MEXICAN BEANS MAKE GOOD CROP

Farmer Wailes Tries "Frijoles"
With Success; Sells Seven Tons
to Western National Bank

Last year I planted 19 3-4 acres in Mexican speckle beans. These I planted the latter part of May because my ground was not ready until then. I think earlier would be better, and that old land would be better than sod.

I irrigated these beans at a cost of 7 1/2 days work and $26 for fuel and lubricating oil.

I planted with a two-row planter in rows 22 inches apart, and tried to drop a bean every 4 inches, and planting 30 pounds to the acre. I cultivated twice, taking 1 1/2 days each time, with a beet cultivator, but an ordinary row cultivator will do.

I harvested the latter part of August with a surface cultivator, a very poor tool for this purpose, as it shatters out and loses too many beans. There is a bean harvester made which costs about $30 and is much better for this purpose.

My crop threshed out 16,330 pounds, which I have sold at 4 1/2 cents per pound, or $735.85, an average of over $36.75 per acre. In addition, I have left the hay which is most excellent for cattle and sheep. The labor and expense of making this crop was about the same as any other row crop. I expect to plant 50 acres to beans this year.

The crop leaves the ground in fine shape. In Colorado it is claimed that wheat following beans will produce 8 or 10 bushels more per acre than it would otherwise.

I have sold the bulk of my crop something over seven tons, to the Western National Bank of Hereford at the same price that the grocery stores offered me, that is to say 4 1/2 cents per pound.

I understand the bank will retail them at cost price, in order to introduce another profitable crop in this country.

Samuel Wailes.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT IN AMARILLO

Herefordites See Frederick Ward in Richard III on Monday Evening

A literary treat was enjoyed by a number of Hereford people, on Monday evening, when they took advantage of the opportunity to see Frederick Ward in his monologue portrayal of Richard the III.

To do this, it was necessary to virtually bring the mountain to Mahomet, and go to Amarillo, where the Military Academy was offering this splendid attraction as the closing number of its lyceum course. Ward, though celebrated as an interpreter of Shakesperian characters, for longer than two decades, is still a name to conjure with, and many towns outside of Amarillo were represented in the large audience which greeted the great tragedian.

No one was disappointed, for with the master's magic—a few brief, concise statements placed the audience in the midst of a rapidly changing panorama of English history. King Richard became a living, breathing monster whose crimes following each other in rapid succession, halted not for innocent childhood, imbecile age, nor any sacrifice of life or principle that stood between him and his ambition—the throne of England. Those who sat spell-bound during the wonderful interpretation saw the deformed soul in its eminently fitting tenement, carry out the natural design, and bring to its only possible ending, the tragic life, typical of every life that renounces all good and allies itself wholly with evil.

The climax of the artist's skill was reached in his portrayal of the terrors of remorse and hate and fear wrought by the spirits of Richard's murdered victims who returned to torture him with prophecies of certain defeat and death on Bosworth Field, and in the striking contrast which he drew between this fiendish character and that of the noble Henry of Richmond.

To the student of English, the evening meant much in the way of broadened conceptions and higher standards of work; to the real lover of Shakespeare it was an intellectual feast, revealing anew that the fact of Shakespeare's greatness results from his dealing with life problems in such a way as to emphasize the truth of the eternal life principle "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

The personnel of the Hereford party was made up of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Faris, Mesdames Donald, Hill, Thornbury, Guthrie, Misses Gillespie, Pickett, Gray, Patton and Messrs. Black, Rutherford, Foster, Hawkins, Emma Jean Donald, and Paul Guthrie.

Big Ranch Deal

A deal was closed Wednesday, whereby the Gill Bros. become the owners of the Tuttle ranch headquarters and get control of about 60 sections of grazing land. The Tuttle ranch was the property of S. C. Diggle, of Kansas City, and the deal was made through the J. N. Johnston Land Co., of Dalhart. The buyers are Robert Gill, of north of town, Joe Gill, an attorney of Clayton, N. M., and John and Ben Gill, of Amistad, N. M.

The ranch headquarters are about twelve miles northwest of Dalhart, and until recently was under lease to W. B. Slaughter. It is one of the finest ranching propositions in the North Panhandle, is unexcelled grass land, and has many wells with windmills at convenient distances apart.—Dalhart Texan.

Ten Cows Yield $1000

Under a farm demonstration made last year with a Texas herd of sixteen cows, they gave an average return each of butter fat of $58.94, skimmied milk $18.16, calf $11.25, and value of fertilizer $12. Total $100.25 This result was obtained with an average herd of Texas cows and reasonable farm practice.

In this demonstration, the skimmied milk is a by-product that brings about a feeding operation and yield of pork products with an added profit. In the valuation of the above, skimmied milk was figured at 30 cts per hundred pounds, and is, if anything, too low. Experiments made and reported by the Government Agricultural Department show a higher feeding value and when fed to growing pigs is reported as having a value of 35 to 40 cents per hundred; this with corn at 60 cents per bushel and pork 7 cents per pound market price.

The production of pork should go with the production of cream for the market, and both command a cash market any place at any time. The production of pork will bring about sales throughout the year when properly handled, while the cream brings in cash twice a week or as often as the cream is delivered to the cream station or shipped to the creamery.

