DISTRICT COURT STILL GRINDING

Routine Business Attended To—A Few Cases Disposed of—Grand Jury Makes Final Report.

The third week of district court began Monday morning with Special Judge N. J. R. Jackson presiding. The grand jury reassembled Monday morning to resume their labors and later in the day returned one bill of indictment, which was for a misdemeanor, and adjourned for the term.

This being a jury week, the first case on the jury civil docket set down for trial Monday was called for trial, it being the case of Parlin & Orendorf Implement Company vs J. I. Walker et al. After a jury was selected and considerable testimony introduced, the defendant G. W. Barcus, withdrew his announcement of ready for trial on account of change made in plaintiff's pleadings after the trial had commenced, and the case was continued by the agreement of all parties.

The following cases have been disposed of since the last issue: L. P. Landrum et ux vs Deaf Smith County et al, suit for damages for personal injury to Mrs. Landrum. Trial by a jury and a verdict for $200 for plaintiffs returned. The defendant, the City of Hereford has filed a motion for a new trial.

S. B. Edwards vs. James H. Sims et al, suit to quiet title. Judgment by default in favor of plaintiff to title and possession of the property.

Chas. Hodges vs James Burns; suit for damages. Jury instructed by the court to return a verdict for the defendant.

H. H. Hawkins vs L. T. Lester et al, suit for damages. On trial. Among the out of town attorneys in attendance upon court this week are W. H. Kimbrough, A. S. Rollins and J. W. Crudgington of Amarillo.

Raise More Hogs

The Panhandle does not have to take a sworn pledge from its farmers to get them to diversify. They reduce the acreage of cotton by planting hogs. But still there is room for more hogs. W. L. Boys, farm demonstrator for the tri-county organization, suggests that the farmers of his district buy brood sows and keep them on the extra feed they have raised this year. This will give a good crop of young sows to sell to the lower Texas farmers. They will want them next fall and will have to come to the Panhandle to get them. He advises the farmers to buy a few good, well bred sows now, feed them the maize and kafir raised this year, grow a lot of porkers and young sows for the next fall market. This is certainly the wisest thing to do with the feed crops of the Panhandle. Don't sell all of the feedstuffs, keep a little, feed a lot, sell a little. Plant hogs and more feed stuffs.

Thanksgiving Pardons.

Gov. Colquitt has issued pardons to 158 Texas convicts, some half of the number being Mexicans and Negroes who were without friends or any one to help them obtain a pardon even if entitled to one. We believe that all convicts should be investigated from time to time and a report made to a special committee as was done in this case. When one is found that shows evidence of reform and has served a long term, he should be paroled for a period and then, if he proves worthy, given full freedom and the return of his citizenship.

Frank Barrow of Plainview came in Monday to visit with Mrs. Barrow who is here on a visit to home folks.

Some of the Red Cross nurses serving in the war zone seem to be possessed of the strength of men. Two of them are here seen carrying a wounded English sailor.

Amarillo Capitalist Will Build Gas Pipe Line

The Waco Tribune gives a bit of interesting information in connection with one of Amarillo's millionaires when it states that Col. C. T. Herring has asked the city of Waco for a franchise to lay gas mains in the city of Waco. He proposes to build a competing line from Mexico and to give the people of that city the advantages of lower rates for gas, fuel and lights. The Texas Power & Light already occupy that city, and the Tribune states that it will require the outlay of a million dollars and several year's work to open the streets and lay mains and laterals for another gas pipe installation. Col. Herring is interested in the gas wells of Mexico.

Celebrates Birthday.

On Tuesday the 17th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bridges, the neighbors and friends gathered with them to celebrate Mrs. Bridges' "sixteenth" birthday. At the noon hour the guests opened their baskets and spread a bountiful dinner. The table just groaned with good things much to the distress of one of the table legs. After spending a pleasant day with music and conversation all departed to their homes wishing Mrs. Bridges many happy returns of the day. Those present were: Mesdames Charley Paddock, H. E. Ribble, W. S. Patton, Jim Sanders, W. W. Chivington, A. F. Wood and children, G. R. Conklin, John Ely, S. J. Rice, C. P. Galley, Jim Nutter, Hollis Galley and baby, Jack Cobb, R. J. Kibbe and Master Hary, R. H. Womack and children, J. J. Collup and Master Floyd, Walt Bradley, and Misses Mary Hapsey, Mae Collup, and Elsie Smith.

Mistaken About Onions.

Last week in making mention of the good onion crop raised by the Rice boys, sons of S. J. Rice, the Brand stated that they had raised 2000 pounds on three tenths of an acre, when they raised two tons, 4000 pounds, on that amount of land. We regret that the error occurred and are glad to correct it.

Local Banks Send Gold to Regional Banks

Upon call, the two national banks of Hereford, the First National and the Western National, on the first of the month, sent their first assessment of $1,000 each to the Regional Bank located at Dallas. Monday, the day for the opening of the Regional Banks for business, they sent in a deposit for reserve, the Western National remitting $2,000 in gold and the First National sending $3,000 in gold. Under the present regulations, each national bank member must keep two-twelfths of their reserve on deposit in the Regional Bank, five-twelfths in their own vaults, and five-twelfths with any reserve agent or with the Regional Banks or in their vaults. These proportions will be changed at the end of a year, gradually increasing the reserve in the Regional Bank, each year for three years.

