OFFICIAL REPORTS SHOW NO PROGRESS IN FIGHTING

Russians Report Germans Attacking Warsaw Have Been Defeated and are in Precipitate Retreat, Leaving Dead and Wounded.

BRITISH STEAMER SINKS IN NORTH SEA

Montenegro Report Says Fortifications Around Austrian Port of Cattaro Are Being Gradually Destroyed by French Guns Mounted on Mountains and That the Anglo-French Fleet Continues to Bombard Outer Works.

London, October 21.—Eerie attacks and counter attacks, delivered almost continuously for a week or more by the Allies and the Germans have so far failed to decide the titanic battle which is in progress in Western Flanders and Northern France.

The supreme efforts of the Germans are said to have been directed against the Allies' left beyond Lille, while the coast movements are believed to be only reconnaissance movements. According to the French report the Allies are everywhere holding their own.

At Lille, the Germans hold two important roads, one to the north and the other to the south, and have also occupied the bed of the partly finished canal which is sixty miles long, and which gives them complete protection for vast bodies of troops. The canal runs by Roye and Arras and so far, every effort to dislodge them has been repulsed.

The Germans are believed to be fighting under disadvantages along the coast on account of the support which is given the Allies by the British fleet. The Germans are reported driven back six miles from Ostend.

RUSSIANS CLAIM IMPORTANT VICTORY

Petrograd, October 21.—Tonight's official Russian statement says: "The German troops which occupied the roads leading to Warsaw from the region north of the River Pilnitz, have been repulsed and are now in full retreat, leaving their wounded on the battlefield. The enemy is still occupying the left bank of the Vistula as far as Sandomor."

"The Russians have been gallantly holding out for eight days in the region of Kozenitz, under the most favorable conditions and achieved considerable success on October 20, and their position on the left bank of the Vistula is now secured."

"Attempts of the Austrians to cross the River San below Pizemysl have been checked and the Russians have assumed the offensive."

"In the region south of Pizemysl, are found all of the remains of the Austrian corps which have been defeated in the prior fights in Galicia."

"There are no essential changes in Eastern Prussia. We are at present in touch with the enemy along a front of 267 miles, from lower Bzora to the slopes of the Carpathians."

VIOLENT BATTLE PRODUCES NO CHANGE

Paris, October 21.—Tonight's official statement reports that a violent battle is in progress on the left wing with the Allied forces holding their own everywhere.

The report says: "On our left wing from La Basse to the North Sea, and on several points from Nieuport to Dixmude, from the Ypres River to Menin, and from Warenton to La Basse, a violent battle has been fought during the day."

"There is nothing to report regarding the center and right wing."

"The Prussian and German army which has been advancing on Warsaw was forced yesterday to beat a precipitate retreat, the enemy abandoning the positions which they had established for their defense. The Russians pursuing, captured many prisoners."

STEAMER CORMORANT SUNK

London, October 21.—The steamer Brussels reports that it saw the steamer Cormorant sink in the North Sea, according to a Lloyd dispatch from Harwich. It is supposed that she struck a mine.

The crew was probably saved by a torpedo boat which was seen leaving her.

A Cetinje dispatch via Rome says that nine of the forts around Cattaro Bay are being constantly hit by shells from the French guns on Mount Lovren, and are being gradually destroyed, only one fort replying.

The Anglo-French fleet continues the bombardment of the outer fortifications.

ALLIED FORCES OCCUPY ROULERS

Amsterdam, Holland, Oct. 21.—A local newspaper has been notified that the Allies have been successful in the bombardment of Roulers, in West Flanders, and now occupy that town.

GERMAN ADVANCE BEATEN BACK

London, October 21.—The official Press Bureau statement at midnight says: "Throughout yesterday the enemy made a vigorous attack against the Allies' front, but was beaten back after suffering considerable losses. The Belgian army distinguished itself by a spirited and brave defense of its position."

A Berlin wireless states that Ostend is being bombarded by the British fleet.

AMERICANS TO FEED BELGIANS

London, October 21.—An American commission headed by Herbert C. Hoover of California, will feed seven hundred thousand starving Belgians, as a result of a telegram to this effect just reached after weeks of diplomatic negotiation in which Ambassador Page has acted as intermediary between Belgium, England and Germany. One and a quarter million dollars will be placed at the disposal of the stricken nation.

Not Guilty is Verdict

In Dixon Murder Trial. In the case of the State vs. Char. Dixon, charged with the murder of Frank Smith, which has been on trial in the district court for the past two days, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case went to the jury shortly after 6 o'clock and the jury was taken to supper before beginning their deliberations. They returned to the jury room about 7 o'clock and returned a verdict of acquittal about 9 o'clock, after being out about an hour and fifty-five minutes.

The taking of testimony, which was begun shortly after noon on Tuesday, was completed about 11:30 Wednesday morning and the court read his charge to the jury about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Each side was given an hour and a half for argument but the defense stopped considerably inside of that time.—Amarillo Daily News.

