FORMER COWBOYS TEXAS GENTLEMEN

Morgan Writes Letter Back to Home Town—Tells of Changes Made and Other Things of Interest.

(From the Fort Collins Express.) E. W. Morgan, a former resident of Fort Collins, now living in Texas, has written to The Express an account of his experiences in his new home. The letter is a most entertaining one, even to those who do not know the writer. It follows, being dated at Hereford:

Hereford is the county seat and bids fair to be quite a good sized place. It is surrounded by as fine land as I ever saw, every foot of which can be irrigated from big wells. They strike at from 40 to 60 feet, and so far they have been unable to find any bottom. It seems to be an everlasting running stream.

Our main crops here are kafir, maize, oats, wheat and alfalfa. A number of silos were put up last fall and filled with kafir corn and the yield was from five to ten tons of silage per acre. With kafir ensilage, cottonseed meal and threshed maize we have one of the best rations for fattening either sheep or cattle that there is. As we grow the kafir and maize and the cottonseed is grown in abundance in the southern part of the state, there is no reason why we should not make a success of feeding, especially as both sheep and cattle can be bought delivered right to our feed yards, thus saving a long haul and big shrink that the feeders of the north have to stand.

I fed sheep two years ago and topped the market 25 cents in yearling wethers and got within 10 cents of top on lambs, with a big run from Colorado in the yards the same day.

When you first arrive in Texas you wonder what has become of the old time cowboy. Well, he is still here, but instead of following the "chuck" wagon and sleeping wherever night overtakes him, he now lives in town where he has a fine home and goes to his ranch in an auto, where, instead of the old time longhorn running at will, you will find high grade herds in enclosed pastures. They are mostly Herefords, from which our town takes its name.

One can hardly realize that many of the leaders in church and school work here were the one-time cowboys who followed the big herds north and helped make Great Bend, Wichita and Colwell, Kan., famous as shipping points for the longhorn cattle. I remember when a bunch of these boys struck town bent on having a good time we always gave them the sidewalk, and sometimes felt we might have to apologize for being in town. But as we came to know them better, regardless of their rough outward appearance, we found them gentlemen.

It is just natural for a southern man to be a gentleman as it is for an Indian to steal or a negro to like sweet potatoes and 'possum. It is born in them and they can't help it. In passing through a crowd a few days ago in town, I accidentally ran against a small boy, and before I had time to apologize the little fellow had pulled his old cap from his little foused head and said, "I beg your pardon, sah." I do not know his name, nor have I seen him since, but I'll bet his parents are southern people and that apology came as natural to him as breathing. He couldn't help it and he wouldn't if he could.

Quite a few people are coming here and buying land. Most of them are from southern Illinois, but some are from Colorado and some are from as far north as Canada. There are quite a number of old soldiers—mostly Confederates, some of them fought with Quantrel

New Barber Shop

W. F. Orr in moving his shop from the cramped quarters to the full width building owned by Mr. McMillan at the corner of 3rd and Main, found himself in a place where he could install the equipment for a first-class tonsorial parlor. With everything cleaned, papered and painted, Mr. Orr prides himself on being able to please the most exacting customer. The shop has five chairs placed in front of plate glass mirrors. It is fully supplied with hot and cold water having its own plant from which hot water is supplied to three finely equipped bath rooms. In each room there has been placed a lattice shield over the window, thus supplying cool fresh air during the summer. The tailoring department has not been overlooked and there will be found every convenience for cleaning, pressing, altering and also for taking measure for new suits. This department caters to the ladies for their difficult work in cleaning and pressing. In the front the shining chair occupies a conspicuous place and no man who wears shoes need go untidy. A man could begin in the bath department, pass thru the tailoring shop, then to the shaving parlor, and lastly sit in the shining chair, and come forth a gentleman in every respect; at least he would feel like one and should act like one. Mr. Orr is to be congratulated upon his new place.

The Million Dollar Mystery.

The first installment of the Million Dollar Mystery was reeled off at the Star Tuesday night. A full and overflow house saw the first chapter of that famous real play. Many stood outside till the first show was over before they could get in. Many went in order to test their Sherlock talents and to try to solve the mystery and there will be several at Hereford who will follow the thread of the story and will try to solve the $10,000,000 prize. The company offers this handsome amount to the one that solves the mystery of the story and then writes the best 100 word sketch.

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson have returned to their home and their many friends will be pleased to know that both of them have improved in health. They left the sanitarium some three weeks ago, stopping at Fort Worth to visit for a week and then at Amarillo for two weeks with relatives. Dr. Johnson comes back home smooth shaven and his friends may not recognize him at night, but he says that he has gained some 18 pounds in the last few weeks.

and were close friends during the war with the James boys and Younger brothers. The most of them seem satisfied with the way the war terminated, but of course won't admit they were whipped. As one jolly old Confederate said to me, "We just wore ourselves out whipping the Yanks." And possibly he was right, but there were too many to whip. Most of them are well off, some of them quite wealthy. When the war closed they had nothing to look forward to in the way of help from the government, so they went to work and they certainly have made good.

I might tell you of the many fruits and vegetables we can grow here, but that would be the same old story every one writes about a new country and you would say it was gotten up to advertise the country. But I am not in the real estate business, nor do I have any land in Texas for sale. Still, we would like to see some of our old friends, and if you can come to see us, do so. Watermelons, sweet potatoes, and friend chicken will soon be ripe, and we will have all in abundance. But if you should come here to live you must learn to eat oca, blackeyed peas and say "you all."

WATER PIPE LINE TO AMARILLO

Commissioner Sends Committee to Hereford to Investigate Feasibility—All are Pleased and Convinced.

Tuesday of this week, a special water committee from the city of Amarillo visited Hereford for the purpose of making an inspection of the wells and water supply at Hereford. This special committee had been appointed by the Commission of that city and is composed of the following prominent citizens: D. K. Kirk, C. K. Chancellor, J. W. Russell, R. S. Burgis and J. D. Bartlett. Their visit to Hereford was unknown except to a few and their advent and departure was so quiet that few gained information as to their purpose. Upon their arrival, Col. Robert Elliott soon had them in tow and with the usual courtesy of H. F. Mitchell with his handsome automobile, the Amarillo bunch were shown the "Oceans of Water" with which Hereford is so abundantly supplied. Mr. Mitchell spun them around to the big wells, where each member of the party made a close inspection, asking many questions and taking notes. Incidentally, they saw the harvesting of irrigated alfalfa, and the growing crops of all kinds under the magic touch of underground water.