This will afford money to meet the living expenses throughout the season till the growing crop, whether corn, wheat or cotton, is ready to be marketed. A small herd of cows producing cream for the market makes the Texas farmer independent of asking credit at the store, and makes him a better business risk at the bank.

Off For Round-Up

A number of the cattlemen of this section left yesterday for Amarillo to attend the cattlemen's meeting now in session there. It is intended to be a get-together meeting of buyers and sellers and it is expected that a number of cattle deals will be made there that will set the pace for spring sales in the Panhandle.

The cattlemen of Amarillo have arranged what promises to be an interesting program. It has been impossible to get all who attended from here, but among them were the following:

Chas. Collins, W. E. Hicks, C. E. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bell, O. G. Hill, L. H. and O. N. Shore, D. C. Laird, E. N. Mounts, Chas. Donald, W. S. Valentines, H. B. Stephens, Capt. Trow, B. S. Arnold, Will O'Brien, G. W. O'Brien, Henry Wilkinson, C. R. Smith, H. G. Conkright and John L. Wilson.

Baby Week

Beginning Saturday of this week, Baby Week is to be observed in many places in this country. The object of this movement is to interest parents all over the land in better care of the physical development of the child to the end that every baby in the land may have every possible chance to develop into a healthy normal adult. In many places next Sunday will be given to the movement in the churches. Mothers' Clubs every where are behind the movement.

Auto Number to Highest Bidder

The number 1111 was assigned to the highest bidder in Amarillo last week. There was considerable rivalry for the number with four ones, and it was decided by the clerk to assign it to the party willing to pay a premium for it. Dr. Johnston got the number for $4.75. The money over the usual clerk's fees was turned to a charity fund.—News

Miss Iva Gregg left Sunday for Amarillo, where she will enter the Conservatory of Music to continue her study of piano under the direction of Mrs. Lela Austin Myers.

Jones, who has held the office of chairman for the past two years, offered his resignation, which was accepted, and J. P. Slaton was chosen instead. The members of the committee present: A. M. Jones, E. B. Black, Kelley Gray and A. C. Elliott. Mr. Slaton was informed of the action of the committee and he accepted the responsible position as head of the Democratic party of this county.

Large Shipment of Bulls

Jowell & Jowell of Hereford made a shipment of 32 pure bred Hereford bulls to Mr. Gillett of Marfa, Texas. The price was not obtainable as Mr. Jowell is away making the delivery, but it was something over $400 per head. This is probably the finest bunch of bulls ever shipped from Deaf Smith county, that is noted for its fine herds of pure bred Herefords. Most of these cattle were shipped here last fall from the Gudgell & Simpson herd of Missouri.

The Messrs. Jowell are to be commended for their enterprise in establishing one of the best herds, not only in Texas, but in the entire country.

Methodist Meeting Closes

The Methodist meeting that has been in progress for ten days closed last Sunday night. Rev. Henson was taken ill early in the week and was not able to conduct the meeting. The pastors of the other churches of the town continued the meeting till Sunday night. There were about eighteen conversions.

Rev. Henson is now able to be out again, getting down town yesterday for the first time.

MRS. BRADLEY SELLS RANCH

Gets W. B. Slaughter Home in Town; Balance Cash. Among Best Ranches in County

Mrs. L. R. Bradley has traded her home ranch near Hereford to Col. W. B. Slaughter. She takes in part payment the Slaughter home in East Hereford, one of the best in town.

This ranch consists of about a half section and is one of the best in the county. It has over 100 acres of alfalfa and an excellent orchard. It has been used by Mrs. Bradley as headquarters for her fine herd of pure bred Herefords, the herd from which Hereford derived its name.

Mrs. Bradley will occupy her home in town and handle her herd of Herefords on the ranch about five miles below town.

The price paid for the ranch was about $10,000.

Big Turnips

W. F. Thurman brought to the News office yesterday a specimen of the turnips he raises on his block of land in the south part of town. It weighed 8 pounds and 2 ounces. Mr. Thurman bought the Cowling place during the summer and moved to Canyon to take advantage of the schools. He states that he raised 200 bushels of turnips on the block of land, all of which was done without either irrigation or fertilizing.—Randall County News.

Pshaw! That's nothing. Anything less than an eight pound turnip in Deaf Smith county is considered a cull.

Auto Turns Turtle

Last Sunday while two couples were joy-riding on Twenty-Five Mile Avenue, the Ford, which one of the young ladies was steering, blew a tire, swerved across the road, and then went over, spilling the occupants without hurt but a few scratches. Those who enjoyed this novel experience were—Misses Opal Vaughn and Willie Lee Moore, and Messrs. Fred Schultz and LeRoy Richards.

Castro County Candidate

B. D. Woodlee is the first Castro county citizen to announce for office and he wants to be county judge of that county. He has lived in that county twelve years and has always stood among the progressive men of that community. At present he is one of the teachers in the Dimmitt High school in which place he is giving splendid service. Mr. Woodlee is well acquainted with the local conditions and understands the business affairs of his county and we have no hesitation in saying that he is fully qualified to perform the duties of the important office to which he aspires.

The voters of Castro county will do well to consider his candidacy.