EVEN AS THE BEASTS

There is no hope for nations!—Search the page Of many thousand years—the daily scene, The flow and ebb of each recurring age, The everlasting To Be which Hath Been, Hath taught us nought, or little; and we lean On things that rot beneath our weight and wear Our strength away in wrestling with the air; For 'tis our nature strikes us down; the beasts Slaughtered in hourly hecatombs for feasts Are of as high an order—they must go Even where their driver goads them, though to slaughter Ye men, who pour your blood for kings as water, What have they given your children in return? A heritage of servitude and woes, A blindfold bondage where your hire is blows!

—Lord Byron.

Ten Dry States.

Virginia's adoption of statewide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants brings the number of such commonwealths up to ten. The others are Main, Kansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee and West Virginia.

In Virginia, as elsewhere, the issue was decided by the vote of the country districts, but of the seven cities having a population of more than 5000, only four, Alexandria, Norfolk, Danville and Richmond, voted in opposition to the amendment. Of the 91,000,000 people in the continental United States at the late census, approximately 16,500,000 are now subject to statewide prohibitory laws.

While sentiment hostile to the liquor traffic has been politically effective mainly in the South, it exists powerfully in many northern states. At the South prohibition has religious and racial inspiration, and in some cases has been carried by the whites solely for the purpose of depriving negroes of strong drink. At the North it is urged now chiefly in resentment against the dominance and corruption of saloons in political management.

Probably there are more saloons in New York or Chicago than ever existed in half a dozen southern states. The influence that they have exerted in public affairs in all large northern cities has been and still is prodigious. If the movement should gain further headway in this section, it will be directed as sharply against the brewery financed saloon in politics as against the beverages which it dispenses.—New York World.

PARAGRAPHED

Short News Items Taken From Exchanges—Things of Interest to Panhandle Readers.

Men have been at work all along the line from the Puget Sound to the Gulf posting the laid out auto road. This line runs thru Amarillo, Canyon, Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Slaton of Hale county entertained some one hundred and forty of their friends recently at an evening outdoor at their country homes a few miles from Plainview. Two long tables were placed on the lawn, decorated with autumn colors, including a big yellow pumpkin on each for a center piece.

A big cattle deal was closed the other day at Canadian when Dorsey & Huddleson bought the ranch cattle of Sacrist & Runyan of Lakewood, N. M. The herd consisted of 3,000 cows, 2,000 steers and 1,500 calves, and the consideration was over $200,000.

Rev. A. B. Haynes has resigned as pastor of the Presbyterian-Christian congregation at Canyon. He will seek a change for the benefit of his health.

District court is in session at Farwell. Judge Hill, Attorney Sellars and Clerk Cooper passed thru Hereford on last Saturday on their way over to the state line city.

The Canyon News has developed a first class advertising medium from products printed on the front page of that newspaper in recent issues. Some thieves visited the granary of J. T. Steward in Hardeman county during the night recently and hauled away some sixty-five bushels of wheat.

A 1.70 INCH RAIN FALLS THURSDAY

Preceded by A Couple of Days of Cloudy Weather, The Muchly Wanted "Soaker" Comes. Now, "Plant Wheat."

Last night, after two days of cloudy weather, the prophets unstopped the bottles of heaven and a fine, big rain visited this section. A light shower fell in the afternoon of yesterday but during the most part of the night there was a continuous downpour. The rainfall will measure about 1.70 inches.

We believe this is the signal to "PLANT WHEAT." And, no doubt, many of the farmers who have their ground prepared will start drills as soon as the soil will permit. Those who have already planted are "tickled." It might be a good plan to "hog in" a few acres of wheat even if nothing more than pasture was gotten from the field. We doubt, however, if the agricultural demonstrator would approve of such a course.

"Wear-A-Cotton-Dress."

The "Wear-A-Cotton-Dress" movement is spreading just as rapidly as the "Buy-a-Bale" movement, and its scope is not confined to the South, but is marked only by the boundaries of the United States. Sales are being held by merchants in all of the large cities, and in every way that cotton can be substituted for wool or other things it is being substituted. The United States will likely use cotton twine instead of jute; cotton clothes will be used in many places, particularly in the Southland, instead of wool garments; the ladies of the South are purchasing cotton coat suits and dresses in preference to the more costly but less helpful woolen coat suits. It is a safe prediction that, should the war continue any length of time, its close will find cotton used for 38 per cent more purposes than it was used before the war began. This will result, in the long run, in a largely increased demand for cotton goods and an increased price to the producer. The stringency which has been experienced by the South is passing. It will be followed by an era of prosperity the like of which the South has never seen.—Greenville Herald.

Sudan Grass Makes Good Yield.

As many know, the court house park at Farwell was planted in Sudan grass last spring, in all about ten acres. The crop was recently threshed, says the State Live Tribune, and made a yield of 8,600 pounds of seed and 430 bales of hay. This is said to be a fair average yield. At 50c per pound for the seed and 50c per bale for the hay, the 10 acres would bring $4,525 or $452.50 per acre. Of course, if the owners of the crop should get the Lubbock price for their seed, they would get some $4,300 more for the 10-acre crop. This looks like a mighty big yield, but the editor of the Tribune said that the 10 acres made 8,600 pounds and we have no way to improve the claim. Sudan is a wonder.