This, the beginning of an entirely new system of banking for the United States, will be studied and watched by all financiers the world over. Starting at a time when the greater part of Europe is at war, with the destruction of property and industries on every side, it may be the beginning of financial supremacy of the United States. The necessity of the moment may force the return of securities from the financial centers of Europe to the United States and may change this country from a borrowing nation to a lending country. Our common people may become bond holders instead of money borrowers.

TURKEY'S WAR MINISTRY

Enver Pasha, the war minister of Turkey, is said to have the upper hand in the affairs of his country at present and is believed to be responsible for the loss of Turkey as an ally of Germany.

The biggest thing in the Brand this week is the double page ad of the Fox Mercantile Company. It's red all the time even if you have not read it; its bound to be red. This company has been in business in Hereford nine months and have, as they state, built up a good line of trade. Their second Special Sale, called "Need Money Sale," is now on. Out of town customers and buyers in the town around Hereford are invited to come to Hereford during this sale and see how well they can do. A special invitation is extended to the people of Friona, Bovina, Farwell, Summersfield, Dimmit, Parrott, Dawn, Umbarger and Canyon; also to Vega, Wildorado, Adrian, Kelso; in fact every in-reach community.

Uncle Tom Greene Hurt

Uncle Tom Green had the misfortune to fall from a loaded wagon Wednesday and the fore wheel was pulled against his body with considerable force, but the team stopped before it rolled over him. He was badly hurt but will be out again soon.

Foot and Mouth Disease; What It Is.

To County agents of Texas and Oklahoma:—No doubt you know of the dangerous majady among cattle called Foot and Mouth Disease, which is not only creating a great financial loss, but I am afraid the further interest in cattle raising will be lessened to a considerable extent.

Below I am giving a brief outline of the symptoms of this disease as prepared by one of the County Agents of Kentucky:

"There is not a disease known that is more highly communicable from one subject to another than this one. The disease is transmitted by direct contact, and through the medium of infected food, litter, watering places, stables, cars and attendants. It is possible that the contagion may be carried short distances in the air.

The period of incubation, or the time that elapses between exposure and signs of the development of the disease, usually is short, but may vary from 24 hours to 20 days. Most cases develop within two or three days after exposure.

Foot and mouth disease usually starts with a chill. The animal remains by itself, the back is arched, hair erect, flanks tucked up, and there is shivering or twitching of the muscles. A sick animal moves with reluctance, and there is stiffness or marked lameness in the gait. A thick, yellowish secretion collects at the inner corners of the eyes and about the edges of the nostrils.

More active symptoms of the disease may be noticed by blisters which form in the mouth, about the feet and on the udder. The blisters vary in size from that of a pea to a quarter of a dollar, and are filled with a watery fluid. There is a profuse salivation of the mouth; the saliva at first is normal, but later becomes thick andropy.

This disease is not ordinarily fatal, but causes serious loss in the checked milk flow, and prolonged unthrifty condition and seriously diseased feet. The mouth is so sore that the animal is unable to partake of solid food and apparently loses all sense of taste, and is generally of no value thereafter. One attack of the disease does not confer immunity as the animal may have it several times.

Destruction of affected animals and thorough disinfection of these are the only methods that have ever been effective in dealing with this disease."

This will help you to identify the disease, if it should break out in your county, in which case of course you will immediately notify the proper authorities, by telephone or telegraph. In any such case you would be sure to disinfect yourself thoroughly after coming in contact with the disease, to prevent carrying it to another herd.

This letter is merely by way of caution, as we are hoping this very dangerous disease will not appear in your states at all.

Very truly yours, E. Gentry, Field Agent.

Burk's Big Shows Coming

Burk's "Ten Nights In a Bar Room" is the most beautiful play in the English language and justly deserves its popularity. It inculcates in the youthful mind a love of honesty, morality and Christianity. It boldly stands out for all that is good, and upholds to scorn and contempt all that is bad, and for these reasons it appeals to all Christian people as the ideal of a great and moral play. We especially aim to amuse and instruct the children, and present nothing inimical to youth and innocence. It is just what it is advertised to be—moral refined and instructive as well as amusing. Don't deny yourself or the little ones this one night of wholesome recreation. Remember that this is the original Burk's Company and will be with you but one night, Tuesday Nov. 24

School for Eastern Star

During the first days of this week, the local Eastern Star entertained a number of delegates and visitors from other towns. It was the occasion of their School of Instruction and a number of important personages high up in the order were here: District Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. Hattie Beadle of Chillicothe; Special Deputy Mrs. Harriett Christian of Amarillo. The visiting members were: Mesdames Jeannie George, Nettie McKinney, Sorl, Daisy Bumpas, Pearl Umphres, Jeanette Lee, Fesseden, Conklin, Hattie Freirabanda Edna Peitz; Britt, Clara Bailey, all of Amarillo; Mesdames Minerva Campbell, Vena Stratton, Bruce McIntyre, Emma Monroe, Luna Lofton, all of Canyon, and Mrs. Henson of Canadian. There were others from Dimmitt whose names we could not get. The local order prepared some sort of entertainment for their guests for Tuesday and Wednesday nights, serving elegant refreshments.

A Six O'clock Dinner.

