

Sighting Of UFO Friday Involved Several

An unidentified flying object kept at least nine persons enthralled Friday night as it moved across the sky in the vicinity of the Westway community.

Raymond Escavel, Sr., who lives 2 miles west and 1 1/2 miles north of the Westway Store on the H and W Implement farm, said his family was watching television about 8 p. m. when his daughters saw the brightly lighted object in the sky.

Escavel said the family moved into the yard to watch

"It was round shaped and had a high top with a light on it. A red and green light was kind of turning on top." He stated that the object was big enough to carry people.

The object, Escavel continued, "would kind of dim its lights at times and one time they went out completely." The UFO traveled west as the family watched and either continued "going west or went straight down," because the group lost sight after about 30 minutes.

Escavel said it was hard to estimate how high the object was and how fast it was traveling because of the darkness, but added that there was no noise from the UFO. He also said that an airplane had come over during the same period and the family had both seen and heard it.

After several minutes of watching the aircraft, Escavel's son telephoned the Hereford Police Department to report the sighting. Dispatcher Wallace Shelton alerted the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office and Deputy Tommy Simon was dispatched to the scene.

Simon said he first sighted the object about a quarter-mile off Farm-to-Market 1058 in the Westway area. He reported back that it was about 1,500 feet high most of the time but at times probably got as high as 2,500 feet in its westward move toward the New Mexico border.

The deputy said he didn't know how fast the object was traveling but "I was moving about as fast as our car would go — and it's not slow — and that thing was pulling way from me." Simon said he ran even with the object for a short time, but then it moved away from him.

Simon said the object "could have been a light aircraft, but I've never seen one give off that bright a light. Of course, there could be." He also spoke of the bright light given off by the UFO and he occasionally saw a flicker of red, "which could have been a clearance light."

Simon said he followed the object to about 10 miles from the New Mexico border before losing sight. He explained that he had the flying object in sight for about 20 miles, but "I never did get really close enough to tell what it was." He lost sight when the object "sank out of sight."

Escavel said he and his wife, son, four daughters and a friend, Harvey Gomez of Hereford, all saw the object. "It was very exciting, especially for the kids. It was something like we had never seen before. You don't know whether to run or stay there."

One amusing aspect of the incident came when the dispatcher from the sheriff's office in Amarillo wrote the Hereford dispatcher "to watch out. Those little green men get mean when you catch them."

"I don't catch them," was the return message from Wallace Cox, "I send units out to get them."

School Race Gets New Candidates

Two more men have announced that they are seeking positions on the school board. This brings to five, the candidates seeking the two open spots on the board. Ed Loerwald and Charles Hoover announced Friday.

Incumbents Labry Ballard and Raymond White announced earlier this year. Recently Debbs Knox made his intentions known.

Members of the local school board serve three year terms without any compensation other than satisfaction of having served the community.

In discussing his decision to run for the board, Loerwald said, "We've got five kids almost through school up here (Hereford) and two more to go, and I think I ought to do my part." He added that he didn't have any quarrels with anyone, that he just wants to carry his part of community responsibility.

He has served about ten years on the board of directors for Deaf Smith County Hospital. He has lived in Hereford 35 years and has spent most of that time in the welding business.

that he finally succumbed to urgings of his friend and announced.

"I will do as well as I know how — and try to run it (the school business) as if it were my own business. I'm concerned over the trend of taxes continuously going up. I feel there should be a slowing down place." Hoover said yesterday morning.

Hoover is a member of the First Baptist Church, the Lions Club and is on the board of supervisors of Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District. He is also on the board of directors of Hereford Grain.

Schools To Continue Title One

Roy Hartman said this week that next year he will be continuing the work of PESO, but not under the auspices of West Texas State University. The program, funded under Title I of the National Education Act, will continue to operate in Hereford schools. Funds that have been paid to Panhandle Educational Services Organization will be kept in Hereford schools.

Since the initiation of PESO at mid-semester last year, Hereford public schools have paid about 15 percent of the funds coming to the local school for administrative costs. These costs, Hartman said, had paid his salary, that of a secretary as well as evaluation expenses, and had amounted this year to about $19,000.

He explained that in his new position with the schools here that will become effective July 1, he will continue to administer the programs. He will be an employe of Hereford schools as one of two assistant superintendents instead of being part of the faculty of West Texas State, serving this school, as he has done for three semesters.

The school here had agreed to pay the 15 percent fee while the programs which include the ten reading stations, were being established. The other assistant, Bob Holman, has also been associated with PESO and is trained in administering these government initiated programs. The funds are controlled by the state education agency, but do come from the federal government.

He and his family live at 301 Sunset Drive in Hereford. Daughter Connie attends LaPlata Junior High School and Debbie is a student at Northwest Elementary School.

Final date for filing for the board is March 2. Election will be April 1. Other members of the present board other than Ballard and White and Hugh Clearman, L. B. Russell, Bill Gentry, Olin Parris and Dr. A. T. Mims.

Cancer Drive Plans Are Made For Hereford

Mrs. Al Lee, who has been named chairman for the 1967 Deaf Smith County Cancer Crusade, and others from the county unit of the American Cancer Society attended the annual crusade training meeting at Amarillo Friday. April is the month designated for the annual fund drive.

Committee chairmen to assist Mrs. Lee are being named. Mrs. Armon Lauderback will again head the house-to-house campaign and Mrs. W. H. Richards has been appointed publicity chairman. Initial plans for the drive were discussed at a county unit meeting last week.

A new feature of the Cancer Crusade this year will be a survey through questionnaires which will be distributed by house-to-houseworkers. Texas is the first state to use this survey, designed to show how effective is the education campaign carried on by the national society, and how the public is reacting to pleas for yearly checkups by physicians to detect early signs of cancer.

Motto of this year's crusade is Millions To Raise and Our Lives To Save.

Speakers at the crusade training meeting were Dr. A. B. Goldston of Amarillo, member of the Texas State Board of Directors, and Kenneth Waugh of the Canyon Board of Directors. See CANCER Page 2

Umstead, Hartsfield Arrested In Amarillo

Burn Victim Said Improved

Charges of arson were filed Friday night against two men and a 17-year-old boy, all from Amarillo, in connection with the Feb. 5 burning of Butcher Boy's Market, 801 W. 1.

Charged by the Hereford Police Department were Floyd Lebow, Joe Floyd Umstead, 39, and Bill Hartsfield, 27. Umstead and Hartsfield were arrested and charged in Amarillo Friday night, but Lebow remained in Northwest Texas Hospital with severe burns and, was not arrested.

ceiving treatment for severe burns over 30 to 35 percent of his body. The supervisor of nurses at the hospital said Saturday morning that Lebow "is still listed in serious condition, but he is doing quite a bit better, however."

Sugar Is Down Say Farmers

Immediate arraignment was made before an Amarillo court. Bond on Umstead and Hartsfield was set at $7,500 each by Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade in Hereford. Unable to make the bond, they were placed in jail at the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office and the Police Department.

Lebow has been in the Amarillo hospital since the fire, re-

The price for the 1966 sugar beet crop is up, but the tonnage and sugar content are down. This seems to be the consensus of local growers. Holly Sugar has as yet released no report on the 1966 growing season.

"The price for sugar is running at $8 — $8.50 per hundred pounds — this is a net selling price," James Witherspoon Executive Secretary of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association said, comparing the current price with last year's $7.12 per 100 pounds.

Sugar beet farmers are paid three times by the sugar factory during the year following the crop. Payment is based on the net selling price for sugar. Higher sugar content in the beets brings the farmer more money.

CITY COMMISSION MEETS MONDAY

Hereford residents who would like to see their elected officials in action will have the opportunity to do so Monday night as a varied agenda faces City Commissioners.

City Manager Dudley Bayne said topics of discussion for the 7:30 p. m. meeting include:

- ... a petition for annexation of Charlie Seeds Industrial property on Progressive Road.
- ... appointment of a new manager for the Hereford Municipal Airport.
- ... billboard leases.
- ... setting of a date for a public hearing of the 1967-68 budget for the city.

The meetings always are open to the public and commissioners urge all residents to attend.

Witherspoon also indicated that "approximately 29,000 acres in four counties produced right at 21 tons per acre with sugar content just under 14%."

The 1964 crop produced an average 17% sugar content while the 1965 crop produced about 15.5%. Tonnage for the 1964 crop averaged 19.99 tons per acre with the 1965 crop averaging 22.2 tons.

"Leaf spot brought on by the rains and high humidity in August caused the drop in sugar this time," Witherspoon stated. Leaf Spot is a plant disease See SUGAR Page 2

Greenbugs Invading

Farmers were alerted this week to greenbug infestation. Other surrounding counties had already developed the problem, but Justin McBride, county agent said that up until this time, few county farmers had reported any problem.

Early spraying should help, he advised. The most important factor for farmers is to observe their fields, determine the extent of infestation and then spray if a large count is found.

McBride said that this is early for problems to be developing, but that a dry, mild winter will foster the bugs.

"Greenbugs multiply rapidly when temperature is over 55 degrees," McBride said.

Two or three fields were reported to McBride that had what is considered heavy infestation. This time of year, when the wheat is from 3 to 6 inches tall, an infestation above 100 bugs per linear foot in a field is considered a danger sign.

Later, in March, when the wheat is taller, the minimum number that should be considered a trigger for treatment is 200 per linear foot. By April, when wheat is 6 to 8 inches tall, it can withstand from 300 to 800 bugs per linear foot.

Size or ounces of foliage is actually the determining factor on how heavy an infestation the crop can stand. Heavy early infestation can completely ruin yield, McBride said.

One problem with spraying early, according to the county agent is that controlling or beneficial insects such as lady bugs are killed also. Lady bugs reproduce at a higher temperature, thriving when temperatures reach 65 to 75 degrees. Since the greenbug begins to thrive and reproduce at a much lower temperature, he gets a head start on the beneficial insect.

Fangman Signs With West Texas

Ricky Fangman, standout athlete at Hereford High School, signed a letter of intent Thursday to play football at West Texas State University.

The 6-2, 210-pound tackle was a three-year letterman in football and currently is working toward a third letter in track. During the past season, he was named to the All-District team on both offense and defense, the South Plains Dream Team, second team All-State team and honorable See FANGMAN Page 2 sects, said that he feels that spraying is more effective just after a field has been irrigated. Apparently, the bugs leave the cold, wet ground and rest on the dry leaves just after irrigation and this makes them easily contacted with spray.

Irrigated wheat can withstand greenbug infestation more easily than can dryland wheat, McBride said. He also said that counties to the north and south have reported heavy infestation so that reports this week have not been a surprise.

The extension service recommends that spraying needs can be determined by the number of greenbugs present, time of year, moisture conditions, state of growth and suggests that fields be checked by walking through the acreage.

McBride said that 1/2 to 2 pints of methyl parathion used as a spray should control the bugs. As early as they are appearing, more than one spraying could be necessary, he mentioned.

almost two weeks of constant investigation by local authorities fire insurance agents and an inspector from the State Fire Marshall's Association.

The fire in Butcher Boy's Market began shortly before 11 p. m. Feb. 5 and completely gutted the building before it could be controlled. A brief inspection by Fire Chief J. W. (Jap) Dickerson after the blaze was extinguished revealed that a highly inflammable liquid had been spread throughout the market.

First notice of the blaze came when two service station attendants across the street heard an explosion and spotted a man inside the market with his clothes aflame. Melvin Green of 115 Gough and his father, George Green of 523 Ave. J, rushed to give aid but the person ran to the back of the store and could not be found.

Lebow rushed up to the Deep Rock Service Station more than a block east of Butcher Boy's Market about 30 minutes later crying for help.

Mark Taylor, owner, alerted authorities and Lebow was rushed to Deaf Smith County Hospital for emergency treatment. He was quickly transferred on to the Amarillo hospital.

Chamber Affairs Group To Meet

Local opinion on proposed Sunday closing laws will be sent to State Representative Bill Clayton and State Senator Grady Hazelwood after a meeting of the Government Affairs Committee Tuesday.

The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Committee will vote on two bills in their monthly meeting to be held at the Hereford Country Club.

Committee Chairman Dr. Joe B. Whitley said two bills were recently referred to the State Affairs Committee in the house and senate. He explained that both Clayton and Hazelwood are on these committees.

"The decision of our Government Affairs Committee will carry more than usual weight because these men are interested in our decision," Whitley stated.

Chairman Whitley said that two bills were opposites. "One bill would abolish the law completely," he said.

"The other bill would abolish Section 1a of the present law," of some teachers that the programs would be discontinued since he will not be working with PESO. He said that he called the special teachers together Wednesday to explain that the local district will be in charge of these programs, using the funds that had been sent to West Texas for administrative costs.

The local district received $129,000 the first year to finance the establishment of the ten reading stations, pay for additional nurses and counselors in the system.

Hartman said that the state had been allocated $65 million last year, had been allocated about $90 million for this school year. With an expected state $165 million for the 67-68 school year, Hereford might be recipient of $200,000 for the special programs that are designed for disadvantaged children. He pointed out that this is a rough estimate and that government financing is not a sure thing.

