Head Football Coach Resigns

Jack Meredith, head football coach at Hereford High School for the past six seasons, tendered his resignation this week to accept a three-year contract as head football coach and athletic director at Belton High School.

"The policy is that the school board must act on a resignation," said Meredith, "but it will be effective on release by the board." There is one year left on Meredith's present contract here.

Meredith said the move "has been prompted by nothing here, except I felt it would be a better staff." He said announcements of those assistants will be made soon.

Another factor influential in the move to Belton, said Meredith, is that the school system there is set to begin construction of a complete new athletic plant, including a stadium, field house, gymnasium and other facilities.

Meredith came to Hereford in 1961 from a head coaching position at Panhandle. He graduated in 1951 from Daniel Baker College, now Howard Payne, and accepted an assistant coaching job in Floydada. He was head coach at Happy and Crosbyton before going to Panhandle.

During his tenure here, Meredith compiled a 33-26-1 mark. Last season was his best, as the Whitefaces lost only to Phillips and Dumas in running up an 8-2 record and finishing second in District 1-AAA behind Dumas.

Meredith stated Friday that "my feelings for the people here especially the ones I have worked with, are great. And I wouldn't take anything for having worked with these kids."

The coach said he would be facing a rebuilding job at Belton, but some good backfield men were expected to return from the team which compiled a 5-5 record last season. One of the games was forfeited to Belton.

Meredith said he "would like to be there in the next two or three weeks in order to continue the spring program and get acquainted with the boys."

Meredith and his wife, Ann, have three children. Chris is a senior at Hereford High School. Jackie is a freshman at La Plata Junior High, and Kathy is a third grader at Northwest Elementary School.

Supt. Johnny Clark indicated that he will be taking applications for the position.

Dimmitt Wheat Men Revise Plan

DIMMITT — Plans to build a $20 million grain mill here are being continued by Dimmitt Wheat Grocers Inc. even though Miles Laboratories has backed out of a proposed partnership in the mill.

The Dimmitt group had been in final contract stages with Union Starch and Refining Co. when the company merged with Miles Laboratories three months ago. A company spokesman said the proposed plant did not fit into the giant pharmaceutical firm's operation.

A Dimmitt official said banks in Houston and New York had committed money to build the giant wet milling project, but much of it had been offered with the idea Union Starch and Refining Co. would be involved in the operation.

Plans had called for the Dimmitt Wheat Growers to build a plant and Union to manage it and market its products, mainly starch, dextrose and grain by-products.

Leo Witkowski of Hereford, a member of the Wheat Growers board of directors, said the board met Thursday and went ahead with land options.

"We are dealing with a couple of other companies — one in particular — and hope to come up with something soon," said Witkowski. "The contract and feasibility lists 18 months as the time it would take to get the plant ready, so if we can close with this company soon we can be ready for the 1968 harvest."

The plant is expected to employ from 70 to 100 persons.

Debbs Knox Seeks Post On Local School Board

Debbs Knox announced Friday that he will seek a position on the school board this spring. Two vacancies will occur, those now filled by Labry Eallard, president of the board and Raymond White.

Knox said in making the announcement that he felt that the present board had been accomplishing many good things but that after friends continued to urge him to run, he had decided to permit his name to be placed on the ballot.

Ballard and White announced their intentions to seek re-election early this year. Deadline for filing is March 2 and the election will be held April 1.

Ballard has been on the board six years and White is in his first term.

Knox said that his intentions to run were not prompted by dissatisfaction, but that he felt that a few rough spots could be worked out.

Knox has been active in many civic activities, having just completed the record breaking United fund drive that made Hereford the "fastest in the state." Knox served as drive chairman for this year's campaign.

He is also a member of the Booster Club, being immediate past president of that organization. He has served on the board of directors of the Lions club and has been tail twister of that organization.

He is a member of several other civic groups and lodges, being also active as a past deacon and member of the Presbyterian church.

Knox and his wife Mildred live at 133 Ave. B. Knox has lived in Hereford 33 years. He has been in the bakery business all of that time and has owned his own bakery more than half that time. He presently operates Hereford Bakery on Park Ave. The Knoxes have three children. Mrs. Eugenia Noland lives on a farm in Deaf Smith County; her children Mike and Cindy are in school at Bluebonnet Elementary. Carolyn Hacker lives at 107 Ave. B.

WATER DIRECTOR TO SPEAK MONDAY

Tex Watson, newly elected Texas Water Resources Commission Director for this area, will speak to Rotarians Monday noon.

Chamber of Commerce Water Resources Committee Chairman R. C. (Dick) Godwin explained that Watson's remarks will center on the new impetus given to dealing with water problems. Watson will stay after the meeting for discussion.

Rotary Club, President Alex Schroeter stated that those interested in hearing Watson should contact member Rotarians.

Chamber Plans Made For Year

Chairmen of the various Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce committees met for an orientation session Wednesday evening.

Chamber President Neil Cooper spoke first. Offering praise for Bill Thompson's work as Chamber manager, Cooper said that Thompson was "a real fine person and manager."

Welcoming new committee chairmen, Cooper said that by working together, all could accomplish a great deal during the year.

County Feed Yards Are Samples For Research

Hereford's many feed yards came under the scrutiny of water and air pollution researchers here this week. Chosen for a case study because of the numerous lots located in the area and because these lots are working actively to develop methods of pollution control, feed yards in the Hereford vicinity are opening paths for other similar operations in the state.

The researchers here were under the auspices of the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas And Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and Texas Tech. Dr. Thomas R. Owens, head of Tech Agricultural Economics explained that the researchers are trying to classify waters causing pollution both qualitatively and quantitatively. "We will then study various engineering systems to solve the problems, recommending the most economical," Tech Associate Professor Walter Grub explained.

Both Owens and Grub said they were impressed with an industry that had foresight enough to recognize the problem. "Some of the people we talked to are even interested in heading off the problem," Dr. Owens stated.

Lloyd Bergsma from Fort Worth accompanied the group. Bergsma has served six years as Director of the Cattle Feeders Division, which has provided a $6,000 grant for the study.

He said that pollution was a problem that industry would have to face. "It's no secret — the problem is foremost in people's minds," he said.

By Friday afternoon, the group had visited Holly Sugar Corporation feed yards, Easley Feed Yards, Inc. and Hereford Feed Yards.

At Hereford Feed Yards east of the city, the group was escorted by Dick Jagels, Hereford Feed Yards manager.

Jagels showed the group how his operation had prevented polluted water from entering the feed yard.

Judges from WTSU included two Kilgore Center researchers. Dr. Alfred A. Kraus, Jr., is Professor of Physics and Kilgore Center Coordinator for Physical Sciences research. Dr. Marion A. Guidry is a teacher of chemistry and biology and Kilgore Center Coordinator for Life Sciences research. Dr. Claude E. Boatman is head of the WTSU Chemistry Department.

Director of the fair was Gary Billingsley, Assistant Principal at Northwest Elementary School. Roy Harris, Aikman Elementary science fair coordinator, said science projects were judged on the basis of scientific thought (30 points), creative ability (30 points), thoroughness (10 points), clarity and dramatic value (20 points), and technical skill (10 points).

Entries were divided into grade levels — elementary, junior high, and high school. Within each grade level division there were seven scientific divisions.

Teachers from each school will decide which entries will go to the next level of competition, Billingsley indicated.

Four from each elementary school, seven from each junior high, and seven from high school will be eligible to go to Amarillo.

The 10th Annual Texas Panhandle Science Fair will be held at the Tri-State Fair Grounds Commercial Arts Building April 7, 8 and 9. Twenty-six counties will send entrants.

Two winners from the Senior Division (high school) will then go to the 18th International Science Fair to be held in San Francisco, May 10-13.

Awards locally were ribbons for first through fourth places and the grand champion winner. All participants received certificates.

Advanced level awards include prizes given by different companies interested in science fields.

Frank Nobles, last year's grand champion winner, won first place in his division at Amarillo. Frank received a trip to the International Fair in Dallas and a trip after the Dallas fair to the Atomic Energy Commission laboratories in Argonne, Illinois.

This year's Science Fair had a total of 235 entries, an increase of about 107 entries, according to Director Billingsley. Elementary school entries to See FAIR Page 2

Recent Store Fire Being Examined By Authorities

An investigator from the State Fire Marshall's Association left Hereford Friday after two days of gathering information in the Sunday night burning of Butcher Boy's Market, 801 W. 1.

The market was destroyed by the fire, which began shortly before 11 p. m. Examination of the fire by Hereford fire officials and statements from eyewitnesses prompted Fire Chief J. W. (Jap) Dickerson to ask the state association for assistance in arson investigation.

Insurance investigators also were in Hereford to gather information.

Floyd Lebow, 17, of Amarillo, who told authorities he was near the market when it exploded, remained in critical condition Saturday at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Lebow, who sought aid at Mark Taylor's Deep Rock Service Station about 30 minutes after the fire was reported, is being treated for first and second degree burns over 30 to 35 per cent of his body.

No charges have been filed in the case, officials said here, but an announcement is expected when the results of the investigation return from Austin this week.

Melvin Green of 115 Gough, and his father, George Green of 523 Ave. J. told authorities they were working at the J. P. Jones Texaco station across U. S. 80 north of the market when they heard an explosion. They related that they saw a man come to the front of the market with his clothes burning from the waist up.

The man ran to the back of the market when the father and son approached to help, and they couldn't find him again. Taylor said he was working at his station, which was closed, when the youth came in hollering "help me, God. Help me. Take me to the hospital."

Lebow received emergency treatment at Deaf Smith County Hospital and was transferred to See FIRE Page 2

DWI Case Will Require Retrial

The driving while intoxicated case of Thomas Earl McBroom, 27, of Canyon, ended in a hung jury in 69th District Court Friday afternoon as a nine-man, three-woman jury could reach no decision in 3½ hours of deliberation.