The real object of their visit was to make an estimate of the cost of pumping water as done by the irrigation wells, and then the cost to pipe this water to the city of Amarillo. The Commission of that enterprising city, looking to the future growth of the Queen of the Plains, is laying plans for an over abundant water supply. So it is contemplated that the Commission purchase a tract of land in the shallow water territory which surrounds Hereford, install a battery of three million-gallon-per-day wells and lay a pipe line to their city. It is known that Hereford is some 160 feet higher in altitude than Amarillo, the elevation of the latter place being 3650 and of Hereford 3810. It is thought that with sufficient force to "star" the flow, the water would run from the force of gravity the entire distance of 50 miles. The purpose of installing two or three wells is for the same reason that an electric light plant in the large cities have two or three batteries for light and power purposes; if one is out of commission, the other is ready.

When speaking of a million-gallon-per-day well, the committee were astonished at the statement, but when shown the McDonald well at the north farm and the Edwards well at Hillcrest, after working their pencils a bit, every one of the party were convinced of the truthfulness of the statement. One of the men remarked that three such wells, that they would have "water to burn." And another point they appreciated. All drank freely of the clear, crystal liquid and with one accord declared it the coolest draught they had enjoyed for years. "Cold enough without ice," one said; "good enough for any prohibitionist," another added. In this connection, the information was given the party that the temperature of the water was at 60 degrees and that its purity was at 99.95 per cent.

Every one of the committee was well pleased with the water supply and fully convinced that a pipe line from Hereford to Amarillo would be entirely feasible. They were convinced beyond a doubt that the water supply was easily within the term, "inexhaustible."

The committee returned on the afternoon train and their report to the Amarillo City Commission is awaited with interest.

About August 1, you will see it. 11

Prohibition Candidates.

It seems that the lines are being closely drawn on the prohibition question in the state. Even below the candidates for governor, both the pro and anti candidates, are being picked out by their friends. Where there are more than one pro running for the same office both names are given. A list has thus been prepared by the friends of the pro candidates and the following names appear thereon. The Brand is not in any way connected with the making of this list and is not responsible for any error that may be made:

- For Governor—Thos. H. Ball.
- For Lieutenant Governor—B. E. Sturgeon.
- For Attorney General—B. F. Looney.
- For State Treasurer—John W. Baker.
- For Comptroller—J. L. Franklin.
- For Commissioner of Agriculture—H. A. Halbert.
- For Land Commissioner—J. T. Robinson, T. M. Bartlett.
- For State Supt. Public Instruction—W. F. Doughty, W. M. N. Marrs.
- For Supreme Court—W. E. Hawkins.
- For Court Criminal Appeals—J. J. Faulk.
- For Railroad Commissioner—E. B. Mayfield.

Temperance Services.

Rev. Atticus Webb of Ft. Worth, will be here next Sunday, and will preach at Friona church at 11 a. m. and at the Methodist church at 3 p. m. and at the court house at 8:30 p. m. Each service on the subject of Submission. He is the District Superintendent of the Saloon League. He has never in his life, as far as he knows, never in abuse. Coming to Hereford, he has facts that don't get into the papers, for the reason that if they were, the liquor traffic would be routed from the state at once. He comes to get the people of our section "sober" in these facts. He never gives information till he knows it is true. The public can rely on every word he says. He is also and always an entertaining speaker. There is no more important subject before the people of Texas today than this subject of submission. If you doubt this, come to hear Mr. Webb at one of the services next Sunday, and you will doubt it no more.

H. F. Mitchell, that careful automobilist, says he will be just as careful in assessing the taxes, if elected to that office. He is still in the race and does not want his friends to think because he walks slow that he is not running as fast as he can. He thinks like others that a house to house canvass among the farmers would pester them and take up too much of their time from their crops, as there are so many candidates out. Hence, he says, if he does not visit every voter in the town and country, that he does not want them to even think that he does not want their votes. It

Missionary Society.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met in regular session at church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with nineteen members present. The program from Voice was given.

HUERTA RESIGNS PRESIDENCY; CARBAJAL HIS SUCCESSOR

Mexico City, July 15—Official announcement is made that accuated by "highest motives of patriotism and complying with a supreme duty to his country." President Huerta sent his resignation to congress at four o'clock this afternoon.

Francisco Carbajal, the foreign minister took the oath of office as provisional president two hours later.

All members of the Huerta cabinet have tendered their resignations.

For days Huerta's resignation has been expected in this city and the whole capital was on the qui vive to learn of its actual presentation to congress. General Huerta in his full uniform of a general of division in the Mexican army, and wearing in addition the tri-color of the republic, appeared in the chamber of deputies, where the senate had assembled, and presented his resignation to the assembly in person.

Washington, D. C. July 16—Francisco Carbajal successor to Huerta provisional president of Mexico today advised the United States government informally that he intended to retire in favor of Carranza the Constitutionalist chief.

The statement together with the announcement from Saltillo that Carranza is willing to enter negotiations with Carbajal relative to transferring his authority in Mexico City, is regarded here as assuring the cessation of hostilities and restoring peace in Mexico.—Daily News

The Amarillo State Fair.

As is well known Hereford took a number of good premiums at the Amarillo State Fair last year. This was done despite the fact that nothing was done towards making up an exhibit until a few days before the opening of the fair. Now that all kinds of exhibits are being prepared, a number of photographs should be made of the crops and growing crops; then sample bundles of wheat and oats should be carefully selected, wrapped and put away for use in the exhibit. Seeds of all kinds should be gathered, and where possible, fruits should be put in jars and preserved.

Parrot Items.

Mrs. T. W. Shepard returned to her home in Plainview last Wednesday after a few days' visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hanlan and sons, Harold and Earl, were entertained last Sunday at the home of Jacob Wagner.

We will have preaching at our school house next Sunday night, July 19. Rev. McDonald and our presiding elder, Rev. Kiker, both of Plainview, will be with us. Every one is invited to attend the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore and children, John and Flora, spent Sunday at W. E. Hacker's.

Frank Metcalf attended court in Dimmitt part of this week.

George Shepard was in Tulia on business last Wednesday.

Emerson Hacker and son, Charlie, were in Dimmitt last Tuesday morning.

Miss Dessie Keller of Amarillo is visiting with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Presley Dyer were visiting near Dimmitt last Sunday.

Mr. Shore of Hereford was in the community last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Metcalf and children, Alva, Russell, Mary and Beth, Alfred Grant and Floyd, Mabel, Florence and Hazel Hacker spent last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Neely. The young people had a singing at the school house last Sunday night.