During the three semesters that Hereford schools have been in the PESO program, they have paid to West Texas, in the neighborhood of $35,000.

These funds will be used in Hereford for program costs. This next year, Hartman said, Holman and Hartman both will work some with the special programs, but will be sharing other administrative duties, such as the position formerly called business manager, Hartman said. Holman said that he will be formulating curriculum guides to coordinate the many campuses that make up Hereford schools.

Both men while with PESO studied special programs, participating, as assistant directors of WTSU summer classes for area reading teachers. They studied schools on the West Coast and were two of thirty men involved in an audio visual clinic held in New York by the Education Development Laboratories.

Holman is presently coordinator of the Berger district, the PESO branch in the northern Panhandle. He is a graduate of University of Oklahoma with BS and Masters degrees and has done graduate work at North Texas State University, University of New Mexico, Eastern New Mexico State University, Colorado State University and the University of Nevada. He has accumulated about 40 hours above his masters.

He will be working in his spare time this next year as a consultant to Southwest Regional Research, a study centered at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. This study includes the University of Arizona and work being done by Arizona State. Holman said that he will not have to be spending much time on the project but was asked to be available in the capacity of advisor.

His past experience includes elementary teaching, high school teaching, in Hobbs and Midland. He has been director of summer recreation in Hobbs, elementary principal in Hobbs and Midland and has been reading consultant in Midland.

In the Midland schools, he served as coordinator of language arts for grades one through 12. The Midland schools include 12. The Midland schools include for highs and two high schools.

Holman's wife will be teaching in the Hereford schools next year. They have a son Ronald in the navy, a daughter Sylvia

Chamber Board Honors Lillie

A special presentation to director Dexter Lillie highlighted the called meeting of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Friday morning.

Lillie, local Holly Sugar Corporation Agriculture Manager, received a lifetime membership in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. He will leave soon for a new position with Holly Sugar in California.

The lifetime membership recognized him for outstanding services to the community and county. A token of appreciation, the membership "symbolizes the sincere gratitude of the people of our community."

The board discussed the need to support local industries. Much effort has been put forth to get industry here and the board felt support and encouragement should be given local industries.

Bill Thompson, Chamber Manager, indicated that the board had given approval to several meetings that he would attend in the future. Thompson explained the meetings were either professional or representing the Chamber.

Board approval was given for purchase of new equipment - 135 mm camera, slide projector and screen, and a rotating display rack for maps, brochures, etc. The board also voted to propose the joint pur-

Suicide Victim Rites Are Held

Graveside services for Wyatt Chamblin, 84, who was found dead in his home at 330 W. 4 Thursday morning, were held at 10 a. m. Friday in Westlawn Cemetery. Arrangements were handled by Gilliland Funeral Home.

A longtime resident of Hereford, Mr. Chamblin was found early Thursday by a neighbor who had come to his small apartment to check on him. Police were called to the scene and an investigation revealed that Mr. Chamblin had died from a gunshot wound in the head. A .32 caliber pistol was found in his right hand.

Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade, acting as coroner, ruled that Mr. Chamblin had died of self-inflicted gunshot wounds. He was born in Arkansas.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Laura Lowe of Alanreed; a nephew, Bill Lowe of Goodnight, and a niece, Mrs. W. R. Jackson of Durango, Colo.

Sugar . . .

The hoppers can be killed by spray, but the virus is not susceptible to sprays.

Sugar beet plants with the disease have tightly rolled leaves, stunted and yellow leaves, and a curled midrib. Such conditions prevent beet growth.

Jimmy Brown explained that his 1965 crop averaged 32 tons per acre (highest in the area for that year). However, his 1966 crop averaged 21.5 tons.

Brown farms 275 acres of sugar beets in fields located northwest, west, and south of Hereford. He felt that curly top was worst west of Hereford.

Brown's crop also suffered from leaf spot. His 1966 crop averaged around 14% sugar content, while the 1965 crop averaged 15.5% sugar.

Bill Gentry, who grows sugar beets on 303 acres 15 miles northeast of Hereford, gave a less drastic picture.

His 1966 crop averaged 28.2 tons with an average 13.95% sugar. In comparison, his 1965 crop produced 28 tons per acre with an average 14.57% sugar content.

Gentry stated that his crops were effected by both curly top and leaf spot. "But we got in some early spraying," Gentry said. Gentry explained that he sprayed twice for curly top and seven times for leaf spot.

Dick Godwin, who farms beets on three different contracts 17 miles northwest of Beland, a music major at East Texas State University and Jeanette, a third grade student. Holman is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, National Council for Teachers of English, National Council on Kindergarten and TESOL, a group studying the teaching of English as a second language, and a member of Modern Linguistics Association.

Edlana Vinson was surprised with a family supper at her home Wednesday in celebration of her seventeenth birthday. The Robert Dobbins family and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dobbins were guests of the Vinsons for the occasion.

Mrs. Jack Rogers is listed as one of the 114 students at WTSU on the honor roll for fall semester with a 2.6 grade point average. Nelda is carrying 16 hours of solid work, and commuting from her home on Ave. J. Hereford.

In her "spare time" Nelda teaches 16 piano pupils, keeps house for her family, which consists of husband Jack and two daughters, Debbie and Laurie, and is pianist at Frio Baptist Church. Nelda began her sophomore year at WT in September, resuming her college work after a five-year delay.

She was graduated from Hereford High School in 1960, was married that summer and attended college one year. Jack, who is presently Sunday School Superintendent at Frio, is also a graduate of WTSU. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rogers.

Cherrie Morgan and Lyn Leons of Hereford will be among twenty-three Hardin-Simmons University coeds participating in the Glamour magazine best-dressed coed contest. Cherrie will represent Hunter Hall, and Lyn will represent the Rangers.

The girls will be judged on poise, understanding of her fashion type, a workable wardrobe plan, appropriateness, individuality in dress, overall grooming, deft use of makeup, and posture.

From the 23 participants, five finalists will be chosen. The student body will then vote for the H-SU representative in the national contest. She will compete with girls from over 300

The H-SU women's interclub council is campus sponsor of the Glamour contest.

MODERN METHODS—Where did the old lantern and flag go that conductors used to wave? What happened to that dramatic swing out from the bottom step so that the engineer could see the signal? All has given way to the age of electronics — now a walkie-talkie conveys to the engineer that it is time to move on out of the Hereford station. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Some weight-watchers like to lunch on cottage cheese and fruit. For variety, you may want to add a little blue cheese to the cottage cheese on occasion.

What's the Difference?

between WHITE TIRES and others

QUALITY... Yes

The highest quality raw materials, plus the most expert workmen in the industry combine to build the finest tire modern science knows how to produce. This quality is maintained by the most stringent controls in the industry.

GUARANTEE... Yes

White's triple written guarantee is unique in the tire industry because it guarantees a specified number of miles, regardless of tread wear — and against all road hazards, too. You know exactly your cost per thousand miles at the time of purchase.

ADJUSTMENT POLICY... Yes

Should an adjustment ever be necessary, you just figure your cost yourself from the mileage on your speedometer and the cost per thousand miles as shown on your guarantee form, and your adjustment will be handled promptly by your nearest White Stores.

PERFORMANCE... Yes

New safety wrap around tread gives greater cornering stability, greater roadability plus maximum high speed endurance. 25% wider tread gives easier, safer steering on wet or dry pavement. Twin-Seal air guard inner-liner makes it blow-out proof.

WHITE PREMIUM CUSTOM

Guaranteed 30,000 Miles

TRIPLE WRITTEN GUARANTEE

- FREE 30,000 MILE REPLACEMENT GUARANTEE if you have no road hazards or faulty workmanship.
- UNLIMITEED SERVICE GUARANTEE provided on all road hazards. Adjustments provided on White's triple written guarantee. No charge for labor or materials.
- LIFETIME GUARANTEE against defects in tread, casing and materials provided on local store.

Termites Can Be Controlled

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

There are many ideas as to the identity of the antique at Western Wrecking. The suggestions have ranged from bridle-making clamps to part of sheep blocking table, to clamp for a loom.

MR. AND MRS. DICK FRYE can settle the part of a loom as they do weaving. My face is red as the loom bit, as I was once assistant in a clothing lab where weaving was taught.

The F. H. Kings have an old, old catalogue so when it is examined and when Goose Hamy gets an answer from Kansas City, the mystery will be solved. Beas Werner hasn't given her ruling yet, but with the competent help, we will soon know.

A QUESTION HAS COME up about home treatment of termites. From some information available, I learned: What the insect doesn't eat, he can damage by boring through to reach what he can eat.

Metal can be corroded by secretions from the termites' frontal glands. Almost anything accessible to a termite is subject to damage.

To prevent: Use only chemically-treated lumber in contact with the foundation or near the soil. Remove all pieces of wood before filling around the foundation or in the porch.

Treat the soil around the foundation, around all pier and vertical pipes and in porch fill with chlordane, heptachlor or dieldrin.

These can be purchased at stores selling chemicals for commercial or home use. Follow the instructions on the label.

Set a complete barrier between the wood and the soil. It is difficult for home treatment to give adequate protection. However, it can be done. In getting commercial treatment for a building already built, it is a good practice to get more than one bid on the job.

MRS. JOHN JONES called this morning for a recipe for liver loaf. It seems she had misplaced her "favorite" recipe. I was on my way out of the office to visit Mrs. Dean Stallings. While there, I told Jeri my request and that I had promised Jane Jones to call at noon. Jeri came to the rescue and contributed a recipe. We found a lot of recipes, but this one of Jeri's seems to be a good, basic one.

LIVER LOAF

- 1 lb. liver
 - 1/2 lb. sausage
 - 1 C. dry bread crumbs
 - 1 medium onion
 - 1/4 C. liver stock
 - 1 t. steak sauce
 - 1 T. Lemon juice
 - 1 t. salt
 - 1 t. celery salt
 - 1/8 t. pepper
 - 2 eggs, beaten
- Cover liver with water and simmer 5 minutes. Drain and reserve liquid for stock. Grind liver and onion. Add other ingredients. Bake 45 minutes in 350 degrees oven.
- Liver loaf can be varied many

Guest Speaker At Class Dinner

The Rev. Frank Pollard of First Baptist Church, Dimmitt, was guest speaker for the annual sweetheart banquet of Golden Circle Class, Avenue Baptist Church. Members entertained their husbands at the Caisson House.

Introduced by J. C. Burt, toastmaster, the speaker used "the topic, Harnessing Yourself, for a humor-filled talk. The Rev. Pollard has been in Dimmitt since 1963 and last year received the distinguished service award of the city's Jaycees.

Mrs. R. M. Mason was named class sweetheart and presented a corsage. After dinner, the 25 persons present played games. Hostess chairmen were Mmes. W. L. McCullar, Charles Gresham and James Brownlow.

For an epicurean appetizer, top stuffed-egg halves with smoked oysters. The oysters come in flat cans — like sardines — and are available in food markets, especially those that carry fancy specialties.

Hereford Study Club Gives Valentine Party

Festive decorations sparked the gay mood of the Valentine party which Hereford Study Club members gave in the Garland Solomon home Thursday evening, with their husbands as guests.

Cupid and heart cutouts were scattered over the white-fringed red cloth that covered the table from which a salad supper was served. Red carnations and white stock were arranged in a milk glass vase in the center.

On each quartet table, glit-small crystal compote. After supper the guests played Hearts Marvin Knox was awarded the prize and Mrs. Bill Gentry a consolation favor.

Mrs. Jim Bookout was the guest of Miss Gladys Setliff. Members and their husbands present were Messrs. and Mmes Labry Ballard, Merlin Kaul, N. D. Bartlett, S. I. Garrison, T. E. Braddy, Art Stoy, C. R. Winger, Maurice Tannahill, Ed Wilson Jr., Knox, Gentry and Solomon.

Foods Leader Of Ford Club Gives Demonstration

Mrs. Raymond Smith, foods leader in Ford Home Demonstration Club who gave the program in Ford Community Building Wednesday afternoon, is the club's Woman of the year and nominee in the contest for the county title.

She and Mrs. John A. Smith were hostesses. She spoke on Foods For Fitness, emphasizing basic daily needs for meat, vegetables, cereal and milk. Her demonstration was on top-of-the-range cooking, and she prepared pork sausage bake and skillet ham-potato salad.

Mrs. J. C. Gossett read recommendations from the County H. D. Council for 1967, which were approved. Members were urged to attend the annual appreciation luncheon of county H. D. Clubs at the Bull Barn Feb. 27.

Those present included Mmes. Frank Brorman, Leroy Edwards and Raymond Flores.

World Affairs Is Club Theme

Second of two programs given this month on the general theme International Affairs, was presented for Bay View Study Club Thursday afternoon by a guest, Tomas Graf, German student attending Hereford High School under the American Field Service program.

Mrs. E. J. McMillan was hostess at Hereford Country Club. Mrs. Frank Prowell was program chairman.

The student speaker illustrated his informal lecture with slides picturing historic and scenic spots, views of cities, industry, farm and forest lands of Germany. Club members asked questions after his talk and discussed contrasting ways of life in German and American families.