Fine Weather

The regular spring weather we have been having the past few weeks has started people to thinking about gardening and already a number of people have sowed lettuce and radishes. There is considerable uneasiness lest the warm days start the fruit sufficiently to let the frost get it later.

However, it is cool at night, freezing almost every night, and so far, the fruit buds have made little start.

Daddy's Bedtime

How Odysseus Got a Princess To Help Him

Minerva Came to Guide Him.

"If two children I know want it, I can tell the story of Odysseus when he awoke on the shore where the princess' slave girls were playing ball," said daddy. The children clapped their hands joyfully, and daddy went on. "He pecked through the bushes, saw the fifty beautiful slave girls playing ball and even saw the princess herself. You can imagine how embarrassed he was when you remember that the cruel waves that almost killed him had also washed away his clothes. But he sadly needed the princess' help, so he held a leafy branch before him and stepped out to beg her gracious aid. When the slave girls saw the stranger they screamed and ran off. But the goddess Minerva, who had watched over Odysseus through all his perils, caused Nausicaa to see a light that this brave Greek was a gentleman. Standing with bowed head, Odysseus begged the lovely maiden, whether goddess or princess he knew not, to take pity on his foodless, homeless state. He spoke so well and manly that Nausicaa had no fear. She told him her father was near and would gladly help him. Then she called all her runaway maidens and bade them bring some of her brother's clothes which happened to be in the wash. What was left of the luncheon they gave Odysseus, and after he had a nice dip in the sea and had put on the young prince's tunic he looked so handsome that Nausicaa almost fell in love with him.

"The next plan was to get Odysseus back to the city without the people wondering where so fine a gentleman had come from. The princess knew she could never take him back with her without folks saying rude things. Princesses have to be very careful of their behavior, you see. So she sent a slave to show Odysseus the way to a farmhouse which her father owned, bidding him stay there until she and her maidens had time to reach home. Then he was to start for the palace himself.

"Now, on the way Odysseus met a young woman carrying a pitcher of water. It was Minerva, who had come again to guide him. Odysseus, not knowing who it was, asked her the way to the palace, and the water girl offered to lead him. She sent a cloud to shield him from the sight of rude people, and as he passed along the busy streets of Corfu you must please try to imagine how much he admired the beautiful harbor, the ships and the palaces till he came to the princess' home. Then Minerva gave him advice about the country, the king and the people he was to meet and vanished," said daddy, with a good night kiss.

"Where did she go?" asked Jack.
"Back to her home among the Greek gods," daddy explained.

GERMANY'S POLICY IS SCORED

RIGHT OF MERCHANT SHIPS TO BEAR ARMS UPHOLD.

Germany's announced intention of destroying without warning armed merchant ships of her enemies was in the senate scathingly denounced by Republican senators, who declared that for the United States to indulge in such a practice would be humiliating and a step toward war.

Senator Lodge, ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee, reviewed international law relating to the arming of merchantmen for defense, and declared it was inconceivable that the United States would at this time abandon a principle for which it always had stood. Such a step, he insisted, would be an unneutral act, and virtually would make the United States an ally of the nation whose commerce had been swept from the seas.

Senator Sterling followed with a speech assailing Germany and charging that the American government in its recent memorandum to the entente allies and suggesting the disarming of merchantmen had put forward a dangerous principle and had encouraged, if not invited, the action of Germany.

Senator Thomas read into the record dispatches announcing that the state department regarded Germany's notice relative to armed ships as inconsistent with previous assurances as to the conduct of submarine warfare and would accept nothing in the pending controversy with the Teutonic powers short of a full and complete agreement to the high principle for which the American government has contended.

MEXICAN EDITORS ARRESTED.

CHARGED WITH USING THE AMERICAN MAILS TO CAUSE TROUBLE.

Enrique Flores Magon and Ricardo Flores Magon, brothers, editors of El Regeneracion, a Mexican publication, were arrested in their office at Ivanhoe, a Los Angeles suburb, on warrants based on federal indictments charging them with using the mails to incite murder and revolution. Deputies invaded their office to serve the warrants and a fight followed. They were overpowered and jailed.

A third indictment, it was stated, had been found against William C. named as editor of the English section of the paper. All three counts are based on editorials appearing in the paper the past six months.

The Magon brothers were convicted at Los Angeles in June, 1912, charged with fomenting a revolution in Lower California and given twenty-three months in jail. In the present case their bond was placed at $3,000 each.

Large Sum Paid.

The American Express company, per General Superintendent A. L. Bird of Dallas, has paid into the Texas state treasury $14,924, occupation tax for the current year, based on the gross receipts of 1915, which amounted to $596,993. This was an increase of $64,669.96 over 1914.

Wants Americans to Stay Off.

Representative Jeff McLemore of Texas has introduced a resolution in the house to the effect that Americans be warned to stay off armed merchantmen, whether they be "defensive" or "offensive" armed, and that the president so give warning, under the penalty of assumed risk on the part of the citizens disregarding it.

Sec. 5. Overland Sets Production

Toledo, O., Feb. 4.—The Willys-Overland Co. on Jan. 31 established a new shipping record, when 722 cars were sent out from its plant that day. During January, 1915, the total number of cars that left the factory amounted to 4,613, as compared with 12,393 for the same month this year.