Mrs. H. G. Conkright was host to a few of her friends last Wednesday evening when she served a four course dinner in honor of her sister, Miss Virginia Lisle of Kentucky. Covers were laid for eight and the table appointments were in elegant taste and arrangement. After the appetizing meal all repaired to the high school auditorium where they enjoyed the lyceum number.

Mason and Dixon Line

One hundred and fifty-one years ago today two English surveyors, Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, began the surveying of what is known as the Mason and Dixon Line between the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland. This line afterwards became famous as the supposed boundary between the North and the South, or between the free and slave-holding states. From it came "Dixie," the cognomen for the South, which has been immortalized in song and story.

The line was surveyed at the instance of William Penn and Lord Baltimore. The surveyors were three years in making the survey from the northeast corner to the foot of Savage Mountain. In 1767 the work was finished from the latter point to Virginia, now West Virginia. The line is said to have cost $300,000, and the surveyors employed an army of 100 axmen and a road thirty feet wide was cut thru the dense forest.

A mixture of sand and limestone of light brown grayish color was brought over from England to mark the line, and these stones were set up at intervals of a mile apart wherever it was possible to erect them. They weighed 300 pounds and were four and one-half feet high. On some parts of the line the country was so rugged that mounds of dirt and rock had to be substituted for these stones.

Today the Mason and Dixon line has been resurveyed and remarked and divested of its chief erroneous traditions. In 1849 a revision of the line was made by a joint commission from Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware, and it was then found that the original survey was so nearly accurate that the change involved by the correction amounted to less than two acres, which was added to Maryland.

In 1903, Pennsylvania and Maryland each appropriated $5,000 for the restoration of the line. Many of the peculiar English stones had disappeared and the commission made an exhaustive search for them. The identification was an easy task, for on breaking them the stones emitted a sulphurous odor. So thorough was the search that some were found in the curbing of the streets and in peoples cellars. One was taken from the wall of an old stone church where it had done service for many years.

In the places of those, that could not be found new stones of marble were set up. On every fifth one of these, the coat of arms of William Penn was cut on the Pennsylvania side and on the Maryland side the escutcheon of Lord Baltimore was placed. On the others the single monograms of P. and M. were cut. The stones are now set so near one another even in the mountain regions, that a traveler may stand at a stone and see the next one.

M. for the other time. The church is to be congratulated in securing the service of such an able young man. Brother Winterrowd having graduated from Nashville Bible college with B. L. Degree, also from Polytechnic college of Ft. Worth, Texas with a B. A. degree. He will preach for the church on next Sunday morning and night, holding a singing class in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members urged to be present, all others are extended a most cordial welcome.

At the Presbyterian Church.
Sunday School, 9:45; preaching at 11 o'clock. Subject at morning service, "Opportunity"; at night, "Honor thy Father and mother." Special music will be rendered at both morning and evening service. The public is invited. It might be well to mention that the pastor, Rev. W. M. Baker, is closing with November his seventh years work with this church. Since January 1, 55 members have been added to that congregation and the work in the different departments has done well. The Sunday School after paying all current expenses has a balance of $82.00 and the incidental fund has a balance of $50. This is a splendid showing. Rev. Baker states that the other expenses of the church including the pastor's salary are nearer even at this time of the year than they have ever been, showing a healthy financial condition of that congregation. J. E. Garrison is superintendent of the Sunday School.

Thanksgiving Services
All of the churches in town will unite in a joint Thanksgiving service and will meet at the Methodist Church at 10 o'clock, Thursday, November 26, the day proclaimed by the President. Rev. R. E. L. Farmer will preach the sermon. Special music will be furnished by the choirs of the different churches

Birthday Surprise.

Wednesday Nov. 11 marked another milestone in lifes journey of Mrs. W. B. Parmer.

Her friends conceived the idea of giving her a surprise, but had to let Mr. Parmer into the secret in order to carry out their plans. Mr. Mitchell, who is very popular with the ladies, helped them with his ever ready auto.

At 11:30 a crowd of about thirty-five drove up in their autos, carriages and buggies. Unannounced they walked in and took Mrs. Parmer by surprise, each guest laden with something good to eat, and they proceeded to take charge of dining room and kitchen. At twelve o'clock Mr. Bratton, son Sam, wife and baby arrived from Farwell, Mr. Parmer having notified them of the occasion. About 12:30 Miss Miller came into the sitting room with slips of papers, numbered. Each one began to ask questions and wondered what was up, but soon found out that these numbers were passes to the dining room. Those drawing the numbers one, two, three and so on, thought of course they would be the first to the dining room. Rev. Henson, pretty high up in numbers, was some what uneasy and wanted to fraide, but when the numbers were called he found they were selected at random and he, as most preachers are, was lucky and got to eat at first table. The ladies served a four course dinner which was very fine. Mrs. Mitchell presided over the "Guest Book" which she passed around each table, all registering. Mrs. Parmer, like most ladies, refused to tell her age. Rev. Henson and Mrs. Cogsdell, both being of a quiet nature were unusually so that day; but the rest of the crowd made things lively enough. About 4:30 all left wishing Mrs. Parmer many more happy Birthdays. A guest.

You don't save money when you buy cheap or big-can baking powder. Don't be misled. Buy Calumet. It's more economical—more wholesome—gives best results. Calumet is far superior to sour milk and soda.