Two office vacancies were filled in a special election; Mrs. H. L. Benefield was named first vice president and Mrs. Carl Swanson second vice president.

A cash gift was voted for aid in equipping the kitchen at the County Bull Barn. The next meeting, was announced at the home of Mrs. Benefield, a guest day. Mrs. Ansel McDowell presided for business.

The previous February meeting was an International Day luncheon, with a program on Fine Arts of All Nations.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Most taxpayers know that IRS uses a machine to process the millions of tax returns. Your social security number is your tax account number — the law requires you to put this number on your income tax return. Be sure to enter your social security number correctly. The good tax folks find that more refunds are held up by mixed up social security numbers than anything else. Avoid trouble by using the mailing label Internal Revenue sent you.

REPORT

Officers were elected by O-Ta-Wa-T-e-n-Ya Camp Fire Group at a meeting Friday afternoon. Lana Moody was chosen president, Grace Vargas secretary, Lise Torres scribe and Linda Collins game leader.

The group gained a member, Frances Cabrera, as it was losing a member, Cynthia McCarey, who is moving away from Hereford. All members were present for the Friday meeting.

Mrs. Flowers Is Hostess To Club

Mrs. Adam Flowers was hostess to Mothers Needle Club in her home Thursday afternoon, when members planned for future rummage sales to raise funds for Girlstown U. S. A. Needlework for the afternoon was hemming cuptowels for the hostess.

At the next meeting, March 16 in the home of Mrs. A. H. Cook, the group will spend the time quilting and have a covered dish lunch.

Present were Mmes. Haskell Benson, Luther Ellis, W. T. Gunstenson, Arthur Blackburn, A. T. Jones, H. E. Lindley, C. N. McClure, Ralph Paul, Annie Springer, J. L. Shirley, Lloyd Batley, Norris Wesson, Jewel Awtrye and Cook.

Modern Flower Use Is Topic

Flowers That Defy the Season, program topic for Bud to Blossom Garden Club Friday morning, was presented by Mrs. W. H. Gentry, one of two programs on the general theme, Flower Arranging For Today. Mrs. Ernest Kendall was hostess to the club in her home and Mrs. Sam Long presided for a brief business session. Preserved flowers and the artificial blossoms which are now made in lifelike reality of plastic materials, were discussed by Mrs. Gentry. She told something of the history of preserving flowers and foliage by drying and by newer methods. Uses of these preserved flowers, and the rewards of successful preservation were also listed. Mrs. Gentry showed how artificial flowers may be sprayed or "pearlized" and then used in attractive arrangements.

Members present were Meses. Calvin Edwards, Delmo William Bruce Brown, Louis Orleans, Bob Cooper and Herbert Stoerner.

Purses Made In Craft Lesson For Wyche Club

A lesson in an unusual craft, making purses of papier mache, was given to Wyche Home Demonstration Club Thursday by Mrs. Gordon Todd of Amarillo, daughter of a club member, Mrs. Cecil Hart. The meeting was in Mrs. Norman Hodges' home. Mrs. Todd showed how to coat frames with the papier mache, decorate them with twine and then paint and laquer them to make sturdy, attractive purses. The club clothing leader, Mrs. Cecil Hart, demonstrated putting in new types of zipper fasteners and Mrs. Charles Packard, home management leader, gave some suggestions on that subject. Mrs. C. F. Newsom directed opening exercises. Guests were Meses. C. C. Ellis, T. J. Kelly, James Gentry and Todd. Members present included Meses. Wayne Jones, E. C. Hewitt Jr., and G. W. Duncan. Mrs. Hewitt will be next hostess, March 2, in First National Community Room.

This second semester is really flying by! Six-weeks tests are here again, which is not very good news, except that the end of school is getting nearer. Won't we all be glad, unless we have some sentimental seniors. Tuesday night the ballgame with Dumas was the last basketball game of the season. The final district score was five wins and five losses. The baseball season will be opening soon. The first game is scheduled for March 3, with Borger here. Thursday the juniors ordered their senior rings. This is something that all the juniors look forward to. Wednesday the National Honor Society gave an assembly in which the new members were initiated. These members were the juniors and sophomores which were on probation last year.

The Judge was talking to the defendant. "You admit burglary," he said, "but the district attorney charges you with breaking into the dress shop three times and only stealing once." "Well, your honor," the thief explained. "It was like this. I broke in once and stole a dress. But my wife made me go back twice and exchange it."

Some cooks like to add paprika to mayonnaise to give the dressing a rosy hue. You can use this paprika treatment with both homemade and bought mayonnaise.

Home Wedding Ceremony Read

The marriage of Miss Janelle Erdsteen of Pharr and Bill Rowland, Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Deputy who formerly lived in the same South Texas area, took place Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Robinson, 212 West-ern. Ernest Wade, justice of the peace, officiated for the ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father, William F. Erdsteen of San Juan. Her maid-of-honor was her twin sister, Miss Jean Erdsteen of San Juan. R. O. Cumiford acted as Rowland's best man. The bride was dressed in ivory brocade, a street length dress cut on simple lines and worn under a matching coat the same length with an orchid corsage pinned at the shoulder. She wore pearl drop necklace and earrings and carried a white Bible. Her attendant's dress was a crepe shift in salmon shade with lace trim at the cowl neckline and on long puffed sleeves.

After the ceremony the wedding party and guests were entertained at a reception in the home. A colonaded wedding cake decorated with salmon-colored miniature roses and topped with bride and groom figurines was served by Mrs. C. Venson, sister of the bride, while Mrs. Lyndon Huckaby poured punch. The table was covered with white lace over a salmon cloth and centered with candelabra. Mrs. Tommy Simon was at the registry book. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Erdsteen wore a jacket dress of avocado wool with brown and gold accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland will be at home in Hereford. He came here as a deputy sheriff earlier this winter, from a similar post at Donna.

Dinner For Guests Given

A buffet dinner was served to Young Mothers Study Club members and their husbands at the Caison House Tuesday evening, a special Valentine Day event. Mrs. Melvin Barton and Mrs. Larry Dobbis were on the hostess committee. Entertainment was by a trio of high school students, Judy and Randy Martin and Larry Kuper, who sang with Carolyn Evers as organ accompanist. They presented a variety of popular and novelty songs.

Valentine Party Given By Club

Sunshine Club members had their husbands as guests at a buffet supper in the M. J. Koelzer home on Valentine Day. Games of 42 entertained the group after the meal. Mrs. Harold R. Jacks was welcomed as a new club member. Others present were Messrs. and Meses. Clois Kemp, George Miner, Elmer Jones, Clint Lundry and Koelzer; Meses. Edith Sheppard and Meri Findley.

ELECTRIC POWER-

wherever it is needed! Motivated only by the needs of the consumer, cooperative electric systems are proud of their efficiency and ingenuity. Recently a co-op hired a helicopter to do a five-week job in two days. Providing scattered consumer-members with electric power often requires extra effort, but we know from first-hand experience that bringing electricity to a new area benefits the entire community.

KING'S MANOR AT HEREFORD OFFERS EMPLOYMENT

Business Manager

The new minimum wage law together with Medicare requirements forces us to open all salaries in the departments of FOOD SERVICE, HOUSEKEEPING, AND NURSING CARE at both The Manor and Westgate. Some positions must show a 30% increase in pay. This means that we must have employees of top character, training, and physical ability, in order to avoid unwanted increases in our fees to residents for care.

THEREFORE WE ANNOUNCE

Applicants for LYN duty are needed NOW and should call Mr. L. C. Thomas, at 364-0661 or Mrs. Lucille Gibbins, at 364-0663

Applicants for Nurses Aide duty should call Mr. Thomas or Mrs. Gibbins at the above numbers also.

Applicants for Food Service duty or for Housekeeping may call Mr. L. C. Thomas 364-0661 friends who, as volunteer part-time employees are willing to be called on short notice to help us avoid neglect of our residents when caught by unexpected absence of any employee. Pay for this type of help is good, but the best pay is the joy of helping our family at The Home. Some who do this now are "life savers" for us. CALL MR. THOMAS and join this rewarding Volunteer Part Time Employment Band.

IF MEDICAID is not changed then we must secure a Registered Nurse within the year of 1967. We can offer such a Supervisor a life-time career at a very attractive arrangement for phasing full employment into retirement. Contacts will be confidential. Call Dr. Don R. Davidson at 364-0664 or Mr. L. C. Thomas at 364-1406 for this appointment. Or write Dr. Don R. Davidson, 414 Sunset Drive, Hereford, Texas.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"You Asked For It"

Irene, making merry at an amusement park, took a ride on one of those "bumper" cars. Later, blaming her jolting ride for a head injury, she filed a damage suit against the management.

But there was no evidence that Irene's ride had been any rougher than usual. Turning down her claim, the court said:

"It was for the thrill of bumping and of the escape from being bumped that the plaintiff entered the contrivance. The chance of a collision was that which gave zest to the game. One who takes part in such a sport accepts the dangers, just as a fencer accepts the risk of a thrust by his antagonist."

Accidents can and do happen at an amusement park. But you are not likely to collect damages if, in all fairness, the management can say:

"You asked for it." But exactly how much risk do you ask for? The law says you do not ask for rides that are not open to ordinary observation.

Consider this case: A young man stepped up to a "Test Your Strength" booth to swing the mallet. But as he was bringing the mallet down, the head flew off. The handle, suddenly lightened, smashed hard against his knee, inflicting a painful injury.

In these circumstances, the court held that the victim was indeed entitled to damages—because the hidden defect in the mallet was not the kind of danger the customer had bargained for.

Nor do you assume a risk that is forced upon you, rather than accepted voluntarily. For example: Near the end of her journey through a fun house, a girl stopped short before a scaring-looking slide.

"Is there any other exit?" she asked the attendant apprehensively.

There was—but the attendant told her there was not. The girl went down the slide, and, sure enough, got hurt. Here, too, the court upheld her claim for damages, because she had not willingly assumed the risk of the slide.

But if you merely get dizzy on the merry-go-round, or nervous on the Ferris wheel, or embarrassed at being laughed at, don't blame that on the management. You paid your money and you took your chance.

Shower Honors Adopted Child

A shower honoring the newly adopted 2-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bruns, Julie, was held at the K-Bar Motel Thursday.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Herbert Stoerner and Mrs. Arthur Tiefert. Three pink storks and a vase shaped like a girl and filled with pink carnations adorned the refreshment table.

The new baby and her mother were presented with baby gifts by the 24 friends attending.

A Student Writes About His FFA

By MONTE GRIPP

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS Boys in the Hereford High School Vocational agriculture classes will join with other Future Farmers of America organizations across the United States in proclaiming the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, February 18-25.

Here in Hereford, the FFA Chapter will participate in several activities during FFA Week. In high school the chapter will take part in an assembly program. Plans also include a radio program featuring several of the chapter officers, as well as a monument, which will be constructed just outside the city to welcome travelers to Hereford. The ag department is also constructing an exhibit for the local museum.

The theme of FFA Week this year is, "AGRICULTURE... Strength of America." The boys of the Hereford FFA Chapter, along with the members of 9,000 other chapters will undertake a campaign to inform the public of the importance of agriculture in our American economy. Today, more than ever before, there is a growing need of farming and many opportunities await well-educated, agriculturally inclined young men in the broad and rewarding field of agriculture.

Although some people take agriculture for granted, agronomy has always been our largest and most vital industry and will remain so. In our area, most of the businesses are agriculturally related. There are feed lots, feed manufacturing plants, grain elevators, a sugar manufacturing concern, and various other businesses which depend upon agricultural prosperity for their livelihood. Take away the farms and ranches, and the community would die. In our nation, forty per cent of the people are engaged in the production, processing and distribution of agricultural products or in producing services and supplies for farmers. The value of farm products sold in 1966 exceeded forty billion dollars.

Membership in the FFA is composed of students in vocational agriculture classes in high school and the two junior highs. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming or other agricultural occupations.

The Hereford FFA chapter has over 110 members. The officers are as follows: President — Dennis Latham, Vice-President — Gary Richardson, Reporter — Ronnie Andrews, Secretary — Lee Robinson, Treasurer — Ricky Hutson, Sentinel — Larry Paetzold, Student Advisor — Monte Gripp. Jess Robinson and Richard Robinson advise the members about their projects, and coach teams that compete against other FFA chapters.

Nationally, there are over 450,000 members in 9,000 chapters in the 50 states and Puerto Rico. Future Farmers chose the week of George Washington's birthday for observance of National FFA Week because he was not only an extraordinary General and President, he was also an outstanding farmer. Washington was one of the first in the United States to practice contour plowing, crop rotation, fertilization, and other conservation and improvement practices.

During the year, the local Chapter participates in Livestock contests, leadership contests, and judging contests sponsored by or for the FFA. Outstanding members of the chapter attend District, Area, State, and National Conventions where they compete for Foundation Awards and higher offices. The Hereford FFA has been very outstanding in these areas. During the past four years, Hereford boys have served as District and Area officers.