A year ago the daily shipments from the Overland factory averaged 150 cars or less than one-fourth of its present output. The manufacturing facilities have been increased in 1 year, so that it is now possible to build 1,000 cars every 24 hours.

The present floor space available for manufacturing purposes is 103 acres. This is fourteen times the size of the original plan when taken over by Mr. Willys 8 years ago.

MUCH NEEDED INSTITUTION

The question of getting a branch of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College located somewhere in the Panhandle, is being agitated. This is a movement that should have the hearty support of not only this section, but of all the people of Texas that want to see this great state developed in all her resources. Here is a section unlike any other in soil, climate and environment. It needs special study to develop its resources. While we have many excellent farm journals that are helpful to the people of nearly any other locality, there is little in any of them helpful to the farmer in this section because the articles are by men that do not know this country. The bulletins and literature of every sort sent out by the University have little applicability to this section.

Here is a vast domain of virgin country as large as many of the older states, that needs special study. It is indeed the land of promise, and needs scientific treatment to realize this promise.

We suggest that Hereford is an excellent point for the location of this branch school. She is situated in the heart of the shallow water belt where crops of many kind do well; where trees grow in luxuriance. Let's have a branch of the agricultural college here by all means.

I am prepared to make good loans on real estate. 10 per cent first year, 8 per cent thereafter. Good terms.

MISTAKES IN PRUNING TREES

It is observed that many of our home owners are now pruning their trees, but are making some serious and injurious mistakes in their methods. While trees have been pruned since our forebears were still living in primal forests, yet it seems that this simple task is not clearly understood. Different trees require different treatment: a fruit tree should not be pruned like a shade or ornamental tree. A shade tree should be pruned to accomplish the object of its growth, whether intended for sidewalk shade, or protective background or screen for the premises. For sidewalk purposes the lower limbs should be cut off, forcing the higher branches to spread out by "topping" the main limbs and taking out the interior branches. "Topping" does not consist of cutting off all of the limbs, but simply to take the ends off the main branches. For backgrounds or screens, the lower limbs should be left and the tree forced to spread out near the ground by taking out interior parts. The usual methods of trimming privet hedges is an example of ornamental trimming and training.

But the fatal mistakes are being made in trimming fruit trees. We see our friends literally "trimming up" their fruit trees, thus taking off many of the fruit bearing limbs at places on the trees where the best fruit would be grown, and leaving instead the long top limbs that do not yield. Instead of "trimming up" fruit trees, they should be "trimmed out and down." The long, swaying and swinging limbs of peach trees should be cut back; only such limbs that cross or rub should be removed from the interior of the tree; however, in peach trees just enough of the interior growth should be removed to open up the tree. But few of the small limbs that grow from the larger branches near the crotch and main axes of the tree should be cut off; only the weak ones should be taken off or a little thinning permitted. The limbs of last year's growth should be left on. All dead twigs and limbs should be removed.

Plum trees require a little different treatment; no attempt at thinning should be made; only the limbs and branches that rub or interfere should be cut off.

Cherry trees require similar treatment; prune sparingly, as too vigorous pruning produces useless sprouts and sprouting.

Pear trees will not bear pruning; a little thinning of interior limbs and higher topping is all that should be done.

Apple trees should be pruned similar to the peach.

One of the most damaging results of pruning is in leaving stubs where the cutting is done. All cutting should be made as close to the branch as possible, making a smooth, clean cut, so that Nature can soon heal over the scar, thus preventing decay and making a place for pests to attack the tree. To leave short stems or stubs is to injure the tree. It is like leaving a bone protruding from the flesh when amputation is performed.

If you do not understand how to prune your trees, get some one to do it for you or to show you how; don't injure your best friends by incorrect pruning.

Marked Copy

If you get a paper this week with this paragraph marked, it means that this is the last copy you will get unless remittance is received before the next issue. The rule is: "Stop when the time is out" and is working well and the Brand will adhere to it. If your time is not out, there must be some mistake in the date label. If so, call our attention to the error and it will be cheerfully corrected.

ARMY OF PROGRESS WILL PITCH TENTS ON SHOW GROUNDS

BABY BEEF AND PIG CLUB MEMBERS WILL COME TO FORT WORTH MARCH 13-18.

TO BRING EXHIBITS

Competition of Youngsters Will Be Among the Keenest of Great Stock Show—Many Special Events.

A militant army of progress, imbued with the enthusiasm of higher ideals, will pitch its tents on the grounds near the Coliseum at Fort Worth during the twentieth annual National Feeders and Breeders show, March 13-18.

No bearded men, armed with the latest rapid fire rifles and hand grenades, prepared to wreak death and destruction upon an enemy, will be found in this army. On the contrary, it will consist of bright-faced boys armed only with a desire to better the interests of their state and nation through the upbuild of the livestock industry.

Yes, the baby beef and pig club members are coming to Fort Worth in number for the big stock show and they will camp in the shadow of the Coliseum. Practically every one of these youngsters will have exhibits of baby beef or pigs in the stock show and they are just as good boosters for the event as men who have followed its fortunes for twenty years.

