Associated Press Writer HOUSTON (AP) - An overwhelming majority of Texas teachers responding to a survey released by the Texas Federation of Teachers say student discipline and behavior problems are significant both in and out of the classroom.

"We got back some rather shocking responses," John Cole, president of the 20,000-member Texas Federation of Teachers, said at a Houston news conference Thursday.

'Our problem is that schools, in order to function, must be safe, secure places where people can think, reflect, ponder," Cole said. "You can't have disorder and have creative percent said it was less. thinking going on."

Nearly one in five of the teachers reported experiencing a direct threat of personal violence, as student disobedience and misbehavior in public schools have become rampant.

'The bad news, of course, is not just that you are likely, if you are a classroom teacher in some places, that you run the risk of being assaulted in your classroom," Cole

"Probably worse throughout the survey is that we saw a clear, systematic pattern of student disrespect for authority, disorder and failure to respect the rights of others. That is alarming even if you're not talking about assaults."

The survey included public school teachers from all over the state, large districts and small. Teachers in the survey were about equally divided among elementary, middle or junior high schools and high schools.

Pantex waste-burning questioned by group

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) - An environmental group's attorney is questioning a state plan that would open-air facilities.

But Pantex officials say approving a draft state permit only would formalize the regulation of practices used at the plant for years.

Pantex, located about 17 miles northeast of Amarillo, is the nation's primary assembly and disassembly plant for nuclear weapons. It is operated for the Energy Department by contractor Mason & Hanger-Silas Mason Co.

Austin attorney Melinda Taylor said Thursday the proposed draft Texas Water Commission permit is nearly finalized and will come up for public comment later this summer. Ms. Taylor is reviewing the permit at the request of Serious Texans Against Nuclear Dumping, an Amarillo-based environmental group.

Gary Baker, an official with Battelle-Pantex, an environmental subcontractor at the plant, said the allow the Pantex Plant to burn permit would allow Pantex to hazardous and radioactive wastes at continue burning high explosive materials at the burning grounds.

The burning grounds is an area where workers have incinerated explosives and explosive-contaminated wastes from dismantled weapons for years.

The site has been operating under an interim state permit until a formal permit is finalized.

Don Hancock, director for the Nuclear Waste Safety Project of the Albuquerque-based Southwest Research and Information Center, said if Pantex doesn't plan to accept wastes from off site, then plant officials should support modifying the draft permit so it says exactly that.

STAND President Beverly Gattis said she fears burning the waste in open-air facilities near plant campaign offices, hauling innocent application and personnel records for boundaries and rural homes.

The subpoenas said information was being sought from January 1991, when Mrs. Hutchison took over as treasurer, to the present.

Earle discounted accusations that his office's investigation was politically motivated. Earle, a Democrat, reportedly has been interested in a Senate bid.

Earle declined to comment on his own Senate aspirations. "It has not entered my mind," he said.

He said the investigation was delayed until after Saturday's Senate election so it would not be a disruption.

The district attorney's public integrity unit is charged with investigating alleged wrongdoing by state officials.

Earle said the possible offenses under investigation included both felonies and misdemeanors. "I think the 1994 race for the U.S.

Mrs. Hutchison had said that she paid the state for use of the phone, and that its records weren't covered by the open records law.

Krueger also raised questions after news reports said Tom Bowden, an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for treasurer in 1990, had been hired by Mrs. Hutchison in exchange for endorsing her.

Both Bowden and Mrs. Hutchison denied that there had been any deal. The treasurer said Bowden, a former San Saba County judge, was highly qualified for the job in which he dealt with county judges and sheriffs.

The subpoenas were issued in connection to information brought to the district attorney's office earlier this week, Earle said.

when it comes to being able to attend the college or vocational-technical school of your choice, experts agree.

Many of the rules are changing, thanks to new federal student aid legislation, reports the National Fraternal Congress of America (NFCA), an association of 97 not-forprofit fraternal benefit societies representing almost ten million members. Fraternals annually provide more than $14 million in student financial aid and assistance to educational institutions, one of the world's largest private systems of financial support for education.

Here are some tips from NFCA to help you prepare for financing an education beyond high school:

The first stop is the financial aid office of the school you wish to attend. -Using government-backed programs, almost everybody can now qualify for loans. The Higher Education Amendments of 1992 make it easier than ever to borrow.

-Financial aid can now be given to students who attend school less than half time. This helps students who must work their way through school.

-Scholarships can come from a variety of organizations. Investigate what is offered through your parents' jobs, military service, unions, professional organizations, ethnic heritage groups and religion.

-You may be able to borrow money on an insurance policy. Check with your insurance agent about tax-free policy loans.

