MRS. BRADLEY PAYS $2,000.00 FOR 2 CALVES

Already a Prize Winning Herd Is Added To At Record Price.

JOWELL & JOWELL MAKE SALE

Above Two Herds Admitted to Be Finest in Panhandle—Value to Country Inestimable.

This week Mrs. L. R. Bradley bought two calves from Jowell & Jowell, the well known breeders of Hereford cattle, for which she paid $2,000, which is a record price for calves in the Panhandle country.

Anyone taking a look at these calves will be convinced that they belong to the record breaking class. These calves are from the famous Gudgell & Simpson herd of Independence, Mo. One of the calves is by Bright Stanway and out of Alice 3rd, the cow that is also the dam of Beau Randolph, the bull that Jowell & Jowell bought from Gudgell & Simpson for $5,000.00. The other is by Beau Picture and out of Pololine Cow, that is the dam of the bull that sold at the American Royal this fall for $5,000.00.

Mrs. Bradley will use these calves for show ring purposes but will keep them to improve her already well known herd. These calves will be heard from in the near future thru their progeny.

Both the Jowells and Mrs. Bradley are doing a great work for this section in introducing this excellent blood into the cattle of this section.

Hereford Man Visits Amarillo

Mr. Ed Connell, one of the most popular citizens of bustling Hereford and for many years one of the Panhandle's peace officers par excellence was in Amarillo yesterday shaking hands with his friends, and telling everybody he met, that Deaf Smith county this year has raised record breaking feed crops, more wheat than ever before and that conditions are prosperous and then some. Mr. Connell predicts that the wheat acreage in Deaf Smith county will be vastly increased next season.—Amarillo News.

Miss Ruth Rigler, of Philadelphia Pa., who has spent the past week here, the guest of Mrs. Clyde Wright, left Monday for an extended trip through the west including a visit to the San Francisco Exposition.

ARE CONSIDERING STREET IMPROVEMENT

STATE LAWS MAKE AMPLE PROVISION FOR DISTRIBUTING COST OF STREET PAVING.

So much has been said about improving Main Street and putting it in first class condition along the three business blocks in town that the City Commission is seriously considering ordering an election to be held at an early date to determine whether the property owning taxpayers, residents of the city will accept the benefits and vote to confer upon the City Government the authority mentioned in Chapter 11 of title 22 of the Revised Statutes of Texas.

If the provisions of this chapter are adopted by a vote of the people, then the City Government may order the improvement of any part of a street in town and may provide for the payment of 75 per cent of the cost of such improvement by assessments against the abutting property. The cost of improving the street intersections and 25 per cent of the cost of the street improvement must be borne by the city in

WOMEN LOSE IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Big Majorities Against Votes For Women in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts

The right of suffrage was denied to women, in three great eastern states, Tuesday, and by overwhelming majorities.

The latest reports give 50,000 as the probable majority in Pennsylvania instead of 200,000 as at first reported.

Statewide prohibition lost in Ohio by a majority variously estimated from 30,000 to 40,000.

Mule Calls for His Mail

On yesterday about noon a real wild western mule called at the post office here for his mail. He however made a mistake and tried to go in by the large plate glass window instead of by the door. As a result there are about a million pieces of glass where one formerly existed, and a big hole in front of the building where the glass was formerly.

While the mule bore some scars he was not as badly injured as was the glass.

The said animal broke out of the lot near the Parmer Lumber Co. and when some parties attempted to corner him and place the lasso, he made a dive for the window.

Will Deliver Meat

The Palace Meat market is now prepared to deliver meat promptly to any part of the city. They have the best meat and everything is fresh and right and prices satisfactory.

MOTOR ACCIDENT NEAR DAWN

Car Overtakes Throwing its Occupants into Ditch; Several Injuries Resulted

An automobile driven by Miss Laura Frye, and containing also Miss Bertha Frye and two young gentlemen named Bryan and Williams, respectively, all of Dawn, was overturned in a ditch about two miles this side of Dawn, Friday evening.

The party were out to a Halloween party at the home of Mr. Henry Triefel, and in passing a team which was just in front, the accident occurred.

Several minor injuries to the car, and a badly cut hand sustained by Miss Laura, resulted from the accident.

any event. Only 75 per cent of the cost of improving a street can be assessed against the abutting property, and the cost of putting in sidewalks and curbs.

Amarillo and many other cities have improved their streets by availing themselves of the benefits of this statute.

Hereford can do the same way, and it seems to be about the only way there is to get some first class street improvement.

Some variety of asphaltic macadam is plenty good to take care of the demands of our street traffic and it can be had for something less than $1.00 per square yard. Either brick or wood block pavements would cost about $2.00 per square yard, but the traffic on our streets does not require any such expensive pavement.

Suppose you investigate these statutes, Mr. Voter, and see what you think of the suggestion.

DISTRICT COURT AND GRAND JURY IN SESSION

Many Divorce Cases Settled and Some Big Civil Cases Occupy Court's Time This Week—Grand Jury, With D. R. Gass as Foreman, Adjourns Till the 10th—No Indictments.

District Court convened Monday morning at ten o'clock at Hereford, for the fall term with the following officers of the court present: Hon. D. B. Hill, Dalhart, Judge; Clifford Braley, Dalhart, District Attorney; R. W. Baird, Hereford, Sheriff; A. O. Thompson, Hereford, District Clerk, and Floyd A. Cooper, Dalhart, Reporter.

The first thing taken up by Judge Hill was the empanelling of the grand jury, of which D. R. Gass of Hereford, was appointed foreman. Judge Hill then charged that body as to their duties and methods of procedure in his usual brief and comprehensive manner. The grand jury remained in session until Wednesday afternoon and then adjourned until Wednesday, Nov. 10th. No indictments have yet been returned.

The case of the State vs Muncy, transferred here on change of venue from Hale county, was continued until the May term, 1916, by agreement. F. P. Works of Amarillo, represented the prosecution, and L. C. Penry of Plainview, represented the defendant in making this arrangement.

After the above matters were disposed of, the petit jury for the week was empaneled, and both parties having announced ready for trial, a jury was selected in the case of Winfred Vardeman vs First State Bank & Trust Co., of Hereford, which case went to the jury late Wednesday afternoon. This is a suit for damages, the plaintiff being represented by S. J. Dodson and W. H. Russell of Hereford, and R. E. Underwood of Amarillo, and the defendant by Carl Gilliland of Hereford.

