Miss Hereford Hopefuls In CC Fashion Show Tonight

By DENISE SMITH
Staff Writer

Twenty-seven girls vying for the title of Miss Hereford will be featured in a style show at the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division quarterly meeting this evening at 7:30 at the Hereford Country Club.

Miss Hereford contestants will be modeling the latest fall and winter styles. Shirley Wilson, chairman of the steering committee will emcee the show.

Winners of the recent Little Miss Pageant will be guests in the show, modeling several fall outfits. They include Lexi Sciombato, Cutest Miss; Nicki Lindeman, Miss Petite; Sheila Mullin, Little Princess; and Teresa Pibbs, Miss Junior High.

With the Miss Hereford pageant scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 15 in the high school auditorium, the contestants have been and will continue to be busy with special parties in their honor, and with dress rehearsals.

Recently a modeling course was held for the girls in the Library Heritage Room under the direction of Carmen Flood. The girls were instructed as how to walk and were given a make-up demonstration. Terri Morgan at this time introduced the girls to their opening production for the night of the pageant.

On July 20, the girls will attend a swimming party at the home of Bill Thompson. Christi Crofford, a contestant herself, will host the party.

Beginning Aug. 8 the girls will be in rehearsal from 6-9 p.m. each evening for approximately one week. Mrs. Flood, Mrs. Morgan and Keith Ann Gearn will help with the rehearsals.

The day of the pageant the girls will be busy with interviews and talent productions.

A morning brunch will be held at 10 a.m. at the E.B. Black House hosted by the women's division. At this time the 27 contestants will be interviewed by a panel of three judges. Arvella Lauderback is chairman of the committee hosting the brunch.

That afternoon the girls will present their talent to the judges at the high school auditorium. The talent phase is open to the public, with an admission fee of $1.

The evening of the pageant will be an exciting and important time for the girls. The pageant will open with a full production, including all the girls with dancing and singing to "Raising A Ruckus." The theme is western. This event will be followed by the judging of evening gowns, from which the top 10 girls will be selected. Then these girls will perform their talent

Manor Barbecue Tickets on Sale

Tickets are now on sale for the third annual King's Manor Barbecue, it was announced today by chairman Donald Hicks.

Tickets are $10 each or $25 per family, and Nadine Hill (364-1706) is advance ticket sales chairperson. Tickets will also be sold at the barbecue, scheduled from 5 to 9 p.m. Saturday on the Manor campus.

Hicks said the success of the event the first two years "convince us that Hereford and the surrounding area want to support King's Manor, and the barbecue is a good way to get the job done."

The King's Manor Founders Association, which helps fund the home, started the event for two important reasons, says Hicks. "First, we wanted to foster more togetherness and awareness between the residents and the community; second, we wanted to raise funds to help the home provide the finest care at the lowest possible cost."

Although King's Manor-Westgate is a non-profit, charitable arm of the Northwest Texas United Methodist Church, it is non-sectarian in its operation and cares for people of all faiths. It offers both "retirement living" in apartments and cottages, and geriatric health care for those too ill to care for themselves.

"Many of the residents pay only a part of the cost of their care, but some pay the full cost and make financial contributions, as well," said Hicks.

The home has 150 residents, 84 employees and an annual payroll of $738,000. The

Dupont, Conoco Merge

NEW YORK (AP) — Du Pont Co. is launching a major invasion of the energy business with its plan to buy Conoco Inc., giving the giant chemical and plastics company guaranteed access to the petroleum that is the raw material for many Du Pont products.

The merger deal, which would be the largest corporate takeover ever, has won the endorsement of the beleaguered management of Conoco, which was scrambling for a merger partner to avoid an unfriendly takeover offer. But the deal, announced Monday, wasn't as enthusiastically received by Du Pont stockholders.

The merger would create the seventh-largest industrial company in the nation. Conoco ranks 14th on the list, bas-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale food prices, unchanged for most of the spring, began rising in June, pushing the nation's inflation ahead at an annual rate of 6.9 percent at the wholesale level, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Producer Price Index for finished goods has now risen at an annual rate of 9.5 percent for the first half of the year — well under last year's 11.8 percent. And analysts see little likelihood that the rate for all of 1981 will edge over 10 percent.

The wholesale price index rose a seasonally adjusted 0.6 percent in June — slightly above May's 0.4 percent but still the second-best month this year.

Economists are forecasting that the rate will remain relatively low for at least the next few months, particularly in light of the current ready availability of oil worldwide.

Food prices, however, probably will continue rising during the summer, keeping overall inflation from dropping further than it has in the last few months, analysts say.

Prices for finished consumer foods — those ready for retail sale — rose 0.5 percent in June after remaining virtually level during the previous two months, the new Labor Department report said.

Food prices had shown almost no net change since November, although they fluctuated during the winter months.

A wide variety of food prices rose in June, but meat was the biggest factor. Prices for beef and veal, for example, rose 2.4 percent after climbing only 0.3 percent in May.

Wholesale prices for finished energy goods rose 0.2 percent in June after declining 0.5 percent in May, but analysts say no big new energy jumps are expected soon.

Overall, prices of finished consumer goods rose 0.5 percent in June after rising 0.2 percent in May, the report said.

Capital equipment prices rose 0.7 percent, led by increases for aircraft, heavy trucks and various machinery.

All the figures are adjusted

Reagan Nominates Woman to Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan today nominated Judge Sandra D. O'Connor of the Arizona Court of Appeals to become the first woman justice in the history of the Supreme Court.

Reagan called this "the most awesome appointment" that presidents make because justices leave "footprints on the sands of time."

Reagan chose Mrs. O'Connor to succeed the retiring Potter Stewart, whose decision to leave the high court opened the first vacancy there in six years.

The president made his announcement even as far-right conservatives mounted a mail-and-telegram campaign in opposition to her nomination, on grounds she had supported the Equal Rights Amendment and had not opposed abortion.

His choice of a woman justice fulfilled a campaign promise made last Oct. 14, when candidate Reagan said "one of the first Supreme Court vacancies in my administration will be filled by the most qualified woman I can find."

Solons Ruling Out SS Tax Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key Senate Republicans are ruling out further Social Security tax increases, despite a fresh warning that the retirement fund will be bankrupt by the end of 1982 unless taxes are raised or benefits are slashed.

On the eve of Senate hearings today, Sens. William L. Armstrong of Colorado and Bob Dole of Kansas stopped short of endorsing President Reagan's proposals for major reductions in benefits, including a hefty penalty for early retirement.

Armstrong compared Monday's annual assessment of Social Security's solvency to "a slow-motion fall off a cliff."