Judge Archie McDonald dismissed the jury shortly after it returned at 5:40 p. m. The case will be reset and tried again before another jury.

The jury, which was empaneled shortly after 10 a. m. Friday, left the courtroom with the charge at 2:10 p. m. They returned at 2:15 to have some of the testimony in the case re-read by the court reporter, and retired again 25 minutes later.

McBroom, a truck driver, was charged March 12, 1966, by Highway Patrolman Edward Richards after he was stopped near the Hereford city limits while traveling toward the city.

Richards and Sgt. Bill Wells, also of the DPS, testified that they were traveling east on U. S. 80 when they spotted a car traveling at high speed toward See CASE Page 2

Charlie Johnson Sentenced Here For Shootings

Charley Johnson Jr., 47, pleaded guilty in 69th District Court Wednesday afternoon to the June 19 shooting of two persons and was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary.

Judge Archie McDonald ruled that Johnson serve 10 years for the shooting of his ex-wife, Mrs. Ara Johnson, and 5 years for shooting George Crear, 44. Johnson faced two charges of assault with intent to murder.

Both Mrs. Johnson, 45, and Crear were shot in the face with a 12-gauge shotgun. Mrs. Johnson lost three fingers on her right hand when she tried to protect her eyes. She was blinded.

In other action in District Court Wednesday, Jimmy Ray Myers was sentenced to 2 years in the state penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense. Ronnie Odell Underwood 3 years probation after pleading guilty to a charge of child desertion.

Seven tablecloths will be made by Cultural Home Demonstration Club members as a gift to Gristown, U. S. A., it was decided at a meeting Friday afternoon in Mrs. J. G. Gancy's home. Mrs. Paul Corbett, vice president, was in charge of the business session.

A guest, Mrs. Philip Deiter, gave the demonstration on liquid embroidery, a method of fabric painting used in decorating clothing and household accessories. The hostess showed slides of Arizona scenes made on a trip to that state.

A change in the meeting place for Feb. 24 was announced; the program will be in the home of Mrs. M. W. Sumner.

Mrs. H. E. Houck was a guest and other members present were Mrs. Mmes. George Parker, Viola Williams, Grady Parsons, Thompson and Sumner.

Cooper made two points for the benefit of committee chairmen. The first point was to be careful of publicity. "No announcements to the press should be made without Chamber Board approval," he said.

In further remarks, Cooper added that recommendations of Chamber committees did not always reflect the policy of the Chamber, as decided by the Board of Directors.

Point number two concerned the subject of money. Each committee does not have a budget, Cooper noted, adding that committee chairmen whose committees have money needs should make them known to him or the Chamber manager.

Bill Thompson then took charge of the meeting for the presentation of the Chamber and its activities, including the program of work for the year.

Thompson announced that a leadership workshop for committee chairmen will be held in Amarillo, February 15th. He also announced that the new Chamber brochure will be ready by the end of next week.

Case ...

Hereford, Edwards, who was driving, immediately crossed the median and gave pursuit. Both stated that about three miles east of the city, they set the patrol car speed at 85 and checked the speed of the other car for about one-half mile. They then overtook and stopped the car.

Under examination by District Attorney Bill Hunter, Richards testified that the speeding car has passed several cars on the highway during the pursuit and "would run right up behind a car and turn at the last second. He would then whip back as soon as he could and at times ran onto the shoulder of the road on the right." Sgt. Wells corroborated the testimony.

Both also testified that when McBroom got out of the car after being stopped, he "walked straight" in an apparent attempt to walk straight. "He didn't blink very often, but when he did, it was heavy-laden as if going to sleep. His speech was bad and he seemed to lose his train of thought," Richards told the jury. Richards also said there was "a strong odor of liquor on McBroom's breath."

In cross examination by defense attorney A. W. Lair of Canyon, Richards stated that it is not unusual for a car to be traveling 85 miles per hour or whipping in and out of traffic. He replied, "No, it is not," when Lair asked if the action was any indication of alcohol having been used.

Lair also stated that all authorities had told him that there is no odor to alcohol itself but from the flavoring in alcohol. Richards stated that he was "no authority on the different types of liquors," but knew that alcohol has a distinct odor.

Sgt. Wells testified that McBroom at the time "couldn't comprehend or understand what Richards was trying to explain to him," seemed to stare quite a bit and "had difficulty maintaining his balance."

He also said a search of McBroom's auto produced four, six pack cartons of beer. The beer was produced as evidence for the state.

Sgt. Wells, under cross examination, also said it was not unusual to overtake a car traveling at 85 miles per hour and it was no indication of alcohol. Lair asked, "did you see anything at any time to indicate that he did not have control of his car?"

"I couldn't answer that yes or no, Wells replied. "Well wouldn't he have to have control of all his facilities to drive a car at that speed," Lair countered. "He did get from where he started to where we stopped him without having an accident," said Wells. Lair repeated his question and Wells stated, "Yes, but whether he had complete control, I don't know."

Robert Wayne Craig of Lubbock, a chemist and toxicologist for the Department of Public Safety, testified that he had analyzed the blood which had been taken from McBroom at the Deaf Smith County Hospital a short time after he was stopped.

He stated that the standard for declaring a person intoxicated is for him to have 10 percent of alcohol in the blood count. During cross examination he explained that 10 would be equivalent to one-fiftieth of one drop and the percentage of alcohol is based on weight of the individual among other technical things.

By his own standards, he stated, a percentage from zero to .05 means the persons is not intoxicated. "From .05 to .10, the person is possibility intoxi-

Speaker for the evening was Dimmitt High School junior Davis Harris. David is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Harris of Dimmitt. He spoke on the subject "Americanism."

Thirty-three young people and intermediates attended.

ated depending on his tolerance to alcohol. From 10 and above, everyone is intoxicated."

He testified that he ran the blood tests in series, being set up to run a maximum of 20 at one time. "Everything you do must be absolutely accurate," said Lair. "Very definitely," answered Craig.

Lair then asked if there was any chance he (Craig) could have made an error. "It's possible," admitted Craig, "but the possibility of error in this test has been found to be two-one-thousandths of one per cent."

The jury returned during its deliberation to have Craig's testimony re-read.

McBroom testified that he had begun drinking when he left Amarillo to bring a girl to Hereford, but had consumed only one full bottle and about half of two other bottles when he was stopped. Examination of the bottles corroborated his statement.

"I don't know how fast I was running because my speedometer was broken," he stated. "I imagine I was running a little fast, but I don't know how fast." He said he wasn't aware of the highway patrol car until he had slowed down to make a left hand turn and was stopped.

McBroom testified that he had driven a truck from 10 to 12 hours the previous night and hadn't slept in approximately 22 hours. "I wasn't drunk. I was tired. I knew where I was and what I was doing." He also stated that the testimony of the patrolmen concerning the way he was driving was wrong, that he had a 30-mile an hour wind whipping his car.

When questioned by Hunter, McBroom said he drank "socially once or twice ever six months or so." "You would call yourself a novice drinker then, would you," asked Hunter. "You are throwing those big words at me that I don't understand," said McBroom.

In his argument to the jury, Lair stated that his client "has slurs and draws in his speech. His eyes have a strange look to them, but that is the way he was born. If I didn't know Tommy so well, I might think he had a couple of beers before he came up here today."

"You can't convict a man on a possibility of his being drunk," he told the jury. Hunter stated that the case came down to one question, "whether this man was drunk or not." He stressed that the jury consider greatly the testimony of the officers and chemist.

Members of the jury were Mrs. Charles Sowell, Joseph A. Myer, J. R. Hickman, Herbert Rippus, Royce Crutsinger, W. H. Gentry, Mrs. T. J. Parsons, Brown, Alvin Schmucker and Grant Hanna. Deniz Pulliam was foreman of the jury.

He explained that during heavy rains a draw on the property fills considerably. The draw meanders along the south edge of several pens.

However, Jagels showed the group a system of earth dams which are designed to block the water from the draw before it reaches Tierra Blanca Creek. The creek runs a winding course south and east of Hereford Feed Yards.

Jagels stated that he was concerned with the pollution problem. "We know this is a problem, and we plan to do all we can to get rid of it," he said. Bergsma also indicated that the local feed yards were "doing a real good job."

"They have made a real honest step toward solving the problem," he said. Other members of the group included Dr. Bob Albin head of Tech Department of Animal Science, Wade Griffin, a Tech student working on his masters degree, and Dick Wilson, editor of the Cattleman's Magazine.

Of interest to local feeders is legislative action taking place in Austin.

The House Agriculture Committee, also interested in pollution problems, has sent the feed lot licensing bill to subcommittee for further study, according to late reports.

The bill would require licensing of feed lots of more than 1,000 head capacity. Reports were that about 20 cattle raisers appeared at the hearing in favor of the bill. Three opponents spoke against it.

Students Earn Band Chairs

Word from Houston Friday was that Kerry Thompson and Chris Hutcherson have been assigned their chairs in the All-State Symphonic Band.

Kerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson, 520 Ave. J, placed 3rd Chair French horn with the band.

The 6th Chair clarinet position was won by Chris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kindsfather.

Last year Kerry won 4th Chair honors in the top band. Chris did not make it to state finals last year. However, he went directly to state eliminations from Canyon tryouts this year.

School band directors and choir directors were scheduled to hear two bands. A symphonic band and a concert band will play. The symphonic band is considered to be the top band.

The Texas Music Educators Association All-State Band Competition is held annually. Competition corresponds with the annual convention of the association. This year's convention was held in Houston, February 8-11.