Oliver Lambirth, who has been on the Star Ranch in New Mexico for a year, is in Hereford this week visiting his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ferguson. He will go to Amarillo to visit his sister, Miss Julia Lambirth.

August 1st has been set as the day.

Election in Palmer County

The Democratic Executive Committee met in Farwell Tuesday and ordered a primary election for that county, but for state and district offices only. No county candidates will appear on the ticket. The citizens of that county prefer to lay their contest over till the November election. The ticket will contain the names of the candidates and especially the Hereford bunch who are offering for district places.

Mrs. Allan Bell and children, Mrs. W. E. Russell, who had been visiting in Memphis, were met in Amarillo by Mrs. Daniel. They came back to Hereford Monday night.

Lutheran Church.

Rev. O. E. Schmidt will hold services in English at the court house, Sunday at 11 o'clock, July 19. Friends invited to attend.

Apples in Hereford Orchards

Mr. McMillan brought in from his home orchard in north Hereford this week a limb from one of his apple trees that gives full evidence of a promising apple crop. This limb contains eight apples in a space of a few inches, and he says his trees are loaded with sufficient fruit.

Meeting Closed.

The revival meeting conducted at the Baptist church closed Sunday night. The last service was especially impressive. Mr. Scott is an earnest speaker. Mr. and Mrs. Blankenship delighted every one with their gospel singing. At the close of the service Sunday night a special request was sent up that she sing one more time, which she did much to the pleasure of all. The team left Monday for Carbon, Tex., where they will hold a two weeks' meeting.

J. C. Carroll wants it strictly understood that he is not running for the office of Constable just for fun, that he is in the race to win because he wants the office and if elected will attend to the duties to the best of his ability. Mr. Carroll is well known here and he feels that a close canvass for votes is hardly necessary, but he takes this method in asking every voter to consider him when they go to the polls on July 25. Application for the receivership of the Orient was made in Kansas City in March, 1913. Eleven receivers were appointed to take over the company's affairs in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Immediately afterward the holders of the company's stocks and bonds began work on plans for the refinancing and reorganization of the road and $15,000,000 of European capital was raised for the purpose of finishing the road and putting it into operation from Kansas City to the Pacific coast of Mexico. On April 27 last, Judge Pollock, having been informed the reorganization committee had completed its plan for the rehabilitation of the Orient, ordered its sale for an amount not under $6,000,000.

FORECAST NEW WHEAT RECORD

Government Estimates Crop For 1914 At 930,000,000 Bushels.

Washington.—Thirty million bushels of wheat were added to the prospect of the crop during June by the excellent weather conditions, making the forecast of the crop as announced by the department of agriculture 930,000,000 bushels, a new record.

The acreage planted to corn this year was only slightly less than that of last year, while the condition of that crop was 1 per cent better than the ten-year July 1 average conditions, making the prospects for a crop estimated by the department of agriculture at 3,843,000,000 bushels.

A 200,000,000-pound decrease in the tobacco crop is indicated, a total crop of 733,000,000 pounds being estimated.

HE ASKS HIS NAME WITHDRAWN

Objects to Being one of Two Singled Out for Examination by Senate.

Washington.—With President Wilson urging Paul M. Warburg, the New York banker, to reconsider his request that his nomination as a member of the federal reserve board be withdrawn, it was reported that there was a possibility of Mr. Warburg changing his mind.

Despite opposition to Mr. Warburg, friends of the president have secured him the New York banker's nomination can be confirmed. The president is said to believe he will have a hard time finding another man as familiar with banking conditions who will accept the place. It was reported the nomination were not withdrawn, the committee likely would insist on the banker's appearance for a hearing.

Money for Constitutionals.

Laredo, Texas.—The third heavy shipment of Mexican revolutionist currency received in this city within ten days, consigned to Y. R. Galindo, arrived from Chicago. This last shipment comprised 20 boxes one foot square and four feet long, which were filled with constitutional currency of denominations from $1 to $5 and some fractional cardboard currency of denominations of 10c, 25c and 50c.

Wrecked Near Lindale.

Tyler, Texas.—Friday morning, June 12, south of Lindale, the northbound I. & G. N. passenger train was wrecked. The entire train left the track with the exception of the engine. The wreck occurred on an embankment just as the last coach had passed over a trestle. The train was well filled with passengers, but no one received serious hurt. The wounds consisted mostly of sprained ankles and scratches.

Salem Will Get $200.

Washington.—On a day when the house voted 75 to 35 to pass the senate amendment to the sundry bill appropriating $200,000 to help the Salem fire sufferers. Then, on a roll call, the house passed the appropriation, 161 to 66.

Prohibition Election Ordered.

Calvert, Texas.—The commissioners' court ordered a prohibition election for Robertson county on August 1. The pros contended for the election on the same day of the state primaries, July 25, but the court refused to grant their request, and set it for the above date. Robertson county was in the dry column in 1909, but only stayed there two years.

Road Bonds for Six Months $5,581,500.

Fort Worth, Texas.—During the half year of 1914, 73 road and bridge bond elections have been conducted in Texas. Fifty-one of these elections were successful and resulted in the issuance of highway improvement bonds in the sum of $5,581,500, which is an increase of $2,258,500 over the amount of road and bridge bonds authorized in the state during the same period of last year, and lacks only $715,500 of equalling the total amount issued in 1913 for road work.

Fine Crops in Armstrong County.

While candidating in Armstrong county two days of last week, the writer, the somewhat blinded with political ambition, was able to see the farms as the train and auto passed rapidly by. From Amarillo south to Goodnight, Texas, there has never been such a display of agricultural exhibits, right on the stalk. Thousands of acres of wheat and oats, kafir and maize.

At Goodnight, the writer had the pleasure of helping some farmers load a car of wheat (being a candidate, you know, didn't mind that a bit), and sample was extra fine, testing 62 and, of course, grading No. 2 hard. That particular field had made 18 bushels to the acre, and it is thought that well represented the average in that part of the county. Threshing had just begun and the farmers were happy over the good crop.

Austin, Texas.—Two of the most extraordinary cases since the establishment of the Pasteur Institute in Austin were registered in that institution when W. H. Whitley, a farmer of Electra, Wichita county, and his son, aged 17 years, arrived there for preventive treatment against rabies. Whitley and his son were attacked by a coyote and both are suffering from wounds. The elder Whitley has about 15 wounds, several of them serious.

Validates Mexican Land Titles.

Austin, Texas.—In overruling a motion for rehearing in the case of Estaniza Gallardo, from Travis county, the supreme court finally sustained Mexican land titles where the grants were made prior to Texas independence and the land was surveyed prior thereto but the final papers were not perfected until after the declaration of Texas independence in December, 1836, when the northern boundary of Mexico was declared to be the Rio Grande. This forever means judgment against the state and validates all Mexican grants similarly situated.