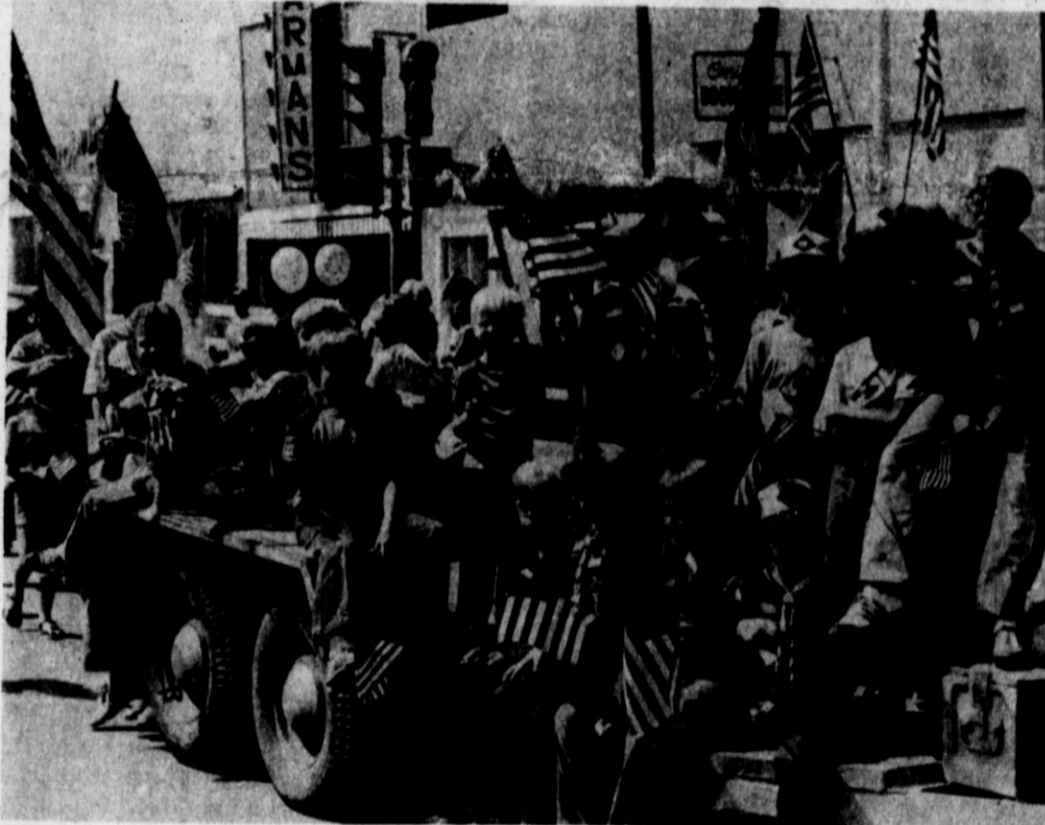

"We can see the end coming but still have a little time to consider saving alternatives," he said.

But he and Dole also ruled out another alternative — using general revenue funds in an effort to make the retirement fund solvent.

Health and Human Services Secretary Richard Schweiker and John Svahn, head of the Social Security Administration, were called before Armstrong's Senate Finance subcommittee today to testify on the administration's plans for rescuing the retirement fund.

The system's trustees reported Monday that the retirement fund will go broke by the end of next year and the related Medicare program could fall within the decade unless taxes are raised.

Flag Wavers

City Postpones Action On Bids for Computer System

By GAIL FIELDS
Staff Writer

Hereford City Commissioners last night agreed to hold off on accepting a bid for the city's computer system until City Manager Dudley

Bayne can check out leasing options on the equipment.

The city is reviewing bids submitted by IBM, NCR and Turnkey. Bayne said he is leaning toward NCR, whose bid proposal states a one-time cost of $98,263, and a total annual maintenance cost of $6,260.

IBM's total one-time cost is $89,595 and its total annual maintenance is $6,480. However, Bayne said NCR will be cheaper than IBM after two years because IBM stipulates that its software be leased for $6,528 a year. IBM will not sell its software. Turnkey appears to be the highest bidder with a total one-time cost of $116,668, and a total annual maintenance cost of $9,922.

In other city business, the commissioners voted to accept bids as a means to renew city insurance, however, the matter does not need to be settled until some of the insurance expires in September.

There was some question among commissioners about the benefits of accepting bids for city insurance as opposed to allowing various agencies to share the city's business. Commissioner R.W. "Bud" Eades told the commission that he didn't think accepting bids would necessarily get the city the best insurance deal, and that sharing the insurance among agencies would give the smaller agencies a chance to participate. Other commissioners, however, pointed out that in the past, insurance agents in the city had agreed to share the city's business, and while this arrangement took some pressure off the commissioners in deciding which agency to choose, it didn't produce the varying rates a more competitive situation would allow.

The commissioners agreed that the city should work toward a common expiration date for its insurance so the insurance question would arise only once a year. Eades abstained from the vote.

Also last night, the commissioners decided to open for bidding a piece of city-owned land that borders Master's Apartments. Lloyd Sharp, of Empire Enterprises, the company which recently bought the apartments, came before

Inmates At Large

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — Three Midland County jail inmates remained at large Monday, possibly in the vast, rural area surrounding Midland, a day after they overpowered two jailers and escaped after briefly holding the guards hostage, Sheriff Dallas Smith said.

Smith identified the escapees as 38-year-old Willie Bustillos Jr., who was held on a theft charge; 33-year-old Wallace Lee Sims, held on credit card abuse and burglary charges and 21-year-old Frank Sidney Smith, who was sentenced to 10 years in prison on a robbery conviction and was being held on a felony escape charge.

Smith said the prisoners took jailers Ted Macklin and Gary Morgan hostage for a short time during a security check late Sunday night and then made their way down a stairwell, broke a ground-floor window in the courthouse and fled on foot.

Macklin was treated for cuts on his head after the escape, but neither jailer was seriously injured, Smith said.

The sheriff said the escapees could be armed, but he said the number and type of weapons, if any, was not known.

"Govmobile" Rolls Into Texas

DELL CITY, Texas (AP) — Behind the wheel of a motor home dubbed the "Govmobile," former El Paso Mayor Tom Westfall rolled into the West Texas community of Dell City — the first stop on his quest for the Texas governorship.

Westfall, who said he chose the town of 526 people because it "might be lucky," opened his campaign with a series of barbs at Republican Gov. Bill Clements.

The former FBI agent called Clements "a representative of big money" during his first speech en route to the May Democratic primary.

Westfall, 53, said he will focus criticism on Clements instead of other Democrats to keep his party from fracturing after the primary.

Westfall urged residents here to reject Austin millionaire politicians like Clements, who spent about $6.5 million to win the governorship in 1978.

Jail Hunger Strike Ends

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A hunger strike by 200 prisoners at the Bexar County Jail has ended with Sheriff Joe Neaves resolving "a couple of bottlenecks" that upset the inmates.