The following cases have been disposed of this week:

- Ruby Lopez vs Juan Lopez, suit for divorce. Divorce granted and plaintiff awarded custody of infant child.
- W. P. Heustiss vs J. W. Beatty, et al. Suit on note and foreclosure. Dismissed at plaintiff's cost.
- J. P. Burch vs Western National Bank, garnishee, garnishment. Dismissed.
- L. P. Farley vs E. B. Heckenkamp et al. Suit on note and foreclosure. Judgment by default for plaintiff.

G. W. McMillion vs John Cramburg. Suit for damages. Dismissed.
H. M. Russell vs L. Gough et al. Suit on note and foreclosure of deed of trust lien. Dismissed.
J. C. DeShields vs L. Gough et al. Suit on note and foreclosure of vendor's lien. Dismissed.

High School Notes

Miss Harrison, agent for Stoddard's lectures, spoke in chapel Monday morning.
Rev. Merrill, State Sunday School Evangelist, conducted chapel exercises Monday morning.
Several alumni visited the high school Monday morning.

The Lyceum tickets are now being delivered by the high school girls. If you have not bought one be sure to do so before Nov. 15, when the first number will be given.

The Juniors assisted the Seniors in avoiding the Halloween spooks by taking them out to the country home of Mr. R. H. Norton on last Saturday night. The crowd met at the Hawkins' home and went from there on a hay wagon. Miss Ruby Norton met the guests at the door. They assembled in the parlor where they were entertained for awhile with music—vocal and instrumental.

Then a track meet was arranged, the principle features of the "meet" being the "swimming match" between Miss Patton and Mr. Boardman. An other interesting event was a "penut scramble," which caused much excitement.

Later the lights were turned low and Misses Norton and Pickett told "ghost tales," and it seemed as if the spooks were really there. At a late hour refreshments of brick cream and punch were served to about forty jolly Juniors and Seniors. The "load" arrived at town in time to "get it" the basket ball boys who returned from Canyon on the 12:20 train.

The Seniors were delighted to see Albert Murchison in his old place Monday morning. This increased the number of the class to twenty-three.
The Freshman class organized this week and elected the following

RAISES BIG YIELD OF BIG ONIONS

Former Near Town Raises Over Two Tons of Onions on Half Acre of Ground

Mr. R. T. Mooney, who lives one mile east of town brought in a sample today of Red Weatherfield Globe onions. Six of these onions weighed 4 1/2 pounds. Mr. Mooney raised these onions between the rows of one acre of grape vines on a half acre of land. The yield of onions was something over two tons, and he is offered $40 per ton for the crop for shipment.

Cannas and Dahlias

As soon as the tops of cannas, dahlias, gladiolus, caladiums and similar plants are killed by frost dig up the roots or bulbs and store them in a cellar where the temperature will remain at 55 degrees, and should never go below 50 or above 60 degrees. Do not shake any more earth from the clumps of cannas and dahlias than is necessary in removing them from the ground. Place the plants on racks or in slat boxes so the air may circulate freely through them. No frost must reach the roots, nor must they become too warm or dry.

Cattle Shipping Brisk

About 50 cars of cattle were shipped out of here this week, mostly for the Kansas City market.

Mr. W. A. Hubbard, of Frederick Oklahoma, returned to his home Friday morning after a pleasant visit with his daughter, Mrs. Joe Collins.

BEGINS WORK OF REMODELING HOME

Mr. C. R. Smith Makes Substantial Improvements on His Residence

The work of remodeling the C. R. Smith home began this week. A bath room and two other rooms will be added and the entire structure refinished. It will be thoroughly modern and a most conveniently arranged and attractive home, when completed. And so Hereford keeps on growing into the town of pretty homes.

Preaching at Church of Christ

J. F. Copeland, of Canyon, will fill the pulpit at the Church of Christ in Hereford every first and third Sundays until further notice.

GIRL HAS SMALL CHANCE FOR RECOVERY

VICTIM OF DIMMITT TRAGEDY UNDERGOES OPERATION—BULLET LODGED UNDER HEART.

Miss Lizzie Linn the victim of the shooting which took place at Nazareth as mentioned in last week's Brand, was taken to Amarillo last Sunday morning in an automobile. An operation was performed to remove the bullet which had entered the body in the region just below the heart and had lodged in the left kidney, carrying a piece of clothing with it in its path.

The operation was a very serious one and was successful, but the strength was too near spent to survive and her mother was informed of her critical condition Monday morning, by the word that there was no possible chance for recovery.

Mr. Frank Cunningham was here this week installing a fire light plant at the Rucker ranch. This is one of the best plants in the county. This country home now enjoys all the modern conveniences of the best homes in town. Hot and cold water, good bath rooms, and lights that entirely dispel night inside.

Mrs. Annie Stamp of Loving, N. M., spent Thursday at the home of her son, J. B. Stamp. On Friday, she went to Amarillo to visit a daughter and from there she will go to South Haven, Kansas, and visit a son at that place.

BUSINESS MEN AND FARMERS PLAN MEETING

Saturday, November 6th is Date Set and Everyone Interested is Urged to Attend.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS TO COME

J. K. Wester and Porter Whaley, to Address Meeting at Court House Next Saturday

J. K. Wester of Lubbock representing the Panhandle Kaffir Corn and Milo Maize Association, was here Friday in the interest of the association. An informal meeting with a few members of the Young Men's Business League was held and an appointment made for a meeting at the court house at 3 p. m. on Saturday, November 6, at which time Messrs. Porter Whaley, Secretary of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, and J. K. Wester of Lubbock will be here and hope to meet the business men, the farmers and everyone else who is interested in prosperity for the Panhandle. This association is doing more to help the farmer, and to enable him to get legitimate prices for his products than any other one agency, and the one thing that will bring substantial prosperity to the country in general is the development of the farming interests of the community.

So let every one come out and learn of the benefits which the association has to offer, from those who are familiar with its every detail.

Lutheran Church

Next Sunday there will again be English service with preaching at the court house. Sunday School at 10; preaching service at 11. At 3 p. m., there will be preaching service at Dawn. All friends are welcome at both services.

O. E. Schmidt, Pastor.

Yearling Heifers Bring $65

Dr. H. D. Rucker this week sold to Milton Roberson 80 head of high grade yearling heifers for $65 per head. These heifers were as fine a bunch as has been sold here in a long time. Dr. Rucker raised some of these and part of them he bought last spring.

The Doctor knows good stuff and how to raise it.

Society and Clubs

Phone 30 or 180

We desire to give, in this column, a complete account of the club and social life of Hereford, each week. To do this will be to serve the mutual interest of the paper and its readers as the social side of community life has a value quite as distinctive as the commercial side.