This year Lee Robinson was elected District Vice-President. Also, over the past several years, teams representing the MISSIONARY FAMILY — A special service will be conducted in the Assembly of God Church Wednesday evening by the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Hagemeyer, who are preparing to leave for missionary work in Tanzania, East Africa. Both will take part in the singing and preaching service. Graduates of Southwestern Assemblies of God College at Waxachachie, they have been pastors of a church in Anton where the Rev. Hagemeyer gave special attention to youth activities and was Scoutmaster of a Boy Scout troop. Their children are Stephanie, 4, and Melody, 2. The Rev. V. W. Marcontell, pastor, invites the public to hear the visitors at 7:30 p.m.

local chapter have compiled an impressive contest record. This includes one First in State parliamentary procedure, one second in the same division, and various other placings in State competition. These include Livestock meat, and poultry judging teams. The Hereford Ag building abounds in winning banners.

Flocks of sheep in the mountain states have come off the summer ranges in good flesh and are receiving adequate feed on winter pastures and irrigated fields. Conditions of sheep at the end of the summer grazing season is reported slightly above average, but two percent below the same time in 1966.

Optimist Boys' Contest Slated

Finals in the Boys' Oratorical Contest sponsored by Optimist International will be held during the club's regular noon luncheon Thursday at Jones Restaurant.

Roy Boyer, chairman of the local contest, said the contestants each will speak "no less than four minutes or over five minutes." Two representatives from each of the two junior highs, the high school and St. Anthony's School will speak Thursday. The meeting will begin at 11:15 a. m. to give ample time for the speeches.

Winner in the local contest will be entered in the zone contest. The winner there will go on to the district contest and then the international contest. The second place winner would compete in the zone contest if the first place winner were unable to do so and the third place finisher would be next in line.

Dates for the zone and district contests have not been set as yet, said Boyer, but the grand finals will be held during the Optimist International Convention June 18-22 at Portland, Ore.

Official oratorical subject for the contest is "Patriotic Citizenship Needs Optimism." Each contestant must orate on the subject without use of notes, props, lecterns, special costumes or clothing, or prompters.

Local, zone and district contest winners will receive trophies, while the winner of the International finals will get a $1,000 scholarship and a trophy. The other three International finalists will each receive a $500 scholarship.

Scoring in the contest includes 20 points for personal qualities; 20 points for material organization; 40 points for delivery and presentation, and 20 points for overall effectiveness.

Boyer said the judges and timekeeper will sit in different locations of the room during the contest and will not be identified until after the last oration has been presented and they have left the room to choose the winner.

Elimination contests have been held in the local schools in preparation for Thursday's finals.

Casa de Amigas

REPORT FROM THE LABOR CAMP

By MARTIN WINCH

What opportunities are being made available to Spanish-speaking families at the Hereford Labor Camp? What kinds of self-help programs are now being maintained? What is being achieved? What economic and social goals are being sought after? What future programs should be started?

Hereford area citizens often air questions such as these. Many persons have ideas and support to volunteer. But, understandably, they want to know what is being done, toward what ends, and with what success.

Thursday's Brand carried a front-page story announcing imminent expansion of the Casa de Amigas, which has been operating at the Labor Camp since ages, movie and slide projectors, tape recorder, sewing machines, cooking stove, piano, exercise mat, climbing rope, toys, basket balls and baskets, ping pong, six showers with hot and cold running water, and other recreational and educational aids. Tables and chairs in adults and children's sizes are, of course, the essential furnishings. Nearly everything has been supplied by citizens and businesses in the area.

The Casa de Amigas sees almost constant use on a year-round basis. Activity at the Labor Camp also centers around the St. Joseph's Mission and School. Programs currently conducted at the Casa de Amigas by Miss Vasquez, the VISTA workers, and volunteers from the Hereford area include a daily pre-school, boys' and girls' fitness and health, classes in sewing, typing and English, a Campfire chapter sponsored by the Horizon Club, used clothing sales, and instructed games and play indoors and out.

Other programs conducted with youth and adults from the Labor Camp take place at St.

Joseph's, the Goodwill Center, the Little Bull Barn, and the VISTA quarters in Barrack 28. These other programs include boys' and girls' 4-H girls' sewing, cub scouts, Laubach English instruction, boys and girls' recreation, games, reading, television, and other youth group activity. In each case, support and advice of the schools, civic groups, businesses, and citizens of the Hereford area are indispensable.

Future Sunday columns on the Labor Camp will attempt to cover these existing programs in detail, and to outline proposals for new activities for the coming summer.

Relief pitcher Jack Hamilton received credit for saving 13 games last season. It was a new high for the New York Mets.

Does a recipe call for six medium-size potatoes? It's usually safe to choose six potatoes that weigh two pounds.

Parton Receives USDA Transfer

Ed Parton, local USDA range Conservationist, has been transferred to Silverton.

The transfer is effective Thursday. He has been working with the Hereford office over two years.

The GS-9 Soil Conservationist position at Silverton will be a promotion for Parton.

Since November, 1964, Parton has worked with area farmers and ranchers on conservation problems. He has provided technical assistance offered by the SCS office.

"I help the man analyze his conservation problems, make an inventory, and offer suggestions for improvement," Parton said about his job.

Water, seeding, rotation grazing systems, deferral plans for pasture — are all elements in his range conservationist job here.

"I have assumed some soil conservationist duties here to help out," he stated, explaining that there is a larger amount of farm land than range land in this county.

"Silverton will be 50-50 range and farm work," he stated.

Parton has a BS degree in range management from Abilene Christian College. His experience includes 10 months as a range conservationist in Dal-ham and Hartley counties. He is married, and he and his wife Jane have a daughter, Lisa Lynn.

SOYBEANS STUDIED

Those interested in soybeans, soybean production and the future of soybeans for West Texas will have the opportunity to hear leading authorities on the subject at two special soybean grower meetings scheduled for this area on Feb. 21 and 22.

Outstanding authorities on soybean varieties, fertilization, weed control and other soybean production practices will be featured speakers at the meetings scheduled for the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview Tuesday, Feb. 21, and at the City Auditorium in Amarillo, Wednesday, Feb. 22.

Both meetings will start at 10 a. m. and include a complimentary lunch. Programs for the two meetings will be identical.

College News About Students From This Area

Lawana Vines, Hereford sophomore, has been named to the Hardin-Simmons University Dean's List for the fall term, 1966.

At the Abilene school students named to the official Dean's List must carry a minimum course load of 12 semester hours and earn "A" in all courses.

Clinton P. Christman and Jasper K. Justice both of Hereford have been named to military science leadership positions at Hardin-Simmons University.

Colonel Johnny M. Rice, professor of military science, announced new spring semester leadership positions at the Abilene school.

Christman will be Staff Sergeant and squad leader in Company B, and Justice will be Sergeant and assistant squad leader in Company A.

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fuller Jr. announce the birth of a son, Hamblen Bean, Feb. 10 at a Canyon Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fuller of Dawn, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McSpadden of Dumas. The baby weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces at birth.

Chop the fruit in orange marmalade and chop some raisins, too. Mix the combination with cream cheese and use as a filling for nut-bread sandwiches.

Jim Conkwright Heads Breeders

Scenes of South America were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham during the Hereford Cattle Breeders Association banquet held at the Caison House Friday night.

During the program, a gift certificate was presented to Bill Cole in appreciation for his showing of the reserve champion steer in the Young Farmers Junior Livestock show held in Hereford just recently. He showed a Hereford calf and has exhibited winners constantly in the past years. Perry Kirkland, a Vega FFA Club member, showed the grand champion at the same show and was awarded a gift certificate also. He, too, had a Hereford calf.

Election of officers was held with Olen Caviness of the nominating committee naming Jim Conkwright as president, Frank Ford, Sr. as vice-president and Larry Kaul remaining as secretary-treasurer. Nolan Henson and H. D. Robbins were named to succeed Ford and Jack McCracken as director of the board. Paul Conway and Olen Caviness are the other directors. All persons nominated were elected to their offices by acclamation.

The Grahams, who own the Happy Hereford Ranch in Happy, Texas, had just recently been on a three-week tour of numerous slides to the association.

They made various stops throughout the country and viewed the difference in cultures and customs. One main factor was the difference in the cattle raised.

The Grahams started the trip when they boarded a plane in Amarillo to Dallas. From there, they went to Mexico City and then to South America. The first country visited in South America was Peru. Chile was next and then Brazil. Venezuela was then visited before returning to the states.

Steve Bavousett, outgoing president, was in charge of the program. T.L. Sparkman gave the invocation and John Fielder supplied the music.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Doc Bezner, Lowell Sharp, Justice McBride, Floyd and Bill Cole and Charlie Stone.

Table arrangements were made available through the courtesy of Her-Tex Milling Co. and Farr Better Feeds.

A moment of silence was observed for August Frye who just recently passed away.

Penner Named Council Delegate

Harvey Penner, 306 Roosevelt St. Hereford, will be one of 200 expected to attend the Eighth Annual School on Alcohol Studies to be held at Baylor University in Waco February 24-25.

The School, sponsored by Baylor and Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE) is designed for coaches, health teachers, driver education teachers, and church leaders.

The Hereford First Baptist Church WMU is sponsoring Penner.

The seminar is designed to provide background information on alcohol and its problems. Speakers include Dr. H. Frank Carman, Dallas; Dr. Cyril B. Courville, Los Angeles; Dr. F. C. Vickery, Montgomery Ala.; and Dr. Herbert H. Hill, Seattle, Wash.

Bull Barn Is Topic Of Story

Representatives of various organizations throughout Deaf Smith County met in the Hereford Country Club at noon Friday to discuss facilities in the county Bull Barn and choosing of a name for the structure.

Called by the Chamber of Commerce, the meeting was attended by 49 persons, with some of those present serving as representative for more than one club.

Chamber President Neil Cooper, who presided over the meeting, said it was resolved that a committee be appointed to work on the projects. "The committee will decide what should be done in regard to the facilities, particularly accommodations for serving at meetings, and how it may be paid for."

"The committee also will study naming the Bull Barn and the recommendation will be presented to the county commissioners," said Cooper. "It is not the purpose of the committee to tell the commissioners what to do, but to get the feelings of a lot of people on the matter and present that."

Cooper said Friday afternoon that he would give much thought to the appointment of a chairman for the committee because "it has to be someone who is a real ramrod." He added that a "lot of people will be brought into the study."

ONE MINUTE PLEASE

THE CHURCH I LOVE . . . HAS A GAMBLER'S INSTINCT

"Every gentleman is some kind of gambler. Every decent man throws his life away on something better than himself — a career, a woman he loves or a great cause. Do you think Christ wants to cool all that out of him? Not a bit of it. He wants to capture it for His Kingdom. Donald Hankey says that religion is betting your life there is a God. The odds seem to some of us overwhelmingly on the side of faith. But not in this world shall we finally know. The romance of religion is the romance of a risk. Some of us have flung everything we have got into it. There are only two alternatives here — God is, or He isn't. You leap one way or the other. It is a risk you take, to bet everything you have on God. So is it a risk not to." Sam Shoemaker.

Why will a man lay body and soul on the line and sacrifice everything necessary in this greatest of all gambles? Why did Paul the apostle say, "Whatever gain I had, I counted as loss for the sake of Christ. Indeed I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them as refuse, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him." (Philippians 3:7-9a).

Why did Peter say to Christ, "Lo, we have left everything and followed you. What then shall we have?" Jesus answered, "And every one who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or children or lands, for my name's sake, will receive a hundredfold, and inherit eternal life." (Matthew 19:27 & 29).

We are willing to risk everything and gamble our souls that a loving God exists and that we can have eternal life through his Son Jesus Christ, because we have weighed the evidence and are convinced. We can say along with Paul, "I know whom I have believed." (2 Timothy 1:12). And we are fully assured along with the righteous apostle that "there is laid up for me (each of the faithful) the crown of righteousness, which the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day." (2 Timothy 4:8).

Queens Crowned

At Annual Ball

Where 200 Dance

PRINCESS OF XEA, Mrs. Van Nichols of Friona was runner-up to Mrs. Corlis in votes by members of her chapter, and so was designated princess. She and Mr. Nichols are pictured at the formal presentation of queens and princesses.

CORONATION OF CHAPTER QUEENS is the highlight of the traditional Valentine Ball staged by Beta Sigma Phi members each year; the 1967 queens, Mrs. Bobby Shelton of Kappa Iota Chapter and Mrs. Clete Corlis of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter, display trophies just presented to them as they stand with their husbands before the gold and scarlet emblem background. Approximately 100 couples danced in the Knights of Columbus ballroom after the two honorees were crowned, and breakfast was served at midnight.

KAPPA IOTA PRINCESS is Mrs. Houston Frye, who is dancing with her husband following the coronation ceremony which opened the annual ball. Secret ballots were cast earlier in the month to choose favorites in the two chapters.

MUSIC FOR DANCING was by a combo led by Charlie Bell, left, and the vocalist was pretty Miss Keith Ann Howard of Dimmitt.