"I think they decided to eat. They all appear to be eating that nourishing jail food," Neaves said late Monday after he met with six representatives of the inmates.

Neaves said the prisoners were upset about crowded condition during visitation days and at the jail library.

"I met with six of them and I think we worked things out," the sheriff said. "There are a couple of bottlenecks that we worked out."

He said changes were made to speed up the visiting process so more prisoners would have a chance to visit with their families each week, and to provide inmates their trial dates from the library.

"A bunch of them were going to the law library trying to find our court dates. Now we're going to give them their court dates in their jail cells."

Neaves said 200 of the jail's prisoners refused to accept jail food on Sunday, but at the same time reported a run on "junk food" at the jail commissary.

Before the apparent settlement was reached Monday, Neaves had threatened to close the commissary to ensure that the hunger strike was a legitimate one and so that prison food would not be unnecessarily wasted.

Trustee Sentenced For Burglarizing County Office

DAINGERFIELD, Texas (AP) — A county jail trusty, who would have gone free Monday after a robbery charge against him was dropped, ended up with a prison sentence after he was found guilty of burglarizing a judge's office, officials said.

Gary Lynn Hutchins, 26, pleaded guilty to the burglary charge and was sentenced to six years in state prison Monday — the same day that Judge B.D. Moye dismissed the original robbery charge lodged against the Knoxville, Tenn., man in December 1980.

Morris County Sheriff Joe Skipper said Hutchins became a trusty shortly after his arrest, helping with courthouse maintenance while awaiting trial in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Skipper said the man earned the respect of many in the courthouse with his hard work and apparent change of heart.

The burglary charge was recently lodged against Hutchins after $125 was found missing from one of the courthouse offices.

"He was a hard working boy," Skipper said. "If he had kept his nose clean...he would have been freed."

Paul Harvey News Is the Majority Moral?

Is the majority moral?

The Supreme Court has said we can have it as we want it, that we can legislate morality by "contemporary community standards."

If your community does not want to tolerate a morality it does not have to.

But is the majority moral? The "do your own thing" ethic of the last two decades evolved to fill a vacuum. Churches had equivocated, parents talked one way and acted another, schools taught moral value neutrality.

So a generation without an anchor drifted downwind.

Then along came the election of a born-again Christian president in 1976 and an even more dramatic impact by "moral majority" voters in 1980 — re-raising the possibility that our nation's silent majority is bigger than the vocal minorities who have been running things, the possibility that there is in fact a moral majority.

Century Three Foundation, Oak Brook, Ill., is trying to get Americans to think about it.

George Gallup, the professional pollster, has demonstrated an intense interest in this Century Three project.

Gallup is aware that his hit-and-run questions measure "initial thought," rarely "deliberate thought."

This Century project involves workshops wherein citizens consider a moral code for their own community.

Founder Art Melvin insists that attendees are not "indoctrinated," merely informed.

Philosophers, historians, theologian, psychologists, scholars of all ages and from every discipline have generally agreed that no society can long endure without a living body of beliefs.

But we need a moral standard to guide our value judgments.

If religion used to provide that moral standard, its guidelines have been blurred and adherence to those guidelines has been diluted.

From central government we will never get — would never want — a superimposition of religion.

So the Supreme Court, wisely, has left it to each community to decide for itself such questions as pornography in publications and in entertainment media.

Century Three workshops amount to a Gallup Poll in depth.

Attendees from a full range of backgrounds are given a chance to explore their own thinking and thus communicate local opinion to local lawmakers.

It is the most logical approach yet to seeking and describing community consensus on moral matters.

Deliberation frequently distinguishes what we "want to do" from what we "ought to do."

And 14 years experience with these workshops indicates that Americans want to do what they ought to do — when they think about it.

July 10 Deadline For Supporting GSPA Lawsuit

By JULIE SMILEY
Staff Writer

July 10 is the deadline set for raising local fund monies to support the Grain Sorghum Producer's lawsuit in behalf of High Plains grain farmers.

Corn, shipped by the Commodity Credit Corporation from northern corn-belt states, is being sold in competition with grain produced by High Plains farmers, and GSPA believes this is illegal, according to a July 1 press release.

GSPA Executive Director, Elbert Harp, Abernathy, said, "We lack a long ways of collecting the money, but after this week's meetings we should know." If enough money is collected along with support from farmers, elevator managers and bankers, GSPA will initiate a lawsuit blocking further corn sales and collect damages from the CCC.

Harp said, "We have worked with USDA and our High Plains congressmen for months, seeking a solution to this problem. All political avenues have been exhausted." GSPA has been joined by Texas Corn Growers Association, Texas WIFE, Texas Farmers Union, and members of all area farm organizations, according to Harp.

Grain farmers and concerned businessmen have scheduled regional meetings throughout the High Plains to discuss the grain sales and consider the proposed legal action. A spontaneous "kickoff" meeting in Muleshoe June 29 drew a large audience, Harp said.

North Plains elevators are sponsoring a lunch in Dumas on Wednesday. Scheduled for 12 p.m., the free lunch will be served in the Dumas Community Building.

Farmers in the eastern High Plains area will meet in Plainview on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Hale County State Bank Meeting Room.

Harp said it is estimated that the CCC sales will cost a million-pound producer at least $5,000 in lost market prices. Farmers are being asked to invest at a rate of $250 per million pounds of production to support the legal action.

"Lots of elevators have not sent in their collection," said Harp. "But, after one week's time we are well on our way to collecting the funds needed." GSPA announced its proposed lawsuit June 28.

Checks are being mailed to "GSPA Legal Fund," Box R, Abernathy, Texas, 79311. Interested groups may call 806-298-2543 for additional information.

Burglars Know No Holidays

Burglars and thieves forgot to take the weekend off for the Fourth of July holiday in Hereford, hitting businesses, residences and vehicles, not letting even Sunday morning worship halt their wave of crime.

Over $1,000 in merchandise was taken in a burglary at the El Chico Record Shop at 134 Main Street early Friday morning. Among the items taken in the break-in were several portable cassette tape recorders, radios, clocks, calculators, 8-track players, and auto speakers.

Thieves hit vehicles at three different churches Sunday morning while the owners were at the services. Adeline Loerwald had a purse taken from her car while it was parked at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. Taken along with the handbag was a billfold containing about $20 in cash as well as her drivers' license and several credit cards.

Also, Morris Means of the Community Church reported that a car had been broken into at that church, with a Soni cassette player and earphones, valued at $200 taken. And, Reggie Salazar told police that someone entered his vehicle while he was attending San Jose Catholic Church services Sunday morning, taking $8 in cash.

TG&Y, 1115 W. Park Ave., reported the theft of several shopping carts, but the missing items were later recovered. Pratt Chevrolet, North Highway 385, reported several tires removed from new vehicles on its lot Friday evening, and Burke Inman Trucking reported that someone had entered that business over the weekend, but nothing had been found missing.