Your co-operation in the past, has made possible whatever measure of success has been attained toward the making of this column what it is designed to be—an interesting, accurate, and complete report of the social and club activities of the city.

Mistakes and omissions have occurred, and will occur, but these are in no case the result of indifference on the part of the paper as it welcomes contributions to any of its columns, and endeavors to use all legitimate means to obtain the information which it must have, before it can give. Just a few points, a definite understanding of which we think, might be mutually helpful are given below:

1. Information relative to any affair of a social nature should be phoned to Mrs. B. F. Guthrie.

2. In case you do not care to give a detailed account of an event, a mere notice will suffice as it can then be gotten in detail from some other source.

3. Copy coming in later than Wednesday evening can not always be placed in this column.

Copy coming in later than Thursday will appear the next week.

5. It is your party and your club notice that we want, and want badly. May we have it?

An exceptionally enjoyable Hallow E'en party gave pleasure to a large number of guests who shared the hospitality of the "Polynians," five of Hereford's most charming young ladies, on Friday evening.

The guests met at different places, the ladies at the home of Miss Betts and the gentlemen at the residence of Mr. E. B. Black, and partners for the evening were secured by matching numbers, the ladies calling at the Black home for the gentlemen who had corresponding numbers. The unusual pairs resulting, looked as if, indeed, the witches had been at work. To intensify the effect, the party joined in a grand march around the lawn. A "receiving line" gave the glad hand to the guests at the door—a hand most surprising and uncanny.

A modern mummy was peculiarly at home amid its weird and ghastly surroundings. Bewitched mirrors gave startling revelations of the future, but perhaps the most popular means of learning what fate holds in store was that of consulting a genuine witch of Endor whose versatility and wonderful mind reading proclivities satisfied the questioning hearts of eager youths and maidens.

Many clever and original Hallow E'en games added to the evening's pleasures and at its close, pumpkin pie and buttermilk made ideal refreshments.

Mrs. Kathryn McNerney entertained eleven of the young lady Rebekahs who assisted in the entertainment Saturday evening with a slumber party.

Plans and preparations for the entertainment furnished pleasant diversion and at a late hour refreshments of cheese sandwiches, salted wafers, salted peanuts, vanilla wafers, apricot ambrosia, and chocolate were served.

The guests remained to breakfast next morning.

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Orr, little Miss Lela Orr was the charming hostess at one of the prettiest of the Hallow E'en parties.

Grotesque yellow jack o' lanterns and snowy chrysanthemums massed about the rooms carried out the color scheme of white and yellow.

The little folks all in appropriate costumes made the jolliest set of ghosts and witches imaginable and, later, when they unmasked to participate in the games which had been provided, the spirit of fun still reigned supreme.

A most fruitful fish pond and genuine Gypsy fortune telling made the hours pass merrily and refreshments of popcorn, apples and candy marked the close of a most delightful evening.

The Junior class of the high school was at home to the Seniors and high school teachers at a delightful Hallow E'en party on Saturday evening at the home of Dick Norton.

A jolly introduction to the good times which were to follow was the hay ride to the Norton home which, resplendent with the high school black and gold, smiled a cheery welcome.

A "track meet" of nine events was the principal diversion of the evening, each "event" producing much merriment.

Especially mirth provoking was the "relay race" in which the contestants sought to prove their prowess at cracker eating.

Then there was a "standing high jump" when a peanut suspended just out of reach was jumped for and caught in the contestant's mouth. The track meet was a "howling success."

Refreshments of brick cream and punch were enjoyed by about fifty guests.

Mrs. C. D. Wright was hostess, on Wednesday, at a charming one o'clock luncheon, honoring Misses Wilja Rhone, of Winnsboro, and Ruth Rigler, of Philadelphia, Pa., who are her guests.

The spirit of Hallow e'en was evident in the decorations of the rooms and also of the tastefully arranged tables, all carrying out, in detail, the pretty color scheme of yellow. Unique place cards were handpainted pumpkin faces, wherein the letters of each guest's name were skillfully concealed. The dainty luncheon service, and snowy napery brightened by a great jar of yellow chrysanthemums and with its touch of Hallow E'en symbols, combined to make a most attractive table. The menu emphasized the color idea, the various dishes, completing a perfect harmony in yellow. It was served in six courses and included:

Peach and pineapple cocktail
Consomme

Chicken and mushroom patties
Asparagus tips on toast

Saratoga chips
Ice cream, cake and yellow mints.

The guest were Misses Mabel Betts, Dimple Gass, Beulah Head, Olive Perkins, Ruby Norton, Ina Gregg and Belle Norton, all of whom were close friends of the honor guests.

The Junior Missionary Society of the M. E. Church was entertained in a most enjoyable manner on Saturday evening by their leader Mrs. S. B. Edwards. The children, in costume representing the different countries, were taken to the Hallow E'en social at the court house where they spent a most delightful hour, among the ghosts and witches.

Miss Willa Rhone was guest of honor at a dinner party Sunday, October 24, at which time Mrs. Kathryn McNerney was hostess and Messrs. F. W. Curtis Chas. Hayes, and Chas. McNerney and family were guests.

A most enjoyable social event was the Hallowe'en party given Friday, October 29th, for the members of the S. W. P. Club and their husbands, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Read.

Hallowe'en decorations of grinning pumpkin heads, black cats, witches and garden flowers adorned the entire home.

The guests began to arrive about 9 o'clock. There were clowns and witches, Uncle Sam with his stars and stripes, and a variety of ghosts. The guests were received by their hostess in the guise of a witch. She escorted them into the reception hall where Mrs. Kirkman on her magic throne bade each guest kneel and take oath to do as bidden all evening.

A fortune teller, who afterward proved to be Miss Howerton, revealed with her magic wand, the future of each guest. In "the land of mystery" were to be seen the bones of one absent in body but present in spirit.

After the unmasking, various games and contests were enjoyed, the initiation into the Dorcas Society being most interesting.

Mrs. Dixon presided over the chocolate table, and refreshments of chicken sandwiches and pumpkin pie were served to Messrs. and Mesdames Norton, Rogers, Stubbs, Kirkman, Dixon, Lewis, Read, Thompson, and Miss Howerton and Mrs. A. E. Kirkman of Amarillo.

The celebration of a trio of October birthdays, was the occasion for an afternoon spent most happily by the little folks of Miss Wright's kindergarten class, on Saturday afternoon, when they entertained their parents in their kindergarten home.