Gary Paetzold Goes To Austin

Louis Machuca, Llano Estacado Council District Executive, announced Wednesday afternoon that Gary Paetzold will represent the council in Austin Saturday. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Paetzold, north of the city.

Gary and four other Boy Scouts, also representatives of the Llano Estacado Council, will travel to Austin with Mr. B. J. Lewis, District Scout Executive from Dalhart.

The boys will represent the council in the annual Boy Scouts of America Report to the Governor Ceremonies. Scouts from throughout the state will participate, according to Machuca.

Staying at the Driskill Hotel, which will serve as the center for activities, the boys will tour the State Capitol and the city of Austin. An Explorer activity and breakfast at the air base are also included on the agenda.

Report Ceremonies will take place in the Senate Chamber with the Governor and other state officials. Following the official presentation, the Scouts will meet with the Governor in his offices for introductions and pictures.

One of four who represent 9,000 boys, Gary is a member and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster for Troop 50 sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club.

In Scouting for six years, Gary is an Eagle Scout, and he holds the God and Country award. Chapter Chief for the local chapter of the Order of the Arrow and Honor Campers society, Gary said that he was honored by the selection.

"This is a kind of climate for my Scouting," he added. The Hereford High School senior plans to stay in Scouting as long as possible. Next year when he arrives at Texas Technological College in Lubbock where he will major in chemistry, Gary plans to join Alpha Phi Omega, a service organization for former Scouts.

Gary states that he stayed in Scouts to be a junior leader and to help Troop 50. "I'd like to be a Scoutmaster someday; I think Boy Scouts is a pretty good organization," he said, adding that the main thing in Scouting is leadership.

Letter To The Editor

TO THE LICENSED VOCATIONAL NURSES OF DEAF SMITH COUNTY:

This is an open invitation to join our Deaf Smith County League of Vocational Nurses, a component society of the Texas League of Vocational Nurses. If you have heard of our organization and are not sure of its purpose, perhaps this will help to clarify any questions you may have.

The Deaf Smith County League of Vocational Nurses is a local component society of the Texas League of Vocational Nurses, chartered by the State of Texas. The membership shall consist of Vocational Nurses who have had at least one year of hospital training and who are legally licensed by the board of Vocational Nurse Examiners to practice nursing in Texas; and who subscribe to and practice the principles of higher professional ethics.

The purpose of this league is to promote high standards of nursing among its membership and others. Patient care is constantly being improved upon through the educational programs of the Texas League of Vocational Nurses.

There are between 1100 and 1200 members in the Texas League and the membership is continually growing as the newly trained Vocational Nurse passes the State Examination and who has her license makes application for membership through her local component society.

The Deaf Smith County League was organized in May, 1966 and they held their meetings on the 3rd Thursday of every month in the Deaf Smith County Hospital dining room. The program committee provides interesting lectures, films, and other programs of general interest to the members. In the few months we have been organized, we are grateful to have had as our guest speakers, Dr. Clyde E. Rush, Dr. Howard R. Johnson, Father Angelus, and a program by the Vocational Nursing students. In the forthcoming year we hope to have many more interesting lectures.

The Texas League of Vocational Nurses is a Democratic organization in that all officers are elected by ballot, with equal representation to all societies. The officers serve willingly with no compensation for their time and effort, but with the belief that "in unity there is strength."

For any further information concerning this organization, please feel free to attend a meeting or call any of our members.

Sincerely yours,
Virginia Sutter, L. V. N.

Student Speaks To Calliopians

Sparked with humor, descriptions of his own town and his life in Germany were given by Thomas Graf, American Field Service student in Hereford High School, to Calliopians Club Thursday evening.

Mrs. Clyde Cove was hostess in her home and Mrs. George Warner was the program chairman who introduced the student speaker. Especially interested in architecture, he pointed out architectural features of buildings, historic and modern, show shown in scenes from his home city, Karlsruhe.

He said that city, like others in West Germany, has a "friendship city" in another country with which they exchange cultural programs, sports events, students and other things of interest. Graf added that Karlsruhe' "friendship city" is in France and that relations of the two cities are affected by political feeling between the two nations.

Touching on another phase of politics, he spoke of the continued hope of the people for the reunion of East and West Germany, which were separated after World War II. Effects of that war on his own family were said; their home was destroyed and his father was a prisoner of war in Russia for a time.

Graf also praised the AFS program under which he is spending the school term here, saying that his experience is proving very meaningful and he feels that he is learning a great deal as he enjoys his residence in Hereford.

Guests introduced at the meeting were Mrs. Jim Kruger, Mrs.

Vance Robinson of Lamona and Miss Sharon Corica.

Members present included Misses Cameron Gault, Alvin Fraser, E. W. Bestman, C. J. Crump, R. F. Cain, D. C. McWhorter, Ansel McDowell, Sue James, Roy Griffin, David Gibson, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Hamon Woods, Wes Owens, A. T. Mims and Emmett Milburn.

Modern Flower Patterns Shown

Less familiar types of flower arrangements, including mobiles, stables and abstracts, were on display at the Hereford Garden Club luncheon in Pioneer Gas Flame Room Friday, when the program subject was New Patterns in Flower Arranging.

Members commented on the arrangements, applying rules of conventional flower show judging and also discussing the unusual patterns on the basis of the leader's remarks.

Each member brought to the meeting her favorite nursery catalog, and these were displayed on a table for inspection. A report on current articles of interest in Lone Star Gardener magazine was given by Mrs. R. E. Lance Jr.

Led by Mrs. A. L. Manjoet, discussion of the new types of arrangement was presented by Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr., on stables; Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, on mobiles, and Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. on abstracts. Each showed an arrangement illustrating her subject, and other members had also brought illustrative material.

Abstract art as applied to flower composition was discussed by Mrs. Manjoet, who explained that it has rules even though it stresses individuality, and that each piece of material is used for its symbolism.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson presided for a morning business period when announcement was made of the spring board meeting of District I, Texas Garden Clubs Inc., to be held April 4 in Big Spring.

Mrs. W. C. Hromas and Jacobsen were hostesses who arranged the salad luncheon.

A former member, Mrs. Catherine Moore Enfield of San Benito, was a guest. Others present were Mrs. A. O. Thompson, R. L. Wilson, James Brown, E. W. Mitchell, E. T. Hale, S. S. Williams, Roy Botkin, G. W. Newsom, Merlin Weber and J. V. Pickens.

STRANGE ARRANGEMENTS — New trends in flower arrangements, including mobiles like that held by Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, or right in bannan photo, and abstracts like those on the table, were discussed at a Hereford Garden Club luncheon Friday.

Parish Council And Guests Hear Eye Bank Program Discussed

Enthusiasm for the eye bank program sponsored in this area by Lions Clubs was transferred by Ed Skypala to an audience in St. Anthony's School auditorium Thursday evening, when he spoke to St. Anthony's Parish Council and members' husbands.

Skypala, whose work with the eye bank program was one of the factors which recently won him the Citizen of the Year Award in Hereford, explained how eyes would be banked may be used to save the sight of persons with injured or diseased eyes.

He quoted the slogan, "He who gives his eyes really never dies," and said that a transplanted eye may be transplanted again, so that the slogan is literally true.

Hostesses for the special program were Mrs. Ed Drisk Jr., Bill Manie, Louis Beckman, and Gerald Banner. In the business session, announcement was made of a board meeting for the Plainview Deacons, Council of Catholic Women, to be held in Community Center here Feb. 22. Plans are to be made then for the general meeting April 5 in Lockney.

Refreshments were served to 21 members and guests.

Soldier Requests Texas State Flag

A Hereford soldier in South Vietnam wants Texas State Flags and Chamber Manager Bill Thompson sent him one sized 3 X 5 feet.

SP4 Lawrence C. Warner, nephew of George C. Warner, 805 N. Main, wrote to the Hereford Chamber February 5th. He wrote as follows:

"Dear Sir: Recently, a trooper in my outfit received a monstrous 3 X 5 flag from his home state of Florida as well as two little ones for the antennas on his jeep.

Being a patriotic Texan and proud of my State's heritage, I can't let this joker from Florida be one up on me, so I would greatly appreciate any information as to how I could obtain some Texas State flags."

Bill Thompson, Chamber Manager, talked with Lawrence by radio Friday Morning. Thompson told Lawrence that the 3 X 5 flag will be sent directly from the factory.

Thompson also indicated that the Chamber will purchase five 3 X 5 foot Texas Flags and several 8 X 12 inch flags to have on hand for any occasion that might call for a Texas flag.

Lawrence, who lived with his uncle while in Hereford, graduated from Hereford High School in 1964. Lawrence attended college for one semester at the University of New Mexico. He enlisted at Albuquerque. In the US Army for two years now, Lawrence is a radio operator in an artillery fire direction center. George Warner, Lawrence's uncle, stated that "it takes a team of 10 or 12 people to operate the center."

When Michigan State senior defensive halfback Jerry Jones was a Boy Scout he worked as an usher in Spartan Stadium.

Fifteen people from Hereford were among 900 guests registered for the Southwest Water Resources Symposium held in Portales February 4th.

Four major addresses were given, and thirteen panelists spoke. Among the panelists was Congressman Bob Price from the 18th Congressional District.

"Sometime in the late 1970's there will be in excess of 225 million Americans, of whom 165 million will be depending on surface water supplies," Senator Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico said.

Floyd E. Dornay, Commissioner of Reclamation mentioned a plan recently announced by Secretary of the Interior Udall. The plan would, among other things, endorse the creation of a National Water Commission "to study critical water supply problems on a national basis."

Dr. Grover E. Murray, President, Texas Technological College, described his speaking role as that of an alarmist.

He proved his point when he referred to irrigation. He explained that pumping costs for one thousand gallons of water on the average irrigated farm is 16 cents and increasing.