Individual residences didn't escape the thieves either over the weekend, with three thefts reported. Rojelio Lopez, 445 Paloma Lane, told police someone entered his home through a window and took a Hereford Cablevision HBO box, assorted jewelry, and about $25 in cash. Clifton Carlton, 110 W. 6th, reported a break-in in which a $600 stereo and a portable black and white TV were stolen, and Cecil Lady, 500 W. Third, reported a battery, valued at $75, taken from his pickup parked at that address. Two malicious mischief reports were also taken by the HPD over the weekend.

Lucia Juajardo, at the Office Club at 120 Lawton, reported that her car had been damaged by someone. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $250, and police do have a suspect in that case.

James Buxton, 822 Brevard, told police that someone had driven through his yard Saturday afternoon, tearing up the lawn.

Police issued 36 traffic citations over the weekend, while investigating three minor accidents. They also answered 39 police related calls, received five juvenile reports, and arrested five persons for DWI and four more for public intoxication.

Death Toll Surpasses Predictions

By The Associated Press
Two traffic accidents claimed the lives of six people during the waning hours of the July Fourth weekend and pushed Texas' death toll to 55 for the holiday weekend — 11 more than state officials had expected.

A three-car head-on collision killed one person and injured 10 others near Ganado and four people died when a car plunged into a lake north of Startzville between 8 p.m. and midnight Sunday, the last four hours of the Independence Day traffic count, the Texas Department of Public Safety said Monday. A DPS spokesman said the weather would have to be considered a contributing factor to the heavy weekend death toll. Rain and fog reduced visibility significantly in some areas of the state at a time when many travelers began the return trip home.

At least 17 of the victims were pedestrians, a third of the others died in one-vehicle smashups, and 19 percent of the fatalities resulted from head-on collisions, the DPS said.

Gloria Saks, 38, of San Antonio and her two daughters, 11-year-old Trece Saks and 10-year-old Robin Saks, and 90-year-old Ethel Saks died when the car they were riding in left the road two miles north of Startzville late Sunday night and plunged into a lake, the DPS said.

Marisa Janik, 18, of Missouri City died Sunday night in a three-car head-on collision that injured 10 others on Highway 172 five miles south of Ganado, the DPS said.

Odin Edward Turner, 52, of Austin, was killed early Sunday when his car left the road in Milam County. Alonzo Y. Perez Jr., 19, of Corpus Christi, was killed in a three-car accident Sunday south of Corpus Christi and Barry L. Jones, 28, of San Antonio died Sunday in a two-car collision in San Antonio.

Pedestrian Elmer Smith, 57, was killed when he was struck by a pickup in Wichita Falls Sunday night and Ozra Scott, 82, of Fort Worth, died Sunday of injuries she sustained in a Fort Worth accident that killed Oscar E. Reagh, 71, of Abilene earlier in the day.

The land is located east of Master's Apartments and runs about 264 feet north and south and extends east to about Avenue C. Sharp, said the land equals about .07 of an acre and contains some trees.

City Attorney Ernest Langley said he does not see why the city needs the land, but it seems the deed to the land will have to be straightened out before any action in the matter can be taken. Sharp told the commission the land had been deeded him by Mr. Pitman, but Langley said there already might have been a deed out on the land. Commissioners handled other business in that same area of the city. The commissioners voted to officially close the section of Avenue A ed on sales, one place ahead of Du Pont, which ranks first in the chemical field.

The current takeover record is held by Shell Oil Co., which paid $3.6 billion for Brelidge Oil Co. in 1979.

Conoco, a major oil company and owner of Consolidation Coal, the nation's second-largest coal company, has been fighting an unwelcome $2.55-billion offer from Seagram Co. Ltd. of Canada for 41 percent of its stock. Seagram, which is offering $73 a share, declined to comment Monday on the Du Pont offer.

Du Pont stock fell $4.875 a share, to $46.375, in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange Monday after the deal was announced. At the same time, Conoco stock rose $7.375, to $77.

The drop in Du Pont stock cut the value of the deal to $6.8 billion from the $7.3 billion price tag originally put on the acquisition based on the price of Du Pont stock last week.

Du Pont proposes to acquire 40 percent of all Conoco stock for $3 billion in cash, at $87.50 a share, and to acquire the rest at an exchange rate of 1.6 Du Pont shares for each Conoco share. The value of 1.6 Du Pont shares fell Monday to $74.20 from $82.

Jack Henry, an analyst with E.F. Hutton & Co., said some investors have been enthusiastic about Du Pont's growing ventures in health care and electronics products, which would be proportionately less important after Du Pont swallows the larger Conoco.

Like most oil companies, Conoco is already involved in chemicals. Last year, it reported $1 billion in revenues and $44.3 million in profits from chemical operations, which included a joint venture with Monsanto, a major Du Pont competitor.

But the deal could escape opposition from Washington on antitrust grounds because Du Pont is not heavily involved in petrochemicals and because the Reagan administration is more sympathetic to large mergers than was the Carter administration. The Justice Department did not comment.

McClendon, who has been covering the White House for 34 years, thinks the President's health is not as good as projected, and she expects Vice President George Bush to assume a more active role. She regards Bush as a "most decent man and a very able and highly qualified individual in every respect."

McClendon reported that Texans had much to do with the passage of the president's budget and tax bills. "Phil Gramm is a brilliant economist, and he deserves much credit for the budget and tax bills," said McClendon.

"I had some doubts in the beginning," she commented, "but I believe Mr. Reagan's plans make more sense all the time."

Speaking of the President, his sweet tooth is doing as much for the jelly bean as President Ford did for golf and President Nixon did for expletives.

Reagan has a preference for the Jelly Belly brand from Oakland, Calif., and the demand for that particular brand is difficult to fill, according to reports around the country.

What's the difference between the jelly beans? According to a report we read, the Jelly Belly has natural flavor all the way through, whereas many jelly beans are simply corn starch covered in a flavored outer coat.

The report, compiled by Schweiker, Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan and Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan, urged Congress to act quickly to adopt the Reagan plan or one "which will accomplish the same objectives."

"I don't expect we will raise payroll taxes — they are already a back-breaking burden — and I don't think we will go into the general revenue fund," Armstrong said. "That's sort of like asking Chrysler. The rest is completely negotiable."

Dole, the Senate Finance chairman, said the trustees' projections "underscore the need for Congress to move quickly to restore the soundness of the Social Security system."

He noted that a series of increasingly gloomy trustees' reports in the mid-1970s led to the enactment in 1977 of the largest peacetime tax increase in U.S. history.

About 115 million workers pay payroll taxes. Some 35 million people receive benefits from the old age and disability funds and nearly 25 million are enrolled in the Medicare program.