Autumn leaves, in profusion over the walls and ceiling, made delightful nooks where bats, witches and black cats, held court. An immense Hallowe'en poster, the work of the kindergartners, adorned one side of the room. It represented a corn field wherein the various grains and vegetables trooped under the supervision of their black cat captain. Then the little folks as "Brownies" with caps and faces, the work of their own little fingers, completed a most enchanting scene upon which "many moons" smiled approval, and when they executed so beautifully a charming little folk dance, they were, indeed, most captivating Brownies. They gave songs and memory gems and later the three little "birthdays" Masters Paul Wright Barnett and Emerson Barber, and little Miss Pauline Fertach, brought in a tray of shining red apples in Brownie caps and little cakes with candles to correspond with the years to which each of the little honorees had attained. Favors were peanut Brownies attached to a card bearing the words:

I know something, I wont tell
Three little Brownies in a peanut shell.

The occasion was most heartily enjoyed by the parents as well as the children.

The Hallowe'en social given at the court house, by the Rebekahs, Saturday evening was a most pleasant social affair, as well as a success financially, the large crowd attesting the popularity of the Rebekahs as entertainers.

The entire south side of the spacious hall, was converted into a reception suite, whose tastefully decorated rooms were beautiful under the soft glow of pink shaded chandeliers from which festoons in the pink and green of the order were suspended, completing a harmonious color scheme.

After being measured, the guests were seated by the hostess and witches to the registering table where a bewitched one performed singular antics when it was brought into use.

A fishing pond where black cats and witches looked down from the moon, and a candy booth, beautiful with its black and yellow decorations were interesting and attractive while the refreshment triangle with its magnificent floral decorations was very popular. Here, each guest had the opportunity to fortify himself physically for the ordeal of facing the revelations of the future given in detail at the next booth by expert fortune tellers.

All in all, it was a most delightful entertainment and those having it in charge are appreciative of the excellent patronage.

The Misses Norton, three of Hereford's most ideal hostesses,

Capacity of Love

SO immense is the capacity of love in the human heart that nothing can satisfy it fully, adequately, and permanently except God, who is unchangeable, infinitely lovely, and perfect. Show me a man who, without forfeiting any just privilege of human affection, really loves God, and I will point him out to you as one essentially happy. For another who fixes his affections upon human things, no matter how excellent they may or seem to be, but who does not love God, real happiness is impossible. And it is for this reason that St. Augustine exclaimed: "Thou hast made us for thyself, O God! and our hearts cannot rest until they rest in thee."—John Hughes

Parrott

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepard had dinner Sunday with Ben Tate and family.

Basil Jenning and wife and little son, of Hereford, spent Saturday night and Sunday at the home of James Boydston.

Hazel Hacker is still quite poorly.

Mrs. J. F. Hacker and Hazel and Frank and Alva Metcalfe spent the day at the Hanlan home last Monday.

Joe Hastings and wife of Dimmitt, visited Alva Metcalfe Sunday afternoon.

B. F. Neely and wife and sons, Ned and Charlton, were at J. W. Hanlans Sunday, and in the evening both families motored to Bob Neelys and enjoyed an evening of music.

Mrs. J. W. Hanlan and Hazel Hacker called on Mrs. Frank Shepard one day last week.

Most everyone in Parrott is done cutting the feed crop at present and still the ideal fall weather continues.

Orie Renfro has gone to Kansas City.

Frankie Kerr of Dimmitt was operated on recently in a hospital at Amarillo. She is reported as doing nicely, having stood the operation wonderfully well for one in her condition.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Noble last Sunday night. The little infant is very weak and not much encouragement for its future.

Mesdames Jacob Wagner and J. W. Hanlan spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Elmer Noble's.

Martin Simpson, Roy High, and Orie Renfro went with Mr. Ed Wilson to the Will O'Bryan ranch south of Dimmitt, and helped Mr. Wilson drive home the calves purchased from Mr. O'Bryan.

J. F. Hacker and Alfred Grant were in Hereford Monday.

Irene Holzer who has spent several months with Mrs. B. F. Neely, has returned to the home of S. J. Dodson in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bacus and Mr. and Mrs. Burkenfeld, of Nazareth, spent Sunday at the Wagner home.

While Orie Renfro was rounding up his cattle this week, a heifer in some manner while crossing a ditch slipped and fell, breaking her neck. He saw her in time to care for the meat, and have it dressed properly for use. Jacob Wagner was the butcher.

Mrs. Grover Sanders went to the Todd ranch last Friday and spent the day.

Mesdames B. F. Neely and J. W. Hanlan called on Mrs. Kimbrough in Dimmitt last Friday.

A great many car loads of hogs from different parts of Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma and one from Artesia, New Mexico, have been shipped into our country this fall to get the benefit of the feed crop raised here this year.

Mrs. B. F. Neely and Mrs. J. W. Hanlan are both accomplished automobile drivers.

Summerfield

W. M. Pierce, of Bovina, visited friends here last week.

R. M. Moore and family visited Sunday afternoon with W. E. Hacker, and family of Parrott.

R. A. Holland of Dimmitt was transacting business in this part of the country Tuesday.

Claude Dendy and Claude Newsum, went to Vega Friday, after several hundred head of calves for E. J. Hndson.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and Miss Mary Cross attended the Hallow E'en social, at the court house in Hereford Saturday night.

W. E. Hicks and Wiley Roberson branded cattle at W. A. Odell's Monday.

The Hen as a Soldier

And now comes another "result of the war," which disproves the idea that there's nothing new under the sun. The hen, that cherished utilitarian bird, is about to add a new luster to her halo by becoming private "In His Majesty's Service." The London Chronicle tells how it will be done, as follows:

Hens protect their chickens against soaring birds of prey which the sharpest human sight cannot discover; the pigeons will fly in any weather and are extraordinarily docile. The training of a hen or a pigeon to announce the approach of an aeroplane is much easier than one would think. They are to be placed, captured in the vicinity of a descending air machine and as soon as the airman lands he is to rush at the unfortunate fowls and tear them with a rod. This practice is to be repeated until the hen or the pigeon believes its life to be endangered by anything on a large scale descending from the skies. All day long these terrified fowls will strain their vision skyward and the remotest speck in the vault of heaven will flutter the dove coots and hen coops as nothing else would.