The baby beef and pig club movement is little more than three years old but there are hundreds of clubs and thousands of members in this state today. The movement has spread to other states and proved popular. It is generally considered one of the most helpful innovations that the livestock industry has ever known because it is rearing a race of scientific and progressive stockmen in the Southwest. Soon after its inception, the National Feeders and Breeders show recognized the value of the movement and offered liberal premiums in the various classes in which the youngsters could give competition.

However, the baby beef show, large as it is in importance to the state and the exposition as well, will be but one of a host of features that will go far towards making the coming spring event the greatest that has ever been held at Fort Worth, the cowman's capital. Exceptionally liberal awards will be made in all the classes of the stock show and the night Horse Show. The latter event promises to be the most brilliant yet held. Practically all of the old-time exhibitors of fine horses will be on hand once more and many new ones will bring their animals here to compete for the magnificent prizes.

One of the comparatively new features of the stock show will be a great exhibit of Jersey cattle. The Jersey exhibitors have decided to make an exceptionally good showing this year and, inasmuch as Texas has been in the forefront of Jersey production within the past few years, the exhibit is sure to be one of the finest held in the United States for a number of years. An auction sale of Jersey cattle will be held one day during the show.

Any number of special features will be worked up for the show. The management desires to make the event alluring for those who haven't the slightest interest in livestock. Carnival attractions will be more elaborate than in the past and the Coliseum arena will be the scene of a host of thrilling and attractive special features.

The fourth annual exhibition of the Fort Worth Poultry and Pigeon association, which will be held in connection with the stock show, promises to be better than in previous years. A display of about 5,000 blooded birds, the best in the Southwest, is promised.

The P. & O. No. 111 Lister
 This Lister is known by farmers wherever sold as P. & O. No. 111, but the improved type is called No. 111 on account of important improvements.
 There are more of them in the hands of farmers than all other makes combined—over 2,000 sold by one dealer in one county in West Texas. The special features on this Lister made it deserving of its immense sale. Its use is not confined to preparing for row crops; it is now almost universally used for plowing for small grain crops by listing and re-listing, leaving the ground in oval waves, which not only catches and holds the moisture but prevents the loose soils of the West from blowing away.
 The adjusting link on front end of beam is an important exclusive feature on the No. 111, absolutely preventing the point from running below the desired depth. The wheels are provided with dust-proof boxes, an immense help in the sandy loam lands of the West.
 The feeding device absolutely deposits one seed at a time of any of the row crops, besides can be equipped for both corn and cotton. You will have to see this wonderful improvement to appreciate it. The tilting hoppers allow change of plates without emptying them. Furnished with either disc or shovel covers.
 This Lister has embodied many other important features that will convince you that it is the best of the market.
The P. & O. No. 123 4-Wheel Lister
 This Lister has all the advantages of the No. 111 and in addition has rear wheels. This is desired in many localities as it enables the operator to see the seed as planted. The rear wheels have cushion springs to hold them in line with the row and following the unevenness of the ground and conform to the ridge without straining the rear frame, compelling, also, the Lister to remain in proper working position at all times. The friction lock disengages automatically, allowing the wheels to castor and turn round in a very small space.

Joint Meeting of B. W. M. W.
 On Wednesday afternoon, February 23rd the B. W. M. W. met in joint session at the hospitable home of Mrs. R. N. Monnts.
 About fifty ladies were present, among the number several visitor whose presence was much appreciated.

An interesting program, consisting of music, readings and papers, was carried out, and the fact that each one who was on the program responded in a way that showed preparedness, made it most interesting to all present.

Bro. Farmer gave a brief talk, discussing the main points of the educational campaign now before Texas Baptists, after which the meeting adjourned.
 Then followed a delightful social hour, during which Mrs. Mounts served dainty refreshments.
 The entire afternoon was a profitable and enjoyable occasion and we returned to our homes feeling it was good to share the hospitality of our gracious hostess, as well as to be a member of the B. W. M. W.

Lesson X.—First Quarter, For March 5, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts vii. 54, to viii. 3—Memory Verses, 59, 60—Golden Text, Rev. ii. 10—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Stephen seems to have remained silent before his accusers until the high priest asked, "Are these things so?" Then, beginning with the appearing of the God of glory to Abraham, he traced the history of Israel down to the time of Solomon and the building of the temple, passing from that to Him who spoke of Himself as the Temple, which He said if they destroyed He would raise it up the third day (verses 51-53; John ii. 19, 21). He referred to the delay in the fulfillment of the promise to Abraham, the sufferings and deliverance of Joseph, the people's refusal of Moses, but God's choice of him as deliverer, and then accused them of consuming all the iniquity of their fathers by murdering the Just One, who had been promised to Abraham and Moses and foreshadowed in Isaac and Joseph and Moses and Solomon. Although Joseph and Moses were refused for a time, God used them when the time came, and so He will use the rejected, crucified and risen Christ at the appointed time. As truly as Joseph came to the place of power and Moses delivered Israel, so surely shall Jesus Christ come to the throne of David and be king over a redeemed Israel when the fullness of time shall have come.