"When this figure exceeds 20 cents, the cost of irrigation water will surpass its value for most common field crops," Dr. Murray said.

The evening speaker, Senator Frank E. Moss (D-Utah), discussed the North American Water and Power Alliance (NAWAPA), continent-wide water management program.

Other speakers throughout the day revealed plans and projects designed to meet state and regional water needs for the present and future.

In contrast to the day's speakers, Congressman Price remarked that "we must quit looking to the Federal government for solving our problems."

THE CHURCH I LOVE IS MADE OF A BUNCH OF REBELS

"Do you not know that if you yield yourselves to any one as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, . . . (Romans 6:16). "Since all (of us) have sinned and fall short of the glory of God," (Romans 3:23), we were slaves of Satan, the master of sinners.

"We got sick and tired of being in servitude to the devil who never had done anything for us but get us in trouble. His promises of joy, fun and happiness in his life were abundant. He was always short on his promises and few received came with great price. And besides, the few pleasures the slaves of sin receive last but for a short while and then comes the sorrow and regret. (Hebrews 11:24). He was about to rob us of an eternal life of joy, and was about to drag us "into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels." (Matthew 25:41).

"Satan disguises himself as an angel of light," and some of his servants also get in on the act by "disguising themselves as servants of righteousness," (2 Corinthians 11:13-15).

Great numbers of people are still being deceived by this masquerade, but some of us, by the grace of God, have wised up, and have rebelled against Satan.

Where Satan has done nothing to merit our loyalty, God so loved us that he gave his only begotten Son. (John 3:16). Where Satan is a liar (John 8:44), and "the deceiver of the whole world," (Revelation 12:9), "it is impossible that God should prove false." Therefore we have rebelled against our former master whom we obeyed while in sin, and now "we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to seize the hope (of better life) set before us." (Hebrews 6:18).

Yes, we have rebelled because we have learned the truth. The truth, which is gospel made us free from Satan. (John 8:31-32). As a result of our breaking away from Satan, now we "are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus." (Romans 3:24). "God has delivered us from the dominion of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, (by the new birth), in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins." (Colossians 1:13, 14).

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Bridge players who started a double elimination tournament at the Country Club Wednesday should be having a lot of fun by now, from reports I hear. There are 27 couples of them, and after the first round they drew for opponents to continue the tourney.

NOW THEY ARE meeting in homes or wherever a bridge session can conveniently be arranged, drawing for new opponents after each session and moving on toward the decisive games which will determine city champions.

At least they will be champions of this crowd and can claim the city title until proved otherwise, so far as I know. As many avid bridge players as Hereford has, this type of tournament ought to bring out some very high-type (or maybe even cut-throat) bridge.

After hearing reports of a bunch of women meeting to take exercises twice a week at Community Center, I went up the other day to see what was happening, and it's quite interesting. There had been some complaints of sore muscles and there is reason to believe they were true. This group has a strenuous life.

FOUND OUT THAT Mrs. Arthur Pursley, who directs the exercisers, started out to organize the class, or whatever you want to call it, simply because she felt that she needed regular exercise and was willing to admit that she would never take it alone. She had been in a similar class at Abilene a few years back and saw no reason why one couldn't be formed here.

Quite a number of women are meeting Tuesday and Friday mornings, inviting anyone else who wishes to join them. They call it a trim-and-slim class; the objective is not to lose pounds necessarily, but to, shall we say redistribute the poundage so it looks better? It's a program intended to exercise every muscle one possesses, and in a variety of calisthenics for 45 minutes at a time, the class members testify that they are pretty sure every muscle has been reached. At least so says Virginia Winget, Joanne Yarbro and Mary Williamson.

THEY APARENTLY have fun as well as work hard, and a visitor is struck by the diverse costumes. Shorts and sweat-shirts, pants and tops, leotards, pedal-pushers, even, for one woman, her husband's coveralls. While they are "bicycling" lying down, the exercisers display bare feet, gym shoes, jeweled bedroom slippers, a pair of red sneakers and a pair of iridescent green bobby-socks. Just wear what is handy and go join 'em, they say.

ADMITTING AT the start that she is a bragging mama, Mrs. M. W. Sumner brought in a clipping from the Odessa paper listing her daughter, Phyllis Boston, as one of the students at Odessa College on the Summa Cum Laude list for the fall semester. To make that list it takes all A grades with a minimum of 12 semester hours.

Phyllis, Mrs. Larry Boston, is a second year student majoring in elementary education and music. She lives in Odessa and teaches music in a kindergarten as well as attending the college. She is a graduate of Hereford High School and her parents live at 815 Irving.

You are invited to a party Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Community Room of First National Bank, and it will cost you money — for a good cause. Hereford Jaycee-Ettes are sponsoring a plastic ware sales party to raise money for Gristown, U. S. A., and they want you to come.

If you want to order some of the houseware in advance, telephone the president, Mrs. Don Haynes, or Mrs. Melvin Fowler or Mrs. Larry Haney.

Film Shown For Joint BSP Meet

A film titled One Who Cared, picturing work of the American Red Cross to aid disaster victims and also in combat areas of Viet Nam, was shown to members of Red Cross Volunteers here at a luncheon in the Hickory Log Thursday. The February meeting of the Volunteers was advanced a week so the group could see this film.

It was presented by Dick Strayer, national field representative from the Amarillo office, who commented on increasing Red Cross aid to military personnel and their families with intensified fighting in Viet Nam.

Volunteers reported 114 hours of service given in this community during the past month. Mrs. Genevieve Miller, executive secretary of Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter, announced that a Christmas project of sending "ditty bags" with toilet articles and stationery to servicemen in combat areas, would be continued this year and the county is asked to supply one-fourth more than last year.

Various women's organizations helped with this project and will be asked to continue aid.

Mrs. Marvis Southward presided at the luncheon. Others present were Mmes. C. A. Saulcy, Archie Love, Wall, Ray Carlile, Leo Forrest, C. Ora Cockrell and Alex Petersen.

Chop sweet onion and fresh sweet red pepper (or canned pimiento) very fine and add to an oil and vinegar dressing to be used on tossed green salad. Refreshing combination!

Farmer of Future May Be Similar to Hereford Type

Will the trend away from the land to cities be reversed during the next decade? As drastic as the occasion would be, it is nevertheless predicted by quite a few national observers who feel that by 1970 food shortages will have become so critical that we will view a complete reversal in attitude regarding farms, farming and farm products.

By 1970, they tell us that "Rural Boom" should be well underway, hand-in-hand with higher farm market prices and shortages which will bring even higher prices as the years roll past. The prediction is based upon population estimates of the nation, which some believe will increase from today's 197 million to 209 million in 1970, and on up past 225 million by 1975.

Fewer farmers, many believe, but the vast difference will appear in a tremendous labor market somewhat similar to that seen in highly industrialized areas which have drawn heavily from America's rural population during the past 25 years. More mechanization is seen by many economists, but tractors are not practical without drivers and someone must push the buttons on new-fangled push button equipment. Keeping the equipment in good condition and repaired is always a big problem, and one which requires community shops as well as farm labor.

In many ways, the projected "farmer" of the 1970's sounds very much like the 1967 version to be found in Deaf Smith and other irrigated sections on the Plains. As in this area, farmers everywhere will be called upon to become efficient business men, progressive operators and intelligent citizens. Larger tracts, systematic experimental tests and calculated returns will definitely transform the average farm into a highly developed and competitive business institution.

This is good news for all rural areas, of course, but it seems to us that a community such as Hereford, sitting in the midst of vast irrigation resources and fertile lands, that benefits will rise far above the average. The fact that Hereford is already regarded as central vegetable producing district also adds value to existing marketing networks and sales systems. We can think of no other single place in America, in fact, which stands to gain as much as Deaf Smith county in a time of high prices and food shortages.

In addition to resources and water, this particular area boasts an even greater asset in the existence of know-how and experienced farmers. What's more, many of our farmers are young to middle-aged operators who have already been through the changes that thousands of other farmers will face during the next decade. Most of them, it seems to us, already meet the requirements projected for the farmer of the future, which means that they will have a running start on competitors in other areas.

What's more, we will be happy indeed to see the farmer once again elevated to a position which he well deserves. America's ability to produce farm commodities has long marked us as an outstanding nation in the world. Lack of this ability has held Russia and numerous other countries down for many years. Consequently, it seems to us that the American farmer should also gain much in political and economic stature as the demand for his products continues to expand and grow.

A Little Knowledge Of Schools

It is a little strange to find a group of public school administrators inveighing against the acquisition of knowledge. And yet that is what they seem to be doing in the case of a proposed national assessment of school performance.

Although one of the statutory functions of the U.S. Office of Education is to collect and diffuse data on the condition and progress of education, never has any national fact-finding effort been made since the office was created in 1867. An odd circumstance in itself.

However, in 1965 former Education Commissioner Francis Keppel broached a plan for a national school assessment, saying that all citizens and their Congressmen "have every right to know whether their investment in education is paying off." The Carnegie Corp. agreed to finance pilot tests, the results of which should show whether a national assessment of school performance is feasible.

"A nation that has hitched its destiny to the star of education and pours billions of dollars into the enterprise," says the Carnegie Corp., "is collectively crazy if it does not try to find out the result of all this effort." The test is designed, it says, so that no "invidious comparisons" can be made among geographical areas, schools or teachers.