AT CANDLELIGHTED TABLE, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kids sit between dances. Mrs. Kids is president of the City Beta Sigma Phi Council, which hosts the sorority ball each year.

NEW SORORITY MEMBER, Mrs. O. H. Majors, and her husband are among the dancers. Mrs. Majors was one of the pledges received by Kappa Iota Chapter last fall.

GUEST REGISTERS in the foyer where Ollene Williams, registration chairman, presides. Mrs. James Shearer is signing the guest book. She and Miss Williams are both residents of Dimmitt, members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter.

Clubs Nominate Members As Woman Of Year

CHOSEN FOR H. D. CLUB HONORS — Five Women from as many Home Demonstration Clubs in Deaf Smith County have been nominated by their fellow members as County H. D. Woman of the Year for 1967. The title will be conferred on one of these nominees at the annual appreciation luncheon Feb. 27, after balloting by all the club members present. A trophy given each year by The Hereford Brand will be presented to the one chosen. Pictured from left are Mrs. Charles Brown, nominee of Young Homemakers Club; Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., Progressive Club choice; Mrs. Elton Sorrells, Messenger Club Woman of the Year; Mrs. O. L. Williams, selected by North Hereford Club; Mrs. Jimmie D. Bradley, Bippus Club nominee.

Five H. D. Clubs Enter Members For Awards

Woman of the Year for 1967 will be chosen from Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Clubs when members attending the annual appreciation luncheon Feb. 27 vote on five nominees who are presented by their own clubs.

THE AWARD WINNER, who will receive a trophy given by The Hereford Brand, will succeed Mrs. A. E. Hodges as the title holder. Mrs. Hodges was selected at the 1966 luncheon.

Nominees, each named Woman of the Year in her club, are Mrs. Elton Sorrells of Messenger Club, Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr. of Progressive Club, Mrs. O. L. Williams of North Hereford, Mrs. Jimmie D. Bradley of Bippus and Mrs. Charles Brown of Young Homemakers H. D. Club.

MRS. BRADLEY was chosen in her club for her work in the County H. D. Council; district and state levels of Texas H. D. Association, as well as in Bippus Club and in her community. She is a resident of the far northwest part of the county.

and her children, a six-year-old boy and a daughter, 13, attend Adrian schools. Her husband is an employe of Adrian Wheat Growers, Inc.

After seven years in H. D. Club work, Mrs. Bradley is serving her club as parliamentary reporter and recreation chairman this year. She was corresponding secretary of the county council in 1966 and is now recording secretary, and her attendance record the past two years has been perfect.

She attended both district and state THDA conventions last year, went to a safety workshop recreation workshop and assisted in a 4-H Club workshop. She has a background of 4-H Club membership and was county Gold Star Girl one year.

In other activities, she is a member of Adrian Parent-Teacher Organization, has charge of the nursery in First Baptist Church of Adrian and is a member of the Women's Missionary Union.

MRS. WILLIAMS is chairman this year of the County H. D. Council, was THDA chairman for the county in 1966 and completed a two-year term as club president. She has been an active member of North Hereford H. D. Club 15 years, had a perfect 1966 attendance record in both club and council.

She was a member of the County Program Building Committee last year, helped with clothing workshops in the summer and was in charge of the council yearbook committee responsible for preparing the yearbook now in use.

She attended the district THDA meeting as a delegate from this county and also attended a training meeting as county THDA chairman. She was a county representative to Rural Homemakers Day sponsored by Amarillo Chamber of Commerce in that city.

Assistance with the 1966 appreciation luncheon, with sale of cookbooks as a council fundraising project, with a tour of Hereford industries by a group of H. D. clubwomen from Claude and with North Hereford Club's annual Thanksgiving supper was included in her activities for the year. She and her husband attended the County 4-H Gold Star banquet as special guests.

In addition to H. D. Club work, she was active in adult aid to Boy Scouts, was den mother for a group, chairman of Troop 50 committee, and aided in a training session for new den mothers and Scout committee members. She worked in a church nursery through the year, helped in the United Fund drive and assisted in school activities where her sons were concerned.

MRS. SORRELLS is currently serving as president of Messenger Club, after two years as secretary and reporter. She was also reporter for the H. D. Council, in 1966 and has worked on the recreation, finance and yearbook committees in her club.

For the second year, she is vice president of Walcott P-TO and has been secretary. Wife of a farmer in the Walcott community, she has been active in various phases of community development.

Her family includes two daughters, Linda and Debbie, at home, and a son, Davie, a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army now stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

The family likes to go on fishing trips, and Mrs. Sorrells calls photography and music her hobbies. She likes to sew for herself and her daughters. The Sorrells are members of First Methodist Church of Hereford.

MRS. BROWN, a council delegate from her club, is on the education committee of the council which has charge of preparations for the appreciation luncheon. Last year, when she was president of Young Homemakers Club, she was on the council's 4-H Committee.

She served last fall as a judge in preliminaries of the bake-off contest sponsored here by Holly Sugar Company, which asked Home Demonstration Club members to judge entries made from a three-state area by winners in regional fairs.

Mother of two daughters, Brenda, 5, and Susan, 3, she finds time for work in her church, First Baptist. She served last year as counselor for the Young Women's Auxiliary, an officer in her Sunday school class and a member of the Women's Missionary Society.

Her club, as the name implies, is made up of busy young housewives with small children, and she led it in a year's program slanted toward their interests and needs. She had high school training in the Future Homemakers of America, in which she was an officer and where she earned the honor of a state degree.

MRS. GILBERT is acting as chairman a second year of the county council's education committee, so she has the responsibility of arrangements for the appreciation luncheon. She has been a delegate to the council three years.

An H. D. Club member 18 years, she is parliamentary of her club now, has been its president two years and served on yearbook, finance, recreation and education committees. For the past two years she has been clothing chairman in the County Program Building Committee.

Her husband is a farmer and they have two children, a son who is a student in West Texas State University and a daughter in Stanton Junior High. The family enjoys sports together, especially trips to lakes for water-sports, and they are members of First Baptist Church where Mrs. Gilbert has served as superintendent and teacher in the vacation Bible school and director of the Sunbeams.

She shares her daughter's interest in music, membership in school and church choirs, Camp Fire Girls and FHA, also her son's enthusiasm for football as a team member in high school, and for Future Farmer projects including entry of calves in county stock shows. Her hobbies include sewing for herself, her daughter and her home, and other phases of home decoration.

NATIONAL FFA WEEK — A display case plans other observance displays at Stanton at LaPlata Junior High marks the observance of National Future Farmers of America Week. The 111-member local FFA Chapter (Hereford Brand Photo)

Monument To Be New FFA Project

A monument to welcome travelers to Hereford will be part of local plans to observe National Future Farmers of America Week, February 18-25.

Jess Robinson, high school vocational agriculture teacher, stated that local FFA boys will build the white structure east on Highway 60. "It will be on the H. B. Crawford place just west of the Western Ammonia plant," he said.

Robinson added that another group of FFA boys built a similar monument in 1958. It is located south on Highway 385, just around the curve, coming from Dimmitt.

Other observance plans include displays at the two junior highs and the high school. A series of radio programs will be aired to explain National FFA Week and the local program, Robinson indicated.

Richard Robinson, junior high and high school vocational agriculture teacher, explained the theme and purpose for this year. "Agriculture... Strength of America" is the theme, and the purpose this year is to impress upon the public the importance of agriculture to America," he said. "People don't realize that agriculture is the biggest industry in America."

Jess Robinson and Richard Robinson are advisors to the local FFA Chapter and to the Hereford Young Farmers Chapter.

The local FFA program includes 111 boys. They work to improve themselves in leadership, citizenship, and agricultural skills.

Officers of the local FFA Chapter are Dennis Latham president, Gary Richardson vice-president, Lee Robinson secretary, Ricky Hutson treasurer, Ronnie Andrews reporter.

News About Area Men On Duty

Monte Rowland

Monte Rowland left this week to begin basic training with the regular army in El Paso. Rowland volunteered for a four year stint with the service and will move into electronic training after he completes basic training.

He will train in electronics for eighteen months, according to the plan outlined for him by the army. He completed his high school training this winter and will be considered a May graduate, but was permitted to enter the army now.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rowland, Rt. 1.

Local Store Is Water Damaged

Helen's Youth Shop will be "closed about a week" according to Helen McCauley, shop proprietor. The shop is undergoing repairs after a hose to the air conditioner broke Monday night, flooding the building and ruining the carpeting. Though there was no damage to merchandise, Mrs. McCauley says, "We'll have to recarpet and paint the fixtures... it was all floor damage." After the water-soaked carpet is removed, the floor must be allowed to dry thoroughly before putting on the new carpet; thus constituting at least a week that the shop will not be in operation says Mrs. McCauley.

Pari-Mutual Racing Is Big Issue In Legislature

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Hereford Brand
Austin Bureau Chief

Texas lawmakers from the northern reaches of the state got a reminder of home last week as Austin's first snowfall of the winter came down following a day almost perfect for swimming. The white blanket that was just too much for South Central Texas drivers took a quick retreat the next day as a sunny sky returned and put residents of the fair city of Austin back on the streets.

Panhandle folks would get a real kick out of seeing the reaction that a simple — and slight — snowfall brings down in the warmer climes of Texas. Be advised to watch for drivers who don't know how to drive in the stuff down here.

The biggest row to be seen in the legislative chambers of the Texas Capitol now is the possibility of legalized pari-mutual horse race betting in the state. A bill for the measure was reported favorably out of the Counties, Cities and Towns Committee; the action in the Senate chamber was well observed last week as the possibility of legalized pari-mutual betting filled the galleries with interested spectators. "The 'good guys' must say no to gambling" was one sign displayed from the upper levels by one interested

Hill's Horse Is Cited In Article

Western Livestock Journal's February horse of the month is Caliente Hill, owned by O. G. Hill, Jr., Hereford. Caliente Hill captured the stallion championship in Denver's National Western Quarter Horse show last month.

"This bright sorrel son of Showdown," as the magazine writer describes him, was foaled in 1962. His dam is Brenda Lee by General Lee. Hill bred the horse, and Caliente Hill has not known another owner.

The article says that "when the experts look him over, they praise him for smoothness, for balance and clean limbs, among many other excellent attributes."

Caliente Hill has been judged in shows in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado. The performance department of the American Quarter Horse Assn. lists his official record to January 1st as follows: won in 25 shows, 7 championships and 5 reserves, plus being Register of Merit, with 22 points at the halter and 8 in performance.

(and participating) citizen. Support for the measure did come from at least one clergyman who stated, "If we, the church, expect to interfere in government, it won't be long before the government interferes with the church." Arguments on the betting issue should be based on economic, not moral, grounds, he said.

In opposition was one who asked, "Must we drag our people again through the mire and filth of 30 years ago" pointing out Texas' previous experience with horse race betting. Gambling has never been referred to as a lasting and creative source of revenue, and would not bring solvency to Texas, one accountant claimed.

Opposition to the betting proposition is, of course, expected to be great. Opposition was in the majority at the committee hearing, arguing on the moral aspects of the measure. However, this is the first time such a bill has even so much as made it out of a Senate committee since horse racing was abolished in the late 1930s.

Lawmakers from the metropolitan areas of the state are expected to go along with the measure; chances for the bill making it through this session of the legislature appear to be somewhat muddled at the present time since the lines have not really been drawn between pro and con.

The bill coming from committee provides for local option elections to determine if citizens want to adopt race track betting. The bill provides, for state, county and also city revenue from pari-mutual pool money.

Governor John Connally, in announcing his opposition to any increase in tuition at state supported colleges and universities, may have recalled his very early days as a student. Governor Connally is among the ranks of those who had to work their own way through college; he was a student at the University of Texas.

Of course, the final analysis of the tuition situation is not yet to be seen since it is still in the legislature. The governor's influence is great, however, and several observers don't anticipate a tuition hike coming from the 60th Legislature.

Texas, although it has greatly expanded its interest in the field of higher education, is still lagging far behind other states in the nation in quality that would bring more development to the Southwest.

"By any measure, Texas is not where it ought to be in educational quality, and perhaps the most convincing proof of that fact is that the big share of government contracts for defense research and development have gone to other states, while — NASA notwithstanding — Texas' share of those contracts is a mere 2 per cent. The Defense Department seeks the best brains and goes where they are," says Frank C. Erwin Jr., chairman of the University of Texas Board of Regents.

"We have one institution in this state — the University of Texas — which was recently described by the director of the National Science Foundation as one of the top 15 universities in the country. No one university can meet all of the educational requirements of this state, but an outstanding one can point the way to excellence for others." Erwin cited the fact that Texas A&M has now acquired two members of the National Academy of Sciences on its faculty, the first in the state outside of Austin.

Although Texas doubled appropriations for higher education two years ago, the bulk of that extra money has had to go for simply providing facilities for increasing numbers of students. At least it was a step in the right direction, Erwin says, stating that "The Legislature and some of our people are beginning to realize the absolute necessity of drastically upgrading the quality of our higher education if we are to assure the safety of our country and the prosperity of our state." Texas has dropped from 20th to 29th among the 48 continental states in the median number of school years completed by its citizens.