HOW TO CURE A CHRONIC COUGH

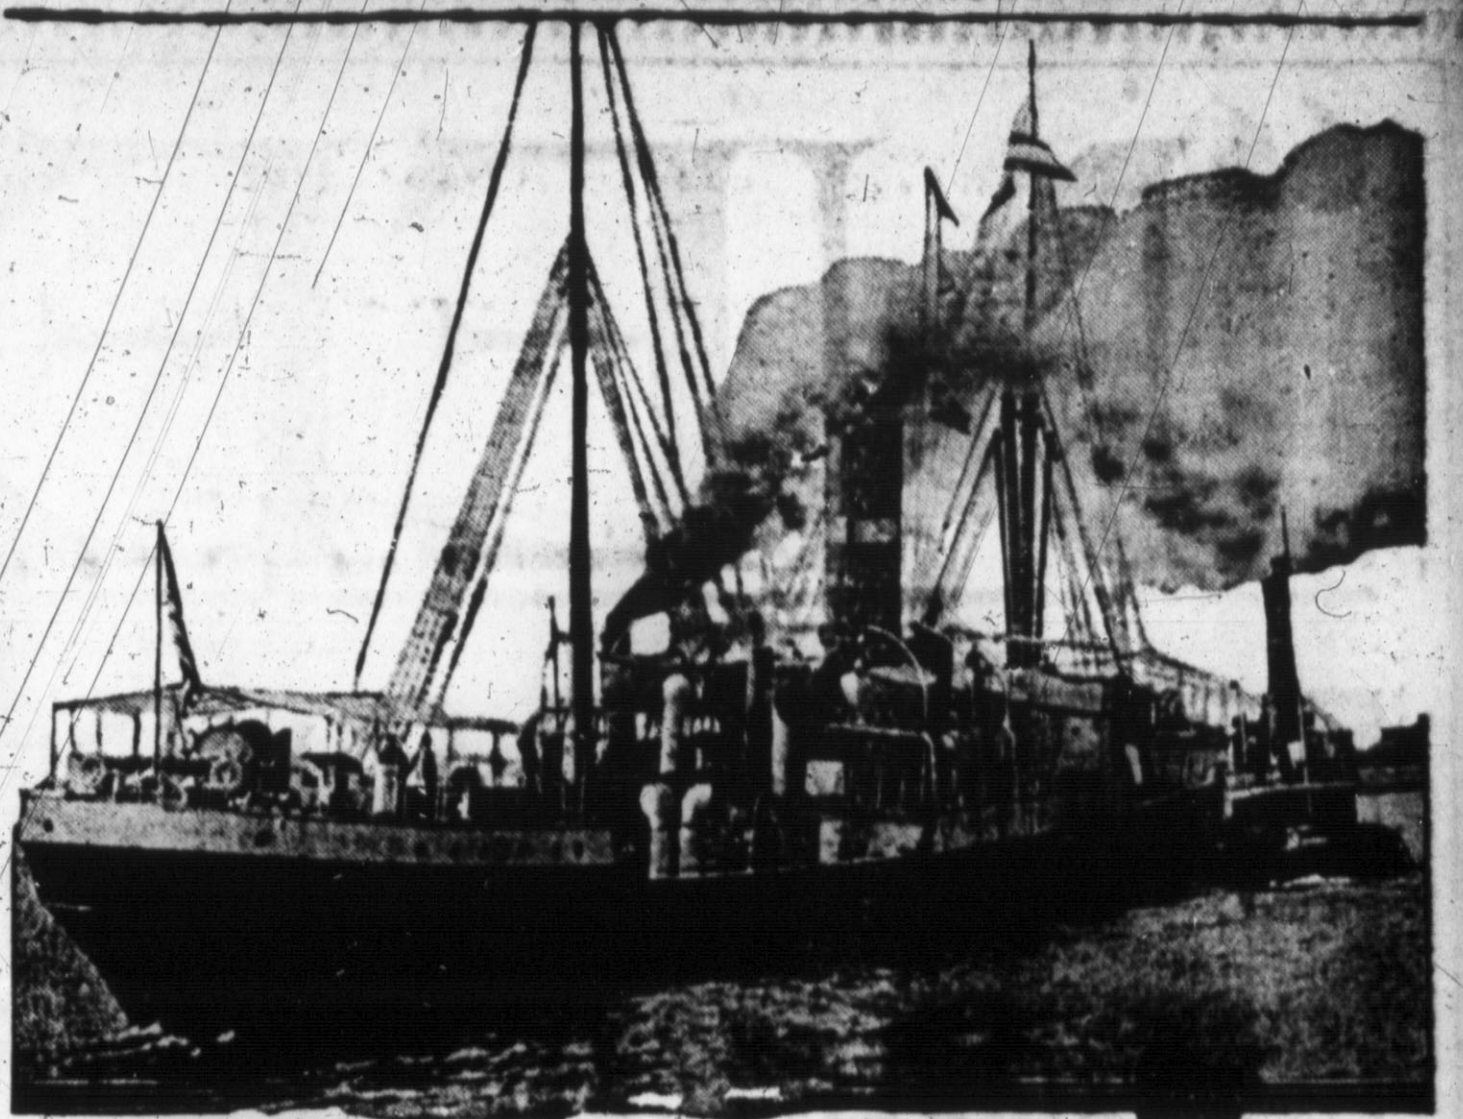

Told in the Following Letter by a Jackson Man Who Knows from Experience. His Word Is Good.