Read any good food labels lately?

Read any good labels lately? You should. Food product labels are becoming a lot more interesting than you may know.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the U.S. Department of Agriculture have done a major revamping job of the food label lately. The result is a label that's up-to-date with today's health concerns; a label consumers can understand and count on for help in planning healthy meals.

Nutrition information will soon be required on almost all packaged foods. This information will be easier to use. Among the changes:

-"Nutrition Facts" on the top of the nutrition panel.

-A new list of nutrients, selected because of their importance in today's public health problems. The additions are saturated fat, cholesterol, dietary fiber and sugars. Most other components of the old label, such as calories sodium and iron, are still required but the vitamins thiamin, riboflavin and niacin are no longer required because deficiencies of these are no longer major problems in this country.

-Standardized serving sizes expressed in common household and metric measurements - that are closer to the amounts people really eat.

-Calories from fat to help consumers limit fat intake to no more than 30 percent of calories per day.

-Percentages of new nutrient reference values, called Daily Values, to help you see how a food fits into an overall healthy diet.

-A section, required on larger packages, with daily values for diets of 2,000 and 2,500 calories.

What's more, nutrition information for many raw foods, such as produce and raw fish, meat and poultry may be available on a voluntary basis in the

Rangers' pick Bell is dead-ringer for father

By ARNIE STAPLETON AP Sports Writer

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Mike Bell has been following in his famous father's footsteps for as long as he can remember, strapping on Buddy Bell's practice cleats while goofing around the Texas Rangers clubhouse as a 5-year-old and shagging fly balls when he got a little older.

His biggest step June 3 when the Rangers grabbed the 18-year-old third baseman from Cincinnati's Moeller High School with the 30th selection in the amateur draft.

Mike's brother David, 20, is a third baseman at Canton, the Double A affiliate of the Cleveland Indians.

The Bells hope to join the Boone (Ray-Bob-Bret) clan as the only families to have three generations play in the big leagues. Buddy's father Gus played from 1950 to 1964, with Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, the Milwaukee Braves and the New York Mets. Buddy, a six-time Gold Glove winner at third base and five-time All-Star, played 18 seasons in the big leagues from 1972-89 with Cleveland, Texas, Cincinnati and Houston. Mike is a lot like his father. His mannerisms off the field and style on it are the same, and that's why Texas made him their top pick, said scouting director Sandy Johnson, who did a double-take when he scouted Mike this spring. "It was just like looking at Buddy Bell."

Mike is comfortable with the comparisons.

"I'm proud to be compared with him," Mike said Thursday while visiting Arlington before reporting to the Gulf Coast rookie league in Florida. "I don't think I deserve it. Hopefully, someday I can be half the player he was. If I can, I think I got a pretty good career.'

Mike, a 6-foot-2, 185-pound right-handed hitter, struck out only 16 times in his three-year varsity career.

He had signed to play at the University of Mississippi, but hoped that he would be drafted by Texas, Cleveland or the Chicago White Sox, where his father is director of minor league instruction.

When I heard that the Rangers drafted me, I couldn't stop smiling the rest of the day," Mike said. "I don't know if I've stopped yet."

Mike decided to take the Rangers' $375,000 signing bonus and go directly to the minor leagues. That's more than Buddy made in his prime and more than 10 times what Gus used to earn.

"It certainly makes me proud," Buddy said. "I'm happy that he gets to play the game like me and my father did. Because it is the Texas Rangers, it makes it that much more special.

"We still got Texas Rangers stuff around the house, old pictures," added Buddy. "I was kidding Mike the other day after he got drafted, I think he still has a couple of uniforms from the father-and-son games.

Bulls hold edge in experience

PHOENIX (AP) - The Phoenix Suns have been here before. They know how to fight from behind in the playoffs.

Their problem is that Chicago has been here, too. The Bulls know how to win championships.

The Bulls took a big step toward that in Wednesday night's opening 100-92 win that put the Suns in a tough spot - win tonight or go to Chicago facing the prospect of being swept in the best-of-7 NBA Finals.

But the Bulls are hardly satisfied with winning just one game in Phoenix and gaining the homecourt advantage.

The first-game focus was on the failures of the Suns' two key players. Charles Barkley missed 16 of 25 shots despite getting little double coverage. Kevin Johnson had just two assists and 11 points, but committed five turnovers.

In the opener, Jordan scored 31 points, Pippen had 27, Horace Grant guarded Barkley well, B.J. Armstrong hounded Johnson all over the floor, Bill Cartwright defended inside and Scott Williams led the team with 10 rebounds.