Hereford 62; Clovis 00

This is the short form of the story enacted on the gridiron in Hereford last Saturday afternoon. From the score it is evident that the Clovis team was out-classed. Only one time was Hereford in danger of being scored against. While the visitors played a plucky game, they were not fast enough for the White Faces. The Brand reserved space for a detailed write-up of the game, as one had been promised, but up to the last minute, none has been received and this short mention is made.

The Cossacks.
(Translated from the German)
Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 22.—
When the world war broke out in August, many of us here were afraid that the celebrated regiments of the Cossacks would soon come across our borders to delay the mobilization of the German and Austrian troops as much as possible. Our people were frightened to death at the thought of these wild hordes overrunning our country.
Soon it became evident, however, that this fear was groundless. Thousands of Cossacks tried to get into East-Prussia and Galicia, as Russia had mobilized her troops long before, but in all encounters with German or Hungarian cavalry, they got the worst of it. Not a single victory was gained by the Cossacks in their battles with other horsemen, but numberless sotnias of them were taken prisoner. Imprisoned Russian officers admit that the Cossacks cannot be compared with modern cavalry. But on the other hand they claim that for centuries the Cossacks have been the irregular cavalry of the Russian army, and that for equipment, and upkeep they are among the cheapest troops in the world.
Cossack, or really kassak, is a word of Tartar origin that means tramp or rover, and they are supposed to be of Tserkess descent. We only know about them that in the thirteenth century wild tribes of Cossacks settled in the uninhabited country between Slavonic and Tartar territory in Russia. From which part of Asia they came is unknown.

The most celebrated tribe among them is named the Ukraine, which lived along the river Dnieper, and who took advantage of the war between Slav and Tartar by robbing both sides impartially. To be braver in war the warriors were not permitted to marry; their number increased continually by admitting all the lawless of the country. They selected their chief yearly, calling him Hetman. He was their leader in war and judge in peace. They followed this robber's life till their country was finally annexed by Russia.
The balance of the Cossacks were captured in 1772, after which a part took refuge in Turkey and Crimea, and the rest spread over the whole of Russia. In 1828 they returned and were sent to the Caucasus and Siberia for colonization purposes.
A Cossack must serve in the army from his 18th till his 38th year, and is to furnish his own horse, clothing and accouterments. The regiments are divided in sotnias, commanded by Cossack officers, and mentally these officers are far behind others. There are now 150,000 Cossacks, in 132 regiments, 800 sotnias are mounted and 60 afoot, besides 34 batteries of light artillery. Their weapons are carbine and saber and nagaika, a whip with bullets sewed in the leather.

During the war with Japan it was shown that the Cossacks are but indifferent horsemen, as a rule poorly fed, their intellect dwarfed from the use of vodka; without will power, poorly dressed and mounted. A few regiments in St. Petersburg are the exception.
In battles with the Hungarian hussar, it was shown that the hussar was by far the stronger and healthier man, besides the Hungarian horse was much better. I have been told often that in battle these horses take part: they bite and kick at the enemy, and when he loses his rider, does not allow the enemy to catch him, while the horse of the Cossack is easily caught and hidden.
For police service in the cities the Cossacks with their whips are far better fitted than as cavalry.—Quannah Tribune.

Camera Carried by Pigeon.
A miniature camera is in existence which can be attached to the body of a pigeon, carried by the bird to a considerable height above fortified and other positions, and used to photograph the positions. The possibilities of its use in war were recognized in Germany before the present conflict, and experiments made. To what extent the camera-pigeon has been employed by "alien enemies" in England is another matter. At any rate, aliens in this country are now prohibited by law from owning carrier pigeons, and all carrier pigeons flying near the coast are shot by police watchers. The camera is, of course, automatic in its action, and takes photographs at regular intervals. The apparatus is made in two forms, as a single camera and as a double camera.—London News.

KAFIR AND MILO CLUB MAKE REPORT

H. M. Bainer, chief agriculture demonstrator for the Santa Fe, has just published his report of the results obtained by the members of the Kafir and Milo Club of Potter and Randall Counties. There were ten prizes for each crop to be awarded and some astonishing results were obtained in raising the kafir and maize. One boy, Rudolph Friemel of Umbarger, raised 104 bushels of milo on his acre. He is only 13 years old. The boy to receive the tenth prize for milo was Willie Neusch of St. Francis, who raised 68 bushels of milo on one acre. In the kafir division, the first prize winner was Frank Roddy, near Amarillo, who raised 70 bushels on one acre. The tenth prize in this class went to Jimmy Knox of Happy who raised 47 bushels on his acre. Each of the first prize winners were sent a check for $75; and the tenth prize winners were given a check for $10. The ones between received amounts from $12.50 to $60.

A complete list of the winners with the number of bushels raised and the prize money earned is given in the following list:

UNITED STATES CONCLUDES PEACE TREATIES WHILE EUROPEAN ARMIES CLASH

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENT IN WORLD'S HISTORY FORMALLY CONCLUDED BY SECRETARY BRYAN

THE ACHIEVEMENT

THE United States, through Secretary of State Bryan, between Aug. 7, 1913, and Sept. 15, 1914, has signed peace treaties with twenty-six nations.