Jackson, Miss.—"I am a carpenter, and the gripe left me not only with a chronic cough, but I was run-down, worn out and weak. I took all kinds of cough syrups but they did me no good. I finally got so weak I was not able to do a day's work, and coughed so much I was alarmed about my condition. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Before I had taken a quarter of a bottle I felt better, and after taking two bottles my cough is entirely cured, all the bad symptoms have disappeared and I have gained new vim and energy." —JOHN L. DENNIS, 711 Lynch Street, Jackson, Miss.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because the active medicinal principles of cod liver oil contained in Vinol rebuilds wasting tissues and supplies strength and vigor to the nerves and muscles while the tonic iron and wine assist the red corpuscles of the blood to absorb oxygen and distribute it through the system, thus restoring health and strength to the weakened, diseased organs of the body. If Vinol fails to help you, we return your money.

The Young Man's Opportunity. A Splendid Salary Working for Uncle Sam

The Tyler Commercial College of Tyler, Texas, makes a specialty of preparing young people to pass the Civil Service Examinations as stenographers, typists and bookkeepers. This class of Civil Service work pays $990 a year and upward; our students seldom start at less than $1000 for the first year. This line of Civil Service work is about the surest work that a young person could pursue. With us they are sure of being able to pass the examination; when they have passed the examination they are sure of the position; when they have the position they are sure of a good salary; they are also sure of easy hours and promotion. Make your arrangements now.

The Tyler Commercial College is not a mere business college, it is a commercial training institution that fits one with a thorough, practical education that enables him to enter the business world on a broad plan. Regardless of wars, our government must have stenographers, bookkeepers and operators. Then again, there is plenty of demand for help in all parts of the country with the exception of the cotton raising districts. We have been getting many calls for help from the grain states as the crops were good and the war has caused an advance in price. A graduate from our institution is not confined to any one section of the state or to anyone state. He can go where there is plenty of business and take care of himself during almost any adversity. The president of our institution, Mr. Byrne, has just returned from Europe where he went as a member of the American Commissions of Municipal, Executive and Civic Leaders. He is confident that the European War is going to be a blessing in disguise for the United States, and that there never was a better time than now for young people to prepare themselves for a broad, active business career.

Write for catalog and full particulars. If you cannot enter for personal instructions, take our course by correspondence; it is practical, it is thorough; guaranteed to be as recommended or it costs you nothing. For full particulars address Civil Service Dept., Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas. State course interested in.

Sick Headache.

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mrs. John Bishop of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." WAREHOUSES,

SOLUTION OF COTTON
PROBLEM, SAYS FARM-ERS' UNION.

Diversification Urged and Coercion Opposed.

The marketing problem of the southern farmer is attracting universal attention and the exigencies of the situation fully demonstrate the wisdom of the course pursued by the Farmers' Union in the campaign it has been carrying on for the past ten years for a better marketing system. The best time to prepare for a fire is before it occurs, for while the conflagration is raging it is too late to prevent destruction and the best that can be done is to save the furniture.

The southern farmer has just experienced a four hundred million dollar blaze in cotton values and the lurid flames as they leap skyward have illuminated the horizon of two hemispheres and have assembled the largest body of property holders, spectators and sympathizers that ever witnessed a conflagration and while the crowd is standing around we want to address them briefly from the standpoint of the owner of the property involved. We think the subject has been fully exhausted from every other line of approach.

Every calamity has its froth, and the foam and bubbles that have come to the surface in this discussion, while beautiful as a rainbow and as alluring as a mirage, are in many instances not adapted to solving the problem. Then too many cooks spoil the broth and there must be some one plan universally followed or all will fail. We want to review some of the plans now under discussion and recommend for the adoption of the Texas farmer such plans as we think practicable and feasible.

The problem before us is clearly one of warehouses, credits and acreage. They are business—not political—problems and their solution must be based on sound economic principles.

Warehouse Bill a Farce.

The so-called relief measures passed by the last legislature are, in their present form, of little value. The warehouse bill submitted to the last legislature by the Farmers' Union was thrown together with a lot of other bills on this subject and a hybrid bill prepared, apparently by parties who have no practical knowledge of the cotton industry. While we appreciate the sincerity of the motive and honesty of effort that actuated the legislature, the Farmers' Union hereby washes its hands of the whole affair. The farmers of Texas can hope for no relief from any enactments of the last session of the legislature as they now stand.

The plan of the Texas bankers to force a reduction of acreage by requiring a farmer to sign a pledge to reduce acreage before lending money on cotton no doubt has patriotic motives behind it, but in effect it is vicious. It forces the poor farmer, who must borrow money, to reduce his acreage next year, but leaves the well-to-do farmer and the large planter, who are independent of the power of the banker, to do as they please. No farmer should be coerced by business pressure of the banker to sign such a contract, for he can depend upon the large planter increasing his acreage in the same ratio that the poor farmer decreases his. Likewise, the farmer should pay no attention to agents of self-appointed agricultural administrators who call around with their sample cases filled with advice on when to sell cotton and how many acres to plant next year.