As usual, the accusation of being the murderers of their Messiah cut them to the heart (chapter v. 33) and made them angry enough to kill Stephen, which they succeeded in doing. As they gnashed on him with their teeth (verse 54) he was seemingly oblivious to it all, for he saw Jesus in glory. The expression "gnashing of teeth" was used just seven different times by our Lord concerning the torment of the lost and always concerning those who were professedly religious, but not really His (Matt. viii. 12; xiii. 42, 50; xxii. 13; xxiv. 51; xxv. 30; Luke xiii. 28).

Stephen was filled with the Spirit to serve tables, to work miracles, to bear testimony, and now in his great hour of need to see Jesus Christ in glory and die triumphantly (vi. 3, 5, 8, 10; vii. 55, 60). To be filled with and controlled by the Holy Spirit is our great and supreme need for every occasion and all manner of service, for only thus shall we look up steadfastly and see the glory of God and Jesus at His right hand, something which we need to do in order to be steadfast in service and ready to live or die. This upward look and steadfast beholding of Jesus at the right hand of the Father, always so necessary, were never more needful than now in these awful days of the European conflict, and this very morning (May 8, 1915), as the papers announce the sinking of the Lusitania yesterday by torpedoes near Queens-town, with the loss of perhaps 1,000 lives, we surely do need to look up steadfastly. With the earth so full of unrest and the rage of the devil, the destroyer and murderer, so manifest, there can be no peace of mind unless we see heaven opened and the Son of Man on the right hand of God and hear Him say, "Be still and know that I am God; I will be exalted in the earth," and remember that He alone can make wars to cease on earth (Ps. xli. 9-11). Stephen's discourse began with "the glory of God" and ended with "the glory of God" (verses 2, 55). And we must see the God of glory and rejoice in the hope of the glory of God if we would be patient in tribulation and run with patience the race set before us (Rom. v. 1-3; Heb. xii. 1-3). I am always helped and enabled to look up better by a study of the passages where heaven is opened and we see visions of God, for there is no rest of soul in things that are seen, but only in the unseen and eternal (Gen. xxviii. 12-15; Ezek. i. 1, 26-28; Matt. iii. 16, 17; John i. 51; Acts vii. 56; x. 11; Rev. iv. 1, 2; xix. 11-16). It is restful to remember that there is One on the throne who is always quiet and unmoved and can do as He pleases and has all power, and no thought of His can be hindered (Isa. vi. 1; Ps. cxxxv. 6; Job xiii. 2, margin).

"He has told us not to be afraid to be killed, for to the believer to die is gain, to depart is to be with Christ, which is very far better; to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord" (Matt. x. 28; II Cor. v. 8; Phil. i. 21-23). Our Golden Text does not tell us that we will be saved if we continue faithful till we die, but that as believers, saved and kept by His faithfulness, we must expect the hatred of the devil, and if we are faithful, even though we die for it, we will receive a crown of life, which is the special reward for patient endurance. See also Jas. i. 12.

Stephen's testimony as to what he saw led these servants of the devil to stop their ears at what they considered his blasphemy, rush upon him, cast him out of the city and stone him to death. Then he saw indeed that which he had seen a few moments before from his mortal body, and he was forever with his Lord, far beyond the reach of all his enemies. His last words are memorable: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit," and "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge" (verses 59-60). They remind us of two of the seven sayings of Christ on the cross, as recorded in Luke xxiii. 34, 46. Saul was consenting unto his death and kept the remembrance of them who slew him, and he never forgot it (vii. 58; viii. 1; xxii. 29).

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Your townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Hereford citizen: J. L. Martin, telegraph operator, 121 Jowell Ave., Hereford, says: "The water in this country is bad on my kidneys, causing them to get weak at times and then my back bothers me. It aches and is lame, and I sometimes have black spots floating before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Betts-Diark's Drug Store, are the best medicine I have ever used for this trouble. They always give me desired results."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Company, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Notice to Subscribers

All subscriptions expiring this month will be dropped from the list at the beginning of April, unless remittance is received on or before that time. The good rule which the Brand has adopted is working well; old subscribers are renewing promptly, and many new names have been added to the list during the past few weeks. This rule is—"Stop when the time is out." This avoids many mistakes and keeps the records clear of back dues on subscriptions. Every subscriber knows from the label when his "Time is out." We have endeavored to get every name and date correct before sending out notices, but being somewhat human, there are more than likely some dates yet incorrect. These will be cheerfully corrected. Remember, the subscription price is now $1.50 per year in advance. Remit by any business method; your check is good. If you receive a notice, simply attach your check to the notice and return; it is not necessary to write a letter.

TEXAS LADY GETS DIVORCE

FROM WEALTHY NEW YORKER AND A PROMINENT CLUBMAN.

DAUGHTER OF NOTED JURIST.

Mrs. Lella Gaines Gwathmey, a child of the late Reuben Gaines, Long Head of the Supreme Court of Texas, Obtains a Divorce.

A decree for divorce was rendered in the Travis-William county district court at Austin in favor of Mrs. Lella Gaines Gwathmey, the daughter of the late Judge Reuben Field Gaines, for years chief justice of the supreme court of Texas, from J. Temple Gwathmey, wealthy club and society man of New York.

Mrs. Gwathmey filed the suit Nov. 11 last, alleging abandonment for three years. The petition was one of the shortest ever filed at Austin.