Ship Arms Back to New York.

Galveston, Texas.—According to Juan T. Burns, constitutionalist consul at Galveston, a carload of arms which arrived in Galveston June 10 on board the Morgan liner El Sud, consigned to representatives of the constitutionalist government, will be shipped back to New York by rail. It is understood the shipment includes 45,000 rounds of ammunition. According to press dispatches, the shipment was consigned to representatives in Galveston and was later to be shipped by water to Tampico.

Chicago Wins Next Ad Men's Meet.

Toronto, Ont.—After a very exciting session, the nominating committee of the Ad Men's convention decided to hold the next convention of the association in Chicago in the year 1915. San Francisco and Minneapolis both tried hard to get the next meeting, but when the final ballot was taken, 32 votes had been cast in favor of Chicago, 26 for San Francisco and five for Minneapolis.

New Equalization Rates Submitted.

NOT WISE TO TAKE CALOMEL

Dodson's Liver Tonic is just as sure in results and always safe, pleasant in taste and has no bad after-effects. As a remedy for a torpid liver calomel has more than met its match in Dodson's Liver Tonic. This medicine does not roughly force the liver on to perform its work. It acts gently but surely.

Calomel depends for its power upon exciting the liver to do more work, and often the liver is too weak to stand such treatment, and after taking calomel you are as a result sometimes worse off than before.

Dodson's Liver Tonic cannot cause any of the dangerous effects that often follow the use of calomel. It is entirely vegetable and pleasant to the taste, and is suitable for children and grown people.

Get a large bottle for fifty cents at Betts & Clark under the guarantee that if it doesn't satisfy you that it perfectly takes the place of calomel you will be given your money back with a smile right at the store where you bought Dodson's medicine.

Politics a Funny Game.

Politics is a funny game. Submission is again placed upon the ballot. Some strong prohibitionists will vote against submission because they think it is coming too often and is thus a useless expense; some strong antis will vote against the question because they do not believe in submission at any time; some prohibitionists will vote for submission because it is their way of declaring themselves, others because they think the question should be submitted until it carries; some antis will vote for submission because they think that prohibition can be killed by repeated defeats. Whichever way you vote, either for or against, study the question well and vote for the good of the order.—Lynn County News.

EXTRA FINGER HIS HOODOO

Clark Who Cashed $15 Check Noticed Six Digits on Man's Hand, and the Rest Was Easy.

"On what evidence are you holding this man?" demanded Justice of the Peace Sidney N. Reeves in Los Angeles when James Garfield Mortis was arraigned, charged with having forged the name of Mrs. Anita Baldwin McClaughry to a $15 check. "Finger evidence," replied Policeman Stevens, who made the arrest. "You mean finger-print evidence, I suppose," replied the magistrate. "No; just fingers. We don't need prints where a man has an extra finger on his right hand," said Stevens. The clerk that cashed the check declared the passer was a "six-digit phenomenon." Mortis, who is colorless, was incensed at the characterization. He referred to the extra digit as "a gift, that's all."

To the Voters of the 13th Representative District.

My fellow citizens:
 Impressed with the idea as well as the suggestion of many of my friends that as this was an agricultural and stock raising district, it should be represented in the next Legislature by a practical and experienced farmer and stockman. Having a long life of experience along these lines and also four years experience in the Legislature, I believe, and my friends believed that I could intelligently and efficiently represent those great interests. And in view of the further fact that this portion of the state has never been represented by any other than a lawyer and editor, it was thought eminently just and right that a practical, successful and business farmer and stockman should be selected to represent this district. Hence my candidacy and appeal for your votes.

I was born and reared to early manhood in Virginia and my education was from the common schools and one of the best academies in South West Virginia. I settled in Hunt county, Texas, in 1873 and came to the Plains in January, 1902. So I feel that I understand conditions in Texas generally and of the Plains country especially.

1st. I shall favor the most rigid economy in the expenditures of our government consistent with an efficient administration of same. In the last twenty or twenty-five years, the expenses of our state government has increased from about $2,000,000 to $7,000,000. In other words the cost of our State government has increased in this time from 50c per capita to $1.65 per capita or about 230 per cent.

Our penitentiaries, which a few years ago were yielding the state a handsome revenue, have now fastened upon us a burden of over $2,000,000, and still going in debt.

This does not indicate good economy or good business management. The people should wake up.

2nd. I favor the fullest development of our educational institutions, especially our rural schools, our Normals and the Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges. I favor the separation of the A. & M. College from the main University and a just division of the funds between the two institutions. I also favor compulsory school attendance of all children between the ages of 8 to 12 or 14 years and from 3 to 5 months in the year.

3rd. Our eleemosynary institutions should be properly provided for.

4th. I favor a co-operation of the state with the farmers in the establishment of warehouses and a good marketing system for the benefit of the farmer.

5th. I have been a life-long prohibitionist and shall vote for submission on the 25th and in the Legislature if a majority of the people vote for it.

6th. I favor protecting women and children from working undue hours in factories and workshops.

7th. I oppose the repeal or amendment of our stock and bond law. The same conditions and necessities that called this law into existence still exists, was designed for the protection of honest investors in railroad enterprises for the prevention of the issuing of watered or fictitious bonds and stocks and to encourage railroad building in Texas, all of which it has abundantly done. Governor Hogg declared it to be the best law on this subject in the world. Its merits are not only recognized and defended by the progressive democracy of Texas, but the following excerpt shows that it is endorsed by President Wilson and the National Democracy. Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas received a letter from President Wilson complimenting him on the passage of the stock and bond law in the house. This is the Hogg Stock and Bond law and has been taken over by a democratic administration at Washington and today has the backing of leading statesmen of all parties.

Yet Judge Holmes proposes to amend this law so as to again authorize the issuance of watered or fictitious bonds and stocks.