The signatory nations and their colonies, with the United States, have a population of 1,200,000,000 out of 1,700,000,000 persons estimated now to be living.

These twenty-seven nations have an area of 35,000,000 square miles out of the 55,000,000 square miles estimated composing the earth.

These nations favoring peace do in a year a combined import trade of $11,500,000,000 and a combined export trade of $10,100,000,000.

THE TREATIES

When any dispute between the United States and one of the signatory nations arises which cannot be settled by diplomacy, it will go before a permanent international commission.

This commission will investigate and report, having a year in which to do it. During the period of investigation the disputing nations cannot declare war.

After the report is made the nations may disregard it, but it is believed that in practically every instance the investigation, and the delay it will entail, with time for sober national reflection, will mean settlement.

TEXT OF TREATY BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND THE NETHERLANDS SIGNED DECEMBER 18, 1913

The Treaties With the Twenty-Five Other Nations Are Similar to This in Principle

THE President of the United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands, being desirous to strengthen the bonds of amity that bind them together and also to advance the cause of general peace, have resolved to enter into a treaty for that purpose, and to that end have appointed as their plenipotentiaries: The President of the United States, the Honorable William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State, and Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands, Chevalier W. L. F. V. van Rappard, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of The Netherlands to the United States; who after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found to be in proper form, having agreed upon and concluded the following articles:

ARTICLE I. The High Contracting Parties agree that all disputes between them, of every nature whatsoever, to the settlement of which previous arbitration treaties or agreements do not apply in their terms or are not applied in fact, shall, when diplomatic methods of adjustment have failed, be referred for investigation and report to a permanent international commission, to be constituted in the manner prescribed in the next succeeding article; and they agree not to declare war or begin hostilities during such investigation and before the report is submitted.

ARTICLE II. The International Commission shall be composed of five members, to be appointed as follows: One member shall be chosen from each country, by the Government thereof; one member shall be chosen by each Government from some third country; the fifth member shall be chosen by common agreement between the two Governments, it being understood that he shall not be a citizen of either country. The expenses of the Commission shall be paid by the two Governments in equal proportion.

The International Commission shall be appointed within six months after the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, and vacancies shall be filled according to the manner of the original appointment.

ARTICLE III. In case the High Contracting Parties shall have failed to adjust a dispute by diplomatic methods, they shall at once refer it to the International Commission for investigation and report. The International Commission may, however, spontaneously offer its services to that effect, and in such case it shall notify both Governments and request their co-operation in the investigation. The High Contracting Parties agree to furnish the Permanent International Commission with all the means and facilities required for its investigation and report. The report of the International Commission shall be completed within one year after the date on which it shall declare its investigation to have begun, unless the High Contracting Parties shall limit or extend the time by mutual agreement. The report shall be prepared in triplicate; one copy shall be presented to each Government, and the third retained by the Commission for its files.

The High Contracting Parties reserve the right to act independently on the subject-matter of the dispute after the report of the Commission shall have been submitted.

ARTICLE IV. The present treaty shall be ratified by the President of the United States of America, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof; and by Her Majesty the Queen of The Netherlands, and the ratifications shall be exchanged as soon as possible. It shall take effect immediately after the exchange of ratifications, and shall continue in force for a period of five years, and it shall thereafter remain in force until twelve months after one of the High Contracting Parties have given notice to the other of an intention to terminate it.

In witness whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the present treaty and have fixed thereunto their seals.

Done in Washington on the eighteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirteen.

Christian Church News.
Last Sunday was a good day, the attendance at both the morning and evening services was large. The audience at night was augmented considerably by the presence of a number from the other churches, the Baptist having suspended their meeting on account of the extra afternoon services at that place of worship. A surprise was given the pastor by placing a fine, new set of furniture for the pulpit. This had been kept in store for some two years and even but a few of the members knew anything of it until brought out last week. The officers had been waiting for the Sunday school auditorium to be "fixed up," as it had been in an unfinished condition. Now that this has been finished, they felt that the nice, new pulpit fixtures would be somewhat in keeping. Besides the ceiling repainting, and the tinting of the walls, opera chairs have been put in to take the place of the common chairs so long used.

The officers of the church held a meeting in the afternoon to attend to the business of the church. The attendance at Sunday school was not up to the average, there being only 87 present. A change was made in the presiding officer last Sunday, Prof. Brown being chosen as superintendent, and Mr. Dameron might take charge of the young men's class.

Press Reporter.
The Brotherhood of Hereford. The Hereford Brotherhood met at the First Christian church last Sunday afternoon with a good number present. J. L. Johnson was leader and took "Hereford" as the subject. After reading a chapter of scriptures on the subject and making a report on the meeting was thrown open for a general discussion. A number of men made good talks—Garrison, Dr. Johnson, Suggs, Elliott, Rev. Baker, Dr. Farris, and others. It was decided to join the Endeavors in their meeting next Sunday. Their session will be held at the Christian church. The meeting two weeks hence will be held at the Methodist church. G. M. Suggs will be leader.

INTOLERANCE.