BUYS STORE AT VEGA

Fox Mercantile Company Purchase Stock of General Merchandise There

The Fox Mercantile Co., has recently become the owners of a stock of general merchandise at Vega. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fox left Monday for Vega where they will make their home and where Mr. Fox will have charge of the store. The Vega people are to be congratulated upon this acquisition to their citizenship, as Mr. and Mrs. Fox are of the very best—just the sort of material of which good towns are made.

Mr. Fox is not only an excellent business man, but a most exemplary young man in every way and it goes without saying that he will give to Vega a business enterprise of which she may be proud.

Bride of Three Months Dies

J. L. Johnson received Saturday the sad intelligence of the death of a niece, Mrs. Lorenz Halvor. She had gone with her husband to Montana and was living there at the time of her death. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were unable to attend the funeral which occurred Wednesday at the former home of the deceased, in Iowa.

Case of J. E. Hearin Continued

B. F. GUTHRIE, Editor

Entered April 17, 1901, in the postoffice at Hereford, Texas, as Second-class mail matter. First number of the paper issued February 20, 1901, as the Hereford Reporter; first number of The Brand issued March 21, 1902. Subscription Price $1.00 Per Year, Strictly in Advance.

Any erroneous statement affecting the character or reputation of any individual or firm which may appear in The Brand, will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publishers.

We find by referring to the calendar that this is November, and have been expecting the "wailing winds and naked woods, and meadows, brown and sere" that rightly belong with the "melancholy days," but so far October has nothing on November in the way of fine weather and the attention of the fall poet is respectfully called to this fact.

"Where are the flowers, the fair young flowers?" sings the poet, and the answer is unanimous, "Right here in Hereford"—worlds of them—from the purple violet that came with the melting of the snow, to the glorious flowers of autumn—cosmos, chrysanthemums and roses, a wilderness of gorgeous color and delightful fragrance.

WOMEN SOLDIERS

Surely the Serbian women have demonstrated the fact that the "weaker vessel" is strong enough to die in defense of home and native land if need be, and it isn't likely that these women will be accused of getting out of their sphere, either, though they'd probably have as hard a fight for the ballot, should they want it, as the American women are having.

MR. RIPLEY OF THE SANTA FE

All this Western country joins in congratulations to the president of the Santa Fe system on the occasion of his seventieth birthday. Mr. Ripley is a great railroad executive—great in his comprehension of the problems of railroad development, great in the efficiency with which he has carried out the work of building up the system of which he is the head, great in his capacity to inspire loyalty and esprit de corps. The Santa Fe system is the best commentary on the sort of man Mr. Ripley is. He needs no other testimonial.—Kansas City Star.

BECOMING FINE STOCK COUNTRY

Deaf Smith and Castro counties are fast coming to the front as producers of pure bred as well as high grade stock. There are already a number of herds that are acquiring a State-wide reputation for quality. This is one of the best omens of the future prosperity of this country. Once our people fully realize that the success of this country does not depend on land booms nor on capital brought in from elsewhere, but upon industry and thrift applied to the cultivation of the soil, coupled with the raising of fine stock, prosperity will be everywhere in evidence.

There is not a section of smooth, tillable land in Deaf Smith or Castro counties but will support 40 head of pure bred Hereford cows every year, when the land is properly cared for. A silo should be built and filled in years of plenty to be carried over for the dry year. These forty cows will, at a conservative estimate, yield an income each year of $2,000. Besides, the family can have an orchard, hogs enough for meat, poultry and garden and a good home and any industrious family can do all the labor.

All this country needs is a family that believes in working as the only safe and honorable way of making a living with forty cows on every section of this land and Hereford will be a city of 6,000 people, with paved streets, a free public library, beautiful churches, a kindergarten in connection with our schools, a system of parks in different parts of the city, and one of the best places on earth to live and raise a family. Let's catch the vision "for where there is no vision the people perish."

"YOU'LL LIKE HEREFORD."

PAYING TITHES

The following editorial from the "Christian Stewards" is given a place here because adoption of the system here emphasized would put the business of the church on a sound basis and bring rich blessings to all adopting it:

Is this world run by chance? Or is there an invisible Divine Intelligence controlling human affairs and administering all the forces that operate in the physical, mental and spiritual realm? Belief in the former would consign one to blind fate with the possibility of being plunged at any moment into hopeless disaster. On the other hand to believe that a loving Father, clothed with infinite attributes and having boundless resources ever at his disposal, is watching over His children every moment with tenderest solicitude and causing all things in His scheme of infinite benevolence to work together for their good, transforms life into a beatitude and renders the Christian's journey through this world a triumphal march to heaven.

With such a belief going down to the depths of one's inner consciousness and gripping every fibre of one's being is to enjoy composure and rest of soul whilst the storms and hurricanes of life rage without. This is none other than "the peace of God that passeth all understanding." He who hath it "dwells in the secret place of the Most High and abides under the shadow of the Almighty." That such a belief is warranted by the whole trend of scriptural teaching is evident to the devout student of the Bible.

The revelation of God's government in the universe, supported by the history of mankind all through the ages, indicates that there exists an all-pervading, superintending Providence, whose supervision of times and seasons, and events, and circumstances, and individuals is most minute and constant.

To particularize might throw light on this sublime and fundamental truth of Divine revelation. Take for example the weather over which man, with all his boasted knowledge, has absolutely no control, and yet upon which depends the commerce of the world and the very existence of our race. Some power must adjust and regulate the subtle forces that operate in earth, and air, and sky, or vegetation everywhere would be turned into blackened ruin. A few degrees of temperature make all the difference between fertilization and destruction. Let the mercury drop below a certain point and the vast wheat fields of the world would be destroyed in a night.

God claims to be the Supreme Alchemist in the great laboratory of nature, turning growth and fruitage into barrenness and famine as seemeth good in His sight. Listen to His reproof to a sinful people in the days of Haggai the prophet:—"Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home I did blow upon it. Why? saith the Lord of Hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house. Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labor of the hands. . . . I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the labours of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the Lord." Haggai 1:9-11, and 2:17.

The revolving seasons, cold and heat, storm and calm, sunshine and cloud obey the voice of the divine Dictator. The God-Man rose from His pillow on the storm-tossed ship and rebuked the tempest and instantly there was a great calm. The astonished disciples exclaimed, "What manner of man is this that even the winds and sea obey Him?" Divinity had spoken and the warring elements at once subsided into quietness and rest.

Some so-called "advanced critics" have scored such teaching as childish and unscientific, claiming that all nature operates by inexorable laws which are never modified or deflected from their course even in response to the most importunate prayer.

But the testimony of history and revelation will continue to stand immovable, like the granite rock, when the little carping critics have spent their breath and drifted life waifs into the ocean of a bygone age.