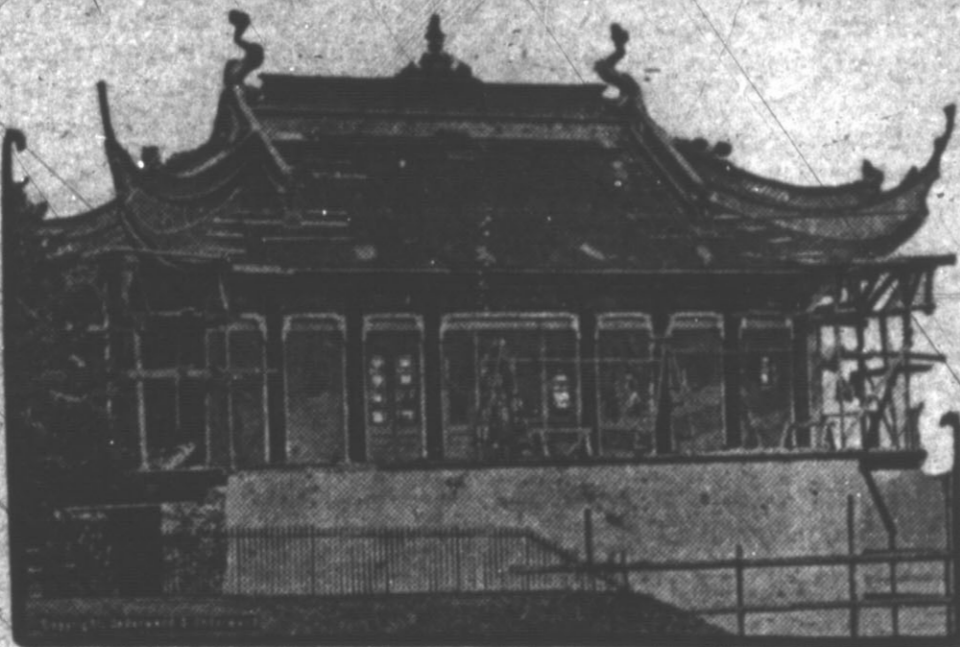

8th. I favor the Initiative, Re-

MRS. BELMONT'S CHINESE TEA HOUSE

With the duchess of Marlborough and a number of American estrage leaders as her guests, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont has been giving a house party at Newport, the feature of which was the opening of this beautiful Chinese tea house. It is built strictly on oriental models, is elaborately decorated after the style of the Ming period and contains much costly Chinese bric-a-brac.

Referendum and Recall.

"YOU'LL LIKE HEREFORD"
 Suit to Come of New Haven Inquiry.
 Boston, Mass.—Based on the allegations that money for the treasury of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad has been illegally squandered, it became known that a suit for the recovery of $125,000,000 will be filed by the minority stockholders. The suit is to be instituted against the directors of the road, and the facts in the complaint will be transactions that have recently been the subject of investigation by the interstate commerce commission.

Fresh Insult at King and Queen.
 Edinburgh, Scotland.—King George and Queen Mary, who made their last public appearance Sunday in their Scottish tour, were subjected to a fresh insult by a suffragette as they drove to St. Giles' cathedral to attend the morning service. Just outside the cathedral a Dundee suffragette broke through the spectators and police and ran toward the royal carriage. She hurled a rubber ball to which was attached a label inscribed, "Stop forcible feeding."

American Wins Aeroplane Race.
 London.—The aeroplane race from London to Paris and back Saturday was won by Walter L. Brock, the American aviator, who recently carried off the aerial derby round London and the London-to-Manchester air race. Brock's official time was seven hours, three minutes, six seconds. The distance is 603 miles. John Carbery, while on the return flight fell into the English Channel. He kept afloat with the aid of a life belt until picked up by a passing steamer.

Claim Foster Was Shot.
 Brownsville, Texas.—That Capt. Jack Foster, the American who was reported drowned at Tampico a week ago, was really shot to death following a fight with Mexicans, is the report brought by Americans reaching the border from Tampico. They say they were informed that Foster was shot twice in the back. A report transmitted by the constitutionalists at Tampico to Matamoros said that Foster was drowned when he jumped into the Pannuco river from a wharf.

Income Decreases $5,261,932.

Austin, Texas.—The railroad commission has made public the results from operations of Texas lines during the ten months ending April 30, and compared same with the same ten months of the preceding year. All income accounts show a decrease, while operating expenses increased. The figures for the ten months and comparisons with the same ten months of the preceding year are: Income from operation $17,617,897, decrease $6,261,932, or 26.22 per cent.

Intangible Values of Railways Less.
 Austin, Texas.—The state tax board found the intangible values of the several railroad and bridge companies operating in Texas, the same aggregating $162,851,511, as against $167,492,926 last year, making a decrease of approximately 3 per cent of the total intangible values, $162,757,676, being for railroads, covering 15,184 miles, the remaining $93,833 being bridge values.

Plainview's Greatest Show.
 Circus men have a way of advertising their shows as the Greatest Show on Earth, an unparalleled performance. But the feats of Barnum's greatest artist of the air are nothing to compare with the thrills of the airmen, those who sail the seas of the sky. But greater than these are the irrigation wells at Plainview and the Greatest Show on Earth in the irrigation ring is the big flowing well at the station in Plainview. The well and engine housed in a suitable structure, with the discharge pipe passing thru the wall of the house in full view of the station or train passengers, the stream of living water flows as impelled by some hidden, mighty force, into a basin of concrete. This basin measures some four feet high and some twelve feet wide. Connected with this and of the same height and width, is another basin which serves as a weir for measuring the amount of water discharged. The water from the first basin flows to the second by a gate built near the bottom, while the discharge from the second basin is the third passes thru the weir proper. This outlet measures some 24 inches wide and 10 inches deep, and the water flows thru and over in one continuous stream, the amount depending upon the speed of the pump, running from about 1,200 to 2,000 gallons per minute. From the third basin, the stream is allowed to spread out over discharge falls measuring some twelve feet long. Under these "falls" has been arranged a series of protected electric lights which, at night, gives to the water the most brilliant squintillations. After the water passes over these miniature "falls" it flows easily in a concrete ditch which leads back to Lake
 Plainview. This itself is a thing of beauty and a joy forever and a day. Containing many acres of water, enclosed by a beautiful drive, with trees growing in park like form, with white swan resting gracefully upon the lake's peaceful bosom, and here and there a small craft under sail or oar, the view presents a picture not to be lost from memory. Thus Plainview, thru her enterprise, has come into possession of the Greatest Show on Earth, a permanent, a living, moving, thing of beauty and wonder.
Kell Buys Railroad.
 Wichita Falls.—It became known here today that Frank Kell of this city has purchased control of the Clinton, Oklahoma and Western Railroad, an independent railroad property in Northwestern Oklahoma, crossing the Wichita Falls and Northwestern at Hammond. The deal was closed at St. Louis Wednesday. Mr. Kell is expected home from the city tonight. The line extends from Clinton to Strong City; from that place a six-mile line has been constructed to Cheyenne, Ok., by Cheyenne citizens. The road has a very generous section, of which Cheyenne citizens are the principal beneficiaries.
 The Mothers' Club met Tuesday with Mrs. C. R. Smith, and, with several visitors, was delightfully entertained on the lawn. A short program included some piano music by Misses Rutherford and Bourj; which every one enjoyed. The visitors present were Madames Connell, Mounts, Edwards, Mitchell, Peters, Jones and Bours.
 W. H. Russell has been gone most of the week candidating in the north end of the "district."