We often pride ourselves in the way we exhibit our political and religious intolerance. In days not long ago, one religious body would hardly recognize another religious body as being truly Christians, that is, followers of Christ. Now, in well advanced and refined communities, the different church bodies meet and worship together, seemingly (seemingly understand) to enjoy the common service. But occasionally some preacher, with more zeal for denominationalism than for Christ-like living, rises in his position as supposed leader of his people and delivers himself to an abuse of churches not peculiar of his stripe, warning his members to stay away from them and to avoid them as they would some evil thing. If it were not for the intervention of law, they would resort to the rack and thumb screw-yea appeal to the "stake and fire" as in the day witches. They flaunt their self-righteousness and self-assuredness into the face of all men. They do not read anything but biased and set proofs of their own positions and peculiarities and decry all efforts made by other religious bodies to further their peculiar ideas and doctrines. This is a strange position to take. The ultimate end of such action is to set themselves up as "Right" on every point and that all who differ from them are wrong; that being "Right," all others are "Wrong," that, therefore, they are the only true followers of Christ, and the only ones who will gain the ultimate end of the church—the salvation of souls. Those who occupy such a position show intolerance.

In politics, as well as in religion, men and women display their intolerance. In the recent state campaign, there was a new alignment of politicians. While state-wide prohibition was THE issue, the two candidates for the Democratic nomination caused this new alignment. Men became intolerant; first, because of the issues; second, because of the men. One side saw no good in the men of the other side. The Ball followers held up in ridicule and to scorn the Temple candidate; the Ferguson camp followers pointed their indices at what they called the hypocritical and Pharisaical candidate from Houston. Otherwise sensible men quit their usual place in the pro ranks because the Houston man was a member of a club that sold whisky, and turned around to vote for a man who talked from the stump that he would not tolerate any regulatory measures on the whisky question. Consistency, though art not only a jewel but hangeth in a swine's nose. Other good men became so intolerant that they refused to read the newspapers that even permitted the "other side" to use their space. The daily as well as the weekly papers saw this. Even so good a paper as the Home and State, lost hundreds of readers because of that same mean, intolerant spirit that often takes possession of men's souls. Newspapers are supposed to represent the "freedom of the press and speech," and for them to close their columns against all matter that does not exactly agree with the ideas of every one of its readers would be to throttle free thinking, to thwart progress and to exercise that same old rack, the curse of intolerance.

THE Brand occasionally suffers from this same congestion of the soul—Intolerance. Only recently the manager received this note from one of its readers: "Editor Brand: I hand you stamp to cover subscription to Nov. 1914. Please stop paper at that time. Economy these war times are main reason. The other reason is that I am tired of seeing our whiskey employees, Radford and Lewis, names in the Brand. I quit reading after them long ago—in fact as soon as I discovered their business."

No name or address is given for the reason that we have always had a too high opinion of the friend who wrote the note. Of course, we regret the loss of the subscription amount of the paper for another year. Any business loss is always regretted, but especially so when that loss has been brought about by offending a reader. But being partly human, all editors occasionally fail to please all of their readers. The editor of the Brand has more or less human nature about himself. Once, a few years back, the Brand suffered the loss of considerable business—not one dollar, but several hundred—by publishing two or three offending communications and the strange thing, yes, the strangest thing, is that these offending communications were written by this self same subscriber who now cuts our acquaintance because we allowed the publication of a few articles with which he did not agree. This good man, who is suffering from cotton peritonitis, should not refuse to eat at the board because, perhaps, the host serves codfish occasionally. He should pass by the objectionable dishes and partake only of those things that set well on his stomach. The editor of the Brand has not always agreed with Radford and Lewis, but having known Mr. Radford for some twenty odd years, he believes him to be a Christian gentleman with all that this implies. Being a man, Mr. Radford is likely to err in human judgment, but being honest, he should be given credit for his laudable efforts.

THE AMENDMENTS.

When the voters go to the polls in November, some will be surprised to find three amendments to be voted upon. Little attention has been paid to these as interest in the politics of the State has been overshadowed" by the Buy-a-Bale movement and the World War. But as they will either pass by or lose by indifference, a little information about them should be obtained before going to the polls.

The first has reference to the adoption of the "Initiative and Referendum." This should be defeated for the reason that it requires 20 per cent of the voters in the State to force an action on the part of the legislature. The per cent is too high and would entail too great an expense on the part of those wishing to utilize the "Initiative."

The second one seeks to raise the salary of the legislators to $1,200 for the first year and $5.00 per day for extra sessions, allowing also 5 cents mileage. This also should be defeated as the amendment makes no provision to reduce the number of members. The senate of 31 members is about right, but the house of some 150 members should be cut down to at least one hundred or even less. A better way would be to abolish one or the other and have only one legislative body and confine its membership to about one hundred. While it is generally understood that the average Texas legislature does not represent the best average men of the State as to ability, yet it is doubtful whether a small salary of $1,200 would attract men of sufficient "calibre" to give really efficient service. A complete change in the methods of choosing the representatives is the only way to call out men of ability.