Olerud blows chance to reach .400 -

By CHRIS SHERIDAN

AP Sports Writer
John Olerud had a chance to reach .400, a chance to give the Toronto Blue Jays a ninth-inning tie and a chance to put them in a virtual dead heat with the Detroit Tigers atop the AL East standings.

So, with two on and two out in the ninth inning, what did the hottest hitter in baseball do?

He struck out looking, allowing Detroit to escape with a 5-3 victory.

At Tiger Stadium, it all came down to the last at-bat Thursday night in the opener of a four-game series between Detroit and Toronto.

The guy at the plate was exactly the guy Toronto wanted there. Olerud was already 2 for 3 on the night, and a base hit would have upped his average to an even .400. A double could have brought in the tying runs.

The count was 1-and-2 and reliever Bob McDonald - a former member of the Blue Jays - threw a fastball over the outside corner. Umpire Rich Garcia called it a strike.

'He's a great hitter, there's no doubt about that," MacDonald said. "I was going after him, though, I didn't care if he was a .100 hitter or a .400 hitter."

Toronto manager Cito Gaston thought the pitch was outside, but Olerud refused to complain. "That's part of the game. I'm biased as a hitter, so I never think a pitch is a strike. I should have never gotten behind in the count, but Mac made some great pitches.'

The Blue Jays, who entered the four-game series having won 9 of 11 games, have a chance to knock Detroit out of first place for the first time since April 22. Now, however, they'll now have to win the final three games of the series to do so.

Orioles 2, Red Sox 1

At Boston, Jamie Moyer got his first victory since 1990, going 5 2-3 innings and allowing six hits as Baltimore won its eighth straight game - the longest winning streak this year in the American League.

Brady Anderson had an RBI single and Jack Voigt drove in a run with a groundout as the Orioles scored twice in the fifth off Frank Viola (4-6) to break a scoreless tie.

Twins 6, Rangers 5

At Arlington, Texas, Pedro Munoz beat the Rangers with the long ball.

Munoz hit homers in the third and sixth innings, his sixth and seventh of the season, to give him homers in Boggs.

John Doherty (6-2) won for the three consecutive official at-bats. Twins starter Kevin Tapani (3-6) struggled in the early going, but settled down in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings before the bullpen took over. Charlie Leibrandt (6-3) took the

Yankees 3, Brewers 1

At Milwaukee, Bob Wickman won his 10th straight decision spanning two seasons and improved his career record in the majors to 13-1.

Wickman (7-0) was playing in front of 24 friends and family members who traveled 140 miles from his hometown of Abrams, Wis.

New York scored all its runs in the second off Ricky Bones (3-3) on singles by Mike Stanley and Mike Gallego, an RBI double by Pat Kelly, a run-scoring grounder by Bernie Williams and RBI single by Wade

Inky's bat saves Greene from loss

By DICK BRINSTER

AP Sports Writer Tommy Greene wasn't upset about being knocked out in the second inning, falling behind 5-0 and losing a chance to become the first Philadelphia Phillies pitcher in 80 years to start the season 9-0.

Bret Saberhagen was very upset that an injury shelved him after five innings with that lead. The New York Mets convinced him his concern was genuine.

"What happened tonight, it shows you what kind of team this is," Greene said after the Phillies rallied to win 7-6.

Saberhagen feared that would be the case.

"I can believe what happened after I left. It's been happening all year," Saberhagen said.

Once Saberhagen left with an injury, the Mets' lead disappeared. Pete Incaviglia's three-run homer capped a five-run rally in the seventh inning.

This also was the kind of evening that demonstrated why the Mets are in last place. Even after Bobby Bonilla homered twice and drove in four runs, they face their largest deficit of the season at 21 1/2 games. With Saberhagen out because of cramping behind his right shoulder, Philadelphia rallied against three relievers for two runs in the sixth and five more in the seventh.

Greene had nothing. He began the night with an 8-0 record, a major league-leading 1.87 ERA and a streak of five straight complete games, but lasted only 12-3 innings. He gave up four runs on five hits and three walks.

Mitch Williams pitched the ninth. for his 18th save, striking out the side including Bonilla - after allowing a leadoff hit to Todd Hundley.

Marlins 4, Pirates 3

Bryan Harvey set a record for saves by an expansion reliever with his 17th after Dave Magadan's two-out single in the eighth inning broke a tie.

Magadan's single drove in Orestes Destrade, who had tripled with one out off Dave Otto (2-4), leading the Marlins to their fifth victory in six games. Matt Turner (1-0) won with a third of an inning of relief, then Harvey broke Enrique Romo's 1977 'record for saves set with Seattle.