One More Week of Big Sale

On account of the farmers being so busy and quite a few not getting to attend the sale, we will be continued for one more week

Till Saturday Night, July 25th

We have cut the prices to bedrock during this sale. We have never but the prices so low during any sale in the past as we have during this sale. Any one needing goods at all cannot afford to miss this sale; if they do they will surely lose money. Every person that has bought goods of us during this sale, we have saved them from 20 to 50 per cent. Now isn't that worth while?

Surprised on His Birthday

There is nothing that pleases a boy more than to have some attention paid to him on his birthday; and as men are nothing but grown up boys, the pleasure of a birthday surprise, genuine in every respect, was given to Col. E. T. Woodburn, on last Wednesday, his 71st birthday. The members of the E. T. Woodburn Chapter of the U.D.C., the Confederate Veterans and their wives, and the house party then in the Woodburn country home and a few other friends, constituted the surprise party. Among the out of town people in the company were: Mr. and Mrs. Byars of Kansas City, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold; Mrs. Holman of Amarillo, guest of Mrs. Laird. The number who stormed the veteran in the quiet of his home would count as many as forty and so well had his household and friends kept the "secret" of their intentions, that his daughters could hardly persuade their father to don a clean shirt for the coming but unknown occasion. He had no thought of what was "up" tho he had discovered that no beans had been gathered for dinner, no fire had been started in the stove, and the table had not been extended for the company which has begun to arrive. But when he saw "the enemy" encamped under the shade of the trees near the house, with a spread fit for the gods, he laid down his "arms" and gracefully surrendered. His friends had provided everything for the occasion. Mrs. J. W. Sellers, was mistress of the ceremonies. After the feast, Miss Percy Gallier, a member of the house party, delivered a well worded toast to the "Veterans." Mrs. Sellers in behalf of the Daughters, in a few choice sentences, presented the veteran, for whom this occasion was intended, with a gold signet ring, bearing the letters "U. D. C." and with the date inscribed within. Mrs. Byars presented a guest book done in beautiful water colors. In this the Daughters registered their names, followed by the names of each Veteran and wife, then the names of the members of the house party. A group picture was mad of the dinner party. Col. Woodburn expressed his appreciation of the evidence of full friendship remarking that there was nothing greater in this world than a friend and that he was glad to know that he could count so many to himself. The happy occasion will always be remembered by every one present and the recipient of the honors will have his days extended for the pleasure his friends have given him

Little People Have Party.

As the heart grows riper in its experience and knowledge of life there is a tendency to think more of the pleasure and welfare of the young. A delightful manifestation of this kind that expressed the love of grandparents for the little ones near and dear to them, was the party given on last Tuesday afternoon from four to six by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thompson for their grandchildren, Laura May and Bob Junior. The little people with their parents are soon to leave for California and at this farewell party about thirty little friends of the children were most delightfully entertained on the shady, spacious lawn of the Thompson home. Games of various kinds were enjoyed by the children and their elders who looked on. To make the occasion more enjoyable, the little people were most bountifully served with ice cream, cake, fruits of different kinds and candies, just such quantities as only grandparents know how to provide. While Mr. and Mrs. Thompson do not look the parts, they played the role of grandparents to the satisfaction of all present.

Special Addresses on Temperance.

Fishing and Camping Party.

What is proving a very delightful vacation outing is that being enjoyed by a party of relatives from Memphis, who are the guests of Judge and Mrs. L. Gough for the week at beautiful Sulphur Park. True to the vacation spirit the camp is pitched on the banks of the placid Tierra Blanco and the time, which passes all too rapidly, is spent in fishing, rowing and swimming. In the party are several musicians and almost every night, as a restful diversion to the sports of the day, musical programs, supplemented by indoor games of various kinds, are enjoyed at the park home which skirts the stream and overlooks the broad valley in front. Sulphur Park is widely known as a fishing resort par excellence and each day quantities of the sunny tribe sufficient to supply the campers are easily caught. Occasionally parties of friends from the city come out to join in the pursuit of the elusive black bass and enjoy the other delights of the outing. Those in the party being entertained by Judge and Mrs. Gough at the park are: Miss Cordelia Finger of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fore of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fore, Frank Fore and Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Milam of Memphis, Earl Gough and Mrs. Jet Fore of Memphis.

BANG!

Like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. Bad blow-out. No warning. Apparently no reason. Car wasn't overloaded. Tires looked all right. Manufacturer's fault. Due to hidden wrinkle in tire fabric. Wouldn't have happened if tire had been cured on air by the costly Goodyear process.

Too bad some motorists continue to experiment with tires when we've a fresh, new stock of Goodyear No-Rim-Cuts ready for them. Any time you buy "All-Weather" tires. Cost no more than other tires. Come see for yourself.

Something new for Hereford, August 1.

The Carr-Elliott Wedding.

At ten o'clock last Sunday morning Miss Willia B. Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott, and Mr. Noel Cleveland Carr, were united in marriage at the bride's parental home. The home, always inviting and cozy, was transformed into a bower of beauty for this occasion. A spirit of solemnity permeated every corner of the rooms where the family and the close friends of the young people assembled to witness the marriage ceremony.

Everywhere appeared pink roses, smilax, delicate fern in a mist of tulle, draped arches, decorated tables and pedestals, bowls, vases and huge hanging baskets. Promptly at the appointed hour Miss Lois Wilks with Miss Gregg at the piano, sweetly sang the beautiful and appropriate morning love song, "At Dawning." This was followed by the thrilling melody of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss Ina Gregg. As the first strains of music floated through the rooms, Miss Nanna Elliott, maid of honor, carrying a beautiful bouquet of pink roses and ferns tied with pink tulle, and wearing a dainty, girlish gown of white mesaline and pink chiffon, entered the receiving room and gracefully crossed the living room to the arch leading to the dining room, where she took her place. Following the maid came the matron of honor, Mrs. Odell Elliott, carrying a bouquet similar to that of the maid's, and beautifully gowned in white satin, draped with lace and pearls. She passed the maid at the arch and took her place at the opposite side.