The third provides that counties on the Gulf be permitted to build sea walls. This is a good measure and should be adopted as it will permit the coast cities to gain protection against the Gulf storms by the erection of sea walls. While this would not effect any but coast counties, the entire state is interested in the safety of our coast towns and cities.

NOTHING - BETTER FOR WEAK WOMEN

"I Never Spent Any Money That Did Me So Much Good as That I Spent for Vinol."

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol for I never spent any money as that I spent for Vinol. My nerves were in a very bad condition, making me very weak, tired, and worn out and often drowsy headaches. I had tried cod liver oil, doctor's medicines, and other preparations without benefit.

"One day a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did and soon my appetite increased, I slept better and now I am strong, vigorous and well and can do my housework with pleasure."—Mrs. J. F. LAMBORN, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Nervous, weak, tired, worn-out women should take Mrs. Lamborn's advice and try Vinol for there are literally thousands of men and women who were formerly run-down, weak and nervous, who owe their good health to Vinol.

It is the medicinal, tissue building elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making, strengthening influence of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in all such cases.

Q.—I have noticed the word "church" in the Bible, and it never seems to be used as we do. What is the proper understanding of the word? (H. K. B.)

Answer.—It is customary in our day to speak of buildings in which religious meetings are held regularly as churches, but this is contrary to the scriptural usage and, we believe, has its disadvantages. The word church, as scripturally used, signifies a congregation of the Lord's people, and has no reference whatever to the place where they meet. Wherever two or three meet in faith in the name of their Lord and Redeemer He declares that He is in their midst; and the Apostle assures us that they would constitute an Ecclesia, a Church, a congregation of the Lord. Thus all true Christians, wherever they meet, whether it be in a house, a theater, or what we commonly call a church, really constitute a church. In a larger sense, the word is used to refer to all Christians, the entire company of Christians, from Christ's day to the present time, under their one Lord, Head and Master.

Q.—Why does the Bible contain so many things that hardly seem proper in a book for general reading? (M. D.)

Answer.—When it is remembered that the Hebrew Scriptures contain history, as well as the law and the prophecies, and that their histories, genealogies, etc., were the more explicit in detailing circumstances because of the expectancy that the promised Messiah would come in a particular line from Abraham, we see a reason for the recording of certain facts of history considered indelicate in the light of this nineteenth century. For instance, a clear record of the origin of the nations of the Moabites and of the Ammonites, and of their relationship to Abraham and the Israelites was probably the necessity in the historian's mind for a full history of their nativity. Likewise a very detailed account of Judah's children is given, of whom came David, the king, through whom the genealogy of Mary, Jesus' mother, as well as that of Joseph, her husband, is traced back to Abraham. Doubtless the necessity of thoroughly establishing the pedigree was the more important, since of this tribe (Genesis 49:10) was to come the ruling King of Israel, as well as the promised Messiah, and hence the minute detail not given in other instances.

Q.—Why do animals have to suffer when the curse was pronounced only upon mankind? (Nat.)

Answer.—When Adam violated God's Law and came under the penalty, death, that penalty brought with it all the suffering and degradation which we see in the world today. The degradation is physical, mental and moral. In none of this were the animals directly included, but there is a sense in which they were influenced by the death sentence which passed upon all men, for man was their king. Of the righteous Adam, God said, "Let us make man in our own image and after our likeness let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth" (Genesis 1:26). When the king had lost the vigor of his perfection, the kingdom soon degenerated to its present condition. Now there is not one animal over which mankind has full dominion. We cannot know how much of suffering this has brought to the animals, but believe that our Scientists are correct in assuming that they know practically nothing of physical suffering.

In most cases where there is the appearance of suffering, fear is the real cause.

Q.—Every shoulder seems to bear its burden today. Can you tell me why there should be so much sorrow in the world? (E. S.)

Answer.—Our first parents, perfect and amid perfect surroundings, were disobedient to their Creator and thereby came under the sentence of death—"Dying thou shalt die." The carrying out of the sentence involved their expulsion from Eden, their alienation from Divine favor, their toiling and contention with thorns and thistles for the maintenance of life. As sin brought sorrow, more sin brought more sorrow, not only to the dying pair, but, naturally, to all their offspring, who inherited only what the parents had to give—blemished conditions, under a death sentence. As centuries rolled by, the higher elements of character, which were in the image of God, became departed. The reign of Cain began held sway. Violence fills the earth, strife, selfishness, contention. The human family scatters throughout the earth, seeking Elysian fields, but not finding them. Degradation and death continue their hold, while certain fallen angels prey upon the human family and seek to entice them into evil, and would do much more of this, if not divinely hindered. Unwilling to retain God in their minds, loving sin and its momentary pleasures, God permits the sinners to take their course, and some of them go down almost to the level of the brute—and some, indeed, below that level. What a sad sight! What a terrible tragedy! None ever staged can compare to it. The only hope of betterment is in the promised establishment of God's kingdom.

Opposes Raising Representative Salaries.