By what authority does the merchant and the banker exercise the right of eminent domain over the products of the soil?

Acreage a World Problem.

The question of cotton acreage is not a local or state problem, if indeed it can be solved nationally. It is a world problem, for in what way would it profit the south to reduce the cotton acreage, say 10 per cent, if the foreign countries took up the slack? No Texas farmer should be asked to pledge a reduction of acreage unless satisfactory assurance is given that the propaganda will be successfully carried on in other cotton states and countries. The Farmers' Union has been dealing with this problem for the past ten years and has placed its influence behind almost every suggestion that promised solution and out of our experience we are inclined to suggest, at the moment, that there is a peril in planting cotton by law or farming by dictation from bankers. We think planting by the moon is as good a plan as either (although we have never tried it) unless the total world acreage can be regulated by these influences.

We present statistics from the Federal Department of Agriculture dealing with the subject which give a reason why the farmer does not take eagerly to diversification. The following table gives a list of our leading staple products produced in Texas and their average value per acre during the past five years:

Crop	Five year average value per acre
Cotton	$21.51
Oats	14.31
Corn	12.91
Wheat	12.71

Want Information—Not Advice

It is information the farmer wants. If some one will fill in the figures on value of the 1911 crop per acre, the farmer will know what to do and he is ready to listen to business reasons and discussions relative to prospective price per pound of the 1911 crop based upon practical, not theoretical, conditions. If he is convinced it will be more profitable to plant other crops he will do so and if not, he will plant cotton and that is all there is to it.

The Farmers' Union stands for reduction of cotton acreage by diversification but it is difficult to induce a farmer to plant a product that will yield $15.00 per acre so long as he can plant one that will make $20.00. The subject of diversification always opens up a fertile field of discussion for the book farmers who hold a recipe for doubling production without an increase in the cost. It is passing strange that these magic plowmen who can make a hundred bushels of corn grow where fifty grew before are usually standing on street corners looking for jobs and how they have survived so many hair-breadth escapes from wealth, is truly marvelous. The practical farmer knows that prosperity predicated upon such a basis is a myth and the business man knows it too if he would only stop and think.

Out of the mass of suggestions now before the public the one, in our opinion, most desirable is the plan of the national bankers, headed by Festus J. Wade of St. Louis, which proposes to lend the farmer money on cotton at 6 per cent without any strings tied to it. This plan originated in Texas and proved successful and satisfactory in operation.

The problem before us involves principally organization of the farmer and co-operation of the business interests. We will have more to say on this subject at a later date.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Hereford Citizens

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Hereford, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

B. W. Miller, N. Eleventh and F. Sts., Hereford, Tex., says: "I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Woodburn & Sons' Drug Store, when I was suffering from pain in my back and they quickly relieved me. Now when I stoop or lift, I don't have that pain in my loins and the trouble with my kidneys has also been corrected." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills, the kind that Mr. Miller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Money entertained a number of friends and relatives at a six o'clock supper Saturday evening. After the delicious supper was served the guests were entertained by music, dominoes and out-door games. The festive time broke up about 11:30 and all present wished Lee Simms, the guest of honor, many more happy birthdays, and voted their host and hostess excellent entertainers.

Messrs. Lester and Hollis Galley spent Saturday night and Sunday at the S. J. Rice home.

Mr. Mape White's Avery separator came in last week and he is quite busy threshing.

Prof. J. A. Hill and Prof. Geller, of the Canyon Normal, and Mr. Boys, President of the Agricultural Bureau of the U. S. and Judge Hughes visited the Rice School last Wednesday. They gave some very interesting talks on agriculture and with the help of Miss Vore, the teacher of the school, expect to organize an Agricultural Club for boys and girls within the ages of 10 and 18. These gentlemen are very much interested in the rural problem of today and we feel that it would be well worth our while to help them as much as possible.

The Telephone Saved a Life

When one of our men was badly injured by the threshing machine we telephoned the doctor, who told us how to patch the man up. The doctor then started for our place in a hurry. When he arrived the man was pretty weak, and without the doctor's advice the results might have proved serious. Thanks to the telephone, the man pulled through.

EX-EMPRESS GREETES THE WOUNDED

The ex-Empress Eugenie, widow of Napoleon III, greeting one of the wounded British soldiers taken to her beautiful home at Chiselhurst, England, to recover from his injuries. Eugenie has converted her house into a military hospital.

Odd Bits of News.

Kalamazoo.—Albert Toweshesky couldn't read a "To Rent" sign he saw in a window. He asked Jacob Strifling to read it for him. Strifling did and then presented a bill for $5 for interpreting the two words. Toweshesky refused to pay and Strifling sued. He got judgment for $1.00.

Roseville, Ill.—The oldest Odd Fellow is said to be Joseph Simpson of this place, who, in proof of his claim, exhibits a certificate of initiation dated 1862, showing that he has been a member of the order for 52 years.

Dugger, Ind.—The biggest barn in the state is being built by W. H. Jones, on his 1800' acre farm near here. The barn is to be 365 feet long and 240 feet wide. When completed it will hold 400 head of cattle. A car load of telephone poles and three car loads of cement were used in the foundation. The silo adjoining the barn is filled with corn from 145 acres or 200,000 tons of silage which is said to be the largest in the United States.