Thirteen per cent of the Texas population over the age of 25 is functionally illiterate; only 40 per cent of the first graders successfully finish high school; and less than one-half of the college freshman classes remain to obtain degrees.

Erwin says that Texas has to first catch up, and second, it has to keep up. "The average state has been improving at a faster rate than we have," he claims. Thirdly, Texas has to get ahead. "We must hire and keep in Texas the best educa-

Residents Attend Austin Confab

Ten Hereford residents attended the 15th joint annual convention of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives in Austin.

Outstanding national speakers will make up the program. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls will be among those speaking.

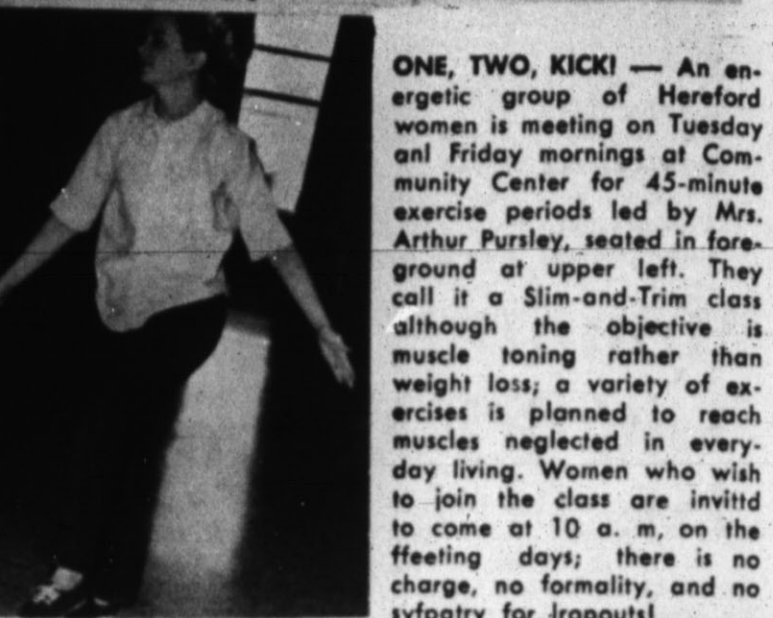

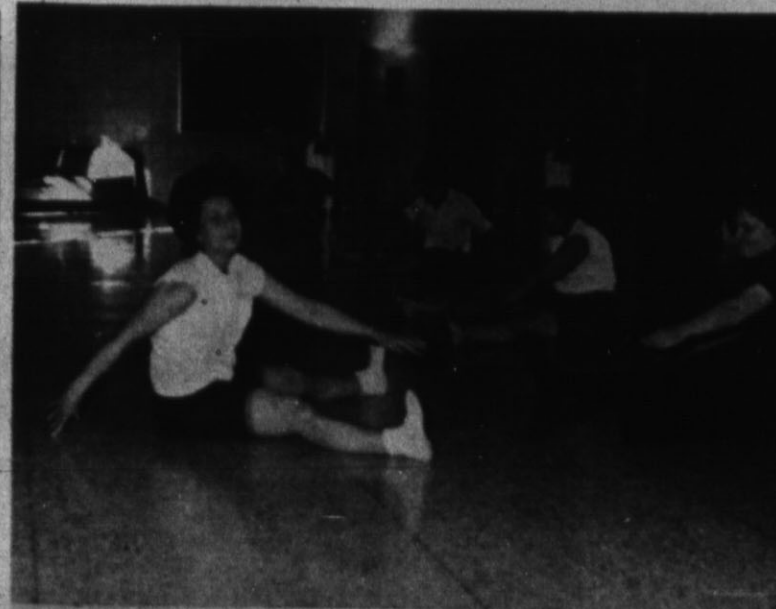

Messrs. and Mmes. W. J. Albracht, Joe Artho, Ben Holcomb, Leo Witkowski, and Harry Brorman attended from Hereford.

Agricultural leaders from the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, the Houston Bank for Cooperatives, and the Texas Cooperatives Ginners Association convened. They elected officers for each group and named honor-awards winners for 1966.

Celebrating its Silver Anniversary, the Texas Federation of Cooperatives has served as the conference body of agricultural cooperatives for the past 25 years. It has grown to represent 75,000 families.

national leadership. Texas cannot progress without it. We cannot reach the goals we talk about without it. There is no problem more important, no task more challenging, no responsibility more demanding than the future of higher education in this state.

"The critical question in 1967 is not whether Texas can afford higher education of the first class. The critical question is how much longer can Texas afford to be without," Erwin believes.

Mop Sale Plans Told By Kiwanis

Members of the Kiwanis Club heard Leo Forrest, manager of Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op., speak on private financing of rural electric cooperatives during their weekly luncheon meeting at the IOOF building Thursday.

The meeting was considered the largest held in many years with 54 persons present. Six persons were introduced as new members and this brought the membership total to 52. Persons receiving membership were Carl Swanson, Eugene Brink, Gene Huntsinger, Dwayne Pittenger, M. E. Baker and Waldo Baxter.

Charlie Duval presented the new members with club pins as he welcomed them into the club. Announced was the fact that Brotherhood Week starts next Sunday and that the club has been invited to attend services at Central Church of Christ. The services start at 10:25 a. m. and members, their wives, children and family are urged to attend.

The mop and broom sale will be held on March 34. The truck will be on the parking lot of Cooper's Market both days. Members of the Key Club will assist in the selling.

The event is considered the biggest project that the Kiwanis Club holds each year.

Forrest's speech dealt with the proposed bill in congress for a rural electric co-operative bank that would be financed through private rather than government sources. The bill is now in a committee and was introduced by Bob Poage, representative from Texas.

Zack Pannell led the club in singing and Dale Young followed with the invocation.

Woody McDermott was awarded the friendship dollar.

Cooper Attends Grocer's Confab

Neil Cooper, local supermarket owner, will attend the sixth annual Mid-Winter Conference of Texas Retail Grocers Association this weekend.

To be held at the Lost Valley Guest Ranch near Bandera, Texas, the conference will produce management ideas. Today's and Monday's sessions will be informal meetings for sharing mutual problems.

New and different methods for problem-solving and brainstorming new management policies will also be a part of the meetings.

Henry L. Bison, general counsel for the National Association of Retail Grocers, will present information on the Wage and Hour Law regulations affecting food store operators.

Cooper stated that the meeting is a conference rather than a convention. "Relatively few people attend, and the meetings are held in an unusual place," he said.

Davis Honored By MM Company

W. L. Davis, Jr., Davis Implement Co., Hereford, Texas was honored with a National Dealer Council Award by Minneapolis-Moline, Inc., at the Council's annual banquet at Hopkins, Minnesota, early this month.

William F. Foss, president, W. L. Pringle, vice president-marketing, and B. F. Shipman, general sales manager, of MM, saluted the local dealer for "distinguished contributions to farm machinery advancement during 1966."

Representing the fifteen hundred franchised mm dealers in the United States and Canada, eighteen farm machinery dealers toured the Minneapolis factory in Minneapolis and had round-table discussions with thirty top echelon MM executives in marketing, engineering and finance. Reports on 1966 progress and planning for 1967 were exchanged between Council members and company management.

"These national dealer council meetings are most valuable to us as representatives of MM in our communities," said Council Chairman Dak E. Elms, Elms Equipment Co., Lubbock, Texas.

"The comments of our dealer council members serve a critical function in our over-all management planning for progress," Elms told the council, in presenting the awards.

Pringle said, "This free flow of two-way discussion at the National Dealer Council level reflects to us the thought of all our dealers in the United States and Canada, and gives them the latest information on our company programs. The national Council, in turn, carries back to all dealers in the district and local councils full reports on what occurred at the national level."

"The broad range of discussion stimulated in the two-way national meetings is invaluable to our dealers as well as to our home office engineering and marketing staffs," Shipman said "every facet of our farm machinery business is on the program and we're proud that our dealers express themselves freely for our mutual growth."

Davis, his wife and daughters live at 202 Emma.

North Hereford H. D. Officer Gives Program

A demonstration on Cooking Cheaper Cuts of Meat was presented to North Hereford Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Clinton Ward.

Presiding over the meeting and presenting the program was Mrs. Roger Williams, club vice president. A meat casserole prepared in an electric skillet as part of her demonstration was served with the refreshments. Opening exercises were by Mrs. Ward, who read a poem entitled "I Love You."

Attending also were Mmes. A. E. Hodges, C. L. Whitehead, R. A. Fulwood, Otto Olson, Otto Massey, W. J. Lueb, Charles Russell and O. L. Williams.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Olson March 2. Program topic will be "Living with the Handicapped."

Highway Patrol Makes Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated nine accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,140.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months 230,000 or 33% of the approximately 700,000 registered vehicles in this region have been inspected. This leaves 470,000 vehicles to be inspected between now and the April 15 deadline.

If this number of uninspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 700 official inspection stations in this region, each would have approximately 672 vehicles to inspect in about 40 working days, or about 17 vehicles per day. The inspection stations in heavily populated areas will have more than this average to inspect. In areas where there are only a few inspection stations you may have many miles to travel to get your vehicle inspected.

The Sergeant urges motorists to have their vehicles inspected without delay to avoid the inconvenience of waiting lines. Remember — no extension of the safety inspection deadline, April 15, 1967.

If dried beans never become as tender as you would like them to be, even after long cooking, it may be that the water you use is hard and this interferes. A little baking soda added to hard water in which beans are to be cooked usually makes them tender.

CHAPTER HONOREE — Mrs. Ron Downing of Abilene, the former Miss Sandra Story of Hereford, was introduced as sweetheart of Psi Gamma chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the sorority's Valentine Ball in Abilene Saturday evening. She was chosen by vote of chapter members. With her husband and two sons, she lives in Abilene and is completing college study at McMurry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Story, Harrison Highway, a graduate of Hereford schools and former student at West Texas State University.

Are Administrative Costs Justified By School Size?

Probably one of the most widely discussed items in this community during the present school year has been the recent structural changes in administration which gives us two assistant superintendents and a third administrative assistant to the tune of $37,236.00 a year. Many people feel that this expansion program replaces one administrator, the business manager previously on the staff.

While we are no thoroughly aware of the total school problem, the increase does sound a note on the expensive side. This is especially true when added to $17,000 or $18,000 for a superintendent, and something like $15,000 for other administrators already on the job. In addition, we have eight principals and eight assistant principals, who also teach part-time.

In round figures, we would estimate that the Hereford school system now includes something like 185 teachers who perform their duties under an estimated 20 administrative heads at an administrative cost which likely runs $200,000.00 or more each year.

Such operational decisions are 100 percent the responsibility of our school trustees who work closely with the administrators of the school system. At the same time, they are also the business of the people of the district who are ultimately called upon to pick up the tab for all trustee decisions. Needless to say, it is the duty of our trustees to delve thoroughly into and weigh carefully all phases of the operation before making a decision which would increase our administrative load.

In view of this circumstance, we feel sure that they must have at their finger tips complete information on the increase from which they based their recent decision. Consequently, it seems to us that much might be accomplished toward a unified district if they would provide the public with comparative administrative figures from other school districts: first, on a state-wide basis; second, on a basis including all members of our AAA athletic division, which should be around the same size. They might also throw in Lamesa, Vernon and Levelland.

Like most residents of the community, The Brand is an advocate of strong, progressive schools. We even like to see our youngsters out in front of the state average when it comes to ability and education. At the same time, we do not feel that the people of this district would ever advocate unnecessary waste through top-heavy administrative personnel, especially when classroom teachers are generally considered underpaid and present school tax rates are at an all time high.

In view of existing unrest, it definitely appears that the school board should make a report to the people on this question, including administrative costs, teacher costs, along with percentages, and comparisons with the Texas average and with other schools of similar size in this immediate area.

Calipers And Cliches

When Treasury Secretary Fowler says he doubts that Congress will significantly trim Federal spending, it is difficult to disagree. But, contrary to official opinion, the lawmakers' propensity to spend by no means gets the Administration off the hook on that score.

The official attitude is indeed a curious one, according to Mr. Fowler's recent testimony on Capitol Hill. He derides the critics of the Administration who last year had nothing to recommend about inflation except "the time-tested cliché of cutting Federal spending." It may be a cliché; it is also an excellent idea.

Today the same critics are opposing the plan to boost taxes later this year. In the Administration view, they "are suffering from an analytical lag that has them currently applying their economic calipers to the conditions of a year ago, just as they were then applying them to conditions of unmitigated boom that was already receding perceptibly in the second quarter of 1966."

Now this denunciation of people who are allegedly so off-base in their analysis is quite interesting. As we recall the actual chronology of the pulse-taking, it went roughly as follows:

At least a couple of years ago, and even before, some of us were warning that Government economic policy was hell-bent for inflation. There was the combination of high Federal spending, large deficits and artificially easy money. At a time of rising private demand they constituted forces which, it was felt, were bound to break through the vaunted price stability of the earlier Sixties.