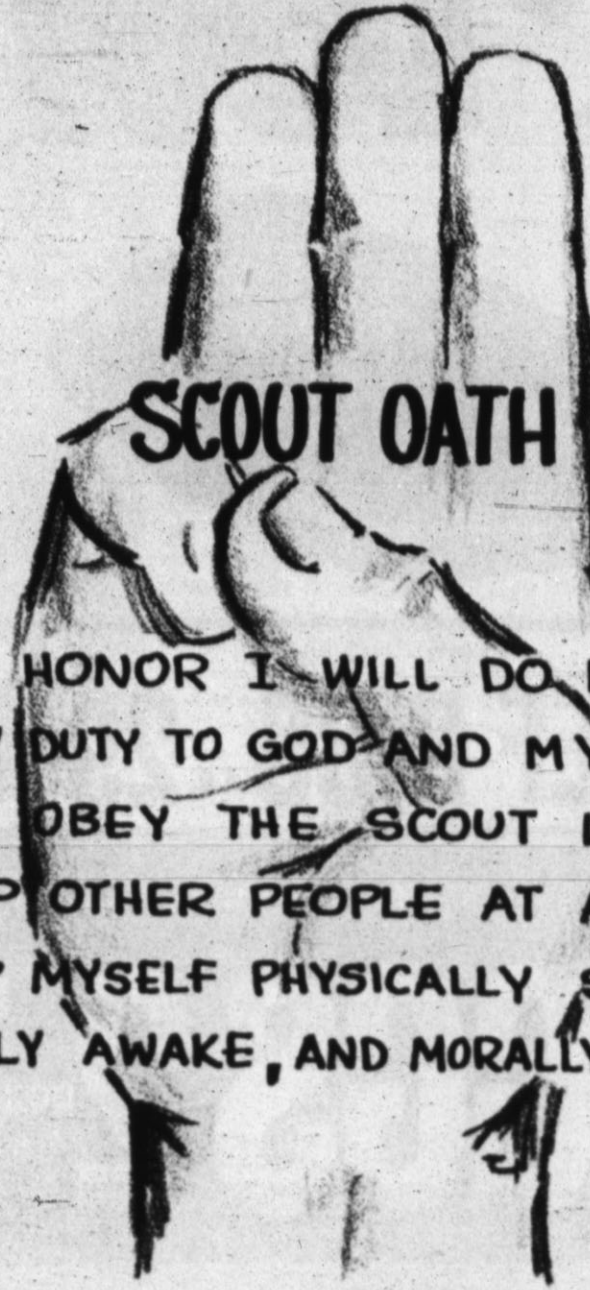

Actually, comparisons of one kind or another are being made all the time — between slum and suburban schools, between those in the rural South and those in the urban North. The trouble is that they are being made without the sort of specific knowledge the proposed national testing hopes to provide.

All the same, the plan is opposed by the American Association of School Administrators, representing 16,500 public school superintendents, and by several other education groups. It will be coercive, it is argued, leading to regional, state and local comparisons "and will have national overtones in the dispensing of Federal aid."

It's certainly true that Washington can at times be heavy-handed. But if the educators really think the Government both can and should go on handing out money forever without at least a little knowledge of what it's accomplishing, they're showing a lack of wisdom themselves.

Women In Congress Is Still Considered Novel

By BERT MILLS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — America's most exclusive sorority has only 11 members, and they are the only women in the nation entitled to write "M. C." after their name.

Women in Congress have ceased to be a novelty but it remains an unusual distinction for a lady to be elected to a legislative body consisting of 52 men, 11 women, and two vacancies.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Maine Republican, holds the distinction of being the only female among 100 Senators. She does not publish her age but is 69 and has served continuously in Congress for more than 26 years. She was first elected to the House in 1940 to succeed her late husband but she has been making it on her own ever since.

She has been a Senator since 1949 — the first woman ever elected to three full Senate terms. She sets voting records every time she runs. Mrs. Smith was honored recently by election as Chairman of the Senate Republican Conference. Although she never went to college, she holds 49 honorary degrees — a Senate record.

Mrs. Smith's trademark is a red rose she wears every day. It contrasts nicely with her gray hair and adds a bit of color to an often drab Senate. When there is a vote to be taken, Mrs. Smith is always on the floor. She holds the all-time record for answering roll calls — over 2,400 without a miss.

Military affairs are her specialty and she is the ranking minority member on both the Armed Services and Space Committees. She also serves on Appropriations. She is one woman who can keep her ears open and her mouth shut, being a member of an elite group entrusted with the secrets of the Central Intelligence Agency.

House Includes 10 Ladies

There are ten ladies in the House of Representatives in the 90th Congress, one more than in the 89th. However, the total of 11 ladies in Congress remained unchanged because Mrs. Maurine Neuberger voluntarily retired from the Senate last fall.

Seven of the ten Congresswomen qualify as veterans, having served from eight to 27 years. Dean of the ladies of the House is Rep. Frances P. Bolton, Republican from Ohio. She succeeded her husband back in 1940 and has served ever since. Her son, Oliver P. Bolton, represented another Ohio district in the House for six years ending in 1964.

Rep. Edna F. Kelly, Democrat from New York, first elected in 1949, ranks next in seniority. She is the widow of a City Court Justice and is eight times a grandmother. Next comes Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, Missouri Democrat. She succeeded her husband in 1951 and has been reelected every two years ever since.

THE BOOTLEG — Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm northwest of Hereford thought at first he had a good idea, but changed his mind, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Every man to his own field. While I've been telling Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the foreign affairs experts in other countries rack their brains over the major points on what's going on in Red China, I've been devoting my thought to a revolutionary sidelight I discovered in a copy of a newspaper somebody threw out of a car near here. The chicken feathers it was wrapped around scattered in the wind and I left them where they fell.

According to an article in it reporting on the turmoil in China, news of the revolution or whatever it is is going reported on wall posters.

That's right. Somebody gets a new report, he prints it on a poster and sticks it on the side of a building and everybody gathers around to find out what the latest news is. If there's not any news, he makes some up and posts that. Even China has off-brand journalists.

I have been thinking this over and at first I thought why there's an idea for The Hereford Brand: Why have all that printing equipment you've got tied up in that building, when all you need is a sheet of paper, a brush and a bucket of paint? No pay roll, no machinery breakdowns, very little overhead.

Then I got to thinking some more. As I understand it, there are 700-million people living in China, at least there were the other day, no telling how many more this morning, and I got to wondering how many wall posters it'd take to keep the nation informed or even misinformed. Say you had 100 people crowded around each poster, that'd still take 7 million posters, and you'd run out of wall space long before then, especially since some of the walls are bound to be used to stand anti-revolutionaries up against for the firing squad. Wouldn't be long before they'd be asking the United States to ship them more walls.

So, it may not be such a good idea after all. You might as well keep getting The Hereford Brand out like you've been doing. Personally, any time I put a newspaper up on a wall, it won't be to inform the public but to keep the wind out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Inside WASHINGTON
MARCH OF EVENTS
POWELL'S SUCCESSOR IS A QUIET LIBERAL
CONGRESSMAN PERKINS OFFERS SHARP CONTRAST

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The man who has succeeded Adam Clayton Powell as chairman of the important House Committee on Education and Labor is the antithesis of the flamboyant Harlem congressman who was deposed by his fellow Democrats. He is Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., a southern liberal, strongly pro-labor and pro-administration.

Life has its own special ironies and they are present in the changeover in command. While Powell is trying to upset a conviction for libeling a constituent, Perkins represents a district whose longtime congressman, Andrew J. May, for nine years chairman of another House committee, that on Military Affairs, was convicted in 1947 for conspiracy to defraud the government. May's conviction stuck; Powell's is still in the courts.

No two men could be more dissimilar than the new chairman and the man who was forced to step down from the post by the House Democratic caucus. Where Powell is cocky and brash, Perkins is quiet and meek. Powell exudes a perpetual air of confidence; Perkins constantly wears a worried look. Powell frequently bucked the administration and organized labor; Perkins is a staunch supporter of both. Powell bolted his party in 1956; Perkins is a strong party man.

SOME SIMILARITIES—Both men have their similarities also. Both have worked hard in Congress. The Harlem congressman racked up a record while chairman in the legislation enacted by Congress. Some of the major planks in President Johnson's Great Society program were shepherded through the House by Powell. Perkins sponsored and managed on the House floor the administration's education bill, the Elementary and Secondary School Act of 1965. Some of the important planks in the Great Society program, like the adult basic education program, and the work and study vocational training program, were first sponsored by Perkins. During the last Congress, Perkins was chairman of the General Education Subcommittee.

POVERTY CONSCIOUS—The new chairman, gray-haired at 54, comes from underdeveloped Appalachia. Born in Hindman, Knott County, Ky., he has never forgotten the area's poverty and constantly tries to improve its standard of living.

Perkins has been a House member since 1949. He is one of the few members who compiled a perfect attendance record during the previous Congress. He voted on all roll calls. The Education and Labor Committee will continue to work hard under Perkins, but things will be quieter there now.

50 YEARS AGO

Thirty of Hereford's best musicians, readers and singers, in a concert of unusual interest, at the court house auditorium, February 14. The entire proceeds given toward completing the First Christian church. Don't forget the date.

As predicted, the cold wave announced to arrive Wednesday night, made its appearance on schedule time, and this morning, Thursday, everything in the big outside is covered with flying frost.

By a vote of 89 to 58, the city of Hereford voted last Monday to confer upon the City Commissioners the power to pave the streets of Hereford as they may deem best.

The contest between those favoring the proposition and those against it was quite spirited, but all conducted in good humor.

Hereford is indebted to its progressive, big hearted, business men for one of the biggest events in the city's history. The banquet of Friday evening considered purely as a social affair, was an unqualified success, while in its greater mission — that of stimulating interest in the things that make for the betterment of the town and country — its results have been far-reaching.

The formal opening of the recently organized Bank of Hereford takes place today and the new institution, fully equipped for business, now makes its initial entrance into the business life of Hereford.

