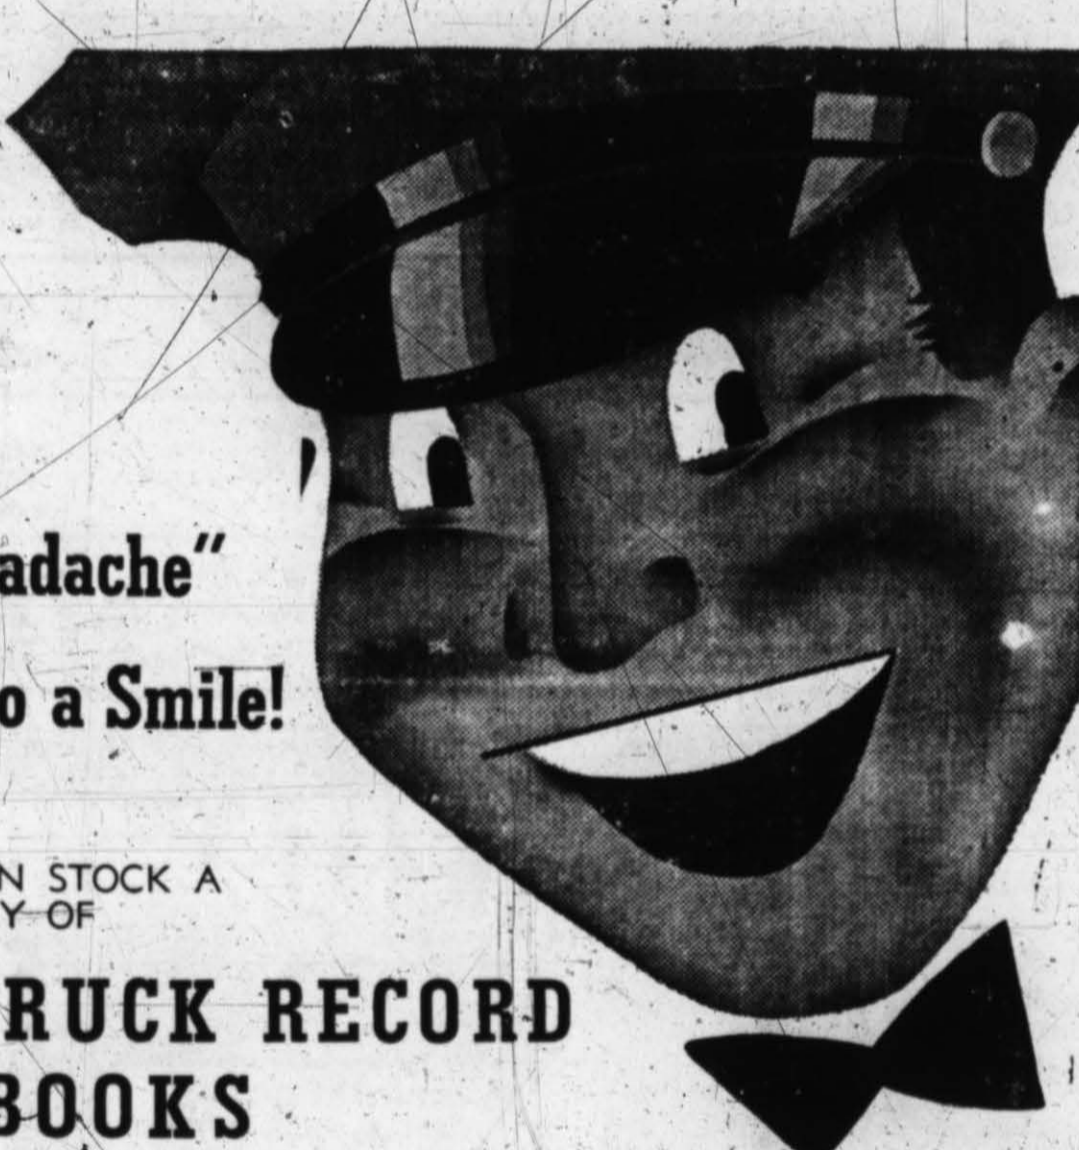

BRAD.

P. S. I'll be home when I get better. Instead of glasses—please don't feel bad—I'll only need a monocle now.

The McBride's are living in the B. M. Wiltshire home on West Fifth street.

Camp Policies
Concerning operation of the camp, Colonel McBride states that it will be his aim at all times to secure cooperation between camp personnel and townspeople in all dealings between the two. At present he is pledging his fullest cooperation in writing to housing authorities to secure the allocations of material necessary to convert local homes into duplexes and apartments suitable for use by camp employees, officers and their families.