The current payroll deduction rate is 6.65 percent on incomes up to $29,700. It is scheduled to rise to 7.65 percent over the next decade, and the income ceiling will go up as well.

Svahn said Monday that the system will experience a shortfall of from $10 billion to $111 billion over the next five years, depending upon which economic forecasts are used.

Some of Social Security's financial problems may be attributed to higher-than-expected inflation, a growing trend toward earlier retirement, longer lifespans and the end of the baby boom.

4-H Firsthand 4-H'ers To Study Citizenship In Washington This Summer

By PENNY CRIBBS
County Extension Agent

Nearly 5,000 teenage 4-H members from 44 states will participate this summer in week-long sessions of the Citizenship-Washington Focus Program at the National 4-H Center in Washington, D.C. The program begins May 31 and continues through August 8.

These young people will study individual citizenship responsibilities, our national heritage and system of government, points out Penny, County 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Special emphasis will be placed on leadership skills related to economics, jobs and careers; international interdependence; health, food and agriculture; and conservation and use of natural resources and community citizenship.

Using the nation's capital as a classroom, the program includes a day on Capitol Hill to meet with members of Congress and see government in action, visits to federal agencies and national organizations, and field trips to historical and cultural sites.

Intensive seminars focus on how skills and knowledge gained can be applied to 4-H programs in local communities, notes Penny.

Citizenship-Washington Focus is conducted by the national 4-H Council in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service of state land-grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In Texas, this program is conducted through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas 4-H'ers will depart by bus on July 28 and will return on August 11, seeing a large part of America along the way. This is called the 4-H Citizenship Shortcourse and Heritage Tour.

For more information on this and other 4-H programs, contact your county Extension office, adds Penny.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

For years, parents have been trying to figure out where they went wrong with their children. Did we nag too much? Love too little? Hold the reins too tight? Give in to social pressure?

When I think back on it, everything started to go downhill when digital watches came into being. Teaching a child to tell time is the only thing a mother ever does that a child believes in and has respect for.

My mother couldn't do anything. She couldn't spit through her teeth without dribbling on her chin. She couldn't put two fingers in her mouth and whistle. She couldn't ride a two-wheel bicycle without hands. She couldn't pick up eight jacks at a time. She couldn't hold her breath and count to a hundred without fainting. The woman was useless.

But one day I discovered she could glance at a clock and tell you exactly the hour and the minutes you had to play, come to dinner, go to bed or take your bath. She was a mathematical genius.

I figured out that if I had a watch of my own I'd soon have control over my own life. When I asked her for one, she laughed her little remember-who-is-nearer-the-floor laugh and said, "We'll see."

It took me three years to learn how to tell time. Every morning we sat at the dining room table and mother would point out how the big hand, within the next 60 minutes, would travel toward the china cabinet, then to the bay windows, to the kitchen and the door to the basement before the small hand would move toward the fireplace.

I caught on quickly. Then we moved. This time, the big hand would begin its clockwise descent toward the refrigerator, then the sink, the back yard and eventually the sewing closet.

I learned things about my mother during those years that I had never known before. Her ring finger was skinnier than the rest of them. She was pretty when she smiled. She didn't have to run alongside a bicycle balancing me to gain my respect. She was patient.

Then watches came out that beeped, lit up in the dark, went right on ticking after they'd been tied to a motor boat, and had little buttons that you pushed and flashed the time. And mothers had made such a big deal out of it.

Something interesting is happening, though. There's a new watch just out with a voice on it that not only announces the time, but if the alarm isn't reset in five minutes the voice nags, "Attention, please! Please hurry!"

Mothers don't give up easily, do they?

Ann Landers

Illicit Sex Is Exciting

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I realize the odds against getting my letter in print are about 10,000 to 1, but I'm trying anyway. I hope you can help me understand something.

My wife and I were engaged for nearly three years. During that time we had a wonderful sexual relationship. It was almost as if we had invented it. We were both convinced that no one in the world enjoyed sex as much as we did.

Almost immediately after we married, my wife lost all interest in bedroom activity. Since it was no longer forbidden fruit, it wasn't fun anymore. Why?--Paradise Lost

DEAR LOST: Usually this sort of thing happens to males. It is called the Madonna-Whore Syndrome. Illicit sex is exciting. Respectable sex is dull.

How people think about sex goes back to their childhood. Apparently your wife was turned on by the daring, risky, sneaking-around aspect of premarital sex. Once it became respectable, it lost its zest. Too bad for her--and for you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Here's a belated comment about ill-mannered guests (and relatives) who gobble up food and never utter a word of appreciation. That letter took me back to the days when we had a summer home in Wisconsin. There were never fewer than a dozen guests for Sunday supper. Among them was a boyfriend my mother didn't like very much.

One Sunday, after this fellow had feasted on golden fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, corn on the cob, fresh fruit salad, hot biscuits and Dutch apple pie, he picked his head out of the plate and said, "Those were good radishes."

For years after, my dear mother with her characteristic Irish sense of humor made this remark after every sumptuous meal.

It was always good for a laugh.

Please keep reminding people to say something nice about the food they are enjoying, Ann. It's just good manners.--Chicago Reader

DEAR READER: Too bad so many people need to be nudged. You can count on me to nudge them.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I winced at your "Bravo" to "Damn Tired In Lockhaven." She lamented her house was a pig pen while her neighbors' houses were clean.

For openers, the neighbors' houses are clean because they clean up after themselves. D.T.'s house didn't become a pig pen all by itself.

Point 2: Everyone has a cleaning machine at the end of each arm -- including her 14-year-old, cheerleading daughter and her 15-year-old, football-playing son.

If they have enough energy to fork food into their mouths, they can pick up after themselves, clear the dirty dishes off the table, scour the bathtub, make a few beds, mop the kitchen floor, empty the trash and run the vacuum. Thirty minutes of uninterrupted effort starting at 5 p.m. would work wonders.

Kids who don't help at home are the same people who litter our parks with beer cans, sloop up public restrooms, abuse rental properties and make ghettos out of neighborhoods.

I work with the handicapped, training them to care for themselves and become contributing members of society, so I have no sympathy for D.T. Even birds carry the you-know-what out of their nests.--Youngstown Mama

DEAR MAMA: I heard from many people who agree with you. It's a little late to take back the "Bravo." Will you settle for 10 lashes with a wet noodle?

Now You're Cookin'

Inadvertently there was an error in the recipe for the Thursday July 2 edition Now You're Cookin' article. The recipe should read as follows:

- No-Knead Hot Rolls
 One package yeast dissolved in two cups lukewarm water
 1/2 cup sugar
 One beaten egg
 6 cups flour
 One-third cup corn oil
 One teaspoon salt.
 Mix all ingredients and then place a damp cloth over bowl. Let dough rise for one hour.