La Porte, Ind.—Nicholis Fleck, living near here set a gun trap for chicken thieves at his hen house door. He hurriedly went to his chicken house the next morning, forgetting his gun trap, and on opening the door received the full charge of shot in his face, being fatally injured.

Colton, Cal.—The good old days are gone. A lone baudit held up the day coach on Southern Pacific train number 101, the Sunset Limited, half mile west of here Friday night. He escaped by jumping thru an open window after disgustedly refusing a collection of $1 taken up for him by a passenger. The baudit was caught within a mile of the "hold up."

Richmond, Va.—In explanation of the passage of the recent dry amendment, it is pointed out here that a large share of the prohibition movement in the South has been complicated with the race question. Dry laws have been passed not because of a conviction on the part of the people that the use of liquor was immoral, but from the desire to place intoxicants out of reach of the colored people. In such cases the laws have been enforced as rigidly as possible against the negroes, and have been very largely ignored where white people were concerned.

Redwood City, Cal.—John Gorman, boiler maker went to bed on the S. P. tracks. An engine struck him and knocked him about 20 feet. A wagon starting to a hospital with him, hit a rut. Gorman bounced out. He was laid on an operating table and his wounds dressed. A patrol wagon took him to the county jail and he was carried up a flight of stairs, sound asleep all the time. At eight the next morning a factory whistle blew. Gorman awoke. "I'll bet I'm late for work," he remarked. He was.

Christmas Trees for European Orphans.

The children of the Sunday Schools of Calvert have decided to deny themselves the pleasure of their usual Christmas trees and instead to donate the money to the orphans of Europe. In this way they have raised over $150 with no work and very little trouble. Instead of counting this a sacrifice our children have given this money with eagerness and joy. Could not such a movement be inaugurated in your town? Think what it would mean if the cost of every Christmas tree in Texas could be sent to the little ones across the ocean. We will send our donations to President Wilson, Chairman of the American Red Cross Relief Committee.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Gardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Gardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Gardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Gardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good." Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Gardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Gardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

BRAND PUBLISHING CO.

Entered April 13, 1901, in the postoffice at Hereford, Texas, as Second-class mail matter. First number of the paper issued February 22, 1901, as the Hereford Reporter; first number of The Brand issued March 21, 1902.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT DISPENSING "CANNED" MEDICAL THEORIES

Recent dispatches from Washington state that the United States Public Health Service is to issue "canned" lectures and moving picture slides dealing with prevalent diseases. The lectures, which are to be read into phonographs and distributed on records, are to be accompanied by numerous illustrations. The lecture on typhoid fever, for instance, will carry ninety-five slides.

This new departure on the part of the Government, by which the theories and treatment of one school of practice are to be disseminated by "movies," will strike many people as a dangerous innovation and one eminently unfair to other schools of practice; for it must not be forgotten that the Federal Health Service recognizes but one school of medical practice, and just at this time this school is so thoroughly committed to vaccine and serum treatment as to enforce it where, as in the Army and Navy, its practitioners have the power to compel inoculation. It is presumable that these lectures will advocate serums and vaccines, yet this treatment is contrary to the theories of other schools of healing and repugnant to hundreds of thousands of citizens.

Under freedom, during the past century, there have arisen in the Republic a number of widely patronized schools of healing whose practitioners number tens of thousands. It is reasonable to suppose that these schools could not have gained a foothold had they not convinced a great number of people of their superior efficacy. Many people will feel that it is not fair to the homeopaths, the osteopaths, the Christian Scientists and other schools of healing, to have the serum therapy of the old school made a Governmental commodity and dispensed throughout the nation at the tax payers' expense.—Christian Science Committee on Publication.

The above article, as stated, was written for publication by the head of the publication committee for the Christian Science Society. It was furnished as an "editorial," but as the Brand never uses "CANNED" editorials, the editor declines to publish the communication as a home-made editorial and thus try to palm off on the public stuff that never originated in this office. It is a plain deception and the Christian Science people should not suffer themselves to try to deceive the public in any such way. It smacks too much of the methods of the fakist and patent medicine fakers. If they wish to state their views in regard to serum cures which they oppose, let them either pay for their space in the papers, or put them in proper form for news items and not try to "work" the country newspaper and city newspapers through the innocent looking "CANNED" editorial.

In this connection, The Brand will say that it has no objection to the practice of Christian Science as a "cure" for the diseases (even if not real) in human kind. The Society has, no doubt, relieved much suffering and the C. S. practitioners should be given credit for the good they do; but they should not, like other schools of healing, claim that they are the only source of permanent relief. Their advertisements read very much like the fake patent medicine concerns: "After trying many eminent doctors and taking treatment in a dozen sanitariums, one dose of your dope made me feel better and three bottles entirely cured me." Did you ever read them; they're all alike? And when it comes to curing cancers, consumption and other dread diseases, the S. C.'s have got the patent medicine man skinned a block and a half. If there be any virtue in the practice of Christian Science as a remedy for the many ailments of mankind, let's have it, but let's have it open and free from all semblance of deception. The allopaths have failed to cure many diseases with their blue mass and big doses; the homeopaths have tried their minute doses and harmless concoctions with equal failure; the osteopaths have failed to cure in-growing toenails by manipulating the backbone; and the S. C.'s have failed to effect a cure of even many imaginary diseases. But altogether, the human family has been fairly well "doctored" since the discovery that cold water was good for a feverish patient and that a red hot poker applied to the back would not materially hasten the cure for stomach ache. Even the Indian "medicine man" did some good by beating the toms-toms around the sick man's tepee to try to scare the supposed evil spirits away. Is the modern way of curing the sick a return to the methods of the Indian doctor but draped in the habiliments of cultured society?