At a meeting held last Saturday morning some twenty farmers formed themselves into a National Farm loan Association. L. Gough was chosen as chairman of the body and after some explanation of the plan, a temporary organization was made, resulting as follows: For Board of Directors, W. A. Stewart, Lawrence Johnson, Emory A. Elliott, J. W. Ford and J. H. Bowers. For loan Committee, S. B. Edwards, W. A. Daugherty and L. Gough. The necessary blanks have been ordered from the Houston Land Bank and soon as they arrive, a meeting will be held to finish the organization.

25 YEARS AGO

O. B. Howell of the Plant Industry and Disease control department of the Texas Technological College has been secured as speaker at the annual meeting of the members and stockholders of the Hereford Potato Growers Association. The meeting is to be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 27, in the county court room.

A group of about 125 Deaf Smith County citizens interested in civilian defense met in the District Court Room Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock with A. J. Schroeter, Civilian Defense Co-ordinator, and J. C. Reese of the Department of Public Safety, who instruct classes in first aid. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss and make plans for a first aid class for those who wish to qualify to give assistance in any war or disaster emergency. A great deal of interest and enthusiasm was expressed by those present.

A. H. Davis may not be anything extra as a fisherman when it comes to the "little fishy in the brook" brand of the sport; but on a flaggpole, fishing for the end of a rope which had taken a fast ride to the top of the pole, he is terrific. Just ask any one of the kibitzers who watched Davis in his high traipse act Wednesday morning.

A number of persons have already volunteered to help with the third selective service registration on Feb. 16, Frank Given of the local selective service board announced this week, pointing out that more volunteer workers will probably be needed and asking persons who would like to help to leave their names with Miss Clara Wedel, clerk of the board.

The Hereford Whiteface baseball team will get a warmup to its 26-game schedule when they scrimmage Amarillo College Feb. 21 and 24 here.

Coached by Jack Waggoner and Larry Brown, the team will begin the season in Hereford March 3 against Borger. Home games will be played on the field just east of Whiteface Football Stadium.

Well, girls guess what this week is? That's right, its Twirp Week. Several of the activities going on this week will be: Tuesday night the Junior class is sponsoring a chili supper, before the game with Dumas. It will be held in the high school cafeteria from 5:00 until 7:00.

Friday night there will be a dance at the community center. The Tiaras will be playing. Also there will be another dance Saturday night at Sugarland Mall. This dance is sponsored by the merchants of the mall.

The Herd traveled to Canyon, Tuesday night, to play the Canyon Eagles. Winning this game made the district score a tie of 4-4. Friday, the Whitefaces went to Muleshoe for a game there. The score was not known at the time this was written. Tuesday night will be the last district game. The Herd will clash with the Dumas Demons here, at 8 o'clock in the La Plata gymnasium. Let's all give the Herd our support by going to the game.

Coach Willie Williams is the winning champ of the year at the field house. He and his seven team members, which are Ricky Nunley, Jeff Massie, Randy Kriegshower, Max Bridges, Mike Higgins, Walter Baker, and Charlie Stone, won the competition contest for this year's weight training program. They collected ten out of seventeen stars given to the winner of each event. The events consisted of running, weight lifting, agility drills, wrestling, chin-ups and turning flips in the air. Coach Willie won a steak dinner from the other three coaches, which were Coach Brown, Waggoner, and Brooks.

Happy Valentines to all! Someone said (wisely) that

Deborah Lee-Ben R. Old Marry In Church Here

A heart design in greenery, flanked by 15-branch gold candelabra with white tapers and sunbursts of foliage, was the setting for an evening wedding Saturday when Miss Deborah Kaye Lee and Ben Ray Old repeated vows in Central Church of Christ.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Al Lewis Lee, 706 Cherokee Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Old of Lubbock. Her father gave the bride in marriage in the double ring service.

Gene Fooks, minister, officiated and the church's wedding chorus sang the processional "Faithful and True, and the prayer song, Be With Us Lord. A reading, Whither Thou Goest, was by Dale Young and a vocal solo, O Promise Me, by Nate Stark.

Miss Linda Pulliam attended Miss Lee as maid of honor and Gary Medley of El Paso was Old's best man. Bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte James of Seagraves and Miss Sue Kurtze of Amarillo, the groomsmen Joe Muse of Vega and Bill Blitch of El Paso.

Guests were ushered to their seats by Bob Lieb of Snyder, Ron Rice of Portales, N. M., and James Lee, brother of the bride. Her small cousin, Brenda Lee, brother of the bride, Her Lee of Sweetwater, and LeAnne Crozier of Friona were the flower girls. Rings were carried by another cousin, Kimberly Lee of Sweetwater.

The bride's empire gown, which she made, was of candlelight peau de soie, the high waistline marked with a band of the material and scallops of Chantilly lace to match the lace edging on the panel train. The unadorned neckline was widened on the shoulders and the long sleeves were petal pointed.

Her veil was a pouf of illusion gathered to a flower headpiece of iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis and "something old" wore a lavender belonging to her maternal grandmother.

Her attendants wore formal gowns of cranberry satin with deeply scooped neckline, the skirts softly gathered at the empire waistline. Their hats were cranberry pillboxes with short veils, their shoes and gloves were white. Heart-shaped lace frills edged their bouquets of cranberry carnations.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the wedding. Bouquets of the brides and bridesmaids were placed in

Fabric Painting Craft Is Shown

An unusual craft, liquid embroidery, was demonstrated for Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club by a new member, Mrs. Phil Dieter, at a recent meeting in First National Community Room.

Mrs. Charles Brown, immediate past president of the club, was chosen by members as their nominee for County H. D. Woman of the Year title. She will also be a candidate for a county delegate to the spring convention of District I, Texas H. D. Association.

Mrs. Dieter taught members the technique of painting with a tube pencil on fabric, to decorate clothing or home accessories. She showed a particularly attractive piece she is making, using silver paint on velvet in a peacock design.

Also present were Meses. Lloyd-Smith, Lee Roy Burges and Carl Armstrong.

the center of the table where a four-tiered, colonnade cake was served by Miss Sandra Huckabee while punch was poured by Miss Cynthia Knox. Miss Joanne Kurtze of Amarillo was at the guest register.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother chose a surf green suit with tan accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore an ensemble in tones of

Evening Church Ceremony Read For City Couple

The marriage of Miss Bonita June Ruf and Ray Rodney Wilson was solemnized in Wesley Methodist Church Saturday evening, with the Rev. Noah Arnpriester, pastor, reading the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride, who has been residing at 306 Ave. J., are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ruf Sr. of Shattuck, Okla. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wilson, Route 5.

Banks of foliage backed the white-draped altar, and tall tapers burned on either side. Twin arrangements of white gladiolas and giant mums flanked the altar space.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Patsy King as maid of honor. Mike Wilson was his brother's best man.

Completing the wedding party was Brenda Shuman the bride's small niece, as flower girl. Ushers were the bride's brother, Freddy Ruf of Shattuck and Nathan Wilson of Canyon, uncle of the groom.

A prelude of wedding selections and the marches were presented by Mrs. Phil E. Dieter, pianist. She played Because, Wedding Prayer and at the close of the ceremony, The Lord's Prayer.

Of white brocaded satin, the bride's gown, which she designed, was fashioned with A-line skirt, bell sleeves and a scoop neckline outlined with blue with black patent. Both had cymbidium orchid corsages.

A suit in plum and grey, accented in grey, was worn by Mrs. Olds as she left on a trip to New Mexico resorts. After Feb. 17 the couple will be at home at 2201-16th, Lubbock.

Both the bride and groom have attended Lubbock Christian College. She is a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School and he was graduated a year earlier from Lubbock High. He is associated with his father in business at Lubbock.

A number of relatives of the couple and friends of both their families were here from other cities for the wedding.

Miss Lindeman Repeats Vows With Garry Smith

Miss Margaret Lindeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lindeman, Rt. 1, became the bride of Garry Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Smith, 403 Irving, in a double ring ceremony late Friday afternoon in St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Rev. Alexander Beaton, S. A., officiated for the marriage at an altar decorated with white gladiolas and pom-pom mums.

Two sisters attended the bride Miss Charlene Lindeman as maid of honor and Miss Patsy Lindeman as bridesmaid. Larry Minks was the best man; Dickie Slaughter of Lubbock and Leonard Lindeman served as ushers.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Elbert Vance, vocal soloist, and Mrs. Jim Cramer, organist. Selections were On This Day, O Perfect Love, Ave Maria and Mother At Your Feet.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Lindeman was dressed in an empire gown of white silk organza, the bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The low neckline was cut with lace scallop and the long sleeves pointed at the wrist.

The A-line skirt, with two wide bands of the lace down the front fell floor length from a high waistline marked by a band and center front bow of organza. Bands of lace decorated the chapel train, which was attached to the back neckline with a double organza bow.

Silk illusion veiling drifted to fingertip length from a hand-made crown of lace, crystal and pearl beads. Her only jewelry was her great-great grandmother's cross, and her bouquet was of pom-pom mums.

Royal blue satin made the bridesmaids' dresses, in style similar to that of the bride.

Friends extended congratulations and good wishes to the couple at a reception in St. Anthony's auditorium after the ceremony. Mrs. Bill Gentry poured coffee and Miss Rachel Arnpriester laddered punch.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Smith changed to a double-knit suit of navy blue with white shell blouse.

After a short trip the couple will be at home at 419 Star. Both attended Hereford High School and the bridegroom continued study in junior college at Sayre, Okla. He is employed by the Santa Fe Railway.

Out-of-city guests at the wedding included Mrs. I. C. Skaggs and Bryan Skaggs of Willow, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schultz and family of El Paso.