The marriage took place twenty-three years ago, and, according to the record, the separation came three years ago, after which Mrs. Gwathmey returned to Texas. The couple had three sons—Gaines Gwathmey, A. B. Gwathmey II and J. Temple Gwathmey, Jr., a minor, whose custody is divided. He will spend the months from May to October, inclusive, with his mother, and from November to April, inclusive, with his father.

By the decree, Mrs. Gwathmey is to have $25,000 settled upon her.

Former State Bank Affected.

A state bank which has ceased to do a banking business and is engaged in a trust company business, but has outstanding certificates of deposit, is still classified as a state bank and permitted under its charter to do a banking business, and must, therefore, maintain its deposits in the bank guaranty fund of the state. This is a ruling by the Texas attorney general's department.

Carranza Ousts a Spanish Consul.

Because he protested against applying the deportation law to a Spanish priest whom the Monterey authorities for an unknown reason ordered out of Mexico, Spanish Consul Lieguera was himself evicted. He went to Laredo. Lieguera was evicted by order of Carranza, to whom he had protested in regard to the priest's treatment, and was given twenty-four hours to leave. Lieguera assisted the American consul at Monterey during the revolution, and at times was in charge of the American consulate.

Girl Frozen in Ice.

Acting upon the alarm of some boys who had been playing on the bank, that they had seen "a dark object frozen in the ice of Cedar river," workmen dug from the ice at Austin, Minn., the body of Miss Mildred Scofield, aged twenty-three years. She had been missing several days.

Fear Causes Suicide.

Mrs. Tom Gallagher, twenty-one years old, married two months, killed herself at her home in Chicago because she feared her husband's anger when her pet dogs killed his pet chickens.

Daughter of Revolution Dies.

Mrs. Mary Martin Elmore Scott, said to have been the only real daughter of the American Revolution in Texas, died at New Waverly, Walker county, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe R. Hill. She was ninety-two years old. Burial was at Willis.

Plains Raising Corn

While this particular section of the South Plains lays no claim to a heavy production of corn, claiming to have a more valuable crop in maize from the view point of economic feed value, still there is some corn raised here—and good corn too.

Some weeks ago, L. A. Crews, of Henderson & Co., made a shipment of three carloads of corn, and this shipment is to be followed in the morning with two more loads, all going to Fort Worth to be shelled.

"When I came to Floydada to buy grain," said Mr. Crews, "everybody told me I had as well not advertise for corn, as there was none in the country. However, I have been buying corn right through the season, and will ship another load before the season closes, making a total of six loads to go out to my company."

The price paid for the corn was 45 cents per bushel at the car—Floyd County Hesperian.

I am now ready for spring house cleaning. Call on E. F. Farris. 11p says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give

It Always Helps

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kellow, on Twenty-Five Mile Avenue was the scene of a delightful party on Friday evening when their daughter, Miss Edna, entertained a number of friends.

A program of music and readings gave much pleasure and was contributed to by Miss May Murchison, Mrs. Eberly and C. T. Kibbe.

Enjoying the occasion were Misses Beulah Wright, Mae Murchison, Ruby Anderson, Elsie Elliston, and Messrs. A. V. Bright, Fred Elliston and C. T. Kibbe.

The last meeting of the Bay View Club was held with Mrs. D. C. Laird, the lesson study being ably directed by Mrs. Potts. The work on the High Renaissance period was concluded. Special attention was given to Venetian art and artists, the following suggestive questions being used:

What was the art motive of the Venetian School, and what did the artist of this school seek?

Who was the first of the great Venetians and what was his aim?

What were some of the characteristics of Titian's work?

Tell something of Tintoretto and his paintings.

How did the work of Veronese differ from that of his predecessors?

Name some of the lesser Venetian artists and of some of their works.

Who were some of the artists in the surrounding country?

The Beta Psi Delta's enjoyed a most delightful afternoon with Miss Mary Dunlap on Tuesday. After a number of very interesting games of five hundred, the club was served with chicken sandwiches, fruit salad, olives, pickles, coffee and wafers. The following members were present: Misses Alma and Una Norton, Mabel Gas, Jane Gregg, Mary Jones, Reta Shank, Bess Snyder, Ruth Churchill, Elsie Pickett and Mary Dunlap.

Neighboring Society

The Club members of the S. W. P. met at the hospitable home of Mrs. Kate Garrett on Friday last. The program consisted of papers on the lives of George Washington and St. Valentine, with the addition of the Mentor lesson, which was the life of Joan of Arc.

The home was appropriately decorated in patriotic colors of red, white and blue, with hearts and valentines everywhere in evidence.

Mrs. Lena Stubbs occupied a seat of honor, the occasion being her birthday. She was showered with handkerchiefs thrown over from the back of the chair and tied with red, white, and blue ribbons.

The guests were served heart-shaped pimento sandwiches, kabo sandwiches, containing miniature silk flags, olives, date loaf, charlotte russe, heart-shaped cakes and punch. Favors were large red hearts with inscriptions giving each a peep into her future life. (The children were also very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Garrett.)

Guests of the afternoon were, Messames Chas. Dixon, Al McIntosh, John Burch and B. G. Paylor of Cincinnati, Ohio. The club will meet with Mrs. Ada Higgins, March 3rd.