Next came the tiny figure of Francis Oberthier, dressed in gauzy white, carrying a slender basket filled with sweet peas, which she scattered in the path of the bride, before taking her place by the side of the matron of honor. Then slowly and with steady step, came the bride, lovely, pure and beautiful, leaning on the arm of her father. She was exquisitely gowned in white satin and lace and pearls, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas in misty ferns. The bridal veil bordered with point lace, was gathered about her brow with orange blossoms and fell in soft, gauzy folds over the entire length of her dress and train. They were met at the altar by the groom, escorted by the best man, Robert Elliott, Jr. The eloquent discourse by Rev. Farris was a fitting tribute to the ever constant devotion and faithful protection of the husband, to the undying love, faith and loyalty of the wife; and to the hallowed work of two united lives in the building of that sacred place called home. During the entire ceremony, Miss Edna Elliott, sister of the bride, softly played Trameri on the violin. Congratulations to bride and groom were then in order, during which The Angel's Serenade was played on the violin by Edna Elliott accompanied by Elizabeth Oberthier at the piano. Delicious refreshments of pink and white brick ice cream and angels cake were served. After the farewells and good wishes for the young couple had been said the guests dispersed, with a feeling in their hearts that "It is not good that man should be alone."

A Camp Fire Social.

On Tuesday night of last week, Mrs. S. B. Edwards delighted the hearts of twenty vivacious girl friends with the most unique entertainment of the social season. The occasion was in honor of the bride elect, Miss Willia Elliott. At just sun down, three big motor cars were sent to the respective homes for the girls that were soon deposited at the Edwards residence, where the welcoming hostess was "at home" on her lawn under a canopy of green foliage. The guests were requested to wear middys and skirts and to bring something cookable and suitable for a camp fire, since a trench was already dug with a log on each side, ready for the "flames." The cooks immediately proved their ability for their art by chopping kindling and lighting a roaring fire, over which they fried a half dozen young chickens, several dozen eggs, a generous amount of bacon, and boiled, delicious coffee. In the dining room corner of the lawn Mrs. Edwards had spread an immense linen cloth on which was an ample supply of fresh fruits, bread, sliced tomatoes, pickles, olives and salads. Desert consisting of assorted cakes and cream with afterdinner, mints of raw onions, quite to the enjoyment of every one present. After the "banquet," the hostess ushered her guests to a mysterious looking tent in a shadowed portion of the lawn, in front of which was a graphophone that filled the air with cuttings from Grand Operas during the evening. Within the tent was an unusually gifted fortune teller, the queen of gypsies, by the name of Mrs. Pratt. Eagerly each girl extended a palm from which the miraculous woman read of fame, riches, poverty, more brides to be and "old maids." Lastly she read from the hand of the honor guest who she could see was on the verge of a long trip with a Carr, it seemed. And when she said there will be a washout on the line due to the recent "showers," a real shower of beautiful linen pieces fell from a cleverly arranged "patch" in the top of the tent, over the head of the bride to be. Still another hour was spent joyfully in the girl companionship of Mrs. Edwards before the goodnights were said.

A Lawn Supper.

An elaborate and enjoyable lawn supper was the delightful occasion given by Mrs. Leslie Moreman at the beautiful and popular Moreman home last Saturday night in honor of the bride elect, Miss Elliott, and the groom, Mr. Carr. The thoughtful hostess made this the first and only of the prenuptial affairs including the groom as an honor guest, who permitted other gentlemen friends also to be present for the pleasure of spending the last evening with the bridal couple. During the supper that the hostess herself prepared, three original toasts written in rhyme were given. The toast "To Our Girls," was given by Forrest Walker; "To the Gentlemen Present," by Miss Gallaher; "To the Bride and Groom," by Miss Gregg. The diversion for the later part of the evening was music and popular songs. Before the guests expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Moreman for the evening that was such a treat, some more rhymes were indulged in by every one present during the registering in the beautiful little guest book artistically painted and arranged by the original hostess.

News In General.

Attorney Looney has brought suit against the Texas Business Men's Association, of which the Farm Life Commission, of which Peter Radford, is head, to oust it from doing business in Texas. Ninety-five other corporations are made parties to the suit. He claims that they are violating the law by contributing to the campaign funds used in connection with the Radford-Lewis articles.

Dr. A. H. Carnes of Farwell died last Sunday as a result of an auto accident. The car turned over and he was caught under the machine receiving injuries which proved fatal.

Texas will have the largest voting population this year in its history, the mark reaching 700,000. This is not expected that the full strength of the vote will come out this fall as it is "off year" in elections. The Democrats will show their strength in July, but this is likely to be much less than the real voting strength.

The glorious fire at Salem, the old witch city, will go down in history as one of the great ones. Thousands of stores and dwellings were burned and thousands of people rendered homeless. Subscriptions have been freely given to relieve the suffering and want of those who lost their homes.

Elevator Sold.

The elevator at Hereford, built and owned by the Star Mill & Elevator Company of Amarillo has been sold to Crowley Bros. & Hunter of Higgins, Texas, and will be operated in the future as the Panhandle Grain Co. C. R. Holman will still be the manager and the company will buy and sell all kinds of grain. During the wheat and oat season they will endeavor to take care of all that comes to the elevator.

Cash Investment of the Railroads During Six Years.

During the six fiscal years 1908 to 1913, inclusive, the steam railways of the United States of Class I invested in their road and equipment cash to the amount of $4,010,385,303. Railways of Class I, so designated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, are those with annual operating revenues of over $1,000,000. They include about 90 per cent of the mileage, receive more than 96 per cent of the revenues, and handle more than 98 per cent of the traffic. This cash investment of the operating railways of Class I of the Eastern District during the six years was greater than the amount of capital securities issued by them during this period, and was 19.9 per cent of the aggregate of their capital securities outstanding June 30, 1913; of the railways of the same class of the Southern District it was 21.1 per cent, and of the railways of the same class of the Western District it was 23.2 per cent of the aggregate of their capital securities outstanding June 30, 1913. That is, the cash actually expended by these railways during the last six years upon their properties used in transportation amounts to more than one-fifth of their total capitalization at the close of the last fiscal year. This is at the rate of $668,397,551 per year. These figures are obtained through a compilation made by the Bureau of Railway Economics from the reports of the railways to the Interstate Commerce Commission and have not heretofore been collated.

Q.—In 1 Samuel 15:13 the prophet quotes God as saying: "Go now and smite Amalek and utterly destroy all that they have, and spare them not; but slay both man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and ass." Does anyone believe that God gave such a command? (W. M. T.)