Finale Of Club Project Reported To La Plata

Program guest of La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening was Tomas Graf, student from Germany who is attending Hereford High School this term under the American Field Service program. The club met in First National Community Room with Mrs. Roy Harris as hostess.

In the planning and developing of a landscape design for your home, it is sometimes referred to as the design for the garden or for the yard. When I say, garden, I mean the whole outdoors around the home, with the lawn, trees, hedges, fences, borders, vegetable spaces, shrubs, fountains, and other accessories used in the development of the design. In reality the OVER ALL plan.

There are formal and informal plantings, and largely this is determined by the type home, the architectural features, and the characteristics of the home owners. Formal is the balanced plan created by repetition of like plantings, and informal is plantings which are naturalistic. The latter is probably the most used.

Harry R. O'Brien, noted Garden Authority, in discussing gardens, makes the following observation: country gardens usually have more space than those in town. Large estates would come under the first category. This allows use of flowering shrubs, and extra shade trees. The truth is that farm folks often have less time than those who live in town, or those who have a gardener. There are chores which must come before any work with flowers. Most folks like to have growing things about. This is universal and with it is an involvement.

In the development of your landscape plan, you will be wise to make one of your first choices the trees or a tree. Carroll Calkins, an authority on trees says, "In choosing a tree such attributes as sturdiness, rate of growth, adaptability, and life expectancy are factors that must have careful consideration. The time it takes to establish the full spreading structure of a great tree is counted in decades, and money cannot buy years. Nor can the flowing beauty of a weeping willow, or the charm of an old apple tree ever be fully appreciated, or appraised."

The American Home Garden Book and Plant Encyclopedia, says, "that if you want to be remembered after you are dead, PLANT A TREE. Choose the right species, and it will continue to grow long after you are gone. . . it will be a living memorial."

While many of us will be planting for coming generations, we can plant for our own pleasure too. We can even achieve beauty, and satisfaction in the planting and watching the growth of our tree, even though we may not see it at full fruition.

Another aspect of present day landscaping is that the landscape architects and gardeners have learned the value of trees of lower stature than the forest giants which once dominated every landscape plan. There is much demand today for the smaller trees. A tree comes closer than any other living thing to being permanent. Therefore its planting, and reflection demand more thought than any other class of plantings.

We are not going to undertake to make a long list of suggested trees for planting, but will refer to the list compiled by the National Arborist Association, in which trees for our area are listed, they are: American Elm, Honey Locust, Moraine honey locust (Gleditsia-triacanthos) Pin Oak, (Quercus palustris) Ginkgo (Ginkgo biloba) Red Maple (Acer rubrum) White Oak, (Quercus Alba) Flowering Crabapple, (Cornus florida)

In selecting your trees, for permanent plantings be sure and choose some of the fruit and nut trees. Apricot, Pear, Apple, Peach and cherry trees are beautiful and when they bear fruit or nuts, they are twice valuable. Pecan trees do well here, and are beautiful, they also yield well. Some of the oldest and staliest trees in Hereford are walnut trees. Their shade is excellent, the spread spacious, the foliage and color beautiful. Not only are trees lovely when in leaf, but they are enchanting and most interesting in their winter dress.

Mrs. A. P. Shirey, Horticulture Chairman of District One Texas Garden Clubs Inc. recommends the following as good

Tax Deductions List Dues, Fees

DALLAS — Union dues, employment agency fees, alimony, and certain other expenses may be included among itemized deductions on Federal tax returns, said Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for northern Texas.

Also deductible are ordinary and necessary expenses in connection with the production or collection of taxable income and the management of property held for the production of taxable income. This includes amounts spent for a safe deposit box for taxable securities, investment counsel fees, income tax counsel and assistance fees, custodian fees, clerical help appraisal fees for establishing amount of casualty loss, etc.

Divorced or legally separated taxpayers making periodic payments of alimony or separate maintenance under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance or under a written separation agreement entered into after August 16, 1954, or under a decree for support entered after March 1, 1954, may deduct such payments.

A partial list of additional items of expense which are considered personal and therefore not deductible are: travel to and from work; losses from sale of personal residence, family auto, etc.; home repairs and insurance; attorney fees for preparation of a will; safe deposit box for personal effects) fines and tax penalties.

Documents 5100 and 5110, which furnish more detailed information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.

To the people of Hereford:
I wish to take this means to thank each and every one of you for selecting me as your secretary of the month, because without you, it would not have been possible. It is you who have made my duties, as secretary to Mr. Jack Bradley so pleasant.
I do not know who you people are who select the secretary of the month, but I am deeply grateful I must now work harder to deserve this honor you have bestowed on me, as this is a very great honor.
To Mr. Bradley I wish to say thank you for your confidence. You, above all, have made my job easier and a most exciting experience.
To the National Secretary's Association, thank you for the beautiful rose which you were so kind to bring by my office and present to me.
You, who took time out of your busy day to call me or drop by to congratulate me after seeing the picture and story in the Brand, have made me stand a little taller and feel a little more proud.
To the people of the Brand, I wish to say thank you for your sponsorship of the selection of the secretary of the month. You have made our profession a little more special and precious to us.

Economic Views WTCC Program

The economic outlook for West Texas and a look at the legislative "inside" of Washington and Austin will be featured at the annual Infocade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce when sessions are held in three West Texas cities February 15, 16 and 17.

Amarillo is the site of the first Infocade. George McCleskey, Lubbock attorney and vice-president of the WTCC, will present the economic picture of West Texas as compiled from authoritative sources.

Weldon Hart, experienced legislative observer and executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association, Austin will present a look at "Inside Austin," an analysis of pending and prospective legislation of importance to West Texas.

Kiwanians Plan Broom Promotion

The Kiwanis Club of Hereford held its weekly luncheon meeting at the IOOF Building Thursday with Dr. Don Davidson, executive director of Kings Manor the guest speaker.

After some short announcements by Dean Herring, president of the club, Cecil Oglesby informed the group of the movie "The Restless Ones," that is coming to town next week. He urged everyone's attendance.

Herring also announced that next week is Brotherhood Week and urged all to attend services at the Church of Christ Sunday. This is one of the moves so members can attend services at different churches ever so often.

Also announced was the board of directors meeting to be held Wednesday at 7:00 a. m. at the Cason House.

Perry Ray received the friendship dollar and Harold Morton was introduced as the new club member.

With the apology of being a week late, Herring named the January Kiwanian of the month. The honor went to Sgt. T. A. Wells.

Members were also urged to attend the Key Club meeting Monday night at 7:00 p. m. in the Hickory Log Restaurant.

Ray Todd, chairman for the Broom Sale this year, asked for assistance. Lowell Sharp volunteered to help.

Dr. Davidson finished the program with a speech on Homes for the Aged.

He mentioned that the Methodist Church has opened a new home for the aged in Abilene.

Also mentioned was the fact that by 1970, there will be about 20 million people over the age of 65 in the United States.

The Kings Manor actually charges less than what is required for operations, it was pointed out. Last year, $44,000 was added to the total amount and committee chairmen.

The publicity workshop will be led by Dalton Wood, news editor of the Plainview Herald and Charlie Young, executive vice-president of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce will moderate the session for chamber of commerce executives.

Amarillo session will be in the Municipal Auditorium and will begin at 10:00 a. m. The Infocade portion will be over at 12:30 and the workshops will be held from 1:30 until 3:00 p. m.

collected to meet expenses. This amount was given by the church. He closed his speech stating that Kings Manor has better accommodations than numerous other homes in big cities in the state and that also, that a retirement home is for people who plan to live, not to die. Herring closed the meeting giving praise to Dr. Davidson's speech.

Tea Concocted In Percolator

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Spiced tea made in a percolator has become popular. This recipe is for a large amount. It will keep piping hot and it is like popcorn, it smells so good it sells itself.

SPICED TEA FOL PERCOLATOR

- 1 qt. — 14 fl. oz. pineapple juice
 - 1 qt. — 14 fl. oz. apricot juice
 - 1 qt. — 14 fl. oz. medium strength tea
 - 1 qt. orange juice
 - 12 oz. frozen concentrated lemonade
 - 1 C. sugar
 - Juice of two lemons
- Add to percolator basket, rinds of 2 lemons, 2 sticks cinnamon, 1 t. whole cloves. Percolate. This is for a 35 cup percolator. For a 30 or 32 cup percolator, decrease orange juice.

AT THE FOODS meeting on meats, the potholders got a lot of attention. They are bright blue and orange with crochet edging. Mrs. George Parker made them for me and Juanita Hershey had explained how they are made so I could tell those interested.

The potholder is made from a washcloth which makes it the right size and thickness. Too, they wash easily and well. So many interesting things are being made from washcloths and towels.

EARRINGS ARE getting a large share of comment these days. Ones made from wire, including barb wire, are possibly the most unique. There are some so long they fall back over the shoulder.

My advice is to keep things long enough and they will come back in style. Looking through some souvenirs, I found some long earrings. They were called eardrops. Looking at some of them, it made me glad my taste had changed.

A LETTER FROM a nearby county came this week asking us to help arrange a tour of industries for a home demonstration club. We are always flattered when neighbors want to visit Hereford.

The home demonstration club women cooperate and serve as hosts or guides for most of the groups. We appreciate the merchants being so cooperative when requests come to the office.

TODAY'S SHOPPER has many sources for her furnishings needs, according to Miss Bonnie G. Lay, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Some second-hand stores carry furniture of good quality and may offer more economical furniture buys than stores that carry low quality new furniture. Auctions also may offer good buys. Check sales from model homes or apartments and consult want ads in local papers.

Unfinished furniture may offer opportunities to save if you are reasonable skilled at finishing or painting, says the specialist.