The planners in Washington paid no heed. They pooh-poohed the danger of inflation and went merrily on with their spending and deficitting. They claimed to have found the key to perpetual noninflation prosperity. In due course the inflation manifested itself in climbing wages and prices.

It was only after the wage-price spiral was well under way that officialdom moved to counter it, and then it was not with the classical devices of reducing outlays or raising taxes. Rather, it was a grudging countenancing of higher interest rates. In part the tightening of money was a normal market reaction to the excesses of the inflation, in part a reflection of Federal Reserve policy at the time.

In the light of that history, it is possible to argue that the Administration and not its critics consistently misunderstood the economic conditions with which it was trying to deal. At present, moreover, the authorities' application of their calipers shows no improvement.

Almost pathetically they express their longings for a return of easy money (and in fact interest rates are coming down). At the same time they are embarked on a veritable orgy of spending, to the tune of a cash-budget splurge of more than $172 billion in fiscal 1968, complete with another big deficit. And, of course, they want the 6% surtax on corporate and most individual taxes, unless business is clearly in a downturn by mid-year. They think the assortment of policies makes a good economic "mix." We think it's a terrible hodgepodge.

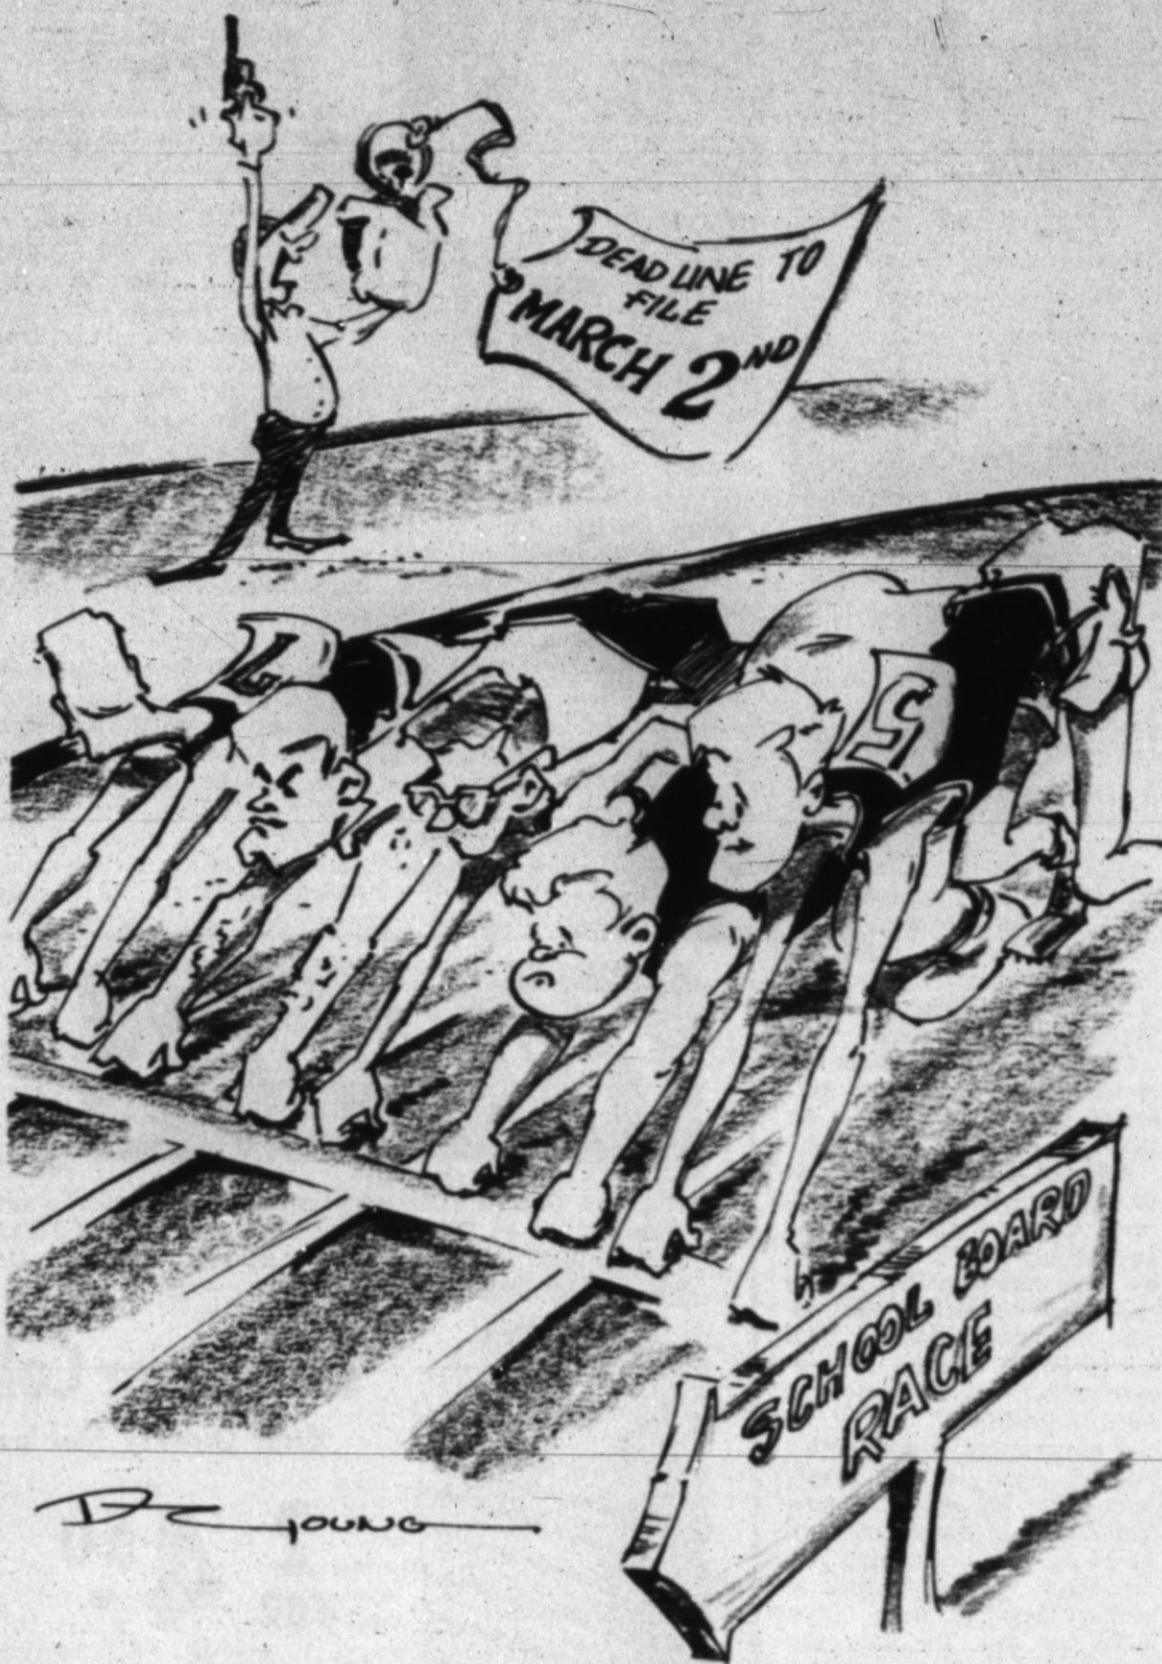

Business is already slowing down in a number of lines, which is an argument against a tax increase; some economists believe it could turn a mild slowdown into a recession. As for the notion that inflationary fiscal and monetary policy will continue to stimulate the economy, experience teaches that there is a limit to its effectiveness in that regard, while the penalties of inflation are very real.

So we remain persuaded that the best news for business and the general public would be sharp cuts in Federal spending, which would further eliminate any need for a tax hike and help contain the inflation. An economy freed of the burden of excessive Government would be in a better position for sound and sustainable growth.

But we have scant confidence the Administration will come to that viewpoint. Not when the Treasury chief voices the opinion that sizable spending reductions would not be "good for the country." It seems more than ever plain that what is bad for the country is misguided economic planning.

Lawmakers From Wide Range Of Backgrounds

By BERT MILLS

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It takes all kinds to make a Congress. Although the average legislator is a lawyer, many come from other fields. Here are some examples from the 90th Congress.

Sen. Charles H. Percy (R., Ill.) was a corporation president before his 30th birthday. An unsuccessful candidate for Governor of Illinois in 1964, he is now 47 and in elective office for the first time.

Sen. Ernest Gruening (D., Alaska), who is 80-years old and a crusader for birth control, used to be a doctor and a newspaperman. He served three terms as the appointed Governor of the Territory of Alaska. Since statehood, he has been a Senator for a decade.

Rep. John E. (Rocky) Hunt (R., N. J.), a freshman, lists his occupation as "criminology consultant." He was a state trooper for 25 years, then a county sheriff and state senator.

Rep. Morris K. Udall (D., Ariz.), whose brother is LBJ's Secretary of the Interior and whose father was Chief Justice of the Arizona Supreme Court, is a former Professional basketball player with the Denver Nuggets. Rep. Samuel Devine (R., Ohio) is a football referee in his spare time and handled a bowl game last December. He went to Notre Dame but never made the football team.

Sen. Proxmire a Runner

Sen. William Proxmire (D., Wis.) is one politician who really runs. Each morning he can be found taking a five-mile canter through Washington's Rock Creek Park. Then he does 150 push-ups and goes to work. He is 51 years old.

Speaking of running, one House member is really Speedy. He is Rep. Speedy O. Long (D., La.). He is approximately a 26th cousin of the Senate whip, Sen. Russell B. Long (D., La.). Best known athlete among the members of the 90th Congress is Rep. Robert B. Mathias (R., Calif.). He is 36, operates a boys' camp in the Sierra Mountains, and won the decathlon championship in the Olympic Games in 1948 and 1952. He also played fullback for Stanford.

Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D., Ill.) is an auctioneer by trade. He gets a workout when the National Press Club in Washington holds an auction to sell its old furniture to its members.

Rep. Daniel Button (R., N. Y.) used to be City Editor of the Albany (N. Y.) Times-Union. Oddly enough, he succeeded the retired Leo O'Brien, a former political editor of the same paper.

Rep. Williamson S. Stuckey, Jr. (D., Ga.), another new member of the House, is part owner of the famous candy and nut chain familiar to all motorists who have toured the South. Rep. James C. Gardner (R., N. C.), a 33-year old first-terminer, operated a drive-in restaurant chain.

Judicial Reforms

Relatively little national attention has been paid to one significant aspect of the November elections. This is the success of judicial reform proposals submitted to the electorate in a number of states scattered across the country. The importance of this merits strong emphasis.

Colorado, as the American Judicature Society notes, took the lead by becoming the first state "to achieve both modern court organization and administration and merit selection." It is in these areas that reform must be accomplished if both the quality and speed of justice are to be improved.

An amendment to the Colorado state constitution assures that henceforth members of the judiciary will be appointed by the governor from a list chosen by a non-partisan nominating commission of lawyers and laymen. As a popular check on these choices, the voters will decide in periodic non-competitive elections whether to retain individual judges on the basis of their record on the bench. The amendment also requires appointment of a court administrator, makes the chief justice executive head of the judicial system, and sets up a judicial qualifications commission. Other states would do well to follow Colorado's lead.

The ball is rolling well now on judicial improvement. It should be kept rolling.

MARCH OF EVENTS

TURNING POINT IN WAR MAY BE APPROACHING

HO'S GROWING PROBLEMS MAY HELP IN VIETNAM

WASHINGTON—Are we approaching a turning point in the Vietnam War? We may be, but no one in an official government position with access to intelligence reports and military estimates is willing to say so at the present time.

The question is running through many minds primarily because of signs of mounting internal strife in Red China. The confused situation there hints at the possible imminence of a full-blown civil war between Maoists and anti-Maoists. Should widespread fighting occur, observers believe Red China would be so occupied with its own concerns that it would have to disregard its commitments to North Vietnam.

This, in turn, would leave North Vietnam's Ho Chi Minh with Russia as his sole remaining ally and only source of military equipment and supplies. Russia is known to have a strong desire to cool off the fighting in Southeast Asia, and, with the removal of China's influence from the scene, Moscow could be expected to use Ho's dependence as a lever to persuade him to find some negotiated way out of the struggle.

There are increasing reports — or speculations — that Ho is concerned about his sources of supply in the situation that might develop, and may therefore be more amenable to negotiations. To this end, one can find vague allusions to a softening stand in his own conditions for negotiations.

That at the United Nations appears to have been the recipient of some kind of word that gives him encouragement in this direction. In recent weeks diplomats of neutral nations apparently have received similar indications, although their explorations of these feelers have come to naught so far.

Nevertheless, a preoccupied China, unenthusiastic Soviet support, and the possibility of U.S. escalation, must be on Ho's mind.

SHORTER WORK WEEK—A long-time goal of organized labor is to negotiate an across-the-board shorter work week. Some unions have succeeded in cutting down the contract work week to as little as 26 hours. Most are at 35 or 37½ hours a week. Unorganized white collar workers and many blue collar union workers are at the 40-hour week set in vogue a generation ago by the Wage-Hour law.