A modern instance of Divine interference occurred some years ago, in the State of Minnesota, when the wheat crop was threatened with destruction by the grasshopper plague. An account of this remarkable circumstance appeared in a recent issue of that excellent periodical, "The Bellman," published in Minneapolis. We quote the following extract from the above weekly: "So grave was the impending danger that the Governor of the, John S. Pillsbury, appointed April 26 'as a day of fasting and prayer, and by proclamation urged the people 'in the shadow of the locust plague, whose impending renewal threatens desolation of the land,' to 'humbly invoke for the efforts we make in our defence the guidance of that hand which alone is adequate to stave the pestilence that waiteth in darkness and the destruction that wasteth at noonday.'"

In those days the people of the Northwest were acquainted with grief, suffering and privation. Prosperity and success had not, as yet, come to them in such measure as to weaken their sense of dependence upon Providence. They walked humbly and in the simple faith of their forefathers. They were neither afraid nor ashamed to invoke the aid of the Almighty to defend them from their enemies.

Therefore they literally obeyed their governor's proclamation. On April 26, 1877, all places of business were closed, the church bells called, and the people responded. The day was still, calm and unusually warm. Catholic and Protestant, impressed by the great emergency, walked soberly to church and there prayed most fervently to be delivered from the threatening plague.

The thing that happened may seem incredible, but it was literally true, as many witnesses now living will testify and the records will prove. The following day the sun shone over the entire state with such fervor and heat that the warmth was like midsummer. It penetrated the moist earth, and there found the larvae of countless millions of locusts. Quakened by the heat, the pests came to the surface and crawled in myriads, sufficient to destroy the wheat crop of the entire Northwest. The visitation of the previous year was as nothing compared with the vast army of crawling grasshoppers that came forth from the earth.

For a few days the unreasonable weather continued, and the plague grew greater. Suddenly, however, it turned colder, and one night there came a severe frost, sufficient to freeze the soil, and with it the hatched and unhatched grasshoppers. Later it thawed again and became warm, but the pests were gone and the precious wheat was saved. Moreover, since that time there has been no material damage to the Northwestern crop on account grasshoppers.

The discussion of Divine Providence may seem foreign to the subject of Christian stewardship. Nevertheless it is intimately connected with it, for the man who in the true spiritual sense recognizes God's claim upon his earthly substance is brought into close touch and joyous fellowship with the Infinite and discovers that God has identified Himself with his life in all its relations as never before.

Money-making and money-giving are lifted to a higher plane, and as a faithful steward of his Lord he learns what is meant in Malachi's prophecy by the open windows and the overflowing blessing. Mal. 3:10. "Pay your tithes."

Dreamers are seldom millionaires. Men who make millions are supposed to be "level-headed," "practical" men. The business world has little use for the dreamer of whom it thinks as a poet or preacher or sentimentalist. Henry Ford, therefore, joining the ranks of dreamers with his vision of a war-free world this side the millennium and his opposition to great expenditures for "preparedness," must be quite a disturbing factor in the realm of the "hard-headed" and the "practical."—Our Dumb Animals.

Is My Life the Highest Type?

If we ask ourselves the following questions, what will the answer be? Let's examine our ways and note the places we fall short; then strive through all the tomorrows to make our lives reach the highest type.

Do I talk with God before I talk with man? Do I do my daily work with sunshine in my face, and cheerfulness on my tongue? Am I strong in the presence of temptation; watchful of opportunities; open-eared to the call of conscience for service or sacrifice; open-minded to views of truth which differ from mine? Do I make duty a pleasure and pleasure a duty? Do I work and not worry? Am I energetic and not fussy? Do I try to be true to myself and all others; diligent to make a living and earnest to make a life? Do I cherish friendship and guard confidence? Am I loyal to principle at the cost of popularity? Do I endeavor to make no foolish promises I cannot keep? Am I sweet tempered under criticism, thoughtful in my judgments, and discriminating in my adjectives? Do I honor someone just because he is rich; or despise someone just because he is poor? Am I respectful to the great, sympathetic to the sorrowing, gentle to the weak, helpful to the fallen and courteous to all? Am I simple in my tastes, modest in my dress; pure in my speech and temperate in my pastimes? Do I keep company with great books; cherish inspiring thoughts; and give my body plenty of water and fresh air? Do I fear nothing but sin; hate nothing but hypocrisy; envy nothing but a clean life; covet nothing but character?

And at last will I leave the world a little better for my stay; face death without a tremor with faith in Christ who tunneled the grave that I might walk into a larger and perfect life?—Gertrude Johnston.

Restored To Health By Vinol
Corinth, Miss.—"I am a city tax collector and seventy-four years of age. I was in a weak, run-down condition. My druggist told me about Vinol. I tried it and in a week noticed considerable improvement; I continued its use and now I have gained twenty pounds in weight, and feel much stronger. I consider Vinol a fine tonic to create strength for old people."—J. A. PRICE.
We guarantee Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, for all run-down, weak and debilitated conditions.

Girls Play Good Game

The High School girls' basket ball team made an excellent showing Saturday when it won from the Vega girls by a score of 23 to 13. The game was interesting throughout and there was good playing on both sides. As this is the first game of the season for the local team the players and their friends are justly proud of their success.

Drs. Presley & Swearingin, of Roswell New Mexico, will be in Hereford, at Dr. Price's office, 12 and 13 of each month to do eye ear, nose and throat practice and fit glasses. 20-1f

BUYS BIG RANCH

C. T. Herring Purchases 40,000 Acres in Cottle, Foard, King and Knox Counties

C. T. Herring last Thursday finally closed a deal, whereby he purchases a ranch of 40,000 acres lying in four counties, Foard, Cottle, King and Knox, negotia-loof for which had been pending for several weeks. The land was bought from L. C. Clark and is stocked with 2,500 head of cattle, also included in the sale.

Mr. Herring declined to name the figure he paid for the property, but indicated that it was one of considerable magnitude. He says it is one of the best ranches of its size in this section of Texas and is confident it will prove a profitable investment.

Jim Bomar, formerly with the Bank Barber Shop, has been employed by Mr. Herring in charge of the ranch.—Vernon Record.