Reds 3, Braves 1

Tim Belcher continued his recent dominance of slumping Atlanta, narrowly missing a second straight shutout of the Braves as Cincinnati beat Tom Glavine.

Belcher (4-4), who pitched a one-hitter in a 4-0 victory in his last start against the Braves on May 26, had a perfect game for 5 1-3 innings.

Belcher had the host Braves shut out on five hits over eight innings, but Terry Pendleton started the ninth with his first homer since April 25 and third overall. Rob Dibble got the final three outs for his fifth save.

Glavine (7-3) lost for the third straight time.

Cardinals 7, Expos 4

Ozzie Smith and torrid Gregg Jefferies had run-scoring doubles in the seventh inning, giving Bob Tewksbury and St. Louis the victory.

Tewksbury (5-6), loser of his previous three decisions, allowed nine hits and three earned runs in seven innings. Lee Smith, the third St. Louis pitcher, worked a scoreless ninth for his 17th save.

Pinch-hitter Tracy Woodson began the decisive rally with a single off

Brian Barnes. Smith doubled off Mel Rojas (1-5) to tie the score 4-4, and Jefferies followed with a tie-breaking

Padres 14, Dodgers 2

Tony Gwynn had a homer among three hits, four RBIs and scored three runs in San Diego's best offensive showing since 1989. The game also featured a bench-clearing incident.

Gwynn, who finished 3-for-4 while matching a career high in RBIs, hit his second homer during a four-run third inning against Ramon Martinez

Gary Sheffield - later ejected after being hit by relief pitcher Rick Trlicek - added an RBI single to help Wally Whitehurst (1-3).

Sheffield, hit during a five-run sixth, charged the mound and tackled Triicek as both benches emptied. Trlicek also was ejected.

BELL

I know mine won't still fit me but I think his will."

Mike used to tag along with his father when Buddy played for Texas in 1979-85 and again in 1989, and it was during those years, Mike said, that he learned the game by watching his father.

"I've seen him play so many times. If you watch somebody enough you're going to imitate them, whether it's on purpose or not," Mike said.

Mike said he wants to play in the majors because he remembers how fun it was to grow up in baseball's stadiums and clubhouses.

He recalled how equipment manager Joe Macko used to chase the players' children out of the players' parking lot when they were getting together a game of stickball with wadded-up athletic tape. "I think we even hit his car once. We didn't have fun the rest of the summer," Mike said.

His favorite Ranger, besides his dad, of course, was Mickey Rivers.

"He used to get caught playing baseball with us kids outside and they'd be looking for him to pinch hit," Mike recalled with a laugh. "He was one of the kids' favorites."

What makes Mike Bell a prospect is his striking similarities to his father. What makes him different is that he already has a ton of fond memories from the big leagues.

Mike plays his first professional game Monday night against the White Sox Gulf Coast rookie affiliate. And Buddy will be there to see his son take that next stride in his footsteps, just as Gus was there to see Buddy do the same a generation ago.

Rogers Hornsby made 250 hits in 1922, the most for a player in St. Louis Cardinal history.

ISSACHAR, THE NINTH SON!

ISSACHAR, THE NINTH SON!

ISSACHAR MEANS HIRELING OR THERE IS HIRE. THE NINTH SON OF JACOB AND THE FIFTH BY LEAH (GEN. 30: 17, 18). HIS SONS WERE TOLA, PUVAH, JASHUB, AND SHIMRON. ISSACHAR, PRESUMABLY WOULD AND DID GO TO EGYPT WITH HIS FATHER JACOB (GEN. 46:13), WHERE, SHORTLY BEFORE HIS DEATH, JACOB, WITH PROPHETIC INSIGHT INTO HIS NINTH SON'S CHARACTER, DESCRIBED ISSACHAR AND HIS CHILDREN AS A STRONG ASS CROUCHING DOWN BETWEEN THE SHEEP FOLDS, SUBMITTING TO THE BURDENS IMPOSED BY FOREIGN MASTERS PROVIDED THEY PERMIT HIM TO REMAIN IN HIS PLEASANT LAND (GEN. 49:14.15). THE DESCENDANTS FORMED ONE OF THE TWELVE TRIBES OF ISRAEL, CONSISTING OF FOUR CLANS, ONE FOR EACH OF THE SONS OF ISSACHAR. AT THE FIRST CENSUS, TAKEN IN THE WILDERNESS, THE TRIBE NUMBERED FIFTY FOUR THOUSAND FIRST CLASS WARRIORS! WHEN THE TRIBE OCCUPIED THE VALLEY OF JEZREEL, AS THEIR PORTION OF THE PROMISED LAND, THIS LOW, LEVEL, AND FERTILE PLAIN, COMBINED WITH THE TRIBAL TRAITS OF THE PEOPLE, EXPLAINS WHY, IN ACCORDANCE WITH JACOB'S PROPHECY, THE TRIBE WAS SO READY TO SUBMIT TO SERVITUDE --- THEY HAD MUCH TO LOSE, LIVING ON GROUND THAT WAS SO WELL ADAPTED TO THE ACTION OF THE WAR CHARIOTS OF THEIR ENEMIES!