Answer.—If the reliability of Samuel's course be questioned, then everything else that Samuel did and said would be equally subject to criticism and rejection, for if he deceived on one occasion, what guarantee have we that he did not deceive on all occasions? To the contrary, we have the assurance of the apostles that Samuel was a prophet of the Lord. He is named with David by St. Paul (Hebrews 11:32), and again in Acts 13:20; while the Lord through Jeremiah the prophet, classed Samuel as one of the chief of the prophets, ranking him next to Moses, saying, "Though Moses and Saul stood before me" to plead the cause I would not repent (Jeremiah 15:1). Whoever, therefore, undertakes to find fault with this text is practically finding fault with the entire Bible and is branding himself as an unbeliever in it and its teachings. And by the time the Bible has been repudiated as the standard of authority before the mind, it leaves us without any standard of judgment except what each individual may possess by nature. Thus the tendency of higher critics is to rationalism, under which each man makes his own god, his own religion, his own hopes, his own fears.

Q.—There were two thieves crucified with our Lord. What will become of the one that did not ask to be with Him in His kingdom? (J. D. W.)

Answer.—The two thieves crucified with our Lord will be in paradise with all the remainder of mankind, except the church of this Gospel age. Both thieves will be under the rule of Christ's Kingdom, the object of which will be the restoration of the earth and its inhabitants to their former perfection lost in Adam. The penitent thief, however, will have the advantage of the other, because, instead of hardening his heart and joining with the rabble in reviling our Lord during His dying moments, his heart was softened. This hapens us that in paradise, blessed under the kingdom rule, he will find less to battle against, and this will require fewer corrective stripes than the impenitent thief. As the reward of the church will be everlasting, spiritual life, hence to the willful transgressors against light and knowledge the penalty will be second death. So also will be the judgment of the world in its trial. At its conclusion—the end of the thousand years, every member of the race will be subject to severe trials, to test his heart loyalty to the Lord. All who stand the tests will be ushered into the everlasting state, while all who prove lacking of the fullest loyalty to the Lord and to righteousness will be destroyed in the second death, as it is written, "It shall come to pass that every soul that will not obey that prophet shall be utterly destroyed from among the people" (Acts 3:23).

Q.—Where has Jesus been since His ascension and why does He delay His return? (O. M.)

Answer.—The coming of Jesus as the sacrifice and ransom for sinners, was just long enough in advance of the blessing and restoring time to allow for the selection of His "little flock" of "joint-heirs." This will account to some for the apparent delay on God's part in giving the blessings promised, and provided for, in the ransom. The blessings will come in due time, as at first planned, though, for a glorious purpose, the price was secured longer beforehand than man would have expected.

The Apostle Peter informs us that Jesus has been absent from earth—in the heaven—during all the intervening time from His ascension to the beginning of the times of restitution. His kingdom reign—"whom the heavens must retain until the times of restitution of all things," etc. (Acts 3:21). Since the Scriptures thus teach that the object of our Lord's second advent is the restitution of all things, and that at the time of His appearing the nations are so far from being converted as to be angry (Revelation 11:18) and in opposition, it must be admitted either that the church will fail to accomplish her mission, and that the plan of God will be thus far frustrated, or else, as the Bible shows, that the conversion of the world in the present age was not expected, but that the church's mission has been to preach the Gospel in all the world for a witness, and to prepare herself under divine direction for her great future work. God has not yet by any means exhausted His power for the world's conversion. Nay, more: He has not yet even attempted the conversion of the world. Those who claim that Jehovah has been trying for six thousand years to convert the world, and failing all the time, must find it difficult to reconcile such views with the Bible assurance that all God's purposes shall be accomplished, and that His word shall not return unto Him void, but shall prosper in the thing whereto it is sent (Isaiah 55:11). The fact that the world has not yet been converted, and that the knowledge of the Lord has not yet filled the earth, is a proof that God has not yet sent His word on that mission.

Illinois Family Moves to Hereford.
Another Illinois family has moved to Hereford to make their home. This is Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Gallagher and their two sons. They have purchased the Walker place east of town, but for the present will occupy a place within the city. It is the purpose of Mr. Gallagher to improve the Walker 160 acres. The first thing will be to paint and re-paper the house and to put the premises in good condition. An irrigation well will be put down, one of the million-gallons-per-day variety. This well will be the basis for an alfalfa and hog farm. As much as 100 acres will be seeded as soon as possible. An orchard of cherries, plums, apples and a plot for a vineyard will be laid out. The well will be located at a convenient place near the main road just east of the house. This road is a part of the international auto road and as the Santa Fe railroad is parallel to the south line of the farm, this will place the great irrigation well in full view of both thoroughfares. This well will be equipped for display and as well for practical

Whoever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's
The Old Standard Grove's Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

Facts On Temperance
Our prohibition friends are fond of saying that the world would be far better off if the "curse of drink" were wiped out of existence.
We agree with them. But the "curse of drink" means intemperance—drunkenness.
Beer is not conducive to drunkenness, although the sensation of ideas is so close in the minds of some people that they make no discrimination whatever and, either ignorantly or thoughtlessly, they hold beer fully as responsible for drunkenness as anything else. The fallacy and injustice of this assumption are at once apparent to any fair minded person who considers these facts:
Beer is essentially a drink of temperate people and is the best friend of true temperance. It contains so small a percentage of alcohol as to render it absolutely harmless if taken in moderation.
Many eminent divines who have made a close investigation of saloon conditions and the liquor question in general, declare that the moderate use of beer and light wines should be encouraged rather than discouraged, because they recognize the great truth that moderate indulgence is the only way by which true temperance can be promoted and lasting maintained.
Rev. Dr. Parkhurst of New York, says:
I am decidedly of the opinion that the more wine and beer there is produced in this country and the more freely it is transported from state to state, the less whiskey will be used and the smaller the amount of drunkenness.
Can, then, any right thinking person suppose that a light beer—a truly, healthful, mild and harmless beverage—is an enemy to mankind—that it can in any way be construed as the "curse of drink"? Yet the prohibitionists assert that it is and they would, therefore, abolish it. But in so doing they would but magnify the evil, drunkenness, they are trying to suppress. —Paid Advertisement.

How To Give Quinine To Children.
FERRILINE is the trade-mark name given to an improved Quinine. It is a Tasteless Syrup, pleasant to take and does not disturb the stomach. Children take it and never know it is Quinine. Also especially adapted to adults who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not possess the usual nauseousness and ringing in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for Ferriline original package. The name FERRILINE is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

Saved Girl's Life
"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Theford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.
"It certainly has no equal for a gripe, bad colds, liver and stomach trouble. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Theford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Theford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.
If you suffer in any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.