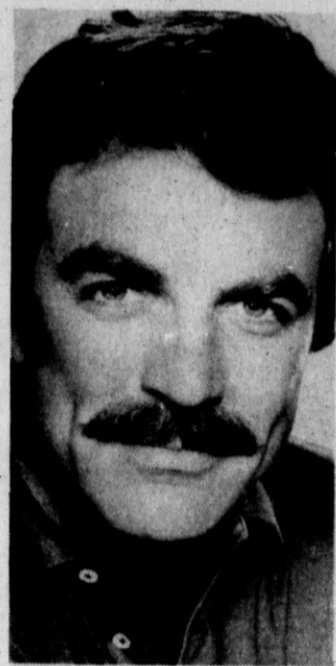

For immediate use shape into rolls, place in baking pan, cover with a damp cloth, let rise one hour. Bake 10 minutes at 425 degrees - then put butter on top and bake 15 minutes or until golden brown.

Dough can be stored in a covered container in the refrigerator for about a week. Remove, shape into rolls, and bake as above. Makes 3 dozen rolls.

Honolulu, meaning "sheltered bay" in Hawaiian, was first visited by two British ships in 1786, eight years after Capt. James Cook discovered the Hawaiian Islands.

Local Boy Scout Troop 51 Wins Best Campsite Award

Hereford Troop 51, Boy Scouts of America, recently won the "Colonel Goodnight" Award for best campsite at Camp Don Harrington.

Those attending the camp participated in merit badge and skill awards classes for progress advancement and rank.

Ten boys from Troop 51 attended the camp. The boys won the "Col. Goodnight" award on the basis of orderliness and cleanliness of the campsite, organization, safety, fire prevention, conservation, and a camp improvement project.

Each day the deserving troops were awarded a feather according to their performance in these areas.

These included red, blue and eagle feathers...the eagle being the highest award available.

Troop 51 also received one red and four eagle feathers, and were entitled, due to top performance on two occasions, to carve their names and troop number on a canoe paddle which will remain on display at the camp. New Scoutmaster Jose Ramirez, says he is very proud of his scouts' hard work and the support given him by the parents, troop committee and the sponsoring Whiteface Kiwani Breakfast Club.

"We're looking forward to another great year of scouting," he concluded.

McEnroe Returns Home With Tattered Reputation

NEW YORK (AP) — John McEnroe returned from England to prepare for this week's Davis Cup competition bearing two Wimbledon titles he won on the court and a tattered reputation he says he doesn't deserve. The brash, 22-year-old New York captured the men's singles crown by defeating Bjorn Borg 4-6, 7-6, 7-6, 6-4 Saturday, snapping the wed's 41-match winning streak and his five-year grip on the Wimbledon championship. On Friday, McEnroe teamed with Peter Fleming to win the men's doubles title. But his behavior made as many headlines as his brilliant court play. He was fined a total of $4,750 for three separate on-court comments he made about the officiating during the tournament. He bristled when reporters asked if he and his girlfriend, Stacy Margolin, has broken up. He was livid when one London newspaper reported that he had been arrested for speeding. Saturday night, he failed to show up at the traditional Wimbledon champions' dinner. And, on Sunday, he reportedly was involved in an incident at London's Heathrow Airport when he was returning home. McEnroe, who met with reporters briefly at the National Tennis Center Monday after practicing for the Davis Cup series between the United States and Czechoslovakia starting Friday, said the All-England Club had withdrawn its champions' dinner invitation to him. He said his father, John

McEnroe Sr., an attorney who also is his son's agent, had asked if the newly crowned singles winner could make a brief appearance at the dinner Saturday night and give the traditional champion's speech. The younger McEnroe said he asked to be excused from most of the evening because he was tired and he wanted to spend time with his family. According to McEnroe, the All-England Club wanted him to spend the entire evening at the private dinner, and when he refused, the invitation was withdrawn. "Their words were, 'If you don't come to the whole dinner, then we respectfully rescind your invitation,'" McEnroe said. Sir Brian Burnett, chairman of the All-England Club, said places for the McEnroes at the dinner had been reserved although they told him they would not be able to get there until 11 p.m. "They never turned up," Burnett said. "I was told that McEnroe had already arranged a party with his friends and therefore he wouldn't be able to get to the dinner until about 11 p.m.," Burnett was quoted in the London Daily Mail as saying. "By then, all the speeches would have been over, so we pointed out that was a bit late. We asked if he could manage to get there by 10:15, and it was left at that." The women's singles champion, Chris Evert Lloyd, told the dinner audience: "I have to make two speeches, one for myself and one for you-know-who. I do not have his vocabulary and, as an American, I wish to apologize for him."

Raiders, NFL Fight Legal Battle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patrick Lynch, the attorney for the National Football League, insists that the current legal battle between the Oakland Raiders and the NFL involves nothing more than a contract between the league and Al Davis. "This is a contract case, a case brought by someone who is trying to breach his contract," Lynch said Monday, adding that Davis, the managing general partner of the Raiders, wants to move to Los Angeles because he believes he can make "a pot of money, that's why he wants to leave Oakland." Lynch said the Raiders did not prove to the NFL that they had a financial need to leave Oakland. Without such proof, the league would certainly not let them move, the attorney said. Lynch made his comments shortly after the ninth week of the antitrust trial in which the Raiders and the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission are suing the NFL. Maxwell Blecher, an attorney for the Coliseum Commission, told jurors that the nation's antitrust laws could start unraveling if the NFL wins its case. "It is a very dangerous argument," said Blecher in a so-called mini-summation. U.S. District Court Judge Harry Pregerson has been asking attorneys to briefly sum up their arguments periodically during the trial. Blecher said that if the NFL successfully argues that the league is a partnership that could prevent the Raiders from moving to Los Angeles, then the oil industry could argue the same thing. He pointed out that oil industries share such things as pipelines and refineries. The NFL has been arguing that it is a "single entity," or partnership and thus could not have conspired to violate the Sherman (antitrust) Act as the Coliseum and Oakland Raiders contend. "You would emasculate the antitrust law by ruling in the NFL's favor," Blecher said. After the day's session was completed, Lynch called that premise ludicrous.

Baseball Strike Negotiation Talks Continue Today in New York

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board resumed its case against major league baseball today before an administrative law judge who asked Mark Belanger and Bob Boone for their autographs after the first day of hearings. Melvin Welles, the NLRB's chief administrative law judge, listened with a bemused smile to the testimony offered Monday as the labor board sought to force management to open its books to the union.