THE CASH SYSTEM

There is no better time than right now for the people to begin the installation of the cash system of buying supplies. If everyone would adopt the cash system, the result would be the reduction of the cost of living. If the merchants would establish a strictly cash basis for their sales, they would sell much cheaper and would still make more profit. Often the merchants complain that business is dull because there are so many sending off to the mail order houses for their supplies. The mail order patron has of himself (also herself) adopted the cash in advance system or they could not buy, and if they would apply this method to the local merchant they would see wonders in the purchasing power of their cash. The best way to adopt the cash system is to open a bank account with some bank. Deposit all of your cash with it, keep a check book handy, give a check for every purchase made—the bank will keep the books correctly, and you will be surprised to see how far your money will go. But when you deposit a few dollars in the bank, don't expect them to cash a check when you have drawn out all your money; they do not relish an overdraft and neither will you. Talk CASH to your merchant; pay CASH and see if you cannot do better.

UNCLE SAM ASKS FOR FREE ADVERTISING

Uncle Samuel has launched into a number of different business enterprises: The banking business, the post office business, the building of canals and railroads, the printing business, and a number of other things; but unlike all other large concerns, he spends little money to advertise his different enterprises—he expects the newspapers to do that "free gratis for nothing." Not many months ago he opened the private banking business known as the postal savings, and he "worked" every newspaper in the country for a lot of free advertising. He did this without much asking, but now he comes boldly out and is asking the newspapers to donate a large amount of space to boosting the postal savings. In as much as nearly every local bank, National and State, is a regular paying advertiser in the local papers, it would seem unfair to them to publish the advertising of Uncle Sam for his postal savings banks without equal compensation, especially when the honorable gentleman is in direct competition with all local papers in the matter of printing envelopes. When Uncle Sam ceases to be the hardest competitor of the local print shop, the local newspaper will likely publish some of his adroitly worded advertisements free.

WHAT'S THE USE OF THE SEWER?

Wouldn't you be surprised to know that less than 10 per cent, probably not more than 5 per cent, of the houses within the sewer limits has been connected with the system? We have boasted about our sanitary sewer system, advertised our town as having one of the most modern in the country, cost a lot of money, some $25,000, and yet the people have not availed themselves of the safety and opportunity of the system. And why not? We have even heard that the sewer system is responsible for the cessation of typhoid fever in the town. How could it be when so few have connected their premises with the sewer system. Impossible! Every time this subject has been approached, we have heard a lot of kicking about the cost of making the connections, etc. Well, it costs something to build flues in your house but you would not think of trying to have a fire without some means of conveying the smoke. An Indian or an Eskimo may sit in his Tepee or Igloo and let the smoke get out the best it can, but you wouldn't. Of the two, a sewer connection would be of more use. Civilized people must keep sanitary houses if they will lay claims to a high plane of culture. We believe it the duty of the city to see that all houses are connected with the sewer where it is possible to make proper connections.

SOME OUTSIDE WANT IT

The City has even tried to accommodate a number of citizens outside the regular laterals of the sewer. On Twenty-Five Mile Avenue, the citizens have come forward, spent their own money in order to get connection, yet right in the middle of the town, even on Main Street, some of our business houses remain as far from the sewer as if they were twenty miles out in the country.

Look Out for Burk's "Ten Nights In a Bar-Room"

They are coming your way with some of the most wonderful whiskey that ever brought a skeleton into a closet or painted scenes of lust and bloodshed into the brain of man. It is the ghost of wheat and corn, crazed by the loss of their natural bodies. In this liquid death you will find a transcendent sunshine chased by a shadow as cold as an arctic midnight, in which the breath of June grows icy, and the carol of the lark gives place to the foreboding cry of the raven. Drink it and you shall have "woes, sorrows, babbings and wounds without cause." Your eyes shall behold strange women, and "your heart shall utter perverse things." Drink it deep and you shall hear the voice of demons shrieking, women wailing and worse than orphaned children mourning the loss of a father—who yet lives. Drink it deep and long, and serpents will hiss in your ears, coil themselves about your neck and seize you with their fangs. As pictured in the weird life story of poor old Joe Morgan, the inebriate, with Burk's "Ten Nights In a Bar Room, it is a play the people want and will have a chance to see at Hereford, Tuesday night November 24, under a mammoth canvas theatre.

ENGLISH TRACED BY BATHS

British Army Officers at Havre Boast the Water Meter Record of the Hotel.

Havre, France.—In the lobby of a hotel the water meter man approached the proprietress.

"Madam," he said, "it is strange that your water meter record is extraordinary high this month. You must have English soldiers here." It was, indeed, true that the extra use of water in the hotel was caused by English officers bathing so frequently. The proprietress, not used to such prophylactic ardor, is threatening to raise the price of her rooms.