SECONDS OR SLIGHTLY damaged furniture can be economical. Fine furniture slightly marred in shipping or handling is often sold at greatly reduced prices. Be sure you know the full extent of the damage and cost of repairs before buying.

Furniture sales may save you money. However, you need to know how to buy when buying at sales, for all "sale" furniture is not a bargain!

Miss Lay adds, personal skills in decorating can cut costs if you are reasonably skilled. Many homeowners can make their own draperies, cover pillows paint or refinish furniture and restyle old items for today's needs.

PAINTED furniture is fashionable and beautiful. There are so many people painting suites of furniture or putting pieces together which makes nice suites. The color for painted furniture are some of the most beautiful. The red and greens — in fact, all are pretty!

Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was the top man in scoring runs in the recent All-Star game. He had talked 66 times for the Orioles in their first 87 games.

Chili Supper Is Junior Project

The Hereford High School Junior Class will sponsor a chili supper before the last home basketball game, February 14th. Hereford plays Dumas that evening.

Serving hours will be from 5 to 7:00 P. M. in the high school cafeteria. Tickets for adults cost $1.00. Children 12 years and under will be charged 75 cents. Tickets may be purchased from any junior class member or at the door.

Money from the supper will be used to defray costs of the junior-senior banquet to be held in May.

Miss Ann Warrick, Junior Class Coordinator said that the group "hopes for a big crowd." Officers of the Junior Class are Tony Malout President, Paul Easley Vice-President, and Cynthia McMinn Secretary-Treasurer.

Teachers of junior homerooms serve as sponsors.

Historical Signs To Be Erected

The Deaf Smith County Historical Society was recently notified of two information signs to be placed in Deaf Smith County, pointing out the location of the LaPlata marker, a "Marbel Falls Granite" monument.

This news came after A. J. (Major) Schroeter, a member of the society, sent a letter of request to the Texas Highway Department, along with some maps showing the location of the marker and the need for the information signs.

Charles W. Smith, District Engineer commended Schroeter on his "interest in historical locations and other highway matters." The signs will be placed 4 miles from the marker on Farm to Market 1412 and 10 miles south and 1 east on Farm to Market 1058.

Thompson Named Emergency Head

W. T. Thompson, W5JSM, 520 Avenue J, Hereford, Texas 79045 has been selected to set up an organization of Hereford, Texas amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communications in time of disasters, it was announced today by Communications Manager F. E. Handy of the American Radio Relay League, U. S. and Canadian association of radio amateurs.

Thompson's assignment, which carries the title of Emergency Coordinator of the Amateur Radio Emergency Corps, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in his community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of fixed radio station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations use self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment as needed and can often deploy portable and mobile units to accommodate a particular emergency requirement. Thompson as ARRL Emergency Coordinator, will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions. His duties also include liaison planning with relief and public welfare agencies, as suggested in working understandings the ARRL Amateur Radio Emergency Corps has with local protective services, such as fire and police departments.

In announcing the appointment, Handy pointed out that radio amateurs have traditionally had the responsibility of being in constant readiness to offer assistance in time of need with ham-acquired skill, emergency-powered transmitters and a wealth of community spirit. "When sleet storms disrupt telephone and telegraph service, or floods isolate whole communities," the League's Communications Manager said, "it is amateur radio that comes to the rescue with operators and self-powered equipment, often as the sole agency able to transmit messages calling on the outside world for aid for the stricken community."

"To be prepared for this function required not only a highly organized program of preparedness locally," Handy continued, "but hams outside the disaster area must be prepared to act as outlets and relay points for emergency traffic. Planning and organization are necessary in either eventuality and that is the job Thompson is doing for this area."

Herbicide Effect On Milo Seen

Residual effects of herbicides applications on crops in rotation is included in the research program of the High Plains Research Foundation.

Cotton received applications of three rates of Treflan and two of Dacthal in 1965. Grain sorghum was planted on the same ground in 1966. Scientists at the Foundation found no significant increase or decrease in grain sorghum yields from the carry over of these herbicides.

Cotton received a heavy application of Treflan in 1964. Grain sorghum was planted on the same plots in 1965. The previous years heavy application of Treflan resulted in a delay in growth. Plants under this heavy treatment were shorter until fully headed. They headed ten days later than those with lighter applications of Treflan. Plants under the heavy Treflan treatment wilted sooner than other applications after each irrigation. There was no significant decrease in yield of grain sorghum in 1965. Farmers report similar effects in the 1966 season.

James Valliant, Soil Scientist who completed the 1966 herbicide test said, "This study will have to be continued for some time before a definite conclusion can be given as to the residual effects of these toxic herbicides on grain sorghum production."

Grain sorghum producers interested in specific details of this herbicide study can obtain this in the 1966 Research Report of the High Plains Research Foundation. This report will be released to members of the Foundation in the near future.

The PHANTOM

By Lee Falk

TALE OF THE 17TH CENTURY PHANTOM AND JOONKAR THE MAGNIFICENT.

I PROMISED YOU A BOON, PHANTOM. YOUR BOON IS GRANTED. THIS CONARD'S LIFE IS SPARED. BUT HE WILL LEAVE MY SERVICE.

MY LIFE IS YOURS.

WE CAN USE YOU IN THE PATROL. SEE TO IT, REDBEARD.

YES, SIRE.

"HE BECAME ONE OF US--AND AS WILL BE SEEN, DID WELL."

"NOW MORE DAZZLING VIEWS OF JOONKAR THE MAGNIFICENT'S POWERFUL EMPIRE-- HIS GREAT ARMIES--"

"EXTRAVAGANT ENTERTAINMENTS-- WILD ANIMAL GAMES-- HUGE BANQUETS-- ALL THE POMP OF A MIGHTY EMPEROR--"

"THEN HE SHOWED ME HIS GREATEST TREASURE."

THIS IS MY BRIDE TO BE-- SHEEBAH-- QUEEN OF TIGRA.

BEAUTIFUL!

"WE RODE OFF INTO THE NIGHT FOR MANY HOURS-- TO THE SEA."

SHE IS ON HER WAY HERE NOW. COME, I WILL SHOW YOU MY WEDDING PRESENT FOR HER. IT IS A GREAT SECRET-- FEW KNOW IT EXISTS.

"THERE-- GLEANING IN THE MOONLIGHT-- LIKE A DREAM-- I SAW IT FOR THE FIRST TIME-- THE GOLDEN SANDS-- THE HOUSE OF JADE!"

THIS IS IT!

JIGGS, I'M BAKING A PIE--

I THOUGHT THAT WAS THE COOK'S JOB--

IT'S HER DAY OFF! I WANT YOU TO BORROW SOME SUGAR AND BUTTER FROM MRS. NAYBOR--

OH, PLEASE--

SHE WON'T MIND-- SHE OFTEN BORROWS FROM ME! REMEMBER A CUP OF SUGAR AND A HALF POUND OF BUTTER--

OH, YOU'RE NEW HERE--

YES-- I'M VISITING MY AUNT--

ARE YOU SURE A CUP OF SUGAR IS ALL YOUR WIFE NEEDS?

YES, THAT'S ALL--

YOU'VE BEEN VERY KIND--

IT WAS NOTHING! ANY TIME AT ALL-- PLEASE DON'T HESITATE--

AND WHERE'S THE BUTTER?

OOPS, I FORGOT! I'LL HAVE TO GO BACK--

HOW COULD YOU BE SO STUPID?!

"STUPID" SHE CALLS IT!

Hi and Lois

by MORT WALKER and DIK BROWNE

I'LL BE LOIS LANE AND YOU BE SUPERMAN.

I WANT TO BE BATMAN.

OH, YOU ALWAYS WANT TO BE BATMAN, AND I HAVE TO BE ROBIN. CAN'T YOU THINK OF SOMETHING BETTER TO BE?

LIKE WHAT?

WELL, YOU COULD BE POPEYE AND I'LL BE OLIVE OYL, FOR INSTANCE.

I HATE SPINACH!

OR YOU COULD BE PRINCE RANGER AND I'D BE PRINCESS GRACE.

YEAH...

OR BLONDIE AND DAGWOOD-- SAMSON AND DELILAH-- ROMEO AND JULIET-- SONNY AND CHEE--

DIK BROWNE

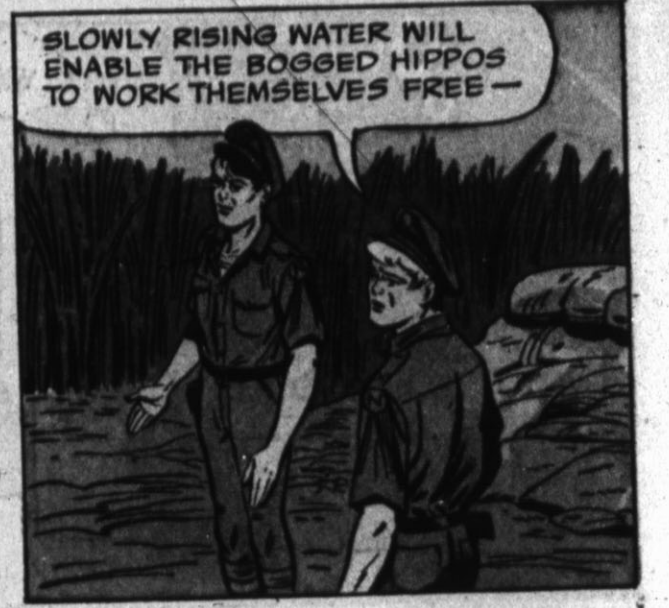

HEY, MOM! I'M PRESIDENT JOHNSON!

YOU'RE DIRTY AND YOU'RE GOING RIGHT IN THE BATHTUB--

I DON'T KNOW HOW LADY BIRD MANAGES TO KEEP HERSELF SO NEAT!