Announcements for Re-Election

Col. T. J. Tilson has authorized us to announce his candidacy for re-election as representative from the 123rd district. Col. Tilson is now serving his first term from this district, though many years ago he represented Hunt county for four years in the legislature.

The News endorses practically everything Col. Tilson did in the last legislature, and sees no reason why he should not be re-elected. He made a very strong member of the body, and was a means of considerable good legislation being enacted.

While he voted for liberal appropriation for our public schools and educational institutions, yet he voted to economize wherever possible without injury to the efficiency of the schools, and the same can be said in regard to other appropriations. He introduced and helped to pass through the house a bill authorizing nine jurors to render verdicts in civil cases. This measure, said Judge Williams of Waco, would have saved the State $500,000 a year. He introduced and had passed a bill appropriating $100,000 for wolf and rabbit scalps, and this helped to reduce the depredations of these animals in West Texas. He introduced a land title registry bill somewhat similar to the Torrens, which should have passed, for it would be worth more than most any other measure before the legislature at its session. He will introduce it again.

Speaking of the Gibson Insurance bill he says: "I voted against the Gibson bill and will do so again if elected. I will uphold the Robinson law. Although I am individually opposed to woman's suffrage, yet I have no objection to the people expressing themselves on the subject. If there is any manifestation of a desire of the people to express themselves on this question I will willingly vote to submit the amendment."

He did all in his power to get the appropriation to build and equip the Canyon Normal after its burn, and feels that it was largely through his efforts and influence that the appropriation to finish it was obtained.

Col. Tilson will make a canvas of the district, and tell the people of his stewardship in Austin.—Plainview News.

Poultry Must Be Kept Up

The City Ordinances forbids the owners of fowls to permit them to run at large. Many people are preparing to sow their lawns and parkings in front of their premises, and to plant shrubbery of various kinds. It is neither fair nor right that the efforts of those who wish to make their homes look attractive, should be wasted by the depredations of their near neighbors' fowls. Several complaints have already been made to me concerning this vexatious and destructive nuisance. The City Commission will make an effort to enforce this ordinance. Please keep your fowls on your own premises. Wm. M. Knight, Mayor.

BIG ROUND-UP TO BE NIGHT EVENT FOR STOCK SHOW

WILD WEST ENTERTAINMENT WILL SUPPLANT MANY FEATURES OF HORSE SHOW.

NUMEROUS FEATURES

Miller Bros. Will Direct Entertainment, Which Will Be of Varied Nature That Will Suit All Classes.

Furnishing all of the thrills of a Wild West Show, tempered by an exhibition of fine horses, in keen competition, that will attract the usual society crowds, the Big Round-Up, the night entertainment of the National Feeders and Breeders show at Fort Worth, March 13-18, promises to be the most interesting event of the kind ever held in that city.

Miller Bros., owners of the 101 Ranch show, will direct the Big Round-Up, and they have promised dozens of unique and diverting features. Broncho busting and goat roping, two kinds of entertainment that always please and thrill, will be down on the program and experts from all of the big ranches from Canada to Southwest Texas will compete for the ample prizes that are offered.

The world's champion high-jumping horse, ridden by a woman sixty-five years of age, will be one of the special features. There will also be a troupe of trained ostriches, a set of educated mules and Miller Bros. famous high school horses. A herd of Buffalo also will be brought down for the night entertainment.

Miller Bros. now are actively engaged in lining up talent for the event that will supplant the regular Horse Show at Fort Worth. In changing the form of the entertainment, the management of the stock show felt that it should offer a show for everybody and expects that the Big Round-Up will draw a larger attendance throughout stock show week than has ever been enjoyed before.

But the Big Round-Up will be only one of the major features of a livestock exhibition that has never been equalled in this section of the country. A prize list of $18,000 has been offered for the great day show, which draws exhibits of the finest livestock in the Southwest. With the best breeders acting in perfect harmony with the management of the show, there is every prospect that the great exhibit halls in the rear of the Coliseum will hold a greater number and finer array of blooded livestock than ever before in history.

However, the show this spring will be more of an exposition than in the past. In other words, while a display of fine livestock will remain the central feature, there will be many other things to entertain. The management of the show has closed a contract for a big carnival company, which will place a large number of attractions on the Coliseum grounds. It also is negotiating for a splendid array of special free features to be held in the Coliseum arena to divert between the judging of the different classes of stock.

The fourth annual exhibition of the Fort Worth Poultry and Pigeon association will be held in the big poultry hall adjoining the Coliseum building. At least 5,000 of the finest birds in the Southwest are expected to be on hand to compete for the most generous offering of premiums yet made. The Fort Worth exhibition is always the largest in this section of the city and it will be larger than ever this spring.

Sealed Bids

Sealed Bids will be received until noon, Monday, March 13, 1916, for the remodeling and repairing of the old college building for high school purposes. The right to reject any and all bids reserved. Specifications can be seen at office of E. C. Myrick, Secretary.

Mrs. Vogele returned from the eastern markets this week with a complete and up-to-date line of the very latest in millinery. On Friday of this week she will have on display a large assortment of trimmed and untrimmed shapes. All cordially invited to inspect this stock.