Once again are the people of the state called upon to vote down the proposed increase in the salaries of the state senators and representatives. This has occurred several times in the last few years, but each time the people "do the thing up brown" as it were. At the November election there will be on the ballot a proposed amendment to the state constitution which provides that each member of the legislature be paid a straight salary of $1,200 for his services in the year in which the regular session is held and $5 a day for each day of service in a special session held in the year succeeding the year of the regular session. Also that he shall receive mileage at the rate of 5 cents a mile, "coming and going." The News would be favorable to a doubling of the pay of the legislators, if the membership were cut in two, but so long as the membership is kept as large and cumbersome as it now is we will fight any increase in pay. We do not believe that an increase in pay will mean better and abler men in the legislature. Times are very hard in Texas right now to talk of troubling the people with legislators, which means an increase of nearly $150,000 in taxation. Let's vote down the amendment, boys.—Plainview News.

Castro County News.

Mesdames James and Hyatt left Friday for Dallas county to attend the Fair and to visit the former's sister.

A few evenings ago Mrs. Tom Tate gave her husband an enjoyable surprise when she invited Mr. Tate's parents, brothers and sisters, and their families, and a few friends to their home to enjoy with Mr. Tate the birthday supper she had prepared for him. The secret was so well kept that Mr. Tate was in "blissful ignorance" of it all until all were there and ready to sit down to the inviting feast that was spread. It was such an enjoyable gathering that all present believed that such occasions are "the oil that prevents the friction in the machinery of life and many times makes it run more smoothly."

Miss Millicent Griffith spent Saturday in Hereford shopping and saying "howdy" to her many friends.

The boys and girls of Dimmitt are having a vacation this week owing to the school being discontinued on account of several cases of Scarlet Fever.

Several young people from Dimmitt will attend the Endeavor Convention in Hereford this week.

Mr. Gollehon went to Amarillo Wednesday to meet his wife, who has been in Bowie some time with her father, who was very low, but whom we are glad to hear is now improving.

Clarence Shepard and sister, Mrs. Payne Gilliland, spent Sunday and Monday in Dimmitt with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shepard. Clarence is a pupil in the Canyon Normal.

Rev. McCall on last Friday evening gave an interesting talk on Missions in Brazil. The burden of his theme seemed to be a cry for helpers. He said the territory over which he worked was 52,000 square miles. This he is able to travel over on muleback alone owing to the ruggedness of the country.

We are very proud of our school and our Senior Class especially. There are thirteen in the Senior Class this year and a large part are boys, which is not usually the case. We think this is brought about in a large part by our teacher, who makes school so interesting to boys that they can't afford to miss. The school has so increased in numbers that the high school is running over.

HAMPERING THE GERMAN OPERATIONS

This is the way the Belgians destroyed the railway which was the German line of communication between the army in France and Brussels.

Canyon Normal Will Have New Three-Story Building.

The plans for the Canyon Normal have been completed by George A. Endress, of Austin, the architect chosen some time ago by the Regents at their Dallas meeting.

The building is to be of fireproof construction throughout, with three stories and basement, measuring 289 feet by 70 feet not counting the projection of an auditorium and swimming pool at the center.

In a letter to the Randall County News' President R. B. Cousins says: "The public is acquainted with the fact that there is now available the hundred thousand dollars derived from the insurance on the house that burned. The Regents found that it was not possible to make a contract to complete the house as planned, without assistance from the legislature which will meet in January.

"The Government acting through the 'automatic tax board' has agreed to let the Regents have $50,000 as emergency appropriation, but this must be appropriated by the Legislature, together with whatever addition amount necessary to finish and furnish the house. The Regents have asked for bids for completing certain parts of the house, and leaving others unfinished until sufficient money can be made available. They are of the opinion that a contract which is safely within the law and the necessary limitations will be made on November 9, prox., and that work will begin a few days after that time and that it will proceed without interruption until the house is completed."

W. A. White on Limousines.

W. A. White writing from Rochester, Minn., to the Emporia Gazette.

In another matter Rochester excels Emporia. Emporia has no limousines; Rochester has four; they are great big ones and they make our Emporia big Pierce-Arrows and Loziers and Packards look small. I hope that some of the rich and the great in Emporia will buy limousines; not that our nobility need limousines particularly.

But it does seem that a town of eleven thousand, and "no mean city" at that, the twelfth proud city in the state, a town that is looking for a packing house and trying to get a milk cannery should have at least one limousine with which if for nothing else, to paralyze the Eureka and Council Grove and Strong City people who come to Emporia.

So long as they have Pierce-Arrows and Packards and brick paving and fashion shows in those towns, Emporia can't lord it over them; at least not much. But with two or three big limousines grunting heavily up and down commercial street in fat luxury, how George Tucker's and Art Kinkel's and Joe Mercer's eyes would bug out!

I hope we won't get a Ford limousine when we do get one. Not that the Ford isn't a good car, for it is. It is the average man's car. If a man has to drive his car in his shirt sleeves and suspenders he looks better driving a Ford than a Pierce-Arrow for that matter. But a Ford limousine some way is like a man in a 2-piece summer suit, a celluloid collar and plug hat. It is to the credit of the Rochester limousines that they are Cadillacs and Loziers. At least, so I have been told. I make no pretense to knowledge of such things.