Welles is in charge of assigning administrative law judges for cases like the one the NLRB is pursuing against the owners. "I assigned this one to myself, because it sounded interesting. It will be more fun for me." Acting on behalf of the union, the NLRB is seeking to prove management has bargained in bad faith by refusing to open its financial books in negotiations while, at the same time, various club owners and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn have bemoaned the game's financial condition. Kuhn and three club owners, Jerry Reinsdorf of the Chicago White Sox,

Calvin Griffith of the Minnesota Twins and Ruly Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies, were scheduled to testify today. Also scheduled for tonight is a meeting of the executive board of the Major League Players Association. The 26 player representatives will be briefed on the status of negotiations in their strike, which entered its 26th day today with 13 more games canceled for a total of 324 lost since the walkout began June 12. On Thursday, the 26 club owners will meet in New York for a briefing from chief negotiator Ray Grebey and the Player Relations Committee. The owners' meeting came about after eight teams reportedly asked league presidents Lee MacPhail of the American League and Chub Feeney of the National by telegram to set it up. The New York Times said that the New York Yankees and Mets, Houston Astros, Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox, San Diego Padres, Texas Rangers and Baltimore Orioles had requested the meeting, the first by the owners since the strike began. The Times also said that two of the owners of those teams identified Edward Bennett Williams, owner of the Orioles, as the main force behind the request.

Babe Ruth All Stars Win 1st Round

LeFors-Rodney Torres led the Hereford 13-Year-Old Babe Ruth All Stars to a 7-6 opening round victory over Hi Plains as the area Babe Ruth Tournament opened here last night. The Hereford win set up a second-round clash with Canyon, an 11-1 winner over Pampa in the opener last night. Torres went 6 and two-thirds innings before being relieved to notch the win for the local stars, who will match up against Canyon at 8:30 tonight. Pampa and Hi Plains will play an elimination contest tonight in the double-elimination event. The winner of the tournament will qualify for the state tournament to be held in a couple of weeks in Brownfield. The state winner will then qualify for the Regional Tournament, set for Pampa.

Woolf Sets Up Meeting With Rockets

HOUSTON (AP) — Bob Woolf, agent for free-agent guard Calvin Murphy, says he'll meet with the Houston Rockets officials Thursday to discuss a new contract for the National Basketball Association's free-throw champion. Woolf announced Monday he plans to meet with Rockets General Manager Ray Patterson in an effort to negotiate a new pact for the 11-year veteran.

"Calvin met with the Rockets, and from what I understand it was a positive session. He is convinced that Houston wants him on the ballclub next season, and he has never changed his stance that he wants to remain a Rocket," Woolf said. "I'm a heckuva lot more optimistic about Calvin remaining with the Rockets than I was two days ago."

But Patterson took a more cautious approach.

"It's July and so it's time to talk," he said. "But I wouldn't read too much into this meeting. Our basic position since the new right-of-first-refusal system began is that we want a free-agent to be completely satisfied when he finally does sign his contract." Woolf said last month that six teams were negotiating for Murphy, who has spent his pro career with the Rockets.

Last season, Murphy, 33, set a league record with 78 consecutive free throws and poured in 42 points to lift the Rockets into the Western Conference championship playoff and eventually to the NBA finals against Boston.

The first Olympiad is said to have consisted merely of a 200-yard foot race near the small city of Olympia in ancient Greece.

Preparation of All-Star Game Becoming Frustrating

By CHUCK MELVIN AP Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — As the strike by baseball players nears its one-month anniversary, the chore of preparing for an All-Star Game that may never happen has become increasingly frustrating.

"Extremely frustrating," said Cleveland Indians spokesman Bob DiBasio Monday as baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn declined to cancel the game, scheduled for Municipal Stadium next Tuesday.

"There's no change in plans," said Gabe Paul, president of the host Indians. "We're going full steam ahead and will until the last possible minute."

Thousands of souvenir T-shirts, mugs and pennants are locked away, 5,000 pounds of hot dogs are stored in the Stadium's freezers, 50,000 programs are printed and 1,600 hotel rooms are reserved for incoming media and baseball officials.

"I'm still processing credentials. We're still getting requests," DiBasio said. More than 500 media representatives planned to cover the event.

But no one seems optimistic that the players' strike will be settled in time to save the game, at least for its scheduled date.

"The game hasn't been canceled," said Chuck Adams, a spokesman for Kuhn. "We're continuing to re-evaluate it day by day. But obviously a decision has to be made soon. We're rapidly running out of time."

If it is not played next Tuesday, the game could be rescheduled, with July 30, the second rain date, the most logical choice. July 15 is the primary rain date.

"The thing they obviously don't want to do is cancel the game," DiBasio said. "A postponement would be OK." Cancellation of the contest would cost the Cleveland economy $4-$6 million according to Frank Carrell, vice president of the Convention and Visitors Bureau. Also, the baseball players' pension fund would lose about $2 million.

The decision rests with baseball's executive committee, comprising Kuhn and team owners from Detroit, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Kansas City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Boston and Pittsburgh.

If the game is saved, Municipal Stadium will be prepared. A month without baseball has left its natural turf in excellent shape, and Al Friedlander, Stadium Corp. vice president, said there would be no problem rounding up salespeople to staff concessions and souvenir booths.

"Obviously if the game played July 30, the July ticket would be good," DiBasio said. "As far as refunds, that'll probably be the last thing they decide

on. 'If they say, 'No All-Star

Game this year,' we'll run sale for about two weeks and sell the (souvenirs) at half price," he said.

YOU AUTO KNOW

By Don Henslie

Q. You are my last hope for finding out what's wrong with my brand new 1980 Ford Thunderbird. It's only two months old and it is already using oil . . . way too much. I've checked everything for leaks . . . the dealer has checked everything he can. Neither of us found an answer. Since you're my last hope, do you have any ideas?

A. Just one. Are you sure the car has the right dipstick? Occasionally, the wrong dipstick is put into the engine. This is the easiest thing to overlook when troubleshooting a new car. To be sure you have the right dipstick, hold it next to one from the same make and model and be sure the marks and length are the same.

Dirty collar remedy
By Polly Fisher
POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY - I'd like to know of something that will get the collars of my husband's shirts clean. The material is permanent press, which saves ironing, but we cannot get the soil off the collars. - MRS. P.
DEAR MRS. P. - The best thing to use for soil of this type is ordinary hair shampoo. Scrub it in with a toothbrush. Another cleaner you might try is toothpaste. Again, scrub it in with a toothbrush. Whichever you use, rinse thoroughly, then launder as usual. - POLLY

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Republicans are gearing up to run former Dallas Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach as a candidate in 1982 against U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

Last week a political action committee, which is trying to "draft" Staubach into the candidacy, announced it has the support of 237 Republican precinct chairmen across the state.

The group also said it will soon launch a drive seeking 50,000 signatures on petitions asking Staubach to run for the Senate.

Staubach has said over and over again that he is not interested; others insist that he is.