A "Pollyanna" Missionary

The Hyde Park Christian Church of Kansas City, is sending Miss Louise Beam, to Liberia as a missionary. "Her life," says the Kansas City Star, "reads somewhat like a page from 'Pollyanna.' When 7 years old she was left an orphan and was 'adopted' by the 'Ladies' Aiders' of a Christian Church in Topeka, where she was born. She remained the charge of the church people until twelve years ago when she came to Kansas City and entered the Red Cross Hospital as a nurse. She was for a time a governess for the children of former Mayor and Mrs. Darius A. Brown. Later she was graduated from a hospital in Cleveland and also did hospital work in Ann Arbor and Jackson, Michigan. She recently graduated from the College of Missions of the Christian Church in Indianapolis."

Southern Plow Company Representative Here

Messrs. Ledbetter and Butler, representing the Southern Plow Co., of Dallas were in Hereford Monday.

Mr. Ledbetter is the inventor of a one seed lister, which is proving very successful and the gentlemen were looking over the country here, in an effort to determine its needs in the way of farm machinery, with a view of anticipating any needed improvement in their product.

The Ledbetter planters were also on the market this year, many having been sold throughout the Panhandle.

SCORES TOP PRICE ON STOCKERS

C. B. Williams of Hereford, Texas, Sells Off 219 of His Choice Animals

C. B. Williams, of Hereford, Texas, felt happy yesterday after making his record stocker sale on the Kansas City Market, selling the highest priced cattle in their class on the day when the run broke all former records.

Mr. Williams has been topping the stocker market here all fall, but yesterday he went one better. He had in 219 head of choice stockers. "This plainly shows," Mr. Williams said, "that it is the high plains of the Panhandle territory that is producing the highest class beef cattle. With such a run of stock made up largely of the stocker class, it required something pretty good to bring a price above all others."—Drover's Telegram, Oct. 26.

What Builds the Town?

Many towns have sprung up over the Plains the last few years and growing vigorously today. There is a reason. The time is not long past when the plains was a cow country. Live stock was scattered over the whole area. The people at that time were few; it did not require all the world and his wife to herd the droves and flocks. Their needs in the way of supplies were readily cared for by little cow towns.

The Plains has ceased to be a grazing section. Men have come to till the soil and are producing wheat and other grain enough and to spare. Silos by the many hundreds feed cattle and sheep in numbers greater than the early cowman ever dreamed could be grown on the plains. This new turn in affairs is bringing people who bring more new acres under cultivation from year to year.

These people produce things to sell: Wheat, Indian corn, kaffir corn and other grains. This makes business. These people need food, clothing, machinery and other things. This creates more business. These people become patrons of the banks, creating new business in larger deposits and increased loans. As development proceeds in the district the town serves, the business along every line expands.

It takes people to make the country and the country builds the town. Co-operation between the two is essential. The wide awake business men recognize this and have their shoulder to the wheel in country building. It is good business and patriotic. Every town on the plains backing farm advancement is growing. It is the opportune time to back a vigorous fall and winter immigration campaign and a subsequent country building propaganda.—A. M. Hove.

AN EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

Ladies of Christian Church Give Good Program at First Christian Church

One of the very best entertainments, that the Hereford public has been permitted to enjoy recently, was given by the "Ladies' Aiders" of the Christian church on Monday evening.

The large auditorium presented a most charming appearance. The mellow radiance from softly tinted lights was shed upon a wilderness of cut flowers, intermingled with the more distinctively Hallowe'en decorations giving an effect strikingly beautiful.

After the very excellent program, a dainty luncheon was served at prettily appointed tables, presided over by young ladies in Japanese costumes. The pleasure of this feature of the entertainment was enhanced by the bewitching loveliness of the dainty maidens in their quaint oriental dress, who did the serving.

The program follows:
Piano Solo—Miss Roberta Nance.
Reading—Miss Marjorie Dameron.
Vocal Solo—F. W. Curtiss.
Violin Solo—Miss Edna Elliott.
Piano Solo—Miss Elizabeth Oberthier.

Basket Ball Boys Lose Canyon Game, Score 27 to 25

In a closely contested game at Canyon Saturday, the boys' basket ball team was defeated by a small margin the score being 27 to 25. Fate doesn't seem inclined to favor the boys athletic ambitions so far this fall. However, "The mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceeding small" and the High school boys will doubtless have their share of laurels before the close of the season.

Some Mammoth Turnips

J. H. Boydston living south of Hereford has a crop of turnips that are winners as to size. Five turnips whose combined weight was 24 lbs. were selected at random by a Hereford business man the otherday. One weighed 7 pounds and four weighed 17 lbs. The turnips are of excellent quality.

Sends Grandson a Pony

Mr. J. M. Spert of this city is remembering his grandson, Master Sam Clark of Wichita Falls, in a substantial way this week. He shipped the little fellow a fine Sheridan pony colt Tuesday from his ranch. The elder Mr. Clark is superintendent of the Wichita Falls schools.

A big shipment of steer calves are billed to go out today. There are 1400 head of them, black muleys, and sold by Elkin Bros. & Bryant to Cookwright & Phillips. They are billed to Mule Shoe, a station in the Panhandle near Hereford.—Midland Reporter.

Men who Do and Dare
I am your distinguished visitor. You never beheld my face before and soon I go my way never to return. Yesterday I was hope, tomorrow I am history. I come once twist the birth of time and the end of eternity. I am the extent of the greatest moment in the lives of men who do and dare.
If you use me I will bless your future life; if you waste me I will curse you to the end of your existence, be it one day or a thousand years. I unlock the treasure chest that with my going will be closed forever and with me shall die the unused opportunities that I bring. My coming was predicted by wise men when the world was young. It is announced by the dawn with shafts of light from the great luminary that lights a system of worlds. Yet in a few hours my requiem is trilled by the song birds at night; my death should be the darkest and my tomb is a trash heap of things that were.
My page in the world's history is a written record of my achievements of the man of deeds and not a chronicling of the insipid vapors of the idle dreamer. I beckon efforts and plead for action.
Years that have gone glimmering into the past mean nothing to me but a troubled waking dream of ill improved opportunities. To me the future is never. "Now" is the only word in the world's lexicon that I understand. I record the passing of yesterday but dare not pledge the coming of tomorrow. I am Today.—Selected.

How to Select the Laying Hens

To all Members Diversification Associations:

I hand you herewith the August poultry contribution by Prof. F. W. Kammeier.