Infant mortality rates

Infant mortality rates in Texas have improved over the past five years, decreasing from 9.0 to 7.8 deaths per 1,000 births. The improvement is largely the result of better prenatal care and neonatal technology. Texas' rank among the states, however, dropped from twenty-first to thirty-first.

MONEY TALK

By Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison

Editor's Note: Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison addresses various issues related to personal finance and state government. However, these views are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. I received a letter from a company stating that they have found $581.68 in unclaimed money in my name. They go on to say that many agencies do not have the personnel to research, locate and notify people like me which is why they are offering to retrieve it. They said that if I contact them within 30 days, they will disclose the source of my money for a fee of 10 percent of the total amount recovered. They say that I am under no obligation to contact them about this, but obviously I want my money. Can you help me collect this without charging a fee?

A. Absolutely! If your money is being held in the State Treasury's Unclaimed Money Fund, then our staff will search our records and return the money to you free of charge. And there is no limit on the amount of time we will hold this you to claim it. Simply call 1-800-654-3463 to determine if you are listed in our files.

We have heard from a number of people who have been contacted by companies such as this. They are often referred to as "heir finders" and while they are not illegal, they are charging their unsuspecting customers a fee that can easily be avoided. State law entitles them to charge a fee up to 10 percent of the money they receive if it is being held at the State Treasury. This law does not apply to money held in county coffers, however, and some compa-nies have been known to charge up to 50 percent to retrieve these funds. To avoid paying such exorbitant fees, contact our office. Our Unclaimed Property staff is ready and willing to reunite you with money or property that is rightfully yours. If your money is not being held at the Treasury, you should then contact your county tax assessor-collector to see if your name is on a county list.

Q. My daughter will be graduating from high school next year and wants to pursue nursing studies. We have been saving money to put her through school, but the cost for four years of college is so high! Can you suggest how we might supplement our savings so our daughter can complete her education?

A. Meeting the rising costs of a college education can be especially challenging in today's tough economic times, but there are scholarships, student loans and financial assistance programs available to help

When applying to a college, your daughter should complete the financial assistance application. This will determine her eligibility for finan-cial assistance in the form of federal grants, loans and other programs. She should also contact the nursing department directly to see if they offer any scholarships to incoming freshmen.

Student loans are another option you might explore. One loan that is particularly attractive is the subsi-dized Stafford Student Loan since it does not require you to make pay-ments until your daughter is out of school. The interest rate for this federally insured loan is currently at 6.94 percent, which does not begin to accrue until six months after your daughter leaves the school.

If your daughter does qualify for the Stafford Student Loan, she is entitled to receive up to $2,625 a year for her freshman and sophomore years, $4,000 a year for her junior and senior years and $7,500 a year for graduate studies. The amount of money available will depend on tuition, cost of books and supplies and living expenses. A financial aid officer at any college will be able to determine her degree of eligibility for financial assistance, or you may contact the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board at (512) 483-6100.

If you have a question, write Money Talk, Texas State Treasury. Communications Division, P.O. Box 12608, Austin, Texas, 78711.

NEW YORK (AP) - "I'll Fly Away," the acclaimed but low-rated drama starring Sam Waterston, has found a new home on public television.

The show was dropped by NBC, but its 39 episodes will be shown this fall by the Public Broadcasting Service, along with a new movie that resolves the story.

We cordially invite all to come and fellowship with us.

VANESSA GONZALEZ

Senior recital is set here Sunday

Vanessa Gonzalez will perform a senior recital at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Fellowship of Believers Church. Gonzalez, a vocal student of Susan Shaw, is the daughter of Armando and Debbie Gonzalez.

Gonzalez has received top ratings numerous times, including performances at the Hereford Junior Music Festival, at the Greater Southwest Festival, and at University Interscholastic League (UIL) solo and ensemble contests.

She has qualified for the state UIL contest the last two years, receiving a rating of "I" this year. She was a member of the all-region choir and qualified for all-state try-outs.

Gonzalez was crowned Miss Hereford 1992 and will give up her crown at the 1993 pageant Saturday. She attends San Jose Catholic Church, where she is involved in the music program.

The recital is sponsored by the Hereford Music Study Club.