The uncertainty of his position puts the public much in the position of the fan in the stands, wondering which play the quarterback will call next. Indeed, it may be the case that Staubach's political promoters are using this public controversy to build up the former athlete's credibility as a political candidate.

It's also a nifty way to get statewide publicity for their man . . . and all he has to do is assert that he is "not interested," right up to the point when the 50,000 signatures come back to his desk. Then, his handlers can claim that overwhelming support caused Staubach to change his mind, and head to duty when duty calls.

Staubach has, of course, the All-American wholesomeness which makes for an attractive candidate. He is in rhythm with the conservative trend, but his strongest asset is his image as a winner, a smart winner. Other Republicans thinking of running against Bentsen are U.S. Rep. Jim Collins of Dallas and State Sen. Walter Mengden of Houston.

Bentsen, Others

Senator Bentsen has few negatives in his image, plus he has years of experience that make him a heavy-weight on the Hill. Not the least of factors to be considered, he already has a formidable $1.5 million campaign chest ready. Staubach, proceeding cautiously, must surely be aware of this fact, but the ex-Cowboy would also be in good position should Bentsen seek office elsewhere, like the Governor's Mansion in Austin.

In the meantime, former Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe has opened a campaign folio, presumably to test the waters for a 1982 race. Briscoe hasn't said if he will run, nor indicated the office he wants. He is thought to have long eyed Bentsen's post. A return to governorship also is not ruled out.

Briscoe's first step will be to explore a negative rating by the public which showed up in a recent exploratory poll.

Prison Ruling

Texas officials celebrated last week after a federal appeal court judge delayed the court order forcing the state to hurry up with an expensive reform of the prison system. No date for formal arguments has been set.

A few weeks ago, Judge William Wayne Justice angered Clements, Atty. Gen. Mark White and almost the entire Legislature with sweeping reform rulings. His decision was doubly grating for Clements, who vetoed a legislative plan to build new prisons during his first session. That veto, plus inflation, raised the cost of the delayed prison projects . . . but Justice's ruling pushed the price tag even higher.

The appellate court set aside 10 provisions of the reform order pending a hearing, including the order for Texas to provide single cells and increase prison furloughs.

Judge Justice's ruling was prompted by a class action lawsuit led by Texan David R. Ruiz against the Texas Department of Corrections for overcrowded prison conditions and other alleged violations of constitutional rights.

An added twist to the prison story: last week Clements granted a long-sought parole to Ruiz.

When they passed the wiretap bill last month, legislators had given much thought about whether the new law would be used to violate the privacy of law-abiding citizens. But a state senator now charges the wiretap program will cost too much . . . some $1 million a year. Peyton McKnight of Tyler, who has said he would like to run against Clements, is now attacking Clements' perhaps most-prized piece of legislation.

McKnight would rather use undercover agents, saying they are much more effective. After all, Florida has the wiretap law and the highest rate of narcotics trafficking along with it.

The Legislature, in approving Clements' hard-fought and skillfully-won proposals, added a clause to sunset the new wiretap law in four years, unless renewed at that time.

NEW YORK (AP) — A 31-year-old man charged in one of the "skid row slashings" apparently was hostile because his wife "kicked him out" of their home, forcing him to live in a Bowery hotel, police sources say.

Charles Sears, a Vietnam veteran, was charged Monday with the murder of a man whose body was found on a park bench where he had lain sleeping. He was also charged with the attempted assault of another man.

Sears was not charged with the 14 other knifings of derelicts over 10 days in Manhattan. But city Chief of Detectives James T. Sullivan said at a news conference, "we don't think there's more than one" attacker.

"We believe all the attacks have been done by one individual," Sullivan said.

The victims had their throats slit. The two who died — Michael Fiorentino, 40, and Harold Wilson, 50 — both were attacked early Monday. Four others were wounded the same night.

Sears was charged with the slaying of Fiorentino and the attempted assault of Edwin Feliciano, 25, who was not hurt.

Two police officers stopped Sears in lower Manhattan about five minutes after Feliciano was accosted because Sears fit the description of the slasher given by victims. The officers said they noticed blood on his trousers near his pocket.

They said he pulled out the razor — described by police as "sharp enough to split a hair" — and begged them, "Please don't kill me." His arraignment was scheduled for today. A time was not set.

Sears's wife, Jonie, and four children live in The Bronx, and his family troubles apparently came to a head after he was charged in 1977 with assaulting a man with a wrench during a dispute over a parking space, said police sources, who asked to remain unidentified. Police said he was wanted on a bench warrant in connection with that charge.

Sears' wife "kicked him out," and his last known address was the Hotel Delevan in the Bowery, an area frequented by derelicts, police said.

The police sources said Sears had a record of gun possession, robbery, menacing and assault dating to 1971, and spent at least three years in Sing Sing prison. He spent three years in the Army in Vietnam, police said.

Police sources discounted earlier speculation that Sears had a grudge against vagrants because he had gone to prison on a conviction for robbing derelicts who testified against him.

The slashings began the night of June 27 and continued early the next morning, when eight homeless men were found with their throats cut. All eight survived the attacks. On June 30 another derelict was found with a slit throat. He too survived, and the attacks ceased until shortly before midnight Sunday.

Then, within three hours, six new victims were found.

NARCOTICS TRAFFIC

AUSTIN — Narcotics traffic — two words that conjure images of modern-day pirates lining their pockets at the expense of the weaker and less-experienced members of our society.

When we had pirates in days past, we knew what to do with them. We would track them down, and make them walk the plank. We provided the plank during the last session by passing stiff new drug-control laws. Now we need to track the pirates down.

Experience has taught that the job of tracking down the pirates is not as easy as it might seem. These days, they take advantage of every technical opportunity on the market. They can afford to. Airplanes, speedboats, radio, radar — nothing is too good or too expensive for these people.

The only thing that could match the resources of the narcotics dealers are the resources of the state, maybe. It might even take the resources of several states to do a good job. For example, the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration has estimated that two out of every three pounds of heroin entering the United States comes through Texas.

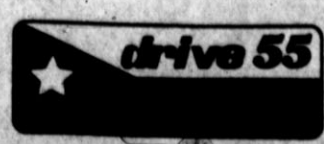

Other states have banded together to fight this traffic. New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah have joined forces in the Quad State Project to close the Mexican border to the narcotics trade. Texas has not joined.

We have sponsored an interim study to determine whether Texas should join forces with these other states to curb the flow of narcotics into this state. We will want to know what it will cost and what the benefits will be. We will want to know whether there is a better way to do it, and what input Texas will have in running the program.

The Quad State Project provides intelligence gathering and dissemination, information analysis and exchange, communications coordination, equipment support and training. It sounds like a good thing for Texas, but we want to be sure it's not just a waste of time and money. We will have details on this program in the future.

We know many of you have strong feelings about narcotics traffic and how to stop it. We want you to share your ideas with us. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.