"Every farmer and poultry raiser should make it a point to closely cull his flock in the fall of each year. It is often possible to discard a third of the number, or more, thus reducing feed bills without noticeably affecting egg yields. The following proven facts should enable anyone to detect the best layers:

1. Hen that molt late, and quickly, are the best layers. By this is meant hens molting during the latter part of September, October and November are better layers than those molting earlier. It is poor judgment to keep those birds molting early and sell those molting late, although this is done on many farms. Experiments have repeatedly proven that 200-egg hens do not begin to molt until November.
2. Individual hens with pale colored shanks, in such breeds as the Rock, Wyandottes, Reds and Leghorns, are considered better layers than those with bright and yellow shanks. This indication is true only when applied in the fall of the year, and among breeds with yellow shanks.
3. The above principle applies also to the color of ear lobes in breeds with yellow, creamy or white lobes. The many varieties of Leghorns can be divided by this indication, The Rocks, Wyandottes and other American, Asiatic and English breeds have red ear lobes, hence this indication for these breeds is valueless. Experience has shown that Leghorn varieties with white ear lobes in the fall are better layers than those with yellow or creamy colored ear lobes.
4. A constitutionally strong bird one that passes through the most quickly and easily, is a better layer than one that develops all kinds of ailments during this period.
5. Hens that show the least broodiness are better layers than those that are broody a large part of the time.
6. A bird with closely worn toenails is considered a better layer than one with long nails.
7. A hen that goes into the molt with worn and ragged plumage is a better layer than the bird with no such marks that bespeak hard work during the preceding year.
8. A bird first off the roost in the morning and the last to return to it at night is considered a better layer than the one that spends the major portion of her time on the roost, or stands around with a "humped-up" appearance in a corner of the pen or basket all day in the sun.
9. Hens that go to roost with a full crop are good layers, hence the saying, "A heavy eater is a good layer."
10. A fowl must carry a little fat in order to be in laying condition. A poor hen can never be a laying hen.
11. Rather large comb and wattles for the breed is considered another characteristic of a good layer.
12. Some breeders insist that Leghorns with rather high tails are better layers than those with very low tails.
13. Pullets that commence laying early are considered better layers than those that mature late, hence the statement: "Keep the early laying pullets."

CATTLE BACK TO DEAF SMITH
Texas County Shows Sharp Decrease in Sheep Population

Cattle are regaining territory lost to sheep a few years ago in Deaf Smith county according to F. W. Lambert of Hereford, Texas. Mr. Lambert brought in this week 2,227 lambs.

"A few years ago" said Mr. Lambert, who has been ranching in Deaf Smith county many years, "flockmasters prevailed. Cattle were then scarce in our district. We had 75,000 sheep in Deaf Smith county, now hardly 20,000 will be carried through.—Driver's Telegram, Oct. 27, 15.

Sermon on Noah

Ma text dis mornin' Breddern, am took from de Holy writ, wherein we read how Noah made de Ark an' fashioned it; he made de Ark ob gopher wood, and used a cubic rule, while all de knockers sat aroun' an' cussed him fo' a fool; de local anvil chorus, dey jes' sat aroun' an' spat terbaccer juice upon his wood, an' mocked him jes' lak dat, an' sez 'Whafoah yo' making dis dyah boat foah on dry land!? Yo'-all a-thinkin' maybe dat yo'-ll's a' satlah man?

But Noah paid no 'tenshun, ner allowed he heard dem croaks, but jes' minded his own business lak all good an' proper folke; when dey read de weddah focast—"Mild; con-tinners warm an' fair," ole Noah went on buildin' an' allowed He didn't care.

But one day de weddah shifted; de barometer done fall, an' de rain came down in torrents, rained fo' fo'ty days—dats all; and de knockers an' de croakers drowned jes' lak so many rats, which was jes' what dey had coming' nothin' lef' excep' dey hats.

An' de moral ob dis story, Breddern, hit am writ quite plain, dat whenevah knockers tell yo' dey ain't gwine ter be no fain, jes' go ahead lak Noah, an' don't lei 'em get yo' goat, an' some day yo'll have lak Noah, de bigges' show afloat.—Wellington Leader.

A Deserved Tribute

So many thoughtless people are prone to charge newspaper men with a lack of delicacy and consideration that it is a pleasure to pay tribute to the corps of Washington correspondents who have shown both these qualities in a notable degree in their treatment of the president's private affairs. It is probably no exaggeration to say that ever since last spring the entire corps of Washington correspondents has known of President Wilson's devoted attentions to Mrs. Galt, and had it not been that when this information first came to their notice, Mrs. Wilson's death—which took place August 6th, 1914—was so very recent, they would certainly have confidently predicted the engagement in their papers. The picture of the president and Mrs. Galt now being most widely published and showing them at the opening of the baseball in Washington, was taken last April. But because it was feared that any premature announcement of Mr. Wilson's love affairs would embarrass him, every correspondent maintained a discreet silence until formal announcement came from the White House, doing so in some instances almost in defiance of their respective man-ging editors. Early in the summer, when the fact that Mrs. Galt invariably accompanied the president in his automobile rides began to attract general notice, the newspaper men were asked to omit from their dispatches all mention of the fact that Mrs. Galt was with the president on various tours and parties, and the request was scrupulously complied with. Perhaps those who are so ready to charge newspaper men with lack of delicacy and consideration will, on realizing these facts, be less prone to do so in the future.—Ex.

Arizona Postmaster Victim of Fire
Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 2.—C. B. Wood, postmaster of Phoenix, was burned to death tonight in his country home, several miles north of here, as the result of an coal oil lamp.

Wood, who, with his family, had been occupying their town house, went to his country place today to examine some paper kept there. A lamp was filled for him and while he was working at a desk the lamp exploded.

JALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tonic" Is Harmless To Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 30 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel like a vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine, entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless, doesn't grip and they like its pleasant taste.

HEREFORD THOR-O-BRED TREES AND PLANTS

Have created a demand that is surprising even to ourselves. This years sales will show an increase of 300 per cent over last year.

The fact that we will sell more trees this season than all other nurseries selling on the plains is significant.

For Twenty-five Years we've been on the alert—striving to give better results—Spending $1000 per year in tests.

Is it not, therefore, worth your while to investigate our products?

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice; although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. ## Woodrow Wilson on the Bible

I am sorry for the men who do not read the Bible every day; I wonder why they deprive themselves of strength and pleasure. It is one of the most singular books in the world, for every time you open it some text that you have read a score of times beams with a new meaning. Evidently the mood and the thought of that day, bred by circumstances that you cannot analyze, has suddenly thrown its light upon the page, brings out upon the page something that you never saw lie upon it before. There is no other book that I know of which this is true; there is no other book that yields its meaning so personally that seems to fit itself so intimately to the very spirit that is seeking its guidance.—Woodrow Wilson.