My heart still is true to Old Tom even though he is out on an everlasting parole, pensioned until he goes to horse heaven. I have never examined into the personal affairs of any automobile. An my assembled knowledge of motor cars consists of one meager but fundamental fact: That they are not mammals and do not give milk, probably. Yet I do venture the humble hope that when fortune does send us a limousine with which to put our sister cities to shame, fortune will not send us a Ford. And so dependent will ever pray.

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. Citation by Publication

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Deaf Smith County, Greeting: YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, That you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the county of Deaf Smith, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 69th judicial district; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 69th judicial district for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, W. E. Baldwin, Everett Baldwin, Marion Baldwin and John Baldwin, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the county of Deaf Smith, at the Courthouse thereof, in Hereford on the second day of November A. D. 1914, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court, on the 7th day of October, A. D. 1914, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 833, wherein N. R. France is plaintiff, and W. E. Baldwin, Everett Baldwin, Marion Baldwin and John Baldwin, defendants. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff avers that on or about the first day of March 1914, he was the owner of 160 acres of land situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas, and being the S. E. 1-4 of Survey No. 23, in Block K-11, Certificate No. 4-535 issued to the G. C. & S. F. R. R. Co.

Plaintiff claims to own said tract of land and that he is entitled to possession thereof.

Plaintiff avers that on the 10th day of March, 1914, the defendants unlawfully entered said premises and dispossessed plaintiff thereof, and still holds said premises.

Plaintiff further avers that on the 9th day of April 1908, the defendant W. E. Baldwin, together with his wife, Jennelle Baldwin, made, executed and delivered to plaintiff, their five promissory notes in writing, bearing date last above mentioned, by the terms of which they promised to pay to plaintiff the sum of $416 00 on or before March 1st, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, and 1914 respectively, all notes bearing interest from date at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, interest payable annually, each of said notes providing that interest, if not paid when due, should become principal and bear interest from due date at same rate of interest as the notes, said notes also providing for the usual 10 per cent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. That by the execution of said notes herein mentioned, the said W. E. Baldwin and Mrs. Jennelle Baldwin became liable and promised to pay plaintiff the several sums of money in each one of the notes specified. That all of the notes are long since due and unpaid to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $3,000.00.

Said notes were given as part purchase price for the tract of land heretofore described herein; that vendors lien was retained in the deed of conveyance and defendants are hereby notified to produce said deed on the trial hereof or secondary evidence will be offered of its contents.

Plaintiff further avers that Mrs. Jennelle Baldwin, who was known as Nelle Baldwin, has since died leaving three children of herself and W. E. Baldwin, said three children being minors and have no guardian of their person or estate in the State of Texas.

Plaintiff prays that defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition as required by law, and that on final hearing he have his judgment for the title and possession of the tract of land herein sued for, and for costs of suit. But in event that the court should hold that plaintiff is not entitled to recover the title and possession of the land above described, then he prays for judgment for his debt and the foreclosing of the vendors lien on the land above described.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, And have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Hereford, this, the 7th day of October A. D. 1914.

Mayor Riggins' Cotton Dress Suit. Being the most widely advertised Mayor in Texas and, as for that, the most widely known Mayor of the South, J. W. Riggins of Waco has set the "Buy-a-Bale" movement and the "Wear-Cotton" movement a-going by donning a dress suit made entirely of cotton. The cotton was raised of course in his county, his home country, and was ginned, spun into thread, and woven into cloth at West Cotton Mills, located in that county. And to complete the story of his suit in the right way, must have been made into a suit to fit the Mayor by a Waco tailor. He wore the suit the first time the other day, walking down the main street of Waco to show his people just how an all-Texas, all-McLennan county, all-cotton suit would look. He will wear the suit on a state occasion when Gov. Colquitt goes up to that fair city to open the Cotton Palace. And the suit will then be in perfect taste at the opening of that great institution—The Cotton Palace. Mayor Riggins has firmly secured the admiration of the Brand and as soon as the summer comes and the weather permits, the writer will don a suit of cotton goods. Silk Sox and wool hats will be relegated to the rear and cotton sox will be worn exclusively; the wool hat will be displaced by the cotton top piece. If all the men and women of the South would use cotton where they now use other fabrics, the price of cotton would become as stable as sun.

Court Knocks Out Allison Law.

By a decision of the Supreme Court of Texas, that part of the Allison Law, which sought to prohibit the shipment of whisky into "dry territory," has been declared void as to interstate shipments, but not as to intrastate business. The decision had scarcely been made before large shipments of liquor began to pour into the state over every express line, but some of the express agents would not "deliver" until they received instructions from their superintendents. This law has been questioned since its passage, but no test case was made until recently. And, as expected, even by many prohibitionists, the law as passed by the Texas legislature did not meet the requirements of the national regulations.

Buys Feed Thresher.

Jacob Wagner of the Parrott community bought this week from Garrison Bros. a special machine for threshing maize, kaffir and feterita. The heavy crop in his community made the new machine a necessity in order to thresh the grain so that the farmers could sell it. This is the first new machine of this kind sold this season.

James Robinson returned last night from Petrolia, Texas, where he has been for several weeks.