In a recent discussion of the shorter work week, a noted educator was commenting on the growth of juvenile and adult delinquency in an affluent society. Parenthetically, he quoted Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, as saying that he hesitated to bargain for a shorter work week. Reuther, he said, observed that if the men were going to spend their time bowling and drinking beer, perhaps they'd be better off at work.

At the conclusion of his remarks, the educator was asked if Reuther would express such a thought at his union's convention. "I imagine he would," replied the educator. "He's a very candid man."

If the educator expressed Reuther's thoughts accurately, Reuther may run into trouble at his next union convention, whether or not he repeats them.

Chas Pratt suffered a most painful injury at his ranch a few days ago from being kicked by a horse he was attempting to break. The animal had been corralled and not liking his strict quarters gave a vicious kick, striking Mr. Pratt directly in the face and cutting an ugly gash through his nostril and upperlip.

Many pedestrians are now making a short-cut across the courthouse lawn, and have marked out a double curve line, from the corner to the south front. It may be wrong to not "Keep off the grass," but there are times when all conventionalities must be disregarded—and in this case, it certainly looks like meeting with "public favor." Therefore, the following resolutions are offered:

Whereas, on or about December 1st, 1916, and for most every day since that time, the Public has been gently meandering across the courthouse lawn, making a beautiful curve from the southeast corner of said lawn to the sidewalk in front of the main south entrance; and

Whereas, this path, used by the "public" has established this route by common consent and has saved the pedestrianizing public many extra steps.

Therefore, Be it resolved that the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith county order the laying of a suitable walk from said southeast corner to the courthouse, said walk to follow the "beaten" path in its meanderings and curvatures.

The drug-firm of Betts and Clark, who recently bought the lot just south adjacent to the First National Bank, are planning to erect a building especially for their own use in the near future. The architect is now working on the plans and as soon as they are accepted, the firm will figure on letting a contract. The building which they contemplated erecting will be of birch, with modern plated glass front, 25 by 70 feet. This will take it back to the post office building. The plans will call for special arrangements for the drug business.

Bicycles are getting more and more popular, with Elyse Wilkins and Frances Young of the A. A. A. offices latest recruits to Hereford's bike riders. "It's really fun," says Elyse, "at least as long as the weather stays good."

The Deaf Smith County Rationing Board meets each day at 1 o'clock in the commissioner's court room and will then consider any requests for certificates for tire purchases, it was announced today.

The Brand calls attention to the term "Town Without A Toothache," now being liberally used in the Hearst press to describe Hereford and its low tooth decay rate. The same exaggerated term is being used in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not!"

Hereford will turn the clock up an hour at 2 o'clock on the morning of Feb. 9, and daylight saving time will be on; but whether it will actually result in any daylight saving was still a matter of argument with most Hereford people as new hours were in prospect in many businesses in town.

Troy Womble was named president of the Hereford Potato Growers at the organization meeting of the board of directors held on Tuesday, Jan. 27. W. N. Hodges was elected vice-president of the association and J. K. Baker was named secretary-treasurer. Womble and Hodges are new members of the board of directors.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

What puzzles me in the furor about miniskirts is, why is there any excitement at all? What's so shocking about short skirts on girls whom we've been seeing all this time in short shorts?

BACK IN THE 1920's when knee-high skirts were in style they were shocking, because that was the first time since the beginning of A. D. that ladies' knees had been shown in public, even in bathing suits. That word "ladies" is used purposely to separate them from showgirls, the brazen hussies, who had exhibited knees onstage.

The only shocking thing about miniskirts, to me, is that they are being worn like all extreme styles, chiefly by people who should never wear them — like gals with knock knees, skinny legs, overfat legs and too many years. And the effect isn't really shocking, just hilarious.

Somebody asked me if I saw the girl in the miniskirt at the Beta Sigma Phi Valentine dance Saturday, implying that the dress was quite a sensation. I did see two of the extra short skirts, one in red chiffon and the other in a pastel color with a flare around the hem, along with street-length, waltz-length and floor-sweeping dresses, all mighty pretty.

But the shortest dresses were no more sensational than the longest, to my eye. My only reaction to them was, Thank Heaven the wearers are pretty girls of the petite type, who look cute instead of weird.

DRESSES GOT the attention of the president at the Pioneer Club luncheon Tuesday. Mrs. Delmar Sigle commented that the Valentine decorations were matched by red dresses of several members. Wearing the holiday color were Mrs. J. V.

Water Color Is Topic Of Class

Water color classes for students and adults begin at the Hereford Art Gallery this week. Students twelve years and older may receive instruction beginning Monday. Instructor Barbara Schaffner indicated classes will be 7:00 — 9:00 P. M. each Monday night. For ten classes, the charge will be $26.00.

Mrs. Schaffner will begin water classes for adults Wednesday. Also lasting from 7:00 P. M. the charge will be $26.00 for ten classes meeting each Wednesday night.

An artist who works with charcoal, pen and ink, pastels, oils, and water color, Mrs. Schaffner has a variety of qualifications.

She has studied art with Keith Dennis, Goshen County Community College, Torrington, Wyoming, and with V. Frederick Large of Saratoga, Wyoming.

Presently serving as Secretary-Treasurer of the Hereford Art Guild, Mrs. Schaffner is a past president of the North Platte Valley Artist's Guild, Scottsbluff, Nebraska.

She has exhibited in many Hereford art exhibits and in five state and regional shows in Scottsbluff. Participation in Wyoming artist convention shows, exchange exhibits, one-man shows, and Goshen County Fairs have earned her many awards and prizes.

Mrs. Schaffner also explained that she appeared in a TV series in Cheyenne, Wyoming, as the sketching artist for the weekly program "Whispered Thoughts."

Those interested in taking classes should contact Mrs. Schaffner at home or Mrs. Juandell Wade at the Hereford Art Gallery.

These classes are sponsored by the Hereford Art Guild.

Students Begin Planning Courses

Course registration for next year is about one week away for junior high 9th graders, and 8th graders will be confronted with 4-year plans at the same time.

"This is the first year 8th graders will complete 4-year plans," Mrs. Mary Duvall, La Plata Counselor said. "We're trying to see if this works out better — so that students can better know what's expected of them," she added.

Mrs. Wilma Braddy, high school counselor, has given February 27th as the approximate beginning date for her work with the junior high students.

"The registration of 9th graders is intended to be the final registration prior to enrollment for the sophomore year," Mrs. Braddy said.

Stanton Junior High's counselor, Don Martin, indicated that 8th graders there will be given information on highschool subjects. "The students will be given individual counseling on the 4-year plans," he said.

Parents will be given a complete summary of the high school curriculum — credits required for graduation, academic and vocational programs, etc.

If parents understand the plans, it is easier to get the child to accept planning. "The parents should sit down and discuss the plans with the child," Mrs. Duvall stated.

"The child who knows why he is taking a course will see more purpose in it," she said.

Mrs. Braddy also discussed the problem of choosing between the General Academic Program (Plan A) and the General Vocational Program (Plan B).

"The General Academic Program is the traditional program with academic and college preparatory emphasis," Mrs. Braddy indicated.

She clarified the vocational program, saying it is designed for those who would profit more from a greater emphasis on vocational preparation.

The vocational program does include entrance requirements for colleges.

"Parent approval is necessary for taking the General Vocational Program," she added.

"Not many 8th graders will make a choice at this time," Counselor Martin said. He explained that most will enter the college preparatory plan. "They can change later," he said.

Judicial Changes Under Discussion

AMARILLO — Approximately 40 Panhandle judges, district attorneys and lawyers, called together to discuss judicial redistricting, presented different views on the subject here Saturday afternoon.

State Rep. Walter Knapp, chairman of the House Committee on Judicial Districts, told reporters following the meeting that he had heard at least two proposals which his committee hadn't thought of before and will give much consideration.

One of the proposals, made by A. W. Lair of Canyon, was for Randall County to have a new judicial district of its own. Prior to Lair's proposal, there had been much discussion on giving the 108th District Court jurisdiction in Potter and Randall counties, or creating a third district court for the two counties.

The 108th District Court presently handles only civil cases in Potter County and the 47th District Court has criminal and civil jurisdiction in Potter, Randall and Armstrong counties.

The second proposal which had significant interest to Knapp came just after Lair's statement when Deaf Smith County Attorney Bruce Miller suggested joining Randall and Deaf Smith Counties for one district court. Miller pointed to the growth of each county in making the proposal.

Hazen Wood, Hereford attorney, said he felt most attorneys in the county were satisfied with things the way they presently are and request no change. Wood said the district judge visits often enough that legal matters can wait, and when they can't it is no trouble to locate the judge and get the matter settled during the day. Jim Kruger of Hereford also attended but did not speak.

Archie McDonald, 69th District Judge, was unable to attend the meeting, but stated in a letter to Knapp that "I have asked for no change in my district. However, if the majority of the bar in any county feels that the formation of a new district would benefit that county, then I would not oppose a change."

McDonald explained that he took office Jan. 1 and does not know how the case load compares with other districts. Bill Hunter, district attorney for the 69th Judicial District said he presently can handle the case load in the district but felt the situation could become critical if the case load continues to increase in the next two or three years because of the geography.

The 69th Judicial District is Hartley, Sherman, Oldham and Deaf Smith counties. Knapp outlined one proposal made up by State Rep. Bill Heatley of Paducah. It included the changing of Castro County from the 64th Judicial District to the 154th, joining it with Lamb and Parmer counties. Castro presently is in the same district as Hale county, and would replace Bailey County in the 154th. Bailey would join the 121st with Hockley and Cochran counties.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr. of the 154th district told Knapp he would rather keep Bailey County and get a fourth county, "the most logical one being Castro County."

In closing, Knapp said the meeting had been "very beneficial" to him and he would present the ideas and new proposals to his committee. "We meet every Tuesday morning, but probably will be meeting some on Wednesday afternoons to work on this," he added. "We

Farmers Union Sets Kick-off For Membership

Deaf Smith County Farmers Union will kick-off its annual membership drive with a breakfast at the Caison House Restaurant Wednesday, February 22 at 7:00 a. m.

Norbert Schlegel, Texas Farmers Union fieldman, will be present to assist in the drive. The county organization met in a breakfast meeting Friday at the Caison House to make preliminary plans for the coming drive.

Present at the Friday meeting were county president Leo Wittowski, Charles Schiabs, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Sr., Alfred Smith, Andrew Kerahan, Andrew McCathern, Walter London, F. A. Marshall and Terrell Hodges.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson, local service agents for National Farmers Union Insurance Companies also attended. Other directors are David Hutchins, Jay Boston, Louis Woodford and Ben T. Spears. Citizens and "their wives are invited to join Farmers Union since it is a family farm organization.

If you want a delightful raisin sauce to serve with ham, one that is different, add strips of candied or syrup-preserved ginger to the sauce.

G. H. Darwin, son of naturalist Charles Darwin, originally advanced the theory that the moon is a child of the earth. The younger Darwin suggested that the moon was cast off when the original earth-moon pass was still fluid.

The PHANTOM

By Lee Falk

THE 17TH-CENTURY PHANTOM AND EMPEROR JOONKAR -- ON THE GOLDEN SANDS --

I WILL SPEND MY WEDDING NIGHT HERE -- AND YOU, PHANTOM, WHEN YOU ARE WED -- I INVITE YOU TO DO THE SAME!

BY BARRY 2/19

HOURS LATER WHEN WE RETURNED TO THE PALACE --

YOU, PHANTOM -- WILL BE MY BEST MAN -- AS INDEED IN THE JUNGLE YOU WERE!

I AM HONORED!

MAJESTY --

SHEEBAH, QUEEN OF TIGRA, HAS BEEN CAPTURED BY THE BARBARY PIRATES -- HELD FOR RANSOM!

-- THIS MAN IS THE EMISSARY?

I AM, EXCELLENCY -- I AM CERTAIN WE CAN MAKE AN ARRANGEMENT!

ARRANGEMENT --! IF I DIE (GASP, GASP) I'LL HAVE YOUR LIFE -- YOU MISERABLE -- SHE DIES (GASP)

NO, JOONKAR, HEAR HIM OUT.

YOUR SHEEBAH IS SUSPENDED IN A CAGE OVER GUNPOWDER, ON ONE OF OUR SHIPS. IF YOU MOVE AGAINST US, SIRE, SHE WILL BE BLOWN TO BITS AT ONCE.

MY MASTERS OF BARBARY DECLARE THE RANSOM SHALL BE ENOUGH GOLD AND JEWELS TO FILL THIS COURTROOM.

ENOUGH TO WRECK MY EMPIRE, BUT IT WILL BE DONE!

WAIT, JOONKAR --

YOU CANNOT BOW TO THIS BLACKMAIL!

WHAT OTHER WAY IS THERE?

WHAT ELSE (YAWN) CAN HE DO (YAWN)?

WE'LL FIND OUT TOMORROW -- NOW OFF TO BED!