As to the arrival of prisoners—types of prisoners who will be interned, etc., Colonel McBride states that all such information comes under the head of military information and cannot be divulged.

the fact that the National Housing Agency did not know of any type of war construction work in Hereford until told of the matter by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce.

Housing For Civilians Only
According to most recent information from the Dallas office, Hereford would be eligible to receive building materials for the remodeling and rehabilitation of old houses to accommodate the war camp workers, providing it can be proved that the housing will meet a civilian need. If the project is deemed military, there is no relief in sight, at least through the aid of the National Housing Agency. Average cost of converting old homes into duplexes or creating small apartments in existing structures is estimated at about $1,300. With the apartments renting at from $40 to $50 a month (furnished) it is figured that the cost of construction could be liquidated within a year.

Can Keep Payroll

As conditions now stand, housing facilities can take care of only a fraction of the estimated number who will be seeking homes in Hereford—and Chamber of Commerce members look with disfavor upon the practice of some landlords in raising rents to unreasonable levels. The ultimate effect of such practices, civic leaders point out, will be to drive away from Hereford a large payroll. By cooperation to keep rents at a fair level, landlords can do much to maintain good will between camp employees and local citizens.

Efforts are continuing unceasingly to secure the allocation of critical materials here to ease the housing situation. In the meantime, the Chamber of Commerce and interested citizens want it understood that blame for the delay in securing adequate housing definitely does not lie in Hereford.

The Tom Carter Real Estate office is now located across the street from the Brand office in the building formerly occupied by the Midget Cafe. Mr. Carter invites his friends to come in and inspect the new office.

Give your dog that air of distinction—this is no ad for a dog personality course, in fact it's no ad at all—just an announcement that the city now has 1943 dog tags, and to make Fido legal, owners should pay the $1 fee for one of the new tags.

Jesse Stanford returned last week from a trip to furniture markets at Chicago, Ill., and Burlington, Ia. Manufacturers, generally, are predicting a serious furniture shortage by the latter half of 1943, Mr. Stanford says.

Bob Green At Oran
Joe Green this week brought in a letter from his nephew, Pvt.

Robert W. Green, who is now stationed somewhere in North Africa and whose letter gives a good picture, both of the surprise landing of the American forces and of the attitude of the French and the Arabs toward the occupation army. Green's letter, written Nov. 13, follows:
Dear Folks,
I suppose you are wondering what has happened to me since I haven't written in such a long while, but I really haven't had a chance to write as I was aboard ship for a long time.

I had a very exciting time on my birthday as we entered and captured the city of Oran. We entered the city under a barrage of heavy artillery fire and believe me those big shells whistling around makes a guy feel pretty uncomfortable. After we entered the city, however, all the opposition we had was from snipers who fired at us from trees and buildings, but we finally cleaned most of them out. Most of the civilian population out here are glad that we came over.

When we got into the city, we had a hard time keeping those Frenchmen from kissing us. They would all cheer and clap their hands as we went down the streets.

You should see these Arabs out here. Believe me they are some funny people and they sure do like our cigarettes.

The Vichy soldiers had quite a few American soldiers prisoners in Oran and they were glad to see us coming as they were soon all free again.

Well, I guess I had better close for the time being and will write again as soon as possible. Don't worry about me because I will be all right and take care of yourselves—I received that carton of cigarettes just before I left England and was sure glad to get them.

Pvt. Robert W. Green

KINSEY MOTOR CO.

Let's Talk About Furniture

THERE ARE lots of interesting developments in this business... lots of things we feel you would like to know.

FOR INSTANCE... you have been able to walk in and buy most of the things you have wanted during the past year — despite wartime conditions.

AT LEAST, you got the essentials... but, things will be different in 1943!

After visiting some of the largest markets in the country, we have come to the conclusion that most furniture items will continue on the market much as in the past during the FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1943. Some items, of course, are already impossible, and will remain so for the duration.

During the LAST Six Months in 1943 many furniture items will join these impossibles, getting more and more difficult to secure as the weeks roll past. In other words, present stocks over the country will take care of the demand until July or August of 1943, provided normal buying conditions continue. After this, we will purchase from our wholesale dealers on a ration basis.

In view of these things, we suggest that you take every possible means of conserving and protecting the furniture which you already possess. In doing this, you will serve yourself — and at the same time will perform a real service for your country.
